The food supervisor for the St. Joseph Food Service, Joseph Nardolillo, said yesterday that most of the violations listed in the Environmental Health and Safety office's report on dormitory food sales would not merit immediate shutdown of the student-operated businesses. He also said that, in his opinion, the city's health department's food supervisor, said the violations listed under a single dormitory (Pangborn Hall) "were not really serious and would not require a shutdown."

He said the situation "would need a letter or verbal contact with whoever is in charge of the dormitory to tell them to keep the equipment clean and keep the equipment covered." Environmental Health and Safety Specialist Michael McCarthy, who inspected the food sales last month, said in a letter to the department's food supervisor, said that most of the food items (such as hot dogs) will be allowed, but that some require special equipment, such as pizza ovens, will not.

Some of the violations in the report, however, would warrant shutting down the facility immediately. Deitchley said: Insect and rodent infestation, listed as a violation in McCarthy's report as a violation in Fisher, Flanner, Stanford and Sorin halls' food sales, would cause a county health inspector to close down the food-preparing establishment "unless the violation were corrected immediately," Deitchley added.

McCarthy's report found "mouse infestation" in Fisher and Sorin halls' food sales. "Rodent infestation" in Flanner Hall's food sales. "Rodent infestation" in Stanford Hall's food sales.

Deitchley added, "Whatever we do in the county is also statewide. Everybody in the state of Indiana would have to conform with the same regulations." However, he noted, "The dorms are not under our jurisdiction. They're done through Bob Zeris [Director of Environmental Health and Safety]."

Zerr declined comment on the report's results, and said McCarthy would not be available for comment on the issue until Monday. McCarthy said that most of the violations noted in the report to the dormitory's food sales as compiled by Environmental Observer. The only dormitory operation not mentioned in the report was Cavanaugh Hall Food Sales, which was closed due to health and safety violations listed in the report. The food-preparing establishment, a specified time of amount is given to correct the violations. "The amount of time would vary with the situation," he added.

Nardolillo said that most of Sorin’s violations would not be corrected. "We've got two new ovens and cleaned the microwave," he said. "Although we have mice throughout the dorm, we've never seen a mouse in the food sales area all year.... The University renovated the entire basement of Sorin, including the foodsales to University specifically for this upgrade, so we'll be able to serve food there."

Mike Leveck, Grace Food Service Manager, said that 85 percent of the violations were corrected in a 24-hour period after the inspection.

Snow fight causes injuries, damage

Three students were hospitalized and approximately $1,000,000 in damages were caused by Tuesday night's snow fight, according to James Roemer, dean of students.

Roemer said the University — and indirectly the students — will have to pay for repairs. "It just forces the costs up a little," he said.

In addition to the three reported injuries, numerous students reportedly suffered black eyes and other minor injuries. All three of the students receiving stitches were hit by snowballs and at one time were involved in the fight. No one was injured by glass from broken windows.

"This isn't just an innocent prank," said Roemer. "You can injure a person for the rest of his life." He noted shattered glass from a broken window could easily catch a person unawares and seriously damage his face and eyes.

Christmas lights in Alumnae are blessed by a broken window — one of the vestiges of Tuesday's snowball fight.

Letter itemizes health violations

Pangborn Hall
- Microwave oven filthy.
- Hot dog cooker/bun steamer filthy and broken, unsafe electrical switch on the unit.
- Interior of cooler filthy.
- Commercial-style Bakers Pride pizza oven extremely filthy with large water and mold buildup on the interior directly behind the broiler oven.
- Popcorn maker filthy.
- Either spoiled ketchup or improper reuse of ketchup container.
- Small broiler oven absolutely deplorable with a tremendous burned food accumulation and the potential contamination of the interior area behind the broiler oven scorching.
- Burnt being stored on floor.
- General sanitation terrible, food waste and dirt all over.

Carol Hall
- Microwave filthy.
- Pizza cooker filthy.
- Interior refrigeration unit filthy and in need of depotis.
- Interrior of reach-in cooler filthy with a tremendous build up of mold and bacteria.

Lyons Hall
- Generally, a small and limited operation in fairly good condition.

Morrissey Hall
- Burns on the floor.
- Refrigerator dirty.
- Both pizza ovens very dirty.
- Pipe insulation falling down.
- Small exhaust fan gust dust-laden and filthy.
- Either spoiled ketchup or improper reuse of ketchup container.

Alumni Hall
- Carpet on floor filthy.
- Pepsi cooler interior drain plugged, creating a water and mold buildup in the cooler.
- Commercial-style Bakers Pride pizza oven extremely filthy with large water and mold buildup on the floor.
- Shoulder sheathing used in the microwave oven creating a fire hazard and also lacking appropriate and required ventilation.
- Blender filthy.
- Food transported from potential airborne contamination.
Ticket lotteries will be handled differently in the future, according to Dave Drouillard, Student Union director. "The Billy Joel ticket lottery could have been handled in a better way," Drouillard said. "It was done in a way that maximized problems and minimized benefits. Next time we will give out index cards so that students can write their names and ID numbers. These will then be put in a pool so that the IDs are not tied up. Students will be able to pick up and pay for their tickets in their leisure. The Billy Joel ticket lottery was very inefficient. There is no excuse for having students standing out in the cold for three hours." The Student Union gave 30 ID's which had been left at the lottery to the Registrar's office. Lori Buchko of the Registrar's office said only two ID's have not been claimed. Saint Mary's students who have still not recovered their ID's can pick them up at the Student Union office. — The Observer

Thomas Merton, the Trappist monk known for his books and articles on prayer, solitude and social action, will bring together Merton scholars from around the nation including Victor A. Kramer, English professor at Georgia State University; Lawrence S. Cunningham, religion professor at Florida State University; Paul Dinter, campus minister at Columbia University; and Sister Fiena Malik, professor of religious studies at Saint Mary's. The conference will also feature the film, "The Last Day of Thomas Merton," filmed only hours before Merton died in Bangkok, Thailand, on Dec. 10, 1985. The film will be shown at 5:30 p.m. in the Chameleon Room of the Haggar College Center. Registration for the conference begins at 9 a.m. All students, faculty and staff members at Saint Mary's and Notre Dame will be admitted free. — The Observer

The State Department, citing "significant progress" in Argentina's human rights situation, announced yesterday that countries have met congressional requirements for a resumption of American military assistance. The announcement by department spokesman Alan Romberg came two days before Argentina's formal return to constitutional rule with the inauguration of President-elect Raul Alfonsin. Vice President George Bush will head the American delegation to the inauguration. Legislation dating back to the Carter administration barred U.S. security aid to Argentina unless the State Department was able to certify an improvement in human rights. "The legislation was prompted by widespread abuses by Argentina's military government in its so-called 'dirty war' against leftists," Romberg said. The United States will take into account its desire to maintain a "warm relationship" with Argentina. There were reports that Eastern's flight attendants signed the union and management hope will solve the carrier's financial woes. There were reports that Eastern's flight attendants signed the agreement today. The one-year plan would give Eastern employees control of 25 percent of Eastern's common stock and four seats on the board of directors in exchange for diverting 18 percent to 22 percent of their pay into a stock investment program. The unions also agreed to cooperate with management on new work concessions, including union president Charles Bryan announced. Management and labor leaders also will work together to revise the company's annual business plans and restructure its finances, Bryan said, adding that the unions would be consulted on new equipment purchases. — AP

