Afghan government expels journalists

KABUL, Afghanistan - The Soviet-backed government yesterday ordered American journalists out of Afghanistan, accusing them of biased reporting and "interfering in the country's internal affairs.

The expulsion order, relayed through the U.S. Embassy here, is effective tomorrow. It came three days after Iran ordered six American journalists from that country. The Iranian order also is effective tomorrow.

In Moscow, the Soviet news agency Tass quoted American Revolutionary Council member Tony Powell as saying: "Do not in any way interfere in the internal affairs of Afghanistan. That is why the Revolutionary Council has taken a decision to expel the American journalists from Afghanistan." Tass quoted the decree as "final.

Almost all of the 50 or 60 American correspondents return their passports. The Americans refused, and summoned U.S. Embassy officials who then met with the officers at the hotel and said afterward there had been "total misunderstanding" that would be cleared up today.

Thursday morning began when one of the officers tried to shield his face from television cameras. An overzealous young Afghan tried to help by tossing a rock at the officers. The mob continued to hurl missiles. The officers fired back and had to punch his way free and had his cap knocked off.

by Mary Leavitt
Staff Reporter

Saint Mary's Hospital of Nursing has received initial accreditation from the National League of Nursing after an extensive review conducted in September.

"We are very happy with the outcome of the review," said Dr. Mary Martucci, chairman of the Nursing department. "We received the accreditation for a period of eight years, which is the longest amount of time they will give accreditation to a school before putting them up for review again. This is really quite an honor.

Historically, accreditation from the National League of Nursing has been hard to come by. In the past 15 years, it has become even more difficult. Only five or six percent of the nursing programs up for review each year are awarded accreditation.

Fortunately for us, the Board of Review was very impressed with our nursing school," said Martucci. "They read their report to us on the day they left. Although it usually takes one to one-and-a-half hours to read a report, it took them two-and-a-half hours to read ours. They said they had written more about our program than they had ever written about any other program.

In Martucci's opinion, several factors contributed to the success of the review. "First of all, the students deserve thanks," he said.

They were open and honest with the board members. The reviewers were very impressed by that. Also, SMHC as a whole showed support and acceptance of the program as did the clinic and hospitals of South Bend where the girls work.

Although she will hardly admit it, Martucci must be credited in part for the successful review. As chairman of the Nursing school since its institution in 1973, she planned the nursing program with the development of young people in mind. With the opening of the school, she set up an organizational plan with certain goals she wished the school to achieve. One of these goals was a failure.

"I know this is going to sound ridiculous considering that this school has been open for 6 years and we were lucky to get accreditation in view of that, but I wanted to get the accreditation last year," Martucci laughed. "Fortunately, we were able to do it this year."

The accreditation itself is a sign to the public that the nursing program at SMHC is recognized as a quality program by nursing peers. Most of the top graduate schools in nursing require that their students
News in brief

Friday, January 18, 1980 - page 2

Santa Barbara police continue strike despite order

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP) - Striking police prepared an appeal Thursday of a judge's back-to-work order, and sheriff's deputies moved into the seaside city in the face of rising crime.

The Santa Barbara County sheriff stepped up patrols to try to compensate for the 2-week-old strike by 140 officers in a wage dispute. But he would not say how many officers were on the job.

Gold price spirals, breaks 800 dollar mark

NEW YORK (AP) - Gold prices zoomed past $800 an ounce for the first time ever yesterday as buyers surged to the precious metal first passed $700. The $800 price was hit at New York's Commodity Exchange in trading for gold to be delivered this month. It rose to $801 early in the afternoon before falling back to $801. "It's absolutely nuts," said a Tokyo newspaper sponsoring the concerts, Yomiuri, said 100,000 tickets had been sold.

McCarty's Japanese agent estimated that $1.8 million would be returned to ticketholders.

Ex-Beatle becomes grass-shopper

TOKYO (AP) - Narcotics agents questioned Paul McCartney yesterday about the half-pound of marijuana he allegedly brought into Japan, then officers led him past a crowd of chanting fans to his second night in jail.

The 37-year-old former Beatle was arrested Wednesday shortly after he said at Tokyo International Airport at Narita for a concert tour which now has been canceled. Officers said about 20 fans shouted "Paul! Paul!" as McCartney came out of the narcotics control investigator's office to be returned to the Tokyo jail.

The singer responded with a wave and "Hello." Some of his young female fans burst into tears and called out: "Why did you betray us? We've been looking forward to your concerts."

McCarty and members of the group "Wings" had been scheduled to give 11 concerts in Tokyo, Osaka and Nagoya from Jan. 21 to Feb. 2. The Tokyo newspaper sponsoring the concerts, Yomiuri, said 100,000 tickets had been sold.

McCarty's Japanese agent estimated that $1.8 million would be returned to ticketholders.

Scientists predict longer life span

ATLANTA (AP) - The human life span has increased dramatically in the 20th century because of the spectacular success of disease control, but the next 20 years likely will bring little improvement, says an assistant director of the National Center for Disease Control.

The reason is that today's killers are not infectious diseases, but accidents, violence and chronic illnesses.

Future changes in human life span are going to have to come about through changes of poor human habits - drinking, smoking, stress and just plain hard living, said Dr. Donald Millar of the CDC.

"Preventing deaths due to these problems will require the simultaneous reduction of several health risks over long periods of time, clearly demanding a much greater commitment both by the individual and the community," said Millar in a recent interview.

The improvement in life span since the turn of the century has been stunning. Studies show that a child born in the United States in 1900 could expect to live about 47 years. Today, the average is 73 years.

"This dramatic increase of 25 years was achieved by reducing the risk of dying during infancy and childhood through environmental sanitation, immunization and improved nutrition," Millar said.

In that same period, life expectancy for adults increased only slightly. In 1900, a 45-year-old white male could expect to live to age 69. In 1976 a 45-year-old white male could expect to live to 73, only 4.5 additional years.

"The highly touted lengthening of life span for Americans is largely due to prevention, not cure," Millar said.

As an example, as late as 1960 epidemic poliomyelitis swept the United States every summer. By 1970, as a result of mass immunization campaigns, the incidence of poliomyelitis was so reduced that the total number of cases could literally be counted on the fingers of two hands.

Elkhart High presents concert

There will be a meeting for anyone interested in playing lacrosse this spring on Tuesday at 4:30 p.m. in room G-15 of the ACC.

The Observer

Night Editor: Margaret Kruse
Asst. Night Editor - Dierdre Murphy
Copy Editor - Mike Shields
Layout Staff - Mike Monk
Editorial Layout - Ann Gales
Sports Layout - Ann Gales
Cartoonist - Bill Swift
Editorial Writer - Liz Huber
EMT - Mary Beth Budd, Kim Conley
proofreader - Bruce Oakley
ND Day Editor - Patsy Campbell
Sports Editor - Kathy Damascan
Photographer - Tim McCroghen
Correspondent - 8 lb. oz. Rachel Lewis!!

