Militants in Iran deny plans to release hostages

(AP) - Islamic student militants declaring they take orders only from the Ayatollah Khomeini rejected a suggestion by Iranian officials yesterday that they free their women and black hostages at the U.S. Embassy in Tehran.

It was the latest sign of a major split between Iranian authorities and hundreds of students who have been holding about 60 American and more than 30 non-American hostages since seizing the embassy Nov. 4.

As the students reaffirmed their demand for expelled Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi, U.S. and other diplomats had fled the United Nations over the Iran crisis.

President Carter, who has banned Iranian oil imports and frozen Iranian government assets in the United States, said in a speech yesterday to an A.F.L.-C.I.O. convention in Washing­ton that he was holding Iranian hostages "fully responsible" for the safety of the hostages.

They will be held account­able, he declared, if they are interrupted repeatedly by loud shots and gunfire.

But despite diplomatic efforts and mounting U.S. economic pressure, the hostage situation in Tehran reached by telephone from Bonn, West Germany, said foreign diplomats believe it looks like a long siege.

U.S. officials say the Shah, hospitalized in New York for cancer treatment, will not be ready again to travel to Washington until he feels better. They also have been invited to Egypt.

But one Iranian official, Amb­assador to Britain Ali Afooz, said this would not change the U.S.-Iranian conflict.

"Egypt or Mexico-they're U.S. puppets. It doesn't matter where he goes," he told a London news conference.

Adding to the uncertainty was a report by Tehran radio, monitored in Washington, that Khomeini has canceled all ap­pointments today.

[continued on page 17]

Bulmer discusses Iranian situation

by Jim Soisson

We shouldn't condemn a nation for the actions of a few people," said Colonel Gail T. Bulmer, measuring up the situation in Iran.

Bulmer, professor of Astra­nicm ent among the Iranians now either. "I can't believe that the Iranians I knew would do anything to hurt myself or my family. I think they're very aware of other's rights and have a genuine respect for other people," he added. He said there was very little crime in Tehran, a city of 17 million people.

"They felt safer walking than in most big cities in this country," he compared.

Then why the present situa­tion? Bulmer sees a self-determi­nation in the Moslem people. "It is the same in other Moslem countries as well," he said. "It's just that the focus is on Iran.

"Iranians associate the Shah with the United States," he further explained. The colonel said that when they trounced against the Shah, there was a tendency to also turn against the country backing the Shah.

"The students are sincere in their belief that the Shah was the cause of problems in the country," he said. "They think they are doing what's best for their country. He didn't have their best interest at heart or their future, they were saying, etc.," he said.

"We can't counterattack force with force though," Bulmer said when asked about his solution to the situation of the hostages. "He said he couldn't see how Piltdown Carter could do anything other than he's doing now. "The present policy is about as good as you can get," the colonel said. "As long as he's here, he's doing the best he possibly can do, and we're still studying the University. "It's behind campus to "people's emo­tions talking," he said that the flag burning by the Iranians has done alot to bring out similar feelings throughout the country as well as to "pull the country together.

Bulmer didn't want any rash show of emotion or force. "I want to see a situation worked out so that we can live as civilized people," he said.

The colonel is reaching an American Defense Forces course this semester. He earned his bachelor's degree from Rutgers and his masters degree from Ball State.

Students withdraw over marijuana

One student involved charged that the punish­ments reflect upon the University. "It's behind the times, it's unhealthy and it has a terrible effect upon the guys who left and their families," he said.

The student, who wished to remain anon­ymous, said. "The students my friends received is the most inhumane treatment they could have possibly have received.

"Roemer, however, said, "the University has consistently dismissed anyone found guilty of selling marijuana or narcotics of any kind." He also stated that the selling of marijuana is a much more serious offense than possession. A person selling marijuana is passing a substance which could contain other narcotics, Roemer said.

"It is difficult to know exactly what is being passed on and evidence supports the belief that in this community pot has been laced with other chemicals such as Angel Dust," Roemer said. This is one reason why the administration is not telling the students to know of the seriousness with which it regards these recent cases, Roemer emphasized.

"Like other campuses, we have become too tolerant and as a result people may suffer serious effects in the future," he said.

The student listens to the administration's view of tolerance. "At any other university in the country, this matter would not even arise. No other university would do this kind of damage to its students," he said.

Roemer stated that there are still some leads in this case to be pursued, and reiterated the seriousness of drug offenses.
DETROIT (AP) - Ford Motor Co., while predicting a loss of more than $1 billion on North American car and truck operations, said yesterday that it would show an overall profit for the year anyway—with help from a rigid cost-cutting plan.

Despite the gloomy pronouncements on the U.S. and Canadian markets, Ford executives said profits from overseas and elsewhere could give the No. 2 automaker its third-best year ever. And they repeated denials that Ford would follow Chrysler Corp. into a money crunch.

The loss figure was disclosed in a Nov. 1 memorandum by William O. Bourke, executive vice president in charge of North American automotive operations. Ford confirmed the contents of the memorandum after several articles appeared about it.

Bourke said he was increasing an earlier North American auto loss estimate of $875 million. "Our full-year losses are now projected at $1,035 million."

Further, the present 1980 budget outlook is for a continuation of losses of about this magnitude.

"The fourth quarter is not going to be a good one, that's clear," said Vice President Alan D. Gilmour, Ford's controller. "But I don't want to give the impression this is going to continue for 12 months." Gilmour dismissed comparisions with Chrysler: "We have business operations in which Chrysler doesn't participate; we have newer, more efficient plants; we have a better mix of vehicle options; we've got a better dealer network, and we have new cars coming out that are being favorably received."

According to auto sales reports issued Wednesday, volume for all companies was down 25 percent in the first 10 days of November compared with the same period last year. October was down 20 percent. Ford was down 29 percent in the period and Chrysler was down 43 percent. For the year so far, Ford is down 16 percent, Chrysler 17 percent and the five companies as a whole 10 percent.

Ford, however, is the leading producer outside North America. Overseas, it makes money hand over fist, so a $1 billion loss on cars and trucks at home is less of a blow to Ford than it might be to Chrysler.

Ford's operating losses and a change in British tax laws enabled Ford to report a $103 million profit for the quarter while Chrysler was reporting a $461 million loss.
Carter delivers harsh speech concerning Iranian crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter yesterday said that the Iranian government is "fully responsible" for the safety of about 60 Americans held hostage in the U.S. Embassy in Tehran, but "will be held accountable.

Carter, in his harshest statement about the actions of Iranian leaders in the 12-day-old crisis, said he found it "unthinkable that any responsible government" would try to pressure another nation by using "diplomats as hostages."

Addressing the controversy of the AFL-CIO, the president said the council of the embassy and the Americans questioned there violated basic principles of international law. He vowed that the students occupying the embassy "are not away American policy.

"This is an act of terrorism outside the boards of international law and diplomatic tradition," Carter said. "This crisis calls for firmness and restraint.

But Carter also said the United States "will not compromise our fundamental principle of justice, no matter how grave the provocation." He added: "The United States of America will not yield to international terrorism or blackmail."

The president said taking the hostages has resulted in "anger and outrage" from Americans. However, he added, the United States will do nothing that endangers the safety of the hostages.

He said the situation calls for patience, perseverance and measured, deliberate action.

Carter said the U.S. government will continue to use its influence around the world to obtain the safe release of the hostages and take no action "that could be used to justify violence or impudent action by anyone."

The students who attacked and overran the embassy Nov. 4 have demanded that the United States return the deposed Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi to Iran for trial as a war criminal.

The Shah is being treated for cancer in a New York Hospital and the U.S. government has only refused to bow to the Iranian demand.

Carter's efforts to negotiate with the Iranian government have been stalled at every turn. His personal emissary, Ram­sey Clark, was not allowed into Iran and remained in Turkey for a week before being recalled on Wednesday.

The Iranian government also has resisted the efforts of third countries to negotiate the release of the hostages.

In his strongest attack on the Iranian government, Carter also said: "An embassy in not a fortress. There are no embassies that can long withstand the attack of a mob if the mob has the backing of the host govern­ment itself.

"President Carter said it was "a clear tenet" of international law that a host government is responsible for the safety and well-being of diplomatic representatives."

By Margo Brassil

The Observer Friday, November 16, 1979 - page 3

Important to relationship

Leaders agree on SMC fee

Notre Dame and Saint Mary's Student Body Presidents met yesterday, and reaffirmed the need for the $4 Student Union fee SMC students are required to pay in addition to ND.

ND-SBP Bill Roche and SMC-SGP Pat Trigiani also discussed wording more SMC representa­tion to the ND Board of Com­missioners, on the condition that the funds to ND student organiza­tions, and clarifying how the funding is to be spent.

Both leaders felt the $4 fee is consistent with the co-opera­tion and management of student activities. Trigiani re­jected the possibility of removing the $4 fee.

"This way, we maintain a relationship with Notre Dame which is very important," she said. Trigiani pressed the need for SMC representation in allocat­ing the funds. "I thought it was unfair in the past for Saint Mary's students to be paying the fee without knowing what it is," she said. "What we would like is not voting repre­sentation, but speaking privi­leges in an advisory capaci­ty."

"I don't want to see a good relationship between Saint Mary's and Notre Dame destroyed," explained Trigiani, but in the matter Saint Ma­ry's students have not been given the proper voice."

Roche agreed that a SMC voice is needed in allocating the funds. "We feel intensely to see the problem rectified," he stated. One possible solution, Roche suggested, may be to have a SMC representative sit on the Board of Commissioners when they allocate funds.

Roche said that the $4 fee, which totals about $7000, is added to the $17 fee ND students pay. "It is not specifi­cally earmarked, but placed in a general pool to be used for all activities for which the (ND) student fee is used," Roche said.

For this general fee is used, in large part, for the Student Union, he continued. "It helps fund activities such as Academic Commission speak­ers and sponsored events such as con­certs, Midwest Blue Festival, Collegiate Jazz Festival and Sophomore Literary Festival."

Roche added that the fee also helps fund clubs and Student Government Activities, such as the Social Concerns Films Series.

"It is very important to note that any activity paid for by this student activity fee is open to Saint Mary's students," Roche said. "We also need to increase the Saint Mary's presence in the planning and management of these activities." Roche pointed to SMC partici­pation and leadership in the An­tonal planning and manage­ment, and said "this can and should be extended to other activities." He also noted that the calendar offices of the two institutions "must work more closely to avoid overlapping."

Roche noted that his state­ments in Wednesdays's Obser­ver caused some concern on the SMC campus.

"I have a great respect for Saint Mary's and its students. I also have a great respect for the work being done by Pat Triga­ni, the SMC Student Govern­ment and their activities pro­gramming board. There are, indeed, many activities con­ducted at Saint Mary's and that benefit Notre Dame students," Roche stated.

"A couple of comments attri­buted to me in The Observer were taken out of context," Roche stated. These com­ments reflected a "frustrated, rude, I regret and apologize for any problems they may have caused on either campus."

---

The Notre Dame Choralie is busy preparing for their annual Full Church Concert, which will be held this Sunday Nov. 18 at 8:15 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church. [Photo by Kick Dodhing].

---

Sunshine Promotions & Monarch Entertainment Present

THE GRABEBERF FEST

Friday, December 7 7:00 pm

Indianapolis Convention Center

Tickets are on sale exclusively in South Bend at River City Records, 50970 U.S. 31 North - 3 miles north of campus

By Margo Brassil

SMC News Editor

Notre Dame and Saint Mary's Student Body Presidents met yesterday, and reaffirmed the need for the $4 Student Union fee SMC students are required to pay in addition to ND.

