New calendar ‘honors’ women of Notre Dame for their achievements

By MICHAEL ELLIOTT

The 1985 Women of Notre Dame calendar, brainchild of residents of Holy Cross Hall, presents a new twist on the traditional “calendar girl” compilation. This first calendar since last year’s “Men of Notre Dame” calendar will spotlight 12 women selected on the basis of appearance, poise, and contribution to the University. Selections will be made by a seven-member committee from Holy Cross.

George Rouhan, South Quad rector and representative of Alumni Hall, said he supported the South Quad rectors and found similar reaction. “I think it’s a wonderful idea for the weekend, and Steve Tsvaygers, co-chairman, presented their plan for the event. The program included an organizational chart of the I.L.S. institute, an outline of registration procedures, a liability waiver and a seminar with Charles Rice of the Law School, a sample register that would be used and see MEETING, page 5.

Lil’ Sis Week and fate postponed a meeting

By DAN MCCULLOUGH

The fate of the Lil’ Sibs weekend is still in limbo last night as Campus Life Council meeting. Reservations put forth by North Quad directors and later Father Mario Pedi, rector of St. Edward’s Holy Cross. Pedi said he polled most of the South Quad rector’s resident-terms committee, an outline of registration procedures, a liability waiver and a seminar with Charles Rice of the Law School, a sample register that would be used and see MEETING, page 5.

Is there discrimination in academics at Notre Dame?

By FRANK LIPO

The statistics reveal that men and women do not choose enrollment in the four colleges equally. Last year 2,956 students were enrolled in the four colleges, 3,959 men and 1,607 women. Of the total men, 3,130 or 53.1 percent, were enrolled in the College of Arts and Letters while 572, or 44.8 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

1,069 men, or 27 percent of the total men, were enrolled in the College of Business Administration while 369 women, or 22.9 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

The College of Engineering had 998 men, or 25.2 percent of the total men, enrolled in it. Two hundred and seven women, or 12.9 percent of the total women were enrolled in that college.

Five hundred and eighty-two men, or 14.5 percent of the total men, were enrolled in the College of Science while 279 women, or 17.4 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

The satire reveals that men and women do not choose enrollment in the four colleges equally. Last year 2,956 students were enrolled in the four colleges, 3,959 men and 1,607 women. Of the total men, 3,130 or 53.1 percent, were enrolled in the College of Arts and Letters while 572, or 44.8 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

The College of Engineering had 998 men, or 25.2 percent of the total men, enrolled in it. Two hundred and seven women, or 12.9 percent of the total women were enrolled in that college.

Five hundred and eighty-two men, or 14.5 percent of the total men, were enrolled in the College of Science while 279 women, or 17.4 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

The College of Engineering had 998 men, or 25.2 percent of the total men, enrolled in it. Two hundred and seven women, or 12.9 percent of the total women were enrolled in that college.

Five hundred and eighty-two men, or 14.5 percent of the total men, were enrolled in the College of Science while 279 women, or 17.4 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

The College of Engineering had 998 men, or 25.2 percent of the total men, enrolled in it. Two hundred and seven women, or 12.9 percent of the total women were enrolled in that college.

Five hundred and eighty-two men, or 14.5 percent of the total men, were enrolled in the College of Science while 279 women, or 17.4 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

The College of Engineering had 998 men, or 25.2 percent of the total men, enrolled in it. Two hundred and seven women, or 12.9 percent of the total women were enrolled in that college.

Five hundred and eighty-two men, or 14.5 percent of the total men, were enrolled in the College of Science while 279 women, or 17.4 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.

The College of Engineering had 998 men, or 25.2 percent of the total men, enrolled in it. Two hundred and seven women, or 12.9 percent of the total women were enrolled in that college.

Five hundred and eighty-two men, or 14.5 percent of the total men, were enrolled in the College of Science while 279 women, or 17.4 percent of the total women, were enrolled in that college.
In Brief

Student photo I.D. cards are now available for those students who had their I.D. photographed taken on either Enrollment Day (August 24 or 27). The cards may be picked up at the Registrar’s Office (215 Administration Building), beginning Thursday, Sept. 27, from 8 to 11:30 a.m. and 12:30 to 3 p.m. Students must return both temporary I.D. cards (the plastic Vali-dine card and the paper temporary card) in order to pick up their new student photo I.D. cards. There will be a $4.00 charge for each lost temporary card.

The SMC Programming Board met last night at Saint Mary’s. The main topic of discussion was the United Way Drive, of special interest to Saint Mary’s as this year’s poster child is the United Way. The drive, chaired by Maureen Meagher, begins this Sunday at SMC and each hall and class will sponsor fundraisers, aiming for the goal of 42 student. Also discussed was Alco-Raid Awareness Week (Oct. 1-4) and Oktoberfest (Oct. 8-11). The Observer

Banning sale of beef by the pitcher would cut down on drinking problems significantly, says research by a Virginia Tech psychology professor. Dr. Scott Geller discussed his study of 850 college students who had been divided into groups that drank their beverages in terms of over 300 students in three campus-area bars and found students, on average, drink 35 ounces of beer per person when it’s served in a pitcher. They drink an average 15 ounces from a bottle and 12 ounces from a glass. A pitcher provides more than most want to drink, Geller told the American Psychological Association, but students figure beer is cheaper by the pitcher and, once it’s ordered, feel compelled to compelled to “clean their plates.” The Observer

