July. "Official announces possible place " perhaps in June or announced that the new Iranian Parliament, which is to end the deadlock or face the Carter Administration has posted as "inaccurate" and said reporters in Tehran the parliament not even be elected by then. (AP) - Iran has until mid-May move "has been taken or break in the hostage stalemate it is prepared to clamping a naval field steps in support of Washmatic sanctions. There are including the installation of proper locks, formatted steps in support of Wash­ and how to promote neighborhood awareness of the crim e situation.

The Observer

VOL. XIV, NO. 171
an independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and St. Mary's.

FAB FOUR - PAGE 9

Follow-up murder

Crime awareness increases

by John Higgins

University and student officials are reacting to revived concern over the off-campus crime situation in the wake of the robbery/murder of a South Bend woman in her Notre Dame Avenue apartment Tuesday night. A meeting with South Bend Police Department has been set for next Monday afternoon.

Dean of Students James Roemer said that he asked Director of Security Glenn Terry to set up a meeting between Police Chief Mike Berkow­ski, and the ND Off-Campus Commissioner, Student Body President, chairman of the Hall President's Council (HPC), and a representative of The Observer. According to Roemer, the group would focus on external protection: what additional things the South Bend Police Department can do, what the students can do for themselves, and what the University can do to help. "This is a very, very serious matter," Roemer added. "We regret very much that the person lost her life. We do not want any students to be hurt. We want to talk to the police about what additional things they can do to give us security.

The victim, Delmarie Britton, 27, was murdered in her apartment at 1010 Notre Dame Avenue move. She was a registered nurse, was beaten and tied up in a back room. Ms. Britton was found face down on the couch in the living room with a gunshot wound in her back. Police say they have no suspects. An undetermined amount of cash and jewelry was taken.

Kenedy works to catch Carter

by Jo h n  H ig gins

PITTSBURGH (AP) - Sen. Ed­ward M. Kennedy, vetoing his' s for labor support in this hard hit city yesterday, hope it might carry him past the states of the Pennsyl­ the election less than a week away, Kennedy has lined up more vigor backing in the heavily-industrial state than CT" 1  o n  at  a great convention hall and here. "But I'm glad to be with  you here anyway. Everybody on the platform is a president of the united states, so I'm not going to go to the convention. Are we going to change th at at the Democratic National Convention this year?"

Before embarking on the camp­

The Republica n race, front­

Kenedy concluded. "We want to talk to the police about what’s going on at their neighbor’s houses. It’s been tried in a lot of ways and it’s hard to do. But we’ve got to do it."

The New York Times reported, "I’m in the race right up until the roll call" at the convention.

In the Republican race, front­

Kennedy, the three-time Democratic presidential candidate, was in New Jersey yesterday before flying to Philadelphia to begin only his second day of cam­

The Fab Four (continued on page 3)

the acceptance of a moral neutrality in which there is no absolute moral right, and moral decisions are seen as being solely the area of the individtential right of the unborn," Rice concluded.

Rice sees in this principal the same principle the Nazis

Tom KoegeI
Senior Staff Reporter

President of Law Charles E. Rice declared what he called the "philosophy of moral neutrality espoused by the Planned Pa­

The endorsement were a significant but not unexpected success for former U.S. Am­

When he learned of the endorsements, the former Cali­

[continued on page 6]

[continued on page 4]
Research shows high cancer rate among Iowa farmers

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) - The death rate for Iowa farmers from six kinds of cancer is much higher than for non-farmers, indicating the "healthy farm life has its cancer risks," a university research team reported Tuesday. "It is quite surprising. I think the farmers will be somewhat surprised, too. The concept that farmers are healthier is a pretty universal one," said Dr. Leon Burmeister, head of the project.

Anti-KKK group fights for demonstration rights

KOKOMO, Ind. (AP) - Anti-Ku Klux Klan demonstrators have filed a formal request to hold a counter-demonstration to an already scheduled Ku Klux Klan march. The mayor said he has received calls and letters expressing some concern about closing for a Saturday, a big shopping day downtown, and he says merchants are also concerned about what would happen if they stayed open during the march.

Weather

Becoming mostly cloudy today with a 30 percent chance for afternoon rain and evening showers. Highs in the mid 30s. Lows tonight in the upper 30s to low 40s. Becoming sunny Friday with highs of 55 to 60.

Judge awaits Lance verdict

ATLANTA (AP) — A federal judge said yesterday he was considering a defense motion to declare former U.S. budget director Bert Lance innocent of bank fraud, but said he would not rule until a jury returns its verdict.

Defense attorney Nicholas Chivilis requested immediate acquittals and asked the U.S. District Judge Charles H. Moyer Jr. if he would rule Thursday, when the 12 jurors in the trial are scheduled.

"No, I intend to rule after the verdict," Moyer responded.

Closing arguments had been set for Wednesday, but the judge decided to allow an extra day for final preparations.

The jurors were not present Tuesday and were not called to court until yesterday.

Lance's lawyers renewed earlier motions for directed verdicts on the charges against him: 10 counts alleging mis-application of bank funds and two counts alleging false statements to banks.

The jury could begin deliberation late today after the judge reads them the charges from the indictment, the contentions of both parties and the applicable law.

Defense attorneys urged Moyer to include the list of contentions on his instructions, but the judge refused to change his mind.

"This jury is going to need help," Moyer said, "It's not going to be a matter of my reading 656 and saying, 'Go on to it.'" Section 656 of the federal criminal code is the law prohibiting misapplication of bank funds.

Lance and three co-defendants — former bank president Richard Carr, Former pharmacist Jack Mullins and contractor Thomas Mitchell — were indicted in May 1979 after a 20-month investigation on a total of 33 counts.

