Notre Dame, NLRB come to agreement

by Mike Ridenour

A tentative agreement has been reached between Notre Dame and the National Labor Relations Board (NLRB) concerning the unfair labor practice charges against the University. Details could not be disclosed.

"The University cannot discuss what provisions of the agreement are, until it has been formally signed," said Thomas Bull, director of Personnel. Richard Conklin, director of Information Services, echoed Bull's comment. "The details pertaining to the agreement could not be released due to the legal aspects involved," Conklin noted.

A NLRB district director in Indianapolis was involved with the negotiations. "The NLRB is mailing it (a copy) to us so we cannot really make any comments now," Lawrence stated.

The original issue of the grounds-keepers unionization attempt cannot proceed until the unfair labor charges against Notre Dame have been settled.

"If the district director finalizes the agreement, the NLRB can then rule on the groundskeeper issue," Conklin said.

The Dome staff yesterday distributed the 1977 yearbook. Today and tomorrow students may pick up their copies in LaFortune Ballroom, 1-3 p.m. (Photo by Bill Reilstein)

Price new housing director

by Kevin Richardson

The appointment of Edmund T. Price as director of University Housing has been made official, according to the office of Thomas J. Mason, vice-president of business affairs. The announcement, which was made through the office of Information Services, was released Monday.

Price, who stated that he "would like to spend more time talking with students about their problems, foresees no major changes in housing policy.

The Housing Office, which has just completed an administrative change, has left the jurisdiction of the Office of Student Affairs and moved under the authority of the Office of Business Affairs. The office will, however," Price said. "continue to be responsive to the needs of the students in every possible instance.

Mason explained the movement of the Housing Office into his jurisdiction as "an attempt to streamline the business-related concerns of the hall." Things such as hall moves, maintenance workers, and janitorial concerns will now be under the auspices of business affairs, he said.

"Our influence over hall life will be minimal and indirect," Mason said. "Neither housing nor student affairs concerts in the hall will still be reported to Fr. Green in the Office of Student Affairs." Mason noted.

Concerning the appointment of Price as director of student housing, Mason said, "He was brought in originally as a replacement to fill a vacancy in the summer housing coordinator's position." From there, Mason noted, Price's appointment to housing director was a "natural progression based on his past experience in the field and his willingness to assume the duties of that office."

"The separation of duties between the Office of Student Affairs and the Office of Business Affairs in regards to housing is clearly defined," according to Fr. Gregory Green, assistant vice-president of Student Affairs. "Student affairs will still be involved in choosing the rectors and assistant rectors as well as the staffing of the halls," Green noted.

Green emphasized that the transfer of the housing office to business affairs "concerns only the physical plant of each hall. It is a move to consolidate and streamline the administrative workings of the Housing Office's daily business-related work."

Concerning the Campus Life Council social space proposal that was passed by the University Board of Trustees at their March 17 meeting, Price stated that "insofar as I know at the present time, we are planning to go through with it."

This proposal will mandate social space improvement in five south quad dorms and construction is to begin this summer, Price said. "The current dilemma for on-campus housing next year stems from the fact that many people are staying on campus than we anticipated."

Commenting on rumors regarding a possible lottery for season tickets to be on-campus housing spots, Price said, "We have no plans for a lottery right now. We continue to be concerned by saying, 'People living on campus now shouldn't have any worries in regards to living on campus next year.'"

In finding a needed 28 additional spots for females who will be living on campus next year, Price commented that "the rectresses were very cooperative and helpful in helping us solve the problem. Things should work out fine."

The possible overcrowding in men's dorms is currently under investigation. "Holy Cross is being looked into as a possible solution," Price said.

"The only problem with this is that it takes us time to make the necessary preparations for additional students. Price said. "Bath facilities, electrical facilities, and necessary parts of the building to be installed, first," he said.

In his role as director of housing, Price will be responsible for the general supervision and maintenance of residence halls as well as Grace O'Haras' townhouses, University Village, Roseland apartments and Village Center.

The supervision of the work and activities of the Off-Campus Housing Office, a position the Office of Student Affairs had been serving as, has now been taken by Price. "Price will be responsible for the general supervision and maintenance of residence halls as well as Grace O'Haras' townhouses, University Village, Roseland apartments and Village Center."

Price came to Notre Dame in 1969 after serving as general manager of two high rise residence buildings at Memphis State University. Prior to his work at Notre Dame, Price served at the University of California at Davis as an administrative services office for the National Center for Primitive Biology and as a resident hall administrator.

O'Meara candidate for provost job

A ninth candidate for the position of provost at the University of Notre Dame will be interviewed tomorrow. He is the newly elected faculty member of the Academic Council, who will be a candidate for the position of provost.

O. Timothy O'Meara, Kenna professor of mathematics, is the new candidate for provost with tenure. O'Meara's experience has been at the University of California at Davis as a residential hall administrator.

