Carroll Hall "abolishes" parietals; plans protest

by Mark East
Senior Staff Reporter

Carroll Hall residents, dissatisfied with a campus atmosphere they say is partially caused by visitation restrictions, have voted to "abolish" parietals in a move that some hall presidents say has the potential to spread campus wide.

The Carroll residents met Monday night to discuss their beefs against the social atmosphere on campus, which they say is "downright unhealthy." They plan to collect support for a campus wide protest.

The vote to "abolish" parietals, which the residents admit will not win University policy, is "only the beginning," according to Mark Mocarski, a Carroll section leader and sponsor of the Hall Council motion to "abolish" parietals.

Under the leadership of Mocarski, the residents plan to wait for a show of solidarity from other halls in the form of similar votes to "abolish" parietals.

Once they receive that show of support, according to Mocarski, they intend to organize and publicize a "parietals break night" that will "involve the whole campus.

In a statement released the resident in Carroll decided to "do something about it" when it became clear to them that accepted avenues of change—recommendations from the Campus Life Council to the University administration—were closed.

HPC discusses laundry, sports

The possibility of installing washers and dryers in Grace Hall was among the topics discussed at last night's HPC meeting in that hall.

The HPC had previously opted to approve the men's laundry, but have decided to poll the dorms to see how many male students are interested in using the proposed washers and dryers.

The poll is being undertaken to answer concerns voiced by the University at the Monday nights HPC meeting.

O-C students discuss problems

by Dan Leterich
Staff Reporter

A group of students interested in off-campus problems met last night in LaFortune to discuss a list of goals including shuttle service expansion, security awareness programs and a proposed amendment to the Student Government constitution.

Student Government Off-Campus Commissioner John Fitzpatrick opened the meeting with a list of questions about the need for each member to concentrate on a specific goal such as vacation storage or the publishing of a monthly newsletter.

Phil Johnson, a sophomore, delivered a presentation concerning security and crime prevention.

In his address he stated that, "the group's main concern is to raise student's awareness in this area."

In a discussion afterwards, Fitzpatrick commented on an article which appeared in Monday's Observer. This article addressed the decrease in off-campus crime and Fitzpatrick felt, "that this article was mis-leading." He pointed out that the two most highly-read student sections were the highest burglary rate in South Bend.

Junior Shannon Neville then discussed the shuttle service and her hopes to expand the number of off-campus stops.

"If we come up with a schedule and show that there is a demand, we could get another bus specifically for off-campus students," she added.

Talk then turned to the possibility of amending the Student Government constitution.

This amendment would give off-campus students representation on the Board of Commissioners which, in turn, would give off-campus students some say in the allocation of funds.

"This group is also hoping to see an off-campus council formed which would be similar, but on a smaller scale, to the Hall President's Council," Fitzpatrick noted. This council could also serve as a link between the students and neighborhood groups.

The group is attempting to gain the support as well as the assistance of more off-campus students. Fitzpatrick feels that "the university will generally take care of on-campus students while it neglects the off-campus students." Such attitudes may change if the group can gain more representation.

China desires peace, reunion with Taiwan

WASHINGTON (AP) - Vice Premier Teng Hsiao-ping was reported yesterday to have declared that China wants a peaceful resolution of the Taiwan issue, but "cannot commit herself not to resort" to the use of force.

The account of Teng's remarks at a Senate luncheon came from a senator who took notes. Another senator, Thad Cochran, R-Miss., quoted the Chinese leader as saying: "You can rely on our assurance that we don't intend to use force" and that "there has been no discussion of boycott against Taiwan.

The senator who made notes declined the use of his name. His notes quoted Teng as saying:

"We will permit the present system on Taiwan and way of life to remain unchanged. We will allow the local government of Taiwan to maintain people-to-people relations with other people, like Japan and the United States."

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. In a copyrighted story yesterday, the Indiana Daily Student reported that Commissioner Richard P. Nugent said students who can

Possible machine installation

Grace Hall considers laundry

by Pat Toomey

The installation of laundry machines in Grace Hall is currently under serious consideration by the University. Thomas Mason, vice-president for Business Affairs, stated the machines could be installed "this semester if no serious problems develop."

Curt Wesseln, Grace Hall vice-president, the driving force behind the proposal, is optimistic about the proposed installation of the machines for this semester. Wesseln has been trying to get them installed since September.

