BEIRUT: Lebanese soldiers and police, coming to the aid of an embattled Christian Militar, traded machine-gun and artillery fire with leftist militia men in west Beirut Sunday in a four-hour battle that drove French peacekeepers from the area.

The army last announced it had quelled the first major flareup since the Lebanese army took over positions previously held by the Palestine Liberation Organization and its Lebanese leftist allies.

"The Lebanese army will execute its security functions no matter what the government said we would do, we will strike with an iron fist against such disruptors," an army official was quoted as saying on the state-run television.

In a separate incident, Lebanese security forces intercepted a group of four thieves belonging to another leftist militia in west Beirut and one Lebanese soldier were killed in the evening.

Law enforcement agencies from Indiana, St. Joseph County and Notre Dame met last week to discuss in more detail
security measures for this Saturday's
Notre Dame-Michigan game.

The security strategy for the game
has four aspects: parking, residence halls, stadium patrol, and the surrounding neighborhood.

The security office said the barriers
will be lengthened to 12 hours.

The gate attendants will move from the field after the start of the game and will move back after the game is over. Two security of­

See GAME, page 4

"Oh no!"

A freshman was hung in effigy outside cashing Hall Friday marking the first "Emil"
quiz for the University's freshmen chemistry students. "Emil" is Dr. Emil T. Hoffman, professor of Chemistry and Dean of the Freshman Year of Studies. "Point stu-pies, commonly referred to as
"Emils" are given each Friday. (Photo by Scott Bower)

Law enforcement agencies from Indiana, St. Joseph County and Notre Dame met last week to discuss in more detail
security measures for this Saturday's
Notre Dame-Michigan game.

The security strategy for the game
has four aspects: parking, residence
halls, stadium patrol, and the surrounding neighborhood.

The security office said the barriers
will be lengthened to 12 hours.

The gate attendants will move
from the field after the start of the game and will move back after
the game is over. Two security of­

See GAME, page 4

"Oh no!"

A freshman was hung in effigy outside
cashing Hall Friday marking the first "Emil"
quiz for the University's freshmen chemistry students. "Emil" is Dr. Emil T. Hoffman, professor of Chemistry and Dean of the Freshman Year of Studies. "Point stu-pies, commonly referred to as
"Emils" are given each Friday. (Photo by Scott Bower)

Law enforcement agencies from Indiana, St. Joseph County and Notre Dame met last week to discuss in more detail
security measures for this Saturday's
Notre Dame-Michigan game.

The security strategy for the game
has four aspects: parking, residence
halls, stadium patrol, and the surrounding neighborhood.

The security office said the barriers
will be lengthened to 12 hours.

The gate attendants will move
from the field after the start of the game and will move back after
the game is over. Two security of­

See GAME, page 4

"Oh no!"

A freshman was hung in effigy outside
cashing Hall Friday marking the first "Emil"
quiz for the University's freshmen chemistry students. "Emil" is Dr. Emil T. Hoffman, professor of Chemistry and Dean of the Freshman Year of Studies. "Point stu-pies, commonly referred to as
"Emils" are given each Friday. (Photo by Scott
Bower)
Two Dillon Hall students were robbed at gunpoint late Monday morning in South Bend. Michael L. Engineering student, and his roommate were walking toward their car in the 1200 block of Howard when two men, armed, demanded their wallets. The wallets contained $20 in cash Neither L. was injured or injured. The two men fled on foot. - The Observer

The new Miss America, a 25-year-old blonde who began singing in a sunshine shower on New Year's Eve in Russia, was yesterday's blue eyed 115-pound graduate of Lamar University in Beaumont, Texas, wearing the rhinestone-studded crown she received the night before, set off on her first round of personal appearances as Miss America 1983. She attended a conference and a ground breaking ceremony in Atlantic City and prepared for a drive to New York and appearances there Monday. Miss Maffett, of Altadena, Calif., who as Miss America gets a $25,000 scholarship, should make more than $100,000 from public appearances, model her careers. Her business manager, Bob Bryan, said Miss Maffett is booked solid, working every other day through Christmas. - AP

