Meets ‘requirements’

Lugar chosen for Senior Fellow

by Ed Callahan
Staff Reporter

Indiana Senator Richard G. Lugar was announced Monday as the Senior Class Fellow for 1978.

Lugar was the first candidate among the nominees to meet all of the requirements of the committee, one of which states that the individual must be able to spend at least one day on campus as a guest of the senior class. Potential candidates were elected by the Senior Class last November.

Lugar will fly in from Washington D.C. this Sunday to address the seniors from the balcony at Senior Class Hall. Arrangements are being made to greet him with a small reception consisting of class officers and a few members of the University administration. From there he will go to Senior Bar to spend the afternoon with the seniors.

Senior Class has made special arrangements to be open on Sunday, and all seniors are invited to the ceremonies. "Lugar has taken a great personal interest in this class," said Senior Fellow Committee Chairman Liz Naquin.

"The address will be in a casual, relaxed atmosphere. He is here in his role as a Senator, and he will be speaking directly to the seniors," she added.

The band, glee club and Irish Brigade are being contacted for their services, and Naquin said she is planning on making it an overall festive occasion. Hot dogs will be sold during the day, and the activities will be held outside if weather permits.

"This should be convenient for seniors who want to attend the Bookstore Basketball finals and not miss dinner or Lugar," Naquin commented.

Lugar was selected on the criterion that the award winner must be accomplished in his or her field, the individual's lifestyle and accomplishments should embody the spirit of the Class of 1978, his personal qualities such as integrity, leadership and personality must be considered, and he must be able to spend one day on campus with the seniors.

Lugar, born April 4, 1932, has been active in the Senate since 1977 when he defeated Vance Hartke, a three term incumbent. Before winning the Senate, Lugar was mayor of Indianapolis for two four-year terms. Under his guidance, Indianapolis was honored by the National Council on Municipal Performance for their extensive work with crime, pollution and unemployment.

Lugar graduated first in his class and was co-president of the student body from DePauw University in 1954. He was awarded a Rhodes Scholarship, the first DePauw student to do so, and he completed his education at Peabody College, Oxford University where he graduated with honors with a Master of Arts degree.

In the Senate, Lugar serves on the Committee on Agriculture, Nutrition and Forestry; the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs; and the Select Committee on Intelligence.

"The committee has retained their enthusiasm about the award after such a long wait to make this announcement we are very glad to have Senator Lugar here Sunday," Naquin said.

"The committee has retained their enthusiasm about the award as an honor and a class activity and Lugar shares this enthusiasm with us as well as the senior class," she added.

For specific details concerning the activities for Sunday will be sent to the seniors sometime this week.

SU Steering Committee selected

Mark Rust
Staff Reporter

After a delay of over three weeks, the Student Union completed selection of their five man Steering Committee last night. Led by Student Union Director Bill Roche, the eleven commission chairmen chose three from among their ranks.

Chosen by the commission chairmen were Cultural Arts Commissioner Jerry Perez, Service Commissioner Gary Luckini, and Social Commissioner John Bonacci. They will join Maureen Carney, Student Union comptroller, and Roche, both of whom automatically take seats on the committee in accordance with the new Student Government constitution.

The election of the Committee came 23 days later than the date specified by the constitution "because of a classic misunderstand- ing, I hadn't re-read the constitution," according to Roche.

The commission, newly implemented last fall, sets the date for the formation of the Steering Committee at April 1.

"We really weren't even aware that it was in the constitution," Roche continued. "On April 4th I reported to the Board of Commissioners that we would be getting the Steering Committee together later in the month. Andy (McKenna, student body president) was there at the time and he didn't even catch it.

"Andy didn't know, no one knew we were supposed to do it April 1st," Roche said. "Someone mentioned it this weekend, so I called everyone up in a matter of hours and set the election up."

For the remainder of the semester the Steering Committee will be reviewing Student Union policies and formulating a tentative budget. "It will be mostly internal stuff," Roche commented. "I don't plan on making any new initiatives right away."

The Steering Committee shapes Student Union policy and plans budget. The budget, which will be the first major undertaking of next semester, will be an overall financial plan for the eleven commissions, each of which has its own budget.

All three commission heads elected to the committee will be seniors next fall. Luchini, a Pittsburgh native, and Bosacchi, a resident of Rochester, MI, are both Business Administration majors. Perez, from Canton, OH is a major in Liberal Arts.

