by Phil Cackley
Staff Reporter

Student Body President Dave Bender announced yesterday the formation of a committee to review proposals regarding the planned removal of students from the University judicial process. The six-member committee named by Bender is composed of two administrators, two faculty members, and two students. It will consider only the official University Trustees' proposal, but also one currently being drafted by a student government committee.

Jack Schneider and Thomas Carney, members of the University Board of Trustees, made public the intention of abolishing the University Judicial Board, of which two of the members are students, at a meeting held two weeks ago with representatives of the student government and campus media. The Board's decision was related to the Hunter case brought against the University this summer. It is intended to put the University in a better legal position in the area of disciplinary proceedings.

"There are problems and inconsistencies in the University proposal," Bender stated, explaining that the review committee will iron out the proposal and that it can be introduced without snag at the Oct. 21 meeting of the Board of Trustees.

The administrators on the committee are Vice President for Student Affairs Jon Pacenza and Chief of Student Services James Roemer. "They are obvious choices," Bender said, "because they are the persons in the administration most closely connected to the issue. Additionally Pacenza is a University trustee."

Fr. Dave Burrell, chairman of the Theology Department, is one of the faculty members of the committee. Explaining his choice, Bender defended Burrell as a "rational, fair guy" who is known to have an open mind. "If he's going to accept the proposal, I'll accept that (that the proposal is a bad one). If he's going to oppose the proposal, I'll go with him on the work we've done and add credibility to the plan, Bender added.

The other "faculty" member is Jeanne Swartz, a criminal defense lawyer who lives in South Bend. Swartz, 38, is a 1975 Notre Dame Law School graduate and is married to Notre Dame economics professor Thomas Swartz.

Bender said that one advantage of the committee review is that Student Government will have the means of gauging the receptiveness of the trustees and administration to new proposals before the actual presentation to the Board of Trustees. In this manner, the SBP can be assured that either or not to take "further action."

Roemer acted to the selection of the committee in a letter sent to Bender, as well as in an interview. "I would have liked to see Dave appoint the committee through the SLC, which is the proper body to consider changes in the disciplinaries - unresolved issues (continued on page 3).

---

Burtchaell's resignation forced

by Dave Rumbach
Staff Reporter

Sources quoted by the South Bend Tribune confirmed that the Fr. James Burtchaell's sudden resignation from his position as University Provost, made official last week, was not voluntary. A source present at the Board of Trustees meeting on Thursday night said: "Fr. James Burtchaell had an opportunity to resign from the board of Trustees and accept the position of the Holy Cross community. Edmund A. Stephens, chairman of the Notre Dame Board of Trustees, would not deny that Burtchaell's resignation was not voluntary. However, he did say that the board had sought that resignation.

The Board of Trustees opposed the succession the presidency by Burtchaell, a promotion built into the position of provost, according to one Tribune source.

"An resignation is a sign he won't be here, it the position was created as a testing ground for that person," the source stated, adding that the board had apparently meant to use Burtchaell to stay on for the remainder of the year before resigning.

Fr. Burtchaell, who has already moved out of his second floor office in the Administration building, was unavailable for comment.

Stephan, while refusing to comment on the Board of Trustee's alleged involvement in Burtchaell's resignation, praised the former provost describing his tenure in the second-ranking university position as "brilliant."

Key faculty members also praised Burtchaell both for his commitment to academic excellence and his frequent support of faculty interests.

Dr. Isabel Charles, dean of the College of Arts and Letters, commented Burtchaell for his efforts to tap into the college's Catholic commitments and for establishing the Center for the Study of American Catholic Church. Charles stated that Burtchaell benefited the College of Arts and Letters by enrolling a number of chairs and that his service" on the faculty will benefit both students and teachers.

Professor Paul Conway, chairman of the Faculty Senate, said that Burtchaell "went all for the faculty when they were in agreement," adding, however, that they did not always see "eye to eye."

Burtchaell is currently teaching a course in "Biblical Ethics" and is planning to expand his teaching activities next semester.

---

In one week

One raped, two accosted

by Michael Ridenour

Three women students were reportedly attacked in separate incidents during the first week of the semester. One of the reported attacks took place in the residential area south of the campus, while the other two occurred on campus.

A graduate student was accosted and raped five blocks from the Library Tavern about 2 a.m. Sunday. She was walking to an off-campus residence after leaving the Library Tavern, when the assailant dragged her to a dark area behind a building. She was admitted to Memorial Hospital for treatment, where she later was able to give the police an accurate description of the assailant.