ND-SBP Bill Roche and SMC-SGP Pat Trigiani also discussed wording more SMC representa­tion to the ND Board of Com­missioners, on the condition that the funds to ND student organiza­tions, and clarifying how the funding is to be spent.

Both leaders felt the $4 fee is consistent with the co-opera­tion and management of student activities. Trigiani re­jected the possibility of removing the $4 fee.

"This way, we maintain a relationship with Notre Dame which is very important," she said. Trigiani pressed the need for SMC representation in allocat­ing the funds. "I thought it was unfair in the past for Saint Mary's students to be paying the fee without knowing what it is," she said. "What we would like is not voting repre­sentation, but speaking privi­leges in an advisory capaci­ty."

"I don't want to see a good relationship between Saint Mary's and Notre Dame destroyed," explained Trigiani, but in the matter Saint Ma­ry's students have not been given the proper voice."

Roche agreed that a SMC voice is needed in allocating the funds. "We feel intensely to see the problem rectified," he stated. One possible solution, Roche suggested, may be to have a SMC representative sit on the Board of Commissioners when they allocate funds.

Roche said that the $4 fee, which totals about $7000, is added to the $17 fee ND students pay. "It is not specifi­cally earmarked, but placed in a general pool to be used for all activities for which the (ND) student fee is used," Roche said.

For this general fee is used, in large part, for the Student Union, he continued. "It helps fund activities such as Academic Commission speak­ers and sponsored events such as con­certs, Midwest Blue Festival, Collegiate Jazz Festival and Sophomore Literary Festival."

Roche added that the fee also helps fund clubs and Student Government Activities, such as the Social Concerns Films Series.

"It is very important to note that any activity paid for by this student activity fee is open to Saint Mary's students," Roche said. "We also need to increase the Saint Mary's presence in the planning and management of these activities." Roche pointed to SMC partici­pation and leadership in the An­tonal planning and manage­ment, and said "this can and should be extended to other activities." He also noted that the calendar offices of the two institutions "must work more closely to avoid overlapping."

Roche noted that his state­ments in Wednesdays's Obser­ver caused some concern on the SMC campus.

"I have a great respect for Saint Mary's and its students. I also have a great respect for the work being done by Pat Triga­ni, the SMC Student Govern­ment and their activities pro­gramming board. There are, indeed, many activities con­ducted at Saint Mary's and that benefit Notre Dame students," Roche stated.

"A couple of comments attri­buted to me in The Observer were taken out of context," Roche stated. These com­ments reflected a "frustrated, rude, I regret and apologize for any problems they may have caused on either campus."

---

The Notre Dame Choralie is busy preparing for their annual Full Church Concert, which will be held this Sunday Nov. 18 at 8:15 p.m. in Sacred Heart Church. [Photo by Kick Dodhing].

---

Sunshine Promotions & Monarch Entertainment Present

THE GRABEBERF FEST

Friday, December 7 7:00 pm

Indianapolis Convention Center

Tickets are on sale exclusively in South Bend at River City Records, 50970 U.S. 31 North - 3 miles north of campus
Youth is our Concern
The Piarists are a Catholic Order of priests and brothers who dedicate their lives to the education of the young. They work in schools, CCD programs and parishes. For more information, write:

Vocation Director
The Piarists
363 Valley Forge Road
Devon, Pennsylvania 19333

Year ago Sunday

Jonestown survivors remember

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) - For those who survived Jonestown, there is pain enough in memory. But for some, grief has grown with reports of efforts to revive the Peoples Temple cult that spilled dozens of more than 900 people in the jungles of Guyana last Nov. 18.

Many friends and relatives of the Jonestown victims, struggling to rekindle their lives, refused to speak with reporters. They say they pray forget them and their troubles after graphically recounting the fantastic events of Jonestown and the bizarre dreams of its founder, the Rev. Jim Jones.

Those who did speak were candy to the warm emotions of a new church, or efforts to resurrect the old, may be spreading.

"They've called me up and said, "It's a black thing," Mediocre," said one middle-aged woman. "They still believe Jim Jones will be reincarnated. I've told them, 'Thank you.'"

The former believer, who said her attorney advised her not to give her name for publication, left Guyana before Jones died. An internal member of the flock, and forced some, to drink poisoned Fla-Vor-Aid.

"I don't want anything to do with them," she said. "It was one of several of who said they or their friends got calls from former high-ranking church officials.

"I want it to God, we owe it to the memory of Peoples Temple to keep alive the founding principles of Peoples Temple," she said. "I don't want anything to do with them," she said. "I was left to guide a group of people to keep alive the founding principles of Peoples Temple."

 Lahore, who was left to guide a group of people to keep alive the founding principles of Peoples Temple, said, "I want to give my name for publication."

Jones died in Guyana last Nov. 18.

The 76-year-old woman sat柔软 after welcoming a visitor to Jonestown, expecting a similar report from another Jonestown.

"We owe it to God, we owe it to the memory of Peoples Temple to keep alive the founding principles of Peoples Temple," she said. "I want to give my name for publication."

A man who said he had been through the events in Guyana was told...

"I want to give my name for publication."

Yet another Jonestown.

S.D.M. Today
3 Lowenbrau
1.00

Open 10am Saturday

Double Bloody Mary's
(Wild Turkey Day Monday)

★ ★ ★ ★

All-you-can-eat fish
All-you-can-eat salad bar
All-you-can-eat frog's legs on Mondays

Open For Lunch — Noon Specials —
Platters, Sandwiches

And your favorite cocktails

52129
U.S. 31 No.
South Bend
FISH OF STROM FAMILY RESTAURANT
277-0103

RIVER CITY RECORDS
northern Indiana's largest record and tape selection and concert ticket headquarters

$1.00 off!

Any album or tape.
Comes one per customer. thru Dec. 1.

18,000 albums and tapes in stock
ND/SMC student checks accepted for up to $20.00 over purchase amount
Open 10 to 10, 7 days a week

River City Records
50970 U.S. 31 North
3 miles north of campus
277-4342

NATURAL FOODS RESTAURANT

On Riverbend Plaza
303 SOUTH MICHIGAN ST.
South Bend, Ind. 46603
Phone 288-1911

Student Special

$1.00 OFF

Any dinner after 5 p.m.

Offer good with Coupon and Student ID

Open: Mon thru Thurs. 10 am - 8 pm
Fri. and Sat. 10 am - 9 pm

Majority of nation fears cults

NEW YORK (AP) - Nearly four out of five Americans think some religious groups in this country are a threat, according to an Associated Press NBC News poll released Sunday.

Almost an equal number say the government should be able to investigate religious groups or cults if complaints are made against them. Less than half of the country's traditional and constitutional separation of church and state.

Poll results were based on telephone interviews with 1,600 adults nationwide, conducted Oct. 15-16.

To the question, "Do you think the government should be able to investigate religious groups or cults if complaints are made against them?", 51 percent said yes...there is the making of another Jonestown."
Elkhart subpoenas Ford officials in Pinto case

ELKHART—Ind. (AP) — Henry Ford II and 29 other Ford Motor Co. officials have been subpoenaed to testify in the Pinto death trial case. Elkhart County prosecutor Michael Cosentino announced yesterday. The automaker is facing trial in January on three counts of reckless homicide in connection with the deaths of three young women who were killed in August 1978 when their Pinto exploded in flames after being struck from behind.

Dominic Carnovale, chief assistant prosecutor in Wayne County, Mich., said yesterday he is attempting to schedule a hearing for Nov. 28 in Wayne Circuit Court on the subpoenas. He noted that since the subpoenas were issued in Indiana, they must go through the Wayne County courts to get service of the Ford officials in Detroit.

Carnovale said the automaker has indicated it will provide the number of the subpoenas, and several other persons named have hired their own attorneys to fight the issue.

When the Elkhart County grand jury convened last year, subpoenas were issued for Henry Ford II, then the company's chairman of the board and chief executive officer, and Lee Iacocca, then president of the company. However, Cosentino allowed the company to send subordinates in their place.

Now, Cosentino has declined to say whether he will attempt to force Ford's personal appearance and testimony at the trial. Cosentino has not issued a subpoena for Iacocca, who reportedly was one of the chief promoters of the Ford Pinto.

Cosentino said he doubted a subpoena would be issued for Iacocca but he added that he isn't ruling out the possibility. Iacocca was fired by Ford and isn't ruling out the possibility.

Ford recalled because of government tests showing the fuel tanks leaked large amounts of fuel in moderate-speed crashes.

At Ford's request, the case was transferred to Pulaski Circuit Court at Winamac, where the trial is set to begin Jan. 7.

The indictments against Ford alleged that the fuel tank was negligently designed, causing the car to explode upon impact from behind.

The victims' Pinto was among 1.5 million Pinto sedans and Mercury Bobcats made between 1971 and 1976, that Ford recalled because of government tests showing the fuel tanks leaked large amounts of fuel in moderate-speed crashes.

Although the recall had been announced, modifications had yet to be made to the Indiana Pinto, pending arrival of parts at dealers.

Israel leaves Mt. Sinai

MOUNT SINAI, Egypt (AP) — Israel ended its 12-year occupation of this area yesterday and returned it to Egypt, where Israeli soldiers hoisted their black-white-red flag near the mountain where Moses is said to have received the Ten Commandments.

In ceremonies at an airstrip within view of the 2,285-foot peak, Egyptian soldiers pulled down the Star of David banner two months ahead of schedule at the special request of Egyptian President Anwar Sadat.

It was the fourth of a six-phase Israeli pullout that will involve Israel's control of two-thirds of the desert peninsula by Jan. 2.

Egypt, which lost the lands in the 1967 Mideast War, is to regain them by 1982 under terms of the peace treaty signed in March.

Egyptian Brig. Gen. Seif el Din Abu Snaf, in a brief speech, pointed to the early withdrawal as proof "we are moving ahead" and as evidence which "disproves all the lies and hatred of the rejection front," referring the Arab nations which reject the Egyptian-Israeli treaty.

The Israelis withdrew early so Sadat could come to Mount Sinai to celebrate the second anniversary of his Nov. 19, 1977, trip to Jerusalem, a trip that set the peace process in motion.

Sadar, in exchange, agreed to an Israeli request to allow tourists, including Israelis, to continue to visit the area.

"Here for the first time daily there will be a meeting between the youth, Arabs and Jews, Egyptian and Israelis," Israeli Gen. Davi Sion said in his remarks at the flag raising ceremony.

Sadar plans to build a single house of worship for Christians, Jews, and Muslims between the airport and the venerated mountain, and he is to lay a cornerstone in formal ceremonies Monday.

Israel leaves Mt. Sinai...
Use patience, not 'push' in Iran

Dear Editor:

In response to Chris Stewart's column "The Shame of Iran" (Nov. 13) I can only say that the families of the hostages held in the Iranian embassy do not want military action or retaliation as an effort so 'courageous' they loved ones. I believe that the U.S. State Department is doing everything possible to secure the release of my uncle and his companions.

Things are slowly improving and your talk of military action defeats the purpose of the hostages being in the first place.

If you comment that "barbaric regimes only understand brute force" is true, then isn't also true that any barbarians resort to such force to solve their problems? By using violence against the Iranians, we affirm violence as a legitimate means to solve a problem which puts us on the same plane as the "barbarians" to whom you refer. Rather than stem the flow of military action, let's help the hostages with signed statements for a peaceful resolution. (Nov. 13)

Mary E. Abrahams

AL Core Course irrelevant

Dear Editor:

This letter concerns the Core Course requirement for Art and Letters sophomores. Despite the good intentions behind the course, we, along with many of our classmates, find this course frustrating, tedious, and irrelevant for several reasons.

