Saint Mary's passes freeze referendum

By CATHEY PAX
Campaigns Reporter

The umnial freeze referendum that was defeated at Notre Dame on Thursday might have been a different story at Saint Mary's yesterday with a 54 percent share of the votes.

The referendum was viewed as "a moral choice at Saint Mary's," said senior JoAnn Holland, a freeze coalition worker at Saint Mary's. This view is different from the one that prevailed at Notre Dame where much political controversy and debate surrounded the issue.

The politics overshadowed the moral issue at Notre Dame. Holland kháced "72 percent of the student body voted on the issue, with 54 percent in favor, 32 percent against, and 4 percent abstaining. Only one faculty member voted for Saint Mary's.

The referendum calls for a unilateral freeze by the United States as a first step to mutual disarmament.

Holland believes the referendum had a strong, positive effect on the Saint Mary's student body as it forced "many people who don't usually think about politics, consider an important issue." This was the first political issue ever to be decided on a ballot at Saint Mary's, Holland said.

No active group opposed the referendum on Saint Mary's campus as the College Republicans did at Notre Dame.

New student body Presidents elected

Notre Dame

By PATRICK MULLEN
Campaigns Reporter

Brian Callaghan and Peggy Prevoznik were elected student body president and vice president in yesterday's runoff election. Callaghan and Prevoznik beat their opponents Tim Connolly and Jim Leenon by a 62.6 to 37.4 percent margin.

The runoff was held because the student body president, Vice President and Academic Affairs were elected with an 87 percent vote in yesterday's election.

Fifty-five percent of all Notre Dame students showed up at the polls. The turnout was less than that for Tuesday's general election, in which 65 percent of the students voted, "but," said Ombudsmen's Election Coordinator John Quinn, "it was still significant considering the fact that there was no referendum and that it was a runoff election.

Forty-two percent of the student body voted in last year's runoff. President elect Callaghan was also impressed with the turnout, but more than anything, he said, he was impressed with "the quality of the campaign and the absence of bitter rivalry.

Callaghan commented that the fact that he and Prevoznik won had little to do with the quality of their opponents. "Sometimes a majority," he said, "means all the bows the same way.

Callaghan and Prevoznik will take office on April 1st. In the meantime, Callaghan said, "we're going to have to go through a transition period. Page 5 and I are going to have to work closely with the current student body president and Vice President Lloyd Burke and Bob Yonch in order to get a feel for what's going on before we take office.

Callaghan said that he and Provovnik have no radical plans for when they take office. "We're planning to get a few things done before April 1 and the end of the school year, such as having the Engineering Auditorium and LaFortune fixed up. But besides that it'll be able to start taking definite plans in the coming weeks when we start working with Lloyd and Bob.

When asked about his running mate, Callaghan said that Vice President Prevoznik is a "very worthy opponent."

Hagemian, Manion run off

Bertino, McAvoy win in Senate

By TOM MOWLE
Campaigns Reporter

Rob Bertino and Dave McAvoy won run-off elections to the Student Senate yesterday.

Bertino defeated Holum Brunson, son in District 1, 544-368, while McAvoy held a 614-510 margin over Alison Yurko in District 5.

Bertino took 84.5 percent of the vote in Lewis on the way to his victory. The Alumni sophomore also won in his own dorm, Holy Cross, and by a small margin in Morris.

Dillon was the only dorm McAvoy won, but his 275-171 victory brought him a comfortable victory. Yurko was backed most strengths in Morris and Pangborn, each of which she carried by over 50 votes.

Bertino was "very happy to have won" and was "pleased with the results in Alumni, Holy Cross, and especially Lewis." He felt "Holum was a very worthy opponent," now he is "ready to get to work.

McAvoy was "extremely pleased" and thanked "especially those in the holl." The Dillon junior believed both opponents were qualified people. He also looks forward to working with the President and Vice President, and hoped not to let down the people who voted for him.

Class Officers

By ANNE MONASTYRSKI
Campaigns Reporter

A runoff between the Hagemian ticket of Cara Hagemian, President, Michelle Lopez, Vice president, Mary Ann Potter, treasurer; Martha Jones, secretary and the Manion ticket of Michelle Manion, President; Maureen Kurzau, Vice president; Patti Nolan, treasurer; and Janet Sauer, secretary will be held to determine junior class officers at Saint Mary's class elections yesterday.

Approximately 65 percent of the class voted.

Sharon resigns defense post

By JERI SALEM (AP) - Ariel Sharon resigned as Israeli defense minister this morning following a government decision to adopt all the findings of the Bietar massacre commission, Israeli radio said.

The radio said Sharon had agreed to hand the defense portfolio to Prime Minister Menachem Begin and would leave the Defense Ministry Monday. It said Sharon would remain in the Cabinet with a different portfolio.

The Cabinet had voted 16-1 yesterday to accept all the commission's recommendations. But Sharon initially indicated he would refuse to step down.

Cabinet ministers had emerged from their five-and-a-half-hour meeting yesterday saying they were stalemated by Sharon's resistance to resignation. Although the Cabinet has the power to take the defense portfolio away from Sharon, only Begin could remove him from the Cabinet.

Justice Minister Moshe Yaalon had said the Cabinet decision to accept the commission's recommendations in full meant Sharon had to quit. But Energy Minister Yitzhak Modai told reporters Sharon was balking.

Israel Army radio said Sharon argued at length against the report, claiming that it "branded a mark of guilt" on Israel by saying it was indirectly responsible for the massacre.

While the Cabinet met, a grenade explosion less than 100 yards away killed one of about 100 demonstrators demonstrating that Sharon be freed, and wounded nine people, including three policemen.

The massacre commission called for Sharon's resignation for letting Lebanese militiamen into the Sabra and Chatilla refugee camps despite the threat that they would slaughter civilians.

The Observer

The independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1983

VOL XVII, NO 95

College Center - page 6
News Briefs
By The Observer and The Associated Press

Father James Burchaell, Professor of Theology at Notre Dame, has been named recipient of a Christopher Award for his book "Rainbow Prophet," a collection of essays on activism.

First given in 1949, the Christopher Awards honor people responsible for works affirming the values of the human spirit while exhibiting special achievements toward that end. The 1983 awards are Richard Reeves, for "American Journey," and Joaillia L. Hall, for "Looking for God: The Life of Martin Luther King, Jr.

