De Fuccio speaks on humor

Two decades ago, DeFuccio explained, humor was at the expense of the other guy, what he called "bick 'em in the belly, Kelly humor." It has evolved into "truth humor," which is more personal and meaningful. "People recognize the situation, they've lived through it, so they laugh," he noted. "Cerebral humor," added popular by the comic strip "Doonesbury." It's also on the rise. "(You don't understand it, but since Gary Trudeau wrote it, it's funny.)"

The MAD staff prides itself on its worldwide reach. The first of these took place twenty years ago, when publisher Bill Gaines decided to send the entire staff ("twenty-five MADmen") to Haiti. Before they left, they checked their files to see if they had any subscribers there. They did have one lone subscriber, whose subscription ran not concurrent with their visit. Upon their arrival in Haiti the staff rented nine jeeps, hoisted a MAD banner, drove to the subscriber's home, walked up to the door, handed him a renewal slip, and asked for their $2.00. "We like to do things in a big way," DeFuccio deadpanned.

The Air Force ROTC Two Year Program

Are you really as good as you think you are? Is there an opportunity to test your capabilities? If you are a college student with good grades remaining, Air Force ROTC, has an opportunity for you! We'll pay your way in and out of Air Force ROTC. Once you are commissioned, another country, you will be paid your salary and expenses while you are there, and you will give six weeks at Field Training to be sure you are the kind of officer that the Air Force ROTC is looking for. We are looking for those who are willing to serve, and are there are few other programs in the military that will allow you to do this.

SU Director to be nominated from field of six applicants

by Jack Plenato
Senior Staff Reporter

Student Union (SU) Steering Committee members will begin reviewing applications and interviewing candidates, today, for the position of Student Union director and comptroller.

Six students, all SU members, apply and will be considered for the director’s post. They are: Senior Bill Roche, assistant director; Sophomore John Dzimianiski, assistant director; Sophomore Maria Mosser, assistant director; Sophomore Eugene Woloshyn, assistant services commissioner; Sophomore Curt Hetch, SU executive aide; Junior Joe LaCosta, SU ticket manager; and Junior John Dzimianiski, director of Campus Press.

Any student, Junior Accountant major Maureen Carney, has made a bid for the office of SU comptroller.

The SU Steering Committee will nominate from the six applicants, a member to act as director. That nomination will be subject to the approval of the student government’s Board of Commissioners before March 1. The Steering Committee’s selection of a new SU comptroller will not require the Board’s approval.

Outgoing SU Director, Tom Gryp, said that he was disappointed with the number of people who applied for the two posts. "This is primarily due to publicity," Gryp commented, adding that "I’m sorry, there’s only one person within the Union knew about applying for the positions." He blamed the situation on the lack of contact with the SU Steering Committee.

Last Friday was the deadline to apply for the positions of Student Union director or comptroller. In all, there were five applications submitted to the Student Activities Commission.

Any ND-SMC student must submit a resume including McNeill, Broden, Prof. John Kronelewicz, Prof. John Roos, Prof. Tom Swartz, Olga Villa and Ben Johnson who “will offer some useful and supplementary information about the Student Union Community and neighborhoods in general.”

Directly following the SU bids will be traditional Polish wedding feast and a discussion concerning further appointments to the student investment in urban settings. Cars will return to the Library Circle at 7:15 that evening.

Registration for the tour will take place in the Library Circle today from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Sunday, Feb. 26, through Tuesday, Feb. 28. Information and registration will be held for undergraduates in environment courses and entrance fee will be $2.00 and all are encouraged to attend the Roots program. Those who are interested in the trip and decide not to participate are asked to contact Theresa. For further information, contact Mary Beth at the Student Union Center.

The Observer’s election for editor-in-chief is Wednesday, March 1.

Any ND-SMC student interested in running must submit a resume.

Pollard edits volume on virology perspectives

The tenth volume of the “Perspectives in Virology” series edited by Martin Pollard, chairman and professor of microbiology at the University of Notre Dame and director of Lederle Laboratory, has been published by Raven Press, New York.

The current volume includes 13 papers reviewing significant developments in virology. It reports the first comprehensive report of hepatitis B viral antigen, which promises to revolutionize methods of obtaining antigen for use in screening blood for transfusions. It also reports on new human virus diseases, isolation of five human wart viruses, an assessment of viral immunoassays, and a review of new chemical immunocassays, a genetic analysis of virulence in influenza viruses and other subjects.