Although experts working with the dairy industry "tried to get the P.C.s out of the milk with the least possibility of danger and the least financial damage to the dairymen involved," many farmers have suffered heavy losses. Hill said. In addition, to replace expensive silos, thousands of gallons of milk were damaged or destroyed and contaminated cows were sold at cut-rate prices. "We're kind of the victims in this thing, and we've got hurt," said Tim Hastings, whose family owns a dairy farm near Elwood in southeastern Indiana. The Hastings family abandoned two silos soon after their milk was barred from the market for six weeks in 1978. The field stood against Monomouth, which manufactured the PCBs but argued that the potential danger of PCB contamination hasn't been proven scientifically. The family agreed to settle out of court for about $5,000. "That didn't come close to covering the cost," Hastings said. "We had to remortgage everything. You never really recuperate from something like this." - AP

Typhoon Judy roared through central Japan Sunday, cutting a deadly and destructive swath with waves 10-high, huge landslides and 90 mph winds that left thousands homeless, transportation paralyzed and dozens of people dead or injured. Authorities reported at least 11 deaths and 7 injuries. Seventeen people were missing and feared swept up in the swirling flood waters. Downtown Tokyo was severely stricken. The National Police Agency said 57,000 homes were flooded in 21 states across central Japan. At least 17 people were reported missing, Air, rail and road traffic came to a near standstill, officials said. They said more than 50,000 policemen and soldiers were mobilized for rescue work. In downtown Tokyo, the Kanda River overflowed late Sunday, flooding more than 2,000 homes in the bowling alley entertainment district. "The water level in some places came to my neck," a policeman on the scene said. - AP

Bill Monroe, the father of bluegrass music, had a bulldozer ram into his car and kill something he never stopped. The 89-year-old Kentucky bluegrass icon, who invented bluegrass music, was killed when the tractor got lost to listen to some music for a change as 25,000 lovers of bluegrass music were preparing to celebrate his 89th birthday to him Saturday during the Kentucky Fried Chicken Bluegrass Music Festival in Louisville. Each summer, Monroe has his own festivals at Beanblossom, Ind. Thousands of fans converge upon his 94 acre farm in the tiny southern Indiana town to see and hear the man with credit with creating bluegrass music. He's the only living member of the Lubbock, Texas, group. Sanders, came first with her gifted - a framed poster of Monroe adorned the wall. She was the giant blonde from Kentucky, bearing the message, "Happy 71st Birthday Bill Monroe." AP

Mostly cloudy today with a high about 83. Clouds tiessed warm tonight, cloudy, low 70. - The Observer
Social concerns film series begins

By JERRY YOUNG
News Staff

Tomorrow marks the beginning of the Fall 1982 Social Concerns Film Series. The series runs through September 24 and features four full-length movies designed to expose students to some of the social problems that exist around the in

"These are good movies that also happen to have a social message," said Mary Ann Roemer, Student President for the Center of Experimental Learning, "We stand for more than academics and football in Notre Dame.

"We are Christians that often have to deal with such topics as the oppression of people and their misused resources. The objective this week is to use the media to convey a message to each individual about these issues, and to have a good time doing it."

Marine Laboratory
St. Mary's junior wins scholarship

By JAVI MULVERO
News Staff

It seemed to her like a shot in the dark when she applied.

But when Patricia Finley finished her junior year at St. Mary's College in New Brunswick, Canada, and subsequently won a scholarship given by the Marine Laboratory in St. Andrews, New Brunswick, she knew her efforts had not been in vain.

Patricia, a junior at St. Mary's College, was one of four scholarship winners recently announced by the Marine Laboratory in St. Andrews, a platoon of fifty young female students got in, and later on I found out I was the first person from St. Mary's or Notre Dame ever to have won the scholarship."

The course was difficult," but also very enjoyable," she said. "We had a lot of classes, and we'd go out on a boat, field samples and organisms. Then we'd go to the lab work with it, watch (subject-related) films, non-stop. From morning to night." She adds that sometimes students even had lectures at midnight.

Patricia says that she was aware of the possibility of winning the scholarship when she applied but was surprised when she learned that she had actually won it.

The Laboratory presents its 30th year of service this year, in the past, a president was appointed for the hall and the rest of the community was selected. Patricia has received other scholarships to go to St. Mary's, but this was the first time she is awarded one for her performance. In addition, St. Mary's College has credited her with three credit hours for the courses she started in May 16 and finished in June 5. These courses covered various aspects of Marine Ecology and Oceanography.

