City trick-or-treaters to prowl at St. Mary's

By MEGAN KOREMAN

Many South Bend ghosts and goblins will be running through the halls of St. Mary's rather than the dark, potentially unsafe streets this Halloween. "Trick or treating isn't that safe anymore, especially in under-privileged neighborhoods," said Kane Hoban, co-commissioner of the St. Mary's Christian Life Commission, which is sponsoring the event. "The students here miss out on the fun of Halloween and little kids. It will be really good for all concerned by bringing fun to the campus and also bring fun for the kids."

Hoban decided to try the idea, which originated at the University of Dayton, at St. Mary's because "the campus is so pretty and there are so many people here. Halloween seemed like a good opportunity to do something for the community. The kids and parents won't have to worry because they're in a nice, supervised area."

The event is open to children of any age from the Neighborhood Help Study Program, Logan Center, and NISH, said Hoban, adding that "at this point the groups understand they have to provide their own transportation." Cara Hageman, Hoban's co-commissioner, explained, "There are legal troubles with driving children."

These children will trick-or-treat in LeMans, Holy Cross and McCandless. "But," said Myrtym Hickey, treasurer of the CILC, "children of faculty have gone trick or treating in Regina every year for years so they'll keep that up and we won't go there." Hoban added, "We'd like to invite those faculty members not involved with Regina to help us."

"Members of the CILC will be there to organize it and keep order," said Hoban. "There'll be lots of publicity to bring candy back after break. We're sending out a CILC newsletter and letters to RA's, and CILC commissioners in each dorm will talk it up in hall councils." Hageman said, "Even if it's small this year we hope to make it a tradition so we need support."

Hoban sees this as, "a trial basis thing for something similar at Easter and Christmas." It's funny," she added, "Notre Dame dorms have their own volunteer groups and projects but we don't have those organizations."

The Christian Life Commission is part of the St. Mary's student government. Hageman said, "It parallels Notre Dame's CILA, only over at Notre Dame it's not a part of the government."

The CIC was formed just last year. Hageman said that this year, "we've changed the structure, made it bigger by adding officers and more commissioners like volunteer services."

"It's the only Christian group on campus. Last year was the first year it became a big interest," said Hageman. "We try to remind people and keep them aware that this is a Catholic school. We try to bring Christianity into everyday life and into the most organized groups." The CILC also has sponsored the movie "Oh God!" a lemonade stand and a Blood Drive and a donut sale as well as co-sponsoring the Oxfam Fast.

"The weeks after Break will be the big ones for us," said Hageman. The CILC will be sponsoring a blood drive and a donut sale as well as co-sponsored the Oxfam Fast.
In Brief

Marriott was raided during Tankard Night Thursday. Details were sketchy, but according to eyewitnesses, approximately 80 blankets were removed from the premises by Indiana State Police. The Observer was unable to confirm whether these persons were arrested. South Bend Police are expected to release more information today. — The Observer

Former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger returns to the United States yesterday, speaking optimistically of peace for Central America after a hostile reception from Nicaragua. A bipartisan presidential commission headed by Kissinger capped its six-day, six-nation tour with a nine-hour visit Saturday to Managua, a nation closed to Cuba and the Soviet bloc. When the plane arrived in the capital of Managua, it faced massive anti-American demonstrations and a hostile government reception. The 12-member commission, set up by the Reagan administration to work out long-range U.S. policy, conducted its tour during a week of new attacks staged by U.S.-backed rebels in Nicaragua. On his return, Kissinger told reporters at Andrews Air Force Base that while Central America "is an area in crisis, it's also an area of great hope." He said the commissioners have agreed to meet with Nicaraguan-backed guerrillas fighting in El Salvador. — AP

Pope John Paul II yesterday canonized a 20th century Croatian monk known for his work as a confessor. The ceremony celebrated the fifth anniversary of the pope's election. More than 100,000 pilgrims gathered under a blue sky at Peter's Square for the double ceremony to name the Capuchin Friar Bogdan Mandic as St. Leopold and to commemorate John Paul's election as Pope Francis. Square for the double ceremony to name the Capuchin Friar Bogdan Mandic as St. Leopold and to commemorate John Paul's election as Pope Francis. — AP

A bus skidded off, suburban road in Calcutta, India, killing 11 people in a head-on collision yesterday. The accident occurred late Saturday in this eastern Indian city. Police said the injured had been rushed to two hospitals for treatment but gave no further details. — AP

Kenya's president Daniel Arap Moi has ordered police to stop bugging electricians and computer technicians, saying that developing countries such as Kenya are not ready for such techniques. "Not every Tom, Dick and Harry can do such work, especially since there will be many more media representatives on campus during the latter part of this week covering the football game," Moi said. Unfortunately, there is no one ready to do this every time," the president said. — AP Described by police as "a chameleon" who labored at many jobs under many identities, James Lewis goes on trial today accused of trying to exploit last year's seven Tylenol deaths. Lewis, 23, was arrested in an attempt to buyelaying electricity and computerized typewriters, saying that developing countries such as Kenya are not ready for such techniques. "Not every Tom, Dick and Harry can do such work, especially since there will be many more media representatives on campus during the latter part of this week covering the football game," Moi said. Unfortunately, there is no one ready to do this every time," the president said. — AP

Weather

Sunny and cool today, with highs in the low 60s. Clear and cool tonight with a low in the upper 50s. Mostly sunny and cool tomorrow, with highs in the low 60s. — AP Infl.cat. How? We will pay you up to $16 CASH per week for your time.

The Observer is published Monday through Friday and Saturday during the fall and winter semesters. The deadline for material except during exam and vacation periods is 4:00 p.m. on the day before publication.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All AP reproduction rights are reserved.

What's the big deal?

Yes, Virginia, another Cap'n Crunch article. But if you are about to groan and turn the page, bear with me. Before reacting with groans, perhaps we should stand back and see what it is we're talking about. For those of you who have been living in Upper Slovenska for the past month and don't know what I'm talking about, let me explain.

This is Cap'n Crunch week at Notre Dame and throughout the entire country, the jolly old seaman of cereal fame will be here distributing T-shirts and loads of free prizes to lucky individuals. Included among these prizes are free trips to Ft. Lauderdale and treasure chests filled with prizes for a dorm and an individual. This is to say there will be plenty of Cap'n Crunch cereal for everyone, too. The celebration will culminate with a Cap'n Crunch eating contest Friday on South Quad.

There already has been a good deal of publicity about the week and there will probably be even more. More than 150 press releases have been distributed to newspapers, magazines and stations around the country. The story even made last week's Wall Street Journal and probably will appear in several more papers, especially since there will be many new media representatives on campus during the latter part of this week covering the football game.

Unfortunately, there is no one ready to do this every time," the president said. — AP

Inflation: Got your blood boiling?

We can help relieve some of that pressure.

How? We will pay you up to $16 CASH per week for your time.

It's easy. Just come in to our new modern facility relax In comfy reclining chairs while you donate LIFE-GIVING PLASMA.

You will earn $7 for your first plasma donation and $9 for your second donation within the same week...AND we will give you a free physical exam and over $60 worth of free lab tests.

You can call us any day of the week at 1-800-Plasma.

We can help relieve some of that pressure.

The Observer is published Monday through Friday and Saturday during the fall and winter semesters. The deadline for material except during exam and vacation periods is 4:00 p.m. on the day before publication.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All AP reproduction rights are reserved.

What's the big deal?