First, the books for the course are not written by the respected authors. Second, the books are not written exceptionally, but notably only for their poor writing style. Hence, the authors represent themselves not as the original authors, but as substitutes for the original authors. In addition, the authors themselves are not always sure of the points they are making, and the questions they are asking. We have been told that these books were specifically chosen because of their ability to generate class discussion —in our opinion, even comic pages would do more than it is more effectively.

The ambience of the course is best reflected in its title; 'Ideas, Values, and Images. We wish our professors tell us what this means.'

Twelve Arts and Letters sophomores

The Badger: Reflections on Notre Dame

S.J. Kotz, M. Hymie Heaney

The Friday before the Navy game, as I stood in the LeFort's parking lot, I reflected back upon football and Notre Dame. I considered this man in his fifties, dressed in a gold gurgle neck, navy-blue pants, and brown leather jacket approached me. Rather astonishing, the son of Notre Dame asked me what time the pop was due. "Don't know," I replied. "You don't know?" he bellowed. "Well you're the lab man. Go to school here?"

That question has been on my mind ever since. I did, after all, look out of place in a ham that afternoon, so Notre Dame, Stretton har, Texas Playboy sweaters, and Frye boots, I felt like an alien among the alumni assembled in the Le Forte Student Center.

I have never liked many of our football weekend visitors, and I feel bad about it. They are the alumni and subway alumno who contribute money that keeps Notre Dame going. Whether or not they use their tuition bill would probably a couple thousand dollars higher, the school facilities would probably be a lot of fun, but it should not be one of the reasons why Notre Dame's national academic reputation would certainly be non-existent.

Still, I find most of the throng that descend upon Notre Dame football every weekend insufferable. With the possible exception of a busy night at Corby's, I have never seen a bigger congregation of Catholic brothers enjoying their life in my life. Many are drunk, almost all of them are loud, and quite a few are downright arrogant.

I find the subway alumno the least offensive. Although they did not attend the University, these mostly middle-aged men will travel almost any distance in order to cheer on Notre Dame. Such loyalty is admirable, even if the message that it reflects is one of drunkenness. Wearing their green and gold beanies, they seem to forget a lot of the school's history. They recall a time when the Notre Dame graduates who never quit being college students. Graduates, who as students complained about the rigid rules, the ranks of women, the miserable social life, and the lousy weather in South Bend, now return to recapture "the good old days at Du Lac."

These former Domers came back to ND expecting to find the same place, the same people, the same atmosphere. It is a lot of fun, but it should not be one of the reasons why Notre Dame football is so enjoyable.

Dear Editor:

I find the subway alumno least offensive. Although they did not attend the University, these mostly middle-aged men will travel almost any distance in order to cheer on Notre Dame. Such loyalty is admirable, even if the message that it reflects is one of drunkenness. Wearing their green and gold beanies, they seem to forget a lot of the school's history. They recall a time when the Notre Dame graduates who never quit being college students. Graduates, who as students complained about the rigid rules, the ranks of women, the miserable social life, and the lousy weather in South Bend, now return to recapture "the good old days at Du Lac."

These former Domers came back to ND expecting to find the same place, the same people, the same atmosphere. It is a lot of fun, but it should not be one of the reasons why Notre Dame football is so enjoyable.

Dear Editor:

I find the subway alumno least offensive. Although they did not attend the University, these mostly middle-aged men will travel almost any distance in order to cheer on Notre Dame. Such loyalty is admirable, even if the message that it reflects is one of drunkenness. Wearing their green and gold beanies, they seem to forget a lot of the school's history. They recall a time when the Notre Dame graduates who never quit being college students. Graduates, who as students complained about the rigid rules, the ranks of women, the miserable social life, and the lousy weather in South Bend, now return to recapture "the good old days at Du Lac."

These former Domers came back to ND expecting to find the same place, the same people, the same atmosphere. It is a lot of fun, but it should not be one of the reasons why Notre Dame football is so enjoyable.

Dear Editor:

I find the subway alumno least offensive. Although they did not attend the University, these mostly middle-aged men will travel almost any distance in order to cheer on Notre Dame. Such loyalty is admirable, even if the message that it reflects is one of drunkenness. Wearing their green and gold beanies, they seem to forget a lot of the school's history. They recall a time when the Notre Dame graduates who never quit being college students. Graduates, who as students complained about the rigid rules, the ranks of women, the miserable social life, and the lousy weather in South Bend, now return to recapture "the good old days at Du Lac."

These former Domers came back to ND expecting to find the same place, the same people, the same atmosphere. It is a lot of fun, but it should not be one of the reasons why Notre Dame football is so enjoyable.

Dear Editor:

I find the subway alumno least offensive. Although they did not attend the University, these mostly middle-aged men will travel almost any distance in order to cheer on Notre Dame. Such loyalty is admirable, even if the message that it reflects is one of drunkenness. Wearing their green and gold beanies, they seem to forget a lot of the school's history. They recall a time when the Notre Dame graduates who never quit being college students. Graduates, who as students complained about the rigid rules, the ranks of women, the miserable social life, and the lousy weather in South Bend, now return to recapture "the good old days at Du Lac."

These former Domers came back to ND expecting to find the same place, the same people, the same atmosphere. It is a lot of fun, but it should not be one of the reasons why Notre Dame football is so enjoyable.
CAMBODIA: The Auschwitz of Asia

Christopher A. Stewart

Has God been expelled from human affairs, until the day of judgment? How will our future ever be a day of judgment? Have we chosen genocide over autodestruction? Are we just holocausts over holocausts? Pot has used it, and India, Cambodia is not merely the future of Asia, but the future of humankind as a race on earth, all races. If the Cambodians die, as a nation and as a people, it will be by the tragedy of unparalleled magnitude. Why? Because we have the ability to exterminate others that we cannot learn from our past, and are therefore doomed to make the same more reprehensible scale.

If God has arrived, people, it's upon us now, whether you realize it or not. You may choose to ignore it, but the time is rapidly approaching that you will no longer exist.

CAMBODIA, in 1969, that 1979 would ever happen.

But, it is happening. And it will happen in a way we should fear most, where, unless we decide to act, immediately.

In Cambodia, there are thousands of refugees, and it is possible to help them. As goes Cambodia, so goes the world.

The author urges all students, alumni, and friends of Notre Dame to join this workshop this weekend.

Liz Rechtshaid

Workshop Tonight

Memorial Library

There will be a workshop on Cambodian tonite from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m. The event is called "Understanding: A Step Toward the Future of Cambodia." It is a followup to a Mass at Sacred Heart Church for all those who want to learn more about the Cambodians and their plight.

Students Concerned for Cambodia (SCC) will sponsor the event. The SCC is a student organization that raises money to support refugees in Cambodia.

The workshop will feature three speakers: a Cambodian refugee from the U.S., a Cambodian refugee from Canada, and a Cambodian refugee from a different nation.

The Cambodian refugee from the U.S. will discuss his experiences in Cambodia and the challenges he faces as a refugee in the U.S.

The Cambodian refugee from Canada will discuss the challenges of living as a refugee in Canada and the support he receives from the Canadian government.

The Cambodian refugee from a different nation will discuss the challenges of living as a refugee in his country and the support he receives from his government.

The workshop will be held in the Memorial Library from 6:30 to 8:00 p.m.

Thanksgiving, Love, and a Six-Pack

How would you celebrate Thanksgiving this year? In years past, families have come together to enjoy a meal and give thanks for the blessings of the past year. But this year, the situation is different. With the ongoing conflict in Cambodia, many families are struggling to fill their Thanksgiving tables.

Students Concerned for Cambodia (SCC) is hosting a Thanksgiving dinner for members of the Notre Dame community. The dinner will be held on Thursday, November 28, at 6:00 p.m. in the Dining Hall.

The SCC is a student group that raises funds to support refugees in Cambodia.

The dinner will feature a traditional Thanksgiving meal, including turkey, mashed potatoes, and all the trimmings.

The SCC is also asking for donations to help support refugees in Cambodia.

SCC Outline

Weekend Activities

The SCC is planning several events to raise awareness about the situation in Cambodia.

On Friday, November 29, the SCC will host a benefit concert at the Memorial Library. The concert will feature local musicians and will be open to the public.

On Saturday, November 30, the SCC will hold a prayer vigil in front of the Sacred Heart Church. The vigil will be from 11:00 a.m. to 1:00 p.m.

On Sunday, December 1, the SCC will hold a workshop on Cambodia at the Memorial Library. The workshop will feature guest speakers and will be open to the public.

The SCC is committed to raising awareness about the situation in Cambodia and to supporting refugees in any way possible.
LETTERS TO A LONELY GOD

Dial-A-Phone Morality

Rev. Robert Griffin

Friday, November 16, 1979 - page 8

What’s All This, Then?

Gerard Curtin

Friday evening, at six o’clock, a phone call came from a young man, an anonymous stranger, who was deciding whether he should consum­mate his love for a young woman he loved.

“What reasons can you give me,” he asked, “that I should not have sexual relations?”

He did not want to have to drop by for a talk. He had to have supper, take a shower, pick up his date, and get to the hockey game. He was reviewing the arguments against pre-marital intim­acy, because he had to make a decision, that very evening, he had promised to tell the young woman if he would consummate the affair. It would be his first time, his sexual initiation. Because he loved the girl, and she loved him, he wanted to know what reasons I could give him why he shouldn’t do it.

He was decent enough to ask, and I appreciated his thoughtfulness, though I don’t think he realized how helpless I felt. Here was a twenty year old, doubting the wisdom of his moral up-bringing, wondering whether the traditional morality had grown archaic; in the midst of extreme uncertainty, he felt he must make a decision—was he in love, was love desired stri er within him, and the evening affair a violation of a woman’s graciousness. And I, in a phone call, was asked to say to him the reasons I would re­gard his decision if he decided to make love.

I was not able to do it in the time, to define the discussion. Prudence told me to say that he should not have sex, to dismiss the matter. But I couldn’t leave it at that. I couldn’t have him believing that as a priest, I was incorruptible. So I tried, God help me, I tried to tell him the truth that would help him to a Christian decision, and I ended by telling him he did not want to offend him, I did not want to appear to be making ugly judgments about his affair or the young woman he reverenced, but with my back to the wall, I used words that angered him, and he ended hanging up on me.

Then I was angry at myself for trying, for failing, for not having refused to call. I was angry because he humiliated me by hanging up, as though my words were cheap shots, and my thoughts were degrading because I couldn’t realize how decent he was being. She only wanted to give him everything that was good, he said, and I was making her appear promiscuous.

I haven’t the slightest idea who the student was, or whether he consent­ ed, on Friday evening, to joining the great tradition of couples who have made love outside of marriage; or whether he made other phone calls to different priests to help him evaluate the Christian prohibitions. I am writing these paragraphs to tell him, if he reads them, that I care about what happened. It’s the whole world in love with lovers. When I see lovers walking together hand in hand across the campus, I feel reverent and protective toward them. I see them as a holiness that preceded redemption. In the beginning, when everything was innocence, love was God’s gift to a man and a woman. After all the weary ages of time and tide, the gift is still given and the sight of lovers walking makes the earth seem to be forever April.