The Saint Mary's Career Development Center (CDC) Workshop series for the second semester is over, yet students may still request additional seminars if they are interested. Students should sign up in the CDC office if they need further assistance in their career plans. Workshops will then be scheduled to meet their needs.
According to CDC Coordinator Barry Twichell, "As of this Monday, workshops will be available. When enough students sign up a workshop will be held."
The CDC library will continue to be open on Monday nights from 7:30 p.m.

South Korean passengers relieved, but angry

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) — Sipping champagne and sobbing, survivors of a South Korean jetliner downed in the Soviet Union finally reached their destinations yesterday, but anger and mystery lingered over the incident in the nighttime skies above the Russian Arctic.

"How could they shoot our innocent and unguarded son? I cannot sleep when I think about his last moment in the plane," said the mother of Yoshikata Sugano, 31, one of two passengers killed when a Russian interceptor jet blasted a hole in the side of the Boeing 707 after it strayed into Soviet airspace Thursday.

Ritsuko Sugano spoke with reporters at the Tokyo airport, where a relief plane carrying surviving passengers and crew, mostly Japanese and Korean, stopped before its final leg to Seoul.

"The Soviet attack was an irresponsible act...it was unforgiveable," said the dead man's father, Takahito Sugano.

When it landed here, the Korean Air Lines relief jet unloaded a casket holding the body of the other victim — Korean engineer Bang Tae-hwan. Ten other persons were wounded.

The Soviets on Saturday released the 95 surviving passengers and 11 of 13 crew members from the ill-fated Korean Air Lines 707, which was forced to make an emergency landing on a frozen lake in Russia's northwest corner.

But the pilot and navigator still remained in Soviet hands Monday, and diplomatic sources in Moscow said U.S. officials asked the Soviet Foreign Ministry for information on their whereabouts. South Korea does not have diplomatic relations with Moscow.

On Sunday's flight to the Far East, the passengers and crew members unorked bottle after bottle of champagne to celebrate their safe return, a Korean reporter aboard the relief plane wrote.

"Nationalities didn't matter. They mingled together and congratulated one another," he said.

But as the plane approached Korea, he wrote, "first, the passengers appeared very excited...then, some of the crewmen began sobbing, and suddenly all of the returning crew burst into tears, some crying aloud."

ND task force to handle O-C problems

Kathleen Connolly
Senior Staff Reporter

An off-campus "task force" is presently being organized to handle problems of off-campus students. Student Government Off-Campus Affairs Chairman John Fitzpatrick will head the group which will deal specifically with housing, crime and security, northeast neighborhood relations, party policy, rotational assignments and a variety of other problems.

Fitzpatrick said that from personal experience he found the Housing Office to be ineffective in its dealings with students and their housing listing inaccurate.

Apparently, Fitzpatrick commented, the University also refuses to put pressure on unethical landlords and fails to warn students who are seeking off-campus lodging about landlords known to be unscrupulous.

Originally, the interest of off-campus residents were to be represented by four people on the newly-established Council of Communications, but due to a lack of student interest the University also refuses to put pressure on unethical landlords and fails to warn students who are seeking off-campus lodging about landlords known to be unscrupulous.

Fitzpatrick said that he would like to see the University Housing Office draft a landlord's code of ethics that landlords would have to agree to before being listed on the University housing information sheets. He also believes that a policy censoring problem landlords would be very effective if it had University backing.

"Saint Mary's has no special off-campus housing authority," Fitzpatrick said, "so I hope to involve the Saint Mary's community in this program."

America are a loud and fun looking people. Your popular stardom kept you from enjoying the show as much as we did.