The Observer (ISSN 506 920) is published by the students of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. The Observer may be purchased for 50c per year (18 per semester) for members of the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College community. Non members may be purchased for 25c per year (12 per semester) for members of the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College community. The Observer is a member of the Associated Collegiate Press. Reproduction rights are reserved.

W.I.G.H.T.S. of COLUMBUS invites all members to a Supersmoker Weekend

Saturday, 3:30pm Irish vs. UCLA

Sunday, 3:00pm Super Bowl Live

WATCH all the action on our new BIG SCREEN T.V.

Members - FREE
Guests: $2.00

(only at K of C Hall)
Carter seeks to end boycott

WASHINGTON — President Carter yesterday urged the president of the nation's dockworkers union to end a nine-day boycott of Soviet ship cargo, which Carter said is seriously crippling the economy in this country, sources said.

Bendix offers ski lessons

Cross country and downhill ski lessons are available at Bendix Woods County Park. Trained and experienced instructors are on hand to teach you, your friends and your family the basics or to improve and refine your skiing talents. During the holiday weeks, ski instructors are available all day, every day for your convenience. After the holidays, cross country ski classes are available on Saturdays and Sundays as well as our special "Learn-to-Ski" weeklong classes. Lessons can be arranged for large groups, families or private instructions. Bendix Woods County Park is located just 12 miles west of South Bend on State Road 2 and has full snowmaking capabilities. There may be green grass in your backyard and possibly 20 inches of snow on the slopes. Call 654-3155 for daily snow conditions and to register for group lessons.

Former ND professor testifies in Pinto trial

WINNACOM, Ind. (AP) - A puff of fire came from the fuel tank area of a Pinto automobile belonging to a South Bend plumbing contractor, three eyewitnesses testified yesterday in Ford Motor Co.'s criminal liability trial.

The automaker is charged with having three counts of reckless homicide in the August 1978 crash, in which the Pinto was struck from behind by a van on a rural Indiana highway. The state contends Ford knew Pinto fuel tanks were likely to explode in rear-end collisions but sold the cars anyway.

"There was a puff of flame about 12 to 18 inches at the left rear of the smaller car, and then the whole thing was engulfed in flames," said Alfred J. Clark, a retired carpenter from South Bend, who was living in Florida. "It was like a great napalm bomb going up." The fuel tank was located at the left rear of the 1973 Pinto.

Clark, who was driving in the oncoming lane, said he could see "nothing but flames" immediately after the collision. "It was just a great big ball of flames." "There was a bright flash of flame coming from the rear of the Pinto," Almos instantly, the Pinto just exploded," he said. He saw the explosion stunt flames at least 20 feet into the air, spewing debris and melted edges, and appeared to be followed by a second blast.

Clark estimated that the car was going 50 mph and the fuel tank about 15 mph. Testimony was interrupted several times and the jury removed from the courtroom after objections by Ford attorney James Neal.

Outside the presence of the jury, deputy prosecutor John Ulmer told Judge Harold R. Staffeldt that Clark would testify that one of the girls killed in the crash was badly burned and had one leg caught in the car but was still alive and asking for help.

Ulmer said the testimony was necessary to prove that "the speed of impact was not great enough to cause traumatic injury," but Staffeldt refused to allow that.

At another point with the jury out of the courtroom, Martin said he "saw a woman supporting herself on her arm on the ground beside the car. She was incredibly burned. I was shocked that a human being could be so incredibly burned and still be alive." That testimony also was disallowed.

If the ILA would honor Carter's request, the ILA's 80,000 dockworkers have been refusing to handle Soviet cargo since Jan. 9 at ports on the East and Gulf coasts and at key inland locations. West Coast dockworkers are represented by another union, which is not participating in the action against Soviet cargo.

Administration officials said the ILA boycott has brought congestion throughout the grain transportation system, clogging barges and railroads and leaving grain elevators choked full. As a result, the officials said, the boycott is starting to hurt American farmers who are unable to ship their products to market.

Gleason, whose union also is boycotting Iranian ships, announced the Soviet boycott after Carter announced a partial embargo of future grain sales to the Soviets.

The ILA, whose members long have been fervently anti-communist, had boycotted Soviet shipping for 21 years until lifting its ban in 1972.

For more information contact Mike Holsinger, assistant ad manager, at 7471.

THE OBSERVER needs advertising salespeople

- no experience needed
- liberal commissions
- unlimited opportunity

For more information contact Mike Holsinger, assistant ad manager, at 7471.

Student Union Book Sale

Sale - Fri. 1-5pm
Sat. 1-5pm
2nd Floor LaFortune
Proceeds go to Sr. Martin's Primary Day School

River City Records

northern Indiana's largest record and tape selection and concert ticket headquarters

$1.00 OFF! any album or tape (Expires February 1, 1980)

- 18,000 albums and tapes in stock
- ND/SFIC student checks accepted for up to $20.00 over purchase amount
- Open 10 to 10, 7 days a week

River City Records
50970 U.S. 31 North
3 miles north of compass
277-4242

MASS

followed by supper
ev	FRIDAY

at the

S H E D

FRIDAY

5:15 pm

These two students get a head start on their homework between classes. [Photo by Tim McSeag]
Ties inflation

Incomes increase 12%

WASHINGTON (AP) - If it hadn't been for rising taxes, Americans would have finished 1979 in a virtual draw with inflation, Commerce Department figures showed yesterday.

The Commerce Department said total personal income increased 12 percent during the year and was at an annual rate of $2,020,300 in December. The increase nearly matched the rate of inflation.

At the same time, Americans' saving rate fell to a 30-year low.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department said housing starts fell 14 percent last year, although building permits continued their downward slide, dropping 5 percent to 1,204,000 units. The figures, contained in the government's actions to control inflation.

However, there was a 0.3 percent increase in December to 1,337,000, although building permits continued their downward slide, dropping 5 percent to 1,204,000 units. The figures were at seasonally adjusted annual rates.

While overall income increased last year, taxes rose at a faster rate, up 19.8 percent. The result was that after-tax income increased only 8.7 percent, which trailed the rate of inflation.

The figures, contained in the government's year-end report on personal income, illustrate how inflation slices into income in two ways, once through higher prices and again through higher taxes.

The tax increase occurs because Americans demand more income to keep pace with rising prices. But as incomes rise, Americans are automatically pushed into higher tax brackets, so that a greater share of their income goes for taxes.

Social Security taxes also increased significantly during 1979. Relief from this jump into higher tax brackets could be provided in a tax cut, however, President Carter has decided against recommending a tax cut in the 1981 budget he will send to Congress on Jan. 13.

Per capita income, after subtracting taxes, was at an annual rate of $7,655 in December, an increase of 614 from a year earlier. Per capita tax payments were $1,357, an increase of $175.

Americans obviously drew on their savings to maintain their living standards as the savings rate fell to a 30-year low of 4.5 percent of income. That was the lowest since 1949 when it was 3.6 percent. Savings were 4.9 percent of income in 1978.

