The 41-member University Board of Trustees convened on campus May 3 for their biannual, private board meeting, listening to reports from its various committees and other University officials, discussing several important campus issues and approving a 4.5 percent tuition increase.

The Board also elected a new member to its ranks, former Alumni Association president Anthony F. Early. Early, a 1947 graduate, is the head honorary president of the Alumni Association. Early, a member to its ranks, former president and chief executive officer of the Information Services Director Richard Conklin earlier released figures which would bring next year's total bill to $6490. Conklin said that gifts and pledges now total $163,020,971, better than $30 million above the $161,020,971 of last year. Although the Board did not set a goal which the Campaign had originally set. Finally, University Vice President for Business Affairs Anthony B. Keating presented a report which showed that Notre Dame, with 1684 non-faculty personnel, is now the second largest employer in the South Bend area.

The largest undergraduate class in Notre Dame history will graduate Sunday at 2 p.m. as part of the University's 135th commencement exercises at the ACC. A total of 1,701 members of the Class of 1980 will be conferred bachelor's degrees. In addition, 178 master degrees, 70 MBA's, 150 law degrees, and 73 doctorates will be awarded.

A capacity crowd is expected for the exercises which will be held tomorrow at 4:00 p.m. in the outdoor court of LeMans Hall. The Most Reverend William E. McManus, bishop of the Fort Wayne-South Bend Diocese, will be the celebrant. The Baccalaureate Mass will be held yesterday to set some of the bones, but the doctors decided on a protest because of the pain. Devereux was admitted into St. Joseph's with a fractured brain damage. Her vital signs maintained.

"There was no trouble getting to the fourth floor. Then they ran down the stairs and came to the fourth floor. Then they ran down the stairs and came to the bottom of the elevator shaft and were rescued by the security, paramedics, and the fire department rescue team. Devereux was riding the elevator to the fourth floor at 3:15 a.m. when it stopped between the third and fourth floors. She was with her roommate, Karin Fraboni, and another friend, Mary Luee. According to the McCandless Hall director, Mary Jane Siliva, Devereux got nervous and tried to get out. She lowered herself down to the third floor but she fell down and fell. She fell, Fraboni and Lauer got the elevator to work and took it up to the fourth floor. Then they ran down the stairs and came to get me." Siliva had no explanation as to how the elevator became stuck but she added, "The elevator company was not negligible. They were originally set. Finally, University Vice President for Business Affairs Anthony B. Keating presented a report which showed that Notre Dame, with 1684 non-faculty personnel, is now the second largest employer in the South Bend area. She fell nearly three flights to the bottom of the elevator shaft and was rescued by security, paramedics, and the fire department rescue team.

There was no trouble getting to the fourth floor. Then they ran down the stairs and came to the bottom of the elevator shaft and were rescued by the security, paramedics, and the fire department rescue team. Devereux was riding the elevator to the fourth floor at 3:15 a.m. when it stopped between the third and fourth floors. She was with her roommate, Karin Fraboni, and another friend, Mary Luee. According to the McCandless Hall director, Mary Jane Siliva, Devereux got nervous and tried to get out. She lowered herself down to the third floor but she fell down and fell. She fell, Fraboni and Lauer got the elevator to work and took it up.
Construction continues at ND

by John McGrath

The Observer

Night Editor: Ann Monaghan
News: Night Editor: Mary Leavitt
Copy Editor: Pam Degnan
Editor: Mike Onufer
Assistant Night Editor: Ann Monaghan

The Observer, published by the students of Notre Dame and the Society of the Cross, is published weekly during the academic year. The Observer is a totally unaccredited university dedicated to the publication of factual, accurate and timely information. The Observer is published by the students of Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer (USPS 540 950) is published weekly, except during exam and vacation periods. Contributions cannot be returned. Material published by the students of Notre Dame and Social Concerns Center are the responsibility of the students. The Observer is not responsible for unsolicited manuscripts. The Observer is published on the 9th, 16th, 23rd and 30th of each month, and also on the 1st of each month except during exam and vacation periods. The price of a single copy is $0.25. Material may be purchased for $20 per year by writing The Observer, P.O. Box 6, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

REFERENCES:
Available on request.

One page - $17.00, Two pages - $30.00.

Send name, address, and "major of recipient" along with $25.00 plus $2.50 for postage to: The Observer, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556.

The Observer is published by the students of Notre Dame and Social Concerns Center, or as a member of the community.

Thursday, May 15, 1980-page 2

A TIME TO DECIDE

These few weeks are when Notre Dame students are making decisions about their lives as they prepare to graduate. A few samples:

1. What kind of summer job will I do?
2. What will be my major?
3. Whom will I room with next year?
4. What will be my career goals?
5. Where will I live after graduation?

For those considering the priesthood, the question is:

1. How long a time when I should consider whether I want to become a priest?

If this is the decision you must make, then for a totally unaccredited university dedicated to the publication of factual, accurate and timely information, word spacing, either automatic or operator controlled, is marked by The Observer Study Group.

American Institute of Technology
A totally unaccredited university dedicated to the publication of factual, accurate and timely information. Word spacing, either automatic or operator controlled, is marked by The Observer Study Group.

The Observer is published by the students of Notre Dame and Social Concerns Center, or as a member of the community.

Weather

Mostly sunny and continued cool with highs in the mid 60s. Increasing cloudiness at night. Lows in the mid 40s. Cloudy tomorrow with a slight chance of rain by late afternoon. Highs in the mid 60s. The Indiana extended outlook for Saturday through Monday calls for mild conditions with rain possible both Saturday and Sunday. Highs mostly in the 70s. Lows in the 50s to the lowest 60s at the southwest.

U.S. Steel closes factories as demand continues to drop

PITTSBURGH (AP) - U.S. Steel Corp. confirmed yesterday it will close three more blast furnaces — one at the now shuttered Duquesne works in Pittsburgh. U.S. Steel did not say later this week are in Gary, Ind., Fairfield, Ala., and U.S. 31.

The new facility will give us twice as much space as we have now, and it will have a provision for the Notre Dame telecommunications program," explained Paul O'Hagan, vice president and general manager of WNDU. "The advantage of this new location is that it will give us good access to both the community and the Notre Dame campus.

The present WNDU facility is currently being discussed as a possible site for a planned Social Concerns Center, or as a

(continued on page 4)
Tenure issue appears yearly

by Mark Roost
Managing Editor

Tenure has continued on this campus as "a bug issue among both faculty and students, and it is expected to rise to the surface once again next year. This is not a new dilemma: a 1971 Student Government questionnaire was already asking "Is tenure a dead issue?"

One reason that the tenure issue arises and re-appears with no discernable progress of agreement lies in the tenure process itself. The process is marked by extreme secrecy, and professors who are denied tenure frequently do not even know the reason for the denial. This secrecy has led many faculty members over the last eight years to feel charges against the University of everything from politicizing to sexual discrimination in tenure appointments.

The University rarely defends itself against such charges in public. A recent faculty senate proposal to establish an appeals process for tenure denial was intended to bring more communication and information to the process. The proposal was flatly rejected by the University.

The most recent focus of the tenure issue will however, find the University defending itself in public. Notre Dame's hiring and employment practices over the last eight years will be examined in court late in November when the University defends itself in a sex discrimination suit.

Approximately sixty faculty women will participate in a class action suit which charges the University with sexual discrimination in every phase of their employment practices, from salaries to appointments for tenure.

Two original suits, one representing non-tenure women, were left behind, although the University was taken to court by the Interests Section in Havana.

Approximately sixty faculty women will participate in a class action suit which charges the University with sexual discrimination in every phase of their employment practices, from salaries to appointments for tenure.

Two original suits, one representing non-tenure women, were left behind, although the University was taken to court by the Interests Section in Havana.

Carter to screen authorities in Cuba if Castro accepts

WASHINGTON (AP)—In a move that could effectively stop the flow of Cuban refugees to the United States, President Carter says that henceforth only those screened in advance by U.S. authorities in Cuba will be accepted.

Approval before the President Fidel Castro accepts those terms, Carter said yesterday, the United States will send boats and planes to ferry the refugees safely out of the island country. No longer, Carter declared, will the United States allow itself to be used as a "dumping ground" for Cuban criminals and mental patients.

