Solidarity rebels in hour strike

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Solidarity defiantly went west ahead with plans for a one-hour, nationwide strike today over food shortages and other problems. The Polish Communist Party's Central Committee and the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact were reporting preparing separate meetings.

Lech Walesa, leader of the independent labor movement, had been expected to hold talks with government officials last night, apparently in hopes of heading off the walkout. But union sources said he had not met any officials, and that the nationwide protest would go ahead as planned at noon.

The government information agency Interpress said Polish troops were taking up positions in villages and towns and their initial reception was "friendly." Communist Party officials said the 200-member Central Committee would meet soon after the strike, the biggest since a four-hour, national walkout March 27. They said Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski, the party chief, defense minister and prime minister, might reshuffle the Cabinet or Communist Party Politburo.

The Hungarian newspaper MTI said the Warsaw Pact defense ministers would meet soon in Budapest, Hungary. MTI did not give a date but there have been fears of Soviet intervention in Poland ever since Solidarity was created 14 months ago as the first union free of party control in the Soviet bloc.

The Polish protest is expected to idle millions of workers, and has been condemned by the government and party as threatening Poland's "political, economic and defensive" foundations. It has also sparked protests from state-run unions who vowed to work.

Wildcat strikes have been simmering for weeks as continued Tuesday in Zyrardow, 20 miles west of Warsaw, where 12,000 workers occupied textile mills, in southeastern Tarnobrzeg, where 120,000 more struck heavy industrial plants, and in far western Zielona Gora where some 150,000 workers were off the job.

Walesa met with about 5,000 private employers Tuesday where women textile workers were on strike for the 15th day over food shortages. "The strength of the union lies in unity of action, but this strike was unavoidable," he told the rally.

In a surprisingly open report, Interpress said troops were countering "indiscipline," "stupidity and license of bureaucrats," and halting "the damage done to the people's health for the benefit of bureaucratic interests.

Interpress said the soldiers who were ordered into villages and towns Monday were beginning to study causes of a drop in meat supplies, the official ritual in meat to supervise and procure stocks supplies of meat.

Lt. Col. Stefan Laszakiewicz was quoted as saying that his squads had already solved problems in sugar distribution at one factory and reopened a shop which had been closed because the shopkeeper was ill.

Western observers said that the reported success of the military squads would enhance the image of the army as an organization apparently capable of acting when the bureaucracy became bogged down.

Hesburgh announces administrative posts

Four administrative appointments were announced yesterday by President Theodore M. Hesburgh, C.S.C.

Fr. Edward A. Malloy, C.S.C., associate professor of theology has been named associate provost designate by the Board of Trustees and will succeed the retiring Fr. Ferdinand Brown, C.S.C., June 1, 1982.

Malloy, an ethicist, received his B.A. and M.A. in English from Notre Dame in 1963 and 1967, respectively, and his master’s in theology from the university in 1965. He was ordained in 1970. He, Ph.D. in Christian ethics was received in 1975 from Vanderbilt University, where he was a Smith Fellow from 1970 to 1972. Malloy, 40, joined Notre Dame’s Theology faculty in 1974.

Fr. David T. Tyson, C.S.C., assistant professor of management at Notre Dame, will be named to the newly created position of executive assistant to Fr. Hesburgh, effective Jan. 15, 1982.

Tyson, 33, received his undergraduate degree in sociology from Notre Dame in 1970 and his M.B. degree in 1974. He was an admin.

Animal inventory

System keeps mating straight

By GALE TOLLIN

APPLEx VALLEY, Miss. (AP) — In a cramped little office on the grounds of the Mississippi Zoological Garden, computers keep track of vital statistics for 50,000 animals and birds on three continents. The aim is matching mating.

Wednesday Focus

This "animal dating game" is a project of ISIS, the International Species Inventory System. Isis was the Egyptian goddess of fertility. ISIS helps member zoos mate animals to avoid inbreeding and subsequent infertility.

Each of 150 member institutions, including 130 zoos in the United States, Canada, Europe, New Zealand, Puerto Rico and Colombia, has a minimum of 100, by $1 for each animal or bird reported to ISIS.

ISIS enables zoos to pool and share information. Nate Flesness sees the nonprofit research organization as a central figure, combining on a different scale the functions of the U.S. Census Bureau, the American Kennel Club and a genetics counselor.

For each animal or bird reported to ISIS, Flesness lists the age, sex, parents, present where-abouts, where born, where acquired, tattoo identification or tag number.

Reports are updated for births or deaths when animals are moved.

Student ticket exchange features HPC meeting

By CHUCK ZAMMIT

News Staff

Ticket policies, the student escort service and the Landon Turner Fund were the main topics of discussion during last night’s Hall President’s Council meeting.