Father Burchaell is a specialist in biblical theology who joined the Notre Dame faculty in 1966. He was named Notre Dame Professor of the Year from 1970 to 1979. — The Observer

Workers at a Missouri day-care center kept children indoors yesterday and parents expressed concern after health officials revealed they had found of traces of toxic dioxin in a soil. "I'm concerned and I know other parents are concerned too," said one to be quoted by the St. Louis Post-Dispatch. She plans to lunch with her 5-year-old son Tarry. "But we don't just know enough yet," The Environmental Protection Agency announced today that it had found dioxin in the soil at seven new places around St. Louis, bringing to 22 the number of confirmed sites in Missouri. But tests at 14 other sites showed no trace of dioxin, which is a chemical by-product from the manufacture of pesticides. Tests from 11 other sites are still being analyzed, and more than 50 suspected sites are still unchecked. EPA officials went to the Missouri Department of Health yesterday to announce that they had found dioxin at concentrations of two to four parts per million over a gravel road, which has since been covered with asphalt and a lawn. None of the samples came from bias areas, but Bowen Michaels of the regional EPA office in Kansas City. — AP

Environmental Protection Agency chief Anne M. Gorsuch and 36 other EPA officials were subpoenaed yesterday as part of an investigation into the agency's handling of complaints about the agency's overall enforcement policies as well as detailed data relating to five specific waste disposal sites. Among those summoned were Gorsuch, former Assistant Administrator Rita Lavelle, who was fired by President Reagan this week; 35 other EPA staffers in Washington and California, and a broad range of agency documents. The EPA said it would have no immediate comment on the controversy.

White House was becoming more involved in the burgeoning dispute, which already has produced a contentious battle over a continuing dispute over the leasing of White House apartments, Larry Speakes, White House press secretary, said President Reagan was being asked to appoint a Council of Federal Cell to "looking at the situation over there (at EPA)". — AP

Addicted to Pac-Man and other video games, some young devotees of Japan's video arcades are turning to crime to support their expensive games. "It's a awful late to be baking a paper (at school)," some of the youth would ask lookouts while a chosen "busher" entered to steal money or valuables. — AP

An inmate at the Indiana state reformatory was indicted by a federal grand jury yesterday for threatening the life of President Reagan on three separate occasions. In the three-count indictment, the grand jury charged that William Joseph Kooztz, 22, of Fort Wayne, Ind., threatened on about Dec. 6, 1982 a letter "containing threats to take the life of Ronald R. Reagan, President of the United States." Kooztz, 30, is presently serving a seven-year sentence for forgery in the Indiana State Reformatory at Pendleton. In the letter he wrote, "I'm William Kooztz. I'm going to kill the President of the United States if you don't let me out next year." Kooztz, of Upland, was arrested in August 1981. According to court officials the earliest he could be released would be July 12, 1989. The indictment alleges Kooztz made oral threats against Reagan's life in the presence of Secret Service Agent William F. Hollingsworth, and with the state Department of Corrections on or about Dec. 16, 1982. "I don't care if anyone believes me or not, when I get out I'm going to kill President Reagan," Kooztz told the two men. The second threatening letter was sent on or about Dec. 28, 1982, the indictment said. The letter was sent in part "so you send just enough me that I'm not going to stop me to killing the United States President Reagan. I'm going to write for this letter to him. I will be out soon be so looking for me. I'm going to kill President Reagan soon." — AP

Snow flurries likely today, high of 55 degrees. Cloudy overnight with a low of 17 degrees. — The Observer

Alcohol and abstention

Older does not mean wiser or more responsible.

Kathleen Doyle
Assistant News Editor

Inside Friday, February 11, 1983 — page 2

The Observer is looking at new reporters in both the sports and newsroom sections as well as people in advertising and production. No experience is needed, so if you're interested call us 239-5163. You too can be an Observerite.

Observer note

The Observer is always looking for new reporters in both the sports and newsroom sections as well as people in advertising and production. No experience is needed, so if you're interested call us 239-5163. You too can be an Observerite.

Alcohol and abstention

Older does not mean wiser or more responsible.

Kathleen Doyle
Assistant News Editor

Some people have said that alcohol is a national problem that has been identified as a concern at Notre Dame.

The PACE report recommended that the "Proseal, with the approval of the President, appoint a committee of administrators, faculty, and students to draw up a public statement on responsible drinking to consider such factors as present practices and procedures." The "Proseal" committee could be responsible for drinking, and to recommend procedures to the Notre Dame. A "Proseal" committee could be responsible for drinking, and to recommend procedures to Notre Dame.

Notre Dame may yet offer its opinion and define "responsible drinker" in an upcoming edition of alcad.

The Observer

The Little Match Girl

Dance Theatre presents

The Little Match Girl

Information: 284-4626

O'Loughlin Auditorium

Opening night patrons

275 Little Match Girls, 10 Little Match Boys

Friday, February 11 and 12 at 8pm

Dance Theatre presents

The Little Match Girl
'Crackdown
Illegal phone call charging rises'

By SANDY VALENZUELA
Staff Reporter

There has been an "unprecedented increase" in illegal telephone call charging, said Brother Kevin Ryan, assistant vice president of business affairs. "That's why we're going to really crack down on it,"

The fraudulent calls were the subject of a special bulletin to the students issued by Dean of Students James A. Roemer.

Some students, according to Roemer, have been charging the calls to their room telephone number rather than their billing number. Problems occur when more than one person lives in the room.

Each dormitory room on the campus has a telephone. The telephone, however, is registered in the name of the University, not in the name of the students occupying the room, said Roemer. Therefore, Notre Dame is legally obligated to Indiana Bell for payment of these bills.

Another problem noticed is the acceptance of collect calls. This is in violation of the University policy as stated on page 65 of the Law, according to Roemer.

The University receives a toll slip for each unpaid bill, said Ryan. These have the phone number and room number from which the call was made. From then on, checks with the housing department to obtain the names of the students occupying the room.

If a student admits making the call, he is not only getting the charge of the call itself, but also an extra $5 stated Roemer. "Five dollars is a minimum fee for all of the work put in," said Ryan.

If the phone call is not traced to a student, "we absorb the cost ourselves," said Ryan. According to Roemer, this is "a very expensive abuse."

Long distance calls can be traced. Roemer assured. The calls can be tracked to the phone number called. "We can do this ourselves or send it back to the company," said Ryan.

When Indiana Bell is notified of the problem, they send out investigators, Roemer said. "They charge for the full cost of investigative services."

Some students, the dean continued, "charge the call to another student room. That's a criminal violation. Not only could they be facing the costs, but they could be facing criminal charges as well."

The consequences of illegal phone usage are stated on page 2 of the student telephone book. "State law provides that no person shall defraud or attempt to defraud the Telephone Company of its lawful charges. Violators, upon conviction, are subject to imprisonment for up to one year, a fine of up to $3,000, or both."

