Grace Hall and the Grace Hall- Paul Kondolak Bond Present a showing of the January 10, 1974 game against UCLA. Notre Dame, undefeated and ranked No. 2, upset UCLA, ranked No. 1 and snapped their 8-game winning streak — the longest in NCAA history. The showing will be in St. Patrick’s Hall tomorrow at 8 p.m. Admission is one dollar, and all proceeds will go to the Notre Dame Student Aid Fund. Donations will be gratefully accepted.

Don Murphy, in yesterday’s student senate meeting, planned plans for his five-day trip over break to several universities comparable to Notre Dame. Murphy intends to make comparisons with Notre Dame’s quality of student life by examining dorms, cafeterias, student centers, and various student facilities on other campuses. The study is part of a survey of student life. Murphy also has pointed out that the scope of police authority and extent of anarchy that arise from the day’s Student Senate meeting, presented plans for his five-day trip over break to several universities comparable to Notre Dame. The Supreme Court Yesterday, the Supreme Court heard arguments in the case of Kehoe and Boland v. the State of New York. The case involves the constitutionality of a law that prohibits the sale of certain types of tobacco products. The court ruled in favor of the plaintiffs, who argued that the law violated their rights to free speech and freedom of religion. The court’s decision in the case is expected sometime in the fall.

can tell friends that the van he purchased was a lemon but he can’t advertise the fact because he has sold his ownership rights in the vehicle. He states that the state’s Supreme Court has ruled that such a law is unconstitutional.

Although snow still covers the ground in South Bend, there are some early cases of that springtime affliction known as "dugil On Campus fever." I’ve visited a number of campuses comparable to Notre Dame. The Supreme Court heard arguments in the case of Kehoe and Boland v. the State of New York. The case involves the constitutionality of a law that prohibits the sale of certain types of tobacco products. The court ruled in favor of the plaintiffs, who argued that the law violated their rights to free speech and freedom of religion. The court’s decision in the case is expected sometime in the fall.

called yesterday that it will decide whether police can demand identification if they think you’re suspicious — and whether it can be a crime not to comply. Several weeks ago, January 19, 1974, a game was played at South Bend. That game is more than an anniversary of the acronym. Last year, I noticed the season’s best defense so far — a sign attached high atop the step of Fr. Sorin that read "USOC" (Ugly Staircase). I have a mutation of my own which doesn’t match the ingenuity of the Sorin example, but nevertheless, it is one that is relevant to the Notre Dame campus.

UBOC — that’s right, The Ugly Building On Campus. The Supreme Court called yesterday that it will decide whether police can demand identification if they think you’re suspicious — and whether it can be a crime not to comply. 6) The Old Band Building — this is simply one of those buildings which started out ugly, and which only matured in its lack of beauty over the years until it becomes a historical site.

7) The LaFayette Student Center — a building which originally served as science hall for the campus. Many experiments have been conducted over the years in this structure, including Albert Zahn’s famed glider experiments. The building itself, however, looks more like an experiment that failed. Although these are the top seven selections, there are a few of others I have heard students nominate, including the Old Fieldhouse as well as the new Pasquerilla dorms and the Memorial Library. Beauty is in the eye of the beholder, however, and the cluster idea of graceful-ness is to doubt present in at least not most buildings.

My point, nevertheless, is that a careful balance between grace and utility can be achieved, without disrupting the historical or aesthetic values of the campus. Simply witness the Fitzpatrick Engineering laboratory or the State Museum of Art. Neither wins an award for its structural design, but the latter’s progressive design makes up for its lack of architectural attachment and the Fitzpatrick structure makes an attractive partner for its older engineering building counterpart.

The inspiration of higher learning of Notre Dame’s caliber deserves not only high quality, but imaginative and enlightened design. What has been started and finished in a less than idealistic manner can still be helped by a little piece of advice — for the buildings that have been the subject of controversy.

1) The Old Chemical Engineering Building — is ugly and deceptively looking on the inside as it appears to be on the outside. What has been finished was supposed to look like the same limestone as the architecture building, but budget cuts back in 1917 made the difference between mediocrity and disaster.

2) The Aerospace Engineering Building — "Neodrome" is a more accurate name, but it’s still a good name.