A few hours after the president appeared before reporters at the White House to reveal the new policy, a jetliner chartered by the U.S. government removed several officials and their dependents from the U.S. Interests Section in Havana. It was not clear how many—agents, ambassadors, and others—were left behind, although the State Department, which accused Cuba of a "virulent and continuing anti-American campaign," said some essential employees would remain in Havana.

With no formal diplomatic relations between the two countries, the Interests Section is what passes for a U.S. Embassy in Cuba. There was no immediate indication what, if any, direct connection the decision to remove most U.S. diplomatic personnel from Havana had with Carter's new policy on accepting refugees.
Iranian president Bani-Sadr claims sabotage attempts by Americans

by The Associated Press

Iranian President Abolhassan Bani-Sadr claimed yesterday that 56 armed American agents, led by Iranian sympathizers, landed in Iran recently on a two-week sabotage and assassination mission.

He spoke in a Tehran Radio interview a short time after the Iranian prosecutor-general's office reported the arrest of four men, including two American agents, who were believed to be planning an assassination attempt on Iranian President Bani-Sadr.

According to Bani-Sadr, the agents were arrested two days ago when they tried to enter Iran through the Baneh border with Iraq. The agents were reportedly dressed as American tourists and were carrying firearms.

Bani-Sadr said the agents were planning to use a helicopter to fly into the Baneh area, located in northwestern Iran, and attempt to assassinate him. He said the agents were planning to use a fake bomb to draw the attention of the Iranian security forces and then make a getaway.

The Iranian prosecutor-general's office confirmed the arrest of the agents, who were identified as members of a private security firm based in the United States. The agents were reportedly planning to use a car bomb to kill Bani-Sadr during his visit to a university in northwestern Iran.

The State Department had earlier warned that there was a possibility of an assassination attempt against Bani-Sadr, who has been in power since 1980. The warning was based on intelligence reports that indicated the presence of American agents in Iran.

The arrests followed the failed hostage rescue mission in April, which was led by the United States and resulted in the death of 45 American hostages. The mission was carried out by a team of special forces troops and was accompanied by 19 Iranians, all of whom were killed in the operation.

The U.S. government has denied any involvement in the failed rescue mission and has called on all parties to respect the sovereignty of Iran. The Iranian government has accused the United States of being behind the failed mission and has vowed to take revenge.

Bani-Sadr, on the other hand, has called for a peaceful resolution of the conflict between Iran and the United States. He has also called for the release of all American hostages held in Iran and has offered to negotiate with the United States to end the war.

The arrest of the American agents is seen as a significant development in the conflict between Iran and the United States. It is likely to escalate tensions between the two countries and could lead to further military action.

The Iranian government has already begun to prepare for further military action against the United States, and there are reports that Iranian forces are gathering near the border with Iraq.

The U.S. government has also加强了在该地区的军事存在，并加强了与伊朗的对抗。
Protesting students join forces against hated Korean government

SEOUL, South Korea (AP) - Demonstrating students poured into downtown Seoul yesterday paralyzing traffic and clashing with police in anti-government protests. Police vehicles were burned and wrecked in one of the five provincial cities where demonstrations also took place.

The government placed troops and armored personnel carriers around the capitol building as the number of demonstrators estimated in Seoul alone increased to 30,000. It was not known how many demonstrators were involved outside Seoul.

Riot police, armed with clubs and tear gas, were outnumbered here, but troops armed with rifles did not join police in fighting the demonstrators. At least 200 students were arrested.

The volume and size of the demonstrations reminded some observers of the uprisings that toppled the government of President Syngman Rhee in 1960.

The slogan-chanting students took to the rain-swept streets of Seoul demanding the lifting of martial law and the resignation of new military strongman Lt. Gen. Chun Doo-hwan.

In Seoul, students poured onto the Chongro, one of Seoul's busiest streets, paralyzing traffic on the eight-lane roadway and forcing many shops to roll down their shutters.

This was the second straight day of demonstrations by students after about two weeks of anti-government campus rallies.

Under martial law, declared after President Park Chung-hee was assassinated last October, outdoor demonstrations and political gatherings are banned. The government has said it will not lift martial law until political stability is fully restored. Education Minister Kim Uk-gill renewed her appeals for self-restraint by the students, but warned that there was a "limit to the government's patience" if the demonstrations continued, she said, the government would have no choice but to crack down.

Otherwise the government did not issue any public statement concerning the demonstrations.

Meanwhile, the opposition New Democratic Party submitted to the national assembly a draft resolution calling on the government to lift martial law. Despite the present government's pledge to seek democratization, students and others questioned the absence of a clearcut timetable for political reform.

In a few years, the graduating seniors will return to the campus as alumni and this view of the Dome will fill their heads and hearts with memories. Lives will have changed and the Notre Dame world will seem rather remote, but the Dome will inspire the same feeling in each alumnus that it wrought the first time—one of wonder. [Photo by John Macor]
Carter's draft bill gains momentum in anticipation of Senate approval

by Tim Vercelotti
Staff Reporter

President Carter's proposal to register young men for the draft is quietly gaining momentum on Capitol Hill. The legislation, which would graze 13 million dollars to the newly resurrected Selective service, passed a Senate Appropriations subcommittee vote by an 8 to 4 margin on Tuesday, and it is now before the full committee.

The bill, which has already received House approval, needs only to pass in the Senate before Carter can sign it into law. Should this occur, according to Joan Lamb, a spokesperson for the Selective Service, President Carter would then make a proclamation calling for all males of nineteen and twenty years of age to register at their local Post Office.

"The registration process is very simple," Lamb said. The process involves going to the local Post Office, and filling out a card. The information to be put on the card includes one's name, address, school address (if applicable), handwritten, and social security number. No draft card is given. The fee for registration is two dollars.

The information will be processed by the Internal Revenue Service, and the Social Security office in Washington.

Lamb disclosed that the tentative dates set for registration are the last two weeks in June. All young men who were born in 1960 will register during the week of June 16, with registration for those born in 1961 taking place the following week.

The first initial of one's last name will dictate the day of registration for each person. Lamb advises that all those of registration age to watch for a schedule in their local newspapers in the middle of June.

The penalty for failing to register is a fine of $10,000, and/or five years imprisonment. Lamb said that the Selective Service doesn't expect to have a problem in this area.

"We've always had a high success with registration," Lamb said.

Lamb cited military prepar­edness as the major reason for the reinstatement of registrat­ion. She corrected an earlier report put out by the Selective Service that said registra­tion was merely a last step needed for mobilization by sev­eral days. Lamb set the figure at a few weeks.

Lamb explained that without advance registration, there is the possibility of problems, such as court cases, which could delay mobilization. "We just don't know what could happen," Lamb said.

In the event of a national emergency, the next step in building up the armed forces would be the draft. The draft, like registration, needs Congressional approval. In a recent issue of The Nation, the goals of the draft were outlined as the commencement of induction within thirty days of mobilization, the drafting of 100,000 men in the following two months, and the addition of 550,000 men by the sixth month.

Lamb explained that the draft process begins with the receipt of a notice of induction, which stipulates that one must report to an induction center within the next ten days for examination, classification, and induction.

There could be some exemp­tions for students in the event of a draft, according to Lamb. High school and college seniors would be permitted to finish their year, and college age students could put off reporting until the end of the current semester.

Another possible exemption falls under the guise of being a "conscientious objector." Anyone wishing to file a claim under these circumstances would present their case to the local draft board, which would then make a ruling. If a conscientious objector status is granted, the individual is then available for noncombatant posi­tions, such as an medic.

Lamb defined the grounds for conscientious objection as being "religiously, ethically, or mor­ally unable to participate in a war."

...Trustees

[continued from page 1]

...trustees were Fr. Edmund Joyce, who discussed the Uni­versity's policy on HESW's Title IX athletic regulation and the progress of present campus construction projects, and Hesburgh, who reported on the meeting of the Fel­lows, the Board's Executive Com­mittee meeting in Key Biscayne, and also on the state of the university in general in his annual Report of the President for the Academic Year.