Yes, Virginia, another Cap'n Crunch article. But if you are about to groan and turn the page, bear with me. Before reacting with groans, perhaps we should stand back and see what it is we're talking about. For those of you who have been living in Upper Slovenska for the past month and don't know what I'm talking about, let me explain.

This is Cap'n Crunch week at Notre Dame and throughout the entire country, the jolly old seaman of cereal fame will be here distributing T-shirts and loads of free prizes to lucky individuals. Included among these prizes are free trips to Ft. Lauderdale and treasure chests filled with prizes for a dorm and an individual. This is to say there will be plenty of Cap'n Crunch cereal for everyone, too. The celebration will culminate with a Cap'n Crunch eating contest Friday on South Quad.

There already has been a good deal of publicity about the week and there will probably be even more. More than 150 press releases have been distributed to newspapers, magazines and stations around the country. The story even made last week's Wall Street Journal and probably will appear in several more papers, especially since there will be many new media representatives on campus during the latter part of this week covering the football game.

Unfortunately, there is no one ready to do this every time," the president said. — AP

Inflation: Got your blood boiling?

We can help relieve some of that pressure.

How? We will pay you up to $16 CASH per week for your time.

It's easy. Just come in to our new modern facility relax In comfy reclining chairs while you donate LIFE-GIVING PLASMA.

You will earn $7 for your first plasma donation and $9 for your second donation within the same week...AND we will give you a free physical exam and over $60 worth of free lab tests.

Plus

We Will Give You an Additional $4 If you bring this ad with you. (Subject applicable to first donors only)

For more information call 234-6010 or come by 6515 Lincolnway West

Bring your I.D.

American Plasma Systems

A National Concern Dedicated to Extending the Lives of Others

Tues and Sat 8am-5pm

Wed and Fri 9am-5pm

Requests are reserved.
Bring a friend!

Ombudsmen's information bar, located on the first floor of LaFortune Student Center, will make OMB more accessible to the students, said Andy Tucker, director of Ombudsmen.

"We are an information and complaint service," said Tucker. "We have all the campus events that are run by the Student Government, the halls, the clubs, the classes, and the University itself all kept up to date in our bar."

Tucker said that before the bar was installed "We could not be a centralized information service. With the bar, however, we are able to meet the foot traffic through LaFortune."

When the bar arrived four weeks ago, "it was not up to the standards that we had paid for so we decided to send it back," Tucker said. The renovated bar now in use arrived approximately two weeks ago.

The bar was donated by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LaFortune to help OM - BUDSMAN reach more students and also to "give LaFortune center a more meaningful purpose," according to Tucker. "Before the bar came, Tucker said, "people didn't know when to go with their complaints. With the bar we are exposed to students every day and then they can come to the bar with their concerns." An "Information" sign will be placed over the bar, said Tucker.

Noting that in addition to the OM- BUDSMAN service, students can pick up information about activities from posters which may be hung on the bar, "We have about 24 people working for us now," Tucker said, "however, we need about 40 people available to be in full capacity while keeping the bar running smoothly."

"It's very easy for anyone to get involved in this organization, and we're always looking for people." Contact Andy Tucker, Ombudsmen's number is 230- OBUD.

Pat O'Brien dies at 83

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES — Actor Pat O'Brien, one of the last of the "Irish Mafia" actors who played tough guys and priests, was remembered yesterday by his fellow entertainers as a raconteur who loved jokes.

O'Brien died Saturday at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica of a heart attack, three days after undergoing prostate surgery. He would have been 84 next month.

O'Brien appeared in 110 movies over six decades, most notably the title role as the famed Notre Dame football coach in "Knute Rockne — All American," a film that co-starred Ronald Reagan as the "Gipper."

"It's so sad," said comedian Bob Hope. "I called Pat about two weeks ago to make arrangements for an upcoming tour."

"We told jokes and we were laughing and he sounded great. I've worked with him a lot of times. He was a raconteur. He loved jokes. He was a hell of a guy."

A Funeral Mass will be celebrated at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. Martin of Tours Catholic Church in Brentwood.

O'Brien's last performance was a minor role in "Ragtime," a 1981 movie that co-starred his fellow Irish Mafia actor James Cagney. In the 1930s, they were dubbed the Irish Mafia — Cagney, O'Brien, Spencer Tracy, Frank McHugh and John Ford. Now only Cagney is left.

Along with Knute Rockne, O'Brien is one memorable role included the portrayal of a sham priest in "Angels with Dirty Faces," co- starring Cagney, and reporter Hilary Johnson in "The Front Page," the 1931 movie that launched his screen career.

O'Brien worked on very few films after the 1950s, but remained busy with nightclub work, lecturing, roast-mastertaping and summer stock.

O'Brien and his wife of 52 years, Eloise, worked the dinner theater circuit with "The Golden Pond" until May. Their daughter, Bridgid, would often join the production.

Choral Group

Charles Rosenberg speaks to a group of art lovers at a presentation on the famous painter Raphael at the Snite Museum on Thursday.

O'Brian works on very few films after the 1950s, but remained busy with nightclub work, lecturing, roast-mastertaping and summer stock.

O'Brien and his wife of 52 years, Eloise, worked the dinner theater circuit with "The Golden Pond" until May. Their daughter, Bridgid, would often join the production.

WOODEN INDIAN

Western Store Trading Post

50677 U.S. 31 No.-South Bend

Boots

Open: Mon.-Thurs. 10-6, Fri.-Sat. 10-8

Behind Clayeview Animal Clinic

GROUP PROGRAMS

Sponsored by the Counseling and Psychological Services Center University of Notre Dame

BUILDING SELF-ESTEEM: A program designed to help students identify thoughts, feelings, and behaviors that affect self-esteem, and to change and practice positive responses.

BEGINNING DATE: Monday, October 23, 1983
NO. OF SESSIONS: 5
TIME: 7:30-9:30 p.m.

RELATIONSHIP ENRICHMENT: A program designed to teach partners to communicate effectively and enhance their relationship by learning and practicing new skills to express their feelings in constructive ways. Both partners are required to attend.

BEGINNING DATE: Monday, October 16, 1983
NO. OF SESSIONS: 6
TIME: 6:30-8:30 p.m.

DEVELOPING ASSERTIVE BEHAVIOR: A program designed to help students realize the importance of assertion, recognize and increase assertive behaviors, and distinguish assertive responses from other behaviors. Each student will have the opportunity to practice through the use of role play techniques.

BEGINNING DATE: Monday, October 23, 1983
NO. OF SESSIONS: 5
TIME: 5:00-7:00 p.m.

STRESS MANAGEMENT: A program to teach skills to successfully deal with stress. The program will focus on skills to successfully deal with stress. The program will focus on skills to successfully deal with stress. The program will focus on skills to successfully deal with stress. The program will focus on skills to successfully deal with stress. The program..."

BEGINNING DATE: Monday, November 6, 1983
NO. OF SESSIONS: 5
TIME: 7:30-9:30 p.m.

MEN'S AWARENESS GROUP: The purpose of this group is to bring men together to examine the affects of being born male, the role the psychiatry teaches men in society, and the responsibility of being male, explore new ways of dealing with the many roles we make of males, help students understand and clarify their own personal needs on males, and discover new ways of relating with others. Meetings are facilitated by a U.S. Army chaplain.

BEGINNING DATE: Wednesday, October 15, 1983
NO. OF SESSIONS: 6
TIME: 7:00-9:00 p.m.

