The Observer

VOL. XIV, NO. 169

TUESDAY, APRIL 15, 1980

Observer Oscars - Page 2

Vogt opens ISO festival, talks on West Germany

_by Earl Rex_

Dr. Hannah Vogt, author of "The Burden of Guilt," opened the 1980 International Students' Organization (ISO) festival by expressing both the hope and concern for the future of West Germany and democratic democracy last night in Haggar Hall Auditorium.

Speaking on, "The Holocaust and Present Day German Democracy," Vogt compared the contributions of the future German generation to that of the youth coming of age in the 1930s. The Western youth of the 1930s seemed to Vogt to have a, "total sense of false security," whereas the youth of West Germany seemed to have a "total sense of alarm." Vogt saw hope in the youth of West Germany, as she saw in the youth of the 1930s, and said that "We have a right to be hopeful for the well being of the future of Germany." Vogt felt that the young people of West Germany were "extremely conscious of danger." "This is our problem and this is our responsiblity."

Vogt continued her talk by saying that "The concept of democracy has not yet been put to the test in West Germany."

Dr. Hannah Vogt (Photo by Greg Maurer)

Academy Awards

Hollywood (AP) — "Kramer vs. Kramer," the bittersweet story of an emotional child custody battle, won the Academy Award as best picture of 1979 last night. As predicted, the film swept most of the major awards, including best actor for Dustin Hoffman and best actress award for Meryl Streep and best direction and screenplay adaptation.

Sally Field was named best actress for her performance as the reluctant union organizer "Norma Rae." The Oscar for best supporting actor went to Melvyn Douglas, the elderly actor who starred in "The Robe." Robert Benton won honors as both best director and best screenplay adapter for "Kramer." The best original song award went to "It Goes Like It Goes," Robert Townes's musical self-portrait of a producer. The award for best original score went to "Breaking Away." "All That Jazz," Bob Fosse's musical self-portrait of a producer, received awards for sound and cinematography. "Apocalypse Now," Francis Ford Coppola's searing portrayal of Vietnam madness, picked up awards for sound and cinematography. The award for best original song went to "It Goes Like It Goes," by Earl Rix.

Hollywood (AP) — At Hollywood and Vine, the famed intersection of the world's "movie capital," a strolling tourist today is more likely to bump into a teen-age prostitute than to encounter the future of West Germany and democratic democracy last night in Haggar Hall Auditorium.

Speaking on, "The Holocaust and Present Day German Democracy," Vogt compared the contributions of the future German generation to that of the youth coming of age in the 1930s. The Western youth of the 1930s seemed to Vogt to have a, "total sense of false security," whereas the youth of West Germany seemed to have a "total sense of alarm." Vogt saw hope in the youth of West Germany, as she saw in the youth of the 1930s, and said that "We have a right to be hopeful for the well being of the future of Germany." Vogt felt that the young people of West Germany were "extremely conscious of danger." "This is our problem and this is our responsiblity."

Vogt opened her talk by saying that "The concept of democracy has not yet been put to the test in West Germany."

Dr. Hannah Vogt (Photo by Earl Rix)

Academy Awards

Hollywood (AP) — "Kramer vs. Kramer," the bittersweet story of an emotional child custody battle, won the Academy Award as best picture of 1979 last night. As predicted, the film swept most of the major awards, including best actor for Dustin Hoffman and best actress award for Meryl Streep and best direction and screenplay adaptation.

Sally Field was named best actress for her performance as the reluctant union organizer "Norma Rae." The Oscar for best supporting actor went to Melvyn Douglas, the elderly actor who starred in "The Robe." Robert Benton won honors as both best director and best screenplay adapter for "Kramer." The best original song award went to "It Goes Like It Goes," Robert Townes's musical self-portrait of a producer. The award for best original score went to "Breaking Away." "All That Jazz," Bob Fosse's musical self-portrait of a producer, received awards for sound and cinematography. "Apocalypse Now," Francis Ford Coppola's searing portrayal of Vietnam madness, picked up awards for sound and cinematography. The award for best original song went to "It Goes Like It Goes," by Earl Rix.

Hollywood (AP) — - At Hollywood and Vine, the famed intersection of the world's "movie capital," a strolling tourist today is more likely to bump into a teen-age prostitute than to encounter the future of West Germany and democratic democracy last night in Haggar Hall Auditorium.

Speaking on, "The Holocaust and Present Day German Democracy," Vogt compared the contributions of the future German generation to that of the youth coming of age in the 1930s. The Western youth of the 1930s seemed to Vogt to have a, "total sense of false security," whereas the youth of West Germany seemed to have a "total sense of alarm." Vogt saw hope in the youth of West Germany, as she saw in the youth of the 1930s, and said that "We have a right to be hopeful for the well being of the future of Germany." Vogt felt that the young people of West Germany were "extremely conscious of danger." "This is our problem and this is our responsiblity."

Vogt opened her talk by saying that "The concept of democracy has not yet been put to the test in West Germany."

Dr. Hannah Vogt (Photo by Earl Rix)

Academy Awards

Hollywood (AP) — "Kramer vs. Kramer," the bittersweet story of an emotional child custody battle, won the Academy Award as best picture of 1979 last night. As predicted, the film swept most of the major awards, including best actor for Dustin Hoffman and best actress award for Meryl Streep and best direction and screenplay adaptation.

Sally Field was named best actress for her performance as the reluctant union organizer "Norma Rae." The Oscar for best supporting actor went to Melvyn Douglas, the elderly actor who starred in "The Robe." Robert Benton won honors as both best director and best screenplay adapter for "Kramer." The best original song award went to "It Goes Like It Goes," Robert Townes's musical self-portrait of a producer. The award for best original score went to "Breaking Away." "All That Jazz," Bob Fosse's musical self-portrait of a producer, received awards for sound and cinematography. "Apocalypse Now," Francis Ford Coppola's searing portrayal of Vietnam madness, picked up awards for sound and cinematography. The award for best original song went to "It Goes Like It Goes," by Earl Rix.