The trustees also handled numerous minor administrative matters.

The next meeting of the Board of Trustees will be Oc­tber 17.

Congratulations
Graduates!!!
1979-80's Ten Top News Stories

Pope John Paul II made his first papal visit to the United States in October 1979. He appeared in Chicago on Friday, Oct. 5 and in Washington on Sat., Oct. 6. The Observer sent News Editor, Mike Editor Mike Shields and Senior Staff Reporter John McGrath to Washington and Chicago, respectively, to cover the visit. In Washington the Pope celebrated Mass at St. Matthews Cathedral. In Chicago's Grant Park a crowd of 1.4 million gathered to hear the Pope. In both cities he was met by cheering crowds as well as protestors. He reaffirmed his decision to exclude women priests from the priesthood, and spoke out against abortion and divorce.

Students continued to be victimized by crime on the outskirts of campus despite meetings that were held between student and administration representatives and South Bend police officials. The crime situation came to a head on April 16 and on April 24 when two SB residents were murdered in their apartments located in the O-C neighborhood. On May 3, two student keggers were busted and two students were arrested in the process. The year ended with a strained relationship between students and police officials.

In response to HEW's demand that all universities comply with the regulation Title IX, which called for an equal allotment of athletic funds to men and women, Fr. Edmund Joyce threatened to eliminate the unprofitable, but popular, hockey program as well as other minor sports. Student protested and athletes voiced their anger as the season progressed. The University's final statement reduced the number of men's scholarships, while increasing the funds of the women's basketball program.

Once a popular hang-out for a large majority of the ND-SMC community, the local bars were raided frequently (for the first time) in an effort to cut down on underage drinking in South Bend. The largest raid occurred at The Goose's Nest in which few were arrested but the tavern was cited for numerous citations. The bar managers charged Mayor Roger Parent with harassment and soon after, the bars were empty of regular underage patrons.

Two separate lawsuits were filed against the University, both charging sex discrimination in tenure decisions on women here. Although one has a class action suit, many of the presently-employed women in the suit ultimately dropped out, and the two suits were combined. Hearings for the case will probably begin next semester.

Held every four years, Notre Dame's prestigious Mock Convention boasted nearly 1000 delegates and energetic campaigning on behalf of all the major Republican presidential candidates. After four ballots, which lasted until 5:30 a.m., Gerald Ford gained strength for a time as a compromise candidate, but ultimately George Bush picked up the convention's nomination. Former Secretary William Simon was selected as Bush's running mate the following afternoon.

The Midwest Blues Festival, whose nine year existence brought to ND some of the biggest names in the genre, was termed financially unsuccessful by the Student Union and was terminated this past semester. SU directors pointed out that the lack of student interest, not its potential profitability, caused them to replace the event with a similar country rock festival next year.

A landmark corporate liability case went to court in nearby Winsenace, Ind., after the parents of three Elkart youths pressed charges of reckless homicide against the Ford Motor Co. The case involved the 1978 collision in Elkart in which a 1975 Ford Pinto carrying three passengers exploded, killing all three. Ford won a couple of rulings regarding the introduction of key evidence and was acquitted. But Ford was cited for numerous citations. The bar managers charged Mayor Roger Parent with harassment and soon after, the bars were empty of regular underage patrons.

The issue of kegs on campus caused much dissension among students. The rejection of the keg proposal by the Campus Life Council raised many questions as to the effectiveness of the CLC. The proposal was defeated 11-6 by the council and council member Fr. Richard Conyers blasted the CLC as "an ineffective student organization."

"SEX at Notre Dame," a call-in talk show that aired on WSND-AM caused the administration to demand changes concerning future station programming. Dean Ruemler met with the station's executive board and demanded certain changes in fundamental policies including the cancellation of "Radio Free Notre Dame," the station's most highly rated program and the banning of several WSND employees from future radio air play.
Dear Editor:

We were very disappointed by the lack of judgment the editors of the 1980 Dome showed in their Titis is Notre Dame section of the yearbook, specifically pages 332 and 333. Apparently, the staff felt it necessary to publish a bitter and caustic remarks about the women's basketball team. We feel such a wrong statement about the women's basketball body among the best pictures in the yearbook.

As seniors, we feel it was a very poor choice for our yearbook. After four years, we have some grips about Notre Dame also, but we have enough class to express them on the editorial pages of The Observer, where such opinions and comments belong. Perhaps the copy-writers of the Dome felt strongly about their views—maybe they were trying to attract attention, but the case were statements were in poor taste.

The Dome is designed to be a tribute to the school and its people. It is intended to look back on pride, whatever misgivings the University one may have. The Dome is not an editorial sounding block. If the staff had felt strongly about the verbal crusade, maybe the Dome could have been rephrased. If we saw the problem more from the standpoint that led us to choose a major, a career, a lifestyle, a spouse.

I will write to those professors, tenured and untenured, who had the courage to speak their minds and the time to help us grow intellectually. Tributes must include the writer's name, address, and telephone number.

Sincerely,

Dominic DeFrancis
Christopher McNulty

--

Observer sports editor

Editors: Please assign your sportswriters to cover the women's basketball team with about three columns of column space. We want to see the sense return to The Observer's coverage of women's sports. The Observer's coverage of women's basketball has been worse this year than last year, and unacceptably far worse than the newspapers listing.

Dame's administrators can tell young adults how to live. In your May 1 regard- ing students, you called a wrongdoing. How can a person openly criticize government in jinnel, including measures to help the gloom ooter. ard, sl acc, and housing industries. Anderson proposes a "redistri-

The Observer welcomes letters from readers. Letters must be confined to 200 words and should include the writer's name, address, and telephone number.

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. The Observer is published under the direction of its students and by them. The Observer is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

The Observer welcomes letters from readers. Letters must be confined to 200 words and should include the writer's name, address, and telephone number.

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. The Observer is published under the direction of its students and by them. The Observer is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

The Observer welcomes letters from readers. Letters must be confined to 200 words and should include the writer's name, address, and telephone number.

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. The Observer is published under the direction of its students and by them. The Observer is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

The Observer welcomes letters from readers. Letters must be confined to 200 words and should include the writer's name, address, and telephone number.

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. The Observer is published under the direction of its students and by them. The Observer is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

The Observer welcomes letters from readers. Letters must be confined to 200 words and should include the writer's name, address, and telephone number.

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. The Observer is published under the direction of its students and by them. The Observer is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

The Observer welcomes letters from readers. Letters must be confined to 200 words and should include the writer's name, address, and telephone number.

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. The Observer is published under the direction of its students and by them. The Observer is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.
Phil Smidt's: Traditional Quality Lives On

Phil Smidt's is the place to eat if you like excitement with your meal. Now and then, they do celebrate a customer's birthday by bringing a cake over to the table, complete with singing baritone and chorus of waitresses; but on the whole, an atmosphere of peaceful serenity is scrupulously maintained. The philosophy of Phil Smidt's is to prepare and serve a meal you can get at home, at a price you don't mind paying, in a place where you can enjoy it. Phil Smidt's backs up their philosophy with a record of 70 years service in the Calumet area.

Certainly, the Frog's legs and Baked and Buttered Perch we tried were exactly like the delicacies that only a well-run establishment can offer regularly. The potato pancakes come fresh from the lakes and Phil Smidt's managers to convert tons of these fish into tasty, hearty meals weekly.

Fresh fish from the Lakes have been a specialty of the house since Phil Smidt founded it in 1910. We tried the Perch and Pike and both figured we'd be seeing more of them considering how well they were prepared.

Phish Smidt and Son, located at 1203 N. Calumet Avenue, Calumet, Ind.

The menu-reader is confronted by a selection of soups and appetizers (in addition to the traditional soups and appetizers ranging from a special recipe potato salad to fresh cottage cheese, bean salad and cole slaw. Naturally, we tried them all.

For dessert we chose pie with ice cream, and a cup of coffee. Gooseberry pie is recommended, although we tried the strawberry, although we tried the strawberry, too. Mike Probst said the Gooseberry was the House specialty, backed according to one local firm. The ice cream was a perfect balance to the fresh tart flavor of the warm pie.