CALL TODAY FOR GUARANTEED RESERVATIONS
Clip and save this schedule for easy travel planning!

To O'Hare From O'Hare

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>LEAVE O'HARE</th>
<th>ARRIVE O'HARE</th>
<th>LEAVE O'HARE</th>
<th>ARRIVE O'HARE</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>11:00 a.m.</td>
<td>11:00 a.m.</td>
<td>11:00 a.m.</td>
<td>11:00 a.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:00 p.m.</td>
<td>12:00 p.m.</td>
<td>12:00 p.m.</td>
<td>12:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>1:00 p.m.</td>
<td>1:00 p.m.</td>
<td>1:00 p.m.</td>
<td>1:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2:00 p.m.</td>
<td>2:00 p.m.</td>
<td>2:00 p.m.</td>
<td>2:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3:00 p.m.</td>
<td>3:00 p.m.</td>
<td>3:00 p.m.</td>
<td>3:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4:00 p.m.</td>
<td>4:00 p.m.</td>
<td>4:00 p.m.</td>
<td>4:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5:00 p.m.</td>
<td>5:00 p.m.</td>
<td>5:00 p.m.</td>
<td>5:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6:00 p.m.</td>
<td>6:00 p.m.</td>
<td>6:00 p.m.</td>
<td>6:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>7:00 p.m.</td>
<td>7:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>8:00 p.m.</td>
<td>8:00 p.m.</td>
<td>8:00 p.m.</td>
<td>8:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>9:00 p.m.</td>
<td>9:00 p.m.</td>
<td>9:00 p.m.</td>
<td>9:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>10:00 p.m.</td>
<td>10:00 p.m.</td>
<td>10:00 p.m.</td>
<td>10:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>11:00 p.m.</td>
<td>11:00 p.m.</td>
<td>11:00 p.m.</td>
<td>11:00 p.m.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>12:00 a.m.</td>
<td>12:00 a.m.</td>
<td>12:00 a.m.</td>
<td>12:00 a.m.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TUESDAY EFFECTIVE THROUGH OCT. 20, 1983.
CALL FOR COMPLETE LIST OF PICKUP POINTS AND TIMES.

TRAVEL AGENT
OR CALL YOUR TRAVEL AGENT.

1-11:15 2:00 p.m.
2:15 3:15 p.m. 6:00 p.m.
3:15 p.m. 6:00 p.m.
7:15 a.m. 10:00 a.m.
9:15 12:00 p.m.
7:00 and 9:20 p.m.
Free of charge
Israelis protest in short-lived strike

Associated Press

TEL AVIV, Israel — Nearly a million Israelis — 70 percent of the workforce — went on strike for two hours yesterday to protest government economic moves that threatened to increase the cost of living by 10 percent, union officials said.

The union strike was peaceful and virtually complete, said officials of the Histadrut labor federation. The union represents 1 million salaried workers in the public and private sector, or about 40 percent of the nation's six years in power.

In Jerusalem, the Cabinet failed to announce a replacement for former Finance Minister Yoram Aridor, who quit Thursday in the worst economic crisis in the Likud coalition's six years in power. Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir's preferred candidate, Deputy Premier David Levy, refused the job.

Workers from the government, municipal offices, state television and radio, and public companies walked off their jobs, most between 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Schools closed early when teachers went on strike. Some shops closed, but most store employees are not unionized.

El Al, the national airline, put a tape recording on its telephone switchboard saying "We are on a national strike. Please call back after 1 p.m." An El Al spokesman said the shutdown came during slack hours and did not seriously disrupt schedules.

Israel Radio was off the air for two hours.

In the port city of Ashdod, the strike went on all day.

The state manpower office said it would dock the pay of all state employees who joined the strike.

The Histadrut took action after the government last week devalued the shekel 23 percent, hiked the price of basic foodstuffs 50 percent and said it would not grant the full compensation that salaried Israelis are used to receiving for inflation.

The increases are expected to boost the average family's cost of living by 10 percent, and that of poor families by 12 percent.

But the biggest test is still to come, when the stock exchange reopens. It has been closed for 10 days to head off a collapse of bank stocks, the most powerful force on the market.

The stock market's problems began three weeks ago after the Central Bureau of Statistics announced a sharp increase in the foreign debt and trade deficit.

The statistical office said the trade deficit for the first eight months of this year was $450 million, 21 percent higher than the deficit for the corresponding period of 1982.

Washington — With Mr Right stuff flying the lead plane, Hollywood's movie about America's aviator swooped into Washington yesterday to a gala opening and a midday air show featuring formations of World War II vintage fighter planes thundering above the Potomac River.

"The Right Stuff" was opening to an audience of film industry giants and White House policymakers, but one of the main characters portrayed in the movie, former astronaut John Glenn, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, stayed away.

Newsmen Walter Cronkite and actor Charlton Heston officiated at the evening showing of the three hour, $20 million film in the Kennedy Center on the edge of the Potomac.

Cronkite, who covered the U.S. space program from its inception, said, "There was no greater thrill than to cover the first flight of an American to orbit the Earth."

Glenn avoids premiere

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — With Mr Right stuff flying the lead plane, Hollywood's movie about America's aviator swooped into Washington yesterday to a gala opening and a midday air show featuring formations of World War II vintage fighter planes thundering above the Potomac River.

"The Right Stuff" was opening to an audience of film industry giants and White House policymakers, but one of the main characters portrayed in the movie, former astronaut John Glenn, who is seeking the Democratic presidential nomination, stayed away.

Newsmen Walter Cronkite and actor Charlton Heston officiated at the evening showing of the three hour, $20 million film in the Kennedy Center on the edge of the Potomac.

Cronkite, who covered the U.S. space program from its inception, said, "There was no greater thrill than to cover the first flight of an American to orbit the Earth."

Challenging opportunities are offered in the following areas of business management:

- Finance
- Contract Administration
- Retail Merchandising
- Food Service
- Inventory Analysis and Purchasing
- Transportation and Distribution
- Fuel Planning and Analysis
- Computer Systems
- Operations Analysis

Visit with representatives of the U.S. Navy Supply Corps to learn how your degree in accounting, economics, business administration, computer science, or engineering can prepare you for an exciting business career.

Presentation: October 19
Hayes-Healy Center
6:00 p.m.

Interviews: October 20
Placement Office

An Equal Opportunity Employer

Student Organization for Latin America presents Central America Film Series

Todos Santos Cuchumatani (Guatemala)
Mon., Oct. 10
7:00 & 9:30
Center for Social Concerns
Discussion to follow 7:00 show FREE

Yet more nutritious, lower in fat and higher in protein than either a taco or cheeseburger.

So give us a call and put us to the test.

Coke available 16 oz. bottles
Limited delivery area.

Nutritional Analyses of Fast Foods, United States Agriculture Research Service.
Reagan aides prepare official election papers

Associated Press
WASHINGTON — Lacking only a formal declaration from their candidate but working with his blessing, President Reagan's advisers are filing today, 1,000 days into his first term, the documents that legally will make him again a presidential candidate.

Two of the president's key advisors said yesterday they were positive the president would seek a second term, despite Reagan's refusal to make that declaration himself.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.

Reagan aides prepare all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"He is going to run, and those who work with him on a day-to-day basis all feel that way," Chief of Staff James Baker said.

