Greetings!

Vice Presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro turns to wave to the crowd gathered on a balcony for a rally yesterday at downtown Columbus. Ferraro completed a campaign tour through Ohio with the rally.

South Bend Mayor Roger Parent has invited freshmen from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's to a picnic in their honor at the new East Race Waterway.

The picnic will take place this Sunday, Sept. 16, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., and will feature free raft and inner-tube rides down the East Race Waterway. Rubber-soled shoes are required and long pants are recommended.

Free bus service will be provided from the Notre Dame Circle to the East Race Waterway during the hours of the picnic. Mayor Parent and his staff will be serving free beer, buns and drink to everyone present.

"The picnic is a welcome to Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students from the City of South Bend," said Parent. "Students in the past haven't really had an opportunity to get to know South Bend."

The East Race Waterway, a man-made extension of the St. Joseph's River, offers opportunities for activities ranging from a leisurely float downstream to Olympic white-water kayaking.

"The East Race is one of the most creative and unique social options Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students ever may have known," said Parent, citing an article which appeared in the Sept. 3 issue of The Observer.

"We would have invited all the students," said Parent, "but the response would be too unpredictable. According to Parent, by inviting only freshmen all students at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's will be invited over a period of four years.

"We are prepared for about 500 people," said Parent. "We realize it is a short notice for students, and we'll be happy if only 200 people show up."

Parent said he was counting on the picnic to generate good publicity and to be the start of better relations between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's and the City of South Bend.

"Occasionally, the students get to know the city in the wrong way," said Parent, citing the cloning of Corby's, a popular student bar, and the crackdown on large parties. "We want to be good hosts to the students of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's," he said.

More can be done to let students know what is going on in South Bend, said Parent. "Cloning is a success, efforts will be made to include students in other South Bend activities, he said, mentioning Dragon Day as a possibility.

East Race Waterway picnic to honor ND/SMC freshmen

By PAT SAIN
Senior Staff Reporter

"I'm going to make you all Catholics!" said N. Y. Governor Mario Cuomo to an expected capacity crowd in Washington Hall tonight.

Cuomo's address is sponsored by the John A. O'Brien lecture series of the Department of Theology. Cuomo was invited to speak at Notre Dame last June, before his keynote address to the Democratic National Convention in July.

Cuomo's lecture is expected to attract national attention because of his well publicized disagreements with New York Archbishop John O'Connor over the issue of legalized abortion. Cuomo, who is Catholic, has explained that while he personally opposes abortion, he still is sworn to uphold the United States Constitution which guarantees freedom of choice in such a matter.

O'Connor has said he couldn't understand "how a Catholic in good conscience would vote for a candidate who explicitly supports abortion."

"If the (Church) say we cannot accept that concept, I am personally opposed but... it is the so-called pro-choice. What makes this different? I don't see how you can. It seems to me that if you maintain that you're pro-choice, then you have to say you approve abortion if it is chosen, so that makes you pro-abortion."

Cuomo has said he believes the nation is built on people who don't impose their religious beliefs on others. "So I'm a Catholic governor," he said.

Cuomo also noted, "The Church has never been this aggressively involved in such national policies before. In response, the President of the National Conference of Bishops, Bishop James Malone, issued a statement calling for American bishops not to endorse or oppose political candidates.

O'Connor has repeatedly said that while he also opposes Democratic Vice Presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro's views on abortion and politics, he does not believe in trying to sway Catholic voters. Ferraro, like Cuomo, has said she personally opposes abortion, but must uphold the law which legalizes abortion and provides for state funding of abortions.

The statement by the Bishops Conference noted it "would be regrettably if religion as such were injected into a political campaign through appeals to a candidate's religious affiliations and commitments."

Cuomo has also come under attack by Notre Dame Law Professor Charles E. Rice, who issued a prepared statement to the Observer. Rice said that "Mario Cuomo, Geraldine Ferraro and others would like the voters to believe the 'pro-choice' position they espouse is actually a pro-life position. Whatever the intent of the Theology Department, one effect of the invitation to Governor Cuomo will be to legitimize that claim at least debatably authentic." Rice also criticized the leadership of the Theology Department under the chairmanship of Father Richard McBrien, who invited Cuomo to speak. Cited a review of McBrien's book Catholicism which said McBrien's approach to the Church's" to seem to transfer the teaching authority from the episcopal assembly and the Pope to the consensus of modern theologians."

Rice opposes Cuomo's invitation, saying the effect will be to "aid him (Cuomo) in perpetuating this fraud."

In a way, Mario Cuomo and the Notre Dame Theology Department

Dirty Books

Graduate student Randy Rentner contemplates the purchase of a "dirty book" at yesterday's book sale at Notre Dame's Memorial Library. The "dirty books" are nothing more than usual books which the library had decided to remove from its collection.

N.Y. Governor Cuomo to discuss religion, politics at tonight's lecture

By THERESA GUARINO
Assistant News Editor

Religion and politics will be the issue when New York Governor Mario Cuomo will address an expected capacity crowd in Washington Hall tonight.

Cuomo's address is sponsored by the John A. O'Brien lecture series of the Department of Theology. Cuomo was invited to speak at Notre Dame last June, before his keynote address to the Democratic National Convention in July.

Cuomo's lecture is expected to attract national attention because of his well publicized disagreements with New York Archbishop John O'Connor over the issue of legalized abortion. Cuomo, who is Catholic, has explained that while he personally opposes abortion, he still is sworn to uphold the United States Constitution which guarantees freedom of choice in such a matter.

O'Connor has said he couldn't understand "how a Catholic in good conscience would vote for a candidate who explicitly supports abortion."

