Reported by Susan Tamorini, assistant director of Security, while Joan McCarthy, the only resident of the room at the time, tried to extinguish the fire with a fire extinguisher.

Anthony Kovatch, director of security, had no comment.

The response of Saint Mary's Security and students to a fire Friday evening in Holy Cross Hall has raised questions about the efficiency of the College's emergency procedures.

The fire began at 5:15 p.m. on the fourth floor of the dorm, according to Susan Tamorini, the hall director. Kim Kearney, the only student of the dorm at the time, tried to extinguish the fire while other students reported it to Assistant Director of Security Chris Morello, who was on duty at the hall's front desk.

Morris called Saint Mary's Security, while Joan McCarthy pulled the alert, alarming the Notre Dame Fire Department. Security called the South Bend Fire Department at 5:21. The city responded with four emergency vehicles. Notre Dame sent one truck. The vehicles arrived at 5:33.

Batelle Geyer, president of the hall and a resident of the room, said she stared in a twister waste paper basket, "probably as a result of a cigarette butt thrown into the trash can."

A woman in the section complained that Security arrived at Holy Cross "fifteen to twenty minutes after having been notified." They proceeded up the elevator to the fire, which Kearney had extinguished.

Security said in their report that their attempt to clear the dorm of the residents was slow due to the lack of cooperation by the students.

Most students responded to the alarm in a "nonsensical manner, dangerous fire procedure," a resident commented. "A girl with a head cold problem was asleep, and no one bothered to check and make sure that she had gotten out," another student complained.

Kinky Hawk has reached the Arabian Sea area, joining another carrier task force. The Navy sent the ships, carrying more than 100 planes, within reach of the entrance of the Persian Gulf.

President Carter has warned Iran of "extremely grave" consequences if the hostages are harmed, and U.S. officials say a trial of the diplomats would be an even more grievous violation of international law than the hostage seizure itself.

The report of threats to shoot hostages came from a White House official in Washington.

The official, who asked not to be identified, said there have been "threatened with execution if they fail to cooperate with their captors."

He said it could be assumed "I don't mean cooperation just... in routine matters."

The warning of an upcoming trial of the hostages as "spies" came from Iran's acting foreign minister, Sadegh Ghotbzadeh.

Iranian revolutionary leader Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini had previously said that the hostages would be tried as spies if the United States does not return the exiled Shah Mohammad Reza Pahlavi for trial. But Ghotbzadeh was quoted by Iranian state television yesterday as saying "the hostages will be tried for sure."

If the hostages will be punished according to the verdict, they could be sentenced to death - would depend on Iran's leader, Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, said it could be assumed "I don't mean cooperation just... in routine matters."

The Iranian account of the interview with the French newspaper Le Figaro differed slightly from the version published by Le Figaro. In that, Ghotbzadeh said that the American hostages were due to arrive in a "man manner consistent with the American constitution." He said it could be assumed "I don't mean cooperation just... in routine matters."

Previously, Iran threatened "to execute them if they did not cooperate."
News in brief

UAW rejects Senate bill to freeze wages

Grass-roots leaders of United Auto Workers union members who work for Chrysler Corp. rejected a Senate bill calling for a three-year wage freeze in reurn for government aid to the faltering company. "They simply believed it was too great a price to pay," Douglas Fraser, union president, told reporters after a closed meeting with members of the union's Chrysler Council, made up of leaders from union locals at Chrysler plants. Fraser said delegates at the meeting "unanimously rejected the notion of a three-year freeze." He said the possibility of a shorter freeze was not discussed, but said the union would consider other concessions to Chrysler.

Mobil refinery fire 'rages out of control

About 10 firefighters battled a raging Mobil Oil Corp. refinery fire following an explosion that left on Mobil employee dead and six persons injured, two critically. Deputy Fire Chief Richard Sprout said firefighters planned to inject fire retardant foam into the bottom of the 86,000-barrel-capacity gasoline tank still burning more than 15 hours after it erupted Monday night. Approximately 360 people were evacuated from the refinery, nearby farms and homes after the initial explosion sent a huge fireball into the air about 6 p.m. Monday.

Iranian spokesmen criticize Carter's tactics

Lawyers for Iranian students argued today that President Carter is harming innocent people by his order to deport Iranian students who are in the United States illegally. One attorney, Eric M. Lieberman, told a federal judge that Carter has no right to single out Iranians for deportation even though he fears that violence against the students here could result in harm to U.S. hostages in Tehran. The arguments before U.S. District Judge Joyce Hens Green were on two suits filed on behalf of Iranian students in the United States who are fighting a presidential order directing immigration officials to deport Iranian students who are in this country illegally.

Weather

Windy with increasing cloudiness Wednesday. Twenty percent chance of showers Wednesday afternoon. Highs in the mid to upper 40s. Mostly cloudy Wednesday night and Thursday. Lows Wednesday night in the upper 20s to low 30s. Highs Thursday in the upper 30s to low 40s.

Winter

bike storage begins today

Bike storage at the football stadium will be today and tomorrow from 1-4 p.m. at gate 14. Bikes must be registered at the Lost and Found Office, room 212 of the Administration Building, and must also have a serial number.

Producer bases movie on Chappaquiddick

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Promotor Glenn Sternell once tried to produce a movie called "Preemies" starring Cary Grant. Now Sternell has started work on what he says will be an $800,000 "documentary" called "Chappaquiddick." The story of a 1969 auto mobile accident in which a 28-year-old campaign worker drowned in a car driven by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy would be ready for distribution next summer, during the heat of a presidential campaign that could involve the Massachusetts Democrats. The movie, if completed, will be Sternell's first and one of the new kind of Hollywood movies, produced for less than $1.5 million and intended for distribution to drive-ins and suburban theaters. "I've even started production," reports the actor-turned-producer. "On Oct. 1, I began filming background shots at Chappaquiddick itself, including the bridge." "Will the picture be pro-Kennedy? That's up to the people who see it to decide. I'm not slanting it one way or the other. This is not a crappot movie. And I'm not going to stake my political views. I'm not going to be a Jane Fonda.

...Dissent

...automatically commanded influence. They still do, but you've elected a great many more blacks to public office, more blacks are involved in party affairs, and all these are expressing a natural independence of thinking," Graves said.

Ruth Maran, the president's southern coordinator, said she sees among black voters "a growing independence from traditional politics. I've seen some evidence of affluent blacks moving to the Republican party, and some middle-aged, middle-income blacks exercising more leadership and exerting political independence. "It's too early to say where they're going to be come Election Day, but I think that this leadership sits down and looks at alternatives, they'll still be behind the president," she said.

...HEW

[continued from page 3]

(continued from page 3]

sick of like the white vote - so independence. They still do, but you've elected a great many more blacks to public office, more blacks are involved in party affairs, and all these are expressing a natural independence of thinking," Graves said.

Ruth Maran, the president's southern coordinator, said she sees among black voters "a growing independence from traditional politics. I've seen some evidence of affluent blacks moving to the Republican party, and some middle-aged, middle-income blacks exercising more leadership and exerting political independence. "It's too early to say where they're going to be come Election Day, but I think that this leadership sits down and looks at alternatives, they'll still be behind the president," she said.

to freeze wages

also zippers, shoe repairing, polishing, Orthopedic Specialist, quick service, reasonable price Notre Dame Campus 283-1144 Open 8to 5 Mon.-Fri. and 8to 1 Sat.