Sometimes it's necessary to take that extra step to make what seems like an impossibility a reality."

St. Mary's students form college bowl

By MARY ANN POTTER
News Staff

The College Bowl, Regina Hall elections, and Food Sales were the topics discussed at the St. Mary's Board of Governance meeting last night.

Teams are now being formed for the College Bowl which will be held September 29. In the College Bowl, the two competing teams are asked liberal arts questions. The winners finish football and will compete with other schools regionally. The registration deadline is September 29.

Regina Hall will have a new elected system this year, in the past, a president was appointed for the hall and selected the rest of her officers and commissioners through an application process. The Board of Governance voted last night that the president and vice president will be elected as a ticket with the secretary and treasurer being individually elected. The rest of the commissioners will be selected from applications. Campaigning for elections will begin September 26, with the election taking place September 30.

St. Mary's will be continuing the food sales program this year. Different clubs and organizations sponsor the event which features pizza and bags each Sunday night. A definite date for the start of the food sales program has not yet been determined.

Corbys' Salutes
COACH FAUST AND THE 1982 FIGHTING IRISH

GO IRISH!
BEAT WOLVES!
INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Elephants carry a lot of weight and the strain has been showing on 6-year-old Kubwa. Kubwa’s in carrying around 50 extra pounds as officials at the Indianapolis Zoo try to solve her ankle problems.

The extra weight comes from a snappy pair of dark brown, high-top orthopedic shoes. Zoo officials discovered eight months ago that Kubwa’s hind ankles were too wobbly. They found Dan Menchhofer, the president of Fabri-Tech Inc., a suburban company that manufactures slings and cinches for horses.

Kubwa’s ankles weren’t able to support her weight of approximately 2,000 pounds. Menchhofer said, “She’s sort of looks like a little kid put on ice skates the first time. The ankles tend to lean inside.” he said.

Menchhofer designed the orthopedic shoes made of dark brown canvas mesh and tan metal straps covered with color coordinated brown padding. Fabri-Tech built the elephant shoes after commissioning Central Tool, a machine shop in Fortville, to make the metal supports.

The shoes fasten onto Kubwa’s hind legs with buckles and each weighs 25 pounds.

“With any animal, you cut off the proper air circulation to the feet if you don’t support them properly,” Menchhofer said. “I tried to get around that by using mesh. To give the shoes some life, I made them look like a big Adidas tennis shoe.”

Menchhofer said he designed a prototype for Kubwa but “she tore them up, so I had to re-design the boot.” The new set was put on the elephant last week, and she will wear them at least six months.

The problem with the hind feet was noticed about eight months ago by Dr. Justin Janssen, a veterinarian who treats the Zoo’s larger creatures. He attributed the problem to growth spurts, said zoo publicist Shirley Boltz.

“She has been noticed about eight months ago who treats the zoo’s larger creatures. He attributed the problem to growth spurts, said zoo publicist Shirley Boltz.

“She has legs have grown long and narrow, which have caused her ankles to turn inward. The elephant isn’t in any pain, but like a human child, if the problem isn’t corrected while she’s young, she’ll grow up with a gigantic problem.” Mrs. Boltz said.

“Her growth spurts could have been caused by her diet. From too much protein, or maybe from her MANNHEIM, West Germany (AP) — Authorities said yesterday that they now believe 35 people died in the fiery crash of a U.S. Army helicopter carrying an international parachute team, but it may take days to complete the grisly task of sorting out the victims.

West German and American investigators, meanwhile, began probing the cause of Saturday’s disaster, one of the worst parachute crashes on record.

Witnesses said the big Chinook lost a motor before it plummeted from a height of about 300 yards during the Mannheim Air Show and slammed into a nearby highway, where it exploded and burned.

“The identification of (the victims) is going to take a long time, because the bodies are all mired together in a charred heap,” said Mannheim police spokesman Karl Heinz Zimmerman.

At first, authorities said they thought 41 people were aboard the Chinook helicopter — five American crew members and 39 skydivers from several countries.