The provost is appointed by the University's Board of Trustees upon the recommendation of the President of the University. The two-provost system was last 12 on campus. Fr. Ferdinand L. Brown has been serving as acting provost since the resignation of Fr. James T. Burleigh last fall.
The observer

Wednesday, May 3, 1978

News Briefs

Car thieves outsmarted

WASHINGTON-The Transportation Department, leveling its sights primarily on subcompact cars, yesterday announced plans yesterday to require automobile manufacturers to install anti-theft equipment beginning with 1981 models. The devices include protected ignition wires, fail-safe steering columns, and other anti-theft devices that can be released only from inside the car and mounted behind a specially designed hood latch that is designed to deter thefts. The plan is aimed at the young thieves who steal vehicles for transportation or to steal parts.

Leetle prices to decrease

Consumers who have watched likewise prices soar until salaries is almost as expensive as steel can expect some relief early next month, a government economist said yesterday. "This thing is temporary," said Charles W. Porter of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, who forecasted high prices. "We've just going to have to wait it out." Porter said shipments of lettuce from California-the nation's largest producer-running half to less than half of what they were a year ago because rains in the Salinas Valley in February and March prevented farmers from planting, and in some cases, washed seeds already in the ground.

Today named ‘Sun Day’

From dawn’s first light to darkness’ fall, the sun will be in the spotlight at home and abroad today for the celebration of “Sun Day,” an effort to focus national and international attention on solar energy. The event is organized by a coalition of groups and is being coordinated by Solar Action, Inc., a nonprofit, Washington-based organization that has its roots in similar public-interest events as “Earth Day” and “Food Day.” The national observance began with the dawn-bike to the top of 1,530-foot Cadillac Mountain in Maine, the point where the sun’s rays first strike the continental United States each day.

Weather

Mostly sunny and a little warmer today, highs upper 50s to low 60s. Fair for the most part, except for an odd, isolated, low in the upper 30s. Partly sunny and mild tomorrow, highs mid to upper 60s. Northeast to east wind around 10 mph this afternoon.

On Campus Today

12:15 pm seminar, "hemophylute stimulation by bacterial lipopolysaccharide," dr. drane m. jacobs, st. u. n.y., buffalo, sponsored by dept. of microbiology, 278 galvin aud.

1 pm baseball, n.d. vs. u. michigan.

5:30 pm survival day, "the problems of nuclear development," whales and dolphins, s.m.c., and thomas seiler, s.m.c., all are welcome, dining hall lawn, s.m.c.

4 pm seminar, "the theory of electron transfer processes in glasses & liquids," prof. neil kestner, l.s.u. baton rouge, sponsored by rad. lab., conf. radiation rad.

5:15 pm mass, fr. jim buckley, c.c.s., the last fasters’ mass of school year, sponsored by hunger coalition, wahl hall chapel.

6:30 pm meeting, sailing club, 204 engr. brdg.

6:45 pm rosary, at the grotto.

7 pm informal lecture, "the legal aspects of abortion in the u.s. today," prof. charles rice, n.d. law school.

9:15 pm concert, dennis bamber, saxophone, lib. aud.

10:30 pm concert and dance, "the fabulous manners," sponsored by morrisey section 1-b, free admission, from steps of morrissey.

JERSEY CITY, N.J. (AP) - Just a "ferry ride away," in the words of their ancestors landed before them, Soviet émigrés say, their children and grandchildren are running half to less than half of what their parents did when they came to America 25 years of your life."

He said the immigrants range "from the highly educated to blue collar workers." Most are in their 20s or early 30s and typically have one child whom they send to private or religious schools in Jersey City. CASE sponsors refugees so they can obtain entry visas and serves as a housing and employment assistance service once they arrive.

"Most of the immigrants coming in are from the Soviet Union want to live in New York City or its environs," Goldberg said. "New York City is still the culture center of the world. There are more cultural things to which they can relate from an international and Jewish point of view."

The United States has provided a haven for assembled communist realities, scientists and other political dissidents, but only 4,000 Soviet Jews were given special refugee status last year to allow them to emigrate to the United States. Goldberg, a 37-year-old investment banker in New York, said he founded CASE in 1974 because of his Lithuanian heritage and his desire to do a "mitzvah," a Yiddish term for a good deed.

Goldberg said the CASE-assisted poet Michelson to appear

Under the auspices of the Committee on Academic Progress, poet and critic Peter Michelson will appear as part of an evening’s poetry reading to be held tonight in the O'Shaughnessy Art Gallery, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A reading by five student poets, all Notre Dame Poetry Contest winners, will follow Michelson's presentation.

The recently posted poets are John Santos, Greg Marshall, Melita Schaum, Susan Johnson, and William Hassell. Michelson will read from his recently published collection of poems, Pacific Plainsong. His reviews, articles and analyses of subjects ranging from the arts to politics have appeared in journals and periodicals as diverse as The New Republic, The Nation, Times Quarterly, and The New Republic.