Hollywood (AP) — At Hollywood and Vine, the famed intersection of the world's "movie capital," a strolling tourist today is more likely to bump into a teen-age prostitute than to encounter the future of West Germany and democratic democracy last night in Haggar Hall Auditorium.

Speaking on, "The Holocaust and Present Day German Democracy," Vogt compared the contributions of the future German generation to that of the youth coming of age in the 1930s. The Western youth of the 1930s seemed to Vogt to have a, "total sense of false security," whereas the youth of West Germany seemed to have a "total sense of alarm." Vogt saw hope in the youth of West Germany, as she saw in the youth of the 1930s, and said that "We have a right to be hopeful for the well being of the future of Germany." Vogt felt that the young people of West Germany were "extremely conscious of danger." "This is our problem and this is our responsiblity."

Vogt opened her talk by saying that "The concept of democracy has not yet been put to the test in West Germany."

Dr. Hannah Vogt (Photo by Earl Rix)

Academy Awards

Hollywood (AP) — "Kramer vs. Kramer," the bittersweet story of an emotional child custody battle, won the Academy Award as best picture of 1979 last night. As predicted, the film swept most of the major awards, including best actor for Dustin Hoffman and best actress award for Meryl Streep and best direction and screenplay adaptation.

Sally Field was named best actress for her performance as the reluctant union organizer "Norma Rae." The Oscar for best supporting actor went to Melvyn Douglas, the elderly actor who starred in "The Robe." Robert Benton won honors as both best director and best screenplay adapter for "Kramer." The best original song award went to "It Goes Like It Goes," Robert Townes's musical self-portrait of a producer. The award for best original score went to "Breaking Away." "All That Jazz," Bob Fosse's musical self-portrait of a producer, received awards for sound and cinematography. "Apocalypse Now," Francis Ford Coppola's searing portrayal of Vietnam madness, picked up awards for sound and cinematography. The award for best original song went to "It Goes Like It Goes," by Earl Rix.

Hollywood (AP) — At Hollywood and Vine, the famed intersection of the world's "movie capital," a strolling tourist today is more likely to bump into a teen-age prostitute than to encounter the future of West Germany and democratic democracy last night in Haggar Hall Auditorium.

Speaking on, "The Holocaust and Present Day German Democracy," Vogt compared the contributions of the future German generation to that of the youth coming of age in the 1930s. The Western youth of the 1930s seemed to Vogt to have a, "total sense of false security," whereas the youth of West Germany seemed to have a "total sense of alarm." Vogt saw hope in the youth of West Germany, as she saw in the youth of the 1930s, and said that "We have a right to be hopeful for the well being of the future of Germany." Vogt felt that the young people of West Germany were "extremely conscious of danger." "This is our problem and this is our responsiblity."

Vogt opened her talk by saying that "The concept of democracy has not yet been put to the test in West Germany."

Dr. Hannah Vogt (Photo by Earl Rix)

Academy Awards

Hollywood (AP) — "Kramer vs. Kramer," the bittersweet story of an emotional child custody battle, won the Academy Award as best picture of 1979 last night. As predicted, the film swept most of the major awards, including best actor for Dustin Hoffman and best actress award for Meryl Streep and best direction and screenplay adaptation.

Sally Field was named best actress for her performance as the reluctant union organizer "Norma Rae." The Oscar for best supporting actor went to Melvyn Douglas, the elderly actor who starred in "The Robe." Robert Benton won honors as both best director and best screenplay adapter for "Kramer." The best original song award went to "It Goes Like It Goes," Robert Townes's musical self-portrait of a producer. The award for best original score went to "Breaking Away." "All That Jazz," Bob Fosse's musical self-portrait of a producer, received awards for sound and cinematography. "Apocalypse Now," Francis Ford Coppola's searing portrayal of Vietnam madness, picked up awards for sound and cinematography. The award for best original song went to "It Goes Like It Goes," by Earl Rix.
IRS braces for last minute flood from poor taxpayers

WASHINGTON (AP) - Midnight is the deadline for filing 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

A spokesman, Larry Batdorf, said the IRS expects to receive about 93 million tax returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

All told, the IRS expects to receive about 93 million tax returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.

Washington, D.C. - IRS braces for last minute returns from individuals, up from 91 million last year. The government is counting on receiving a lot of checks with 1979 tax returns with the Internal Revenue Service, and the IRS is braced for a flood of last-minute returns.
Spring draws students to the meditative atmosphere of the Grotto. [Photo by John Masic].

...and displeases some Europeans express confusion over Carter's 'deadline'

LONDON (AP) - Western European governments, which are under pressure from Washington to join the U.S. sanctions against Iran, expressed puzzlement yesterday about President Carter's "deadline." They are to act.

Official sources in most European capitals said they had received no specific date.

Only British Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher, Carter's most enthusiastic supporter of tough action on Iran, offered quick formal words of support. But even she said no date had been received.

NBC cancels Olympic coverage

NEW YORK (AP) - NBC-TV will not broadcast the Summer Olympics from Moscow, network sources said yesterday. But the official announcement will be delayed until the company lawyers are certain NBC will be delayed until the customary "deadline" and displeases some Europeans expression confusion over Carter's 'deadline'.

But even she said no date had been received.

The U.S. Olympic Committee voted Saturday not to send a team to the Games.

The policy with Lloyd's of London in September 1977.

An NBC statement issued Monday said: "NBC has repeatedly said it would be guided by the policies of the United States government and we reaffirm that. We are discussing alternate advertising plans with our Olympics' advertisers."

President Carter has said no U.S. Olympic team should participate in the Moscow Games because of the Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan.

The U.S. Olympic Committee has promised the Soviets for facilities and rights, and $13 million to the IOC. According to the payment schedule, NBC has already paid a total of $64 million.

Company sources said it was the idea of Edgar Griffiths, chairman of the board of NBC's parent company, RCA, for NBC to purchase insurance to protect its investment. No previous Olympic coverage had been insured, but no previous Olympic broadcasting rights had ever been as expensive.

NBC might not make an official announcement until both the U.S. team and network don't show up at the opening ceremonies July 19.

No matter what the decision on the insurance, NBC will suffer financially. Even assuming there is a full insurance recovery, NBC will still have lost $10-12 million, including the non-recoverable 10 percent on the policy and various Olympic related purchases and expenses.