Leaders of Eastern Airlines' pilots and machinists unions today approved a 3,560 million employee bailout plan that union and management hope will solve the carrier's financial woes. There were reports that Eastern's flight attendants signed the agreement today. The one-year plan would give Eastern employees control of 25 percent of Eastern's common stock and four seats on the board of directors in exchange for diverting 18 percent to 22 percent of their pay into a stock investment program. The unions also agreed to cooperate with management on new work concessions, including union president Charles Bryan announced. Management and labor leaders also will work together to revise the company's annual business plans and restructure its finances, Bryan said, adding that the unions would be consulted on new equipment purchases. — AP

Santa Claus is coming to ND Monday. Anyone interested in having his/her picture taken with Santa can do so at LaFortune 3-5 Monday afternoon and at St. Mary's Haggar College Center Monday night from 6-8. The event is being sponsored by ASNE, a student-run organization that deals with finding international internships on an exchange format. — The Observer

A Spanish Mass for the Feast of Our Lady of Guadalupe will be held Monday at 11 a.m. in the Farley Hall Chapel. Father Claude Pomerleau will celebrate the Mass. A chili lunch at 11:30 a.m. will be complimentary for all who wish to attend. Father Claude will also welcome groups of students who wish to attend Mass. — The Observer

Cloudy today with a 20 percent chance for light snow, mainly in the morning. Becoming partly cloudy by afternoon. High around 50. East wind tonight and cold. Low around 20. Partly sunny and a little warmer tomorrow. High in the mid and upper 50's. — AP

Patriotic Welcome
Schoolchildren from a Beaumont, N.C. elementary school, wave flags and ribbons as they hold a sign welcoming Marines back from Lebanon at the port in Monmouth City, N.C.

Welcome Home
Sgt. Larry Miller, from McKinneyville, Calif., is greeted by his wife Christine as he arrives at Camp Geiger, near Jacksonville, N.C., Wednesday on his return from Beirut. Miller is a member of the 24th Marine Amphibious Unit which lost 240 men while serving in Beirut.

Images of a warm reunion
Welcome Home
Sgt. Larry Miller, from McKinneyville, Calif., is greeted by his wife Christine as he arrives at Camp Geiger, near Jacksonville, N.C., Wednesday on his return from Beirut. Miller is a member of the 24th Marine Amphibious Unit which lost 240 men while serving in Beirut.
Organizer explains dinner cancellation

By JOAN GIBLIN

News Staff

The Madrigal Christmas Dinners, an annual 15th-century choral music and dance Christmas production at Saint Mary's, were cancelled largely because of a personal decision by the event's organizer, Professor Ray Sprague.

Sprague, assistant professor of music at Saint Mary's, said being denied tenure by the College led him to make "a crucial decision" as to what activities he would devote his time to this year. "I had to start thinking in terms of strictly professional activities, as much as I wanted to have the dinners. I have worked on them for six years because I wanted to and because I believed in them," Sprague said he felt he should dedicate his last year at Saint Mary's to other things.

Another major problem is that the Chamber Singers, the real backbone of the production, just didn't come together this year. Sprague noted: "The original invitation of the Chamber Singers was to perform in the Madrigal Dinners each Christmas season and to go on tour each spring," he said. "Unfortunately, the financial situation caused the tour money to be cut, and the tour was dropped."

Lost a lot of the male singers because of the tour's cancellation, and the diners were a hard work and long hours. Regna is the only dorm to help out and coordinate this year's dinners, but could not oversee the smaller, necessary, but time-consuming tasks.

The dinners started 11 years ago by Dr. James McCray, originally of the tour's cancellation, and the

The Madrigal Dinners, started 11 years ago by Dr. James McCray, originally Sprague said that the Madrigal Dinners can continue in the future, but have to be re-thought out and approached with a new format. Professor Carolyn Hendon, music department chairman at Saint Mary's said, "The Madrigal Dinners are over on that year, without the core of the singers, the production was virtually impossible at Saint Mary's. They have only college in the area with a Madrigal Dinner, and we will keep the tradition going.

The dinners were originally started for Thursday, Dec. 1 through Thursday, Dec. 8.

"Happy Hour" 4 - 7 p.m.
Sponsored by Finance Club
Mixed Drinks 2 for 1
12oz. Drafts 50¢

The Observer
Friday, December 9, 1983 — page 3

Decking the halls

Students relay mixed reactions to Saint Mary's integration plan

By JENNIFER BIGOTT

News Staff

The proposal to integrate dorms at Saint Mary's next year has caused mixed reactions among the students.

Regina is the only dorm that will really be affected by the changes, according to Elaine Hockett, student body president. There are two advantages and disadvantages to the proposed changes, said Hockett.

Freshmen will have more opportunity to get to know upperclassmen, but the changes will increase the possibility that students will end up living somewhere they don't want to. "But that happens every year," she added.

Out of 100 students randomly chosen to discuss the proposed changes with the Housing Commission, only 20 showed up. "There was absolutely no student response," said Hockett.

Plans to discuss improving dorm life at Regina next year are under way, according to Hockett. However, the Sisters of Holy Cross, owners of the building, must approve any physical changes to it.

\textbf{I think they will find that living with freshmen again will benefit them.\textsuperscript{1}}\textbf{1} again will benefit them. It's a difficult situation. I think it will be awhile before total integration happens.\textbf{1} Hockett concluded.

"I'd feel uncomfortable living in a freshman dorm next year. Because that's what Regina is," said Terra Carrigan, a McCandless freshman. Overall, she feels integration is a good idea, but "I wouldn't want to be there," she added.

Jolie McShre, also a McCandless freshman, said she feels the changes are unfair, because "a sophomore living in Regina is like a freshman living in McCandless. You miss out on an awful lot."\textbf{1}

Holly Cumnor, junior Cindy Boyle said she doesn't feel the changes are necessary, because all halls other than Regina "are integrated enough."

"I don't want to live in Regina next year," said Susan Licon, because "it's going to take a long time before Regina loses its stigma as the freshman dorm."

Mary Louise Padden, a sophomore from Holtz' Cross, said she thinks the proposal is a good idea, because "it would give the freshmen a chance to talk to upperclassmen."

"It's a bad idea, because freshmen need to develop friendships freshman year in a freshman situation.\textbf{1} LeMans is a senior dorm because all the seniors want to live near each other," said Loret Haney, a LeMans senior.

Student Union to kick off semester with Winter Welcome Week" fest

By MICHAEL J. CHMIEL

News Staff

Notre Dame Student Union is sponsoring a "Winter Welcome Week" during the first week of next semester, Jan. 17-21, according to Laurene Powers, organizer of the week.

"This corresponds with the welcome week for the first semester," Powers explained. "This year we have more events (than last year)."

I really don't know what nights are what right now, but one of the nights we're having an ice-skating party over at the Ice House, from 9 p.m. to midnight" and that's open to everyone and it's free," she said, adding there will be a rental fee for skaters.

"Polyester," a comedy that features scratchy-n-snick cards corresponding to scenes in the movie, will be shown in the Engineering Auditorium. "Probably for promotional purposes, and also, because lucky polyester will be let in free; otherwise, it will be a dollar to get in," said Powers.

A video party will be held either Friday or Saturday night in LaFortune Ballroom from 9 p.m. to GENEVA, Switzerland — The Soviet Union and the United States recessed in their strategic arms talks with the United States yesterday without setting a date to resume the talks, U.S. officials said.

U.S. officials predicted the Soviets could meet U.S. demands, but the question of a resumption of the talks remained unanswered.