Michelson is currently on the faculty of the University of the State of New York, Buffalo. He is also a contributing editor, and the Chicago Review, of which he is former editor.

Formerly a member of Notre Dame’s department of English, Michelson is currently on the faculty of the University of Colorado.

Committee aids Soviet emigres

Soviet emigres "integrate pretty well into the community," a government economist said yesterday. "There never going to become American Americans. You can’t integrate them in 25 years of your life."

He said the immigrants range "from the highly educated to blue collar workers." Most are in their 20s or early 30s and typically have one child whom they send to private or religious schools in Jersey City. CASE sponsors refugees so they can obtain entry visas and serves as a housing and employment assistance service once they arrive.

"Most of the immigrants coming in are from the Soviet Union want to live in New York City or its environs," Goldberg said. "New York City is still the culture center of the world. There are more cultural things to which they can relate from an international and Jewish point of view."

The United States has provided a haven for assembled communist realities, scientists and other political dissidents, but only 4,000 Soviet Jews were given special refugee status last year to allow them to emigrate to the United States. Goldberg, a 37-year-old investment banker in New York, said he founded CASE in 1974 because of his Lithuanian heritage and his desire to do a "mitzvah," a Yiddish term for a good deed.

Goldberg said the CASE-assisted poet Michelson will appear as part of an evening’s poetry reading to be held tonight in the O’Shaughnessy Art Gallery, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

A reading by five student poets, all Notre Dame Poetry Contest winners, will follow Michelson’s presentation.

The recently posted poets are John Santos, Greg Marshall, Melita Schaum, Susan Johnson, and William Hassell. Michelson will read from his recently published collection of poems, Pacific Plainsong. His reviews, articles and analyses of subjects ranging from the arts to politics have appeared in journals and periodicals as diverse as The New Republic, The Nation, Times Quarterly, and The New Republic. Michelson is currently on the faculty of the University of the State of New York, Buffalo. He is also a contributing editor, and the Chicago Review, of which he is former editor.

Formerly a member of Notre Dame’s department of English, Michelson is currently on the faculty of the University of Colorado.

The Observer is published Monday through Friday except during holidays. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. Mary's College. Subscribers must be enrolled at either Notre Dame or Mary's College to be eligible for the Observer’s "No Subscription Fee" membership. No subscription ma be replaced. All rights reserved. The Observer. P.O. Box 4, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556. Subscription postpaid. Notre Dame, Indiana. 46556. All rights reserved. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Board discusses renovations

by Laura Larimore

The new Student Government (SG) Board of Commissioners met last night in LaFortune for their second meeting of the year. Among the topics discussed was the renovation of the LaFortune Student Center. The Board was in agreement that plans for the renovation were not progressing as fast as they might and made a decision to draft a letter to Bro. Just Paczek, vice-president for Student Affairs, expressing this concern and requesting possible action.

Proposed sale of war planes may be rejected by Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) - There may be enough votes in a House committee to reject President Jimmy Carter's proposed sales of war planes to three Mideast countries despite predictions to the contrary by the President and a survey of lawmakers showed yesterday.

Nineteen House members - a bare majority of the 27-member House International Relations Committee - said they would approve, or are leaning in favor of, a resolution against the sale of jet fighters to Saudi Arabia unless Carter makes concessions for Israel and Egypt.

The Carter administration wants to sell sophisticated, U.S.-made F-15 war planes to Saudi Arabia, 75 F-15s and 15 F-16s to Israel and 50 F-15s to Egypt - a $4.8 billion deal.

A House or Senate vote against any one of the three sales - the Saudi Arabian transaction for

Dunne receives Sheedy Award

In reference to the upcoming Provost and vice president for Student Affairs appointments, a motion to draft letters to the new appointees containing the position of Student Government relevant to those jobs was discussed and agreed upon.

Projected expenditures for the time period between the end of the fiscal year, June 30, and the realization of funds next fall were discussed. Money was appropriated to the Student Union for use during Welcome Week and other immediate fall functions. Also discussed were plans for the Student Government Planning Committee, which would serve to examine where 5% was heading in long range terms and to help set long range goals. Further discussion about the committee and possible members was tabled until the next meeting.

In other business, cabinet appointments made by Student Body President Andy McKenna were approved, in accordance with the constitution. A meeting date was set for May 11 with the Board of Trustees and Student Affairs to discuss housing and the judicial process.
WASHINGTON (AP)-Solar energy—everybody's for it; nobody's against it.
It isn't really free and easy, and adopting it place of oil, gas, coal and uranium will be at best a long, costly and uncertain process.
But solar energy has so much going for it that optimists want an all-out drive, on the scale of wartime mobilization, to base the nation's economy on energy drawn directly or indirectly from the light and heat of the sun.

