Students to consider problems of the elderly

By PAT SAIN
Senior Staff Reporter

Visiting senior citizens in nursing homes, helping handicapped children, and other social work of ten raises questions such as, "How could we let this happen to someone?" or, "Doesn't anybody care?"

Often these questions remain just that — unanswered questions, or perhaps an uneasy feeling that it all is not right with the world.

Theology and Community Service, a class which explores these issues and others, is being offered by the Center for Social Concerns next semester.

The twenty students in the class spend two hours a week visiting people in nursing homes, and meet once a week to discuss the theological questions raised by visiting the elderly. The class also works in small groups of five, along with a "Facilitator" from the Center for Social Concerns.

Those interested in the course can get applications in the Center. See CLASS page 3

Student runs for city council spot

By REBECCA HETLAND
News Staff

Tomorrow evening, Notre Dame Junior Doug Regan will be waiting in his room at St. Edward's Hall to hear the results of South Bend's city council race. The results will culminate a campaign which began in mid-September and has once established him as a Republican at-large candidate. He is "realistically optimistic about the outcome," noting that Republicans are relatively scarce in South Bend.

Regan is almost certain he is the only Notre Dame student to ever have sought a council seat. Regan's two Republican opponents as well as some voters contend his age will present a hardship in gaining office, but Regan hopes it will be a plus. "My goal is to bring vitality, and, of course, Republican strength, back into what I think has come to be a rather stagnant South Bend Council."

Regan's interest in pursuing the position was sparked by a course here at Notre Dame on local government. It was then he learned only one Republican has served on the Council in twelve years. "I was frustrated to find that, as a Republican, I was not being represented, and decided finally that I really ought to do something about it."

Regan then began campaigning with the help and support of fellow Notre Dame junior Tod Ray, a government major. Regan and Ray have stressed a personal approach to campaigning which entails a great deal of community/candidate interaction through persistent door-to-door visits and various other means. "I'd rather be shaking hands than sig­ ning checks," Regan remarked.

Use of the media, consequently, has not constituted a major part of the campaign. Regan also noted that he has not sought any campaign contributions. The South Bend Tribune report­ edly quoted, "Regan, 20, a student at the University of Notre Dame, is the only Republican endorsed by the Tribune."

A resident of South Bend for eleven years, Regan feels he is capable of making a responsible difference in city government. Two personal crusades included in his platform are tougher crackdowns on drunk driving and more con­ sensus concentration on the aesthetics, improvement and maintenance of the city.

In response to questions regarding his position in the squabble over the addition to Bridget McGuire's Filling Station, Regan admitted after scrutinizing the code books it would be hard to make the wrong since the zoning code is extremely specific. However, he was firm in stating that as a councilman, he would need (and have access to) more information on the matter, and then would be able to make a more calculated and responsible decision.

See COUNCIL page 3

Knights will sponsor computer dating night

By MARY JACOBY
News Staff

The Knights of Columbus will be sponsoring a date night tentatively scheduled for either Dec 9 or 10.

According to Grand Knight Joe Anthony, individuals will fill out resumes and be computer matched with dates. The computer dating for mat is an "adaptation of a Screw­ Your Roommate," in the sense that no one will know who their date is until that night. The evening will include a catered dinner at the Knights of Columbus building followed by a dance, possibly with a live band, in the basement. Participants will have to look for name tags up on dinner tables to find their dates.

The function will be limited to 75 couples from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's, and the cost is $7 to submit a form and 85 more later if a person's form is successfully matched with a date. Anthony expects more male forms than female. Proceeds will be donated to charity.

Anthony said that the date night is an attempt by the Knights of Columbus to do more for the campus. While Anthony would welcome help from Student Govern­ ment in promoting the event, he said that the function is not a specific ef­ fort to ameliorate past differences between the two organizations.
In Brief

United Steelworkers President

Yasser Arafat and his PLO fighters, driven from their bases under intense artillery fire, regrouped yesterday to defend their last Middle East stronghold against a tank-led assault by Syrian-backed forces. The harried Palestinian Liberation Organization leader, shuttling between Tripoli and Homs positions, told reporters Syria was trying to destroy him and his 80,000 fighters, and said American and Israeli tanks and heavy artillery forced Arafat’s men to abandon Nahar El-barred refuge camp outside southern Tripoli and flee to the Barda camp just outside town. Some loyalists moved into Tripoli to oppose the advancing rebels, whose four-day onslaught has crossfire in Tripoli, where more than 500 have been killed and 80 wounded. The rebels say they want to oust Arafat because he abandoned the struggle with Israel. Arafat’s men say Syria is backing the assault because it wants to control the PLO. Lebanese police say many of the dead and wounded are civilians, including two children and a woman in a hospital bed. In the case of Grenada, the whole world, friendly and foe, is asking and criticizing. It is about the American people do the same.