Ticket Manager Steve Orsini proposed a new policy for exchanging unwanted basketball tickets. The procedure, for students only, will be run by a student in each hall.

Unwanted tickets are brought to hall representatives who remove the ticket from its book and validate it for use separate from its original booklet, contrary to standard University procedure.

Students who do not have tickets for a specific game can use one of the validated tickets for a specific game, but will have to present student identification to prevent scalping at more popular games.

It was also announced that the first 1,000 students will get in free to hockey games during the team’s current season to demonstrate support for the team.

All proceeds from the intrasquad basketball game Sunday, Nov. 15 in the ACC Arena will support the Special Olympics and the Neighborhood Help Program.

The split package method for basketball games was discussed. Having "quality" games and "dud" games separate was proposed.
After a campaign on increasingly racial lines in Atlanta, Ga., a "city too busy to hate," voters went to the polls yesterday for a mayoral runoff between former U.N. Ambassador Andrew Young and Mayor Maynard Jackson. Young won the race by a narrow margin, effectively ending his campaign. The binary system of mayoral elections in Atlanta, where the winner must receive more than a majority of the vote, has led to a two-vote runoff between the two main candidates. The runoff is a direct consequence of the city's electoral system, which is unique among American cities. It is designed to ensure that the mayor is elected with a mandate from the voters, and it has led to numerous runoffs in recent years. The runoff election is crucial for the city as it determines the mayor's ability to implement policies and address the challenges facing Atlanta. The city is facing significant issues, including poverty, crime, and education, and the new mayor will need to address these problems to improve the quality of life for its residents.
Israel denies AWACS association

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel remains opposed to U.S. sale of AWACS radar planes to Saudi Arabia, but has muted its criticism and taken steps to disclaim responsibility if the sale is blocked by the U.S. Congress.

With a slim majority apparently lined up against the deal, Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin said Wednesday he had readied his opposition to the deal but would not block it himself.

Prime Minister Menachem Begin said Wednesday he had readied his opposition to the deal but would not block it himself.

Begin said he would not block the sale because he did not want to be seen as blocking the deal himself.

He said that he would not block the sale because he did not want to be seen as blocking the deal himself.

However, he did say that he would not support the sale because he believed it was not in Israel's best interests.

The gap is closing. We're within a handful of votes."

ND 'enforcing policy' in campus driving

By MARK BOENNIGHAUSEN

Saint Mary's students are on- campus driving difficulty driving onto the Saint Mary's campus due to Notre Dame Security's enforcement of a long-standing policy that only allows a limited number of people to drive on campus.

Director of Security Glen Terry explained, as Notre Dame is a pedestrian campus. "Pedestrian campus," as Terry said, "is only a reinforcement of a long standing policy. Reagan nears vote needed for AWACS

WASHINGTON (AP) - President Reagan switched three opponents and picked up five other votes from among uncommitted senators yesterday in a major gain for his fight to rescue an $8.5 billion Saudi arms sale from Senate defeat.

The gains put the president within four votes of a come-from-behind victory for the sale of AWACS radar planes and F-15 jet fighter weaponry.

The latest Associated Press count said 52 senators declared against the sale, 46 announced or expressed in favor, and two undecided.

Switching in favor of the sale were Sens. Roger W. Jeffords, R-Vt., who had been a declared opponent, and Sens. Charles E. Grassley, R-Iowa, and J. James Exon, D-Neb., both of whom had been leaning against it.

Five senators who had been un-committed came out in favor of the sale, yesterday. They were: Robert Dole, R-Kan., Harrison Schmitt, D-N.M., Walter D. Huddleston, D-Ky., David Durenberger, R-Minn., and Frank H. Murkowski, R-Alaska.

Reagan plans to send Senate Majority Leader Howard Baker, R-Tenn, a letter Wednesday outlining the arrangements between Saudi Arabia and the United States for the sale. Gergen said the letter will not be classified, he added.

Gergen said he had concluded his one-onone lobby blitz at the White House.

Reagan told the Senate: "I cannot in conscience be even a part of the responsibility for the consequences of a rejection of this sale. The potential damage to our country is too grave. The risk is too great."

Many species would soon become extinct, Flesness said, if it weren't for captive animals. The only Mongolian horses known alive are some 350 in captivity.

Flesness said ISIS and member zoos can play an important conserva-

them," he said. Eventually, perhaps, they can release species back into the wild.

NEW YORK (AP) — One hundred law officers seeking suspects in a bloody $4 million Brink's holdup raided a Mississippi farmhouse yester­ day and arrested a woman alleged to have known of a possible terrorist or­ ganization, officials said.

