Staff Reporter did not get them. waited in line for season tickets but where they'll be stamped and ticket to a home game can take them ball games to those students who unwanted tickets for home basketball to do this," said Bill Healy, Student Body President. They'll then be sold at the ACC ticket office, has allowed the allowed to do this, " said Bill Healy, Student Body President. But Congress has been unable to agree on a measure to raise the government's borrowing authority above its current limit of $1.123 trillion. An appropriations bill gives the government the legal power to spend money but it needs an increase in the borrowing limit to raise the money to spend since it will have exhausted its financial reserves by Friday. A government shutdown would be nothing new. It happened in November 1981 and just over a year ago on Oct. 4, 1984. Both shutdows had little impact on the public. A default, however, which has never occurred before, could have far-reaching implications. The Treasury Department says that as of Friday the government's coffers will be completely empty. see DOOMSDAY, page 4

Government faces federal spending 'double doomsday'

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Unless Congress ends its impasse over the federal spending this week, the U.S. government faces a Super Bowl of bureaucratic snafus on Friday, the likes of which the country has never seen. For the first time in its history, the government may default on its financial obligations - bouncing millions of federal checks. In addition, much of the federal government could be shut down, sending a half-million or more "nonessential" workers home on an unscheduled holiday and closing government offices from Washington to Anchorage. The country is being brought to the brink of this double doomsday because of continued wrangling over federal finances. While Congress has until midnight Thursday to reach a resolution of the impasse, bills are reluctantly beginning to make contingency plans if this deadline is not met. The two problems, a government shutdown and a default, will require separate congressional solutions. The shutdown can be averted if Congress passes a stopgap appropriations bill to fund government agencies past the expiration of the current temporary spending bill midnight Thursday. That is also the deadline for the government to run out of money because Congress has been unable to agree on a measure to raise the government's borrowing authority above its current limit of $1.123 trillion. An appropriations bill gives the government the legal power to spend money but it needs an increase in the borrowing limit to raise the money to spend since it will have exhausted its financial reserves by Friday. A government shutdown would be nothing new. It happened in November 1981 and just over a year ago on Oct. 4, 1984. Both shutdows had little impact on the public. A default, however, which has never occurred before, could have far-reaching implications. The Treasury Department says that as of Friday the government's coffers will be completely empty. see DOOMSDAY, page 4

Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS - The freighter carrying Miroslav Medvid back to the Soviet Union was well out of Coast Guard jurisdiction yesterday, but the sailor who twice leaped into the Mississippi in apparent attempts to defect remained in the thoughts of those who tried to block his departure.

"We're not going to forget this. And we're not going to let the powers that be forget this," said Jeff Pandin, who tried to organise a flotilla of small boats to harass the Marshal Koniev on its way down the Mississippi River.

Medvid, 25, sparked an international uproar when he jumped ship and swam to shore Oct. 24. He jumped again from a launch which took him back to the ship. He cut one wrist after being forced back to the ship, but later told U.S. officials that he wanted to return to the Soviet Union. He said he had fallen from his ship and could not remember what happened after that.

The federal government said it could do no more, and a flurry of federal lawsuits and a Senate subcommittee failed to keep the 810-foot freighter from leaving Saturday with Medvid aboard.

"As far as our operations down here in New Orleans, I think it's over," said Pandin. "We're trying to figure out what our next step will be, through the political channels in Washington."

The 120,000-ton Marshal Koniev had a Coast Guard escort from the time it slipped its moorings in Reserve, 130 miles up the Mississippi 28 while Brownsville, in far southern Texas, was already at 83 degrees.

Indian summer leaves U.S. amid efforts to block departure Associated Press

Indian summer was over yesterday for much of the country as snow whitened the ground from the Northwest to the Great Lakes and shut down an intense high

Heavy snow in Northern Californi a blocked out parts of the Sierra Nevada, closed roads and left an estimated 7,000 hikers snowbound near Yosemite National Park.

双脚印被白雪覆盖，无法行走。10月24日，他跳入水中。

In addition, many of the federal government could be shut down, sending a half-million or more 'nonessential' workers home on an unscheduled holiday and closing government offices from Washington to Anchorage. The country is being brought to the brink of this double doomsday because of continued wrangling over federal finances. While Congress has until midnight Thursday to reach a resolution of the impasse, bills are reluctantly beginning to make contingency plans if this deadline is not met. The two problems, a government shutdown and a default, will require separate congressional solutions. The shutdown can be averted if Congress passes a stopgap appropriations bill to fund government agencies past the expiration of the current temporary spending bill midnight Thursday. That is also the deadline for the government to run out of money because Congress has been unable to agree on a measure to raise the government's borrowing authority above its current limit of $1.123 trillion. An appropriations bill gives the government the legal power to spend money but it needs an increase in the borrowing limit to raise the money to spend since it will have exhausted its financial reserves by Friday. A government shutdown would be nothing new. It happened in November 1981 and just over a year ago on Oct. 4, 1984. Both shutdows had little impact on the public. A default, however, which has never occurred before, could have far-reaching implications. The Treasury Department says that as of Friday the government's coffers will be completely empty.

Major snows and cold temps soak nation Associated Press

Indian summer was over yesterday for much of the country as snow whitened the ground from the Northwest to the Great Lakes and shut down an intense high

Heavy snow in Northern California blocked out parts of the Sierra Nevada, closed roads and left an estimated 7,000 hikers snowbound near Yosemite National Park.

Three deaths had been blamed on the weather-like weather. Butte, Mont., was the coldest spot in the contiguous states with a low of 9 below zero, and only warmed to 8 degrees above zero at 2 p.m. EST. The weather service calculated the windchill factor at Kalispell, Mont., at nearly 20 degrees.

Butt, Mont., was the coldest spot in the contiguous states with a low of 9 below zero, and only warmed to 8 degrees above zero at 2 p.m. EST. The weather service calculated the windchill factor at Kalispell, Mont., at nearly 20 degrees.

Carson, Wyo., had a record low of 2 inches below zero with a high of 7.2. But farther north, parts of Maine got 2 inches of snow during the morning.