The series recounts the proceedings of the Gestas Sympo Symposium on “Perspectives in Virology” held every two years. The most recent meeting was held in February 1977.

A specialist in virology, epidemiology and pathology, Pollard has been editing the series since it began in 1969.

I like the Steering Committee quite a bit," Gryp said. "I was one of the Board of Directors and it was a clumsy group," he continued. "because it was difficult to get the student body president, vice-president and treasurer together for a meeting." Gryp remarked that since everyone on the Steering Committee is a Union member, there is "no confusion about what is going on."

Discussing the type of person the Steering Committee will be looking to fill the SU director’s spot, Gryp observed that "We’d like a person who can rise above the arguments and the daily problems that crop up."

The Student Steering Committee has made a general meeting in the library classroom, said, "Our intention is to give those who work with children an understanding of the liturgy and its adaptation to children that will assist them in planning their liturgies with confidence."

Jean Marie Hissonger, noted specialist in children’s liturgies, will present a series of illustrated lectures on the relationship between liturgical celebration and children’s educational stages. Associate editor at the Paulist Press, Hiesonger is coauthor of six liturgy perspectives series. I am fortunate to have the unique opportunity to study at Sophia University in Tokyo next year in Japan? Freshmen and sophomores are eligible to study.

Dear Editor:

Have you considered spending the next year in Japan? Freshmen and sophomores are eligible to study at Sophia University in Tokyo through Notre Dame's International Studies Program. Since all classes will be conducted in English, prior knowledge of Japanese is not required.

The program offers a unique opportunity for those people who would like to extend their college experience beyond the bounds of the structured, academic atmosphere of Notre Dame. Not only will your understanding of a foreign culture be enhanced, but you will also gain an appreciation of the way of life in Japan.

Sophia University is located in the center of Tokyo, a city which, despite its status as the capital of Japan, has maintained its own unique personality. Living in an exciting place will provide you with the opportunity to experience a different culture and to broaden your horizons.

Musicologist lectures
tonight on Beethoven

Eva Badura-Skoda, eminent Viennese musicologist, will give a free public lecture tonight at 8:30 p.m. Prof. Badura-Skoda, a leading scholar and editor of Viennese Classical music, will lecture on performance conventions in Beethoven's early works. The lecture, sponsored by the Notre Dame department of music, will take place in the recital hall of the Crowley Hall of Music.

Widely published in the United States and Europe, Prof. Badura-Skoda received her doctorate from the University of Innsbruck. She has studied at the Universities of Heidelberg and Vienna, and has worked with musicologists Wilhelm Fischer and Curt Sachs, among others. She was chairman of the musicology department at the University of Wisconsin at Madison in the 60's, where her husband, pianist Paul Badura-Skoda, was concurrently artist in residence.

In addition to her lecture tours and participation in international seminars, Prof. Badura-Skoda is currently serving on the faculty of the University of Vienna.
Guerillas surrender

Commando raid triggers tension

LARNACA* Cyprus [AP] - Egyptian commandos defied the Cyprus government and charged through Cypriot gunfire last night to storm a jetliner and free 15 captives held by two Arab terrorists.

The self-proclaimed Palestinian guerrillas surrendered to the plane's crew during the assault and the hostages were freed, a pilot reported. Witnesses said at least 15 Egyptians were killed. It was not known if any hostages were injured. Both terrorists were captured and one was wounded. Egypt's official Middle East News Agency reported in Cairo.

The Egyptian raid triggered an angry exchange between the Cypriot and Egyptian governments. Cyprus said the attack caused needless bloodshed just as the terrorists were preparing to free their 11 hostages and the four crewmen of the Cyprus Airways DC-8.

The Egyptian spokesman told reporters the Egyptian military transport carrying the raiders landed under "false pretenses" at Larnace Airport.

"Cairo had informed us it was sending a plane with Egyptian ministers to take part in negotiations," he said.

In Cairo, a government statement said, "Prime Minister Mamdouh Salem telephoned Cypriot authorities yesterday morning to inform them Egypt was sending a commando force to help rescue the hostages." Egyptian television interrupted its programming with news of the commando raid.

The Egyptian spokesman said, "We told the Egyptian troops not to take any action, but they ran out of the plane and began firing indiscriminately."

