Rescuers rush to save victim of quake
Associated Press

MEXICO CITY - Rescue workers digging with picks, shovels and their hands tried frantically yesterday to reach a 9-year-old boy believed trapped alive under tons of earthquake rubble for 14 days.

"After digging for hours, grime-covered rescue workers said they still hope to reach Laís Ramon Nava Ramírez Maldonado, whose relatives said he is trapped in the debris along with his 47-year-old grandfather Carlos Malbran.

The workers believe the boy has communicated with them by tapping on the debris surrounding him.

Doctors at the scene said the child is too weak to talk. Rescue workers said they had maintained a constant voice contact.

"A limited number of minor topics and cases are covered by the judicial boards," Thomas said. "We're getting into a formal, legal system. Is that what we need for minor violations?"

Patrick Flood, Carroll Hall's council member, said if judicial boards were eliminated, there would be "a lot of resentmen" among students who no longer would have the option of having their case reviewed by their peers.

"There is a positive atmosphere during the hearings," Flood said. "Granted, they may be for small violations, but this is not a courtroom (procedure.) This is a hearing."

The debate began after Firth finished her speech and opened the floor to questions.

During the question-and-answer period, Firth told the council the alcohol policy overlapped Du Lac regulations, and thus the rectors and not the hall's judicial board, has authority in cases of student intoxication.

Kathy Weinberger, Lyons Hall's council member, later asked Firth why the judicial board did not have more authority in such matters.

Firth, quoting the alcohol policy, answered that such matters were not referred to half judicial boards "for pastoral, clinical, and privacy reasons."

"I'm pointing out that with the Soviet Union's cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.

"There can be no victors in a nuclear war," the Soviet leader said. "It is time to draw a practical conclusion from this: to stop the nuclear arms race.

"A few days ago we proposed to the government of the United States to come to terms on the total prohibition of space strike arms for both sides and to reduce really radically, by 50 percent, the nuclear arms capable of reaching each other's territory," he said.

Referring to the Reagan administration's Star Wars program for research on space-based missile defense systems, Gorbachev said it was "naive... to search for a solution of the problem of security in the perfection of the shield and the sword."

The Soviet Union is cutting back in 30-20 medium range missiles in Europe to 243, the number he said were deployed in June 1985.
Of Interest

William Buckley a U.S. embassy political officer kidnapped 18 months ago, has been killed, the newspaper An-Nahar reported Saturday. Reap, from Lebanon, Buckley, 57, was kidnapped March 16, 1984, outside his home. He is one of six Americans who were hostages in that underground terrorist group, Islamic Jihad, claimed to be holding him. The Syrian authorities have demanded that 17 of the comrades convicted and imprisoned in Kuwait for bombings be released in exchange for the Americans. Buckley, a bachelor, is from Medford, Mass. In Washington, State Department spokesman Joe Reap said he had no information on the report. "I' ve checked. We have nothing on it. We are of course checking," he said.

A Nurse Career Day will be hosted by the Saint Mary’s Student Nursing Association on Oct. 10 from 3:30 to 6 p.m. in Regina Hall’s north lounge. Approximately 40 hospitals will be re­ recruiters available on the patio outside the center. Everyone is welcome. - The Observer

Weather

Look for silver linings in all the clouds out today. Mostly cloudy with a 30 percent chance of morning rain. Becoming partly cloudy, windy and cooler in the afternoon with the high near 65. Mostly clear tonight with the low 40 to 45. Mostly sunny tomorrow with a high near 60. - The Observer

United Nations still necessary

The magic number this year seems to be 40. Media blitz after media blitz has examined the anniverstary state of the end of World War II. Such events as V-E day, V-J day and the dropping of the first atomic bomb, have been the subject of TV specials, battlefield trips and numerous survivor and first-hand accounts.

Another anniversary is taking place this month in New York City. The United Nations is 40 years old. The anniversary session has been marked with consciousness from the start. The General Assembly budget committee has recommended that the United States continue as the largest contributor, paying 25 percent of the total budget. The 84 poorest countries would pay the minimum of one-hundredth of 1 percent of the budget.

This recommendation comes in the wake of a U.S. Congress bill stipulating that unless voting is weighted according to contributions on U.N. budget matters next year, the United States would pay no more than 20 percent of the U.N. budget. In the past, budget matters have been one vote for each country, regardless of contribution.

Such weighted voting would give the three largest Western contributors, the United States, West Germany and France, together with Japan, slightly more than 50 percent of the vote. U.S. actions come partly because "block" politics the United Nations, says the United States. The last time this so-called politicization, the United States refused to sign the 1962 Law of the Sea Treaty or to recognize the jurisdiction of the International Court of Justice when Nicaragua complained of U.S. aggression.

This latest conflict brings into focus the problem that makes the future of an effective United Nations so uncertain. It is a problem or one that easily can be solved.

The problem is inherent in the structure of the United Nations. It is an organization which has an ideal to bring the nations of the world together in peace, not war. At the same time, this unification must take place in the hostile environment of power politics between rival ideologies and cultural backgrounds.

The United Nations arose from a desire among temporary allies to avoid the mistakes that made the League of Nations one of the largest failures of the century and World War II a blot on history. For 40 years it demonstrated much about the structure. Its strong points always have been its most simple. The sharing of ideas in a neutral environment, working until universal peace is achieved and ending human suffering are some of the simplest idealistic goals. Efforts toward these goals have outweighed selfish, par­
ants and vacuous. Yet the spirit of com­
"Let each member of the United Nations ask itself this question: Who gains if the United Nations fails?" said Sengkha Phongvath, foreign minister of smallpox, the codification of human rights, development of international law and perhaps the prevention of World War III.

The United Nations is invaluable to a better world future. Budget squabbles, votes, and power politics aside, the simple fact of the matter is that we desperately need a forum for discussion on matters of war and peace, the hungry, the persecuted and the diseased. Factions and blocs will be inevitable at the beginning, but will it be discussion and the sharing of ideas.

The anniversary session has been marked with consciousness from the start. The General Assembly budget committee has recommended that the United States continue as the largest contributor, paying 25 percent of the total budget. The 84 poorest countries would pay the minimum of one-hundredth of 1 percent of the budget.

The problem is inherent in the structure of the United Nations. It is an organization which has an ideal to bring the nations of the world together in peace, not war. At the same time, this unification must take place in the hostile environment of power politics between rival ideologies and cultural backgrounds.

The United Nations arose from a desire among temorary allies to avoid the mistakes that made the League of Nations one of the largest failures of the century and World War II a blot on history. For 40 years it demonstrated much about the structure. Its strong points always have been its most simple. The sharing of ideas in a neutral environment, working until universal peace is achieved and ending human suffering are some of the simplest idealistic goals. Efforts toward these goals have outweighed selfish, par­
ants and vacuous. Yet the spirit of com­
President predicts his tax proposal will be the law before end of year

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The Republican-led Senate, trying to ease the politically-painful chore of raising the national debt limit above $2 trillion, was stampeding yesterday toward adopting an emergency plan that promises to erase budget deficits by 1991.

President Reagan, campaigning for his tax overhaul proposal in Ohio, told reporters the administration has been studying a similar plan "so we're in agreement on that (the goals of the plan) and we are going to be talking about that." Asked if the president will support the plan, Senate Majority Leader Robert Dole said, "That's the purpose of legislation." Dole said Reagan is expected to formalize a statement of agreement on the plan today.

He said he expected the Senate to pass the debt limit increase along with the deficit reduction plan. Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill acknowledged that concern over government red ink made it likely that a similar plan would pass in the House.

"We have here a five-year emergency program that sets out the goal of balancing the budget, it imposes that constraint on the president and the Congress, (and) it imposes a binding budget," said Sen. Phil Gramm, a principal author of the proposal that has been embraced by the Republican leaders in the Senate and House.

"I think it's obvious that we have to increase the national debt, but it's far less obvious that a majority of United States senators are (not) willing to do that without, as some are calling in some of the credit cards," said Sen. Pete Domenici, chairman of the Senate Budget Committee.

The increase in the national debt limit, which the Senate began considering yesterday, is necessary to allow the government to continue borrowing to maintain its operations. But some legislators have said they will oppose the increase, and even filibuster, unless it is accompanied by action to tame runaway budget deficits.

The administration wants the current debt limit of $2.078 trillion raised to $2.180 trillion by mid-year to meet the government's borrowing needs for another year.

The emergency budget plan being offered as an amendment to the debt limit increase would, by statute, impose a series of incremental reductions leading to elimination of deficits by 1991.

Supporters say it is an alternative to a constitutional amendment requiring balanced budgets and one that achieves the same goal without rewriting the Constitution.

Deficits now are running at an annual rate of about $200 billion.

Unless the president and Congress agree on the action to be taken, Domenici said, "nothing is going to reduce the budget deficit as it is today. It requires an approach "will force decisions. It will make it very difficult for the U.S. House and Senate to persuade the president to somehow escape by each of them thinking that they must get their way."

Quake

continued from page 1

menor yesterday said rescuers had been using a super-sensitive microphone system to call out the boy's name and there was a tapping response, leading workers to believe the boy is alive.

He said he could not speculate on the boy's fate.

The first quake to rock Mexico City registered 8.1 on the Richter scale and a second the evening of Sept. 20 registered 7.5.

The government's death toll stands at 4,600, a number that has not been updated since this weekend.

Clarification

Because of a reporting error, the quote attributed to Vince Willis in the Sept. 30 edition of The Observer is incorrect. While Willis actually said, "Drinking shouldn't be the focus. This (cable television on campus) can be an alternative."
Maryland court rules handgun makers liable

Associated Press

ANNAPOLIS, Md. - People who make or sell small handguns can be sued by victims shot in criminal attacks, Maryland's highest court ruled yesterday.

The unanimous Court of Appeals decision was the first in the nation to hold that the manufacturer or seller of a handgun is liable for damages simply because the weapon eventually is used by a criminal to wound or kill.

The decision was hailed by gun foes as a major victory in their years-long battle to halt the sale of handguns in the United States.