Of Interest

The crumbling South Bronx, a d relegation neighborhood that has come to symbolize the worst that big cities have to offer, is going to get a touch of make up to hide the ugly scars. City planners plan to spend federal money to install hundreds of decorative panels—depicting shapes, window panes and even house plants—in the gaping windows of torched and abandoned tenements. The buildings resemble the bomb-out ruins of post-war Europe, some may be demolished and there are plans to clean up entire lots and plant greens in the $500,000 project. The idea, officials say, is to give passing motorists on the ipes a sense of what the Bronx was a less offensive view of the blighted area that has been depicted in images such as “Fort Apache, The Bronx,” as an urban nether world. “The goal is not to trick people,” said Robert Jacobson, director of the Bronx office of the City Planning Commission. “The goal is not to pretend that people live there, but in an effort, on a simplistic level, to make the Bronx its most attractive.” The South Bronx, once a flourishing, middle-class community, slipped precariously after World War II. It remains the home of Yankee Stadium and the Grand Concourse, a broad boulevard of grandiose apartment houses. But the Grand Concourse is gated, and much of the rest of the area is filled with rubble and the shells of buildings, many torched by landfills, and set on fire by residents of nearby public housing developments. The cost of the first phase of the program is $300,000, all of which will come from the federal Community Development budget.

Questioning authority

Sarah Hamilton

features Editor

Caribbean States (O.E.S.) Did a request American assistance? But this is a fragile foundation for what ensued. The Organization’s charter states that a unanimous vote is needed before military action can be taken. Even if no regulation had been broken the U.S. may not have acted responsibly. As could be expected, reactions such as the Soviet Union refuted the U.S. but criticisms and questions also came from NATO allies. Great Britain’s Margaret Thatcher argued not being able to dissuade Reagan from taking military action. Some allies, West Germany and Canada among them, were upset because they were not consulted on the matter and said they would have advised to the contrary. Did the U.S. act in the proper and diplomatic way in being a part of an alliance? On the domestic side of the issue, the War Powers Act seems to be powerless. Congress will never declared war and yet every day it seems more possible that the army may remain in Grenada through to 1984. Is the President abusing his authority as chief executive and commander in chief of the armed forces? The armed forces? The only few of the questions that must be dealt with concerning this event U.S. foreign policy in general and also, the nation’s internal operations. The answers must be demanded. It is the right and the duty of its citizens are unfamiliar with a nation’s occupation or other measures of force taken by another State, directly or indirectly, on any grounds whatever. The U.S. should have considered more carefully. The American invasion of Grenada was in direct violation of the Organization of American States charter statement. “The territory of a state is inviolable; it shall not be the object, even temporarily, of military occupation or other measures of force taken by another State, directly or indirectly, on any grounds whatever.” The U.S. may have acted responsibly. As could be expected, reactions such as the Soviet Union refuted the U.S. but criticisms and questions also came from NATO allies. Great Britain’s Margaret Thatcher argued not being able to dissuade Reagan from taking military action. Some allies, West Germany and Canada among them, were upset because they were not consulted on the matter and said they would have advised to the contrary. Did the U.S. act in the proper and diplomatic way in being a part of an alliance? On the domestic side of the issue, the War Powers Act seems to be powerless. Congress will never declared war and yet every day it seems more possible that the army may remain in Grenada through to 1984. Is the President abusing his authority as chief executive and commander in chief of the armed forces? The armed forces? The only few of the questions that must be dealt with concerning this event U.S. foreign policy in general and also, the nation’s internal operations. The answers must be demanded. It is the right and the duty of its citizens are unfamiliar with a nation’s occupation or other measures of force taken by another State, directly or indirectly, on any grounds whatever. The U.S. should have considered more carefully. The American invasion of Grenada was in direct violation of the Organization of American States charter statement. “The territory of a state is inviolable; it shall not be the object, even temporarily, of military occupation or other measures of force taken by another State, directly or indirectly, on any grounds whatever.” The U.S. may have acted responsibly. As could be expected, reactions such as the Soviet Union refuted the U.S. but criticisms and questions also came from NATO allies. Great Britain’s Margaret Thatcher argued not being able to dissuade Reagan from taking military action. Some allies, West Germany and Canada among them, were upset because they were not consulted on the matter and said they would have advised to the contrary. Did the U.S. act in the proper and diplomatic way in being a part of an alliance? On the domestic side of the issue, the War Powers Act seems to be powerless. Congress will never declared war and yet every day it seems more possible that the army may remain in Grenada through to 1984. Is the President abusing his authority as chief executive and commander in chief of the armed forces? The armed forces? The only few of the questions that must be dealt with concerning this event U.S. foreign policy in general and also, the nation’s internal operations. The answers must be demanded. It is the right and the duty of its citizens are unfamiliar with a nation’s occupation or other measures of force taken by another State, directly or indirectly, on any grounds whatever. The U.S. should have considered more carefully. The American invasion of Grenada was in direct violation of the Organization of American States charter statement. “The territory of a state is inviolable; it shall not be the object, even temporarily, of military occupation or other measures of force taken by another State, directly or indirectly, on any grounds whatever.” The U.S. may have acted responsibly. As could be expected, reactions such as the Soviet Union refuted the U.S. but criticisms and questions also came from NATO allies. Great Britain’s Margaret Thatcher argued not being able to dissuade Reagan from taking military action. Some allies, West Germany and Canada among them, were upset because they were not consulted on the matter and said they would have advised to the contrary. Did the U.S. act in the proper and diplomatic way in being a part of an alliance? On the domestic side of the issue, the War Powers Act seems to be powerless. Congress will never declared war and yet every day it seems more possible that the army may remain in Grenada through to 1984. Is the President abusing his authority as chief executive and commander in chief of the armed forces? The armed forces?
Nouwen to lecture on peacemaking