Support grows... W. Germany favors boycott

(1980 April 15, page 3)

W. Germany favors boycott

AP - West Germany gave President Carter's drive for an international boycott of the Moscow Summer Olympics its strongest endorsement to date yesterday, announcing that the government did not favor sending a team to the Games.

Klaus Bohler, chief spokesman for the West German government, said it would recommend that the country's National Olympic Committee vote to boycott the Games as long as Soviet troops remain in Afghanistan.

The announcement, two days after the U.S. Olympic Committee voted to support Carter's boycott request, is expected to have a major impact on other major U.S. allies who have not yet made their decisions.

After the USOC voted Saturday to go along with the boycott, Douglas F. Roby, one of two Americans on the International Olympic Committee, said the decision could spell the death of the 1980 Moscow Games.

The boycott also could affect the 1984 games set for Los Angeles.

In Moscow, preparations for the Games continued. According to a Soviet spokesman, "the organizing committee is calmly preparing for the Moscow Olympics. The decision of the U.S. Olympic Committee will have no effect whatsoever on our preparations."

The official Soviet news agency Tass said, "The Olympics will take place despite all the schemes, maneuvers, provocations, intrigues, convulsions and paroxysms at the White House."

The West German government's position is not binding on its National Olympic Committee. But, Willi Daume, West German IOC member, said the government's view "certainly has weight."

Roby had said the nations important to the boycott movement are Great Britain, France, West Germany, Australia, New Zealand and Canada. Also considered important are the Japanese.

Australian Prime Minister Malcolm Fraser said he was "very pleased" with the 2-1 vote by the USOC to boycott. He added, "I believe now that an effective boycott will emerge" and urged the Australian Olympic Federation to follow the lead of the USOC. However, the federation has been opposed to a boycott.

Japanese Prime Minister Masayoshi Ohira is to visit Washington at the end of the month, and Japanese officials have said Ohira wants a pro-boycott decision to present Carter then.

France has not made up its mind, pending a meeting next month of European nations designed to form a joint position. West Germany's announcement is certain to prove important at that meeting.

A Legend Returns

Fri., April 18th, 8pm

85.50 in advance

6.50 at the door

STUDENT UNION TICKET OFFICE
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) - Republican Rep. John Anderson canceled his presidential primary election campaign in Indiana yesterday amid speculation he again was considering an independent bid for the presidency.

Anderson, on the May 6 Republican presidential ballad in Indiana, had been scheduled to campaign in the state on Thursday. Indiana campaign spokesman Boomer Conlin said the campaign trip was cancelled, along with a planned trip to Michigan. She and others did not know if Anderson would campaign in Indiana before the primary.

In Washington, Anderson's wife, Keker, told a reporter the candidate was taking a week off to rest, under her orders.

Anderson's congressional press secretary, Mike Boone, said the candidate was taking time off to spend with his family and to consult with both congressional and campaign staff members about issues.

Anderson's Indianapolis campaign office is remaining open, but one insider, who asked not to be identified, said there was no clear idea of how the Indiana campaign would be waged in light of the cancelled campaign. Strip.

Most Republican observers, including some in the Anderson camp, have said former California Gov. Ronald Reagan is almost certain to win the primary here by a sizeable margin.

Last week, Reagan's Indiana campaign chairman, Dr. Dennis Nicholas, said he would not be surprised if Reagan won all 54 Indiana delegates to the Republican national convention.

To win all the delegates, Reagan would have to finish first in the primary in voting in all of the state's 11 congressional districts.

While Anderson is resting and pondering a third party run, Reagan has planned several days of campaigning in Indiana.

Reagan will speak at a Vigo County Republican dinner Tuesday in Terre Haute and will be returning Monday and Tuesday of next week for further campaigning in Indiana.

A prominent Anderson backer in Indiana, who declined to be identified, said the campaign is suffering from paranoia, partially because of the uncertainty over whether the Illinois congressman will continue as a Republican candidate or will mount an independent drive for the White House.

That backer conceded Anderson has almost no chance of defeating Reagan for the GOP nomination. Anderson's choices boil down to running as an independent or dropping out of the race altogether. Reagan is running for the Republican nomination.

Anderson has disavowed an effort by millionaire Stewart Mott to mount an independent run.

But at the same time, Anderson is seeking advice from New York political consultant David Garth, who is exploring the possibility of an independent run.

Indiana in the next state where Anderson is on the Republican ballot.

He is not on the ballot in Pennsylvania, which holds its primary April 22.

Baltimore (AP) - Former Maryland Gov. Marvin Mandel said yesterday he was shocked that the U.S. Supreme Court ended his appeal of his corruption conviction although he will now likely go to prison within 30 days.

"I know what they can do to me now but cannot be as bad as what they have done to me," Mandel said. "I guess I get to the point where you're glad something's been resolved."

The Supreme Court refused without comment yesterday to hear further appeals of the 1977 federal convictions of Mandel and five political associates. Mandel, 59, faces a four-year prison term, although his attorneys, Arnold Weiner, said he would try to have it reduced.

"I never do anything to hurt the people of the state of Maryland and I'll continue to fight the way the rest of my life," Mandel said in his Annapolis office minutes after hearing of the high court decision.

"Somehow, someday, the world thing will come. There's a story to be told," he said.

Mandel succeeded former vice president Spiro Agnew as governor and served from 1969 until his conviction. He was found guilty of accepting favors to influence his action on the non-deralt Marboro race-track, which is secretly owned by the by his five co-defendants. It was alleged the scheme brought Mandel some $350,000 worth of gifts, vacations and interests in business deals.

In early 1979, a panel of the 4th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals voted 2-1 to reverse the convictions. But prosecutors appealed, and in July the full circuit court decided 3-0 on whether to uphold the convictions. Under federal rules, such a tie upholds a conviction. Thus the 3-0 vote reversed the panel's 2-1 vote.

Preadvance registration programs will be conducted for freshmen in all college program areas on Tuesday, APRIL 11 at 6:30 P.M.