The two campus attacks were assault and battery cases. According to James Roemer, the dean of students, the attacks "were unusual," in that one happened in daylight while the other occurred at night in front of a hall in a lighted area.

A Saint Mary's student was accosted and accosted on 30th while walking near the Community Cemetery at 2:15 p.m. The student, 19, was walking with a friend. She said one of them blocked her path and placed his hands on her clothing but left when she threatened to have them arrested.

The incident occurred Saturday about 10:30 p.m. in front of Alumni Hall. An unidentified male was making a groaning sound while laying in the grass and when the woman investigated, she was attacked. Coming outside of Dillon for "a breath of fresh air," she was able to escape injury after being thrown to the ground by her assailant. Security was unable to find the suspect after searching the area.

Roemer said this was the first time in the history of Saint Mary's that a student had been attacked in front of a hall or in broad daylight in such well-lighted places. He warns women students to "be prudent and careful, and try to get transportation if at all possible by bus or car. Obviously he been lost out," noted one source, described by Roemer as "a rational, fair guy." The same source stated that the suddenness of Burtchaell's resignation was the result of the ex-provost's "style" and bore no other significance, the Tribune reported.

The second is Tom Byrne, a senior government major, and former Campus Editor of the Observer. In looking for another student to serve on the committee, Bender said he looked for a student under the presidency and student government. Speaking of Byrne, Bender commented, "He has credibility, is open-minded and I doubt if there's another student who knows as much about the process in question."

In another incident occurring in the area of disciplinary proceedings.

---

South Quad residents exploit the remaining rays of the summer sun in anticipation of an early fall. (Photo by Kevin Walsh)
Angela to open formally

by Jean Powley
St. Mary's Editor

This weekend will be one of athletic exhibitions, clinics and seminars as St. Mary's dedicates its new Angela Athletic Facility.

National sports figures such as Micki King Hoger, Olympic diving gold medalist in 1972; Patty Berg, Ladies Professional Golf Association's (LPGA) tournament record holder; and Carmen Pincairetti, four-time winner of the Women's Metropolitan Amateur Golf Association (WMGA) will all be present to speak and conduct clinics.

The program of events entitled "Women's Sports: Prospects and Problems," will begin Friday evening with a reception and banquet for guests of the college and will end Sunday night with a college sports night, at which time St. Mary's athletic program and coaches will be introduced.

Formal dedication ceremonies will be academically counseled by someone totally unfamiliar to upperclassmen, Mary Ellen Klein. She is a professor of English, academic counselor.

Klein will work with Rosemary Doherty, freshman dean for the past year, in a program arrangement this semester. Then, in the spring when Doherty returns to the English department, Klein will take over full operation of the freshman office.

On the job since the end of August, Klein is busy, at present, assisting freshmen with such academic concerns as class changes and scheduling difficulties. She is also teaching a part-time course in the English department.

When she was given total responsibility for the freshman office in the spring, she will also be involved in counseling students on course choices and study habits. Then, next summer she will choose and schedule courses for the class of 1982.

Immediately before coming to St. Mary's, Klein served as assistant director of admissions at John Carroll University, Cleveland, Ohio for four years. She also taught freshman composition courses.

She was also assistant dean of students at Carroll University in Milwaukee. She also taught freshman composition courses.

A native Ohioan, Klein holds a bachelor's degree in English from Notre Dame College in Cleveland and a master's degree in English from John Carroll University.

She is now in the process of getting her doctorate in higher education administration.

Since St. Mary’s is still new to her, Klein says she has not yet set any specific goals except to continue the fine work already being done in this office.

“I found this a very warm and welcoming community. As a freshman myself, I'm still learning about teaching and learning as the students are,” she said.

Wood will, in addition, serve as master of ceremonies at the conference's opening banquet Friday night.

Seminars planned for the week-end include one on women's college sports by Leanne Grotke, Indiana University Athletic Director and Commissioner for National Championships for the Association for Intercolligate Athletics for Women (AAAW) and a session on religion and sports by Sister Kath- erine Reichert, director of campus ministry at St. Mary's and former Minnesota women's golf champ. Wood Physical education for the special student will be Dr. Evelyn A. Davies' topic in her session entitled "Adapted Physical Education." She is a physical education professor at Indiana University.

John Boruff, assistant recreation director with the South Bend Community School Corporation, will discuss community recreation in his seminar Sunday morning.

Finally, a dual tennis match between St. Mary's and DePauw University will be featured Saturday afternoon immediately following the formal dedication ceremonies.