TONY'S SHOE SHOP
repair any kind of leather goods, also zippers, shoe repairing, polishing, Orthopedic Specialist, quick service, reasonable price Notre Dame Campus 283-1144 Open 8to 5 Mon.-Fri. and 8to 1 Sat.

The Observer

On Campus Today

Wednesday, December 5, 1979

12:15 pm MASS with fr. griffin LAFORTUNE BALLROOM

12:15 pm FASTER'S MASS DILLON CHAPEL

12:15 pm SEMINAR "the mouse that soared: bringing the mouse model to bear on schizophrenia research," dr. julian pleasant GALVIN AUD.

1:30 pm MOVIE "mother teresa of calcutta" HOWARD CHAPEL

2:30 pm COLLOQUIUM "new testament models for alcoholism," joseph putsch, dir. of naval alcohol rehabilitation services HAGGAR AUD.

3:30 pm LECTURE "14th century angels and the instruments they play," dr. howard brownl CROWLEY.

4:30 pm LECTURE: structure-reason theory, from anatomy to placement to reconstruction metal complexes," prof. william herndon 123 NIEUWLAND

6:30 pm MEETING sailing club 204 O'SHAG

7 pm FOOTBALL BANQUET ACC. ARENA

7, 9, 11 pm FILM "a night at the opera." ENGR. AUD.

7:30 pm LECTURE "knot theory" prof. connolly BULLA SHEP

8 pm LECTURE "fact & value," prof. hillary punnam GALVIN AUD.

does not slanting it one way or the other. This is not a crappot movie. And I'm not going to stake my political views. I'm not going to be a Jane Fonda.

The Nazz presents . . .

Fri. Dec. 7: LaFortune Luncheime Concert with Rich Prestizo 11:45 - 1 p.m.

to that evening . . .

Mike Daly 9-10:30 p.m. Rich Prestizo and Friends 10:30 - ?

Sat. Dec. 8: Deck the Halls with THE THIRD ANNUAL CHRISTMAS NAZZ 9-?

free admission sponsored by NDSU
Inflation, dissent erode Carter's black vote

HEW announces plan to curb college sports bias

WASHINGTON (AP) - The government formally announced new guidelines for ending sex bias in college athletics, including a provision that sports scholarship money be distributed in proportion to the number of male and female athletes enrolled.

The guidelines, which supersede a tentative policy statement issued a year ago, immediately were attacked by the National Collegiate Athletic Association. But the association's spokesman, Bill Kramer, said no decision had been made

The government also will evaluate such specific factors as the provision of equipment, coaching, assignments and travel to and from games. The guidelines also require that any institution discriminate against women athletes.

But the key provision in the guidelines is the one the NCAA strongly opposes, Kramer said. It would be described as a "financial quota." The policy would require that the number of scholarships awarded male and female athletes be in proportion to the number on the roster and enforcement of these provisions will be conducted by the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division.

Education and Welfare, told reporters in announcing the guidelines:

"We will, however, compare programs to determine whether policies and practices provide equitable opportunities throughout men's and women's sports programs.

Mrs. Harris said the guidelines would "give colleges and universities maximum flexibility to develop and maintain their athletic programs while establishing clear standards for ensuring that their programs are free from sex discrimination.

The NCAA's Kramer disagreed.

"We think they ought to be doing an assessment of the total athletic program instead of applying an arbitrary financial standard," he said.

The scholarship provision is the one the NCAA strongly opposes, Kramer said. It would be described as a "financial quota."

"We're opposed to it," he said. "Exactly what we'll do, I don't know."

The guidelines are an interpretation of a general letter of the Office of Education and Welfare, of Title IX of the 1972 Education Act, which bars sex discrimination in federally assisted programs. Federal money generally does not go to college athletic programs. But the government takes the view that any attention received by a program is "financial."
Controversy arises from 'Who' catastrophe

CINCINNATI (AP) - City officials said yesterday promoters of The Who concert delayed up to one hour in opening doors to Riverfront Coliseum despite a police warning of a "potential danger" posed by thousands of waiting fans.

City Councilman Jerry Spring­er said the alleged delay was "definitely a problem" Monday night when 11 people were killed and 22 were injured by a stampede of 8000 fans, eight persons remained hospitalized yesterday.

City Safety Director Richard Castellini said police recog­nized the potential danger at 6:30 p.m., which he said was about the time doors for such an event would normally open.

"Police asked the promoter to open up but he said the group was late and that he couldn't open," Castellini said. "He was told there were not enough ticket-takers to open more than just the north bank of doors.

Springer said two banks of doors - of 16 in all - were opened on the west side of the coliseum for general admission between 7:15 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The crush occurred as waiting fans heard the band warming up and stormed the building, breaking down one door that was locked.

The surging fans trampled and suffocated others in the rush for seats. Doctors said victims suffered "foot-print" injuries, but the exact cause of death will not be known until death autopsies are completed.

The promoters, Electric Fac­tor Concerts Inc. of Philadelphia, said they would have no immediate comment on the allegation about the doors.

Earlier, the promoters said in a statement that they would have no immediate comment "due to the inclement weather." Bill Carlinblish, personal man­ager for the Who, said the doors were opened three or four minutes after 7 p.m. and the concert began on schedule by showing a clip from the group's movie, "Quadrophonia."

He said the band began playing at 8:20 p.m. as planned.

Officials said only the two banks of doors were opened on the west side because there were not enough ticket-takers to open other entrances. Those with reserved seat tick­ets were admitted first, due to an incident on the north side of the coliseum.

One convergence, Diana Cu­bert, 20, or Erlanger, Ky., said "people on the reserved side got in all right. The people on the other side didn't have a chance."

"They should have known they needed more than two doors open," she said, refer­ring to the two banks of doors.

The rock group's multiple-city U.S. tour continued Tuesday with a concert in Buffalo, N.Y.

Society postpones meeting

The December meeting of the Notre Dame Historical Society, Scheduled for tonight, has been postponed until the January meeting date.

EPA Board asks Gordon to serve

Dr. Robert E. Gordon, vice­president for advanced studies and professor of biology here, has been invited to serve a four year term on the Ecology Committee of the Science Advi­sory Board of the U.S. Environ­mental Protection Agency.

The Science Board advises the EPA administrator on the scientific aspects of environ­mental problems and issues.

The Observer

Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions and letters are the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.
HPC discusses College Bowl, alcohol surveys, visitations
by Jane Schutt

The Hall President’s Council (HPC) held its final meeting of the semester last evening to clear up loose ends before Christmas break. Discussions included the College Bowl, alcohol surveys, and high school visitation.

Ed Bylina, representative of the students in charge of the College Bowl, explained that the interhall games began last week. However, AM News is trying to make it an annual event.

Cancer’s enough to kill a man. But not if you are from Iran. So let them banners burn.

They won’t send us no more oil...

They call us the “Satans” now.

But Jimmy ought to show them how.
They can all go to Hell...
I think we could supersize.

Teheran and them theocrats
‘Cause we could blow them
into the sky.

Nuke them suckers so damned high.

They’d need a reserved ticket
to come down.