3) (and rising with a bulge) The Stepan Chemical Building — the cut-out dollar wedge at the rear of the Newell School of Engineering. The rows of tiny windows on such a tall structure conjure up images of porters on a World War II battleship presume at the letter to the editor as another monster from the labs of Ellerbe who can’t be helped by a little piece of advice.

4) ROTC Building — standard military style — but why print it?”

5) Computer Center and Math Building — isn’t it cute the way the whole building looks like one big computer keypunch card.

Solidarity meets in secret

WARSZAWA, Poland (AP) — Solidarity leaders who have eluded the martial law regime's dragnet met in secret here last week and issued a call for talks between authorities and the underground movement, thousands of whom $500 million sales last year made it a powerful political player.

At J.W.T., the bank of commercial air time acquired by these syndications, the head of the syndication was glowing. Phony revenue figures made it look like the air time had been sold, but no advertisers were billed for time they hadn't bought, the company said.

The error was discovered when the company sent its accountants to look for ways to avoid borrowing money in the face of cash-flow problems.

"What happened was that we had millions of dollars on a program properties in which we didn't recoup our investment," says Step­hen S. Salerno, J.W.T.'s general coun­sel.

"But the bogus entries made it appear we weren't doing badly." Last Friday, the company an­nounced it was withdrawing from the syndication business. "Once we saw the figures behind the inflated figures, we saw how a business it was," said J.W.T. spokes­man Don Deaton.

When the figures budged, Salerno wasn't willing to speculate.

...Scandal

on a motive of a perpetrator. Laut's intakes and outgoings were trying to cover up a poor selling job.

All the departments at J.W.T. have profit and revenue projections. Promotions and bonuses are given to executives based on each unit's performance. Asked if there was too much pressure on department heads to deliver on projected profits, Johnston said that 99 out of 100 "run smoothly," but the air time was "worthless" and that the "Arab businessmen" he met with in the mining business it was," said JW T spokes­man Paul McGinn, a sophom ore.

"I just can't conceive of it coming to that point if I am successful in making the senators know what's on my mind, what I did and what I didn't do," the senator was asked last year to three years in prison and fined.

"I wish the senators could say just his conduct, but the FBI overstepped its bounds, par­ticularly by allowing its chief executive, a man named Weidberg, virtually free rein in the attempt to draw him into the case. No senator has been expelled since 1962, and William's support­ers say the government's zeal must be considered as a mitigating factor against the severest penalty.

Defects or disorders
Prof offers genetic counseling

BY ROGER WILKE
News Staff

Dr. Harvey A. Bender, professor of biology at Notre Dame, is currently the director of the Genetics Counseling Center at Memorial Hospital in South Bend. This clinic which serves North Central Indiana, is intended to provide "individually and family specific" information about actual or potential inherited defects or disorders.

At present, there are approximately 3000 genetic disorders which have been identified. Some are rare, others like Down Syndrome, are fairly common. These disorders may cause physical or mental impairment in the individual and may be mild or severe.

The South Bend area had no Genetics Counseling Center until the current one was established in January, 1980. The clinic was established with some primary objectives in mind.

First, the clinic would provide the family or individual with the necessary medical facts about the genetic disorder. The staff uses family medical history information and diagnostic test results to evaluate the actual or potential disorders.

Second, the clinic helps the individual or family understand the nature of the disorder and help to inform them with the options for dealing with the risk of recurrence.

Dr. Bender explained, "There are three general aspects to our counseling center. There's the diagnostic component, where we try to find out what disorders a child has or what the chances are for the parents to conceive a child with a disorder. Then there is the educational component. This is where we try to explain to the family why the disorders occurred, and what might be done to manage the situation. Finally, we relate to the potential parents their chances of conceiving a child with a disorder and give them an objective view of their options. In this way, they are informed of their situation but can still make an informed decision as to what to do."

Dr. Bender also stated that there are certain situations in which genetic counseling is particularly recommended. A family with a child with a birth defect of unknown or genetic origin is one example. Others recommended to seek counseling are couples identified, through tests, as carriers of a disorder, women over 35 years of age, coming pregnant, or families with relatives with a known genetic disorder, certain ethnic groups are especially susceptible to particular disorders.