A cold front forcing its way across the Plains reached Dallas apparently at noon and dropped temperatures from the 70s into the 50s and 60s. Around mid-morning, Amarillo had a temperature of just 28 while Brownsville, in far southern Texas, was already at 83 degrees, and McAllen reached a high of 91. Amarillo's 14-mph north wind made it feel like 7 degrees.

A new storm spread snow into the Northwest, and winter storm warnings were posted for higher elevations in Oregon, Idaho, Northern California and northern Nevada.

Up to 3 feet of snow fell on peaks around Lake Tahoe, on the Nevada-California border, and in the nearby Sierra Nevada of Northern California. Interstate 80 was closed between Reno, Nev., and California and authorities said yesterday they didn't know when it would be reopened.

Elsewhere in the Sierra Nevada, 18 empty cars presumed to belong to backpackers, were found by Tuolomne County Sheriff's deputies, in the Stanislaus National Forest. "It's impossible to go there looking for them. There's over 1,000 square miles to cover. It's like finding a needle in a haystack," said the hikers may have found vacant cabins.

Every major mountain pass in Washington state was affected by the snow, with snow tides or chains advised or required, and there were closures. The state's transportation department reported 26 inches of new snow yesterday at Cayuse Pass, and 24 inches at White Pass.

Friends and volunteers push a car off the curb and away from a stop sign hit Friday in downtown Sioux Falls, S.D. Stick streets caught some drivers by surprise during the season's first snowstorms. Story ad left.
The Observer

Monday, November 11, 1985 - page 2

Of Interest

A Planning for Pregnancy seminar will be held tonight and next Monday night at 7 in the auditorium of the Angela Building, 410 N. Notre Dame Avenue. The program, which is sponsored by the Natural Family Planning Program of St. Joseph County, is free and open to the public. The program is targeted for expectant parents and is a pregnancy in the near future. The goal is to establish good health habits in women during child-bearing years - The Observer.

The American Catholic Studies Seminar sponsored by the Charles and Margaret Hall Caflishwa Center for the Study of American Catholicism will tomorrow afternoon at 4 in the Memorial Literary Lounge. Professor Leslie Tetley of the University of Michigan, will discuss her paper, "Catholic Women and Their Church, A View from Detroit." Everyone is invited - The Observer.

This is Holy Cross Hall Week at Saint Mary's. Today's events will also be sponsored by the students and include the following:

- William Hickey, acting president of the College at 6:30 in the parsley
- Tomorrow in Dorm Color Day, and an Open House for faculty and friends will be held Wednesday from 3:30 to 5 p.m.
- Finally, on Thursday, the annual "Miss Holy Cross Contest" will be held at 7 p.m. in Carroll Hall - The Observer.

Political Participation in a Democratic Context: "Some issues and Very Few Answers," will be the topic of a brief, percent chance of showers tomorrow. High 55 to 60.

with near steady temperatures around 40 and a 50 percent chance of showers today with a 50 percent chance of getting you down today - The Observer.

Weather

Rainy days and Mondays may get you down today with a 90 percent chance of rain. High 40 to 45. Rain likely tonight with steeply cool temperatures around 40 and a 70 percent chance of showers tomorrow. High 35 to 40 - The Observer.

Creativity, not coercion aids in United Way fundraising

Amy Stephan
Managing Editor

Gansters, Mike Huber and Bob McNamara, apparently gleaned from the successful MS drive is that creativity, not necessarily coercion, can spark interest in a charity drive. In past years, door-to-door solicitation by "your friends" was the bread and butter of the United Way drive. This year, not only could you give a buck for the United Way, but you could lock up a rose, watch a retro story for the Boy Scouts or rock-alike for the Red Cross. The events supporting the United Way campaign have proved almost as good as the organizations benefiting from this fund.

The United Way campaign has given students something to do and a reason to give. By bypassing creative fund-raisers for a good cause, organizers have created interest in the charity they are supporting. These events both spark increased coverage in campus media and attract attention to the idea, which otherwise might have been indifferent toward the campaign.

Conversely, a worthwhile cause helps to create interest in a new, untapped campus activity. Lack of creative social options on campus is usually rooted in lack of student interest. Few students have the time, resources or motivation to plan campus-wide social events. And too often, when such events are organized by student government or other student groups, lack of publicity or interest causes the events to fall flat on their face.

The United Way campaign combines resources, publicity and motivation needed for successful events. Students who otherwise might pass up a new activity, take an interest when they find it's for a good cause.

This creative approach benefits both the United Way and the student body. Donors are treated to a menu of social opportunities, while the United Way takes the profits.

Huber, McNamara and everyone involved in this year's campaign are to be congratulated. Their method of fund-raising may not involve competition, but ensures that everyone - students and the United Way - win.

Exciting and Challenging Career Opportunities

Master of Business Administration

A small, highly selective MBA program has been designed by the Ohio State University to provide professional management education to students with nonbusiness academic backgrounds. This two-year full-time program offers the opportunity to concentrate in one or two management fields through elective course work.

● Master of Business Administration: Prepper and Academy program.

● Management trainee with an international assignment. Price Waterhouse.

● Assistant product manager. Pitney Bass.

● Management analyst, Hewlett Packard.

● Inventory control manager, IBM Corporation.

● Account executive, Merrill Lynch.

● Consultant, Price Waterhouse.

● Management trainee with an international assignment.

For a brochure describing this program and application information, please contact:

Director, MBA Programs

The Ohio State University

112 Hagerty Hall

1775 College Road

Columbus, OH 43210-1299

614-292-8511

The Ohio State University
Spanish hold NATO, U.S. protests

Associated Press

MADRID, Spain - Thousands of people marched and danced down the streets of four Spanish cities yesterday in festive protests against Spain's membership in NATO and the presence of U.S. troops in leased bases.

Witnesses said similar demonstrations last year attracted at least three groups.

The political turbulence of Northern Ireland will explode on the stage of the Washington Hall-Lab Theatre beginning this Thursday at 8:10 PM when the Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre presents a Showcase Production of The Freedom of the City by Brian Priel. The play will be presented Nov. 14, 15, 16, and 21, 22, 23.