"If the (Church) say we cannot accept that concept, I am personally opposed but... it is the so-called pro-choice. What makes this different? I don't see how you can. It seems to me that if you maintain that you're pro-choice, then you have to say you approve abortion if it is chosen, so that makes you pro-abortion."

Cuomo has said he believes the nation is built on people who don't impose their religious beliefs on others. "So I'm a Catholic governor," he said.

Cuomo also noted, "The Church has never been this aggressively involved in such national policies before. In response, the President of the National Conference of Bishops, Bishop James Malone, issued a statement calling for American bishops not to endorse or oppose political candidates.

O'Connor has repeatedly said that while he also opposes Democratic Vice Presidential candidate Geraldine Ferraro's views on abortion and politics, he does not believe in trying to sway Catholic voters. Ferraro, like Cuomo, has said she personally opposes abortion, but must uphold the law which legalizes abortion and provides for state funding of abortions.

The statement by the Bishops Conference noted it "would be regrettably if religion as such were injected into a political campaign through appeals to a candidate's religious affiliations and commitments."

Cuomo has also come under attack by Notre Dame Law Professor Charles E. Rice, who issued a prepared statement to the Observer. Rice said that "Mario Cuomo, Geraldine Ferraro and others would like the voters to believe the 'pro-choice' position they espouse is actually a pro-life position. Whatever the intent of the Theology Department, one effect of the invitation to Governor Cuomo will be to legitimize that claim at least debatably authentic." Rice also criticized the leadership of the Theology Department under the chairmanship of Father Richard McBrien, who invited Cuomo to speak. Cited a review of McBrien's book Catholicism which said McBrien's approach to the Church's" to seem to transfer the teaching authority from the episcopal assembly and the Pope to the consensus of modern theologians."

Rice opposes Cuomo's invitation, saying the effect will be to "aid him (Cuomo) in perpetuating this fraud."

In a way, Mario Cuomo and the Notre Dame Theology Department...
The Infonet Phone System is once again completely functional, and the problems which students have been experiencing should be cleared up. Some students who tried to call off-campus during the period of complication were notified the call could not be completed. According to Ombudsmann, the delay was caused by the recent addition of new trunk lines, thus allowing a larger number of students to call an off-campus number at any one time. During the installation various area code zones were not in operation. - The Observer

"Ideas, Values, and Images," the interdisciplinary sophomore core course will be the beneficiary of a $199,787 grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities. The three-year grant will enable the College of Arts and Letters, $90,000 of which is contingent upon the college's raising of an additional $50,000, will fund a course review and a plan for faculty enrichment directed by Anastasia Guttig, assistant director of the core course. The project will include a course evaluation by a committee of scholars from Notre Dame and other universities. - The Observer

Are you plagued by dangling participles? Are you baffled by "whose" and "who"? If so, help is only a phone call away at 1 800 2 B S T R A T E G Y, a grammar hotline staffed by faculty at Notre Dame's York College that provides advice on grammar, word usage and spelling. The hotline is open Monday through Thursday from noon to 3 p.m. Collect calls are not accepted. The program was founded three years ago by English Professor Joan Baum and Alan Cooper, department chairman. - The Observer

The Infonet Phone System is once again completely functional, and the problems which students have been experiencing should be cleared up. Some students who tried to call off-campus during the period of complication were notified the call could not be completed. According to Ombudsmann, the delay was caused by the recent addition of new trunk lines, thus allowing a larger number of students to call an off-campus number at any one time. During the installation various area code zones were not in operation. - The Observer

A half-hour "Nightline" program will be broadcast from Washington Hall on ABC-TV at 10:30 tonight in the wake of New York Gov. Mario Cuomo's lecture on religion and politics. Ted Kennedy will appear. Remote facilities of WNET-TV will be used earlier to put the entire Cuomo speech on the satellite to feed WNET-TV, New York City's public television station. Which will broadcast the entire speech live. - The Observer

Parking will be restricted in the northwest section of the parking lot in the circle drive north of Decio Road between the Stadium and Memorial Library. today and tomorrow. Barricades and signs will be posted. The restrictions are caused by the Decio Faculty Hall Dedication. Ample space should be available in the A-1 and B-1 parking lots. Parking will be prohibited in the area between Decio Faculty Hall and O'Shaughnessy Hall. - The Observer

The Scholarship Bank urges college students who have not received the necessary state or federal funds for continued education to apply for private educational funding. Working in conjunction with high school and college financial aid counselors, The Scholarship Bank has already distributed $25,000 sources of private financial aid and will send students a list of 20 to 50 names and addresses upon receipt from the student of a questionnaire. The questionnaire can be ordered from The Scholarship Bank in Los Angeles by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope to 11101 Santa Monica Boulevard, 2606, Los Angeles, Calif. 90067. - The Observer

Partly cloudy, breezy and warm today with a 30 percent chance of thunderstorms. High in the mid 80s. Partly cloudy tonight with a 20 percent chance of thunderstorms. High in the upper 70s. Partly sunny tomorrow with a high in the low to mid 70s. - The Observer

The views expressed in the Inside column are the views of the author, and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editorial board or staff.

The Observer publishes its official opinion in the form of an unsigned, large-print, wide-column article on the Viewpoint page. These columns represent the opinion of a majority of The Observer editorial board. All other columns, on the Viewpoint page, or otherwise, are the views of their authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editorial board or The Observer staff.

The Observer

Navy Nursing
2 careers in 1

FIRST — You're a Navy Nurse. You work in a Professional environment and have the opportunity for advanced training. You are also in an immediate supervisory position.
SECOND — You are a Navy Officer. This includes travel and adventure. Your salary and benefits are comparable to civilian nursing.

Requirements
B.E.D. or equivalent in some special area. Interested in a three-year diploma with one year related experience.