All Notre Dame and St. Mary's' athletic faculty and staff are welcome to participate in any or all of the planned activities, except the meals, according to John Boruff, St. Mary's director of athletics.

"We're anticipating an awfully good conference," he said.

A schedule of the dedication activities will be included in the Friday "on campus today" section.
Disciplinary procedures against students

The University, with its proposed change in disciplinary procedure, is trying to "stack the deck" against students, according to J.P. Russell, chairman of the Hall Presidents Council (HPC).

"People have been saying this opinion last night in Alumni Hall at the first meeting of this year's HPC. He outlined the new disciplinary situation for the HPC when Dave Bender, student body president, failed to make a scheduled appearance. Russell said that under the new set-up students will no longer take part in disciplinary hearings. In the past, he noted, there have been student representatives on both the University Judicial Board and the Appellate Board. He added that the student handbook which details University regulations will be distributed by Saturday.

Other topics discussed by the HPC included a plan for tutoring. Bender, from each dorm, Florencio Stringle, Student Government academic commissioner, said that Sorin Hall's program, where students volunteer to tutor others within their own hall, will serve as a model. With Dean Hodeman's tutoring program, freshmen are taken care of well," Stringle said. "It would be nice if we can do something for upperclassmen."

Surprisingly, he felt sorry for the student enrolled in "some course like Zoology 1001" who finds no one to turn to for help. She added that this new program will be underway within two weeks.

Marianne Moore, SU calendar coordinator, announced the formation of a Student Union service which will check for conflicts of dates involving campus social events. Moore hoped this new service, called event hall foy, for example, to be scheduled for the same night as a concert. Roemer: "I would have a room, but when I received a letter from Notre Dame, my room assignment was marked off," she said. She also said that the housing office said that a room would soon be open, and to stay in the hotel for a few days. Tower lived with five other freshmen in the hotel. "I wasn’t bad living there, but we couldn’t unpack our suitcases. All we went down there for was to sleep and change clothes," she added.

"We had bunk beds and our suitcases, and that was about it."

Treaty language finalized

Washington (AP) - The United States and Panama gave final approval yesterday the exact language of the proposed new Panama Canal treaties as President Carter began marathon talks with hemisphere leaders gathering for the formal signing of the accords. Carter told reporters his talks with the visiting dignitaries were "an unprecedent opportunity for the enhancement of our relations with other nations in this hemisphere." The President said he views the meetings as "an unprecedented opportunity for the enhancement of our relations with other nations in this hemisphere."

The canal treaties will be formally signed during nationally broadcast ceremonies tonight at 6:30 p.m. CST.

The President said he hopes the new canal treaties will bring "a new era of cooperation and equality of treatment among nations of the hemisphere."

The meetings among the hemispheric leaders are billed as the first hemispheric summit conference in a decade.

Carter’s first Latin American visitor Tuesday was Panama’s head of government, Omar Torrijos. Press Secretary Jody Powell, commenting on the schedule of talks with 19 government heads and other leaders, said Carter views the meetings as "an unprecedented opportunity for the enhancement of our relations with other nations in this hemisphere." The President also announced that Carter will be lobbying for the canal agreements at a White House briefing Wednesday, for 70 prominent Ameri­can and many of business leaders.

plans for the elaborate Wednesday night signing ceremonies contrasted with the simple State Department ceremony yesterday marking agreement on the United States and Panama Canal treaties. The formal initialing of texts of the canal agreements was low-key and almost perfunctory. In a sense, however, this event culminated 13 years of often difficult negotiations.

JULIO’S
12 inch SUBMARINES SANDWICHES

SPAGHETTI
With sauce 1.65 2.20
With meatballs 1.85 2.50
PIZZA
12 in 14 in
Cheese 2.55 3.05
Sausage 3.10 3.55
Mushroom 3.10 3.55
Pepperoni 3.10 3.55
Green Pepperoni 3.10 3.55
Ground Beef 3.10 3.55
Onion 3.10 3.55
Anchovy 3.40 4.00
Black Olive 3.10 3.55
(Cheese plus any 2 items) 3.75 4.35
(Cheese plus any 4 items) 4.30 5.45
Pan Pizza $1.00 extra

DEEP DISH & REGULAR PIZZA

DELIVERY WITH OUR PORTABLE OVENS

by Bob Varettoni Staff Reporter

OFF-CAMPUS STUDENTS

While not saying that the choices were not "good ones," Roemer expressed a wish that all of the freshmen living in the Farley Hotel have found rooms. Also, the freshmen who have resident assistants in Keenan and Thorn have found rooms. However, the Farley hotel is not empty. Students are staying in the hotel of their own volition until they can find off-campus housing, the office revealed. Office workers said that it would probably be about three weeks before making any of the choices.