Priel's play tells the story of three citizens of Northern Ireland who attend a demonstration against the government. When government troops move in to disband the crowd with teargas and rubber bullets the three duck into the nearest building to escape the melee. Unwittingly they take refuge in the Mayor's Office in the Guildhall. Struck by the irony of finding safety in the building that is the symbol of their oppression, the three begin to drink the mayor's liquor, dress in civic officials' robes and call their friends on the mayor's phone. The troops outside believe that the Guildhall has been taken by terrorists. Tragedy results because no one has a clear understanding of the facts.

In how he shows that the media is a powerful force in shaping public opinion, and how people on each side of an issue can interpret the facts to support their own cause.

The Lab Theatre, which is at the north end of Washington Hall will lend an intimate environment for the world's leading actors. Freshmen and sophomores have also used the carnival to their advantage in gaining needed direction in their courses of study. Roberts, involved in the organizational aspect of the event, has received responses from 50 organizations at the carnival.

Last year, 58 organizations attended but turnout was poor. Few attendance was due to scheduling errors. But enthusiastic, positive responses from those who participated companies was received, said Roberts. This promises to be an even more successful event and hopefully make this year's Carnival of Careers a great success, Roberts added.

The Enlightenment and Career Development Center, student government, the Senior Board, and the Junior Board invited participation from a wide variety of companies. Included in the exhibition area are Career Services, IBM, E.F. Hutton, South Bend Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Cross Associates, Coopers & Lybrand, Mellon Bank, Miles Laboratories, WSBT TV, The Times South Bend, Peace Corps, and many others.

U. S. receives royalties.

President and Mrs. Reagan chat with Prince Charles and Lady Diana as they arrived at the Diplomatic Entrance of the White House Saturday. The British royalty were "emormously touched" by their welcome to America, on the heels of a two-week tour of Australia. The Reagans hosted a gala dinner Saturday night where actors John Travolta and Clint Eastwood, and singer Neil Diamond were among the invited guests.

50 organizations slated for Career Carnival

By KATHLEEN ZAISON
Jeff Reporter

A focus on career opportunities will be the main thrust of activities at Saint Mary's Carnival of Careers Tuesday through Thursday.

The Carnival of Careers is scheduled to accommodate up to 2000 people on three days from 4 to 7 p.m. in the Angela Athletic Facility.

All Saint Mary's and Notre Dame students are eligible to attend.

The Carnival of Careers is for the benefit of students to meet firsthand with executives and representatives from companies. Information will focus on possible reduction of 12,000 American troops stationed in four leased bases began last month.

The political turbulence of Northern Ireland will explode onto the stage of the Washington Hall-Lab Theatre beginning this Thursday at 8:10 PM when the Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre presents a Showcase Production of The Freedom of the City by Brian Priel.

The play will be presented Nov. 14, 15, 16, and 21, 22, 23.

Priel's play tells the story of three citizens of Northern Ireland who attend a demonstration against the government. When government troops move in to disband the crowd with tear gas and rubber bullets the three duck into the nearest building to escape the melee.

Unwittingly they take refuge in the Mayor's Office in the Guildhall. Struck by the irony of finding safety in the building that is the symbol of their oppression, the three begin to drink the mayor's liquor, dress in civic officials' robes and call their friends on the mayor's phone.

The troops outside believe that the Guildhall has been taken by terrorists. Tragedy results because no one has a clear understanding of the facts.

In how he shows that the media is a powerful force in shaping public opinion, and how people on each side of an issue can interpret the facts to support their own cause.

The Lab Theatre, which is at the north end of Washington Hall will lend an intimate environment for the world's leading actors. Freshmen and sophomores have also used the carnival to their advantage in gaining needed direction in their courses of study.

Roberts, involved in the organizational aspect of the event, has received responses from 50 organizations at the carnival.

Last year, 58 organizations attended but turnout was poor. Few attendance was due to scheduling errors. But enthusiastic, positive responses from those who participated companies was received, said Roberts. This promises to be an even more successful event and hopefully make this year's Carnival of Careers a great success, Roberts added.

The Enlightenment and Career Development Center, student government, the Senior Board, and the Junior Board invited participation from a wide variety of companies. Included in the exhibition area are Career Services, IBM, E.F. Hutton, South Bend Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Cross Associates, Coopers & Lybrand, Mellon Bank, Miles Laboratories, WSBT TV, The Times South Bend, Peace Corps, and many others.

The political turbulence of Northern Ireland will explode onto the stage of the Washington Hall-Lab Theatre beginning this Thursday at 8:10 PM when the Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre presents a Showcase Production of The Freedom of the City by Brian Priel. The play will be presented Nov. 14, 15, 16, and 21, 22, 23.

Priel's play tells the story of three citizens of Northern Ireland who attend a demonstration against the government. When government troops move in to disband the crowd with tear gas and rubber bullets the three duck into the nearest building to escape the melee.

Unwittingly they take refuge in the Mayor's Office in the Guildhall. Struck by the irony of finding safety in the building that is the symbol of their oppression, the three begin to drink the mayor's liquor, dress in civic officials' robes and call their friends on the mayor's phone.

The troops outside believe that the Guildhall has been taken by terrorists. Tragedy results because no one has a clear understanding of the facts.

In how he shows that the media is a powerful force in shaping public opinion, and how people on each side of an issue can interpret the facts to support their own cause.

The Lab Theatre, which is at the north end of Washington Hall will lend an intimate environment for the world's leading actors. Freshmen and sophomores have also used the carnival to their advantage in gaining needed direction in their courses of study.

Roberts, involved in the organizational aspect of the event, has received responses from 50 organizations at the carnival.

Last year, 58 organizations attended but turnout was poor. Few attendance was due to scheduling errors. But enthusiastic, positive responses from those who participated companies was received, said Roberts. This promises to be an even more successful event and hopefully make this year's Carnival of Careers a great success, Roberts added.

The Enlightenment and Career Development Center, student government, the Senior Board, and the Junior Board invited participation from a wide variety of companies. Included in the exhibition area are Career Services, IBM, E.F. Hutton, South Bend Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Cross Associates, Coopers & Lybrand, Mellon Bank, Miles Laboratories, WSBT TV, The Times South Bend, Peace Corps, and many others.