Mannheim Chief Prosecutor Frank-Peter Gleiter told a news conference that officials now believe the chopper crew had only four members but a two-man television crew from the U.S. Armed Forces Network may have been on board, raising the death toll to 15.

Gleiter stressed, however, that authorities still are not certain how many were on the chopper and do not know when they will be able to provide an accurate count.

Six of the victims have been identified, he said. Names were not released, but sources said they were believed to be members of the helicopter crew.

No far, authorities have said the victims were believed to be seven Americans, 23 French, eight British, six West Germans and one Canadian. In addition to the helicopter and work crews, the Americans may include another soldier, officials said.

A witness said the Chinook hit a traffic divider when it crashed.

...Game

Deadline for applying is Wednesday, September 15.

CLUBS AND ORGANIZATIONS !!!

ACTIVITY FEE FUNDING

Applications for receiving Student Activity Fee Funds are now available in Student Activities Office at the 1st Floor LaFortune.

Deadline for applying is Wednesday, September 15.

SAINT MARY’S

Senior Nite

Sept. 13

50¢ Mixed Drinks

6:00 till 10:00
In memory of Kevin Emery

This article is dedicated to Kevin's roommates, Bob, Jim, and Dave, to the rest of the guys in the section, to Steve, and to Kevin's many friends. It is what I have to give.

Early Sunday morning, Kevin Emery was killed. He lost control of his car while turning through a bend and struck a power line tower. Bob Harrison and Kevin, with Kevin, escaped with a minor concussion and a bruised lung. But the fee expense of buying a ticket on the seventh floor of Flanner Hall, just one door away from mine.

I only have known Kevin since the beginning of this semester, but it seems much, much longer. His bright sense of humor and playful cockiness drew quick acceptance. Knowledge behind the building impres- sion that he was enjoying life.

The first time I heard the words, "Kevin's roommates," a roommate came in the room at 6:00 a.m. to go to sleep. He told me, but I certainly didn't believe it. I suppose that you never do the first time you hear it. I believe it now, though.

I could not go back to sleep. Sleep seemed to swallow the administrative library basement; unless, of course, one were to worry about getting more. There's no difference between an M-60 and a Bomb. You can bet the Army won't be amaze seniors.

"Sure! Why not? Some of them must be out here to look or the others are probably worried about getting more. There's no difference between an M-60 and a Bomb. You can bet the Army won't be amaze seniors."

The editorials reflect the opinions of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, opinions and letters are the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, 21st century, and to students in relevant courses.
Bruce Oakley

music review

Davis played a varied and interesting program of music of the last two centuries, adequately assisted by Harper. An appreciative audience of approximately 40 students and area music buffs gave the pair a solid round of applause at intermission and again at the end of the performance.

The two opened the show with Stravinsky’s Saint-Saëns’ Hymn, a celt piece handled compactly by Davis, demonstrating fine bowing and strong technique throughout and complex passages.

As the evening wore on, Davis—Artist Professor of Violin at Ohio State University—proved he could bring emotional depth as well as technical skill to his music, evoking touching images with his inspired play and intense expression.

The crowd’s enthusiasm for Davis’ performance grew with each work, as the pieces gained in emotional depth and vitality. In Franz Schubert’s Rondo in A-flat Major and J.S. Bach’s Passacaglia in C Minor for violin and piano, Davis and Harper treated the audience to works that are both technically demanding and emotionally rich.

Their performance of Sonata in B Minor for violin and piano, Op. 100, No. 1, demonstrated their ability to balance technical precision with musical expression. The crowd was captivated as they played the piece with a remarkable level of intimacy and passion.

In conclusion, the performance was a testament to the power of music and the talent of its performers. The audience was left with a lasting impression of the beauty and depth of their artistry.
Another Brooks brother?

The rumor had been buzzing around campus for a whole week. But today it finally got to me. I ignored it as I had the others—the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of partisanship, Kermit's return to a mouse—these others are dead ends.

But then, during a dining session with my main man Party Dave, he told me something that made the hair on the back of my neck stand straight out. "Father Ted," the Party master whispered, "has grown a beard."

Ed Konrad

No, it couldn't be! Father Theodore Hesburgh, the legendary Notre Dame president, has grown a beard? Was that the same Father Ted that we were told had a mustache? It couldn't be true.