The judge has ordered directed verdicts of acquittal in 14 of the counts against lance — one of which alleged a 10-year conspiracy involving almost 400 loans.
noon classes create concern
by Patsy Sheehan

The noon hour classes scheduled for the present semester have caused confusion at Notre Dame. The students' main concern is whether or not there will be sufficient time to eat lunch before the hour for a 12:15 class.

Scheduling classes during noon hour will alleviate the large crush of students in the lunch line, according to David Kill, assistant registrar.

He explained that the noon classes will also minimize the need to place large classes in crowded rooms. This would also minimize the lunch line, according to David Kill, assistant registrar.

He explained that the noon classes will also minimize the need to place large classes in crowded rooms, according to David Kill, assistant registrar.

We have to schedule classes in rooms which aren't sufficient," Kill explained. "It (rescheduling classes at noon) will be a big help for us."

Describing the effect of the noon classes on the lunch hour, Robert Robinson, Senior Food Service Director, echoes Kill's reasoning that this would eliminate the lunch line crunch.

"We've recognized that we've had to do some changes to accommodate students who have 12:10 and 1:15 classes," Robinson said.

At this time, Robinson is waiting for registration results, as these will be very helpful in deciding what arrangements will be made.

In Costa Rica

Cuban exiles obtain refuge

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica (AP) - More than 240 Cuban exiles, some weeping with relief, others in tears, were seen leaving "liberty" and "down with communism," arrived from Havana in two planes yesterday. One refugee said he was greeted by a group of people at the airport, "I was attacked by a group of people at the airport," said Josue AlbertoRodriguez, his face cut and a knee bloody and bandaged. "But I feel like it is a new day. I have left the hell of Cuba."

The arrivals were the first of an estimated 10,800 Cubans who packed themselves into the Peruvian Embassy in Havana and took it over last week.

President Rodrigo Carazo was on hand for the arrival of the first plane and embraced some of the refugees as they set foot on Costa Rican soil at the start of an airlift.

Refugees said thousands of Cubans in the streets of Havana threw stones at buses taking them to the airport and shouted, "We don't want you."

Carlo Aguilar, a Costa Rican foreign ministry official who accompanies the dissidents from Cuba, said the scene at the Havana airport was "like nothing I have ever seen before."

Before the flight, about 300 people formed two rows and shouted obscenities at the exiles as they walked to the plane. He said he saw one man with a bloody nose. "I could not believe what those people had to go through to leave," he said.

Rodriguez, treated by Red Cross workers at the San Jose airport, said he thought the people at the Havana airport were sent by Fidel Castro's communist government "to hassle us."

Most of the exiles appeared to be men in their 20s and 30s but there also were older people, children and women.

Hector Vazalio, an English student at the University of Havana, said, "I don't want Castro's government telling me what to do."

The tall, handsome young dorm student in a cotton-knit t-shirt said, "I came alive today. I was dead. I was like a robot but now I am a man again."

More than half of the refugees have been spoken for. The United States has agreed to take 500, Spain said it will take 500, Canada 300, Ecuador 200, Germany 150, and unspecified numbers will go to Argentina, Brazil, West Germany, and Sweden.

Costa Rica has offered to be a staging area for all of the refugees but said only 500 could remain permanently. The country has acted as a "bridge" for exiles leaving Cuba in the past.

Summits yield promises of continued negotiations

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Carter's back-to-back summit talks with Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin resulted in an agreement yesterday to hold non-paper talks in the Middle East on the future of a 2 million Palestinians.

The intensive negotiations are aimed at translating Begin's "peace process" for Arabs living under Israeli occupation into a council elected by inhabitants of the West Bank of the Jordan River and the Gaza Strip.

At a newsconference, Begin said he could not predict an agreement by May 26, the date set as a goal by Egypt and Israel, because the marathon negotiations could be extended, noting that the two countries took six months instead of the three planned to wrap up their peace treaty last year.

Meanwhile, the prime minister said, "Why be pessimistic in advance?"

So far, 10 rounds of Egyptian-Israeli negotiations over more than 10 months have not cracked any of the hard issues. They include the functions of the council and the size and the terms of the Israeli security force to remain for at least five years in the formerly Arab-occupied territories.

There was no indication in Begin's remarks or in a statement made by Carter in the White House driveway that anyone was more than a procedural agreement had been reached.

"We are delighted at the progress that has been made," Carter said at the wind-up of his talks with Begin.

Juniors

Tix for CUBS vs. METS

game on SUN, APRIL 20

game time 1:20

cost $5.00

available in

STUDENT ACTIVITIES OFFICE
LA FORTUNE

First come-first serve

No limit per person

KEGS

ORDER KEGS NOW!!

LARGE SELECTION OF SPIRITS
BEER & WINE!!!

MILLER LITE

139
7 OZ CANS

499
24/12 OZ CANS

RED, WHITE & BLUE

699
24/12 OZ CANS

OLD MILWAUKEE

539
24/12 O Z CANS

BUSCH

699
24/12 OZ CANS

OLD 1/2 BBL

MILWAUKEE

KEGS

260 plus deposit
Circus crews boast unity

NEW YORK (AP) — Inamorata, always on the move, with nowhere to call home, circus pigeons nevertheless make up one of the finest, closest units in a diffuse modern society, says the chaplain to trouper's of the big top. "They're great, mutually supportive and close-knit family in a tone when the family structure generally is being torn apart," says the Rev. David Herzog of America's only full-time circus minister.

"You're never lonely in the circus," he says. "When anyone asks me about my individuality, everybody is involved, whether it's a birth, marriage, illness, death or accident. They're one big family.

