Tickets for the office of SBF/SPB are: Don Manley and Tara Kinney, and Pat Borchers and Rosemary Camino. The two candidates are contesting for the five Student Senate seats. The races were won on Tuesday.

District 1 — (St. Edward's, Loyola, Cross, Corbin, Solis, Walsh, and Alumni House and Navarro Lawn, Grant Park, Padgett.)

District 2 — (Stark, Kremen, Zahn, Gavenaght, Bevis-Philips, and Ferley.) Brian Callaghan, Edward Bylina.

District 3 — (Dillon, Fisher, Pangborn, Lyon, Morrison, Radis, and Howard.) Robert Zimmerman, Tom Cushing, Carl Carney, Patricia Hiler, David Dicen.

District 4 — (Flanner, Grace, Villa Angela, Paquettella East and West.) Karen Corbett, Thomas Weithman.

District 5 — (Off-Campus.) Mike Schellmeier, Matthew Huffman.

Official campaigning begins Feb. 23 at 1:00 p.m., and ends March 2 at 11:59 p.m. The election will be held on March 5, and if a runoff is necessary, it will be held on March 9. Voting will be held in the dormitories, people who are off-campus and wish to vote can do so in the Library entrance for the entire election process.

Paul Reible, this year's student body president, praised the students for their interest in the election process. "I'm excited about the number of students following the campaign," he said. Reible urged the candidates to take their campaigning seriously, and "vote early for their friends, for all those who are running." I hope that all candidates will work hard to get the students' votes, and the candidates know what they would like to see happen here at Notre Dame," he stated.

Latest Vegas fire sparks arson concern

By TIMOTHY HARPER

Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — The fire at the Las Vegas Hilton Hotel was not the only case of arson in the United States last Tuesday. There were 400 others. There will be 400 more today. "Arson is an epidemic in this country," said Ed Wall, who teaches investigative techniques at the government's National Fire Academy in Emmitsburg, Md.

Indeed, Americans are setting fires to their homes and businesses, even their cars, in record numbers, prompting the anti-arson efforts by government agencies and private associations.

Ambassador White, former ambassador to El Salvador, is scheduled to speak in O'Laughlin Auditorium in March. An awareness program is also being organized to make students aware of U.S. involvement in El Salvador.

In other business, Student Body President Kathleen Sweeney urged the board to "utilize the Snack Bar as a place of communication." A travel board has been organized in the Snack Bar to aid students who need rides or riders. A map, divided into regions of the U.S., has been set up for a computerized system to investigate fire reports.

John Lynch, an arson specialist for the American Insurance Association, said member insurance companies recently spent $82 million for a computerized system to investigate fire reports.

He said the system turns up any earlier fires at the same location, undisclosed insurance policies and the names of people who have a history of collecting insurance on fires. "The system costs $100,000 to $1 million a year to operate, but it's worth it because it can save insurance companies," Lynch said. "In terms of arson, it doesn't take long for millions to accumulate.

Yet arson remains one of the toughest crimes for authorities to snuff out. The U.S. Fire Administration said an arsonist has less than one chance in 10 of being arrested, and less than one in 100 of being convicted.

In 1979, the last year for which complete statistics are available, there were 1,495,000 known cases of arson in this country, and tens of thousands of other fires which may have been started deliberately.

The National Fire Protection Association, said the average arson case caused $75,000 in damage to the nation's wild lands last year.

The U.S. Fire Administration said the average arson case cost $9,000 in property damage in 1979, nearly twice that of a non-arson fire. And figures still being compiled for 1980 are undoubtedly higher, authorities said.

Bruce Bogart of the American Insurance Association in New York said reported arson cases have increased by about 25 percent each year in the past decade.

"The biggest increase has been in cars. There were 61,500 cases of arson in automobiles in 1979, up 55 percent," he said. "People have taken to the roads hoping they can't sell, so they burn 'em up.""

A danger to freedom

Margie Brussel
SMC Executive Editor

Inside Monday

Candidates run openly on the Communist Party ticket in this country for the first time. If we learn from history, we would understand that separate, individual "conspirators" do very little to undermine our government. They can never have the power or the resources to adequately infiltrate a political system as it is structured today.

Our government suffers further damage when the system violates its own values and beliefs. When the system begins to suspect and then persecute in individuals because they differ from the status quo, it abuses our very freedoms it is trying to protect. When the arms, writers and actors who expressed a more radical view of the world were blacklisted and jailed for those views, HUAC was denying their freedom of expression. Many brave people during the 1950s and 1960s risked their lives to speak out against the Red Scare and to protect our freedoms.

The purpose of Crane's group for the reinstatement of the committee is not in itself dangerous. Terrorism in any form should be regarded as a danger to freedom. It may be at the expense of individual freedoms. Nor should it create such a panic of lies and hysterics as it did in the McCarthy Era. The House Un-American Activities Committee has the ability to allow another such group to surface again. The abuses of power that result from fanatics blinded by their righteousness warp our democratic system.

