Two arrested

OC keggers raided

by Pam Dagian and John M. Higgins

Two separate arrests occurred at off-campus parties last night in the ND/SMC off-campus neighborhood, an area described by South Bend city officials as a 'fragile neighborhood.'

An undercover policeman disguised in a gray Notre Dame sweatshirt appeared at the door of a private Finance Club cookout (1512 South Bend Ave.), claimed he was a finance major and gave the two dollar donation to the girl who was collecting the money at the door. According to Mikkelson, a senior finance major who was at the party, Mikkelson described the events that followed as 'something straight out of D ragnet.'

"Suddenly this guy dressed in an ND shirt said he was with the police department. He claimed that, eight cops ran into the room and dragged off the girl, an ND student who was collecting the money at the door," Mikkelson explained.

The police officers proceeded to question the two kegs that were located in the backyard, according to Tracy Finn, who was also present at the party. When Finn questioned whether the kegs were 'plain view,' one of the officers responded, "We're looking for alcohol in plain view."

The party was described as being 'normal,' with a "plain view" of the party and no evidence of alcohol, according to Mikkelson, other residents did not believe the police reports.

Captain Benedict of the SBPD explained that 'neighbors did voice complaints against the party.'

At the party the students repeatedly asked, "Why are you busting us?" And the officers answered, "no comment." Again the students persisted asking, if the raid was prompted by Mayor Parent, and again they were answered with, "no comment."

The second arrest occurred at a private party on Notre Dame Avenue. Buffy Fritz, a Notre Dame senior, was arrested on the same charges in her 927 Notre Dame Avenue home. Fritz said that she had applied for the proper permit from the City of South Bend early yesterday and was refused because the party was to be held in a 'fragile neighborhood.'

She then decided to reduce the size of the party, serving 10 kegs instead of the 30 she had earlier planned, and moved the party indoors. At approximately 10 p.m., two 'suspicious types' who turned out to be an undercover detective and an assistant city attorney, came to the party.

Facing them were police, Fritz asked for identification, took their money, and let them into the party.

According to Fritz, five minutes later, a parade of police would help relieve tensions, and a general stifled attitude among students. Monday also pointed out that the student center would allow more men and women to meet, enhancing the co-educational goals the University emphasized eight years ago.

The current status of the campus atmosphere sheds light on a glaring inadequacy of the University," the proposal reads. "Because of the priority given to academics here other areas of development, especially emotional and social, are out of whack. The students need a place where social relief and comfort can be found — one whose environment is conducive to intellectual, social and emotional interaction."

Murray stated that the LaFortune building does not meet the current needs of the students. He said that a bowling alley, theater/auditorium, game room, and equestries would be valuable components to a new center. This type of atmosphere, according to Murray, would help relieve tensions, provide a viable non-alcoholic alternative to the local bars, and become a place to meet other students in a natural setting.

Early this morning Student Body President Paul Riehle enforced the importance of such a center. "Last night provided a classic example of why we need a student center," he said. "The college bars were heavily patrolled; there were two busts of off-campus parties — one was just a cook-out! With finals coming up there's a need to blow off some steam, but there's no place to go on campus. What's a student to do?"

The old fieldhouse area and the parking lot between Kenni Ash and the Student Health Center were both mentioned as possible sites for the center; although Murray and Riehle seemed to indicate that any somewhat central location would suffice.

Student Affairs committee chairman Jack Schneider responded favorably to the students' desire for increased social space. He did mention, however, that the undertaking of a new student center (if it were approved) would be a long-range project and that it might be wise to employ some short-range possibilities to help curtail this immediate problem of social space.

Fr. John Van Weelk, vice-president for Student Affairs, and James McDonnell, director of Student Activities, announced that plans were in the making for the possible renovation of the LaFortune ballroom into "New Chaoterion," a coffee house-type setting which would book popular music acts on weekends. It was also suggested that dances be held regularly in Steppan Center to help the students' social life.

Schneider indicated that the committee will recommend to the full Board of Trustees that the undertaking of the center be conducted. That recommendation will be given at today's Board of Trustees meeting.

The Student Affairs Committee, according to Schneider, serves as a link between students and the full Board of Trustees. The students make proposals to the committee, which, after reviewing the issue, recommends a course of action to the full Board.

The members of the Student Affairs Committee are: Donald J. Mat- nials, Paul F. Hellmuth, Jane C. Pfeiffer, Catherine B. Cleary, the Honorable John D. Rockefeller IV, Anthony F. Early, Donald R. Kernigh and Fr. Thomas B. Blant. All were present at yesterday's meeting except Cleary, Rockefeller and Pfeiffer.

The committee was also presented with a proposal by an Ad Hoc committee for the reconstruction of the LaFortune building.

Two off-campus parties were raided by the South Bend Police last night. (Photo by Tom McKeogh)
News in brief

Weather

Partly sunny today and tomorrow. Highs both days in the upper 60s. Fair skies tonight. Lows in the mid 60s. Fair and mild Sunday through Tuesday. Highs 57 to 73. Lows 43 to 55. No major earthquakes or nuclear holocausts expected this week or next.

Campus

Friday, May 2

1 pm TOURNAMENT, nd tennis quadrangular tournament, nd vs valparaiso, marquette vs butler, COURTNEY TENNIS CENTER

5:15 pm MASS & SUPPER, spons: campus ministry, BULLA SHED

7, 9, 11 pm MOVIE, "muppet movie," ENGR. AUD., spons: student union, admission $1

8 pm ND/SMC THEATER, "under milk wood" BENDIX THEATER, CENTURY CENTER

8 pm POETRY READING, smc students, STAPLETON LOUNGE

8 pm CONCERT, dennision singers, dennision u. LITTLE THEATER SMC, spons: joint comm-theater & music dept.

9pm NAZZ, mark ulliman, matt schwinn and sandy panco, NAZZ

10-10:30am NAZZ, doug strigner, NAZZ

Saturday, May 3

9am TOURNAMENT, nd tennis quadrangular tournament, nd vs valparaiso, marquette vs butler, COURTNEY TENNIS CENTER

10am AWARDS CEREMONY, naval roc, MEM. LIBRARY AUD.

1pm MENS TRACK, notre dame vs eastern michigan, BEHIND A.C.C.

1pm TOURNAMENT, nd tennis quadrangular tournament, nd vs valparaiso, marquette vs butler, COURTNEY TENNIS CENTER

1pm BASEBALL, notre dame vs bradley, JAKE KLINE FIELD

2pm BLUE/GOLD, ND STADIUM

4 pm ND/SMC THEATER, playweights premiere, four original plays written and produced by students, LITTLE THEATER, SMC, free admission

7, 9, 11pm MOVIE, "muppet movie," ENGR. AUD., spons: student union, admission $1

7:05pm CONCERT, "we together singers," O'LAUGHLIN AUD, admission charged

8pm CONCERT, "rafas" featuring "chaka kahn," ACC, tickets $8.50 & $7.70

8:30pm NAZZ, harry nehls and company, spons: nazz, NAZZ

9:30pm RACE, first annual deans run, spons: college of NAZZ

8:30pm NAZZ, harry nehls and company, spons: nazz, NAZZ

8pm CONCERT, dennision singers, dennision u. LITTLE THEATER SMC, spons: joint comm-theater & music dept.

8pm STRAUSS-GALAA, south bend CENTURY CENTER, tickets $5 (students, st. citiizens $2) on sale at art & century center, spons: nd dept. of music

Senior Fellow selection held up

By John McGrath
News Editor

Graduation ceremonies are only two weeks and two days away, but no Senior Fellow has yet been selected. The Observer learned yesterday that the selection process got under way in January, however, and only after votes were received from members of a committee narrowed the choice down to 35 candidates, according to Reppa.

The selection process got under way in January, however, and only after votes were received from members of the committee. A committee narrowed the choice down to 35 candidates, according to Reppa.

Thompson Awards presented last weekend

The Black Cultural Arts Council held the first annual Frazier L. Thompson Awards Program and Dance in the Randall's Inn Venetian Room, South Bend on Friday night. Thompson was the first black to graduate from Notre Dame. He received his B.S. in professional studies in 1947.

David Terrance, a freshman from New Orleans, was named distinguished Student Member while Spanish Professor William Richardson received the award for Distinguished Faculty Member. Joyce Jordan, a sophomore general program major from Washington, D.C., was named Outstanding Black Student.

The Selection process got under way in January, however, and only after votes were received from members of the committee. A committee narrowed the choice down to 35 candidates, according to Reppa.

The Observer, Rock 'n Roll Newspaper

Night Editor: "Sex Pistols" Krume
Asst. Night Editors: Neil "The Boom" Brien, Mike "Gingo" Napp, Mary "El Street Band" Kasper
Copy Editor: "Marshall Tucker" Huffman, Mary "Super-tomp" Sullivan
Features Editor: John "Madness" Hendrix & Lou "Frack" Reed
Sports Layout: "Chicagoland" Woulfe
Design: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe
Editorial Layout: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe

The Observer, Rock 'n Roll Newspaper

Night Editor: "Sex Pistols" Krume
Asst. Night Editors: Neil "The Boom" Brien, Mike "Gingo" Napp, Mary "El Street Band" Kasper
Copy Editor: "Marshall Tucker" Huffman, Mary "Super-tomp" Sullivan
Features Editor: John "Madness" Hendrix & Lou "Frack" Reed
Sports Layout: "Chicagoland" Woulfe
Design: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe
Editorial Layout: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe

The Observer, Rock 'n Roll Newspaper

Night Editor: "Sex Pistols" Krume
Asst. Night Editors: Neil "The Boom" Brien, Mike "Gingo" Napp, Mary "El Street Band" Kasper
Copy Editor: "Marshall Tucker" Huffman, Mary "Super-tomp" Sullivan
Features Editor: John "Madness" Hendrix & Lou "Frack" Reed
Sports Layout: "Chicagoland" Woulfe
Design: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe
Editorial Layout: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe

The Observer, Rock 'n Roll Newspaper

Night Editor: "Sex Pistols" Krume
Asst. Night Editors: Neil "The Boom" Brien, Mike "Gingo" Napp, Mary "El Street Band" Kasper
Copy Editor: "Marshall Tucker" Huffman, Mary "Super-tomp" Sullivan
Features Editor: John "Madness" Hendrix & Lou "Frack" Reed
Sports Layout: "Chicagoland" Woulfe
Design: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe
Editorial Layout: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe

The Observer, Rock 'n Roll Newspaper

Night Editor: "Sex Pistols" Krume
Asst. Night Editors: Neil "The Boom" Brien, Mike "Gingo" Napp, Mary "El Street Band" Kasper
Copy Editor: "Marshall Tucker" Huffman, Mary "Super-tomp" Sullivan
Features Editor: John "Madness" Hendrix & Lou "Frack" Reed
Sports Layout: "Chicagoland" Woulfe
Design: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe
Editorial Layout: "Bottle of Reds, Bottle of Cheap Trick" Woulfe

SUNDAY MASSES AT SACRED HEART CHURCH

$1.50 SHOWINGS ONLY!