Roemer: "I would have a room, but when I received a letter from Notre Dame, my room assignment was marked off," she said. She also said that the housing office said that a room would soon be open, and to stay in the hotel for a few days. Tower lived with five other freshmen in the hotel. "I wasn’t bad living there, but we couldn’t unpack our suitcases. All we went down there for was to sleep and change clothes," she added.

"We had bunk beds and our suitcases, and that was about it."

Treaty language finalized

Washington (AP) - The United States and Panama gave final approval yesterday the exact language of the proposed new Panama Canal treaties as President Carter began marathon talks with hemisphere leaders gathering for the formal signing of the accords. Carter told reporters his talks with the visiting dignitaries were "an unprecedented opportunity for the enhancement of our relations with other nations in this hemisphere." The President said he views the meetings as "an unprecedented opportunity for the enhancement of our relations with other nations in this hemisphere."

The canal treaties will be formally signed during nationally broadcast ceremonies tonight at 6:30 p.m. CST.

The President said he hopes the new canal treaties will bring "a new era of cooperation and equality of treatment among nations of the hemisphere."

The meetings among the hemispheric leaders are billed as the first hemispheric summit conference in a decade.

Carter’s first Latin American visitor Tuesday was Panama’s head of government, Omar Torrijos. Press Secretary Jody Powell, commenting on the schedule of talks with 19 government heads and other leaders, said Carter views the meetings as "an unprecedented opportunity for the enhancement of our relations with other nations in this hemisphere." The President also announced that Carter will be lobbying for the canal agreements at a White House briefing Wednesday, for 70 prominent American and many of business leaders.

plans for the elaborate Wednesday night signing ceremonies contrasted with the simple State Department ceremony yesterday marking agreement on the United States and Panama Canal treaties. The formal initialing of texts of the canal agreements was low-key and almost perfunctory. In a sense, however, this event culminated 13 years of often difficult negotiations.

(continued on page 7)
Dear Editor,

I find the actions of the University administration breaks its own rules as a Christian community while its own students are left to follow their example of deceit and hypocrisy. It has built a national reputation as a Christian humanistic while he University treats its students this way. Charity begins at home, Fr. Hesburgh.

Pat Tomony, Jr.

Justice
Dear Editor:

I believe that the removal of students from the university judicial system is a lamentable miscarriage of justice. The sanctioned remarks made by the Dean of Students and university trustees is referring to students as the “problem” in the judicial system betrays an underlying distrust in the integrity of the Notre Dame students. Unfortunately, the handful of people who learned the real shortcomings of the system through participation in its most recent use are bound by confidentiality. We students have much to lose in this decision and I believe a further investigation into the matter is warranted.

Brian Diamond

Ticket Injustice
Dear Editor:

A grave injustice has been rendered upon those of the Notre Dame community who have been deprived of basketball tickets through no personal fault. The method of allocation through the postal system during the summer months did not give every student a fair chance to obtain a ticket and removed the opportunity of choosing a seat location. Many spent at least part of their summer away, and occasionally a letter is lost in the mail. Obviously a victim of the system, instances would have had no opportunity to apply for a ticket anywhere else. The only recourse open to us is to pay $30.00 plus a putting list for a padded seat. And if perhaps we are granted a ticket, who will be sitting next to us? The enjoyment of basketball games is derived partly from the company of varying opinions on campus.

Robert Jacques

I am especially disappointed by the actions of Fr. Hesburgh in this situation. He has built a national reputation as a Christian humanistic while he University treats its students this way. Charity begins at home, Fr. Hesburgh.

Pat Tomony, Jr.

I believe that the removal of students from the university judicial system is a lamentable miscarriage of justice. The sanctioned remarks made by the Dean of Students and university trustees is referring to students as the “problem” in the judicial system betrays an underlying distrust in the integrity of the Notre Dame students. Unfortunately, the handful of people who learned the real shortcomings of the system through participation in its most recent use are bound by confidentiality. We students have much to lose in this decision and I believe a further investigation into the matter is warranted.