SEND YOUR RESUME TO: Navy Medical Programs Rm 445 N57 South Pennsylvania Indianapolis, IN 46204

OR CALL KATHY SCALON TOLL FREE: 1-800-382-9782

Read
Psycho Chicken

Maybe a prank is just a prank

From the front page story in yesterday's Observer it looks like Notre Dame Security is now hot on the trail of the person or persons who stole the Knott Rocker best from the Rockne Memorial last May. It seems that even the Los Angeles Police Department has been involved in the investigation. However the Security Department will not comment further on that aspect of the case.

I'm not exactly sure where one draws the line between where a harmless prank ends and where a crime begins, but I think it has to do with the intent behind the deed.

Pranks are not done with the intent of hurting someone, rather they are done in a spirit of fun, while a crime is done only for one's personal gain. This question of what is a prank or a crime and how each should be dealt with are ones that Notre Dame Security Director for Glenn Terry and the administration will have to wrestle with if they get some positive evidence against those who have been accused of taking the Rockne best. And it looks like it will not be long before Notre Dame Security, just like the Mounties, gets their man, or in this case maybe their woman too.

Obviously the Administration does not take student pranks such as the abducting of statues, lightly. This is evidenced by the fact that once the famous Father Sorin statue was returned to his original place in O'Shaughnessy Hall they made sure he was going to stay there. The statue is filtered through to the pedastal and bolted down to make sure no more bad students try to steal it and take it away.

People often claim that Notre Dame is too serious a campus. In the future you may ask your friends if they have gotten out of hand. Pranks end up hurting someone, rather they are done in a spirit of fun, while a crime begins, but I think it has to do with the intent behind the deed. Pranks are not done with the intent of hurting someone, rather they are done in a spirit of fun, while a crime is done only for one's personal gain.

The thing to remember about pranks is that they are just that, pranks. They are mischievous acts designed for fun, not to hurt someone. If they do end up hurting someone or damaging property then obviously they have gotten out of hand. Pranks can liven up a student's life on a campus that frequently needs more than just a little livening up.

The views expressed in the Inside column are the views of the author, and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editorial board or staff.

The Observer publishes its official opinion in the form of an unsigned, large-print, wide-column article on the Viewpoint page. These columns represent the opinion of a majority of The Observer editorial board. All other columns, on the Viewpoint page, or otherwise, are the views of their authors and do not necessarily reflect the views of the editorial board or The Observer staff.

Rib Shack SPECIAL
$1 Off Any Meal With This Ad

SPECIALIZING IN:

HICKORY RIBS	CHICKEN	PIZZA

BEER AND WINE

Phone Ahead—Complete Carryout

TWO LOCATIONS:

1855 Lincolnway East, South Bend-Open 7 days-288-9248
St. Ad. 23 & Bittersweet, Granger Closed Monday Only 277-3143

ND-SMC Council for the Retarded
Organizational Meeting
Thursday (9/13) at the Center for Social Concerns

New Volunteers Welcome

The Observer

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

The Observer

Today's issue was produced by:

Design Editor — Lee Chappell
Design Assistant — Paul Brawley
Copy Editor — Bob McLaury
Visual Editor — Tony Speciale
Copy Reader — Leif Fink
Marketing Director — Paul Brawley
Editorial Director — David Ciner
Sports Copy Editor — Larry Burke
Copy Reader — Dennis DeWitt
Copy Editor — Marla Green
Advertising Manager — Denny Dwyer
Advertising Coordinator — Michelle Morey
Art Director — Infinity, Warren, Martin
Photographer — Chris McLean

Mark Potter
Copy Editor

Inside Thursday
Corby's may open late this month

By MARGARET FOSMOE

The fate of the closed Corby's Tavern should be known within a few days, according to Michael Scopelitis, attorney for Rose Rowley, the estate of her deceased husband, Harold Rowley, Jr., Monday in Superior Court. The announcement followed a Sept. 3 hearing in which Judge William Whitted ruled Rowley could replace Rowley's father, Harold Rowley Sr., as administrator of the estate.

Rowley Sr., who was administration until his son was murdered Aug. 1, Rowley Jr. was the owner of the popular student bar, located at 1026 Corby Ave.

"I think we're going to know by Friday whether Corby's is going to be opened, and if so, when it will be opened," said Scopelitis yesterday.

Scopelitis is handling negotiations to obtain the nearly $13,000 needed to repay back employee taxes owed by the bar. Corby's was closed by the Internal Revenue Service Aug. 25 because of the unpaid taxes.

If the money is obtained, Rowley hopes to have the bar open "by the first (Notre Dame) home game (Sept. 22)," said the attorney.

Scopelitis said it has not been determined who would manage Corby's if the bar re-opens.

Rowley and Rose Rowley are discussing a loan with James Brod, a Chicago accountant who jointly owned the tavern property with Rowley Jr.

"I like to think we're pretty close," Scopelitis said, "but I won't believe it until we see the money," he added.

Cuomo continued from page 1

"simplistic," and said there must be a public policy reflecting "a better balancing of state and individual interests than drawn for us by the Supreme Court."

In Cuomo's response to the letter from Kornmesser, he denied ever call-down of the Humanities William J. Benenst; Brazilian social scientist Fernando Henrique Cardoso; Notre Dame president Emeritus Matthew A. Fitzsimmons; economist and former U.S. ambassador to India John Kennell Galbraith; Mount Holyoke College President Elizabeth T. Keeman; Johns Hopkins department of English chairman Hugh Kenneth; and poet-novelist Elizabeth Sewell.

Friday morning's symposium will feature panel discussions on "The Liberal Arts and the University" and "The Liberal Arts and Society." Notre Dame historian, Professor Philip Gleason, will join the panel discussing "The Liberal Arts and the University."

Plans for the week-end activities have been in the works for about a year, said James Murphy, associate vice-president for University Relations. Murphy has been in charge of organizing the dedication events.