SHOWINGS ONLY!

SHOWINGS ONLY!

SHOWINGS ONLY!

SHOWINGS ONLY!
On campus campaigning increases in advance of presidential primary

By Kelly Flint
Senior Staff Reporter

Various groups of students supporting Jimmy Carter, Ronald Reagan, Edward Kennedy and John Anderson are preparing for this week's Indiana presidential primary by increasing their off-campus campaigning this weekend.

Paul Klingaman, Notre Dame/Saint Mary's campaign coordinator for President Carter, held a meeting last night in LaFortune for interested students. "We had a poor response," Klingaman said. "There is a general apathy on the campus right now because of final exams. I feel that student interest will increase in the fall."

Klingaman said that his campaign group will distribute posters and literature on campus this weekend. Off-campus plans for the weekend include workers going door to door and making phone calls to students and South Bend residents.

According to Klingaman, Carter's chances for winning the Indiana Democratic primary are good. "Although I feel that the campaign will be more intense in the fall when more funds in the St. Joe area are available," Klingaman said, "more people will realize who the Carter candidate is when faced with the decision May 6."

Former Governor Reagan's campaign group expects no problem with his winning the Republican primary in the area, according to Greg Folley. Chairman of the ND/SMC food group and member of the Steering Committee for the Reagan victory in St. Joe's County, "We're not going overboard on the Indiana primary," Folley said. "Unfortunately, we wasted our resources with Reagan's visit. We will be handing out literature this weekend, but this will be done more off-campus than on."

Folley said that he sees Reagan's chance as 100 percent of winning by a substantial margin in Indiana. "He can't lose," Folley said. "He won against Ford here in '76, so we don't see any possibility that he'll lose this time."

Sen. Kennedy's ND/SMC campaign group will be coordinating weekend campaign efforts with his South Bend headquarters, according to Chris Anderson, a candidate for Indiana delegate to the Indiana State Convention. "We will be phone-polling to see the Democratic preference," Anderson said. "As it stands, the majority of the people are undecided, but we have a long way to go."

Anderson added that Kennedy will be in South Bend on Sunday. "There isn't a possibility that will be on the Notre Dame campus," Anderson said. "The possibility was discussed, but no plans were made. Kennedy spent one hour at the airport Sunday for a rally/press conference with Digger Phelps, Dan Devine, Orlando Woolridge and Vagas Ferguson. There will be a photo blitz after Kennedy's visit Sunday and another one on Monday."

According to Anderson, Kennedy faces an uphill battle nationally. "Any win would be big help," he said. "People aren't aware that a good number of Carter's delegates were selected by caucus. Caucus delegates can change their votes at the Democratic convention this summer. A recent poll of Carter's delegates selected by caucus shows that 75 percent of them will support Kennedy at the Convention."

Anderson added that one-third of the total number of delegates will be selected June 3. "It's anybody's nomination at this point," he said.

Rep. John Anderson campaign group will be setting up tables in the library this week to push votes for him in the Republican primary Tuesday, according to Campus Coordinator Larry Hau. "Anderson is still on the Republican primary ballot, and we want voters to show their support for him," Hau said. "Anderson is the best alternative to Carter and Reagan."

Hau said that the campaign group will also try to get students to volunteer in their home states. Interested students can sign up at the tables set up in the library this weekend.

Hau added that 7000 signatures are needed on a petition to get Anderson on the presidential ballot. "We're not doing much campaigning in Indiana now because of the deadline for the petition isn't until August," Hau said. "Our concerns are very good for getting Anderson on the ballot as an Independent."

Indiana Bell offers service

Off-campus students may return their telephones to a truck located in the parking lot behind the Huddle on May 12-16 or 19-20 between noon and 4 p.m. The service provided by Indiana Bell, will allow students to arrange the disconnection of their telephones here rather than have to visit the Phone Center.

The Observer Friday, May 2, 1980 -page 3

Schedule of Events

(Cut out and keep in a safe place)

May 2 - 2pm-7pm Molson $.75
12 -2pm-7pm Budweiser 2/$1.00
4 -2pm-7pm STRYDES 2/$1.00
5 -2pm-7pm STRYDES 2/$1.00
11 -2pm-7pm MOLSON $1.75
16 -2pm-7pm STRYDES 2/$1.00
...

All my thanks to Tim, Mike, Kurt, Marty, Bill, Pete, and especially Dave. You made life much easier this school year.
ND Summer Session provides variety of educational experiences

by Laura Larimore
Senior Staff Reporter

The Notre Dame Summer Session provides a variety of educational experiences not well known to the average ND/SMC student, according to Fr. Robert J. Austgen, well known to the average only 400 are undergraduate, of courses offered are graduate the session has an approximate Summer Session director.

Austgen stated. The majority come up-to-date in their fields,''' as well as professionals who wish to update their education, as ND/SMC student, according to Fr. Robert J. Austgen, well known to the average only 400 are undergraduate, of courses offered are graduate the session has an approximate Summer Session director.

Austgen stated. The majority come up-to-date in their fields,''' as well as professionals who wish to update their education, as "Many of our students are older people who audit courses to update their education, as well as professionals who wish to come up-to-date in their fields," Austgen commented.

The summer session runs for seven weeks and begins this year on June 2. The students are housed in 10 or 11 dorms on the campus. Both dining halls are open as pay cafeterias.

Austgen stressed the national and international reputations of the special institutes and programs that are held during the summer.

The Art Department features an Artists in Residence program. There are three workshops: Women Artists in Residence, Ceramic Artists in Residence, and Printmakers (Intaglio/ Etching).

Screenprint in Residence. A minimum of four artists from around the country attend each summer. They stay for at least two weeks living and working among the students, Austgen said.

"Notre Dame is nationally known for the ceramics workshop," Austgen added. The presence of Administration program, offered through the College of Business is another nationally acclaimed program. The degree awarded after three summers of course work is in Institutional Administration. The emphasis is on businesses not profit-oriented, such as health care organizations, religious groups, and schools.

Austgen pointed out that last summer there were 88 students in the three workshops, 52 of whom were on campus. Of the 926 students attending the institution, 600 are undergraduate students.

Austgen pointed out that last summer there were 88 students in the three workshops, 52 of whom were on campus. Of the 926 students attending the institution, 600 are undergraduate students.

Summer Storage Space

Special discount for ND and SMC students,

259-0335

Self Lock Storage of McKinley

816 East McKinley

Mishawaka

JOB OPPORTUNITY with brand new energy saving product for cars and trucks.

Part time people can easily make $10 per hour.

Full time much more.

Call collect for an appointment at (616)471-5161

For Your Convenience

Indiana Bell wants to make disconnection of telephone service for off campus students as convenient as possible. So, we will be parking an Indiana Bell truck behind the Huddle and have personnel there to help you make all the arrangements.

If you cannot make it to our truck, please call us on 237-8400 to make other arrangements.

We will be there:

Dates: Mon.-Fri., May 12-16
Mon.-Tue., May 19-20

Time: Noon to 4:00 P.M.

Location: Parking lot behind the Huddle.

Just bring your completed disconnect form and your telephone(s) with you. You will receive a $4.00 credit per telephone on your final telephone bill for the phones that you disconnect and return.

...Raid

(from page 1)

A number of students, concerned that Maroszan has not been given a justifiable reason, are working to keep the gate intact and rowdy students from driving on campus. About 20 or 21 of them are working to make the gate a success.

"I feel that (Security) has not given a justifiable reason, not that there may not be one, for Steve's release. The only thing I'd like to see come out of this is for Security to treat Maroszan as it would any other employee," said one of the students involved. "If we can make the gate successful, it will show that we can handle it ourselves," said another.

...Security

(from page 1)

"I feel that (Security) has not given a justifiable reason, not that there may not be one, for Steve's release. The only thing I'd like to see come out of this is for Security to treat Maroszan as it would any other employee," said one of the students involved. "If we can make the gate successful, it will show that we can handle it ourselves," said another.

"I feel that (Security) has not given a justifiable reason, not that there may not be one, for Steve's release. The only thing I'd like to see come out of this is for Security to treat Maroszan as it would any other employee," said one of the students involved. "If we can make the gate successful, it will show that we can handle it ourselves," said another.

"I feel that (Security) has not given a justifiable reason, not that there may not be one, for Steve's release. The only thing I'd like to see come out of this is for Security to treat Maroszan as it would any other employee," said one of the students involved. "If we can make the gate successful, it will show that we can handle it ourselves," said another.

"I feel that (Security) has not given a justifiable reason, not that there may not be one, for Steve's release. The only thing I'd like to see come out of this is for Security to treat Maroszan as it would any other employee," said one of the students involved. "If we can make the gate successful, it will show that we can handle it ourselves," said another.

"I feel that (Security) has not given a justifiable reason, not that there may not be one, for Steve's release. The only thing I'd like to see come out of this is for Security to treat Maroszan as it would any other employee," said one of the students involved. "If we can make the gate successful, it will show that we can handle it ourselves," said another.
ND/SMC government: Observer analysis

Editor's Note: In today's Observer analyses, the effectiveness of both the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's Student Governments is examined in detail. Former Executive News Editor Mike Lewis [left] looks at the past history and questionable future of the Campus Life Council in the second of his two-part series which began yesterday. Additionally, present News Editor Pam Degnan [right] examines the structure of the Kent Mary's Student Government including the recently abolished Student Assembly.

by Michael Lewis
Executive news editor emeritus

Fr. Richard Conyers calls it "a frustrated body which plays a role in governance, but in which a small few develop parliamentary and debating skills." SBP Paul Riehle says it is "ineffec­tive" and that it should be restructured or abandoned. Former SBP Bill Roche says it is "limited," but useful in form­ing hall life proposals. Most students apparently do not know what it is, are frustrated with its track record or simply do not care.