But National Rifle Association spokesman David Mabb said the ruling a "very bad decision" that could take away a cheap self-defense weapon from people who can't afford expensive guns to protect themselves and their homes.

The ruling applies only to guns known as "Saturday Night Specials" and not to better-quality, more expensive handguns. It also applies only in Maryland, although spokesmen on both sides of the gun control issue said it could influence rulings in similar cases in other states.

The liability question reached the Court of Appeals in a case filed by Glen Kelley of Silver Spring, who was shot in a 1981 holdup of a supermarket in the suburbs of Washington, D.C.

Kelley, who recovered from wounds in the chest and shoulder, sued Rolm Gesellschaft, a West German firm that designed and marketed the weapon that was used to shoot him.

AIDS prevention idea could close bathhouses

Associated Press

Shutting down massage parlors and gay bathhouses to block the spread of AIDS is "an illusion," says one health official.

"We don't think it makes sense to close it down, but to influence the kind of behavior that goes on there. We feel that educating people is more helpful than driving them out into the streets," said a gay rights activist said yesterday.

But AIDS activists say the only way to stop AIDS is to close it down, but to influence the kind of behavior that goes on there. They feel that educating people is more helpful than driving them out into the streets.

Jim Holm of Seattle, president of the Dorothy Group and a leader in the city's gay community, described the measure, passed 117-6 Wednesday as part of a larger appropriations bill, also included $189.7 million for research and other activities related to acquired immune deficiency syndrome, a lethal crippling of the body's immune response. The measure, passed 117-6 Wednesday as part of a larger appropriations bill, also included $189.7 million for research and other activities related to acquired immune deficiency syndrome, a lethal crippling of the body's immune response.

The disease is spread through intimate sexual contact or blood products. More than 15,000 people have contracted AIDS, most of them homosexuals, intravenous drug abusers and recipients of blood transfusions contaminated with the AIDS virus. More than half the victims have died.

What was that?

Jewel Marianne Herb of Badin Hall studies the main event yesterday afternoon along with students on the mall as students {}'.

Shuttle lifts off for secret mission

Associated Press

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. - Atlantis joined America's space shuttle fleet yesterday with a dazzling liftoff on a mission of mystery, carrying five astronauts and a pair of military satellites to withstand nuclear radiation.

For the launch, which could be seen from much of central Florida, the flight had as much secrecy as the Air Force could muster.

The space shuttle is in orbit, was Mission Control's terse announcement.

"All systems on board the orbiter Atlantis are good. The mission is proceeding as planned."

The Air Force said in advance there would be only two public reports about Atlantis unless problems develop. The first, a status report four hours into the flight; the second, a 24-hour notice that the shuttle will remain in space so long as nuclear weapons will not be used.

The DSCS-3 satellites are not classified as secret, but the Defense Department has decided to block all information about most military flights of the space shuttle to protect the identity, mission and operation of DOD cargo and "protect information concerning vulnerabilities of the shuttle and facilities."

Considerable information about the DSCS-3 satellites has been made public by the Pentagon, including the fact that it uses superhigh frequencies for secure transmissions. Each weighs 2,000 pounds, has a six-channel transponder and has a solar panel span of 98 feet.

The Air Force, which manages defense shuttle missions, plans to launch four DSCS-3 satellites and two spares to give worldwide coverage for ships, planes and ground troops. Troops in the field will be able to communicate through the satellites with portable antennas.

The U.S. shuttle fleet now stands at four, Atlantis, joining Columbia, Challenger and Discovery, is the last $1.1 billion orbiter scheduled to be built. Enterprise, which never was built. He said that EDWARDS AFB, California, Atlantis' maiden flight, the 21st of the shuttle program, was the second all-Pentagon mission. A spy satellite was delivered to orbit on the first.

Despite the news blackout, there was reliable information that the astronauts will deploy two Defense Satellite Communications System satellites, advanced models known as DSCS-3's. The $100 million satellites are designed to prevent an enemy from jamming their communications. They also are used by the president to send emergency instructions to nuclear forces around the globe.

The satellites also have been shielded against the radiation and electromagnetic pulse effects of nuclear explosions, which could short out or overload unshielded electronic components.

Both satellites are attached to the same rocket motor, which will boost them to a stationary orbit 22,300 miles high before they separate and are maneuvered to widely spaced stations.

The DSCS-3 satellites are not classified as secret, but the Defense Department has decided to block all information about most military flights of the space shuttle to protect the identity, mission and operation of DOD cargo and "protect information concerning vulnerabilities of the shuttle and facilities."

Feeling Pressure From Exams? Tense? Can't Sleep?

Learn to Relax

Call 239-7793 and ask for TAPE 37 "Relaxation Exercises"

HAVE YOU EXPERIENCED A LOSS RECENTLY?

GRIEF AND LOSS GROUP
BEGINNING Tuesday Oct. 8 3:30-5:00
Will meet for 6 consecutive Tuesdays
—239-7336

PLEASE contact Linda Monroe at Counseling & Psycho Service Center

• Monday to Friday 9-12 pm
• Monday to Friday 3-5 pm

WHAT'S NEW?

"Urbana Plunge"

Applications available from Sept. 30- Oct. II

At N.D.:
—Center for Social Concerns
—University Ministry

At S.M.C.:
—Office of Justice Education
—Campus Ministry

DEADLINE: OCT. II 3:00 pm

Counseling Office—Suite 200
162 South University Avenue

"Urban Plungers":

Aid to cancer patients in rural hospitals

Feeling Pressure From Exams? Tense? Can't Sleep?

Learn to Relax

Call 239-7793 and ask for TAPE 37 "Relaxation Exercises"

—COUNSELING OFFICE—

Monday to Friday 9-12 pm
239-7793
I'm your new roommate. By the way, my name is Dutch Reagan. '60s kids being what they are, I know you'll forgive me if I call myself 'Reagan' from here on.

The Gipper's Ghost

Chapter 4

ber of the varisty by Monday morning. With any luck at all, you'll make the traveling squad, and find your next weekend occupation." "Sounds like a good plan, Rock," Whittaker said. "Let's make it a point to see you again sometime."

"I want you to play in an interhall game tomorrow. If you play as well as you used to, you should be a walk-on mem-

Roekne and 'Dutch' Gipp slip into school life to set plans

"Hello, Dutch. Welcome to Sorin. Where have you been living, Dutch?"

"I've been staying off campus. It's one of the things I've been wanting to do."

"Oh, I forgot to introduce myself. My name is Hart Collins." "Know what you're a pretty good quarterback."

"Come on, Dutch, who are you kidding? Michigan killed us today. The Wolverines are laughing all the way back to Ann Arbor."

Collins was still departed from the day's events.

"Hart, what's that plaque hanging on the wall, next to the Detroit Pistons poster?"

Collins walked over to the plaque, an award he had received in high school for his leadership as a varsity athlete.

"One of the early athletic directors at Brother Rice started giving this award out. It's one of my favorite possessions. Whenever things are really tough, whenever I read a negative story in the press or hear boos from the home crowd or receive an angry letter from a student who is always after me, I look at this. It's a quote from Theodore Roosevelt."

"What does it say? Dutch asked."

"That's O.K. I'm not going anywhere. Read the whole thing."

Collins began reading the inscription aloud. "It is not the critics who count; not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles, or where the doer of a deed could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who actually has done something. It is not what one says or the number of people who listen to you, but the thing one does."

Dutch appreciated the thought, but decided to change the subject. The new roommates talked for a few more minutes, but as it was almost time for mass, they decided to turn in for the night.

As Gipp turned out the lights, he said, "By the way, Dutch, I'm going to the game tomorrow. Do you want to go with me?"

"Sure. You know it's a big game."

"Dutch, I'll take you along."

"Thanks, Dutch."

"You're welcome, Dutch."

"By the way, Dutch, I'll tell you about my new roommate."

"Yes, but I have to go to class."

"By the way, Dutch, I'll tell you about my new roommate."
Doonesbury

Mike Wilkins

when I first came to Notre Dame, I didn’t even know the Grotto existed. I stumbled on it by accident one day as I was walking around St. Mary’s Lake. I was immediately impressed with its beauty and the peaceful feeling it seemed to create in everyone who stopped to pray. Within a month or two, the Grotto had become a pretty regular part of my life. I didn’t go there every day, but when I needed a little lift or just a break from the pressures of freshman year, the Grotto was always the first place I would go. I can remember breaking up with my girlfriend from home that year. The night I realized things were finally over I walked down to the Grotto and had a good cry. Being there did not make my problems go away, but it sure made me feel a lot more at peace with what had happened. Not too long after that, I had wandered down for a late night prayer and there was a girl sitting on a bench crying. After much hesitation, I sat down next to her and asked her what was wrong and if she’d like to talk. I have no idea what made me do it. Since I had been in the same position myself, it just seemed to be the right thing to do. My girlfriend and I had been to the “Aloha Spirit.” I don’t know what it was, but I know there was something about being so close to God that made me want to help that girl, even though she was a stranger.

Notre Dame football suffers from no imagination

Doonesbury

Michael X. Ball

If at first you don’t succeed, try, try again. Then quit. There’s no use being a damn fool about it.”

W.C. Fields (1880-1946)

I walked down to the Grotto the other night and was very pleased to find it virtually back to normal. That place has come to mean a lot to me in the four-plus years I’ve been here, and looking at its charred shell last week was quite hard to take.

I am not a coach, and my technical expertise that I have consistently resisted the temptation to add my voice to the chorus of complaint. However, even in the face of technical complexity, common sense has a role to play; sometimes it pleaded for a hearing. After watching this season’s first three games, and especially Saturday’s loss at Purdue, there are a few things I feel the need to say. The condition under which Notre Dame football today languishes is the same one that was here in the mid-seventies. I was a senior in

Michael X. Ball is a graduate student at Notre Dame law school.