"I'm 100 percent convinced the president will be a candidate for re-election," said Edward Rollins, the presidential assistant who has been chosen to run the campaign.
On fasting for the sake of hunger

There is a lady in Virginia who occasionally reminds me that I am not a Christian I cannot be a true American. I am grateful for this service and I used to respond nicely by saying, "Dear Lady, stick your head in the toilet." I have yet to hear the floating sound that would warm my cold, cold heart.

Richard Cohen
Richard Cohen Column

Unfortunately, the lady's letter is not an isolated phenomenon. It is just an extreme example. It is sort of that what that equates Christianity with Americanism. To some people, the two are one and the same and when they say Christianity they mean, of course, their own version of it which, it goes without saying, is not mine.

Something like that is at the base of the Pawtucket, R.I. case now before the Supreme Court. For over 40 years, that city has been

For many of us, today is a day of prayer and fasting. We are doing this not out of desperation — as if we had to solve the problem of world hunger this very day, or as if we could, but because deep in our hearts we too hunger, and we think so. We want to share the burden of hunger that others feel. We sense that we don't hunger enough.

David Schlaver, CSC
Guest columnist

The fact that others hunger raises questions in ourselves and also a certain need to pray and fast and give what we can, to demonstrate our brother and sisterhood with those whose hunger is more real, more painful, more dominating in their daily lives. The hunger of others is a burden on us, not because we feel we cannot solve it, but because we know in our hearts that it should not be, and that we personally don't deserve all the blessings we have. Knowing this, we fast and pray, to thank God for these blessings and to ask for guidance to better use what we have, for others, who have so much less.

I see a number of interesting things in Scripture about hunger. The writers were surrounded by truly hungry people, more so than those of us who read it and interpret it today. Hunger — the pangs of an empty belly — was real, but never taken out of the context of basic human needs. Persons who hungered had not only empty bellies, but chapped hands and feet, bodies naked and often diseased. They were unable to shelter their families, they had minds that were undeveloped. They were unloved, orphans. Jesus spent a lifetime ministering to just such as these.

Since this is still the case in much of the world today, especially in the Third World, we are today, even though we read it in a paradise-like setting, isolated from people and places of the world where it might make more vivid sense to us. Thus we derive into Scripture, pray about it, build our lives around its timeless message.

Some of us, myself included, have had special blessings and opportunities to live and work among the hungry poor. Mine came in Bangladesh from 1979-1981. There I saw first hand, often with my mouth gaping, where people truly hunger, and what they suffer it was a wretched experience, but also a hope-filled one. One which makes Scripture live again for me, and Christ's message as well.

In Bangladesh and all of the hungry nations, there is a natural priority about life. First, rice is necessary, then covering for the body, some form of work, a habit of medicine against disease, some minimal shelter, perhaps a bit of education. There are no frills. Minimal expectation and maximal satisfaction. It is hard to recite the abundant American society after that. Our hunger and priorities are so much more complicated. Look at our diet. We have a maximum number of choices from 35-foot salad bars and multi-paged menus. And consequently a whole industry has grown up to help us lose weight, to say nothing about disposing of our wasted food. We have too many clothes, making it very difficult to choose a color-coordinated outfit from our cupboard each day. We have gone far beyond covering our nakedness.

Our sick receive the best of care. They are virtually never alone, in fact may suffer from too many visitors. Our prisoners are oppressed by many psychological burdens yet are surrounded by many lawyers and professionals, ready to help them recover society.

Our homes and our rooms are big, private, and very expensive. We have so much furniture we track it away to storage, or let it fall apart through neglect. We fill our redecorated space with wrapping sound, laughter and friends. And for virtually all of us, education is an unlimited opportunity.

Our abundance is incomparable. We can't get away from it and we can't give it away. How do we learn to live with it? How can we still hunger to learn, not for more — which others becomes the case — but for what is more important? Scripture is very direct, as usual. Read Isaiah 40 and Luke 14. Break the unjust fetters, let the poor receive the best of care. We have gone far beyond covering our nakedness. We are doing this not out of desperation — as if we had to solve the problem of world hunger this very day, or as if we could, but because deep in our hearts we too hunger, and we think so. We want to share the burden of hunger that others feel. We sense that we don't hunger enough.

Editor's note: Father David E. Schlaver is the Director of Campus Ministry at Notre Dame.
University investments in South Africa

Editor's note: This is the first of a two-part series examining Notre Dame investments and South Africa. It is a follow-up to Michael Brennan's column, "Money talks: What is Notre Dame saying?" (October 12).

Dear Michael,

Have you read a piece on the University and its investment policies in The Observer? I hope you have. If not, please do so as I am writing to you in regard to that same piece.

It seems that the University, like others, is not aware of the extent to which it is involved in activities that are oppressive or violent. I hope that you will agree with me that this is not acceptable.

Yours,

Peter Walsh
Guest Columnist

Baha'ihaprimatripepa

Editor Dear Editor: It's a common fact, near 200 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's seniors will be enjoying the sunshine in Nassau. As members of the Trip Committee, we were concerned with the Baha'is shown at the Senior Bar meeting last Tuesday.

In the past few days, financial questions have been raised concerning the trip. The cost of the Bahamian trip is $410 per person which includes a $12.00 fee. The committee was advised last spring to charge this $12.00 administrative fee — standard practice for an event of this type.

The purpose of the fee is to cover all public charges, a pre-trip party, group insurance, and potential subventions in the Bahamas, and partial compensation for each committee member's airfare. This partial compensation amounts to $2.50 of each student's $12.00 fee.

In addition, through competitive bidding, 1st Source Travel Agency provided the committee members complimentary accommoda­ tions plus two free airfares. Each committee member paid for the balance of their trip cost. We will be happy to answer any additional questions regarding the trip. You may call any committee member or the Student Activities Office.

The Baha'is Committee and Office of Student Activities

Hefner speech

Dear Editor,

I would like to comment on the October 12 article by Paul McGinn entitled, "Playboy's Hefner speech: Controversy." First of all, I would like to discuss why and how I was "unavailable" for comment and then set forth with my objections. As was invited as an observer to the Bahamian trip, I was unavailable for comment initially because I was involved in numerous meetings on Tuesday when Mr. McGinn called. Subse­ quently I did not respond because of my very questionable time commitments. As noted, Mr. McGinn called me in the midst of my morning classes and asked who he was and the purpose of his call (this is common practice)

He would not answer except to say it was "Playboy." As I indicated earlier I should know him. I believe this response was basically dishonest and I indicated that I did not want to catch Mr. McGinn off guard. In fact, if he had been honest and indicated who he was and his purpose, I would have made an extra effort to return his call. Because I did not know him or why he was calling, I did not feel any urgency in returning his call and, therefore, was "unavailable." I seriously question journalistic tactics like this by students at Notre Dame.

I extended the invitation to Christie Hefner after an article entitled, "Playboy Makes the Boss's Daughter Bore," appeared in The Observer (August 25, 1982). The article concerned her appointment as President of Playboy, a firm that had been very successful but recently had suffered serious problems due to poor management practices. An obvious question was whether Ms. Hefner could turn the firm around using the large cash position provided by the sale of some assets.

We generally expose our students to real success stories such as Ms. Hefner. On the other hand, on Wednesday when Don Kelly, the President and Chief Executive Officer of Estee Lauder talked to our students about the acquisition and integration of Norten-Simon into Estee, I personally believe that one can learn at least as much from mistakes as from success, and Playboy presented an ongoing case history of a very interesting firm at a crucial point in its history.