According to Ryan, students "may be losing their billing numbers because of the problems we've been having. They (Indiana Bell) want to eliminate the student number if students continue to abuse it."

Roemer said the numbers are a "distinct advantage." With the present system, a student dials 9-1-1 and then the number he wishes to call.

When the operator takes the line, the student then gives his billing number. Roemer says this is a defense advantage. A student receives the "direct distance dialing rate as if he didn't go through the operator."

"Please do not use your phones for long-distance calls - outgoing or incoming - unless you have a billing number," Roemer urged.

The University is now accepting Applications for:

CHAUTAUQUA MANAGER

This job demands a responsible individual to get bands and movies and to be on hand at the events.

Anyone Interested - Please Apply at the Student Union Ask Margaret for applications.

What are you doing for Spring Break? come...

The Student Union is proudly sponsoring a fun trip: Steamboat springs, colarado!

Trip includes:
5 fun days and 6 wild nights: Wine and Cheesy Party
Luxury condominiums with fireplaces and jacuzzis
Quality equipment rentals for a low price. St. Patrick's Day Party
Join in the fun-stop by the S.U. and sign up!! Deadlines for sign-ups Feb. 11

Under the watchful eye of Jimi Hendrix, these three Air Force recruiters put on their best for those at the Government Career Day held in the LaFayette ballroom yesterday. (Photo by Larry Petras)
After 11 days

Independent truckers end strike

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leaders of independent truckers called a 11-day strike yesterday in their violence-marred protest after they won assurances from nearly three dozen congressmen that their complaints would be examined.

"You have to be realistic," Michael Parkhurst, president of the Independent Truckers Association, Inc., said at a news conference interrupted by shouts and heckling from other truckers who said the 11-day strike should continue.

Acting as Parkhurst's urging, thousands of independent truckers parked their rigs Jan. 31 in protest against increases in truck taxes and road-user fees voted by Congress shortly before Christmas. But in recent days the strike appeared to be crumbling as growing numbers of truckers returned to the highways.

One trucker was killed on the first day of the strike.

"We are officially asking independent truckers to get back to work as soon as possible," Parkhurst said after a three-hour meeting of about 40 regional representatives of his organization, which claims 56,000 members.

Baring the audience, George Sullivan, head of a rival organization called Independent Truckers Unity Committee, shouted that many truckers disagreed with Parkhurst.

"He's got a piece of paper that's not worth the paper it's written on," Sullivan yelled.

Sullivan, who claimed to represent more than 55,000 truckers, including most of the steel haulers, said later that his committee would decide this weekend whether to continue the strike.

Other truckers, angry over Parkhurst's announcement, said they did not regard the protest as ended.

During the strike, Parkhurst had said repeatedly that promising truckers would return to work only if Congress repealed the tax and fee increases, but he said yesterday that the commitment from the congressmen was the best that could be achieved.

Parkhurst said that a letter being circulated in Congress by Rep. Douglas Applegate of Ohio seeks a legislative review of the tax and fee boosts with the aim of making them more equitable for independent truck drivers.

Parkhurst said it was a "commitment on the part of a substantial number of congressmen to look at the taxes" and was the best he could have accomplished.

Rep. Peter Kastenmayer, D-Pa., who also circulated the letter, called it a "commitment of a willingness to listen" to the truckers, and Applegate said he expected congressional hearings would be held. Parkhurst did not identify the 35 congressmen he said had agreed to hear the truckers' complaints.

The letter urged Speaker Thomas P. O'Neill and Rep. Dan Rustkiovski, D-Ill., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, to review truckers' complaints about the sharp, recent increases in highway user fees on trucks.

Church of England rejects unilateral call

LONDON (AP) — After an emotional debate broadcast nationwide, the governing body of the Church of England yesterday rejected a call for unilateral British nuclear disarmament.

The General Synod of 3,000 bishops, other clergy and laity defeated by more than 3 to 1 a proposal that Britain phase out its nuclear weapons and tell the United States to take its submarine and bomber bases off British soil.

But it approved by a 53.5% vote margin an amendment calling for a universal ban on first use of nuclear weapons. It also called on the British government to work with its allies to "reduce progressively" the dependence on nuclear weapons in the Western alliance and to cut back world nuclear arsenals.

Archbishop of Canterbury Robert Runcie, leader of 65 million Anglicans worldwide, told the assembly that unilateral disarmament would throw NATO into disarray, sabotage General arms talks between the United States and the Soviet Union and strengthen American "advocates of isolationism."
Amos reflects on life, death, spirit of King

By MIKE LEPRE
Senior Staff Reporter

Calling Martin Luther King "the most eloquent speaker that this world has ever seen," actor and director John Amos presented a dramatic reading of a Martin Luther King speech as part of the University's 58th annual Black Cultural Arts Festival last night.

After relating some humorous anecdotes concerning his experiences with the actor on the set, Amos revealed the more serious side of himself.

With music and vocal accompaniment of Gailen Robinson, Amos performed "Adventist" and "Black Heresy," two songs written by Robinson.

"Martin Luther King's death left a void in this country which I do not think will be filled during our lifetime," Amos said. Amos also noticed "a strong parallel between the life and death of Gandhi and Martin Luther King.

Amos strongly believes that the spirit of King must still be present today.

"King's life was timeless because he had nothing to offer us but love," said Amos, adding that "Kings' words were not words of the past but also words of today.

Amos then delivered a dramatic, tear-drenched reading of King's self-writen eulogy, with Robinson playing his own rendition of Amazing Grace on the flute in the background.

"We must come closer to a better understanding of life," asserted Amos. "We must realize that no one has the right to suppress anybody under the guise of God.

Amos, who was nominated for an Emmy for his role as Kunta Kinte in the television mini-series "Roots," stated, "When you are an actor the best thing you can do is rely on your own instincts.

"Before becoming an actor, I wanted to be a professional football player," said Amos. He also noted that after being cut 15 times by various professional teams he "decided to get into something which came more natural to me, the entertainment industry."

Amos cited the use of "personal everyday life experiences as a civilian to help my career as an actor.

In addition to appearing in "Roots," Amos has had roles in "Police Story," "The Time-Conway Comedy Hour," "The Mary Tyler Moore Show," "The Love Boat," and "Good Times."

Amos' credentials also include film appearances in The Vanishing Point, The World's Greatest Athlete, Let's Do It Again, and Foundation, as well as numerous stage performances.

The Black Cultural Arts Festival will continue for the next month, and is slated to include a talent show, speeches by Berry Carter and Warren Bowles, and a fashion show.

The event is designed to give freshmen all the information they need in order to choose a college program.

