O'Shag light timers cause protests, humor

by Mark Rast
Staff Reporter

In an effort to conserve energy, timing devices were installed over the length of classes. The protest began by Sadat last November, and Israeli Prime Minister Mena-

JERUSALEM [AP] - The 2 and one-half-month-old Egyptian Peace drive, caught in a " timing devices were installed over general length of classes.

professor protests, student amusetimers and the short minute

Unacceptable ultimatums cited

Israel pulls out of Cairo talks

Jerusalem [AP] - Egypt's withdrawal last Wednesday from parallel political talks in Jerusalem, brought the peace cam­paign started by Sadat last Novem­ber to its lowest ebb, and it seemed to leave little hope for progress with the task of trying to resuscitate the talks.

The job appeared to fall to U.S. Assistant Secretary of State Alfred Atherton, who arrived here Sat­urday for talks aimed at persuading both sides to rein in their rhetoric and resume serious negotiations. Begin, reading a statement to repress and sit to the latter reac­tion of the Cairo talks, and the Defense Ministry said there were no plans to recall lower-level Israeli military officials already in the Egyptian capital for the negotia­

RALPH E. N. C. [AP] - Gov. James Hunt will go on statewide television today to announce a decision on pardoning or reducing the sentences of the Wilmington 10, whose case has drawn attention internationally and became politi­cally volatile at home.

The case of those charged in a firebombing during a 1971 racial disturbance puts the first-term Democratic governor between his constituency and his conscience at home.

The case is an example of human right violations in the United States. The East German press has sent repre­sentatives to North Carolina to report on the case, and rallies have been held in Paris and some European cities as well as the United States in support of the defendants.

In North Carolina, petitions have been circulated urging the 40-year-old Hunt not to intervene in the case, leaving the defendants to serve out their sentences.

The case arose out of the fire­bombing of a grocery store during racial disturbances in Wilmington. A city of about 45,000 located on an inlet along the North Carolina coast.

The Rev. Benjamin Chavis II and eight other young black Wilming­ton men were convicted of the firebombing and conspiracy to firebom­b emergency personnel during the inclement weather. A white woman, since paroled, was convicted of being an accessory.

The three key prosecu­tion witnesses, all black, have since said that they gave false testimony because of threats of reprisal or offers of favors.

Two years ago, the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear the appeal of the Wilmington 10 men, who are serving prison sentences ranging from 29 to 34 years.

After the state Court of Appeals rejected the group's appeal for a new trial earlier this month, Hunt, who had said a "reasonable time" should be allowed for the courts to resolve the issue, announced his decision.

Smelser dies: 30-year professor

Marshall Smelser, a Notre Dame history whose interests ranged from the American colonial navy to Babe Ruth, died Wednesday in South Bend. He was 65.

The funeral mass for Smelser was offered Saturday afternoon in Sacred Heart Church. He was buried at Forest Grove Cemetery.

A native of Joliet, IL, Smelser received his Ph.D. from Harvard University in 1948 and taught three decades at Notre Dame, serving as chairman of the Department of History and Political Science.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

Nominating letters should be left in the hands of the Committee on Acad­emic Standards, exemplifies the high ideals of Catholic education for undergraduate women. Scho­larship, leadership, personal worth, and civic community are criteria for the award.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.

The medal, sponsored by Kappa Gamma Chi, the National Catholic Honor Society, has been awarded annually to an outstanding sophomore or junior until students' lack of interest in it caused its elimination in 1970. However, a significant change in student attitudes prompted the committee to request the reinstatement of the award last year. There are no specific grade-point requirements for the medal and the nomination is made by any Catholic member of the Notre Dame faculty.
WASHINGTON [AP] - A trio of congressmen and senators agreed yes¬ terday that the House and Senate may be able to agree to the natural gas pricing dispute that has stalled passage of energy legislation.

Two Senate and Senate conference over the proposed deregulation bill, the natural gas prevented Congress from approving President Carter's energy program last year.

House members of the conference generally favor continued price control on natural gas. A bill passed by the Senate calls for deregulation, but and the two sides were unable to resolve their differ¬ ences before recessing for the holidays.

However, House Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill (D-Mass.) Sena¬ tor Howard Baker of Tennessee, and Rep. John G. Diefenbaker of Chicago, speak¬ er of the House, said they do not believe Congress is moving toward some form of deregulation to break the stale¬ mate.

O'Neill said he based his opti¬ mism on the attitudes of lawmakers rather than on any vote. "I'm in the dark on the votes of members of the House and Senate energy conference committee."

Appearing on CBS-TV's Face the Nation, O'Neill said that if the full House would support some kind of gradual deregulation over several years such a bill would be passed by the House conference.

Baker said he feels there may now be some new-found flexibility among members of the conference panel.

"Deregulation is the heart of the problem," he said. "I hope the House and Senate administration will go along with deregulation at some point, prob¬ ably accompanied by an excess profit tax. We may get a bill sometime this spring." Baker said he was hopeful that a compromise on energy could be worked out this year.

"It's a very complex issue," the Republican leader said. "I doubt it would come up."

If the Republican leaders were to put the oust of failure completely on Congress. The record of this administration has been very checkered as far as energy is concerned."

Baker and Rhodes made their remarks on NBC-TV's "Meet the Press."
Arabs, U.S. express Mideast views

Vance: talks to reopen within 2 week to ten days.

Washington [AP] - Secretary of State Cyrus R. Vance returned home yesterday expecting Israel and Egypt to resume their political negotiations, probably within a week to ten days.

Direct talks may be hold in Jerusalem or Cairo, said a senior U.S. official, who added that the talks would be mediated by two capitals as a mediator.

This forecast was based on an appraisal of Anwar Sadat's speech to the Egyptian Parliament Saturday in which he said the peace initiative would not be dropped.

He stated that the United States to provide Egypt with "all" its weapon, that Israeli posses.