And the worst thing pessimists can say about it is that we can't switch to solar energy fast enough.

Denis Hayes, who organized "Earth Day" in 1970 to publicize the environmental movement and originated the idea of today's "Sun Day" demonstrations, is one of the optimists.

"Federal policy has, in the past, consistently discriminated against those forms of energy that represent our brightest hopes," he said.

"The real leadership is not to be found in Washington," he said, but all over the country, where companies, local governments and private citizens are building, encouraging and inventing new solar projects.

First lady Rosalynn Carter, Energy Secretary James R. Schlesinger, the president's consumer affairs assistant Esther Peterson, and officials of 14 agencies proclaimed the government's support of solar energy development yesterday and outlined scores of federal projects.

But Hayes told them that all this effort still is not enough.

"Solar supporters hoped to see the direct solar energy budget doubled," said Hayes, referring to the Carter administration's budget proposals for fiscal 1979. "Instead, it was cut 10 percent....A far more ambitious solar energy program must be designed."

In fact, administration officials say a new emphasis on solar energy will emerge in "Phase Two," the next round of national policy proposals to be tentatively outlined this autumn and proposed to Congress early next year.

At first glance, everything seems to favor solar energy sweeping the world—which, in fact, it does every 24 hours as the world turns.

The sun's heat can be captured, directly by warm air, water or solid materials to provide both space heating and hot water for buildings; using ingenious heat exchange devices it can be used to provide air conditioning.

Direct solar heat can be used for some industrial and agricultural processes, such as drying crops.

Solar light can be converted heat—first into milligrams of silver, into electricity by plates of silicon and silver, or into paper-thin frosted glass laced with threads of silver.

The sun can be focused by a giant mirror system to create steam, which can turn turbines to generate electricity.

But solar energy is not quite flexible enough to favor solar energy sweeping the world, and it is "free" in the sense that the sun never presents a bill.

But collecting and using solar energy is not free. Solar equipment tends to be expensive, in most cases, to compete economically with conventional fuels.

These forms of solar energy are expected to produce far less pollution than existing energy sources. Sunlight is available everywhere in the world, and it is "free" in the sense that the sun never presents a bill.

But the initial high investment in solar equipment looks less daunting when you realize there are no fuel costs once it is installed.

Still, solar energy is not quite ready to take over. The sun shines only during the day. Sunshine is reduced by cloudy weather and short days of winter. Wind, rainfall and crop growth are irregular.

The technicians are still searching for adequate, inexpensive ways of storing energy to use when solar energy is not directly available.

Where continuous energy is required, solar energy may be backed up by conventional, fuel-burning or electrical sources, greatly increasing the costs.

"It has taken industry less than six years to reduce the price of solar electric panels from $100 per square foot to $10 per watt," one veteran of solar development reported last month at a conference in California.

"A similar reduction will occur during the next six years, from $10 to under $1 per watt," he predicted. That is the installation price that most experts consider nearly competitive with conventional power plants.

Swimming rules announced

Outdoor swimming on campus is allowed limited to the northern part of the lake, according to a recent directive from the office of James Roemer, Dean of Students.

The directive says that lifeguards will be on duty to oversee the cordoned area, the only area where swimming is allowed, from 10 a.m. to dusk daily at 10 a.m., conditions permitting.

Roemer also listed several rules for use of the beach. No food, fires, alcoholic beverages, vehicles, pets or flotation devices are allowed. These students wishing to use the beach must register with the security office.

University faculty, staff, spouses and children will be allowed to use the beach for a one-time $1 fee, payable upon registration with security.
An overall crowd gathered last night in the Library Auditorium to listen to blooper and outtakes which were collected by Herb Graff. (Photo by Bill Reifsteck)

ND student government survey asks students environment

Aileen Levin

Recently Notre Dame Student Government surveyed a cross section of students in a questionnaire to gather information concerning their views on their environment (Photo by Herb Graff)...

John Smiar is head of a committee that has written a proposal which will be brought before the Campus Life Council tomorrow. In general, the proposal suggests that lofts be permitted as long as they strictly adhere to certain standards that would prevent them from being fire hazards.

Student Body President Andy McKenna said he is planning in completing the surveys on a monthly basis. "We found it really helpful in getting the students sentiments about life at Notre Dame," McKenna said. "There are a lot of things students feel strongly about that are not heard. We will use the poll to tap their feelings so that we can be more productive."
Bookstore Basketball: Not Again!

We have just finished another season of Bookstore Basketball. Every year teams of students play to win and crowds of friends come to cheer them on. It's thrilling and there's no dulling effect from the games. But over the years, this time has become more of a battle between teams than between races, whites and blacks. It is no longer a basketball game among friends but a racial argument.

