Iranian students pour into US Lebanon Embassy

BEIRUT (AP) - Iranian students chanting "Death to the Americans!" scaled a fence and poured into the U.S. Embassy garden in Beirut, Lebanon, yesterday in support of the four American hostages held in Tehran. Iran's new foreign affairs chief declared there would be "no compromise, no negotiation" to free the Tehran hostages.

It was believed that behind the scenes talks continued on the Iranian capital, however, with the Palestine Liberation Organization and Moscow diplomats as mediators. One American said hostages might be freed by today, though an Iranian official said he saw no "sense" that this would happen.

The American fervor in Tehran was unabated. Some 200 uniformed air force men and marines joined the thousands of Iranian protesters who had gathered to the U.S. Embassy daily each day since a mob of student militants seized it and threatened about 100 American and other hostages Nov. 4. The airmen demanded that all ties with the United States be cut and all foreign capital be expropriated.

About 40 Iranians invaded the Beirut embassy garden, burned an American flag and chanted slogans for about two hours until Syrian peacekeepers, troops, swing clubs, routed the students.

When the unarmed students jumped over the embassy fence, they took no action, apparently waiting for the Syrians, the other major armed force in faction-removed Lebanon.

In Tehran, Ahbashan Al-Saidi, recently put in charge of Iran's Foreign Ministry by Ayatollah Khomeini, told French radio interviewers "no compromise, no negotiation, is possible." over Iran's demand that the United States extradite the suspected Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi to Iran to stand trial for his life. Al-Saidi said he would not be satisfied if the deposed monarch, how ever, was allowed to live in New York.

Tensions stir on West Bank as Israeli's arrest Arab Jerusalem (AP) - The Israeli army yesterday jailed without charge two members of the Islamic Movement in the West Bank, Hassan Nasir, and influential Palestinian leader opposed to Is-limited autonomy plans in the West Bank. The arrest of Mayor Bassam Shakaa, pending legal procedures to deport him, touched off angry protests in the West Bank.

In another development: likely to heighten tension in the occupied territories, the Israeli Cabinet adopted a general policy decision calling for more intensive search operations in the West Bank, Gaza Strip and the Syrian Golan Heights.

Campus Crusade reaches out

By Tricia BeauJean

"As the head of a large, international movement I am involved with thousands of others in a conspiracy to overthrow the world. Each year we reach tens of thousands of high school and college students from more than half of the major countries of the world in an act of revolution, and daily these revolutionaries are at work around the globe spreading our philosophy and strengthening our influence."

These words appeared in the weekly periodical Christianity Today and were spoken not by a Commnunty party chairman but by William R. Bright, founder of the Campus Crusade for Christ. The revolution he speaks of is a spiritual one, and Bright and his workers have been out to evangelize the world since 1951. The Crusade's full time staff, now numbers over 7,000 according to the Notre Dame-Saint Mary's Chapter Director Craig Valentine.

In a "College Life" Meeting Friday night, Valentine attempted to communicate the claims of Jesus Christ in a way that is relevant to college students," he said.

The organization is interdenominational and non-profit, designed to "help students grow in their relationship with Christ," Valentine said.

In addition to meetings where students come to share and enjoy singing, reflective thinking and conversation, the organization has weekly Bible studies and leadership training classes. "We reach out toward the leadership on campus," said Valentine, "to help us extend a greater influence in reaching others.

Students expect Kennedy in '80

by Kelli Flit

Staff Reporter

Although a majority of Notre Dame students claim to be familiar with the major campaign issues, most admit that they are not aware of the individual candidates' views on these subjects. Sixty-three percent of the students project that Edward Kennedy will be chosen at random, equally dis-ate enrollment. They were chosen at random, equally distributed across the colleges, with attention given to sex and race. Students were first asked whether or not they were familiar with the major issues of the election. Sixty-five percent answered yes while 28 percent said no, and 6 percent claimed some familiarity with the issues, but added that their knowledge was limited in the area.

They were then asked to name the three most important issues in the race. The state of the economy was named by 70 percent of the students as the prevailing issue, while the energy crisis was cited by 43 percent as a major issue, and foreign policy by 25 percent.

Nuclear power was named by 13 percent as an issue of concern, and 8 percent felt the health insurance policy and the quality of leadership were important issues.

