Ticket sales lag

Mardi Gras future uncertain

By MARY FRAN CALLAHAN
Senior Copy Editor

Though this year’s Mardi Gras will follow the tradition of past Mardi Gras, the future of the event remains uncertain. According to Dan McKenna, Mardi Gras Chairperson, due to an archdiocesan regulation which prohibits gambling in conjunction with church activities, Mardi Gras will have to undergo some drastic changes after this year.

The Chairman added that this year’s Mardi Gras has been made for future Mardi Gras, as the committee is concentrating on this year’s event. He did say, however, that possibly a dance, with proceeds going to local charities, may replace the traditional gambling festivities.

“This year’s event is scheduled for Feb. 13-21 in Stepan Center.”

Carter greets hostages

WIESBADEN, West Germany (AP) — Jimmy Carter held an emotional meeting with the 52 Americans who have been held in Iran for 1 1/2 months and then denounced the Iranian government’s "despicable act of savagery." He added, "Our Americans in Iran were mistreated much worse than previously revealed."

The former president’s description of acts of "barbarism" leading to "abominable circumstances" for the freed captives followed reports from hostages’ families and the State Department that the Americans suffered physical and psychological abuse during their 444 days in captivity.

The State Department issued a statement before saying, "On the basis of what we have learned so far, we have further evidence of serious mistreatment in a number of cases during the period of their captivity." He did not elaborate.

Carter, who turned over the presidency to Ronald Reagan on Tuesday, was denied the chance of announcing the hostages’ freedom during his final White House news conference, but as Reagan’s special envoy he said he was able to "express the thanks of a grateful nation to the brave hostages.

Carter said afterwards they were "never able to hear the names of the hostages."

The hostages have further evidence of serious mistreatment in a number of cases during their 444 days in captivity. Carter also said that possibly a dance, with proceeds going to local charities, may replace the traditional gambling festivities.

"We’re just not sure now what we’ll do," McKenna commented. "We won’t select a chairperson for next year until later this semester," he concluded.

This year’s event is scheduled for Feb. 13-21 in Stepan Center.

See HOSTAGES, page 5

See RANSOM, page 3

Did U.S. taxpayers ransom hostages?

By R. GREGORY NOKES
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Did the United States pay ransom to Iran for release of the 52 Americans? Apparently not, but U.S. taxpayers will probably end up paying some of the fat fees that the hostages were required to pay.

Some of the charities which will benefit from the raffle include: Sr. Marita’s Primary Day School, silica, Logan Center, Special Olympics, the Neighborhood Study Help Program, and starving nations.

McKenna said no plans have been made for future Mardi Gras, as the committee is concentrating on this year’s event. He did say, however, that possibly a dance, with proceeds going to local charities, may replace the traditional gambling festivities.

"We’re just not sure now what we’ll do," McKenna commented.

"We won’t select a chairperson for next year until later this semester," he concluded.

This year’s event is scheduled for Feb. 13-21 in Stepan Center.

See HOSTAGES, page 5

See RANSOM, page 3

The Observer
VOL. XV. NO. 75
THURSDAY, JANUARY 22, 1981

Change by-laws Senate discusses CLO

By DAVID SARPHE
Student Body President

Changes in the organization of the CLO and the formation of a budget committee for this semester were among the topics discussed at last night’s Student Senate meeting. Also on the agenda was the creation of a committee to discuss problems in the North Dining Hall and a proposed wager from the University of Maryland.

The changes in the CLO’s by-laws, drawn up by Student Body President Paul Rich, Director of Residence Hall Students, and Rodger Riehle, Director of Student Senate, will allow members of the Student Senate to hold a majority of seats on the council. Voting on these changes must be held before the meeting next week.

The Student Senate then discussed the formation of a budget committee for the spring semester. Chairman Don Giancotti emphasized the importance of the committee, noting that it administers over 80 percent of the Student Government budget. The Senate again held off on any decisions until next week.

Also considered was a proposed committee to aid Fr. John Van Winkle in setting dining hall hours for next year. According to Van Winkle, the Vice-President for Student Affairs, the new hours will be necessitated by overcrowded conditions in the North Dining Hall.

The meeting ended on a lighter note, as Riehle suggested a wager between the two new girls’ dorms.

Ticket sales lag

Many students signed up yesterday to forget their Wednesday lunches to help raise money for the World Hunger Coalition. (Photo by Rachel Blount)
Ronald Reagan got his wake-up call at 8:10 a.m. yesterday, had a leisurely breakfast with his wife in her new Redwood Meadow home, before he left for his first day on the job as president of the United States. He'd had a big time the night before, making the rounds of one formal dinner and nine inaugural balls, but he arrived home at the White House at 12:25 a.m.—40 minutes ahead of schedule, and aides said he went right to bed. He woke up only 10 minutes later than usual. Reagan's habits are in the Oval Office. Then he directed his staff to disregard the politics in proceeding to expose himself to the student, Security reported. It may be the hardest thing that the Georgiana clique would have you believe. Most people could still take away from his control over Jimmy Carter — his failure to control inflation, his amazing inconsistency, his ambiguous foreign policy — than just one random decision, and in history has shown, incumbent presidents, with all the advantages of the office, are very difficult to defeat.

Now in the post-mortems with laments on late night talkshows like ABC's 'Nightline' or NBC's 'Tom K. Roberts,' we often hear the phrase 'History is not about the rights.' Carter, subseqently, seems to be their form of solace, which is understandable. He might, as if they've thrown away the fabled years of their near life working for a helpless bad. But are their claims legitimate about their relative success, or just his brief revisionist history here?

History remembers Carter

A former Nazi death camp guard who has lived in this country for 51 years must be stripped of his U.S. citizenship, the Supreme Court ruled yesterday. By a 7-2 vote, the justices said 73-year-old Fedor Fedorenko, "illegally procured" his U.S. citizenship in 1970 because he lied to immigration officers when entering the country in 1949. The federal government now can strip Fedorenko of his citizenship, the court ruled, and return him to his native Ukraine. Fedorenko was convicted of perjury last year by a federal judge in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., for a final denaturalization order — the stripping away of citizenship. Then Fedorenko likely will be the subject of an Immigration and Naturalization Service deportation tion hearing.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and his wife Joan, side-by-side campaigners as he sought the Democratic presidential nomination last year, announced yesterday that they plan to divorce after 22 years of marriage. They had been living apart — he in suburban Washington, she in Boston — although Mrs. Kennedy appeared frequently with her husband during his failed effort to wrest his party's nomination from Jimmy Carter. In a statement issued by Kennedy's Senate office in both of their names, the couple said "appropriate legal procedures" seemed to be the only way to "save their marriage." They have two grown children. A spokesman for Kennedy declined comment on where the divorce proceedings would be initiated.

Partial clearing

We have had some interesting discussions recently concerning the fall of Jimmy Carter from power. Already, people wonder how history will reflect on this man (at least as he appears), and many realize that the metaphorical mirror, while not naming Carter the fairest of them all, will crack at the sight of his hurried visage.