Notre Dame football suffers from no imagination

I am a avid fan picks up by repeated observation, supplemented by the ever-present “expert commentators” on the television broadcast. It is in acknowledgement of the limits of my expertise that I have constantly resisted the temptation to add my voice to the chorus of comment. However, even in the face of technical complexity, common sense has a role to play; sometimes it pleads for a hearing. After watching this season’s first three games, and especially Saturday’s loss at Purdue, there are a few things I feel the need to say. The condition under which Notre Dame football today languishes is the same one that was here in the mid-seventies. I was a senior in

Doonesbury

AND I THINK I SPEAK FOR MY RELATIONSHIP, RIGHT? I THINK WE SHOULD HAVE MEMBERSHIP IN SPIRT, AND NOT JUST FOR MY GAIETIES. AM I AMUSING YOU OR JUST GETTING ON YOUR NERVES?

MRS. BARKMAN: SINCE CONGRESS FAILED YOU BY REDUCING SPENDING, HOW DO YOU PROPOSE TO ACT UPON THE MIGHTY DEFICIT?

GARRY TRUDEAU

By exercising leadership for aオスと内で、赤緑色はどんなに也は赤緑色も、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色はどんなにも、赤緑色は大切なほう。
For 11 straight seasons it was Notre Dame losses that left Notre Dame fans shaking their heads and wondering, "How?"

To answer that question, one might have to go back to the year 1980, when current Air Force head coach Fisher DeBerry was hired on as an assistant at Appalachian State, where he had been an assistant at Appalachian State, where he had installed a potent wishbone attack that brought the Mountaineers a 21-game winning streak.

The considerable leadership skills of Hatfield, who left the Academy before last season to take over the head coaching duties at Arkansas, combined with the new "triple option" offense of DeBerry transformed the Falcons into a considerable threat. Air Force has won three consecutive bowl games, placed in the top 10 in scoring and total offense, and last year ranked second nationally in rushing. And they owe it all to the wishbone. A large share of the credit has to go to the unselfish and underrated cadet players who make up for any lack of physical talent with sheer determination and discipline. These undersized and underrated cadet players who make up for any lack of physical talent with sheer determination and discipline. These

No more Air Force
Falcons become national power

The Observer
Friday, October 4, 1985

By MARTY BURNS
Sports Writer

For 11 straight seasons it was Notre Dame losses that left Notre Dame fans shaking their heads and wondering, "How?"

To answer that question, one might have to go back to the year 1980, when current Air Force head coach Fisher DeBerry was hired on as an assistant at Appalachian State, where he had installed a potent wishbone attack that brought the Mountaineers a 21-game winning streak.

The considerable leadership skills of Hatfield, who left the Academy before last season to take over the head coaching duties at Arkansas, combined with the new "triple option" offense of DeBerry transformed the Falcons into a considerable threat. Air Force has won three consecutive bowl games, placed in the top 10 in scoring and total offense, and last year ranked second nationally in rushing. And they owe it all to the wishbone.

Well, maybe not entirely to the wishbone. A large share of the credit has to go to the undersized and underrated cadet players who make up for any lack of physical talent with sheer determination and discipline. These undersized and underrated cadet players who make up for any lack of physical talent with sheer determination and discipline.

Consistency. The single word that best describes the overall play of Irish linebacker Mike Kovaleski is consistency. No matter how the team is doing a particular week, Kovaleski stands out by playing hard and steady every game.

Irish assistant coach George Kelly directs the play of the inside linebackers, and knows the football abilities of Kovaleski as well as anyone.

"Mike is extremely consistent, and there is no doubt about his readiness to play each week," Kelly explains. "He's a total overachiever who plays to the best of his ability at all times."

When told of the compliments of his coach, Kovaleski agrees.

"I think I've played consistently so far, but when I look at the films after each game I see there is room for improvement and things I can do to make me a better player," says Kovaleski.

"I'm a hard worker and I'll try to do whatever it takes to win," he continued. "I'm pretty hard-nosed and determined, but you also have to play intelligently and know your assignments."

Always doing his job
Kovaleski stands out with his consistency

By NICK SCHRANTZ
Sports Writer

Inconsistency. The single biggest complaint against recent Notre Dame football squads has been their inconsistent play from week to week. The Irish can play inspired football in one game, and then come out flat just a week later.

Consistency. The single word that best describes the overall play of Irish linebacker Mike Kovaleski is consistency. No matter how the team is doing a particular week, Kovaleski stands out by playing hard and steady every game.

Irish assistant coach George Kelly directs the play of the inside linebackers, and knows the football abilities of Kovaleski as well as anyone.

"Mike is extremely consistent, and there is no doubt about his readiness to play each week," Kelly explains. "He's a total overachiever who plays to the best of his ability at all times."

When told of the compliments of his coach, Kovaleski agrees.

"I think I've played consistently so far, but when I look at the films after each game I see there is room for improvement and things I can do to make me a better player," says Kovaleski.

"I'm a hard worker and I'll try to do whatever it takes to win," he continued. "I'm pretty hard-nosed and determined, but you also have to play intelligently and know your assignments."

It is the result of his hard work and determination that allows Kovaleski to be ready each week.

"I've known since high school how important it is to be prepared mentally," Kovaleski states. "You have to know your opponent almost as much as you know yourself."

"Every day I watch films of our opponents' previous games for a half hour to an hour. Then it's important to be at practice each day and play against the pre-team as they run our opponents' offense."

Such preparation explains how this junior can compete at a position where many of his peers are larger and quicker. Kovaleski does more than hold his own at the inside linebacker position as evidenced by his team...
Purdue game takes its toll on optimistic Faust

Chuck Freeby
Irish Items

Hello again, everybody...

Saturday night, Gerry Faust did what many parents do on an autumn weekend. He woke up with a glance at his alarm clock and imagination of his son playing high school football. However, Faust did not sit in the bleachers. Instead, he stood alone in a far corner of south Bend's Jackson Field, his hands in the pockets of his baggy pants, his head bowed.

It usually does not seem to be around Gerry Faust, but on this night it was. The look on Faust's face was one of agony beyond description. The Purdue game earlier in the day was obviously more than a loss. This time Notre Dame didn't beat itself. This time Notre Dame was beaten.

In fact, if the Purdue game would have been a prizefight, it would have been stopped. The Irish were pitifully defenseless against a barrage of passes by Jim Everett. They looked like one of those inflatable Bono dolls where you punch it and it falls, only to come back up against any more punches.

While the secondary was having its problems standing with Purdue receivers, the Irish linemen were making no progress in getting to Everett. All the Purdue quarterback had to do was go down the stonewall and you could call it a day. Blunders only seemed to worsen the situation as linebackers had single coverage on running backs, which was like the coyote chasing the roadrunner.

As far as fighting back, forget it. The Irish offensive punch couldn't have crushed a grape. Of the 74 offensive plays Notre Dame ran last Saturday, 41 of them gained two yards or less. Twelve plays were stopped behind the line of scrimmage.

That last stat shows the porous condition of the Irish offensive line.

The line wasn't a Steve because a Steve at least holds back something. Instead, it looked more like a hankie as black jerseys poured through from everywhere to stom-p on Allen Pinkett and Steve Bouchik. Who played in the Irish backfield should have been equipped with a saddle because Purdue linemen were on their back all day long.

All of this may not have been so bad if Notre Dame would have suffered defeat at the hands of a team smaller and less talented than Purdue. But the Irish were one of those teams that have never won in the Big Ten since Miami shut out the Irish, 20-0, in 1983. Saturday's game was an embarrassment which caused Hiawatha Francisco to remark, "It can't get worse."

Oh, but it can, folks. It can.

Tomorrow the Irish face Air Force in a nationally televised contest. While the secondary was having its problems staying with Purdue, the Irish defense had its own problems against the Falcons' wishbone attack. They looked like one of those inflatable Bozo dolls where you punch it and it falls, only to come back up again for more punishment.

"We have kids who can think and react on their feet," says Detlefsen. "You don't need great physical, dominating people to run the option. It requires great precision and execution."

Notre Dame head coach Gerry Faust has the respect for the athletes at the Air Force Academy. He should. For, Irish players have come to the last day of the season with the realization that playing against Air Force, the Falcons, is the ultimate challenge. They will be a hard team to beat.

"The thing you have to remember is that those kids want to fly planes. If you lined up our players and asked how many of them want a shot at the pros, not one of them would say 'yes.' Discipline, personal pride and the fact that they are goal-oriented makes them a good football team."

Dave Kellogg

Falcons continued from page 1

Notre Dame quarterback Terry Andrysiak attempts to elude the grasp of a Purdue defender in last week's 35-17 loss to the Boilers. Andrysiak was 5-of-8 for 73 yards, but the Boilers did not allow him to get going against their defense.

men, who also are required to give a five-year military commitment, are the keys to the success of the triple option since it is, perhaps, the most demanding offensive set in the game. "If (the option) is run right, it should work dangerous. Defenses find it virtually impossible to key on any one of the four cons might like to stress the individual reasons."

For Notre Dame, which has been practicing against the Falcons' triple option formation since last spring, tomorrow's game will be a far cry from past years, when it was just an easy win and an opportunity to give the bench-warriors a chance to play.

The Air Force in Washington, D.C., may be wasting 2,000 dollars on tiny rubber wasser. The Air Force in Colorado Springs, it seems, is making the most out of a situation which may offer a great deal less in the eyes of a highly-recruited high school star. While most outstanding prep players would not risk losing five years of professional money by enrolling at the Academy, many lesser-touted players with no illusions of stardom will enroll for other reasons:

"There are more young men now who want to go to the (service) academies," says Faust. "They're all on scholarship, so (the football players) don't have to play to get their education. They just love football."

"The thing you have to remember is that those kids want to fly planes," says Dave Kellogg, Air Force sports information director. "If you lined up our players and asked how many of them want a shot at the pros, not one of them would say 'yes.' Disci ple, personal pride and the fact that they are goal-oriented makes them a good football team."

Forgive Kellogg for forgetting to add that list the triple option. Although the Fal cons might like to stress the individual aspect of the game, nevertheless it is the formation which makes their offense so dangerous. Defenses find it virtually impossible to key on any one of the four team's potential ball carriers out of the backfield because even the quarterback does not know who is going to carry the ball until the play develops before him.