Under the plan now being considered, the University would rent the machines and put them in the Grace basement. The revenue gained from this system would offset the loss in income which the Notre Dame laundry would incur.

Mason said he opposed a student-run operation because he did not want a proliferation of student vendors on campus. He also expressed concern over the annual turnover of management in any student-run operation.

In order for this plan to be implemented, it would have to be approved by both the administration and Grace Hall residents. Brother Kieran Ryan, vice-president for Business Affairs, is scheduled to visit Grace soon to make sure that the basement would be a suitable location for laundry machines.

Wesseln will go to the Grace Hall Council tonight to settle several issues. Grace residents must determine if they will restrict the use of the machines to Grace residents, if they will accept having the University run the machines, and if a laundry would best utilize the involved space.

Students return to class after sniper assault

SAN DIEGO (AP) - A few minutes before the children started filing back into Cleveland Elementary School yesterday, a playground supervisor knelt on the sidewalk to clean away the bloodstains.

The "flag" was flying at half mast.

"I had bad dreams and thought the lady would still be here," said 9-year-old George Johnson as he entered the school about 8:40 a.m. "But my dad said it's all right now."

Twenty-four hours earlier, a sniper leveled up on a house across the street had opened fire with a .22 caliber rifle, killing the principal and the janitor and wounding nine others including eight children.

The "lady" of the boy's dream has been identified by police as Brenda Spencer, a 16-year-old girl who they say sprayed the Henry High School, came out of the house and surrendered at 3:10 p.m. She lay down a pellet gun and a .22 caliber rifle with a telescopic sight and went back inside for several rounds of ammunition.

Miss Spencer, described by a schoolmate as "crazy about guns," was being held at Juvenile Hall while law enforcement officials decided what charges to file and whether she will be prosecuted as an adult or a juvenile. It may be several days before a decision is made.

Teachers were ahead with their regular class plans yesterday but much of the time was spent trying to explain the violence of the day before.

Most of the children appeared calm, but some seemed hazed.

Acting principal Daryl Barnes said psychiatric help will be given to any of the school's 311 pupils, "if they need any help."

Monday's violence began as the students and staff arrived for school. They were walking up a wide sidewalk to enter the main building when the shots rang out.

The children screamed and scattered. Principal Burton Wragg saw a student fall and fell on the sidewalk, 30 feet from the front door.

Michael Suchar, the school custodian, ran to Wragg's aid and also was hit in the chest. Both men died later.

Six of the eight wounded students were treated for and released, but two 9-year-old girls remained in serious condition.

Miss Spencer, a red-headed 11th-grader described as an "average" student at Patrick Henry High School, came out of the house and surrendered at 3:10 p.m. She lay down a pellet gun and a .22 caliber rifle with a telescopic sight and went back inside to fetch several hundred rounds of ammunition, police said.

There were open liquor bottles in the front room of the house and police said the girl told them that she had been drinking and taking barbiturates.

Last summer Miss Spencer was arrested for shooting out the Cleveland school's windows with a B-B gun.

adults."

"I personally object to not being treated as an adult here at Notre Dame," Coonan continued. "That is, in large part, what is wrong with the social atmosphere here at Notre Dame. It's downright unhealthy."

Echoing Coonan's sentiments was a roomful of Carroll residents, all of whom were quick to point out they are primarily adults.

"That is, in large part, what is wrong with the social atmosphere at Notre Dame," Coonan continued. "We are pretty isolated," he said.

"Second we have mostly freshmen and sophomores in the hall. We have only seven upperclassmen, I'm sure there would be a more mature atmosphere."

ACC experiences overcrowding

Winter forces athletes indoors

by Maribeth Moran

Winter’s snow and frigid temperatures force many of Notre Dame’s fall and part-time athletes indoors during the cold months. Both the Rockne Memorial and the ACC experience a marked increase in the use of their respective facilities. According to Mike Danch, events manager at the ACC, “we get so crowded that we’re reaching the limits in the usage of space in the building.”

Among those who use the ACC for training are twelve varsity sports, numerous clubs and intramural leagues, and individuals. Men’s basketball, hockey, wrestling, baseball, track, soccer, and tennis as well as women’s fencing, tennis, and basketball are the varsity sports that use the ACC. Add to this the interhall sports of hockey and basketball, co-rec sports such as volleyball and one can perceive what an extremely crowded schedule there is at the ACC, “We’re bulging at the seams”, states Danch.