In addition, when they agreed to my idea, they also asked if it would be possible to have Mr. McGinn on a "special" topic. I recognized that such a talk could be much more controversial on the Notre Dame campus. I agreed to try to get Ms. Hefner to make the trip. I was unable to get Ms. Hefner to make the trip.

Such a policy certainly does not imply that we agree with the opinions and statements by Ms. Hefner. As a citizen, I have different opinions than the leader of the American Nazi party to address our students or allowing a presentation by a very controversial theologian. One of the major purposes of a university is to allow the fullest possible exchange of ideas and opinions. Obviously, it is not possible to seriously examine ideas if one views them through a single perspective.

As Mr. Hestherburg has said so often, "a university should be a place where individuals can disagree without being disagreeable." Frank K. Reilly, Dean Professor of Business Administration

Editor's note: Monday, Mr. McGinn telephoned Dean Reilly's office and identified himself as a reporter with The Observer. The person who answered the call asked Mr. McGinn that Dean Reilly not return his call. That call was never returned.

Mr. McGinn, thinking that Dean Reilly did not want to speak about Ms. Hefner's appearance, called Dean Reilly again on Tuesday and told his secretary that it was a personal call, hoping to learn why Dean Reilly had not returned his call.

Mr. McGinn was correct in saying that Mr. Hefner deserved a chance to speak. He is not accurate, however, in speaking of a businesswoman. She is a businessdaughter, a daughter of Mr. Hefner, who is a businessman.

All of us would grow up to be corporate presidents if our fathers were. The business college might have invited a woman here whose own intelligence, business skills, ambition, and drive put her at the top.

James A. Zarzana

Box Q Notre Dame, IN 46556

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in the South Bend and Saint Mary's College, Indiana. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unverified materials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters, and the Inside Column present the views of these authors. Columns space is available to all members of the community, with the free expression of opposing opinions on campus, through letters, essays, and columns.
Sports Briefs

The Notre Dame-USC game, to be played Oct. 22, will also be shown live via closed-circuit audio in the area of the ACC. All seats are $5 for the showing on the theater-size screen, and tickets are on sale at the ACC Gate 10 and all regular outlets. NCAA regulations prohibit any live television showing of this game. — The Observer

The Flying Fathers, known as "The Harlem Globetrotters of Ice Hockey," will play a game of 9-on-9 on ice at 9 a.m. for the benefit of Phoenix House, the halfway house for recovering alcoholic women in South Bend. The Fathers, an internationally-known group of priests, have all played either amateur or pro hockey prior to entering the seminary. They will play 20-minute periods against the Notre Dame hockey club team, the St. Joseph High School hockey team, and the ice Boxers of the Michiana Senior League. — The Observer

The Notre Dame volleyball team traveled to East Lansing, Mich. to compete in the Michigan State Invitational this weekend. Things did not go too well for the Irish as they lost all four games. Thursday they defeated Northern Michigan (15-10, 15-15, 15-10, 15-10), Northwood Institute (15-10, 15-12, 15-11), Cleveland State (15-10, 15-13, 15-16), and Michigan State (15-11, 15-12, 15-12). The team's next game will be tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Purcell Pavilion against St. Francis, Ohio. Also, the match this coming Sunday against St. Xavier was originally scheduled to be played that same morning, has been changed to 8-10 p.m. in the Purcell Pavilion. — The Observer

NOTICES

Lost and Found

LADDER
Lost and long-wanted band of organs in good order. Reward for recovery offered. Please call 277-0229.

MISSING
A percussor which is one piece (full part, square and in large, 1-fl. Solera), if found, please call 288-2074.

WANTED
A SERVICE RING was taken from a mini-bar at the Christmas Inn. Reward for recovery is offered. Please call 277-0926.

WANTED
A $2 GUN which is small, fairly accurate stiletto. Please call 277-0348 if found. Reward for recovery is offered.

Stolen a jumbo-sized safety pin) on South Quad ear­

dents to drive anywhere in the country.

Call 288-7060

Wilson Driveaway Cars available for stu­

8207. I'll have you know I'm freezing to

Campus Ministry, or at the Center for So­

Get applications from dorm reps, at the

URBAN PLUNGE

Xavier which was originally scheduled to be played in the morning, (18-16, 15-13, 15-6), and Michigan State (15-11, 15-2, 12-15, 15-12) The team's next game will be tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Purcell Pavilion against St. Francis, Ohio. Also, the match this coming Sunday against St. Xavier was originally scheduled to be played that same morning, has been changed to 8-10 p.m. in the Purcell Pavilion. — The Observer

Stepan court reservations are now being ac cepted. Any club, organization, or hall wishing court time should complete an application for Student Activities Office. Applications are due by Monday, October 18th, and reservations are on a first come, first served basis. — The Observer

The Notre Dame soccer team won a pair of games over the weekend, defeating Marquette 6-2, in overtime, Friday night before roaring Chicago, 4-1, yesterday. The victories improved the team's record to 15-3, beating into a big game against powerful Akron on Wednesday. More details on the result in Akron will appear in tomorrow's paper. — The Observer

Who's No. 1? talk heats up

by HERSHEL NISSENSON

Associated Press

There seems to be a difference of opinion over just who is the nation's best college football team. Arkansas Coach Lou Holtz was expected to be second-ranked Texas is as good as he is. The Longhorns trounced the Razorbacks 51- 3. Holtz said he was going to the second best team in the country. They are the best team in the country," he said.

But top-rated Nebraska trimmed Miami's record to 4-1. Nebraska Coach Warren Powers, who spent eight years on the Nebraska staff, said the Cornhuskers' turn look like (No. 1) right now. They're confident, and they're poised.

The only other Top Twenty loser besides Ohio State and Arizona was No. 11 Alabama which dropped a wild 41-34 decision to Tennessee, the highest scoring contest in one of the south's great rivalries.

WANTED
UGLY HOUSE FOR RENT

NICE FURNISHED HOUSE 277-3604

Female roommate wanted to share living expenses in furnished house 15 minpttfs*. Call Tom 298-2125.

NEED 2 PITT GA s. Call Kathy at 2966

NEED 2 USC GAS WILL BEAT ANY

PAY $$ Call Mark at 1177.

NEED 4 NAVY GA s DOUG-277-4273

DESPERATELY NEEDED: 3 NAVY GA s. Call 17773.

RIDE

TO SWAP FOR PENN ST CALL PAUL

ANYONE WHO CAN FIND US 2 RIDES TO PITT,

Pittsburgh, will share my hotel room with. I'll take care of the room fees. Call me at any time. — Paul Decker, 294-4625.

IMAGINE THIS: A 124,000 GA from the USC game, with a couple of years on the Nebraska staff, said the Longhorns trounced the Razorbacks 51-3. Holtz said he was going to the second best team in the country. They are the best team in the country," he said.

But top-rated Nebraska trimmed Miami's record to 4-1. Nebraska Coach Warren Powers, who spent eight years on the Nebraska staff, said the Cornhuskers' turn look like (No. 1) right now. They're confident, and they're poised.

The only other Top Twenty loser besides Ohio State and Arizona was No. 11 Alabama which dropped a wild 41-34 decision to Tennessee, the highest scoring contest in one of the south's great rivalries.

WANTED
UGLY HOUSE FOR RENT

NICE FURNISHED HOUSE 277-3604

Female roommate wanted to share living expenses in furnished house 15 minpttfs*. Call Tom 298-2125.