Meanwhile, a federal complaint disclosed here yesterday identified two Mississippians as the two suspects in the investi­ gation of the Oct. 20 robbery that claimed the lives of two police officers and a Brink's guard.

U.S. Attorney John Martin of New York said he will empanel a grand jury to investigate a possible racketeering conspiracy by mem­ bers of the Weather Underground, Black Liberation Army and the Black Panthers and other radical groups.

Cynthia Priscilla Boston, 35, was arrested in Gulfport, Miss., on a charge of conspire to commit armed bank robbery, specifically the Brink's holdup, according to author­ ities in Mississippi, New York and Washington.

John Kelly, special agent in charge of the FBI office in Jackson, Miss., said Miss Boston was arrested with our suspect. She was arrested before a federal judge and held on $500,000 bond pending a Nov. 5 hearing at which a request to have the cars be moved here.

The federal complaint, obtained here by the day after the robbery re­ sulted in 150 metropolitan police officers and 1300 federal agents.

Arrested immediately after the incident were three members of the Weather Underground — Katherine Basili, Judith Clark and David Gilbert — and Samuel Brown, who authorities said was a Brink's guard but who is unable to be distinguished.

Authorities had previously said they were looking for at least four more suspects in the heist and shootout.

Dr. Robert E. Gordon, vice presi­ dent for Advanced Studies of Biol­ ogy at the University of Notre Dame, will represent the Council of Graduate Students on the Graduate Record Examinations Board for a four year term.

The Council of Graduate Schools includes 56 academic institu­ tions offering graduate work. Among the responsibilities of the GRE Board are design and administration of the Graduate Record Examinations Program, developing testing programs in foreign languages and English as a foreign language and ex­ tensive research of graduate educa­ tion for the Republic of New Africa, a terrorist organization."

In addition to Miss Boston, the complaint named for the first time two officers wanted in connection with the investigation. They were identified as William Johnson, also known as Ralph Santos, and John Kelly, special agent in charge of the Brink's guardsman's lethal fray here.

Miss Boston's court appearance will be moved here.

The Landon Turner Fund was the last topic presented at the meeting. Some suggestions for more par­ ticipation were for each dorm to contribute a check to the fund or getting the food sales from each dorm to contribute 10 percent of its sales for one night to the Fund.

Hypnotist Tom Deluca to perform at A F

Hypnotist Tom Deluca will perform Thursday night, 8:00 p.m., at Saint Mary's Angela Athletic Facility. The performance is comprised of two shows. The first segment deals with the phenomenon of extended sensoric perception between Deluca and members of the audience. The second part consists of various levels of hypnosis with volunteers from the audience.

Deluca received a B.A. in Com­ munication and Psychology from the University of Miami. He has a master's degree from Sangamon State University in Springfield, Illinois. He has worked as a hypnotist for over four years, treating psychosomatic disor­ ders, anxiety, including his discovery that black holes consist of radiated particles of energy, have won him a tremendous reputation as a genius in his field. In 1976, he received the Albert Einstein Award, the highest award in the United States for theoretical physics.

Dr. Hawking was a guest of the Princeton Lecture Series sponsored at Notre Dame to mark the United Nations proclamation of 1981 as the International Year of Disabled Per­ sons.

Notre Dame’s volleyball team upset its season record to 10-9 yesterday with a convincing win at Tri-State. The Bees knocked off their hosts in straight sets 15-10, 15-8, 15-3. Coach Erin Murphy was quite pleased with the performance on freshman Ann Bouton who led the Bees with 60 percent kills on spiking. Sophomore Kathy Miller’s performance in a fine performance at the service line while captain Terri Walters helped out with her on-the-court leadership. Over fall break, the Bees competed in the Illinois Benedictine Invitational and finished third among six teams. Saint Mary’s defeated Thomson Commencement College, Illinois College and Clarke College also in this 10-match event. Tonight’s match carries added importance since it will be a district game, crucial for Saint Mary’s to advance to the national tournament. — The Observer

Indianapolis (AP) — Alberto Salazar, winner of the New York Marathon, says officials of The Athletic Congress are "a bunch of thieves and hypocrites" for their handling of the recent drug scandal.

"Why should TAC have control over my money?" Salazar said Monday after winning Sunday's New York Marathon. "They want to be like our agents. They want to have control over the athletes. They have no right to. They just a bunch of hypocrites and thieves."

TAC spokesman Pete Cava said at the amateur athletic organization's headquarters here that "we're not sure why he said those things or what his problems are.