It has always been one of our political beliefs that a president's work must, for the overall good of the nation, make decisions which will anger or alienate certain political groups. It may be that President Carter White House took great pride during the past campaign in reminding us that Carter did make many of these moves, dandling more politically popular alternatives, and they attributed much of his unpopularity to these actions. This may be true, but to a lesser extent that the Georgiana clique would have you believe. Most people could still take away from his control over Jimmy Carter — his failure to control inflation, his amazing inconsistency, his ambiguous foreign policy — than just one random decision, and in history has shown, incumbent presidents, with all the advantages of the office, are very difficult to defeat.

What brings us to this final question: How will history view this election? Many are tossing around the term "conservative shift" these days, as if describing a mass ideological exodus from the left, and liberals are indeed acting very paranoid lately. It shouldn't be the anti-Carter vote, the 'anything but that' attitude which made so many of the previous results so resounding. The reasons for this vote may be lost on history, but the significance will not. The Ford-Carter years can be viewed the same way, especially Carter — a harmless president in a harmless time. That is probably more than Jimmy Carter will remember. But we are entering a new era now, accord ing to the cycle, and, for better or worse, that is the path. You can take that any way you want to.
Preparring their defenses. Last week, he for Ford, Wis.
Swain's refusal to grant him a con-chose to boycott his own trial in helping numerous jail inmates.

National Prisoners Rights Union, made ferred from the county jail in Bell Yager, the leader of the "People's Court" was postponed

"People's Court" are so intent on defendants" are found guilty, "our translates into "public ridicule."

"There is absolutely no possible way I am going to allow people to perform citizens' arrests on everyone convicted, including the judge, and take them to the police station for booking."

The announcement prompted an angry response last week from Sheriff James DeGroote, who told Phyllis Short, executive secretary of the prisoners group, that he intends to stop the trial "by whatever means, or force, called for."

"There is absolutely no possible way I am going to allow any citizens group to take the law into their own hands," DeGroote said in an open letter to Mrs. Short.
He added "if you and your People's Court take any
following James Yager (whom I consider a psychopath, a liar, a coward, a para people will perform citizens' arrests on everyone convicted, including
the judge, and take them to the police station for booking.

"There is absolutely no possible way I am going to allow any citizens group
to take the law into their own hands," DeGroote said in an open letter to Mrs. Short.
He added "if you and your People's Court take any
following James Yager (whom I consider a psychopath, a liar, a coward, a para
people will perform citizens' arrests on everyone convicted, including
the judge, and take them to the police station for booking.

...Ransom
Continued from page 1
Instead, the agreement provides for establishing a presidential commission to decide any compensation. It could easily amount to several million dollars — and taxpayers would pay it.
Q. How about damage to the U.S.
Embassy and other U.S. property in Iran?
A. Iran is absolved of responsibility, despite there being ample precedent for compensation by host countries when damage is done to property of other nations.

Alumni, students exchange ideas

By JEFF CHOPPIN
News Staff
Tonight, students will have an op-opportunity to voice complaints, suggestions, or ask questions to various alumni at 15 different dorms. The hall visitations will occur at 9 p.m.

This is the third year that these visitations will take place. As was the case in the first year, the alumni will visit almost every dorm. Last year
the Alumni Board chose to use only
two locations, Floh and Walsh.
Due to poor scheduling, the attendance on the past two occasions was poor. Even so, Tim Tresdell, an Alumni Board member, said that things had "gone very well."

He also said that the Alumni Board
and the students should use these visitations as a "communications vehicle." He said that the alumni use the meetings to find out what is happening at the university in the eyes of the students. The alumni, in turn, describe the various placement programs for summer jobs that alumni associations have set up
across the country.

The Alumni Board members start
tearmgs tomorrow that will carry them into the weekend. The student talks, if effective, could play an integral part in the meetings. The two student coordinators of the Student-
Alumni Relations Group, Mike Grace
and Brian Glade, hope that

...Ransom
Continued from page 1
Instead, the agreement provides for establishing a presidential commission to decide any compensation. It could easily amount to several million dollars — and taxpayers would pay it.
Q. How about damage to the U.S.
Embassy and other U.S. property in Iran?
A. Iran is absolved of responsibility, despite there being ample
precedent for compensation by host countries when damage is done to property of other nations.

Alumni, students exchange ideas

By JEFF CHOPPIN
News Staff
Tonight, students will have an op-
opportunity to voice complaints, suggestions, or ask questions to various alumni at 15 different dorms. The hall visitations will occur at 9 p.m.

This is the third year that these visitations will take place. As was the case in the first year, the alumni will visit almost every dorm. Last year
the Alumni Board chose to use only
two locations, Floh and Walsh.
Due to poor scheduling, the attendance on the past two occasions was poor. Even so, Tim Tresdell, an Alumni Board member, said that
things had "gone very well."

He also said that the Alumni Board
and the students should use these
visitations as a "communications
vehicle." He said that the alumni use
the meetings to find out what is happening at the university in the eyes of the students. The alumni, in turn, describe the various placement programs for summer jobs that
alumni associations have set up
across the country.

The Alumni Board members start
tearmgs tomorrow that will carry them into the weekend. The student talks, if effective, could play an integral part in the meetings. The two student coordinators of the Student-
Alumni Relations Group, Mike Grace
and Brian Glade, hope that

...Ransom
Continued from page 1
Instead, the agreement provides for establishing a presidential commission to decide any compensation. It could easily amount to several million dollars — and taxpayers would pay it.
Q. How about damage to the U.S.
Embassy and other U.S. property in Iran?
A. Iran is absolved of responsibility, despite there being ample
precedent for compensation by host countries when damage is done to
property of other nations.
Thursday, January 22, 1981 — page 4

Doctors battle faith

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — An official of Riley Children's Hospital obtained a temporary emergency order which enabled physicians to give a 4-year-old Anderson girl emergency blood transfusions over the objection of her parents.

The parents, Donnie and Vickie Whittle, are members of Jehovah's Witnesses. They refused to authorize the blood transfusions for Felicia B. Whittle, according to Riley administrator Charles A. Richmond.

The girl was listed to fair condition in the intensive care unit of the hospital.

Judge Victor S. Pfau appointed Richmond as the girl's guardian for 60 days.

In asking Monday night for the emergency order, Richmond told the court that physicians did not believe they could wait until the scheduled 11 a.m. hearing Tuesday for Good- man to make the blood transfusions without risk of the youngster dying.

Dr. Mark Wisnerman, Riley's chief pediatrician, said if the girl were not permitted to receive the emergency treatment "the deteriorating process will continue as it is continuing now."

The 51-year-old father testified:

"I believe that despite state­ments of the physicians, I still have to go with my faith."

Afterwards, Whittle said he did not believe that he was stripped of his constitutional rights by Good­man's ruling, saying, "No, not really."

"I (Goodman) let me tell my views."

Professor discusses understanding

"Should We Believe What We Do Not Understand?" is the question to be explored by a University of Notre Dame faculty member in a talk at 7:30 p.m. on Thursday, Jan. 22 in Notre Dame's Memorial Library Lounge.