NEED 2 PITT GA s. Call Kathy at 2966

NEED 2 USC GAS WILL BEAT ANY

PAY $$ Call Mark at 1177.

NEED 4 NAVY GA s DOUG-277-4273

DESPERATELY NEEDED: 3 NAVY GA s. Call 17773.

RIDE

TO SWAP FOR PENN ST CALL PAUL

ANYONE WHO CAN FIND US 2 RIDES TO PITT,

Pittsburgh, will share my hotel room with. I'll take care of the room fees. Call me at any time. — Paul Decker, 294-4625.

IMAGINE THIS: A 124,000 GA from the USC game, with a couple of years on the Nebraska staff, said the Longhorns trounced the Razorbacks 51-3. Holtz said he was going to the second best team in the country. They are the best team in the country," he said.

But top-rated Nebraska trimmed Miami's record to 4-1. Nebraska Coach Warren Powers, who spent eight years on the Nebraska staff, said the Cornhuskers' turn look like (No. 1) right now. They're confident, and they're poised.

The only other Top Twenty loser besides Ohio State and Arizona was No. 11 Alabama which dropped a wild 41-34 decision to Tennessee, the highest scoring contest in one of the south's great rivalries.

WANTED
UGLY HOUSE FOR RENT

NICE FURNISHED HOUSE 277-3604

Female roommate wanted to share living expenses in furnished house 15 minpttfs*. Call Tom 298-2125.

NEED 2 PITT GA s. Call Kathy at 2966

NEED 2 USC GAS WILL BEAT ANY

PAY $$ Call Mark at 1177.

NEED 4 NAVY GA s DOUG-277-4273

DESPERATELY NEEDED: 3 NAVY GA s. Call 17773.

RIDE

TO SWAP FOR PENN ST CALL PAUL

ANYONE WHO CAN FIND US 2 RIDES TO PITT,

Pittsburgh, will share my hotel room with. I'll take care of the room fees. Call me at any time. — Paul Decker, 294-4625.

IMAGINE THIS: A 124,000 GA from the USC game, with a couple of years on the Nebraska staff, said the Longhorns trounced the Razorbacks 51-3. Holtz said he was going to the second best team in the country. They are the best team in the country," he said.

But top-rated Nebraska trimmed Miami's record to 4-1. Nebraska Coach Warren Powers, who spent eight years on the Nebraska staff, said the Cornhuskers' turn look like (No. 1) right now. They're confident, and they're poised.

The only other Top Twenty loser besides Ohio State and Arizona was No. 11 Alabama which dropped a wild 41-34 decision to Tennessee, the highest scoring contest in one of the south's great rivalries.

WANTED
UGLY HOUSE FOR RENT

NICE FURNISHED HOUSE 277-3604

Female roommate wanted to share living expenses in furnished house 15 minpttfs*. Call Tom 298-2125.

NEED 2 PITT GA s. Call Kathy at 2966

NEED 2 USC GAS WILL BEAT ANY

PAY $$ Call Mark at 1177.

NEED 4 NAVY GA s DOUG-277-4273

DESPERATELY NEEDED: 3 NAVY GA s. Call 17773.

RIDE

TO SWAP FOR PENN ST CALL PAUL

ANYONE WHO CAN FIND US 2 RIDES TO PITT,

Pittsburgh, will share my hotel room with. I'll take care of the room fees. Call me at any time. — Paul Decker, 294-4625.

IMAGINE THIS: A 124,000 GA from the USC game, with a couple of years on the Nebraska staff, said the Longhorns trounced the Razorbacks 51-3. Holtz said he was going to the second best team in the country. They are the best team in the country," he said.

But top-rated Nebraska trimmed Miami's record to 4-1. Nebraska Coach Warren Powers, who spent eight years on the Nebraska staff, said the Cornhuskers' turn look like (No. 1) right now. They're confident, and they're poised.

The only other Top Twenty loser besides Ohio State and Arizona was No. 11 Alabama which dropped a wild 41-34 decision to Tennessee, the highest scoring contest in one of the south's great rivalries.
The Observer

Monday, October 17, 1983 — page 9

...Orioles

On this night, McGregor, who had lost three straight post-season games dating to Game Seven of the 1979 Series, was the quintessential Oriole and a member of a staff that turned in a post-season ERA of 1.11 — earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's benching on Friday pointed out a vital difference between these two clubs. While Rose protested, Altobelli moved his pitcher like a chess pieces without rebuttal. They were happy and loose, and they were also winners.

And Dempsey was their leader. Ken Singleton, Baltimore's designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth, seventh and eighth hitters — Rich Dauer, Todd Cruz and Dempsey — the Three Stooges because they always left him stranded.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday. Cruz was Curly. He had a pair of hits and helped continue a couple of rallies.

And Dempsey was Moe, the leader.

He started the Orioles' fifth inning yesterday with his fifth extra-base hit, a double that short-hopped the wall in left-center and chased Hud­son in favor of Marty Bystrom. McGregor bunted, and Phillies catcher Bo Diaz let the ball slip while trying to throw to first. McGregor was safe, and Dempsey stood at second.

A wild pitch by Bystrom advanced the runners, and Al Humbry hit a sacrifice fly to left, scoring Dempsey.

This time, they didn't let the runners, and Al Bumbry hit a two at home, then swept three in a row.

For Altobelli, getting the job at Baltimore was a homecoming of sorts, since he spent 14 years in the Orioles organization. It also was a supreme test of his ability to manage without the designated hitter, which is used in the American League but only allowed in even-numbered years in the World Series.

Altobelli said he believed that comparisons with Weaver would never end, but it really didn't matter. You see, Altobelli is a company man, too.

In fact, they were all company men. Guys like Dempsey, who had caught more games than any other Oriole and who, despite only hitting .231 during the season, contributed a double in addition to his home run, giving him five extra-base hits — a record for a five-game Series. And guys like McGregor, who nailed down the Orioles' third Series championship and first since the Weaver-led team of 1979.

Altobelli had continued Weaver's platoon system, using six outfielders regularly, and they contributed enough to offset the disadvantage of having to play the Series without a designated hitter. They were Altobelli's interchangeable parts, never bothering his man.

Good company men, like Jim Dwyer and John Lowenstein, of each whom had a Series homer.

It was in 1979 that the Orioles made their last Series appearance, and they lost to Pittsburgh in seven games after being up 3-1.

This time, they didn't let the World Series ring escape.

After losing the first game 2-1 at Baltimore, the Orioles won Game Two at home, then swept three in Philadelphia. They became only the fourth team to win in this manner and the first since the New York Mets did it to an earlier Baltimore club in 1969.

...continued from page 12

"Thank you, sir. You can tell the Russians we're having an awfully good time over here playing baseball," Dempsey said.

For Altobelli, getting the job at Baltimore was a homecoming of sorts, since he spent 14 years in the Orioles organization. It also was a supreme test of his ability to manage without the designated hitter, which is used in the American League but only allowed in even-numbered years in the World Series.

Altobelli said he believed that comparisons with Weaver would never end, but it really didn't matter. You see, Altobelli is a company man, too. In fact, they were all company men. Guys like Dempsey, who had caught more games than any other Oriole and who, despite only hitting .231 during the season, contributed a double in addition to his home run, giving him five extra-base hits — a record for a five-game Series. And guys like McGregor, who nailed down the Orioles' third Series championship and first since the Weaver-led team of 1979.

