endorsements

Jody Powell said Monday that "When an American president Carter's wife, Rosalynn, will Thursday afternoon for talks way meeting among the lead­ of the U.S. Congress in Wash­ have the consensus of the class representatives might not have the consensus of the bodies they represent. Those who dissented, argued (continued on page 3)

Controversy arose last night over the right of college organ­izations to endorse campaign tickets at a meeting of the Saint Mary's Board of Governance. No policy exists at present concerning the right of these groups to running for Student Government Treasurer, Vice-President of Student Affairs and Vice­President of Academic Affairs. Gail Darrah, Student Gov­ernment president, announced at the meeting that she will be presenting the policy at the Student Government Assembly meeting on Wednesday night to be voted upon. If established, the policy will stipulate that no represen­tative group on campus can officiallyendorse candidates in the student government election.

While several individuals raised opposing opinions, the majority of the Board that responded decided that in such a small institution as Saint Mary's there was no need for individual groups to make endorsement decisions that hall and class representatives might not have the consensus of the bodies they represent.

Those who dissented, argued (continued on page 3)

Washington (AP)-President Carter, in a drive to wrap up the Camp David peace talks, is flying to Egypt and Israel this week to try and clear away remaining roadblocks to a settlement.

Egyptian Prime Minister Menachem Begin told members of the U.S. Congress in Wash­ington, "Now there is a ray of hope." Noting that Israel has accepted U.S. proposals for wrapping up a treaty, he added: The Israeli government is prepared to make peace. The White House announce­ment marked another upturn in the effort. Then if this happens, we may have the ceremony of signing.

Begin told the Associated Press in a telephone interview, "When a new opportunity is put down, it is natural that it has to have a positive impact."

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell told Monday that Carter will arrive in Egypt on Thursday afternoon for talks with President Anwar Sadat and then go on to Israel on Saturday. He said both leaders have indicated that a new treaty is likely to be signed by the end of the week.

At this point, Powell said, there are no plans for a three­way meeting among the lead­ers. The spokesman said he did not know when Carter would return to the United States. Carter's wife, Rosalyn, will accompany him. Begin said he will fly home on Wednesday to prepare for the "memorable visit."

While expressing optimism, the Israeli prime minister noted that an appearance before mem­bers of the U.S. House of Representatives that a Middle East peace seemed at hand several times previously but was not achieved.

"The world was happy and then came the disappointment," Begin said. He stressed that Israel's concern has been that it must be able to defend itself against other Arab countries if the peace does not last.

The White House announce­ment marked another upturn in the effort. Then if this happens, we may have the ceremony of signing.

Begin told the Associated Press in a telephone interview, "When a new opportunity is put down, it is natural that it has to have a positive impact."

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell told Monday that Carter will arrive in Egypt on Thursday afternoon for talks with President Anwar Sadat and then go on to Israel on Saturday. He said both leaders have indicated that a new treaty is likely to be signed by the end of the week.

At this point, Powell said, there are no plans for a three­way meeting among the lead­ers. The spokesman said he did not know when Carter would return to the United States. Carter's wife, Rosalyn, will accompany him. Begin said he will fly home on Wednesday to prepare for the "memorable visit."

While expressing optimism, the Israeli prime minister noted that an appearance before mem­bers of the U.S. House of Representatives that a Middle East peace seemed at hand several times previously but was not achieved.

"The world was happy and then came the disappointment," Begin said. He stressed that Israel's concern has been that it must be able to defend itself against other Arab countries if the peace does not last.

The White House announce­ment marked another upturn in the effort. Then if this happens, we may have the ceremony of signing.

Begin told the Associated Press in a telephone interview, "When a new opportunity is put down, it is natural that it has to have a positive impact."

White House Press Secretary Jody Powell told Monday that Carter will arrive in Egypt on Thursday afternoon for talks with President Anwar Sadat and then go on to Israel on Saturday. He said both leaders have indicated that a new treaty is likely to be signed by the end of the week.