By PAT SAIN
Senior Staff Reporter

Notre Dame during the late 1960’s, "A Call to Peacemaking"

No one voiced concern. The deadline is Thursday, November 10.

"Some people go in and find these wonderful people and develop great relationships with 'grandparent' types of senior citizens," said Andrea Shappell. "They go because they care and want to learn." Interviews before registration also help in selecting interesting people to travel with.

"Sometimes, the relationship with challenging problems is the most rewarding," said Shappell. "Many of the senior citizens have had visitors from previous classes, and understand the goals of the course," said Shappell.

"The actual service becomes the framework for the theology studied," said Fletcher. "Unless we examine love and are loved in return, it remains nothing but ideal.

"It knows of any way I could help the students of Notre Dame. I would be glad of course, try for it," Regan said.

Regan is vying for one of three seats in a field of six candidates. Fellow Republican candidates are Dostrick, Dafonté and George J. Hardern. Democrats Benefiel, Crene and John Vonder are incumbent candidates, and Al R. Poche rounds out the field of contenders.

Regan is impressed with the interaction between Mayor Roger Parent and the present council, saying the council has a great deal of power and is supported by the public.

"Regan is hoping the election will result in better Republican representation.

The Observer announces the following promotions. Chris Owen, a senior Government/ALBA major from Cooperstown, New York, has been named the position of business manager. Foxie Poole, a sophomore American Studies/ALBA major from Bronx, NY, assumes the position of advertising manager. Owen formerly held the position of advertising manager. Poole was promoted from the position of assistant advertising manager.

ARE YOUR COLLEGE FINANCES IN CRITICAL CONDITION?

Joining the Army Reserve can reduce your college costs. If you have received Financial Aid from the Department of Veterans Affairs, the Army Reserve will pay up to $1,000 per year for up to four years. If you are accepted into a loan forgiveness program will repay 15 or 20 years, you can receive up to $1,000, whichever is granted for the remaining years.

If you’d like to find out more, you can call the number below. Or stop by.

Sgt Jones 234-4167

COLLECT: ARMY RESERVE, BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

“The Call to Peacemaking” has been described as "a personal and social call to peacemaking every Christian experiences."

This is not a talk about how the United States should make peace in Latin America, but about a Christian’s "call to peace," said Father Dan McNeill, Director of the Center for Social Concerns. McNeill, who invited Nouwen as part of a national "Week of Peace," said Nouwen’s understanding of peacemaking comes from an interest and concern for society as a whole and does not exclude political action.

"I think it will ask one question of all people. What have you done to the least of mine?" said Nouwen in an article in the Chicago Catholic. "How are we, as a nation, going to relate to smaller countries? In the same article, Nouwen said that “the spiritual destiny of North America is intimately connected with the spiritual destiny of South America.” In other words, agreed McNeill, one’s personal actions can affect society’s actions as a whole.