We could stop their burning
the flag.
Staff their ashes in a Hefty bag.

After hearing the first verse of the recording, a WSND disk jockey, playing the tape yesterday, called the song “in poor taste.”

Byrnes completed the lyrics a week before Thanksgiving and said he thought it was humorous and would be all the more humorous if set to music. He then approached three of his friends and eventually recorded “Iranian” with juniors Kevin McCarthy on lead guitar, Greg Butler and Jim Lanza on vocals and Byrnes on harmonica.

Murray said although Americans’ natural reaction is anger, a forgiving Christian attitude is necessary for competition. He then approached three of his friends and eventually recorded “Iranian” with juniors Kevin McCarthy on lead guitar, Greg Butler and Jim Lanza on vocals and Byrnes on harmonica.

Murray said although Americans’ natural reaction is anger, a forgiving Christian attitude is necessary for competition.

Hesburgh appoints new advisor

Attorney Newton N. Minnino, of Chicago, has been appointed to the advisory council for the University’s College of Arts and Letters by President Theodore M. Hesburgh.

Minnino formerly served on the University’s Board of Trustees for 13 years.

The Observer Wednesday, December 5, 1979 - page 5

Song gets mixed reviews
by Mary Fran Callahan Staff Reporter

In an effort to reduce the mounting tension of the Iranian situation, four Notre Dame students wrote and recorded a song entitled “Iranian in My Heart” to help generate positive reactions.

Pat Byrnes, a junior who authored the lyrics, said yesterday that students and the University Board have been commenting favorably on his song.

WSND has been playing the song since the beginning of this week. However, AM News Director Kathy Murray was unaware of the song. After listening to the recording yesterday, she commented, “I think it’s frightful that students at Notre Dame are so revengeful and speaking in such revengeful terms.”

Excuses from the song include:

Cancer’s enough to kill a man.
But not if you are from Iran.
So let them banners burn.

They won’t send us no more oil...

They call us the “Satans” now.

But Jimmy ought to show them how.
They can all go to Hell...
I think we could supersize.

Teheran and them theocrats
‘Cause we could blow them
into the sky.

Nuke them suckers so damned high.

They’d need a reserved ticket
to come down.

We could stop their burning
the flag.
Staff their ashes in a Hefty bag.

After hearing the first verse of the recording, a WSND disk jockey, playing the tape yesterday, called the song “in poor taste.”

Byrnes completed the lyrics a week before Thanksgiving and said he thought it was humorous and would be all the more humorous if set to music. He then approached three of his friends and eventually recorded “Iranian” with juniors Kevin McCarthy on lead guitar, Greg Butler and Jim Lanza on vocals and Byrnes on harmonica.

Murray said although Americans’ natural reaction is anger, a forgiving Christian attitude is necessary for competition.
Flesh and Spirit
Elizabeth Christian
William Morrow and Co., Inc. 1979

"She wondered as she had a hundred times, whether it was pleasing to God or displeasing, this urge she had to give up her own comforts, desires, vocation, her own selfishness, even to lessen another person's suffering."

This thought passes through the mind of Sister Bridg, and illustrates the internal tension of the novel Flesh and Spirit: how does the author go to give herself in a way that is pleasing to God? Sister Bridg works in the campus ministry office of a university. She is an idealist and wants to live a life that is Christ-like in every aspect. Father Potter Woods is her co-worker and tries to get Bridg to realize that one need not be completely self-sacrificing in order to please God. He insists that God wants his people to enjoy the gifts that he has bestowed upon them. "God gave you your attractive looks. It's all and us to not to use them."

Sister Bridg's conflict between desires of the flesh and of the spirit climax in her relationship with Larry Deneen. This aspect of her life is a highly moving and compassionate story of love. Sister Bridg must discern whether she would be more beneficial to the world by loving one individual completely or by loving all humankind. Bridg must identify the line that exists between choosing to suffer unnecessarily and simply following Christ.

Sister Bridg's problem is one that all devout Christians face daily. She is called to give up her life, but to do it in the way that God wants her to. The key is to discover how much God expects and wants.

"We are all in this state of uncertainty. I do not think Sister Bridg's problems are any more a nun's problems than they are any Christian's problems."

Elizabeth Christian, author of Flesh and Spirit.

Every Tuesday, deep within the glowing, crowded, back room every Wednesday, Thursday, and post-college people to a rare one games average about 15 players. Simulations Publications war games. Rules, as well as Avalon Hill and material, die and supplementary text are easily selling a game a day. "It when we opened in 1975, now we are still selling a game a day."

The Giffin is a local Headquarters for the board game crowd. Here more deals in all types of D and D resource material, die and supplementary text is as an American and Simulations Publications war games are held every week. Many games are sold to us for our back room every Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday night as well as on Saturday. Peggys. The games average about 15 players.

The players represent a fairly broad cross-section. Ages vary from High School Club to a lot of college and post-graduate students, the one over thirty. Women are the rarest of all.

Terry Linehan plays D and D on Tuesday nights. She is one of the few women who takes a board game seriously. "It's an escape, a way to play someone else without thinking too hard about it."

She thinks D and D isn't as popular with women as with men because "you have to be indoctrinated. A lot of people come over to D and D from other board games and guys are just more prone to play those than girls."

Joe Finnegan was introduced to D and D while at High School, he's been playing ever since. Joe has also been a Dungeon Master: "Dungeons and Dragons is a lot of fun. It's like an other game, you can use your imagination."

A weird sight: to walk into LaFortune and see a bunch of young adults, huddled over norpads and dice, hopscotch, cigarettes, reading off chance encounters with necromancers and firebreathing lizards. But, if you could read their minds, what a tale their thoughts could tell."

Flesh and Spirit and Long-legged Beasties
Sal Granata

Ghoulies and Ghosties and Long-legged Beasties...

Every Tuesday, deep within the glowing, crowded, back room every Wednesday, Thursday, and post-college people to a rare one games average about 15 players. Simulations Publications war games. Rules, as well as Avalon Hill and material, die and supplementary text are easily selling a game a day. "It when we opened in 1975, now we are still selling a game a day."

The Giffin is a local Headquarters for the board game crowd. Here more deals in all types of D and D resource material, die and supplementary text is as an American and Simulations Publications war games are held every week. Many games are sold to us for our back room every Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday night as well as on Saturday. Peggys. The games average about 15 players.

The players represent a fairly broad cross-section. Ages vary from High School Club to a lot of college and post-graduate students, the one over thirty. Women are the rarest of all.

Terry Linehan plays D and D on Tuesday nights. She is one of the few women who takes a board game seriously. "It's an escape, a way to play someone else without thinking too hard about it."

She thinks D and D isn't as popular with women as with men because "you have to be indoctrinated. A lot of people come over to D and D from other board games and guys are just more prone to play those than girls."

Joe Finnegan was introduced to D and D while at High School, he's been playing ever since. Joe has also been a Dungeon Master: "Dungeons and Dragons is a lot of fun. It's like an other game, you can use your imagination."

A weird sight: to walk into LaFortune and see a bunch of young adults, huddled over norpads and dice, hopscotch, cigarettes, reading off chance encounters with necromancers and firebreathing lizards. But, if you could read their minds, what a tale their thoughts could tell."