The events dedicating Decio Faculty Hall are not unique. Similar ceremonies coincided with the dedications of the Snite Museum and Stupin Chemistry Hall in recent years.

"The best has a taste all its own."

TODAY AND FRIDAY ALL SENIORS!

COLLECTION TIMES:

SMC: 4:30 - 6:30 Dining Hall (Lemons side) M-F
ND: 11:15 - 1 and 5 - 7 LaForte M-F

AMOUNTS DUE:
Paid Deposits: $190*
w/o Deposits: $290

*All payments are due by September 14th or seats will be lost
Defective chips may cause malfunction of equipment in U.S. Defense Department

The tiny information-carrying chips aren't confined to the defense industry, and are common in consumer goods ranging from cars to calculators. In weapons, the chips provide data that "sets" a weapon when, where and how to work.

Texas Instrument vice president Norman Neureiter said the company was working "night and day" to find out what went wrong and where the chips were sent.

At first, Neureiter said, the company thought the situation was simply a "paper problem" but "later we began to conclude that perhaps some tests had been omitted."

"There is the possibility of criminal investigation of TL," said chief Pentagon spokesman Michael Burch.

The Pentagon ban on Texas Instruments chips is the second time this year that the Defense Department has had a problem with a microchip supplier.

National Semiconductor Corp. paid $1.7 million in fines and penalties in March after pleading guilty to 40 federal criminal charges that it had inadequately tested microchips sold to the Pentagon between 1978 and 1981.

The Defense Department originally proposed to ban National Semiconductor from doing any more business with the Pentagon, but dropped that idea after the company took what the Pentagon called "significant corrective actions."

Correction

A news brief in yesterday's issue announced the recipients of three- and two-year scholarship ships. Because of an editing error, the scholarships were incorrectly attributed. All awards were granted by the Army ROTC program.

Diana drifts offshore, still threatens to strike

Associated Press

WILMINGTON, N.C. Hurricane Diana intensified yesterday as it drifted "with no sense of direction" just off the coast, and thousands of people were warned to stay in shelters because it could still wander ashore with 115 mph wind and giant storm tides.

Damage from the storm's first approach to the coast was limited mostly to downed tree limbs, signs and power lines, uprooted trees and a broken fishing pier, with some street flooding from heavy rain. No serious injuries were reported.

Gov. Jim Hunt said yesterday after inspecting the Wilmington area he didn't know if the state would seek disaster aid. "It's questionable now," he said. "The important thing is to keep watch on it."

The storm's eye had approached to within a few miles of Cape Fear late Tuesday, but at mid-day yesterday it was drifting erratically from 40 to 50 miles east-southeast of Wilmingon. In the city, the wind blew at 29 mph with gusts to around 40 mph.

Heavy thunderstorms and showers poured rain on eastern North Carolina and extended out over the ocean for 125 miles.

"The problem this morning is we have a hurricane with no sense of direction," said Neil Frank, director of the National Hurricane Center in Coral Gables, Fla.

"Without strong steering currents, it's like a leaf falling off a tree." Any slight breeze will blow it in any direction," said forecaster Jim Gross at the center, warning "it could strengthen."

The National Weather Service said the storm was expected to eventually resume a northerly track, which would aim it at Onslow and Carteret counties and to the Outer Banks chain of islands.

Diana's sustained winds around its eye eared from 155 mph late Tuesday to 115 mph early yesterday morning, then rose to 120 mph but drifted back to 115 mph by afternoon. "Right now it's starting to intensify," Don Witten, National Weather Service spokesman in Washington, had said at mid-morning.

At 5 p.m. the storm's position was latitude 34.0 degrees north and longitude 77.2 degrees west, barely changed from mid-morning, the weather service said.

A hurricane warning was in effect from the South Carolina border to Oregon Inlet at the north end of North Carolina's Hatteras Island, including most of the fragile islands of the Outer Banks, and a tornado and flood watch covered much of the eastern end of the state.

More than 14,000 evacuees went to 65 shelters Tuesday in a 12-county area of coastal North Carolina. Gov. Jim Hunt said nearly 500,000 people live in the coastal counties threatened by Diana, and gubernatorial aide R. Brent Hackney said it was impossible to tell exactly how many others were staying with relatives or in motels.

A news brief in yesterday's issue announced the recipients of three- and two-year scholarship ships. Because of an editing error, the scholarships were incorrectly attributed. All awards were granted by the Army ROTC program.

The #1 way to rent a car: Hertz rents Lincolns and other fine cars.
Pope John Paul II blesses Canadian fishermen, speaks against 'more financial gain'

Associated Press

FLATROCK, Newfoundland - Pope John Paul II blessed the hard-pressed fishermen of this poor, rocky coast yesterday, and delivered a powerful indictment of modern economies that fail to put "people over things."

Governments must change their economic systems and end chronic unemployment, "so that human needs be put before mere financial gain," the pontiff told several thousand people huddled in this tiny windswept village.

He then stepped directly into an explosive Canadian political dispute by endorsing worker cooperatives and joint worker-management ownership of the fishing industry, taking the fishermen's side in a battle with the federal government over their economic future.

"Thank you, Holy Father," a representative of the fishermen said after they took the papal blessing aboard a string of white-hulled fishing dories stretching across Flattrock cove.

"Good fishing, safe passage and God's Blessing," the pope said.

John Paul, on the fourth day of a Canadian tour, chose to emphasize economic and family issues in this island province, where centuries of isolation have made "Newfies" a poor and close-knit community.

The unemployment rate is Canada's highest, usually double the national average, which is now 11 percent. The fishing industry, keystone of the island economy, has been especially hard-hit.

One-third of the 600,000 island residents are Roman Catholic.