The savings rate in November was 3.3 percent, the lowest for any month since the department began keeping monthly figures in 1959.

Although the figures weren't complete, it seemed likely the savings rate fell even further in December since spending increased and savings were down.

The Commerce Department said prices increased 0.6 percent in November, the last month for which its figures were complete, compared to 0.8 percent in October. The Labor Department's Consumer Price Index had recorded price increases of 1 percent in each of the two months.

WASHINGTON (AP) - If it hadn't been for rising taxes, Americans would have finished 1979 in a virtual draw with inflation, Commerce Department figures showed yesterday.

The Commerce Department said total personal income increased 12 percent during the year and was at an annual rate of $2,020,300 in December. The increase nearly matched the rate of inflation.

At the same time, Americans' saving rate fell to a 30-year low.

Meanwhile, the Commerce Department said housing starts fell 14 percent last year, although building permits continued their downward slide, dropping 5 percent to 1,204,000 units. The figures, contained in the government's actions to control inflation.

However, there was a 0.3 percent increase in December to 1,337,000, although building permits continued their downward slide, dropping 5 percent to 1,204,000 units. The figures were at seasonally adjusted annual rates.

While overall income increased last year, taxes rose at a faster rate, up 19.8 percent. The result was that after-tax income increased only 8.7 percent, which trailed the rate of inflation.

The figures, contained in the government's year-end report on personal income, illustrate how inflation slices into income in two ways, once through higher prices and again through higher taxes.

The tax increase occurs because Americans demand more income to keep pace with rising prices. But as incomes rise, Americans are automatically pushed into higher tax brackets, so that a greater share of their income goes for taxes.

Social Security taxes also increased significantly during 1979. Relief from this jump into higher tax brackets could be provided in a tax cut, however, President Carter has decided against recommending a tax cut in the 1981 budget he will send to Congress on Jan. 13.

Per capita income, after subtracting taxes, was at an annual rate of $7,655 in December, an increase of 614 from a year earlier. Per capita tax payments were $1,357, an increase of $175.

Americans obviously drew on their savings to maintain their living standards as the savings rate fell to a 30-year low of 4.5 percent of income. That was the lowest since 1949 when it was 3.6 percent. Savings were 4.9 percent of income in 1978.

The savings rate in November was 3.3 percent, the lowest for any month since the department began keeping monthly figures in 1959.

Although the figures weren't complete, it seemed likely the savings rate fell even further in December since spending increased and savings were down.

The Commerce Department said prices increased 0.6 percent in November, the last month for which its figures were complete, compared to 0.8 percent in October. The Labor Department's Consumer Price Index had recorded price increases of 1 percent in each of the two months.
Fuzzbuster challenges police

BURLINGTON Ky (AP).- The company that makes the Fuzzbuster brand radar detector is out to bust the fuzz in court, in a challenge to the police radar systems used to nab highway speeders.

The contention is that police aren't properly trained to use the units. Last year in Miami, a judge ruled radar clockings could not be used as evidence against 80 accused speeders because of unreliable readings.

A former police officer who is now a consultant to ElectroOptics Inc., of Dayton, Ohio, makers of the Fuzzbuster, testified yesterday that some police use radar units as playthings and can set them up as alarms while they sleep on duty.

Former San Diego police officer Rod Dornsife testified at a hearing in Boone County Court on a motion to suppress radar evidence in a speeding charge against Janice Lee, an Electrolights employee who claims she was wrongly ticketed by a Kentucky state trooper.

It was the opening day of the current round of pre-trial testimony in the case. Testimony continues today.

The makers of the Fuzzbuster contend a ruling in their favor to suppress the radar evidence would be a landmark and change law officers' use of radar throughout the United States.

Ms. Lee, a Dayton resident, says she was driving about 85 mph on Interstate 71 last July when her radar detector signaled the approach of a radar equipped patrol car.

I looked at my speedomoter, saw that I was right at the speed limit, and started trying to figure out which pair of headlights might be the police car," she said.

She was stopped and ticked on a charge of going 72 mph.

Dornsife testified that many patrolmen are aware of the units' defects—that the readings can be affected by radio signals. He said police sometimes issue tickets with charges they know to be inaccurate.

And he said patrolmen sometimes play games with their radar units.

A favorite game is to clock an airplane in flight and show the recorded speed on the radar unit to fellow officers as an example of 'one that got away' Dornsife said.

And he said police cruisers equipped with radar can be used as an alarm clock for officers who want to sleep on duty.

River City Records
announces the First Annual "Take It To The Limit Sale!"

• All Blank Tape is $1.00 Off! - No Limit (we carry TDK, Maxell, BASF, and Memorex)
• All 8-Tracks & Cassettes $1.00 Off - No Limit
• All record crates - $1.00 off (this is the first time we've had crates on sale!)
• Discwashers, tape cases - $2.00 off!

now until 10:00 pm this Sunday, Jan. 20, at all 4 River City locations; including 50970 U.S. 31 N 3 miles north of campus 277-4242 (next to Al's Supermarket)

COLLECTOR'S SHOW AND SALE!

• thousands and thousands of cut-outs, oldies, budget l.p.'s, special imports and hard to find albums
• poster sale - a few of the huge 4x4 posters will be sold to start the semester off in style
• Steve Dahl's "Ayatollah" 45 is available - listen to the River City ads on WLUP - fm this weekend, and visit our booth at the Loop-Fest; Feb. 2 & 3 at the Amphitheater in Chicago
Charismatic movement: A perspective on faith

by Tim Griffin

Each summer the Catholic Charismatic Renewal at Notre Dame holds its prayer meetings on Tuesday nights in the Log Chapel. During the meeting a Mass is usually said, however, it is modified somewhat to enable greater participation. After each of the readings time is allocated so that the participants can openly reflect on the reading and add their own thoughts. The Charismatic Mass there is much more singing and oral individual prayer than at a usual Catholic Mass. The Catholic Charismatics play down the role of extraordinary environmental phenomena in favor of a deeper interior union with the Holy Spirit and a oneness with fellow Christians in prayer and good works. The Masses which take place at these prayer meetings generate an atmosphere which is truly evident of a celebration.

The Notre Dame prayer group is unusual in the sense that it contains a large number of individuals who are members of the religious community (priests, brothers and nuns). A discussion of the role and function of Charismatic Prayer groups is the "free-ness" of the individual prayer which they govern their lives. The Charismatics claim that a "baptism" is a turning point in their lives. They insist that they develop a greater awareness of God and their relationship to God and a greater appreciation for the teachings of the Catholic Church. Fr. Richard Roar, a leader of a Charismatic prayer group in Cincinnati, Ohio, described the "baptismal experience" as when "...a person becomes visibly and immediately ideological aware that God, Himself, is calling him by name and extending him the offer of a divine friendship." As reveal- ed in Jer. 31:30, he bathed with water but you shall be baptised in the Holy Spirit! Not all Charismatics believe that the Spirit descends and then enters an individual. Some insist the Spirit is already present in one's soul (resultant from the first baptism), upon the second "baptism" the Spirit is simply released. Bro. John LeVille, a member of the Notre Dame prayer group insists that the Spirit is released. He noted that the Spirit can only be released through an "earnest desire and love for God and His works." Through the release of the Spirit the individuals allow Him to influence their daily lives, in so doing the Charismatics believe that they live a fuller Christian life.