The reasons, of course, are not realistic, because I am an odd creature who puts his faith in motion. I believe in God’s love and redemptive death. I believe in the Holy Spirit fighting against the tiredness of God’s people. I believe in sacraments that tell me that I am a guest at the wedding feast; that He prepares a table for me in the presence of my enemies. I believe in Scriptures that teach of covenants existing between heaven and earth, and that all of God’s love for man, beginning with ancient promises made to creatures in the first moment they cried with guilt, until the last, and the convulsions of their emotions—how can I persuade them of a spiritual dimension to their sexuality whereby ideally they are the ministers of the mystery of God’s love?

I can never tell a couple, “You will regret not waiting.” I am not a prophet about behavior that will lead them to the blues. But there is a code a Christian requires himself to live by, when he loves a woman as when he forgives an enemy. He can just as easily do something else not pretend­ing to be Christian morality, but while he is doing something else, he cannot say: “I am following the word of the Church. I am dishonoring my father and mother, I am betraying false witnesses against my neighbor; but this, also, is following the calling of Christ.”

Young man, on your way to a Friday night date, your answers are to be found in your own conscience. Believe that sexual consummations should be protected by the commit­ment of marriage; this is the faith of the Church, as I understand it. As a priest, I know no other answer I can give you. Even humans speaking, aside on the same faith, I could not give an answer.

I am only disappointed you’ve I’ve been praying for you and for the young lady. I care a great deal what happens to both of you. I hope you understand about my caring, but more importantly, I hope you care about your­self. There are no easy answers, if there are. I haven’t learned them; and they would still be too important to tell them to you in a phone call.

I hope you enjoyed the hockey game.

TELEVISION

Saturday, November 17 at 9:00 p.m.
The Indiana University Opera Theater performs Carlisle Ford’s symphonic suite of parables and evil, Susannah. This two act musical drama will be simulcast over WSNDFM at 88.9 MHz.

AT VEGETABLE BUDDIES:

“Streamwater” on Friday and Saturday, November 16 and 17. This band, composed of members of the Indiana University School of Music plays its own jazz-rock blend of music at Vegetable Buddies.
The Observer

Micky Mancuso

For a while it looked like Southern Rock was going to take over if (or talk to someone from Jacksonville it did). Fueled by bands like The Allman Brothers, Marshall Tucker, Charlie Daniels and Lynyrd Skynyrd, Southern Rock was becoming a major force in music. The down home rock n' rollin' you've come to expect from one of the deep South Bands around.

The album is straightforward and basic in every way. Nothing heavy nothing very intense, just good rock'n'roll. But that's what Southern Rock themes we've heard before, but Hatchet's sound makes them enjoyable. "Wildly Mad," "Crazy," and "Let the Good Times Roll!" have all been heard before. They're new songs but yet they're that same drinking, hillbilly and foot stomping that has become common. But with Hatchet's three prong guitar attack, definitly their strong point, you've got to love it just the same. Especially tary on the album is a cover of Bobby Womack's "It's All Over Now." They give the classic a flavor all their own, something most bands foul up when they attempt it. When you get down to the real meat of the album, it's 'Boogie No More' and 'Fixin' To Die. Disaster' that really enforces Molly Hatchet 's let it loose and burn them from school album. 'Boogie No More' with it's 'Freebird' esque slow start that builds into a real '44 kicker is especially good. Although not as much so as fellow Floridians The Outlaws. Molly Hatchet still seems to hold it back a bit on the vinyl when compared to their live show. In concert this band puts out enough energy to light up the Golden Dome for the next few years. Molly Hatchet is well on their way to the big halls and their platinum disks.

Album courtesy of River City Records

---

'The Duke' Reigns At V. B.'s

Tom Jackman

My introduction to South Bend's Vegetable Buddies Saturday night was a great surprise. They're the genuine article. No more for the resurgence than any other band. While the other bands mostly attract long time southern fans, Hatchet is picking up new fans, those that might have never been into that type of music before. While a lot of their success is claimed to be due to the fact that their sound sounds like a Ronnie Van Zant clone, this would be true only from the band. They're filling a void left by Skynyrd, a band whose abrupt departure has left by Skynyrd, a band whose abrupt departure has left a hole that Hatchet is sure to continue filling. The album is straight forward and basic in every way. Nothing heavy nothing very intense, just good rock'n'roll. But that's what Southern Rock themes we've heard before, but Hatchet's sound makes them enjoyable. "Wildly Mad," "Crazy," and "Let the Good Times Roll!" have all been heard before. They're new songs but yet they're that same drinking, hillbilly and foot stomping that has become common. But with Hatchet's three prong guitar attack, definitly their strong point, you've got to love it just the same. Especially tary on the album is a cover of Bobby Womack's "It's All Over Now." They give the classic a flavor all their own, something most bands foul up when they attempt it. When you get down to the real meat of the album, it's 'Boogie No More' and 'Fixin' To Die. Disaster' that really enforces Molly Hatchet 's let it loose and burn them from school album. 'Boogie No More' with it's 'Freebird' esque slow start that builds into a real '44 kicker is especially good. Although not as much so as fellow Floridians The Outlaws. Molly Hatchet still seems to hold it back a bit on the vinyl when compared to their live show. In concert this band puts out enough energy to light up the Golden Dome for the next few years. Molly Hatchet is well on their way to the big halls and their platinum disks.

---

E’VE’ bites it

Tim Sullivan

Alan Parsons, with cohort Eric Woolfson, has created another brilliantly engineered concept album that will bore you. Eve, the Alan Parsons Project newest album, is mechanically superb and deftly recorded with the most sophisticated mixing techniques available, but the substance of the music and resulting concept is slipperiness, if at all present. Parsons, who engineered Pink Floyd's spacey and often dreamy Dark Side of the Moon, is certainly the most accomplished technical master in the record industry, pioneering computerized mixing and digital recording. Each APP album is a masterpiece, a devoured production with errors in a clean, crisp, listenable style. Those who hate sloppy overdrives, poor arrangements, excessive bass, and weak response will appall Parsons engineering prowess.

All this grandiose effort and incredible talent is wasted, however, on music lacking rhythm hooks or melodic catches. Though greatly instrumentalized and presented through a multitude of vocal styles, the songs are dull and listless, like music played in doctors' waiting rooms. One finds no punch or drive, no melodic subtlety, just mushy harmony, which leaves the listener relaxed and thoroughly bored. Embodied in this sleepy musical format is a weak, if not chauvinistic, concept. Eve expresses man's view of womanhood, but only through a male's limited viewpoint, torn between the animal desires for sex and the need for love. In the end, Eve paints women as little more than beautiful sex objects with a weakness for gentle affection. Some people never grow up.

Not all APP albums have been as dull and stupid as Eve. I, Robot expressed man's plight against a mechanized world with songs as sophisticated as they were enjoyable.

Last year's Pyramid did the same thing on a more cosmic scale. Eve basically falls through because of Woolfson's poor writing. Perhaps he has run out of ideas. If this is the case, then Parsons has best find someone new.

---

the South does it again

Molly Hatchet is one of the newest and fastest rising bands on the Southern Rock circuit. Probably doing more for the resurgence than any other band. While the other bands mostly attract long time southern fans, Hatchet is picking up new fans, those that might have never been into that type of music before. While a lot of their success is claimed to be due to the fact that their sound sounds like a Ronnie Van Zant clone, this would be true only from the band. They're filling a void left by Skynyrd, a band whose abrupt departure has left a hole that Hatchet is sure to continue filling. The album is straight forward and basic in every way. Nothing heavy nothing very intense, just good rock'n'roll. But that's what Southern Rock themes we've heard before, but Hatchet's sound makes them enjoyable. "Wildly Mad," "Crazy," and "Let the Good Times Roll!" have all been heard before. They're new songs but yet they're that same drinking, hillbilly and foot stomping that has become common. But with Hatchet's three prong guitar attack, definitly their strong point, you've got to love it just the same. Especially tary on the album is a cover of Bobby Womack's "It's All Over Now." They give the classic a flavor all their own, something most bands foul up when they attempt it. When you get down to the real meat of the album, it's 'Boogie No More' and 'Fixin' To Die. Disaster' that really enforces Molly Hatchet 's let it loose and burn them from school album. 'Boogie No More' with it's 'Freebird' esque slow start that builds into a real '44 kicker is especially good. Although not as much so as fellow Floridians The Outlaws. Molly Hatchet still seems to hold it back a bit on the vinyl when compared to their live show. In concert this band puts out enough energy to light up the Golden Dome for the next few years. Molly Hatchet is well on their way to the big halls and their platinum disks.

---

---
grand opening
1621 south bend ave., south bend
(behind the linebacker inn)

MILLER BARREL LITE
23.99
at the new kings cellar at 1621 s b ave.

old milwaukee
24 - 12 oz. cans
4.99

WINDSOR CANADIAN
MACKINTOSH SCOTCH
SMIRNOFF VODKA
SEAGRAM’S 7 CROWN
PABST BLUE RIBBON
RED, WHITE & BLUE PABST BLUE RIBBON
OLYMPIA 24-12-oz. cans
OLYMPIA 24-12-oz. cans

JIM BEAM BOURBON
MEDECI LAMBRUSCO
CARLO ROSSI
MARTINI & ROSSI ASTI SPUMANTE

spirits supermarket
200 n main/elkhart
254 dixie way north/roseland

last home game special!!!

old milwaukee
24-12 oz. cans
4.99
Tigers hot

Must game for Irish

by Michael Ortman
Sports Writer

John D. Rockefeller, Sr. once said, "You take care of the pennies and the dollars will take care of themselves." Notre Dame football coach, Dan Devine, has been echoing a similar theme for the past few weeks. His lament was something like this, "We'll just play football and let the bowl games take care of themselves." Unfortunately for the Irish, Tennessee may have taken care of them last Saturday.

Now with all major bowl hope gone but minor bowl possibilities still lurking in the wings, Notre Dame is faced with yet another nationally-ranked opponent in a must win game if the Irish hope to have the season extended into December. The Clemson Tigers are visiting South Bend for the first time, and as far as they are concerned, this is their bowl game. "The Notre Dame game is without a doubt, the biggest bowl game that Clemson has ever played in," said Tiger rookie coach Danny Ford.

If Ford's claim sounds familiar, it's no coincidence. Johnny Majors said something similar before last week's game, and George Welsh before that, and Jim Carlen from South Carolina, and...

The fact is that these upstart teams have made Notre Dame's football team aware of the struggle that they face each week. If Notre Dame's football team were to play a perfect season, nobody would ever hear of Tom Gibbons. Despite a team-leading three interceptions, the Irish free safety plays in virtual anonymity—until something goes wrong.

Last Saturday, for instance, Notre Dame's 3-4 defense decided to play matador defense against Tennessee, leaving Gibbons all alone to challenge the Vol's bruising running backs. His lament went something like this. "They play with a great deal of poise and really seem to be visibly improving every time out, and that's what we're trying to do too." Gibbons points out, though, it would have taken more than the United States Marines to stop McDonald and the Trojan receivers, who held the Irish secondary hostage all afternoon. "Everybody made a big thing about it, but me being able to play wouldn't have made any difference," insists Gibbons. "McDonald was hot—nobody could have stopped him."

While Gibbons won't get much of an argument on that count, he does tend to downplay his own ability. "I'm too small and too slow," he jokes. "The only thing I have going for me is that I'm smart. That way, if I figure everything out right away, I can still get there too late."

Gibbons is no dummy, that's for sure. He carries a 3.2 grade-point average in the classroom.

The two-year starter is stumped when asked to name the best game he's played, but answers quickly when asked about his least-memorable game.

"South Carolina-I was out there, but that was about it," he says sheepishly.

"Beat Notre Dame" as one of their biggest goals for the season. The fact is that nine of the ten teams on the 1979 schedule have been, at one time or another, in the top-20. This has helped matter's either.