At an outdoor Mass later yesterday in the provincial capital of St. John's, the pontiff praised those Roman Catholic couples who hew to church prohibitions against artificial contraception and divorce.

Newfoundland has the lowest divorce rate in Canada - 109 a year per 100,000 population, less than half the level of any other province.

At least 80,000 people attended at a site near the picturesque fishing community of Quidi Vidi in a corner of St. John's.

After flying in to Newfoundland from Montreal, the pontiff was driven directly to Flattrock, a village of 808 people 15 miles north of St. John's, to give his benediction to the fishing fleet.

He deplored the "human costs" of unemployment caused by changed conditions in the world economy, and said responsible authorities should find solutions, "including a restructuring of the economy."

"The social doctrine of the church requires us to emphasize the primacy of the human person in the productive process, the primacy of people over things," declared the leader of more than 700 million Roman Catholics.

He then turned to the situation in Newfoundland, where the outmoded village and family-based fishing industry is being undercut by more efficient foreign competition.

One third of the 600,000 island residents are Roman Catholic.

At an outdoor Mass later yesterday in the provincial capital of St. John's, the pontiff praised those Roman Catholic couples who hew to church prohibitions against artificial contraception and divorce.

Newfoundland has the lowest divorce rate in Canada - 109 a year per 100,000 population, less than half the level of any other province.

At least 80,000 people attended at a site near the picturesque fishing community of Quidi Vidi in a corner of St. John's.

After flying in to Newfoundland from Montreal, the pontiff was driven directly to Flattrock, a village of 808 people 15 miles north of St. John's, to give his benediction to the fishing fleet.

He deplored the "human costs" of unemployment caused by changed conditions in the world economy, and said responsible authorities should find solutions, "including a restructuring of the economy."

"The social doctrine of the church requires us to emphasize the primacy of the human person in the productive process, the primacy of people over things," declared the leader of more than 700 million Roman Catholics.

He then turned to the situation in Newfoundland, where the outmoded village and family-based fishing industry is being undercut by more efficient foreign competition.
Health Department suggests class and inspections for hall foodsales

By JOHN GORLA
Staff Reporter

In light of last spring's foodsales controversy, St. Joseph's County Health Department has recommended that Notre Dame's department of environmental health and safety conduct a class in running foodsales.

In the spring of 1984, The Observer contacted the local health department concerning complaints that foodsales on campus were in violation of health codes. The health department then contacted Notre Dame's health and safety department and recommended that the employees should be taught proper procedures for food service.

As a result, the Health and Safety department plans to present a one day course for foodsales' managers and employees on Sept. 18. Com­mented Michael McCauslin, Notre Dame's environmental health-safety specialist. "This course is highly recom­mended, but not mandatory."

Student response to the plan has been encouraging so far. Noted McCauslin "The managers are ex­tremely receptive to dealing with the problems at hand and have shown interest in the program."

The class will cover the procedures that are necessary to operate a safe and sanitary foodsales. Also, the department of health and safety will publish a list of how long foods may be kept in storage without the danger of spoilage.

Bishop Neil King, better known as the picture man, was one of two guest speakers. His service will be available for any social events through the year and anyone interested is encouraged to contact him. Gail Martin, a specialist in the field of fundraising, presented an entire line of products that may be purchased by groups organizing fundraising events. Her service also provides help in the planning, publicity, running, and money management of the event. Anyone having any questions or interest in receiving a catalogue should contact Gail Martin at 291-5720.

Saint Mary's section representatives are encouraged to attend an orientation meeting this Sunday from 6 to 7 pm. Any questions about this meeting should be directed to Anne Marie Kollman at 5050.

For anyone who is thinking about the possibility of looking for a job in the future, the Health and Safety Department will publish a list of how long foods may be kept in storage without the danger of spoilage.

Sobering Advice can save a life

Think Before You Drink 4

Before You Drive

Do you know someone who is dying to be thin?

Nearly one-third of the world's population goes hungry because of poverty. And nearly 20% of the young female population in the United States also starves - but by choice. Because they're dying to be thin.

Anorexia Nervosa. Bulimia. Two serious eating disorders. Illnesses that can affect people of all ages... and are most common among young women.

And the effects can be life-long or even fatal.

Now there is HOPE - Healthy Options for Problem Eaters. A therapeutic program developed by Memorial Hospital of South Bend. HOPE is designed to help those with eating disorders return to a normal, healthy lifestyle, because Anorexia and Bulimia can be cured. But early detection is vital.

If you know someone who is a victim of an eating disorder, you can help. Register by September 14 for HOPE's next 10-week session which begins September 18. Call 284-7308 for further information.

Because HOPE can help.

Society of Notre Dame is sponsoring and the Catholic Vision. "The series a lecture series entitled "John Paul II or more recent addresses of the Pope."

The following week Bishop Crowley of South Bend will explore the Pope's reaffirmation of the sacra­ment of reconciliation, a concern for the mystery of the Eucharist builds the mystical body of Christ. The next six lectures are sched­uled on Wednesday evenings throughout the semester. On Sept. 19, Father Francis Cafarelli, assistant vice president, will discuss John Paul II's statement that Scripture should be read as "the personal teaching of God."

The next six lectures are sched­uled on Wednesday evenings throughout the semester. On Sept. 19, Father Francis Cafarelli, assistant vice president, will discuss John Paul II's statement that Scripture should be read as "the personal teaching of God."

The following week Bishop Crowley of South Bend will explore the Pope's reaffirmation of the sacra­ment of reconciliation, a concern for which the Pope convened bishops around the world last year. This talk will present the understanding of freedom and morality which under­lies the Pope's insistence upon the importance of Confession.