"(If the option) run right, it should work every time," says Air Force quarterback Bert Weiss, who will be commanding the Falcon attack tomorrow. "The defense decides. It's exhausting mentally on them."

"I think one of the problems is that not too many teams run that type of wishbone," says Faust. "This presents problems when you don't have the opportunity to run against it week in and week out. And they are so well disciplined. With the type of players they have, I'd run exactly the same thing if I was at the Air Force Academy."

Like the secondary, the Irish offense has its problems. They have not mastered the option, yet they are not one of the teams that can run it. "I think one of the problems is that not too many teams run that type of wishbone," says Faust. "This presents problems when you don't have the opportunity to run against it week in and week out. And they are so well disciplined. With the type of players they have, I'd run exactly the same thing if I was at the Air Force Academy."

For Notre Dame, which has been practicing against the Falcons' triple option formation since last spring, tomorrow's game will be a far cry from past years, when it was just an easy win and an opportunity to give the bench-warriors a chance to play.
One injury and another
Plantz has no regrets on choosing Irish

By IRISH SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

I have only been an Irish fan for a short time, but I have come to love the team and its players. I have followed the team's games closely and have been impressed with their dedication and hard work. I have also been impressed with the fans who support the team, and I have seen how they energize the players on the field. I have been fortunate to attend a few games and have been struck by the excitement and atmosphere created by the fans. I believe that the team's success is a result of the hard work and dedication of the players, as well as the support of the fans. I am proud to be an Irish fan and look forward to supporting the team in the future. Thank you for allowing me to share my thoughts on the team and its fans.
By DENNIS CORRIGAN
Sports Writer

When Notre Dame travels to Colorado Springs Friday for tomorrow's game against 17th-ranked Air Force, it will be facing a team that has been the biggest thorn in the side of Irish head coach Gerry Faust.

"You talk about purgatory, I've gone through purgatory with the Air Force," Faust said.

The Falcons have beaten the Irish three years in a row to reverse a string of 11 straight Notre Dame victories. Included in the Falcon streak are wins of 23-22 and 21-7 at Notre Dame in a row to reverse a string of 11 straight Notre Dame wins. The Falcons have outscored the opposition by a 51-10 margin, and average just over 320 yards on the ground. In addition, the Falcons have taken to the air for 163 yards a game. These numbers combine to make Air Force the No. 1 best team in the nation in terms of total offense. More importantly, the numbers translate to a 4-0 record.

The Falcons have not been just beating teams, they have outscored the opposition by a 51-10 margin. They're a legitimate team, no ifs, ands, or buts about it," said Faust of the Falcons. "They're a very disciplined quarterback," said Faust. "They prove it in the (Independence) Bowl against the number one defensive team in the nation, Virginia Tech. They beat them bad. They be a threat for the taste of last year, they haven't been just beating teams, they have outscored the opposition by a 51-10 margin.

"Air Force's wishbone is for the Irish to control the ball. Faust thinks one of the keys to stopping Air Force's wishbone is for the Irish to control the ball. If this is so, Pinkett once again should see a lot of action. So far, he has gained 250 yards on 68 carries, a 3.7 average that has produced two touchdowns. Joining him in the backfield is halfback Frank Stams, who has run for 44 yards on 13 carries.

The Irish offensive line of Jay Underwood, Terry Andrysiak at center, Mike Perrino is also much larger than the Irish offensive line. The Irish offensive line of Jay Underwood, Terry Andrysiak at center, Mike Perrino is also much larger than the Irish offensive line.

They're a legitimate team, no ifs, ands, or buts about it," said Faust of the Falcons. "They prove it in the (Independence) Bowl against the number one defensive team in the nation, Virginia Tech. They beat them bad.

The Irish defensive front of Greg Diggins, R.D. Designs and Wally Klene defensively has a size advantage, but this hasn't helped before.

"The biggest problem about defending against the wishbone is that you don't see it week in and week out. Not many teams use it," Faust said. "The wishbone gives one back into the line, a lead back out in front as well as the pitch (back). When you don't work on (defending the wishbone) every week, you don't perfect it." To stop the wishbone, the Irish will need plenty of help from outside linebackers Mike Larkin (16 tackles) and Robert Banks (12 tackles) as well as cornerbacks Troy Wilson and Mike Haywood. The Irish also will continue to need the strong inside game of their leading tackle, linebacker Tony Put­ janie (41 tackles) and Mike Kovalski (32 tackles).

Again this year, the Air Force line is best described as small, averaging 240 pounds. But size doesn't mean much - witness last year's game.

"Irish Extra — page 4 Friday, October 4, 1985

By DENNIS CORRIGAN
Sports Writer

That makes it even tougher. They can break the bone and do a good job breaking it." Weiss gets plenty of help in the backfield from halfback Johnny Harsh (310 yards, 2 TDs) and halfback Kelly Pettin (216 yards, 5 TDs). The other starting halfback, Randy Jones, has rushed for 190 yards and one touchdown, and has thrown for another.

Then the game. The person must pick the winner and give the reasoning points. Home team is in CAPS.

Each week, the Observer sports staff, a random student picked by the sports editor and some well-known figure in the Notre Dame community predict the outcome of the week's major college football games. Records are compiled as to how each person does against the spread. In other words, it isn't enough to pick the winner of a given game. The person must pick the winner and give the reasoning points. Home team is in CAPS.

Saturday: Oregon State over Colorado State by 3

PITT over South Carolina by 3.5

INDIANA over Northwestern by 11

Boise over COUGERS by 1

MICHIGAN over Wisconsin by 4

RYO over Air Force by 16.5

Ohio State over ILLINOIS by 2.5

BYU over UNLV by 6.5

ECLA over Arizona State by 5

KENTUCKY over Clemson by 2

Florida over LSU by 2

Purdue over MINNESOTA by 6.5

Baylor over HOUSTON by 4

AIR FORCE over Notre Dame by 6.5

Gamecocks Panthers
Wildcats Wildcats
Badgers Knights
Hawkeyes Wolverines
Vikings Buckeyes
Huskies Buckeyes
Devis Devis
Tigers Tigers
Gators Gators
Gophers Gophers
Boilmakers Bears
Boilmakers Bears
Boilmakers Bears
Irish

Little more than a game.

10.5 points per game. In addition, they rank eighth in the nation in scoring defense. They not only deny scoring opportunities, they create opportunities for themselves. Falcon head coach Fisher Debelli tends to play his man's supposed lack of size, but after passing four opponents, not many are taking him seriously.

A record crowd is expected for the nationally televised game. While excitement is running high in Colorado Springs, Debelli concedes his team has played quite the schedule. The Falcon head coach Fisher Debelli tends to play his team's supposed lack of size, but after passing four opponents, not many are taking him seriously.

The Irish offensive line of Jay Underwood, Terry Andrysiak at center, Mike Perrino is also much larger than the Irish offensive line.

The person must pick the winner and give the reasoning points. Home team is in CAPS.

Each week, the Observer sports staff, a random student picked by the sports editor and some well-known figure in the Notre Dame community predict the outcome of the week's major college football games. Records are compiled as to how each person does against the spread. In other words, it isn't enough to pick the winner of a given game. The person must pick the winner and give the reasoning points. Home team is in CAPS.

Saturday: Oregon State over Colorado State by 3

PITT over South Carolina by 3.5

INDIANA over Northwestern by 11

Boise over COUGERS by 1

MICHIGAN over Wisconsin by 4

RYO over Air Force by 16.5

Ohio State over ILLINOIS by 2.5

BYU over UNLV by 6.5

ECLA over Arizona State by 5

KENTUCKY over Clemson by 2

Florida over LSU by 2

Purdue over MINNESOTA by 6.5

Baylor over HOUSTON by 4

AIR FORCE over Notre Dame by 6.5

Gamecocks Panthers
Wildcats Wildcats
Badgers Knights
Hawkeyes Wolverines
Vikings Buckeyes
Huskies Buckeyes
Devis Devis
Tigers Tigers
Gators Gators
Gophers Gophers
Boilmakers Bears
Boilmakers Bears
Boilmakers Bears
Irish

Little more than a game.
Number One Irish Fan speaks to Notre Dame

This is for all you Irish fans - hot, lukewarm or even cold.
Well, I’m back once again to share some thoughts before the ’85 football team goes any further. Two things before I begin, first, there probably will not be many underclassmen who know me. That leads to my second thought. Everything I am going to present is constructive and not destructive. Also, it is all my own inners feelings, I haven’t been lured away by sports writers, sportscasters or fans.

Keith A. Penrod

guest column

Now that is out of the way, I would like to get down to the real reason I am writing our “Fighting Irish” column.

Having been around and associated with Notre Dame programs and people for many years, I am close to the administrators, the athletic people on the second floor of the ACC, the coaches, players, students and fans. I will always be a true fan, I am in the middle for I am not a student, a player, coach, employee or relative. So here it comes.

We have a very talented group of players and quality coaches (even though we are 1-2), but as a team, this hasn’t shown. One thing I have noticed for each of the past five years, we are among the topinserts during the country when it comes to recruiting. I’d say that when you talk about “blue chipper”, we have what I’ll call a whole team of “blue chippers”, but not just one year, but four years of them!

These young men come from good high school teams with their own talents, desires, enthusiasm and emotion, along with strong academic backgrounds. They come in with an attitude filled with tradition and pride, ready to carry on the tradition. The academic climate continues, but after a player’s freshman year, what happens to the other four things I mentioned?

Before I go any farther, I want people to understand, as God is my witness, I love Coach Gerry Faust. He is a great man. A wonderful person. A coach that is in his own way doing the best service (for it is not a job) by way of the Lord. As he directs. A man who al­ways keeps God first, and I think. A man I consider a very dear and close friend, one I cherish. I have told Coach Faust right from the begin­ning, I’d be there no matter what! I love Coach Faust. I won’t question him and I will continue to back him!