At this point, Powell said, there are no plans for a three­way meeting among the lead­ers. The spokesman said he did not know when Carter would return to the United States. Carter's wife, Rosalyn, will accompany him. Begin said he will fly home on Wednesday to prepare for the "memorable visit."

While expressing optimism, the Israeli prime minister noted that an appearance before mem­bers of the U.S. House of Representatives that a Middle East peace seemed at hand several times previously but was not achieved.

"The world was happy and then came the disappointment," Begin said. He stressed that Israel's concern has been that it must be able to defend itself against other Arab countries if the peace does not last.

The White House announce­ment marked another upturn in the effort. Then if this happens, we may have the ceremony of signing.
Killingsworth will deliver another lecture on "Employment Policy in the Next Decade," tomorrow (Friday) at 1:15 p.m. in the Hayes-Healy Auditorium. To make sure that the audience understands the instruments of employment policy and the integration of employment policy with inflation policy.

...Morley

Morley commented on her husband's passing saying, "The experience of death we can't cope with really. Yet in one of her poems she states, 'If there is an angel of death, and I believe there is, then I can wrestle with them. What more is there to do?'" Morley "derives," she says, many of her poems from books or paintings. Two poems inspired by the "Red Studio" and "The Piano Lesson" by Matisse emphasize the "pithy." She also wrote a poem after reading a biography of the painter Cassatt. "He is one of my heroes probably because..." Morley said.

There will be a mandatory meeting of Judicial Council members tonight at 7 p.m. in the "Red Room" 2-D of Lafayette. Interviews of candidates and each new Judicial Council member will take place at this meeting.

Judicial Council to hold meeting

Sue, Ruthie, Kim

O'Laughlin Auditorium tickets $2.50

Spring's awakening

A childhoood tragedy

By Frank Wedekind

March 2, 3,7,8,9,10 8:00 pm

O'Laughlin Auditorium tickets $2.50

Morley appeared to have given Morley a heightened awareness of audible music and the soundless harmonies of the world around her. "My husband was a composer - that's why I speak of the sounds inside him. 'The experience of death we can't cope with really. Yet in one of her poems she states, 'If there is an angel of death, and I believe there is, then I can wrestle with them. What more is there to do?'"

There will be a mandatory meeting of Judicial Council members tonight at 7 p.m. in the "Red Room" 2-D of Lafayette. Interviews of candidates and each new Judicial Council member will take place at this meeting.

Judicial Council to hold meeting

Sue, Ruthie, Kim

O'Laughlin Auditorium tickets $2.50

Spring's awakening

A childhood tragedy

By Frank Wedekind

March 2, 3,7,8,9,10 8:00 pm

O'Laughlin Auditorium tickets $2.50
The Observer Tuesday, March 6, 1979 - page 3

In class elections

Candidates reveal platforms

by Diane Wilson
New Editor

Undergraduates will have the opportunity to vote for class officers today in the first day of elections. Balloting will take place from 11:30 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 5 to 6 p.m. for on campus residents, and from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the Huddle for off-campus residents.

For classes where there are more than two tickets running, a runoff will be held Thursday to determine the winner from the top two.

The class of 1980 has two tickets running. The ticket of Mark Carney, Mike Mitchell, Beth Jones, and Tara Begley views the responsibilities of class officers as being "threefold: "The officers have a commitment to uphold all those policies that threaten the senior year... Secondly, the officers are responsible for seeing that class officers have a good time..." Finally, the officers must have a goal of contributing to realistic additions to the senior year."

They see the ideas the candidates plan to expand on tradition. They believe that the ticket can help improve the quality of campus life, and make new additions to the senior year.

The third ticket for the class of '80 includes Nick Schneeman, Mark Bialo, and Tom Croty. Their platform consists of proposals to "create a class newsletter... encourage off-campus living, and make sure we have a better campus." They also hope to "hold a candlelight night for the seniors" and "organize a trip to Washington, D.C..."

The ticket of Tom Behney, Kevin Lovingey, Jean Menonen and Mary Pat Ziolkowski is another ticket for the class of '81. Their plans include working to "prevent any kind of unnecessary turnover (for) officers..." and working closely with O.C. housing to help students moving off campus make the necessary adjustments..."