The political turbulence of Northern Ireland will explode onto the stage of the Washington Hall-Lab Theatre beginning this Thursday at 8:10 PM when the Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre presents a Showcase Production of The Freedom of the City by Brian Priel. The play will be presented Nov. 14, 15, 16, and 21, 22, 23.

Priel's play tells the story of three citizens of Northern Ireland who attend a demonstration against the government. When government troops move in to disband the crowd with tear gas and rubber bullets the three duck into the nearest building to escape the melee.

Unwittingly they take refuge in the Mayor's Office in the Guildhall. Struck by the irony of finding safety in the building that is the symbol of their oppression, the three begin to drink the mayor's liquor, dress in civic officials' robes and call their friends on the mayor's phone.

The troops outside believe that the Guildhall has been taken by terrorists. Tragedy results because no one has a clear understanding of the facts.

In how he shows that the media is a powerful force in shaping public opinion, and how people on each side of an issue can interpret the facts to support their own cause.

The Lab Theatre, which is at the north end of Washington Hall will lend an intimate environment for the world's leading actors. Freshmen and sophomores have also used the carnival to their advantage in gaining needed direction in their courses of study.

Roberts, involved in the organizational aspect of the event, has received responses from 50 organizations at the carnival.

Last year, 58 organizations attended but turnout was poor. Few attendance was due to scheduling errors. But enthusiastic, positive responses from those who participated companies was received, said Roberts. This promises to be an even more successful event and hopefully make this year's Carnival of Careers a great success, Roberts added.

The Enlightenment and Career Development Center, student government, the Senior Board, and the Junior Board invited participation from a wide variety of companies. Included in the exhibition area are Career Services, IBM, E.F. Hutton, South Bend Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Cross Associates, Coopers & Lybrand, Mellon Bank, Miles Laboratories, WSBT TV, The Times South Bend, Peace Corps, and many others.

The political turbulence of Northern Ireland will explode onto the stage of the Washington Hall-Lab Theatre beginning this Thursday at 8:10 PM when the Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre presents a Showcase Production of The Freedom of the City by Brian Priel. The play will be presented Nov. 14, 15, 16, and 21, 22, 23.

Priel's play tells the story of three citizens of Northern Ireland who attend a demonstration against the government. When government troops move in to disband the crowd with tear gas and rubber bullets the three duck into the nearest building to escape the melee.

Unwittingly they take refuge in the Mayor's Office in the Guildhall. Struck by the irony of finding safety in the building that is the symbol of their oppression, the three begin to drink the mayor's liquor, dress in civic officials' robes and call their friends on the mayor's phone.

The troops outside believe that the Guildhall has been taken by terrorists. Tragedy results because no one has a clear understanding of the facts.

In how he shows that the media is a powerful force in shaping public opinion, and how people on each side of an issue can interpret the facts to support their own cause.

The Lab Theatre, which is at the north end of Washington Hall will lend an intimate environment for the world's leading actors. Freshmen and sophomores have also used the carnival to their advantage in gaining needed direction in their courses of study.

Roberts, involved in the organizational aspect of the event, has received responses from 50 organizations at the carnival.

Last year, 58 organizations attended but turnout was poor. Few attendance was due to scheduling errors. But enthusiastic, positive responses from those who participated companies was received, said Roberts. This promises to be an even more successful event and hopefully make this year's Carnival of Careers a great success, Roberts added.

The Enlightenment and Career Development Center, student government, the Senior Board, and the Junior Board invited participation from a wide variety of companies. Included in the exhibition area are Career Services, IBM, E.F. Hutton, South Bend Regional Chamber of Commerce, the Cross Associates, Coopers & Lybrand, Mellon Bank, Miles Laboratories, WSBT TV, The Times South Bend, Peace Corps, and many others.
Arafat, Hussein pledge takeover

The Observer

Associated Press

ABU DHABI, United Arab Emirates-PLO Chief Yasser Arafat said yesterday the Palestinian people will "never let the gun fall from their hands."

And in Jordan, King Hussein told a military graduating class that "the Arab flag will soon fly over Jerusalem."

Arafat's statement on Abu Dhabi television followed a declaration he made only last week in which he denounced violence against unarmed civilians anywhere and pledged to punish violators of a PLO commitment against terrorism outside Israeli-occupied territory.

Arafat, Chairman of the Palestine Liberation Organization, said yesterday his Cairo declaration was "a diplomatic response to the fierce U.S. and Zionist (Israeli) campaign against the PLO."

The declaration was criticized by some Arabs who contended he had dropped the Palestinian armed struggle in favor of peaceful accommodation with Israel.

Arafat said the contents of the declaration represented "truthful respect for international legitimacy, which distinguishes between resistance against an enemy and terrorist operations against innocent civilians outside the occupied land."

But, he said, Palestinian resistance remained committed to "escalating armed struggle inside the occupied territories."

In Amman, Hussein said in a speech that Arabs will soon rule the country and that they will never give up the war against Israel.

While Arafat and Hussein spoke, Israeli President Yitzhak Rabin said the two leaders have agreed to exchange prisoners and suspend firing from their behinds. The kings also pledged to carry out the Helsinki declaration on human rights.

In Amman, Hussein said in a speech that Arabs will soon rule the country and that they will never give up the war against Israel.

"It will not be long before the day the Arab flag will fly over Jerusalem, and the voices (from the mosques) will cry 'God is great' and the bells will ring from the churches there," Hussein said yesterday at the Royal Military Academy in the Jordanian capital.

The king, in alliance with the PLO, has proposed peace in exchange for the Arab states withdrawal from all lands occupied since the 1967 war. But, he said, Palestinian resistance remained committed to "escalating armed struggle inside the occupied territories."

Peace, the king said, should be based on "right and justice" and should restore "the occupied territories to their legitimate owners."

Israel Prime Minister Shimon Peres has expressed willingness to negotiate with Hussein and with Palestinians who renounce violence. But Israel says it will never give up Jerusalem, which is a holy city for Jews, Christians and Moslems.

Israel also opposes Hussein's call for a U.N-sponsored peace conference, although Peres has indicated he would accept such an effort from a U.N. support for direct talks with Israel.