It is where Nouwen’s personal "call to peace" "hits home. Christians experience a call to personal and social peacemaking.

Nouwen is returning to the United States from a stay in Nicaragua this summer. He had originally planned to go to Peru, said McNeill, but his experiences in the Latin American country compelled him to come back to the U.S. on a 19 city speaking tour.

"I had to do something, I had to say no more war," said Nouwen in the Chicago Catholic. "Something had to be done about the terrible suffering and the violence that is happening there. It is a deeply spiritual crisis that involves both America, North and South. It is a crisis that reveals the failure of five centuries of Christianity to bring unity to the Americas," said Nouwen in America.

Nouwen most recently has been a professor at Harvard University’s Divinity School, where he teaches every spring. It was at the end of the last spring semester that he made his trip to Nicaragua, which brought him back to the United States to speak for peace.
Economic policies involve tradeoffs. The goals of full employment and low inflation have not been achieved at the same time since the beginning of the 1970s. One economic philosophy determines which of the two is more important. Conservatives tend to feel that low inflation is preferable, while liberals generally support lower unemployment.

Being the conservative Republican he is, Ronald Reagan has supported reduced inflation. His supply-side policies have contributed to the production of a 5.9 percent annual rate of inflation for 1982 (down from 13.5 percent in 1980).

This clearly helps those Americans who have a paycheck coming in on a regular basis. Less of their wages are being eaten up by inflation. But before we pat Reagan on the back, let's not forget that while inflation was high in 1979, the unemployment rate was a mere 5.8 percent. Unemployment peaked at 10.8 percent in December of 1982, and is still at its highest level since the Great Depression. Carter and Reagan had different views on the economic spectrum. Their different approaches can be cited as contributing factors to the trends of the leading economic indicators.

Let's turn for a moment to those who are presently unemployed. They do not experience great benefits from low inflation because the policies which reduce inflation make it difficult for them to find work. Those people who are unable to find a job face a frustrating, degrading, and anxiety-filled road. Unemployment damages a person's outlook on life and destroys personal dignity.

President Reagan has chosen a tradeoff which causes those at the bottom of the employment picture to bear the costs for the remainder of society. In this so-called land of opportunity, it is against our nation's principles to subject those who are willing to work to the ravages of unemployment.

Yes, the economic picture is improving, but unemployment is still above nine percent. Some economists feel that economic gains have come about not because of Reagonomics, but because of the natural cycle which would have come out of the recession anyway. In other words, the economic situation is getting better irrespective of Reagan's policies, perhaps even in spite of them. What the President has done really is achieve low inflation at the expense of employment.

If we are able to find a way to maintain low inflation and low unemployment, the nation will have to find some type of middle ground. To choose high unemployment so that the nation can experience low rates of inflation means millions of people to un­employment and its cycle of degradation, frustration and poverty.

----------

P. O. Box Q

Dear Editor,

Three cheers for the University of Notre Dame and American Association of University Women. It is a great shame that our campus, to share with us the "real facts" about the nuclear arms race.

Dr. Caldicott's presentation was gripping and factual. She said that in spite of how things stand at the present moment, we can do something to change them — by voting only for those political representatives who oppose the present nuclear arms buildup.

Each of us needs to become more informed about the nuclear arms issue and more sensitive to the repercussions of our nation's decisions. We need to find out what stance our political representatives take on this issue, vote accordingly, and urge others to do likewise.

Caldicott speech

Dear Editor,

The Richard Cohen column of November 1 has made it obvious that many in the United States simply do not understand why we invaded Grenada.

Cohen's simplistic writing style might be understandable, it is clear he feels that Americans were not in danger before the invasion. In fact, nearly 1,000 were in peril due to the overthrow of Maurice Bishop. The new Marxist leader, General Hudson Austin, instituted a 24-hour shoot-to-kill curfew that was lifted only for a few hours the day before the invasion. Even then, American medical students could not leave the island as some wished.

Also, Cuban "construction workers" with submarine guns patrolled the streets. Chaos erupted — there was a real threat that Americans would be taken hostage, as in Iran, if Austin panicked.

The U.S. decision to invade was made primarily to avoid another Iran. One must recall that President Reagan was elected over Jimmy Carter in 1980 partly because of increasing American frustration over Iran.