As a callous senior I ignored it as I had my health, and respect, a position in which one must go around begging for endowments for one of the most respected universities in this country, but afraid of looking like Foster Brooks.

The Dean of Men, a normally stoic and unassuming individual, apparently felt that the situation was serious enough to call a meeting. Bored and distracted, I ignored it as I had the others—President Hesburgh's new glasses, the abolition of partisanship, the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of party cards, the reinstatement of beer and wine.

But this inference toward the man that made "in loco parentalis" famous can only add question marks about his ability to look toward his future and keep an eye on his finances.

In the past, beards have meant more than an absence of rules in a man's house. Throughout history, the wearing of a beard has been done by individuals of high status and influence.

In our own country, none of the signers of the Declaration of Independence had a mustache or beard. It wasn't until the inauguration of Abraham Lincoln that we had a president with a beard, and we know how the South felt about that.

In more recent times, our presidents and political representatives have been clean-shaven, although it is said that Abraham Lincoln wanted to use a pocket comb to get his beard in shape, and that his mustache was in fact a sort of disguise.

In ancient Greece, and in Rome, a man's appearance was a matter of great importance. The beard was seen as a symbol of strength and dignity, and was worn by both men and women.

But just between us, we all know the truth. A man little children admire, students never see, and alumni write to us to, a man that ordinary citizens like Tom Selleck, Burt Reynolds, and myself.

But this inference toward the man that made "in loco parentalis" famous can only add question marks about his ability to look toward his future and keep an eye on his finances.

Kevin Shortelle

The trip had actually been a number of dreams in the planning. I first introduced to Europe after college graduation in 1977 along with a tour group of about 50 people. It proved to be an adequate introduction to Europe but I quickly realized that traveling with a group that sure limited access to the European people.

The selection of the 10 speed bike as the means of transportation was made after I toured California's majestic Pacific Coast Highway from San Francisco to San Diego two successive years. I met a number of young European back-packers along the route and decided that cycling Europe was the ideal means.

In many small towns I was looked upon as a curiosity and was often asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip.

As a callous senior I ignored it as I had the others—the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of partisanship, Kermit's return to a mouse—these others are dead ends.

The Dean of Men, a normally stoic and unassuming individual, apparently felt that the situation was serious enough to call a meeting. Bored and distracted, I ignored it as I had the others—President Hesburgh's new glasses, the abolition of partisanship, the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of party cards, the reinstatement of beer and wine.

But this inference toward the man that made "in loco parentalis" famous can only add question marks about his ability to look toward his future and keep an eye on his finances.

Kevin Shortelle

The trip had actually been a number of dreams in the planning. I first introduced to Europe after college graduation in 1977 along with a tour group of about 50 people. It proved to be an adequate introduction to Europe but I quickly realized that traveling with a group that sure limited access to the European people.

The selection of the 10 speed bike as the means of transportation was made after I toured California's majestic Pacific Coast Highway from San Francisco to San Diego two successive years. I met a number of young European back-packers along the route and decided that cycling Europe was the ideal means.

In many small towns I was looked upon as a curiosity and was often asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip.

As a callous senior I ignored it as I had the others—the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of partisanship, Kermit's return to a mouse—these others are dead ends.

The Dean of Men, a normally stoic and unassuming individual, apparently felt that the situation was serious enough to call a meeting. Bored and distracted, I ignored it as I had the others—President Hesburgh's new glasses, the abolition of partisanship, the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of party cards, the reinstatement of beer and wine.

But this inference toward the man that made "in loco parentalis" famous can only add question marks about his ability to look toward his future and keep an eye on his finances.

Kevin Shortelle

The trip had actually been a number of dreams in the planning. I first introduced to Europe after college graduation in 1977 along with a tour group of about 50 people. It proved to be an adequate introduction to Europe but I quickly realized that traveling with a group that sure limited access to the European people.

The selection of the 10 speed bike as the means of transportation was made after I toured California's majestic Pacific Coast Highway from San Francisco to San Diego two successive years. I met a number of young European back-packers along the route and decided that cycling Europe was the ideal means.

In many small towns I was looked upon as a curiosity and was often asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip.

As a callous senior I ignored it as I had the others—the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of partisanship, Kermit's return to a mouse—these others are dead ends.