The two sides spent the day in a high-level meeting that ended with the Soviets expressing interest in continuing the talks, but without setting a specific date for their resumption.

Soviet officials have expressed a desire to continue the talks, but have not set a date for their resumption.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been engaged in strategic arms talks for several years, but have made little progress in reducing their nuclear arsenals.

The United States and the Soviet Union have been engaged in high-level meetings in recent weeks, but have not yet agreed on a date for the resumption of the talks.

The United States has indicated that it is willing to continue the talks, but has not set a specific date for their resumption.
What Rome has to do with Wall Street

Bishops to consult experts in business, theology to gather information for upcoming pastoral letter

By MARY JACOBY

News Staff

The old question "What has Jerusalem to do with Athens?" will be appropriately changed to "What has Rome to do with Wall Street?" when a symposium studying ethics and the marketplace convenes at Notre Dame Monday.

Five American bishops charged with drafting a pastoral letter on Catholic social teaching and the American economy for the National Conference of Catholic Bishops will consult with experts in business, labor and theology.

The bishops will likely present their draft document at the national conference of bishops in November. This symposium, however, is the first consultation by the bishops that has been open to the general public, including 20 newspaper and television reporters from around the country who will attend.

Because the eventual document may criticize some aspects of capitalism, the bishops' efforts are attracting almost as much attention as the committee which recently drafted the statement on nuclear war.

The bishops' committee, appointed in 1981 by the national bishops conference, asked Notre Dame's Center for Ethics and Religious Values in Business to convene the symposium. The center is under the co-directorship of Father Oliver Williams and John Houck, both of the management department.

The bishops want to write a document today that historians 40 or 50 years from now will say had major impact on the trajectory of industrial society," Houck said.

The national conference of bishops in 1919, Houck added, wrote a document on the economy that "laid the blueprint for the New Deal.

The symposium will be held in the Center for Graduate Education Monday through Wednesday. Seminars on economic planning, employment, the poor and U.S. trade with developing countries will be led by 18 experts in the fields. Some 50 resource persons from Notre Dame's faculty and from church, business and labor groups will participate in the discussions.

The seminar leaders will distribute previously prepared 25-page papers and summarize the contents during the discussions. Microphones will also be provided to allow the audience to ask questions.

The bishops' committee previously decided that the proposed letter should include a presentation of Christian principles and a vision of the economy. The symposium is open to the general public, including students. Advance registration is required.

According to Williams, the pastoral letter was proposed because the church has always been concerned with instilling Christian values in society. The letter, he said, will focus on how Christian ethics can help determine the organization of the economy for both growth and equity so that economic burdens do not fall primarily on the poor.

By examining Catholic social teaching and the American economy, the bishops hope to offer guidance to people wishing to apply religious values to the economy.

The bishops' committee has already written the portion of the letter centering Christian principles and visions of the economy. But a complete draft — including sections on economic planning, employment, the poor and Third World trade — has not been made final.

Williams said the bishops will have to decide at next week's conference how detailed the letter should be. Christian principles must be applied to the four areas, although he said there are not any specific "Christian" answers to the problems.

"The thrust here is to find out the meaning of one's faith as it applies to an industrial society," Houck said. "Students preparing for careers in business, law, medicine and engineering would want to discuss these questions.

Committee members, arriving on Dec. 13 and 14, will be staying at the Morris Inn. Milwaukee Archbishop Rembert Weakland, chairman of the committee, will celebrate the 5:15 p.m. Tuesday Mass at Sacred Heart Church. The Notre Dame Chapel Choir will also be appearing.

Members of the bishops' committee include Weakland; Atlanta Archbishop Thomas A. Donnellan; Bishop George H. Spertz, St. Cloud, Minn.; Bishop William K. Weigand, Salt Lake City, Utah; and Auxiliary Bishop Peter A. Rosazza, Hartford, Conn.

Speakers not pictured include Daniel R. Finn, chairman of the economics department at St. John's University; Joe Holland, Center for Concern, University of Notre Dame; and Father Richard McBrien, chairman of theology at Notre Dame and Lee Tavis, C. R. Smith Chair of Business Administration at Notre Dame.

Michael Novak

Resident Scholar in Religion and Public Policy at the American Enterprise Institute in Washington, D.C. Has served as an advisor to Presidents Ford and Carter.

Marina V.N. Whitman

Professor of Economics and Public Alternatives. Serves as director of six other major U.S. corporations.

Elmer W. Johnson

Vice president and group executive in charge of the Public Affairs Staffs Group for General Motors. Also is a partner of the Chicago law firm Kirkland and Ellis.

Joseph A. Pichler

President of Dillon Companies, in Hutchinson, Kansas. Also is a member of the National Board of Consultants for the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The Schedule

MONDAY, DEC. 12
1:15 to 1:45 — Opening Remarks

John Houck and Father Oliver Williams, conference organizers

Father Theodore Hesburgh, Notre Dame

1:45 to 5:30 — Economic Planning

Gar Alperovitz, National Center for Economic Alternatives

Peter G. Peterson, Lehman Brothers Kuhn Loeb

Marina von Nuemann Whitman, General Motors

Elmer W. Johnson, General Motors

Daniel P. Pine, St. John's University

Chairman: Kirk Hanson, Stanford University

TUESDAY, DEC. 13
8:45 to 11:45 — Employment

Joseph A. Pichler, Dillon Companies

F. Ray Marshall, former secretary of labor

Rudy Oswald, AFL-CIO

David Hollenbach, University of Detroit

Chairman: Gerald Cavanagh, University of Detroit

1:45 to 5:00 — The Poor and Disadvantaged

Michael Novak, American Enterprise Institute

Graciela Olivarez, attorney

Dennis P. McCann, DePaul University

Chairman: Father Richard McBrien, Notre Dame

WEDNESDAY, DEC. 14
8:45 to 11:30 — U.S. Trade with Third World

Father Ernest Bartell, Notre Dame

C. Fred Bergsten, Institute for International Economics

Chairman: Graciela Olivarez, attorney

11:30 — Closing Remarks

Rembert Weakland, Archbishop of Milwaukee

Each speaker will present a 20-minute summary of his or her paper on the topic. Discussions will be in the CCE Auditorium.

Graciela Olivarez

Attorney-at-law, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Former director of the Community Services Administration.

C. Fred Bergsten

Director of the Institute for International Economics. Former assistant secretary of the Treasury for International Affairs. Also, senior fellow of the Brookings Institution

F. Ray Marshall

Bernard Rapport Centennial Professor of Economics and Public Affairs at the University of Texas at Austin. President of the National Policy Exchange.

Michael Novak

Senior Scholar in Religion and Public Policy at the American Enterprise Institute in Washington, D.C. Has served as an advisor to Presidents Ford and Carter.

Joseph A. Pichler

President of Dillon Companies, in Hutchinson, Kansas. Also is a member of the National Board of Consultants for the National Endowment for the Humanities.
Santa and his elves

Junita Tornella, Anne Riorian, and Betsy Burke (from left) flocked around jolly old St. Nick (alias James Bloys) during the St. Mary's Christmas Bazaar in LeMans' lobby. The trio was selling pictures with Santa to raise money for the Freshman Council for the United Way.

Soviets predict 'nuclear winter'

Associated Press

WASHINGTON — A computer-assisted Soviet study virtually matching assessments by U.S. scientists shows that any survivors of a nuclear war would face a "long nuclear winter" threatening their extinction, a Soviet scientist said yesterday.