Freshmen will be required to register for the fall semester of the 1983-84 year with the dean of the college program that they have chosen April 14-21.

Emil T. Hofman, dean of the Freshman Year of Studies, explained that every freshman should consider not only what they would like to do in the future, but also what they could do with reasonable success.

All freshmen must take seven required courses in their curriculum. This allows students to sample a number of different areas in addition to the one which interests them.

Hofman commented that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The "Spotlight Program" will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

"A Spotlight Program is designed to help them make an intelligent choice about the college in which they plan to enroll this fall.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.

The spotlight Program will be begun with 60 percent of the students.

Hofman also mentioned that approximately 60 percent of the students change colleges from the time they apply until they declare their major.
Library reborn as College Center

By KATHY MURRAY

Copy Editor

Notre Dame has its Old Fieldhouse and Saint Mary’s has its former Alumni Library. The Fieldhouse will be leveled in March, but Saint Mary’s Alumni Library will, with quite a bit of renovation, flourish as the form of the new Haggar College Center, scheduled to open in September.

Research for the project began nearly two years ago when Mary Anne O’Donnell, director of student activities, and several student government leaders began reading about and visiting other college centers. They compiled a report on their research which was presented to Kathleen M. Rice, dean of student affairs.

Meanwhile, the College’s faculty and administration were surveyed, along with 500 Saint Mary’s and Notre Dame students, for input concerning the center.

Thirty college centers across the country contributed information about their programs, facilities and services. About this time, the Cashwa-Leighton Library was under construction at Saint Mary’s, freeing the old library building for use.

A College Center Committee, composed of representatives from the faculty, staff, administration and student body, was formed to develop a program for the College Center project. They used the ideas compiled in the surveys to formulate goals for the program.

Before doing anything else, we were careful to construct a program for the building because we didn’t want to just stick facilities into it without some overall purpose,” O’Donnell said. With this in mind, the committee issued six goals. They are, listed in order of importance:

• To center students’ social life on campus in order to develop and reinforce their identity as Saint Mary’s College women, to allow students more control of their social lives and to alleviate the problems associated with the current lack of social space.
• To increase awareness of and participation in student organizations such as student government.
• To encourage informal association among students, faculty, administration (including Regents) and alumnae.
• To encourage student participation in cultural activities. A survey of 60 campuses revealed that two-thirds of all students surveyed (or a total of 37,000) support the idea of cultural facilities located in a college center. A separate study demonstrated that far more students participate in cultural activities when presented in the center rather than elsewhere on campus or in the college town.
• To encourage students to take advantage of non-traditional educational opportunities for growth and development such as counseling and career development workshops.
• To integrate the off-campus student population.

“From the goals, you can see we really wanted the building to be for all members of the Saint Mary’s community. That’s why it’s called the College Center,” O’Donnell explained.

When the committee set out to determine which facilities suggested in the various surveys would best meet the goals of the program, it had to set priorities. Originally, for example, the college bookstore was to occupy the entire first floor of the Haggar Center. “When we looked at that (the architectural plan),” O’Donnell said, “we realized that more than half of the building was going to be the bookstore, and we really couldn’t get anything else in. So, we went back to the drawing board and decided to build an addition on the back of the building to house the bookstore, providing space for some of the facilities we were leaving out.”

“I think that, without the program, we wouldn’t have been able to justify the need for the addition,” O’Donnell noted.

The first of the building’s three floors will house an information desk, the central point of the building, according to O’Donnell, which will provide information about campus activities. The desk will be staffed whenever the building is open. Office space for the director of student activities and an assistant, a bank and a travel bureau will also be located on the first floor.

The bookstore will be in the addition currently being constructed in the rear of the building. Small food items will be sold either in the bookstore or in the snack bar. In any event, the bookstore will be large enough to accommodate much more than the textbooks it now holds.

Other, assorted first floor features are a 24-hour bank teller, a ticket distribution center and a game room (including a ping pong table and video games).

The College Center will be connected with LeMans Hall and the Cashwa-Leighton Library by two tunnels.

The snack bar will be the second floor’s most prominent feature, its goal to integrate students and alumnae.

“I think one of the big problems with the current snack bar is that no one wants to sit at a table for eight; they want to sit with one or two people — so we’re putting in booths and small tables,” O’Donnell said.

There will be a terrace above the snack bar, but the third floor will not be completed as planned because of a lack of funding.

“We’ll paint it (the top floor), put some carpeting and furnishings in, but not do any of the (originally scheduled) renovation,” O’Donnell commented.

Six small third floor rooms will be set aside for student offices, such as for The Observer and The Blue Manse. A large conference room and lounge for small lectures and seminars also will be on the third floor.

Most rooms of the center are multipurpose; one room on the mezzanine level will be named the “Chameleon Room” in honor of its constantly changing purposes.

The Center will be open Monday-Thursday, 11 a.m.-midnight; Friday, 11 a.m.-2 a.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m.-2 a.m.; and Sunday, 10 a.m.-midnight.

O’Donnell was the host of a meeting soliciting student input on the center earlier this year. She is currently making presentations about the center in dorm sections — complete with blueprints. The renovations, according to O’Donnell and the College Center Committee, will be “tempered with respect of the originality of the old library structure.”

$500,000 for the renovation was donated by the Haggar Foundation. The contribution for the $2,500,000 bookstore was given by the Eli J. Shaheen family.

The Observer — News Special
Friday, February 11, 1983 — page 6
The nuclear world is one of paradox, where rational threats are referred to as irrational, and the ultimate achievement of technology is destruction. The paradox of the nuclear world is seen in the nuclear holocaust, a concept that is both terrifying and fascinating. The nuclear paradox is a reminder that humanity must find a way to live in peace and coexistence.

Robert Frost presented an acute understanding of the danger of nuclear weapons. He believed that nuclear weapons pose a threat to our future and our children. He warned us that we must learn from the past and that the destruction of the human race is possible. Frost’s poetry is a call to action, urging us to reflect on our actions and to consider the consequences of our actions.

The nuclear holocaust is a reminder of the devastating power of nuclear weapons. It is a reminder of the importance of working towards a peaceful and sustainable future. The nuclear paradox is a stark reminder of the need for action and for a change in attitudes towards the use of nuclear weapons.

In conclusion, the nuclear paradox is a reminder of the need for action and for a change in attitudes towards the use of nuclear weapons. It is a reminder of the importance of working towards a peaceful and sustainable future. The nuclear paradox is a stark reminder of the need for action and for a change in attitudes towards the use of nuclear weapons.