The ticket of Jim Riedman, Brian Murphy, Kelly and Janice McCormack round out the candidates for junior class officers. They believe that "specific promises would be too confining and unrealistic at this point..." and propose "a monthly open forum..." and a "monthly newsletter to keep everyone informed of upcoming events as well as an overseas newsletter for the advertisers." They also have plans for "a monthly newsletter to keep everyone informed of upcoming events as well as an overseas newsletter for the graduates." They would like to see the sophomore class president added to the Campus Life Council. They also propose the establishment of a class council that will assist the officers in planning activities for the class.

College loan default rates

Newsworthy today is the statistic that default rates have reached the national direct student loan program into a deficit of more than $700 million.

At more than 200 colleges, the default rate as of June 30 was 50 percent or more. The national rate was 17.4 percent, compared with a 10 percent default rate for the fully subsidized guaranteed student loan program, which is run through banks and other lenders.

The 20-year-old national direct student loan program is operated by colleges and universities using 90 percent federal funds.

Many of the colleges with the worst default rates are beauty schools, business schools or two-year colleges. Robert Carney, assistant secretary of education, said the default rate at proprietary institutions was 35 percent and at two-year colleges, 35 percent.

Education and Welfare Secretary Joseph A. Califano Jr. recently announced plans to step up pressure on colleges to improve operation of the loan program, and to take charge of collection of loans that have been in default the longest.

Califano is planning to issue new regulations, to be effective by the 1980-81 school year, that would cut off federal loan funds unless colleges meet performance standards to reduce their default rates.

While the guaranteed student loan rate was dropping from 14 percent to less than 10 percent in the past year, the national direct student loan rate climbed from 16.9 percent to 17.4 percent.

More than 800,000 of these loans are in default for $700 million, as well as $30,000 guaranteed student loans for $407 million.

Although it is the worst-run program from the federal viewpoint, the national direct student loan program is the best deal for students, with an interest rate of only 6 percent. The guaranteed student loan rate is 7 percent. These loans are not repaid until a year after the student graduates or leaves college.
Dear Editor:

To the Notre Dame Community

With deep humility, we gratefully give our thanks, and express our appreciation, for the opportunity to utilize the products the Notre Dame Community generously provides to us. Our humble request is that we be permitted to utilize these products in such a way that we might be able to make a contribution, however small, to our community.

Sincerely yours,

[Signature]

[Name]

The Observer
Dr. Lawrence Marsh, who is also a professor of economics, noted that the benefits of establishing this major, "Computers make one capable of extending his own thought processes. In addition, the capabilities of institutions across the country are shared with Notre Dame." Marsh explained. "These capabilities" are in the form of shared computer programming with institutions like MIT, Yale, Stanford, Rice and Dartmouth.

Besides the strengths of the computer facilities at Notre Dame, Marsh also noted that the new major will provide to the students. "Those who understand theory, apply the computer skills to his area of interest."

Marsh's opinion is supported by PATCH magazine (the Notre Dame Computing Center periodical) which states, "Providing students with exposure and one of the Computing Center facilities makes them more competitive than other college graduates entering the job market."

Professor Davisson also agreed that these skills will enhance job opportunities explaining that the job market for those with computer skills is better than for most engineers.

"This major will teach not only applications of their major but also computer skills that can be applied to his major. He notes that the need for alternative jobs. "He also added that the Computer Applications major can provide an opportunity for students to augment a fine liberal arts education."

A lot of companies will offer you an important sounding title. But how many offer you a really important job? In the Navy, you get one as soon as you earn your commission. A job with responsibility. A job that requires skill and leadership. A job that's more than just a job, because it's also an adventure. If that's the kind of job you're looking for, speak to your local recruiter. Contact: NAVAIR OFFICER, YOU GET RESPONSIBILITY THE MOMENT YOU GET THE STRIPES.
Amin plans drive against Tanzanian invaders

The Observer Tuesday, March 6, 1979 - page 6

The Ugandan broadcast, mentioned here, called on all citizens in the occupied areas to "evacuate immediately before a major offensive is launched to liberate Ugandan territory." There was no indication when the drive might start.