The Campus Life Council, though only three years old, has been the source of many stu­dents' frustration with Student Government. Most recently, SBP Paul Riehle called for a Constitutional Convention in the fall, presumably to replace the CLC with some form of Student Senate. Fiddling with the form and structure of SG is common among new SBPs. Dave Ben­der created the CLC three years ago to replace the Student Life Council, a child of an earlier generation's unrest. The next year, SBP Andy McKenna created the short-lived Council on Communica­tions, to "improve communica­tions" between the students and Student Government. Before long, the Council had forgotten its original purpose, and, for the average student, had ceased to exist. Bill Roche did not bring any major chan­ges to the organization, but he did overhaul the duties and offices of his cabinet.

So it is no surprise that Riehle purpose doing away with the CLC.

The Council's problem has always been a problem of identity. It is not, as some students apparently believed, the legislative branch of stu­dents' government. Student Gov­ernment has no legislative powers at all. The CLC is an advisory body, whose purpose it is to serve as a

by Pam Degnan
News Editor

"I don't know what is going on. Student government is nothing but a game." This statement reflects the attitude that many students at Saint Mary's College hold about their student govern­ment. According to an inform­al poll conducted in the five residence halls, a large major­ity of the student body have little or no conception of how their government organizations operate. But a disturbing fact is that students just do not care to get involved in the demo­cratic process.

As one student bluntly points out: "Let's face it. We (the students) don't have the sources or the power to initiate change in administrative policies. Why even bother when it gets you absolutely nowhere?"

Students themselves are ul­timately responsible for the utilization and development of their governmental divisions but perhaps the real answer lies within the make-up and effectiveness of the branches of government.

Student government is div­ided into three branches: the Board of Governance, Student Assembly and the Judiciary. As of last wee,, Student Ass­embly has been abolished and placed under investigation until next fall.

According to the Saint Mary's Student Handbook, the purpose of the Board of Gov­ernance "shall be to act as a steering committee by discuss­ing problems relating to Stu­dent Government and by mak­ing recommenda­tions to stu­dent committees." Originally created as an ad­visory council to the student assembly, the Board of Gov­ernance has emerged as the sole "representative" organi­zation on campus.

"There isn't any substantial student representation any­more. The Board has assumed too much of the responsibilities from the ND/SMC Summer Theatre, featuring "Play it Again, Sam" and "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" among others. The ND/SMC Theatre for Young People presented three plays.

[continued on page 10]
...Summer Session

Films from the International Festival Showcase were shown through the Summer Session Cinema. The Department of English sponsored a conference series. Other lecture series and films were sponsored by the various departments.

Austgen asked that undergraduates interested in specific courses or innovative programs contact him. "Summer is a good time to experiment with different kinds of programs," he said.

For instance, the mini-course idea used during the fall and spring was first tested during the summer session.

As a final remark, Austgen added "Most Notre Dame students go home in the summer and miss a good opportunity to try out courses and programs they couldn't ordinarily do during the regular school year." He invited all ND/SMC students to take advantage of the Summer Session.

Provost appoints Beckman

The appointment of Frederick S. Beckman, professor of art, to a three-year term as chairman of the department of art at Notre Dame has been announced by Professor Timothy O'Meara, provost. He will succeed Rev. A. James Flanagan, who will leave after serving two terms as chairman.

A member of the Notre Dame faculty since 1946, Beckman organized the nationally recognized program in industrial design, one of only 28 approved study areas of its type in the nation. Beckman will succeed Rev. A. James Flanagan, who will leave after serving two terms as chairman.

Blood donor registration May 24

An optional entry fee of donating a pint of blood will highlight the Michiana Blood Donor Run to be held here on May 24. Registration forms are available at the Central Blood Bank and at area sporting goods stores.

A TIME TO DECIDE

These few weeks are when Notre Dame students are making decisions.

A few samples:

1. What kind of summer job will I do?
2. What will be my major?
3. Whom will I room with next year?
4. What will I do after graduation?

For those considering the priesthood, the question is:

Is this the time when I should consider whether I want to become a priest?

If this is the decision you must make, then for a personal, confidential interview contact:

Fr. Andre Leveille, CSC
Holy Cross Vocation Director
Box 541
Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
Telephone: 219-283-6485

Security

[continued from page 4]

"Maroszan was a refreshing presence in the Security department, with a vocabulary that consisted of more than 'NO'! Security's job is students and they take no interest in the students," he said.

John Daly, a Dillon junior, finds the whole situation unfortunate because Maroszan's presence in the front gate was always good for a smile or greeting, or a good joke to take home with you.

Curiously, Maroszan apparently does his job very well: students who have tried to get on campus when he was tending gate have found that a courteous, but firm, refusal greets them. Makinowski commented that the problem of gate-crashers, those who break the gate to get on campus, is almost non-existent when Maroszan is in the hut. He is also happy to explain why a certain rule must be enforced, or just to chat for a few minutes with a passing student.

The reasons for the resignation are as yet undeterminable. Glenn Terry said that he would rather keep this matter personal and private, and does not feel that Maroszan was forced to resign.

When asked if he expected any retaliatory trouble this weekend, Terry responded that, "That would be out of my expectations of what adult students would do. I don't see why students would cause trouble over something that happened internally.

Final exam information

Final examinations for the Spring Semester, 1979-80 will be held at the University from 8:00 a.m. Wednesday, May 7, through 9:30 p.m. Monday, May 12. No examinations are to be scheduled on Sunday morning, May 11.

In the event that two examinations are scheduled in conflict according to the published examination schedule, or that more than two examinations are scheduled on the same day or more than three examinations are scheduled in a 24-hour period, or that an emergency of illness makes it impossible to attend an examination when scheduled, contact the Office of the Registrar, Room 215 Administration Building, prior to the start of the examination, so that you may be assisted in making the necessary arrangements.

Observer needs van drivers for 1980-81 year. All days available. This is a paid position.

Contact Tim at 8661 or 1387
At commencement

Civiletti to address Class of '80

Benjamin R. Civiletti, attorney general of the United States, will be the speaker at Notre Dame's 135th commencement exercises May 18. Civiletti, sworn in as attorney general in August 1979, will also receive an honorary doctor of laws degree. As attorney general, he is responsible of the administration of the Department of Justice, which has some 55,000 employees and an annual budget of more than $2 billion. Civiletti also served as deputy attorney general, responsible for the Department's criminal justice system, and as assistant attorney general, head of the Department's Criminal Division.

In addition to Civiletti, honorary degrees will be presented to the following (alphabetically):

- Patrick J. Bro:tt, doctor of science, has been a professor of mathematics at Harvard University since 1979. Recipient of the first Verblen Prize of the American Mathematical Society, Bort was elected to the National Academy of Sciences in 1965.
- Thomas R. Donahue, doctor of laws, is secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO, making him second in command of a 13.6 million-member labor organization. In a labor career that goes back to 1948, Donahue held a variety of positions with Service Employees International Union before becoming executive assistant to the late George Meany in 1973.
- Thomas Ehrlich, doctor of laws, is director of the International Development Cooperation Agency which coordinates U.S. overseas economic development activities under the President and secretary of state. Ehrlich is also former president of the Legal Services Corporation and former dean and professor of the Stanford Law School.
- James P. Grant, doctor of laws, became executive director of the United Nations Childrens Fund in January 1980. Since 1969 he had been president and chief executive officer of the Overseas Development Council, a private organization promoting Third World development. Prior to that, Grant was an assistant administrator with the Agency for International Development.
- August H. Gray, doctor of laws, was named president of the University of Chicago in 1978, becoming the first woman to serve as chief executive officer of a major American coeducational institution of higher learning. In 1974, after teaching history at Chicago and Northwestern University, she was also acting president from 1977 to 1978.
- Rev. Timothy S. Healy, doctor of laws, is president of Georgetown University, a post he has held since 1976. The priest-scholar has also been professor of English, executive vice president of Fordham University, and vice chancellor for Academic Affairs at the City University of New York.
- William R. Hewlett, doctor of engineering, cofounded with David Packard the Hewlett Packard Company, a major designer and manufacturer of precision electronic equipment with annual sales of over a billion dollars from its worldwide operations. Hewlett, former president and chief executive officer, is today a company director and chairman of its executive committee.
- Frank E. Mackle, doctor of laws, is president of Mackle Company, Inc., a construction firm based in Florida, and president and chief executive officer of the Deltona Corporation, a Florida real estate development firm which specializes in limited size, tailor-made communities. He has been a Notre Dame trustee since 1964.
- James Reston, doctor of laws, retired in December 1974 as vice president of The New York Times Company, but still writes an editorial page column which appears three times weekly in The Times. Reston, two-time Pulitzer Prize winner, has been an editor with The Times since 1964 and is still a consultant to the paper and director of the Company.
- Paul A. Volker, doctor of laws, was named chairman of the Federal Reserve Board in August 1979. A specialist in international monetary systems, Volker has also been Under Secretary of the Treasury for Monetary Affairs and a former executive officer of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York.

Elie Wiesel, doctor of laws, is a Romanian-born, French-educated author and journalist, a survivor of the death camps of Auschwitz and Buchenwald, who has been called the "spiritual archivist of the holocaust." Currently a professor of humanities at Boston University, his works include "Four Husidic Masters," a collection of lectures he gave at Notre Dame in 1977 published by the Notre Dame Press.

Speaker of the House Thomas P. "Tip" O'Neill, Jr., will also be honored at the commencement exercises as the 1980 recipient of Notre Dame's Laetare Medal, the oldest honor accorded American Catholics.

All Record Crates

$1 Off

with ND/SMC ID

now until May 30

great for packing!!!!
establishment of a social concern center. Group spokesman Mary Meg McCarthy proposed that the center — which would consist of service groups from Volunteer Services, Theology and Community Services, Urban Plunge, and the Unseen — move into the current WNDU facility near future.

Members of the Ad Hoc group indicated that conversion of the current WNDU facility into a building to suit their needs would cost between $150,000 and $200,000. The student group also pointed out that it would be able to share the building with another special-interest group.

McCarthy emphasized that a center of this type would increase both the visibility and effectiveness of these campus programs. Schneider assured the group that the Student Affairs Committee would recommend to the Administration a serious study in this area to help the group's efforts.

Student Body Vice-President Don Ciancio proposed that the student activities fee be raised to $37 per student. Schneider indicated, however, that when the proposal was made last fall to raise the fee from $37 to $30, the committee asked for the fee to be raised to $35. Schneider said that the raise was approved and will take effect this fall.

Outgoing Student Body President Bill Koch made a brief end-of-the-year report. He cited that student government’s emphasis was in three main areas: solving as best a possible the social space problem by attaining $40,000 for distribution among the dorms, interest in maintaining the hockey program and minor sports scholarships while expanding the women’s sports program; and the improvement of the Stepan Center into an every-day facility. McDowell added that a $58,000 surface for the Stepan Center has been ordered, and will provide "top-notch" footing for basketball and volleyball courts.

