Nestles confronts charges

by Mark Rust
Senior Staff Reporter

Representatives of the Nestle Corporation—the world's largest food conglomerate—met with 75 students in Madeleva hall at St. Mary's yesterday to confront the charges of unethical business practices levied against them by the national group INFACT (Infant Formula Action Committee).

According to representatives of the ND-SMC World Hunger Coalition (WHC), the organization which sponsored the three and a half hour meeting, this marked the first time that Nestles has sent corporate executives to deal with the issues raised by the group responsible for the national Nestles boycott.

Riots break out

TEHRAN, Iran [AP] - Prime Minister Jaafar Shariif-Emami submitted his resignation to Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi last night after several days of consultations with the three and a half hour meeting, this marked the first time that Nestles has sent corporate executives to deal with the issues raised by the group responsible for the national Nestles boycott.

The meeting was a part of a WHC forum entitled "Third World Bottle Babies: Medical Advance or Corporate Windfall," which included four speakers and two movies that addressed the issue of infant nutrition in the Third World.

According to the CBS film, aired last July, American companies interested in expanding their share of the baby formula market are at least partially responsible for high rates of infant mortality and malnutrition in the Third World.

The one year old Nestles boycott is the result of charges made by INFACT last December, along with other producers of baby formula, is marketing an overly expensive product in underdeveloped nations. The group claims that, because of advertising and kick-backs to members of the medical profession, nestle and other Third World producers are switching from breast to formal feeding, which in turn is causing high rates of malnutrition and infant mortality.

Jerry Raffe, general manager of Nestle's United Kingdom and Southeastern Asian companies, and Jeffery Cassa, a representative of Nestles United States Corp. of Corporate Responsibility, called these charges "false and malicious.

[continued on page 2]

Prime Minister submits resignation to Shah

The meeting was a part of a WHC forum entitled "Third World Bottle Babies: Medical Advance or Corporate Windfall," which included four speakers and two movies that addressed the issue of infant nutrition in the Third World.

According to the CBS film, aired last July, American companies interested in expanding their share of the baby formula market are at least partially responsible for high rates of infant mortality and malnutrition in the Third World.

The one year old Nestles boycott is the result of charges made by INFACT last December, along with other producers of baby formula, is marketing an overly expensive product in underdeveloped nations. The group claims that, because of advertising and kick-backs to members of the medical profession, nestle and other Third World producers are switching from breast to formal feeding, which in turn is causing high rates of malnutrition and infant mortality.

Jerry Raffe, general manager of Nestle's United Kingdom and Southeastern Asian companies, and Jeffery Cassa, a representative of Nestles United States Corp. of Corporate Responsibility, called these charges "false and malicious.

[continued on page 2]
Weather

Much cooler today with partial clearing during the afternoon. High in the mid 50s. Clear and cold at night. Low in the mid 30s. Sunny and cool tomorrow. High in the low 50s.

On Campus Today

4:15 pm meeting, amnesty international, la fortune basketball hall

4:30 pm biology seminar, "vascularization in mosquitoes," dr. emil van handel, fa. state medical entomology lab, galvin aud.

5:30 pm meeting, french club, faculty dining room, south dining hall

6:30 pm film, third world film festival, "distant thunder," sponsored by st. ed's academic commission, st. ed's hall

7 pm career workshops, "interview skills," ex. board rm.

7:30 pm talk, digger phelps, sponsored by st. ed's academic commission, st. ed's hall

7:30 pm meeting, faculty senate, 202 c.e.e.

8 pm lecture, "rebels under sail," (american revolution-era vols), prof. william m. bowler, jr., northeastern u., sponsored by history dept., galvin aud.

The Observer is published Monday through Thursday during the academic and vacation periods. The Observer is owned by Saint Louis University and is operated by student editors. All reproduction rights are reserved.

Recent Masthead

Tony Pace
Steve Caffald
Doug Christian
John Calcutt
Barb Langhenry
Rosemary Mills
Phil Cackley
Jean Powley
Ann Calles
Mike Lewis
Diane Wilson
Ray O'Brien
Donn Christen
Editor-in-Chief
Executive Editor
Executive Editor
Executive Editor
Executive Editor
Editorial Director
Copy Editor
Copy Editor
News Editor
News Editor
News Editor
News Editor
Photographer
Kicker: Jim Rudd

The Observer Editorial Board

Doug Christian, Photo Editor

Observer Editorial Board

Chieftain fears for his life

Galante, fearing for his life at the hands of rival mobsters, managed to escape from the U.S. via a dugout in the Kagera River and destroyed two of Amin's tanks. On Friday, the Ugandans reportedly blew up the main bridge crossing the river.

SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF LAW

Saint Louis University is a private Jesuit University located in St. Louis, Missouri. The School of Law offers programs leading to the J.D., J.M.A., J.D./M.H.A., and J.D./M.A. Urban Affairs. Students may elect courses concentrating in the areas of juvenile law, taxation, urban law, and commercial law. Clinical courses offer students valuable, practical experience in the areas of mental health, employment discrimination, appellate practice, juvenile law, and criminal law.

A representative of Saint Louis University School of Law will be on campus to meet with interested students.

Representative: Peter W. Salsich, Jr.
Chairman, Admissions Committee

Date and Time: Wednesday, November 8, 1978
6:30 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

To schedule an appointment please contact:
Placement Office or Pre-Law Society
Saint Louis University School of Law

JUNIORS: Morris Inn has 30 rooms available for JUNIOR PARENTS’ WEEKEND. A lottery will be held Wednesday, Nov. 8 at 7:00 pm in LaFortune Lobby

Questions call — Paul Lewis - 8505
Dan McCruiry - 3549
Mike Kenney - 3592

The Observer

Meany dooms Carter's plan

Meany dooms Carter's plan for inflation controls. "This is the responsibility of Congress," Meany said.

"The president is determined to enforce this program fairly," adding to pressures as well as wages.

Kahn predicted that the Teamsters union eventually will agree to a wage settlement within the present voluntary wage and benefit limit Carter has proposed, because of increased competition in the trucking industry and "the recognition by the Teamsters that we are all in the same boat." The Teamsters are scheduled to negotiate a new contract with the trucking industry next spring. Besides limiting wage and benefit increases to 7.1 percent in 1979, the anti-inflation program calls for the union to agree to restrain their present rates under a formula that would gener-

The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
by John Ferrell

Indiana state Senator Robert L. Kovach recently secured the expanded dormitories over the weekend at Notre Dame for support in tomorrow's election.

In a private interview, Kovach emphasized his role as a proponent of education in the 11th district, which includes Notre Dame, South Bend and Mishawaka. Kovach, who is a member of the South Bend Community School Corporations for 13 years, feels that he is "one of the strongest advocates in the Senate for education at all levels."

Kovach, the Democratic caucus chairman in the Senate, also cited his involvement with special education programs. He explained that Indiana has a "weighted system for special education, in which institutions for the handicapped receive less money per capita from the state than public schools, because state funds have not sponsored bills which 'guarantee' funds for the education of the handicapped and provide "transfer tuition" for students.

The 37-year old senator has a special relationship with Logan Center, due to his sponsorship of a bimonthly scholarship, which would add the "top 2 or 3 students of an area, regardless of need."

Kovach mentioned that he has "very much contact" with U.S. Congressman John Brademas who, like Kovach, is a member of important education committees. Kovach said that he "implements" Brademas' legislation on the state level. As an outgrowth of a Brademas-sponsored education bill Kovach aims to propose his own action to increase funding for transportation for special students, and to require new courses on how to deal with the handicapped for the teacher-education curriculums.

Kovach said that he feels his support from Notre Dame students is very strong, and that his legislative record fosters this support. He cited his role in promoting a "landlord-tenant bill," which assists off-campus students and sponsoring budget increases for the Michiana Regional Airport "which will make it a better and safer facility."

The senator also noted that he is in favor of lowering the drinking age in Indiana "to 19 or even 18," but he said he has "reservations" about a local-option policy.

Kovach, who is completing his first term in the General Assembly, said that his race with Republican challenger Daniel A. Marion is very close, and that his reelection on Tuesday "depends on voter turnout."

Career seminar begins tomorrow
by Jean Pawley

Saint Mary's and Notre Dame students will hear about life in the working world and the transition from college to career when recent Saint Mary's graduates, engaged in many different occupations, gather for College to Career Week. Publicized as a chance to "find out what it's all about from the women who have been there," Saint Mary's "College to Career Days," which begins tomorrow night and runs through Thursday, is the brainchild of the Saint Mary's Student Government. They are co-sponsors along with the Counseling and Career Development Center.

"Liberal Arts in the 80's - An Art or Alzheimer?" is the title of Denise Cavanaugh's (701) keynote address tomorrow at 7:30 p.m. in Carroll Hall, Madleva, which will begin the three-day seminar. Cavanaugh, a women's management consultant in Washington, D.C., and her speech will cover "personal and professional growth for today's women."