Current policy calls for athletes not to accept prize money from professional races, like those sponsored by the Association of Road Racing Athletes. Cava said TAC's compromise policy in order to enable athletes to retain amateur standing is to collect the prize money for deposit into a trust fund, only to be withdrawn for training expenses.

"It pretty much opens up track and field," Cava said of the new policy, which still has to be approved at the International Amateur Athletic Federation's meeting at Rome, Dec. 12-13.

"We feel it is a step in the right direction," Cava said. "Now if this makes us thieves and hypocrites, I don't know. We're optimistic on the IAAF's approving this."

Salazar also said, "TAC knows it can't stop under-the-table payments. They try to present an image of a pure athlete, which is hypocritical."

"Every year we hear stories of under-the-table payments, but nobody ever comes up with definite proof," Cava said. "Unless you have hard evidence, there is nothing you can do. I think (Salazar's) remarks are totally uncalled for."

Kansas City surprises everyone but coach

The Chiefs, 88 in 1980 and third in the AFC West this season, are the team you thought you knew. But the Chiefs have been in a freefall for weeks, losing five of their last six games. But the Chiefs are still in the playoff hunt, and that's because they have a powerful offense and a strong defense.

The Chiefs' offense is led by quarterback Len Dawson, who has thrown for 2,500 yards and 16 touchdowns this season. The defense is anchored by linebacker Joe Morten, who leads the NFL with 14 sacks.

The Chiefs have a tough road ahead, with games against the San Diego Chargers, San Francisco 49ers, and Denver Broncos in the next three weeks. But if they can stay healthy, they could still make the playoffs.

Bobby Unser slows down racing

NEW YORK (AP) - Auto racing entrepreneur Roger Penske Tuesday announced that Rick Mears and newcomer Kevin Cogan will drive the full Indy car schedule for his team in 1982, but that Bobby Unser will be back only for the Indianapolis 500 and possibly "other selected races.

Penske said, during a news conference in New York that Unser, the disputed winner of the 1981 Indy race, will become team manager for young Mexican driver Joseli Garza and is expected to concentrate on those duties during the upcoming year.

There have been rumours and unsubstantiated reports to that effect for several months, but Unser apparently did not make his final decision until after a special U.S. Auto Club appeal panel gave him back his third Indy victory several weeks ago.

Unser, who was not at the news conference, won the race on the track last May 24, but hours later was penalized a lap for illegal passing under a caution flag.

That put him in second place and gave the triumph to his former Penske teammate Mark Andretti. But Penske and Unser appointed the USAC decision, and two members of the special three-man panel found for Unser, restoring the victory to him.

"I think Bobby's decision (to cut down on his racing) had a lot to do with what happened at Indianapolis," Penske said. "I know the whole thing made him really sick — that's what you really need today."

"I feel he'll listen to Rick the way that he did to me, and he should do a great job for us.

"Cogan, 25, will replace Unser as the second full-time driver on the team, although Mears obviously supplements the 37-year-old Unser as the team's No. 1 driver.

"The younger, an Indy car rookie in 1981, after two years as a top competitor in Formula Atlantic racing, started six races, finishing an impressive fourth at Indy and second at Milwaukee."

"Cogan comes to us as a 25-year-old with experience at most tracks and, particularly, a lot of road racing experience," Penske said. "And that's what you really need today."

"If he'll listen to Rick the way that Rick listened to Bobby, he'll learn fast and he should do a great job for us."

"The first thing that goes through his head is I guess I've got no excuses now," Cogan said. "I think this is just a great chance and I'm really looking forward to it."
Dear Editor:

Last May, Tom Lichtenberg was on a recruiting trip in Pennsylvania. The athletic director of Bishop Goolfuye High School in Altoona, Pa., arranged for Tom to show the 1980 Highlight Film and have a question and answer session with the public in the high school gym. Lichtenberg told the ND fans that Gerry Faust’s goal this year was to make a major bowl game. He said that the National Championship would be very unlikely for the following reasons:

- While they were putting in a new offense it would make it more possible to lose against quality opponents.
- The Notre Dame linemen that Faust inherited were not great athletes but not great athletes. He said Notre Dame was definitely overrated as far as talent goes.

It is quite possible that Gerry Faust did not want to rain on the students’ and fans’ enthusiasm when he agreed that his team could go undefeated and win the National Championship.

When you reflect on the tie with Georgia, you see that enthusiasm would be very unlikely for the following reasons:

- He will lose some people now. For the first time in years, we Notre Dame fans in Pennsylvania and smile after the recruiting season. Gerry signed the best QB and two of the three best linemen in Pennsylvania last spring.
- When the Notre Dame students are as special as Gerry believes they are, they will rally behind him. He will get the job done. He will get the job done. He is a superb recruiter. His enthusiasm and charisma are a definite plus for Notre Dame.