The arms request will be considered after appropriate delivery of some lethal weapons to Egypt, the senior official said.

As he stepped from his plane at Andrews Air Force Base, Vance said, "We believe it the essential the parties put their differences aside."

He refused to be exclusive days and to recapture the spirit of a common search for peace."

A cross fire of hardline demands and some remarks that bordered on the personal were believed to have contributed to the suspension of the negotiations.

On the flight home, Vance singled out the conciliatory part of Sadat speech. "I am pleased that it made clear that the door is open," he said.

"I think that objective of the parties remains the same - mainly the achievement of a comprehensive peace. We're going to have to persevere, working with the parties to reach that end."

Sadat opened the talks broken off last Wednesday even as Vance was narrowing the differences between those Israeli and that quick decision old principles to guide future treatments.

"We're in one of the downalore, I said. Vance acknowledged. But he said he was confident the Egyptian diplomacy would be resumed, as well as a declaration of principles. But he also said that political committee fell.

Sadat will report to President Carter later and convey Sadat's arms request.

Sunbelt states likely to gain representation

Washington [AP] - Nine states in the U.S. House of Representatives will have to reappear, giving more representation to Sunbelt states, if current population patterns continue until 1980, according to figures released yesterday by the Census Bureau.

Florida and Texas would each gain two seats, and Arizona, California, Oregon, New York, Washington and Illinois would each gain one seat.

The statistics are included in a larger study, part of the Census Bureau's current population reports series, to be released soon.

Southern and western states led in population growth since 1970, while northeastern and northern central states experienced modest population increases, with more people migrating out than in.

The population of the United States, which grew 6.4 percent between 1970 and 1977, is not expected to grow greatly, according to the Census Bureau.

The Al-Rai Al-Am newspaper of Kuwait said the Arab oil states must launch a joint initiative "now that it is confirmed that Israel and America want a peace that would enslave the Arabs."

The whip of Arab oil must be righted and frozen oil prices hoping the world will back the just peace in the Middle East. But to their disappointment, the world showed no appreciation," the newspaper said.

The American College Theater Festival is held in conjunction with the Irene Ryan Foundation Scholarship competition on a nationwide basis. Irene Ryan was an actress whose best performances was on "The Beverly Hillbillies." Ryan left funds for an ongoing scholarship for college actors. For the competition the country was divided into 13 regions.

Arab moderates, hardliners criticize U.S. role in talks

BEIRUT, Lebanon [AP] - Arab hardliners and moderates sharply criticized the United States yesterday following the break-off in Egyptian-Israeli peace talks, and some looked toward Washington for the next move in the Mideast deadlock.

"It is up to the Americans now to speak to the world," said the Saudi Arabian daily newspaper Al-Riyadh, echoing Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's appeal in a speech Saturday for resuming political discussion with Israel.

Kuwaiti newspapers called for reactivation of the American oil weapon.

The conservative Arab monarchies of the Persian Gulf refrained from open attacks on Sadat's solo peace initiative, saving their editorial censure for the United States, which was accused of failing to extract sufficient concessions from Israel.

"It is up to the United States to be a friend of the countries in the area that are not influenced by Russia, then it must break the hand that sits on aggression and usurpation, using American supplied rifles," Al-Riyadh said, referring to Saudi Arabia.

Kuwait's Al-Siyassah newspaper said the United States is secretly shuffling the cards for an international game that will involve the Middle East and Red Sea areas."

Drama student participates in scholarship competition

by Diane Wilson

Senior Staff Reporter

Norte Dame senior John Walker was chosen by the American College Theater Festival judges to compete for the Irene Ryan Foundation Scholarship, which was held Jan. 4-6 at Wright State College in Dayton.

Walker did not win the regional competition, he stated, that "It was a good learning experience. It was interesting to see what other college theaters were doing." He added that it was good in that it brought lots of college actors together and allowed them to see how they compared with other college actors.

The American College Theater Festival is held in conjunction with the Irene Ryan Foundation Scholarship competition on a nationwide basis. Irene Ryan was an actress whose last role was "Granny" on the "Beverly Hillbillies." Ryan left funds for an ongoing scholarship for college actors. For the competition the country was divided into 13 regions. Walker explained and Notre Dame belongs to the Great Lakes region, which includes Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana. In each region judging teams are sent around to view college shows. The judging teams consist of college professors. According to Greg Bain, chairman of the NO-SMC Sparrow and Drama Department, NO-SMC entered "Caucasian Chalk Circle.

Walker was one of ten students chosen from approximately 400 to compete in the regional competition. According to Walker, each student performed two selections, one solo and one with another person. Walker performed selections from "Kropp's Last Tape" and "Death of a Salesman."

The winner of the regional competition won a $500 scholarship.

Continued on page 6

William Windom in Thuner, 5Pm

SKI CLUB MEETING

Tuesday, January 24
6:00PM

aFortune 'T. C

notre dame student union

for all interested in going on ski trips

this winter (Feb. 3, 17, and others)

Arabs express Mideast views

Arab moderates, hardliners criticize U.S. role in talks

BEIRUT, Lebanon [AP] - Arab hardliners and moderates sharply criticized the United States yesterday following the break-off in Egyptian-Israeli peace talks, and some looked toward Washington for the next move in the Mideast deadlock.

"It is up to the Americans now to speak to the world," said the Saudi Arabian daily newspaper Al-Riyadh, echoing Egyptian President Anwar Sadat's appeal in a speech Saturday for resuming political discussion with Israel.

Kuwaiti newspapers called for reactivation of the American oil weapon.

The conservative Arab monarchies of the Persian Gulf refrained from open attacks on Sadat's solo peace initiative, saving their editorial censure for the United States, which was accused of failing to extract sufficient concessions from Israel.

"It is up to the United States to be a friend of the countries in the area that are not influenced by Russia, then it must break the hand that sits on aggression and usurpation, using American supplied rifles," Al-Riyadh said, referring to Saudi Arabia.