Ghoulies and Ghosties and Long-legged Beasties...
The 70's: politics, symbols and cultural graffiti

Mark Rust
photos by Michael Bigley

The Observer Wednesday, December 5, 1979 - page 7

The 70's: politics, symbols and cultural graffiti

Look at Mother Nature on the run
In the nineteen seventies
N. Young

You might have heard, sometime in the past, Simon and Garfunkel's "Silent Night," which they recorded on " Parsley, Sage, Rosemary and Thyme. " The two sing the Christmas background, standard while, in an ironic background statement, a radio-news voice fades in and, with increasing volume, reads contemporary news reports which somehow capture the futility of our modern condition. If this were radio, I think I would use the same device for this essay. Two memorable symbolic events-introductions and conclusions to the seventies—seem to summarize our decade's progress."

Perhaps the word should be "regression."

I would use these two events for their mutually central symbol: death. Deaths that capture the nation's attention do so for different reasons but always have the same effect, characterized by reflection and lessons learned. In the sixties we grew reflective in the tragedies of Martin Luther King, Robert Kennedy and John Kennedy. We still ponder Mick Jagger's cryptic commentary. I shouted out "Who killed the Kennedy?" Ah, well, after all it was you and me. We have little to work with in our pathetic central image of death in the seventies. 900 bloated, lifeless bodies in the jungles of Guyana. All of them dead from cyanide and kool-aid. Kool-aid.

900 bloated, lifeless bodies in the jungles of Guyana...

Journalists, whose job it is to record for posterity the live W's, had a hard time with the "why" part of that story. So did their readers. The march of events can be cruel to an historical period. It was cruel to the seventies.

It was cruel in many ways. We are trapped in a silly, desperate situation in Iran today because of our lack of concern for politics—or, in this case, the political and economic situation in another country. We didn't really care what the shah was up to in the seventies, and now the decade ends with a tiny, militant country, ruled by a dictator at least as ruthless as the shah, holding the people hostage and making us defend a guy who we really don't like. No wonder we don't pay attention to politics, we reason. They don't make sense.

Politics made just as little sense in the early seventies, but at least people seemed to pay attention to them. Maybe that was their mistake.

In Hunter Thompson's book, Fear and Loathing on the Campaign Trail, Hunter Humphrey's picture, itself a symbol of campaign rhetoric, is captioned by Thompson with the (I presume) fictional quote, "I was Jewish once myself." It was a non-sensical way of presenting the nonsense of politics in a year when people decided—though they didn't like Nixon—anyone could be better than a former preacher who thought Fidel was an okay guy and who ran his campaign as badly as he might have run the country.

I maybe it was the political news which, in its pathos and satire, made us turn our head to inner pursuits. Did we really want to, or we just had to, get up to the historical embarrassment of electing the only president who was forced to resign? Did we really want to think about it at all? Was there a new mood with Dick and Pat on the White House lawn—maybe just a few short words before the helicopters whisked them off to San Clemente. Then we turned the channel to the soap operas on another station. We wrung our hands over the dirty dealings of the CIA... Now we wring our hands because the CIA appears to be weak and inept.

What happened? Forget politics, we reason: it doesn't make sense.

We wrung our hands over the dirty dealings of the CIA... Now we wring our hands because the CIA appears to be weak and inept.

Four short years after we withdrew our half-hearted effort to assist one corrupt government in our war against another corrupt government in Vietnam, four short years after the resultant—and predicted—bloodbath across Southeast Asia, a little stub of a criminal named Richard Nixon became the darling of "high" New Yorkers by opening three Studio 54's: "Who's who in the art world" became the darling of "high" New Yorkers. So much so that anyone who thought Fidel was an okay guy and who ran his campaign as badly as he might have run the country.

It will be quite interesting to see the flow of seventies retrospectives as they begin to appear this month in the various publications. My guess is they will tend to refer to our decade as "The Me Decade," they will touch on all the fun we had, and their pictures will form a symbol of the cultural graffiti we've just discussed. They will, however, make few value judgements, and this says more than anything else about our decade. The willingness to make a value judgement, to separate the good from the bad and heed from the ugly, marks the first step in any change. As the seventies end it would serve us well—all of us—to make a few observaions. The good news is we have an entire decade ahead of us in which we will take our turn at running the world.

In the meantime, have a warm and peaceful Christmas.

A lot of positive things happened during the decade. We still exist as a country, our standard of living—if our quite as solid—is still high, and we all learned some lessons. Years began to flourish again, public teletvision came to our rescue, and it was possible to see a good movie every once in a while. We committed ourselves to rescuing education, we shut down a political criminal, and we rescued two shops—the Mayagües and Pablo—from a captivity very similar to the one in Iran. We began to adjust—slowly—to an oil crisis, and we decided to debate the question of abortion before dangerous precedents were carved in grantet.

new era of humanity, which had different, broader kinds of reality" other than sensory experience. He said that man's perception of himself was changing, and cited the effects of Einstein's concept of the universe as "an aggregate of non-simultaneous events" and the discovery of photosynthesis.

We seem to have the capability of consciously participating in the success of the universe,

Fuller said. Fuller described, using visual models, the concepts of tension and compression, and how his geodesic structure utilized this efficient use of opposing forces. He also demonstrated that the triangle and tetrahedron were the basic structures of the universe, and not the square, as is taught in today's schools. At one point, Fuller threw a model of the cube across the stage to make his point.

Fuller capped his speech with an anecdote about a king who overspecialization" and he offered more "comprehensive thought" as a solution. He suggested that the youth of today is less inclined to be affected by political and social authorities, saying that young people "are in love with love."

The audience responded with a standing ovation. Fuller was invited to speak by the Student Union Academic Commission. He has served as a consultant to a wide range of governmental and private agencies, and as an advisor to many intellectual and political leaders.

He has been Distinguished University Professor at Southern Illinois University since 1950, and is a fellow of the Royal Society of the Arts and the American Association to the Advancement of Science.

I t appeared from Ghotbzadeh as saying the hostage situation would be tried by the militant students holding the embassy. This was not reported in the condition of the hostages, who have been held since the U.S. Embassy in Tehran was seized by a mob on Nov. 4.

However, it was reported that militants under the orders of Khomeini, the Iranian revolutionary leader, had increased the guard at the embassy compound, apparently in anticipation of a U.S. attempt to free the hostages.

It appeared from Ghotbzadeh's remarks that the ruling Revolutionary Council was stepping up pressure by offering a Khomeini "pardon" instead of no trial as the price of the hostages' eventual freedom.

Le Figaro also quoted Ghotbzadeh as saying the hostages would be tried by the militant students holding the embassy. This was not reported by the Associated Press, and a student spokesman at the embassy immediately denied it, saying only an "Islamic revolutionary court" would have jurisdiction.

Le Figaro also quoted Ghotbzadeh as saying the hostages would be tried by the militant students holding the embassy. This was not reported by the Associated Press, and a student spokesman at the embassy immediately denied it, saying only an "Islamic revolutionary court" would have jurisdiction.

The Sociology Club will sponsor a Mini-Urban Plunge program this week in cooperation with the Justice of Peace Center in South Bend, according to Jo Ann Driscoll, co-chairman of the organizational committee for the plunge. "We want students to become aware of the social services offered in the community," Driscoll said.