Clemson is no exception to the rule. The 14th ranked Tigers are ready to average Notre Dame's 21-17 come-from-behind win in 1977. "The last time we played Notre Dame, I don't think we thought we could win," said Ford, a Tiger assistant coach at the time. "When we found ourselves winning the game, 17-17, people said to themselves, 'Hey, we're not suppose to be beating Notre Dame. That was our downfall.'

Yet this year, Ford insists things are going to be different. "This year we're taking the field knowing that we can play with anybody and win."

The Tiger's bowl hopes are still very much alive. A win over Notre Dame would make them a prime candidate for a return trip to the Gator Bowl, the bowl they won last year, 17-15 in Woody Hayes' Ohio State final. Clemson's 7-2 mark thus far and its tremendous fan following should land the Tigers a game in December. Clemson's offense is very run-oriented. In fact, the Tigers have wracked up almost three times as many yards on the ground as they have through the air. Senior fullback Marvin Sims leads the rushing attack with 633 yards on 132 carries, but senior tailback Lester Brown, who missed three games due to injury, has picked up 428 yards on just 98 carries and in the fifth leading ground gainer in Tiger history.

Devine has the utmost respect for the Clemson offense. "I think you have to give Danny Ford a tremendous amount of credit for the offense he has put together, considering he lost two people in the calibre of quarterback Steve Fuller, and receiver Jerry Butler," he said. "They play with a great deal of poise and really seem to be visibly improving every time out, and that's what we're trying to do too." The Irish defense has been quite susceptible to the run in recent weeks and will have to shut down a balanced and potent running game which has...
The Irish Extra

Senator reflect on last home game

by Paul Stauber

Vagas Ferguson sat on his bed this past Wednesday night after his never-to-last practice on Notre Dame's Carrier Field had concluded. He looked exhausted. His muscular frame showed the results of a season filled with brutal contact from opposing linebackers who were constantly keying on him.

"Man, I've been playing hurt in every game since Southern Cal," the senior tailback mumbled. "We haven't had a breather all season. Everybody is tough because they're coming to play against Notre Dame. It feels kind of like dogs after a bone."

Vagas' similar lips describe what he and his teammates have suffered this season—the most difficult schedule of opposition in the history of Notre Dame football. Maybe Air Force, he guessed. "We're going to have a game for awhile," said Ferguson. "I'm going against Notre Dame. It feels kind of tough because they're coming to Notre Dame last one too."

It would be hard to find fault in Waymer and Ferguson if both decided to throw in the towel on 1979. After all, they each played a vital role in the capturing of the 1977 national championship, and both have enjoyed illustrious careers at Notre Dame. Why should either of them expend more energy to help a team going nowhere?

Ferguson has no rewards to show for his season of yeoman work, save for a plethora of citations and turf burns up and down his arms and legs. What could be possible, anyway, to get another maximum effort against Clemson tomorrow in his last game in the Notre Dame Stadium?

"I'm playing for pride now," came the answer from the Richmond, Indiana native who holds almost all of Notre Dame's career and season rushing records. "I want to win these games, but it's pretty bad."

The look in his eyes when he said that could convince the Double-Thomas's side of Knoxville that he was dead serious. Both Ferguson and Waymer take football very seriously, but their scopes do not terminate on the sidelines.

Graduating seniors, particularly those with the talents of Waymer and Ferguson, eye the NFL draft. Not to say that these two young men will not consider pro football. They will, but it is not the most important game on their minds at the end of their college careers.

Waymer is more concerned with establishing a career in the business world. "I've been interviewing with a few companies already, and I'd like to have a job landed before I even consider pro ball. But if there was a team in Alaska, I guess I'd go up there and play if that's what I drafted me."

Ferguson, who was raised by his grandparents, his mother, and a big Irish brood, is concerned about his family first and foremost. "My family means the most to me right now, I'm looking out for them."

"He is less definite about his future at the moment than many players who are making numerous contacts this winter," stated Devine, Ferguson's coach.

"I'm looking forward to the banquet this winter to make some business contacts. I hope I find that I'll be out of here soon."

On pro offers, Vagas admitted, "It's there, and sure, it's the best route to go, but "you've got to be psychologically right before moving on to something a little more permanent, but I'm not thinking of it right now."

Looking back on their careers, both named the national championship of 1977 at one of their biggest thrills. "I guess kicking Texas and Southern Cal that year was great," said Ferguson, "along with the long touchdown pass I caught against Georgia Tech that year."

When asked about the most memorable people they have been in contact with since their freshman years at Notre Dame, both named teammates. "The one who has never been seen done before on a football field," mused Waymer, "and he was so good, he was never seen done before on another position. He could have Said (Ken) Mac Mullen," said Ferguson.

Ferguson reiterated Waymer's awe of Browner, and mentioned running mate Jerome Heavens as well as Luther Bradley as two more memorable individuals encountered in four years at Notre Dame.

For the efforts these two have put out for Notre Dame football this season, showing patience with young and inexperienced teammates, playing hurt, and performing in the face of adversity all year long, and for many great moments over the four years they have spent with the Notre Dame Contemporaries, "Thanks" to Vagas Ferguson and Dave Waymer, along with all their senior teammates.

Dave Waymer

[continued from page 11]

averaged almost 250 yards per game. "We tried a number of different fronts against Tennessee," said Devine. "But we just couldn't seem to stop them."

Many Irish partisans are starting to ask, "Would the real Notre Dame defense please stand up?" Devine is starting to wonder himself. The unit answered a shutout of Navy by giving up 40 points against Tennessee. "Our toughest battle defensively has been coming up with consistency, simply because injuries have forced us to use so many different combinations," said Devine. "We've never seen to have the same people out there from week to week, and that's made it difficult to improve as a unit."

Offensively, the Irish will continue their quest to put moving the football together with putting it in the end zone. "It's not a question of no offensive punch," said senior quarterback Runny Linch. "We're moving the football well, but a penalty here, a turnover there, a missed field goal here, and poop, no points."

Linch has gained over 200 yards through the air in four of his last five games. But this week he will be looking over one of the nation's premier defensive units. The Tigers have allowed just 11.4 points per game, second to Alabama's average 4.4. No team has gained over 500 yards on the Tigers defense all year, and every team has been below its season average on offense.

Irish D Lem: Tomorrow's game will mark the 81st consecutive home game here at Notre Dame Stadium, the Irish have not lost the home finale since 1980. It has only happened twice since 1940...last Saturday's loss at Tennessee was the most lopsided defeat ever suffered by a Dan Devine coached Irish team. Notre Dame's freshman split end Tony Hunter is ready to scratch his name in the Irish record books. This season he has caught 23 passes for 593 yards, averaging 25.8 yards per catch, and three touchdowns.

The current yards per catch mark is 21.2 set in 1956 by Jim Moree. Vagas Ferguson hasn't finished his dance through the record books. His 13 touchdowns put him just behind Bob Glade's record and four points behind Bob Crable. Middle linebacker Bob Murphy has broken through the record book of 16 set in 1905...Irish line- backer Bob Crable is now just 14 tackles shy of Steve Hemmersteiner's single season mark of 160 set last season.

The Fighting Irish of Notre Dame, 9-2, play for their third straight Tigertown for next week's first-round game of the NCAA soccer tournament. The two-time NCAA champions have the distinction of being ranked in the top six for the second consecutive year, concluding in two sports at Clemson, third in football with 178 points and tied for 10th in soccer with 27 goals.

"I'm playing for pride now," says halfback Vagas Ferguson.
Tiger linemen Stuckey excels in second-effort

The Irish Extra

The author is Assistant Director of Sports Information at Clemson. A graduate of Notre Dame [’77], he formerly worked as an Observer.

by Tim Booretz

If you look at Jim Stuckey’s picture in the Clemson press guide you might conclude that the Tiger’s veteran defensive tackle is another one of those wild and reckless football players who does off-beat things like eat glass and bite the heads off dead chickens. Some say Stuckey looks like former Southern California linebacker Tim Rossovich, an inmate, if not crazy All-American, who was known to perform the above off-beat acts on the spur of the moment.

But Jim Stuckey’s manner on the field and off is actually the opposite of Rossovich, now a motion-picture actor. Clemson’s pre-season All-American and certain choice for many post-season honors has a very mature attitude toward the game and this philosophy is one of the secrets to his success.

“A lot of people think you have to be wild and rough to be a good defensive lineman,” says Stuckey, a four-year starter. “But there are so many different offenses and formations in college football today that the defensive tackle position requires much strategy.

“Sure I have to play with abandon, but the best approach is to have controlled wildness. That is the best way to describe my style of play. I just can’t see off and try to beat my opponent’s head on every play. Offenses are too sophisticated.”

When I studied young I learned that if I get over-psyched, I lose control of where I am. I have to hold my position and contain and remember my assignments.”

Head coach Danny Ford will be the first to tell you about his defensive tackle’s strength of character, but Clemson’s first-year mentor feels Stuckey’s biggest asset is his knack for finding the goal line. That style had been Brown’s trade-mark and has led to his now-famous nickname, “Rucker Duck.” The nickname began his freshman year when linemen used to tell Brown they couldn’t get a grip on him, and he had a long neck that made him look like a duck with his helmet on. It stuck and even the coaches call him “Duck”.

Brown has some very impressive statistics to back up his reputation on the line. Last year, the senior industrial management major was second in the nation in touchdowns with 17. Heisman Trophy winner Billy Sims of Oklahoma was first. He was also fourth in the nation in scoring, not to mention a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice.

Over the past three seasons, he has rushed for over 100 yards on eight occasions. Ironically, one of his career best games came against North Carolina last year, when in 28 carries he gained 154 yards, the second-highest in his career. The “Rubber Duck” scored the winning touchdown and the Tigers closed the Tar Heels 15-9.

His best day came against Virginia in the same season, when he turned in 178 yards in 19 carries and two touchdowns in the Tigers 30-14 win over the Cavaliers. In fact, in all eight games, had 989 yards in 136 carries and 10 touchdowns.

In the 1979 season, Brown has played in six games, had 98 carries for 428 yards, for a 4.4-yard per carry average. He’s had five of Clemson’s 14 touchdowns so far this season and is looking for Notre Dame to be his best game.

I’ve been out for four weeks, and I want people to know I’m not hurt and I won’t keep me out. I’m looking at Notre Dame as just another school we need to bee victorious over. I want to go out there and be victorious.

Regardless of the outcome of Saturday’s contest between the Tigers and the Irish, Lester Brown is a Clemson legend. The Myrtle Beach, S.C. native has accomplished a lot of great things during his career in Tiger-town. It was Lester Brown who was named ABC’s Offensive player-of-the-game and ACC back-of-the-week for his play against intrastate rival North Carolina State last season when he rushed for 177 yards and scored twice in the Tiger victory.

It was Lester Brown who scored from three yards out midway through the fourth quarter in the ACC championship game against Maryland at College Park to sew up the Tiger victory by a score of 28-24. And it was Lester Brown who rushed for 121 yards against interstate rival South Carolina before a crowd of 63,090—the largest crowd to ever witness an ACC football game.

But more importantly, it was Lester Brown who brought so much excitement to Tiger fans at home in Death Valley when he would spring over the defensive line for a score and get up to dance in the end zone. It’s pandemonium, masses of orange screaming wild Tiger fans and players like Lester Brown that make football so special at Clemson.
The Irish Extra

Irish - Tigers

Oaken Bucket features battle for bids, prestige

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) - Bowl bids, state and national prestige and a share of the Big Ten conference championship could be on the line here Saturday as Purdue and Indiana get together for their annual Old Oaken Bucket football battle.