Following a short intermission, Cavanaugh and her college roommate, Carol Barnes Weber, will discuss the two very divergent paths they have taken. Weber is a wife and mother. "Two Women - Two Ways" is the title of their dialogue. The Wednesday and Thursday schedule will be comprised of one-hour workshops in Stapleton Lounge, LeMans, led by recent graduates representing 34 different careers from law to children's theatre. Workshops will run between 4-9 p.m. both days, with two workshops proceeding simultaneously in most cases.

In addition, a social hour will be held from 8-9:30 to 5-6 p.m. both days in Stapleton. They are open to students, faculty and staff from both Saint Mary's and Notre Dame. According to Betty Twitchell, assistant director of the Counseling and Career Development Center, these social hours will be an "excellent" time for interested students to meet with a specific speaker if they are unable to attend the scheduled workshop.

ACHIEVEMENT COUNTS at NOTRE DAME and ST. MARY'S

Bob Kovach for State Senate

In his first term as your State Senator, Bob Kovach compiled a record important to your future. Expansion of the state scholarship program, including the "Freedom of Choice" grants so important to all students,

Along with 200 IN-DMSC students, Kovach assisted with the check-in to the local hospital for disabled children.

Kovach supported the Michiana Regional Airport, which means improved facilities for student off-campus students.

Authorized landmark legislation concerning special education for children in the State of Indiana.

John Brademas for U.S. Congress

During his service as your U.S. Representative, John Brademas has earned a reputation as education's most effective advocate in Congress. Among his accomplishments:

Supported the new Middle Income Student Assistance Act which makes all students eligible for the guaranteed student loan program, regardless of financial position.

Worked with Fischer-Hubsch, one of the nation's most influential leaders in higher education.

VOTE TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 7
Involvement, registration and support.

Dan has jogged door-to-door throughout the district. Has twice visited campus, to encourage YOUR Concerned.

Experienced: Four years as Director of Industrial Development, five years as a champion and Army ROTC brigade commander.

A 1964 graduate of N.D. In political science. Also a three-time Bengal reporter and Student Player present:

Levi Jeans
Straight Legs
Bell Bottoms
Levi Corduroy
Fashion Tops
Be a Levi Man

The ONLY Place For Jeans
NORTH VILLAGE MALL
U.S. 31 North at Darden Rd. Open 9-9

NDSU Services Committee is now selling
1982 Freshman Registers

Paper Back - $4.00
Hard Bound - $5.00

Starting Nov. 6 on sale at ticket office.

MANION FOR STATE SENATOR

A 1964 graduate of N.D. In political science. Also a three-time Bengal reporter and Army ROTC brigade commander.

Experienced: Four years as Director of Industrial Development, responsible to small businesses. Also, Deputy Attorney General for Indiana and assistant to the President of the Indiana State Senate.

Concerned: Dan has jogged door-to-door throughout the district. Has visited over 5000 homes. Has twice visited campus, to encourage YOUR Concerned. At the observer Monday, November 6, 1978

YOU can decide who will represent you. With Dan Manion as State Senator you are assured a responsible voice in Indianapolis.

The Choice is Clear.
And the Choice is Yours.

Paid for by the Notre Dame College Republicans. Bill Kerr, Chairman

Nestles confronts charges

By Michael Molinelli

Nestles confronts charges

...and the Student Players present:
Monday, November 6, 1978

Middies angered at Irish

continued from page 8

While the Middies were withdrawn, the Irish defense stiffened. An open-play goal by Schneider with 2:46 on the clock sealed the victory for Notre Dame.

On Saturday Denver inserted Stuart Birenbaum into the nets, and the Irish had trouble containing the pack behind him.

Denver stepped forward and scored three of 35 shots, including 12 crucial attempts in the final period. Denver, at 4:13 of the opening stanza, jumped out to a lead which the Irish were unable to overcome.

Ost to Daddy God?

Try bailing from Ruddy, stop playing Queen.

For a last of his lips

Knock on top of the Irish bunker,

We can't stand your pretty,

in need of 38-3," said Devine, who then proceeded to add:

If you don't try

Put on your charm

Don't insist on that one over there,

I'm having a time with your maddening one.

I don't think I can do anything more.

I think the Superficians

Very Personial

Try based on a good start Tuesday night, that is at 9:00 at night.

The Notables
to you, too, Mr. Mark and Mrs. as usual.

So why, naturally, worry about it?

The reason for this is not because Notre Dame enters this game without fault, but the Irish defense stiffened. An open-play goal by Schneider with 2:46 on the clock sealed the victory for Notre Dame.