Cohen's declaration that Americans in Grenada were not in danger, based on comments of a man not even in that country, and oblivious of the truth made apparent when the students came home and spoke of their fears, is not only mistaken but also indicative of irresponsible journalism.

There is of course another reason for the invasion. The U.S. was asked by Grenada's island neighbors to do something, and not because they liked Bishop, but because they disliked and feared Austin much more than they did Bishop. The United States does not have a long history of ignoring its allies for assistance — remember the British in the Falklands war?

In short, Grenada's neighbors did not invite us to move into Grenada, as Cohen claims; rather, they asked us to do so because anyone living next door to a burning house must, because of legitimate fears that the fire would spread to nearby homes, call the fire department to preclude this possibility by putting out the fire. Cohen, would certainly not waste any fire department ignoring sincere calls for assistance, would he?

Michael J. Reisaline

Grenada decision

Dear Editor,

We have a responsibility — to ourselves, to one another, and to our future generation. If we don't accept this responsibility — now — that's all we have left.

Ed O'Donnell

Editor's note: The Observer is looking for viewpoint writers from Saint Mary's College. If you would like to write occasionally, bi-weekly or weekly call 239-7471 and ask for Keith or Paul.

Denny Kee

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief

David Dindins
Managing Editor

Margaret Fosmoe
Executive Editor

McKayla Flaherty
Newspaper Editor

Sara Majer's Editor

Sarah Mansfield
Features Editor

Anna Mosunic
Photo Editor

Marc Bowers
Sports Editor

Department Managers

Controller

Alex Silvas
Business Manager

Chris Owen
Composition Manager

Suzette La Croix
Circulation Manager

Mark Moore
Sports Manager

Kevin Williams

Founded November 3, 1966

The Observer
Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46656
(219) 239-5013
The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the views of the administration or those of the student body. It is published weekly or biweekly. Letters, and the inside columns present the views of their authors. Columns space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of controversial opinions, through letters, is encouraged.
The Flying Fathers, known as the Harlem Globetrotters of a hockey, have a game Wednesday, Nov. 9, at the ACC for the benefit of Phoenix House, the halfway house for recovering alcoholic women in South Bend. The Fathers, an internationally known group of priests, have all at one time played either amateur or pro hockey prior to entering the seminary. They will play 20-minute periods against the Notre Dame club hockey team, the St. Joseph’s High hockey team, and the Ice Bouters of the Michiana Senior League. — The Observer

The second annual “Turkey Shoot,” a cover-to-cover shooting contest, is being sponsored by NVA. No prior experience is necessary. You must reserve a time for your team of two men and the deadline for signups is Nov. 11. Call 239-6100 for more information — The Observer

Strength and conditioning professional Gary Well will be the instructor for an NVA short course in weight training. There will be a group instruction session tomorrow and then the class will divide into groups. Nov. 9 will be the men’s evening to meet and on Nov. 10 the men will meet. The price for the two evenings is $2. You must register in advance for the first session. — The Observer

Wednesday, November 9, is an important deadline for many NVA acitivities. It is the deadline for both men’s and women’s interhall basketball sign ups. The club and graduate basketball deadline is also on this day. November 9 is also the deadline for interhall soccer and squash. If you have any questions, call the NVA office at 239-6100 or talk to your hall athletic commissioners. — The Observer

The Saint Mary’s intramural volleyball league still has room for more teams. The league is open to Saint Mary’s students, administration, faculty, and staff. Teams may register anytime through November 9. For more information, call 5459. — The Observer

The off-campus hockey team is being formed. If you are interested in playing, call Warren at 277-6295. Rosters must be submitted by November 9. — The Observer

Sports Briefs continued from page 8 on his own 24. The 15-yard interterference penalty that put him in a good field position on their 39. Four plays later, Pitt quarterback John

Congemi hit Bill Wallace with a 44-yard touchdown pass after Wallace had turned defender Pat Babbage around, causing him to slip and fall.

Saturday’s Games

Pittsburgh

14 0 0 7 21

Notre Dame

0 0 0 7 7

PITT — MICHALKS 4 pass from CONGEMI, no

yardage, 7. PITT — CONGEMI 2 pass from CONGEMI, 5

yardage, 1. PITT — CONGEMI 5 pass from CONGEMI, 8

yardage, 10. NOTRE DAME — BAYEY 2 pass from CAIN,

8 yardage, 8. NOTRE DAME — BAYEY 1 pass from CAIN,

15 yardage, 1. NOTRE DAME — BAYEY 2 pass from CAIN,

11 yardage, 11.