"A nuclear war of any scope would mean either the disappearance of mankind or its degradation to a level below the prehistoric one," said Vladimir Alexandrov, head of a climate-modeling laboratory at the Soviet Academy of Sciences Computing Center.

The research findings presented by Alexandrov at a Capitol Hill symposium paralleled recent forecasts by U.S. scientists about worldwide catastrophic weather changes likely to result from a large-scale nuclear exchange.

In opening the session, Sen. Edward Kennedy, D-Mass., contended "the evidence now points overwhelmingly to this stark truth: a third world war would be the last world war — for it would be a war against the world itself."

"The inescapable truth is that the firing of even a fraction of the Soviet and American arsenals would turn the northern hemisphere into a cold desert and the whole earth into a dying planet," he said.

Kennedy and Sen. Mark Hatfield, R-Ore., leading congressional advocates of a U.S.-Soviet nuclear weapons freeze, co-sponsored yesterday's session in conjunction with the Nuclear Freeze Foundation, a Washington-based group.

Kennedy assailed a recent study by the Federal Emergency Management Administration suggesting that U.S. agricultural output would largely be able to survive a nuclear attack.

"I am disturbed by continuing suggestions that some in the administration regard nuclear war as winnable and survivable," he said. "This kind of thinking makes nuclear war more likely because it makes nuclear war seem more bearable."

Soviets predict 'nuclear winter'
U.S. agrees to plan to maintain troops

Associated Press

BRUSSELS - The United States and three allies agreed yesterday to keep their troops in Lebanon, but there were signs of growing impatience that the bloodstream was continuing despite the presence of the multinational force.

"We do not want to give the impression that we would abandon the Lebanese. We support President (Ami) Gemayel," said Foreign Minister Claude Cheysson of France.

But an Italian spokesman told reporters that his nation is considering removing 1,000 of its 2,100 troops from the multinational force.

And a British official, who insisted on anonymity, said, "All along it has been accepted this is not an open-ended commitment. Our aim has been to create circumstances in which the MNE (multinational force) is no longer needed."

The renewed commitments of the four nations came during a breakfast meeting of foreign ministers in the suite of George Shultz, the U.S. secretary of state.

The meeting involved Shultz, Cheysson, Foreign Secretary Geoffrely Howe of Britain and Foreign Minister Giulio Andriotti of Italy.

A U.S. official said the ministers emphasized that the 5,600-man force is intended to improve stability in Lebanon and to help "establish conditions under which Lebanon can recover its full independence and integrity."

He said they agreed the two main priorities in Lebanon are national reconciliation and the withdrawal of all foreign forces and that they vowed "to do all in their power to promote this."

Israel, Syria and the Palestinians all have forces on Lebanese territory.

The premier of Italy and opposition figures in the other countries expressed concern about their involvement after the United States on Sunday bombed Syrian anti-riot group positions. U.S. officials said the bombing was meant to protect surveillance flights linked to the multinational force.

More than 300 troops of the multinational force have been killed, including 256 U.S. servicemen.

A U.S. spokesman acknowledged the political stalemate and violence in Lebanon could exhaust the patience of "the various publics" if progress toward a solution isn't forthcoming soon.

The U.S. official said the commitment to keeping the force in Lebanon isn't linked to progress on national reconciliation. But he added: "What happens as you progress over the weeks and months if there is no progress on the national reconciliation front, I don't know."

He briefed reporters on the condition he not be identified.

... Health

... Snow
Viewpoint

Friday, December 9, 1983 — page 8

Suggestions for a new lottery system

Ah yes, I never thought I'd look back at Student Union ticket lotteries of past years with fond memories, but after the recent Billy Joel flask, well...

Perhaps you know about it, either because you were involved or read the coverage. And

Tim Neely

Guest columnist

many of you found out how much your number was worth when you picked up the tickets — an inordinate number of students were as satisfied, to the bleachers, and some of those were bribery bleacher seats.

The problem: How can things be different in such a big attraction should come to the ACC in the future?

For a sport which has a problem does not force students to part with their ID cards. As a veteran of many concert lotteries, I didn't see anything wrong with the method used until, for unknown reasons, it was scrapped this year.

To fill in the uninform ed, here's how it worked: A student showed a maximum of one (his, hers, someone else's) ID at the door, and was given a piece of paper with a number on it. Someone at the front of the room drew the name, and a machine dispensed a ticket. The price was $1.50 per ticket sale. The next day, students arrived at the ticket office or other convenient location to buy their tickets in accordance with their lottery positions.

There were some flaws in this, like in the case of the occasional person who overtook his place in line, and it also was a mess in large crowds. But compared to the system of throwing IDs into a bin and drawing them, and having people pay for the ticket without knowing what they were getting beforehand, it makes more sense.

Just to close this line of argument, we've come up with some way to determine student response to certain actions. It is an understanding that the concert people at Student Union had no idea how popular a Billy Joel concert would be. Shame, shame!

In April 1979, Joel made a stop at the ACC during his 36th Street tour. The people running concert lotteries knew how popular he was then (and he's even more popular now) and were ready for it, the lottery was scheduled at night (7:00 p.m.) and in Stapp Center, the largest building available. Approximately 1,800 people were there, and the floor was long, almost as long as the North Dining Hall. We all know what happened when too many people tried to jam into the New Year's Eve. There are certain actions which will do well among ND students. Everyone knows Bruce Springsteen is one of them, but no one seems to know who else. Finding those out is important to avoid having another outdoor lottery in freezing weather. It also should avoid having to give students an excess of bleacher seats.

Then, when a high-demand concert does come to the ACC, change the lottery systems! One of the flaws of both the old and new ticket systems described above is the wait — and wait — and wait involved. Seniors will recall the bungled Bruce Springsteen lottery of December 1980, in which students sat in the Student Center on the study day before finals for up to five hours — for bleacher seats or no seats at all.

This leads to the obvious question (and answer) on solving this. 'Hasn't anyone who works at Student Union ever heard of the computer?'

After that lottery, I wrote an article in the Observer (January 16, 1981) explaining how Student Union could run big lotteries using a novel device. The method is similar to that adopted in 1981 by the Services Commission for its away football game lotteries: students sign up for several days, listing name and ID number, and then the entries are fed into a computer. It will then spit them out in random order. The list then could be posted in several convenient LaFortune locations.

And fourth, end preferential treatment in lotteries for anyone not directly involved with the process. It has come to my attention that, more often and more blatantly than in other years, Student Union and Student Government people have been abusing their privilege of preferential concert tickets.

They ask for seats closer than front row; at least in the past, they were more discreet in their ticket locations. Only those people who have something to do with the process — the Concert Commissioner, the people helping run the lottery and sell tickets come to mind immediately — deserve such a fringe benefit. Everyone else, sit in the lottery like your fellow classmates. It's not a wonder that students with decent picks (by past standards) ended up in Sections 7 or 110.

Supposedly, some measures are being taken to make things run more smoothly in the future. But as South Bend is not a popular stop for most acts the ND/SMC community wants to see, the Billy Joel mess — which made that Springsteen one seem like it was perfect — be forgotten by the next time? Let's hope not.

Tim Neely, a 1981 Notre Dame graduate, currently lives in South Bend. An Observer columnist for several years, he is currently working on a book detailing the history of Notre Dame basketball.

Boring cheers

Dear Editor:

Now that the football season is over, I would like to address an issue far removed from the usual football banter which lingers on between our football coach and players. I wish to comment on the changed scene in the student body. It is not a critical view, the cheerleaders are enthusiastic and the students as a whole stand behind them in favor of this new scene.