Anywhere, but especially at Notre Dame, this seems unbelievable and unmistakably hypocritical. When any minority student is representing ND, they are a pittance of what they could be. For example, if we can all be proud of - they are accepted and most of, all, supported. We should therefore allow other races to come in, the games become hostile. The shouting and verbal abuse are directed at those who have attended Bookstore Basketball knows this is true.

We have just completed a project on Racial Discrimination at Notre Dame. There are two kinds of very different backgrounds. We come to Notre Dame each of us usually befriends those who live most like them, and those who are most different from us.

Popular criticism is that the minorities hang together and do not want to associate with non-minorities. This is a false and unfair generalization. It seems that minorities, whether it be as a female in the midst of one hundred males, or a black student in a white environment, can verify that any common bond in a foreign atmosphere is very important. There is encouragement, support, and acceptance. It only makes sense, then, to seek out where it is to be found. As a majority, while students are secure and supported in most everything we do, we do not have, as a group, supportive or accepting of the minority students. It seems pertinent that we as a student body, and ND, need to make a change and bring the current situation at ND.

The Admission process is making a serious attempt to recruit greater numbers of minority students. They recognize and appreciate their efforts. We also ask that they broaden their admissions criteria to include values which may not necessarily be those which have traditionally been seen as relevant for admissions. It is known that there is no one magic formula which guarantees an applicant admission to the University. We recognize that the admission process is a somewhat subjective procedure. Certain things are non-negotiable, positive status is one of them.

Thirdly, it would make sense to consider any minority student as a potential friend to the campus; as well as all traffic, faculty, alumni, parents, etc., are supported and encouraged, support and acceptance. It only makes sense, then, to seek out where it is to be found. As a majority, while students are secure and supported in most everything we do, we do not have, as a group, supportive or accepting of the minority students. It seems pertinent that we as a student body, and ND, need to make a change and bring the current situation at ND.

The Admission process is making a serious attempt to recruit greater numbers of minority students. They recognize and appreciate their efforts. We also ask that they broaden their admissions criteria to include values which may not necessarily be those which have traditionally been seen as relevant for admissions. It is known that there is no one magic formula which guarantees an applicant admission to the University. We recognize that the admission process is a somewhat subjective procedure. Certain things are non-negotiable, positive status is one of them.

New frost stuck with crammed rooms

Dear Editor:

We are very disappointed to learn that for the past few years in a row, students on campus will be forced to deal with an overcrowded and even uncomfortable living conditions. It seems that the University has the opportunity to put up or shut up - either back these ideals or reduce them to a load of rhetoric.

That a solution is needed is obvious. That the ideal solution is a west gate guardian, is not only my opinion and that of others students, but also of Security Audit Inc. (although the Administration seems to have perfunctorily disdained), every one really consider or act on the suggestions. Dean Roemer and Andy McKenna will not accept the solution. It is the student body's

There have been many attacks and rapes (despite the fact that a rape does not easily occur on that back road, yet there are some reports of this behavior and no action. Will it take a severe beating and rape to ever get any real steps taken?

James W. Jorgensen

Season's heroes revealed at bookstore

Dear Editor,

My letter is written in response to actions I have seen during this week's Bookstore Basketball games. As a concerned student I felt it was my duty and express what is sure to be a widespread reaction. I have observed during the past few weeks a great action against certain teams.

The report I would like to make is that of the actions of the crowd. I observe a phenomenon in which the black team is on the court, the white team similarly bad and led by the players and fans (who are supporting the Trueblood Express, I believe) who shout and heckle the team may be. To me and other minorities, this behavior is extremely frightening - of view. For, while the consciousness of these black teams are "friends and confidants", of course, that is. The same people who helped carry my kids to the NCAAs with the same people who were later booted to robbery on the Bookstore basketball court. The same fool ball players who comprised the
My Section and Welcome to It

marcy mcbriden

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is entirely fictitious. Any resemblances to persons living or dead is purely coincidental.)

Watch out for the suitcases on your way out. The floor? Oh, that's Fred — he belongs to Madonna. She's washed it — I worry what the occasion is. You've never been up here before? I'll have to show you around there. 5-East is kind of an unusual section, I guess. I've gotten used to it.

That's my room, 571. 'Scuse me a second while I see if my roommate's in. Yeah — she hasn't moved. I'd introduce you, but I think she might be asleep. It's kind of hard to tell sometimes. Her name is Maybelline Furgude — maybe you've heard of her. She came in first in the National Steth-Off last year. She's real easy to get along with; needs to be dusted once or twice a week, but that's about it — the graffiti on the ceiling? Yeah, we think it lends character to the place. I can't take credit for it though. If I remember right, Screw's McShe did it during our last happy hour.