Brian Diamond

Ticket Injustice
Dear Editor:

A grave injustice has been rendered upon those of the Notre Dame community who have been deprived of basketball tickets through no personal fault. The method of allocation through the postal system during the summer months did not give every student a fair chance to obtain a ticket and removed the opportunity of choosing a seat location. Many spent at least part of their summer away, and occasionally a letter is lost in the mail. Obviously a victim of the system, instances would have had no opportunity to apply for a ticket anywhere else. The only recourse open to us is to pay $30.00 plus a putting list for a padded seat. And if perhaps we are granted a ticket, who will be sitting next to us? The enjoyment of basketball games is derived partly from the company of varying opinions on campus.

Robert Jacques

I am especially disappointed by the actions of Fr. Hesburgh in this situation. He has built a national reputation as a Christian humanistic while he University treats its students this way. Charity begins at home, Fr. Hesburgh.

Pat Tomony, Jr.

I believe that the removal of students from the university judicial system is a lamentable miscarriage of justice. The sanctioned remarks made by the Dean of Students and university trustees is referring to students as the “problem” in the judicial system betrays an underlying distrust in the integrity of the Notre Dame students. Unfortunately, the handful of people who learned the real shortcomings of the system through participation in its most recent use are bound by confidentiality. We students have much to lose in this decision and I believe a further investigation into the matter is warranted.

Brian Diamond

Ticket Injustice
Dear Editor:

A grave injustice has been rendered upon those of the Notre Dame community who have been deprived of basketball tickets through no personal fault. The method of allocation through the postal system during the summer months did not give every student a fair chance to obtain a ticket and removed the opportunity of choosing a seat location. Many spent at least part of their summer away, and occasionally a letter is lost in the mail. Obviously a victim of the system, instances would have had no opportunity to apply for a ticket anywhere else. The only recourse open to us is to pay $30.00 plus a putting list for a padded seat. And if perhaps we are granted a ticket, who will be sitting next to us? The enjoyment of basketball games is derived partly from the company of varying opinions on campus.

Robert Jacques

I am especially disappointed by the actions of Fr. Hesburgh in this situation. He has built a national reputation as a Christian humanistic while he University treats its students this way. Charity begins at home, Fr. Hesburgh.

Pat Tomony, Jr.

I believe that the removal of students from the university judicial system is a lamentable miscarriage of justice. The sanctioned remarks made by the Dean of Students and university trustees is referring to students as the “problem” in the judicial system betrays an underlying distrust in the integrity of the Notre Dame students. Unfortunately, the handful of people who learned the real shortcomings of the system through participation in its most recent use are bound by confidentiality. We students have much to lose in this decision and I believe a further investigation into the matter is warranted.

Brian Diamond

Ticket Injustice
Dear Editor:

A grave injustice has been rendered upon those of the Notre Dame community who have been deprived of basketball tickets through no personal fault. The method of allocation through the postal system during the summer months did not give every student a fair chance to obtain a ticket and removed the opportunity of choosing a seat location. Many spent at least part of their summer away, and occasionally a letter is lost in the mail. Obviously a victim of the system, instances would have had no opportunity to apply for a ticket anywhere else. The only recourse open to us is to pay $30.00 plus a putting list for a padded seat. And if perhaps we are granted a ticket, who will be sitting next to us? The enjoyment of basketball games is derived partly from the company of varying opinions on campus.

Robert Jacques

I am especially disappointed by the actions of Fr. Hesburgh in this situation. He has built a national reputation as a Christian humanistic while he University treats its students this way. Charity begins at home, Fr. Hesburgh.

Pat Tomony, Jr.

I believe that the removal of students from the university judicial system is a lamentable miscarriage of justice. The sanctioned remarks made by the Dean of Students and university trustees is referring to students as the “problem” in the judicial system betrays an underlying distrust in the integrity of the Notre Dame students. Unfortunately, the handful of people who learned the real shortcomings of the system through participation in its most recent use are bound by confidentiality. We students have much to lose in this decision and I believe a further investigation into the matter is warranted.

Brian Diamond

Ticket Injustice
Dear Editor:

A grave injustice has been rendered upon those of the Notre Dame community who have been deprived of basketball tickets through no personal fault. The method of allocation through the postal system during the summer months did not give every student a fair chance to obtain a ticket and removed the opportunity of choosing a seat location. Many spent at least part of their summer away, and occasionally a letter is lost in the mail. Obviously a victim of the system, instances would have had no opportunity to apply for a ticket anywhere else. The only recourse open to us is to pay $30.00 plus a putting list for a padded seat. And if perhaps we are granted a ticket, who will be sitting next to us? The enjoyment of basketball games is derived partly from the company of varying opinions on campus.