Dear Editor,
In the letter entitled "New Small World" we have a few thoughts we expressed our views. The author, or authors, of this letter hide behind an almost anonymous signature. It is very hard for me to imagine that the thoughts expressed in this letter are the thoughts of the whole NF day. This is one of the leading universities in the United States and its faculty is of the same high quality. That such gifted scholars would resort to public and anonymous criticism, before contacting the interested parties, is simply beyond my capacity for understanding.
It also appears that either this person is grossly misinformed, or simply refuses to recognize the facts. Although he doesn't name the group it is plain to see he refers to the Pan-American Club's part in the International Festival. In case he is misinformed, I'll attempt to set him straight.
First of all, with respect to the length of our show it should be noted it was the only American (and not the only African) nation that took an average of five minutes each, ours took about fifteen, but it attempted to represent twenty one countries, where actually including music from Africa. Actually, for every country we took less than anyone else. It should be noted that we didn't ask to be last, the scheduling was not in our hands.
It is amazing we should be accused of lack of consideration; when we rehearsed some twenty hours for that show, while the Pan-American Club took some forty hours we had schoolwork piling on it. It was Frances Alexander, Luis American, along with Luis and Max Alvarez, who designed and put up the slide show and the show. It was also Mr. Alston who operated the slide projectors.
If you think sitting there for three hours was bad, imagine what it was seven till three Friday night setting up that stage so you could catch the train. Our dearest and closest set up backstage for all acts during the Festival was accomplished by the same people who latter took part in our act. So you see, we were not so selfish after all.
Finally, the Festival was supposed to familiarize the audience with different cultures. Thanks WELL, R.A. selections for next year have just concluded. In my opinion this was probably the greatest and most enjoyable event. Not only a personal affront. They rationalize that the name was chosen because it wouldn't couldn't really want to live in their hall if you didn't put them down; that they were only doing it for some applicants do not, for political reasons, list the halls in their preferred order.
May I say my three hall choices are A.B. and C. However, due to the fact that I know the rector of the B hall would not interview me unless he was interviewing on my first list, I'll put B as number one, The rector in C hall only looks at people who have first and second. So I move him up from the third to the second position on my key. My favored city the real name one is relegated to third place. Why?
It is just happens that the rector of a hall is a fair guy and will interview me regardless of what number I place next to.
There are those rector, also, who won't look at you even if did list their hall first. Why?
They have a "policy" where all R.A.'s have to be residents of that hall. If you put such a hall as your first choice, you have effectively
"blown your number one shot.
It is conceivable that some poor guys will not be interviewed by any of the R.A.'s there.
I disagree with this "in-hall R.A. policy". Don't you think it's best to get the B.R.A.'s?
Positively, I didn't unanimously rejected the proposal which would have given R.A.'s

Haystack search

Yes, you too can fool around in a haystack. At 3 p.m. on Frivolous Friday all you eager young men and women can dive into the hay and attempt to find the hidden prize (a needle?). You may find your own surprise. Remember, this is an individual event.

For more information, call Marie at 4-1-4833.

Mr. Goodbar contest

The An Tostal "Looking for Mr. Goodbar Contest" is in its second day. Have you found the elusive golden somewhere on the Notre Dame or Saint Mary’s campus yet?

If so, or when you find it, submit your name and the location of the Mr. Goodbarundy bar to the Ombudsman. A drawing from all correct entries will be held, and the winner of the drawing will receive a dinner for two.

To aid you in your continuing search, here's your second clue: Turn the Pages. The contest will continue through Friday and three more clues will be given.

Musical bus ride

Start Gentle Thursday off right and take a fun-filled, musical bus ride. A double-decker bus will leave from LeMans every hour starting at noon and from the Center for Continuing Education every half hour until 6 p.m. Enjoy a live blues band and arrive in style to the picnic at Saint Mary’s.

South Bend 500

The green flag will fall on Sunday afternoon at 9 a.m. for the 1978 An Tostal Road Rally. All you need is your own vehicle, gas and all the navigators you can stand. A street map of South Bend-Mishawaka might also help.

For more information and to register, call Tom “Panther” Malloy at 7820 or Jim Swintal at 287-5726.

Irish wake

Tickets for this year’s Irish Wake, traditionally the best-known An Tostal contest, are on sale now at all the dining halls and at the Student Union ticket office. Tickets will also be sold at the door. Admission is $2 and includes free munchies, bread, cheese, pretzels, chips and soft drinks.

The Wake will be held in Stepan Center on Saturday at 6 p.m. and will feature the band “Unity” and special guests “The Irish Brigade.” The winner of that dubious honor—The Ugliest Man On Campus—will be announced during the Irish Wake.

Trivia semifinals

The men’s and women’s semifinal rounds of the 1978 Trivia Bowl will be held tonight at Washington Hall beginning at 6:45 p.m. with Stouten taking on St. Ed’s. At 7:30 p.m. LeMans and McCandless will vie for the SMC title followed by the other men’s semifinal between Pangborn and Morrissey.