It didn't last too long; they were all on the rummy. R.O.S.S. has some wild times; and once a week, everybody get covered it. That's her room the Towers, they made her chief consul­tant. That's her roommate, Nell Andrews; her spare time. Guys? — well, no, but I understand that she did have an unre­strained passion for an R.R.M. machine once. That's her roommate bouncing in from dinner now; Jess Richards, better known as the 'Bobby Kid'. Jess is the only person I know who can Pretzel with herself.

We had a little accident at our last section party; she 'got down' just a little too far and dislocated some guy's shoulder. The room next door belongs to Blown-Away Kowalski, affectionately referred to as B.A. If B.A.'s room ever burned down, the whole campus would be high for three days. It's like — heck, she's got it. She's got a couple of specimens the size of palm trees in there. B.A. is capable of just about anything — under the right conditions. As I understand it, she and Screw are planning to abort this year's Mr. Campus and barricade themselves in the Germay until their demands are met; these four years' tuition is all they're going for. That's B.A.'s roommate, Lavinia Earswingle. Lavinia's feet haven't been on speaking terms with the ground for a month now; she's got a monstrous crush on some guy in the Physics. We first got the idea that she might be in love when she started spending half her waking hours sitting in front of the Rock with a pair of binoculars. She sent him Valentine's Day carnations, the Thursday before, Giraffe's Day Cards; had him pied, scrubbed and streaked in, but he's got to take her one hundred and eighty-eight love letters, none of which will ever be mailed. I believe B.A. is using them for rolling papers.

That room on the left used to belong to R.J. Twidge, philo major and noted wine-case. R.J. now gets along better, I'm sad to say. She was contemplating the possibility of existence in a bottle.

The Juniper Road one Friday afternoon when she happened to walk out of the Volkswagen. I heard that there's an urn with her ashes in it somewhere on seventh floor of the library. Our R.O.C.'s are very busy today. You may have heard of her, Mother Tutu's in the only B.A. on campus with millions for her section. She's really sweet; I think she wouldn't marry unless she was in love; she'd eat the whole half every night so she can see with them when she was behind the facts. I don't want to say anything, but I guess she's the third time this week that she's had her mouth washed out with soap. The room next door belongs to Pioneer Felicia, 5th floor's answer to Atilla the Hun. She got into so many fights at Kubash that she finally hired her as a bodyguard. Felicia's going in the KF. Toss this year, according to rumor, she wants to break the record throwing Ross Browner instead of the keg. Her room's kind of a mess today: I see Captain Sarah's been cleaning her rifles again. The Captain is in one of ND's more enthusiastic ROTC's; she's the only girl on campus with a brush cut. Captain Sarah's been feeling kind of low lately; she camped out on the Circle for three days, waiting for the Red Menace to attack the main gate, but it never showed up. She's probably somewhere finding her cannon; explosions seem to have a soothing effect on her nerves. That SKL: Slam-Dunk 'McGee, the greatest female athlete in the history of Notre Dame, lives here. 'Slam-Dunk' has captured every woman's varsity team ND for the last three years. Sports Illustrated wrote her up as an "ND Super­woman"; from what I hear, though, she's out working on leaping tall buildings in a single bound. There doesn't seem to be much of a future for her in the all but non existing realm of women's sports. 'Slam-Dunk' has no worries; she's earned a full year's worth of O'Connell commercials after she graduates. She's married to her manager, Kate Reiner. Kate Reiner's definition of one of the more promis­
Carter says new budgeting works

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Jimmy Carter's new budget rules resulted in 25 jobs being cut from the federal job-safety agency and led the Coast Guard to eliminate a boating program which had served the federal job-safety agency.

The idea of zero base budgeting is to justify all programs, even those that have been around for years, from scratch. Hence the name.

More importantly, agency officials are supposed to assign each spending project a rank, from the most important to the least. This amounts to saying which spending project can get by for less. Most agencies had trouble figuring out what minimum level of money they could get by on.

The report didn't attempt to place a dollar value on savings from the new method, but the report did give some examples of benefits claimed for the first year, including the trimming of 25 low-priority jobs from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

Geoffrey J. H. Strauss, director of the Coast Guard, said yesterday that "after this, nothing can follow that "same thing that is heard today," he observed.

Graff remarked that "the kid is a horror freak, 'he said. He took sequences of famous horror films, spliced them together, and set them to the music of 'The Mikado,'" said George H. Strauss of OMB.

The report didn't attempt to place a dollar value on savings from the first year of zero-base budgeting. "We don't want to oversell this thing," said George H. Strauss of OMB.

But the report did give some examples of benefits claimed for the first year, including the trimming of 25 low-priority jobs from the Occupational Safety and Health Administration.

The idea of zero base budgeting is to justify all programs, even those that have been around for years, from scratch. Hence the name.
SU Board votes to continue policy

On April 27, the Board of Commissioners voted 5-2 to continue the Student Union Complimentary Tickets Policy. At the same meeting, the board voted to publish the policy and to solicit student response to it.