Although prices seemed a bit steep, we found Phil Smidt's cuisine to be worth the tag when preparation and service were as they were taken into consideration. The atmosphere was quite congenial. Phil Smidt's is divided into different dining sections, various sizes which can seat five hundred people comfortably.

Phil Smidt and Son are not operated on Sundays which is a bummer since we all know when graduation is; but there are always food friendly weekends.

We heartily recommend Phil Smidt's to all those returning in the fall. To get there from here (South Bend), take the Toll Road to Exit 1 (west Pt.), turn right (north) onto Calumet (Res 41) and proceed two blocks past the light on Indianapolis Blvd. and proceed for the railroad tracks. From Chicago, get off the Skyway at the 106th street Exit (the last exit in Illinois), go south on Indianapolis Blvd. to Calumet and turn left—its two blocks down, on the right.

Sal Granata is a senior from Connecticut, and a regular Features contributor. Ryan VerBerkmoes is a News Editor. Both have hearty appetites.

Features

The Irish Sweepstakes

Mark Ferron

“What did you learn at Notre Dame?” Undoubtedly this summer you will be asked that question. Well, here is a test to see what you’ve learned about Notre Dame. Score four points on each correct answer.

EARLY DAYS

1. What was the name of the Indian tribe living near the present site of Notre Dame?
   (a) Illinois Indians
   (b) Atakawatomi Indians
   (c) Iroquois Indians
   (d) Creek Indians

2. Why is the title “University of Notre Dame” a misnomer?
   (a) Medieval Mish-mash
   (b) American Renseaque Revival
   (c) Modern Gothic
   (d) 19th Century Baroque

3. Who owned the land west of Notre Dame before it became the site of St. Mary’s?
   (a) Mayor Kelly of Chicago
   (b) Joseph Bowen, grandfather of the present Indiana governor
   (c) Mr. Rush, a farmer
   (d) Indian Chief

CONSTANT CONSTRUCTION

4. There are two buildings on campus whose exterior is made up primarily of cut stone (not brick). Name them. (Hint: they’re related).
   (a) George Washington, Martha’s husband
   (b) John H. Washington, a ND student killed at the battle of Gettysburg
   (c) A.J. Washington, South Bend merchant and University benefactor

5. Which was the name given to the University’s grade-school students from 1854 to 1929?
   (a) Maxims
   (b) Minitas
   (c) Sorin Cadets
   (d) Little Rascals

FOOTBALL FACTORY

6. Knute Rockne’s middle name is:
   (a) Stephen
   (b) Knudsen
   (c) Kenneth
   (d) Rockne

7. Where was St. Mary’s originally located?
   (a) 1922
   (b) 1918
   (c) 1920

8. What are Rockne’s won-lost statistics?
   (a) 9-0-0
   (b) 9-1-0
   (c) 9-3-0
   (d) 9-2-0

9. It is common knowledge that Ronald Reagan was George Gipp in the film Knute Rockne, All-American, but who played the part of Knute Rockne?
   (a) William Demerest
   (b) Pat O’Brien
   (c) Charles Laughton
   (d) Bing Crosby

10. How are Miller, Rice, Cowley and Stubbs/Thresher related?
    (a) They are the last post-season Bown game Notre Dame played in before its 1970 game with Texas.
    (b) Knudsen
    (c) Sorin Cadets
    (d) Maxims

11. Name the last post-season Bown game Notre Dame played in before its 1970 game with Texas.
    (a) 1922
    (b) 1918
    (c) 1920

12. Who was Stephen Theodore Badin?
    (a) Minims
    (b) Administration Building
    (c) LaFortune
    (d) Administration Building

13. Who was the name given to the University’s grade-school students from 1854 to 1929?
    (a) Maxims
    (b) Minitas
    (c) Sorin Cadets
    (d) Little Rascals

14. Name the last post-season Bown game Notre Dame played in before its 1970 game with Texas.
    (a) 1922
    (b) 1918
    (c) 1920

15. Who was Washington Hall named after?
    (a) George Washington, Martha’s husband
    (b) John H. Washington, a ND student killed at the battle of Gettysburg
    (c) A.J. Washington, South Bend merchant and University benefactor

16. This is the architectural style of the Administration Building:
    (a) Medieval Mish-mash
    (b) American Renseaque Revival
    (c) Modern Gothic
    (d) 19th Century Baroque

17. How much does the Statue of Our Lady on the Dome weigh?
    (a) 700 lbs
    (b) 1500 lbs
    (c) 3000 lbs
    (d) 2.2 tons

18. How many votes does the Memorial Library hold?
    (a) 500,000
    (b) 1,000,000
    (c) 3,000,000
    (d) 12,000,000

19. Who user the Burke Memorial Golf Course?
    (a) 71
    (b) 72
    (c) 73
    (d) 75 on a good day

20. WSN's location on the dial:
    (a) 91.1 FM
    (b) 6300 AM
    (c) 65 AM
    (d) 108.9 FM

21. Approximately how many alumni does Notre Dame have?
    (a) 50,000
    (b) 100,000
    (c) 100,000
    (d) 1,000,000

22. How big may electric refrigerators in student residence?
    (a) 3000 BTU’s
    (b) 4 cubic inches
    (c) large enough for one case of beer, a jar of jelly and a wedge of cheese
    (d) 3.6 cubic feet

REAL TRIVIA

23. In the dedication of the Athletic and Convocation Center during the week of December 1-7, 1968:

   (a) What did you learn at Notre Dame? Undoubtedly this summer you will be asked that question. Well, here is a test to see what you’ve learned about Notre Dame. Score four points on each correct answer.
   (b) The menu-reader is confronted by several different perch planters, we opted for the Bone and Buttered style and found it a pleasant swin from Seafood (lobster is offered when in season and shrimp is served year round) or steak (Sirloin and T-Bone Dinners 115.30). Incidentally, prices for the porch meal fluctuate with market prices, and have actually gone down slightly since last year. One member of our party ordered the Broiled Pike ($11.50) and claimed it was excellent. I can vouch for him since the generous portions he received managed to make their way around the table and everyone got a taste of the buttered delight.

   In keeping with their quiet, but hospitable image, Phil Smidt’s offers a selection of entrees (in addition to the traditional soups and appetizers ranging from a special recipe potato salad to fresh cottage cheese, bean salad and cole slaw. Naturally, we tried them all.

   For dessert we chose pie with ice cream, and a cup of coffee. Gooseberry pie is recommended, although we tried the strawberry, too. Mike Probst said the Gooseberry was the House specialty, backed according to one local firm. The ice cream was a perfect balance to the fresh tart flavor of the warm pie.

   Although prices seemed a bit steep, we found Phil Smidt’s cuisine to be worth the tag when preparation and service were as they were taken into consideration. The atmosphere was quite congenial. Phil Smidt’s is divided into different dining sections, various sizes which can seat five hundred people comfortably.

   Phil Smidt and Son are not operated on Sundays which is a bummer since we all know when graduation is; but there are always food friendly weekends.

   We heartily recommend Phil Smidt’s to all those returning in the fall. To get there from here (South Bend), take the Toll Road to Exit 1 (west Pt.), turn right (north) onto Calumet (Res 41) and proceed two blocks past the light on Indianapolis Blvd. and proceed for the railroad tracks. From Chicago, get off the Skyway at the 106th street Exit (the last exit in Illinois), go south on Indianapolis Blvd. to Calumet and turn left its two blocks down, on the right.

   Sal Granata is a senior from Connecticut, and a regular Features contributor. Ryan VerBerkmoes is a News Editor. Both have hearty appetites.
LETTERS TO A LONELY GOD

A Mythic Place

Features

Thursday, May 15, 1980-Page 11

The time had come to say goodbye, but before our conversation, we circled around the world like foot soldiers avoiding a sniper. We spoke of loneliness, and death, and of indefinite tomorrows when we would resume the unfinished business of friendship.

"I think," he said, "that I have no regrets, leaving here."

"I'm glad," I said, "that you have no regrets."

"Still," he said, "it's a place a man could grow up in.