Altobelli had continued Weaver's platoon system, using six outfielders regularly, and they contributed enough to offset the disadvantage of having to play the Series without a designated hitter. They were Altobelli's interchangeable parts, never bothering his man.

Good company men, like Jim Dwyer and John Lowenstein, of each whom had a Series homer.

It was in 1979 that the Orioles made their last Series appearance, and they lost to Pittsburgh in seven games after being up 3-1.

This time, they didn't let the World Series ring escape.

After losing the first game 2-1 at Baltimore, the Orioles won Game Two at home, then swept three in Philadelphia. They became only the fourth team to win in this manner and the first since the New York Mets did it to an earlier Baltimore club in 1969.

On this night, McGregor, who had lost three straight post-season games dating to Game Seven of the 1979 Series, was the quintessential Oriole and a member of a staff that turned in a post-season ERA of 1.11 — earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's benching on Friday pointed out a vital difference between these two clubs. While Rose protested, Altobelli moved his pitcher like a chess pieces without rebuttal. They were happy and loose, and they were also winners.

And Dempsey was their leader. Ken Singleton, Baltimore's designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth, seventh and eighth hitters — Rich Dauer, Todd Cruz and Dempsey — the Three Stooges because they always left him stranded.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday.

Cruz was Curly. He had a pair of hits and helped continue a couple of rallies.

And Dempsey was Moe, the leader.

He started the Orioles' fifth inning yesterday with his fifth extra-base hit, a double that short-hopped the wall in left-center and chased Hudson in favor of Marty Bystrom. McGregor bunted, and Phillies catcher Bo Diaz let the ball slip while trying to throw to first. McGregor was safe, and Dempsey stayed at second.

A wild pitch by Bystrom advanced the runners, and Al Humbry hit a sacrifice fly to left, scoring Dempsey.

This time, they didn't let the runners, and Al Bumbry hit a two at home, then swept three in a row.

For Altobelli, getting the job at Baltimore was a homecoming of sorts, since he spent 14 years in the Orioles organization. It also was a supreme test of his ability to manage without the designated hitter, which is used in the American League but only allowed in even-numbered years in the World Series.

Altobelli said he believed that comparisons with Weaver would never end, but it really didn't matter. You see, Altobelli is a company man, too. In fact, they were all company men. Guys like Dempsey, who had caught more games than any other Oriole and who, despite only hitting .231 during the season, contributed a double in addition to his home run, giving him five extra-base hits — a record for a five-game Series. And guys like McGregor, who nailed down the Orioles' third Series championship and first since the Weaver-led team of 1979.

Altobelli had continued Weaver's platoon system, using six outfielders regularly, and they contributed enough to offset the disadvantage of having to play the Series without a designated hitter. They were Altobelli's interchangeable parts, never bothering his man.

Good company men, like Jim Dwyer and John Lowenstein, of each whom had a Series homer.

It was in 1979 that the Orioles made their last Series appearance, and they lost to Pittsburgh in seven games after being up 3-1.

This time, they didn't let the World Series ring escape.

After losing the first game 2-1 at Baltimore, the Orioles won Game Two at home, then swept three in Philadelphia. They became only the fourth team to win in this manner and the first since the New York Mets did it to an earlier Baltimore club in 1969.

On this night, McGregor, who had lost three straight post-season games dating to Game Seven of the 1979 Series, was the quintessential Oriole and a member of a staff that turned in a post-season ERA of 1.11 — earned runs in nine games.

Phillie Pete Rose's benching on Friday pointed out a vital difference between these two clubs. While Rose protested, Altobelli moved his pitcher like a chess pieces without rebuttal. They were happy and loose, and they were also winners.

And Dempsey was their leader. Ken Singleton, Baltimore's designated hitter during the regular season, had dubbed the Orioles' sixth, seventh and eighth hitters — Rich Dauer, Todd Cruz and Dempsey — the Three Stooges because they always left him stranded.

Dauer was Larry. He had three RBI and three hits in the Orioles' 5-4 victory in Game Four Saturday.

Cruz was Curly. He had a pair of hits and helped continue a couple of rallies.

And Dempsey was Moe, the leader.

He started the Orioles' fifth inning yesterday with his fifth extra-base hit, a double that short-hopped the wall in left-center and chased Hudson in favor of Marty Bystrom. McGregor bunted, and Phillies catcher Bo Diaz let the ball slip while trying to throw to first. McGregor was safe, and Dempsey stayed at second.

A wild pitch by Bystrom advanced the runners, and Al Humbry hit a sacrifice fly to left, scoring Dempsey.

The Orioles thus became the first American League team to win the World Series since the New York Mets in 1977 and 1978.

It capped a season in which the Orioles won a record seventh AL East title and a sixth pennant since 1966.

It was another good year for all those company men at the Balt­imore Orioles, Inc.

COUNSELINE

A service to the ND community

239-7793

HOURS: Mon-Thurs.

Counseline is a free, confidential telephone service that offers professionally taped materials that cover a wide variety of student concerns.

For Further Info or Assistance

Mon Thurs.

Counseline is a completely anonymous

A service to the ND community

33 How to Handle Fears

Call C&PSC 239-7337

493 Helping Someone in a Suicidal Crisis

Professional taped materials that

COUNSELINE

to Deal with It

cover a wide variety of student concerns

61 What is Therapy & How to Use It

for Further Info or Assistance

478 Becoming Independent from Parents

as a Life Style

27-7337 between 9-5.
The observer
Monday, October 17, 1983 — Page 10

...Mauling

continued from page 12

With Notre Dame seemingly well on their way to a first-half rout, the second quarter suddenly saw the offense slow down.

On the first possession of the second quarter, the Irish drove from their own 22 to the 41 before the Army defense held and stopped what appeared to be another Notre Dame march downhill. When a Butler pass to Aluson Jefferson was broken up on third and seven, the Black Knights were forced to punt for the first time.

The defense then held Army to a total of 10 yards on six plays, forcing a punt from the 58. With Notre Dame got the ball back on their 22, it was time for the second team to take center stage. Kiel setting his first action at the helm, the Irish drove to the 48, but again ending up having to punt. In the drive, Kiel completed 2-for-3 passes for 15 yards. Freshman tailback Hwawhi Francisco and junior fullback Dave Machtoff also made their first appearances of the game, accumulating 49 yards on seven carries.

The Irish had the ball one more time in the first half, and despite not scoring the score, the Irish were highlighted by a 21-yard reverse. Joe Howard's play was highlighted by a 21-yard reverse to Joe Howard that put the ball from the 11 to the 52. Leading 21-0 at the half, Notre Dame did not have things their way in the second half, so the Irish defense kicked into gear.

Faust explained the reason for originally choosing to kick.

"We ended up kicking off twice today because we felt our offense had been getting stronger and stronger," he said. "Plus, field position was important when going against the wind.

In the third quarter, the Irish scored two more times tapping their lead to 35-0 before halftime.

Following the second quarter, the offensive line worked well containing the Army defenders and clearing the way to the goal line. In Army's first possession of the half, the defense continued to show that they were going to remain sting. They allowed Army to move to the 79, but a charging Joe Johnson quickly leveled Laughlin for a 15-yard loss on third and eight.

The next time the Cadets were in possession, it was Mike Carr who dropped Laughlin for a ten-yard loss on a third-and-five play.