According to the Student Union Steering Committee, who also approved the policy, it is a small attempt to think the people who put in many hours to free labor in working on Union projects.

Anyone who would like a copy of the policy can obtain it at the Student Union office, located on the second floor of LaFortune. If you would like to comment on the policy, please call the Ombudsman at 6283 and register your opinion.

Sign up for FU extended

The Free University course sign up deadline originally set for last Friday has been extended. Applications from those who wish to teach a Free University course will now be accepted until Friday. For more information, call 7575 or 1158.

Freshman class sponsors mass

The Freshman Advisory Council has planned a class mass for 6:30 tonight in the LaFortune Auditorium. Prof. Charles Rice of the Notre Dame Law School will discuss the legal aspects of abortion in the United States. The lecture is sponsored by the Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Right to Life Association.

Buckley celebrates last fasters mass

Fr. Jim Buckley, C.S.C., head of the German consulat at Detroit, and two trips to Chicago.

The club meets several times a semester to discuss current topics of interest or to hear presentations by faculty members on various aspects of German culture.

Hunger Coalition to hold interviews

Interviews will be held tomorrow morning for Hunger Coalition directorships. Secretary, treasurer, dining hall fasting and collections, public relations, education, research, liturgy and Saint Mary's directorships are open. Any students interested in a position should call John at 8732 or Maria at 4-1-476.

Rice to discuss abortion tonight

Tonight at 7 p.m. in the LaFortune Auditorium, Prof. Charles Rice of the Notre Dame Law School will discuss the legal aspects of abortion in the United States. The lecture is sponsored by the Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Right to Life Association.

ND German Club accepts members

The Notre Dame German Club is accepting memberships for the 1978-79 school year. Those interested should give their names to Jean Thompson (629-4496) or Ken Shanghala(869) before the end of this semester.

This past year the German Club sponsored a variety of events including "Innsbrucker Night" at the Senior Bar, a reception for the German consulate at Detroit, and two trips to Chicago.

The club meets several times a semester to discuss current topics of interest or to hear presentations by faculty members on various aspects of German culture.

SOUTH BEND'S LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE RECORD STORE

River City Records
50970 U.S. 31 North
South Bend
277-4242
3 miles North of campus

HELP WANTED!

Part-time positions available this summer and next school year.

RIVER CITY RECORDS /
THE RIVER CITY REVIEW
Call Peter Kernan
at 277-4242 for an appointment

River City Records
SOUTH BEND'S LARGEST AND MOST COMPLETE RECORD STORE

$1.00 OFF!
Any L.P. Or Tape
With This Coupon!
Now thru May 22!

MATH MAJORS

We're looking for recent college grad students. Juniors and Seniors. In assume leadership roles as New Officers.

312-657-2234 COLLECT

1 collection of essays by Fr. Charles E. Curran recently published by the Notre Dame Press under the title Isms In Sexual and Medical Ethics.

Curran's a diocesan priest from Rochester, N.Y., who teaches theology at The Catholic University of America, is a widely known author on ethical questions and a past president of both the American Society of Christian Ethics and the Catholic Theological Society of America.

Student Union social commission has it all for you! and it's FREE!!

featuring:

Rand Group &

DUKE TUMATOES

and THE ALL-STAR FROS"
HPC refuses comp tickets

Because of increasing student and faculty demand for tickets, Busick told DeGrande that he has reached "a sell-out situation," and that a new ticket policy might have to be put into effect this summer.

The policy proposed by Busick would increase the number of tickets available to SMC students from 181 to 200. It would decrease the number of tickets available to visiting teams from 200 to 100, and would limit the number of tickets available to freshmen to 60—about half the number of tickets ordered by the freshman class this year.

According to Busick's plan, enrolling freshmen would be sent ticket applications over the summer, probably in the first few weeks of July. All those applications received by a certain day—possibly August 1—would be included in a lottery to determine which freshmen would receive tickets.

Ticket distribution for sophomores, juniors and seniors will probably be run in a manner similar to the way in which it was run this year, DeGrande said.

In other matters, McKenna addressed the HPC with a statement of his objectives and goals for next year. McKenna stated that "The most difficult problem facing any student government in the annual turnover of its leadership."

"The projects of one administration, initiated through dedicated effort, can be stalled or ignored by ineffective transition of these ideas to the next administration," McKenna said.

According to McKenna, top student government priorities for next year include the completion of the LaFortune renovations, resolution of the housing and current overcrowding problems, a commitment to the provision of the Co-op, greater service of the needs of the off-campus students, the establishment of an improved security program and the creation of innovative social responsibility programs.

Later in the meeting, Andy Herring presented a proposal concerning the LaFortune renovations.

The proposal, which was unanimously supported by the HPC and would go before the CCC this week, contained two requests. First, it asked that "the Administration follow up on what the Board of Trustees passed." Second, it suggested that the renovation of the basement, as outlined in the original renovation proposal be completed, "even though we realize that all parts of the plan are not feasible at this time."