"Many have dreamed of it," I said. He was dreaming of it now, but I didn't mention it, for fear of embarrassing him. He was trying on nostalgia like a uniform at a dress rehearsal, trying to see how well it fit.

"Of course, it's not the Real World," he said. "A guy has to grow up and join the Real World sometime."

I thought of other places that were also not the Real World: Middle-Earth, and the "Dulce Domum" called Mole End—far more winsome than Toad Hall—where the Wind sings songs in the Willows, or, the enchanted place in the Forest where a boy and his reddy-bear and his round place at Camelot, the once future kingdom, paradise lost, free of the stale cigarette on an empty stomach. He waited gently for me to make my point.

"I've always thought," I said, "in that sentence, 'They don't let you,' the indefiniteness they refer to the folks who bring you the Real World."

"But who are they?" he said.

I knew very little about the Real World than I thought he did. "You'll recognize them when you meet them," I said. "You'll recognize Them when they don't let you do Nothing any more." Pooh-bear says: "Never again?" And Christopher Robin says: "Well, not so much. They don't let you."

He really didn't remember, but he wanted glowing reports to make my point.

"I've always thought," I said, "in that sentence, 'They don't let you,' the indefiniteness they refer to the folks who bring you the Real World."

"But who are they?" he said.

I knew very little about the Real World than I thought he did. "You'll recognize them when you meet them," I said. "You'll recognize Them when they don't let you do Nothing any more." Pooh-bear says: "Never again?" And Christopher Robin says: "Well, not so much. They don't let you."

"Promise me," he said, 'that when I come back, you'll be here. Promise me in 1844, when you'll stay pretty much the same.

"What would acery promise that would be to keep," I said. "Promising not to be worse or more various tomorrow than I am today. Stagnating in my size, because it would trouble you to find me grown holy. Never having a birthday, because you would respect my getting old."

"I'd forgotten," he said, "how much old priests can rant and rave."

I've loved you chiefly for your foolishness. I'd have to come back and find a stranger taking your place.

"It was not the change in me, but himself, that he chiefly dreaded. He had a fear, I think, of the ways that Life can be unlatched to the self-assurance of the Young and Beautiful. Ten years can pass quickly, like a rickety night in a cheap hotel. You wake up one morning to face the shabby dawn bringing you to the age of thirty-two, rearing dishwasher like a stale cigarette on an empty stomach. You study yourself in the mirror; your soul feels as compromised as though you had been doing sexual tricks for the love of money."

In the mythic places, I said, trying to help, but sounding like a bad translation of a Rosicrucian's trance, "What is that which looked back for, 'I said, 'looking for their innocence?"

"Is that what the Old Grads come back for," he said, "looking for their original innocence?"

"Perhaps not original innocence," I said, "but an innocence only slightly removed. They call their nostalgia the original lights candles at the Grotto, and boys chiseling for the shimmer on the Golden Dome.

"Is their innocence recoverable from the memory of the myth?" he said. "Does it follow them like a ghost, or does it slan the soiled god as a vampires?"

"Think Peter Pan, running for his life," I said. "It's not hard to find what you've lost, but how do you re-attach a shadow?"

I said, "It's not hard to find what you've lost, but how do you re-attach a shadow, or recover innocence, once it's gone by you?"

"Wendy did the domestic chores for Peter Pan," he said, "like sewing back his shadow."

"Our Lady does the domestic chores for the household of Heaven," I said. "Figure it out for yourself."

The Homeless Boys never depended on Wendy as their mother as desperately as Peter Pan for help from their Lady who is placed in the pathway of the sun and the moon from the happiest heights on the campus."

"Griffin," he said, "You talk such nonsense, it's really a pleasure to tell you goodbye."

"Oh, good," I said. "I thought you'd never leave."

We shook hands like pallbearers who have lost their gloves. " Notre Dame won't remember me for staining it with innocence," he said.

"Then you won't have to hurry here," I said, "to buy sweatshirts in the bookstore."

Suddenly, because we both felt the same urge, we hugged each other good. Then, before we could feel sorry for ourselves, he left.

"Sooner or later, for one reason or another, he will come back. He will surprise me by speaking well of new Nothing in the Real World. He will buy out the bookstore; he will want to light candles in the Grotto. He'll make a myth out of his four years on campus. He'll be more fanatic in his mythologizing than the maddest priest on campus. I can hardly wait to meet his sons and daughters."

(continued from page 10)

1. what were the dedication ceremonies called
2. who did the dedications of the following: i) Rocks in the pathway of the sun and the moon from the happiest heights on the campus.
3. who won that game? (Score 2 pts. for 1, and 1 point for each of the next 4)
4. Who was the first president of Notre Dame?
5. If you received a grade of "V" for a course what does that mean?
6. (c) Rockne frequently signed his name " Knute K. Rockne " in his account of the 1924 ND victory over Army.
7. (b) In 1918 he became football coach and chemistry teacher.
8. Rockne-coached teams won 105, lost 12 and tied 5  for a 89-77 average.
9. (a) 71 (this is par for me on the front nine).
10. (b) Auditors receive a grade of " V", which is not figured into the collegiate library in the world.
12. Father Sorin established the Sister's School (later called St. Mary's College for the Terminally Rah-rah).
13. (c) Mr. Rush, who refuse to sell his land on the St. Joseph River, suddenlychanged his mind and Sorin purchased it.
14. The two buildings on campus faced with cut stone are the Memorial Library (obviously) and the Architecture Building which served as Lemonnier Library from 1917 to 1964.
15. (a) The first U.S. President was Father Sorin's greatest American hero.
16. (c) Modern Gothic, according to the building's architect Willoughby J. Edbrooke.
17. (d) The 4400-b. statue was placed on the Dome in October 1882.
18. (c) At the time of its construction, the library was the largest library in the world.
19. (a) 71 (this is par for me on the front nine).
20. (d) WSND-FM is at 89.9 FM while WSND-AM is 6400.
21. (b) There are approximately 10 alumni for every student presently at the university.
22. (a) According to Du Lac, they may not exceed 4.6 cu. ft. 6.
23. (c) The classes belonging to " Performance Maximus " (gaudy, isn't it?) ii. and iii. — Notre Dame played UCLA and the Bruins, behind Lew Alcindor, who broke a score of 88-87.
24. St. Joseph's, the one where swimming is permitted, is deeper.
25. (b) You're auditing the class.

Mark Ferron is a junior from Wisconsin and a regular Features contributor.
the Irish move from Division III play directly to Division I. A switch will also be seen with the departure of Sharon Petro as head coach and the arrival of Mary DiStanislao. DiStanislao boasts an 89-27 career coaching record as mentor for Northwestern University.

Four women swimmers achieved all-America status after performances in the National Swimming and Diving Championships held in Meadville, Penn. Swimmers Jeanine Blatter, Lee Ann Bridlawn and Kathy Latino received the national recognition along with diver Betsy Shadley.

Notre Dame's only hope for a national championship this year lies with the women's tennis team and the men's basketball team. The regular season winners of the Indiana State Championship, join Patsy Coach and Maureen Fitzgerald of Saint Mary's at the Division III championships of the region at Whetwasser, Wis., this weekend.

The 1975-80 baseball team eclipsed the previous all-time win mark of 23, set in 1928, en route to a 29-8 spring season. That squad, which lowered a possible NCAA bid, will lose mentor Tom Kelly at the close of the season. Kelly will step down to devote more time to his business as director of Notre Dame athletics. Larry Gallo, currently an assistant coach for the Irish with four years' experience, will fill Kelly's role next fall.

Kelly was not the only Irish coach to resign in 1980 as Ray Sepeta, women's coach, stepped down after five years at Notre Dame. Sepeta will be replaced by Betsy Shadley, C.S.C. who compiled a 101-31-2 record during 15 years of coaching at the high school level.

Title IX prompted more than a cut in hockey scholarships and change in the women's basketball program during the year. The numerous ruling elevated women's volleyball along with men's lacrosse as the administrators sought to right the ratio of men to women athletes.