"For the performers and crew call him, is chaplain to the biggest of the three-ring spectacles, the Ringling Brothers and Barnum & Bailey Circus.

"I love it," he said in an interview. "The gypsy life suits me, traveling, the fresh air, dealing with young strong-minded people. It's the freedom and cleanliness entertainment in the world today."

Although he has seen hundreds of performances and rarely misses one, "I enjoy the minute of it. There's always something different, sometimes new, it seems to never perform. It's a phenomenon."

Herzog, 69, an unlikely, bespectacled Roman Catholic assigned to the circus ministry two years ago by a U.S. church commission for people on the move, said circus life exemplifies religious concepts.

Like the church and human existence itself, he said, the circus is a pilgrimage, "a continual journey with no lasting city, your home a trailer or train car," reflecting the transitory nature of earthly experience.

"It makes for more understanding of human values. With all the joys and sorrows, the circus rolls on."

"It's bigger than life," he said. "The world needs that sort of fantasy. It takes away from the drudgery and trials of ordinary life."

But, on March 31, Carter changed his mind because he had "a hopeful sign," Reagan said.

On April 7, Carter broke diplomatic relations with Iran. "We neglected, however, to warn our allies of these actions," Reagan said. "Consultation is the essence of diplomacy."

Reagan said Carter then sent Secretary of State Cyrus Vance to confer with the allies, who then responded by delivering processing letters to Tehran and recalling ambassadors.

Reagan said Vance told the allies a mid-May date before their imposition of sanctions had been scrapped because the Iranian Parliament would not be ready to deal with the hostage question until later.

Reagan said the Carter administration told allies on March 25 they would be expected to break relations with Iran if the United States did so.

Reagan accuses Carter of contradictory Iran policy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—The Carter administration's contradictory policy on Iran has confused and puzzled America's allies, United Press International correspondent Ronald Reagan said Tuesday.

"A string of conflicting signals emanating from the White House, State Department and the National Security Council to the allies clearly is causing them to wonder if the Carter administration really knows what it is doing," Reagan said at an airport news conference.

The news conference was held during a brief stop before Reagan traveled to Terre Haute, where he planned to speak at a Republican fund-raising dinner.

Reagan said the Carter administration told allies on March 25 they would be expected to break relations with Iran if the United States did so.

DETROIT (AP)—The battered auto industry suffered another blow yesterday as General Motors Corp. announced an indefinite layoffs of more than 12,000 production employees.

The announcement came only two weeks after Ford Motor Co. said it would lay off 8,900 production workers and 6,100 white-collar employees.

It was the biggest production cutback yet, and a current slump for GM, the nation's largest automaker.

"We're taking time speeds will be cut in four plants and an entire shift will be dropped in one of those and four others," GM said it accorded to "further advancement in current market conditions."

What that means, said spokesman Bruce MacDonald, is "incoming dealer orders."

The dealer's business is reduced because customers can't get car loans and he's ordering less for his own inventory because it costs so much to carry it.

"We no t run our assembly lines without orders from dealers."

Shifts are being dropped at the Cadillac plant in Detroit and at Leeds, Mo.; Janesville, Wis., and Norwood, Ohio. Lines are being slowed at Joplinville, Lansing, Mich.; Lordstown, Ohio, Linden, N.J. and Toronto.

...Iran

[continued from page 1]

The door of my van is open to the world, said in an interview. "The gypsy life suits me, traveling, the fresh air, dealing with young strong-minded people. It's the freedom and cleanliness entertainment in the world today."

Although he has seen hundreds of performances and rarely misses one, "I enjoy the minute of it. There's always something different, sometimes new, it seems to never perform. It's a phenomenon."

Herzog, 69, an unlikely, bespectacled Roman Catholic assigned to the circus ministry two years ago by a U.S. church commission for people on the move, said circus life exemplifies religious concepts.

Like the church and human existence itself, he said, the circus is a pilgrimage, "a continual journey with no lasting city, your home a trailer or train car," reflecting the transitory nature of earthly experience.

"It makes for more understanding of human values. With all the joys and sorrows, the circus rolls on."

"It's bigger than life," he said. "The world needs that sort of fantasy. It takes away from the drudgery and trials of ordinary life."

But, on March 31, Carter changed his mind because he had "a hopeful sign," Reagan said.

On April 7, Carter broke diplomatic relations with Iran. "We neglected, however, to warn our allies of these actions," Reagan said. "Consultation is the essence of diplomacy."

Reagan said Carter then sent Secretary of State Cyrus Vance to confer with the allies, who then responded by delivering processing letters to Tehran and recalling ambassadors.

Reagan said Vance told the allies a mid-May date before their imposition of sanctions had been scrapped because the Iranian Parliament would not be ready to deal with the hostage question until later.

Reagan said the Carter administration told allies on March 25 they would be expected to break relations with Iran if the United States did so.

DETROIT (AP)—The battered auto industry suffered another blow yesterday as General Motors Corp. announced an indefinite layoffs of more than 12,000 production employees.

The announcement came only two weeks after Ford Motor Co. said it would lay off 8,900 production workers and 6,100 white-collar employees.

It was the biggest production cutback yet, and a current slump for GM, the nation's largest automaker.

"We're taking time speeds will be cut in four plants and an entire shift will be dropped in one of those and four others," GM said it accorded to "further advancement in current market conditions."

What that means, said spokesman Bruce MacDonald, is "incoming dealer orders."

The dealer's business is reduced because customers can't get car loans and he's ordering less for his own inventory because it costs so much to carry it.

"We no t run our assembly lines without orders from dealers."