Of Interest

The Polish Ambassador to Japan, who defected to America in 1981 rather than serve in the new military regime, will visit Notre Dame as the Visiting John A. O’Brien, Professor of Theology. In the fall of 1985 he will come to Notre Dame as the Visiting

A Chilean lunch will be served from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns. The menu includes Chilean Chicken Soup, homemade bread, salad, dessert and a beverage. The cost is $3. All proceeds will benefit a Chilean family. All are welcome. The Observer

Father Roland E. Murphy, internationally known biblical expert, will deliver a lecture entitled “Love Poetry in the Bible” at Saint Mary’s’ O’Laughlin Auditorium on today at 7:30 p.m. The lecture is free and open to the public. Father Murphy, the George Washington Ivey Professor of Biblical Studies at the Divinity School of the University of Chicago, has written the Song of Songs. His lecture will focus on this book as an example of how to read the books of the Old Testament. Murphy has served as editor-in-chief, and as a member of the editorial board, of the Catholic Biblical Quarterly and is a member of several publications’ editorial boards. In the fall of 1985 he will come to Notre Dame as the Visiting John A. O’Brien, Professor of Theology. The Observer

Crosby, Stills and Nash will be coming to the Notre Dame ACC October 29. A ticket lottery will be held today from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the student Activities Board Office on the 2nd Floor of Lafutrine. The Observer

A Mass Communication Club is being formed at Saint Mary’s for communication majors and intended majors. An organizational meeting will be held tonight at 7:30 in room 227 Moreau Hall. All interested Saint Mary’s students are invited to attend. Call Ann Murphy at 284-5011 with any questions. The Observer

Weather

Mostly cloudy and cool today with a 60 percent chance of rain this afternoon. A high of 94 today with a low of 66. Tomorrow we should see some clearing with a high of 95, but it will continue cool. There is even a chance to see a first Indiana front of the year tomorrow morning. AP

The Observer

When getting ahead turns to treading water

Amy Stephan
Assistant News Editor
Inside Thursday

And assuming we survive the onslaught, we’ll spend the rest of the semester treading water, trying to catch up, or at least stay above the surface.

We half-heartedly reach for the remnants of our other heavier goals and chop them down into easy-to-digest pieces.

We might make it to some of our classes, we might take the stairs occasionally, the Irish might win a football game.

And before too long, even these reduced goals have to be chopped up and trimmed down to size. We, as students, are constantly faced with impossible or (semi)impossible tasks. And, for the most part, we rashly set out to conquer all our goals, but instead are conquered by them.

We could set back and lament our fate as students caught in a no-win situation, or we could, perhaps, try a new approach.

Although it seems ludicrous, many of us believe that if we once fail to meet our goals we might as well give up. “I didn’t run yesterday, so why bother today?” Too often, one failure makes us see ourselves as failures.

And often we try to do everything, not stepping back to see what is most important and doing that first. Setting priorities takes time, something most of us have in short supply, but those who bother to set them claim it’s time well-invested.

Two embarrassingly basic ideas: set priorities and learn to take small failures in stride. Yet if all of us followed these guidelines, there would be a lot less caffeine consumed on campus.

So Suzy Dooner Booms in a current of misplaced goals, and we hear her murmur as she drifts along: “I still set priorities, I still live with failures.”

Hang in there, Suzy. It’s only September.

Due to a reporting error, Father Richard McPhie’s title was incorrectly stated in an article on Henry Hyde on Tuesday. Father McPhie is chairman of the theology department.

Gem Star

HAPPY HOUR 6 - 8

Prof, stop by to chat on your way home and grab a burger!

★ Come Dance to the Live Sounds of Spunk

10 p.m. - 2 a.m. - A HOT NEW BAND WITH EXCITING LIVE MUSIC

2 Forms of ID Required

Today’s issue was produced by

Dorang Esther ... Lee Changhi Byung Chang Ahn
Gangho Ahn ... Paul Brevet
Laynie S ... Mark Wezchod, Carollie Welu
Cyprian ... Cathryn, Jennifer Jiguer
Gangho Ahn ... Nicka Jerold
Copy Editor ... Mark Poster
Sports Copy Editor ... Larry Bock
Visualized Layout ... Byron Phyrer
Features Copy Editor ... Mark Thompson
Features Layout ... Mary Healy
Daily Editor ... Donna Garfinkel
SMC Guy Editor ... Carolyn Kelly
Art Director ... Suzanne, Marianne, Marina
Photographer ... Chris McLean

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
China and Britain promise freedom to 1997 Hong Kong

Associated Press

PEKING - China and Britain initialed a pact yesterday for post-colonial Hong Kong in the year 1997, promising people the right to strike, speak freely, pray and govern themselves in a capitalist society - but ceding Peking's ultimate authority.

The agreement, revealed after two years of secret negotiations, specifies that the prosperous free port ruled by Britain for 143 years will become a special administrative region of Communist China when the British lease expires July 1, 1997.

In precise detail, the document guarantees almost every right that Hong Kong residents now enjoy, and promises that those liberties "will remain unchanged for 50 years" after the handover date.

The crown colony had anxiously awaited the details of the pact and first reactions to the accord were warm. Hong Kong, with its 5.5 million people, 98 percent of them Chinese, has been the most populous and economically successful remnant of the once mighty British empire.

The draft agreement was released in Hong Kong nine hours after it was initialed in Peking by British Ambassador Sir Richards Evans and Chinese Vice Foreign Minister Zhao Nan, the chief negotiators, in a ceremony seen live on television in Hong Kong.

The colony ranks third among world financial centers, behind New York and London. The United States is Hong Kong's biggest market. Two-way trade is more than $8 billion a year, nearly twice the volume of U.S. trade with China.