Dr. David Schnidler, an associate professor of the General Program of Liberal Studies, which is sponsoring his talk, is in his second year at Notre Dame. Schnidler leads great books seminars and teaches philosophy and theology tutorials.

Since 1974 Schnidler has been as­sistant editor of Communio: Inter­national Catholic Review, and his articles have appeared in several journals including Communio, The Thomist and the International Philosophical Quarterly. He is chairman of the philosophy commit­tee of a four-year study of the "Foundations of Moral Education" sponsored by the Inter-University Committee on Research and Policy Studies.

Schnidler earned his doctorate at the Claremont Graduate School in 1976 where he studied theology and philosophy of education. In 1974-76 he was a Fulbright scholar at the Uni­versity of Innsbruck.

Committee plans formal

The Senior Formal Committee has announced that Saturday, March 28 will be the date for the annual formal.

Like last year, the formal will be held in the Chicago Marriott Hotel.

The bid tentatively set at $60, includes an hors'  doeuvres dinner for two, and dancing. The rate for a single, double, or triple room in the Marriott will be about $40. A raffle will be held at Senior Bar Thursday, Feb. 26, to give away a free bid.

Raffle tickets may be purchased through March 6. Room reservations may be made at the same time bids are purchased.

In gathering information on concern­ing activities in Chicago during Senior Formal weekend, committee members found that My Fair Lady (with Rex Harrison) will be playing at the Arie Crown Theatre.
Hostages reveal mistreatment

(AP) — Stories of beatings and other physical and mental abuse by their Iranian captors surfaced yesterday as the 52 emancipated American hostages telephoned home to assure their relatives that they are now "doing fine."

The late afternoon sun glinted off one of the few remaining

Continued from page 1

Criminal acts ought to be condemned by all law-loving decent people of the world. It's been in abominable circumstances that will never be forgotten.

Carter aides said the private, 80-minute meeting was "emotional to moving that a photographer was welling in everybody's eyes, the with each freed captive, "tears were hostages' and Carter's."

Cannon said officials have "evidence of serious mistreatment in a number of cases during the period of their captivity." In phone calls to their relatives back home in the predawn hours Wednesday, many of the ex-captive didn't talk about what had happened, some saying there would be more to tell later.

Some...were only light T-shirts and blue pajama bottoms in the sub freezing weather. They were never be forgotten.

Macor, a Notre Dame junior, is director the distribution center, said he would move here to Wood, who will move here to consolidate distribution centers now located in Anaheim, Calif, and New York City.

Some did. Their release on Tuesday "was a gratifying act" in his life.

Bruce Langen, the charge d'affaires and senior diplomat in the U.S. Embassy when it was seige, in his statement at the Frankfurt airport after meeting the former hostages, Carter said the takeover of the U.S. Embassy on Nov. 1979 and the holding of the hostages until their release on Tuesday "was a criminal act that should be condemned by all law-loving people of the world."

He described his meeting with them as "the most moving and gratifying act" in his life.

...Hostages

Disney moves Music Center to Midwest

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) - Walt Disney Music Co. says it will move its record and tape distribution centers to this city on the Indiana-Ohio border because of its location in the center of the nation.

The announcement was made Tuesday by John R. Wood, production manager for Walt Disney Music Co., of Bohrban, Calif.

Wood, who will move here to direct the distribution center, said the local staff will consist of about 55 warehouse and office workers.

The Richmond center will consolidate distribution centers now located in Anaheim, Calif, and New York City.

Wood said he expects the first shipments from the new center to begin in late March. The firm distributes Disneyland-Pornas Vista Record Co. selections, which are primarily children's records and tapes.

The firm will be located in a large warehouse next door to PRC recording inc.

Photograph award

ND student wins prize

An award winning picture, taken by John Eugene Macor, Observer photo editor, will be on display in the Equitable Gallery in New York City. Feb. 3-27, as part of a presentation of 800 finalists in the Kodak International Newspaper Snapshot Awards. He also received a Kodak Centennial commemorative plate with an 1896 picture-taking scene in the center as part of the company's celebration of its 100th anniversary in 1896. The exhibit includes the winners of local summer contests conducted by 152 newspapers in the United States, Canada and Mexico with more than 375,000 entries.

Macor a Notre Dame junior, is represented by a black-and-white picture of a mother and her child at lakeside during sunset. It was a winner in the Bridgewater Courier- News summer snapshot contest and as such was submitted to the international competition where it won a certificate of merit. The Equitable Gallery is at 1285 Avenue of the Americans and is open to the public, free of charge, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

STUDENT UNION RECORD STORE — WE'VE MOVED!

LOCATION: first floor Fairmont HOURS: Mon-Fri 9:00-5:00 WHAT: ordering Mon-Wed: 9:00-5:00 Thurs 9:00-12:00 noon

IN STOCK SPECIALS

Saturday 1981 — page 5

The Observer

Thursday, January 22, 1981 — page 5

The Observer — January 22, 1981 — page 5

Continued from page 1

Criminal acts ought to be condemned by all law-loving decent people of the world. It's been in abominable circumstances that will never be forgotten.

Carter aides said the private, 80-minute meeting was "emotional to moving that a photographer was welling in everybody's eyes, the with each freed captive, "tears were hostages' and Carter's."

Cannon said officials have "evidence of serious mistreatment in a number of cases during the period of their captivity." In phone calls to their relatives back home in the predawn hours Wednesday, many of the ex-captive didn't talk about what had happened, some saying there would be more to tell later.

Some...were only light T-shirts and blue pajama bottoms in the sub freezing weather. They were never be forgotten.

Macor, a Notre Dame junior, is director the distribution center, said he would move here to Wood, who will move here to consolidate distribution centers now located in Anaheim, Calif, and New York City.

Some did. Their release on Tuesday "was a gratifying act" in his life.

Bruce Langen, the charge d'affaires and senior diplomat in the U.S. Embassy when it was seige, in his statement at the Frankfurt airport after meeting the former hostages, Carter said the takeover of the U.S. Embassy on Nov. 1979 and the holding of the hostages until their release on Tuesday "was a criminal act that should be condemned by all law-loving people of the world."

He described his meeting with them as "the most moving and gratifying act" in his life.

...Hostages

Disney moves Music Center to Midwest

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) - Walt Disney Music Co. says it will move its record and tape distribution centers to this city on the Indiana-Ohio border because of its location in the center of the nation.

The announcement was made Tuesday by John R. Wood, production manager for Walt Disney Music Co., of Bohrban, Calif.

Wood, who will move here to direct the distribution center, said the local staff will consist of about 55 warehouse and office workers.

The Richmond center will consolidate distribution centers now located in Anaheim, Calif, and New York City.

Wood said he expects the first shipments from the new center to begin in late March. The firm distributes Disneyland-Pornas Vista Record Co. selections, which are primarily children's records and tapes.

The firm will be located in a large warehouse next door to PRC recording inc.