The Administration had decided not to renovate the basement as all too aware of the legal problems that would have been encountered by serving beer. The original plan called for the construction of a pub in the basement.

In other business, DeGrande announced that HPC Executive Coordinator Andy Sowder has decided, for personal reasons, as of the end of this year to resign his position. A new executive coordinator will be chosen by DeGrande and presented to the HPC for approval at the first meeting of next semester.

NOW ACCEPTING Applications
For St. Mary's Judicial Board '78-'79.
Applications available in Room 166 La Mans.

Any questions call Maggie 272-1355
all Applications due Tuesday May 9
NOW ACCEPTING APPLICANTS for the 1978 - 1979 SCHOOL YEAR.
call candy at 233 - 6363 or 234 - 6647

Lebanese fighting erupts

BERUIT, Lebanon [AP] - Leftist gunmen fired on French peacekeeping troops in southern Lebanon twice yesterday, killing one and wounding seven, a United Nations spokesman said, Five French soldiers and a Palestine Liberation Organization officer were reported missing.

Among those wounded was Col. Jean Salvan, commander of the French forces in southern Lebanon.

A United Nations spokesman in New York gave this account:

Palestinian guerrillas ambushed a French vehicle northeast of Tyre yesterday evening, wounding one French soldier.

At that time a Palestinian Liberation Organization (PLO) representative was at French battalion headquarters in Tyre talking with Col. Salvan. They drove to the ambush area to investigate, followed by two French soldiers in a U.N. jeep.

Shortly after they left, Palestinian troops opened fire on the harassment-killing one French soldier and wounding five.

Salvan's bulldozer-jeep was found in Tyre. Salvan was reported out of danger in a Beirut hospital, but the fate of the PLO officer was not known.

Earl Campbell sets goals for new career with Oilers

NEW YORK (AP) - Earl Campbell, the No. 1 pick in the National Football League's collegiate draft, said he doesn't expect to walk in and take over with the Houston Oilers.

"It's up to Coach Bum Phillips to rate me," said the 6-foot-1, 200-pound running back of the University of Texas. "I'll just try to get the job done my way."

"I'm not going to try to be Jimmy Brown, O.J. Simpson or Tony Dorsett," he said. "I'm just going to work hard and I know what I can do."

"I look up to three different football players - O.J., Brown and Franco Harris - and I'm going to try to be the same - block and catch the football, that's the kind of player I want to be," Campbell said.

Campbell was disappointed that he has two major goals for his rookie season.

"I want my teammates to accept me as a human being as well as a football player," he said. "In order for this to happen, I can't be secretive. Anyhow, if I get nervous, my blood pressure will just go up," he said.

"I'm happy, in a way," said the 6-foot-1, 200-pound running back of the University of Texas.

"I'm not going to try to be Jimmy Brown, O.J. Simpson or Tony Dorsett. I'm just going to work hard and I know what I can do."

"I'm not going to try to be Jimmy Brown, O.J. Simpson or Tony Dorsett," he said. "I'm just going to try to do the job done my way, and I hope someone likes my style, that's great."
Lewis beats Regina to claim football title, 20-0

In this year's annual clash between the Saint Mary's Championship Team and the Regina Fighting Irish, the Lewis High Team reigns victorious over Regina, winning 20-0.

Lewis opened the scoring on the very first play of the game when teammate Sancho Kelly ran back the opening kick for a touchdown. The extra point was missed, but Lewis led 6-0.

Lewis struck again in the second half, this time when quarterback Burtchell handed to Eddie Bums who scored from five yards out, after a break by Mary Ellen Pearce, off the right end for the extra point, and the score stood 13-0.

Regina tried desperately to bring their team back, but the Lewis Defense refused to budge. Lewis capped the scoring when Mary Ellen Pearce scored from fifteen yards in the closing moments of the game. Bums' quarterback Murphy ran in the extra point herself.

"It was a very fun experience," commented Mary Ellen Pearce, who accounted for seven of Lewis' points. "Our team really worked well together. I fed off the energy from the crowd and am proud that we were able to get the win."
Only hurt when he smiled, Carpy was all smiles Monday morning as he played in the Notre Dame men's basketball team's 17-6 win over Ball State.

I was surprised at how much enjoyment I had by just watching the game, said MacAfee, who scored 15 points and added 15 rebounds in the victory.

"My blocking should be made a little more difficult," MacAfee said after the game. "I think I could play in the future in the NBA." He added, "I'm just going to continue to work on it."

"It also came down to which player we would not want to play against," Brown said.

"I went to Detroit and saw him play," MacAfee said of Digger Phelps. "I think he's a good player, but quite appropriately since Saturday's performance was out of this world." He added, "We feel that with O.J. Simpson in the league."