HOURS: Tuesday thru Saturday, 11:00 til 8 p.m.
CARRY OUT ONLY

Molarity

by Michael Molinelli

The Observer - SportsBoard Thursday, May 15, 1980 - page 12

LOCK'S LIQUORS

GRADUATION SPECIALS

Stroh's 6.89 case
Bud 6.99 case
Red 4.99 case
White, and Blue

Ronrico Rum $5.99 qt
Calvert Whiskey $6.49 qt
2128 South Ave.

BEETH P 208 Lewis
Hope you had the greatest 19th birthday ever!
Mom, Dad, and the Pennsauken Six.
In basketball

Irish captains vie for Olympics

Five current or former Notre Dame basketball captains will be among 113 players competing May 18-22 at the University of Kentucky for a spot in the 1980 U.S. Olympic basketball team.

Irish '78-'79 captains Bruce Flowers and Bill Laimbeer, graduating '79-'80 captains Bill Hanzlik and next year's captains Tracy Jackson and Kelly Tripucka all will battle next week in Lexington for spots on the squad.

Flowers, a 6-6 center, played for the Gabelli team in Italy last winter after being drafted in the second round of the NBA by the Cleveland Cavaliers. The Huntington Woods, Mich., native averaged 9.3 points and 4.9 rebounds as a senior for the Irish while accumulating 1,029 career points and finishing second on Notre Dame's career field-goal percentage chart with his .374 mark.

Laimbeer, a 6-11 center, also chose to play in Italy last season. He wore a Pisto Inos uniform after the Cavaliers had made him a third-round pick in the NBA draft. He started every game at center for the Irish in his senior campaign—while splitting the playing time at the spot with Flowers. The top Irish rebounder that year with a 5.3 average, he now calls Toledo, Ohio, home.

A 6-7 guard, Hanzlik started his final two seasons in the Notre Dame backcourt and acquired a reputation as the Irish defensive wizard. He averaged 7.3 points per contest as a senior. The Beloit, Wis., native participated in the Pan-American Games cross-country last spring in addition to gaining international experience while competing with teams on tours of Yugoslavia, China and South America last summer.

Jackson, a 6-6 forward, led the Irish in scoring and rebounding last winter with 423 points and 198 rebounds for a 7.1 mark. A superb outside shooter, he already stands eighth on the career field-goal percentage lists with his .520 average. The Silver Spring, Md., native needs only 66 more points to reach the 1,000 mark in his Notre Dame career.

Also a 6-6 forward Tripucka is a two-year All-American who already stands 15th on Notre Dame’s career scoring list with 1,192 points. His 18.0-point average paced the Irish last winter and he has scored in double figures since his freshman campaign. The Illiana Pelle, N.J., native also competed in the Pan-American trials last year after pacing the Irish in scoring as a sophomore as well.

Year of the Minor Sport

by Bob Hoffman
Sports Editor

The 1979-80 school year was not exactly a banner year in left field for Notre Dame in football and basketball, the sports that are sometimes proportionately thought of when one hears the name Notre Dame.

Before the start of the 1979 football season the big question in everyone’s mind was who would become the heir to Joe Montana’s quarterback throne.

A man named Rusty Lisch quickly assumed the role and led the Fighting Irish to a 7-4 season. The injury-plagued team suffered somewhat of a season of the Irish basketball team sports that are sometimes proportionately thought of when one hears the name Notre Dame.

Digger Phelps’ 1979-80 version of the Irish basketball team also suffered somewhat of a disappointing season. Notre Dame managed to sweep the continuing UCLA series, first, at home under the direction of John Wooden and his last-second foul shots and then on the Bruins’ home court with a brilliant 80-73 win.

Notre Dame added its “annual” upset with a double overtime win against number-one ranked Stanford, toppling those “25 and one!” cries reality.

The basketball team’s dreams of a return to the Final Four were quickly dashed in the first round of the NCAA tournament as far away Lincoln, Neb. Missouri stepped onto the court and completely outdist the Irish to end the championship drive.

It was the “Year of the Minor Sport” during 1979-80 at Notre Dame. A controversial law dubbed Title IX created havoc at Notre Dame, creating a delay on scholarships for minor sports and eventually to a major realignment of the University’s sports.

Hockey, who’s face was the major concern of many fans for the first time this year, finished with a 18-20-1 record. The Irish
The Boar's Head celebrates ND-SMC graduation
“All You Can Drink” Champagne Brunch menu includes quiche lorraine seafood quiche ham rolls ham & cheese omelette
brunch available between 12 noon and 2:30 pm every Sunday 52885 U.S. 31 North 272-5478

Branning, Hanzlik await NBA draft

Frank LaGrotta

When Abraham Lincoln signed the Emancipation Proclamation and freed the slaves, he did not forget to include a passage on professional athletics. You see, nothing more resembles the old flesh than the blood on the docks of Charleston and Norfolk than draft day in a pro sports league. The owners, general managers, coaches, scouts and hangmen—on sit around smoking cigars, drinking coffee and rolling dice to see which lucky soul will be moving to their city. It seems like everybody associated with the team has a say in the process—

Except the players themselves. Nobody gives the athlete any choice in the matter. In fact, to one even bothers to ask his opinion until after the draft when he has to be polite and say stuff like: “Golly, I’m honored,” or “No! I didn’t care who picked me as long as I got picked by someone.” Secretly though, the poor kid who’s never, ever, even thought, “The Steelers! Why’d I have to get picked by the Steelers!”

Alas, says pro football exec, Pete Rozelle, no one can think of a better way to divvy up the talent that pours from the college ranks to the money league each year. And while a player not exactly relishes the idea of spending 10 years of his life in Cleveland, Milwaukee, Detroit or New York, each and every kid who ever puts on a jock strap for a major college dreams of the day when his phone will ring and secure his future.

On June 10, 1980, Notre Dame seniors Rich Branning and Bill Hanzlik hope to answer that question: “What’s the future?”

Both he and Hanzlik did just that. They will graduate on Sunday—Branning, a first team academic all-American, will take with him a management degree while Hanzlik leaves with a mechanical engineering diploma. Branning has been accepted into the University of Southern California for graduate school of Sport Administration; Hanzlik has job offers too numerous to mention.

But, right now, the future hinges on the June 10th. “Rich and Bill have been great assets to our program,” comments Phelps when asked about their professional chances. “Both guys definitely have the ability to play professional basketball. The determining factor will be which team begins, on June 10, 1980.

And it does seem certain that both Hanzlik and Branning will get the chance to prove their mettle in the NBA. A recent piece in SPORT magazine pointed out the need for ball-handling guards who can control the tempo of a game. “A coach on the floor,” is what SPORT called this type of player—a descriptor that suits both Branning and Hanzlik. “I’m just trying to keep in shape,” says Branning, “No I didn’t care who picked me as long as I got picked by someone.” Secretly though, the poor kid who’s never, ever, even thought, “The Steelers! Why’d I have to get picked by the Steelers!”

Both Branning and Hanzlik are trying to control the course their own destinies by working daily in the weight room and playing hours of basketball at the Rock whenever they get the chance.

“It’s something I’d really like to try,” Branning told THE OBSERVER as a freshman back in 1977. “But I know few players actually make it to the pros so I’m keeping my options open.”

Building for his future, Branning has picked up a minor in business management. He has his sights set on running his own basketball camp for kids one day. “I’m just trying to keep in shape,” says Branning, “No I didn’t care who picked me as long as I got picked by someone.” Secretly though, the poor kid who’s never, ever, even thought, “The Steelers! Why’d I have to get picked by the Steelers!”

Lacrosse picks captains for first varsity season

The Notre Dame lacrosse team, which will begin its first season of varsity play next year, has elected its captains for the 1981 campaign.

Maurice Beshlehan, Massapequa, N.Y.; Tim and Carl Lundblad, Baltimore, Md., will serve as co-captains for coach Rich O’Leary’s inaugural varsity squad.

...Everyone's
To Rose, Steve, Klein, Mark, and all the other graduating Observers—\
You’ve been a source of great joy to me. I wish you all the best as you continue on your respective paths.

Left

Kyle

To Theo and the H-masters, and to all of you who gave me a great send-off, I want you all to know how much you mean to me. I wish you continued success in all that you do.