With the quality movies shown at Coghill and the spirit of Notre Dame already given to the country network television, we can surely find a better way to spend the conservative estimate of $100,000 that would be needed to install basic cable to the campus. One of the main purposes of the alcohol policy is to bring the focus of the social life out of the rooms and into the mainstream of campus life. Cable television would only make it easier for students to stay in and not attempt to “make their own rules”.

The efforts and ideas of students are neces­sary to improve Notre Dame’s social life, since the administration has proven incapable of finding a replacement for alcohol as the focal point of student life if not, the South Quad, which can be readily solved by the construction on Stethem Hill.

Mark Epelelagh

John Kregan

Alumni Hall

Safranek must practice what column preaches

Dear Editor:
On Sept. 18 you published a rambling essay in which Steve Safranek argued against the use of “ad hominem” arguments. He offered as an example of an “ad hominem” argument the phrase “right-wingery” which he lifted out of context from a letter by Ann Pettifer. Through a hucksterish rhetorical device, he then proceeded to launch his own “ad hominem” attack on Pettifer. His words: “You could respond just as easily that (Ann Pettifer) only responded to my article because its content challenged her husband’s earlier article in The Observer.” This is a cheap rejoinder.

Why does Safranek not respond to Pettifer’s argument? Why does he insinuate that she only wrote in support of her husband? Is it because, as Pettifer, a woman, cannot voice her own opinions and convictions? Does Safranek believe that professors’ wives only write in defense of or as surrogates for their husbands?

Unlike in the past, I have only been to three or four practices, and I haven’t been to a game yet this season, but I have seen each of the three on television. I have also watched them anywhere from three to five times apiece.

That brings us back to the four elements—talents, desires, enthusiasm and emotion. Feelings which increase with the excitement, inspiration and honor of being able to play on the Notre Dame Fighting Irish football team, with all its tradition and pride. The feelings increase to a point that only the young men can know.

Enthusiasm is one big part, but I feel “emotion” is 50 percent of an individual’s personality, especially when it comes to being on a team and participating in athletics. This is the biggest inner self, besides the Almighty. This letter lowers or elevates one in life and in sports.

You can have a group of young men with very little talent, but with a lot of heart, desire, enthusiasm and especially emotion, and they will go a long way, all the way. I’ve seen it as we have all seen it. It happens all around the country, but especially here at Notre Dame. The opposite also happens.

I will not label Safranek a misogynist. But perhaps I can be more incendiary, in that he代言人petitive to Pettifer is misogynous. Following Safranek’s advice, I write to condemn him personally as the promoter of such as at­titude.

Joseph A. Buttinger

Department of English

The Irish head coach was in over his head

Dear Editor:
This is not sent out of anger and disappoint­ment because Notre Dame lost to Purdue by a score of 55-17. It is sent out of disbelief and embarrassment because of the way Notre Dame lost to Purdue on Satur­day, over 20 other teams has not happened in the last four years of mediocrity.

To some people, football and basketball are the “only sports that matter.” This has been part of student life. If not, the South Quad, which can be readily solved by the construction on Stethem Hill.

I would just like to say that as a member of “those other teams” and as a Notre Dame student, I appreciate the support of our leprechauns! Thanks Jeff!

Tracy C. Thoman

Notre Dame student

New Irish leprechaun supports all ND sports

Dear Editor:
In the face of downtrodden spirits among the student population, I would like being at­tention to what I think is a display of the true spirit of Notre Dame.

To some people, football and basketball are the “only sports that matter.” This has been part of student life. If not, the South Quad, which can be readily solved by the construction on Stethem Hill.

In my opinion, the games Notre Dame has won in the last four years have only been from the sheer amount of talent on our side.

The winning difference for Purdue on Saturday, and many other teams on previous Saturdays, came in the head coaching posi­tion. Gerry Faust did not have a hand on the game Saturday, unlike Purdue Coach Leon Burnett. Faust’s teams have played poorly and have been embarrassed a lot lately. However, Faust has never had a hand on the head coaching position at Notre Dame.

Since Faust came to Notre Dame, many of us have sincerely hoped and prayed he would succeed not only for Notre Dame, but for himself. So one would question his dedication to Notre Dame and his desire for the team and its players. He knows no stranger and most people are fond of him; however he is in a position way over his head and one he may never fully grasp. Therefore, it would not be in the best interest of the Notre Dame tradition, the hundreds of thousands of fans, students or alumni, the very talented players looking for­ward to professional careers after college or to Faust to let him continue as head coach for another year or more.

Wea Galey

Indianapolis, Ind.

The Viewpoint Department

P.O. Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556

P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 238-5030
The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. It is supported in part by the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as pos­sible. Unbiased advertising may appear in the Editorial Board sections, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, a encouraged.

Editorial Board

Editor-in-Chief
Sarah E. Hamilton
Managing Editor
Amy Stephen
Executive Editor
Kathrin Hein
News Editor
Dan McGill
Sports Editor
Jeff Blumb
Assistant Sports Editor
Joe Murphy
Photography Editor
Peter C. Laches

Operations Board

Business Manager
David Stepenish
Controller
William J. Highduck
Advertising Manager
Jim Hagan
Systems Manager
Mark B. Johnson
Production Manager
John A. Merrill

Founded November 3, 1966
In NVA country yesterday, two of Grace Hall's three teams placed in the top four of eight competing teams. Grace Hall A received 49 points, while B squad was fourth with 90 points and the C team finished eighth with 112. Monty was second with 64 points, St. Ed's was third with 84, Cushing 60th with 111 and St. Mary's School seventh with 197. The top individual finisher was St. Ed's Dave Wirtz, who ran the course in 1:23:25. Dan Whitaker of Cushing was second in 1:30,50 and Sonny's Matt Labar was third in 1:37:27.

Observer

The ND-Air Force football game will be broadcast live tomorrow on WVRH AM 64. "The Irish Today" show begins at 1:55 p.m. and Peter Franzi and Vic Guglielmi will have the play by play at 2:50 p.m. The Observer

Correction

Because of a reporting error, several things were incorrect in yesterday's NVA country.

1. The A squad which competed on Monday was sponsored by a 10-kilometer run. The run will be Sunday, Oct 14, starting at 2 a.m. at the Century Center in downtown South Bend. Cost of the run is $2.50 per person. The number for further information is 232-3534. Also, the winners may receive a trip in a Lincoln Continental. The runners must be registered in advance to participate.

2. Grace Hall placed fourth in the NVA country meet with 49 points, while B squad was fourth with 90 points and the C team finished eighth with 112. Monty was second with 64 points, St. Ed's was third with 84, Cushing 60th with 111 and St. Mary's School seventh with 197. The top individual finisher was St. Ed's Dave Wirtz, who ran the course in 1:23:25. Dan Whitaker of Cushing was second in 1:30,50 and Sonny's Matt Labar was third in 1:37:27.

Observer
By GREG STOHR
Sports Writer

Dave Miles is a man who knows what he likes. The spunky fifth-year captain of the Irish soccer team loves a hard-fought game full of pushing and shoving. He likes to play in the mud. He does not, on the other hand, care for the off-field rowdiness and retains that one might expect from such an intense performer.

In short, he just likes to play soccer.

"I never was much for clapping and cheering," says the 5-foot, 165-pound Miles. "I just like to play. Some guys like to listen to music before games or stretch for thirty minutes. I'd rather show up two minutes before the game and just go out and play."

Irish Head Coach Dennis Grace said he feels that the captain's hard-nosed attitude rubs off on his teammates.

"He keeps an intense, demanding attitude on the team," says Grace, whose 2-7-2 squad will battle in the Wright State Tournament in Dayton, Ohio, tomorrow and Sunday. "He doesn't let his teammates get away with nonchalance or giving less than 100 percent."

Champs T-shirt plus other give-aways

Register to win:
2-51 00.00 gift certificates
many other prizes
(no purchase necessary to enter)
10% OFF WITH ND OR SMC L.D.

By MIKE SZYMANSKI
Sports Writer

As the Notre Dame Invitational approaches today at 2 p.m., Notre Dame men's cross-country coach Joe Piane is looking for a runner to emerge as the critical fifth man.

The fifth man, who is the freshest, is the runner whose score counts in a race, has been a struggle for the Irish this season. Injuries to key runners Mike Collins and Dan Garrett have left the team without the fifth man against Chris Brewster of Michigan last year, and they were 6th and 7th in that race.

"We would have won the National Catholic Meet if either Collins or Garrett ran, because we were the only team to place four in the top 7," said Piane. "Only two runners in that race ran in the top seven last year, and they were 6th and 7th men."

Piane pointed to the fact that John Magill, Tom Warth, Ron Markezich, and Jeff Van Wie all had personal record performances, and top runner Jim Tyler ran well. Tyler hopes to have another fine performance in the Catholic Meet if either Collins or Garrett runs, because we were the only team to place four in the top seven.

"I'm more of a player's captain than a coach's captain," he says, "but sometimes you have to be the mediator."

Senior tri-captain Dave Miles of the Notre Dame soccer team minces no words when he talks about soccer, and he plays the game with the same aggressive style. Greg Storke profiles Miles in his story at right.

Miles' efforts have been largely unrewarded this season as the striker/midfielder has managed just one goal and three assists after accumulating 16 goals and 12 assists over his last two seasons with the Irish.

"I'm cursed this year," he says. "I've had ample opportunities, but I can't buy a goal."

Less playing time this fall is part of the reason for Miles' low scoring output this fall. A strong crop of freshmen has given the Irish greater depth this year than in previous seasons and has reduced upperclassman playing time. Miles says that he and other veterans had trouble adjusting to lesser roles.

"There was some remorse and some questioning," he remarks. "But now I think it's better to play half a game at full strength than a whole game tired out."

Miles says he feels that it is his duty to keep players happy during such controversies. He is sometimes torn between his responsibilities as captain and his allegiances to his teammates.

"I'm more of a player's captain than a coach's captain," he says, "but sometimes you have to be the mediator."

Though a natural forward, Miles now sees action as a midfielder as well as at striker because of a knee injury to senior midfielder Chris Telk. Grace says he tends to take advantage of Miles' toughness at midfielder.