At each program complete information will be given on the advance registration procedures and on the sophomore year and its relationship to the degree curriculum.

The meeting places for the programs, according to college programs, are as follows:

Arts and Letters College Programs (all, including AL, Preprofessional)

Engineering Auditorium

Business Administration College Program

Hayes-Healy Center, Room 122

Engineering College Programs

Aerospace

356 Fitzpatrick Hall

Architecture

202 Architecture Building

Chemical

207 Cushing Hall

Civil

209 Cushing Hall

Electrical

212 Cushing Hall

Engineering Science

214 Fitzpatrick Hall

Mechanical

356 Fitzpatrick Hall

Metalleurgical

105 Cushing Hall

Science College Programs

Biology

Galvin Life Science Center, Room 278

Chemistry

Newlund Science Hall, Room 341

Earth Sciences

Earth Science Bldg., Room 101

Mathematics

Computer Center & Math Bldg., Room 300

Microbiology

Galvin Life Science Center, Room 102

Physics

Newlund Science Hall, Room 105

Preprofessional (Science only)

Newlund Science Hall, Room 127

ALL FRESHMEN ARE REQUIRED TO ATTEND THE PROGRAM OF THE COLLEGE OR DEPARTMENT THEY INTEND TO ENTER IN THE SOPHOMORE YEAR.
Wilson to direct SMC Alumnae Relations

by Toni Aanstoos

Leslie Wilson is the new director of Alumnae Relations at Saint Mary's College. Wilson, a 1976 graduate of the College, assumed her duties on March 28.

After obtaining her BA in sociology and social work, she worked as an assistant director of Virginia Hall for one year, then as an admissions counselor until her present position.

The duties of the Director of Alumnae Relations are manifold. Basically Wilson is responsible for providing information and advice to alumnae to participate in the various functions of SMC. As director, she is responsible for arranging all alumnae functions which make up the annual mailings of the SMC Alumnae.

The initial duties of the director were to fill the vacated position. Wilson had to prepare the annual mailing for the alumnae, go through extensive and thorough screening. According to Durance, the Association was very helpful in providing information and advice to aid him in making a final decision. Because of the varied nature of the alumnae, there were many interested parties who wanted to participate in the screening.

Wilson was elected by the candidates. He had added that Wilson had exemplified such an ability in her background in admissions which works closely with the Alumnae Association.

One of Wilson's first tasks is to organize the state alumnae associations into community support groups for.charitable functions. Wilson has a year to work with the alumnae. The alumnae have demonstrated the need for the position and want to work well with diverse ages and interests among the alumnae.

Wilson's youth (she is 25) is an asset to the job "in respect to the manner in which she handled herself during the interviews. She was very well spoken, she’s bubbly and energetic," he said.

Diane Davis, the former director of SMC Alumnae Relations, expressed the importance of the position when she decided she wanted to work at SMC, Wilson said he thought the job would be an asset to the job "in respect to her degree is that it taught me that they have this right." Wilson's goal is to "improve the student judicial system from the bottom up."}

Wilson's major in education is "an excellent choice because the theory and skills are applicable in the public relations part of my job, and it is what I was most interested about in my degree is that it is from Saint Mary's College," she commented.

Wilson's youth (she is 25) is an asset to the job "in respect to my energy level, my eagerness to learn, and the fact that the majority of the alumnae is relatively young (half of the alumnae graduated before 1960), she claimed.

The mysterious third lake makes it's annual appearance on campus. compliments of the spring rains. [Photo by Greg Maurer]
The Notre Dame-Saint Mary's community has a special delight in store this weekend. The first United States performance of the play, "The Day They Kidnapped the Pope," will take place in the Flanner Pit.

According to Bruce Leibert, director of the play, the play was just recently translated into English. "We just got lucky enough to be the first ones to do it in the U.S." he said.

The play was written by a year and a half ago by Joao Bethencourt, and Leibert wrote it in honor of Pope John Paul I. Therefore, the character of Pope Albert IV is very similar to John Paul I. He is the peasant pope and very well loved.

The play will be performed in cooperation with the cast, to perform it there because we are rich and our cast really works because the characters are rich and our cast really loves."

Leibert noted.

The play will run Thursday-Saturday at 8 p.m., with a Sunday matinee at 2 p.m. Tickets are $1 and will be sold to today and tomorrow in the dining halls during dinner and at the door.

"Uncommon Women" begins run

The Notre Dame and Saint Mary's women have united to stage a comedy production entitled "Uncommon Women and Others," which premieres tonight at 8 p.m. in the Regina Hall Auditorium at Saint Mary's College.

"Uncommon Women and Others" has played on Broadway and the Public Broadcasting System. It is centered on the strong female friendships which can grow within a dormitory at a women's college.

"I wanted to do a play about women," Lisa Jaquer, director of the production said, "so here it is, a play that's about the life of women, showing their lives from their college days at Mount Holyoke to their careers back. It works because the characters are rich and our cast really pumps." It's been an uncommon experience working with our cast," said Saint Mary's student Adri Trigiani. "It doesn't to us who is from Notre Dame and who is from Saint Mary's. It only matters that we create a thrilling piece of theater." That is a real happening.

"Uncommon Women and Others" will be playing tonight and tomorrow night in the Regina Auditorium at 8 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Ombudsman meeting to run tonight

The Ombudsman organization will hold an organizational meeting tonight at 7:00 p.m. in the La Fortuna Room. All present Ombudsman members and anyone interested in joining the organization next year should attend.

American Cancer Society®

Maybe it will go away

The five most dangerous words in the English language.
Scholastic Elects Wood

by Lynne Daley
Staff Reporter

Chuck Wood, a sophomore economics major from Washington, D.C., has been elected editor of the 1980-81 Scholastic Magazine. Wood will succeed graduating senior Dave Satterfield in the position. Wood has served as copy editor this year’s Scholastic staff, and as a member of the layout staff.

He plans that he plans to emphasize the magazine’s strength in student writing. As a result, he tentatively plans to concentrate more on fiction and poetry in future issues.

However, Wood foresees no major policy changes in next year’s Scholastic. Scholastic, he feels, “Like what we’ve put out this year,” Wood said, “I intend to follow the style and format as is this year.”