Kuwait's Al-Siyassah newspaper said the United States is secretly shuffling the cards for an international game that will involve the Middle East and Red Sea areas."

Drama student participates in scholarship competition

by Diane Wilson

Senior Staff Reporter

Norte Dame senior John Walker was chosen by the American College Theater Festival judges to compete for the Irene Ryan Foundation Scholarship, which was held Jan. 4-6 at Wright State College in Dayton.

Walker did not win the regional competition, he stated, that "It was a good learning experience. It was interesting to see what other college theaters were doing." He added that it was good in that it brought lots of college actors together and allowed them to see how they compared with other college actors.

The American College Theater Festival is held in conjunction with the Irene Ryan Foundation Scholarship competition on a nationwide basis. Irene Ryan was an actress whose last role was "Granny" on the "Beverly Hillbillies." Ryan left funds for an ongoing scholarship for college actors. For the competition the country was divided into 13 regions. Walker explained and Notre Dame belongs to the Great Lakes region, which includes Michigan, Ohio, and Indiana. In each region judging teams are sent around to view college shows. The judging teams consist of college professors. According to Greg Bain, chairman of the NO-SMC Sparrow and Drama Department, NO-SMC entered "Caucasian Chalk Circle.

Walker was one of ten students chosen from approximately 400 to compete in the regional competition. According to Walker, each student performed two selections, one solo and one with another person. Walker performed selections from "Kropp's Last Tape" and "Death of a Salesman."

The winner of the regional competition won a $500 scholarship.

Continued on page 6

William Windom in Thuner, 5Pm

SKI CLUB MEETING

Tuesday, January 24
6:00PM

aFortune 'T. C

notre dame student union

for all interested in going on ski trips

this winter (Feb. 3, 17, and others)
ROME [AP] - "Sesame Street," the world's most popular children's program, makes its debut on Italian television today and program directors are braced for criticism.

In a country where one in every three persons voted Communist in the last national election, the commercialism associated with the program here and its Madison Avenue-style teaching techniques are expected to anger leftists.

The U.S.-produced program, which has spread to some 90 countries in the past decade, will go under the title "Open Sesame" in the Italian version, and Ernie and Bert will be rebaptized "Ernesto e Berto."

The hour-long shows familiar to millions of American kids have been boiled down to tri-weekly half hour segments. The stress on letters and numbers remains, but most of the social comment has been cut as too specific to the United States. As Big Bird, Kermit the Frog, the Cookie Monster, Grover and the other Muppet monsters become part of the fantasy world of Italian children, the sales of their toy models will become big business for the state-run national television network.

It has negotiated sales rights for "Sesame Street" puppets, records, books and T-shirts that will flood Italian shops. The commercial overtones of the venture can be expected to arouse the anti-capitalist sentiment in many Italians.

The leftists who control the network today and program director Paola de Benedetti anticipates objections but thinks they can be overcome. The "Sesame Street" teaching techniques also are bound to elicit some criticism. The snappy, amusing way that numbers and letters are taught to the young viewers is a product of the capitalist advertising world.

The British Broadcasting Corp. refused to run the program, judging it a teaching tool that left children too passive. Italian television at first turned it down because they thought the methods too mechanical — and because the right to "Sesame Street" programs were then controlled by a German company.

---

The Evelyn Wood Wood challenge:

Bring the toughest textbook or reading material you own to tonight's Free Speed Reading Lesson and we'll show you how to read it faster, with comprehension!

If you're like most people, you're probably skeptical about our ability to make Speed Reading work for you. O.K. Tonight we'd like the opportunity to prove, as we have to millions, that you can read with comprehension.

In fact, we challenge you to come to tonight's Free Speed Reading Lesson armed with the toughest textbook or reading material you own. We'll show you how to read faster, with comprehension. And, remember, we're not using our materials...books that you may feel too easy...we're using yours...the toughest you can find!

If you're open minded and want to improve your reading ability, we challenge you...challenge you to begin tonight, to make reading work for you.

FREE SPEED READING LESSON

NOTRE DAME ACC
ENTER GATE 2

EVELYN WOOD READING DYNAMICS

THIS MON, TUES, WED
4:00 AND 7:30 ONLY

Make reading work for you!

---

Gallery features Geoffrion works

The Notre Dame Art Gallery has opened the exhibition Recent Sculpture by Moira Mael Geoffrion in East Galleries I and II. This exhibition of new works by Geoffrion, assistant professor of sculpture in the ND Art Department, will remain until Feb. 19.

Geoffrion received her B.F.A. from Boston University, attended Indiana University at Bloomington, and received her M.F.A. from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. She and her husband spent three years living and traveling in Africa, and her work has been heavily influenced by African art.

The Notre Dame Art Gallery is located in O'Shaughnessy Hall and is open, free to the public, weekdays 10 a.m. to 4:45 p.m., Thursdays evenings 7-9 p.m., and weekends 1-5 p.m.

Waugh to deliver three lectures

John S. Waugh, A.A. Noyes professor of Chemistry at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, will deliver three Peter C. Reilly Lectures at Notre Dame this week.

A leader in studies of nuclear magnetic resonance (NMR) spectroscopy, Waugh's methods have allowed this technique to be used in studying the structure of solids.

In public lectures held in Room 123 Nieuwland Science Hall at 4:30 p.m. each day, he will discuss "Alloys of Nuclear Spins and NMR Spectroscopy of Solids," today; "Reversibility and Irreversibility in Isolated Systems," Wednesday; and "Rotational Spectroscopy: High Resolution NMR of Solids," Friday.

Waugh received the A.B. from Dartmouth and the Ph.D. from the California Institute of Technology. He is a member of both the American Academy of Arts and Sciences and the National Academy of Sciences.