Fire and Ice: the nuclear paradox

The Observer

Editorial Board

Editorial Department

Editor-in-Chief

Managing Editor

Executive Editor

Sports Editor

Arts and Entertainment Editor

Opinion Editor

Photo Editor

Departments

Business Manager

Advertising Manager

Production Manager

Systems Manager

Founded November 3, 1966
A sign saying "Pray to God. But Row Towards Shore" is missing from the door of my room in 16 Pasqua West. It disappeared between midnight and 2 a.m. last Saturday, probably borrowed by a guest attending a session soirée in the PW party room. The same song was once libertated from the door of my room when I lived in Keenan. It was returned on the final payday of the semester while I was saying Mass. I say Mass six or seven times a week in the shelter, so it's possible if the present borrower was like to plan restitution or an opportunity to worship.

"Pray to God," the sign says, "But Row Towards Shore," and there's a design of two fellows with mugs, maneuvering a boat. The plaque offers an insight on self-reliance of which Emerson would be proud, but who else would like such New England droolery? Of course, the plaque offers an insight on self-reliance of which Emerson would be proud; but who else would like such New England droolery? Obviously, a guy, or several guys to look after the fishing, because women aren't allowed to the fishing. It's part of the fun of being young and irresponsible to have a liberal attitude toward other people's property. In darker circumstances, lots pour over the wreckage left by flood or earthquake. The shops get plundered when the lights go orange in Harlem. Union soldiers carry the prises of war from Atlanta to the west. The stores and the boats are equally affected. The shop-lifting bag ladies are as vulnerable as the Rockefellerites. Citizens are outraged, because the social contract has been violated. Trusting another, we lock up our property, or chain it down.

Television monitors are the big brothers that watch us while we shop. I knew a student famous for his collection of records, most of them belonging to the bookstore. He claimed to have dominium over the entire house. The plaque is replicable as it is on campus as it is in the war zones.

Mine was just a stained wooden plaque, for God's sake; it wasn't one of the pillars supporting the civilized world. I could pretend that the taker picked it up by mistake, thinking it was his, but the minions say when jackets are removed from the dining halls, darker suspicions are suggested when the loser adds: no questions asked. I hope my plaque has a good home. It is not a decoration to be hung in a bathroom or over a bar. It doesn't belong in a church, either, not being in a class with, "I am the Resurrection and the Life." The plaque should be placed in a spot worthy of homegrown photographers, like a hall chaplain's door. If it whispers at night, you'll know that the res is claim'd for its dominium.

If the taker needs it more than the owner: the taker is certainly welcome to keep it. Lord love the lad, I'm not going to take it. Darby O'Gill it, that anyone couldn't have for the asking, if he needs it, he has it. Darby is available for brief verses. I can imagine some senior, graduating with a major that seems as senseless as a dead batman when he's looking for a job, trying to find the balance between faith and works. I can imagine a sophomore, faced with a cross of belief, trying to evaluate the usefulness of prayer. I can imagine a philosophy student, overwhelmed with Weltanschauung, because the sea is too wide and his boat is too small, resolutions in existential dilemmas by recourse to his own and his trust in the Lord. I can imagine E.T. as a critter, up the creek without a paddle, deciding he'll never make it home unless he rows like Hell Towards Shore, here on the good spaceship earth. This is advise that jogggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advice that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft.

Friday, February 11, 1983 — page 8

SHOWCASE

Pray to God, but...

visionally, a guy, or several guys to look after the fishing, because women aren't allowed to the fishing. It's part of the fun of being young and irresponsible to have a liberal attitude toward other people's property. In darker circumstances, lots pour over the wreckage left by flood or earthquake. The shops get plundered when the lights go orange in Harlem. Union soldiers carry the prises of war from Atlanta to the west. The stores and the boats are equally affected. The shop-lifting bag ladies are as vulnerable as the Rockefellerites. Citizens are outraged, because the social contract has been violated. Trusting another, we lock up our property, or chain it down.

Television monitors are the big brothers that watch us while we shop. I knew a student famous for his collection of records, most of them belonging to the bookstore. He claimed to have dominium over the entire house. The plaque is replicable as it is on campus as it is in the war zones.

Mine was just a stained wooden plaque, for God's sake; it wasn't one of the pillars supporting the civilized world. I could pretend that the taker picked it up by mistake, thinking it was his, but the minions say when jackets are removed from the dining halls, darker suspicions are suggested when the loser adds: no questions asked. I hope my plaque has a good home. It is not a decoration to be hung in a bathroom or over a bar. It doesn't belong in a church, either, not being in a class with, "I am the Resurrection and the Life." The plaque should be placed in a spot worthy of homegrown photographers, like a hall chaplain's door. If it whispers at night, you'll know that the res is claim'd for its dominium.

If the taker needs it more than the owner: the taker is certainly welcome to keep it. Lord love the lad, I'm not going to take it. Darby O'Gill it, that anyone couldn't have for the asking, if he needs it, he has it. Darby is available for brief verses. I can imagine some senior, graduating with a major that seems as senseless as a dead batman when he's looking for a job, trying to find the balance between faith and works. I can imagine a sophomore, faced with a cross of belief, trying to evaluate the usefulness of prayer. I can imagine a philosophy student, overwhelmed with Weltanschauung, because the sea is too wide and his boat is too small, resolutions in existential dilemmas by recourse to his own and his trust in the Lord. I can imagine E.T. as a critter, up the creek without a paddle, deciding he'll never make it home unless he rows like Hell Towards Shore, here on the good spaceship earth. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft. This is advise that joggers could use, or diets, or Reagenonomics, or political candidates. It is the wisdom that supports athletics, or any club sport, like hockey. It is the theology which will keep the Church alive, or inspire Kolymbiewicz viewing the ruins of a molecular holocaust. Onward and upward with the old space craft.
T he problem with this weekend is not a lack of choices of things to do. The problem is trying to decide which event can be viewed and which one cannot. A busy social calendar makes cold, blustery winter days like these a little easier to bear. My recommendation is to get the most out of everything you see. I’ll be spending the early hours of my Friday evening at the ACC watching the women’s basketball. The time is 7:30 p.m. and it’s free. In the event you are watching a show on television, try to see you there.

THEATRE

Anton Chekhov is probably best known for his serious, realistic, naturalistic plays. The Three Sisters and The Cherry Orchard. In the last few decades, other authors’ names have replaced his as household words. But Neil Simon has rescued Chekhov from oblivion and used his stories as the basis for The Good Doctor, presented by the South Bend Civic Theatre, 701 Portage Ave. Tickets are $5.50 and weekend prices are $7.50.