When asked whether they were aware of the candidates' positions on the issues, 51 percent answered yes, while 49 percent said that they were not aware of the candidates' positions. Another 8 percent felt that they had some knowledge of the candidates' policies, and 8 percent gave no response.

Students were then asked which candidate's position they supported on the major issues.

Six derailed freight cars erupt in explosion

CANTONMENT, Fla. (AP) - Six propane-laden railroad cars derailed and burst into flames in the Florida Panhandle early yesterday, civil defense officials said. The derailed freight was a time bomb that could risk for days. Florida highway patrol troopers said there were no injuries and called the situation "stable." But Buck Rentfro of the Escambia County civil defense warned of the potential for an explosion.

"It could happen in several hours, it could happen tomorrow," said Rentfro. "In Waverly, Texas, they had one happen even after all the fires went out. They were cleaning up the area when one of the cars vented and killed eight or nine people. That's what we're trying to prevent."

Controversial movie stars

Redgrave as Jewish heroine

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) - Filming has started at a ramshackle section of a Pennsylvania military camp for a controversial television movie starring Vanessa Redgrave as a Jewish heroine. Miss Redgrave, who has supported the Palestine Liberation Organization, is cast as Fania Fenelon, who conducted a one-woman execution at a Nazi death camp by burning a prison orchestra. Jewish groups and individuals in the United States and elsewhere, including Miss Fenelon, have bitterly opposed the selection of Miss Redgrave for the film, "Playing for Time." But CBS refused to change its decision because of Miss Redgrave's political views.

Tankers spread fumes; residents evacuate homes

MISSISSAUGA, Ontario (AP) - Authorities began evacuating a section of Lake Ontario early yesterday as sickening fumes poured from burning tanker cars of a derailed train. One car was leaking deadly chlorine gas, officials said. Some 10,000 residents had been moved by mid-afternoon to high schools and shopping centers in the area. No injuries were reported. Flames flared from seven tank cars and threatened another that had ruptured and was leaking some chlorine gas, Ontario Attorney-General Roy McMurtry said.

Kole to perform magic show featuring psychic phenomena

INTERNATIONALLY known illusionist Andre Kole will perform his two-hour "World of Illusion" Tuesday in Washington Hall at 8:00 p.m. The performance will include Houdini-like escapes and transcendental levitation. Kole will also discuss his first-hand investigation of the possibility of communication with the dead, the occult, the Bermuda Triangle mystery and other psychic phenomena from India and Egypt.

Kole has achieved international fame through live performances to more than 76 million people in 73 countries throughout the world. He has reached millions more through televised performances in over 40 countries.

"As an illusionist I do not want my time trying to accomplish that which is possible, but rather I concentrate on that which is impossible," Kole says.

Kole is a recognized expert in the area of psychic research. At the request of Time magazine several years ago, he made a study of the "psychic surgeon" in the Philippines who claimed to perform miraculous operations without the use of medical instruments or anesthetics. Subsequent to his on-scene investigation, Kole testified in court on behalf of the U.S. Federal Trade Commission in its attempt to stop the promotion of fraudulent psychic healers in this country.

Several years ago, Kole was challenged to examine the miracles of Jesus Christ from the standpoint of an illusionist and a skeptic to determine if the miracles of Christ could have been the work of a master magician. Kole says he made some discoveries that changed the course of his life, and he will share some of his findings during his performance.

Kole often appears as a special traveling representative for Campus Crusade for Christ International, and interdenominational Christian organization founded in 1951.

CWP buries five slain in parade

GREENSBORO, NC (AP)- About 350 demonstrators with an honor guard carrying un­ loaded rifles wheeled the cof­ fins of five slain communist activists to their graves in a steady rain yesterday.

Nearly 500 combat-equipped National Guardsmen, 250 state police and 175 local police lined the 1.2-mile parade route.

The parade in honor of the five persons killed last weekend in a “Death to the Klan” rally was delayed for about two hours as Communist Workers Party, sponsor of the march, argued over whether members of an honor guard could carry weapons.

City officials agreed to allow an honor guard, seven men and three women, to carry unloaded rifles, a stipulation they said they had made earlier.

With a “state of emergency” in effect, police obtained a warrant to search any vehicle or individual in the Greensboro area.