To the ex-SENIO R BART staff, this was really great fun! We really should try to get together once in a while to reminisce about our days of yore at that little bar. Let’s all meet for drinks at least once a year somewhere.

Paul

To all the people who gave me compliments and good luck to you all.

P. S. Good luck to the new staff, you’re doing a great job in the new place.

Carol Buscakes

Thanks to all for the help and love you gave to me these last two years. And yes, I still have to get my hair cut, but I don’t care. You’ll have to meet me at least once a year to get a haircut.

Harry

From the second floor of the dorms, Ellen & Guy, Cindie, and all the others who have been so much fun to work with. It’s been delightful knowing that I have people to talk to.

Three

Love, Gail & Lisa

To THE ZAZAZI SAGA—\
Here’s to good music, good times, and good friends! You’ve made the ZAZI what it is—not just a club but people special to me.

To Gene Bartanen for all your inspiration—\
To your talent and hard work, even though I’ve only been able to come a few times. You’re appreciated by all of us.

BRIAN CONGRATS!—\
Sister Mary

To my Rock Lobsters—\
"whispering" moments.\
Sacre Mure

John Farrell—\
Thanks for being you, etc.

Love, MB

Kathy Murray,

Thanks for making Tuesday nights such a fun night for me. I hope you’ll find a way to keep this tradition alive.

Love, B.K.

Last but not least, I’ll always remember those days in our dorm room and may your most cherished dreams come true.

Kim

B.K.

Elegantly yours,

Silver Lady Carol & Joe,

For your tip about how to get good grades while studying—\
“the Ibex winds and rain out the door.”

Best of luck to you both.

Keep in touch.

Truly, never more to|

Kevan & Jan

To Lea, Gail, Harry, Sherry, Bob, Jill, ML, PC, Laura, Duane, Susan, Steve, Joanne, Davis, and especially Pam and Mary. Thanks for all the hard work you did, and especially Pam and Mary. We couldn’t have done a thing without you.

Yes, your family is another.\

Love, Yours for a while.

June

I’m sure you’ll be happy too. Well, don’t worry about it. I’ll be seeing you. Just let me know your name in the paper, please.

Love, B.J.

Of course I have to say goodbye to everyone, and to the beautiful and sweet memories of your faces, and to my dear friends.

To Pauzer,

Thanks for being there.

Love, I.M.

To all the seniors, but I don’t think I can cover it all.\
You’ll have to make do with your own memories.

Diane

To My Wonderful Day Editors—\
June, Sue, Suey, Mary, Kay, Tami, Mary B., Mac, Patsy all the MAC writers, and especially Pam and Mary. Thanks for all the hard work you did, and especially Pam and Mary. We couldn’t have done a thing without you.

To future 67ers, next year is our change to make the world better. Just remember, make it the BEST! Dream this scenario, but do it. Make this the year one of the most amazing and cherished memories of your life.

John

To the off-campus coach and operator, I think you’ll have a lot of love.\
Mary—see you at the birthday party on July 15th. I hope you’ll stop by and for making me regain confidence in the Emma Dune girls. You’re for real.

Kathy Kofurinski, you hope you don’t get in Cleveland\
I’m here to help you talk to Mary Black & Beef & Bar and Chicken

Love, j.k.

Diedra,

How many is that? It’s kind of hard to keep track. I think this was the most enjoyable year of Tossed Animals, and then getting up at the crack of dawn. Enough, catch ya at one of the "Delta’s" functions before I hope so. See ya.

Kim

Summer rental—\
June 8, 1973. N.D. Reduced rates.\n123-256

Martha

We’ll be up at the poet, mark distinct and remember that I will be in Waukik on.

Sylvia

Hippy

Greg Sokolowski, I should have called you with this letter. It’s been a most fulfilling year of life. I haven’t been that bad to you, I mean. I’ve been a little bit moody, but I still want to say I guess it doesn’t mean anything to you. You’re special? What can I say but THANKS

When I needed someone, you were always there to listen.

Love, P.J.

To the entire OBSERVER staff—special Bonny, Joe,\
You’ve been a part of the last two years and I loved every minute (of what I could get). I thought we’d all be saying goodbye much earlier, but the long run can’t wait. I’ll never forget you.

Love, John McGeorge

May they all put out to pasture, but they haven’t left us yet. The best of luck to all of us!

The Rose

Bonny, Judy, John "parker" McGinley, Mary Fran, and all the other folks I’ve been lucky enough to have.

Evelyn

I love you, and I’m doing my best.

Love, Brian

To Marge & Mary,\n\nWe’ve all heard you.

Love,

Pete

Here’s one for you to ooh!\n\nWe’ll still see you awhile, and I hope you’ll come to our graduation.

KAY

To all my friends—\
Have a great summer!\n
Love,

Carol Buscakes

Pam

Thank you for putting up with Teri and I.

Bye,

Mara

Mike Thraul,\n\nOur friends will be missed on your graduation.
\nThanks for all your help this year. This place won’t be the same without you.

Love,

Mara

Mary (or "God").\n\nAs the case may be,\n\nHow about that great "golden 25" law school. I’ll miss you next year!

If you’re ever in St. Louis, drop me a line.

Love,\n
Mary

To all my senior buddies (Mark J.A., Frank, Tom, Goodde, Tim, and all other Observer editors)—Good luck in the future. We’ll miss you.

Love,\n
Beth

Observer Sport Staff—\
Thanks so much for helping the transition be so easy especially Mary, Paul, Mike and Fran. —You make this job a little bit easier.

Love,\n
Beth

Simon Wolfe, Business Services. We made it!!

And business friends and associates.

May the road one meet you this—\
\nSee you and the computer team come fall.

John McGrath

Thrifty Advertising Co-Cordinator: I’m grateful for the directors active role in placing current advertising, marking the most recognizable, etc. (a.k.a. have a peatime) for the Observer.

The other News Editor

PATES—\
\nI know it’s been a great summer!\n\nI’ll miss you.

Love,

Your niece [Beth]

Cel—\
\nThanks so much for "hanging in there!" Looking forward to it again.

Mara

Mike Thraul—\n\nI’m glad I got to experience it all.
\nI plan on building the future.
\nIf we have let it be for the hope, for the [Yellowstone],
\nTo all my friends—\
\nHave a great summer!\n
Love,

Sara

Pan

Thank you for putting up with Teri and I.

Bye,

Beth

I find typing and an e.m. extremely boring and stunning—when that sort of thing is all I have.

Jim

I NEED A JOBING YOU HAVE EMPLOYMENT FOR A REASON-\n\nABLY INTELLIGENT YOUNG WOMAN I’M THE ONE FOR YOU!!!\n\nHELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP HELP

Diedra,

I’m glad you look good on your future for this.

Good luck on your future adventures.

We love you.

Bud & Wall

P.S. Will russo, I don’t need you anymore.

Diedra,

Thanks for the good time last night—But the whole semester was wasted anyway.

Kim

Seinfeld—\
\nGraduation and congratulations.\n\nWe’re going to miss you.\n\nGood luck on your future adventures.

We love you.

Jenni Hughes, O.K., you want it, you’ll get it!!

Diedra,

Thanks for the good time last night—But the whole semester was wasted anyway.

Kim

Diedra,

Sorry we blow you off.

SMCers

Diedra,

Have fun in Carolina; watch out for makes on the mayhem.

Diedra

Good luck in the future—hope ya make it.

Kim

Paul

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n\nThank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.

Paul

Ines

I would like you to know how much I love and appreciate you.\n
Thank you so much for helping me.
Rick Telerand of Sports Illustrated, visiting Notre Dame to cover college basketball, summarized it best when he said that Notre Dame was the only college he had seen where everyone looks like an athlete. Although he might have been exaggerating a little, Telerand realized the importance that sports have on this campus. Whether it be a big football game in Notre Dame Stadium or a less glamorous game on the Green Field, many of the memories the graduating seniors will take with them when they leave Notre Dame will have something to do with sports.

We would have thought, after that humiliating loss to Tony Dorsett and Pittsburgh in the first football game, that the Irish would provide us with so much more excitement. We got our national championship, and though we came-from-behind wins to take a few years off our lives. And yet the two big losses, one a runaway wire that fantastic October afternoon when Dan Devine unleashed the Gold Machine on Southern Cal, and an equally convincing victory over Earl Campbell and Texas to claim the national title.