The potential of the committee is not in itself a grave threat to the stability of our government. Pro-Castro groups have operated in this country for many years in the Caribbean communities of Miami, New York. By themselves and these other groups, for example the Puerto Rican group FALN, present a minor threat to the integrity of our government. The danger lies in the use of the committee as an instrument of power, dealing with such groups through wholesale suspensions of individual rights and freedoms such as occurred in the past under the HUAC. We are far more vulnerable from the fanatics within than from those with

ND celebrates Corps’ founding

By DAVID RICKBAUGH
Staff Reporter

Plans have started at the University of Notre Dame on a major celebration marking the twentieth anniversary of the Peace Corps, according to Admissions Director John Goldrick.

"It's to recognize, of course, the agency's first director, formally announced in a commencement address at Notre Dame in June, 1961 than the University would administer the Chicano Peace Corps Project.

One month later, a training program for 51 young men and women began at Notre Dame under the direction of Walter Langford, professor of Modern Languages, and one of the scheduled speakers for the March event. Included in the first group were nine Notre Dame and three Saint Mary's College graduates.

The University continues as a recruiting center for volunteers and is ranked in the top forty campuses for number of recruits today.

The Notre Dame observance will include a March 24 keynote address by an as-yet unannounced speaker. Other talks and a panel discussion to explore the history of the Peace Corps, the implications for the future, the role of women volunteers, and the possible directions for the future are scheduled for the final day.

Current and former national leaders, several congressmen and senators who served as Peace Corps volunteers for two or more years, approximately 100 student leaders, graduates of the Notre Dame training program, faculty, and other former volunteers have been invited to participate in the March 24-25 observance.

Goldrick and his wife, Jacqueline, both former Peace Corps volunteers, are the campus chairpersons for the event.

Anyone interested in applying for the position of Peace Corps volunteer is encouraged to submit a proposal for a training program.

Dr. John Goldrick, director of the Peace Corps Project, said, "Until 1975, when we set up our arson task force, one of 204 set up around the country, the government helped train personnel and organize cooperation among fire and police departments, prosecutors and citizen groups."

"Until 1975, when we set up our task force, arson here was ridiculous," said Robert Davis, chief arson investigator for the fire department. "I put it out and is then hailed as a hero. Little, if any, is done to sound the fire alarm and begin evacuating guests.

Lynch credited the quick arrest to Las Vegas' "arson task force," one of 204 set up around the country. The government helped train personnel and organize cooperation among fire and police departments, prosecutors and citizen groups."

"Until 1975, when we set up our task force, arson here was ridiculous," said Robert Davis, chief arson investigator for the fire department, which formed one of the first task forces.

In the last five and a half years, he said, arson arrests and convictions have gone up and instances of arson have gone down.

SMC hosts prayer house

By LINDA WEEKS

News Staff

The Sisters of the Holy Cross have set aside part of the Saint Mary's campus for solitude and reflection. Mary's solitude, a house of prayer and silence, is open to all who need a quiet place to reflect upon their relationship with God, themselves and others, according to staff member Sr. Melanie. Mary's Solitude was founded six years ago in a garden behind Augusta Hall on the westernmost point of the campus.

Named after the order's founder, Fr. Moreton, the prayer house, The Solitude, Mary's Solitude is completely renovated and houses several bedrooms, a large kitchen and dining hall, a spacious lounge, library, offices, and chapel.

"Mary's Solitude is a house of prayer, not a retreat house," Sr. Melanie said. "There are no organized activities or group programs, although counseling and spiritual direction are available on a one-to-one basis.

Mary's Solitude has a permanent staff, the Core Group, available to counsel spiritual and personal matters.

"The essence of Mary's Solitude is silence, solitude, prayer, and reflection," Sr. Melanie said. "There are no radios or other loud activities allowed. Even conversation between visitors is not encouraged."

The length of a stay at Mary's Solitude varies. Laundry service and meals are provided with the help of donations left by visitors.

Although Mary's Solitude is based on contemplative prayer, the house does offer other forms of worship. There is the Liturgy of the Office every morning at 8:00, daily Mass at 4:45, and Vespers every evening at 7:00.

mile in Irish history. He eclipsed Ed Dean's 4:03.6 ND mile record which was set in 1966. It also qualifies him for the NCAA Championships in the mile. He had already qualified for the half mile.

Aragon's mile left both his teammates and his coaches with the impression that he can run faster—and break four minutes. One reason for this is that he ran each quarter mile faster than the previous one. His splits (quarter-mile times) were 64, 61, 60, and 58 seconds. Aragon obviously wasn't tiring and it may only take a faster-paced field to push Aragon below the four minute barrier.

"It's going to take a race where they run the half a little quicker," said Piane.

All-American teammate Tim Macaulay commented, "He took it easy most of the race. His potential is limitless. He is definitely going to break four minutes. I think all he has to do is to get into a fast race."