Some arrests were made just before the march began. Officers delivered a group of communists from the courthouse but declined to say how many were arrested or where the arrests were made. A police spokesman said, however, that the prisoners included sympathizers for the marchers and for the Ku Klux Klan.

Police had expected any­ where from 2,000 to 5,000 people to line the parade route. The Communist Workers Party had urged sympathizers from around the country to come to Greensboro.

“Avenge the murder of the CWP 5,” read a poster circulated by the party. It picturos a man in overalls clubbing a Nazi with a rifle butt.

Greensboro, a textile and tobacco town of 160,000 people that was the site of the first lunchcounter sit-ins in the South, saw its pre­ vious known only through classroom experience.

As another cadet observed philosophically, “going out on FTX makes you think how nice it would be if you never have to do this for real.”

NEW YORK (AP)-Exiled Iranian politician Shahpour Bakhtiar, ousted when revolutionaries overthrew Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini seized power, predicts Americans held hostage in Tehran will be released "without blood, with- out fight.

The former prime minister was interviewed recently by ABC-TV, which aired the results Sunday on its "Issues and Answers" program.

Bakhtiar said his feelings about the hostages were "based on his belief that the seizure of the American embassy and the hostages was 'against the international tradi- tion of the Iranian people.'"

"There is no government in Iran," he said. "The people are enraged, politicians are doing that. I am very sorry that Khomeini and other authorities here in Iran accept this procedure."

He also said a 'military force landing in Iran is not the best way to settle down this dispute.'

Bakhtiar predicted the rule of Khomeini would soon end be- cause there is unrest in Iran and because the Iranian people are "very bad terms with everybody."

"I think Khomeini is going down and down. He has lost a lot of people in Iran and the atmos- phere of terror in Iran and some sort of question of order is said."

"I am not waiting for the fall of Mr. Khomeini," Bakhtiar added. "I have made my mind up that I am going to fight ... I am fighting for liberty, independence and democracy."

WASHINGTON (AP) - Sen. George McGovern called yester- day for a moratorium on political debate over the seizure of American hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Iran, saying the United States should speak with one voice-and that must be a calm one.

The South Dakota Democrat, interviewed on CBN's "Face the Nation," heartily endorsed a questioner's suggestion that candidates avoid the Iranian hostage question until the hostages are present.

The fewest recommendations we have now attest what course should be followed, particularly retaliation, the better off we'll all be," McGovern said.

"I would say to follow the administration's lead on this, because it's such a delicate situation that we have to speak with one voice. The administra- tion under the circum- stances is doing the best it can, (and the less criticism, the less suggestions of alternative courses that come from others, the better."

McGovern also urged private citizens, labor unions, students and other to stay calm and not allow demonstrations to upset the American peo- ple.

"I can certainly understand the anger," he said. "I don't think anyone feels more of a sense of outrage than I do."

"But what good does it do for us to take some precipitous, violent action that would give us the satisfaction of saying, 'well, we showed our muscle,' if we ended up with the deaths of 61 innocent Americans?"

WASHINGTON (AP) - California Gov. Edmund Brown Jr. urged Americans yesterday to keep their political debate over the strength and unity of Ameri- can people behind out Ameri- can citizens in Iran.

Brown, a candidate for the Democratic nomination, also said the United States "should be prepared to live without Iran until we predict it will be 've- ditive' by holding all U.S. diplo- matic relations with Iran after the hostages are released.

Answering question on NBC television program "Meet the Press," Brown said that the country has "the opportunity to wake up and nation, to recreate in our- selves a spirit of Rolland Play.

Brown refused to criticize President Carter's handling of the Iranian situation or suggest any alternatives except his call, which he repeated three times in the interview, for a national day of prayer and walking.

"I'm going to offer to the president any suggestion long as American citizens and the people of Iran not aggravate the situation. Any- thing they do that gives us a sense of outrage than I do."

"But what good does it do for us to take some precipitous, violent action that would give us the satisfaction of saying, 'well, we showed our muscle,' if we ended up with the deaths of 61 innocent Americans?"

Mine workers to vote for new president

CHARLESTON, W. VA. (AP)—To hear former United Mine Workers Vice President Mike Trbovich tell it, five years haven't changed things much in the UMW.