But still I think many of our cheers are monotonous. Every different from the "revive the bugle" sung in the USC game and the jingling of keys during the Pitt game. Why not attempt to be different. I am suggesting instead of using them at particular games and pep rallies only.

Such a competition could be organized, along the lines of the Banner contest, to find some new exclamation. It would be interesting to see if Notre Dame could become as famous for its supporters as the football team is for its copyrights. This would require studying more stimulating chants than "Go, Go, Go" or the more subtle "Go, Irish, Go!"

Winston Griffin

Dear Editor:

I've been wondering since that day why Saint Mary's students are so uncomfortable and why a rivalry which really should exist, exists between girls from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's.

I thought both schools formed one Christian community in which anybody and everybody could be friends.

The last thing a freshman from either campus needs is rejection. Each time I step on the Notre Dame campus I feel like an invader. This frivolous prejudice held by girls from both campuses should be cast aside. Just because I attend Saint Mary's instead of Notre Dame, there is no reason I should be "incompetent." It is about time these two institutions try to fortify, instead of sever, a bond among the students. We have so much to offer each other if only we would take the time to explore.

Name withheld upon request

ND-SMC ties

Dear Editor,

The thought of being a freshman at Saint Mary's College, located right across the street from the University of Notre Dame, had me ecstatic throughout the summer.

Upon arrival, I found the reception from both schools rather cordial at first. However, by the second week of school I was dubbed "ND/SMC Chick."

I've been wondering since that day why

P.O. Box Q

Dear Editor:

Do you know about the day in December, '83 where the national basketball team had to work hard to fill their arena? See, there was a federal law that does not allow the team to recruit the fans with free tickets. The predicament that so concerns him results from the fact that we choose to use a personal pronoun in reference to God, but the English language has no appropriate pronoun. Pichler admits that "calling God a 'he' is at best a metaphor, if not merely a weakness in human language."

In addition, he states that such God metaphors are "by nature quite incomplete, as any idea of God must be."

Given these premises, might it not be more reasonable to accept the limitations of the English language, openly acknowledge them and move on to less intractable problems?

I agree, however, with Pichler's conclusion that "when we stop referring to God exclusively as 'He' we will make a necessary statement about ourselves than God." Indeed, we may make an "Az" out of ourselves.

Rick Auberch

Is God a he?

Dear Editor:

The use of the pronoun "he" to refer to God does not necessarily the best method for every course. I have been taught that Springsteen one seem like it was perfect — be forgotten by the next time? Let's hope not.

Dear Editor:

Winston Griffin

The Observer

P.O. Box Q. Notre Dame, IN 46556

(219) 239-5915

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the two Notre Dame universities and the Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Our editors represent the opinions of a majority of the Editorial Board's comments, letters, and the inside columns present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community. And the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters is encouraged.

Editorial Board

Managing Editor
David Dziedzic
Margaret Foome
Executive Editor
Paul McGill
Bob Johnson
News Editor
Mark Wirschel
Saint Mary's Editor
Anne Monastyrski
Sports Editor
Michael Sullivan
Viewpoints Editor
Keith Picher
Features Editor
Sarah Hamilton
Photo Editor
Scott Bower

Department Managers

Business Manager
Christina Owen
Controller
Alex Sirtas
Advertising Manager
Jeanie Poole
Recruitment Manager
Mark Mason
Systems Manager
Kevin Williams

Founded November 5, 1966
Dear Miss Manners — Please dis­courageivia heresies — the habit of bed-sharing in your fourth roommate. We share a room with half a bath, a dining room turned study area, and a small kitchen with a table that seats four.

Miss Manners: The fourth roommate's responsibilities toward both the guests and the roommates are "roommates" responsibilities. And how should guests act?

Here are some of the situations that have occurred:

Gentle Reader — Oh, yes, they did, but the establishments were closed on Saturday. They had a resident owner who made rules and enforced them or elected people who violated them. You will have to do this cooperatively, as an equal, but as you have managed to put together a smooth household in other respects, Miss Manners is confident you can accomplish this.

What is throwing you off is the pseudo-social relationship you feel toward the guests, who have thus in­nocently aroused your ire. Miss Manners rather pictues war,yclercreepwng, dripping with anxiety to be out of their hosts' way, only to stumble into yours.

You know a metaphorical towel, will you?

Doesn't the rule about how much hospitality—including telephone time, bathroom assign­ments and food supplies—each of you has to offer your guests. If you print your rules and keep a file of materials I had authored after the deaths, I would not use her bathroom, but in­tend used the half bath and those "towels already out." They left the living room beds continually open and their suitcases and per­sonal things strewn about so that it constantly looked like a fifth bedroom was unoccupied as a living room.

Guests III and IV didn't seem to care. They were cooking individually, and attacks shocked when I didn't share my dinner (I didn't have enough to share). They also made no attempt at all to be quiet in the mornings, although they knew I was on a schedule that should have allowed me to sleep an hour longer.

If you were interested in a metaphorical towel, I would know how to act. Since I'm not, I do not know the deli­cacies of what constitutes a bedroom and being straightforward. Separate­ly, these problems aren't very big. But I'm totally fed up by now. My roommates either can't or won't suggest anything about making sure we aren't constantly imposed on by guests. Should we do what? The etiquette rules of the past never had to deal with a multi-independent person household. Can you please provide some metaphorical towel rules?

The senior class Christmas Cocktail Party begins tonight at 6 in the Monogram Room of the ACC. There will be dancing, a cash bar open 6 to 10 p.m., a gift raffle and give-a-ways by Santa. Tickets are $3. Tomorrow the seniors will join for Christmas Carols and tree trim­ming at the retirement Home at 1 p.m.

The senior class Christmas Party will be held tonight at Haggard College Center from 9 to 11. Tickets are $1.

The Graduate Student Union has also planned a Christmas party for tonight from 7 to 12 in the Banquet Room of the CCE. Father Hes­burgh will join the party, which will include dancing, food and a half price cash bar. Admission is $2.

The Student Union is sponsoring a shopping trip to Chicago, leaving Sunday at 9 a.m. from the Library Circle. Donuts and soda will be provided. Tickets are on sale at the S1 record store for $3.

A Gonzaga Fiesta will begin Sunday at 11 with a Spanish Mass in the Farley Hall Chapel, after which there will be a Chili Lunch in the Center for Social Concerns.

Friday, December 9, 1983 — page 9

What's happening...
Sweater

Lost: Amethyst ring at Lewis Hall Formal 12/2. Great sentimental value. Please reward.

Stepan Center will be closed during exam week — The Observer

Steen Center will be closed during exam week — The Observer

Please call 7374.

Get Home. It is my turn to cook. Midnight. Or Joe (1154) before Tuesday.

Three keys. Parent. Can have only one key. Not interested in the others.

You can use mine.

WANTED

RICK WORKED FOR THE TIMES 24 W.C. 1411. He worked for the Erie Press 61 years ago.

WANTED

Share your story of the Notre Dame-Michigan game with us! Send your memories to Observer Sports Briefs.

Steen Center will be closed during exam week — The Observer

THANK YOU, SHELLY! IT HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE.

THAT WE’VE BEEN TOGETHER TWO YEARS.

WAYS REMAIN TOGETHER. WE HAVE

THE MEAN, FOURTEEN.

THANK YOU, SHELLY! IT HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE.

THAT WE’VE BEEN TOGETHER TWO YEARS.