"We put him there when we need very, very aggressive, very, very hard work," he says.

Miles has taken the move in stride.

"I don't feel uncomfortable," he comments. "I'd rather be upfield, but I don't mind midfield."

Miles is proud of the attitude of the seniors, especially Telk, Jack Mutschler, Mark Biddlenger and Smart MacDonald, for retaining positive attitudes despite seeing the squad reduced to the role of a spoiler in a disappointing season.

"The seniors have held up well," he says. "Our job now is to set a good precedent for next year."

"I think they'll be looking for the most. The other teams just how much they have improved. They have a chance against us, but I think we're the better team."

"We put him there when we need very, very aggressive, very, very hard work," he says.

O'Shea, Irish tri-captain, is looking for a runner to emerge as the critical fifth man. The fifth man, who is the freshest, is the runner whose score counts in a race, has been a struggle for the Irish this season. Injuries to key runners Mike Collins and Dan Garrett have left the team without the fifth man against Chris Brewster of Michigan last year, and they were 6th and 7th in that race.

"We would have won the National Catholic Meet if either Collins or Garrett ran, because we were the only team to place four in the top seven last year, and they were 6th and 7th men."

Piane pointed to the fact that John Magill, Tom Warth, Ron Markezich, and Jeff Van Wie all had personal record performances, and top runner Jim Tyler ran well. Tyler hopes to have another fine performance in the Catholic Meet if either Collins or Garrett runs, because we were the only team to place four in the top seven.

"I'm more of a player's captain than a coach's captain," he says, "but sometimes you have to be the mediator."

Senior tri-captain Dave Miles of the Notre Dame soccer team minces no words when he talks about soccer, and he plays the game with the same aggressive style. Greg Storke profiles Miles in his story at right.
on Monday afternoon.

Jim Byrne, remarking on the team's play, said, "Tom Biafore played good defense against Holy Cross." He also pointed out that Leary will get to prove themselves into games with the traditional powerhouses, "and we're going to be playing against Holy Cross." He continued, "We've had some great experience this fall and we're playing strongly right now," Panther said. "Even though playing in the cold weather can be pretty bad, the enthusiasm is good and all of us are excited about the team and the spring season."
The Far Side

Gary Larson

"Here comes another big one, Roy, and here—we goooooowhoooooooooo!"

Kevin Walsh

Friday, October 4, 1985 - page 15

ACROSS
1 Ancient kingdom
2 Serene
4 Fabric weave
6 Influence
8 Dirt
9 Crush
11 Wife of Henry Ger.
12 Poem division
13 Afr. lily
14 Soprano Gluck
15 Lohengrin
16 Exploit
17 Parts of a skullcap
18 Father of Jai—
19 Soil: var.
20 Fragrant shrub
21 Try to find
22 Game played
23 Thrust
24 Yacht
25 Born into a moiety
26 Devotee of the V.I.P.
27 Cap and a tassel
28 Father of concentric
29 Capital of Indira
30 Moiety
31 Fitzgerald
32 Of certain science
33 Crate
34 Shelf
35 Khayyam
36 Arrived
37 So be it
38 Game played
39 C,m.:
40 Butter
41 Arrived
42 Billfold
43 Moiety
44 Resounds
45 Myths of the vase
46 Father of concentric
47 Arrived
48 Moiety
49 Moiety
50 Horseback
51 Moiety
52 Myths of the vase
53 Moiety
54 Arrived
55 Moiety
56 Arrived
57 Moiety

DOWN
1 Ancient kingdom
2 Serene
3 Influence
4 Dirt
5 Crush
6 Poem division
7 Afr. lily
8 Soprano Gluck
9 Lohengrin
10 Exploit
11 Parts of a skullcap
12 Soil: var.
13 Fragrant shrub
14 Try to find
15 Game played
16 Thrust
17 Yacht
18 Born into a moiety
19 Devotee of the V.I.P.
20 Soil: var.
21 Cap and a tassel
22 Father of concentric
23 Born into a moiety
24 Thrust
25 Moiety
26 Moiety
27 Moiety
28 Moiety
29 Moiety
30 Moiety
31 Moiety
32 Moiety
33 Moiety
34 Moiety
35 Moiety
36 Moiety
37 Moiety
38 Moiety
39 Moiety
40 Moiety
41 Moiety
42 Moiety
43 Moiety
44 Moiety
45 Moiety
46 Moiety
47 Moiety
48 Moiety
49 Moiety
50 Moiety
51 Moiety
52 Moiety
53 Moiety
54 Moiety
55 Moiety
56 Moiety
57 Moiety

Thursday's Solution

THURSDAY'S OFFERINGS!

ACROSS
14. Cooked state
15. Annie Oakley
16. Viva voce
17. Secular
18. Dairy product
19. Of certain mountains
20. Pulpit talk: abbr.
21. Girlie photos
22. Clerical cape
23. Sculpture
24. Bellows
25. Guanaco's
26. Easy chair
27. Capital of Menche
28. Pitcher
29. Grenadas
30. Bundles
31. Fitzgerald
32. Crate
33. Khayyam
34. Camera part
35. Poem division
36. Game played
37. on horseback
38. canniare
39. Moiety
40. Moiety
41. Moiety
42. Moiety
43. Moiety
44. Moiety
45. Moiety
46. Moiety

DOWN
1. Moisturizer
2. Nobody
3. Sea eagle
4. Moral toppers
5. Long
6. Moiety
7. Moiety
8. Moiety
9. Moiety
10. Moiety
11. Moiety
12. Moiety
13. Moiety
14. Moiety
15. Moiety
16. Moiety
17. Moiety
18. Moiety
19. Moiety
20. Moiety
21. Moiety
22. Moiety
23. Moiety
24. Moiety
25. Moiety
26. Moiety
27. Moiety
28. Moiety
29. Moiety
30. Moiety
31. Moiety
32. Moiety
33. Moiety
34. Moiety
35. Moiety
36. Moiety
37. Moiety
38. Moiety
39. Moiety
40. Moiety
41. Moiety
42. Moiety
43. Moiety
44. Moiety
45. Moiety
46. Moiety
47. Moiety
48. Moiety
49. Moiety
50. Moiety
51. Moiety
52. Moiety
53. Moiety
54. Moiety
55. Moiety
56. Moiety
57. Moiety

Campus

FRIDAY, OCT. 4

• 11:00 A.M. - 4:00 P.M. - Post-Grad Volunteer Day, Service Oriented Groups, Center for Social Concerns, Sponsored by Center for Social Concerns
• 11:30 A.M. - Mass for the Feast of St. Francis Assisi, Rev. Robert J. Kennedy, celebrant, Sacred Heart Church, Following Mass a simple meal will be served at the Center for Social Concerns
• 2:00 P.M. - Cross Country, Notre Dame Invitational, Burke Memorial Golf Course
• 5:00 P.M. - Field Hockey, Notre Dame vs. Calvin, Alumni Field
• 4:00 P.M. - Junior Class Softball Tournament, Across from Stepan Field, Sponsored by Junior Class, $5.00 entry fee
• 4:00 P.M. - 7:00 P.M. - West Coast Picnic, Stepan Field
• 6:30 P.M. - Meeting, Christian Fellowship, Library Lounge, Sponsored by ICHTHUS
• 7:00, 9:00 and 11:00 P.M. - SAB Film, "Beverly Hills Cop", Engineering Auditorium, Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50

SUNDAY, OCT. 5

• 9:00 A.M. - Tennis, Notre Dame Women Irish Invitational, Courtyard Courts
• 2:00 P.M. - Field Hockey, Notre Dame vs. Albion, Alumni Field
• 7:00 P.M. - Concert, Alabama with the Judds and Charlie Daniels Band, ACC, $15.00

Dinner Menu

Notre Dame
Roast Top Round of Beef or Tofu
Sausage Jambalaya
Beer Batter Perch
Devonshire Sandwich

Saint Mary's Patty Melt
Baker Fried Fish
Swedish Crepes
Chicken Cacciatore

TV Tonight

8:00 P.M. 22 Dallas
28 Diffusion of Heat
34 Washington in Review
10:00 P.M. 22 Dallas
22 Falcon Crest
26 Father Michael Manning

BRIDGET'S BARGAINS!

Mon. & Tues. 60¢ drafts
Wed. 75¢ root beer shots
Thurs. 75¢ mojitos
Fri. 75¢ watermelon shots

Good 5:00pm till 2:30 am

HOT MUNCHIES - 35¢ Sloppy Joes
This Week

THE SAB PRESENTS

EDDIE MURPHY WEEK

Tuesday, October 1 - Saturday, October 5

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Tue. Oct 1</th>
<th>Fri. Oct 4</th>
<th>Sat. Oct 5</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>48 Hours</td>
<td>7, 9, 11</td>
<td>Beverly Hills Cop 7, 9, 11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7, 9, 11</td>
<td>7, 9, 15, 11:30</td>
<td>Beverly Hills Cop 7, 9, 11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7, 9, 15, 11:30</td>
<td>7, 9, 15, 11:30</td>
<td>7, 9, 11</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

ENGINEERING AUDITORIUM

60¢ drafts
75¢ root beer shots
75¢ mojitos
75¢ watermelon shots

Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50
Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50
Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50
Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50
Sponsored by Student Activities Board, $1.50
Irish beat Goshen, score their 5th win

By KEVIN HERBERT

Sports Writer

Jill Lindgren's Irish field hockey squad showed the fruits of extensive practice and game experience as Notre Dame thrashed Goshen, 9-0, in action yesterday.

The game was never in doubt as the Irish scored early and often, raising their record to one game over .500 at 5-4-1.

Seven minutes into the contest, Melissa Sommert netted her fourth goal of the season with the help of an assist from Corinne DiGiacomo.

Two minutes later it was DiGiacomo who scored, assisted by Molly McCabe. "I am very pleased with the play of Melissa and Corinne," Lindgren said. "They both played great. Mary Struckhoff also played exceptionally well today."

"Our team has really improved it's interpassing and linking maneuvers," says Lambert.