Dear Editor:

Blair Kiel is NOT a good quarterback. He's not even a good player. Is this player supposed to lead the Irish to victory? Not to do better? I'm not blaming the player. He's giving his best. But I am blaming the person making the decision that allows him to play. Where, oh where, is a "Navy Quarterback"? (Hauke, Harvirty; Thiele, Clemenio; Montana.)

Dear Notre Dame Family:

"DUST FAUST" and "BURY GERRY" have been noticeable and annoying outliers to each of the Notre Dame football family. I feel these are being remarked by those football fans who are interested in the score, and not seeing any deeper than that.

Someone doesn't have to or need to, but I want to speak out with sharing a little insight on this overall football team for the simple reason that there is much more to the "Irish" squad.

When you pull a cup or glass out of your cupboard, most of you look inside to make sure it's clean. Well it's the same with these young men who are representing Notre Dame. So many of you just look and watch the team just as uniforms or numbers. Inside those uniforms with numbers are young men with emotions, feelings and pride who love what they are doing along with giving everything they have on that field. They’re using their God-given talents to their best. Just think when your child or even you do something and don’t come out on top, do you ever question why? "I gave my all!" Along with that you respect the person or people who invested in you.

I would like to summarize what all I have said. I have been able to get to know the coaches not as coaches. I have gotten to know players not just as players, but (and I emphasize) at individuals. They are just like you or I, human beings with purpose in life and that is to let the Lord direct their lives.

Coach Gerry Faust and his staff, along with those young men who make the team work each week, are only human as you and I. Remember there is only one person that perfect and that is our Heavenly Father. I want to go along with this, I would like to inject a thought, one which you all have heard at least once while growing up, and that is God did not create this earth in one day.

So please think about Coach Faust and this fine and great group of young men and the way they feel inside. Just as God stays with us, let’s stay with these fellows and Gerry you’re with them all the way! This is directed to each of you who are questioning the coach and team. Before you do, get to know them as people and the you will realize how much they give of themselves. The person or fine individuals who I have come to know and love.

One last thought. When you get down on yourself and question players and you are getting and cutting yourself down. Try to look at the simple reason he gave his life on the cross and rose again so we may have eternal life.

Do not turn them away but live a Christ’s life.

EDITORS NOTE. Although this response is one of the few from the Notre Dame sports circle, Keith Pentland is very much a part of Fighting Irish athletics. He is the young man affiliated with Cerebral Palsy, often seen in a wheelchair or bright yellow motor cart, on the bench or sidelines or Cartier or scarfing around campus. Keith in conjunction with Notre Dame athletics as been a constant source of inspiration and motivation in his life.

As the majority of Notre Dame and St. Mary's students fled South Bend two weekends ago, Bill Rodgers and other world-class runners arrived in the river city for a ten-kilometer road race. The Sports Medicine Clinic at St. Joseph's Medical Center sponsored the event, which coincided with the Center's opening. A total of 1,600 runners participated. To kick-off the weekend, Rodgers met with the press on a variety of topics.

The four-time Boston Marathon champion said he and his training partner will have a personal interest in the rapidly expanding field of sports medicine.

A lot of hard hitting goes into typical Notre Dame Southern California game, and if Gerry Faust didn't know it, he found out first hand.

"I got a real taste of the hitting," he laughed, referring to the full-weekend on the sidelines when USC linebacker Chip Banks ran into him. Faust bounced right up after the knockdown, something he said he had done after his last hit.

"I was really amazed at Monday's practice," he said, referring to the Tuesday press conference. "The kids got set for the Southern Cal and they played their butts off. We were out. I was concerned about them keeping their heads up, but everyone, especially the student body, has been great and that's made a real difference to these players."

"Not everyone has been so encouraging to Faust," following the Irish's 2-4 record, the Irish have not enjoyed a healthy backfield this season. But technicalities such as tackles on the field have been looked at. Faust has been nicked for 39 third quarter and 33 fourth-quarter tackles.

"We're not looking at the future, we're looking at the present. We're starting to take hold, and every unit is beginning to benefit now that the coaches are becoming a cohesive unit. We're starting to think alike now," added Faust. "We all saw something in Saturday's game that we've been looking for all along."

Because Blair Kiel got the job done Saturday, Faust will go with the starter, and that's what he has been looking for. "Faust has not been pushed out of the picture because he wasn't back next season. We've been pushing the younger players and I'm not that stressed," said Faust. "To be honest, we're not looking at the future, we're just looking at the present. Therefore, we're evaluating every player game by game."