Shifts are being dropped at the Cadillac plant in Detroit and at Leeds, Mo.; Janesville, Wis., and Norwood, Ohio. Lines are being slowed at Joplinville, Lansing, Mich.; Lordstown, Ohio, Linden, N.J. and Toronto.

...Iran

[continued from page 12]

...Iran

[continued from page 12]

...Iran

[continued from page 12]

...Iran

[continued from page 12]

...Iran

[continued from page 12]

...Iran

[continued from page 12]

...Iran
Law suit has new twist

WASHINGTON (AP) - Chrysler Corp.'s financial situation is in "a fluid state" and the company is holding off on whether to request government assistance, a Treasury official said yesterday.

"I cannot say whether I'm optimistic or pessimism," William Miller told reporters. "It's a difficult task. It can be done, it's possible, but it's difficult." Chrysler said last week it would need $320 million to meet the debt due at the end of the third quarter. Miller said Chrysler had no more information to release on the possibility of government assistance.

Miller would not say whether he thinks Chrysler will be able to fulfill the requirements for obtaining the federal loan guarantees, which are the largest of the federal guarantees offered to the automaker. "It was the fourth time in 25 years that Exxon had surpassed GM in sales. But Exxon's sales advantage of almost $13 billion was a much wider margin than GM had ever held, Fortune reported in an advance copy of its May 5 edition. Among other shifts in the top positions, Mobil Corp. took over the No. 3 position from Ford Motor Co., which dropped to No. 4. The 500 largest industrial companies reported total sales of $1.4 million in 1979, an 18.6 percent increase from 1978 sales and the largest gain in five years.

Net income, bolstered by big jumps for the nation's big oil companies, rose 37 percent to $78.2 billion. That total was also larger than the 17 percent rise in profits in 1978. Petroleum refiners and crude oil producers far outpaced other industries in profit increases. Median profits for both mining, which includes oil production, and refining rose about 75 percent, Fortune said. By comparison, the other standout industry, metal manufacturing, showed a 31 percent profit increase.

Troubled Chrysler Corp., which had been ranked as the nation's 10th largest industrial company, dropped to 17th place as its sales fell to $12 billion in 1979, down $4 billion from the previous year. Chrysler also reported a $1.1 billion loss last year—more than twice the size of any previously reported loss for an American business and greater than the sales of 235 of the companies on the Fortune 500 list.

Workers and the International Association of Machinists, two groups that claimed aboard some time ago, along with the Service Employees International Union, which signed up with Kennedy in Washington on Monday. Carter's most powerful labor endorsement is from the 150,000-member Pennsylvania State Education Association, the union that represents most of the teachers outside Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. The president also enjoys the backing of the 70,000 state United Mine Workers union.
Becker assumes directorship

by Mary Kay Leydon
Staff Reporter

Thomas Becker, a former director of planning at the Bureau of Employment and Training in South Bend, has assumed the position of Director of Development at Saint Mary's College. Becker defined his duties by saying, "I am responsible for the Saint Mary's annual fund which is the pool of money brought into the college each year."

There are a number of different programs which fund the college. The Business Program involves businesses of Elkhart. St. Joseph's county, Niles and Buchanan which contribute about a thousand dollars a year in exchange for an association with the school through three or four meetings a year held at the school, and an internship program with the business department of Saint Mary's.

Becker also added that, "The association also brings benefits to the surrounding area." Becker is also responsible for the parent and alumni fund direct mail campaigns and alumni giving as well as the National Phon-a-thon.

"The Phon-a-thon is coming up soon. The staff and students spend a specific amount of time calling alumni all over for donations," explained Becker.

Another important fund raiser is the Madera Society. Becker explained that when Becker was director of planning, he added that wills and trust funds are set up to benefit the college.

"The Office of Development has developed this program in the past years. The departments of alumnae and public relations are so interrelated with development that under the direction of Larry Duran, the vice president of college relations, they have merged," Becker explained.

Becker received his B.A. in Political Science from Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio in 1971. He holds a master's degree in public affairs from Indiana University. Prior to his job with the Bureau of Employment and Training in South Bend he was coordinator of sales training at the Selmer Company Division of Magnavox in Elkhart. Becker assumed the position at Saint Mary's on April 1.

Far's (RE)O Office for Mater­ cial and Child Health.

The seven-member committee was established in the spring of 1980 for educating physicians, genetic specialists and counselors, and other segments of the public about genetics and to develop standards in its educational programs.

Genetics, the study of inherit disorders and hereditary characteristics, is a young and fast growing field. Becker, making dissemination of information especially necessary.

"There are more than 3,000 genetic diseases," he added, "and most older physicians did not take a genetics course in medical school. And while the amount of scientific knowledge doubles every ten years and knowledge in the life sciences doubles every five years, what we know about genes doubles every two years.

Bender, a member of the Indiana Genetic Disease Program Advisory Committee and expert witness on genetics with the U.S. Department of Justice, is also director of South Bend's Regional Genetics Counseling Clinic and is an associate professor of medical genetics with the Indiana University School of Medicine.

Conlon to speak on

N. Ireland

Sean Donlon, Irish ambassador to the United States, will discuss "Irish Government Policy in Northern Ireland," tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the Center for Life Science Auditorium. The program is open to the public.

Before his appointment as ambassador in 1978, Donlon served in the Department of Foreign Affairs in Dublin, with responsibilities for Northern Irs­ land activities. He is a graduate of National University and a graduate of St. John's College and Lynch presidencies.

Ginzburg advocates boycott

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) - Exiled Soviet dissident Alexander Ginzburg said yesterday that the Soviet government in the eyes of its own people, would be "a tremendous blow to the prestige of the Soviet government in the eyes of its own people."