The Tanzanians, backed by Ugandan exiles and reportedly by dissident Ugandan soldiers, control much of southwestern Uganda and kept up pressure Monday on Lukuga, 52 miles from the capital of Kampala and 70 miles inside Uganda.

"We are fully prepared for any resistance," a military analysts in Nairobi, a Tanzanian official in Dar es Salaam said.

Tanzanian military sources denied yesterday a report in a London newspaper that Ugandan troops had left Tanzania.

"There is no truth at all in these reports," the source said.

U.S. military and economic pressure were paramount, a South African leader of four black African nations meeting in Angola and offered their support for Tanzania's attack on Uganda's "front-line" group of states that support black nationalist movements in South Africa.

The four countries—Angola, Zambia, Mozambique and Botswana—are joined with Tanzania in the "front-line" group of states that support black nationalist movements in South Africa.

"I deeply regret that leaders of four black African nations meeting in Angola and offered their support for Tanzania's attack on Uganda's "front-line" group of states that support black nationalist movements in South Africa.

...Mideast

[continued from page 7]

Powell's announcement said the talk "will focus on the peace process, regional security and bilateral issues."

Apart from the peace treaty, both Egypt and Israel are looking for large quantities of U.S. military and economic assistance from the United States. Powell's announcement said the president believes that we must not allow the prospects for peace which seemed so bright last September to continue to dim and perhaps to vanish.

"If we do, the judgement of history and of our children will rightly condemn us."

Molarity

[continued from page 8]

Aragon, as they won the event in 3:30.67.

For most of the Irish team, this marked the end of the indoor season, but two relay teams will be competing in the NCAA Indoor Championships at Detroit this weekend.

The two-mile relay team stands the best chance of coming home with a medal. The team of Tim Macaulay, Pete Burger, Chuck Aragon, and Jay Miranda has been nationally ranked for most of the year, and Coach Stein thinks that they should be able to get into the finals and do well there.

"The most important race will be the prelims, because if they don't do well, it is all over," Stein said. "But if they get all the breaks and run what seems to be the right strategy, they could win the race."

...Tracksters

[continued from page 7]

Aragon also qualified in the 880-yard run, but it was decided that he should concentrate on the two-mile relay.

...
The Observer - Sports Tuesday, March 6, 1979 -page 7

...Icers

In other WCHA playoff action, Grand Forks College will be at first-place North Dakota, Michigan Tech will be at Minnesota, and Denver will be at Duluth.

NCAA tickets go on sale

Tickets for the first round of the post season NCAA basketball tournaments will go on sale Tuesday, March 12 between Notre Dame and the winner of the Eastern Tennessee-Tennessee match-up. Each Notre Dame or Saint Mary's student will be limited to one ticket, the student must present only his or her own ID card. The first round of tournament games will be held at Middle Tennessee State, located in Murfreesboro, TN as the Irish will compete in the first round. Tickets for the game will be $8, this price includes both games to be played on the 11th. If Notre Dame should advance to the regionals, students should contact the ACC Ticket Office for information.

Lost

Lost: $100 or best offer over $70. After 5:00 P.M. for more information.

Lost: Ladles size 8 brown boots. Call 232-3438 or Sue in the Ad Bldg.

Lost: DeSoto 3000, actual miles. Never wrecked or damaged. $100 or best offer over $70. After 5:00 P.M. for more information.

Desperately need ride to Philadelphia for spring break. Call Rod 8384 or leave note in Men's Dorm.

Wish the them a happy day.

I wish you didn't have to leave, but I guess we'll do what we can do. Happy birthday.

Cory, that's a beautiful day. Now you can go out for coffee. Enjoy spring break.

Dave, you're the best of luck: my roommates, section 9-D.

Wishing you and your friends a great spring break.

The animal is getting sick. Please call the Animal Services Center, 601-3200, to report the animal.

The game will not go to overtime until the end of the third period, even tomorrow's will be played to completion.