Egyptians were shooting at the control tower, and Cypriot President Spyros Kyprianos was forced to take cover to avoid being hit. At this point the Greek Cypriot national guard opened fire to protect lives," Christodoulou said.

Kyprianos was in the tower overseeing negotiations with the gunners who reportedly were seeking safe passage to an unspecified socialist country, when the Egyptian plane landed. The terrorists immediately closed the doors of the jetliner.

The gunners seized hostages and during negotiations were taken to the four-engined plane that flew them and their 15 captives out of Cyprus.

After an airborne odyssey spanning much of the Middle East in which half a dozen Arab and other countries refused landing permission, the plane put down in the East African nation of Djibouti early yesterday. There it was refueled and returned to Cyprus.

About three hours after it landed here, and negotiations had resumed, the Egyptian raiders flew in aboard a C-130 transport plane and the firefight erupted.

"Cairo had informed us it was sending a plane with Egyptian ministers to take part in negotiations," he said.

Weekend Sports Results

The Irish Fencing team increased their season record to 11-0 and their winning streak to 27 matches by defeating Michigan State 24-3, and Ohio State 17-10. The Women’s Fencing team raised their record to 6-1 by defeating Michigan State 6-3.

The Irish Track team collected 13 points to finish 13th among a field of 17 teams in the Central Collegiate Championship. Chuck Aragon qualified for the NCAA National Competition at Cobo Hall in Detroit on March 10-11.

The Notre Dame Swim team lost over the weekend to Monmouth University with 81 and one quarter points. Marquette took third among teams in the Wheaton Tournament held this past Friday and Saturday. The Irish collected 82 points, just barely defeating Drake University with 72 points, 69 points to the Irish's 69 points.

The Irish Wrestling squad placed first out of a field of 24 teams in the Wheaton Tournament on March 10th and 11th, winning nine of the 11 duals they competed in. The Irish collected 82 points, just barely defeating Drake University with 81 points.

The Notre Dame Women's Basketball team won over the weekend to Monmouth College. The Notre Dame Women's Basketball team raised their season record to 10-2 with a 52-50 victory over the Titans of Marion College.

Irish jeopardize NCAA chances with loss to South Carolina by Bob Keen

In Columbus, South Carolina on Saturday the Notre Dame women's basketball team, by losing its second game in a row, to South Carolina, 65-60, seriously jeopardized its chances of winning a bid to the NCAA Tournay.

Actually, the Irish jumped to a quick 13-2 lead after a tip-in goal by co-captain Don “Duck” Williams, but a 20-0 run managed to shoo South Carolina regrouped and cut the margin to just a field goal, 10-8. On Notre Dame's near possession Kelly Trappycs went to the basket drawing the foul. The Gamecocks players and bench took exception to the call, and it resulted quite quickly Golie Alexander and Head Coach Frank McGuire were assessed technical fouls, four foul standouts Trappycs calmly sank all five foul shots to give Notre Dame a comfortable seven point lead.

The Irish failed to capitalize upon this early lead, but rather just experienced a talented, hardworking, and experienced team, in similar situations they could not duplicate on the way back to the West Coast.

Instead, the Gamecocks knotted the score at 13-13 with well-timed goals by Bob Baumgartner in front of the net, who slid it past the goalie's front, and killing time in an effort to keep the Notre Dame attack in check. The breakthrough came when Steve Schneider tipped in a goal at 9:46 and this was followed with a score 33 seconds later by Angela facility.

The Irish continued to move the puck well in the second period. Geoff Collier made it 2-1 with a quick backhander from right in front of Heinz that caught him by surprise. But again, UMD came back. After some brilliant penalty killing by the Irish while Brian Burke occupied the box, Collier lost the puck to the troublesome Rothstein, who was able to get off a shot on a lone defender and dumped a pass to Mark Pavelich, who lit up a three-on-two flip past Peterson. Five minutes later, Pavelich emerged from a fast-fool flurry with the puck, skated in front of Peterson and lifted the puck over his right shoulder for a 3-2 Bulldog lead going into the final period.

UMD scored the first goal of the third period in what was more like a 16 on 5 war. The Bulldogs led 6-2 with just 13 seconds remaining. A quick shot from the right wing that was knocked down by Lenny Moher was quickly followed with a score 33 seconds later by Angela Athletic Facility. This will be a return to one of the two teams in the new Angela facility.