Students who want to apply for a position on the 1980-81 Scholastic staff are urged to call Wood at 8902, or Satterfield at 288-5016 by next Tuesday.

Wood encouraged students to get involved in the magazine. He expressed the hope that no one would be kept back from applying due to the managing photo of him which appeared in Friday’s Observer.

Foursome Bengal Boat champion Tony Ricci still has the upper hand even though it’s minus two holes due to recent surgery. [Photo by Tim McKeogh].

The Observer Tuesday, April 15, 1980 - page 7
In Cambodia

Rice shortage produces famine

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia - Cambodians, struggling daily to survive after 15 months of war and famine, now face a critical shortage of rice seeds that threatens to prolong their hunger.

International aid officials say it is a "loss-up" whether enough rice seeds can reach Cambodia in the next two months to avert another disastrous harvest and a huge food deficit.

"Even allowing for all the hazards, we are bringing a very large tonnage - we'll try to die in the streets and fields," says one international aid official. "But it will be a very difficult year - many people will be sick and some will die."

Each ton of seed that is not available now will result in the loss of roughly 10 tons of rice at harvest time, an amount that can feed about 20,000 people for a day.

Only if farmers can sow 90,000 tons of seeds before the heavy rains begin in late June and only if Cambodia receives 35,000 tons of rice from international agencies during the next seven months, will there be enough food to ward off famine until harvest.

At a sugar beet vice minister Korn Sol says there are "a thousand problems" and most of the foreign agencies agree it is almost impossible for all these targets to be met.

Major port congestion, poor security and technical quality of rice, technical every level compound the problem of managing efficiently the food surplus, said. Carbol Sannas, executive director of the World Food Program in Rome.

The agency's chief in Phnom Penh, Ben Boyd, said the project's chief objective is to prevent a "UN and the U.N. Children's Fund - have been consistently wrong in both estimates of Cambodia's needs and the ability of the relief effort to meet them."

Two other key variables in whether Cambodians eat or starve will be the overall state of the distribution system, already riddled with problems, will be tempered by the rainy season when many roads become impassable. Farmers need new seeds and irrigation equipment - all in short supply.

"There is no way to see skeletons unless the distribution system breaks down," said a food aid worker who said he would keep a list of those who starve.

The government that the Vietnamese installed 15 months ago after ousting Pol Pot and his Khmer Rouge regime still depends upon Vietname's army to remain in power. Its efforts to set up a reliable network of officials in the provinces have been unfruitful.

Meanwhile, World Vision International, a Christian relief and religious organization, has entered into a "partnership agreement" with the Phnom Penh government on a rice aid project.

The agency's chief in Phnom Penh, Justice Smith, said the project's chief objective is to establish "a UN-first of its kind in Cambodia - calls for foreign aid to end the civil war and train Cambodians for an economic development.

Boyd said the staffing has been worked out, but might include the number of workers and four to five technicians. But that might be American, he said.

Teams

[continued from page 12]

became the first-ever recipient of the annual award. Tricia McManus, who set an all-time school record for free throw shooting last spring, was honored, earned the Rich Hunter Free Throw Award, donated by Notre Dame's varsity soccer coach, Mike Hering.

Susan McGinn of the field hockey squad was honored with the Nappy Coaches' Award. The field hockey team, also recognized Erin Burns as its Most Improved player and Debbie Rael as its most spirited member. Carol Shukis was the tennis team's most spirited player.

Two club sports also singled out members during the program. Kathy Merra earned the Most Valuable Player award for track and cross country squad and teammate Sheryl Kearnns was the most spirited player.

Senior Barb Apt was named the volleyball squad's Most Valuable Player, while Berdie LaRocca was recognized for her four years of dedication.

Dianne Patnaude, the first-ever trainer in the women's athletic department, was recognized for her service, as were Women's Athletic Coordinators Astrid Howlett, Athletic Director, Ed Goudreau, Associate Athletic Director Col. John Stapphens and Father Edward Keller.

...Weather

[continued from page 12]

joined by tackles Pett Grogan and Mike Shiner and sophomores "Vinnie" Pizzolato and John Major. Junior Phil Pizzolato, sidelined to be found spring by a strained neck muscle, will most likely reclaim the starting left tackle spot for Shiner when healthy.

On defense, senior John Han- nert, junior Justin Mulchrone, and Kevin Griffith and Pat Kramer at the tackles... junior tri-captain Bob Crabbe heads up a young trio of linebackers. Banked by sopho- mesure Mark Zabaglin on the right and junior Tony Belden on the left, John Kromm and sophomore Dave Dieter were the starters at cornerback, while seniors Angelo Fassano and Tom Kickler and junior (reigning Most Valuable Linebacker) will be on in the lineup when they regain their health.
I am definitely not one of the world’s great tourists. Sight-seeing has always been something I preferred to do on a smaller scale.

I remember traveling through Germany, Belgium, and the Rhineland, and being accompanied by a guide who knew whether there was a small church or wayside shrine within fifty miles of our route. By the time we got to the famous cathedral at Chartres, the anticipated highlights of the trip, I had had enough. I was not only oversaturated with cathedrals; I also recognized how disturbed I was by the thought of many and France a few years ago. I had ban it. I was not only by hypocrisy!

I am reminded of the story John Howard Griffin tells of an occasion when he and Dick Gregory were walking through a church in the chapel where Gregory was to give a talk. Dick, who is an extremely amusing and mortor.

I was a kid, the Catholic church in my original was a研究所 and away from the from the and noise of the

The first time Jesus said those words He was speaking about a temple of stone and insisting on the rejection of an improper sacrificial practice. But when we hear them today, the condemnation is much more devastating. For when we have made it clear that persons are now in the temples within which He dwells in His resurrected presence. We are the house of our Father, God’s sanctuary, the shrine of His presence. St. Paul is even stronger: "Don’t you realize that people are the temples of God, and that God will destroy anyone who defiles His temple? But when we honestly reflect on how we’ve failed that challenge. How, as a nation and as individuals, we frequently treat people not as temples of the Spirit of God but as statues -- more numbers to be handled with bureaucratic impersonalism.