Frank Guilfoyle, an executive coordinator on Reihle’s student government cabinet, briefly reviewed the work done on dormitory social space. He cited growing rapport between the students and administration as the reason student government was successfully able to spend $40,000 to develop social space in 15 out of Notre Dame’s 22 student dormitories.

Guilfoyle added that it would be advantageous to set up a Hall improvements fund on a permanent basis. Schneider said the idea was sound, and perhaps matching funds could be used if this plan was ever finalized.

Off-campus commissioner Mark Kelley reported on the off-campus situation, citing crime in student neighborhoods as his top concern. Kelley mentioned the current implementation of a crime-prevention plan where off-campus students might be able to purchase alarm systems for their houses.

He also cited the need for a social space for off-campus students on campus and the possibility of a food co-op to help negate rising food costs.

Judicial coordinator John Plunkert said in a brief report that students are developing a significant consciousness for the J-board system because they are not fully aware of their options. He said he hopes to increase the students’ overall knowledge of the system and improve the J-boards within the individual residence halls.

The meeting concluded with Reihle listing goals of his administration. Reihle’s main goal is the restructuring of student government. He said that student government had to be more direct in its plan, and he envisioned some sort of student senate alignment. He said this could centralize student government, and give students a sense of direction SG would aim.

Also at yesterday’s meeting, Van Wolvele presented senior Dale Arkins with the outstanding student award for her work both in the classroom and with various service organizations on campus.

... Trustees

Ernst added that Kennedy is committed to a 3 p.m. appearance in Cleveland, and because of that, the Senator found it necessary to cut back the rest of his Sunday schedule-including planned appearances in South Bend and at Notre Dame.

"It’s not that we’re short-changing South Bend or Notre Dame or anything," Ernst explained. "It’s the same way everywhere including Gary and Anderson—we’re working hard to catch up." Kennedy will be in Gary Saturday afternoon, then will fly to Nebraska for a dinner that night, and then return by jet to Anderson, Ind., later Saturday night. The Senator will stay overnight in Anderson and then make his way to South Bend.

According to the Associated Press, Kennedy is expected to spend his night in Anderson with an unemployed auto worker, then attend church services and speak at a rally in the morning.

Greeting Kennedy at the Airport were Digger Phelps, Dan Devine, Vagas Ferguson, and Orlando Woolridge. Ernst said, "It’s (the rally) still going to be pretty good," Anderson said. "Just the fact that Digger and Devine and the players will be there should generate a lot of national press coverage as well as bring out the fans in Kennedy—and that in itself should create a lot of alumni interest around the country."

Kennedy acknowledged that Kennedy is still behind Carter in Indiana as the May 6 primary draws near.

"We’re behind, we know—but we’re doing our best to close the gap—we’ve got a lot of people out working," Ernst said, "but we’ve never underestimated Carter’s strength in this state because Indiana is traditionally pretty conservative."
A shady business?

by Philip Johnson

Many Notre Dame students this winter received a form letter from The College Register, a publication which claimed to be "a National Yearbook and Social Register of Prominent Students and Graduates."
The letter requested that students return biographical information since that student had been "selected for inclusion in The College Register," as book orders were less than 5000 students and graduates in the U.S. and Canada.

However, many students were puzzled as to why they would receive such a form letter. One remarked, "I've been on an academic probation, I'm doing marginal work now, and I'm not involved in any extracurricular activities." Another stated, "almost all the seniors in Zahm got these letters and I'm sure that's the case across campus."

Although biographical information in the book was free, having a photograph published with the short bio cost the student $55. Additionally, a second form states that the book (less than 6 by 9 inches, 106 pages) costs $35, but it's available to students and their families at a pre-publication price of $15.00 per copy. With this information in hand, The Observer decided to investigate further.

In attempts to discover more about Zachiel and his book, The Observer made some 50 long distance phone calls. However, after these phone calls and a trip to Sevier County, Tennessee, many questions remain unanswered about The College Register and Zachiel.

In attempts to reach Shelton, The Observer called the Pigeon Forge City office, where the book is purportedly published. Naomi Teaster, Pigeon Forge City Register, directed the observer to the "official" Shelton, The Leumi Corporation (less than 6 by 9 inches, 106 pages), or The College Register, which Zachiel started in 1975. The book is purchased by some students but its main purpose is "recruiting officers (sic)," added Shelton. Shelton, who prefaced every statement with "generally," said that "Generally I do not know who we received nominations from at Notre Dame because we recruit at so many schools."

He continued: "We recruit generally at major schools throughout the country, but he would not be specific. Shelton was surprised to hear that Notre Dame did not have a copy of the book and said it could be found in the Library of Congress.

Shelton suggested that the Better Business Bureau (BBB) in Knoxville, who had a copy of the book, be contacted for a business reference. Lilian Zian, president of the Knoxville BBB, stated that she did not remember ever having a copy of the book, but noted that they might have lost the book. Zian added that she had heard of Shelton and that inquiries had been made about The College Register.

She noted that she went to Gatlinburg in an attempt to locate Shelton, yet was unable to find the publisher. Zian added: "I am afraid it is just vanity. People like to see their names in print."

When Shelton was advised that the BBB did not have a copy of the book, he retorted: "They must have misplaced the book." Shelton mailed The Observer a copy of the book.

Responding to inquiries regarding how he received nominations of students for the book, Shelton said, "generally I receive the nominations from student groups and sometimes faculty. Shelton reluctantly stated that "ODK (Omicron Delta Kappa) and Mortar Board national service organizations occasionally nominate students."

Asked specifically about recruitment at Notre Dame, Shelton paused and then replied, "I just can't get that information tonight, there are too many schools to check through." ODK National Executive Director Maurice Clay stated "we absolutely will not release names of students in our organization for inclusion in such publications." Clay went on to say that ODK, to the best of his knowledge, ever made nominations to The College Register.

Representatives from ODK and Better Business Board at Valparaiso and Purdue University, who have had students listed in the book, claimed to know nothing about the book or Shelton.

Richard Conklin, of Notre Dame's Information Services, stated that Notre Dame does not nominate students for inclusion in social register books.

Included in The College Register, were several letters of congratulations for students. One letter, from Illinois Governor James R. Thompson was directed to "Most Prominent College and University Students In The Nation for 1977-78." No mention is made in the letter about students being included in the College Register unless the student was selected for the letter was intended for his book. Gov. Thompson's office was unable to confirm this.

Next, The Observer flew to Sevier County to interview Shelton and to seek more information about The College Register. Shelton however was unable to avoid and ignore reporters.

Ellen Hurlen, a neighbor and former employee of Shelton said "the office is just like a normal apartment. Max doesn't have a secretary or any home. He's very secretive. About two years ago we asked him about his book but he wouldn't give us too much information. He brought his book and a press release down. A lot of people have called about him. Some would say that they had sent him $60 or $75 and they would never hear from him again. Our former director would not recommend him to anyone."

Current Executive Director Pat Callen and his associate WSND responds to proposal of advisory board with enthusiasm

by Mary Fran Callahan
Senior Staff Reporter

Faced with the establishment of an advisory board, WSND Station Manager Kevin Gesstler yesterday indicated that his reactions would be enthusiastic about the board and view it as a "technically viable experience if they are oriented towards a broadcasting career." Gesstler explained that broadcasting experience is "now in another field," according to McDonnell.

Though Gesstler said the actual composition and structure of the board has not yet been determined, the Advisory Board, he indicated, is "the Center for Continuing Education. And, if you consider reasonable broadcasting experience—particularly in the technical field—it was an attempt to constitute the kind of board from not being adequately trained for a specific job.

The student organization is a time management problem. And the hope is always that a new body or a new way of doing business will lead to success.

Those that are assigned to the Board of Commissioners under the present constitution (the student body) is also "the center for Continuing Education. And, if you consider reasonable broadcasting experience—particularly in the technical field—it was an attempt to constitute the kind of board from not being adequately trained for a specific job.

Thus, if students expect the new body, if it is formed, to dictate policy, they are in for a rude awakening.

In fact, Roche indicated, once-once talks with administrative officials were, in his experience, sometimes more productive and efficient than the CLC.

The CLC is, by definition and makeup, a very limited body. Its heavy concentration of hall life and everyone knows that that was Bender's purpose in forming the organization. But that focus also means that some important measures are not appropriate to the CLC.

Issues like tenure and off-campus crime, Roche said, are not the most appropriate for debate in the CLC because of the body's emphasis on hall life.

Further problems with its makeup also limit the CLC's scope, VanVoorhees and Dean of Students James Roemer each gave a vote on final proposals, along with six students. Ironically, the purpose of the Council is to advise VanVoorhees on campus issues. Thus the Council has a voice in what will come under his consideration.

By abstaining in the recent keg proposal vote, VanVoorhees effectively killed the proposal, and did not have to "officially" consider it. It takes a two-thirds majority to approve a proposal, and send it to the student affairs office. Eleven voted in favor of the keg proposal, six against, and VanVoorhees abstained.

"Something's wrong with the body when it can't pass something of this magnitude," Roche said recently. Of course, the key vote was "logically, it doesn't make sense for the adviser to have a vote on what goes to his design.

Votes such as the keg proposal results further cloud the purpose of the CLC. Officially, the CLC did not pass a matter it had spent months debating and planning. Thus the issue was never officially a proposal sent to VanVoorhees. Indeed, the matter died a quiet death in the Council and that organization was blamed as ineffective.

But even if the keg proposal passed, and VanVoorhees still would have, in all probability, turned the issue over to the Community Council. Thus the Council has a voice in what goes to his design.

That is probably the major source of frustration with the CLC and student government in general. Consistent with Notre Dame's "lack of parent involvement," the administration always has the final say in the organization. In the past, that word is often "no.

Gesstler has charged that the CLC "has an inherent obligation to dictate change. And, if you consider reasonable broadcasting experience—particularly in the technical field—it was an attempt to constitute the kind of board from not being adequately trained for a specific job.

But in dealing with the administration, no student body proposal will be able to dictate change. That inability to dictate change is a major source of frustration with the CLC, and probably will be a major source of frustration with any group which replaces it.

The Observer
Friday, May 2, 1980 - page 10

CONTINUED FROM PAGE 5

"officially" consider it. It takes a two-thirds majority to approve a proposal, and send it to the student affairs office. Eleven voted in favor of the keg proposal, six against, and VanVoorhees abstained.

"Something's wrong with the body when it can't pass something of this magnitude," Roche said recently. Of course, the key vote was "logically, it doesn't make sense for the adviser to have a vote on what goes to his design.