The Dean of Men, a normally stoic and unassuming individual, apparently felt that the situation was serious enough to call a meeting. Bored and distracted, I ignored it as I had the others—President Hesburgh's new glasses, the abolition of partisanship, the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of party cards, the reinstatement of beer and wine.

But this inference toward the man that made "in loco parentalis" famous can only add question marks about his ability to look toward his future and keep an eye on his finances.

Kevin Shortelle

The trip had actually been a number of dreams in the planning. I first introduced to Europe after college graduation in 1977 along with a tour group of about 50 people. It proved to be an adequate introduction to Europe but I quickly realized that traveling with a group that sure limited access to the European people.

The selection of the 10 speed bike as the means of transportation was made after I toured California's majestic Pacific Coast Highway from San Francisco to San Diego two successive years. I met a number of young European back-packers along the route and decided that cycling Europe was the ideal means.

In many small towns I was looked upon as a curiosity and was often asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip. Sometimes I was even asked about the reason for my trip.

As a callous senior I ignored it as I had the others—the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of partisanship, Kermit's return to a mouse—these others are dead ends.

The Dean of Men, a normally stoic and unassuming individual, apparently felt that the situation was serious enough to call a meeting. Bored and distracted, I ignored it as I had the others—President Hesburgh's new glasses, the abolition of partisanship, the reinstatement of kegs, the abolition of party cards, the reinstatement of beer and wine.

But this inference toward the man that made "in loco parentalis" famous can only add question marks about his ability to look toward his future and keep an eye on his finances.
Notre Dame basketball great Adrian Danley, Kelly Tripucka and Austin Carr, and 15 other former Notre Dame players will be returning to the ACC September 18 to participate in the Logan Center Benefit Basketball Game. The game is being organized by Notre Dame assistant basketball coaches Gary Brakow and John Shuman, both former Irish All-Americans who will play in the game. A great opportunity for all of us in noting something back to the South Bend community and enable local fans to see some of the "old needles." Tip-off is set for 1 p.m. on Saturday, September 18, just seven hours before Notre Dame opens its 1982 football season against Michigan in Notre Dame Stadium. Tickets are $6 in the lower arena and $4 for upper arena. Tickets are selling fast at Gate 10 of the ACC. — The Observer

Sports Briefs

By The Observer and The Associated Press

Monday, September 13, 1982 — page 8

Off-campus students interested in coaching any O-C teams this fall are asked to see Mark DePaolo, the off-campus athletic commissioner, at 254-5565 for information regarding fees, deadlines, etc. — The Observer

ND Hang Gliding Club is being organized. Call Ted Torrence at 287-7717 for information. — The Observer

The Fellowship of Christian Athletes will hold its first event this evening in the Howard Hall social space. All are invited to attend. — The Observer

ND track and field team will begin mandatory conditioning workouts on Monday in room 411 of the Administration Building. Saint Mary's students are welcome. No previous experience is necessary. — The Observer

ND-SMC Cycle Club is having an organizational meeting tonight at 9 p.m. in the Lafurrine Ballroom. Officers will be elected. — The Observer

Sports-board

ND field hockey won its season opener Friday night at Carter Field. Irish forward Jane McMillan scored three goals in the contest, the Irish travel to Taylor tomorrow. — The Observer

SMC tennis team defeated Illinois-Chicago Circle Friday in Chicago, 8-1. The Belles are now 2-0 on the season. — The Observer

Irish soccer team tied for third place in the Flower City Invitational in Rochester, N.Y. this weekend. In Friday's opening game, Notre defeated Notre Dame 5-1. In Saturday's consolation game, the Irish outshot Georgetown, 3-5, but failed to score. After two overtime periods, the game was called a draw. The Irish are now 1-1-1. — The Observer

Larry Morriarty and Blair Kiel will be the guests tomorrow night on WSNL's (AM-64) Speaking of Sports. Listeners may talk with the guests by calling 239-6400 or 239-7425. — The Observer

NOTICES

IMPROVE YOUR GRADES! Research indicates that 18 is the magic number for a student to read before he comprehends material. To increase your grade point average, try reading 18 times before you write an exam. — The Observer

LAFORTUNE STUDENTS: Do you have a computer? A personal computer? A terminal? Do you know someone who does? We need it for our terminal. — The Observer

SMC BOOKS TO YOU: The Observer, 26 Drivers Lane, Laurel, Maryland 20708. Established in 1963, the Observer has been providing students with a way to buy and sell books at fair prices. We have been a proud sponsor of the Mularity book drive at SMC for many years. All collections are tax deductible. — The Observer

SPORTS BRIEFS, page 9

The Observer will accept classifieds Monday through Friday, 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. However, classifieds to appear in the next issue must be received by 2 p.m. the business day prior to insertion. All classifieds must be prepaid either in person or through the mail.