President Ronald Reagan addresses the annual meeting of the IMF and the World Bank Tuesday in Washington. Seated from left to right are: Jacques de Larosiere, IMF managing director; Leo Van Houtan, IMF secretary; Noboru Takehira, chairman of the meeting; Timothy Thaddeus, secretary of the World Bank; and A.W. Clausen, World Bank president.

Senate approves legislation concerning health warnings

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Senate today approved legislation replacing the general health warning on cigarette packages with four alternating warnings about the specific dangers associated with smoking.

The legislation, approved on a voice vote, now goes to the House, where supporters predicted speedy approval.

Under the amendment, a section of the bill listing the surgeon general's findings about smoking was removed from the legislation although it will appear in a report accompanying the bill.

Sen. Wendell H. Ford, D-Ky., has said that was done because of concerns that putting the findings in the actual bill would give them the force of statutory language and, possibly, raise product liability problems.

The surgeon general's findings state, in part, that "cigarette smoking is the largest preventable cause of illness and premature death in the United States, and is associated with the unnecessary deaths of over 500,000 Americans annually."

The four new warnings would state, following "Surgeon General's Warning":

- "Smoking causes lung cancer, heart disease, emphysema and may complicate pregnancy."
- " Quitting smoking now greatly reduces serious risks to your health."
- "Smoking by pregnant women may result in fetal injury, premature birth and low birth weight."
- "Cigarette smoke contains carbon monoxide."

STUDENT LOTTERY FOR Crosby, Stills & Nash

Coming Monday, October 29 to Notre Dame ACC

Lottery is this Thursday, Sept 27 at the Student Activities Bldg. Student Govenment offices on 2nd Floor LaFerronte 9:00 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.

Winners Announced Friday

Tickets sold on Saturday

4 tickets can be purchased per winning entry!!

GOOD SEATS! FLOOR & BOX

$13 each

EASY RIDER

TO AND FROM CHICAGO'S O'HARE EVERY 2 HOURS EVERY DAY

United Limo

1-800-888-4123

767-6993 255-3068

CALL 5 AM TO 1 AM
SMC artist-in-residence announced

Special to the Observer

Muriel Magenta, artist and professor of art at Arizona State University will serve as artist-in-residence at Saint Mary's October 8-17. She will give two public presentations during her visit.

She will present the lecture "In Defense of a Hairdo: Art Issues of the 90s" at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, October 9, in Carroll Hall of the Madeleva Classroom Building. During the lecture, she will relate her work to world developments in the 1970s and 80s and look ahead to the present day, October 9, in Carroll Hall of the Madeleva Classroom Building. She will present the lecture "In Defense of a Hairdo: Art Issues of the 90s" at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday, October 9, in Carroll Hall of the Madeleva Classroom Building. During the lecture, she will relate her work to world developments in the 1970s and 80s and look ahead to the present day.

Magenta and the group of students who collaborate throughout her residency at the college will execute her film "Bride" is in the National Film Collection of the Library of Congress and was exhibited at the World Conference of Women in Copenhagen in 1980.

Magenta exhibits widely on a national level and is recognized for her large walk-in art environments, films, video art and photo-process wall pieces. Her exhibitions include solo and group shows at A.I.R. Gallery, New York, The Los Angeles Institute of Contemporary Art, University of Southern California, Los Angeles; Marian Locks Gallery, Philadelphia; Rugers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey; Phoenix Art Museum, Tucson Art Museum; The Scottsdale Center for the Arts; and the Yares Gallery, Scottsdale. Her film "Bride" is in the National Film Collection of the Library of Congress and was exhibited at the World Conference of Women in Copenhagen in 1980.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

Magenta exhibits widely on a national level and is recognized for her large walk-in art environments, films, video art and photo-process wall pieces. Her exhibitions include solo and group shows at A.I.R. Gallery, New York, The Los Angeles Institute of Contemporary Art, University of Southern California, Los Angeles; Marian Locks Gallery, Philadelphia; Rugers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey; Phoenix Art Museum, Tucson Art Museum; The Scottsdale Center for the Arts; and the Yares Gallery, Scottsdale. Her film "Bride" is in the National Film Collection of the Library of Congress and was exhibited at the World Conference of Women in Copenhagen in 1980.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

Magenta exhibits widely on a national level and is recognized for her large walk-in art environments, films, video art and photo-process wall pieces. Her exhibitions include solo and group shows at A.I.R. Gallery, New York, The Los Angeles Institute of Contemporary Art, University of Southern California, Los Angeles; Marian Locks Gallery, Philadelphia; Rugers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey; Phoenix Art Museum, Tucson Art Museum; The Scottsdale Center for the Arts; and the Yares Gallery, Scottsdale. Her film "Bride" is in the National Film Collection of the Library of Congress and was exhibited at the World Conference of Women in Copenhagen in 1980.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

Magenta exhibits widely on a national level and is recognized for her large walk-in art environments, films, video art and photo-process wall pieces. Her exhibitions include solo and group shows at A.I.R. Gallery, New York, The Los Angeles Institute of Contemporary Art, University of Southern California, Los Angeles; Marian Locks Gallery, Philadelphia; Rugers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey; Phoenix Art Museum, Tucson Art Museum; The Scottsdale Center for the Arts; and the Yares Gallery, Scottsdale. Her film "Bride" is in the National Film Collection of the Library of Congress and was exhibited at the World Conference of Women in Copenhagen in 1980.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

Magenta exhibits widely on a national level and is recognized for her large walk-in art environments, films, video art and photo-process wall pieces. Her exhibitions include solo and group shows at A.I.R. Gallery, New York, The Los Angeles Institute of Contemporary Art, University of Southern California, Los Angeles; Marian Locks Gallery, Philadelphia; Rugers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey; Phoenix Art Museum, Tucson Art Museum; The Scottsdale Center for the Arts; and the Yares Gallery, Scottsdale. Her film "Bride" is in the National Film Collection of the Library of Congress and was exhibited at the World Conference of Women in Copenhagen in 1980.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.