"It’s that wonderful to come into a game like this with more at stake than the Buckey," said Indiana Coach Lee Corso, who is assured his first winning season in seven years here. "We can be proud in this state to have two teams such as these and a game like this.

A capacity crowd of 52,354 is expected for the battle between the Hoosiers, 7-3 overall and 5-2 in the Big Ten, and Coach Jim Young’s Boilermakers, 8-2 and 6-1.

A Purdue victory in the 82nd meeting of the two rivals, combined with a Michigan triumph over Ohio State, would make the Boilermakers, Michi­gan, and Ohio State the Big Ten champions.

However, the Buckeyes would receive the conference spot in the Rose Bowl on the basis of having the better overall record.

An Indiana victory, and a Michigan triumph, would put the Wolverines in the Rose Bowl.

It’s possible all four Big Ten teams could receive bowl bids, but both Corso and Young aren’t interested in looking past Saturday’s game.

“We have a bowl game against Indiana as Bloomington Saturday,” in my estimation," Young said.

Corso, who calls the annual battle a "wager" has closed practices this week and made his players off limits to the media.

"It’s just concentration. We’re not going to do anything that different. And they aren’t either.”

Coach Jim Young’s Boilermakers, 8-2 and 6-1.

Good Luck

Seniors

Three Observer scribes tied while looking into crystal football

Mark Perry, Editor
Paul Mullaney, Asst. Editor and Layout
Brett Huffman, Layout Assistant
Ohio Farmworkers Committee plans for rally

by Jane Bather

The Ohio Farmworkers Support Committee met last night in the La Fortune Ballroom to discuss measures that their group will take concerning a December 8 Civil Rights Rally in Napoleon, Ohio. The committee hopes to acquire transportation and welcome and interested students to accompany them to the rally. The Rally is sponsored by the Farm Labor Organizing Committee (FLOC). Anyone interested in supporting or attending the rally should contact Aline Huber at 288-2465.

It is in response to the situation of migrant workers versus the technology of large companies which is replacing the workers. The migrant farmworkers in Ohio have since 1967 been unionized into FLOC. This organization has consistently tried to negotiate contracts with individual farmers to obtain security for migrant farmworkers. FLOC maintains that this has been impossible since workers are contracted for one crop and farmers often change their crop. The only stable and certain way to obtain a contract and to gain the confidence of the migrant workers is for FLOC to negotiate three-way contracts between the migrant workers, the farmers and the processing companies.

FLOC’s intent is to impress upon these corporations their responsibilities to the poor migrant workers whose jobs they are abolishing, or whose position they are taking advantage of, by refusing to increase wages or by recognizing their unionization. FLOC charges that the Campbell Soup Company is one corporation which denies any responsibility to the migrant workers who do much of Campbell’s field work. A group of nuns is trying to use their influence as shareholders in the Campbell Soup Company to force the corporation to improve the situation of the migrant workers.

The Ohio Farmworkers Support Committee will focus their efforts toward Catholic secondary and elementary schools. Many schools encourage their students to collect Campbell’s soup labels which the company will redeem for school equipment. The committee will try to persuade the schools to end their support of the company.

United flight cuts disturb Sen. Bayh

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Senator Birch Bayh (D.-Ind.) said last week he is very disturbed to learn that United Air Lines is cutting some of it passenger service between South Bend and the cities of Chicago and Cleveland, and he cut one more flight from South Bend to Cleveland.

In January 1980, the South Bend and the cities of Chicago and Cleveland, and United will eliminate all flights from South Bend to Cleveland, and cut one more flight from the South Bend to Chicago route.

As Chairman of the Senate’s Transportation Appropriations Subcommittee, Bayh sponsors a program of loan guarantees to help private carriers establish new routes and service between cities not served by major airlines. The loan guarantee program totals $800 million, and is part of the Transportation Appropriations bill now being evaluated in a House-Senate conference committee.

“My staff will be working closely with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington, and with local community leaders in Indiana to help alleviate any problems, and smooth the way for private carriers to take over once United departs,” Bayh said.

Sorin Hall wins contest

Sorin Hall was awarded first place in the Hall decorating contest during homecoming weekend, according to the Student Union Social Commission. Badin captured second place and Keenan placed third in the competition.

A lot of big corporations offer you a big title. But how many offer a young college graduate a really important job? As a Navy Officer, you don’t have to wait to do a job that counts. We give you one as soon as you’ve earned your commission. A job with responsibility for the lives of others, and for millions of dollars of complex equipment. A job that requires skill and leadership. A job that Navy Officers have been doing proudly for 200 years.

As a Navy Officer, you don’t have to wait to do a job that counts. We give you one as soon as you’ve earned your commission. A job with responsibility for the lives of others, and for millions of dollars of complex equipment. A job that requires skill and leadership. A job that Navy Officers have been doing proudly for 200 years.

If that’s the kind of job you’re looking for, speak to a Navy recruiter. You’ll find that Navy Officers have unequalled opportunities like Nuclear Power, Aviation, and Engineering. Or call toll free 800-841-8000. (In Georgia, toll free 800-342-6835.) Early responsibility. It’s what being a Navy Officer is all about.

NAVY OFFICERS GET RESPONSIBILITY THE MOMENT YOU GET THE STRIPES.

A group of nuns is trying to use their influence as shareholders in the Campbell Soup Company to force the corporation to improve the situation of the migrant workers.

The Ohio Farmworkers Support Committee will focus their efforts toward Catholic secondary and elementary schools. Many schools encourage their students to collect Campbell’s soup labels which the company will redeem for school equipment. The committee will try to persuade the schools to end their support of the company.
Town & Country Liquors

wants your business

that's why we offer

10% DISCOUNT on ALL wine, liquor & beer

for all ND & SMC students & faculty

PLUS

Ideal gift

The Hesburgh Papers: Higher Values in Higher Education

by Rev. Theodore Hesburgh

500 million

UN reports on malnourished and Agriculture Organization.

"It is my sad duty to report that on the basis of most criteria, the situation has determined further in the last two years — it is in fact grim," said

Director-General Edward

Saguma in a speech opening the 146-nation FAO conference this week.

"Even if we make the most enormous efforts to increase food and agricultural production, ' some 250 million still will be starving by the year 2000, says a major report prepared for the agency.

"Giving the people who are severely undernourished enough to eat would take only

40 to 60 million tons of wheat a year if the food actually reached those in need," says a World

Food Council report. That is less than 3 to 3 percent of present world grain consumption or 10 to 15 percent of the cereals fed to livestock in developed countries.

The Undergraduate Student Council for the College of Science will sponsor the film
"No Act of God," Monday at 7:30 p.m. in the Library Auditorium. Produced by the National Film Board of Canada, the film claims to be an impartial discussion of the advantages and problems associated with nuclear power as an energy source. An open discussion will follow the half-hour movie with Dr. Paul Kenney, professor of Physics, and Dr. John Lucery, professor of Engineering. The film and discussion is open to the public without charge.

The presentation will include slides from Nicaragua. There is no admission charge. The lecture is sponsored by the Center for Experiential Learning and CADENA

plans talk

Fr. Peter Hinde and Sr. Betty Campbell, both recently returned from Nicaragua will speak on "Nicaragua: Revolution and Reconstruction" Sunday at 8 p.m. in the Library

Lounge.

Hard to find Records?

Go to

Just for the Record, whose new specialty

recordmart (thousands of collectors albums and cutouts) will open SOON at

LOEWS Merchandise Mart

Next to bus station, downtown

$2.00 OFF

Get $2.00 off any Family Size pizza with this coupon. Limit one coupon per pizza ordered. No other offer valid.

Expires 11/22/79

303 E. Ireland Rd. South Bend
317 E. Emitter Rd. South Bend
420 N. Nappanee Elkhart
The Observer
Friday, November 16, 1979 - page 17

Last night in Galvin

Jaki discusses 'The Creation'

by Tim Vercellotti

The relationship between God and man, and the entire course of a lecture delivered by Fr. Stanley Jaki in Galvin Auditorium last night.

"Science and Religion: The Cosmic Connection"

The talk, entitled "Science and Religion: The Cosmic Connection," took into account several scientific theories supporting the creation of the universe. These theories address questions such as religion and science, and how they are interrelated in the development of the universe. The main idea behind Jaki's connection of religion and science was that the universe is indeed an ordered place. Although the universe is not an accident, the work of a Supreme Being. Fr. Jaki, who named the universe as a embryo, still in the process of development.

The noted lecturer supported his ideas on the science-religion connection with the Kelvin theory, and other widely accepted theories on the creation of the universe. Two schools of thought, science and religion, were not always placed together by scholars. Jaki noted that fifty years ago the two facets were at war with each other. According to the professor from Saint Mary's University, it is only the relatively recent conflation of science and religion in theology curriculums that has brought about a reconciliation.

Fr. Jaki has been called one of the most prolific Catholic writers in the United States today.

Despite non-profit status,
University faces IRS audits

by Stephen Sharp

For the past three weeks, the Internal Revenue Service has been taking advantage of a 1977 law which allows it free access to almost all Notre Dame financial records. In addition to their usual audit of payroll tax returns, the IRS is checking into the university's gross income, receipts, and disbursements. Although they operate relatively tax-free, universities and other non-profit organizations must file annual information forms with the IRS.

"We have federal auditors in almost every week, but this is the first time that we have done such an extensive audit," said Father John, vice-president for Business Affairs. "But any time auditors are in, we breathe easier when they leave," Mason said.

Irish searches for new home

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — After 13 years in captivity for the advancement of science, Irish, the female bear has been given an eviction notice. He has been separated from the wild, and it looks as if finding more civilized lodging will be difficult.

Irish's home has been the Naval Arctic Research Laboratory on the coast of the Arctic Ocean since he and a sister were brought here as orphaned 3-month-old cubs by Eskimo hunters. The sister has since died.

The federal government is phasing out the 32-year-old Arctic facility here on Alaska's north shore, well above the Arctic Circle.

No problems are expected in finding 600 homes for most of the other, 100 Arctic animals kept at the laboratory. But Irish, on the downhill side of life and luckless to the ladies, is a different story.

"Irish is 13 1/2 years old, and he's been with a female with the exception of three years, and they took him away so he could have a corner to himself," said Dr. Gary Laursen, research director of the lab.

"He probably would not do well in any home, up to 15 years more.

Irish's size, 995 pounds, is another logistical strike against him, said Laursen. "We'd probably have to fly him out in a special cage in a D-316. It would cost something, for sure, but it's not a feat that couldn't be handled.

He cannot be returned to the ice floes. "He'd probably wander off and come back to town where he would undoubtedly die," Laursen said. "He's never had to develop the skills to exist in the wild, he wouldn't be able to fish, to feed himself."

Irish probably has a home for another 10 months, Laursen said. But not many responses have come in from zoos where inquiries have been made on Irish's behalf, and those received are not encouraging.

(continued from page 1)

pointments until Dec. 3 because of "slight fatigue and illness." Iran's acting foreign minister, Abolhassan Bani Sadr, suggested Wednesday that the non-American hostages might be freed by the weekend. Yesterday he told CBS radio that "we are talking not only to all women and "blacks" would be freed for the first time. At present, he has brought nothing questionable to the University's attention.

"By any time auditors are in, we breathe easier when they leave," Mason said.