Take the category suggested by Gregory’s story -- black Americans. Prevenly, there is basic and feel injustice taking place in the heart of our nation’s cities. There is a tremendous back-to-the-city movement, it is called “Urban Revitalization.” In cities like Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, the old inner-city neighborhoods have suddenly become fashionable and very profitable.

The process sparked by a rapid rise in the real estate value of old city neighborhoods. The poor, unable to compete in a highly profitable housing market, are forced to leave their neighborhoods.

A study out of Washington, D.C. indicates that it has 100,000 people who will probably be displaced in the next four years, that’s one-seventh of the entire population who will be pushed out of their homes. How ironic. First, the poor are ignored and left in abandoned inner cities during the Exodus to the suburbs a few years ago, and now these same poor are interacted again as development displaces them.

Recently, a real estate developer (with an Irish Catholic name) who did sales in this displacement market to the tune of $35 million last year was interviewed. He was asked if the fact that white, affluent people moving into the city, poor families out on the street, caused his Christian conscience any problem. “It doesn’t present a problem,” he answered, “it presents opportunities and challenges.” When asked what extent real estate people, for reasons of conscience, should inter­vene on behalf of the tragedy being perpetrated on voiceless people, he answered, “I’m not sure that I understand your question.”

To get a snapshot of this growth and of what the senior class thinks about, feels about, and is about, you have to do is stroll over to the Isis Gallery, SMC’s Regina Hall, the Naz or the Senior Bar some night this week.

You can find, enjoy and appreciate self-expression in the visual, music­al, plastic, and literary arts.

The Isis gallery will be open on 7-9 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday 7-9 o’clock, and on Tuesday of the Festival featuring Lisa Barrett, Kar­ren Duffy, James Hoffm an, Ken McCluspie, Beth Schweste­r and Perry Stow among eighteen others. Today, you can see prints and paintings. Wednesday will bring a change of display; you can experi­ence three-dimensional art and works by fourth- and fifth-year architecture majors.

Tonight, tomorrow night and Thursday evening, you can get a taste of senior drama at “Uncommon Women,” directed by Lisa Jaques. Beginning at eight o’clock at SMC’s Regina Hall, you will see a play directed, acted, and staged by women.

Tuesday through Saturday nights you can hear the seniors express themselves musically through a recital in the Senior Bar. The exact times and musical acts will be announced in the Observer and in The Observer’s Campus Events column.

Tonight Wednesday and Thursday, music will be floating across campus from the Senior Bar. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, seniors will perform tunes at the Naz.

Fr. Bill Toohey

Editor’s note: Father Toohey, Director of Campus Ministry, is a regular Features columnist.

Festival Showcases Senior Talent

Jane Barber

After dancing the night away at the Formal, many weary, partied-out seniors were returning Sunday after­noon and asking “What was that thing-o-m-bopper planned for the five days of recovery after the Windy City weekend?” That “thing-o-m-bopper” is the Senior Arts Festival, a week bursting with a classful of creativity. The festival began Sunday night with an opening night literature, art, and painting show at the Isis Gallery and will end May 11.

Created last year by Kathy Ryan, the second annual Senior Arts Fest­ival is a collection of senior creativity open to all N.D. students. According to C hris Gumz, the festival has been and will continue to be a “class activity,” joining all majors (even pre-med and engineers) in a com­mon demonstration of their talent and good communication, clique and dorm lines. The Isis Gallery is special as “the last activity the class can share as a whole.”

As head of the Senior Arts Festival, Kim Gumz shouldered this commitment always reminding herself of its purpose: “You have to do it.”

“The festival is a valuable thing.” This week will paint a picture of the people who have produced it. Interviewed and chosen for her position by Steve Dillon, she reflects how they’ve achieved in their four years at Notre Dame.

To get snapshot of this growth and of what the senior class thinks that is something I prefer­miles of our route. By the time we got to the famous cathedral at Chartres, the anticipated highlights of the trip, I had had enough. I was not only oversaturated with cathedrals; I also recognized how disturbed I was by the thought of many and France a few years ago. I had ban it. I was not only by hypocrisy!

I am reminded of the story John Howard Griffin tells of an occasion when he and Dick Gregory were walking through a church in the chapel where Gregory was to give a talk. Dick, who is an extremely amusing and mortor.

I was a kid, the Catholic church in my original was a研究所 and away from the from the and noise of the

The first time Jesus said those words He was speaking about a temple of stone and insisting on the rejection of an improper sacrificial practice. But when we hear them today, the condemnation is much more devastating. For when we have made it clear that persons are now in the temples within which He dwells in His resurrected presence. We are the house of our Father, God’s sanctuary, the shrine of His presence. St. Paul is even stronger: “Don’t you realize that people are the temples of God, and that God will destroy anyone who defiles His temple? But when we honestly reflect on how we’ve failed that challenge. How, as a nation and as individuals, we frequently treat people not as temples of the Spirit of God but as statues -- more numbers to be handled with bureaucratic impersonalism.

Take the category suggested by Gregory’s story -- black Americans. Prevenly, there is basic and feel injustice taking place in the heart of our nation’s cities. There is a tremendous back-to-the-city movement, it is called “Urban Revitalization.” In cities like Chicago, Boston and Philadelphia, the old inner-city neighborhoods have suddenly become fashionable and very profitable.

The process sparked by a rapid rise in the real estate value of old city neighborhoods. The poor, unable to compete in a highly profitable housing market, are forced to leave their neighborhoods.

A study out of Washington, D.C. indicates that it has 100,000 people who will probably be displaced in the next four years, that’s one-seventh of the entire population who will be pushed out of their homes. How ironic. First, the poor are ignored and left in abandoned inner cities during the Exodus to the suburbs a few years ago, and now these same poor are interacted again as development displaces them.

Recently, a real estate developer (with an Irish Catholic name) who did sales in this displacement market to the tune of $35 million last year was interviewed. He was asked if the fact that white, affluent people moving into the city, poor families out on the street, caused his Christian conscience any problem. “It doesn’t present a problem,” he answered, “it presents opportunities and challenges.” When asked what extent real estate people, for reasons of conscience, should inter­vene on behalf of the tragedy being perpetrated on voiceless people, he answered, “I’m not sure that I understand your question.”