The basketball team also gave us a fair share of excitement, usually in that madhouse we call the ACC. The students did their fair share to help create the proper atmosphere for the title classic wins over San Francisco, Marquette, and DePaul, and now any one of us will always have reservations about coming to Notre Dame. Football and basketball standout, but the Notre Dame tradition that we’ll get on national television have also enjoyed success in the past four years. The hockey team made the playoffs all four years, but had more trouble coming from behind to overcome the defensive stalwart abilities of the Green team. Under interception for the green team, summarized it best when he said that Notre Dame was the only college he had seen where everyone looks like an athlete. Although he might have been exaggerating a little, Telerand realized the importance that sports have on this campus. Whether it be a big football game in Notre Dame Stadium or a less glamorous game on the Green Field, many of the memories the graduating seniors will take with them when they leave Notre Dame will have something to do with sports. We would have thought, after that humiliating loss to Tony Dorsett and Pittsburgh in the first football game, that the Irish would provide us with so much more excitement. We got our national championship, and though we came-from-behind wins to take a few years off our lives. And yet the two big losses, one a runaway wire that fantastic October afternoon when Dan Devine unleashed the Gold Machine on Southern Cal, and an equally convincing victory over Earl Campbell and Texas to claim the national title.

The basketball team also gave us a fair share of excitement, usually in that madhouse we call the ACC. The students did their fair share to help create the proper atmosphere for the title classic wins over San Francisco, Marquette, and DePaul, and now any one of us will always have reservations about coming to Notre Dame. Football and basketball standout, but the Notre Dame tradition that we’ll get on national television have also enjoyed success in the past four years. The hockey team made the playoffs all four years, but had more trouble coming from behind to overcome the defensive stalwart abilities of the Green team. Under interception for the green team, summarized it best when he said that Notre Dame was the only college he had seen where everyone looks like an athlete. Although he might have been exaggerating a little, Telerand realized the importance that sports have on this campus. Whether it be a big football game in Notre Dame Stadium or a less glamorous game on the Green Field, many of the memories the graduating seniors will take with them when they leave Notre Dame will have something to do with sports. We would have thought, after that humiliating loss to Tony Dorsett and Pittsburgh in the first football game, that the Irish would provide us with so much more excitement. We got our national championship, and though we came-from-behind wins to take a few years off our lives. And yet the two big losses, one a runaway wire that fantastic October afternoon when Dan Devine unleashed the Gold Machine on Southern Cal, and an equally convincing victory over Earl Campbell and Texas to claim the national title.

The basketball team also gave us a fair share of excitement, usually in that madhouse we call the ACC. The students did their fair share to help create the proper atmosphere for the title classic wins over San Francisco, Marquette, and DePaul, and now any one of us will always have reservations about coming to Notre Dame. Football and basketball standout, but the Notre Dame tradition that we’ll get on national television have also enjoyed success in the past four years. The hockey team made the playoffs all four years, but had more trouble coming from behind to overcome the defensive stalwart abilities of the Green team. Under interception for the green team, summarized it best when he said that Notre Dame was the only college he had seen where everyone looks like an athlete. Although he might have been exaggerating a little, Telerand realized the importance that sports have on this campus. Whether it be a big football game in Notre Dame Stadium or a less glamorous game on the Green Field, many of the memories the graduating seniors will take with them when they leave Notre Dame will have something to do with sports. We would have thought, after that humiliating loss to Tony Dorsett and Pittsburgh in the first football game, that the Irish would provide us with so much more excitement. We got our national championship, and though we came-from-behind wins to take a few years off our lives. And yet the two big losses, one a runaway wire that fantastic October afternoon when Dan Devine unleashed the Gold Machine on Southern Cal, and an equally convincing victory over Earl Campbell and Texas to claim the national title.

The basketball team also gave us a fair share of excitement, usually in that madhouse we call the ACC. The students did their fair share to help create the proper atmosphere for the title classic wins over San Francisco, Marquette, and DePaul, and now any one of us will always have reservations about coming to Notre Dame. Football and basketball standout, but the Notre Dame tradition that we’ll get on national television have also enjoyed success in the past four years. The hockey team made the playoffs all four years, but had more trouble coming from behind to overcome the defensive stalwart abilities of the Green team. Under interception for the green team, summarized it best when he said that Notre Dame was the only college he had seen where everyone looks like an athlete. Although he might have been exaggerating a little, Telerand realized the importance that sports have on this campus. Whether it be a big football game in Notre Dame Stadium or a less glamorous game on the Green Field, many of the memories the graduating seniors will take with them when they leave Notre Dame will have something to do with sports. We would have thought, after that humiliating loss to Tony Dorsett and Pittsburgh in the first football game, that the Irish would provide us with so much more excitement. We got our national championship, and though we came-from-behind wins to take a few years off our lives. And yet the two big losses, one a runaway wire that fantastic October afternoon when Dan Devine unleashed the Gold Machine on Southern Cal, and an equally convincing victory over Earl Campbell and Texas to claim the national title.

The basketball team also gave us a fair share of excitement, usually in that madhouse we call the ACC. The students did their fair share to help create the proper atmosphere for the title classic wins over San Francisco, Marquette, and DePaul, and now any one of us will always have reservations about coming to Notre Dame. Football and basketball standout, but the Notre Dame tradition that we’ll get on national television have also enjoyed success in the past four years. The hockey team made the playoffs all four years, but had more trouble coming from behind to overcome the defensive stalwart abilities of the Green team. Under interception for the green team, summarized it best when he said that Notre Dame was the only college he had seen where everyone looks like an athlete. Although he might have been exaggerating a little, Telerand realized the importance that sports have on this campus. Whether it be a big football game in Notre Dame Stadium or a less glamorous game on the Green Field, many of the memories the graduating seniors will take with them when they leave Notre Dame will have something to do with sports. We would have thought, after that humiliating loss to Tony Dorsett and Pittsburgh in the first football game, that the Irish would provide us with so much more excitement. We got our national championship, and though we came-from-behind wins to take a few years off our lives. And yet the two big losses, one a runaway wire that fantastic October afternoon when Dan Devine unleashed the Gold Machine on Southern Cal, and an equally convincing victory over Earl Campbell and Texas to claim the national title.

The basketball team also gave us a fair share of excitement, usually in that madhouse we call the ACC. The students did their fair share to help create the proper atmosphere for the title classic wins over San Francisco, Marquette, and DePaul, and now any one of us will always have reservations about coming to Notre Dame. Football and basketball standout, but the Notre Dame tradition that we’ll get on national television have also enjoyed success in the past four years. The hockey team made the playoffs all four years, but had more trouble coming from behind to overcome the defensive stalwart abilities of the Green team. Under interception for the green team, summarized it best when he said that Notre Dame was the only college he had seen where everyone looks like an athlete. Although he might have been exaggerating a little, Telerand realized the importance that sports have on this campus. Whether it be a big football game in Notre Dame Stadium or a less glamorous game on the Green Field, many of the memories the graduating seniors will take with them when they leave Notre Dame will have something to do with sports. We would have thought, after that humiliating loss to Tony Dorsett and Pittsburgh in the first football game, that the Irish would provide us with so much more excitement. We got our national championship, and though we came-from-behind wins to take a few years off our lives. And yet the two big losses, one a runaway wire that fantastic October afternoon when Dan Devine unleashed the Gold Machine on Southern Cal, and an equally convincing victory over Earl Campbell and Texas to claim the national title.

The basketball team also gave us a fair share of excitement, usually in that madhouse we call the ACC. The students did their fair share to help create the proper atmosphere for the title classic wins over San Francisco, Marquette, and DePaul, and now any one of us will always have reservations about coming to Notre Dame. Football and basketball standout, but the Notre Dame tradition that we’ll get on national television have also enjoyed success in the past four years. The hockey team made the playoffs all four years, but had more trouble coming from behind to overcome the defensive stalwart abilities of the Green team. Under interception for the [continued on page 14]