Notre Dame Charismatic Bro. Don Morgan noted that..."...the gifts one receives from the Spirit are many: wisdom, knowledge, self peace, prophetic gift, tongues and prophecy. The latter two are the dominant and most expressive gifts of the Spirit. The gift of tongues is very unusual, to exactly describe them is difficult. Tongues are verbal statements which many Charismatics believe is the language which God desires to be communicated with. One who has received this gift uses it in his personal prayers to God. The Charismatic has control over the use of the tongues but he does not have any idea of what he is saying. To one who is unfamiliar with tongues they sound like a collection of guttural utterances. As Bro. Don Morgan mentioned, "The gift of tongues allows an individual's prayers to God to flow...when he is at a loss for words in his own language he resorts to tongues.

The gift of prophecy is an informative gift for the Charismatics. Through prophecy one is able to reflect and add insight to the teachings of Christ and the Church. As one Charismatic author put it (prophets)..."is not a revelation of new truths but a message of exhortation and encouragement to those gathered." Prophecy enables the Charismatics to establish and reinforce their relationships with God. Through this gift they believe that the community acquires a measure of value distinction in prayer meetings and benefits from the prayers of others. The Catholic Charismatic Renewal is not separate from the established Catholic Church. The Charismatic beliefs strengthen the individual's faith to such an extent that the Charismatic develops a renewed interest in the Church. Mike Kunish, a Notre Dame student and Charismatic said, "I used to look at Sunday Mass as an exercise, it was something that I had to do. The Holy Spirit has strengthened my faith. I now have a greater appreciation for the scriptures and the life of Jesus." For the Charismatics God is no longer an abstract by which they govern their lives. God is the embodiment of love and kindness. Kunish added that the "new" relationship that he has formed with God is a personal one..."it is very similar to the relationships you have with a brother or sister." The Charismatics claim that a mutual love exists in the relationship between God and individual. Acknowledging this love the Charismatics receive another gift from the Spirit: self peace. Despite the aforementioned benefits of the Charismatic renewal there are several inherent problems. Through the close relationship these individuals have established with God many have developed beliefs of elitism and "holier than thou" attitudes. The Charismatic community claimed that the Charismatics are "...subject to human frailties like other humans." He added that..."it is unfortunate these attitudes develop, it is obviously not God's will." This reporter found that these attitudes did not seem to exist in the Notre Dame prayer group.

The Catholic Charismatic Renewal is an exciting group of people who are there to pray together simultaneously. Besides the individual prayer which takes place throughout the meeting, there are times when the entire community prays for a specific idea. During the meetings there is an intense communal spirit. As Fr. O'Connor described it..."...a sea of liquid love, which dissolves the protective wall of the masks behind which people hide.

Through "Baptism in the Holy Spirit" the Charismatics are able to develop a close relationship with God. This "baptism" occurs when an individual turns over one who desires to become Charismatic. The individual who is being prayed over then receives the Spirit. As a Notre Dame student in the late August convention, there are times when more than 22,000 Charismatics attended the last convention in the University of Notre Dame's football stadium. Each summer the Catholic Charismatic Renewal convention in late August convention takes place. More than 22,000 Charismatics from the entire community prays for a specific idea. As the Notre Dame student in the late August convention, there are times when more than 22,000 Charismatics attended the last convention in the University of Notre Dame's football stadium.

Call Kim at 8122 or 8661

Observer needs typists.

ENGINEERING AND COMPUTER SCIENCE SENIORS

Come to our OPEN HOUSE

McDonnell Douglas Corporation is having an Open House for Engineer- ing and Computer Science Seniors who are interested in learning more about career opportunities. This is your op- portunity to:

- Talk with recent graduates pres- ently working with McDonnell Douglas Corporation
- See movies of Fighter & Com- mercial Aircraft, Spacecraft, and Missile Programs.
- Receive brochures of all pro- grams and career opportunities.

Refreshments

We'll be on campus

Tues., Jan. 22

Morris Inn
Shamrock Room
7:00pm-9:00pm
Newsmen must leave Kabul

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) - The Soviet-backed Afghan government has ordered all American journalists out of the country, accusing them of biased reporting and "interference în the country's internal affairs," a U.S. Embassy official told the journalists yesterday.

The Soviet-backed Afghan told the journalists yesterday that the government has ordered all American journalists out of that country, accusing them of having helped overthrow one Marxist government and replace it with another and that they have been helping the Afghan army put down an anti-communist rebellion in the countryside.

The Afghan order came three days after Ayatollah Khomeini's regime in neighboring Iran ordered all American journalists out of that country.

A Western diplomat in New Delhi, India, said initial reports said only American citizens were to be deported from Afghanistan and that it was not clear whether this included non-American workers for U.S. organizations.

The Soviet news agency Tass quoted an Afghan Revolutionary Council decree as saying "phony" American correspondents had entered Afghanistan and were "practicing in fabrications and insinuations, one being more absurd than another. Their aim is to step up tension in our country, disrupt the normal life of the Afghans."

We cannot but qualify the activities of the above-mentioned journalists as flagrant interference in the internal affairs of the sovereign state of Afghanistan. That is why the Revolutionary Council has taken a decision to expel the American journalists from Afghanistan," Tass quoted the decree as saying.

Russian officers commanding the Soviet force in Afghanistan are understood to have complained to Afghan authorities about the almost daily incidents between Soviet forces and foreign correspondents filming, photographing and trying to interview them.

It has become routine for Soviet troops to arrest correspondents and confiscate film. Reporters are usually held for a couple of hours and released.

In some cases troops have fired at the tires of cars carrying correspondents.

The Afghan government continues to exercise rigorous censornship. It does not permit journalists to report news out of the country that mentions the Soviet presence.

Hostages write letters to families, friends

(AP) - American hostages in Tehran, apparently as a Christmas gesture by their captors, have been allowed to write home expressing thanks for messages of support and appealing in the words of one for "prompt action to free us from this terrible situation."

Among the letters received this week by government officials and families, well-wishers expressed hope he would be home by Christmas 1980, but said "I even doubt that."

Another Marine, Cpl. William Gallegos, 21 of Pueblo, Colo., was more optimistic. In a thank-you note to Lisa and Jodi Gurbisz, young sisters in tomatoes, he wrote: "Victims of one Marxist government and replace it with another."

"In 13 days I have been given only three brief exercise periods in the fresh air and only four tasteless and unpalatable oranges, two hard boiled eggs, one small bottle of fresh milk and a few pressed dates to supplement an otherwise monotonous and too starchy diet."