OPERA

Combining magic, comedy, romance, and the mysteries of ancient Egypt, Goshen College presents Mozart’s The Magic Flute, tonight through Sunday. The Magic Flute tells the story of Prince Tamino and the birdcatcher Papageno, and their quest for Pamina, the daughter of the Queen of the Night, who has been abducted by the high priests of Isis and Osiris. Their quest is furthered by the help of a magic flute. Performances are in the Umbler Center. Curtain time is 8 p.m. tonight and tomorrow night, 7:30 p.m. Sunday. Tickets are $4 for students.

MUSIC

The Notre Dame Department of Music will present Dante Maity and Carl Kaser in a vocalist Recital Sunday at 4 p.m in Annenberg Auditorium. Maity, soprano, and Kaser, tenor, will perform songs by Mozart, Beethoven, Hugo Wolf, Robert Schuman, Richard Strauss, and Richard Wagner. General admission is $8 with free admission for students with an ID.

MOVIES

If you’re not an Illini native, chances are you’ve never tried to map Macomb. But if you were a member of a College Bowl team which participated in last weekend’s national tournament, you would undoubtedly recognize the city as a place such as cities and universities, but such information as the National Football League player Barry Sanders’ all time leading era (Franco Harris) how to spell管理制度 and crisp. This is due to the upkeep and the work of Anne Hanson, Pat McGinn, the weekend in Macomb netted more than pickled herring files. And your 60 point bonus. How many Four Homesteads were there?
Valentine SPECIALS

Restaurant and lounge
Open Sunday to serve your favorite cocktails with live entertainment and dancing
1516 N. Ironwood just east of campus
Mon-Sat 11am-1am
Sun 4pm-12:30am

Erika's Flowers & Gifts
On Valentine's Day express your love with flowers.
Show your student ID and get 10% off your purchase.
409 DixieWay N.
272-6363

Village Greenhouse
Always Florist Quality
Roses $29.95 doz.
$3.00 each
Carnations $8.95 doz.
$1.00 each
COMPARERE OUR PRICES
We wire flowers anywhere 272-5335

Kambol's Floral & Carden
potted plants
cut flowers
long-stem roses
corsages
centerpieces
weddings
Bottomless Champagne served 12:30-2:30
the additional charge

Sweetheart Brunch
This Sunday, it's Brunch at the Marriott!
Sunday, from 10:00 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., enjoy a stupendous all-you-can-eat buffet of omelettes, waffles, bagels, seafood, salads, cheeses, fruits, assorted hot entrees and vegetables, plus mouth-watering desserts.
To add to your pleasure, there's live entertainment and complimentary carnations for all! All for $9.95 for adults, $4.95 for children under 12.

Francesco's Italian Dining
Original Southern Italian Home Cooking
"Everything is a 'homemade'"

The Plants and Flowers Shop
Roses $29.50 doz.
early orders get first choice of colors
Carnations $12.00 doz.
Valentine Ivy Planters, great for gifts!
Valentine Balloons
Delivery Available FREE for SMC, 50 to LaFortune
We Wire Flowers Anywhere
Lemans Hall, SMC 284-4597

Fox's Jewelers Direct Diamond Importers
15% Discount not including sale items
N.D.- S.M.C.
University Park Mall and Concord & Pierre Moran Malls — Elkhart

Princess Flowers
703 W. McKinley
Mishawaka
phone: 255-4000
Happy Valentine's Day!

Mr. D's Coming Factory
Restaurant and lounge
Open Sunday to serve your favorite cocktails with live entertainment and dancing
1516 N. Ironwood just east of campus
Mon-Sat 11am-1am
Sun 4pm-12:30am

Roses and Carnations

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Item</th>
<th>Price</th>
<th>Description</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Roses</td>
<td>$29.95 doz.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Carnations</td>
<td>$8.95 doz.</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Additional Services
- Flower delivery available
- We wire flowers anywhere
- COMPARE OUR PRICES

Kambol's Floral & Carden
- Potted plants
- Cut flowers
- Long-stem roses
- Corsages
- Centerpieces
- Weddings

Sweetheart Brunch
- Brunch at the Marriott!
- Buffet of omelettes, waffles, bagels, seafood, salads, cheeses, fruits, assorted hot entrees and vegetables
- Mouth-watering desserts
- Live entertainment
- Complimentary carnations

Francesco's Italian Dining
- Original Southern Italian Home Cooking
- Everything is a 'homemade'
- Spaghetti alla Carbonara
- Meatball stuffed eggplant
- Braciata alla Carabrese
- Stuffed beef roll
- A variety of pastas and sandwiches
- Also featuring Francesco's Four Season Pizza

The Plants and Flowers Shop
- Roses $29.50 doz.
- Carnations $12.00 doz.
- Valentine Ivy Planters, great for gifts!
- Valentine Balloons
- Delivery Available
- FREE for SMC, 50 to LaFortune
- We Wire Flowers Anywhere
- Lemans Hall, SMC 284-4597

Fox's Jewelers Direct Diamond Importers
- 15% Discount
- Not including sale items
- N.D.- S.M.C.
- University Park Mall and Concord & Pierre Moran Malls — Elkhart

Princess Flowers
- 703 W. McKinley
- Mishawaka
- Phone: 255-4000
- Happy Valentine's Day!
The Observer will accept classifieds Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. However, classifieds to appear in the next issue must be received by 3 p.m. the business day prior to publication to be printed, either in person or through the mail.

The Irish swimmers, male and female, are in action this week-end. The men's team will be competing on Friday and Saturday, while the women will enter the pool on Saturday and Sunday.

We, the staff of the Observer, would like to convey our best wishes to all of you. Whether you are participating in these meets or not, we hope you will cheer on the Irish swimmers and support them in their efforts. Good luck to all of you!
continued from page 15

Techsters

Techsters have been sweeping 10 rebounds while scoring 11 points an outing. She combines with small forward Lori Scott and Lawrence to give Tech a rugged front line which may be able to hammer the Irish on the boards.

Tech power doesn't stop there, however.

Kim Mulkey, the Techsters' 5'4 point guard, is the sparkplug of their offense. Mulkey, a teammate of Lawrence on this summer's touring U.S. National Team, averages seven assists a night and is the second all-time Tech assist leader.

"She's a tough little brat," says DiStanislao of the sure-handed Mulkey, who was named by CBS as Most Valuable Player in last year's national championship win over Cheyney State. She is a spectacular passer, a near perfect ballhandler, and a defensive magician who comes up with the key steal at the key time.

Mulkey's running mate will be Jennifer White. The 5'9 senior, who alternated with Mulkey at point guard last season holds the Techster mark for single-season assists.

The Techsters have some depth, as co-Head Coach Leon Barmore can go with 6'2 center Tia Nason. 5'7 point guard Pam Gant, and 5'11 forward Kay Konerza.