The Blue Wave participated in an invitational over the weekend. See Sports Briefs on page 7 for details.

Looking back at it, our friend appears rather shortsighted. In 1864, The Travelers had just started doing business. He was concerned about the uncertain world situation and decided to stick with a job with a future. So he turned down our offer and went on selling blacksmith supplies. The rest is history.

Our point is, in the hundred-plus years we've been doing business, The Travelers never lost faith in the future. Through good times and bad, we've achieved our growth by daring to innovate. In 1864, we were the first company to insure against accidents. In 1919, we were the first to offer aircraft liability insurance. In 1979, we were the first company to install the Distributed Claims Processing Computer—the fastest way there is to pay claims. We could go on, but you get the point.

Today, The Travelers is a Fortune 500 company with wide-ranging career opportunities in accounting, sales, engineering, underwriting, data processing, finance. We're taking the lead to make sure no man or woman at The Travelers is shortchanged when it comes to having an equal opportunity to succeed.

"Our Representative will be visiting your campus on February 23. Your Placement Director has additional information."

At The Travelers, we're ready to meet the future, starting yesterday.

SMC wins one, loses two in Wisconsin tournay

By DAVID WILSON
Sports Writer

Saint Mary's picked up a win and two losses over the weekend at the University of Wisconsin Basketball Tournament. The performance was good enough for fourth place and gives the Belles a 12-9 record. The Belles face Grace College tonight at 7:00 in Angela Athletic Facility.

The team began the tournament Friday night by clubbing Ripon College, 70-44, according to Saint Mary's coach Jerry Dallesio, "the game was in the second half." The Belles got off to a good start and "we were just too much for us." Dallesio continued. "We stayed with them for awhile, but their strength and strong shooting got the better of us in the second half."

"We only lost 95 per cent," he continued. "That had been our worst percentage for the whole year. They were just too much for us."

Finally, in a close game, Saint Mary's took Saint Norbert's all the way to the wire before losing 64-62 in overtime. Armstrong had another strong game with 18 points and six rebounds. King scored another 14 and Mary Patillingham went in for 11.

"We probably played our best game for a losing effort," Dallesio said. "We were consistent, played a strong defense and didn't foul as much as we used to.

"It's starting to see the experience of our second year play off." He continued. "We've cut down on our turnovers and our rebounds and our biggest improvement has been in consistency."

"But we still need to work on avoiding those unnecessary turnovers and the way our game is going," he said. "They've been bothering us all season.

In addition to their fourth place finish, the Belles Armstrong was placed on the All-District Team, and Saint Mary's will play one more home contest later this week before preparing for the District Tournament in Fort Wayne.

'Iron' leads Irish past Wolves

BY MARK HANNUSSELA

RALIEGH, N.C. - Outplaying North Carolina State in every facet of the game, Notre Dame cruised to a surprisingly easy 71-55 victory over the Wolfpack in the 83rd annual Reynolds Coliseum Saturday night.

In running their record to 19-1, the Irish improved their career record to 326-111-6, and outplayed Coach Jim Valvano's third-place Wolfpack.

Senior co-captain Orlando Woolridge, who scored 17 points, had a solid all-around game and was the team's leader in rebounds. His output of 24 points and nine of nine scoring from the free throw line and eight rebounds led Notre Dame.

Jackson, who has done so many times against Atlantic Coast Conference foes in his career, played another steady game, hitting seven of nine from the free throw line, and both of his four free throw attempts, for 16 points.

Notre Dame, which was coming off a disappointing and controversial 51-46 loss to number-one ranked Virginia Thursday night, also had three players in double figures.

Sophomore forward Therl Bailey, the team's leading scorer and rebounder, scored 11 first-half points and finished with 17. He also collected four rebounds.

Seth Pervice, a 6-foot junior from Lockport, Ill., scored eight first-half points and wound up with 14, while 6-foot-8 sophomore Derek Whitener added ten.

Woodside also led Notre Dame with eight rebounds and two blocked shots.

All-American candidate Kelly Tripuka and senior teammate Frac Amsden (14 points) both scored 13 in the second half, with the former hauling down seven rebounds.

Jackson, as he has done so many times, hit 5-of-6 from the field, and eight of ten at the free throw line. Jackson is now 57-of-70 from the field, and eight of ten at the free throw line. Jackson is now 57-of-70 from the field, and eight of ten at the free throw line.

Arkansas commented. "We stayed with the team in rebounds, pulling down 46 team points. Fourth place was a pretty good game, don't you think?"

Irish running back Greg Bell turned in a game to remember, 15-11-1/2 long jump, and a lack of turnovers helped the Irish. But from that 4-2 deficit, Notre Dame came back to win the game..." 11-4 spurt to take that 11 point lead seven minutes into Friday's game.

The Irish scored the next six points to take a 21-2 lead, and coasted the rest of the way, handing State its 11th loss in 25 games.

State took the loss as a personal achievement. "Chuck was the outstanding performance by ND in many years," said sprint coach Kelly.