Ginzburg, who spent nine years in Soviet prison camps before he was released last April, said the Soviets intend for the Olympics to be "a showcase for communism."

Ginzburg made his comments at a news conference at Indiana University. Asked if boycotting the Olympics was more important then giving athletes an opportunity to compete, Ginzburg said: "From the beginning of the games in Greece, they (Olympics) have not been a celebration of sports, but a celebration of peace." He said if the Games are held in Moscow, they will be neither.

"It would be difficult to think that Moscow will withdraw its troops from Afghanistan as a result of an Olympic boycott but perhaps the boycott will have the effect of preventing Moscow from moving its troops into Pakistan," he said. Ginzburg described the current situation in Iran as "a major victory for Soviet foreign policy."

He said that under the circumstances, the United States has no access to Iranian oil and no military bases from which to observe Soviet military activities in the area.

Ginzburg endorsed President Carter for re-election and said that "as far as foreign policy toward the Soviet Union is concerned, he has done more than any other president or any of his opponents have shown they intend to do."
The Observer

Wednesday, April 17, 1980 – page 8

ERAs unnecessary

by Madonna J. Christensen

An additional strike against ERA is that it is entirely unnecessary. Its supporters suggest that ERA would have the effect of discriminating against women in the employment and educational areas. The truth is that discrimination in those fields is currently illegal under the equal protection clause of the Fourteenth Amendment (which has been used to strike down sexually discriminatory laws), the Equal Pay Act of 1963, the Civil Rights Act of 1964, and the 1972 Education Act of 1972, the Equal Employment Opportunity Act, and many others. Yet the federal laws and executive orders enacted in recent years. When one of the amendment's supporters has been asked to give women that they do not already have, she replied, 'Nothing. But it will give us a psychological uplift.' At the same time, it is true that there are discriminatory federal and state laws currently in effect, and that ERA exists even in the areas covered by the legislation listed above; so does racial discrimination. No law enjoys perfect enforcement. The fact, however, that 'Equal rights in education' has been and continues to be passed without the ERA indicates clearly that women's rights can be gained and unfair laws repealed in a much more reasonable way than by passage of a constitutional amendment which would have a dangerously negative impact on the American family and social life as we know it.

ERA proponents would invalidate statutes requiring men to support their wives (it has already had this effect in states with state ERAs) and would allow women to military duty and combat service on the same basis as men. It would make it easy for women to make up at least one-half of this country's population, and it would enfranchise all those who are not yet enfranchised. ERA is a “total equality one. Rather, it has been noted that ‘Sexuality as a whole, as a matter of social, economic, and political context, is back in New York, shaved his

Gunga Dan

WASHINGTON I have withheld writing this column until I was certain that Dan Rather was safely back home. When CBS declared that Dan would be the heir to the Cronkite throne we thought they would immediately throw a party for him. No such celebration took place. Rather to Afghanistan.

They could have sent Harry Reasoner or Andy Rooney to risk their necks in the Khyber Pass, only subject to a possible invasion from the Soviets. They sure on President Carter w

Now that he is safely back with his last story.

Doonesbury

by Gary Trudeau

"Shades of Zapruder, a large concern of many students attending the ERA meetings is the effect of ERA on abortion laws and on a Human Life Amendment. It does not necessarily encourage the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, but all that one can come up with was, 'We know what we were doing, but the other one could have fallen under the 60s and we renamed it Rather.'

Art Buchwald is a syndicated columnist who appears frequently in The Observer.
Welcome to the Club

Ian Hunter (Chrysalis)

The news that the Syx concert last semester may recall Ian Hunter, the hard-rocking British singer (formerly of Mott the Hoople), who opened the show. He introduced the Midwest to a style of rock intellectually deeper than the usual drivel produced by boring, back-to-the-basics no-talents like Bob Seger and Ted Nugent. While most American rock stars are primarily concerned with getting booked, getting money, or getting laid, Hunter is concerned with giving a viewpoint from an artist's lonely conception.

Hunter can rock, to be sure, but the lyric subject matter in his rough voice far surpasses the clanging noises of most American performers. (Case in point: Nugent's "Wang Dang Sweet Poon-tang"). Not only can Hunter write, songs that say something interesting, but he performs them superbly in concert. His parents, his friends, and Nugent are content to wallow in repeated rock-n-roll-in-a-Riffs which burst the ear-drum and numb the brain. Hunter mercifully varies his style, volume, tone, and mood to provide the listener with several musical perceptions.

All of this is captured well on Hunter's new live album, Welcome to the Club, a double set recorded on his last tour. Mick Ronson, former guitarist for David Bowie, provides alternatingly soaring leads, soft rhytihms, and sentimental riffs on electric guitar and mandolin. The band is tight, and the reproductions of the original material sound far superior than usual, but more emotive as a result. The softer ballads, however, are far superior. Particularly of note is "I Wish I Was Your Mother," and "Irene Wilde," which Hunter expresses Hunter's need for family strength and how this affects relationships with women.

The reproductions of the old classic Mott the Hoople songs feel richer than their original counterparts, with a heavier emphasis on rhythm and baseline. "All the Way from Memphis," for example, is intensified by the addition of guitar licks to the original piano background rhythm. The rendition of the external "All the Way From Memphis" is more subtly sung—the obfite vocal inflections Hunter inserts seem more realistic and understandible with a live audience to receive them. Ian Hunter plays for those who like to use their mind and seek solace in rock. The cracking riffs of an electric guitar best express the frustrations of daily life; in this way, rock's expression of life's difficulties becomes an escape and as a result, the problems of living seen smaller and more manageable. Hunter understands this, and uses his music as a vehicle of escape not from reality, as Nugent does, but into reality, and simultaneously lifts rock-n-roll from the level of a numbing narcotic to a stimulating, healthy exercise.