The plunge is open to all Saint Mary's students and will take place today, tomorrow and Saturday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. Students may sign up to attend on any of the given afternoons. They will be given a tour of various social service centers in South Bend, such as the Urban Renewal office and an alternative school system.

The cost for the tour is $1. Driscoll explained that the idea for the mini-urban plunge originated with Mary Kay Cohan, a member of the Sociology Club and co-chairman of the organizational committee. The program was given a test run at the beginning of the year with only members of the Sociology Club being allowed to participate. The mini-plunge proved to be successful and consequently, is now open to all students.

Lucy McVay, a member of the organizational committee, thinks the plunge will be a valuable experience for students. "I think everyone participating will see a different side of South Bend," she said.

WINTER'S HERE!
STORE YOUR BIKE!!
WHERE: Gate 14- Stadium
1-4 PM ONLY!!!
Note: Bikes must be registered!!
Register at: Lost & Found,
Rm 121 Adm. Bldg.
Between 8:30 a.m. & noon
and 1:30 p.m. & 6:00 p.m.
Serial nos. necessary

"Space invaders" plague this student, as he accepts the challenge of this infamous game.

Sociology Club offers Mini-Urban Plunge
by Mary Leavitt

The Sociology Club will sponsor a Mini-Urban Plunge program this week in cooperation with the Justice of Peace Center in South Bend, according to Jo Ann Driscoll, co-chairman of the organizational committee for the plunge. "We want students to become aware of the social services offered in the community," Driscoll said.

The plunge is open to all Saint Mary's students and will take place today, tomorrow and Saturday afternoons from 1 to 3 p.m. Students may sign up to attend on any of the given afternoons. They will be given a tour of various social service centers in South Bend, such as the Urban Renewal office and an alternative school system.

The cost for the tour is $1. Driscoll explained that the idea for the mini-urban plunge originated with Mary Kay Cohan, a member of the Sociology Club and co-chairman of the organizational committee. The program was given a test run at the beginning of the year with only members of the Sociology Club being allowed to participate. The mini-plunge proved to be successful and consequently, is now open to all students.

Lucy McVay, a member of the organizational committee, thinks the plunge will be a valuable experience for students. "I think everyone participating will see a different side of South Bend," she said.
Owners foresee free agent change

TORONTO (AP) - Negotiations of major league baseball's hard-line owners and players with the baseball association on a new collective bargaining agreement began to heat up Tuesday as a tense game's annual winner was declared.

On the surface, there was no more of the usual conglomerations of rumors swirling about hotel managers, public relations people and owners milling in the hallways. Others secreted themselves in rooms and negotiated on the telephone or faceto-face.

Also on the agenda was talk about the off-season. A sale of the Oakland A's to Denver magazine Martin Davis, but the consensus is that A's owner Charlie Finley isn't ready for personal reasons or to end his controversial ballclub.

The problem for the owners is how to get back something they've already given away to the union.

One idea the owners are considering is freezing a certain number of players on the roster of a major league club acquiring a free agent, and making the rest available for compensation to the team stripped of the player.

One thing is certain: the owners will not go along with the current system of receiving an amateur draft pick after losing, for example, a Pete Rose.

Another system on the table would be points to the old

... Road splits

[continued from page 12]

“W hen we're all back, and I think we will be at full strength by the end of Christmas break, I don't see any reason why we can't finish at or near the top of the league.”

Which is exactly where most of the experts predicted the Irish would end up way back before the season started. But if that is to happen, the Notre Dame hockey team had better start thanking someone.

“This place could be a real snake pit,” reflects Mike Dugan, who looks around the ice arena. “The fans are close to the ice here and that kind of noise can make a difference.”

One thing is certain: the owners will not go along with the current system of receiving an amateur draft pick after losing, for example, a Pete Rose.

Another system on the table would be points to the old

RESEARCH

CANADA'S LARGEST SERVICE

Send now for latest catalog. Thousands of term papers on all subjects. Envelope $5.00 to cover return postage.

ESSAY SERVICES

Notre Dame Scholastic, 100 Nepean St., Ottawa, Ontario, Canada

Phone: (416) 366-6549

The Observer - Sports Wednesday, December 5, 1979 - page 9

Mandatory Meeting!

for

Observer Typists

Topic: Next Semester's Scheduling

Tonight At 6:30

The Observer

needs

Layout Personnel

Interested students should contact

John McGrath - phone 1715

Most South Bend

phone users will dial

1 + 411 for local directory

assistance effective

December 9.

NOTRE DAME & ST. MARY'S campus Centrex phone

users will dial

9 +1 +411

Centrex users: Be ready to give your

SEVEN-DIGIT PHONE NUMBER, not your student billing number, when the operator answers.

Ohio State overtakes Alabama in polls

The Observer - Sports

Gallbreath Tuesday night. "But you know we still have a big game in the Rose against USC. I don't put stock in it until the final poll." Doug Donley, the Buckeyes' crack junior receiver, said the latest vote should provide extra incentive to the Rose Bowl against the third-ranked Trojans. "It's going to lift the team up. It's a great feeling. I'm pretty excited. Everybody wasn't expecting much out of us, but the new coaches pulled us together," he said.

The final poll deciding the national championship will be taken after the bowl games on New Year's Day. Ohio State was unranked in the preseason poll and did not reach the Top Ten until after its fourth victory. The 48-year-old Bruce seemed almost dismayed by the vote that lifted the Buckeyes from third to first even though No. 2 Alabama, top ranked a week ago, defeated Arkansas 25-18 Saturday. "I don't understand it," he admitted.

The news failed to ruffle Alabama Coach Bear Bryant, but Crimson Tide faithful showed their wrath by tele­phoning the Associated Press offices in Alabama and the AP sports desk in New York, where the polls are tabulated.

In Selma, Ala., Bryant said, "No, I'm not upset. It's going to change our game plan for the Sugar Bowl." Hollis Behel, a retired die­setter from Florence, Ala., said, "Alabama has the longest winning streak in the country and the best defensive record in the country. I don't think the voters' reasoning was. I just don't agree with them.

A nationwide panel of 67 sports writers and broadcasters accorded Ohio State 1,267 points, Alabama 1,256 and Southern Cal 1,257. Ironically, both the Tide and Trojans had more first-place votes, 29 and 19, than the Buckeyes' 16. Ohio State and Alabama each are 11-0-0 while Southern Cal is 10-2-0-1.

It was the second-place ballots that proved the differ­ence. Ohio State's Big Ten champions were never called first, but 33 voters for second place. But right voters left Alabama in the top three. Only three ballots listed Ohio State lower than No. 3.

Alabama will play sixth­ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Fourth-ranked Florida State and No. 3 Oklahoma will meet in the Orange Bowl. No. 7 Nebraska tangles with No. 8 Houston in the Cotton Bowl.

Brigham Young held onto ninth place while Pittsburgh's 29-14 victory over Penn State lifted the Panthers into the Top Ten's first appearance of this season in the Top Ten.

The Top Twenty teams in the Associated Press college football poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, records and total points. Points based on 15 in 1st, 14 in 2nd, 13 in 3rd, thru 1 in 20th.