Votes such as thekeg proposal results further cloud the purpose of the CLC. Officially, the CLC did not pass a matter it had spent months debating and planning. Thus the issue was never officially a proposal sent to VanVoorhees. Indeed, the matter died a quiet death in the Council and that organization was blamed as ineffective.

But even if the keg proposal passed, and VanVoorhees still would have, in all probability, turned the issue over to the Community Council. Thus the Council has a voice in what goes to his design.

That is probably the major source of frustration with the CLC and student government in general. Consistent with Notre Dame's "lack of parent involvement," the administration always has the final say in the organization. In the past, that word is often "no.

Gesstler has charged that the CLC "has an inherent obligation to dictate change. And, if you consider reasonable broadcasting experience—particularly in the technical field—it was an attempt to constitute the kind of board from not being adequately trained for a specific job.

But in dealing with the administration, no student body proposal will be able to dictate change. That inability to dictate change is a major source of frustration with the CLC, and probably will be a major source of frustration with any group which replaces it.

Those that are assigned to the Board of Commissioners under the present constitution (the student body) is also "the center for Continuing Education. And, if you consider reasonable broadcasting experience—particularly in the technical field—it was an attempt to constitute the kind of board from not being adequately trained for a specific job.

Thus, if students expect the new body, if it is formed, to dictate policy, they are in for a rude awakening.

In fact, Roche indicated, once-once talks with administrative officials were, in his experience, sometimes more productive and efficient than the CLC.

The CLC is, by definition and makeup, a very limited body. Its heavy concentration of hall life and everyone knows that that was Bender's purpose in forming the organization. But that focus also means that some important measures are not appropriate to the CLC.

Issues like tenure and off-campus crime, Roche said, are not the most appropriate for debate in the CLC because of the body's emphasis on hall life.

Further problems with its makeup also limit the CLC's scope, VanVoorhees and Dean of Students James Roemer each gave a vote on final proposals, along with six students. Ironically, the purpose of the Council is to advise VanVoorhees on campus issues. Thus the Council has a voice in what will come under his consideration.

By abstaining in the recent keg proposal vote, VanVoorhees effectively killed the proposal, and did not have to "officially" consider it. It takes a two-thirds majority to approve a proposal, and send it to the student affairs office. Eleven voted in favor of the keg proposal, six against, and VanVoorhees abstained.

"Something's wrong with the body when it can't pass something of this magnitude," Roche said recently. Of course, the key vote was "logically, it doesn't make sense for the adviser to have a vote on what goes to his design.

Votes such as thekeg proposal results further cloud the purpose of the CLC. Officially, the CLC did not pass a matter it had spent months debating and planning. Thus the issue was never officially a proposal sent to VanVoorhees. Indeed, the matter died a quiet death in the Council and that organization was blamed as ineffective.

But even if the keg proposal passed, and VanVoorhees still would have, in all probability, turned the issue over to the Community Council. Thus the Council has a voice in what goes to his design.

That is probably the major source of frustration with the CLC and student government in general. Consistent with Notre Dame's "lack of parent involvement," the administration always has the final say in the organization. In the past, that word is often "no.

Gesstler has charged that the CLC "has an inherent obligation to dictate change. And, if you consider reasonable broadcasting experience—particularly in the technical field—it was an attempt to constitute the kind of board from not being adequately trained for a specific job.

But in dealing with the administration, no student body proposal will be able to dictate change. That inability to dictate change is a major source of frustration with the CLC, and probably will be a major source of frustration with any group which replaces it.
The Observer

Friday, May 2, 1980 - page 11

...College Register

Tony Spinelli were also unable to endorse him, saying "we just don't have any information about him or his publication. He's not a member of the Chamber."

Paul Archley, Sevier County Clerk, then told The Observer that Shelton purchased a business license on March 14, just two days after The Observer's first interview with the publisher. Archley added that Shelton later paid for back business license to 1976 in the first week of April. Shelton has yet to purchase a permit in Pigeon Forge.

According to Public Works Director Richard Harmon, Shelton needs to get a license if he operates an office. Hamon added that Shelton was operating in a residential portion of the city and needed special permission from the zoning commission to continue operating. Harmon said that city officials would look into the matter.

Shelton also refused to disclose the names of any business recruiters who purchase his book, citing "business ethics" as the reason for not disclosing the names.

Much remains a mystery about the 39-year-old Shelton and his publication. Research into the company's activities will continue by Pigeon Forge city officials, and the U.S. postal authorities "to determine if a fraud may have been committed.

Meanwhile, Max Shelton will continue to collect "nonsubscriptions" and will continue to send letters to "prominent" stu-

...Analysis

that really belong to the student Assembly. We just don't have a voice in making important decisions," a student Assembly member commented.

Boad members include the Student Body President, the Vice President for Student Affair, the President for Student Affairs, and eight departmental commissioners. Class and hall presidents also participate in determining Board rulings. This broad decentralization, however, has caused stirrings of discontent among Board members.

The assembly was abolished, Sweeney said. The next editor of the Student Assembly, the coorthe place of an assembly. "A committee will be formed over the summer to investigate the structure of student assembly and whether it would be feasible to include such an organization in next year's administration," Sweeney commented.

According to Boyle, there are no hall judicial boards at Saint Mary's, because no distinctions are made between hall and college offenses.

...College Register

Tony Spinelli were also unable to endorse him, saying "we just don't have any information about him or his publication. He's not a member of the Chamber."

Paul Archley, Sevier County Clerk, then told The Observer that Shelton purchased a business license on March 14, just two days after The Observer's first interview with the publisher. Archley added that Shelton later paid for back business license to 1976 in the first week of April. Shelton has yet to purchase a permit in Pigeon Forge.

According to Public Works Director Richard Harmon, Shelton needs to get a license if he operates an office. Hamon added that Shelton was operating in a residential portion of the city and needed special permission from the zoning commission to continue operating. Harmon said that city officials would look into the matter.

Shelton also refused to disclose the names of any business recruiters who purchase his book, citing "business ethics" as the reason for not disclosing the names.

Much remains a mystery about the 39-year-old Shelton and his publication. Research into the company's activities will continue by Pigeon Forge city officials, and the U.S. postal authorities "to determine if a fraud may have been committed.

Meanwhile, Max Shelton will continue to collect "nonsubscriptions" and will continue to send letters to "prominent" stu-

...Analysis

that really belong to the student Assembly. We just don't have a voice in making important decisions," a student Assembly member commented.

Boad members include the Student Body President, the Vice President for Student Affair, the President for Student Affairs, and eight departmental commissioners. Class and hall presidents also participate in determining Board rulings. This broad decentralization, however, has caused stirrings of discontent among Board members.

The assembly was abolished, Sweeney said. The next editor of the Student Assembly, the coor-

the place of an assembly. "A committee will be formed over the summer to investigate the structure of student assembly and whether it would be feasible to include such an organization in next year's administration," Sweeney commented.

According to Boyle, there are no hall judicial boards at Saint Mary's, because no distinctions are made between hall and college offenses.

...College Register

Tony Spinelli were also unable to endorse him, saying "we just don't have any information about him or his publication. He's not a member of the Chamber."

Paul Archley, Sevier County Clerk, then told The Observer that Shelton purchased a business license on March 14, just two days after The Observer's first interview with the publisher. Archley added that Shelton later paid for back business license to 1976 in the first week of April. Shelton has yet to purchase a permit in Pigeon Forge.

According to Public Works Director Richard Harmon, Shelton needs to get a license if he operates an office. Hamon added that Shelton was operating in a residential portion of the city and needed special permission from the zoning commission to continue operating. Harmon said that city officials would look into the matter.

Shelton also refused to disclose the names of any business recruiters who purchase his book, citing "business ethics" as the reason for not disclosing the names.

Much remains a mystery about the 39-year-old Shelton and his publication. Research into the company's activities will continue by Pigeon Forge city officials, and the U.S. postal authorities "to determine if a fraud may have been committed.

Meanwhile, Max Shelton will continue to collect "nonsubscriptions" and will continue to send letters to "prominent" stu-

...Analysis

that really belong to the student Assembly. We just don't have a voice in making important decisions," a student Assembly member commented.

Boad members include the Student Body President, the Vice President for Student Affair, the President for Student Affairs, and eight departmental commissioners. Class and hall presidents also participate in determining Board rulings. This broad decentralization, however, has caused stirrings of discontent among Board members.

The assembly was abolished, Sweeney said. The next editor of the Student Assembly, the coor-

the place of an assembly. "A committee will be formed over the summer to investigate the structure of student assembly and whether it would be feasible to include such an organization in next year's administration," Sweeney commented.

According to Boyle, there are no hall judicial boards at Saint Mary's, because no distinctions are made between hall and college offenses.
The Trivia Bowl provided the intellectuals of Notre Dame the chance to flex their brains.

It's a strange sight to see these two on different sides, but that's Bookstore Basketball.

A new form of mudpits games is invented: tag-team wrestling.

This participant appears happy now, but that rapidly changed as the egg was scrambled.

Do I hear a bid higher than the $100 offered by the man in the white collar.

It may not be the Kentucky Derby, but it's.

The Trinity Bowl provided the intellectuals of Notre Dame the chance to flex...their brains.

It was a hard decision to make for all involved. The call for responsibility that pervades this institution could not be ignored; then again, the prospects for enjoyment were extremely enticing. Everyone had to ask themselves, "Should I do schoolwork, or should I go enjoy An Tostal?" Fortunately, or unfortunately, An Tostal won out in most cases. With cooperation from the weather, the enjoyment was there to be had, and it was not hard to find. There was a plethora of activities occurring almost non-stop: activities that were sincere, difficult endeavors, and activities which were nothing more than pure nonsense. Yet, there lies the secret of success of An Tostal. Nonsense is not only allowed, but required. If an outside observer were to arrive at the mudpits on a certain Saturday in the not too distant past, he would undoubtedly question the sanity of the participants and the integrity of the University. For four days, the normally quiet, conservative Notre Dame students were able to transcend the tyrannical academic atmosphere of the University. And no one could interfere; and no one did. An Tostal provided that necessary break for all students before finals. It gives the students that final chance to really enjoy themselves without feeling guilty for actually having fun and a good time.

John Macor
A lot of fun. Mud volleyball provided an outlet for both athletic skills and childhood desires to wallow in the mire.

SOLD! What a bargain! What a good time!
Features

LETTERS TO A LONELY GOD

Keepin' In Touch

Trigiani, a Theatre major, promises the evening to be full of "rele vant comedy." She dubbed her program Fat not only because several characters are weight problems but because the plays "deal with what fits in — and what we do to ourselves to fit in. Fat is a concept."