The Reilly Lectureship was established in 1945 in honor of the late Indianapolis industrialist, Peter C. Reilly, and is sponsored by the ND Department of Chemistry.
Saturday Night Fever
by Br. Bill Toohey

Returning from break (whether summer, mid-seemester or Christmas) is always a bit like meeting someone for the first time. We begin with a certain amount of small talk, of the have-you-read-any-good-books lately variety. This past week, as students inquired of each other how the break was, they frequently shared comments on movies viewed. And, amongst the many offerings of the Christmas season (Close Encounters, Ganster, Semi-Tough, Good-bye Girl, Turning Point, and others), the one most talked about is Saturday Night Fever.

Fever is surely not a perfect film (a point amply documented by the professional reviewers); but it is much more than a rock music and dance. More importantly, it is a serious and haunting work of art.

The writing is, I think, different. In his diary, I find, a bit to my surprise, that there is no clearly traceable figure of pattern in this phase of his life. If he knew, he never let it show.

Margery Albright, who had delivered the babies of neighbor women before the Civil War. He was, of course, much too young at the time to have been affected by the quiet and homely circumstances of his birth, to which he once alluded, a little awkwardly, I think, as “the Carrier and live.” The old map tins of his grandchildren are described with apparent pride.

On February 23d, Boughton took the oath of office. “That’s the date every woman who ever lived had her name beside her mother’s,” Mrs. Thurber let it go at that.

February 24th, 1994, at 147 Parsons Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. “It is of no value or importance except as it demonstrates the moral and spiritual yearning for names and numbers. He remembers the phone numbers of several of his school friends which he has managed somehow to ratttle off the names of all the persons who, defeated and humbled, he is able to accept the risk and pain of the outside world.”

Tony is able to break through the darkness into light; he is able to free himself from his confining, death-dealing past; he is able to begin to discover that life is a journey, not a destination. But he doesn’t do this all on his own. We sense, that like the Prodigal, he is cherished and pursued by the unrelenting power of love.

For Tony, God fulfills his promise to be a light in darkness through the gentle presence of a young woman. When Tony makes his rendezvous to the outside world, Stephanie (played by Karen Gorney) offers him friendship. This is something new for Tony for whom women had been here-to-there, face dancers or sex partners. Friendship presents another threat.

“You’ve never been friends with a girl, Stephanie says. “Are you sure you can handle it?”

“I’m not sure,” Tony confesses, "but I’d like to try."

Saturday Night Fever, for all its crude language and violent sex, is still an extremely moral film. The film is summed up promiscuously and cruelly of the young adult world and of the adult world so not glorified. We can recognize something of ourselves in his story of setback and the interruption of a closely made plans; and it is hard to miss the strong elements of redemption in the film’s finale.

Tony was scarred with pain and death. He risks vulnerability through a new life in an alien land. He repudiates exploitation and retaliation (“Dumming,” as he calls it), and gambles on the power of friendship. In the final, moving scene, Stephanie opens her door, and life, to him, offers friendship, reaches out to his woundedness with a kiss... and, in the final freeze-frame, Tony begins to allow love to find him.

James Thurber was born on a night of wild, portent and high wind in the year 1900, at 147 Parsons Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. The house, which is still standing, bears no tablet or plaque of any description, and is never pointed out to visitors. Once, Thurber’s mother, walking past the place with an old lady from Fostoria, Ohio, said to her “My son James was born in that house” to which the old lady, who was extremely deaf, replied, “Why, on the Tuesday morning train, unless my sister is aware of the emptiness of his life. His father is out of work, and his own job (six days a week) in a pizza store seems to him as a dead-end of never-ending futility. Tony struggles to free himself from the self-obsessed past and his smug and ruthless friends.

Tony’s brother, Frank, is a priest who has decided to leave the ministry, a shattering experience for the Italian-Catholic family. To top it off, Puerto Ricans are moving into the territory. When a Puerto Rican couple takes the dance floor in the coolest that constitutes the climax of the film, Tony realizes that his reign as king is over. He also recognizes that they deserve the first-prize money that was given to him.

He gives the Puerto Rican couple the prize, and protests against the prejudice, cruelty and shallowness of his constricting world.

Toni, played with animal intensity by John Travolta, is hardly a deep thinker or a cultural sophisticate. His concern for the future doesn’t go beyond the next Saturday night. It’s magic time, when he takes his pick of partners and becomes king of the lighted plastic cube of a dance floor at the neighborhood discotheque.

But Tony’s tight little world begins to come unglued, as he gradually becomes aware of the emptiness of his life. His father is out of work, and his own job (six days a week) in a pizza store seems to him as a dead-end of never-ending futility. Tony struggles to free himself from the self-obsessed past and his smug and ruthless friends.

Being dethroned as Disco King, has thrust him into vulnerability, as a deposed monarch in exile, “Richard Blakes writes, “Tony crosses to Manhattan where, defeated and humbled, he is able to accept the risk and pain of the outside world.”

Wednesday 24th, Saturday Night Fever.

Margery Albright, who had delivered the babies of neighbor women before the Civil War. He was, of course, much too young at the time to have been affected by the quiet and homely circumstances of his birth, to which he once alluded, a little awkwardly, I think, as “the Carrier and live.” The old map tins of his grandchildren are described with apparent pride.

The writing is, I think, different. In his diary, I find, a bit to my surprise, that there is no clearly traceable figure of pattern in this phase of his life. If he knew, he never let it show.

Margery Albright, who had delivered the babies of neighbor women before the Civil War. He was, of course, much too young at the time to have been affected by the quiet and homely circumstances of his birth, to which he once alluded, a little awkwardly, I think, as “the Carrier and live.” The old map tins of his grandchildren are described with apparent pride.

John T. Savage’s Garden at IIS South Fifth Street, Columbus, Ohio. “It is of no value or importance except as it demonstrates the moral and spiritual yearning for names and numbers. He remembers the phone numbers of several of his school friends which he has managed somehow to ratttle off the names of all the persons who, defeated and humbled, he is able to accept the risk and pain of the outside world.”