The Notre Dame Glee Club recently completed an album of sacred songs recorded in Sacred Heart Church for release in the middle of next semester. (Photo by Rick Dohring)

If you are interested in chairing the SENIOR CLASS TRIP for St. Mary's pick up an application form from the Student Activities Office in LeMans. Return by Tuesday, Nov. 20

Any questions call Susie Eckelkamp 284-4871

the N I A Z Z presents

Fri 16th
LaFortune Lunchtime Concert (11:45-1)
Gene Barbenera
Jeanne Ritter Mike Daly (9-1)

Sat 17th
Mickey Mallardi Gene Barbenera and the debut of Jim Greselbradt et al.
Admission free in the basement of LaFortune sponsored by NDSU Social Comm.
Country goes 'Cold Turkey'

(AP)-Millions of Americans tried to go "Cold Turkey" yesterday, giving up cigarettes for 24 hours in the third annual "Great American Smokeout." There were pledges and parades, celebrities and slogans. Anything to keep from pulling out the stop smoking for a day and you can stop smoking for the rest of your life," said Bob Smith, the Buffalo Bob from the old Howdy Doody television show and the Florida State chairman for the smokeout.

Smith, who quit cigarettes 12 years ago on his doctor's advice, stood on the steps of the courthouse in Miami yesterday, asking passersby to sign no-smoking pledges.

The American Cancer Society, which sponsored the smokeout, estimated that 15 million people—a little more than one-fourth of the cigarette smokers in the country—planned to participate in yesterday's program. The American Cancer Society, which sponsored the smokeout, estimated that 15 million people—a little more than one-fourth of the cigarette smokers in the country—planned to participate in yesterday's program. The Society also estimated that 5 million people would make it through the day without lighting up.

Some 14 million people joined last year's smokeout and a survey for the Cancer Society showed that 3.6 million of them went without cigarettes for the full 24-hour period. No figures were available on how many people kicked the habit for good as a result of the smokeout, but the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare estimates that 30 million people have given up cigarettes since 1964.

Activities in Washington, D.C., were highlighted by a noon rally at Lafayette Park, opposite the White House. Speakers included the senator general, Julius Richmond. Smoker organizations in Waukegan, Ill., staged a mock hanging to mark the day. The victim was a 6-foot cigarette named Nicholas Oliver, Tennessean. A pose of local residents dressed like cowboys led the paper and wire cigarette on horseback to the hanging tree.

"Noxine has been convicted of doing in the residents of the community for years," said Jean Jordan, the local Cancer Society field representative. "The American Cancer Society doesn't want to alienate people who smoke, but cancer comes wrapped in a cigarette and we fight cancer."

Events in North Carolina, the nation's largest tobacco-producing state, were low key. The Cancer Society said it was encouraged, however, by the fact that 25 of the group's 104 local chapters planned some type of smokeout activity this year, compared to only two last year.

Jim Graham, the North Carolina Agricultural Commissioner and a smoker of cigars, cigarettes, and a pipe, said: "No promotion or pressure group is going to intimidate me into doing myself one of the pleasures of my life. At the same time, I'm not going to set yells up as a committee of one to try to force people to stop. I simply leave people alone and let them make a few decisions for themselves."

The national chairman of the smokeout is actor Edward Asner. He quit during last year's event and says he hasn't smoked since.

Freshman Council sponsors raffle

The functions of the Freshman Advisory Council are to present academic problems to the Freshman Year of Studies and to plan social events and service projects for the Class of 1983. In light of this last purpose, the FAC is sponsoring a Thanksgiving Day Raffle with a $50.00 certificate of credit at the Notre Dame Bookstore as the prize.

All the proceeds from the raffle will be used to buy food baskets to be given to needy families in the South Bend area on Thanksgiving. Chances are 1 for $1 and can be bought from the Freshman Advisory Council representatives in each dorm.

The drawing for the Bookstore certificate will be on Monday at 7 p.m. in the LaFortune Ballroom.

The 1979-80 Notre Dame Freshman Advisory Council officers are: President, Robert Powers; representative, Jane Keenan; Vice-Presidet Derrick Campbell; representative from Pangborn; Secretary-Treasurer, Jane Truelove; representatives from Lanes, Alice Genter, two representatives to the Saint Mary's Freshman Council, Bob Velich, representative from Carmen, and Polly Hukill, representative from Walsh.

Other members of the Council are: Andy Lyke (Alumni), Christy Dasek (Badin), Jane Barlow (Brooks Phillips), Mike McAuliffe (Carroll), Greg Lezynski (Dillon), Laurie Reynolds (Fayler), John Campana (Fisher), Tom Han- nouch (Flaherty), Tony Ramos (Grace), Steve Cansi (Holy Cross), Rick Garcia (Howard), Kathy Callahan (Lewis), Tim Harrigan (Merriss), Dean Jacob (St. Edward's), Mo Ruggiero (Sorin), Greg Miller (Stanford), Mike Kilty (Zahn), and Eileen O'Meara (O'Farrill).
Meany bids AFL-CIO farewell

WASHINGTON (AP) - George Meany, the gruff and powerful voice for a generation of working people, bowed to the need for change yesterday with a call for new leaders and policies to keep the AFL-CIO up with the changing world.

The AFL-CIO, which Meany helped forge in 1955 and ruled ever more tightly ever since, is retiring 83-year-old labor leader said in a farewell address to an emotion-swept federation convention.

But "the labor movement cannot be content with defending the status quo or reliving past glories," said Meany, who long has been criticized for failing to keep the AFL-CIO up with changing times. "We must constantly look to the future, develop new leadership, adapt policies to changing conditions and new technologies.

A gaunt and ashen Meany, confined to a wheelchair, thanked the 1,030 delegates attending the opening convention session "for the highest honor that could be paid any worker who has built this nation."

Although Meany's long stewardship over the 13.6 million member AFL-CIO has been criticized for not altering the federation's policies, there is little evidence so far at the convention that delegates would heed Meany's call for new policies, at least immediately.

The delegates, many weeping with Meany, roared back in tribute to him, and he, his face sunken, waved back. When he tried to gavel the convention to an end, the delegates, for once, refused to give the iron-willed labor patriarch his way.

There will be a new leader, AFL-CIO Secretary-Treasurer Lane Kirkland, Meany's protege and hand-picked successor.

Kirkland, 57, and his new aide Thomas R. Donahue, are already ends his 57-year labor career.

The convention responded with a long, whistling ovation. Delegates applauding Meany, roared back in tribute to him, and he, his face sunken, waved back. When he tried to gavel the convention to an end, the delegates, for once, refused to give the iron-willed labor patriarch his way.
Sports Briefs

Pep rally tonight

The final pep rally of the 1979 football season will be held this evening, at 7 p.m., in the N explosion Center. Featured speakers include poet Tim Foley, Ted Horansky, Scott Zezek, and offensive line coach Brian Boulac.

Cheg I wins tourney

The Engineering Basketball League recently completed their annual fall tournament. Twenty-four teams set their sights on the championship, but Cheg I emerged as the top team in the tourney. Composed of six chemical engineering majors, Cheg I defeated Arkell in the finals 21-17. Members of the winning team were: Skip Mark, Dan McKernan, Jim Fontana, Joe Casalino, Paul Deangelis, and John Kuzan.

Rollerskiers come to ND

Five rollerskiers, sponsored by the National Collegiate Ski Association (NCSA) will be arriving at Notre Dame this Sunday. They are skiing cross country from Oregon to New York to raise money for the United States Olympic Ski team. The group will present a slide show of the 2200 miles they have skied thus far on Sunday at 6 p.m. in the Little Theatre in LaFortune, and will be available afterwards for questions and demonstrations. All interested skiers and non-skiers are welcome to attend.

Bostock trial continues

CROWN POINT, Ind. (AP)—Three Psychiatrists were set to testify today in the second trial of Leonard Smith, charged with killing California Angels outfielder Lyman Bostock.

The doctors were the last for the court. Both the prosecution and defense rested their cases yesterday, and Lake Superior Judge James Kimbrough said he expected the case to go to the jury today.

The prosecution and defense both lined up witnesses who had testified in the first trial. However, the defense did not have Smith testify this time.

Bostock, visiting friends in Gary where he once lived, was wounded seriously Sept. 13, 1978, as he sat in a car with the defendant’s wife and her sister.

... Ryan

[continued from page 21]

League to win 21 games.

In declaring his free agent status, Ryan said the neatness of the Astrodome to his hometown. Ryan was an important consideration.

Houston has everything int his power to sign me,” he said.

... Final

[continued from page 24]

last Sunday and threw a touchdown pass, will engineer the Big Red attack. He’ll receive help from Dan Crowley, who caught three passes for 108 years last week and Kevin Kenny, who piled up 108 yards rushing against Stanford.

For Morrisey, three starer Jam Byren will call the signals. He passed for 60 yards in last week’s victory over Holy Cross. He’ll also have a strong herd of running backs behind him, a backfield that gained 120 yards last week.

Dillon (5-0-1) and Morrissey (5-1-0) both exhibit the tough, "in the trenches" style of defense. The Big Red has recorded five shutouts this year, and Morrisey has chalked up four of their own.

Happy Birthday

Spagetti, you Wild Texan Alligator!!

from Frozen Margarita Breath

TGIF Happy Hour

25¢ Beer 50¢ Drinks

Free Snacks!
Ryan may become (Astro) domer

HOUSTON (AP) - The Houston Astros were not talking yesterday, but there was indication Nolan Ryan, the strikeout artist who grew up on schoolboy diamonds 26 miles for the Astrodome, will sign a four-year Astro contract for a reported $4 million-plus.

Ryan, at his home in nearby Alvin, would only say that he has one team in mind.

"I'm not going to comment on the team," he said. "I'll let the club make its own announcement. But I've made up my mind, you can say that."

Houston was one of 12 clubs to select Ryan, 21-year-old righthander, in the recent free agent draft, but the other only serious contenders reportedly have been the New York Yankees, Texas Rangers, and Milwaukee Brewers.

The Houston Post reported yesterday the contract signing will be Monday, but John McMullen, the Astros owner, and Bill Virdon, the field manager, indicated no knowledge of such plans.

McMullen, a New York shipbuilder, said no deal had been made with Ryan, but acknowledged he plans to fly to Houston this afternoon for an afternoon meeting with his partners.

"I'll stay over a few days," McMullen said. Virdon, in Springfield, Mo., said he know nothing definite about a contract, but said Ryan would be, in Houston, joining a pitching staff the includes J.R. Richard, the National League strikeout leader at 313. Ryan was 16-14 with the California Angels. Richard was 18-13, and teammate Joe Niekro, at 21-11, was the only National [continued on page 24]

Sponsored by Excel

SMC swimmers open

by Deidre Grant
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's swimming team will travel to George Williams College in West Chicago, Ill., as they open what could be a season of high hopes will be a promising season.

Smith is beginning his first year at Saint Mary's, and has been concentrating on organizing and getting to know his team.

The Bees had their largest number cut to 17, and Smith is still choosing his first team swimmers.

"The girls are trying hard and having a lot of fun during this organizational period for the team," Smith commented.

Veteran divers Patty Magee and Sara Weger return, and Smith also feels that Kears Carey and Eva Caestein should be two promising swimmers this year. He is quick to point out that non-final decisions have been made about the first team, and that much more will be known about the individuals after tomorrow's meet.

The team has been encountering some early problems, as the pool at Regina Hall, where the Bees usually practice, has been cut to two lanes a week, thus couldn't be practiced. The swimmers attempted to practice at a nearby pool, but many could not be contacted or made transportation arrangements.

[continued from page 24]

Notre Dame soccer team.