The Pitter Patter of Little Dancing Feet concerns a natural childhood center built around the theme of Broadway munecas, run by a tap dancing dancette (Jake Morrissey) and his wife, Boobs (Mary Jo Hicks). The couple encourage their clients to practice breathing exercises to "Singin' in the Rain."

Pajama revolutes around a pajama party "thrown by the perfect teenager (Mary Jo Hicks) for all her friends who have social defects."

The third and last play, Damn Mr. Gimbel, concerns the opening monologue to Fat. Admission is free and all are encouraged to attend. A number of other original plays will be performed next week by other members of the Dram God's only wounds He knows. In your death, Son, I have finally given man as much love as He will ever need.

God's only-begotten Son hung His head in silence.

God, anxious to understand, said: "My Son, after the love winning redemption, what further love is needed?"

"Love, to prove itself, needs often to show it is there," He replied. "It may take more than one day for God to prove Himself faithful, until man is convinced He is finally loved."

God, thinking of how many crosses His Son must die, put on, meditated on love as a mystery of His own making, that leads heaven to go much farther than it ever chose to go. Whether human or divine, once we have promised love, there's no end in sight. Even now, in jungles and in deserts, there's the noise of a hammer driving nails into wood.

God listens, and is said, a wiser God now than He was at creation.

I will be saying Mass for the beginning of May today, Friday May 2, at St. Paul's in Greenwich Village. If you're in New York, please come and visit at St. Joseph's Church, 177 Ninth Avenue, Greenwich Village; phone: 212-741-1274. Goodbye for the summer from Darbautis (Secundus) O'Gall and me. We never said we would forget you.

Father Griffin, University Chaplain, is a regular Features columnist.

Joys of 'Fat Staged in Moreau

Trigiani claims her cast are "comic geniuses," and especially commends Mary Jo Hicks as "one of the most dynamic characters I've seen in the department — her comedy timing is professional."

Trigiani, a Theatre major, promises the evening to be full of "relentless comedy." She dubbed her program Fat not only because several characters are weight problems but because the plays "deal with what fits in — and what we do to ourselves to fit in. Fat is a concept."

The Pitter Patter of Little Dancing Feet concerns a natural childhood center built around the theme of Broadway munecas, run by a tap dancing dancette (Jake Morrissey) and his wife, Boobs (Mary Jo Hicks). The couple encourage their clients to practice breathing exercises to "Singin' in the Rain."

Pajama revolutes around a pajama party "thrown by the perfect teeneger (Mary Jo Hicks) for all her friends who have social defects."

The third and last play, Damn Mr. Gimbel, concerns the opening monologue to Fat. Admission is free and all are encouraged to attend. A number of other original plays will be performed next week by other members of the Dram God's only wounds He knows. In your death, Son, I have finally given man as much love as He will ever need.

God's only-begotten Son hung His head in silence.

God, anxious to understand, said: "My Son, after the love winning redemption, what further love is needed?"

"Love, to prove itself, needs often to show it is there," He replied. "It may take more than one day for God to prove Himself faithful, until man is convinced He is finally loved."

God, thinking of how many crosses His Son must die, put on, meditated on love as a mystery of His own making, that leads heaven to go much farther than it ever chose to go. Whether human or divine, once we have promised love, there's no end in sight. Even now, in jungles and in deserts, there's the noise of a hammer driving nails into wood.

God listens, and is said, a wiser God now than He was at creation.

I will be saying Mass for the beginning of May today, Friday May 2, at St. Paul's in Greenwich Village. If you're in New York, please come and visit at St. Joseph's Church, 177 Ninth Avenue, Greenwich Village; phone: 212-741-1274. Goodbye for the summer from Darbautis (Secundus) O'Gall and me. We never said we would forget you.

Father Griffin, University Chaplain, is a regular Features columnist.

Joys of 'Fat Staged in Moreau

Trigiani claims her cast are "comic geniuses," and especially commends Mary Jo Hicks as "one of the most dynamic characters I've seen in the department — her comedy timing is professional."

Trigiani, a Theatre major, promises the evening to be full of "relentless comedy." She dubbed her program Fat not only because several characters are weight problems but because the plays "deal with what fits in — and what we do to ourselves to fit in. Fat is a concept."

The Pitter Patter of Little Dancing Feet concerns a natural childhood center built around the theme of Broadway munecas, run by a tap dancing dancette (Jake Morrissey) and his wife, Boobs (Mary Jo Hicks). The couple encourage their clients to practice breathing exercises to "Singin' in the Rain."

Pajama revolutes around a pajama party "thrown by the perfect teeneger (Mary Jo Hicks) for all her friends who have social defects."

The third and last play, Damn Mr. Gimbel, concerns the opening monologue to Fat. Admission is free and all are encouraged to attend. A number of other original plays will be performed next week by other members of the Dram God's only wounds He knows. In your death, Son, I have finally given man as much love as He will ever need.

God's only-begotten Son hung His head in silence.

God, anxious to understand, said: "My Son, after the love winning redemption, what further love is needed?"

"Love, to prove itself, needs often to show it is there," He replied. "It may take more than one day for God to prove Himself faithful, until man is convinced He is finally loved."

God, thinking of how many crosses His Son must die, put on, meditated on love as a mystery of His own making, that leads heaven to go much farther than it ever chose to go. Whether human or divine, once we have promised love, there's no end in sight. Even now, in jungles and in deserts, there's the noise of a hammer driving nails into wood.

God listens, and is said, a wiser God now than He was at creation.

I will be saying Mass for the beginning of May today, Friday May 2, at St. Paul's in Greenwich Village. If you're in New York, please come and visit at St. Joseph's Church, 177 Ninth Avenue, Greenwich Village; phone: 212-741-1274. Goodbye for the summer from Darbautis (Secundus) O'Gall and me. We never said we would forget you.

Father Griffin, University Chaplain, is a regular Features columnist.

Joys of 'Fat Staged in Moreau

Trigiani claims her cast are "comic geniuses," and especially commends Mary Jo Hicks as "one of the most dynamic characters I've seen in the department — her comedy timing is professional."

Trigiani, a Theatre major, promises the evening to be full of "relentless comedy." She dubbed her program Fat not only because several characters are weight problems but because the plays "deal with what fits in — and what we do to ourselves to fit in. Fat is a concept."

The Pitter Patter of Little Dancing Feet concerns a natural childhood center built around the theme of Broadway munecas, run by a tap dancing dancette (Jake Morrissey) and his wife, Boobs (Mary Jo Hicks). The couple encourage their clients to practice breathing exercises to "Singin' in the Rain."

Pajama revolutes around a pajama party "thrown by the perfect teeneger (Mary Jo Hicks) for all her friends who have social defects."

The third and last play, Damn Mr. Gimbel, concerns the opening monologue to Fat. Admission is free and all are encouraged to attend. A number of other original plays will be performed next week by other members of the Dram God's only wounds He knows. In your death, Son, I have finally given man as much love as He will ever need.

God's only-begotten Son hung His head in silence.

God, anxious to understand, said: "My Son, after the love winning redemption, what further love is needed?"

"Love, to prove itself, needs often to show it is there," He replied. "It may take more than one day for God to prove Himself faithful, until man is convinced He is finally loved."

God, thinking of how many crosses His Son must die, put on, meditated on love as a mystery of His own making, that leads heaven to go much farther than it ever chose to go. Whether human or divine, once we have promised love, there's no end in sight. Even now, in jungles and in deserts, there's the noise of a hammer driving nails into wood.

God listens, and is said, a wiser God now than He was at creation.

I will be saying Mass for the beginning of May today, Friday May 2, at St. Paul's in Greenwich Village. If you're in New York, please come and visit at St. Joseph's Church, 177 Ninth Avenue, Greenwich Village; phone: 212-741-1274. Goodbye for the summer from Darbautis (Secundus) O'Gall and me. We never said we would forget you.

Father Griffin, University Chaplain, is a regular Features columnist.
American Express hasn't changed its application qualifications for graduating students during the current credit crisis. That's because the American Express Card isn't a credit card. It's a charge card. There's no revolving, open-end credit. You are expected to pay your bill in full every month. So with the Card, you don't get in over your head. You use your head.

American Express is continuing its special application plan for graduating students. If you have a $10,000 job (or the promise of one) lined up, you can apply for an American Express Card right now.

You'll need the Card for everything from business lunches to vacations, from buying clothes to buying theatre tickets.

You'll have new responsibilities after graduation. The American Express Card will help you manage them.

To apply for a Card, just pick up an application at one of the displays on campus. Or you can call the toll-free number 800-528-8000, and ask for a special student application.

The American Express Card. Don't leave school without it.
The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary’s College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions, and letters are the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Editorials

---

Notre Dame tenure:

Answers Demanded

All over campus, wherever one walks, one hears a discussion which begins in similar tones and suddenly degenerates into a snarling cryism. It is in discussion with a recurring theme and a familiar plot line: “I’ve had a course with a great professor, and I heard of a course with a fine teacher, but he and she will not be here next year.” Why?

They will not be here because they did not receive tenure. And one is never surprised at the general force of exodus of their peers, have simply declined to stay. Quite simply, tenure, for which Notre Dame keeps its faculty pure and about which no one will talk — tenure.

The reason these professors are denied tenure, we are told, is confidential. It is a matter so confidential not even the spurred teacher has access to it. Yet, questions surely remain unanswered. The answers are to be ascertained.

Why, for instance, are so many of those teachers who are leaving women? Why does Notre Dame have only one tenured woman faculty member not working in an administrative capacity? Why are no women receiving tenure this year — the very year that Notre Dame defends itself in a sex discrimination suit against half of all the women faculty?

For all those administrators and appointment committee members who so mighly assert that the rejected tenure applicant lacked the proper research projects, the kind of research which brings prestige and dollars to this fine institution, a new set of questions is in order. Who is responsible for such a notion of acceptibility? What constitutes proper research — dollars and status alone? Who is responsible for such a notion of acceptibility? What, after all, is responsible for the fact that the rejected tenure applicants is a harmless joke, then this world degenerates into a sneering cynicism. It is a discussion with a discussion which begins in surprised tones and suddenly obscenely declare their own open...
The Observer Friday, May 2, 1980 - page 17

Education at stake: ND liberal arts

Rosemary Mills

University, the liberal education -- the basis on which a university is started -- offered by Notre Dame has deteriorated. The determination in evident in two specific programs, the Freshman Year of Studies, and the College of Arts and Letters. The cornerstone of knowledge is a liberal education which is the purpose of the Freshman Year of Studies, a year designed to provide "basic collegiate studies" (definition from 1979-80 Bulletin Of Information) to all freshmen. Far from this design, however, are the current requirements which force freshmen to choose their colleges long before the completion of their first year at Notre Dame. The only college which does not place requirements on the freshman year is the College of Arts and Letters -- the very school which should be the basis of our education.