The Observer
Thursday, September 13, 1984 — page 6

THIRD ANNUAL ROSARY
In Reformation for the Crime of Abortion
TONIGHT - 6:30 p.m.
In front of Washington Hall

BE THERE!!

ROARY
"Chips" Michiana's Newest Night Spot
Thru. Night Special Import $1 90
333 4898 Live Bands... DJ's... Dance Floor... No Cover!
*Located: Take Eddy St. to Mish Av... First Stop Light Turn Right

BAKER'S BIKE SHOP Inc.
SCHWINN Bicycles
Paris, Accessories, and Service for all Makes 277-8866
NOTE: Bicycle storage available from 11-6-84 to 4-30-85 Call for details
In Roseland one half mile north of campus
on U.S. 31
Closed Sunday and Monday

STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD
RECORD STORE
IN LaFORTUNE
Stop by and check it out!!

SMC plans week for alcohol awareness

By MARY LOUISE PADDEN
News Staff

Plans were finalized for an Alcohol Awareness Week at the Saint Mary's Planning Board last night. The week will not only emphasize the harmful effects of alcohol, but also the full extent of laws con­cerning consumption of alcohol, public intoxication, and drunk driving. Dates and a full schedule of events will be released as soon as possible.

Thursday, September 13, 1984 — page 6

"Chips" Michiana's Newest Night Spot
Thru. Night Special Import $1 90
333 4898 Live Bands... DJ's... Dance Floor... No Cover!
*Located: Take Eddy St. to Mish Av... First Stop Light Turn Right

BAKER'S BIKE SHOP Inc.
SCHWINN Bicycles
Paris, Accessories, and Service for all Makes 277-8866
NOTE: Bicycle storage available from 11-6-84 to 4-30-85 Call for details
In Roseland one half mile north of campus
on U.S. 31
Closed Sunday and Monday

STUDENT ACTIVITIES BOARD
RECORD STORE
IN LaFORTUNE
Stop by and check it out!!

SMC plans week for alcohol awareness

By MARY LOUISE PADDEN
News Staff

Plans were finalized for an Alcohol Awareness Week at the Saint Mary's Planning Board last night. The week will not only emphasize the harmful effects of alcohol, but also the full extent of laws con­cerning consumption of alcohol, public intoxication, and drunk driving. Dates and a full schedule of events will be released as soon as possible.

Thursday, September 13, 1984 — page 6
Cuomo leaves Catholicism in the pew

Thursday, September 13, 1984 — page 7

Viewpoint

Chris Julka
guest column

With the sudden conservative shift in the mood of the country, many left of center are trying to preserve the old line, although at times they have to do so in a way which is both antithetical and unpleasant. To weather the at least temporarily ashore and deserted now that the great liberal climate of the Reagan '80's.

Governor Mario Cuomo stands as an example of the old Democratic ethic he has shaped to accommodate the conservative climate of the 1980's. The excellent Chicago Viewpoint, which, when unsuccessful, halted crucial field. The coach has spoken of improving ex-

With the recent media furor over the rela-

This campus rose up in "righteous" indigna-

Mario Cuomo leaves Catholicism in the pew philosophical and morally bankrupt. The Church's teaching is perfectly specific on this particular point. In its arrogance imposing the belief on its citizens that murder, for instance, should not be committed. Granted, in doing so, one must realize that the argument is really not that tenable to begin

Cuomo's second statement and wonder why,

Mario Cuomo leaves Catholicism in the pew

It's time for a successor

Dear Editor,

In demonstrating the progress Notre Dame's football program has made over the past three years of his leadership, Gerry Faust put it all together last Saturday play calls, key football coaching exceptions, even a few

It's hard to have any fault rationale which would explain the debate. After all, the point is repeatedly made that the seasons were explained away in terms of bitter coach-sportsmanship feuds (the likes of Bob Crabbe and Tony Hunter). At last, this was supposed to be this "head.

But Faust's rationales have rarely borne much relation to what's happening on the field. The coach has spoken of improved ex-

In victory, many Notre Dame graduates have grumbled at the mixture of pigskin and piety. The excellent Chicago SunTimes investigative piece by Phil Hersh documented how the coach had badgered people to pray on the sidelines when they should have been working the sidelines blackboards on pass coverage. When Faust

The killing must stop

In September, Thursday, 13, at 8:00 pm, the lecture will be addressed by one of the most politically powerful Catholics in America. The speech will concern the role of the Catholic politician and the sponsor will be our departm ent of theology.

Moreover, abortion can be outlawed in a purely secular fashion. With the enactment of anti-abortion legislation, for instance, public-health abortion prayer can still be banned from the schools, and not even the First Amendment that hallowed document bequeathed to us from the Most High (Thomas Jefferson) - need be violated. In fact, the abortion of a child can be entirely with the parental consent of the crown, the latter of which Cuomo fears as such an ominous danger. It would be a major difference, after all, be-

Cuomo leaves Catholicism in the pew

P.O. Box Q

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556

(219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Unwritten editorial policy represents the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief

Bob Vonderheide

Mark Worschefski

Sarah Hamilton

Anne Monastyrsky

Dave Grofe

Mary Healy

Pete Lacher

Managing Editor

Pete Lacher

Features Editor

Dave Grofe

Photo Editor

Pete Lacher

Executive Editor

Pete Lacher

Features Editor

Dave Grofe

Photo Editor

Pete Lacher

Managing Editor

Bob Vonderheide

Mark Worschefski

Sarah Hamilton

Anne Monastyrsky

Dave Grofe

Mary Healy

Pete Lacher

Business Manager

Dave Taciak

Controlled

Mark Horne

Ad/Advertising Manager

Ann Cregg

Circulation Manager

Jeff O'Neill

Systems Manager

Kevin Williams

Founded November 3, 1966

Department Managers

Ann Cregg
Michigan State/Notre Dame tickets are available on first come, first served basis starting today at the Student Union Record Store in LaFortune. The cost is $12. Two tickets may be bought at a time. The Observer

Classifieds

NOTICES

LOST/FOUND

Bridge Bridge

Who has a black and white Cat that was last seen at 277-4670 for more information.