North Dame extended its lead to 5-0 when senior Mary Struckoff

NSC volleyball play begins today

By CHUCK EHLMAN

Sports Writer

"Some people would look at a 2-8 record and say 'what's the big deal? its going on!" says Notre Dame volleyball coach Art Lambert, "but a record doesn't sell the whole story."

He speaks with reaursion and a certain determination of purpose. "I do see improvement," he says, "and it will manifest itself as the season goes on. We're getting better and better play."

Make no bones about it, the Irish are not ready to wave the white flag. North Star Conference play begins this weekend, and the Irish have a chance to change their luck and turn the season around. The team will play three big road matches in a two-week span, facing Xavier, Dayton and Marquette.

Misfortune has struck the Irish in the form of a costly injury, though. Senior Mary McLaughlin suffered a broken finger in practice this week.

"It will manifest itself as the season goes on. We're getting better and better play."

By this point, the outcome of the contest was obvious. Only one question remained, and that was, by how much were the Irish going to win. Notre Dame scored two goals before the end of the first half; the Irish emerged victorious with a score of 1-0. Both teams came away from the game with a record of 2-1.

Cardinals beat Mets; magic number at two

Associated Press

ST. LOUIS - Vince Coleman had three hits, including a two-run single in the fourth inning, and Mike Scioscia drove in a pair of runs to give the Cardinals a 1-0 victory last night that restored their lead in the National League East to two games over the Mets.

With the victory, the Cardinals ended a three-game losing streak and reduced their magic number to two. Any combination of two Cardinals victories or Mets losses would clinch the division.

The Cardinals finished the season with three games at home against Chicago, ending Bob Forsch's attempt to become a four-hitter. The Mets play three at home with Montreal, with Sid Fernandez likely to start. Ex-Pitcher Bill Glickman in the opener.

If the two teams finish the season in a tie, a one-game playoff in New York on Sunday will decide the title. The Cardinals came into the three-game series leading New York by three games, but both teams are up to date with a 1-0, 11-inning victory Tuesday night and a 2-2 decision Wednesday night. The two teams were tied 1-1 in the fourth inning when Coleman doubled to left-center. One batter later, Cardinals catcher Ken Harrelson drove in Coleman with a sacrifice fly, and the Mets went into the game with one hit in his previous 20 at bats.

"You have to remember," notes Lambert, "that's what we're doing, playing the best teams in the conference."

"Of course we have to win," says Lambert with humility. "But our ultimate goal as a team is not just to win the conference. Ultimately, we're trying to get recognition on the national level."

"I am very pleased with the play of Melissa and Corinne," Lindgren said. "They both played great. Mary Struckhoff also played exceptionally well today."

"Our team has really improved it's interpassing and linking maneuvers," says Lambert.

"I was pretty happy with the way we played," said Holy Cross cap­

The game could have gone either way, remarked O.C. Crime's co-captain, Buddy Webster. "We were a testament to the game's physical quality, left divi­sion."

In its second game, O.C. Crime's Mike Vitracola scored twice while the Mets could only manage a score of 1-0. Both teams came away from the game with a record of 2-1.

"We're scheduled to play two games Monday at 3:00 p.m.," said Keenan captain Mike Leary. "It puts us in a good position for the rest of the season."

"I have nothing but good things to say," says Lambert. "I would hope to see VOLLEYBALL, page 13

Hard-hitting-games mark interhall soccer play

By TERRY LYNCH

Sports Writer

For the second straight week, men's interhall soccer resembled a cheesy Chuck Norris movie as hard-hitting and close matches dominated the Stepan fields.

In the South American League, this style of play was evident as St. Ed's and Howard chucked up one-goal wins in intense action last weekend, improving both sides' records to 2-0. What was predicted to be a tough game, Howard prevailed over the Grace "A" squad by a score of 2-1.

Grace "A" jumped out to a 1-0 lead while dominating the first half of play, but Howard adjusted from a three-to-a-four-man front to begin the second half. Before Grace could react defensively, Howard scored two goals from Scott Fox and Brendan O'Connor.

While Howard was off to a fine start, they were being echoed by a surprising St. Ed's team, which posted the second straight shootout victory. In the first half against the O.C. Benders, St. Ed's Dean Pilapski put his team on the board first, only to see the score evened in the second half on an O.C. Bender penalty shot. The score remained at 1-1 through the overtime periods, and both teams scored twice in the five-shot shootout.

"You have to remember," notes Lambert, "that's what we're doing, playing the best teams in the conference."

"Of course we have to win," says Lambert with humility. "But our ultimate goal as a team is not just to win the conference. Ultimately, we're trying to get recognition on the national level."

"I am very pleased with the play of Melissa and Corinne," Lindgren said. "They both played great. Mary Struckhoff also played exceptionally well today."

"Our team has really improved it's interpassing and linking maneuvers," says Lambert.

"I was pretty happy with the way we played," said Holy Cross cap­

The game could have gone either way, remarked O.C. Crime's co-captain, Buddy Webster. "We were a testament to the game's physical quality, left divi­sion."

In its second game, O.C. Crime's Mike Vitracola scored twice while the Mets could only manage a score of 1-0. Both teams came away from the game with a record of 2-1.

"We're scheduled to play two games Monday at 3:00 p.m.," said Keenan captain Mike Leary. "It puts us in a good position for the rest of the season."

"I have nothing but good things to say," says Lambert. "I would hope to see VOLLEYBALL, page 13

Hard-hitting-games mark interhall soccer play

By TERRY LYNCH

Sports Writer

For the second straight week, men's interhall soccer resembled a cheesy Chuck Norris movie as hard-hitting and close matches dominated the Stepan fields.

In the South American League, this style of play was evident as St. Ed's and Howard chucked up one-goal wins in intense action last weekend, improving both sides' records to 2-0. What was predicted to be a tough game, Howard prevailed over the Grace "A" squad by a score of 2-1.

Grace "A" jumped out to a 1-0 lead while dominating the first half of play, but Howard adjusted from a three-to-a-four-man front to begin the second half. Before Grace could react defensively, Howard scored two goals from Scott Fox and Brendan O'Connor.

While Howard was off to a fine start, they were being echoed by a surprising St. Ed's team, which posted the second straight shootout victory. In the first half against the O.C. Benders, St. Ed's Dean Pilapski put his team on the board first, only to see the score evened in the second half on an O.C. Bender penalty shot. The score remained at 1-1 through the overtime periods, and both teams scored twice in the five-shot shootout.

"You have to remember," notes Lambert, "that's what we're doing, playing the best teams in the conference."

"Of course we have to win," says Lambert with humility. "But our ultimate goal as a team is not just to win the conference. Ultimately, we're trying to get recognition on the national level."

"I am very pleased with the play of Melissa and Corinne," Lindgren said. "They both played great. Mary Struckhoff also played exceptionally well today."

"Our team has really improved it's interpassing and linking maneuvers," says Lambert.

"I was pretty happy with the way we played," said Holy Cross cap­

The game could have gone either way, remarked O.C. Crime's co-captain, Buddy Webster. "We were a testament to the game's physical quality, left divi­sion."

In its second game, O.C. Crime's Mike Vitracola scored twice while the Mets could only manage a score of 1-0. Both teams came away from the game with a record of 2-1.

"We're scheduled to play two games Monday at 3:00 p.m.," said Keenan captain Mike Leary. "It puts us in a good position for the rest of the season."

"I have nothing but good things to say," says Lambert. "I would hope to see VOLLEYBALL, page 13

Hard-hitting-games mark interhall soccer play

By TERRY LYNCH

Sports Writer

For the second straight week, men's interhall soccer resembled a cheesy Chuck Norris movie as hard-hitting and close matches dominated the Stepan fields.

In the South American League, this style of play was evident as St. Ed's and Howard chucked up one-goal wins in intense action last weekend, improving both sides' records to 2-0. What was predicted to be a tough game, Howard prevailed over the Grace "A" squad by a score of 2-1.

Grace "A" jumped out to a 1-0 lead while dominating the first half of play, but Howard adjusted from a three-to-a-four-man front to begin the second half. Before Grace could react defensively, Howard scored two goals from Scott Fox and Brendan O'Connor.

While Howard was off to a fine start, they were being echoed by a surprising St. Ed's team, which posted the second straight shootout victory. In the first half against the O.C. Benders, St. Ed's Dean Pilapski put his team on the board first, only to see the score evened in the second half on an O.C. Bender penalty shot. The score remained at 1-1 through the overtime periods, and both teams scored twice in the five-shot shootout.

"You have to remember," notes Lambert, "that's what we're doing, playing the best teams in the conference."

"Of course we have to win," says Lambert with humility. "But our ultimate goal as a team is not just to win the conference. Ultimately, we're trying to get recognition on the national level."

"I am very pleased with the play of Melissa and Corinne," Lindgren said. "They both played great. Mary Struckhoff also played exceptionally well today."

"Our team has really improved it's interpassing and linking maneuvers," says Lambert.
Salons yield year-round bronze

Lisa Young features writer

The leaves are turning, the squirrels are gathering nuts, and your tan is fading. Yes, summer is gone and your golden bronze hue has left with it. But don't despair. You can keep that "lifeguard look" all winter long, even here in South Bend.

South Bend's climate hasn't changed, but technology has. A craze in Europe, tanning centers have finally arrived in Indiana. A glance through the phone book reveals 10 tanning salons, and new centers are opening monthly.

If you're used to a bottle of baby oil and an innertube, tanning salons will be a different experience for you. Michael & Co. Hair Concepts and Fiesta Suntan Center, two local salons, both employ tanning beds. Other salons are equipped with tanning booths, which offer a different tanning adventure.

How can tanning with the sun be simulated in a booth or bed? The sun contains ultraviolet, visible and infrared light. The ultraviolet rays are of importance to suntanners.

Ultraviolet light is made up of 4.9 percent Ultraviolet A (UVA) rays and 0.04 percent Ultraviolet B (UVB) rays. Both rays produce color, but UVB rays tan at a much faster rate. This speed, though, often causes burning, cancer, wrinkles and premature aging. Tanning booths most often use UVB rays, but sessions last only a few minutes. Tanning beds, on the other hand, use UVA rays which stimulate the melatonin in the skin to produce a rich, deep tan. Treatments last approximately 20-30 minutes.