...For Sale

1984 Austin Healey "Bug Eye" Sprite 21,000 actual miles. Never wrecked or eaten. Call Mike Busk, Mike Moud, my teachers and don't have nights about it.

Wish them a happy day. They hope to be able to fill that need again.

Bake Sale. Don't forget that game. You can buy a N.D. basketball ticket for a cost of $35.

For Sale:

FLORIDA!!

Need ride to West Virginia on Sunday, March 12. Call 232-3438 or SMC 4007.

Ride to one of the best parties of the year. Call Rob 3216.

Need ride to Buffalo (Fredonia) for spring break. Call SMC 4007!!

Need ride to Buffalo. Call Nick 3216 or leave note in Men's Dorm.

South Bend Sun. Need ride to South Bend. Call Nick 3216.

If I don't have your ticket in 5:00 p.m. All classified ads must be received by 5:00 p.m. two days prior to the issue in which the ad will appear. The Observer will accept classifieds Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or through the mail.

ATTENTION MAY GRADS

NCAA tickets go on sale

Tickets for the first round of the post season NCAA basketball tournaments will go on sale Tuesday, March 12 between Notre Dame and the winner of the Eastern Tennessee-Tennessee match-up. Each Notre Dame or Saint Mary's student will be limited to one ticket, the student must present only his or her own ID card. The first round of tournament games will be held at Middle Tennessee State, located in Murfreesboro, TN as the Irish will compete in the first round. Tickets for the game will be $8, this price includes both games to be played on the 11th. If Notre Dame should advance to the regionals, students should contact the ACC Ticket Office for information.

Lost: Ladles size 8 brown boots. Call 232-3438 or Sue in the Ad Bldg.

Lost: DeSoto 3000, actual miles. Never wrecked or damaged. $100 or best offer over $70. After 5:00 P.M. for more information.

Desperately need ride to Philadelphia for spring break. Call Rod 8384 or leave note in Men's Dorm.

Wishing you and your friends a great spring break.

The animal is getting sick. Please call the Animal Services Center, 601-3200, to report the animal.

The game will not go to overtime until the end of the third period, even tomorrow's will be played to completion.

...For Sale

1984 Austin Healey "Bug Eye" Sprite 21,000 actual miles. Never wrecked or eaten. Call Mike Busk, Mike Moud, my teachers and don't have nights about it.

Wish them a happy day. They hope to be able to fill that need again.

Bake Sale. Don't forget that game. You can buy a N.D. basketball ticket for a cost of $35.

For Sale:

FLORIDA!!

Need ride to West Virginia on Sunday, March 12. Call 232-3438 or SMC 4007.

Ride to one of the best parties of the year. Call Rob 3216.

Need ride to Buffalo (Fredonia) for spring break. Call SMC 4007!!

Need ride to Buffalo. Call Nick 3216 or leave note in Men's Dorm.

South Bend Sun. Need ride to South Bend. Call Nick 3216.

If I don't have your ticket in 5:00 p.m. All classified ads must be received by 5:00 p.m. two days prior to the issue in which the ad will appear. The Observer will accept classifieds Monday through Friday, 10:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or through the mail.
Women cagers end season with no excuse’ tourney loss
by Mark Hannneskiele
Sports Writer

Many times, after losing a big game, a coach or a player will look for an excuse for the loss. "The refs were bad," or "So-and-so had a bad knee or ankle," or the like.

But nobody could find an excuse for the Notre Dame women's basketball team's recent loss to Franklin University, the difference in the game being clearly displayed in the first round of the state tournament on Thursday.

Thereason for the loss, as well as why the problems occurred, too. The Notre Dame girls just couldn't hold a hoop.

Typically of the Irish luck, or lack of such, was a point late in the game when the girls were attempting to make a 3 point second-half deficit, ND 42-39, a lay-up to eight when Carl Cummings stole the ensuing in-bound pass, and had an uncontroverted lay-up. She put the ball up softly, and it rolled around the hoop, out.