At 9 p.m. Badin will meet Walsh in the second women’s semifinal. Men’s and women’s finalists and the campus champion will be decided Thursday at the Main Quad at 2:30 p.m.

AL cards in Stepan

The following departments in the Notre Dame College of Arts and Letters will distribute checkmarked cards in Stepan Center tomorrow starting at 9:30 a.m.:

Art, Economics, English, Government, Modern Languages, Music, Philosophy, Psychology, Sociology and Anthropology, Speech and Drama, Theology.

Measles not seen as threat

by Mark Peterson

The outbreak of German measles that is currently affecting more than 100 Notre Dame students is not seen as a threat to reach epidemic proportions, according to Dr. Robert Thompson, University physician.

Thompson said test samples taken at ND were forwarded to the Indiana State Board of Health, where the rubella virus, characterized by swollen glands, stiffness of the joints, and the familiar red rash, was confirmed.

Thompson stated that the biggest problem with this strain of measles is in the diagnostic stage. "The early symptoms—sore throat, nasal congestion, and irritation in the throat—are similar to a common respiratory virus," he said, "so we cannot be absolutely sure".

He noted that in a number of cases students caught the measles despite previous immunization, adding to the uncertainty.

The number of new cases is gradually decreasing, but they more than likely will continue until the end of the semester. "The incubation period for rubella can be anywhere from two to three weeks," Thompson said, "so we anticipate a few more students will contract the virus."

The reported 100-150 cases to date have caused no major hand

Future trial is 'made for TV'

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court refused yesterday to decide whether broadcasters are legally responsible when fictional violence is imitated in real life, clearing the way for a trial that could be crucial to the future of television.

The issue someday may return to the high court, but yesterday's actions opened the way for an unprecedented trial in San Francisco.

In the trial, NBC and television station KRON-TV must defend themselves against a lawsuit seeking $11 million for a 9-year-old girl sexually assaulted four days after a network movie dramatically portrayed a similar crime.

Lawyers for the girl charge that NBC and the San Francisco station were "negligent" and "reckless" in allowing the movie to be broadcast in the early evening when young persons were sure to be in the viewing audience.

On Sept. 10, 1974, NBC televised a fictional drama, "Born Innocent," depicting the life of an unrelated child, a teen-aged girl. In one scene, the girl is attacked by other females at a reformatory school and is sexually assaulted with a wooden handle.

Four days later, a 9-year-old San Francisco girl was attacked by four older girls on a local beach and "raped" with a beer or soft drink bottle.

A state trial judge dismissed the ensuing civil suit against NBC and KRON but a state appeals court ordered that a jury trial be held on charges raised by the girl's lawyers.

An off-campus guide patterned after similar guides at other campuses.

The film presented a similar crime.

In one scene, the girl is attacked by other females at a reformatory school and is sexually assaulted in a single area of concern.

Fitzpatrick who is an off-campus resident will remain in South Bend over the summer to compile an Off-Campus guide patterned after similar guides at other campuses.

The minutes of a meeting between Fitzpatrick, Student Body President Mike McKenna and Student Body Vice-President Mike Rubash state that the group "is to be an activist' organization, as the present situation is in need of action and much research."

Court refused to review the case. NBC and KRON came to the nation's highest court -- arguing that the trial would set a dangerous precedent.

The court's vote yesterday to deny the appeal was 8-1. Justice William J. Brennan, Jr. wanted to hear arguments in the case.

Irish coach "Lefty" Smith pleased with Schafer's recruits

By Gregory Solman
Associate Sports Editor

This year had to be one of the most crucial recruiting years in the history of Irish hockey...and Rick Schafer, one might say, "came through in the clutch."

In this, the third year Schafer has accomplished the recruiting task for Irish Coach Charles "Lefty" Smith, Schafer had more than his work cut out for him. The Irish lost three good skaters to graduation, including two dominant "big men" in Don Jackson and Kevin Nugent.

The NCAA continued to gradually decrease its scholarships allowed each team. The figure that once stood at 23 scholarships over a four year period, had diminished to 23 in recent years, and, as of this campaign, is down to 20.

Then there was the Irish season last year—not particularly conducive to encouraging eager freshmen. Though the team finished the third best in the nation two seasons ago, last year, the Irish nose-dived due largely to a horrendous schedule and a host of injuries that saw them play below 50 before they ever knew what hit them.

According to the head man, Smith, however, Schafer defied the odds and came up with some top prospects to join the squad next season.