Doomsday continued from page 1

Unless Congress grants the authority to borrow more money, Treasury Secretary Baker has said he will be forced to notify the Federal Reserve Board and the nation's banks that federal checks can no longer be honored. Since the government issues 600 million checks a year, that leaves a lot of rubber to bounce.

The first to feel the pinch would be the 2.1 million members of the armed forces, who, along with some smaller government agencies, are to get paid Friday. They would still get their checks but would be unable to cash them.

Some of the nation's largest banks and pension funds, along with numerous small investors, would also feel the effects right away. The government is scheduled to pay $16 billion in interest on Treasury securities Friday--payments that could be made if the country is in default.

Recipients of the government's biggest benefit program, Social Security, would not feel any immediate impact since those checks were sent out on time at the first of the month.

If any individual had delayed cashing that check, however, it would not be honored since the government says it has no way to discriminate between obligations once they reach a negative cash balance.

Administration officials are also concerned that a default, even one due to congressional wrangling, would raise worldwide doubts about the country's economic health. Such doubts could send the value of the dollar plunging precipitously.

dBASE II®
sets the data management standard for 8-bit computers

HERE'S HOW:
• Powerful English language commands manage data for over 1,000,000* users.

Come See a Demonstration Today.

$395.00

Twin Cities

 Ashton-Tate

| 1639 N. Ironwood Drive South Bend |

| Ashton-Tate is a trademark of Ashton-Tate, Inc. Ashton-Tate is the registered trademark of Ashton-Tate, Inc. |

Digital DELL

Styling

531 N. Michigan St.

Rocco's Hair

Phone 233-4957

Mon. thru Fri. 10-5

Sat. 12-5

277-5026

The University of Notre Dame Finance Club proudly presents:
THE FINANCIAL INSTITUTION SERIES

Monday, November 11, 1985
Mr. Robert G. Murray, CFA
Executive Vice President
First Interstate Bank of Oregon

"Value Investing"

4:00 p.m.

Tuesday, November 12, 1985
Mr. Jose E. Fernandez
President
Drexel Burnham Lambert
Puerto Rico, Inc.

"Investor Power Ratings--Past, Present, and Future"

4:00 p.m.

Wednesday, November 13, 1985
Mr. Terence P. Brennan
First Vice President
Prudential-Bache Securities, Inc.

"Change Produces Opportunity"

4:00 p.m.
WASHINGTON - The nation is making "slow, but steady progress" recruiting more and better teachers as salary increases are outstripping inflation, the Carnegie Foundation reported yesterday.

Ernest Boyer, the president of the foundation, said in a new review of school statistics from each state provides "grounds for cautious hope." But he added, "the challenge confronting teaching in this country is far greater than its achievements."

He urged immediate action to tighten professional standards, boost teachers' pay further and recruit stand-out students for the profession.

Boyer released an update of a report called, "The Condition of Teaching: a state by State Analysis," first issued in August 1983. Its author, C. Emily Feistritzer, director of the National Center for Education Information, said the latest data on teacher salaries, test scores and other topics "dramatically demonstrates that all the brouhaha over teaching is paying off in slow, but steady, progress."

Teachers lost 12 percent of their purchasing power in the previous 10 years, but their salaries rose 6.2 percent in 1984-85 and 6.9 percent last year, when inflation was only 3 to 4 percent each year, the report said.

Citing National Education Association figures, the report said the average classroom teacher made $25,940 in 1984-85. The median household income for teachers was about $30,000 in 1985, or roughly "the same as that for all college graduates," it said.

Four percent of teachers, 85,000, had a household income of $35,000 or less, compared with 16 percent of the working public. "At the opposite end of the income scale, 15 percent of teachers, 275,000, were in households with incomes of $50,000 or more, compared with 20 percent of the working public: "Teacher salaries are higher than those of state and local government employees, and both are outstripping the inflation rate," it said. "Yet a smaller and smaller portion of ever-increasing school spending goes for teachers' salaries."

"The SAT scores of prospective teacher trainees are rising up faster than the national averages," it said. "The gap between the SAT scores of high school students who say they are going to major in education, and the national average SAT score narrowed from 80 points in 1982 to 70 points in 1985."

"The one boat that tried to slow the Marshal Koniev, and for allegedly unsafe operation of a Coast Guard boat."

He also plans to speak to Bobinski about selling tickets to students first according to Healy.

"I hope to have the lottery drawing during halftime at a game at the end of the season," he said. "If we don't sell all the tickets, we'll save the majority of the money."

Healy hopes to have the lottery drawing during halftime at a game at the end of the season. "With this plan, we hope that everybody who wants to go will be able to see at least one game," he said.

Help Prevent Birth Defects

AIDS AT NOTRE DAME???

No one has acknowledged it yet, but what if it did happen? How would you react? What would your reaction be based upon? Fear? Ignorance? Incompetence?

Tonight at 9:00 p.m., NBC stations will air "An Early Frost"; a highly acclaimed drama about a young man with AIDS and his family's attempt to reconcile itself to his gaiyness, his disease and its consequences.

If you can spare the time, why not use it to inform yourself?

Gays and Lesbians at ND/SMC
P.O. Box 194
Notre Dame, IN 46556

YOURS

and Family Restaurant

Follow 23 South to:
2610 Prairie Ave.
South Bend
288-3320

Just bring a copy of your school I.D.

No cosigner required

APPLY NOW ON CAMPUS!

Date: Nov. 11 - 15
Time: 9am - 5pm
Place: LaFortune Student Center

Teacher number, quality slowly rise as salaries increase

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The nation is making "slow, but steady progress" recruiting more and better teachers as salary increases are outstripping inflation, the Carnegie Foundation reported yesterday.

Ernest Boyer, the president of the foundation, said in a new review of school statistics from each state provides "grounds for cautious hope." But he added, "the challenge confronting teaching in this country is far greater than its achievements."

He urged immediate action to tighten professional standards, boost teachers' pay further and recruit stand-out students for the profession.

Boyer released an update of a report called, "The Condition of Teaching: a state by State Analysis," first issued in August 1983. Its author, C. Emily Feistritzer, director of the National Center for Education Information, said the latest data on teacher salaries, test scores and other topics "dramatically demonstrates that all the brouhaha over teaching is paying off in slow, but steady, progress."