Ode said he believed mail had been withheld from the hostages and that they had been denied visits by U.S. government representatives, given no news of any kind, and were forbidden to talk to each other.

Ode said the hostages had no idea what the United States was doing in their behalf. "I can only ask that with your power of the press," he wrote the Post, "that you do everything possible to bring pressure on the responsible leaders in our government to take prompt action to free us from this terrible situation."

Ode saw similar letters to the White House and to Sen. John Warner, R-Va. and Rep. Joseph Fisher, D-Va. Private letters from Ode were released by his wife, Rita; his sister, Marjorie, Keone of St. Louis, Mich., and to the fourth grade class at Our Lady of Victories School in Landisville, N.J. Ode said he believed mail had been withheld from the hostages and that they had been denied visits by U.S. government representatives, given no news of any kind, and were forbidden to talk to each other. The hostages in Tehran were said to be scrawling Nov. 4, 1979. Gurbisz, young sisters in tomatoes, he wrote: "Victims of one Marxist government and replace it with another."

Another Marine, Cpl. William Gallegos, 21 of Pueblo, Colo., was more optimistic. In a thank-you note to Lisa and Jodi Gurbisz, young sisters in tomatoes, he wrote: "Victims of one Marxist government and replace it with another."

"In 13 days I have been given only three brief exercise periods in the fresh air and only four tasteless and unpalatable oranges, two hard boiled eggs, one small bottle of fresh milk and a few pressed dates to supplement an otherwise monotonous and too starchy diet."

Ode said he believed mail had been withheld from the hostages and that they had been denied visits by U.S. government representatives, given no news of any kind, and were forbidden to talk to each other.

Ode said the hostages had no idea what the United States was doing in their behalf. "I can only ask that with your power of the press," he wrote the Post, "that you do everything possible to bring pressure on the responsible leaders in our government to take prompt action to free us from this terrible situation."

Ode saw similar letters to the White House and to Sen. John Warner, R-Va. and Rep. Joseph Fisher, D-Va. Private letters from Ode were released by his wife, Rita; his sister, Marjorie, Keone of St. Louis, Mich., and to the fourth grade class at Our Lady of Victories School in Landisville, N.J. Ode said he believed mail had been withheld from the hostages and that they had been denied visits by U.S. government representatives, given no news of any kind, and were forbidden to talk to each other.

The hostages in Tehran were said to be scrawling Nov. 4, 1979. Gurbisz, young sisters in tomatoes, he wrote: "Victims of one Marxist government and replace it with another."

"In 13 days I have been given only three brief exercise periods in the fresh air and only four tasteless and unpalatable oranges, two hard boiled eggs, one small bottle of fresh milk and a few pressed dates to supplement an otherwise monotonous and too starchy diet."

Ode said he believed mail had been withheld from the hostages and that they had been denied visits by U.S. government representatives, given no news of any kind, and were forbidden to talk to each other.

Ode said the hostages had no idea what the United States was doing in their behalf. "I can only ask that with your power of the press," he wrote the Post, "that you do everything possible to bring pressure on the responsible leaders in our government to take prompt action to free us from this terrible situation."

Ode saw similar letters to the White House and to Sen. John Warner, R-Va. and Rep. Joseph Fisher, D-Va. Private letters from Ode were released by his wife, Rita; his sister, Marjorie, Keone of St. Louis, Mich., and to the fourth grade class at Our Lady of Victories School in Landisville, N.J. Ode said he believed mail had been withheld from the hostages and that they had been denied visits by U.S. government representatives, given no news of any kind, and were forbidden to talk to each other.

State Department spokesman Hodding Carter said yesterday that Ode's letter "appearing to be genuine, was among those received by the 16 persons across the country in the past few days from nine of the American hostages held in Tehran."
The publication of "The Chase Manhattan Bank and Notre Dame" by Peter Walsh in The Observer (Dec. 4) is a low blow for our idealistic and invertebrate liberalism. Prof. Walsh makes an ignominious attack on the foreign investment policies of the Chase Manhattan Bank by using a title that is clearly intended to associate the Chase with thephinx of iniquity, Nazi Germany. This is not the first, nor will it be the last attempt of the University to divide the students and the faculty by creating a needless and demeaning issue.

I would respectfully suggest that Prof. Walsh's comments are made with malicious intent. The Observer is not merely a campus publication; it is an essential part of the University of Notre Dame. It is essential that we maintain an open dialogue, and that we do not allow petty rhetoric to divide us.

The Observer
Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556
Afghans reject Russia, but attack only vocally

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Cab drivers who barely speak English know how to say, "America good, Russia bad." Shopkeepers boast to Westerners about refusing to serve Soviet troops.

A messenger walking in line at a post office covers his mouth with his hand and whispers: "Very bad time for Afghanistan."

And a toothless old man, who 46 years ago fled the Soviet Union for Afghanistan, says of the present situation here: "Very bad. Very bad, very bad. They are against God.

Three weeks after the Soviet army occupied Afghanistan and helped replace one Marxist government with another, visitors to the ancient capital city still hear much talk against the Soviets.

Yet that seems the extent of anti-Soviet action in this city of 450,000. There were only two incidents in the first days of occupation," says one Western diplomat. "But I think these same incidents are being recycled over and over as new attacks, because the Kabul bourgeoisie want to feel they are also doing their bit against the Russians.

Afghanistan historically has driven off foreign powers who have crossed into its territory. Kabul has witnessed the passage of Darius-Dynasty Persians, Alexander the Great, Tamerlane, the Arabs, the Mongols and the Moghuls. The country fought the British to a standstill three times, despite being bombed by British aircraft in 1919.

Family

[continued from page 13]

Tempel said the Gilligans' deaths "have influenced all people... want to feel they are of your presence," Tempel said. "We are sad that we are sad."

Gregory were with us such a short time, and we are still aware of your presence," Mrs. Gilligan said. "We know the Gilligans were given the promise of eternal life." And a toothless old man, who 46 years ago fled the Soviet Union for Afghanistan, says of the present situation here: "Very bad. Very bad, very bad. They are against God.

Three weeks after the Soviet army occupied Afghanistan and helped replace one Marxist government with another, visitors to the ancient capital city still hear much talk against the Soviets.

Yet that seems the extent of anti-Soviet action in this city of 450,000. There were only two incidents in the first days of occupation," says one Western diplomat. "But I think these same incidents are being recycled over and over as new attacks, because the Kabul bourgeoisie want to feel they are also doing their bit against the Russians.

Afghanistan historically has driven off foreign powers who have crossed into its territory. Kabul has witnessed the passage of Darius-Dynasty Persians, Alexander the Great, Tamerlane, the Arabs, the Mongols and the Moghuls. The country fought the British to a standstill three times, despite being bombed by British aircraft in 1919.