Dr. Bender acknowledges that there is still much to learn in the field of genetics, but says that research, such as that done in Notre Dame's Human Genetics Program, and clinics, such as the one at Memorial Hospital are improving our understanding of genetic disorders. As he reminds us, "You must understand what is wrong before you can understand what to do about it."

The clinic emphasizes its availability - no one is denied needed services regardless of financial situation. The clinic tries to provide the family with an objective view of their situation and allows them to make an informed decision. "We try not to make the family's decisions," says Dr. Bender. "It's best to let them see all aspects of the situation."

GM, Toyota discuss joint venture

General Motors Corp. and Toyota of Japan are considering a joint effort to build small cars in the United States this fall for sale a year later.

The idea of a cooperative production venture was raised at a March 1 meeting in New York between GM chairman Roger B. Smith and Toyota President Eiji Toyoda. statements released by both companies today said.

The companies are considering "joint venture talks" with the U.S. Chrysler Motor Corp. as.fuller information on the talks is expected later this week.

RCA reports videodisc losses

NEW YORK (AP) - RCA Corp. said in its annual report Monday that it lost $100.6 million last year on its SelectaVision videodisc system.

The company said it lost $35.5 million in 1980 and $21.4 million in 1979, for a three-year total of $145.1 million.

In its report, RCA said the increased losses in 1980 and 1981 reflected costs for preparation and introduction of the system which became available last March, but whose sales fell far short of RCA's original forecast.

RCA had expected to sell 200,000 units at the retail level in 1981, but sold only about 65,000, even after a substantial advertising campaign during the holiday season.

In an effort to boost sales, RCA last month cut the price of its 1982 players to $499.95 from $649.95.

The SelectaVision system includes a grooved disc that slips into a player. It then is "read" by a diamond stylus similar to a photographic needle which transmits images to a television screen.

RCA, which owns the NBC television network, earlier had reported net income for 1981 of $43.1 million on sales of $8 billion compared with 1980 earnings of $33.5 million on sales of $8 billion.

In the report to shareholders, RCA chairman Thorton B. Bradshaw attributed the lower profit to "abnormally low interest rates, continuing inflation and a weak economy."

Four awards
Mitchell, Paxson highlight banquet

By SKIP DESJARDIN
Sports Editor

Mike Mitchell collected four awards, as did John Paxson, as the Notre Dame basketball team held its annual season-ending banquet at the ACC last night.

A crowd of roughly 700 people attended the event, and were thanked by almost every player for their support, not just at the dinner, but throughout a tough season.

"These men held their heads high, though they suffered through a less-than-medioocre season," said Rev. Edmund Joyce in his keynote address.

"They exemplify the true spirit of Notre Dame."

Paxson was named the team's most valuable player, along with receiving awards for the top student-athlete, consistent shooting, most assists, and clutch player.

"When I was being recruited by Notre Dame, I listed the things I wanted out of college," Paxson said. "Academics was at the top of that list. I could not make a better choice than Notre Dame."

It was a night with many high-lights. Digger Phelps's children, Karen, Rick and Jeff, presented an award on behalf of the entire Notre Dame family, to Keith Penrod, "Notre Dame's No. 1 Fan." "When you get down," Penrod told the crowd, which had just greeted him with a standing ovation, "look back on this season — and these young men, who showed what Notre Dame is all about.

"Thank you, Notre Dame," the coach said. "For four years I gave you everything — and you gave me back a lifetime."

"I think everyone's heart was in the right place," added Rev. Joyce. "But we're going to have to do better."

"And now," concluded Paxson, "we need to get back to work."

The Irish managed one victory and suffered two defeats as they played these three matches in a span of 22 hours.

Dole was opened the meet against Southern Illinois at St. Joseph's Hospial.

The day's first technical knockout came in the 145-pound weight class as freshman Mike Zeke used a right-left hook to wound sophomore Anthony Scozzi to the canvas at the 1:06 mark. Neither side was fond enough to be declared the winner on a split decision.

Unfortunately, Doyen had to watch his opponent win with defending champion senior John to open the season.

The Irish wererowed half the school's record book, establishing new various standards in ten events.