1. Ohio State (16) 11-0-0 1267
2. Alabama (29) 11-0-0 1103
3. Southern Cal (19) 10-1-0 1068
4 Florida State 10-1-0 1063
5. Nebraska 10-1-0 951
6. Arkansas (26) 9-2-0 928
7. Nebraska 9-2-0 877
8. Penn State 9-2-0 851
9. Michigan 9-2-0 803
10. Oklahoma 9-2-0 756
11. Penn State 9-1-1 725
12. Michigan 9-1-1 691
13. Alabama 8-3-0 651
14. Michigan 8-3-0 622
15. Arkansas (25) 7-4-0 562
16. Southern Cal 7-4-0 533
17. Penn State 7-4-0 477
18. Penn State 7-4-0 457
19. Penn State 7-4-0 422
20. Penn State 7-4-0 392

The news failed to ruffle Alabama Coach Bear Bryant, but Crimson Tide faithful showed their wrath by telephoning the Associated Press offices in Alabama and the AP sports desk in New York, where the polls are tabulated.

In Selma, Ala., Bryant said, "No, I'm not upset. It's going to change our game plan for the Sugar Bowl." Hollis Behel, a retired die­setter from Florence, Ala., said, "Alabama has the longest winning streak in the country and the best defensive record in the country. I don't think the voters' reasoning was. I just don't agree with them.

A nationwide panel of 67 sports writers and broadcasters accorded Ohio State 1,267 points, Alabama 1,256 and Southern Cal 1,257. Ironically, both the Tide and Trojans had more first-place votes, 29 and 19, than the Buckeyes' 16. Ohio State and Alabama each are 11-0-0 while Southern Cal is 10-2-0-1.

It was the second-place ballots that proved the differ­ence. Ohio State's Big Ten champions were never called first, but 33 voters for second place. But right voters left Alabama in the top three. Only three ballots listed Ohio State lower than No. 3.

Alabama will play sixth­ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Fourth-ranked Florida State and No. 3 Oklahoma will meet in the Orange Bowl. No. 7 Nebraska tangles with No. 8 Houston in the Cotton Bowl.

Brigham Young held onto ninth place while Pittsburgh's 29-14 victory over Penn State lifted the Panthers into the Top Ten's first appearance of this season in the Top Ten.

The Top Twenty teams in the Associated Press college football poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, records and total points. Points based on 15 in 1st, 14 in 2nd, 13 in 3rd, thru 1 in 20th.

1. Ohio State (16) 11-0-0 1267
2. Alabama (29) 11-0-0 1103
3. Southern Cal (19) 10-1-0 1068
4 Florida State 10-1-0 1063
5. Nebraska 10-1-0 951
6. Arkansas (26) 9-2-0 928
7. Nebraska 9-2-0 877
8. Penn State 9-2-0 851
9. Michigan 9-2-0 803
10. Oklahoma 9-2-0 756
11. Penn State 9-1-1 725
12. Michigan 9-1-1 691
13. Alabama 8-3-0 651
14. Michigan 8-3-0 622
15. Arkansas (25) 7-4-0 562
16. Southern Cal 7-4-0 533
17. Penn State 7-4-0 477
18. Penn State 7-4-0 457
19. Penn State 7-4-0 422
20. Penn State 7-4-0 392

The news failed to ruffle Alabama Coach Bear Bryant, but Crimson Tide faithful showed their wrath by telephoning the Associated Press offices in Alabama and the AP sports desk in New York, where the polls are tabulated.

In Selma, Ala., Bryant said, "No, I'm not upset. It's going to change our game plan for the Sugar Bowl." Hollis Behel, a retired die­setter from Florence, Ala., said, "Alabama has the longest winning streak in the country and the best defensive record in the country. I don't think the voters' reasoning was. I just don't agree with them.

A nationwide panel of 67 sports writers and broadcasters accorded Ohio State 1,267 points, Alabama 1,256 and Southern Cal 1,257. Ironically, both the Tide and Trojans had more first-place votes, 29 and 19, than the Buckeyes' 16. Ohio State and Alabama each are 11-0-0 while Southern Cal is 10-2-0-1.

It was the second-place ballots that proved the differ­ence. Ohio State's Big Ten champions were never called first, but 33 voters for second place. But right voters left Alabama in the top three. Only three ballots listed Ohio State lower than No. 3.

Alabama will play sixth­ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Fourth-ranked Florida State and No. 3 Oklahoma will meet in the Orange Bowl. No. 7 Nebraska tangles with No. 8 Houston in the Cotton Bowl.

Brigham Young held onto ninth place while Pittsburgh's 29-14 victory over Penn State lifted the Panthers into the Top Ten's first appearance of this season in the Top Ten.

The Top Twenty teams in the Associated Press college football poll, with first-place votes in parentheses, records and total points. Points based on 15 in 1st, 14 in 2nd, 13 in 3rd, thru 1 in 20th.

1. Ohio State (16) 11-0-0 1267
2. Alabama (29) 11-0-0 1103
3. Southern Cal (19) 10-1-0 1068
4 Florida State 10-1-0 1063
5. Nebraska 10-1-0 951
6. Arkansas (26) 9-2-0 928
7. Nebraska 9-2-0 877
8. Penn State 9-2-0 851
9. Michigan 9-2-0 803
10. Oklahoma 9-2-0 756
11. Penn State 9-1-1 725
12. Michigan 9-1-1 691
13. Alabama 8-3-0 651
14. Michigan 8-3-0 622
15. Arkansas (25) 7-4-0 562
16. Southern Cal 7-4-0 533
17. Penn State 7-4-0 477
18. Penn State 7-4-0 457
19. Penn State 7-4-0 422
20. Penn State 7-4-0 392

The news failed to ruffle Alabama Coach Bear Bryant, but Crimson Tide faithful showed their wrath by telephoning the Associated Press offices in Alabama and the AP sports desk in New York, where the polls are tabulated.

In Selma, Ala., Bryant said, "No, I'm not upset. It's going to change our game plan for the Sugar Bowl." Hollis Behel, a retired die­setter from Florence, Ala., said, "Alabama has the longest winning streak in the country and the best defensive record in the country. I don't think the voters' reasoning was. I just don't agree with them.

A nationwide panel of 67 sports writers and broadcasters accorded Ohio State 1,267 points, Alabama 1,256 and Southern Cal 1,257. Ironically, both the Tide and Trojans had more first-place votes, 29 and 19, than the Buckeyes' 16. Ohio State and Alabama each are 11-0-0 while Southern Cal is 10-2-0-1.

It was the second-place ballots that proved the differ­ence. Ohio State's Big Ten champions were never called first, but 33 voters for second place. But right voters left Alabama in the top three. Only three ballots listed Ohio State lower than No. 3.

Alabama will play sixth­ranked Arkansas in the Sugar Bowl. Fourth-ranked Florida State and No. 3 Oklahoma will meet in the Orange Bowl. No. 7 Nebraska tangles with No. 8 Houston in the Cotton Bowl.

Brigham Young held onto ninth place while Pittsburgh's 29-14 victory over Penn State lifted the Panthers into the Top Ten's first appearance of this season in the Top Ten.
Football

For Rent

a Brother, Sister or Parent in the Church

evening or during the day on Thursday.

Section 30. A thick knit, creme colored, December 6, 1979 at 9:30 pm or talk to

Lost - Green backpack filled with semesters. If found, please call Becky, 41-5779.