Individual Leaders

RECEIVING: Pittsburg — Millet 9-151, McAllister 1-3,

Chappell 1-1. Notre Dame - Wallace 6-94, Sweeney 3-59,

Bavaro 2-47; Favorite 2-31; Miller 1-18; Smith 1-5;

Had intercepted 0 4.

Passes completed 20-11 39-17

Percentage completed 63.6 39.6

Rushing attempts 53 30

Total yardage 107 60

Average rush 2.5 2.0

Yard covered 0 0

Totals in passing yardage 107 60

Punts-average 9-41.8 5-37.4

The second mistake was a fumble by Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.

Tackle was the big play of the game for Patckner on the Notre Dame’s first play after the kickoff. On this play, the Irish successfully converted a field goal. Senior Bill Toughinni then turned the game over to the Panthers with a 77-yard touchdown pass. Eastern built on its lead with two field goals in the second quarter.
have the potential to go as high as we want to go. With this defense, we can go all the way to the top.”

Quarterback Dave Wilson, playing in place of the injured Kenny Stabler, threw for 156 yards and a touchdown to lead New Orleans, 6-4, into victory over the Falcons, 4-6.

Cincinnati’s Pete Johnson scored three touchdowns and Stanley Wil­son rushed for 99 yards on 17 carries as the Bengals, 6-6, defeated the wit­ness Losers. It was the Olivers’ 17th straight loss over two seasons.

Green Bay, behind Lynn Dickey’s four touchdown passes, survived a fourth-quarter Rally by Cleveland to down the Browns. Dickey threw 18 yards to John Jefferson, four yards to Paul Coffman, 10 yards to Gary Lewis and two yards to Garry Ellis.

While the two teams finished the day 2-2-1, the Browns’ 26-22 victory over the Los Angeles Rams, 3-1-1, was a much needed improvement for Cleveland, 5-5, defeated the Bills 21-7. The Pats rallied the Raiders, 7-3, over the Chiefs.

Steve Grogan connected on two long touchdown pass plays with Clarence Weather and set up another score with a 35-yard completion to Stanley Morgan as New England, 5-5, defeated the Bills 21-7. The Panthers continued from page 8

Continued from page 8

Applications for the position of © 1983 Domino’s Pizza, Inc.

The Observer

Monday, November 7, 1983 — page 6

...NFL

... Icers

continued from page 8

生物/物理科学...

生物/物理科学...

你有需要...

你要有需要。

The HUNT is on!

The Picture man will be photographing all hall floors that enter. Deadline to enter Nov. 15 Deadline for photography Dec. 4 Official entry forms available from hall presidents.

Grand Prize for the winning floor: $100 from the Picture Man. All you can eat pizza & drinks from Domino’s Pizza.

Meet with your floor and enter today!

... Icers

continued from page 8

Parent then knocked home his first goal on a powerplay with the lone assist going to Thebeau. Bonadio, as­

continued from page 8

TWO Northwestern goalies, Maren­

Parent then knocked home his first two-game losing streak.

Cincinnati’s Pete Johnson scored once a week, “said Blount. “We must evolve from page 8

scoring least with his second goal of these two goals, Smith emphasizes that his

we will play host to the Uni­

fundamentals.”

tinue winning and improving on the

fundamentals.”

The Irish Icers next action is

Friday and Saturday at the ACC, where they will play host to the University of Illinois in games beginning at 7:30 p.m. both nights.

Large Screen TV

Rafferty’s

Monday Night Football

-Ladies in Nighty’s-

Everytime your team scores a touchdown — a free draft beer

Multiple Choice

Don’t leave your dinner to guesswork.

3 oz. (serving) Protein 1.1g Fat 1g

4 oz. (serving) Protein 1.1g Fat 1g

5 oz. (2 Slices) Protein 2.9g Fat 1g

Domino’s Pizza is the best choice.

Coke available

16 oz. bottles

Our dough is carry less than 0.00.

Low cost delivery order.

Nutritional information from: Table 1.

NOW, Have A Place to Keep Them.

Send $3.95 ea.

Ask Peace Corps volunteers why they are using their Science major/minor, or aptitude in health clinics and classrooms in Malaysia. Why do they use them in fish pond culture projects and experimental farms in Western Samoa? They’ll tell you their ingenuity and flexibility are as important as their degrees.

Ask them why Peace Corps is the toughest job you’ll ever love.

