WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter told Congress last night that the Camp David agreement has transformed "this impossible dream" of Middle East peace into a realistic possibility, and said he is sending Secretary of State Cyrus Vance to seek support for the accord from Jordan and Saudi Arabia.

Carter went in triumph to a joint session of the House and Senate, to announce the Camp David accord. Then he presented his Camp David negotiating partners, Egypt's Anwar Sadat and Israel's Menachem Begin, to the U.S. Capitol.

"By the time you hear this, they shall have such peace again," the president said.

In a nationally broadcast and televised news conference held during the 123-minute meeting, President Carter said that Vance will leave on Tuesday for the Middle East for "the realization of the new hopes and dreams that the people of the Middle East can have for peace." Vance plans to stop in Jordan before he reaches Saudi Arabia. Carter said his government will not meddle in the realization of the new hopes and dreams of the people of the Middle East. Carter concluded his 32-minute news conference with a call to the two Middle Eastern Leaders: "Begin, the 'hawk' of old, suddenly had the support of the opposition Labor Party and Israel's Prime Minister Yitzhak Rabin. But one of his own Cabinet members, Commerce Minister Yitzhak Navon, signaled trouble ahead when Rabin's spokesman said the agreement between the two Middle East leaders was not based on "understanding of the Middle East reality." A key problem in the Middle East reality was the recognition of Egypt's rights to the Sinai and the West Bank. Congress OKs budget

WASHINGTON (AP) - House and Senate conference agreed yesterday on an $18.1 billion budget for next year's agriculture and food programs about $5 billion less than President Carter sought. The funds cover sharp increases for programs to bolster incomes of farmers whose prices have been depressed by surpluses.

Student comments

WASHINGTON (AP) - Democratic and Republican leaders of Congress credited President Carter yesterday with an historic role in ending the Cold War and said the credits belong to Carter. House Republican leader John Breaux, R. La., agreed with a Republican春夏 rise in rising prices. Meany said he is convinced that the program, reportedly to include voluntary wage and price guidelines would have a chance of lowering prices.

Somoza accuses neighbors of giving aid to rebels

MANAGUA, Nicaragua [AP] -

Government troops moved into positions around Esteli in northern Nicaragua yesterday, to the last guerrilla strongholds there. Esteli has been in rebel hands since Sept. 7, which, according to Mihajlov, originated in the Soviet Union. These declarations brought repression from Managua, the Nicaraguan capital, and the west, the travelers said. Mihajlov was released from prison in November 1977 after serving two years of a seven-year prison term. Now on a speech tour in the United States, he will return to Nicaragua in November, most probably to be imprisoned again.

The lecture is open to the public and is co-sponsored by the Student Union Academic Commission, the Center for Civil Rights, and the Institute of International Studies. A reception will follow the lecture in the Library Lounge.

Mihajlov speaks tonight

Tonight at 7 p.m. in the Library Auditorium, Mihajlov Mihajlov, a Yugoslav dissenter, will address the Notre Dame community on his fight for freedom of speech and for human rights in Yugoslavia. Mihajlov, a distinguished scholar in Russian literature, was at one time an assistant professor at the University of Zadar in Yugoslavia. When a professor, he received a grant to do research in the Soviet Union and after interviewing Soviet poets and writers, he published his notes in a literary periodical.

In his articles, Mihajlov discussed "the first death camps" of communists trying to overthrow the national guard forces manned a temporary assignment in Costa Blanca. In Caracas, Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez said Monday the charge is "absolutely false." There are no reliable reports on casualties in the fighting which erupted throughout the country Sept. 9. But those visited the recaptured cities say the toll was high. Residents of the towns claimed the national guard was executing people suspected of being snipers.

Nicaragua also said a Venezuelan fighter planes on temporary assignment in Costa Rica supported rebels in their Sunday raid against Penas Blancas. In Caracas, Venezuelan President Carlos Andres Perez said the figure near 400, but Somoza says the toll was 300.000. Later, the guard, Nicaragua's 7,500-man army, recaptured the town of Matagalpa, Nicaragua's second largest city, said Red Cross sources in Leon, the nation's second largest city, said they counted 300 dead and about 1,000 wounded when allowed back into the city by the national guard.

Estimates vary as to the strength of the Sandinistas. Some put the toll at 400. But Somoza says there are between 1,000 and 2,000. Thousands of Nicaraguans support them with food, information, shelter, and money.

Dunne receives award

by John McGrath

Fr. John S. Dunne, professor of theology at Notre Dame, will receive the Sherry Award for outstanding teaching in the College of Arts and Letters on Friday. The prestigious award will be presented as part of the annual Arts and Letters Advisory Council meeting which is to be held at the Center for Continuing Education.

A leading figure in what is known as the "narrative school" of theology, Dunne has been a popular teacher in the 21 years he has been on the Notre Dame faculty. In 1969, he received the Danforth Foundation Harlibson Award, given only to the nation's most outstanding teachers.