Tony is able to break through the darkness into light; he is able to free himself from his confining, death-dealing past; he is able to begin to discover that life is a journey, not a destination. But he doesn’t do this all on his own. We sense, that like the Prodigal, he is cherished and pursued by the unrelenting power of love.

For Tony, God fulfills his promise to be a light in darkness through the gentle presence of a young woman. When Tony makes his rendezvous to the outside world, Stephanie (played by Karen Gorney) offers him friendship. This is something new for Tony for whom women had been here-to-there, face dancers or sex partners. Friendship presents another threat.

“You’ve never been friends with a girl, Stephanie says. “Are you sure you can handle it?”

“I’m not sure,” Tony confesses, "but I’d like to try."

Saturday Night Fever, for all its crude language and violent sex, is still an extremely moral film. The film is summed up promiscuously and cruelly of the young adult world and of the adult world so not glorified. We can recognize something of ourselves in his story of setback and the interruption of a closely made plans; and it is hard to miss the strong elements of redemption in the film’s finale.

Tony was scarred with pain and death. He risks vulnerability through a new life in an alien land. He repudiates exploitation and retaliation (“Dumming,” as he calls it), and gambles on the power of friendship. In the final, moving scene, Stephanie opens her door, and life, to him, offers friendship, reaches out to his woundedness with a kiss... and, in the final freeze-frame, Tony begins to allow love to find him.

James Thurber was born on a night of wild, portent and high wind in the year 1900, at 147 Parsons Avenue, Columbus, Ohio. The house, which is still standing, bears no tablet or plaque of any description, and is never pointed out to visitors. Once, Thurber’s mother, walking past the place with an old lady from Fostoria, Ohio, said to her “My son James was born in that house” to which the old lady, who was extremely deaf, replied, “Why, on the Tuesday morning train, unless my sister is
Redwood trees vandalized

EUREKA, Calif. [AP] - As a hearing approaches on whether the Redwood National Park should be expanded, loggers and environmentalists are blaming each other for a rash of chain-saw vandalism to the majestic trees. The trunks of 16-state protected giant redwoods in groves about 55 miles south of here have been hacked and ripped by a chainsaw.

The rash of vandalism comes just as debate is heating up over an attempt in Congress to add 48,000 acres of northern California mountain timberland to the Redwood National Park.

A hearing is scheduled Wednesday on a bill sponsored by Sen. Alan Cranston (D-Calif.). The proposed legislation has been hailed by conservationists because it would protect the 2000-year-old redwoods and fought by logging interests who want the trees for lumber.

Each side has voiced outrage over the vandalism. And each has hinted its opponent could be the culprit.

Sheriff's deputies say they don't know who is responsible for the vandalism.

The first of four attacks was made on Jan. 3 when two of three 2000-year-old trees, which have routes tunneled through them, were hacked. The last assault was Friday, when four 300-foot trees on the Avenue of the Giants in Humboldt Redwood State Park were scarred.

Most of the trees have had to be topped because the damage was so severe.

Volunteers sought for tutoring

Students who want to tutor this semester with the Neighborhood Study Help Program (NSHP) can sign up this week at the dining halls.

The NSHP is the campus volunteer service through which ND-SMC students tutor South Bend grade school children. Tutoring center captains will be at the South Dining Hall with sign-up sheets tomorrow from 5-6:30 p.m., at the North Dining Hall on Wednesday from 5-6:30 p.m., and at St. Mary's Dining Hall on Thursday from 4:30-6 p.m.

Tutors usually spend one hour each week with a grade school student to work on reading and math problems. Transportation for tutors is provided through Volunteer Services. Anyone with questions can call Maggie Brittan (4-1-6580) or Rick VanDeVen (283-6572).

Bluffton bus service for seniors praised

BLUFFTON, IN [AP] - The oldest passenger is 92 and the youngest is a blind man in his early 40's, and they uniformly have high praise for Bluffton's Seniorride, a free bus service for the city's senior citizens.

"I go lots of times to get away from home," said one elderly rider. "I get so lonesome I can hardly stand it."

"I just love it!" added another patron. "I think it's the best thing Bluffton's ever had."

The operation, the brainchild of Mayor William Fryback, began on a small scale in 1972 and has expanded its itinerary to include almost everywhere in the city, and the vehicle has changed from the original surplus Civil Defense bus to a new, orange-trimmed 16-seater purchased by the city in November.

"We're just glad to help them out," says John Allison, who, with Margaret Brumbaugh, organizes schedules based on the calls.

The Seniorride is spreading, also. The bus is so popular with Bluffton's elderly that Wells County officials plan to inaugurate a similar countywide service later this month that will be known as the County Van.

The cost of the Bluffton operation is divided equally between the city government and a grant from the local Council on the Aged and Aging.

"About the bus, observers report an atmosphere of companionship and anticipation as each day's route meanders from clothing stores to beauty shops to banks.

"Like it because I can get my own groceries - I can pick them out myself," said a grateful Seniorider.

Drama winner to receive $2000

[Continued from page 3] and the right to attend the National Festival held at the John F. Kennedy Center for Performing Arts. The national winner receives a $2000 scholarship as well as chances for auditions on the professional level. According to Bain, many of the national winners have gone on to Hollywood contracts.

Walker plans to attend graduate school in business administration, and her goal is to be a producer or director who can tell stories that are important to her.

"I think it's the best thing Bluffton's ever had." said a grateful Seniorider.

King Hussein willing to join Mideast talks

[Continued from page 1] that if the talks fail, "we are then at the end of the road. We will be heading for disaster in terms of this area and the whole world."

Hussein said he would be willing to join joint discussions between Israel and Egypt if the two sides could agree on a set of principles that would govern a final Middle East solution.

He said those principles should include Israeli withdrawal from occupied territories with minor rectifications. Arab sovereignty over East Jerusalem, the right of return for Palestinian refugees and the placing of the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip under international auspices until the inhabitants could exercise self-determination. If those principles were agreed, he said, "we would not hesitate one second to negotiate."