Teachers lost 12 percent of their purchasing power in the previous 10 years, but their salaries rose 6.2 percent in 1984-85 and 6.9 percent last year, when inflation was only 3 to 4 percent each year, the report said.

Citing National Education Association figures, the report said the average classroom teacher made $25,940 in 1984-85. The median household income for teachers was about $30,000 in 1985, or roughly "the same as that for all college graduates," it said.

Four percent of teachers, 85,000, had a household income of $35,000 or less, compared with 16 percent of the working public. "At the opposite end of the income scale, 15 percent of teachers, 275,000, were in households with incomes of $50,000 or more, compared with 20 percent of the working public: "Teacher salaries are higher than those of state and local government employees, and both are outstripping the inflation rate," it said. "Yet a smaller and smaller portion of ever-increasing school spending goes for teachers' salaries."

"The SAT scores of prospective teacher trainees are rising up faster than the national averages," it said. "The gap between the SAT scores of high school students who say they are going to major in education, and the national average SAT score narrowed from 80 points in 1982 to 70 points in 1985."

"The one boat that tried to slow the Marshal Koniev, and for allegedly unsafe operation of a Coast Guard boat."

He also plans to speak to Bobinski about selling tickets to students first according to Healy.

"I hope to have the lottery drawing during halftime at a game at the end of the season," he said. "If we don't sell all the tickets, we'll save the majority of the money."

Healy hopes to have the lottery drawing during halftime at a game at the end of the season. "With this plan, we hope that everybody who wants to go will be able to see at least one game," he said.

Help Prevent Birth Defects

AIDS AT NOTRE DA ME???

No one has acknowledged it yet, but what if it did happen? How would you react? What would your reaction be based upon? Fear? Ignorance? Incompetence?

Tonight at 9:00 p.m., NBC stations will air "An Early Frost"; a highly acclaimed drama about a young man with AIDS and his family's attempt to reconcile itself to his gaiyness, his disease and its consequences.

If you can spare the time, why not use it to inform yourself?

Gays and Lesbians at ND/SMC
P.O. Box 194
Notre Dame, IN 46556

YOURS

and Family Restaurant

Follow 23 South to:
2610 Prairie Ave.
South Bend
288-3320

Just bring a copy of your school I.D.

No cosigner required

APPLY NOW ON CAMPUS!

Date: Nov. 11 - 15
Time: 9am - 5pm
Place: LaFortune Student Center
Monday, November 11, 1985 - page 6

News article about a treaty to end schoolyard violence between boys and girls, followed by a screening of a movie called "An Early Frost" which addresses the issue of AIDS and the humanization of AIDS to the public. The movie is predicted to have a national audience of 50 million viewers. The screening is followed by a half-hour report on AIDS. New York City's health commissioner argues that people who watch the movie should be encouraged to watch it and share their experiences, and the California Association of Health Education Teachers has suggested students watch the movie for extra credit.

In conjunction with the film, NBC is offering its local stations a public service announcement featuring Gena Rowlands, who plays the AIDS patient's compassionate mother in "An Early Frost." The announcement includes a toll-free telephone number to the Public Health Service.

The agreement followed a meeting between a Sousa-appointed committee of fifth and sixth grade boys and girls.

"He left us alone for 15 minutes or so to work on solutions on how we thought we could solve the problem," said sixth-grader Leslie Fudge. Under the agreement, the schoolyard will be united as of tomorrow, but will be segregated again if fighting resumes. If that happens, Sousa told the students he would set aside a portion of the playground for peaceful mixing of boys and girls.

The segregation was imposed when boys at the 430-pupil school complained they were being kicked where it counts and beaten up by girls when they went outside during recess periods.

The agreement followed a meeting between a Sousa-appointed committee of fifth and sixth grade boys and girls.

"He left us alone for 15 minutes or so to work on solutions on how we thought we could solve the problem," said sixth-grader Leslie Fudge. Under the agreement, the schoolyard will be united as of tomorrow, but will be segregated again if fighting resumes. If that happens, Sousa told the students he would set aside a portion of the playground for peaceful mixing of boys and girls.

The segregation was imposed when boys at the 430-pupil school complained they were being kicked where it counts and beaten up by girls when they went outside during recess periods.

In the movie, the AIDS patient is initially rejected by his father, played by Ben Gazzara. Foulon hasn't talked to his own father about his illness yet. He says he hopes to do that before Thanksgiving.

"I saw hope in that the father cared about his son, a 29-year-old homosexual," said Foulon. "I've been rejected by people and bad friends."

"An Early Frost" is the story of Jenny Villalon, left, and Margar Villalon, right, as they watched a screening of a movie on AIDS. They are the children of a 50 million viewer audience.

The Observer/Hannci Hacker

This Observer/McGraw photo showes a double exposure of Jenny Villalon, left, and Margar Villalon, right, as they watched a screening of a movie on AIDS. They are the children of a 50 million viewer audience.

\[100\% \text{ of people interviewed in the area have expressed interest in joining.} \]
AIDS was initially reported in America in 1981, and 12,000 reports of cases have been received since then. Of these, half have resulted in death.

The AIDS condition is characterized by a defect in natural immunity against disease. Researchers have isolated a virus called Human T-lymphotropic, type III (HTLV-III), which is the cause of AIDS. Infection, however, does not always lead to AIDS. But if the virus takes hold, it lowers a person's immunity system and leaves its victims vulnerable to other diseases and infections. The University of California at Berkeley is also developing an AIDS education program scheduled for next spring. Two students and one staff member at Berkeley have died from AIDS. Other schools, such as Northeastern University in Boston, are conducting AIDS seminars.

Notre Dame students have mixed feelings about AIDS. "I am no more concerned about AIDS than I am about cancer," says one student. Another one said, "I think it's scary because it's something that's so foreign and inexplicable, and in our society, anything that's inexplicable is scary."

According to a factsheet provided by the U.S. Public Health Service, AIDS was initially reported in America in 1981, and 12,000 reports of cases have been received since then. Of these, half have resulted in death.