WAYS REMAIN TOGETHER. WE HAVE

THE MEAN, FOURTEEN.

THANK YOU, SHELLY! IT HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE.

THAT WE’VE BEEN TOGETHER TWO YEARS.

WAYS REMAIN TOGETHER. WE HAVE

THE MEAN, FOURTEEN.

THANK YOU, SHELLY! IT HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE.

THAT WE’VE BEEN TOGETHER TWO YEARS.

WAYS REMAIN TOGETHER. WE HAVE

THE MEAN, FOURTEEN.

THANK YOU, SHELLY! IT HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE.

THAT WE’VE BEEN TOGETHER TWO YEARS.

WAYS REMAIN TOGETHER. WE HAVE

THE MEAN, FOURTEEN.

THANK YOU, SHELLY! IT HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE.

THAT WE’VE BEEN TOGETHER TWO YEARS.

WAYS REMAIN TOGETHER. WE HAVE

THE MEAN, FOURTEEN.

THANK YOU, SHELLY! IT HARDLY SEEMS POSSIBLE.

THAT WE’VE BEEN TOGETHER TWO YEARS.

WAYS REMAIN TOGETHER. WE HAVE

THE MEAN, FOURTEEN.
Lysiak suspension upheld by NHL

Associated Press

PALM BEACH, Fla. — The suspension of Chicago Black Hawks star Tom Lysiak was upheld yesterday by the National Hockey League board of governors, averting a possible walkout by referees who were said to be considering a strike if the penalty was reduced.

The decision, the first order of business at the annual NHL winter meetings, was announced in a brief statement which said: "It is the board's decision that the suspension of Lysiak for 20 games is confirmed."

"I guess I'll be playing a lot of golf," Lysiak said as he was whisked out of the meeting room with his attorney, Bill Martin.

NHL game officials had threatened to take some kind of action if the board of governors softened the penalty imposed on Lysiak by NHL President John Ziegler. Lysiak received the suspension Oct. 30 for hooking linesman Ron Foyt with his stick and left knee, causing the official to fall to the ice. Foyt was not hurt and referee Dave Newell automatically suspended Lysiak.

Supported by the Black Hawks and the NHL players Association, Lysiak obtained a temporary injunction from Cook County (Ill.) Circuit Judge George A. Higgins on Nov. 3, which allowed him to continue playing. Responding to the injunction, the NHL board of governors amended Rule 67A to allow a player the right of appeal on a suspension to the league. Originally, the rule provided no appeal. It read: "Any player who deliberately strikes an official or deliberately applies physical force in any manner against an official shall be suspended 20 games."

The 20-game suspension is the stiffest penalty in NHL history. Before the decision was announced, league officials, Lysiak and representatives of the NHL Players Association viewed a videotape of the incident:

"Twenty games is a serious penalty, but at least we won a minor victory by getting the appeal process written into the bylaws," said Wendy White, legal counsel for the players union.

A source from the league had told The Associated Press that a number of referees and linesmen met informally last week and discussed options that might be available to them in the event Lysiak's suspension was reduced.

A walkout was one of the options mentioned, said the source, adding there was definite support for a strike.

Referees strike avoided

Judge George A. Higgins on Nov. 3, which allowed him to continue playing. Responding to the injunction, the NHL board of governors amended Rule 67A to allow a player the right of appeal on a suspension to the league. Originally, the rule provided no appeal. It read: "Any player who deliberately strikes an official or deliberately applies physical force in any manner against an official shall be suspended 20 games."

The 20-game suspension is the stiffest penalty in NHL history. Before the decision was announced, league officials, Lysiak and representatives of the NHL Players Association viewed a videotape of the incident:

"Twenty games is a serious penalty, but at least we won a minor victory by getting the appeal process written into the bylaws," said Wendy White, legal counsel for the players union.

A source from the league had told The Associated Press that a number of referees and linesmen met informally last week and discussed options that might be available to them in the event Lysiak's suspension was reduced.

A walkout was one of the options mentioned, said the source, adding there was definite support for a strike.

...Lehigh

continued from page 16

McCarthy plans for his team to run on offense and change defenses often, as the Irish do. Also look for Lehigh to play a lot of people.

"We have a different lineup every game," says Schneider. "We're trying to find the right combination." As far as Notre Dame is concerned, the Irish need to work on an area where they have had considerable trouble - outside shooting. In all three of their losses, the Irish have been hurt greatly by the lack of a player who can consistently shoot with the ineffective play of some of the front-line players in the first five games, and it is not hard to see why the Irish are 3-3. Some people are really letting us down out there," says Irish coach Digger Phelps.

The Lehigh game is the first of three consecutive games with some of the lesser lights on the schedule - Cornell and Valparaso are the others. The three games will give Phelps an opportunity to experiment and find help for the Notre Dame offense.

SMOKESTACK LIGHTNING BLUES BAND

Featuring: Fresh Blue Point Oysters & Large Gulf Shrimp Jazz & Blues 6 nights a week Open 5:30 TUES. THRU SAT. 7pm SUNDAY
Winter baseball talks

Kuhn's term extended, trades made

Associated Press

NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Outgoing Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was given a second extension on his contract yesterday at major league owners' meetings, enabling him to succeed an official who turned down the offer even though Baker originally had been interested in the job. And House official would turn down the owners and many general managers appeared to slow down slightly, with commissioner's contract originally was second for Kuhn. The commis­sioner's office until scheduled to expire last Aug. 15. Just

President Reagan, said he was "100 time, as the benefit. By that time, the

The contract extension is the millio n agreement he signed with

The extension will keep Kuhn in the commis­sioner's office until Sunday for 1984. By then, the traded to continue negotiations.

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson,

Kuhn's term extended, trades made

Sundberg, 32, is considered one of the hayward, Calif., where he hit 27

The M ontreal Expos traded right­

Los Angeles in 1980.

Carlos presents his

STUDENT SPECIAL

Bring in Coupon and receive
$1.00 off any lunch or dinner entree

Carlos Buck
$1.00 of any dinner Special

Dinner coupon

Limit: one coupon per visit, per person

Coupon Good Anytime

The Observer

Friday, December 9, 1983 — page 12

Irish Gardens
your
Kris Kringle
Headquarters
Christmas Decorations,
Novelties &
Christmas Floral Designs
Basement Lafortune Student Center

Irish Gardens
your
Kris Kringle
Headquarters
Christmas Decorations,
Novelties &
Christmas Floral Designs
Basement Lafortune Student Center

Ideal Christmas Gifts!
Golf Bags
Golf Hats
Pickering Golf Sweaters
and Shirts
Titleist Golf Balls
All items with Notre Dame golfing leprechaun
Go! Pro Shop in the "Rock"
7:00 am - 3:30 weekdays 'till Dec. 22nd

NHL Standings

In this year's NHL playoff format, the top four teams in each division make the playoffs, regardless of overall league standing.