Peace Corps Reps on Campus Nov. 8, 9, & 10. Interested Seniors sign up for interview in the Placement Office.

The HUNT is on!

The Picture man will be photographing all hall floors that enter. Deadline to enter Nov. 15 Deadline for photography Dec. 4 Official entry forms available from hall presidents. Grand Prize for the winning floor: $100 from the Picture Man. All you can eat pizza & drinks from Domino’s Pizza.

Meet with your floor and enter today!
Irish fall behind Pitt, never recover as hopes for bowl appearance fade

By MIKE SULLIVAN
Associated Press

The Notre Dame football team had a big chance to win back a great deal of respect on Saturday when it entered Pitt, the first team it has faced since Miami. However, they let that chance slip by as the tense Irish fell to the revenge-minded Panthers, 21-16.

Notre Dame lost in the same way that it had won its last five games — taking the lead early in the game and using a ball control, running game offense to keep their opponents at bay. In a span of 36 seconds, Pittsburgh scored 14 points, shocking the Irish and putting them in a hole from which they would never climb out.

A late Notre Dame charge directed by quarterback Blane Kiel, who came off the bench to relieve a struggling Steve Beuerlein, was too little, too late.

"The two (early) touchdowns put us in the hole," said Notre Dame coach Gerry Faust after the game. "We moved the ball pretty well, but there was always something there to stop us."

"Without (turnovers) included turnovers, missed tackles, dropped passes, and the Pitt offensive and defensive lines led by center Jon Sweeney, offensive tackle Bill Fralic, and defensive tackle Bill Maas, Fralic, who was named Pitt's "player of the game" by CBSSports comlineri (Troy Benen) was the major force in the Panthe r defense as they tried to get it out on the ground and keep the ball away from Allen Pinkett and the rest of the Irish offense. Fralic made things very tough for Notre Dame sophomore Eric Dorsey, who played across the line from the middle linebacker.

As if things were not bad enough for Dorsey, who entered the game with a very abdominal muscle, he had to act as the target for the 200-yard Fralic's powerful thrusts on the line. Time and time again he drove Dorsey or any other Irish lineman several yards downhill. Combined with Sweeney who had success against the Notre Dame no tackling, Fralic opened enough holes to allow Pitt to rush for 231 yards, the most yards that the Irish have given up on the ground this year. "It was pretty much a write-up, the ball carrier was the main beneficiary of their blocking as he became the first person to gain over 100 yards against the Irish defense this year, picking up 116."

"It was pretty much pushed out from the beginning," said Dorsey about his battle with Fralic. "That helped him out even more."

Mom led a Panther defense that held Allen Pinkett to just 82 yards on 22 carries, breaking Pitt's string of 100-yard game at five. It was also a defense that came up with the big play when it needed it, something Notre Dame was unable to do."

"Bill Maas shut down the inside," said his coach Foge Fazio. "We didn't want Pinketti to run his sweep drawn up the middle and cut back. We wanted to bounce him outside and we did."

When Pinkett did get the ball, he frequently found his offensive line and the Pitt linebackers in the backfield. He gained over 100 yards, but also lost 19, giving him 82 net yards on the day, and leaving him 20 yards away from being only the third Irish rusher to gain 1,000 yards in a season.

Despite the success of the Panther lines, however, Notre Dame's worst enemy was itself. "Costly errors, burned the Irish time, and in both offense and defense."

The errors hurt early as they played a large role in the first two Pitt touchdowns. The first error was on the Notre Dame punt after its first possession of the game lasted three plays. Blane Kiel's punt was high and short, and snapper Kevin Kelly was a little too close to Pitt returner Tommy Flynn when Flynn caught the punt.

Just to prove he's a burner, Allen Pinkett made a few mistakes against Pitt. But Pinkett's all alone in costly turnovers and mistakes helped Pitt defeat Notre Dame 21-16. Named the Irish player of the game, the sophomore was a thorn in the streak of seven consecutive 100-yard games. See Mike Sullivan's story at left.

Tampa Bay wins first Baltimore edges Jets

By BOB GREENE
Associated Press

Bailing back James Wilder sprinted 79 yards for a touchdown and David Logan returned a fumble 54 yards for another score to help Tampa Bay to its first victory of the season yesterday as the Buccaneers edged the Minnesota Vikings 17-12.

Wilder's run, the longest in Tampa Bay history, came midway through the third quarter and put the Bucs ahead to stay. Wilder carried 31 times for 239 yards, breaking Rick Bell's single-game team rushing record of 167 yards.