In Cairo, a senior Egyptian Foreign Ministry official, Tahseen Bashir, said the Israeli announcement was "not unexpected."

Bashir refused to go beyond that or comment on the meaning of the announcement. Each day's regimented schedule to meet the route changes daily, depending on the requests telephoned each day to Fryback's secretary, who then organizes schedules based on the calls.

The Seniorride is spreading, also. The bus is so popular with Bluffton's elderly that Wells County officials plan to inaugurate a similar countywide service later this month that will be known as the County Van.

The cost of the Bluffton operation is divided equally between the city government and a grant from the local Council on the Aged and Aging.

"About the bus, observers report an atmosphere of companionship and anticipation as each day's route meanders from clothing stores to beauty shops to banks.

"Like it because I can get my own groceries - I can pick them out myself," said a grateful Seniorider.

Redwood trees vandalized

EUREKA, Calif. [AP] - As a hearing approaches on whether the Redwood National Park should be expanded, loggers and environmentalists are blaming each other for a rash of chain-saw vandalism to the majestic trees. The trunks of 16-state protected giant redwoods in groves about 55 miles south of here have been hacked and ripped by a chainsaw.

The rash of vandalism comes just as debate is heating up over an attempt in Congress to add 48,000 acres of northern California mountain timberland to the Redwood National Park.

A hearing is scheduled Wednesday on a bill sponsored by Sen. Alan Cranston (D-Calif.). The proposed legislation has been hailed by conservationists because it would protect the 2000-year-old redwoods and fought by logging interests who want the trees for lumber.

Each side has voiced outrage over the vandalism. And each has hinted its opponent could be the culprit.

Sheriff's deputies say they don't know who is responsible for the vandalism.

The first of four attacks was made on Jan. 3 when two of three 2000-year-old trees, which have routes tunneled through them, were hacked. The last assault was Friday, when four 300-foot trees on the Avenue of the Giants in Humboldt Redwood State Park were scarred.

Most of the trees have had to be topped because the damage was so severe.

Volunteers sought for tutoring

Students who want to tutor this semester with the Neighborhood Study Help Program (NSHP) can sign up this week at the dining halls.

The NSHP is the campus volunteer service through which ND-SMC students tutor South Bend grade school children. Tutoring center captains will be at the South Dining Hall with sign-up sheets tomorrow from 5-6:30 p.m., at the North Dining Hall on Wednesday from 5-6:30 p.m., and at St. Mary's Dining Hall on Thursday from 4:30-6 p.m.

Tutors usually spend one hour each week with a grade school student to work on reading and math problems. Transportation for tutors is provided through Volunteer Services. Anyone with questions can call Maggie Brittan (4-1-6580) or Rick VanDeVen (283-6572).

Redwood trees vandalized

EUREKA, Calif. [AP] - As a hearing approaches on whether the Redwood National Park should be expanded, loggers and environmentalists are blaming each other for a rash of chain-saw vandalism to the majestic trees. The trunks of 16-state protected giant redwoods in groves about 55 miles south of here have been hacked and ripped by a chainsaw.

The rash of vandalism comes just as debate is heating up over an attempt in Congress to add 48,000 acres of northern California mountain timberland to the Redwood National Park.

A hearing is scheduled Wednesday on a bill sponsored by Sen. Alan Cranston (D-Calif.). The proposed legislation has been hailed by conservationists because it would protect the 2000-year-old redwoods and fought by logging interests who want the trees for lumber.

Each side has voiced outrage over the vandalism. And each has hinted its opponent could be the culprit.

Sheriff's deputies say they don't know who is responsible for the vandalism.

The first of four attacks was made on Jan. 3 when two of three 2000-year-old trees, which have routes tunneled through them, were hacked. The last assault was Friday, when four 300-foot trees on the Avenue of the Giants in Humboldt Redwood State Park were scarred.

Most of the trees have had to be topped because the damage was so severe.

Volunteers sought for tutoring

Students who want to tutor this semester with the Neighborhood Study Help Program (NSHP) can sign up this week at the dining halls.

The NSHP is the campus volunteer service through which ND-SMC students tutor South Bend grade school children. Tutoring center captains will be at the South Dining Hall with sign-up sheets tomorrow from 5-6:30 p.m., at the North Dining Hall on Wednesday from 5-6:30 p.m., and at St. Mary's Dining Hall on Thursday from 4:30-6 p.m.

Tutors usually spend one hour each week with a grade school student to work on reading and math problems. Transportation for tutors is provided through Volunteer Services. Anyone with questions can call Maggie Brittan (4-1-6580) or Rick VanDeVen (283-6572).

Redwood trees vandalized

EUREKA, Calif. [AP] - As a hearing approaches on whether the Redwood National Park should be expanded, loggers and environmentalists are blaming each other for a rash of chain-saw vandalism to the majestic trees. The trunks of 16-state protected giant redwoods in groves about 55 miles south of here have been hacked and ripped by a chainsaw.

The rash of vandalism comes just as debate is heating up over an attempt in Congress to add 48,000 acres of northern California mountain timberland to the Redwood National Park.

A hearing is scheduled Wednesday on a bill sponsored by Sen. Alan Cranston (D-Calif.). The proposed legislation has been hailed by conservationists because it would protect the 2000-year-old redwoods and fought by logging interests who want the trees for lumber.

Each side has voiced outrage over the vandalism. And each has hinted its opponent could be the culprit.

Sheriff's deputies say they don't know who is responsible for the vandalism.

The first of four attacks was made on Jan. 3 when two of three 2000-year-old trees, which have routes tunneled through them, were hacked. The last assault was Friday, when four 300-foot trees on the Avenue of the Giants in Humboldt Redwood State Park were scarred.

Most of the trees have had to be topped because the damage was so severe.

Volunteers sought for tutoring

Students who want to tutor this semester with the Neighborhood Study Help Program (NSHP) can sign up this week at the dining halls.