Robert Jacques

I am especially disappointed by the actions of Fr. Hesburgh in this situation. He has built a national reputation as a Christian humanistic while he University treats its students this way. Charity begins at home, Fr. Hesburgh.

Pat Tomony, Jr.
Scheider gives scholarships to ND students

Notre Dame students who live in Indiana will benefit from a new scholarship fund established by a bequest from Benno M. Scheidler, an Attica, Indiana businessman and farmer.

Fr. Theodore M. Hesburgh, university president, announced that the Cecilia M. Scheidler and Benno M. Scheidler scholarships have been made possible by an initial $200,000 distribution of Mr. Scheidler's bequest to Notre Dame.

Hesburgh expressed the university's gratitude, noting the 64 per cent of Notre Dame's students require some form of financial aid to enroll and remain at the University.

Mrs. June McCauslin, director of financial aid, said that invested income from the Scheidler fund will enable scholarships to be awarded beginning in the 1978-79 academic year. Recipients will be chosen, she said, from among Indiana students who have been accepted for admissions to Notre Dame and who have a certified financial need.

Mr. Scheidler operated a Coco-Cola bottling franchise in Attica and was in the ice business. He also was engaged in farming and had considerable holdings as a landowner. Mr. Scheidler died on April 30, 1976.

Gabriel elected to Executive Body

Dr. A. L. Gabriel, director of the Fuld-Ambrosiana Collection at Notre Dame, was elected to the general assembly of the Executive body of the International Committee of Historical Sciences, at the general assembly of the Executive Body of the International Committee of Historical Sciences, at the 50th anniversary meeting of the committee held recently in the Canary Islands.
On Thursday, Sept. 15, the staff of Urban Studies will present Neighborhood Roots, an urban study of the South Bend community. The purpose of this program is to stimulate student interest toward the community of South Bend.

According to Thomas Swartz, associate professor of economics and an instructor of urban studies, Neighborhood Roots promises an excellent opportunity for students to appreciate the variety of neighborhoods in South Bend. "A great deal of students remain isolated on campus," Swartz explained, "and do not know what exists outside of Notre Dame. South Bend is a vastly diverse city, poor sections and magnificent residential areas are among a few blocks of each other. Although the immense diversity does present economic and social problems, Neighborhood Roots intends to focus on the positive aspects of the South Bend community.

Valerie Hardy, commissioner of Social and Interacial Concerns, stresses that this program intends to get students aware and interested in community writers. "This program is excellent for students in urban classes," Hardy emphasized, "and all students can find out for themselves what South Bend has to offer."

ND Prof. Carberry named Winston Churchill Fellow

Dr. James J. Carberry, professor of chemical engineering, has been named the Sir Winston Churchill Fellow at Churchill College, Cambridge University, England, from January to June, 1979. Carberry has received several honors in recent years, including the R.H. Wilhelm Award in 1976, the highest award in chemical reaction engineering. In 1974, he was named Hays-Fulbright Senior Scholar at the University of Rome.

The program itself will consist of an hour tour of South Bend, scheduled to leave the south circle Thursday at 4:30 p.m. The tour will end at the Zh Falcon Hall, where members will partake in a traditional Polish wedding meal, consisting of chicken and Polish sausage. During dinner, several speakers will represent the ethnic neighborhoods of South Bend, which include the Polish, Black and Mexican-American communities.

The tour, along with John Ross, associate professor of government, will present slides of neighborhoods that he has visited. At approximately 7:15, Swartz will give a brief analysis of the process of neighborhood decay. Then Prof. Thomas Broden will report on the justice issues in relation to Central City downtown spiral's urban subsidies, the Institute for Urban Studies strategy and the potential for student involvement. Following, Broden will report on the "Urban Plunge" and the role of the Center for Experiential Learning. Finally, students Hardy being distributed by your Student Union. Look for them in the lobby of your dorm.

Campus Politics' is the cover story for this years Nutshell Magazine

Interested in writing for the Observer?
SMC Reporter's Meeting
SMC Observer office in the basement of Regina South
WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 7TH
6:30PM

if unable to attend call Jean at 4001

Bellagamba starts American Scene series tonite

Father Anthony Bellagamba I.C.M. will speak on "Challenges and Hopes From the Third World" on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. in Carroll Hall, Madelena Memorial at Saint Mary's College.