Mulkey is the catalyst of Louisiana Tech's running attack. The Techsters, like UCLA and Arizona State, will probably try to run over the Irish.

"We can't allow the tempo to get away from us," says DiStanislao. "Tech's guards, and their small forward (Scott) are extremely quick. They'll capitalize on turnovers, and we have trouble with that. We just can't give them anything. We've got to force them to play some on offense."

"At our end, we have to be able to pick and choose our shots."

Even if the Irish women play their type of game, Tech's inside play may be too much for them. The Techsters are listed in the national top ten in scoring margin, won-loss percentage, shooting from the field, scoring defense, and rebounding margin.

Despite the intimidating numbers, though, which are DiStanislao refuses to lose sight of is how the person you're supposed to match up against.

The significance of this game lies not in the outcome, but in what it does for Notre Dame's still-embryonic program. The Irish have almost nothing to lose and everything to gain by putting in a good performance before what should be the largest crowd ever to see a Notre Dame women's basketball game.

"I just want to see a good effort," says DiStanislao. "There's no reason we can't go with 'em head-to-head. We'll only get blown out if we lay down and die."

"If we go down, we'll go down fighting."

IRISH ITEMS — Sharpshooting freshman Lynn Ebben will have to sit out tonight's game. She has a sprained left ankle and will be back next week.

Belles to compete in tournament

By DAVE IRWIN
Sports Writer

Winning just one out of its last eight games and sporting a 6-11 record, the Saint Mary's basketball team has no illusions of grandeur during this weekend's six-team tournament at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay.

"We want to win at least one," said Head Coach Mike Rouse. "That is just being realistic."

Saint Mary's will play Northland College in its first game. If the Belles win, they will play the host team in the second round. Rouse labels the Green Bay team as the tournament favorite.

If the Belles get by Northland, they will be assured of no worse than a fourth-place finish in the tournament. To do so, however, they will need sophomore center Missy Van Ort to continue her superlative play.

Van Ort, after sitting out several games during mid-season due to injury, has been dominating. She is currently the top rebounder in the district with a 12.7 average. She also averages 13.3 points a game.

Besides the season statistics, Van Ort has picked up the district Player of the Week award for her outstanding performance this week.

But the key to the Belles' success this weekend may be in the fact that they are healthy for the first team in a long while. Starting guard Mary McQuilan, Saint Mary's defensive ace, is expected to play this weekend.

"We have people coming off injuries, but they are able to play," said Rouse. "It is the healthiest we've been since our first game."
The students from the University of Toronto will not be coming to Notre Dame this year due to lack of student interest and administrative problems. The students of Notre Dame who are participating in the exchange to Toronto — our trip is still on.

We will be leaving Notre Dame on February 24 at 5 PM. The bus leaves from the Main Circle.

All students who have paid their $3 for the Chicago trip this weekend are ready to come in and pick up their refund in the Student Government Office.

delivers...

The Price Destroyer™

Call us:
277-2151
1635 S. Bend Ave.
Plaza 23 Center

Hours:
11am - 1am Sun. - Thurs.
11am - 2am Fri. & Sat.

Ask about our party discounts!

Our drivers carry less than $20.00.
Limited delivery area.
0183 Domino's Pizza, Inc.

Domino's Pizza breaks through with The Price Destroyer™

No ordinary pizza, The Price Destroyer™ is eliminating the high cost of a 9-item pizza while bringing you all the toppings you love!

The Price Destroyer™ includes 9 carefully selected and proportioned toppings, all for the price of a 5-item pizza. Pepperoni, Mushrooms, Extra Cheese, Green Olives, Onions, Green Peppers, Ground Beef, Saukage, Ham

12" Price Destroyer™ $8.94
16" Price Destroyer™ $12.94

Prices do not include applicable sales tax.
Coke available in 16 oz. cups.

Free plastic cups with this Price Destroyer™ coupon only Limited time only, while supplies last.

Free Coke!

1 2 free with any 12" Price Destroyer™
Save $ 6.95
2 4 free with any 16" Price Destroyer™
Save $10.95
One coupon per person. Expires in two weeks.

Fast, Free Delivery
1635 S. Bend Ave.
Plaza 23 Center
Phone: 277-2151

For a limited time only...

The Notre Dame Student Union is searching for next year's leaders.

Applications for Student Union Director and Comptroller for '83-'84 are now available from the Student Union secretary.

Get Involved and Make a Difference.

Applications are due Feb. 18.
Van Lines Departs ND Main Circle 7:50 pm SMC Circle 8:00 pm for the 8:35 pm train! Returning Sunday evening?
Van Lines will pick up students arriving at 7:10 & 9:05!

Cost is $1.00 each way. Sponsored by your Student Union and the Student Activities Office.

By RICH O’CONNOR
RALEIGH, N.C. — With no time to reflect on last night’s loss to Fordham, Notre Dame will arrive here today to play North Carolina State in its second consecutive road game. The 12-8 Irish will be looking to average a 62-62 defeat drawn in the friendly confines of the ACC.

While the regional centers of NBC watch, Notre Dame will seek its second road victory in seven tries. “We’re 1-5 on the road. Our losses have put us in a position of having to prove to the NCAA selection committee that we deserve to make the tournament,” says Irish coach Digger Phelps. “Defeat victory isn’t enough. We need to win our remaining three road games (N.C. State, Pitt, and DePaul) and the home game with Dayton.”

With post-season playoff possibilities up in the air, there may not be a greater team on the road than Notre Dame. Since losing senior guard Derek Whitteberg to a foot injury in the 11th game of the season, the Wolfpack have gone 5-4, bringing their season record to 13-7. Whitteberg was averaging almost 17 points and three rebounds at the time of his injury.

Replacing Whitteberg has been 6-foot-4 freshman guard Ernie Myers, who averaged 14 points a game. “Give N.C. State credit,” says Phelps. “They lost four of their first five games without Whitteberg and have now won the last four. Losing Whitteberg was definitely a blow, but Ernie Myers has done a great job filling in for him. He’s going to be a great one before he’s finished.”

Joining Myers in the backcourt is 6-foot senior Valdy Lowe. Averaging 10 points and four assists a game, Lowe gives third-year Wolfpack coach Jim Van Amersfoort an experienced hand.

6-11 Thurl Bailey is the second returning senior on the Wolfpack starting lineup. Bailey has been playing shooting guard for N.C. State, averaging 13 points and eight rebounds a game. Inevitably placing Bailey is the opponents’ big man, Brian White of the Wolfpack. Bailey is averaging 13.7 points and five rebounds a game.