PREMIER OF WALES CONFERENCE

Atlanta

W 17 L 7 GF GA Pts

Brisbane

17 2 3 41 33 63

Buffalo

16 2 3 31 27 63

Montreal

11 6 3 90 68 35

Montreal

12 4 3 71 61 28

Patrick Division

NY Islanders

17 4 6 127 102 39

NY Rangers

17 5 2 107 71 39

Philadelphia

12 9 2 88 85 35

Pittsburgh

12 5 7 99 111 28

New York

12 2 7 103 98 34

CLARENCE CAMPBELL CONFERENCE

Smoky Mountains

W 10 T 9 GF GA Pts

Edmonton

12 10 3 112 103 35

Calgary

11 8 4 101 117 36

Vancouver

12 12 2 120 157 36

Winnipeg

9 5 3 113 144 27

Los Angeles

7 6 6 118 140 27

Montreal

12 3 6 106 128 32

Toronto

12 12 2 103 116 34

Buffalo

10 14 2 111 163 22

Sundberg was the committee's top can­didate for the job. The Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oakland's vice president of baseball operations, talked Wednesday night and against yesterday morning by phone and agreed to meet face-to-face at Kapstein's San Diego offices to continue negotiations. Kapstein said there was no dis­cussion of money or a possible new con­tract for Baker, who has a two

In this year's NHL playoff format, the top four teams in each division make the playoffs, regardless of overall league standing.

Boston 18 7 2 131 83 38

Quebec 16 11 3 146 105 35

Calgary

11 8 4 111 107 36

In his best season offensively, Sundberg, 32, is considered one of the major league pitchers. Dan Scarpetta.

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top candidate for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top candidate for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top candidate for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top candidate for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.

Sundberg was the committee's top can­
date for the job. The

Kapstein and Sandy Alderson, Oak­

That was the ninth trade of these

season as Ted Simmons' backup.
LAKE PLACID, N.Y. — In a little over 100 minutes of play against skaters from the Soviet Union, Team USA goaltender Marc Behrend has learned about perfection.

"I have about five-and-one-half periods of experience against the Soviets," said Behrend, who will tonight in the opener of a six-game attempt to win the Olympic gold medal for the second straight time, "so I don't really see them anything different. The only thing they do special is make plays very well. They don't shoot a lot. They make the perfect play."

"The most success I will have is to stay back in the net a little, instead of coming out and cutting down the angle. With them, it's the taller guy on the wing who will wind up with the shot. If you're not alert, he'll be shooting at an open net."

Behrend helped the University of Wisconsin win two NCAA titles before joining Team USA, which will attempt to win the Olympic gold medal for the second straight time, in February at Sarajevo, Yugoslavia. His brother Bob and two from Minnesota Duluth have shared the goaltending duties for Team USA since it began an exhibition tour in September.

"Our goaltending has been outstanding," said Lou Vairo, coach of the American squad. "Both Marc and Bob have improved and kept us in a lot of games."

Like his teammates, Behrend is in the dispute had met for three-and-one-half hours on Wednesday.

"All parties agreed not to discuss the issues," said NBA public Relations Director Alex Schreider.

Today's meeting will be the third since the dispute began — the first time that has happened in the talks.

The mediator, Ed McMahon of Washington, D.C., and the two sides reached a tentative agreement three weeks ago with an NBA negotiating team that included Commissioner Larry O'Brien, who retired last week and his replacement, David Stern, but that a committee of owners rejected it.

The 1983 United Way campaign has a goal of $2,850,000. The campaign was scheduled to end November 16. It's December now and the United Way is still in need of over $250,000 to reach their goal. They are trying and continue to sustain the vitally needed services of the agencies.

Without the funds some services may not survive. Here at Notre Dame we interact with the United Way regularly. Many of us are involved with the United Way's Logan Center and through the Center for Social Concerns with other United Way agencies like the Red Cross, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, the Girl Scouts, as well as the Council for the Retarded and which culminated in a 50-day players' strike during the 1981 season.

Mission

Marvin Miller, who had retired as executive director of the association last January, had been interim head of the union after Mollett's firing.

Fehe declined to discuss any details of the annual meeting, saying that all such matters are internal and therefore "not a matter for public disclosure."

The Observer sports department announced the recent promotion of Jeff Blumb, a sophomore Government/ALPA major from Robbinsdale, Minn., to the position of Heather's Sports Editor. Blumb, who previously served as a sports copy editor, will join Jane Healey, who was named last spring.

Fehr named as director of baseball's MLPA

Associated Press

KAPAA, Hawaii — Don Fehr has been named acting executive director of baseball's Major League Players Association. He was announced yesterday at the conclusion of the MLPA executive board's three-day annual meeting here on the island of Maui.

Fehr, longtime legal counsel for the player's organization, replaces Ken Moffett, who was fired after 11 months in the union's executive director or as an apparent dispute over Moffett's cooperation with a committee of club owners on a plan to deal with baseball's drug and alcohol problem. Some union officials felt that Moffett's involvement with a joint committee on alcohol and drug abuse was another indication of his "soft line" in dealing with the club owners.

Moffett, who had two years left on a three-year contract when he was fired, had been the federal mediator during the two-year labor dispute

NBA and referees talk, no progress apparent

Associated Press

NEW YORK — Representatives of the National Basketball Association and its locked-out referees met for several hours with a federal mediator for the second straight day yesterday. But no news came out of the conference other than word from an NBA spokesman that "they met and will meet again tomorrow."

"All parties agreed not to discuss the issues," said NBA public Relations Director Alex Schreider.

Today's meeting will be the third since the dispute began — the first time that has happened in the talks.

The mediator, Ed McMahon of Washington, D.C., and the two sides reached a tentative agreement three weeks ago with an NBA negotiating team that included Commissioner Larry O'Brien, who retired last week and his replacement, David Stern, but that a committee of owners rejected it.

The 1983 United Way campaign has a goal of $2,850,000. The campaign was scheduled to end November 16. It's December now and the United Way is still in need of over $250,000 to reach their goal. They are trying and continue to sustain the vitally needed services of the agencies. Without the funds some services may not survive.

Here at Notre Dame we interact with the United Way regularly. Many of us are involved with the United Way's Logan Center and through the Center for Social Concerns with other United Way agencies like the Red Cross, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, the Girl Scouts, as well as the Council for the Retarded and more. Many individuals and companies in our community have given generously - but many people are out of work and many businesses are not doing well. Students, faculty and staff at Notre Dame have reached the goal set out for the University. This accomplishment is great! But those in need still need more help - as a member of the Notre Dame community can you find it in your heart to give $1, $5, $10 or $25 more to help those in need? Even if you've given, can you give a little more help in this 2nd effort? If you haven't given yet please don't wait any longer. Every dollar is vital to those in our community who are in need.

The Observer sports department announced the recent promotion of Jeff Blumb, a sophomore Government/ALPA major from Robbinsdale, Minn., to the position of Heather's Sports Editor. Blumb, who previously served as a sports copy editor, will join Jane Healey, who was named last spring.
... Michigan

UCLA. Michigan is the type of team that could cause some inconsistent play by Notre Dame. "We can't give anyone momentum," says DiStanislao. "Michigan's a running team that takes a lot of shots—a team that thrives on its own momentum."

In order to keep the momentum away from Michigan, the Irish will have to establish their superior inside game right away. Center Mary Schubert, who has played two strong games in a row, leads the inside attack, averaging 11 points and seven rebounds a game. She will get support from Ruth Kaiser, Carrie Bates, Trena Keys, and Lavetta Wilson.

It will be up to the Notre Dame guards to stop their Michigan counterparts. Vonnie Thompson will be on the court most of the game as the point guard, while the other guard spot will be filled by Lynn Ebben or Laura Dougherty. Ebben has started the last two games, but a good showing of the bench by Dougherty may get her more playing time.

Recent history is on Notre-Dame's side. Starting last year, the Irish have rebounded from losses very well. After losing their first two last year, they won nine straight. This year, after losing their first two, they beat UCLA.