"It's something to celebrate about," said Wilder of his team's first win of the year.

The Bucs won the battle with the Minnesota offense, which put up 311 yards, but turned the ball over four times and committed more penalties.

"We have to keep that up in every game," said Wilder.

The Bucs were 7-1 before they lost to the Vikings but stayed in control of the NFC Central and the team then made the trip to Notre Dame. ISU goalie Joe Kember (Lefty's son), junior Tim Reilly and sophomore Steve Whitney each scored.

Also scoring for the Irish were sophomore teammate Tim Lukenda.

It wasn't until the 17:37 mark that the Wildcats scored, with two goals from Tom Parent and senior Tony Bonadio.

"It's nice to go out and win, yet on a club level we had no idea what to expect from the other team," he said. "It's tough on the kids, because they're used to better competition. We didn't go out and em barrass anybody by running up the score, but we also can't just lay down when the score starts getting big."

In Friday's action, the leers were led by sophomore defenders Bob Thebeau who paced the team with three goals and also contributed three assists. A new addition to the team, sophomore Gary Becker, notched two goals to all the cause.

Also scoring for the Irish were sophomore Dave Waldripple, senior Adam Parsons, freshman Tom Smith (Lefty's son), junior Tom Reilly and junior co-capitain Brent Chapman.

At Haver cant to make just 11 saves to earn the victory for Notre Dame. ISU goalie Joe Kerber collected 54 saves.

In Saturday's 12-2 rout at Northwestern, Chapman and sophomore Steve Whitney each scored on the 29-yard drive, then built their lead to 20-10 on Tony Dorsey's 29-yard touchdown run and increased it to 27-2 before he could cover the puck, Chris Canos bashed the rebound past him. Ely's first goal of the season came at 18:47 with another assist from Reilly and closed out the first weekend of the season.

Leading 11-1 going into the final stanza, three more Irish players added their names to score sheet. Waldripple started things off at 2:56 with assists from Metzler and Parsons. At 6:01, Whitney made his final 2-11 with assists from Metzler and Parsons.

The Irish club hockey team showed themselves to be a powerful and exciting team as they routed Illinois State once and Northwestern twice this weekend. Pictured above is Tim Reilly, scoring one of his team's goals against I.S.U. See Ed Domansky's story at right.

Northwestern, Illinois State

ICERS sweep first three games

By ED DOMANSKY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame hockey team started its season in high style, easily winning all three of its games in the first weekend of the 1983-84 season.

Now playing in the Central States Collegiate Hockey League, the leers opened the season on Friday evening in the ACC, where they thrashed Illinois State 10-1. On Saturday, the team travelled to Evanston, Ill., where the Northwestern Wildcats, and easily tamed their hosts 12-2. The same Northwesterners then made the trip to Notre Dame last evening for a contest that saw the Irish once again reach double figures as they soundly put away the Wildcats by a 15-1 score.

Irish coach Jeff Smith is pleased with the team's early success, but hopes that the level of congestion will improve as the team gets further into its schedule.

"It's not going to win us, yet on a club level we had no idea what to expect from the other team," he said. "It's tough on the kids, because they're used to better competition. We don't want to go out and embarrass anybody by running up the score, but we also can't just lay down when the score starts getting big."

In Friday's action, the leers were led by sophomore defenders Bob Thebeau who paced the team with three goals and also contributed three assists. A new addition to the team, sophomore Gary Becker, notched two goals to all the cause.

Also scoring for the Irish were sophomored Dave Waldripple, senior Adam Parsons, freshman Tom Smith (Lefty's son), junior Tom Reilly and junior co-capitain Brent Chapman. At Haver cant to make just 11 saves to earn the victory for Notre Dame. ISU goalie Joe Kerber collected 54 saves.

In Saturday's 12-2 rout at Northwestern, Chapman and sophomore Steve Whitney each scored on the 29-yard drive, then built their lead to 20-10 on Tony Dorsey's 29-yard touchdown run and increased it to 27-2 before he could cover the puck, Chris Canos bashed the rebound past him. Ely's first goal of the season came at 18:47 with another assist from Reilly and closed out the first weekend of the season.

Leading 11-1 going into the final stanza, three more Irish players added their names to score sheet. Waldripple started things off at 2:56 with assists from Metzler and Parsons. At 6:01, Whitney made his final 2-11 with assists from Metzler and Parsons.

Northwestern, Illinois State