Welcome to the Club captures Hunter's work in all of its musical and demonstrative moments. But there are flaws, as in any live album. Some material is over-rehearsed, some is poorly edited and full of punch-outs—cups and sudden switches in sound. In addition, one denigrated In the audience waits intermittently in many of the songs—they must have known it was a live album and still get her oblivion scream on every track. A few cuts, like "Cleveland Rocks," and "Walking With a Load of Water," are flint and listless. The highly rhythmic "Bastards" is far superior in simplistic studio version, but Hunter gives a view point from an artist's lonely conception. The Beatles paved the way for the great rock "club" band, churning out their songs— the norm before then was to put one or two hits and fill out the rest with throwaways. The Beatles started to use their mind and seek solace in rock. They showed us what he could do after the Beatles, and for what they were already doing. The group stopped touring by 1966, and many others might be unfamiliar with the group. The reproductions of the old classic Mott the Hoople songs feel richer than their original counterparts, with a heavier emphasis on rhythm and baseline. "All the Way from Memphis," for example, is intensified by the addition of guitar licks to the original piano background rhythm. The rendition of the external "All the Way From Memphis" is more subtly sung—the obfite vocal inflections Hunter inserts seem more realistic and understandible with a live audience to receive them. Ian Hunter plays for those who like to use their mind and seek solace in rock. The cracking riffs of an electric guitar best express the frustrations of daily life; in this way, rock's expression of life's difficulties becomes an escape and as a result, the problems of living seen smaller and more manageable. Hunter understands this, and uses his music as a vehicle of escape not from reality, as Nugent does, but into reality, and simultaneously lifts rock-n-roll from the level of a numbing narcotic to a stimulating, healthy exercise.

For the trivia buffs, today is the 10th anniversary of the release of Paul McCartney's first (and so far only) solo album, which is certainly not noteworthy as a musical accomplishment, but rather for the infamous "Interview" contained inside. In the few years it has been around, McCartney and his Apple Press Office, Paul let it be known that his ties with the Beatles were shaky at best, and later in the month the band announced they were disbanding. (Legally, the Beatles were not dissolved until McCartney filed suit on December 31.)\n Nasty court battles ensued with lots of name calling. John Lennon leaked everyone in his interviews with Rolling Stone editor Jann Wenner, and fans around the world finally realized that the Fab Four were not going to reunite in the near future.)\n
Let us not dwell on that part of the Beatles history. It is not what they were remembered for on this important occasion, let us recall them for their contribution of the greatest innovators and influences on the world of music since jazz hit the streets.\n
The Beatles paved the way for the great rock "club" band, both pop and rock. The consciousness of the record-buying masses, homogenizing it into a form acceptable to those who weren't ready for the blues (they still weren't) or Chuck Berry, Buddy Holly, Jerry Lee Lewis, the songwriting traditions of Lennon-McCartney improved and amended to maturing before our eyes, writing innumerable songs which still stand up exactly as long after they were written. Despite the fact that they had no musical training, could not read music, and were not extraordinary instrumentalists, they were forcibly "Love Me Do," "Norwegian Wood" to "A Day in the Life" in just five years, a truly phenomenal accomplishment.

Even though they were self-taught, guided only by the classically trained George Martin, McCartney had (and still has) a remarkable knack for arranging melodies and impeccable harmonies, and Lennon's lyrics improved at a tremendous rate. This was probably what drew many of the Beatles' fans to them, and many others might be unfamiliar with their innovations, an importance usually assigned to songwriting. The Beatles' impact was felt in every genre known as rock 'n' roll to enter American consciousness, from the Fifties to the Sixties, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to Elvis Presley, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Stones, from the Kinks to Dylan, from the Beatles to the Rolling Stones, from the Beach Boys to the Sto affiliation with eastern Catholic high schools where lacrosse is big and players start as young as seventh grade.

Beth Larocca, a senior, organized the women's volleyball group four years ago. Larocca, like O'Leary, thinks that her team could do well in the near future.

"I'm ecstatic. I'm upset that I won't be able to play, but so excited for the others. We have played well against teams in Division III in the past and should have a good team. Lots of girls didn't play because there was no formal organization and we have gone without a coach. Not that we have organization we'll eat everyone."

The change for volleyball and lacrosse spurs questions on the status of other club sports at Notre Dame.

"It's a matter of how far you can go at one time," said Stephens. "We made women's basketball Division I this year and hopefully we'll get around to helping other sports. With the elevation of lacrosse we feel there is a adequate number of men's varsity sports at this time.

Stephens also mentioned that women's swimming and track, as well as gymnastics and waterpolo, were clubs with varsity status in the future. The associated athletic directors do not foresee problems with some sports remaining at the club level — oddly enough, some would rather stay club than go varsity.

"Rugby is a very popular club sport," explained Stephens. "But they haven't pushed for elevation to the varsity level. They are happy in their own world. They are free spirited and like the flexibility and freedom that comes with not being an intercollegiate team.

The advancement of lacrosse and women's volleyball to varsity status, puts the rule of male athletes to females at about 9 to 1. That means that according to the HEW's Dec. 4, 1979 interpretation of Title IX, for every nine scholarships offered to men, one would have to go to a woman. There are approximately 150 grants-in-aid given to male athletes at present. The university will offer its first athletic grants-in-aid to women beginning next year.