Photograph award

ND student wins prize

An award winning picture, taken by John Eugene Macor, Observer photo editor, will be on display in the Equitable Gallery in New York City. Feb. 3-27, as part of a presentation of 800 finalists in the Kodak International Newspaper Snapshot Awards. He also received a Kodak Centennial commemorative plate with an 1896 picture-taking scene in the center as part of the company's celebration of its 100th anniversary in 1896. The exhibit includes the winners of local summer contests conducted by 152 newspapers in the United States, Canada and Mexico with more than 375,000 entries.

Macor a Notre Dame junior, is represented by a black-and-white picture of a mother and her child at lakeside during sunset. It was a winner in the Bridgewater Courier- News summer snapshot contest and as such was submitted to the international competition where it won a certificate of merit. The Equitable Gallery is at 1285 Avenue of the Americans and is open to the public, free of charge, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

STUDENT UNION RECORD STORE — WE'VE MOVED!

LOCATION: first floor Fairmont HOURS: Mon-Fri 9:00-5:00 WHAT: ordering Mon-Wed: 9:00-5:00 Thurs 9:00-12:00 noon

IN STOCK SPECIALS

Saturday 1981 — page 5

The Observer — January 22, 1981 — page 5

Continued from page 1

Criminal acts ought to be condemned by all law-loving decent people of the world. It's been in abominable circumstances that will never be forgotten.

Carter aides said the private, 80-minute meeting was "emotional to moving that a photographer was welling in everybody's eyes, the with each freed captive, "tears were hostages' and Carter's."

Cannon said officials have "evidence of serious mistreatment in a number of cases during the period of their captivity." In phone calls to their relatives back home in the predawn hours Wednesday, many of the ex-captive didn't talk about what had happened, some saying there would be more to tell later.

Some...were only light T-shirts and blue pajama bottoms in the sub freezing weather. They were never be forgotten.

Macor, a Notre Dame junior, is director the distribution center, said he would move here to Wood, who will move here to consolidate distribution centers now located in Anaheim, Calif, and New York City.

Some did. Their release on Tuesday "was a gratifying act" in his life.

Bruce Langen, the charge d'affaires and senior diplomat in the U.S. Embassy when it was seige, in his statement at the Frankfurt airport after meeting the former hostages, Carter said the takeover of the U.S. Embassy on Nov. 1979 and the holding of the hostages until their release on Tuesday "was a criminal act that should be condemned by all law-loving people of the world."

He described his meeting with them as "the most moving and gratifying act" in his life.

...Hostages

Disney moves Music Center to Midwest

RICHMOND, Ind. (AP) - Walt Disney Music Co. says it will move its record and tape distribution centers to this city on the Indiana-Ohio border because of its location in the center of the nation.

The announcement was made Tuesday by John R. Wood, production manager for Walt Disney Music Co., of Bohrban, Calif.

Wood, who will move here to direct the distribution center, said the local staff will consist of about 55 warehouse and office workers.

The Richmond center will consolidate distribution centers now located in Anaheim, Calif, and New York City.

Wood said he expects the first shipments from the new center to begin in late March. The firm distributes Disneyland-Pornas Vista Record Co. selections, which are primarily children's records and tapes.

The firm will be located in a large warehouse next door to PRC recording inc.

Photograph award

ND student wins prize

An award winning picture, taken by John Eugene Macor, Observer photo editor, will be on display in the Equitable Gallery in New York City. Feb. 3-27, as part of a presentation of 800 finalists in the Kodak International Newspaper Snapshot Awards. He also received a Kodak Centennial commemorative plate with an 1896 picture-taking scene in the center as part of the company's celebration of its 100th anniversary in 1896. The exhibit includes the winners of local summer contests conducted by 152 newspapers in the United States, Canada and Mexico with more than 375,000 entries.

Macor a Notre Dame junior, is represented by a black-and-white picture of a mother and her child at lakeside during sunset. It was a winner in the Bridgewater Courier-News summer snapshot contest and as such was submitted to the international competition where it won a certificate of merit. The Equitable Gallery is at 1285 Avenue of the Americans and is open to the public, free of charge, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.
Panic in the real estate market

Several weeks ago, the stock market was going to go up, and a man in Florida, who runs a private service for investors, called up 50 of his clients and told them to sell all their stock. The service had been losing money, and the man was in a panic and everyone was selling. Apparently, thousands of people were like him, who handle billions of dollars of investments, all selling at the same time. And people all over America started wondering, if one man could make so many bulls into bears overnight, whether the stock market was a safe investment.

Also, if one man could affect the stock market with one telephone call, what about the other markets — particularly the real estate market, which everyone says is overvalued.

I have this nightmare that early one morning, I heard a phone call from my real estate broker, Longworth, who says, "Sell your house right away. The price is going to tumble."

Don't ask questions. I've been going through the classified ads and it's time to hit the road."

What do you want to know?"

Right now, every real estate broker from Longworth and says he wants to at least break even, and we'll lose our shirts. We'll go down the hatchet and make a "For Sale" sign. You clean up the house and repaint the kitchen."

"At four o'clock in the morning, we have to move fast before other people in the neighborhood are tipped off."

I put on my bathrobe, and go down to the cellar and nail a piece of plywood over the front door, and paint "For Sale" in large black letters.

My wife is on the ladder, painting the ceiling. "Hurry up," I tell her. "Before it's too late."

"Where are we going to live if we sell the house?"

"Don't stupid questions. We've got to get rid of this place before the market closes."

At five o'clock in the morning I'm driving the "For Sale" sign into the ground.

My neighbor Ewing hears me and comes outside of his house. "What the hell are you doing?"

"I'm, I'm only telling you this because I'm your friend. The real estate market is going to collapse as soon as the market opens this morning. I got it on the hot line from my broker, and he hasn't been wrong since I subscribed to his service."

Ewing says, "Thanks for telling me and rushes back into his house to make a "For Sale" sign."

Editorial Board and Department Managers

Editor in Chief: Colman McCarthy
Managing Editor: Michael Donnelly
News Editor: Michael J. Macaulay
Features Editor: Molly Woulfe
Photo Editor: John Macar
Business Manager: Greg Hedges
Controller: Mark Ellis
Advertising Manager: Mark Rudd
Circulation Manager: Beth Hedges
Production Manager: Molly Woulfe

Editorial Board and Department Managers

Editor in Chief: Colman McCarthy
Managing Editor: Michael Donnelly
News Editor: Michael J. Macaulay
Features Editor: Molly Woulfe
Photo Editor: John Macar
Business Manager: Greg Hedges
Controller: Mark Ellis
Advertising Manager: Mark Rudd
Circulation Manager: Beth Hedges
Production Manager: Molly Woulfe

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions, and letters are the views of the respective writers. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Can business ethics, personal morality mix?

Colman McCarthy

The recent New Yorker article on Doonesbury, by Garry Trudeau, is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions, and letters are the views of the respective writers. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

WASHINGTON — As the nation's leading banker, Walter Wriston of Citicorp, the global power which has offices in 92 countries, can rightly command attention when holding forth on the value of money. It's when he talks about values themselves — values based on moral and ethical codes — that trouble starts.