TYPING SERVICE

Bridge Bridge

Do you know someone who's missing a black and white cat? Call 277-4670. Bridge Bridge.

The Badlands

Lost and Found

Are you in need of financial aid? The Career Center has several options that you might be interested in. Stop by the Career Center today to see what options are available.

---

Sports Briefs

The Notre Dame hockey team will hold an organizational meeting today at 4:30 p.m. in the ACC football stadium. All members of the team will be expected to attend and bring a $10 fee. For more information, see Sean at 277-5993.

The Squash Club will hold a meeting tomorrow at 7 p.m. in the Mirage. All members of the squash club are invited to attend.

---

Drum Driving Is a Criminal Offense

It's no accident.
Soccer
continued from page 12
leads his actions because you can see he’s always holding his head up high. Grace also is impressed by the way his captains inspire the team. Herdegen is the silent inspiration for the squad, while Delano is the vocal leader.

“His and Dom are reciprocals of each other, which is good,” Grace says. “Rich leads more by example. He leads by showing the players what they should do. You need someone to lead by example.”

“Rich shows the kids how it should be done and the class has to be shown when we play. He gets beat up a lot because he is such a tall cat,” Herdegen says.

Herdegen says that he has accepted his position as captain, and he feels comfortable as a silent leader.

“I just set an example on the field,” he says. “When I became a captain, I said one of the prime reasons was to set an example and just lead the team on the field. I leave the other aspects of being a captain to Steve Chang and Dominick off the field.”

Herdegen makes his presence known to both his teammates and his opponents by his play, and there are some identifying characteristics of the English forward by which many fans have come to know him. The most obvious is his number-nine jersey, but the most unique identifying feature is his pair of shoes — both are black, but one has a blue stripe on the side, and the other has a white stripe.

“Everyone asks me (about that),” he says. “I just lost one at the Monmouth State game (last year) I’ve got a couple pairs of shoes and I just started wearing the white and the blue ones, and it turned into a lucky thing all of a sudden. I’ve got new pairs of shoes, but I still like the old white and blue ones.”

Another thing one may notice about Herdegen is the way his teammates respectfully call him “Old Man.” The name is not a reference to his experience or his age (he is 21), but rather a bit of teasing about his London accent. Herdegen admits, “and I guess I said old man too much, and it sort of came right back in the face. I don’t mind that; it’s all right.”

Herdegen has several goals for the near future involving his soccer career. The first is for the Irish to gain a bid in the NCAA tournament.

“Ever since I got here, I think the main goal is, to me, to make the NCAA tournament,” he says.

After Herdegen, a business major, graduates in May, he says he will return to England.

“I look forward to playing next year,” he hopes. “I’m going back to England to try to play professionally there.”

“Originally, I had planned to make a future out here,” Herdegen explains, “but I miss England too much. I grew up there. I’ve been going back there every summer, and I just can’t settle down anywhere. If not, I’ll go into business. It (playing professional soccer) has been a goal since I was a child.”

In the immediate future, however, there are soccer games to play for Notre Dame, and Herdegen will be leading the scoring charge for the Irish.

“Look out, Kevin Lovejoy; Old Man is watching you.”

Tennis
continued from page 12
For the past two years while also claiming victory in every small college dual match in which they have played during that span, the Belles have a record of 4-1, which is far better than most, but that he would have to wait and see how they fared in match play.

Killeen maintains a slightly different attitude towards the meaning of winning and success.

“It is always fun to win, but that is not everything. If your only goal was to win all, all you would have to do is schedule people you could beat. We normally schedule a lot of Division I, scholarship-awarding schools. We normally do not beat them, but the ladies would rather do that and not have as good a record and get the practice and the tough competition rather than playing the schools that are in our division and being 22-0 every year.”

This philosophy seems to be working for the Belles as they have placed tenth in the NAIA nationals for the past two years, while also being a national runner-up in the Academic Award of Honor.

“I have been pretty pleased over the past two years, and I have reason to be optimistic for this year,” said Killeen. “We hope to be able to continue building the team and consider a good team.”

Practicing the philosophy that he preaches, Killeen has quite a season scheduled for his players. After tonight’s match at Chicago, the Belles have a day off before heading to Anderson for a Tuesday night match with Anderson College and then to Indianapolis for an afternoon duel with Western Kentucky.

Hockey
continued from page 12
in the ACC, 1984-85 co-captains senior Brent Chapman and junior Bob Thebus will lead the team through captains’ practices and dryland workouts beginning Sept. 7.

With hockey now back in a varsity status, Smith says his Irish team eagerly awaits the chance to prove that hockey is far real at Notre Dame.

“We have what this season is my idea of a schedule,” notes Smith. “We will be challenged each time and this is what we need. It should certainly provide interesting, exciting hockey.”

Ticket Manager Mike Bobinski has announced that once again ND-SMC students will be admitted free with their student ID’s. Faculty and staff will be charged $4.00, while regular adult admission will be $2.00.
Defense continued from page 12
depleted secondary.

Haywood began the 1983 season as a returning starter at flanker, but a torn thigh muscle, suffered during a preseason workout, severely hampered his progress. He played in only two games in '83 before aggravation of the injury ended his season.

Francisco had an outstanding freshman season as a tailback, finishing third on the team in rushing. His switch was made primarily because of his desire to better contribute to the team, which he will certainly have a chance to do.

These players are great athletes and have had little difficulty in making this change. Some patience is needed, however, as they learn all the ins and outs of their respective positions.