The Observer

LAFORTUNE STUDENTS: Do you have a computer? A personal computer? A terminal? Do you know someone who does? We need it for our terminal. — The Observer

You're invited to the 18th Annual Buntington Club Housing Meeting, Monday, Sept. 13, 5 p.m., 4th floor of Administration Building. — The Observer
continued from page 8

...SportsBriefs

continued from page 8

The women's track and cross-country club will hold an organizational meeting tonight at 7:30 in the basement of Breen Phillips. If you need more information or if you are unable to attend, contact Vic Almario (159-541) or Rose Marie Luking (689-6). — The Observer

New deadlines have been announced by the office of Non-Varsity Athletics. Deadlines for grad football, the golf tournament, the interhall soccer, and co-rec water polo are tomorrow. Deadline for entry in the interhall cross-country meet for men and women is September 21. — The Observer

The ND Women's Fastpitch softball club will hold a mandatory meeting for anyone interested in playing softball this season tonight at 7:30 in the Lewis Hall basement. Contact Chris Callahan at 399-7 if you have any questions. — The Observer

Irish volleyball team won two of five matches at the Wolverine Invitational on Saturday. The Irish defeated Lake Superior State, 11-1, 15-6, 15-7, lost to Michigan, 15-9, 15-7; lost to Wayne State, 15-11, 5-15, 15-6, 15-9, defeated Grand Valley, 15-13, 15-10; and lost to Wayne State in the semifinals, 12-15, 6-15. The Irish are now 3-5 on the season. — The Observer

Ken Anderson of the Cincinnati Bengals, the Most Valuable Player of the NFL last season, completed 29 of 40 passes for 354 yards, leading the Bengals to a 27-6 triumph over the Houston Oilers. (AP)
continued from page 12
point and was behind 4-6 when Aron Osio hit a two-run single and put the rays on top for good.
It was the fifth hit in a score that
Osio got at the previous home run.
He has
in 12 runs on those occasions.

Allex's second homer came in the eighth after Frank White homered
and Cesar Geronimo slugged the close home run of the inning.

Duggers 7
Astrous 3

Huston AP — Steve Garvey
drove in three runs with a pair of singles to lead Los Angeles to a 7-4 victory over the Houston Astros.
keeping the Dodgers within a half-
game of first-place Atlanta in the National League West race.

Dave Stewart, 9-7, pitched 2-2
innings in relief of starter Rodney
Wright for the victory. Frank Flynn, 1-
1, took the loss.

The Astros scored twice in the first inning on Ray Knight's sacrifice
fly and Alan Ashby's run-scoring single.

Los Angeles took command
with a five-run fourth inning.

Angels 3
Blue Jays 2

ANAHEIM Calif AP Doug
DeCinces hit two run-scoring doubles as the California Angels beat
the Toronto Blue Jays 2-1.

Tommy John, 12-11, walked one
and struck out one in his first win
since being traded to the Blue Jays
from the Chicago White Sox.

LAFORTUNE
9 pm Annenberg Aud., Snite Museum, Admission $2

Boston Club Organizational Meeting
MON. SEPT 13 7:00
LAFORTUNE

Important discussion of activities and officers

While the varsity was in Rochester, NY, Notre Dame's junior varsity soccer squad tied Goshen Aurora, 1-1. (Photo by Scott Beaver)

continued from page 12
point and was behind 4-6 when Aron Osio hit a two-run single and
put the rays on top for good.
It was the fifth hit in a score that
Osio got at the previous home run.
He has driven in 12 runs on those occasions.

Allex's second homer came in the eighth after Frank White homered
and Cesar Geronimo slugged the close home run of the inning.