In a recent New Yorker article on Doonesbury, Wriston told the interviewer the current generation's values are topsy-turvy. It boggles the mind — the transfer of personal integrity to institutional integrity. New college students have a mix of dormant, innate values on one floor and women on the next, and they all sit around worrying about whether or not General Motors is being honest. When I was in college it was different. We were concerned about personal values. I believe that there are no institutional values, only personal ones."

The Wriston philosophy is chilling. Though he is to be thanked for publicly expressing so bravely what other men of financial power discreetly whisper in private clubs, Wriston is advancing the dangerous idea that institutions should be allowed to function outside the moral and ethical order.

The Wriston brow prefers to be thought of as a campus busybody. The morality of a General Motors' decision, say, to delay the marketing of life-saving airs bags some years back, is not the public's concern. According to the thinking that institutions should be value-free, a vice president for an international bank is right to restrain himself from stealing his secretary's purse which she forgetfully leaves on her desk when she goes to the ladies' room. Free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged. The next morning, Wall Street was in a panic and everyone was selling. Apparently, thousands of people were like him, who handle billions of dollars of investments, all selling at the same time. And people all over America started wondering, if one man could make so many bulls into bears overnight, whether the stock market was a safe investment.

Also, if one man could affect the stock market with one telephone call, what about the other markets — particularly the real estate market, which everyone says is overvalued. I have this nightmare that early one morning, I heard a phone call from my real estate broker, Longworth, who says, "Sell your house right away. The price is going to tumble."

Don't ask questions. I've been going through the classified ads and it's time to hit the road."

What do you want to know?"

Right now, every real estate broker from Longworth and says he wants to at least break even, and we'll lose our shirts. We'll go down the hatchet and make a "For Sale" sign. You clean up the house and repaint the kitchen."

"At four o'clock in the morning, we have to move fast before other people in the neighborhood are tipped off."

I put on my bathrobe, and go down to the cellar and nail a piece of plywood over the front door, and paint "For Sale" in large black letters.

My wife is on the ladder, painting the ceiling. "Hurry up," I tell her. "Before it's too late."

"Where are we going to live if we sell the house?"

"Don't stupid questions. We've got to get rid of this place before the market closes."

At five o'clock in the morning I'm driving the "For Sale" sign into the ground.

My neighbor Ewing hears me and comes outside of his house. "What the hell are you doing?"

"I'm, I'm only telling you this because I'm your friend. The real estate market is going to collapse as soon as the market opens this morning. I got it on the hot line from my broker, and he hasn't been wrong since I subscribed to his service."

Ewing says, "Thanks for telling me and rushes back into his house to make a "For Sale" sign."

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions, and letters are the views of the respective writers. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Can business ethics, personal morality mix?

Colman McCarthy

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions, and letters are the views of the respective writers. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.
Features

Thursday, January 22, 1981 — page 7

More

George Thorogood and the Destroyers (Rundown)

It’s becoming more and more difficult to differentiate between the blues and rhythm ‘n’ blues with George Thorogood. With his latest release, Mad Dog, he’s back with more. Thorogood heads farther away from the mainstream on More George Thorogood and the Destroyers, a revival of the trend you expect from most rapidly rising blues/rock bands, while covering such masters as Howlin’ Dog Taylor, Elmore James, and several other bluesmen, conforming their works to his own distinctive style.

Thorogood is a constant reminder of the value of that vanished breed, the independent record label. They expose us to varieties of music which the commercial record labels have been going out of their way to suppress. As a result, the quality of the disc is high. And the music is raw and in your face. It’s the kind of record that makes you say, “That’s the blues! Thanks to the production of Rounder Records.”

Thorogood’s last release, Move It On Over, was an aptly-named LP, and it is an aptly-named LP, as well. More George Thorogood and the Destroyers is an aptly-named LP, as well. Thorogood could be giving us an idea of the direction his band is headed with an entirely different number, “You Sexy Thing” by Hot Chocolate. (What was its original title?)

More George Thorogood and the Destroyers is an aptly-named LP, as well. Thorogood could be giving us an idea of the direction his band is headed with an entirely different number, “You Sexy Thing” by Hot Chocolate. (What was its original title?)

The question is, “How do you keep a man off the road?” According to George Thorogood, the answer is: “You Sexy Thing” by Hot Chocolate.

The question is, “How do you keep a man off the road?” According to George Thorogood, the answer is: “You Sexy Thing” by Hot Chocolate.

Dire Straits

Making Movies (Warner Bros.)

When Dire Straits first arrived on the music scene in 1978 with “Sultans of Swing,” they were hailed as one of the freshest and most exciting new groups in quite some time. Both that single and their debut album, Dire Straits, made the top five on the charts. Lead singer and guitarist Mark Knopfler ended up doing session work for such standouts as Bob Dylan, Elton John, and several others, conforming their works to his own distinctive style.

Knopfler writes most of the songs in the mid-sixties before becoming lead singer of Bread; (9) David Gates wrote the two hit songs in the mid-sixties before becoming lead singer of Bread; (10) Vince Everett was the Elvis Presley sound alike; and (10) Johnny Crawford was the musician who sang “Cindy’s Birthday” and “Your Nose Is Gonna Grow.”

We’ll get all lined up for the lottery, and we’ll all line up for tickets, and now he’s finally here. I wonder if going to a Bruce Springsteen concert is worth all the hype.

Of course, people are crazy about the Boss as Notre Dame is about to cruise down Notre Dame field to see the Boss and the Big Guys take on the Big Reds. On the night of the concert, there’ll be so many Springsteen fanatics drooling over each other and saying their three songs in the ACC, you’ll think you’re in Hoboken, not South Bend.

This, in itself, isn’t so bad — heroes are sparse these days, and the themes that Springsteen specializes in (loneliness, isolation, escape, and hope) touch many young people of today’s urban and suburban childhoods deeply. This simply proves that the man is an artist with the ability to reach vast numbers in a highly personal way. Bruce’s music is for, many, the purest expression of their own frustrations with society and the establishment.

The last time the Boss performed in the ACC, I decided to go “just to see what all the fuss is about.” I remembered when they gave himself one into the audience in the middle of the second number. “There’s no way this guy is going to keep this momentum up for long,” I said to myself.

But he did. For three hours. Nonstop. I became a believer. I wrote one since. “I have seen the future of rock and roll, and he is Bruce Springsteen.” After that concert two years ago, I would have to agree. Live, on stage, no one can touch him.

Bruce is just in it for the long haul. If Bruce repeats the intensity with which he played last time in the ACC, it will be. If he fails to do so, it will be one of the biggest disappointments in my recent history.

I have to review the concert. I don’t really want to do it. I was disappointed. Bruce’s last album, Born in the U.S.A., has the strongest feeling I’ll be disappointed by this concert. I keep wondering if he can match the slickness of his seventh album with the raw intensity of his earliercareer are a rarity at Notre Dame, mainly because our crowds are fickle and passive — not a Springsteen sort of gathering. But anyone can infall a little excitement out of the Boss and the Big Boss. If he does, the concert will be a good one. If he can’t, he probably won’t put up with it and he’ll probably leave.

As long as the quality of the performance depends mostly upon the people who stood in line to see the show.