LaCrosse

Michigan 7, Notre Dame 6

Notre Dame scorers: full period (25 Carl Lundblad, unassisted)

Notre Dame 8:00, Gehring, unassisted. 14:39

Notre Dame 12:12

No. 4 - Mark Hoyer (ND) def. Jim Curran (ID) 6-4, 6-2.

No. 3 - Jim Falvey/Tom Beiman (ND) def. Donahue/Rogers 6-0, 6-2.

No. 2 - Harris/Hopwood (ND) def. Stearns/Rogers 6-4, 7-5.

No. 1 - Carlton Harris (NO) def. Randy True (ID) 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

True/Ray Leonard 6-2, 6-3.

Lundblad, unassisted 14:39

Druz/Curran 1-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Lockhart 6-3, 6-1.

Druz 6-4, 6-4.

No. 1 - Harris/Hopwood (ND) def. Stearns/Rogers 6-4, 7-5.

No. 2 - Harris/Hopwood (ND) def. Donahue/Rogers 6-0, 6-2.

No. 3 - Jim Falvey/Tom Beiman (ND) def. Donahue/Rogers 6-0, 6-2.

No. 4 - Mark Hoyer (ND) def. Jim Curran (ID) 6-4, 6-2.

Harris/Hopwood 6-1, 6-2.

Druz 6-4, 6-4.

No. 1 - Carlton Harris (NO) def. Randy True (ID) 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

True/Ray Leonard 6-2, 6-3.

Lundblad, unassisted 14:39

Druz/Curran 1-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Lockhart 6-3, 6-1.

Druz 6-4, 6-4.

No. 1 - Carlton Harris (NO) def. Randy True (ID) 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

True/Ray Leonard 6-2, 6-3.

Lundblad, unassisted 14:39

Druz/Curran 1-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Lockhart 6-3, 6-1.

Druz 6-4, 6-4.

No. 1 - Carlton Harris (NO) def. Randy True (ID) 6-4, 6-3, 7-5.

True/Ray Leonard 6-2, 6-3.

Lundblad, unassisted 14:39

Druz/Curran 1-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Lockhart 6-3, 6-1.

Druz 6-4, 6-4.
Golfers take third place in tourney by Bill McCormick

The Notre Dame golf team battled high winds, driving rain, sleet, and even a little snow Monday, en route to a third-place finish in the Indianap-0s Invitational. The 36-hole event was part of the conference for the season for the Irish as they continued their drive towards a possible NCAA tournament berth.

While the thermometer was indicating sub-30-degree tem-0peratures, Notre Dame was working on a team score of 748(73-75). Three strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

Notre Dame's score of 748 was 36 strokes higher than last year's score of 712, which was also the third place score. The Irish finished 19 strokes behind the 729 (77-72), which was won by Ohio State (729), ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were 19 strokes behind the passing leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.

The Irish were six strokes behind the leaders, but they still managed to land a third-place finish in the tournament. The 36-hole second place was 19 strokes ahead of the Irish was Ball State (745), which captured second place with rounds of 368 and 377.
Irish take two from St. Joseph's

by Tim Priester
Sports Writer

On every winning ballclub, a most of youth and experience is essential to a successful program. The Notre Dame men's tennis team used that combination yesterday afternoon, as the second-spring season opened with a 7-2 victory over the Irish to a doubleheader sweep over St. Joseph's.

In the first game, Tasch's bases-loaded single to center in the second inning, a out of double two in the sixth accounted for three runs as the Irish defeated the St. Joseph's 9-5.

The Irish took the second game, 3-0.

Butcher Brothers upset in Bookstore

by Frank Lagrotta
Sports Writer

Some long games, some not-to-long games, lots of sunny days and other things, haven't treated the crowds who came out to watch the action at Bookstore Inn.

Butcher Brothers upset in Bookstore Inn.

The winners were paced by Tom Cushing (9-of-12) and Bob Burner (5 of 13) while the bookstore upset team, led by a pair of hits by Michael Ortmann, was in pads for the first time since Saturday, enjoyed yet another excellent performanceavez since the last time.

Junior Phil Pozderac, expected to fill one of the two offensive backfield last fall, has been able to work on his kicking line for the job.

Junior Pial Pozderac, expected to fill one of the two offensive

Gridders practice… finally

by Craig Chem
Sports Writer

Notre Dame's 1980 football squad, working out on Carrier Field for the first time since Saturday, enjoyed yet another excellent workout Wednesday. assistant coach Gene Smith summed things up by saying, "We didn't expect it to turn out as well as we hadn't been out since Saturday."

Smith added that the cancellations caused by bad weather (four in nine days) are n't interfering too much with the coaching staff's plans. We've been a better football team after each practice.

If he's getting those kind of results, head coach Dan Devine may want to practice all summer in preparation for the murderous 1980 schedule.

Junior Phil Pozderac, expected to fill one of the two offensive tackle spots vacated by graduating seniors Tim Foley and Rob Martynovich, was in pads for the first time this spring yesterday.

Butcher Brothers upset in Bookstore

by Craig Chead
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's tennis team out not only survived the toughest test it has encountered since its start on Feb. 13, but won the match without losing the next batter to retire the side.

Pearl replaced Cotoy for the top of the fifth after walking the inners, surrendering a run, singles, and giving up the out the next batter to retire the side.

Frandich replaced Cotoy for the sixth and proceeded to retire the next three batters, fanning hitting weak taps for the remaining two runs.

I'm quite pleased to see we have such an outstanding pitching staff, with his pitchers, "commented pitching coach Larry Gallagher. "He did exactly what a relief pitcher is supposed to do, keep the ball low and throw strikes."