Magenta exhibits widely on a national level and is recognized for her large walk-in art environments, films, video art and photo-process wall pieces. Her exhibitions include solo and group shows at A.I.R. Gallery, New York, The Los Angeles Institute of Contemporary Art, University of Southern California, Los Angeles; Marian Locks Gallery, Philadelphia; Rugers University, New Brunswick, New Jersey; Phoenix Art Museum, Tucson Art Museum; The Scottsdale Center for the Arts; and the Yares Gallery, Scottsdale. Her film "Bride" is in the National Film Collection of the Library of Congress and was exhibited at the World Conference of Women in Copenhagen in 1980.

Magenta is equally known for her work in feminist art organizations. She is currently serving as 1982-84 president of the National Women's Caucus for Art, the largest women's art organization in the nation. She was also the founder of Woman Image Now, Arizona State University's student organization supporting women in the visual arts. Woman Image Now is the largest campus organization in the country, with 375 active members.
Meeting
continued from page 1

to sign up 125 titles upon entering the residence hall, a tentative schedule of events and a list of volunteers already signed up to work on the weekend.

But some council members still wanted to show it as a list of the returers first. "As 1 remember, the hall returers have this dumped on them last time," said Tyson. "The office of Student Affairs ordered them to comply, I just went to go on the record right now by saying this vice president is not going to do that. I will have to be convinced that not just Chuck Lennon and the Alumni Board approve of this event."

Colleges
continued from page 1

effect the decision of a student to enroll in a particular college, among them academic background and parental pressure.

Dean Emil T. Hofman of the Freshman Year of Studies said, "We (at the Freshman Year of Studies) do not act as the agent for any major or any college." He added the Freshman Year of Studies office tries to give the freshmen as much information as they need.

"principles (of counselling)" are the same, whether for men or for women. There is no sex bias at all in the Freshmen Year of Studies," he said. Hofman added that there is a myth that men and women have different levels of academic performance at Notre Dame. He said, "The average GPA of Notre Dame women has an insignificant difference to the average GPA of Notre Dame men."

Assistant Arts and Letters Dean Robert Waddick said, "Although it may sound archaic, engineering is a relatively new field for women in our society." He said he saw the nu­ erical difference of women in the respective colleges as not statistically significant and that since women have been admitted to the University, the percentage of art and letter women to total women has been dropping while the percentage of engineering women has been rising. In 1974-11, 11 women graduated from Notre Dame. There were 64 arts and letters graduates and only 2 engineers. He said it is a slow process, but it is moving toward equilibrium.

Waddick recalled that a "woman's job" used to be in the fields of nursing or teaching. Now, he says, the path is opened to them in a wide variety of fields. He said that more and more women are opting for graduate school, law school or medical school. He expressed the hope that the narrowing of the gap between men and women is a societal trend and is not limited to an academic setting.

Kitty Arnold, director of career dem ic setting.

Arnold added that her personal theory is that there are more men who choose engineering at Notre Dame because there is a "comfort level factor" in any human enterprise. This factor is simply an indication of whether an individual feels comfortable fitting into his or her environment with a degree of comfort. Students must overcome this "comfort level factor" if they are to overcome the obstacles that are set towards their goals. She concluded that she believes that it requires an extraordinarily talented and motivated individual to overcome these obstacles.

But Father Steven Gibson, rector of Carroll Hall, disagreed. "I feel kind of alone here, but I really don't share those opinions," he said. "I think one of the classes of things that happens at Notre Dame's Weekend I hope 125 titles could be as classy an affair as that.

Student Body President Rob Bertino motioned to table the issue until Madden and Tayyars make their presentation to all of the hall returers. The council unanimously

In other council businesses, Pat Browne, student senator for district 2, offered his proposal to limit the amount of money students had to pay for books. After council discus­sion, the issue was put aside for further examination.

Wills
continued from page 1

But Wills wants us to exam­
"There are still certain industries that women have trouble avoiding," he said.

Arnold added that her personal theory is that there are more men who choose engineering at Notre Dame because there is a "comfort level factor" in any human enterprise. This factor is simply an indication of whether an individual feels comfortable fitting into his or her environment with a degree of comfort. Students must overcome this "comfort level factor" if they are to overcome the obstacles that are set towards their goals. She concluded that she believes that it requires an extraordinarily talented and motivated individual to overcome these obstacles.

"There are still certain industries that women have trouble avoiding," he said.

Arnold added that her personal theory is that there are more men who choose engineering at Notre Dame because there is a "comfort level factor" in any human enterprise. This factor is simply an indication of whether an individual feels comfortable fitting into his or her environment with a degree of comfort. Students must overcome this "comfort level factor" if they are to overcome the obstacles that are set towards their goals. She concluded that she believes that it requires an extraordinarily talented and motivated individual to overcome these obstacles.