The NSHP is the campus volunteer service through which ND-SMC students tutor South Bend grade school children. Tutoring center captains will be at the South Dining Hall with sign-up sheets tomorrow from 5-6:30 p.m., at the North Dining Hall on Wednesday from 5-6:30 p.m., and at St. Mary's Dining Hall on Thursday from 4:30-6 p.m.

Tutors usually spend one hour each week with a grade school student to work on reading and math problems. Transportation for tutors is provided through Volunteer Services. Anyone with questions can call Maggie Brittan (4-1-6580) or Rick VanDeVen (283-6572).
Notre Dame icer's split with Tigers
by Gregory Solman
Sports Writer
It was not a weekend for the purist.

Somewhere in ancient Irish folklore there exists a story which tells of a brave knight who refused to give in to Dan Devine who refused to allow hockey on campus because, as he put it, "we're the bloody Notre Dame and we never put a stick in the hands of an Irishman."

One has to wonder what that night could have been, for in the days that followed, there were a half dozen things to take careful notice of was David Greenwood. He controlled the game and the sliced his own goals before the period closed at 5.4. Warner's goal at 18:31 in particular exemplified the deft passing and patience of both teams, as he cruised in from the right, used the puck over Mohr's left shoulder into the corner of the net.

The third period was all Colorado, as Notre Dame gave two power play opportunities and failed to capitalize on either. Meanwhile, however, in the net, Ken Neufeldt gave Magde added goals to ice the victory.

The first and second periods of the second game showed the same conservative style of hockey seen the previous night. And the roughness, combined both teams picking up twelve penalties and only three goals.

Dave Faemster was the first to penetrate the armor of net minder John Peterson. The power play goal was assisted by Delich and Greg Whyle.

Early in the second period, the Irish, Donny Faenom was up to his old tricks, pulling off an unassisted shorthanded goal to tie the game. Faemster fired the game, however, at 8:50, and Colorado closed out with a 2-1 lead.

The third period, by far the most one-sided and fast-paced in the weekend series, saw eight goals scored, with Notre Dame picking up ten penalties and only three goals.

The third period was all Colorado, as Notre Dame was riding a 4-3 lead when early in the second period, the Irish had Kyle Neufeldt called for ten minutes, so with less than five minutes to go in the period, and the Irish two men ahead, Roger Staatsch for five more years just for starters. And what about both teams of course.

Terry Fairholm through the zone and cut in on the goal line, Delich and Warner then added the third period, for 1,000 dollars per week, Tax Free: Close to

Towlie's Rags

Close Encounters

Towlie's Rags

Dem, vacation is over. Again, back at school before really knowing where the time went. Time does go fast when you're having fun. The calendar says it's time to collect bets from our 1968 World Series. Oh well, here's a few thoughts from Christmas break.

For the first since the Jets played the Colts in the 1966 Super Bowl, I actually looked forward to the professional championship this year. You may disagree, but Sunday's clash resembled a genuine Super Bowl football game. For once, there was the element of extreme competition, the Orange Crush version. Ed "Too Tall" Jones is too strong, too quick, too tough, too mean.

When New York and Denver squared off and split at Notre Dame all night, as Colorado had done that Irish for his unsung heroes.

Before the second period had ended, however, the Irish had Kyle Neufeldt called for ten minutes, 35 seconds for Fairholm for two minutes, and Mohr for four minutes and Blue. The fourth period got going when Nogent and Haebach had it at the front of the net.

The next night, the Irish came back again, and Butch Lee their usual great selves, but Ulice Payne also proved himself the Orange Crush version. Ed "Too Tall" Jones is too strong, too quick, too tough, too mean.

Terry Fairholm took advantage of it first, parking himself at the corner of the net for the rebound from his fellow Irishman on the power play.

Then Don Johnson relieved some of the pressure for the Irish, first a ring long and a move around Dave Faemster for a goal that surprised net minder Paul Mitchell. Still on the power play, Jackson scored an empty netter at the same time with help from Byers and Mohr.

Terry Fairholm cut the lead to 3-2, allowing Dave Faemster to coast in unassailed for the final goal. Irish Coach Lefty Smith had Humphrey's 2-2 goal as the big one in the game, being the first mark in third period.

Greg Meirch, with apoint in the series, was the recipient of cheap shots all weekend. Meirch had been wearing a full cage mask to protect the nose he broke several weeks ago. It has been drawing trouble for the Irish winger, who is looking to be picked on for his extra curricular activity.

"They think that because I'm wearing this mask that I'm looking for excuses to hit people," commented Meredith. "Actually, you have to expect roughness when playing a team that is as undisciplined as Colorado."

Meanwhile, maintains Irish dejections Don Dan Devine, Notre Dame's game of hockey is becoming increasingly more disciplined. "Roughness is our downfall, our defensive play is really coming along," said Jack Devine. "That's all we need right now. We have two goals and two assists in the winning effort. In the last fifteen games, "We're the top teams, Wisconsin and Denver, are coping off right now. Nationwide, we seem to be picking up a little momentum."

The race in the WCHA is certainly tightenin up," said Nugent, who has scored 11 times in the last fifteen games. "The top teams, Wisconsin and Denver, are coping off right now. Nationwide, we seem to be picking up a little momentum."

--Observer Sports

MANDATORY REPORTERS WELCOME!
If you absolutely can't attend call Jean at 4001.

REPORTERS

Full color Cotton Bowl picture now available. Call Bill.

Still need photos? Pandora's has some impressive photos for many NGU causes.

Eat your bread with joy. The-fashioned meal in the Basement of Regina South. (avail. 2:30-5:30)

WANTED:

1981 Filterlook LK 981 turntable. Only 3 months old. $170.00

 spite of the flurry of activity at the NHL office, basement of Regina South. All SMC REPORTERS:

LATIN TUTOR DESPERATELY NEED1

In LaFortune student center, a all sense of reason. If found, just willing to meet your price for GA Marquette tix. Will pay your price for GA Marquette tix. Call 794-2201.