The Observer
Friday, January 18, 1980 - page 10
[continued from page 7]

Charismatics have developed from small groups into the Notre Dame and Duquesne Universities to an international organization with a membership of over one million. The Charismatic renewal in the United States today is in the area of 500,000 members. The renewal itself is very young, it started earlier in European universities campuses which were mentioned above twelve years ago. The movement did not start in the boundaries of a strict form. In its early years, it was a presence in individual homes. As Fr. Murphy points out, the Catholic Charismatic Renewal did not originate by the deliberate adoption of any goal, it is not organized. The movement has gained popularity (it's my estimate) is said to be growing annually in recent years because the Charismatics ardently believe in and practice the need to be active in their meetings and their lives. Of the many pentecostal movements in the United States and the world (total membership numbers between fifteen and twenty million), the Catholic Church did not resist the renewal, of fact, the late Pope Paul VI praised and encouraged the Catholic Charismatics to revitalize the Christian faith. Bishop Murphy points out that the Catholic Charismatic Renewal view their charismatic life as supplementary to their relationship with the established Church. The Charismatic Renewal can therefore be considered a means to an end; through it the Charismatic movement develops a close relationship with God and an inner self peace. The Charismatic Renewal continues to attend Mass and other religious services in order to understand their faith.

Charismatics

Life span

[continued from page 2]

about social pressures and this is where any improvement in the American life is likely to come in the near future, according to re research. Some of the social problems which Americans are going to have to reckon with are emphasized in the surgeon general's latest report on health promotion and disease prevention.

"Currently, average consump tion of alcohol for all persons over the age of 14 is higher than 15 years ago-about 2.6 gallons of alcohol annually, representing a total of 28 gallons of beer, plus 2.3 gallons of wine." The report concludes:

"Ten million adult Americans over the age of 18 are - older - are estimated to be alcoholics or problem drinkers.

Cirrhosis of the liver, caused by excessive drinking, killed 31,407 persons in 1976, or 1.4 of every 100,000 persons.

Alcoholism and alcoholism are estimated by the Alcohol, Drug Abuse and Mental Health Administration to have cost the nation nearly $45 billion in 1977. The United States is in the area of 200 million years, suicide 814,157 years, and stroke 333,944 years. Through a system of measuring the number of life years lost because of these diseases and accidents, we can take into account life expectancies of the Holy Spirit on earth. The Pentecostal Christians are characterized by a lively con science and a lively action of the Holy Spirit. He is the spirit of Christ. Christ is the producer of the spiritual reality of their existence. The Charismatics live in a way which Christ and the Apostles emphasized, they "Do not resist inspired messages" (1 Thess. 3:19).
Three classes have already graduated from the nursing school and are working in positions across the country. The nurses are recruited with a vigor which sometimes frightens Martucci. "The recruiters come with dinners, presents and promises," she said. "I worry about the girls being swept away by all this."

Aside from that one worry, the future of the nursing school looks very promising. "I knew we'd get the accreditation," Teresa Robb, a sophomore nursing major said. "It was just a gut feeling. This school is so great, how could we miss it?"
The Observer - Sports

Sports Briefs

Women's Crew to hold workout

The ND/SMC Women's Crew team will hold its initial winter workout this Sunday, January 20, 1980 at 10:00 AM. Members are to meet at Gate 3 of the ACC. All new members are encouraged to attend. Any questions concerning the workout should be directed toward Jill Deluca (324-2331) or Teri Hinz (4-1908).

Soccer team to meet Monday

There will be a meeting for anyone interested in playing on the Notre Dame Soccer team this Monday evening, January 21, 1980 at 7:00 p.m. The meeting will be held in the Little Theater of the Athletic and Convocation Center.

Irish swimmers to face Butler

The Fighting Irish swim team will engage in a dual meet with Butler this Saturday, January 19, 1980, at 2:00 p.m. in the Rockne Memorial pool. The Irish swimmers will be attempting to even their season record at 2-2.

... Olympics

(continued from page 5)

nistan, deplore it and take no action at all," she said.

One official acknowledged that the United States could establish an opposing international committee to participate in the 1984 Games, scheduled for Los Angeles, at the same time as those in Moscow or at a later date to permit the U.S. members of the International Olympic Committee and is not under government control.

Officials said the White House has received considerable support from within the United States for a boycott of the Moscow summer Olympics, but State Department officials have said most U.S. allies have been cool toward participating in such a move.

However, British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher declared her government’s support yesterday for moving the Olympic Games from Moscow in retaliation for the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan. A boycott would gain the support of her country’s Jews, and some official favor, among other NATO allies.

Canadian Prime Minister Joe Clark was the first Western leader to call publicly for moving the Games from the Soviet capital.

In her statement, Mrs. Thatcher said, “We cannot just stand back and see the Russians do what they have done in Afghanistan, deplore it and take no action at all.

“Many of those who hope to participate, particularly swimmers and gymnasts, there is only one chance in a lifetime to compete in an Olympic. Because the games are held only every four years, some of those who must train hardest and longest to win a position on their nation’s team were too young for the last games and will be past their physical prime before the next competition opens. The sources said White House counsel Lloyd Cutler has told the president the administration has no legal authority to order its team not to participate in the Soviet Union this summer because, although the team would be under the national banner, it is organized by the private U.S. Olympic Committee and is not under government control.

U.S. members of the international committee also have been cool toward a boycott. The administration nonetheless has been actively seeking public support for a possible boycott and could put considerable pressure on the committee to stay home or send the team to an alternate site.

... Unranked Bruins

(continued from page 16)

Darran Daye (6.6 ppg), Paxson believes that a good way to counter their quickness is to exploit their inexperience.

“We’re in a good situation here at Notre Dame because Coach Phillips is able to use the freshmen by choice as opposed to by necessity,” says Paxson. “Coach Browne, on the other hand, is forced to go with some young people in key situations and if our guards can force them to make mistakes then we should be able to take advantage of that.”

But no one as of yet has been able to take advantage of Kiki Vandeweghe. The 6-8 forward has been shooting at a solid .381 clip and tossing 19.5 points per game. The last time these two teams met he was the high point man for the ballgame with 14 ppg. Jackson believes that a good way to exploit his inexperience.

“Coach Brown, on the other hand, is forced to go with some young people in key situations and if our guards can force them to make mistakes then we should be able to take advantage of that.”

But no one as of yet has been able to take advantage of Kiki Vandeweghe. The 6-8 forward has been shooting at a solid .381 clip and tossing 19.5 points per game. The last time these two teams met he was the high point man for the ballgame with 14 ppg. Jackson believes that a good way to exploit his inexperience.

“Coach Brown, on the other hand, is forced to go with some young people in key situations and if our guards can force them to make mistakes then we should be able to take advantage of that.”

But no one as of yet has been able to take advantage of Kiki Vandeweghe. The 6-8 forward has been shooting at a solid .381 clip and tossing 19.5 points per game. The last time these two teams met he was the high point man for the ballgame with 14 ppg. Jackson believes that a good way to exploit his inexperience.