Against Michigan, Notre Dame will try to continue this history. A victory would help get the team rolling as it faces some of the weaker opponents on the schedule in the next couple of weeks.

Here's what your teams are doing this weekend

TODAY

ND women's basketball vs. Michigan 7:30 p.m.
ACC Main Arena

SMC basketball vs. Lehigh

wrestling at Olivet Nazarene

hockey vs. Lake Forest 7:30 p.m.
ACC North Dome

TOMORROW

men's basketball vs. Lehigh 1:30 p.m.
ACC Main Arena

men's swimming vs. Cleveland St. 2 p.m.
Rockne Pool

ND women's swimming vs. Cleveland St. 11 a.m.
Rockne Pool

Navy Medical Scholarships Available

Navy Medical Scholarships provide:

□ Your full tuition, authorized fees and educational expenses
□ The cost of required books and supplies
□ Rental fees for necessary equipment such as microscopes
□ A monthly cash payment directly to you, to spend as you please!

Participation in the Navy Health Professions Scholarship Program does not involve any military training nor requires wearing of a Navy uniform. Your academic routine and lifestyle will remain the same as other medical students.

Qualifications for this scholarship include:

□ Be accepted for the next entering class or currently enrolled in an approved school of medicine or osteopathy
□ Be a U.S. citizen
□ Be physically qualified for a commission as a Naval Officer

For more information: Call Navy Medical Programs Officer Lieutenant Greg Thompson TOLL FREE 1-800-382-9782.
Fate

Mellish

Phoitus

Dave & Dave

---

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1. Worry
2. Sharp
3. Dilute
4. Signpost
5. Kind of vez
6. Wings
7. Hair
8. — von
9. Membrane
10. Inspected to a yugg
11. Groundhog
12. Pal Growing
13. Bags
14. Desire
15. Five
16. Fabrics
17. "Hey! You! Lost to Dave & Dave!!"

DOWN
1. Deliberate
2. Dorothy’s dog
3. Outside
4. Edited
5. Singer
6. Island
7. Gossip
8. Trees for shipbuilding
9. Cutting
11. Scottish

Thursday’s Solution

---

Student Union takes you to the

LIBERTY BOWL

2 nights Ramada Inn $33
South Bend—Chicago—Memphis bus Round trip Dec 27-30 $56
Sign up for full package ($89) or part at Student Union ticket office.

---

Today

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

---

Campus

Friday, December 9, 1983 — page 15

---

Fate

Mellish

Phoitus

Dave & Dave

---

The Daily Crossword

---

Student Union takes you to the

LIBERTY BOWL

2 nights Ramada Inn $33
South Bend—Chicago—Memphis bus Round trip Dec 27-30 $56
Sign up for full package ($89) or part at Student Union ticket office.
Irish look to rebound against rival Michigan

By MIKE SULLIVAN

After being treated rather rudely as visitors to Welsh-Ryan Arena by Northwestern Wednesday night, the Notre Dame women's basketball team will try to treat their visitors the same way tonight as Michigan comes to the ACC at 7:30 p.m.

Mary DiStanislao's Irish hope to even their record at 3-3 against the Wolverines. However, in order to do so, they must avoid the type of defensive battle that they had with Northwestern. Notre Dame's strength against Michigan took over four years ago has been its defense and that defense will once again be tested by the Wolverines and their fast-paced, run-and-gun offense.

"We've played with Michigan in all ways a good game," says DiStanislao. "They take a lot of shots and score on the transition game."

As the Northwestern game indicated, Michigan is not to be underestimated as a good transition game. The Wolverines' 5-1-1 trapping defense gave the Irish guards a great deal of trouble early in the second half and helped Northwestern jump out to a lead that it never lost. If the Irish can control the tempo of the game and not allow Gloria Solis's squad to get the offense in high gear, the Wolverines could be in trouble.

Awarding Michigan's offense two points would indicate a good game tonight. Michigan rallied from a 16 point deficit to get within a basket with less than a minute left in the game. On paper, this Michigan team would seem to be improved over last year's Ten letterwinners return from last year's team. However, the one letterwinner that did not return this year, Peg Hartle, averaged almost 20 points a game and served as co-captain while only a sophomore. Judging from the team's early season performance, her departure after her sophomore year has hurt the team considerably.

Without Hartle, the Wolverines will have a powerful defense that centers around the guards. Sophomore Oretta Lilly and senior Lorra Gatowski are the guards that will direct the offense. Lilly was second in the team in scoring last year with a 13.3 average, while Gatowski was also among the scoring leaders as she averaged 7.4 points a game.

"They are a good transition game team which has good outside shooting," explains DiStanislao. "Their guards are not afraid to drive to the basket, either."

"What hurt us against Northwestern was our inability to control Arizona's (who scored 35 points) and our vulnerability to the transition game, especially with guards driving to the basket and their 1-3-1 defense."

While the guards are very important to the offense, it is a forward, Wendy Bradetich, that has been carrying the brunt of the scoring so far this year. Bradetich, a 6-0 sophomore guard Mike McCaffery.

The non conference match up comes to the ACC at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow, and says he doesn't think they will alter their game style for the Irish.

"The size factor will be a problem for us," he concedes, "especially at the forward positions."

see LEHIGH, page 11

Home-and-home series

Hockey team meets Lake Forest

By ED DOMANSKY

Sports Writer

At the half of the first 1983-84 season's contest its final score was the Notre Dame hockey team will attempt to extend its unbeaten string and improve upon its already impressive 10-1-0 record. The Lake Forest Foresters, the team that defeated Division II varsity opponent, will provide the challenge for the hot Irish.

The non-conference match-up will be played as a home-and-home series. It begins this evening at the Notre Dame ACC. Tomorrow, the teams will meet in Illinois at Lake Forest.

The series will mark the first meeting between the two teams since 1979. Notre Dame holds a 4-0 advantage.

The Foresters bring a 5-4 record into the weekend's action. They have beaten Central States Collegiate Hockey League member Marquette. Two more victories came with a sweep of Wisconsin-Superior, and another was picked up by their 76-20 victory over the Saint Mary's Engineers. "Lake Forest is one of the people that we must get going," says Metzler. "We're hoping that they will bring out the talents of the other two," Smith says. "They've been looking good in practice. They seem to work well together."

In preparation for the upcoming series, the team's workouts have been highlighted by a lot of hard skating. The team has also been concentrating on intensifying its forechecking and on improvements in its overall offensive play. "Workouts have been really diversified," said Smith. "We're getting the attitude that we must get going," says Metzler. "We must get stronger."

The only casualty for the Irish this week is junior forward Steve Ely. Ely had been nursing a knee injury and, on Tuesday, the knee finally gave out. He will most likely undergo arthroscopic surgery over the upcoming break. "Barring any problems, he should be ready to play in the second semester," reports Smith.

Chapman continues to lead the team in scoring. He has accumulated 42 points on 13 goals and 19 assists. Metzler, Parsons, and sophomore Bob Thibeau are all tied for second with 19 points. Metzler has 10 goals, Parsons nine, and Thibeau six. Sophomore Mark Fanning is in fifth on the list with six goals and 12 assists.

Freshman Tim Kempton will start in the Irish nets tonight. He has a 6-0-0 record and a solid 1.88 goals against average. Smith has not yet decided on who will be between the pipes for Notre Dame tomorrow at Lake Forest.

Tonight's face-off is set at 7:30 p.m. in the ACC. Notre Dame and St. Mary's are students are admitted free with their student ID cards.