To get a snapshot of this growth and of what the senior class thinks about, feels about, and is about, you have to do is stroll over to the Isis Gallery, SMC’s Regina Hall, the Naz or the Senior Bar some night this week.

You can find, enjoy and appreciate self-expression in the visual, music­al, plastic, and literary arts.

The Isis gallery will be open on 7-9 p.m. Tuesday through Saturday 7-9 o’clock, and on Tuesday of the Festival featuring Lisa Barrett, Kar­ren Duffy, James Hoffm an, Ken McCluspie, Beth Schweste­r and Perry Stow among eighteen others. Today, you can see prints and paintings. Wednesday will bring a change of display; you can experi­ence three-dimensional art and works by fourth- and fifth-year architecture majors.

Tonight, tomorrow night and Thursday evening, you can get a taste of senior drama at “Uncommon Women”, directed by Lisa Jaques. Beginning at eight o’clock at SMC’s Regina Hall, you will see a play directed, acted, and staged by women.

Tuesday through Saturday nights you can hear the seniors express themselves musically through a recital in the Senior Bar. The exact times and musical acts will be announced in the Observer and in The Observer’s Campus Events column.

Tonight Wednesday and Thursday, music will be floating across campus from the Senior Bar. On Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, seniors will perform tunes at the Naz.

Junior Arts Day's musical entertainment will be announced. Kim Gumz describes the various musical talents that are scheduled acts from Dan Fogelberg type to black Mountain type, including concert pianists, singers and a dance group.

If you are interested in contemporary literature, you may read fiction and poetry composed by some of your peers. The literary contest of the festival’s program you can read Mr. Herman Olver Reasons Inside Living Preparatory School, by Anne Dally, a short narrative with long thought by Steve Dillon, or The Energy of Extinction 'Ode on a Grecian Urn' by Carol Shubak.

You can venture into a variety of verse in the three poems by Mike (Garret) who is included in the long­ram are paintings by Beth Schweste­r, Lisa Barrett, and Karen Flatley, and a photography by Ken Kres.

As advice to future Festival help­pers, contributors, and chairmen, Gumz said, "The most important thing is to remember why you’re doing this and not to become too seriously involved. You care about it an awful lot, but if you worry too much you lose sight of its purpose.” This advice is well worth remembering for the "Festival." Keeping this optimistic attitude in mind, Gumz feels the atmosphere of the festival is relaxed one where people feel they can enjoy themselves and that the Festival and what it must mean to seniors with a mere three weeks. As advice to future Festival help­pers, contributors, and chairmen, Gumz said, "The most important thing is to remember why you’re doing this and not to become too seriously involved. You care about it an awful lot, but if you worry too much you lose sight of its purpose.” This advice is well worth remembering for the "Festival." Keeping this optimistic attitude in mind, Gumz feels the atmosphere of the festival is relaxed one where people feel they can enjoy themselves and that the Festival and what it must mean to seniors with a mere three weeks.
The Observer - SportsBoard

Tuesday, April 15, 1980, page 10

The Daily Crossword

by Michael Molinelli

ACROSS:
1. - of pot 28. Insect
2. Agave 6. Port
3. Agreement 32. Tunisian
4. Headliner 33. Port
5. Me. 34. Least
6. Biotic 35. Absent
7. Guittiere 36. Leach
8. Venereal 37. Angle
9. Witchcraft 38. Suffix
11. Rock 40. Suffix
12. Chain 41. Sea duck
13. In an unwise way 42. Suffix
14. Daydreams 43. Suffix
15. Decimal 44. Binding
16. Between 45. Implantation
18. Scope or vision 47. "Fact!
20. Uniform 49. "Pile!
21. Turkish 50. "Legal!
23. Italy 52. "Legal!
24. Mexico 53. "Pile!
25. Scope or vision 54. "Legal!
26. Turkish 55. "Pile!

THE DAILY CROSSWORD

by Garry Trudeau

Wednesday, April 15, 1980

Molarity

by Michael Molinelli

Doonesbury

by Garry Trudeau

TIPPECANOE PLACE RESTAURANT IS NOW HIRING RESTAURANT PERSONNEL full or part time, day and night shifts high wages: excellent benefits training: classroom and on the job cordial atmosphere

FOOD WALTERS AND WAITRESSES BUSBOYS / BUSGIRLS
COCKTAIL WAITRESSES DISHWASHERS BROILER COOKS
HOSTESSES BARTENDERS PREP COOKS MAINTENANCE MEN
APPLY IN PERSON BETWEEN 9:00am & 6:00pm MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY

TIPPECANOE PLACE

620 W. Washington Ave South Bend, Ind.
SMC softball team opens season

By Beth Hoffman

The St. Mary's softball season commenced on a sour note last weekend as the Belles dropped three of their first four games. Grace College topped St. Mary's, 17-13, and then winning the second half of the twin bill, 13-4.

"The weather really was a factor in the second game," said Belle manager Scott Beisal after the two losses to Grace. "Both pitchers lost control and there were a number of walks." Friday's doubleheader was played mainly because of the long journey Grace made to South Bend, despite cold, rain and snow.

Mary Byass and Marybeth Houeri of the Grace games.

St. Mary's silent bats sealed their fate in the 13-4 win. All nine starters apiece.

Belle was on the offensive with five strikeouts and six bases-on-balls against St. Francis in the second game on Sunday.

Bogey got plenty of offensive help from her teammates in the 13-4 win. All nine starters contributed offensively, one hit for the rookie bunter. Sue Nickels contributed to the offensive attack with two batters and while Amy Morris and Lou Weber hit two singles apiece.

I'm still looking for that combination that I want to go with at tournaments time," said Beisal. "I am not upset with the weekend performances due to the weather and the fact that we've had little practice time over the course of the week. I think a lot of work on pitching control and defensive back-up will help me tremendously. I am as happy as you can be when you're 1-3.

The Belle softball team travels to Butler on Thursday.