"I really have to commend Rick (Schafer) on the job he's done both in recruiting and his coaching, Smith, who released poise would make one believe that he's put last year behind him and is looking forward to another outstanding campaign.

With all the people we had to replace due to the large number of graduates," said Smith, "and the pressure of the unusually long season we undergo, there is a real premium on numbers."

And unlike many places, when only one or two single positions were lacking, this year, Smith needed depth in every slot, from goaltender to winger. Schafer did not disappoint anyone.

DAVE LABRON, 5-8, 165, Goalie: A crucial position for the Irish to fill, as there was previously no back-up goaltender to join star-keeper Greg Rosenthal. LaBron was the recipient of the Men's Journal Award as best goaltender in the Iron Range Conference, and backed from tall Intermountain Falls, Minnesota. A tightly and talented goalie, LaBron is also the Minnesota State High School Poot Vale Champion. Track Coach isn't in a big upset about this recruit either.

JOHN SCHMIDT, 6-4, 190, Defenseman: Known for his puck-handling and scoring ability, Schmidt is a graduate of Northwood Prep and comes from St. Cloud, Minnesota. Academically in the top ten in his class.

JOHN O'LAUGHLIN 4-0, 195, Defenseman: "John should give us good goals and depth," commented Smith. Cox is a native of Barrie, Ontario, and played two seasons of junior hockey in Canada. Again, another student/athlete with academic as well as athletic talent.

TERRY COSS, 5-11, 185, Forward: From the Smoke, Minnesota. Academically in the top ten in his class.

In other tournament action, No. 2-ranked TILCS V won in a nail-biter, 21-16 over Sweet William I, 21-14. Randy Hafner led the winners with four of six for the losers. Tom Atkinson (8-17) to white with Speedy Hart with four points and Hawkins tallied five for the Express I. "We're building a family within the program," said Coach Piane, "and I'm extremely proud of their accomplishments."

The Kansas Relays, one of the more important meets of the season for many NCAAs, were held in Kansas City, Oklahoma due to the reconstruction of facilities in Kansas.

"Too" Hamilton made good on seven of 12 attempts while collecting 13 rebounds to dominate the deck. Chuck Aragon, Bob Nover, and Wood, won the title with Harry Morris scoring 11 of 14 including his last shot while Dan Hafford scored five-for-eight.

Doug Krueger broke the record for the tournament's "Hatchet Award" with seven of his team's nine personal fouls and Leon Leonard dropped four of six for the losers.

The tournament's No. 8-ranked squad. The Notmuggers relied on the scoring of Howard Retherford (11-17) and Tim Kardok (10-19) to white-kash Walter Wallenda and the San Juan Street Cleaners, 21-6. Kardok delighted the crowd with a brutal slam dunk while Mark Langhans connected on four of six for the winners.

In a game played on Lyons Cross Country Court, the No. 9-ranked Baker Brothers tore the meat off The Bone 21-14. Bruce Flowers led the onslaught, courtesy of a 10 for 16 shooting performance. Flowers pulled down nine rebounds while teamate Dave Huffman collected eight for the winners. Dick Bouska scored six and Mike Mitchell, five for the losers.

In other bookstore action, Duck Williams, as expected, finally made his return to the Irish line-up. T.B. Express IV squared the selected Tomatoes, 21-15. Duck led the Irish with 14 points and 14 rebounds followed by Howardio's 16 points and 13 boards to his credit. Terry Pump (36) was also outstanding for the Express I while Greg Beagle was high for the Tomatoes with 21. Jim Notaro had 14 rebounds for the Express I.

Green Popcorn had their hands full with Pitt Lakes but barely escaped with a 21-16 win. Steve Notaro hit 10 of 21 shots for Popcorn while Kevin Hawkins had five and Gilbert Salinas four. Hawkins and Salinas pulled in 22 rebounds each while Salinas was credited with five blocked shots.

John Kennedy's five-for-four, 11-40, hit 14 rebounds for the Express I. Steve Waschak added 10, Gary Smith 14 rebounds for the Express II. Green Popcorn's head full with Pitt Lakes but barely escaped with a 21-16 win. Steve Notaro hit 10 of 21 shots for Popcorn while Kevin Hawkins had five and Gilbert Salinas four. Hawkins and Salinas pulled in 22 rebounds each while Salinas was credited with five blocked shots.