Arnold added that her personal theory is that there are more men who choose engineering at Notre Dame because there is a "comfort level factor" in any human enterprise. This factor is simply an indication of whether an individual feels comfortable fitting into his or her environment with a degree of comfort. Students must overcome this "comfort level factor" if they are to overcome the obstacles that are set towards their goals. She concluded that she believes that it requires an extraordinarily talented and motivated individual to overcome these obstacles.

Arnold added that her personal theory is that there are more men who choose engineering at Notre Dame because there is a "comfort level factor" in any human enterprise. This factor is simply an indication of whether an individual feels comfortable fitting into his or her environment with a degree of comfort. Students must overcome this "comfort level factor" if they are to overcome the obstacles that are set towards their goals. She concluded that she believes that it requires an extraordinarily talented and motivated individual to overcome these obstacles.
On September 14th and 15th, the Decio Faculty Hall Dedication Ceremonies were held. Considering the building's arts-symposium, a dedication mass, a black-tie dinner, and an academic convocation, the two day affair was a momentous occasion.

At first glance, one might think that all these events were held simply to envelop in ceremony, money, and grandeur the building that just began building. However, upon closer inspection, one realizes the microcosm in this over-simplification is the area of academia. In this area, Decio Hall takes a three-fold role.

First, it indeed serves as a symbol of something more. As such, Decio Hall stands tall as a visible monument to Notre Dame's commitment to a liberal education. Located near O'Shaughnessy Hall and the Museum of Art, Decio's imposing presence will be in the background of anyone visiting other university landmarks, such as the Memorial Library and the football stadium.

Second, Decio Hall serves as a working instrument that will encourage dialogue of the liberal arts to all who enter its doors. Housing the faculty of the College of Arts and Letters in larger less dispersed offices, Decio Hall facilitates greater opportunities for student-faculty interaction.

Third, by no longer relegating the faculty to the dark confines of the library basement, Decio Hall will boost faculty dignity, morale, and efficiency. Thanks to the philanthropic Arnpoar and Patricia Decio, not to mention the visiting scholars who expounded their views on the academic values of the Dedication Ceremonies, Decio Faculty Hall is on its way to becoming a building composed of more than brick and mortar. It will become a building teeming with new life and new ideas.

As long as we students, regardless of our major, journey through these halls for the purpose of broadening our intellectual horizons, Decio Faculty Hall will soon become known as a great success at the University of Notre Dame.

Ken Cerabona
guest column

The Decio Foundation is a shaky base

Dear Editor:

After reading of the dedication day pomp and ceremony for the new "Decio Faculty Hall" building, I feel it is my duty to offer a week behind the scene, the facade, and relate my first-hand experience with the Decio Hall dedication crusade. I think it's time everyone knows the guy just because the bottom line of his life is a shaky base.

Some of my constant monitors, I am a writer who completed the Decio Foundation this year for help with a contractual obligation with one of my books. However, after reading in the Office of the President that I was staked off as "the Decio Foundation," I thought that it also serves as a symbol of something more, just as the cross does, but in a different area - that dedication. After attending these ceremonies, I soon realized that this building will never measure more than its simple brick and mortar walls suggest.

This thought first occurred to me as I sat in a crowded Sacred Heart Church on that Friday afternoon of the building's dedication. During President Neil O'Shaughnessy's homily, the Associate Provost Father Edward Mulloy said something that made me think that this was a new way of seeing things. He said that the cross of Jesus Christ was not just an object, rather, it served as a symbol of something more.

Concerning Decio Hall, I thought that it also served as a symbol of something more, just as the cross does, but in a different area - that dedication. After the priest who was at Notre Dame several decades ago and is now being considered for sainthood - or Paradis Hall after Mother Marie Leonie Paradis who was Beatified by Pope John Paul II, I presented the Decio Foundation with a proposal for assistance and the worst happened - not only did a large amount of time go by with no response, but my second letter went totally unanswered even though I enclosed a self-addressed stamped envelope. Delays are deadly in the publishing world.

When the stated purpose of the Decio Foundation is "literary assistance," and the attitude shown writers is pompous and negligent, such as the M emorial Library and the football stadium. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Comments, letters and the Inside Column present the views of the authors. Column writers are members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Ken Cerabona

guest column

P.O Box

The Observer

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Comments, letters and the Inside Column present the views of the authors. Column writers are members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Thursday, September 27, 1984 — page 6

The Decio Foundation is a shaky base

Dear Editor:

After reading of the dedication day pomp and ceremony for the new "Decio Faculty Hall" building, I feel it is my duty to offer a week behind the scene, the facade, and relate my first-hand experience with the Decio Hall dedication crusade. I think it's time everyone knows the guy just because the bottom line of his life is a shaky base.

Some of my constant monitors, I am a writer who completed the Decio Foundation this year for help with a contractual obligation with one of my books. However, after reading in the Office of the President that I was staked off as "the Decio Foundation," I thought that it also serves as a symbol of something more, just as the cross does, but in a different area - that dedication. After attending these ceremonies, I soon realized that this building will never measure more than its simple brick and mortar walls suggest.

This thought first occurred to me as I sat in a crowded Sacred Heart Church on that Friday afternoon of the building's dedication. During President Neil O'Shaughnessy's homily, the Associate Provost Father Edward Mulloy said something that made me think that this was a new way of seeing things. He said that the cross of Jesus Christ was not just an object, rather, it served as a symbol of something more.