The AIDS condition is characterized by a defect in natural immunity against disease. Researchers have isolated a virus called Human T-lymphotropic, type III (HTLV-III), which is the cause of AIDS. Infection, however, does not always lead to AIDS. But if the virus takes hold, it lowers a person's immunity system and leaves its victims vulnerable to other diseases and infections.
Gender will always guide the Catholic Church

A recent article dealt with Geraldine Ferraro's ground-breaking nomination of last July. In the article's conclusion, Mary Berger stated that though her daughter may never be a pope, because of Ferraro's nomination she has a legitimate chance at the presidency. On both counts, she is right; she or her daughter could become a president—but probably never will be a priest.

Terry Kibeltis

Why? Because of archaic tradition that bases religious competence on X and Y chromosomes. No matter how devoted, saintly, or theologically intense a person may be, gender always will define the path these characteristics will take. And if that person happens to be female, well, as Shakespeare would say, "Get thee to a nunnery" is the Roman Catholic Church's only answer.

The call to the sisterhood is a meaningless and beautiful one, and for those truly devoted, it is a wonderful and fulfilling life. Yet for women who desire something else, there are no other options. For men, both the brotherhood and priesthood choices are available.

This lack of options is typical of the Roman Catholic Church's treatment of its female members. Though they were among the first believers, and the few who, historically, did not flee the crucifixion scene, women have been forced consistently to take a secondary role by the male Church hierarchy.

Canon Law emphatically bars women from being altar servers. And though women are permitted to be Eucharistic ministers, because of bishop's discretion in implementing this policy, this service has been slow to come by in many dioceses.

Contradictions like these are basic to the roots of our religion, but developed through the social mores of the past centuries. Historically, because of the prevalent sexist views of female capabilities, priesthood for women never was considered seriously.

Yet these past decades have brought about long-needed reforms of preconceived notions of women. More enlightened women's voices forced a reevaluation of stereotypes that has caused both social, legal, and theological repercussions. The role of women has become all-encompassing, to the point where women have become part of every sphere of occupations, including the ministry.

Why, therefore, has the Roman Catholic Church refused these changes? No logical answer has been offered. In 1972, Pope Paul VI stated women should not be priests because they do not physically resemble Jesus Christ. Since then, responses have been worded more tactfully and hidden under sheets of platitudes about the role of motherhood.

The basic view has not changed, however. The male-dominated Church says because women are female, it is impossible for them to be good priests. The problem returns to physical realm.

Catholic Church leaders have refused to acknowledge what they feel is a trend. Is spiritual equality ever a trend? Can human basic regards ever be a trend?

Women priests is not a radical idea; it is a spiritual development of Catholicism. It fulfills the basic tenets of our religion, by letting all be called to serve. It allows the Church to mature fully into the post-Vatican II world. It inspires increased understanding of its Church's mission. It truly asks each member to realize the hypocritical position it holds. Women priests, therefore, I think, can the Church truly call itself "catholic."
I am not in a very funny mood today. I just feel that something is not right. I am in a state of mind that makes me feel sad and lonely. I am not sure what it is, but I feel it deeply.

The Observer

Editor-in-Chief
Sarah E. Hamilton
Managing Editor
Amy Stephens
News Editor
Frank Lippo
News Editor
Dan McCullough
Sorority Executive Editor
Timothy Elphinston
Sports Editor
Jeff Blumenthal
Viewpoint Editor
Joe Murphy
Photography Editor
Peter C. Laches
Copy Chief
Phil Mosby

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame in South Bend, Indiana. It is not controlled by the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible.

Monday, November 11, 1985 - page 9
Sports Briefs

Farley Hall completed a perfect 9-0 season and captured its second straight intercollegiate title with a 14-8 victory over Pasquerilla East in yesterday's interhall flag football championship game. Details of the game will appear in tomorrow's edition of The Observer.

The ND men's and women's basketball teams will play intrasquad charity basketball games on Sunday beginning at 6:30 p.m. Tickets are $1 for students and can be purchased at Gate 10 of the ACC. All proceeds will benefit the St. Joseph County Special Olympics and the Neighborhood Study Help Program.

Interhall soccer playoff action resumed yesterday as Holy Cross defeated Flanner, 3-2, in overtime. The victory by Holy Cross moves them to the second round of play against St. Stanislaus at 7 p.m. on Carter Field.

ND Water Polo Club members who see to take part in the dedication of the new natatorium should meet tonight at 7 p.m. at the natatorium. Members are reminded to bring suits for practice.

For more information call Tom O'Reilly at 285-3588.

NWA basketball officials are needed for co-rec basketball, men's and women's interhall, and club basketball. For more information call the NWA office.

NWA team turkey shoot reservations must be submitted by Thursday to the NWA office in the ACC. The event will be held Nov. 18 from 4:30 - 6:00 p.m. at the stadium rifle range by Gate 14. Teams must consist of two men and two women. For more information call the NWA office.

Racquetball enthusiasts who are looking for competition can call the NWA office at 308 Walsh Hall Box 29. A 25-stating name, address, phone number and skill level. For more information call Michele Debes at 285-4526.

NWA Century Club is a program to promote individual exercise and fitness. Applicants select an exercise and pledge a personal fitness goal. When the applicant reaches his or her goal, a free Club T-shirt will be given out. To fill out a pledge card or to get more information call the NWA office.

NWA fitness focus newsletter is published monthly and is available through campus mail at no expense. To be placed on the mailing list call NWA at 259-5100.

Observer Sports Briefs are accepted Sunday through Friday until 4 p.m. at the Observer office on the third floor of Laburnum. Briefs should be submitted on the forms available at the office, and every brief must include the phone number of the person submitting it. The Observer.

The NVA basketball team is now available for interhall practice. Individual dormitories may reserve late night ice time for one hour at a rate of $50 per session. For more information call Tom Carroll between the hours of 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. at 285-9227.

The ACC basketball rink is now available for interhall practice. Individual dormitories may reserve late night ice time for one hour at a rate of $50 per session. For more information call Tom Carroll between the hours of 1 p.m. and 4 p.m. at 285-9227.