Completing N.C. State’s starting front line is 6-foot-2 sophomore center Charles McQueen. The sophomore forward is averaging six points and five rebounds a game for Van Amersfoort’s squad.

“Charlie and McQueen both hit the boards well,” says Phelps. “They’re the type of players we have trouble with.”

Valdosta’s top reserve this season has been 6-10 sophomore Terry Lowenberg. Currently leading the nation in three-point field goal percentage, Canopus has been averaging six points a game.

“Terry is the best outside shooter we have,” says Valdosta. “He’s also our most consistent at the foul line (leading the team at 77 percent),” and has been impressive with his ball handling and scoring ability. “Every time Valdosta’s been hurt in adversity sometimes good things emerge. The emergence may not be enough for the Wolfpack Tomorrow’s season, but can be played without the Atlantic Coast Conference’s noble experiments and a team that’s shooting 48 percent from three point range scores a lot more points than the same school playing without it.”

The Irish are shooting 50 percent — among the nation’s best — and they can succeed in keeping Valdosta’s squad from scoring 66 offensive rebounds, an Irish win is not unthinkable.

COOLCOCK COCKTAILS!
Introducing new jumbo drinks (1-3/4 oz. shots) during Happy Hour 4-7 pm. Monday-Friday $1.50 54 oz. Tankard of Beer $2.00
FREE Nacho Bar, cheese and fresh vegetables!

JAZZ AT THE NAZZ!
Friday, Feb. 11 Featuring Whirlwind 9:10-10:30 1st ND Jazz Combo 10:30 Joe Korpera 9-10:30 Dan Brauweiler & Mark Lucchi 10:30 Guitar & Vocal

A NEW SERVICE FROM YOUR STUDENT UNION Bus Transportation from ND/SMC to the South Shore Station.
Friday Feb. 11
7:50 ND Main Circle 8:00 SMC-Holy Cross 8:20 South Shore Sn. 8:35 Train Departs
Regular 8pm Van Lines will not run.

LEAVE THE ENTERTAINMENT TO US! Omega Productions, Inc is now offering their new Mobile Music Division. We can provide any type of music for any type of event or party, including Motown, Disco, Rock & Roll, Specialty. Custom music programming is available.

For one coupon per pizza

Please one coupon per pizza

N.C. State tomorrow: Notre Dame seeks win on road
Bloom County

Simon

Fate

The Daily Crossword

The Observer Weekend

Friday, February 11, 1983 — page 15

Go skiing for the night with the Student Union!

Where? Swiss Valley Ski Resort in Michigan

When? This Friday, Feb 11

What time? 5 p.m. - 11:15 p.m

How much? $12 includes lift, rentals, and transportation

Tickets are on sale at the record store, 1st floor, LaFortune

Optional beginners lesson $1

Senior Bar

Pre-Valentine's Day celebration this weekend

at Senior Bar

Applications for 1983-84 student manager positions still available

Friday, Feb. 11

* 3:30 p.m. — Philosophy Colloquium, "Darwin, Sociobiology, and the Brain," Prof. Edward Manier, Library Lounge

* 7:15 p.m. — Mass and Supper, Bulls Head, Sponsored by Campus Ministry

* 7:9, and 11 p.m. — Film, "Love Story," K of C Hall, Sponsored by Knights of Columbus, $1

* 7:15, and 11:30 p.m. — Film, "Brubaker," Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by Women's Golf Team, $1

* 7:50 and 9:30 p.m. — Women and Film Series, "Tax Driver," Carroll Hall, SMC, Sponsored by SAFP, $1

* 8 p.m. — Friday Night Film Series, "The Last Wave," Annenberg Auditorium, $2

* 8 p.m. — ND-SMC Theatre Presentation, "Little Match Girl," O'Laughlin Auditorium, $2.50

* 9 p.m. — NAZZ, "Jazz at the NAZZ," Whirlwind Saturday, Feb. 12

* 2 p.m. — Swimming, ND Men vs. Wayne State, Rockne Memorial

* 4 p.m. — Basketball, ND Mens vs. North Carolina State, Reynolds Coliseum, Televised by NIT

* 6:30 p.m. — Evening of Dances and Music, Folk Dances from Pakistan, Laforraine Ballroom

* 7, 9, and 11 p.m. — Film, "Love Story," K of C Hall, Sponsored by Knights of Columbus, $1

* 7 p.m. — Black Cultural Arts Festival, Talent Show, Library Auditorium

* 7:45, and 11:30 p.m. — Film, "Return of the Pink Panther," Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by Korean Review, $1

* 8 p.m. — ND-SMC Theatre Presentation, "Little Match Girl," O'Laughlin Auditorium, $2.50

* 9 p.m. — Comedy at the NAZZ, Featuring Joe Comphy

10:30 p.m. — NAZZ, Dan Brauweiler and Mark Lochina

Sunday, Feb. 13

* 2 p.m. — ND-SMC Theatre, "Little Match Girl," O'Laughlin Auditorium, $2.50

* 4 p.m. — Lieder Recital, Carl Kaiser and Daune Mably, Annenberg Auditorium

The Far Side

"Hey! Look at me, everybody! I'm a cowboy!"

"You look at me, everybody! I'm a cowboy... Newly, Teach, Teach!"
Epee decides

By MATTSON JOHNSON

"Well, we watched two of the top teams in the nation face tonight and the outcome could have gone either way," said head coach Mike De Cicco of the fencing match between Notre Dame and defending national champion Wayne State last night. "It was that close."

"Unfortunately, we came out on the short end."

Although coming up short on points, the Irish are perhaps as well as they have all year in an emotional 11-8 defeat to the No. 1 team in the nation.

The Irish controlled both of the three weapons, ousting Wayne State 5-4 in the sabre and 7-2 in the epee. The foil proved to be the deciding factor, however, as Wayne State sailed to an 8-1 victory.

The Notre Dame fencing team held its own in the foil and sabre competitions, but was unable to match their arch-rival from Wayne State by losing 8-1 in the epee. Matt Johnson has an account below. (Photo by Larry Petrus)

Fordham wins

Digger upset in homecoming game

By CHRIS NEEDLES

Epee

By JANE HEALEY

Bowing Green, the first team in the CCHA and the fifth-ranked team in the country, invades the ACC at 7:30 p.m. to battle the Notre Dame hockey team. The Irish have scored four of the five goals in the first three games of the season.

"It was a dismal weekend, to say the least," coach Leuty Smith says. "They handled us easily last time."

Although falling short, the Irish remain especially well in the first three games of the season.

"I am very proud of the way the players have responded so far," said head coach Mike D'Antoni. "They have been very good to me and I am very grateful for their efforts."