Concerning Decio Hall, I thought that it also served as a symbol of something more, just as the cross does, but in a different area - that dedication. After the priest who was at Notre Dame several decades ago and is now being considered for sainthood - or Paradis Hall after Mother Marie Leonie Paradis who was Beatified by Pope John Paul II, I presented the Decio Foundation with a proposal for assistance and the worst happened - not only did a large amount of time go by with no response, but my second letter went totally unanswered even though I enclosed a self-addressed stamped envelope. Delays are deadly in the publishing world.

When the stated purpose of the Decio Foundation is "literary assistance," and the attitude shown writers is pompous and negligent, such as the M emorial Library and the football stadium. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and as objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of a majority of the Editorial Board. Comments, letters and the Inside Column present the views of the authors. Column writers are members of the community, and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.
Movies

The Karate Kid: enjoyable but unbelievable

by Paul Cinimo

I walked into the theater with the intention of seeing both a movie and noticed that I had a choice between "The Karate Kid" and "Rolver." Bo Derek would definitely have been better for me, but my heart went for the voice in my head told me that I should see "The Karate Kid." As usual, the voice wasn’t wrong.

"The Karate Kid" is the story of Daniel LaRusso (played by Ralph Macchio), an Italian kid from New Jersey. He is an extraordinary karate student and his father moved west to California because he was promised a job with a up-and coming computer company. Daniel immediately makes a new friend and is invited to a beach party. At the party he meets a girl named Alii (pronounced "alley") (played by Elizabeth Shue), and they become good friends right away. Alii’s ex-boyfriend shows up, however, with his motorcycle-riding gang of karate friends. Being the new kid on the block, Daniel defends Alii and gets beaten up. Needless to say, the guy refuses to leave him alone, and he continually returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi (Napoleon’s "Pee Wee"), the fix it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

father Gerald J. Merkel

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.

As for the actors, Ralph Macchio is terrific as Daniel. He plays the part as if it really is a misplaced New Jersey boy who was trying desperately to fit in. If he and Alii are pictured in the same shot. In any event, Daniel repeatedly returns home with new bruises on his face. Meanwhile, Daniel has used his spare time to become, with the help of Mr. Miyagi, the fix-it man at his apartment complex. After Miyagi saves Daniel from the gang, he agrees to accompany the boy to the local karate house and talk with the gang’s karate teacher to see if a truce can be arranged. Further, Daniel and Miyagi get their truck; however, Daniel must participate in the region’s karate tournament in a month and the story develops into a “Rocky” type fashion and builds in intensity and feeling to a dramatic climax. Miyagi finally closes his own business on Mr. Alii’s ex-boyfriend on the street.
Sports Briefs

Observer Sports Briefs are accepted Monday through Friday until 4 p.m. at The Observer office on the third floor of Lafortune. Briefs must be written clearly. - The Observer

The St. Mary's Tennis Team ousted a building Valparaiso squad last night, 9-0. The Bells, 4-1, now prepare for their own invitational, this Saturday and Sunday. There will be details of the match in tomorrow's paper. - The Observer

Notre Dame/South Carolina football tickets will go on sale today at gate 10 of the ACC. The tickets are $16 each. - The Observer

Notre Dame/Missouri football tickets are available on a first-come, first-served basis, continuing today at the Student Activities Board record store. - The Observer

The ND women's cross-country team will compete at home this weekend, as the Irish play host for the National Catholic Invitational tomorrow. The race will start at 3 p.m. on the Burke Memorial Golf Course. - The Observer

The off-campus hockey team will be meeting from 12 p.m. to 1 p.m. tomorrow at the ACC. Team members should bring their skates. - The Observer

The ND Skateboard Club will be meeting tonight in the LaFortune Little Theater at 8:30 to discuss plans for ramp construction, a concession stand, and other activities. New members are welcome. - The Observer

Badors Minor League baseball is being accepted at the NFA Office for more information, call 239-6100. - The Observer

Add your name in need of FINANCIAL AID? Skinner or CRT Anne Rieman in the ROTC Building. (239-6264)

Are you in need of financial aid? Skinner or CRT Anne Rieman in the ROTC Building. (239-6264)

Entries for the Dome Six - three-mile runs outdoors this weekend will be accepted at the NFA Office for more information, call 239-6100. - The Observer

A beginners archery clinic will be sponsored by NFA on October 8 and 9 from 4:15 p.m. to 5:30 p.m. Deadline to register in person on the NFA Office by October 5. - The Observer

A horseback-riding trip to Happy Trails Riding Stables at Edwardsburg, MI will be sponsored by NFA on Sunday, October 8. Riders will be at 1 p.m., 2:30 p.m., 4 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. The charge for transportation and 50- to 60-minute rides is $40. Times must be reserved in person at the NFA Office by October 3. - The Observer

A badminton tournament is being held by NFA. Singles and doubles entries for the double-elimination tournament are accepted at the NFA Office until Wednesday, October 5. - The Observer

The Observer Note: Office located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, accepts classified advertisements from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Observer office is located on the third floor of Haggler Center, accepts classifieds from 12:00 p.m. until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday. Deadline for next classifieds is 3:00 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. Charge is 10 cents per five characters per day. Haggar College Center accepts classifieds from 12:30 p.m. until 3 p.m., Monday through Friday. Deadline for next day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid, either in person or by mail. Charge is 10 cents per five characters per day.

Classifieds

Let's go CRAZY Dance Social, Sat. Nov. 29, 9:00 p.m.-3:00 a.m. at the Student Union. $1.00 admission sponsored by the Social Activities Committee.

Jackson continued from page 12

Jackson would rather talk about the team's goals this year.