With less than 10:50 to play in the quarter, Army got their best chance to score when Notre Dame tailback Brian Abrahams was hit hard, allowing the ball on the Notre Dame 33. Following three incomplete passes and a penalty for illegal touching the ball, the Cadets were faced with fourth and 15 from the 31. Bill Taumalolo, then in at nouther for Army, hit Travis Jackson who appeared to be a first down, but a continuously hustling Furjanic sucked Taumalolo's tackle into a three-yard short of the mark.

Notre Dame then took over at the 21 and 17, but made no gains in the quarter, and, behind a fired-up second-team defense, the Irish marched down field. Two Kiel completions for 15 and 17 yards as well as runs by Abraham and Machtoff for 11 and 15 yards respectively, highlighted the drive. The culmination in Notre Dame's final touchdown as Kiel forced the way into the endzone on a hook-up play on first and goal from the three-yard line. The drive covered the final 79 yards in 7 plays and made Faust very happy.

"I was impressed the way our second team drove all the way down the field for the score," he said.

In Notre Dame's final possession, two senior quarterbacks, Kevin Smith and Tom Cushing, received their chances to contribute. Lester Flemons also entered line up at tailback. His play was highlighted by a 17-yard run up the middle. Both Smith and Cushing completed their only attempted passes, for 15 and 12 yards respectively, in leading a drive from the Notre Dame 38. It ended when Flemons was stopped on fourth-and-goal from the seven.

When Army took over with 1:08 to play, Dave Grasch entered at quarterback and led the Black Knights to their first successful crossing of the midfield stripe. The success was short-lived, however, as Wilson intercepted a Grasch pass on second half, so Notre Dame kicked even failed to cross mid-field.

Leading 21-0 at the half, Notre Dame then took over at their 38 after a punt from the 38. On the day, the Irish accumulated 436 total yards, of which 272 came on the ground and 64 in the air. The defensive effort was led by Furjanic with eleven stops. Kovaleski was next with seven plus an interception.

Placekicker Mike Johnston was perfect on the day as he converted all six extra-point tries.

Joe Howard tied a Giant's Stadium record for collegiate punt returns as he pulled in eight for a total of 95 yards.

For CHARGE ORDERS—Call 384-9111

PIZZA LIGHT is our 2 for $6.95 to campus FREE! Free delivery does not apply.

2 GREAT PIZZAS
1 LOW PRICE

Polish Prince Pizzeria
272-8030
Open 4p.m. 7 days a week Last order taken 1a.m.

Bruno's Pizza II
16" with any toppings for $6.95 to campus FREE!

Open 4-11
7 days a week

Bruno will deliver an 16" with any toppings for $6.95 to campus FREE!

277-6519

8:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Eating at the University of Notre Dame, Deadline is 4p.m. 7 days a week

Brother Adalbert Mrowca, CSC

THIRD WORLD with Special Guest TONY BROWN

Friday, October 21—8 P.M.
Morris Civic Auditorium—So. Bend
Tickets $11.50 & $10.50

On Sale—Century Center Box Office or Notre Dame Student Union Ticket Office
FOR CHARGE ORDERS—Call 384-9111

OPEN 4-11
7 days a week

For CHARGE ORDERS—Call 384-9111

PIZZA LIGHT is our 2 for $6.95 to campus FREE! Free delivery does not apply.

2 GREAT PIZZAS
1 LOW PRICE

Polish Prince Pizzeria
272-8030
Open 4p.m. 7 days a week Last order taken 1a.m.

Bruno's Pizza II
16" with any toppings for $6.95 to campus FREE!

Open 4-11
7 days a week

Bruno will deliver an 16" with any toppings for $6.95 to campus FREE!

277-6519

8:00 a.m. - 3:00 p.m.

Eating at the University of Notre Dame, Deadline is 4p.m. 7 days a week
Sports

Irish outman Cadets, look toward Trojans

By ED DOMANSKY

EAST RUTHERFORD N. J. — On Saturday afternoon the Notre Dame football team returned to Giants Stadium in the New Jersey Meadowlands to take on the Black Knights of Army. It was the fourth visit to the site since 1977 for an Irish football team, and, by virtue of the 42-0 thrashing of the hapless Cadets, the Irish upped their record to a perfect 4-0 in the East Rutherford, New Jersey structure.

The game, played before 75,131 spectators, a large portion of which were Notre Dame supporters, was the second longest collegiate four-ball crowd to fill Giants Stadium.

Saturday's game marked the third straight victory for the steadily improving Irish squad, and more importantly proved to be a total team effort as 65 of the 68-member travelling squad saw action. The win lifted the team's record to 4-2 importantly proved to be a total team effort as 65 of the 68-member travelling squad saw action. The win lifted the team's record to 4-2.

The Irish wasted little time in "well today," he said. "We're getting into our players executed very well today." We're getting into our players executed very well today.

The Irish then took over on the own 67 and eight plays later it was Pinkett again on the Army 34.粉色 however, the Army defense tightened and after three plays, forced Notre Dame to punt on fourth and eleven.

On the next possession Notre Dame struck again. Taking over on their own 49-yard line, nose tackle Allen Pinkett, who topped the 100-yard plateau for the fifth time in six games. He carried 22 times and gained 132 yards.

It's required to do well, but the team's success is most important," he said. "We're finally playing relaxed and that's when it's easiest to execute. Playing simple, fun football is the key." Playing simple, fun football is the key.

The Irish wasted little time in asserting their dominance and settling the stage for things to come as just two plays into the game, a swirling defense forced Army tailback Ettie Akins to cough up the football. The ball rolled up field where freshman Troy Wilson, starting at strong counter for the injured Stacy Toran, recovered for the Irish at the Army 42. Not to be outdone, however, the Army defense tightened and after three plays, forced Notre Dame to punt on fourth and eleven.

Once again the Notre Dame defense went into action as Tony Furganci downed Max K's punt on the Army two-yard line.

The Black Knights moved the ball out the 20, but after a series of fumble penalty, they were faced with a third and nine from the 15. Quarter back Rich Laughlin dropped back to pass, under heavy pressure from Rick Naylor and Mike Golick, and promptly threw into the waiting arms of a charging Mike Kowalski who returned the interception to the five.

It took the Irish just two plays to capitalize as Pinkett plunged over the pylon against the Army's 2-8-5 defense for the first of his three touchdowns on the day, giving the Irish an early 7-0 lead.

On their next possession Notre Dame struck again. Taking over on their own 49-yard line, nose tackle Allen Pinkett, who topped the 100-yard plateau for the fifth time in six games. He carried 22 times and gained 132 yards.

The Irish then took over on their own 67 and eight plays later it was Pinkett again on the Army 34. 粉色 however, the Army defense tightened and after three plays, forced Notre Dame to punt on fourth and eleven.

On the next possession Notre Dame struck again. Taking over on their own 49-yard line, nose tackle Allen Pinkett, who topped the 100-yard plateau for the fifth time in six games. He carried 22 times and gained 132 yards.

The Irish then took over on their own 67 and eight plays later it was Pinkett again on the Army 34.

On their next possession Notre Dame struck again. Taking over on their own 49-yard line, nose tackle Allen Pinkett, who topped the 100-yard plateau for the fifth time in six games. He carried 22 times and gained 132 yards.

The Irish then took over on their own 67 and eight plays later it was Pinkett again on the Army 34.

On their next possession Notre Dame struck again. Taking over on their own 49-yard line, nose tackle Allen Pinkett, who topped the 100-yard plateau for the fifth time in six games. He carried 22 times and gained 132 yards.

The Irish then took over on their own 67 and eight plays later it was Pinkett again on the Army 34.