"Tim represents perfectly what this award means," commented Hunter. "He did whatever we asked of him whenever was needed and his greatest reward was helping the team win."

The approximately 150 people who attended the affair were treated to a Polish-style dinner as well as numerous speakers including Athletic Director Edward "Moose" Krause and his assistant, Colonel John Stephenson. In the evening's featured speech, Sports Information and Assistant Athletic Director Roger Valdeso told the audience that "life is a series of emotions--highs and lows, winning and losing--and athletics, while only a microcosm of life, teaches us how to better cope with these emotions."

The evening conclude with the remaining player awards including: Paul Devereaux--spirit award; John Milligan--most improved; Kevin Lovejoy--strikeout leader at 313. Ryan was 16-14 with the California Angels. Richard was 18-13, and teammate Joe Niekro, at 21-11, was the only National [continued on page 20]

WIN

AU-BOWL OR BUCKS ($400)

ELKHART MEMORIAL HIGH SCHOOL
California Road (an extension of Day Road)

ELKHART CONCERT CLUB

presents

Bluegrass

J.D. Crowe & The New South

November 17, 1979...8 pm

Tickets: Elkhart Truth - • Templins
* River City Records - • Imperial Music
* at door or Call 293-9619

SPONSORED BY EXCEL
The Observer
Friday, November 16, 1979 - page 22

Molarity
by Michael Molinelli

by McClure/Byrnes

Pigeons
by McClure/Byrnes

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
abbr. abbr.
3. Originally 41. Atlantic initiation abbr.
4. Rove to 42. Texas
the Rhine 43. Break or
5. Well-red 44. Rappoppo one, for 45. Island tart 46. Alaskan
6. Native of 47. Stove
Gyana 48. Naples
7. A Horatio 49. Medium
10. Taylor's 52. Of iron 53. Exchange
19. Car overseas 54. Solder
11. Car overseas 55. Exchange
12. Castle, 56. Range fuel
13. Castle, 57. A Calhoun
15. Allen 59. Baseball
17. Allen 60. Range fuel
18. Pope 60. Range fuel
19. Allen 61. Baseball
20. Pope 61. Baseball
23. Allen 63. Lance
24. Pope 64. Silkworm
25. Allen 65. — of March
26. Pope 66. In a dessert
27. Allen 67. Store type:
28. Pope 68. Duryea of
29. Allen 69. Old
30. Pope 70. Old
31. Allen 71. Old
32. Pope 72. Old
33. Allen 73. Pope
34. Pope 74. Allen
35. Pope 75. Allen
36. Pope 76. Allen
37. Pope 77. Allen
38. Pope 78. Allen
39. Pope 79. Allen
40. Pope 80. Allen
41. Pope 81. Allen
42. Pope 82. Allen
43. Pope 83. Allen
44. Pope 84. Allen
45. Pope 85. Allen
46. Pope 86. Allen
47. Pope 87. Allen
48. Pope 88. Allen
49. Pope 89. Allen
50. Pope 90. Allen
51. Pope 91. Allen
52. Pope 92. Allen
53. Pope 93. Allen
54. Pope 94. Allen
55. Pope 95. Allen
56. Pope 96. Allen
57. Pope 97. Allen
58. Pope 98. Allen
59. Pope 99. Allen
60. Pope 100. Allen

Down
1. Sylph 1. Sylph
2. Still on 2. Still on
3. Cape's 3. Cape's
4. Spit 4. Spit
5. Diver 5. Diver
6. Local 6. Local
7. Ears 7. Ears
8. Dims 8. Dims

The Observer
Friday, November 16, 1979 - page 22

Basketball

Hoosiers picked number one

(AP) Indiana University narrowly beat Kentucky for the top spot in the Associated Press pre-season basketball poll, which was announced yesterday.

The Hoosiers of the Big Ten won by 12 points over Kentucky of the Southwestern Conference, 974 to 962. It was one of the closest and most balanced voting in recent years.

Indiana drew 31 ballots for the No. 1 spot, in the nationwide voicing by sports writers and broadcasters. Kentucky attracted 11 and Duke had seven.

No team in the voting topped 1,000 points, usually the prerequisite for the leading school in the poll. And only one team-Duke-was named on all 31 ballots.

Ohio State, also of the Big Ten, received as many first-place ballots as the Hoosiers, but only 936 points. Notre Dame pulled in nine first-place votes and was ranked fifth.

North Carolina, DePaul, UCLA, and Purdue were the only other teams to receive first place votes.

The Top Twenty teams in the Associated Press pre-season basketball poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, last season's record and total points.

1. Indiana (1) 20-12 1974
2. Kentucky (11) 20-12 1974
4. Ohio State (14) 19-13 1974
5. Notre Dame (6) 25-6 1974
7. Louisville State 21-7 1974
8. UCLA (11) 23-7 1974
10. LaSalle 25-5 1974
11. Providence 26-5 1974
12. Syracuse 26-5 1974
13. Virginia 25-6 1974
15. Brigham Young 20-10 1974
17. Georgia State 18-13 1974
18. Marquette 12-7 1974
19. Georgetown DC 10-13 1974
20. Kansas 12-7 1974

The N.D. Student Players

"Stop the World--I Want to Get Off!"

8pm Washington Hall
Nov. 16, 17 $1.50

The Colonial
PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

Our Specialty
Oven-Baked Apple Pancakes
Our Specialty using fresh sliced apples
topped with a sugar cinnamon glaze
never surpassed!

G. S. 31 (DeKalb) North to Roseland
1-205-9083 Chestnut Hill 1-205-9083
Dearborn 1-205-9083

The Daily Crossword

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved

© 1979 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Syndic. Inc.
All Rights Reserved

11/16/79

The Colonial
PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

Our Specialty
Oven-Baked Apple Pancakes
Our Specialty using fresh sliced apples
topped with a sugar cinnamon glaze
never surpassed!

G. S. 31 (DeKalb) North to Roseland
1-205-9083 Chestnut Hill 1-205-9083
Dearborn 1-205-9083

The Colonial
PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

Our Specialty
Oven-Baked Apple Pancakes
Our Specialty using fresh sliced apples
topped with a sugar cinnamon glaze
never surpassed!

G. S. 31 (DeKalb) North to Roseland
1-205-9083 Chestnut Hill 1-205-9083
Dearborn 1-205-9083

The Colonial
PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

Our Specialty
Oven-Baked Apple Pancakes
Our Specialty using fresh sliced apples
topped with a sugar cinnamon glaze
never surpassed!

G. S. 31 (DeKalb) North to Roseland
1-205-9083 Chestnut Hill 1-205-9083
Dearborn 1-205-9083

The Colonial
PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

Our Specialty
Oven-Baked Apple Pancakes
Our Specialty using fresh sliced apples
topped with a sugar cinnamon glaze
never surpassed!

G. S. 31 (DeKalb) North to Roseland
1-205-9083 Chestnut Hill 1-205-9083
Dearborn 1-205-9083

The Colonial
PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

Our Specialty
Oven-Baked Apple Pancakes
Our Specialty using fresh sliced apples
topped with a sugar cinnamon glaze
never surpassed!

G. S. 31 (DeKalb) North to Roseland
1-205-9083 Chestnut Hill 1-205-9083
Dearborn 1-205-9083

The Colonial
PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

Our Specialty
Oven-Baked Apple Pancakes
Our Specialty using fresh sliced apples
topped with a sugar cinnamon glaze
never surpassed!

G. S. 31 (DeKalb) North to Roseland
1-205-9083 Chestnut Hill 1-205-9083
Dearborn 1-205-9083
Lost & Found

need to find BOSTON to L.A. bus tickets.

Lost to Trend to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.

Lost to Brigham/BU.
Irish muscle past Soviets, 86-76

by Paul Madalene
Assistant Sports Editor

Alexandr Gomelsky, coach of the Soviet Union National hockey team, had little to be pleased with after his team’s 86-76 setback to Notre Dame All-American perimeter shooting that had the Americans pulling to within two, 38-36, at the half and outscored the Fighting Irish 35-38 in the second stanza.

“Bobby Knight said that I didn’t make the Pan American team because I played too well,” offered Tripucka. “Well, I hope Bobby was watching tonight.”

Crotty named soccer MVP

by Frank LaGrutta
Sports Writer

Tom Crotty was named the 1979 Notre Dame National soccer team’s most valuable player at the senior banquet Wednesday night at the South Bend American Legion Hall. The senior co-captain, who started at the sweeper position for the Irish, was a defensive stalwart for Coach Rich Hunter’s team and received his award through a vote of his teammates.

“The senior co-captain, who starred at the up-sweeper position Wednesday night at the South Bend American Legion Hall, had little to be pleased with after his team’s 86-76 setback to Notre Dame All-American perimeter shooting that had the Americans pulling to within two, 38-36, at the half and outscored the Fighting Irish 35-38 in the second stanza.

“Bobby Knight said that I didn’t make the Pan American team because I played too well,” offered Tripucka. “Well, I hope Bobby was watching tonight.”

Crotty named soccer MVP

by Frank LaGrutta
Sports Writer

Tom Crotty was named the 1979 Notre Dame National soccer team’s most valuable player at the senior banquet Wednesday night at the South Bend American Legion Hall. The senior co-captain, who started at the sweeper position for the Irish, was a defensive stalwart for Coach Rich Hunter’s team and received his award through a vote of his teammates.

“When you’re hot, you’re hot. They were slamming off of me a little in the second half, and I just took advantage of it.”

The Irish also took advantage of a strong board game, outrebounding the Soviet Olympic squad, 35-25.

“This is the first time that I have lost in rebounding,” said Gomelsky of his team’s effort.

“I think my boys are tired. It is difficult to travel. When you play four games in 26 days, you steal and three each day. We’re a little tired.”

The Soviets were also foul-prone in the contest. Three Russian front-runners exhausted themselves with five fouls, including seven-foot, four-inch center Vladimir Tkachenko. The 21-year-old Soviet pivot fouled his squad with 25 points, but spent most of the second half on the bench with four fouls.

“We felt we would go with three guns on Tkachenko,” said Phelps. “We would alternate (Glenda) Woodrige, Malcolm Salinas, and (Tim) Andree against him, so we have 13 fouls to use up. I think we did a pretty good job in containing him tonight.”

“Offensively, we wanted to put Tripucka outside to bring over brooms all week.”

While the Irish only shot 37.5 percent from the field in the contest, four Rich Branning basket attempts and three Jack Salinas, and (Tim) Andree had 10 point. We were ready to shoot over the big people. We have been shooting enough,” said Kelly, “I was worried about our rebounding tonight. We felt we would go with three guns on Tkachenko, and Phelps. ‘We would alternate (Glenda) Woodrige, Malcolm Salinas, and (Tim) Andree against him, so we have 13 fouls to use up. I think we did a pretty good job in containing him tonight.’

“We offensively, we wanted to put Tripucka outside to bring over brooms all week.”

While the Irish only shot 37.5 percent from the field in the contest, four Rich Branning basket attempts and three Jack Salinas, and (Tim) Andree had 10 point. We were ready to shoot over the big people. We have been shooting enough,” said Kelly, “I was worried about our rebounding tonight. We felt we would go with three guns on Tkachenko, and Phelps. ‘We would alternate (Glenda) Woodrige, Malcolm Salinas, and (Tim) Andree against him, so we have 13 fouls to use up. I think we did a pretty good job in containing him tonight.’

“In an emotional moment, Crotty thanked his teammates, coaches and friends for the award and concluded that, “the trophies and plaques don’t really matter—I feel lucky just to have known you great people,”

Crotty’s award was the high-light of the program which [continued on page 21]