“Coach Brown, on the other hand, is forced to go with some young people in key situations and if our guards can force them to make mistakes then we should be able to take advantage of that.”

But no one as of yet has been able to take advantage of Kiki Vandeweghe. The 6-8 forward has been shooting at a solid .381 clip and tossing 19.5 points per game. The last time these two teams met he was the high point man for the ballgame with 14 ppg. Jackson believes that a good way to exploit his inexperience.

“Coach Brown, on the other hand, is forced to go with some young people in key situations and if our guards can force them to make mistakes then we should be able to take advantage of that.”

But no one as of yet has been able to take advantage of Kiki Vandeweghe. The 6-8 forward has been shooting at a solid .381 clip and tossing 19.5 points per game. The last time these two teams met he was the high point man for the ballgame with 14 ppg. Jackson believes that a good way to exploit his inexperience.

“Coach Brown, on the other hand, is forced to go with some young people in key situations and if our guards can force them to make mistakes then we should be able to take advantage of that.”

But no one as of yet has been able to take advantage of Kiki Vandeweghe. The 6-8 forward has been shooting at a solid .381 clip and tossing 19.5 points per game. The last time these two teams met he was the high point man for the ballgame with 14 ppg. Jackson believes that a good way to exploit his inexperience.
The blast, which occurred four miles from Belfast, started a fire and sent terrified passengers, some burned andblackened, jumping to the tracks and scrambling up embankments.

"There was no warning—these people had no chance," a British Army spokesman said of the victims.

Local residents opened their homes for the wounded.

The three victims raised the official death toll to 2,007, including 13 this year, in the 10-year Northern Irish conflict, in which guerrillas of the Irish Republican Army have waged an underground war to end British rule and unite the predominantly Protestant province with the mainly Roman Catholic Irish Republic.

The Daily Crossword

[continued from page 1]

Yesterday's Puzzle Solved:

ACROSS
1 Error
2 Substance
3 Depressed
4 Great
5 Kind of sandwich
6 "You—", and...I'll...
8 Cell of
9 Chick
10 Pain of 11 Royal
12 "White"
17 Bride's
18 Parent of
19 Guitar's
20 — Plexus
21 "Side"
23 "We"—
24 "White"
32 Improving
33 "Give us—" on progress day...
34 Path
35 "As an elephant's eye"
36 "Michelines"
37 Jan—
38 Rhone
39 "City—."
40 Repair
41 "Auxiliary with"
42 "River of..."
43 Stilts
44 Luxurious
45 "Such as"
46 "Highway"
47 "Illman—"
48 "Band leader"
49 "Mayor"
50 "Richman"
51 "I'll..."
52 "Baker"
53 "Lorelei"
54 "Young sheep"
55 "Lover"—
56 "Doctor"
57 "Bob"
58 "Count"
59 "Kings—"
60 "Nut—"
61 "County"
62 "City of"
63 "River of..."—
64 "Lubricate"
65 "River of..."
66 "Lily plant"
67 "Singer"
68 "City of the Rhone"
69 "Repair"
70 "Auxiliary with"
71 "River of..."
72 "Huskly shoe"
73 "A Ludwig"
74 "Candy nut"
75 "Sadie"
76 "Ever"
77 "Through:
78 "Journey to"
79 "Bowl"
80 "Tear"
81 "Basketball player"
82 "City of"
83 "Eleanor"
84 "Catskill"
85 "City of"
86 "Music"
87 "Bird"
88 "Young sheep"
89 "Lover"
90 "Do"
91 "Word work"
92 "Hit musical"
93 "Prefix with Auxiliary}
94 "Cost"
95 "Part of"
96 "Do"
97 "Dimiss"—
98 "Nothing Sp.
99 "Arrest"
100 "Pretense"
101 "Pretense"
102 "Unit of"
103 "Time, etc."

DOWNS
1 Viper
2 "Basketball Player"
3 "Patient"
4 "City of"
5 "Eleanor"
6 "Catskill"
7 "City of"
8 "Eleanor"
9 "Bank"
10 "Bowl"
11 "Dart feature"
12 "City of"
13 "City of"
14 "City of"
15 "City of"
16 "City of"
17 "City of"
18 "City of"
19 "City of"
20 "City of"
21 "City of"
22 "City of"
23 "City of"
24 "City of"
25 "City of"
26 "City of"
27 "City of"
28 "City of"
29 "City of"
30 "City of"
31 "City of"
32 "City of"
33 "City of"
34 "City of"
35 "City of"
36 "City of"
37 "City of"
38 "City of"
39 "City of"
40 "City of"
41 "City of"
42 "City of"
43 "City of"
44 "City of"
45 "City of"
46 "City of"
47 "City of"
48 "City of"
49 "City of"
50 "City of"
51 "City of"
52 "City of"
53 "City of"
54 "City of"
55 "City of"
56 "City of"
57 "City of"
58 "City of"
59 "City of"
60 "City of"
61 "City of"
62 "City of"
63 "City of"
64 "City of"
65 "City of"
66 "City of"
67 "City of"
68 "City of"
69 "City of"
70 "City of"
71 "City of"
72 "City of"
73 "City of"
74 "City of"
75 "City of"
76 "City of"
77 "City of"
78 "City of"
79 "City of"
80 "City of"
81 "City of"
82 "City of"
83 "City of"
84 "City of"
85 "City of"
86 "City of"
87 "City of"
88 "City of"
89 "City of"
90 "City of"
91 "City of"
92 "City of"
93 "City of"
94 "City of"
95 "City of"
96 "City of"
97 "City of"
98 "City of"
99 "City of"
100 "City of"

Molarity

The popular campus comic strip Molarity by Michael Molinelli is not featured in today's paper because of the disappearance of a series of originals from the South Dining Hall Wednesday. Anyone with any information concerning the cartoons is asked to please contact The Observer at #7471.

Macri's Italian Bakery

Celebrating it's 1st Anniversary and treats are on us

Pastries

Enormous variety of Italian pastries ever! We carry it all starting from the ordinary donut to the famous Italian cannoli, but you deserve a change from the ordinary donut and roll and we can change it.

Weekly specials

Free American coffee from 7:00-12:00am*
Capuccino half price

Today's special CANNOLI

★ with any purchase

Cakes

The most talked about cake is Macri's Italian torte. A 5 layer cake with your choice of 4 varieties of cream. Also serving the best cream white cake at a price you can afford.

Free Raffles

-3 keep of beer* or equivalent in cases
-A coffee cake daily. First winner announced Monday.

Now serving

Espresso and cappuccino coffee is the coffee lovers coffee

FREE DELIVERY ON CAMPUS!

with any $10 order
Irish runners await indoor track season

by John Smith
Sports Writer

Notre Dame's indoor track and field season gets into full swing this weekend as the Irish travel to West Lafayette, IN to compete in the Purdue Invitational tournament. The meet will consist of both Princeton indoor events and no running team score will be maintained.