What is more unfortunate is that the lack of attractiveness by this College does not stop in freshman year. This desire to try to prove to the world that is all that is required of all freshmen is the purpose for this class to be the basis of a liberal education. Ironically, good students looking for one in which they can be trained to teach in one class what the students should know more when they leave with a remarkable championship in their hands.

The problems at Notre Dame are no different than those experienced by universities across the country. To go beyond comparison with other colleges, however, is the element of Hesburgh's dream. Physically, ND is beginning to develop better student housing. Students should know more when they leave than what they entered. Liberal education is the challenge which provides the intellectual growth.

BEHIND THE ASC -- Even the most fearless of gamblers would have hesitated to put money on J.B.'s Blowoffs in the women's division of the ACC. The team, known as the R.A. on second floor Farley, Jones has played in three Bookstore tournaments, but never come up with a winner. The desire to be trained translates into the realization of the growth of the University. Training, however, is something that can be done just as easily with mathematics or art as with science. On another note, the University offers, deals with expansion and the student in a more advanced way. The Blowoffs were never the favorite, and the Blowoffs came close to eliminating coming from 19-18 defeats on both occasions. Each time Beth Aries' free throw shooting was crucial. For Jones, the near defeats were too close for comfort.

Gary Grassey

Equal basketball coverage for women

Gary Grassey

Editor's Note: This column was to have appeared in the Observer Sports Section. However, it was decided that it might be more appropriate for the Editorial Page. Remember that parity may well be the highest form of compliment. "Well, one of the worst moments of my life."

Last year, at Sorin, where you would think the procedure would be fairly informal and laid-back, the situation was a lot worse. In contrast to Flanner, where I was already known and it was a lot easier to get, at Sorin I hadn't a clue where we were. No mention was made of a room picked or the room picks. It was a lot worse. The room picks were done on a first-come, first-served basis, and the freshmen were allowed to type a number instead of picking a room. As you can probably guess, the first time I picked a room I was able to type this article today.

My list had no mention of a room or of the room picks. It was a lot worse. As you can probably guess, the first time I picked a room I was able to type this article today.

My list had no mention of a room or of the room picks. It was a lot worse. As you can probably guess, the first time I picked a room I was able to type this article today.
Tracksters host Eastern Michigan

The Irish Track team will finish its schedule of home meets Saturday in a dual meet with Eastern Michigan. The only other home dual meet this season, the tarran track behind the ACC was the Notre Dame Invitational, which took place over Spring break. Therefore most students will get their first chance to see the squad.

"Last year you're running in front of the home crowd it's an advantage for the year. It should definitely help us run better," says Piane.

The Hurons of Eastern Michigan come to South Bldn with a fine tradition; this year's team seems to be no exception. They've manipulated place events to the Olympics incl ding Hasley Crawford who won the Gold Medal in the 160 meter dash at Montreal in 1976. Crawford competed for the country of Trinidad and Tobago four years ago.

The Hurtons, members of the Mid-America Conference, are strong in nearly all events according to Piane.

They have people coming at you from everywhere. They are especially strong in the middle-distance and distance events. This should be interesting since this is where our strength lies also," says the fifth-year coach. "We'll definitely have to score in our strong events to win the meet."

IRISH NOTES: The cross-country, indoor and outdoor track teams held their banquets last night. The Most Valuable in cross-country went to junior John Filosa while junior Chuck Aragon was tapped as the outstanding member of the track team. Senior Matt Cato was honored as the Most Improved runner on the full cross-country squad, while Kevin Kenny nabbed that distinction for track.

Tomorrow's meet is scheduled to begin at noon. The Banneker races will be featured.

"I feel we've earned just as much as we have lost," explains Piane.

Nutters try for 20-win season

The Notre Dame men's tennis team will close out its regular season this weekend, needing a four-match sweep in the next three days to notch its second straight 20-win season. The Irish, who had their 14-match winning streak snapped last Sunday by Ohio State, stand 16-3 on the year.

Tom Fallon's squad will serve as host for the second Notre Dame Invitational Tournament of the year today and tomorrow and with visiting Butler, Valparaiso, and Marquette are all slated for matches with the Irish. Notre Dame will face Butler this afternoon at 1:00, Valparaiso tomorrow at 5:00, and Marquette at 1:00. The team then will finish its regular season at Calumet on Sunday before gearing up for the May 14-26 Eastern Collegiate Championships in Rochester, N.Y.

All three matches of the quadrangular will be played at Notre Dame's Courtney Tennis Center, weather permitting.

Rugby club to battle South Bend

Notre Dame's rugby squad closes its season tomorrow with a match against arch-rival South Bend at 2 p.m. The site of the donnybrook had yet to be determined yesterday, but will most likely be played at Stier Field.

The match will be attempting to average a 15-3 defeat at the hands of the heralded South Bend crew when they met last year. This is the same South Bend club that recently captured the state championship at Indianapolis.

...Wrap up

(continued from page 24)

ned to begin at noon--a time not to be missed, as at the late but bolster a fleet-footed outfield with the addition of centerfielder Greg Rodens. Rodens, first baseman Hen- ry Valenzuela, and senior Mark Simendinger round out the remaining Irish starters all sporting solid .290 plus aver- ages. Rodems and Valenzuela are both noted on the team hitters with two apiece.

Why the tremendous turn around this season?

"We felt we turned the corner last year playing very tough opponents," answers Kelly. "We felt we could compete with everyone on our schedule this year but a few things had to happen, for example, our pitching, which is very young and strong.

Fortunately for Kelly, he was greeted in the fall by Larry Gallo.

"Larry offered to help out during the fall. I knew he coached in the Cape Cod League and he looked like he did an excellent job, especially with the pitchers." The veteran, who saw the lineup, the pitching staff, though not perform- ing as a unit, felt that they had some good hitters, has been steady and quick with runners, surrendering runs in the late innings. Leading the way is junior right- handed pitcher Mark Cato, who posses ses a 5-1 record and a 2.61 ERA.

Tuesday will conclude Tom Kelly's last home card as coach of the Irish. Kelly an- nounced his retirement, ef- fective at the end of this season, earlier in the week. The departing mentor will con- centrate full time on his duties as director of non-varsity sports.

Tracksters host Eastern Michigan
Sports Special

Spring drills please coaches

by Gary Grassey
Sports Writer

One of the themes for Dan Devine and his coaching staff in practice this spring was to work on game situations that have failed from time-to-time in recent Notre Dame football campaigns.

Third-and-ten and goal line offenses and defenses were situations Devine and his Leonard staff have tried to simulate. Saturday afternoon at 2 p.m., however, practice will turn into full scale game conditions when the Irish stage their annual Blue-Gold affair to wind up spring drills for 1980.

"Although we've tried to this year," said Devine, "You really can't practice game situations. In 15 years of coaching, I still come across games with situations I've never seen before."

It's been a productive month of April for the Irish. Bad weather cost the team extra workouts aside; Devine has seen marked improvement in crucial departments. "You really can't practice game situations. In 15 years of coaching, I haven't had a bad practice."

Defensive coordinator Joe Yonto has seen that same kind of progress. Sophomore Mark Zavagnin saw playing last season and is looking to fill a linebacker spot next to middle linebacker Bob Crable, while junior Tony Belden will play the other back. It's important Tom DeSanto's infected foot does not heal sufficiently, co-captain Tom Cichy will be back there come autumn. Red Dog, another freshman, would then open at Gibbons' vacated free safety spot. Injured Steve Cichy will be back there come autumn. Red Dog, another freshman, would then open at Gibbons' vacated free safety spot.

From all indications in drills," commented Yonto, "We're making headway. But they whine like a puppy if it react more realistically than they'd react with us standing over them in drills."

Junior John Krimm, returning from a knee injury, will share a corner with Dave Duerson. Buchanan, back in full action vs starters in 1979. The play of Darron and other sophomores-to-be to promote Devine to call the class of '83 "percentage-wise, the most mature group of youngsters I've ever had."

Except for returning starter John Hankerd, who has a firm hold on one defensive end position, the rest of the line is up for grabs. Sophomores Jeff Leukens and Bob Zettek are going head-to-head for the job at the other end. Pat Kramer, Don Bobb, Bob Clasby and Ian Gray will share duties at tackle.

On the other side of the line, the Irish find themselves with holes at three spots on the offensive line, and heated battles are underway to fill the shoes of Vagas Ferguson and Renny Lisch. Freshman Tom Thayer is in the picture on the line. Captains and center Don Lisch says the 6-3, 235-pound guard "is only lacking in experience. Phil Carter has eked ahead of the others. If he's not ready, that's it."

Devine's "You really can't practice game situations."

In 33 years of coaching, I've never seen before."

As for the quarterbacks, Devine has chosen Mike Lay to be the blue team starter in front of classmates Tim Koegel and Greg Knaife, all seem-to-be.

Kickoff chokes Dick Boothaus returning to do the punting Mike Johnston as the number one placekicker. Incoming freshman Blas Kuehne and Cichy may have something to say about those spots in the fall. "I think this is one of the best springs, overall," said Yonto, "in terms of forward momentum towards a season that I can remember."

During drills, this team has developed a feeling that they're gonna win," added Devine. "It's been the best spring practice I've ever been around. Regardless of the weather and the fact that we didn't use up our 20 practices, all coaches feel this way."

Saturday, they hope the good vibes keep flowing.

Key personnel won't play in classic

by Beth Huffman
Sports Editor

Many jerseys that will make diving tackles and running to and touch-downs, crunching tacklers and specta-

lular interceptions for Notre Dame next season will be missing in the Blue Gold game's golden anniversary tonic-nology. Fortunately for Irish fans, such as Pete Holohan, Dean Mazarak, Kevin Grifth, Scott Zetek, Mark Czaja, Pete Buchanan and Steve Cichy will not don their uniforms.

Injuries new and old plague the Irish along with familiar complaints of old wounds and should be back in the coaches feel this way."

on the line. Captain and center John Scully says the 6-3, 235-pound guard "is only lacking in experience. Phil Carter has eked ahead of the others. If he's not ready, that's it."

bucket is back."

I'd really like to be in there," said Buchanan. "When you miss the whole year — fall and spring — it is kind of disheartening. I just have to come back in the fall and work that much harder."