In addition to Tasch's hot bat, left fielder George Lams and centerfielder Tommy Dowling each slashed a pair of hits. Henry Termini, left fielder while Greg Rodgers and Mike Jamieson each singled in a run during a four-run second inning.

In the second game, the Irish offense was behind attacks exploded in the sixth inning with the help of some defensive mistakes.

"We showed excellent use of our offensive skills,"' head coach Tom Kelly. "Our patience at the plate paid off, especially in the second game."

The Irish, trailing 5-2 heading into the bottom of the sixth, scored five unearned runs to complete another comeback.

"We were also losing to Wisconsin and Illinois Tech but refused to quit," said Voeltinger, who ripped a belt high to right center driving in the winning runs.

Although surrendering a three-run homer to St. Joe third baseman Bob Ellis and a sixth inning solo shot to Neil Brown, Irish hurler Mike Kehan went the distance, striking out five and raising his record to 3-0.

"Mike has really been a clutch performer for us this year," said Voeltinger. "He's been a relief pitcher most of his career and he's done a super job filling in as a fifth starter."

Voeltinger also commented on the clutch play of Tasch. "Chuck has really been a pleasant surprise for our this spring. We were uncertain who would be handling second base, but Chuck has responded beautifully, not only offensively, but defensively as well.

"I'm quite pleased to see we have such an outstanding pitching staff, with his pitchers, "commented pitching coach Larry Gallagher. "He did exactly what a relief pitcher is supposed to do, keep the ball low and throw strikes."

In addition to Tasch's hot bat, left fielder George Lams and centerfielder Tommy Dowling each slashed a pair of hits. Henry Termini, left fielder while Greg Rodgers and Mike Jamieson each singled in a run during a four-run second inning.

In the second game, the Irish offense was behind attacks exploded in the sixth inning with the help of some defensive mistakes.

"We showed excellent use of our offensive skills,"' head coach Tom Kelly. "Our patience at the plate paid off, especially in the second game."

The Irish, trailing 5-2 heading into the bottom of the sixth, scored five unearned runs to complete another comeback.

"We were also losing to Wisconsin and Illinois Tech but refused to quit," said Voeltinger, who ripped a belt high to right center driving in the winning runs.

Although surrendering a three-run homer to St. Joe third baseman Bob Ellis and a sixth inning solo shot to Neil Brown, Irish hurler Mike Kehan went the distance, striking out five and raising his record to 3-0.

"Mike has really been a clutch performer for us this year," said Voeltinger. "He's been a relief pitcher most of his career and he's done a super job filling in as a fifth starter."

Voeltinger also commented on the clutch play of Tasch. "Chuck has really been a pleasant surprise for our this spring. We were uncertain who would be handling second base, but Chuck has responded beautifully, not only offensively, but defensively as well.

I'm quite pleased to see we have such an outstanding pitching staff, with his pitchers, "commented pitching coach Larry Gallagher. "He did exactly what a relief pitcher is supposed to do, keep the ball low and throw strikes."

In addition to Tasch's hot bat, left fielder George Lams and centerfielder Tommy Dowling each slashed a pair of hits. Henry Termini, left fielder while Greg Rodgers and Mike Jamieson each singled in a run during a four-run second inning.

In the second game, the Irish offense was behind attacks exploded in the sixth inning with the help of some defensive mistakes.

"We showed excellent use of our offensive skills,"' head coach Tom Kelly. "Our patience at the plate paid off, especially in the second game."

The Irish, trailing 5-2 heading into the bottom of the sixth, scored five unearned runs to complete another comeback.

"We were also losing to Wisconsin and Illinois Tech but refused to quit," said Voeltinger, who ripped a belt high to right center driving in the winning runs.

Although surrendering a three-run homer to St. Joe third baseman Bob Ellis and a sixth inning solo shot to Neil Brown, Irish hurler Mike Kehan went the distance, striking out five and raising his record to 3-0.

"Mike has really been a clutch performer for us this year," said Voeltinger. "He's been a relief pitcher most of his career and he's done a super job filling in as a fifth starter."

Voeltinger also commented on the clutch play of Tasch. "Chuck has really been a pleasant surprise for our this spring. We were uncertain who would be handling second base, but Chuck has responded beautifully, not only offensively, but defensively as well.

I'm quite pleased to see we have such an outstanding pitching staff, with his pitchers, "commented pitching coach Larry Gallagher. "He did exactly what a relief pitcher is supposed to do, keep the ball low and throw strikes."

In addition to Tasch's hot bat, left fielder George Lams and centerfielder Tommy Dowling each slashed a pair of hits. Henry Termini, left fielder while Greg Rodgers and Mike Jamieson each singled in a run during a four-run second inning.

In the second game, the Irish offense was behind attacks exploded in the sixth inning with the help of some defensive mistakes.

"We showed excellent use of our offensive skills,"' head coach Tom Kelly. "Our patience at the plate paid off, especially in the second game."

The Irish, trailing 5-2 heading into the bottom of the sixth, scored five unearned runs to complete another comeback.

"We were also losing to Wisconsin and Illinois Tech but refused to quit," said Voeltinger, who ripped a belt high to right center driving in the winning runs.

Although surrendering a three-run homer to St. Joe third baseman Bob Ellis and a sixth inning solo shot to Neil Brown, Irish hurler Mike Kehan went the distance, striking out five and raising his record to 3-0.

"Mike has really been a clutch performer for us this year," said Voeltinger. "He's been a relief pitcher most of his career and he's done a super job filling in as a fifth starter."

Voeltinger also commented on the clutch play of Tasch. "Chuck has really been a pleasant surprise for our this spring. We were uncertain who would be handling second base, but Chuck has responded beautifully, not only offensively, but defensively as well. 