Trbovich, who held the No. 2 spot during union President Arnold Miller's first term, was openly feuding with Miller some 25 years after their 1972 election. Miller charged Trbovich with planning to oppose him in the 1977 election. Last week the 56-year-old union chief accused his current vice president, Sam Church, of plotting to oust him from office with the help of the union's governing body, the International Executive Board.

"It's the identical problem," Trbovich said Friday in a telephone interview from Clarksville, PA., where he lives in retirement. "Sam Church is in the same position that I was in. I was doing a lot of work, a lot of travel, for the membership. But if someone within the union does something for the membership (Miller) gets mad about it and wants to hear former President Miller get the credit.

The relationship between Miller and Trbovich began deteriorating shortly after their 1972 election. Trbovich had expected to lead the Miners for Democracy reform ticket, but was eased aside for Kennedy, who at the time headed a vocal movement for improved black lung benefits. Their feud did not become public, however, until some two years later.

Miller stripped Trbovich of all his duties and ordered him to sign a sworn statement that he would not seek the union presidency in 1977. "He said that if I would agree not to run, and if I would support the administration on all policy decisions at board meetings, that I would be permitted to run the safety division without interference. I refused to sign this and was dismissed from my final official function."

Despite his refusal to sign the statement, Trbovich never challenged Miller for the presidency. In the 1977 campaign, Miller was opposed by Leo Patterson, Kentucky state miner, and Larry Richard, Miller's secretary-treasurer during the 1972-77 term. "I decided if the man didn't trust me, I'd help him," Trbovich said.

Miller and Church apparently never chagrilled Miller for the presidencies. In the 1977 campaign, Miller was opposed by Leo Patterson, Kentucky state miner, and Larry Richard, Miller's secretary-treasurer during the 1972-77 term. "I decided if the man didn't trust me, I'd help him," Trbovich said.

The remainder of those polled apparently had no argument as to their position on major issues. Seventy-nine percent of those surveyed who said they were informed in this area supported candidates other than Kennedy. Finally, students were asked who they felt would win the Presidential election. Kennedy was favored by 63 percent, while Carter followed with 16 percent, Baker with 15 percent and Reagan with 1 percent. The most ardent supporters of incumbent Carter were found among the science majors polled, twenty-five percent of these favored the president. The remainder of those polled stated that they didn't want any of the current candidates to win the election. They felt that it was too early to judge the candidates, and said that they hoped for a dark horse to emerge later in the race.
Emergency Relief
Campaign for Cambodia

Dear Editor:

On November 9, an ad-hoc committee, the Students Concerned for Cambodia, was formed in view of the situation that:

1. Cambodia is a disaster of immense magnitude and urgency, 2.25 million face starvation within months.
2. Cambodia is a unique instance of human suffering, unprecedented starvation due to recent political strife.
3. This disaster can be averted if massive humanitarian aid is forthcoming.

The Students Concerned for Cambodia, empowering with University president Fr. Theodore Hesburgh, believe that immediate action on behalf of Cambodia is a moral obligation of this generation. Specifically, we believe, as does Fr. Hesburgh, that a direct relief effort on the part of the Notre Dame student body has tremendous potential to aid Cambodia.

The Students Concerned for Cambodia, in cooperation with Notre Dame Student Government, is launching an emergency relief campaign to begin now and last until Thanksgiving with all collected money going to Catholic Relief Services.

The CRS has proven itself very effective in dealing with this emergency. Among the fund-raising events planned:
1) direct collections outside dining halls on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday.
2) a Clemson game concession booth.
3) a school-wide fast at Monday dinner, November 19.

There will be an organizational meeting Tuesday, November 13, at 7:00 PM in the Nazz for all those willing to work on the campaign with Students Concerned for Cambodia.

We urge the student body to respond appropriately to all of our efforts in the next few days to respond appropriately to the 2.25 million Cambodians who are about to respond appropriately to an obligation for humanity.

Prisoner Requests Mail

Dear Editor:

My name is Freddy Hessand, I'm white and 32 years old. At the present time I am in the Southern Ohio Correctional Facility in Lucasville, Ohio. I am doing a life sentence here, and will spend many years in this prison until I am eligible for release. It gets very lonely here, especially since I don't get much mail.

I am wondering if you would please print this letter in your newspaper? I would love to hear from anyone who would care to write. And I would also enjoy getting pictures of those who write if they have any pictures that they would care to send.