Dunne is a 1951 Notre Dame graduate, doing his post-graduate work at the Cambridge University in England. He held the Riggs Chair in Yale University's Department of Religious Studies in 1972-73 and gave the Sarum lectures at Oxford University in 1976.

Through his five published books and numerous magazine articles, Dunne has earned such distinctions as "the most original religious thinker of our time."

"I'm really very happy to receive it (the award) because teaching here means so much to me," Dunne said, adding, "the life of teaching is sort of a giving and sharing of insight with others."

The award was established by an anonymous donor to honor Fr. Charles E. Sheedy, former dean of the College of Arts and Letters. Recipients are selected by a student committee and receive a $1,000 gift.
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - The proposed constitutional amendment to give the District of Columbia representation in Congress may face opposition in Indiana, legislative leaders say.

Under the proposed amendment, supported by both Sens. Richard Lugar, R-Ind., and Birch Bayh, D-Ind., the District of Columbia would get two senators and one or two representatives.

"I'm not going to introduce it and I have reservations about it," said House Speaker Kermit Burke, R-Minn. "The District of Columbia is not a legally constituted state. I'll have to study it, but the people in the House to whom I have talked about it, informally, without exception have some reservations about it.

House Democratic Minority Leader Michael Phillips, D-Boonville, said the district deserves Congressional representation, but he added that he would not want to see Indians lose a congressional seat.

...I would want to review it to see how it is set up, whether it increases the number of seats in the U.S. House or takes them away from other states," said Phillips. Under the amendment, the U.S. House would decide whether or not to increase its size from 435 members.

Sen. Robert Fair, D-Princeton, president pro tem of the Senate, but is not seeking re-election, said the measure would be difficult to pass.

"My reaction is it will have tough sledding. As a practical matter, people are going to look at it and say 'What good does this do?' In a sense, it dilutes our vote, not much but by a little bit— I think it will be more difficult to pass."

Sen. Frank O'Bannon, D-Corydon, said although most lawmakers haven't had time to look at the proposal, he feels "...the justice of the thing would be in favor of passing it. Without the representation, they are left a little short of being a part of the overall government.

Thirty-eight states must ratify the amendment within a seven-year period.

Oswald's travels discussed at committee hearing

The Warren Commission, which concluded in 1964 that Oswald killed Kennedy and that he acted alone, said it found no support for speculation of a conspiracy.

"The commission has no credible evidence that Oswald went to Mexico pursuant to a plan to assassinate President Kennedy, that he received any instructions related to such an action while there, or that he received large sums of money from any source in Cuba," the report said.

In fact, the commission said, Cuban embassy officials refused to grant his request for a visa, and the Cuban consul "told Oswald that, in his opinion, people like Oswald were harming the Cuban revolution."

When a Friend is Lost...

Bruce Portnack, who would have been a junior this year, was killed on July 3rd when the car he was driving hit by a drunk driver.

Bruce was really inspiring. It has lush quads, red and green lawns, and old stone buildings---it's like something out of a story-book fairy tale. We will rarely experience the effect. As a big part of Ireland is her song, you can't help but sing along. There were about four or five truly laconic stories----the songs, that is. Usually you would start out by singing a song, and then, when the pants started to take their effect, you would sing some more rearguard service. Bruce was really inspiring. NEW YORK cop shot

NEW YORK (AP) - A policeman was shot and critically wounded yesterday when he approached two men in a double-parked car outside the residence of the Israeli United Nations ambassador.

The wounded officer, Albert Guarnieri, 30, was taken to Lenox Hill Hospital where he was listed in critical condition with a bullet wound in his abdomen. There was no indication that the incident was connected to Blum or his residence.

Cila shares experiences

by John Kuhns

Several students from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's participated in a project sponsored by CILA. Tomorrow, at 9 p.m. in the Brenn Phillip building, they will share a slide presentation and discussion on their experiences. Andrea Smith, ND, senior, will give the presentation on her experiences in Appalachia. After her summer, she wrote, "I'm summered in me to the sensitivity a people and their attitudes, a yearning to improve the social injustices and a strong belief that the Church, too, must undergo some changes in varieties of action. As the days after the days after came home, I must remind myself of the lessons I learned from the mountains - to listen, to be open and to be patient as God wills it is revealed to me. I just that say I've been to the mountains and caught a glimpse of all that I can be....

The second presentation will be given by Mary Beth Simons and Denise Perez, who spent their summer in Tuscon, AZ. "Getting a food for a family in need, connecting a family and sending a family returning to find out that they became certified and were receiving food stamps, hunting for days and finally locating a maternity for an old lady who was bedridden, suggesting possible courses of action for a disabled man who had almost given up hope, making a person smile and as you leave making ... (that you go with God)."

The Observer circulation department has issued the following notice to all faculty and students: a subscription service. The new service is being offered during our initial printing week. All back issues are available for $8. Your first copies will be arriveing shortly.