The Irish defense also feels the injury bite with Zetek, Czaja, Griffin and Cichy not dressing for the annual classic. Zetek and Czaja are nursing a stress fracture of his spinal cord in last year's spring game. The Fargo, N.D., native was hailed as last spring's Most Improved Player at half time of the Blue-Gold classic. Following the injury, coaches and even Cichy were skeptical as to the future of the 6-3, 215 pounder.

I'm just happy I got to start 10 games last year," said Cichy. "Before the season started we thought I wouldn't play. It was just a great feeling to be able to play."

Cichy spent eight weeks over the summer in a back brace after suffering a stress fracture of his spinal cord in last year's spring game. The Fargo, N.D., native was hailed as last spring's Most Improved Player at half time of the Blue-Gold classic. Following the injury, coaches and even Cichy were skeptical as to the future of the 6-3, 215 pounder.

I'm just happy I got to start 10 games last year," said Cichy. "Before the season started we thought I wouldn't play. It was just a great feeling to be able to play."

Cichy spent eight weeks over the summer in a back brace after suffering a stress fracture of his spinal cord in last year's spring game. The Fargo, N.D., native was hailed as last spring's Most Improved Player at half time of the Blue-Gold classic. Following the injury, coaches and even Cichy were skeptical as to the future of the 6-3, 215 pounder.

I'm just happy I got to start 10 games last year," said Cichy. "Before the season started we thought I wouldn't play. It was just a great feeling to be able to play."

Cichy spent eight weeks over the summer in a back brace after suffering a stress fracture of his spinal cord in last year's spring game. The Fargo, N.D., native was hailed as last spring's Most Improved Player at half time of the Blue-Gold classic. Following the injury, coaches and even Cichy were skeptical as to the future of the 6-3, 215 pounder.
The Irish quarterback derby has moved into the backstretch, and senior signal caller Mike Courey is a nose ahead of the rest of the pack.

Courey was tabbed by head coach Dan Devine as the starting quarterback for the blue squad (with the green jerseys) in tomorrow’s annual Blue-Gold classic.

"But the quarterback position is just one of 22 positions on the field as far as the coaching staff is concerned, so we will be watching everyone carefully," said Knafelc. "I had a pretty good spring, but there are still a few things I would like to improve on."

"I am happy with the progress I’ve made this spring," commented Courey. "There are still some aspects of the job I still have to work on, but I think that will push me to work ten times harder."

"I think the freshmen look up to Mike and me," added Kiel. "They are the three captains he will work with this year, and I think them selves to be good team players."

Devine, head coach of the Fighting Irish, is in total agreement with the older men on the squad and I think that leadership has to start with the captains," he says.

Mike Courey will become the first junior since Willie Frye to serve in that capacity. "I’d have to say that there is a lot of responsibility that comes with the job," he adds. "On the field, I’ll try to play as hard as I always have to set an example but the real responsibility comes off the field because everyone watches the captains to see how they behave."

"I rely heavily on my captains," says Devine. "I believe a good team always has some aspects of the job I still have to work on, but I think that will push me to work ten times harder."

"I’d have to say there is a lot of pressure on the quarterback," said Devine. "They have all been under a microscope and, as such, they have to act as a communications line between the coaches and the players. I wouldn’t be open to the needs of both the coaches and the players. I wouldn’t be open to the needs of both the coaches and the players. I wouldn’t be open to the needs of both the coaches and the players."

"I think the freshmen look up to Mike and me," added Kiel. "They are the three captains he will work with this year, and I think them selves to be good team players."

Bob Crable, Dan Devine, Notre Dame Club president Lynne Leon, Tom Gibbons and John Scully are the three captains he will work with this year, and I think them selves to be good team players. All of which is not lost on Bob Crable, who will join Tom Gibbons and John Scully as seniors on next year’s team.

"I am definitely honored that the coaches thought enough of me to make me a captain," admits the sophomore middle linebacker, who will become the first junior since Willie Frye to serve in that capacity. "I’d have to say that there is a lot of responsibility that comes with the job," he adds. "On the field, I’ll try to play as hard as I always have to set an example but the real responsibility comes off the field because everyone watches the captains to see how they behave."
Dinger

...Dinger

(continued from page 24)

"This year, Mark has become more conscious of rolling his wrist and trying to hit line drives," says Kelly.

"That was really close," adds Coach Gallo, who hit a similar pitch last season.

In that bunt, Dinger won the game and the game could have been the first game of the season. A dramatic seventh inning was about to begin.

"I touched the base, but I really cut it close," says Dinger. "I really should have come all the way around, but I felt I shouldn't have created any doubt about my touching third." Dinger Percentage:

Dinger batted himself out of the game with a dramatic seventh inning because we weren't really, really close.

"Mark is the best person on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage

"Mark is the loveliest guy on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage

"Mark is the loveliest guy on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage

"Mark is the loveliest guy on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage

"Mark is the loveliest guy on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage

"Mark is the loveliest guy on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage

"Mark is the loveliest guy on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage

"Mark is the loveliest guy on the team, as well as the funniest, pitcher Mike Kehlman comments.

But Kelly feels Dinger has fallen into a bit of unnecessary dugout humor.

"For all the funniest guy on the team, last year was a little disappointing," says Kelly. "This year Mark knows it's time to get serious because we're 4-0 and close to becoming a school record for coaches." Dinger percentage
Lost & Found

Lost

- Ball field and the tennis courts. Lost 277-1587 after 10:00 p.m.
- Navy and powder blue down and ask for Brother Thomas. At the Post Office.
- Brown frames, teardrop lenses. Lost: silver keychain with Arab coin.
- Gold chain link bracelet at Irish Pub
- A pair of quad contacts in white case.
- Texas Instruments TI—55 calculator.
- Minolta 110 camera in brown case at the mud pits.
- Walton containing ID, Drivers License and other valueless items of no use to anyone other than me.
- Spot on chest and wearing leather collar in O'Shag. Call Mary at 1320.
- Texas Instruments 11—95 calculator at South Dining Hall and Gold Cross with "Phi" crest on it at Huey Mats.

Found

- Light brown wool campy in gold chain. Please return—Value?
- In pocket of light brown strumming guitar case at the library.
- White phone book and orange cookie ROYALTY.
- Isaac, Brown. Call in room or mailbox since lost.
- Light brown wool campy in gold chain.
- Lost—Ninon 1105.
- Francis, Brown. Call in room or mailbox since lost.
- Pair of glasses in black case with turquoise beads.
- Lost—Mimola 110 camera in brown case at the mud pits.
- Lost: gold chain link bracelet at Irish Pub.

Personal Ads

Advertisements

- Wanted
- Needed: Extra graduation tickets. Call Brian 233-8300.
- Wanted to U. A. L.

Classifieds

Advertisements

- Wanted: Extra graduation tickets. Call Brian 233-8300.
- Needed: Extra graduation tickets. Call Brian 233-8300.
- Wanted: Extra graduation tickets. Call Brian 233-8300.
Iris wrap up season...

Irish wrap up season...

by Tim Prister
Sports Writer

The Fighting Irish baseball squad will wrap up the 1980 regular season hoping to improve on their second-place finish, recorded with doubleheaders against Detroit and Bradley this weekend at the Valparaiso Tuesday.

Head coach Tim Dinger and the Irish are amiously anticipat ing an NCAA post-season tournament bid, the first such bid since 1970.

"We don’t think we have to sweep this weekend but we do have to play well. Of course if we do sweep, the committee has given us careful consideration," commented Kelly. The committee must evaluate a couple of things. First they look at the competitiveness of our schedule and secondly they rate different team such as pitching, defense and offense.

Kelly doesn’t have to worry about the committee’s evaluation. The Irish will pay tribute to having the opportunity to play into the final game for the Midwest Lacrosse League championship. Senior is being rewarded by their final game for the Irish. Norton has tapped in 18 goals and 4 assists this season. "We re looking for strong team such as pitching, defense and offense.

One of those six seniors who scored 15 goals while contributing four assists in his final season with Notre Dame. Mike Brogan, a four-year player for the club, holds down the team roster Brett Jackson, junior Carl Lundblad and freshman Danny Pace have combined to form a strong and growing lacrosse program at Notre Dame.

"The game, scheduled to begin at 2:00 p.m., will put the Irish against Bowling Green, the Midwest’s number-five ranked lacrosse club.

Notre Dame added two new basketball recruits for next year’s squad when Barry Spencer and Cecil Rucker signed national letters of intent this week.

Spencer, a 6-7 three position star at Catholic Central high school in Detroit, Mich., came through the sprint and junior season after missing his entire junior and senior campaigns due to a broken foot. He finished with averages of 24.5 points, 13.0 rebounds, 5.0 assists, 3.0 blocked shots and three steals per game.

Rucker, a 6-5 forward from Mackin High School in Detroit, Mich., averaged better than 21 points and 13 rebounds for the Trojans as a senior while boosting his three- year career scoring total to more than 1,200 points.

"I am determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

Kelly doesn’t have to worry about the committee’s evaluation. The Irish will pay tribute to having the opportunity to play into the final game for the Midwestern League championship. Senior has finished injured Pat Andrews at this year’s squad when Barry Spencer and Cecil Rucker signed national letters of intent this week.

Spencer, a 6-7 three position star at Catholic Central high school in Detroit, Mich., came through the sprint and junior season after missing his entire junior and senior campaigns due to a broken foot. He finished with averages of 24.5 points, 13.0 rebounds, 5.0 assists, 3.0 blocked shots and three steals per game.

Rucker, a 6-5 forward from Mackin High School in Detroit, Mich., averaged better than 21 points and 13 rebounds for the Trojans as a senior while boosting his three-year career scoring total to more than 1,200 points.

"I am determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

The competition may be strong but dedicated player for the Irish is club president Bob Gehrung. "Talent wise, maybe we were the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this spring make last season’s 343 average and co-MVP award awarded his junior teammate, Mike Jamison. It’s captain, Ricky Pullole, pales in comparison. Kelly is hardly satisfied with this season’s 296 mark and Mark’s decline in offensive statistics.

"Mark is finally doing what we’ve been preaching to him all year. You’re looking for." Dinger’s patience has paid off to the sweet smell of a team leading 24 walks and a-reducing .436 on-base and Mark points out. "The way Dan Voelninger and Henry Valentucci have been rapping the ball, my job is to get him on base. This year and (new head coach) Larry Gallo worked with me this winter on correcting a major flaw in my swing.

"I'm pretty determined to play at the Class A level next year," Dinger’s contributions this...