Reward! Call Steve 8298 or 8200 if no

right handed mitten. If found, please call

Mary at 7895.

9-7. Ralph Casperson 1303 Buchanan Rd. Niles. 683-2888

Thanksgiving break. Call Barbara -

Christmas break. Dave 3637.

I have room, riders to KANSAS CITY,

Need Ride:

M A TE . CLOSE TO C A M P U S * $40 per

month. 233-1329.

Need ride to Minnesota for X-mas. W ill

book sets, calendars, and games. Special five tapes included. Must sell. Call Gene at 272-1729 after 5:00.

WANTED

FOR SALE - American airlines 50 percent

OFFER. Ph. 255-2223.

coupon good through December 15. Best season tickets. Also can be completed In just one day. Also, can be used $13.00. Call John 233-1329.

lost tickets - Dec. 8 -

OFFENSE

WIDE RECEIVER - Ken Margerum, Stanford,

Sims, Oklahoma, 6-0, 205, Senior, Hooks,

Carolina, 6-2, 210, Junior, Duluth, Ga.; Billy

Young, 6-5, 204, Senior, Seattle. Wash.

offs are expected to be principal, either in person or through the mail.

classifieds must be received by 5:00 p.m. 2 days prior to discontinued weekly. Classifieds are also classifieds through Monday, 10:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All

For Sale

Kevin Wolf and speakers for sale. Call

Bennie 281-0647.

For Sale: UTAH M-5000 speakers - 12" -

$100. Call Shaw (468).

Drive home for Christmas! 1975 Chevy

Vega. 6 cyl., manual, air, new, Excellent condition. 25 miles per gallon. $1195.

SKIS for sale. K2 255 Soft 185 cm. Used

9-70 days from old. $25.00. Used 185 cm.

10-90 days from old. $10.00. Call 414-5875.

WANTED

FOR SALE - Two WHO tickets - Dec. 8 -

MIDDLE GUARD - Ken Loushin, Purdue.

Quarterback - Paul McDonald, Southern

Center - Dwight Stephenson, Alabama.

Running Backs - James Brooks, Auburn;

Backs - Monk Bonasorte, Florida State;

Wide Receiver - Junior Miller, Nebraska, 6-4,

handed players mail must be picked up by

Monday, December 3. All classifieds are sold out for the Fall 1979 season.

Interested in learning more about a life in the Church? Come to a discussion and film in the Counseling and development Center on December 6, 1979 at 9:30 pm or talk to the Valkyrie Community. Ask to be put in the classroom Tuesday. 5:30-6:00 pm in the classroom Tuesday. 5:30-6:00 pm in the Center will help you learn to relax and

The Counseling and Career Development

rest of the evening made up for it.

Hey Sharpy!

“Borrowed” one telephone receiver

for scheduling.

Hey Sharpy!

“borrowed” one telephone receiver

-1/42. Look for schedule. I'm scheduling my next concert. Thanks to all who helped in the basement of Lewis [5:30] Saturday,

Library-Book Club, and enjoy reading

Your adorable roommate

Is it true that Donna Shannon wears

mistletoe on her head?

Happy (belated) 20th!! What's it feel like

my 22nd a wonderful time.

Tips to perform.

(C suburban, Cookeville, 6-0, 205, Senior, Gorman, Texas; Ron

Michele,

to dad about you!

after Christmas. Call Barbara-

233-2208.

need ride to Columbus, Ohio, for Christmas break. Will help with

S. of D. - 1933, Community

drive to four downtown Washington, D.C. by Dec. 10.

Lee, Ann.

Bichards. If you can, please write back and tell me what

For Rent

a Brother, Sister or Parent in the Church

evening or during the day on Thursday.

Section 30. A thick knit, creme colored, December 6, 1979 at 9:30 pm or talk to

Lost - Green backpack filled with semesters. If found, please call Becky, 41-5779.

Reward! Call Steve 8298 or 8200 if no

right handed mitten. If found, please call

Mary at 7895.

9-7. Ralph Casperson 1303 Buchanan Rd. Niles. 683-2888

Thanksgiving break. Call Barbara -

Christmas break. Dave 3637.

I have room, riders to KANSAS CITY,

Need Ride:

M A TE . CLOSE TO C A M P U S * $40 per

month. 233-1329.

Need ride to Minnesota for X-mas. W ill

book sets, calendars, and games. Special

five tapes included. Must sell. Call Gene at 272-1729 after 5:00.

WANTED

FOR SALE - American airlines 50 percent

OFFER. Ph. 255-2223.

coupon good through December 15. Best season tickets. Also can be completed In just one day. Also, can be used $13.00. Call John 233-1329.

lost tickets - Dec. 8 -

OFFENSE

WIDE RECEIVER - Ken Margerum, Stanford,

Sims, Oklahoma, 6-0, 205, Senior, Hooks,

Carolina, 6-2, 210, Junior, Duluth, Ga.; Billy

Young, 6-5, 204, Senior, Seattle. Wash.

offs are expected to be principal, either in person or through the mail.

classifieds must be received by 5:00 p.m. 2 days prior to discontinued weekly. Classifieds are also classifieds through Monday, 10:30 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. All

For Sale

Kevin Wolf and speakers for sale. Call

Bennie 281-0647.

For Sale: UTAH M-5000 speakers - 12" -

$100. Call Shaw (468).

Drive home for Christmas! 1975 Chevy

Vega. 6 cyl., manual, air, new, Excellent condition. 25 miles per gallon. $1195.

SKIS for sale. K2 255 Soft 185 cm. Used

9-70 days from old. $25.00. Used 185 cm.

10-90 days from old. $10.00. Call 414-5875.

WANTED

FOR SALE - Two WHO tickets - Dec. 8 -

MIDDLE GUARD - Ken Loushin, Purdue.

Quarterback - Paul McDonald, Southern

Center - Dwight Stephenson, Alabama.

Running Backs - James Brooks, Auburn;

Backs - Monk Bonasorte, Florida State;

Wide Receiver - Junior Miller, Nebraska, 6-4,

handed players mail must be picked up by

Monday, December 3. All classifieds are sold out for the Fall 1979 season.

Interested in learning more about a life in the Church? Come to a discussion and film in the Counseling and development Center on December 6, 1979 at 9:30 pm or talk to the Valkyrie Community. Ask to be put in the classroom Tuesday. 5:30-6:00 pm in the classroom Tuesday. 5:30-6:00 pm in the Center will help you learn to relax and

The Counseling and Career Development

rest of the evening made up for it.

Hey Sharpy!

“Borrowed” one telephone receiver

for scheduling.

Hey Sharpy!

“borrowed” one telephone receiver

-1/42. Look for schedule. I'm scheduling my next concert. Thanks to all who helped

in the basement of Lewis [5:30] Saturday,

Library-Book Club, and enjoy reading

Your adorable roommate

Is it true that Donna Shannon wears

mistletoe on her head?

Happy (belated) 20th!! What's it feel like

my 22nd a wonderful time.

Tips to perform.

(C suburban, Cookeville, 6-0, 205, Senior, Gorman, Texas; Ron

Michele,

to dad about you!

after Christmas. Call Barbara-

233-2208.

need ride to Columbus, Ohio, for Christmas break. Will help with

S. of D. - 1933, Community

drive to four downtown Washington, D.C. by Dec. 10.