Therefore, here’s a message to all those who bought tickets for the biggest concert of the year: Don’t make me write a negative review — have fun, or else.

Tim Neely

Scoop Sullivan
D U

Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 6 p.m. in Gym 4
Club resum es practice sessions on practices of the A.C.C. New mem bers, both formation.
Call Ray at 3185 for additional innew m em bers are encouraged to at p.m., in the Library Lounge. Old and C IL A General M eeting on Sunday, at 6:45
meetings.

Peanuts
HERES THE WORLD -
F AMOUS LAWYER LEAVING
THE COURTHOUSE
THE JUDGE CALLED ME A
NIMENDE, A BOW YER
AND A SN AFFER!
I GUESS THATS WHY
YOU GO TO LAW SCHOOL

The Daily Crossword

TKD Club resumes practices
The Notre Dame Ta Kwon Do
Club resumes practice sessions on Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 6 p.m. in Gym 4
of the A.C.C. New members, both novices and experts, are welcome. Call Ray at 3185 for additional in­formation.

CILA plans meeting
CILA (Community for the International Lay Apostolate) will hold a General Meeting on Monday, at 6:45
p.m., in the library Lounge. Old and new members are encouraged to at­
end. Final plans for the Workshop on Jan. 30-31 and the retreat on Feb.
21-22 with Henri Nouwen will be discussed.

The next day, John was at the river again with two of his disciples. As he watched Jesus walk by, he said, Look, There is the Lamb of God!’ The two disciples heard what he said, and followed Jesus. When Jesus turned around and noticed them following him, he asked them, ‘What are you looking for?’
They said to him, ‘Rabbi, where do you stay?’

‘COME AND SEE,’
be answered. So they went to see where he was lodged, and stayed with him that day.

GENTLEMEN:
THE FRANCISCAN PRISTS
INVITE YOU TO ‘COME AND SEE’,
VOCATION RETREAT
JAN 30-FEB 1
FRANCISCAN RETREAT CENTER
Mount Saint Francis, Indiana

SCUBA LESSONS
Spring Semester
Come to Room 2D
LaFortune Center
7:00 PM — Jan. 22
Bring $30 Deposit
Find out about our Bahamas Trip
for Spring Break!

Call 272-8607 or 272-9780
Aqaurro Scuba Center
Squander lead

Belles drop to 64

By DAVE WILSON
Sports Writer

As if reverting to old ways, Saint Mary's committed a number of costly turnovers in the second half of last night's basketball game with Saint Joseph's College, and the Belles proceeded to drop their fourth game of the year, 72-66. In a contest similar to Monday night's loss to Taylor, the Belles played an outstanding first half and then seemed to slip away under the strong defenses of the Pumas.

"I think we played a super first half," said Coach Jerry Dallasisio. "I suppose if you had to pinpoint the key to the loss, it would be their defense. They had a 1-3-1 trap that just killed our offense."

"Saint Joe's didn't seem to miss a basket the entire second half," he continued. "We tried all our defensive patterns on them, and nothing worked. I guess our frustration led to the large number of turnovers." Dallasisio does appear optimistic despite the loss. He pointed out St. Joe's impressive 10-2 record, as well as the Puma's success against Saint Mary's in the past. The loss dropped the Belles to 6-4.

"We take our games one at a time," he declared. "The losses to Taylor and St. Joe's certainly can be looked upon, it's just a matter of improving upon, it's just a matter of ironing out some of our problems that we have to iron out, but as long as we can see areas to improve upon, it's just a matter of going back to square one."

Sophomore Shari Matvey comes off the bench to average 10 points a game, and her 18 rebounds were a career high. She continued to show promise with a 30-point output in the two weekend games.

"Jenny's play certainly was encouraging," noted her coach. "Her scoring, and the fact that now she's a little more experienced — playing with more poise — is helping to solve some of our problems.

"Jenny's play certainly was encouraging," notes her coach. "Her scoring, and the fact that now she's a little more experienced — playing with more poise — is helping to solve some of our problems."

For the Belles, Ann Armstrong had a 17-point, backed by Mary Pat Sittingham with 11 points, Mary Pat Sittingham with 10, and Tracee Hargreaves with eight. Gernchen Meyer and Mary Bayless both threw in six, while Kim Works and Cheryl Sweeney came off the bench to score two apiece.

Ailing Irish host Valpo

By KELLY SULLIVAN
Women's Sports Editor

An ailing Notre Dame basketball team may get a shot in the arm tonight when the Irish women encounter Valpausio in the ACC at 7:30 tonight, after the Irish women had problems of their own recently. Coach Mary DiStanislao's charges were pounded by Division I schools Miami (Ohio) and Illinois-Chicago Circle over the weekend. Still, the first-year mentor has an optimistic outlook.

"Where there's life, there's hope," she says. "We're having execution problems that we have to iron out, but as long as we can see areas to improve upon, it's just a matter of going back to square one."

Sophomore Shari Matvey continues to pace the Irish in the scoring department with a 13.1 point per game average. The Youngstown, Ohio, product has hit double figures in her last seven games, and in nine of the last 10, on route to becoming Notre Dame's all-time career scoring leader. She led the visitors have never beaten Notre Dame in six previous outings, falling with plenty of partying to Daytona Beach, arriving on the following day. The return trip departs the following day. The return trip departs the following day. The return trip departs the following day. The return trip departs the following day.

The Observer
Thursday, January 22, 1981 — page 9

TRIP INCLUDES
- Round trip motor coach transportation on first class charter coaches leaving the campus Friday evening March 13 and traveling straight through with plenty of partying to Daytona Beach, arriving the following day.
- The return trip departs the following Sat. in the afternoon, and arrives back on campus the next day.
- A full seven nights accommodations at the Plaza Hotel of Daytona Beach, Florida.
- A great time in Daytona with special parties and activities.
- Optional trip to Disney World available.
- All taxes and gratuities.

MARCH 13 - 22, 1981

MARCH 13 - 22, 1981

$207
$195

$207
$195

SIGN UP NOW AT THE TICKET OFFICE IN THE LA FORTUNE BUILDING
8:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m. MON.-FRI.
OR CALL 283-3031 (after five 283-6283)
The Observer

Thursday, January 22, 1981 — page 10

MICHIGAN SNO-NO REPORTS —
Snow, ski, snowmobile and road reports. 24 hours a day. Free literature available.

ATTENTION JUNIOR CLASS
Seating for President’s Dinner
Junior Parent’s Weekend
LaFortune Main Lounge
Thurs., Jan. 22, 7-10 p.m.
Fri., Jan. 23, 6-9 p.m.
For Seating Arrangements the Following Information is Necessary:
1) Each person may bring 3 ID’s total (including his own)
2) Parents’ full names and home addresses
3) Number of people attending per family.

RIVER CITY RECORDS
Northern Indiana’s Largest Selection of Albums & Tapes and Lowest Prices! Why pay more at the malls?
$1.00 OFF!
any regular album or tape
with this coupon.
Limit 1 per person. Expires Jan. 31, 1981

SPORTS STAFF
MANDATORY MEETING
tonight 6:30 p.m.