Duggers 7
Astrous 3

Huston AP — Steve Garvey
drove in three runs with a pair of singles to lead Los Angeles to a 7-4 victory over the Houston Astros.
keeping the Dodgers within a half-
game of first-place Atlanta in the National League West race.

Dave Stewart, 9-7, pitched 2-2
innings in relief of starter Rodney
Wright for the victory. Frank Flynn, 1-
1, took the loss.

The Astros scored twice in the first inning on Ray Knight's sacrifice
fly and Alan Ashby's run-scoring single.

Los Angeles took command
with a five-run fourth inning.

Angels 3
Blue Jays 2

ANAHEIM Calif AP Doug
DeCinces hit two run-scoring
doubles as the California Angels beat
the Toronto Blue Jays 2-1.

Tommy John, 12-11, walked one
and struck out one in his first win
since being traded to the Blue Jays
from the Chicago White Sox.
Doonesbury

Simon

In the Ruff

The Daily Crossword

Garry Trudeau

Jeb Cashin

Sven Johnson

T.V. Tonight

Campus

Stinkhorn/Scott Howell

HELP THE NAZZ HELP YOU

We are trying to compile a complete listing of musicians on campus—if you wish to be included, call or write John Warnoch at:
311 Keenan Hall
x3319

Check out the OAKROOM CAFE
in South Dining Hall's Pug Cafe
For a late nite snack
Nightly Specials
Complete with a new jukebox open Mon.-Thurs 9-12 am Fri.-Sat. 9-2 am Monday, September 13, 1982 — page 12

Sports

Weekly tennis

Irish win in split in Illinois

By DONNA WITZLEBEN

Sports Writer

Notre Dame's women's tennis team swept its way into the Illini Women's Open tennis tournament at the University of Illinois, 6-2, 6-4.

The Irish dropped the first match to the Illini, 6-1, but then they regrouped and won the remaining three matches, 6-1, 6-0, 6-4.

Connors Petro was a little disappointed with the singles play and attributed it to nerves. "We usually don't play the better schools until the spring, and the University of Illinois has improved even more over last year. They're a tough team to go out against right up out of the blocks," Petro explained.

But Petro was very pleased with his doubles team, the sixth game of the third set, when he broke Lendl at 30. Lendl double-faulted his first serve, and Petro served out for the match.

"It was a beneficial weekend for Petro and her squad, which stands at 1-3 so far this season. I learned what it will take to work to qualify and that I was more interested than was impressed with the fines double play I saw," said Petro.

The team resumes practice today before taking on Wheaton College, tomorrow at Courtesy Tennis Center at 3:30 p.m.

NHL

Plunkett leads Raiders over 49ers

Raiders 23

49ers 17

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jon Plunkett tossed a go-ahead touchdown pass in the final period and rookie Marcus Allen rushed for 116 yards as the Los Angeles Rams beat the Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers 23-17.

The Rams rallied from a 10-point deficit in the fourth quarter to seize the game.

"This was a game we had to win," said Plunkett.

The 49ers went ahead 17-0 on the opening drive, but Plunkett led a 17-play, 90-yard drive that tied the game for good.

The game becameieren a struggle.

"This was a great win for us," said Allen.

FALCONS 14

GIANTS 14

NEW YORK (AP) — Miami's Tom Kev subtracted a 50-yard punt return and corner back Don Shula and safeties Whitehead and Laws returned interceptions for touchdown's to lead the Miami Dolphins to a 24-22 victory over the mistake-prone New York Jets.

The victory ended four years of frustration against the Jets for the Dolphins, who were 0-1 in their previous contests.

Kittner's punt return with 10:47 remaining in the first quarter broke a 2-7 tie and the Dolphins steadily built on their lead. One of Miami's scores came on a rare touchdown reception by quarterback David Woodley, who hauled in a 15-yard pass from back Tony Nathan in the third quarter.

The interceptions by Blackwood and Meenald thwarted a New York comeback in the third quarter. Blackwood picked off a Fran Tarkis Todd pass and returned 55 yards for the touchdown that gave Miami 18-14 lead with 4:18 left.

On the Jets next possession, Meenald stepped in front of intended receiver Bruce Harper and returned the interception 19 yards for the score.

FOOTBALL page 10