Lee, Ann.

Bichards. If you can, please write back and tell me what

For Rent

a Brother, Sister or Parent in the Church

evening or during the day on Thursday.

Section 30. A thick knit, creme colored, December 6, 1979 at 9:30 pm or talk to

Lost - Green backpack filled with semesters. If found, please call Becky, 41-5779.

Reward! Call Steve 8298 or 8200 if no

right handed mitten. If found, please call

Mary at 7895.

9-7. Ralph Casperson 1303 Buchanan Rd. Niles. 683-2888

Thanksgiving break. Call Barbara -

Christmas break. Dave 3637.

I have room, riders to KANSAS CITY,

Need Ride:

M A TE . CLOSE TO C A M P U S * $40 per

month. 233-1329.

Need ride to Minnesota for X-mas. W ill

book sets, calendars, and games. Special

five tapes included. Must sell. Call Gene at 272-1729 after 5:00.

WANTED

FOR SALE - American airlines 50 percent

OFFER. Ph. 255-2223.

coupon good through December 15. Best season tickets. Also can be completed In just one day. Also, can be used $13.00. Call John 233-1329.

Defense helps Irish defeat Belles

by Kelly Sullivan

Intense defensive play and consistent ball showing by Notre Dame helped the Irish women's basketball team soundly defeat Saint Mary's 81-45 last night at Angela Athletic Fieldhouse. And Notre Dame's third win in as many tries.

The Belles grabbed the early lead in the game only to have the Irish knot it up at 10-10. Jane Phillips gave the Irish a 12-10 lead that they never relinquished. Midway through the first half, Notre Dame outscored their opponents 18-5 and built a 31-17 halftime lead that was never challenged by the Belles.

To meet Thursday

Students resurrect ski club

Happiness is a blizzard leaving a four-foot blanket of snow on campus. For instance. Now the Notre Dame ski club (not to be confused with the ski team) has been defended for several weeks, but a group of students are trying to initiate a resurrection.

The ski club will offer group transportation to nearby resorts with lift ticket, rental equipment, and group lessons. Future plans include weekend trips to different resorts, but the main emphasis will be on day-long trips.

The first meeting of the 1979-80 Ski Club will be this Thursday, Dec. 6, at 7 p.m. in the little theatre in LaFortune Student Center. All interested students are encouraged to attend. Interested students interested in future trips, is available on a first-come, first-serve basis.

Memberships fees of $5 will be collected to defray expenses from trips, ski packages, and advertising. The best snow this winter is being received at our ski club. Any further questions should be directed to Christopher Rigaux, 283-3414.

Road splits satisfy ailing Irish

Frank LaGrotta

Especially when you're winning Wisconsin. Now I must admit, I've never had the pleasure (3 of seeing downtown Madison, but I understand the climate is not too friendly for invading WCHA teams. Take Notre Dame, for instance. Last year the Irish went up to Madison County Coliseum 24 times and raked 4-2-20 record to show for their efforts.

But this Saturday, when we needed a win after losing 5-2, to the Badgers the night before, we fired reporter Jacob Green and started looking for a game like a shooting script for The Ben Casey Show: With center Dave Poulin, and wingmen Kevin Humphreys and Dan Collard (no name but a few sidelined with injuries. Last Saturday the Notre Dame boys split all their games against the Badgers, 4-2, and Wisconsin 4-3 at Wisconsin to split the series. The almighty split. Sweep at home, split on the road. But at Notre Dame, every college hockey team plays for (but won't admit that either) The Professional. And again about hockey players. They're too smart on the road than they do at home. The punchline? They fly 3-1 on the road, 4-3 at home. Why? luggage. Will the man who coined the term "home ice" advantage, please stand up? I thought so...he's afraid someone's gonna throw a puck at him.

There just isn't any home ice advantage for this team, states Greg Meredith who serves as captain for this year's squad. "It seems that on the road we come together as a team. We take a lot of abuse from home crowds and that makes everyone pull together." But at home, Greg? What about home sweet home? "I don't know for sure but I think a lot of guys get nervous before a home game," he concedes. "Everyone wants to do well in front of friends and family and that causes tension. And tension causes mistakes. Mistakes this hockey team isn't supposed to be making. But Meredith claims the situation is actually brighter that their fifth place standing in the WCHA leads one to believe. "I know it sounds like an excuse," Meredith smiles slyly, "but we have been hampered very seriously by injuries this year. You just don't lose a player like John Belisle (last season's leading scorer) and not get hurt by it."

Sports women's crew to organize

AP writers select All-America squad

(AP) - Charles White of Southern California, who led the nation in rushing and all-purpose running en route to becoming the second leading ground-gainer in college football history, was named to the Associated Press All-America team for the second year in a row. The 1978 Heisman winner and 1979 runner-up, and North Carolina State center Jim Ricketson, winner of the 1979 Outland Trophy as the nation's best interior lineman. The other replacements from 1978 are defensive end Hugh Green of Pittsburgh and defensive backs Kenny Easly of UCLA and Johnnie Johnson of Texas. In addition, Oklahoma linebacker George Cumby, a first-team selection in 1977 but an also-ran last year, made the first team again. Green and Eastley are juniors and have a shot at becoming this three-time first-team All-America selections next year. Joining White and Sims in the offensive backfield are Marc Bragdon, Brigham Young's record-setting quarterback, and George Rogers of South Carolina, the nation's No. 2 rusher. Junior Miller of Nebraska is the tight end while Ken Margraff of Stanford is the wide receiver. The interior line consists of Ritchie, tackles Jim Bondu of Alabama and George Kolekenda of Arkansas and guards Brad Boulder Southern Cal and Ken Fritz of Ohio State. The rest of the defensive unit consists of end Jacob Green of Texas A&M, tackles Steve McMichael of Texas and Jim Stuckey of Clemson, middle guard Ron Simpkins of Florida State, linebackers Ron Simpson of Michigan and Mike Singletary of Baylor and deep back Mark Hayes of Colorado. Besides Hugh Green and Rogers, Rogers, Simmons and Singletary. The others are seniors. The AP All-America team will be featured on the Bob Hope Merry All Star Christmas Special on NBC-TV Thursday, Dec. 13, from 9-11 p.m. EST. White, who missed one entire game and half of another with a shoulder injury, carried 293 times for 1,893 yards - his per game average of 180.3 was a Pacific-10 Conference record and scored 38 touchdowns.

Complete team listings - page 11

Rogers was the runner-up with 1,948 yards on 286 carries for a 140.7 per-game average while Sims finished fourth with 1,500 yards on 224 rushes and led the nation in scoring with 22 touchdowns.

Margraff caught 41 passes - missed one game-for 733 yards and 10 touchdowns while Miller, an outstanding blocker, caught 21 passes for a whopping 409 yards and seven touchdowns in Nebraska's ground-oriented attack.

Sports Briefs

Women's crew to organize

All varsity and novice members of the women's crew team are invited to attend an organizational meeting this Thursday, Dec. 6, at 7 p.m. in the Student Center (Room 2-D). For information, call Terri Hinz (611-4980) or Jane Wagner (6707).