Some say FIGHTING IRISH is bred under the Golden Dome — Don’t believe it. Its bred at the end of the rainbow by Leprechauns.

RIVER CITY RECORDS
6099 US 31 North
3 miles from campus
next to A&A Supermarket
277-4242

CHRIS NEEDLES
Sports Writer

Beating the odds—handily

Jack McKinney

CHICAGO — The game itself, the Indiana Pacers against the Chicago Bulls in ancient Chicago Stadium, was nothing more than a matchup of two Central Division rivals battling for a playoff berth in the middle of an endless 82-game NBA schedule. But it was also the continuation of an ongoing, almost unbelievable soap opera of sorts, that began on a fateful day in November, 1979.

It was a rainy afternoon afternoon in Southern California, and the head coach of the Los Angeles Lakers at that time, Jack McKinney, was about to embark on a friendship game of events with his then-assistant coach, Paul Westhead.

“Last thing I remember was getting the bicycle out of the shop and hopping on it,” McKinney says now. “Whatever happened after that is a total blank.”

What did happen is not exactly known, but as some eyewitnesses tell it, at McKinney was riding down a steep hill, the bicycle somehow malfunctioned. McKinney was hurtled over the handlebars, and landed head-first on the pavement, knocking him unconscious.

When the paramedics arrived, two of them determined that he was already dead. One paramedic, though, felt that McKinney could be revived because he looked, and indeed was, in peak physical condition.

Jack McKinney spent ten days in a coma in the intensive care unit of a Los Angeles hospital. During that period, he was listed in very critical condition and many of his vital signs were deteriorating. But, miraculously, he regained consciousness and — eventually — recovered to resume his healthy, active life.

While he was recuperating, it was agreed upon to let Westhead take control of the Lakers for the remainder of the “79-80 campaign, and McKinney regained his coach for the ’80-81 season.

When Paul Westhead took over the head coaching reigns, the Lakers’ record was 10-4, good enough for first place in the NBA Pacific Division. They were playing their best basketball since the early ’70s, when guys named Chamberlain, West, Baylor and Abdul Jabbar, Magic Johnson, Jamaal Wilkes, and Norm Nixon. It was a different era in one that Gore Shue (to cite one example) was unable to accomplish with Philadelphia in the mid ’70s when he had Julius Erving, George McGinnis, Darryl Dawkins, and Lloyd Free on the court at the same time. But McKinney, it seemed, had been successful.

Westhead’s job was simple, for he already knew McKinney’s system by heart. Under Westhead, the Lakers won the NBA Championship last season, defeating the Sixers in six games. But while that series was being played, another off-the-court drama was unfolding.

Before Game Four, Lakers owner Jerry Buss, one of those greedy business moguls with lots of money and little emotions, announced a decision that probably took him all of two seconds to make.

“Paul Westhead is my coach next season, Jack McKinney? Who’s he?”

And so, Jack McKinney, who had built the framework for a Lakers championship, who had nearly lost his life, had now lost his job, thanks to the spur of the moment decision of an insensitive idiot of an owner. He was, in layman’s terms, pimped royally.

“Jerry Buss never told me anything about my firing,” said an embittered McKinney. “Actually, I found out when I called home to see how things were. My son told me he had heard it on the radio.”

But Jack is back in the NBA as head coach of the Indiana Pacers, who are an ABA transfer that, before this season, had never even approached the 500 level, let alone the NBA playoffs.

Now, McKinney has performed his magic once again, transforming a perennial doormat of a team into a legitimate playoff contender in just half a season.

“I really hasn’t been anything outstanding that I’ve done,” said McKinney in his suite at the Chicago Downtown Marriott Hotel. “It’s been the players. They’re beginning to believe in themselves. My favorite expression has always been, ‘Winning builds confidence, and confidence builds winning.’ It took about 10 or 15 games this year, but I think the players finally have that confidence in their own abilities.”

On this night, the Bulls, thanks to a 76-point second half outburst, defeated the Pacers, 123-105. But Indiana’s record stood at 29-20, nine games over .500, and they were in second place in the Eastern Conference, and in the best position to capture a playoff position come April.

And so, Jack McKinney, who had built the framework for the ’79-’80 Lakers, who was recuperating, it was agreed upon to let Westhead take control of the Lakers for the remainder of the “79-80 campaign, and McKinney regained his coach for the ’80-81 season.

RIVER CITY RECORDS

Buy Observer
Classifieds

ARRANGEMENTS BY STUDENT SUNTRIPS, INC.
Today is the deadline for interhall sign up men's and women's volleyball, doubles racquetball and doubles handball. All participants must have proof of insurance on file in the interhall office. All questions, please call the interhall office at 6100 or stop by C-2 of the ACC.

Oakland cornerbender Lester Hayes says he might catch more than Hands Charismatic in Sunday's Super Bowl game. "If he wants to catch more passes, he better not go on my side of the field, 'cause he's on my side, he's gonna have a hard time," Hayes said yesterday. "It's a fact, he's better than the other side of the field, or the field edge. You might not catch more than he will." Talk, that's just talk, replies Philadelphia's towering wide receiver. "If Hayes said that, it must be right," Charismatic responded later with a grin.

The Women's Track Club practices every day in the ACC concourse at 4:30 p.m. Anyone interested in participating is encouraged to attend. Be prepared to run outsides for more information, contact Cindy McNally at 8152 or Rosanne Bellomo at 6896.

Gerry Faust would like any freshmen men to contact him if they wish to attend an important meeting tomorrow afternoon in the ACC auditorium. Faust will be holding a meeting for all freshmen managers for spring football practice. The meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m.

Continued from page 12

pumped in another 20-foot jumper to the Don's at 53. The two clubs stayed close until the closing minutes when Kelly Trupica returned from a slump, chipped in the majority of his 20 points and put Notre Dame up, 66-60.

"We did not execute with the ball in the second half like we're capable of," said Barry, who also added that Notre Dame's ability to shut off the 7-foot Bryant was a key.

"We started foning him (Bryan)," said Phelps, "and they forgot to look for him in the second half."

Varner, Trupica, and San Francisco's Bowers and John Hopp wood all fouled out with just minutes remaining. The loss of two key players worried both bench, but especially that of Barry, who ad admits his club is basically a "one-man team."

The 6-3 Dailey put on a monument show to close the gap. It was the Don's high point man who also put the 13-4 California club on top by 74-65 remaining.

Following a Notre Dame timeout was John Panos who was a key winner show with his player-jum

WANTED

2 tickets to Springsteen concert with Mark Johnson at 9555 in the evening.

TICKETS

need 3-4 tickets for UCLA game call 7992

LOST/FOUND

sold silver, Christopher metal Thx. 3-1-877 at Trupica call book 7160 true silver, placed watering (water elephant flavor) Reward, if found, call c777-2835.

Women's Gold Watch on Friday 6728 bar or Christy 6714.

FOR RENT

houses for rent summer and/or school year. Good condition, close to campus, partially furnished. Call 337-5816.00 per month.

houses for rent, second semester and/or next year. Excellent condition, close to campus, partially furnished. Rent is $100 per month. Call 333-5816.