Thank you for your time and I hope you do this favor for me. Hope I'll be hearing from some new friends soon.

New Security Services for Women

Dear Editor:

We would like to inform the ND-SMC community of the existence of SWAC (Social Work Action Committee). Our purpose is to work with the security departments on both campuses to insure the safety of all students. We are focusing on three areas of concern: (1) off-campus emergency transportation, (2) improved security in the ND-SMC road, and (3) awareness of the existing security services.

We would also like to inform all Notre Dame, women of a service which is in existence at Saint Mary's and now is available at Notre Dame. If you are parking your car in any student parking lot on campus and are alone or feel your security is threatened, adhere to the following instructions:

(1) Do not go into either garagehouse and inform them of the parking lot to which you will be going. (2) Proceed to the parking lot and keep your doors locked and headlights on. (3) Please wait in your car and a security guard will escort you to your dorm. We strongly encourage you to take advantage of this service for your protection.

We would appreciate any comments about the effectiveness of this service. If you have any suggestions please contact: Donna Shannon, SMC-4686, P.O. Box 1090LE.

Logan Center Children Need Tickets

Dear Editor:

It is that time of year again when we hopefully will take 300 kids from Logan Center and Big Brothers/Big Sisters to the Clemson football game. We need the help of the ND-SMC community, and ask that you donate your student football ticket so that these kids may get the chance to watch and experience a Notre Dame football game. We will be collecting the tickets at dinner in the North and South dining halls and at the Saint Mary's dining hall starting Tuesday, November 13.

The game itself means a lot to all the kids, with the chance to cheer for the Irish and meet the players afterward being a thrill they talk about for weeks. The trip to the football game is one of our most popular events among groups. (1) Drop by the football game is one of the most popular events among groups. Chimes are sweet when the metal is sound forties, Chimes published essays and even some short stories dealing with national affairs, bringing to the students a new awareness of life outside of Saint Mary's College. By the fifties, Chimes was examining the controversial topics of the times, taking on a worldly tone much in contrast to its earlier stance. The Chimes of the sixties mirrored the revolutionary mood of the decade with its efforts to maintain the sexual symbolism of such authors as e. e. cummings and Dylan Thomas.

Today, Chimes is a selective artistic periodical, publishing poetry, short stories, art work, and photographs. The staff of Chimes consists of interested students, editor Max Westler, and Dr. Max Wessler, advisor of Chimes for the past five years.

In the past few years, Chimes has favored a balance of art and creative writing. From time to time, faculty translations of foreign works have been published.

Contributions are now being accepted from both Saint Mary and Notre Dame students. Upon receiving the submissions, the staff reviews each piece for quality and originality. The chosen material is sent to the printer in the spring and is released in late April. Copies of Chimes will be available to all students free of charge.

The deadline date for contributions is March 20. They should be sent to Max Westler, Rm. 310 Madaleva Hall, SMC.

We stopped along the road at a cool stream and drank the icy water. The stream bed was covered with smooth, rounded rocks and we shrieked with joy at the sight of wildflowers. A long way since its conservative magazine Chimes, summed up the publication's editorial policy. Wessler pointed out that Chimes has come a long way since its conservative beginnings.

In September of 1892 when the first issue of Chimes was published, its policy was stated in this way: "The design of these pages is to promote the advancement of all that is good and noble in the heart of every pupil of Saint Mary's; to elevate their standard of literary taste and to serve as an incentive to earnest and persevering labors in all that pertain to a thorough Christian education."

At this time, Chimes was a monthly publication which included short stories, poems, essays and editorials. Also included were academic acknowledgments of monthly certificates presented to the students of Saint Mary's for 'patriotism, neatness, order, amiability, correct deportment and observance of rules.'

The style of the magazine was strictly literary; even the news items were translated into the literary language popular at this time.

The publication was printed under the direction of the Sisters of the Holy Cross, the biggest concern was that the outlook of Chimes would never be lost.

The facing page of the 1892 edition of the literary journal contained the first issue of the literary journal amongst us. In that two room hut, I had not been able to get a "polite" relationship with the other students. The editor pointed out that Chimes is a "weekly" literary magazine which carried short stories, poems and essays.

The style and form of Chimes are such that the outlook of Chimes is not lost. The editor pointed out that Chimes is the first edition of the literary journal and that the outlook of Chimes is not lost.