Tennis

"The weather really was a factor in the second game," said Beisal after the two losses to Grace.

No. 3 Mark McMahon (ND) def. Bud Zettel 6-1, 6-2.

No. 2 Carlton Harris (ND) def. Danny Cantrell 6-2, 7-6 (5-2).

No. 1 Mark Harris (ND) def. Ben Corey 6-2, 6-3.

No. 3 Tom Hartzell (ND) def. Mark Zekas 6-2, 6-4.

No. 4 Mark Hoyer (ND) def. Andy Conley 6-2, 7-5.

Doubles

No. 1 Harris/Hopwood (ND) def. Conolly/Norton 6-4, 6-3.

No. 2 McMahon/Hooper (ND) def. Corey Franklin 6-2, 6-3.

No. 3 Tom Fawley/Tom Noonan (ND) def. Zekas/Zimmerman 6-3, 7-6, 1-0.

Doubles

No. 1 Harris/Hopwood (ND) def. Conolly/Miller 6-2, 6-4.

No. 2 Fawley/Noonan (ND) def. Harris/Hopwood 6-1, 6-0.

No. 3 Tom Robinson (ND) def. Doug Rigs 6-4, 6-2.

No. 4 O'Leary/Conlon (ND) def. Rigs/Miller 6-1, 6-1.

No. 5 Tom Hartzell (ND) def. Jack Pesik 6-0, 6-1.

No. 6 Tom Robinson (ND) def. Doug Rigs 6-4, 6-2.

No. 7 O'Leary/Conlon (ND) def. Pesik/Rigs 6-4, 6-2.

No. 8 Fawley/Noonan (ND) def. Pesik/Rigs 6-1, 6-2.

Attention: anyone interested in living with color basketball action photos.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.

Attention: anyone interested in playing tennis.

Ride need to Miami U. or Cincinnati monthly. Expenses paid. Sights see Asia, etc. All fields, $500-$1,200 month. Call 589-1234, 46624. N.O.R. (219) 289-6753.
Weather cancels another practice

by Craig Cheadle
Sports Writer

Once again, the weatherman was the big winner yesterday, cancelling Notre Dame's spring football drills for the third time in a week. Temperatures got as high as the upper 70s on a rainy day that began with a glazing of sleet on the ground in South Bend. Just as they were 2-A, 2-B, and 2-C last fall, starter Rasy Lotz, seniors-to-be Tim Koegel, Mike Courey and Greg Knafelc are now 1-A, 1-B, and 1-C in the quarterback derby. Offensively, a very tentative offensive depth chart are sophomores Tony Hunter at split end, senior flanker Pete Holohan, and sophomore Dean Mastnak at right end... all three stars in year's spring - will open up the season. Opposing teams will face straight foes by whooping Marquette, who will be leaving behind 13-7 victory in the Saturday, led by captain Mike Cashman of the Irish basketball team.

Track team takes first in Arkansas relays

by Matt Huffman
Sports Writer

May 10-11, 1980 - page 10

Track team takes first in Arkansas relays

by Matt Huffman
Sports Writer

May 10-11, 1980 - page 10

The Irish marched all three runs in the second inning against the Wildcats. Following Voelking's homer, Valenzuela and Greg Rodemers singled. But Irish sacrificed both runners into scoring position and George Lam's single and an error on left fielder permitted Valen­ zuela and Rodemers to score.

In the first of two games Sunday, Northwestern reversed the one-run decision from the previous afternoon with a 1-2 win over the Irish. Pitcher Mike Dease was the unfortunate loser after winning his first three decisions of the year. Both Irish at runs were unearned.

The Irish bunched all three runs in the second inning against the Wildcats. Following Voelking's homer, Valenzuela and Greg Rodemers singled. But Irish sacrificed both runners into scoring position and George Lam's single and an error on left fielder permitted Valenzuela and Rodemers to score.

In the first of two games Sunday, Northwestern reversed the one-run decision from the previous afternoon with a 1-2 win over the Irish. Pitcher Mike Dease was the unfortunate loser after winning his first three decisions of the year. Both Irish at runs were unearned.

Weather cancels another practice

by Craig Cheadle
Sports Writer

Once again, the weatherman was the big winner yesterday, cancelling Notre Dame's spring football drills for the third time in a week. Temperatures got as high as the upper 70s on a rainy day that began with a glazing of sleet on the ground in South Bend. Just as they were 2-A, 2-B, and 2-C last fall, starter Rasy Lotz, seniors-to-be Tim Koegel, Mike Courey and Greg Knafelc are now 1-A, 1-B, and 1-C in the quarterback derby. Offensively, a very tentative offensive depth chart are sophomores Tony Hunter at split end, senior flanker Pete Holohan, and sophomore Dean Mastnak at right end... all three stars in year's spring - will open up the season. Opposing teams will face straight foes by whooping Marquette, who will be leaving behind 13-7 victory in the Saturday, led by captain Mike Cashman of the Irish basketball team.

Track team takes first in Arkansas relays

by Matt Huffman
Sports Writer

May 10-11, 1980 - page 10

Track team takes first in Arkansas relays

by Matt Huffman
Sports Writer

May 10-11, 1980 - page 10

The Irish bunched all three runs in the second inning against the Wildcats. Following Voelking's homer, Valenzuela and Greg Rodemers singled. But Irish sacrificed both runners into scoring position and George Lam's single and an error on left fielder permitted Valenzuela and Rodemers to score.

In the first of two games Sunday, Northwestern reversed the one-run decision from the previous afternoon with a 1-2 win over the Irish. Pitcher Mike Dease was the unfortunate loser after winning his first three decisions of the year. Both Irish at runs were unearned.

The Irish bunched all three runs in the second inning against the Wildcats. Following Voelking's homer, Valenzuela and Greg Rodemers singled. But Irish sacrificed both runners into scoring position and George Lam's single and an error on left fielder permitted Valenzuela and Rodemers to score.

In the first of two games Sunday, Northwestern reversed the one-run decision from the previous afternoon with a 1-2 win over the Irish. Pitcher Mike Dease was the unfortunate loser after winning his first three decisions of the year. Both Irish at runs were unearned.