Bellagamba is the first speaker scheduled for the 16th annual American Scene: A Cultural Series. He is executive secretary of the United States Catholic Missionary Council in Washington, D.C. and has extensive foreign mission experience.

Any COLLEGE OF SCIENCE STUDENT INTERESTED IN REPRESENTING THE College of Science on the Academic Council should submit Name and brief Statement of Purpose before Sept. 19th to: Student Council c/o The Office of Dean of Science Rm 229 Nieuwland Science

ATTENTION OFF-CAMPUS SENIORS

Interested in being a Representative on the Senior Class Council?

Please contact Pat Flynn 233-6773 or Mary Lou Mulvihill 283-8067

Drop in to the first council meeting Thurs. Sept. 8 7:00 pm Walsh Hall Off-Campus Lounge

Greyhound service to Chicago is BACK!

Every Friday this semester beginning Sept 9
Buses leave Circle at 5:05
each way $7.75 round trip $14.75

For info and tickets call Shep 8330

ON SALE NOW TO STUDENTS

The Nutshell Magazine

John Flaherty and Enrique Lulli prepare for opening at the Nazz this Saturday night. [Photo by Kevin Walsh] "Campus Politics' is the cover story for this years Nutshell Magazine

being distributed by your Student Union. Look for them in the lobby of your dorm.
Amin orders 12 public executions for treason

The radio said official government photographers have been assigned to cover the executions and that any others who attempt to do so will be charged with treason.

The father of one of the victims, Kiggundu, said he was surprised by the executions. "I don't understand why they did this," he said. "My son was not a traitor." Kiggundu said his son had been arrested for participating in a demonstration against Amin's government.

The executions were carried out in the capital, Kampala, and in the southern city of Mbarara. Amin, who has been in power since 1971, has been accused of human rights abuses and corruption.

Treaty still requires ratification

The United States can intervene in the negotiations and that any others who attempt to do so will be charged with treason.

The father of one of the victims, Kiggundu, said he was surprised by the executions. "I don't understand why they did this," he said. "My son was not a traitor." Kiggundu said his son had been arrested for participating in a demonstration against Amin's government.

The executions were carried out in the capital, Kampala, and in the southern city of Mbarara. Amin, who has been in power since 1971, has been accused of human rights abuses and corruption.

Treaty still requires ratification

The United States can intervene in the negotiations and that any others who attempt to do so will be charged with treason.

The father of one of the victims, Kiggundu, said he was surprised by the executions. "I don't understand why they did this," he said. "My son was not a traitor." Kiggundu said his son had been arrested for participating in a demonstration against Amin's government.

The executions were carried out in the capital, Kampala, and in the southern city of Mbarara. Amin, who has been in power since 1971, has been accused of human rights abuses and corruption.
Women's tennis opens season

The 1977-78 Notre Dame women's tennis season opened Monday as 10 double matches were played in Wrigley Field against Loyola. Captain Sheila Kronin, Sue Leinenger, Maureen Noonan, Sally Shukas, and Sheila Kronin, Sioban Kilbride, and the 1976 and 1977 games is thattradition and prestige in national football. I thought if we could win, it would give our team confidence and a chance for a great year."

As we prepared for the game, "Majors continued, "Our biggest concern was how they (Notre Dame) might change from the year before. Also I knew that Notre Dame had some very fine players who have played before, and they and we would do well." With an energetic and optimistic Majors, it should not be long before the Tennessee Volunteers begin to play a prominent role in college football's finest. Johnny Majors looks forward to his first season at Tennessee.

The Underhanded Towle's rags

Let me repeat this one more time. The University of Nevada Las Vegas has been slapped with two years of NCAA probation because of its recruiting violations within the basketball program. I bring this up because it has surprised me to no end that the NCAA has not even reprimanded Notre Dame. They have been there. They're No. 3 in preseason polls. And there's no way they'll be national champions without beating Pitt."

Deivey, speaking by telephone to reporters gathered at the Pitt press conference Tuesday, said: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation. And they could have three first-team All-Americans. It's going to be a good game." Devine says he is guarded optimistic about his team, which will have five returning lettermen, all defensive regulars, and a chance for a great year."

Devine won't miss Dorsett, but he can't help feeling a little liltled by the absence of the Heisman Trophy winner, who rank lovely.

Monte Towle

The Underhanded Towle's rags

Let me repeat this one more time. The University of Nevada Las Vegas has been slapped with two years of NCAA probation because of its recruiting violations within the basketball program. I bring this up because it has surprised me to no end that the NCAA has not even reprimanded Notre Dame. They have been there. They're No. 3 in preseason polls. And there's no way they'll be national champions without beating Pitt."