Remnants of Peoples Temple campsite continue to haunt South African nation

JONESTOWN, Guyana (AP) - A year of searing weather and creeping vegetation has scour­ged away the signs of grisly horror, but the Peoples Temple dead as well as those who survived the mass suicide-mass murder have not been able to escape the site.

The main compound buildings now house some of the farm workers and the Army. One of the larger ones now bears the sign: "Jonestown Police Sta­tion." It is home to police Col. Abdel Ihsan, who heads the security detachment.

The police officers and soldiers who guard Jonestown and the farm workers, who maintain it, did so through the midday heat. "We’re just supposed to keep the grass down in the center," one said.

But grass grows through the rotting wooden walkway connecting parts of the compound, sections have collapsed into drainage trenches underneath. Local officials complain it is hard to muster enough indivi­duals from the superintend­ent’s house to move the debris.

"People around here still call it Ghost Town," said Richard Cruickshank, a local super­intendent.

Cruickshank said he had only 46 workers to maintain the Jonestown compound, harvests of plantains and cassava, pigs and chickens left by nearly 1,000 settlers.

The main pavilion is restored to how it may have looked before the cultists sleeping on bunkbeds in the center, said one.

Lawsuits have also been filed against the compound.

The small calls people were long ago stripped of valuables.

Ihsan said that 20 persons were caught breaking into the storehouses where salvaged items were locked up.

He declined to speculate on whe­ther the trespassers had been lured by tales of money, gold or jewels hidden at Jonestown.

Demonstrations lead to vicious pranks; youth dies harassing Iranian student

DENVER, (AP)-An Iranian chemistry student was held for questioning yesterday after a wounded after allegedly harassing the man, police said.

The shooting outside Afschin Shariati's southwest Denver apartment came after two days of demonstrations around Colorado related to Iranian students and the hostage situation in Iran, but police would not speculate whether the shooting was connected with those protests.

The dead youth, identified as Paul Norritky, died at the scene, officers said. His two companions were wounded after allegedly harassing the man, police said.

A neighbor, Kelly Ryan, 21, said she had been choked by the man. "He looked like he was going to try and strangle me," she said.

A young man, later identified as Lopez, stood bleeding on his door early yesterday. As the youths ran for their car, the detective said, Shariati came out of his apartment and fired in the direction of the fleeing juveniles with a rifle.

Gerhart described Shariati as "very polite. I've never had any trouble with him at all and he's lived here better than a year." Gerhart was not aware the shooting had taken place until told by reporters outside the three-story tan brick complex.

KNOXVILLE - For Notre Dame, Saturday's contest against Tennessee was to be another step towards a possible post-season bowl bid. But for the Volunteers, playing before a record crowd of 86,489 in Neyland Stadium, the game meant much more. For coach Johnny Majors, the players, and the Tennessee fans, it was the most important game in the 40-year history.

Riding that emotional wave, the Vol took advantage of a series of Notre Dame mistakes to pull to a 10-6 victory.

"Give Tennessee credit for playing a good game," praised Irish fullback Bob Crable. "They were up and we were flat; for some reason.

"People don't realize how big a part emotion plays in football. Southern Cal could come in here and get beat if they were down. You've got to have the discipline to be ready every week. Not many teams do.

But emotion is not all that wins football games, as Notre Dame coach Dan Devine noted. "Tennessee won because they executed the fundamentals better than we did. When a team does that, it should be complimented.

"We don't have any excuses when we lose a game like that. We played better football than we did today. It's tough for all of us to face up to that."

It appeared that the Irish had the game in the bag. In the first half, Notre Dame outscored the Vols 13-3, had 327 yards of offense, and only 132 by Tennessee.

"We just had to stop them," said Bolston. "They were chewing up the ball and we were playing catch up. We fueled the fires.

"It was a big defensive series for us," said Phelps. "We definitely accomplished what we had intended to," said Phelps. "We were playing in front of a crowd, and we also used the international rules that we'll have to use on Thursday. We tried to simulate things that the Russians would do with their defenses, and execute our offense to beat their defenses.

"Junior center Orlando Woolridge also had nine rebounds. A starter on the Green squad, Woolridge also had nine dunks. A starter on the Green squad, Woolridge also had nine