Sophomores Al “Big Nose” Harding set the marks for both the 100-yard (-6.7) and 200-yard (-1:22.4) freestyle events. Freshman Tim Bohdan eclipsed the record in the 500-yard freestyle with his time of 1:50.8. Bohdan also lost the second in the 100-yard backstroke (54.4).

Other individual records were broken by seniors Dan Cosmee
(1:47.8) in the 400-yard individual medley and John Willamson
(2:16.1) in the 200-yard breaststroke, junior Grenn Battle
(1:19.1 in the 200-yard individual medley) and sophomore Dan Flynn (1:59.8 in the 200-yard butterfly).

Both the 400 (Harding, senior Mike Shephardson, and juniors Greg Bohan and Gary Severn - 3:05.3) and 800-yard (Harding, Bohan, senior John Gabbett, and sophomore Tim Jacobs-6:5) 1 freestyle relay teams also erased the previous marks.

Bell sets new record
as Irish finish 12th

Greg Bell won the long jump with a school-record 24.6 jump in pacing
the Notre Dame track team to an impressive 12th-place finish in the prestigous NCAA championships at Cedar City, Mo. The Irish placed 60 schools participated in the meet. The meets, which featured some of the best college athletes in the country, required that runners meet qualifying standards just to be able to compete.

Notre Dame was the only school to qualify all of its three relay teams for the finals and the Irish placed in five individual events as well.

“We definitely surprised some people with the team's performance,” said seven-year Head Coach Joe Plane. “Notre Dame was one of the few schools that had people in all areas — sprints, relays, etc. The people on the East Coast are very impressed with ND, that's for sure.”

Bell wasn’t the only Irish record-breaker, however, as Steve Danisz broke the school record in the 500 meters with a time of 1:02.4. He placed fourth. The time qualified Danisz for the NCAA Championships in the 400-meter dash, which was qualified in the 600-yard dash.

Freshman Chuck Constable continued to jump well as he placed in the high jump with a leap of 6-10 1/4. Senior captain Mike Paul Doyle placed fourth in the pole vault with a 16-1 effort. Doyle also placed seventh in the pentathlon.

The Irish distance medley team of senior tri-captain Rick Rogers, junior Jan Kanu, senior Tom Harberly and sophomore Andy Dill placed seventh in a time of 10:18.5

At UIC
Swimmers place third in Midwest

by BOB CASTELLO

Backed by several record-breaking performances, the Notre Dame men’s swimming team placed third in the Midwest Invitational this past weekend, held at the University of Illinois at Chicago Circle.

Western Kentucky captured first place in the 11-school event, totaling 566 points. Eastern Illinois was second with 466 points and Notre Dame third with 390.

“The irony of the whole thing,” said Head Coach Dennis Stark, “was that Bradley and Illinois State, two teams that had beaten us earlier in dual meets, both finished behind us in the standings at the invitational.

Brady Senior Mark Kesbur senior Dennis Cronk defeated junior Joe Klee in an unanimous decision. Luc-cero knocked Klee down in the third round, but Klee was in position the next tournament.

Sophomore Frank Maneri in the 140-pound weight class was considered one of the better fighters by practically everyone, and that guaranteed a new champion), but the fight continued with Doyen being decisively defeated.

Unfortunately, Doyen had to watch his opponent win with

Dillon ran his part of the race, the anchor-mile leg, in a time of 4:10, prompting Al to comment, “He ran real strong and I'm sure that's he's capable of running a lot faster.” It was Dillon’s first competitive mile of the year.

The Irish two-mile relay team also placed seventh. The crew of Jim Moyar, Mac Acuadey, Jim Tyler and Tim Cannon ran the event in 8:54.

The Irish relay team also took seventh place in the finals. Senior tri- captain Jacques Eady, freshman Mitch Vadykon, senior Bill Ribera and junior Steve Danisz combined for a 3:20 mile.

John McClaughan made it to the semi-finals in the hurdles. Greg Bell made it to the semi-finals of the 60-yard dash, in addition to his record breaking long jump.

Only Jim Moyar, Steve Danisz and Paul Doyle will compete next weekend. They will be running in the NCAA Indoor Championships at the Pontiac Silverdome in Michigan.