Your tanning session at Michael & Co. begins in your private tanning room. This privacy allows you to acquire a line-free tan, if you so desire. After dropping a token in the tanning bed, the lights begin their work. The top of the bed lowers over you as you relax and listen to your favorite radio station. A special facial tanner emits only UVA rays to bronze your face.

A fresh air fan cools your body as you pretend a tropical breeze blows over you. Eight daily sessions are necessary to build a tan, according to Michael Murray, president of Michael & Co. Following this, one or two sessions per week are necessary to maintain your tan. In artificial tanning safe?" All suntanning is bad for you," Murray says, "but UVA tanning is safer than the sun." In fact, UVA equipment was developed for treatment of arthritis, poor circulation, headaches, acne and psoriasis.

Fiesta Hair Salon also uses UVA tanning beds. Located at Stotsdale Mall, appointments are necessary because approximately 300 tanners per week use the equipment.

Because tanning centers have become so popular, the options for tanners are endless. The best advice is to check into the equipment available as well as extras such as music, private rooms, etc.

Here are some suggestions for the use of tanning salons:

- Make up, perfume, and oils and lotions should be removed. Regular suntan oils should not be used. A special oil for artificial tanning can be purchased.
- A moisturizer should be used after treatments.
- Tinted hair should be covered with a towel or scarf.
- Fair-skinned tanners should start UVA treatments at 20 minutes and build up to 30 minutes.
- Areas of the body that have not been exposed to the sun should be exposed gradually.

So if the autumn blahs are setting in, and you're tired of being mistaken for Casper the Ghost, check out the possibilities of tanning salons.

Michael & Co. charges $6 per
‘On Your Toes’ provides first for South Bend, ND grad

Mary Jacoby
assistant features editor

The opening of ‘On Your Toes’ this weekend marks a first for both the Broadway Theater League of South Bend and Zack Brown, Notre Dame alumnus. Never before has the League had the chance to kick off its current season with the premier production of a Broadway show as it begins a national tour.

As for Zack Brown, the opening of ‘On Your Toes’ brings him back to South Bend for the first time since his graduation in 1971. Brown designed the set and costumes for the production, and he is currently in town helping with preparations for opening night.

“I really like working with this production,” Brown said. “It’s got a little bit of everything in it—from classical ballet to jazz.”

‘On Your Toes’ was first produced on Broadway in the ’50s. Rodgers and Hart and George Abbott collaboration, “On Your Toes” enjoys a recent revival on Broadway, winning the Tony Award two years ago. Co-author and original director George Abbott, 98, also directed the revival. Still active in theater today. Abbott is tentatively scheduled for a visit to South Bend in conjunction with the opening of the tour.

George Abbott is Mr. Broadway,” Brown said. “It’s impossible to separate him from American musical theater. As set and costume designer, Brown has had the chance to work with the legendary Abbott, an experience he calls “very exciting” because of Abbott’s prominence in the business. But in view of Brown’s own extensive background in costume and set design, it could hardly be called a humbling experience.

Brown has been a designer in theater since 1971. After graduation he spent a year working before enrolling in the Yale School of Drama. In addition to theater, Brown has also worked extensively with opera and ballet. He won two Emmy Awards for sets and costumes for the production of “La Gioconda” at the San Francisco Opera and a Tony nomination for his “The Importance of Being Earnest” settings at Circle in the Square, an off-Broadway theater.

As an art and drama major at Notre Dame, Brown received his first hands-on training in set and costume design by working with student productions. From there Brown began designing for the Williamsstown Theater Festival in Massachusetts, where he was able to build up his reputation and secure recommendations.

For aspiring set and costume designers, or anyone interested in theater, Brown doesn’t have any particular advice except to start working. “I don’t believe in luck in this business. You can either do it or you can’t. Nobody takes chances in theater because of the money involved, so it can be hard to get the ball rolling.”

Brown has also designed sets and/or costumes for Balanchine’s “La Sonambula” for the American Ballet Theater and “Mourning Becomes Electra” for PBS’ “Great Performances” series. “On Your Toes” is only one in a long line of projects for the New York City-based Brown, who also works frequently with the Washington Opera as a resident designer.

“On Your Toes” tells the story of Junior, a dance teacher and former Vaudeville performer who tries to interest the impresario of a Russian ballet company in producing his jazz ballet. Junior falls in love with Russian ballerina Vera Baranova, incurring the wrath of her lover, Konstantin.

Vera and Konstantine are portrayed by Russians Valentina Kozlova and Leos Koziol, who defected to the U.S. in 1979 while touring as dancers with the Bolshoi Ballet.

Performances for the musical at the Morris Civic Auditorium will be Fri. and Sat. at 8 p.m. The 2 p.m. Sat. matinee will be $5.00 off the regular ticket price for students with I.D. Prices range from $12.50 to $25.50 for evening performances and $10.50 to $21.50 for the matinee.

Michael Kubala dramatically dips his partner during a musical number in ‘On Your Toes.’
Tension of traditions

Andy Kinney
features writer

"Agnes of God" is a movie which proves that all learning is not gained through a college lecture. It sheds new light on the relationship between scientific reason and religious faith.

Granting, not every professor can look like Jane Fonda, but the combination of Meg Tilly, Anne Bancroft and Fonda results in an extraordinarily deep and powerful film concerning science and religion.

Whether or not you are the most stubborn non-believer in the Midwest, this film will encourage you to reflect on your values and your perceptions of religious life.

Fonda, Bancroft, and Tilly's performances make "Agnes of God," based on a play by John Pietschman and directed by Norman Jewison, possibly one of the best films this year.

"Agnes of God," filmed on location in a convent in Rockwood, Ontario, revolves around a childbirth novice, Agnes, who gives birth to a baby in a convent. The baby is found strangled in a nearby room, and the answers behind the incident are shrouded in mystery.

As the mystery of the birth unfolds, answers become choices between reason and faith. The two attempts to resolve what actually occurred, and the views they give are representative of the questions anyone might have about faith in today's society.

"Agnes of God" also invites the viewer to become part of the drama because of the fascinating atmosphere in which it takes place. The movie places you in a microcosm of religious, as well as societal, seclusion.

Inside this world are intriguing social relationships, and before the eyes of Livingston (which are closest to the eyes of our society), we gain admiration for these nuns as well as the vocation in general.

Good films have depth of meaning. They are not superficial. "Agnes of God" coordinates symbolic elements within the plot with a grace that avoids superficiality and challenges the audience more than other recent movies.

Come to Tivoli's
South Bend's Party Headquarters

Open 6 nights a week
Drinking and Dancing
9:00 p.m. - 2:00 a.m.
Located on 133 N. at North Village Mall
277-1877

Get the best deal and have a blast at Tivoli's! Enjoy a night out with your friends and get discounted prices on drinks and food. Tivoli's has everything you need for a fun night out.

INTRODUCTORY OFFER
Buy one ice cream treat, get one of equal value FREE.

SUPER PREMIUM HOME MADE ICE CREAM
Cheesecakes (homemade)
10 Different Coffees and 10 Different Teas
Crepes
Croustade Meals and Homemade Soup

DISCOUNT COUPON
Buy one ice cream treat. Get one of equal value FREE.

Good from 10/3 to 10/10
826 W. Edison Sun.-Thurs. 11am-11pm
892 W. Edison Fri.&Sat. Open till 12 Midnight
(Handpacked ice cream not included)
Nearby bar features comfort — and sizzle

Dave Dvorak
features staff writer

I find it rather surprising that the Linebacker Lounge is not a more popular student bar than it is. At the corner of Edison and South Bend Ave. (next to King's Cellar), it is the nearest drinking establishment to the Notre Dame campus, save Senior Bar. Clean, casual, and gaudily adorned with Fighting Irish paraphernalia, the Linebacker seems to be beckoning Domers to sample its simple, yet unique atmosphere. It is not a fashionable night spot but what this bar lacks in elegance, it makes up for in comfort and quaintness.

The Bar Beat

If you're tired of having to stand in sweaty, smoky Five Points sardine cans, you'll be refreshed by the ample seating and moderate crowd sizes at the Linebacker. No need to fight your way to the bar for a drink — waitresses serve you at your table, complete with complimentary nachos and popcorn upon request. No need to shout into the earplug of the person next to you — the music level is such that you and your friends can converse as normal human beings.

The great majority of the bar's clientele consists of South Bend-Mishawaka area patrons. The town customers here are generally well-behaved, and no apparent tension exists between them and the students. In fact, townie student interaction is not uncommon at the Lounge.

In addition to the 35 cents-per-game pool table, the Linebacker offers entertainment in the forms of electronic darts, Pac-Man, and a trivia machine. The bar boasts a big screen TV, as well as three regular color TVs, which show everything from Monday Night Football to MTV.

The Lounge also features a small wooden dance floor surrounded on two sides by mirrors and accompanied by a delightful jukebox. Here you'll find an excellent variety of music, from Prince to Willie Nelson, including some truckers' favorites whose titles are not for print. A live disc jockey is on duty to spin requests every Friday and Saturday night.

The Linebacker, however, has become better known for a different kind of entertainment, namely its Monday and Thursday night intimate apparel fashion shows. During these so-called "lingerie nights," models parade around the lounge area in scanty outfits, selling $1 raffle tickets. Drawings are held during the course of the evening, with lingerie prizes going to the winners. The shows draw large crowds which are almost exclusively male. You probably can gather that the Linebacker isn't a great place to bring a date on Monday and Thursday nights.

Drinks at the Linebacker are moderately priced - $3.25 pitchers are the best buy. The burgers, Italian beef, and Polish sausage available at the grill are of questionable quality. Be careful.

All things considered, the Linebacker Lounge is a very good idea if you're looking for a place to get together informally with friends. It is a townie bar with definite Notre Dame influence that welcomes patrons from both groups.