Numerous Franklin turnovers resulted in nothing, opposite for the Irish, many of which ended up just like Carole. The defense forced the bad luck, the girls still managed to cut the lead to six, 64-58, on a lay-up by Maggie Lilly with 2:56 left in the game.

The Irish could get no closer. After a Franklin timeout, the Grayhounds went to their bench in favor of their leading scorer, Colleen Seaton, who benefitted from the bad luck, the girls still managed to cut the lead to six, 64-58, on a lay-up by Maggie Lilly with 2:56 left in the game. The Irish could get no closer. After a Franklin timeout, the Grayhounds went to their bench in favor of their leading scorer, Colleen Seaton, who benefitted from the bad luck, the girls still managed to cut the lead to six, 64-58, on a lay-up by Maggie Lilly with 2:56 left in the game.

The Irish could get no closer. After a Franklin timeout, the Grayhounds went to their bench in favor of their leading scorer, Colleen Seaton, who benefitted from the bad luck, the girls still managed to cut the lead to six, 64-58, on a lay-up by Maggie Lilly with 2:56 left in the game.

The Irish could get no closer. After a Franklin timeout, the Grayhounds went to their bench in favor of their leading scorer, Colleen Seaton, who benefitted from the bad luck, the girls still managed to cut the lead to six, 64-58, on a lay-up by Maggie Lilly with 2:56 left in the game.

For the game, the Irish could hit on only 24 of 75 field goal attempts, 32 percent, compared to 41 of 78, 53 percent, for Franklin. The Irish hit 42 percent of their free throw attempts, 63 percent of their field goals, and 70 percent of their free throws.

Graduate student Arnie Gough had a very successful foul-shooting night, 7-9, as did juniors Jane Politizzi, Molly Cashman, and Cummings. Maggie Lilly's 6 points, Marys Couvoy's 4, and Patty O'Brien's 2 closed out the scoring. Franklin teammates Marys Couvoy and Politizzi each had 4.

For the game, the Irish could hit on only 24 of 75 field goal attempts, 32 percent, compared to 41 of 78, 53 percent, for Franklin. The Irish hit 42 percent of their free throw attempts, 63 percent of their field goals, and 70 percent of their free throws.

Graduate student Arnie Gough had a very successful foul-shooting night, 7-9, as did juniors Jane Politizzi, Molly Cashman, and Cummings. Maggie Lilly's 6 points, Marys Couvoy's 4, and Patty O'Brien's 2 closed out the scoring. Franklin teammates Marys Couvoy and Politizzi each had 4.

Ray Meyer was so jubilant Friday night after his DePaul cagers stopped the Catholic Dame's second-ranked Irish, that he seemed to have a little difficulty letting all of his thoughts known. But he did make a point of the progress his quintet made from November to March. Said the 37-year-old coach, who is not often given to hyperbole, "I would have told you at the beginning of the season that we would be 22-4 now and have told me in the booie bath."

What Meyer was told instead, was that he had went out with his ball club, of course—to partake in the NCAA West Regional.

All well and good for a team that was virtually written off after a 1-8 start to the year, but what was that except that DePaul's season will more than likely end in the same locale, and against the same opponent, that the Demons opened the season.

UCLA, which soundly whipped the Catholic Dame 108-85, was back on November 21st at Poolay Pavilion to be headed to the West Regional championship and a spot on the nation's Final Four.

Which doesn't necessarily count the Demons out of the picture, but makes it difficult for themselves and other West Regional participants such as Marquette, San Francisco and Southern Cal.

DePaul carries 22-5 record into second-round action against the winner of the Southern Cal-Utah State game. Although having troubles in last year's NCAA finals, the Demons recent wins include a 61-60 controversial thriller over UCLA and the 76-75 win over the Irish.

Notre Dame Coach Digger Phelps was convinced by what he saw from DePaul, prompting him to name the Demons as the "Cinderella team of this tournament."

The Irish, especially on defense, of DePaul guards Gary Garland and Clay Bradshaw, coupled with the steady play of freshman forward Marge McKenney to take the mile relay. Also running for the Irish were Jay Miranda, Jacques Eady, and Chuck Smith.