Rockwall, 30 miles from U of T, fully furnished three bedroom house. Furnished or unfurnished. Call 333-5816.

FOR SALE

WANTED

need one guitar for fall tour U of T at 287-2057. MAKE SOME MONEY IF YOU DON'T WANT YOUR GUITAR ANYMORE.

LOST/FOUND

help: teen was to K 4000 or more for a few weekends. Struggling hang out on your campus advertising our half price tours of 1981 with our TRAVEL STUDY INTERNATIONAL 101 E 44th street, suite 11, hall City, U 81717.

found: a watch in class- please turn in to SGA office.

found, a watch in hall. please turn in to SGA office.

lost: Woman's Gold Watch on Friday 6728 Sue or Christy 6734.

lost: Woman's Gold Watch on Friday 6728 Sue or Christy 6734.

PERSONALS

CLASSIFIEDS

For lost or found articles please call 288-3109. After 6 please call 8152. For lost personal effects please call 8152.

FOR SALE

green car new volkswagon. great, grey trim, licensed. 2925.00 at 288-3109.

WANTED

WANTING HOUSEMATE: Rockwall for rent close to University. 4870/50. Inc. 232-5816.

PERSONALS

CLASSIFIEDS

For lost or found articles please call 288-3109. After 6 please call 8152. For lost personal effects please call 8152.
Sweet revenge

Irish stun Dons

By BETH HUFFMAN
Sports Editor

"As you can tell, it was an easy win," laughed Digger Phelps after Notre Dame's seventh straight win over San Francisco in the Associated Press Top 20 Poll Monday.

Notre Dame added another major victory as sophomore sharpshooter Kenny McAlister made a 3-pointer with 0:08 showing on the clock, so junior guard John Paxson let it fly from 20 feet. The ball sailed up and in, and the Irish had another of their patented miracle victories. Paxson finished with a career-high 22 points. (Photo by Rachel Blount)

Senior left wing Kevin Humphreys skates into the weekend having scored seven goals in his last six games. Jeff Logan, who scored once and had two assists last weekend, leads the Irish in scoring with 12 goals and 13 assists for 25 points. Humphreys and Dave Poulin follow with 24 points each.

Following this, Notre Dame embarks upon a three-week road schedule with a series at Minnesota-Duluth.

IRISH ICINGS - WSND-AM will broadcast both games live this weekend beginning at 7:30... Minnesota's Bryan Erickson was named WCHA player of the week after scoring four goals and assisting on six games. Jeff Logan, who scored once and had two assists last weekend, leads the Irish in scoring with 12 goals and 13 assists for 25 points. Humphreys and Dave Poulin follow with 24 points each.

Cris ORICERS to host Denver; aim for playoffs

By BRIAN BEGLANE
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame hockey team, in place in the Western Collegiate Hockey Association with a 9-10 record (9-12 overall) continues its fight for a playoff spot this weekend when Denver University pays a visit to the ACC.

The Pioneers, in third place in the WCHA with a 9-6-1 mark and at one point this season the No. 1 team in the country, have surprised many folks this year. Coach Marshall Johnston had faced some big losses when Glenn Anderson turned pro in August and go-ahead Stuart Birenbaum was forced to take this season off due to illness. But a host of younger players have come through.

Remaining goalie Scott Robinson is tops in the WCHA with a 2.89 goals against average and while offensive production has not been high, it's been consistent enough to get the Pioneers where they are now.

Ed Beers is the leading goal scorer — he with just 11 — while Ken Berry is the top overall scorer with 32 points.

"We really have our work cut out for us," said Irish Coach Lefty Smith.

"Denver is one of the best teams in the nation and facing a tough team for the second week in a row does not help any. We can't afford to drop any further."

The Irish head into the series missing two forwards, Junior Dan Collins and sophomore Dick Olson, who suffered a broken knuckle two weeks ago at Michigan Tech and will probably miss his second straight series while Olson sustained an injury to the back of his knee last Friday against North Dakota and is out indefinitely.

Senior left wing Kevin Humphreys skates into the weekend having scored seven goals in his last six games. Jeff Logan, who scored once and had two assists last weekend, leads the Irish in scoring with 12 goals and 13 assists for 25 points. Humphreys and Dave Poulin follow with 24 points each.

This following, Notre Dame embarks upon a three-week road schedule with a series at Minnesota-Duluth.

IRISH ICINGS - WSN-D-AM will broadcast both games live this weekend beginning at 7:30... Minnesota's Bryan Erickson was named WCHA player of the week after scoring four goals and assisting on six games. Jeff Logan, who scored once and had two assists last weekend, leads the Irish in scoring with 12 goals and 13 assists for 25 points. Humphreys and Dave Poulin follow with 24 points each.

Cheer, cheer...

Craig Chval
Sports Writer

Things aren't supposed to happen this way. We get up in our sterile, middle-class world, where our boys battle the all-American stereotypes. The boys grow up to be big and strong, will grow up to be football players. And his sister, with pony tails and an ear to ear grin.

McDonnell expressed sympathy for the conditions WCHA with a 9-6-1 mark and at one point this season the No. 1 team in the country, have surprised many folks this year. Coach Marshall Johnston had faced some big losses when Glenn Anderson turned pro in August and go-ahead Stuart Birenbaum was forced to take this season off due to illness. But a host of younger players have come through.

Remaining goalie Scott Robinson is tops in the WCHA with a 2.89 goals against average and while offensive production has not been high, it's been consistent enough to get the Pioneers where they are now.

Ed Beers is the leading goal scorer — he with just 11 — while Ken Berry is the top overall scorer with 32 points.

"We really have our work cut out for us," said Irish Coach Lefty Smith.

"Denver is one of the best teams in the nation and facing a tough team for the second week in a row does not help any. We can't afford to drop any further."

The Irish head into the series missing two forwards, Junior Dan Collins and sophomore Dick Olson, who suffered a broken knuckle two weeks ago at Michigan Tech and will probably miss his second straight series while Olson sustained an injury to the back of his knee last Friday against North Dakota and is out indefinitely.

Senior left wing Kevin Humphreys skates into the weekend having scored seven goals in his last six games. Jeff Logan, who scored once and had two assists last weekend, leads the Irish in scoring with 12 goals and 13 assists for 25 points. Humphreys and Dave Poulin follow with 24 points each.

This following, Notre Dame embarks upon a three-week road schedule with a series at Minnesota-Duluth.

IRISH ICINGS - WSN-D-AM will broadcast both games live this weekend beginning at 7:30... Minnesota's Bryan Erickson was named WCHA player of the week after scoring four goals and assisting on six games. Jeff Logan, who scored once and had two assists last weekend, leads the Irish in scoring with 12 goals and 13 assists for 25 points. Humphreys and Dave Poulin follow with 24 points each.

Cheer, cheer...

Craig Chval
Sports Writer

Things aren't supposed to happen this way. We get up in our sterile, middle-class world, where our boys battle the all-American stereotypes. The boys grow up to be football players. And his sister, with pony tails and an ear to ear grin.

McDonnell expressed sympathy for the conditions