This will be the first time the Irish will compete as a team, as they send approximately 35 athletes to Purdue, during the 1980 indoor season.

The time to get things going is now. "By losing three of our last four league games we gave a lot of hope for ourselves in the standings. We are behind in the loss column to every team above us but one, and that is going to force us into an uphill battle the rest of the season. The time to get things going is now." The Notre Dame wrestling team lost and tied at Michigan last weekend and is in third place in the WCHA with a 10-7-1 record. Jeff Snider's Tigers have 12 freshmen and sophomores in the lineup, making them one of the youngest teams in the league. Dale Maksymyk, Gary Reinking and Bruce Addicks top Colorado College in scoring.

Colorado College lost and tied at Michigan last weekend and is in third place in the WCHA with a 10-7-1 record. Jeff Snider's Tigers have 12 freshmen and sophomores in the lineup, making them one of the youngest teams in the league. Dale Maksymyk, Gary Reinking and Bruce Addicks top Colorado College in scoring.

Colorado College was the hottest team in the league prior to Christmas break, notes Smith. "Their goal, Tom Jamie, has been nothing short of outstanding and probably against the Tigers. We are going to make that quite a challenge.

The Irish were swept by first-place North Dakota last weekend, 7-4. The third Irish have been having this year. The losses dropped Notre Dame from a tie for seventh to sole possession of eighteenth.

"We did not play poorly during the Christmas inter­ mission," said Smith. "Rather, mistakes and momentary defensive lapses have cost us. Notre Dame is the best team we have faced all year and is going to be hard to beat.

The Irish were without the services of three players last week: sophomore Daveoul, f. and junior Cameron, sprained left knee, and freshman Rex Bellomy, fractured collarbone. "This will be a tough game for the Irish. The Irish also will be trying to break their Friday night jinx against North Dakota. The team fell to North Dakota (24-17) in Notre Dame's home opener last weekend and lost a 2-4 mark in winter break mat action.

The Irish opened their 1980 campaign with two encouraging wins in a traditional quadrangular meet. The feisty grapplers punched the living-daylights out of Franklin 23-16, losing only to perennial nemesis Wright State 23-16 in the four-team tourney.

Yet the glory was short-lived as the Irish dropped a 28-12 decision the following day at Illinois and then absorbed a twin-killing at the hands of Army (20-17) and Middle Ten­ nessee State (24-17) in Notre Dame's home opener last weekend.

A 4-4 drubbing at the hands of Indiana State closed our pre-season meet for the Irish.

"I really try to be optimistic," reflects Irish coach Ray Sepeta. "Despite our record I have seen some improvement. We won four of the ten matches over Illinois, whereas last year we managed just one time."

Sensor Dave DiSabato continues to turn the heads of the collective wrestling world, having won all five of his matches over break to increase his season mark to 15-1. This flash of co-pancakes has jumped into first on the Irish all-time wrestling win list with 88 career victories.

Sepeta is more encouraged about this weekend's home meet with Milwau­ kee, WHash and Washington on Saturday.

"This weekend won't be quite as vigorous a competition as we've experienced in the last couple weeks," says Sepeta. "I really hope it's a welcome breather to give the team some experience and confidence.

The quadrangular facc off is slated for 1 p.m. in the ACC pit.
Paxson questionable
Unranked Bruins seek revenge

by Frank LaGrotta
Sports Writer

OK everybody, it’s trivia time! I want to see how much you know about the Patriots. Who remembers the last time the New England Patriots lost a game? It was during the 2016 season. Who was the head coach of the team during that time? It was Bill Belichick. Who left the field in frustration after that game? It was Tom Brady. Who was the player who got fouled out of the game? It was Josh Gordon. Who was the player who was tackled by the Patriots? It was McVay. Who was the referee who made the call? It was Ed Hochuli.

Super Bowl promises ‘backer’ battle

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ever since the violent world of Sam Huff, there has been a special aura about professional football linebackers, especially middle linebackers.

The two men in the middle in Sunday’s Super Bowl continue the tradition. Make no mistake about it, Pittsburgh’s Jack Lambert and Jack Reynolds of Los Angeles are not to be trifled with.

One of Lambert’s pet observations of his profession is that quartermen ought to wear dresses. Reynolds’ nickname is Hacksaw because he once divided an automobile in half.

“Sure this is a violent game,” said Lambert. “That’s why I like it. That’s why you play. And you play for the upperclassman, the game of the season and all the extra privileges.”

He shot it into the air and you knew where it was going to land. He asked Reynolds, “Right there,” he said, pointing to the top of his head.

What happened then? “It just fell off,” he said. Naturally.

Then there were the trees there it was cut. Once you cut a tree with a chainsaw, you always cut it down without any branches, he said.

“It was a beauty,” he said. “A beauty of a tree. I could feel the bark under my hand.”

Now, about Reynolds. The nickname came when he was in college at Tennessee. The Vols were on the verge of a Sugar Bowl invitation when they ran into Archie Manning and Mississippi. “He beat us 38-0,” recalled Reynolds. “And you want to know what kind of 38-0. That was the kind they used to give to the electricians.”

Just ask Sam Huff, the guy who started the tradition.

Once again, it appears that the National Football League’s colossal showcase, Super Bowl XIV, will be a colossal bore. Pete Rozelle is painfully finding out that no matter how much hype, the Super Bowl usually isn’t. But at the present time, Rozelle is faced with a far more serious problem. The entire National Football League is suffering from cancer.

Jack Tatum, who is to the profession of football what Banning Cavan, the great American basketball player of the 1930s, was to the profession of basketball. Tatum, who is to the profession of football what Sammy White’s eyeballs rolled around in his head after being blinded by Banning, will make the difference.

Another than the obvious get-rich-quick motive, it is a business with an appropriately titled artist whose cowardice is matched only by his intelligence to fully comprehend such an action.

Remember, creativity counts.

Craig Chval
Sports Writer

Tatum makes ‘assassin’ of himself

And a court order turning over the profits from his public confession to Darrell Stingley would be another. (See Hackberr v. Clark for a legal precedent.)

Other than the obvious get-rich-quick motive, it is as much that Tatum would write such a book. The timing, to say the least, was poor. With Tatum still active, at least until Rozelle makes a decision, he will be taking his life in his hands each time he steps on the field.

But back to the problem at hand, namely dealing with perhaps the most appalling sports figure since O.J. Simpson.

By all means, Rozelle should make sure Tatum never sees foot on an NFL playing field as long as he lives.

There is considerable doubt, however, whether Rozelle has the courage, disposition, or intelligence to fully comprehend such an action.

We must communicate to Jack on his level. We must tackle Tatum before a firing squad at halftime of the Super Bowl in Pasadena. That would be too quick, too simple, and too tame.

So I’m accepting suggestions. How would you do it? Please write to 459 Keenan Hall, and the best ones will be pointed out at a later date.

Remember, creativity counts.