"I'm a team player so team goals come first," he said. "Of course, we are going to get to a major bowl, but my short range goal is the Miami game." Jackson's personal goal are in keeping with his character, mentioning academics first before football.

"Academically, I want to get above a 3.5 grade point average and make the Dean's List," Jackson said. "Athletically, as long as I do my part to help the team get to a major bowl, that is my ultimate goal.

Jackson definitely has a bright future ahead in both athletics and academics. He is not sure whether he will play professional football or pursue a career in accounting. No matter what he decides, he undoubtably will be successful at it.
Royals maintain lead as Twins fall; Angels gain ground

White Sox 9, Twins 3

CHICAGO - Greg Walker hit a three-run homer to cap a five-run third-inning rally as the Chicago White Sox downed the Minnesota Twins 9-3 last night.

Richard Dotson, 14-15, pitched an eight-hitter against the Twins. The Twins took a 2-0 lead in the first inning as Randy Bush doubled in two hits, walked one and struck out two.

But Black, 17-12, pitching on just three days rest, surrendered just seven hits, walked one and struck out three of them in the sixth. After Gary Pettis grounded out leading off, Dick Schofield singled and Fred Lynn walked. Downing followed with a single off the glove of third baseman George Brett, scoring Schofield and sending Lynn to third. Decinces' single brought Lynn home with the second run.

The Royals threatened in the seventh, loading the bases with two outs, but Romack got out of the inning by retiring Willie Wilson on a fly ball.

White Sox 9, Twins 3

The Observer

We're looking for wharton accounting majors with the GRACE DIMENSION in mind.

The Knights of the Castle

Men's Hair Styling at its finest minutes from campus

202-0312
207-1691

Haircuts

V'skia Terrace Lane
(415) 215

Action from Martin's

$ 5.00

We are only minutes from campus

W. R. Grace & Co

We need outstanding individuals to grow with us. As a major corporate investor, you will work in our corporate headquarters in New York. We prefer majors in accounting, but will consider other majors with a minimum of three accounting courses. Positions open in the Financial Planning and Analysis Division of W. R. Grace & Co.

The Division's job is to assist the Chief Executive Officer in anticipating the business and the strategic and operating issues facing Grace's businesses. It evaluates the five-year business plans with the particular emphasis on chemicals, natural resources and consumer products.

As members of this division, you will review all major contracts, forecasts, budgets and take specialprojects initiated by corporate management, by the operating divisions or by the department offices.

If you're successful, you will spend several years in the Financial Planning and Analysis Division, after which relocation outside of New York City is likely.

Promotion and increased responsibilities will be principally financial, opening up possible moves into positions throughout our international operations.

W. R. Grace is an unusual company, a $6 billion multinational with balanced business interests in chemicals, natural resources and consumer products. In 1983, Grace earned $59 million in these businesses. Success here is due to the combination of professional abilities and individual characteristics. If you like assuming responsibility, and can prove to us, that you are an effective communicator, and can prove to us, that you may have the Grace Dimension, if you have that dimension, the chances are you know, and we would like you to tell us about it, if you show us.

Send your resume and we will arrange to visit with you on campus. Send it to: Joseph Fitzgerald, Manager, College Recruitment, W. R. Grace & Co., 1114 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036.

Buy Observer classifieds

ALLIED SHIPPING

Air & UPS
219 - 277 - 7616
We pack and Ship

HOURS: 1-7 Mon - Fri
10 a.m. - 4 Sat
UNIVERSITY COMMONS
SR 23

The South Carolina Register of Deeds

One step ahead of a changing world.

GRACE

The business of a lifetime

Contact us: 1-800-223-0075

in analyzing the chemicals, natural resources and consumer products. If

We're looking for wharton accounting majors with

the GRACE DIMENSION

GRACE DIMENSION

We need outstanding individuals to grow with us. As a major corporate investor, you will work in our corporate headquarters in New York. We prefer majors in accounting, but will consider other majors with a minimum of three accounting courses. Positions open in the Financial Planning and Analysis Division of W. R. Grace & Co.

The Division's job is to assist the Chief Executive Officer in anticipating the business and the strategic and operating issues facing Grace's businesses. It evaluates the five-year business plans with the particular emphasis on chemicals, natural resources and consumer products.

As members of this division, you will review all major contracts, forecasts, budgets and take specialprojects initiated by corporate management, by the operating divisions or by the department offices.

If you're successful, you will spend several years in the Financial Planning and Analysis Division, after which relocation outside of New York City is likely.

Promotion and increased responsibilities will be principally financial, opening up possible moves into positions throughout our international operations. W. R. Grace is an unusual company, a $6 billion multinational with balanced business interests in chemicals, natural resources and consumer products. In 1983, Grace earned $59 million in these businesses. Success here is due to the combination of professional abilities and individual characteristics. If you like assuming responsibility, and can prove to us, that you are an effective communicator, and can prove to us, that you may have the Grace Dimension, if you have that dimension, the chances are you know, and we would like you to tell us about it, if you show us.

Send your resume and we will arrange to visit with you on campus. Send it to: Joseph Fitzgerald, Manager, College Recruitment, W. R. Grace & Co., 1114 Avenue of the Americas, New York, N.Y. 10036.
Holmes to fight Smith, snubs Gerrie Coetzee

Associated Press

NEW YORK - Unbeaten Larry Holmes, casting aside Gerrie Coet­zee, will fight Janet "Bonecrusher" Smith for the International Boxing Federation heavyweight title Nov. 9 when he continues his quest to catch the ghost of Rocky Marciano. "I'm going to let this fight die," Holmes said at a news conference yesterday, referring to his proposed bout against Coetzee, the World Boxing Association champion.