Danch also pointed to the many individuals who come in from the cold to jog in the concourse or to use the weight room. Boxers who wish to participate in the Bengal Bouts also train here. Squash, handball, and racquetball courts are filled to capacity, so filled, it is difficult to reserve one.

The ice rink also sees much service in the form of interhall hockey, free skating and use by physical education classes. “Our biggest problem is to accommodate what is going on now, we really have no security problems,” said Danch.

Accommodation is also a problem at the Rock according to Edward Kazmierzak, supervisor of the Rockne Memorial. “Activity really picks up the first five weeks of the semester due to the weather and lighter workloads,” he stated.

As many as 850 students use the Rock on any given day, last Saturday, however over 1000 students used the facility. The most popular areas seem to be the racquetball courts and basketball gymnasium where long waits are required before playing a game.

While the Rock’s pool and weight rooms are kept busy by individual athletes, several club sports use it as a conditioning center. Both the gymnastics club and the ND Crew use it as the site for winter workouts.

Orlando Woolridge: The Tree plants his roots at Notre Dame

by Mike Orszan
Sports Writer

"A slam dunk by the TREE... Orlando Woolridge," bellowed the announcer in that drawn out, often-muffled way. The crowd responded favorably to what they视为 as they spring from their seats at the ACC. The Dons weren't only "really good," but they were "big." Frisco, led by 7-1 All-Americans Tracy Jackson as Notre Dame cruised to the 80-53 final tally. Phelps remarked, 'T was the kind of scoring. Branning, who was voted the game's MVP, continued to hit from the top of the key and was joined outside by Tracy Jackson as Notre Dame cruised to the 80-55 final tally. "I thought we played well," offered Phelps afterwards. "The defensive intensity at the beginning of the game was necessary to get the tempo of the game and avoid the slowdowns."

Notre Dame paints Brown green, 80-53

by Ray O'Brien
Sports Editor

Despite a weekend loss to Maryland, Notre Dame's basketball team is headed towards the NCAA's Top Twenty teams In the Associated Press poll. Two state championships in two different sports, all of that ain't going to get better; to most opponents, that means trouble.

Sharon Petro eyes second state title

Two state championships in two different sports for one coach in one year? Is possible! Sharon Petro will find that out in a few weeks. In the fall of '78, Petro's women's tennis team captured the Indiana state tennis championships. But their road toward Brown, 80-53 last night at the ACC. The Irish showed no signs of letting down after their last-second loss on Saturday as Orlando Woolridge and Bill Haizlip led an early barrage. Notre Dame broke a 4-4 tie and ran off ten unanswered points and that was as close as their visitors from the east would get this night. With that, Petro said eight points after a Bruin basket spearheaded by their No. 1, of course. Good. Newcomer's shooting gave Notre Dame a 2-2 lead with 12:08 remaining. "Diggle," Phelps then sent in a new crew as Brown did some regrouping of their own. Bruin Coach Joe Mullaney slowed down the pace to little much, his team salvaged a 46-27 deficit by halftime.

The second stanza was not nearly different from the first except that Mullaney solved ND's full court press, cutting down on turnovers and the amount of scoring. Branning, who was voted the game's MVP, continued to hit from the top of the key and was joined outside by Tracy Jackson as Notre Dame cruised to the 80-55 final tally. "I thought we played well," offered Phelps afterwards. "The defensive intensity at the beginning of the game was necessary to get the tempo of the game and avoid the slowdowns."

Phelps was especially pleased with the play of his guards as Branning's 16 point performance, 8-12 from the floor, marked the end of a slump for the Irish floor leader. "I thought Branning played well, showed intensity and shot well," said Phelps. "I think this really was good for his confidence."

"The way I've been playing lately, I wanted to get things together," confided Branning. "I've been letting down the team a lot in areas. But I'm happy we're number one at the halfway mark and I'm thinking of the rest of the games as a second season."

On the Irish number one ranking Phelps remarked, "I was surprised at the ranking because I voted for Indiana State. When North Carolina lost I thought we would stay at number two. But we don't have to prove anything. We've established ourselves as a national power and we just have one month to get ready for the NCAA's."

Woolridge and Jackson hit double digits for ND with 12 and 10 points respectively. Moss poured in 14 markers in the losing cause as Brown dropped to 5-7 on the season. Notre Dame will be without the services of Gilbert Salinar for the remainder of the season due to academic ineligibility.

The Irish's next contest is against Xavier Thursday night at the ACC. Tipoff is set for 8 p.m.