Deivey, speaking by telephone to reporters gathered at the Pitt press conference Tuesday, said: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation. And they could have three first-team All-Americans. It's going to be a good game." Devine says he is guarded optimistic about his team, which will have five returning lettermen, all defensive regulars, and a chance for a great year."

Devine won't miss Dorsett, but he can't help feeling a little liltled by the absence of the Heisman Trophy winner, who rank lovely.

Monte Towle

The Underhanded Towle's rags

Let me repeat this one more time. The University of Nevada Las Vegas has been slapped with two years of NCAA probation because of its recruiting violations within the basketball program. I bring this up because it has surprised me to no end that the NCAA has not even reprimanded Notre Dame. They have been there. They're No. 3 in preseason polls. And there's no way they'll be national champions without beating Pitt."

Deivey, speaking by telephone to reporters gathered at the Pitt press conference Tuesday, said: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation. And they could have three first-team All-Americans. It's going to be a good game." Devine says he is guarded optimistic about his team, which will have five returning lettermen, all defensive regulars, and a chance for a great year."

Devine won't miss Dorsett, but he can't help feeling a little liltled by the absence of the Heisman Trophy winner, who rank lovely.

Monte Towle

The Underhanded Towle's rags

Let me repeat this one more time. The University of Nevada Las Vegas has been slapped with two years of NCAA probation because of its recruiting violations within the basketball program. I bring this up because it has surprised me to no end that the NCAA has not even reprimanded Notre Dame. They have been there. They're No. 3 in preseason polls. And there's no way they'll be national champions without beating Pitt."

Deivey, speaking by telephone to reporters gathered at the Pitt press conference Tuesday, said: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation. And they could have three first-team All-Americans. It's going to be a good game." Devine says he is guarded optimistic about his team, which will have five returning lettermen, all defensive regulars, and a chance for a great year."

Devine won't miss Dorsett, but he can't help feeling a little liltled by the absence of the Heisman Trophy winner, who rank lovely.

Monte Towle

The Underhanded Towle's rags

Let me repeat this one more time. The University of Nevada Las Vegas has been slapped with two years of NCAA probation because of its recruiting violations within the basketball program. I bring this up because it has surprised me to no end that the NCAA has not even reprimanded Notre Dame. They have been there. They're No. 3 in preseason polls. And there's no way they'll be national champions without beating Pitt."

Deivey, speaking by telephone to reporters gathered at the Pitt press conference Tuesday, said: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation. And they could have three first-team All-Americans. It's going to be a good game." Devine says he is guarded optimistic about his team, which will have five returning lettermen, all defensive regulars, and a chance for a great year."

Devine won't miss Dorsett, but he can't help feeling a little liltled by the absence of the Heisman Trophy winner, who rank lovely.

Monte Towle

The Underhanded Towle's rags

Let me repeat this one more time. The University of Nevada Las Vegas has been slapped with two years of NCAA probation because of its recruiting violations within the basketball program. I bring this up because it has surprised me to no end that the NCAA has not even reprimanded Notre Dame. They have been there. They're No. 3 in preseason polls. And there's no way they'll be national champions without beating Pitt."

Deivey, speaking by telephone to reporters gathered at the Pitt press conference Tuesday, said: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation. And they could have three first-team All-Americans. It's going to be a good game." Devine says he is guarded optimistic about his team, which will have five returning lettermen, all defensive regulars, and a chance for a great year."

Devine won't miss Dorsett, but he can't help feeling a little liltled by the absence of the Heisman Trophy winner, who rank lovely.

Monte Towle

The Underhanded Towle's rags

Let me repeat this one more time. The University of Nevada Las Vegas has been slapped with two years of NCAA probation because of its recruiting violations within the basketball program. I bring this up because it has surprised me to no end that the NCAA has not even reprimanded Notre Dame. They have been there. They're No. 3 in preseason polls. And there's no way they'll be national champions without beating Pitt."

Deivey, speaking by telephone to reporters gathered at the Pitt press conference Tuesday, said: "Pittsburgh could be the No. 1 team in the nation. And they could have three first-team All-Americans. It's going to be a good game." Devine says he is guarded optimistic about his team, which will have five returning lettermen, all defensive regulars, and a chance for a great year."

Devine won't miss Dorsett, but he can't help feeling a little liltled by the absence of the Heisman Trophy winner, who rank lovely.