"I'm going to let that fight die," Holmes added. "I think Coetzee will lose the title. I don't want any more in it at all." Holmes, who will take a 45-0 record with 32 knockouts into the ring at the Riviera Hotel in Las Vegas, Nev., against the little-known, lightly re­garded Smith, 1-1 with 12 knock­outs.

The timetable for Holmes, who will be 35 on Nov. 9, calls for him to fight five more times. If he wins all five, he would be 50-0-0 and surpass the late Marciano's unblemished record of 49-0.

"That's a goal," Holmes said. "You have to have goals if you're going to stay in the game. My goal is to pass Marciano's record. There is nothing else to fight for.

"I want to go down in immor­tality. I want people to remember me."

Smith is ranked only 11th in the heavyweight division by the IBF, ninth by the WBA and 15th by the WBC. That's why when the fight was announced, it quickly came under much criticism as a mismatch.

Holmes said that unifying the divi­sion also was one of his objectives.

"I don't want any more initial (i.e., IBF, WBA, WBC) champion," he said. "I want one champion.

Technical Sales at Texas Instruments Semiconductor Group

We sell technical products to technical people. Therefore, we must speak their language. The reasons engineers go into technical sales are convincing and persuading people, they like being rewarded in proportion to their efforts, and they like the exposure to all levels of management.

We will be interviewing on campus October 10 and 11 for engineers (EE, ME, CHEM) to sell microprocessors, custom circuits and MOS.

Jean Murtagh, Class of 83 will be at the Alumni room of the Morris Inn from 7-9 p.m. Thursday, September 27 to talk about semiconductor sales and opportunities with Texas Instruments.

PROFESSIONAL BUSINESS MANAGERS

U. S. Navy Supply Corps has openings in training ppgars offering early managerial and technical responsibilities. Qualified applicants will receive 10 months paid training program leading to initial managerial positions in one of the following areas:

- Systems Inventory Management
- Acquisition Contracting
- Computer Systems
- Financial Management

Starting salary $17,000 with benefits—rapid advance­ment.

Qualifications: BA/BS degree or be within 12 months of graduation, referring to college background. B average preferred. U.S. citizenship a must. Age limit 29. Call Navy Toll Free 1-800-382-9762

Navy representative on campus Oct. 10 & 11 at the Placement Office

Ferguson injured

Associated Press

INDIANAPOLIS - There was an air of mystery as the Indianapolis Colts and Buffalo Bills prepared for their Sunday National Football League date in the Hoosier Dome.

The Colts, still seeking their first league victory in their new home, didn't know if the Bills would have veteran Joe Ferguson at quarterback.

Ferguson suffered a severely sprained ankle in the closing minutes of last Sunday's 28-26 loss to the New York Jets and was listed as "doubtful" on the Bills' injury report for the game.

Buffalo Coach Kay Stephenson an­nounced yesterday that Joe Dufek would start at quarterback in Indian­apolis if Ferguson wasn't able to play.

Dufek, who helped Yale win an Ivy League title as a senior, has never taken a snap in a regular season NFL game. Dufek, signed by the Bills as a free agent in July 1984, threw 50 passes and completed 26 for 293 yards and one touchdown in three preseason games this year. He was intercepted twice.

The other Bills' backup quarter­back, Kevan Kohler, went into the Jets game after Ferguson was hurt. He threw five passes with a completion and was intercepted once.

Buffalo is winless after four out­ings, but the Colts can't be over­confident after being humiliated 44-7 by the Miami Dolphins last week. The Bills lost to Miami by only four points earlier this month.

The Colts, 1-3, expect Buffalo to test their pass defense no matter who is at quarterback. Coach Frank Kush began the season concerned with his defensive backfield, and those concerns have grown as inju­ries depleted an already weak sec­ondary.

Unable to make a deal, Kush is forced to go with a secondary that has yielded touchdown passes of 47, 50 and 80 yards in the past two games. For the season, the Colts have allowed an average of 255.3 yards passing, placing them 25th among the league's 28 teams.

Buffalo QB situation up in air
Howard, Miller injured
Jackson leads Irish receiving corps

By MARK S. PANKOWSKI

Injuries to several key performers have hurt the Notre Dame receiving corps as a whole, but they have not kept Irish flanker Milt Jackson from picking up where he left off last season.

With fellow wideouts Alvin Miller (northern Kentucky) and Joe Howard (northern hampering) hampered thus far, Jackson has had a lot of pressure on him. But he has responded with statistics that could make '84 his best year ever.

In 1983, Milt Jackson had 23 receptions for 438 yards (17 of those receptions came in the final 4 games). In just three games this year, the junior has made six catches, but now he concentrates more and also makes the more routine receptions.

"You get a little more confident year after year," said Jackson. "Once you've identified a factor to the younger guys."

"They (Miller and Howard) are a vital part of the team and we all miss them," Jackson said. "You can't but dwell as a preview of this weekend's action, which appear in tomorrow's paper.

The Notre Dame men's soccer team played to a 0-0 deadlock last night against Loyola in Chicago. Notre Dame's record is now 6-1-2, while Loyola is 4-5-1. The Irish outdoor the Ramblers 14-9, and ND goalie Mark Steranka collected his second shutout of the season.

"Loyola played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.

"They played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.

"They played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.

"They played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.

"They played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.

"They played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.

"They played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.

"They played a good game," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "It was a victory for them and a loss for us. They did a nice job preparing.