On Saturday Denver inserted Stuart Birenbaum into the nets, and the Irish had trouble containing the pack behind him. Denver stepped forward and scored three of 35 shots, including 12 crucial attempts in the final period. Denver, at 4:13 of the opening stanza, jumped out to a lead which the Irish were unable to overcome. (continued from page 8)

(continued from page 8)

While the Middies were withdrawn, the Irish defense stiffened. An open-play goal by Schneider with 2:46 on the clock sealed the victory for Notre Dame.

On Saturday Denver inserted Stuart Birenbaum into the nets, and the Irish had trouble containing the pack behind him. Denver stepped forward and scored three of 35 shots, including 12 crucial attempts in the final period. Denver, at 4:13 of the opening stanza, jumped out to a lead which the Irish were unable to overcome.

Ost to Daddy God?

Try bailing from Ruddy, stop playing Queen.

For a last of his lips

Knock on top of the Irish bunker,

We can't stand your pretty,

in need of 38-3," said Devine, who then proceeded to add:

If you don't try

Put on your charm

Don't insist on that one over there,

I'm having a time with your maddening one.

I don't think I can do anything more.

I think the Superficians
Irish trounce Midshipmen 27-7

Ferguson leads potent ND attack

By Tony Pace
Editor-In-Chief

Cleveland—Two years ago when Navy scored only 10 points in Cleveland and the Midshipmen played valiantly but lost 17-10, the first half lasted just over 12 minutes, touchdowns drove and lost 27-21. On Saturday they did manage to score on the second and third moments of the game, but that was their only bright spot as Notre Dame melted the 11-0 and 17-7 Midshipmen into Midshipmen 27-7.

Ferguson took a handoff from Ray O’Brien and Jerome Heavens. Ferguson, who gained 217 yards thus far, did not let up on his blocks. "We worked well together and we drove hard right at them," said Heavens. "It was a real good team effort. I just wished we had gotten the shut-out."

Icers split weekend series

By Paul Mulaney
Assistant Sports Editor

The Irish, now 2-1 on the year, were never behind in a 6-4 victory over Denver. "We played a helluva game," said Coach Dave Lauron, who saw his team score from behind Saturday, losing 4-3. Freshman goalie Dave Lauron was outstanding in the nets on the initial night, turning away 26 of 27 shots. The Irish cut their disadvantage to one goal with 20 seconds remaining in the second period.

"To impress the bowl people," said Lauron, "we worked well together and we drove hard right at them. It was a real good team effort. I just wished we had gotten the shut-out."

Ray O’Brien

Navy’s First Real Test

Did I say Navy would fumble a lot and ND would win by 17? Oh, I meant to say 20.

Saturday’s game proved one thing that many people suspected all along. Navy was simply not up to par. A simple explanation of their unendeared status going into the game can be found by looking at the closely contested first half. Besides Pittsburgh, the Midshipmen had faced a respectable team and even the Panthers we down a loss to Navy this season. Navy’s first points of the day were lost to the score of 17-10.

Jerome Heavens, back in the lineup after an injury, was the workhorse on the field. Heavens was a key player in the Irish’s 27-7 win over the Midshipmen. Heavens led Notre Dame in total offense, including an all-time Irish single game record of 217 yards by Vagas Ferguson.

Irish tactics singer Micdades

By Paul Mulaney
Assistant Sports Editor

Cleveland - Navy quarter back Bob Leszczynski just stood there and watched his team’s 27-7 setback at the hands of Notre Dame’s thirty-fighting Irish.

"We played a helluva game against Notre Dame," said Coach Cal Saltzman in the second half," lamented the red head while his team’s offense was losing on 22 total yardage. "All the mistakes we made this afternoon were too much to come back from."

Leszczynski, as if suddenly remembering, said, "...the eyes of those reporters standing in a semi-circle around him...

"When they put their first team defense back there on the field, they were throwing the ball on the last play, and that’s all they had, and of poor on their part," he firmly noted.

"To impress the bowl people, I guess that’s what it was. It didn’t that way. The ball would never do something like that. We had a chance. We would do something like that."

"We were on the threshold of first line defensive players back into the ball game late in the fourth quarter attempting to stifle a driving Navy club from scoring its third consecutive score. The Midshipmen didn’t settle very well in the fourth quarter.

"Our defensive substitutes didn’t fare too well, however, as the Irish played well in the fourth quarter and scored on a 13-yard pass from quarterback Smith to captain Phil McConkey only 12 seconds before the Irish had been Notre Dame’s second straight victory.

McConkey was knocked out on the reception, and had to be carried off the field. But the Irish didn’t see the senior end split from letting him know his feelings after the game."

"I don’t know who the hell they..." [continued on page 7]