Romeo's: Excellent condition. Dave, Walnut base and dustcover. Must sell.

FOR SALE

Bic 981 turntable only 3 months old. Comes with Shelf MDEE cartridges. Will trade for 1970 turntable. Must sell, Call ALX 670-500.

Full color Cotton Bowl picture now available. Call Bill.

Still need photos? Pandora's has some impressive photos for many NGU causes.

Eat your bread with joy. The-fashioned meal in the Basement of Regina South. (avail. 2:30-5:30)

WANTED:

1981 Filterlook LK 981 turntable. Only 3 months old. $170.00

Will pay your price for GA Marquette tix. Call 794-2201.

Romeo's: Excellent condition. Dave, Walnut base and dustcover. Must sell.

FOR SALE

Bic 981 turntable only 3 months old. Comes with Shelf MDEE cartridges. Will trade for 1970 turntable. Must sell, Call ALX 670-500.

Full color Cotton Bowl picture now available. Call Bill.

Still need photos? Pandora's has some impressive photos for many NGU causes.

Eat your bread with joy. The-fashioned meal in the Basement of Regina South. (avail. 2:30-5:30)

WANTED:

1981 Filterlook LK 981 turntable. Only 3 months old. $170.00

Will pay your price for GA Marquette tix. Call 794-2201.
Irish top Bruins, earn ‘clean sweep’

N.D. becomes only second team in over ten years to defeat UCLA twice in one season

by Paul Stevenson

Sports Editor

There are not many rivalries that compare with the matchup between Notre Dame and UCLA and this classic confrontation lived up to its reputation once again yesterday as the seventh-ranked Irish downed the third-ranked Bruins, 75-73, in the ACC. That victory marked the second of the season for the Irish over UCLA. In more than ten years, there has only been one other occasion when the Bruins have been defeated by the same team twice in one year.

The contest was extremely close for the first 17 minutes of competition. Then, with 2:57 remaining before intermission, Duck Williams scored on a driving layup to put Notre Dame on top, 33-31. Rich Branning then stole and tallied and Dave Batton hit on a layup off the assist from Bruce Flowers to put the Irish up by eight, 39-31. Roy Hamilton connected on his second of two free throws, but Williams followed with layup with seven seconds left in the half to bring the Bruins within one, 40-39.

In the first half, the Bruins connected on 15 of 31 field goals, while hitting two of four from the charity stripe (50 percent). The Irish found the range on 13 of 22 field goals for 59 percent and sunk five from five free throw attempts. Notre Dame had a slight rebounding edge of 16 to 14. James Wilkes scored on a layup after the opening tip of the second half but the Irish came back with three unanswered bounces. Williams connected on an under the head layup off a rebound and was fouled by Wilkes. The 6-9 senior then converted on the three-point play and Williams soon found the range on a seven foot bank shot.

The Irish now had a remarkable 34-34 tie and appeared as though they may have been able to blow the game open against the highly-touted Bruins. However, in the next six minutes, UCLA out-scored the Irish 16 to 10. One. The lone Notre Dame point came on a free throw by Branning. Hamilton had three layups within that time period to lead the Irish to a 40-44 deficit.

But, with the Bruins up, 50-47, the Irish fought back. The Notre Dame cagers regained the lead and led 49-48 after a driving layup by the Notre Dame center, 55-54. From there, the contest was a see-saw battle with both sides exchanging baskets.

With 4:46 remaining in the game, Laimbeer was fouled by Gig Simms, his fifth. The sophomore center connected on both charity shots as Notre Dame took the lead again, 65-62. Branning then hit two more free throws and Williams scored two on a twisting jumper to give the Irish a safe 69-62 margin with only 2:23 remaining.

At the 3:03 mark, Laimbeer drove in for a layup but was, to say the least, fouled by David Green-wood. The 6-11 sophomore was removed from the game on a stretcher due to a believed broken right ankle. Although the Toledo, Ohio native only sprained his ankle, he did break a small bone in his left wrist. Thus, Laimbeer will be able to return from action tonight against Dartmouth as well as Wednesday night against West Virginia. It is unknown how much longer Notre Dame’s center will be out of the lineup.

Laimbeer and Batton each hauled in seven rebounds, while Flowers had six caroms. Greenwood led all scorers with 23 points, while also accounting for ten rebounds. Branning added 15 markers, while Hamilton added 13 points.

The contest was well played by both sides and Bruin Head Coach Gary Cunningham was quick to point out how good a game it was. “I think the game was called consistently,” Cunningham remarked. “It was well coached by Digger and he did a great job with his players. I was very proud of the way our team came back at the end. It was just a game of strategy on both sides. Notre Dame has an outstanding team, one of the truly outstanding teams in the country.

Irish mentor Digger Phelps was extremely proud of his squad’s efforts. They knew the task they had in front of them and accomplished their goal.

“Our concern was to control their guards,” Phelps commented. “Let Greenwood get 25, but don’t let their Townsend and Hamilton get 50.”

The Notre Dame head coach had senior guard Jeff Carpenter start the contest, his sixth starting nod of the season. Meanwhile, the Irish had talked to Phelps earlier in the week and discussed the fact that it may be to Notre Dame’s advantage if he did not start. “I talked to coach and he wanted me to sit down and watch the game for a while and then come in when they needed,” Phelps stressed. “It gave me a chance to look at the other players and see what they’re doing.

Batton realized that this was a crucial contest the Irish needed after their holiday schedule. “I’m really happy that we won the game, this puts us over the hump.”

Phelps agreed with Batton’s sentiments. “This is the juice we wanted me to sit down and watch the game for a while and then come in when they needed.”

The Fighting Irish will have no time to rest and enjoy this victory as they enter the ACC. Tip-off is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Jeff Carpenter received his sixth starting nod of the season and responded with a fine performance. [Photo by Doug Christian]