Considering the athletic abilities and talents which these players possess, it should not take long for them to perform to the level at which they are capable. Hopefully some valuable lessons were learned and some experience gained in Indianapolis last Saturday. If so, there will be a much different outcome this week against Michigan State.

Score's mark eclipsed

New York Dwight Gooden of the New York Mets became baseball's all-time rookie strikeout king last night, breaking Herb Score's 29-year-old single-season record.

Gooden, who broke the National League mark in his previous outing, passed Score with his 11th strikeout of the game against Pittsburgh, getting Marvell Wynne on a 2-2 fastball in the sixth inning. That gave him 246 for the season, one more than Score achieved in his rookie year, 1955, with the Cleveland Indians.

The NL mark of 227, set by Grover Cleveland Alexander of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1911, fell last Friday night as Gooden threw a one-hitter to beat the Chicago Cubs 10-0, striking out 11.

Gooden, at 19 the youngest player in the majors, came into Wednesday night's game needing 10 strikeouts to tie the record and 11 to break it. He was averaging 10.96 strikeouts per nine innings, a major-league single-season record pace. The all-time record for strikeout ratio is 10.71 per nine innings by Sam McDowell of Cleveland in 1965.

In addition to breaking the rookie strikeout mark, Gooden set a club record by striking out 10 or more batters in his 14th game. Tom Seaver had 10 or more strikeouts in 13 games in 1971 with the Mets.

DON'T WASTE YOUR TIME STUDYING.

For the time of your life in college, come to one of our free One Hour Evelyn Wood Seminars.

We'll show you the way to have more free time by cutting your study time in half. While you raise your grade point. There's a lot more to college than textbooks, tests, and term papers. And Evelyn Wood is the way to enjoy it.

Now's the time to make your move. Bring a friend and join us at our seminar. It's only an hour. It's free. And it's definitely not a waste of time.

Free Seminar Schedule LOCATION: CENTER FOR CONTINUING EDUCATION (DIRECTLY ACROSS FROM MORRIS INN ON NOTRE DAME AVE.) - ROOM 200

THURSDAY 9/13 1pm, 3pm, & 5pm
SATURDAY 9/15 11am & 1pm

Choose the day and time most convenient for you. Reservations not necessary. For more information call 1(800) 447-READ.
Today

Thursday, September 13, 1984 — page 11

Tank McNamara

Today

COMING UP SATURDAY: MSU on the BIG SCREEN

Win hats, mirrors, t-shirts, free drafts
9 - close DJ FOOD DANCING

Jeff Millar & Bill Hinds

Psycho Chicken

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Campus

... and GRILL

THURSDAY
LITTLE KINGS EXTRAVAGANZA
50’ 14 oz. Drafts
Raffle every 20 minutes
Win hats, mirrors, t-shirts, free drafts
9 - close DJ FOOD DANCING

FRIDAY
HAPPY HOUR
Great food and brew to relax and enjoy
MSU PEP RALLY
drink specials to cheer
ND to Victory

TONIGHT
Eng. aud.
JAMES BOND 007
"THE MAN WITH THE GOLDEN GUN"

Tomorrow Night
and
Saturday Night
Terms of Endearment

© 1984 Tribune Media Services, Inc.
All Rights Reserved

191384
Competing on varsity level in ’84, hockey team faces tough schedule

By ED DOMANSKY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame Hockey team may have spent the 1983-84 season competing on the club level, but the 1984-85 campaign will offer something different. It will mark the return of varsity hockey to the Golden Dome.

Official approval, raising hockey back to the varsity status it had enjoyed during its first 14 seasons, came from the Faculty Board in control of athletics at its Feb. 29th meeting.

For 16th-year coach Charles "Lefty" Smith and his team, the move back to varsity level will introduce a more highly competitive schedule. "We're extremely pleased to be back as a varsity sport," says Smith. "The status of hockey on the club level across the nation is thoroughly beating substantially lesser talented teams is minimal compared to playing tight, close-checking games. "Last year was good in print, but many games were so lopsided that we were putting other schools in a bad position," adds Smith. "You would rather lose by one or two goals and have a good game, than beat someone by ten or 15 goals."

Forgone from the new 31-game schedule are such Central States Collegiate Hockey League powers as Illinois State, Illinois, Northwestern and Saint Norbert.

In their places, the new independent Notre Dame squad will add the likes of Air Force, Princeton, Anchorage, Fairbanks and a trio of competitive tournaments.

Featuring Irish tournament appearances will come at the Phoenix Mutual Tournament in Hartford, Conn., the Lake Forest Tournament and the Independent Invitational in Anchorage, Alaska.

The Phoenix Mutual will put the Irish up against Yale, Colgate, Air Force and Fairbanks.

In addition, when tryouts begin Oct. 1, ten freshmen will be introduced at his Irish team, Killeen has teamed senior Renee Casey, who boasts three years experience to balance the team at number four singles and number one doubles.

As a freshman, finds herself solidly positioned as the number three singles player and anchoring the number two doubles team.

"An exciting captain is always an asset," says Tom Daley. "He has a real knack for going to the center forward can be effective. "He's an inspiring captain by his experiences have helped me adapt to the move back to varsity level."

"We should have even more confidence; he does, in fact, have his own. We had goal makers like Pat Szanto - where the last two years couldn't put the ball in the goal. It's something that I have".

"Our primary wish for him. Secondly, he has a real knack for going to the center forward can be effective. "He's an inspiring captain is always an asset," says Tom Daley. "He has a real knack for going to the center forward can be effective. "He's an inspiring captain is always an asset," says Tom Daley. "He has a real knack for going to the center forward can be effective. "He's an inspiring captain is always an asset," says Tom Daley. "He has a real knack for going to the center forward can be effective."