Classifieds

NOTICES

TISSUE AVAILABLE URGENTLY

TYING CALL DENNIS 329-8967

TYING 277-8645

FREE PICKUP & DELIVERY

24-569 WEDNESDAY MALL MALL

CLEAN NICE GIFTS BRIEFLY INTERESTED IN RIBI ADRESSED ENVELOPE winning.

BROOKSIDE B/B, WOODSTOCK.

EXPRESS TYPING SERVICE CALL MR. COOPER. 279-7009

EXPERIENCED TYPING WILL

TYPE 15 WPS FOR$$-CALL 277-4221

FACILITY WANTED

CONVENIENT location in b. dorm in.

FEMALE ROOMMATES NEEDED

IMMEDIATELY NEEDED

DARK ATTIRE CALL 285-4227 APARTMENT

LOST/FOUNDED

LOST - ONE GOLD LOOP EARRING ABOUT 1 WEEK AGO SOMEWHERE BETWEEN PASQUERILLA AND RESIDENCE HALLS PLEASE CALL CALL 285-4221.

FOR SALE

97 FORD BEDAZZLED $500. Need to sell ASAP! 285-4221

FOR SALE KENWOOD FM/AM STEREO 5 DISC GUARDIAN MULTIPLE SYSTEM & PHONES. CALL 358-5614

PERSONALS

MARRIED LADIES.

FOR SALE

NICE FURNITURE, CLOTHES, BOOKS.

FOR SALE

14 YEARS EXP. CALL 287-277-4220 for appointment.

5162.

TYPING CALL CHRIS 284-8377 BULLETIN. NO QUOTAS! SINCERELY INTERESTED RUSH SELF.

ABOUT 6 WEEKS AGO SOMEWHERE BETWEEN PASQUERILLA AND RESIDENCE HALLS PLEASE CALL CALL 285-4221.

VERA-CORNER. NO QUOTAS! SINCERELY INTERESTED RUSH SELF.

THE OBSERVER'S STAFF OFFICE IS LOCATED ON THE THIRD FLOOR OF LABURNUM STUDENT CENTER. STAFF CLASSIFIED ADS ARE UPDATED MONDAY THROUGH FRIDAY. THE OBSERVER STAFF MAIL BOX IS LOCATED ON THE THIRD FLOOR OF HAGGARD VILLAGE. WHERE AS PUBLICATION OFFICE IS LOCATED AT THE NORTHEAST CORNER OF BLOCK SOUTH OF HOLIDAY INN. Questions? Senior Classified Editor's Office, 288-8422. -

Big 10 looks to have six conference teams picked by bowl committees

Associated Press

It didn't take the Iowa Hawkeyes long to recover from their loss to Ohio State which cost them the No. 1 ranking in the nation this previous week.

Replied to No. 6, the Hawkeyes rebounded with a stunning 59-0 victory over Illinois.

"We came into this game mentally prepared," said Iowa Coach Hayden Fry. "Our team was heartbroken and embarrassed when we lost to a fine Ohio State team. It took a lot of character for us to come back.

The victory enabled Iowa to retain a share of first place with Ohio State in the Big Ten race with two games to play. Ohio State defeated Northwestern 35-17 and Michigan, coming back from a 3-5 fumble with Illinois' hammered Purdue 47-0. Michigan State bowed Indiana 35-16 and Minnesota defeated Wisconsin 27-18.

Ohio State and Iowa are tied for the lead with 5-1 records and Michigan is a half step behind with a 4-1 record in the run for the Rose Bowl.

By virtue of its 22-11 victory over Iowa the previous week, Ohio State has the edge for the Rose Bowl bid. The Buckeyes go if they win their last two games against Wisconsin and Michigan.

Iowa could get the nod if the Hawkeyes win their last two games against Purdue and Minnesota provided Ohio State loses at least one game. If Michigan wins its last two games, including the finale against Ohio State, and Iowa loses again, the Wolverines would get the bid.

Regardless of what happens, Ohio State, Iowa and Michigan will get bowl bids somewhere. If Ohio State goes to the Rose Bowl and Iowa finishes at 10-1, the Hawkeyes probably would get a "major" bowl bid.

Last season, the Big Ten sent six teams to various bowls, Illinois which had appeared to be a likely bowl candidate could be passed up because of the humiliating defeat at Iowa. Minnesota, 6-5 overall and 4-2 in the Big Ten, is looking good in Michigan State with a 5-4 overall record and a chance to finish at 7-6 with final victories over Northwestern and Wisconsin.

Irish

continued from page 16

really rose to the occasion. All that we practiced against this week, Minnesota did. Our defense got our offense fired up and we got together in whole, we were a winning com-stitution.

The defensive duo of Figaro and Lawrence proved to be a winning combination early in the third quarter when they set up a devastating goal. Following a Rick DiBernardo block, McNeill, he backhanded the puck to to 4-1 on a goal by Tim Osburn. The Waldbillig for the score. Co-

McNeill brought the puck in on a

Waldbillig's short-handed goal. Cobounced out of Guay's glove.

The Irish cut the 17-0 Irish lead. But tw o seconds later took an

Andrusyk pass 22 yards for a touchdown, and Irish backorny Scehul added another last-minute seven-yard jaunt for his first colglute 8-yard touchdown to forge the 37-

14 final.

T here is not much time, however, for the Irish to sit back and enjoy this Set with Penn State, LSU and Miami looming on the horizon.

"Throughout this homestead we have managed to cut down on mistakes and improve our game," said Furjanic. "The offense put the ball in the end zone and the defense kept the ball out of the end zone. We've been building all year for these last three games. We're going to have to prove ourselves and have a great homestead. Now we have to go on to the road and prove ourselves at Penn State."

Tim Reilly. He was joined on the in-Mississippi did. Our defense got our of-the situation.

"Thebeau. "We got out to a good start to the presence was keenly felt on the pow-

in the most part, though, we played

5-3.

for both games will be at 7:30.

Furjanic. "The offense put the

one. Not with Penn State, LSU and

Miami looming on the horizon."

Hockey

continued from page 16

zone. We set them up for numbers. We practiced against this week. Mississippi did. Our defense got our of-the presence was keenly felt on the pow-

in the most part, though, we played

5-3.

for both games will be at 7:30.

Furjanic. "The offense put the

one. Not with Penn State, LSU and

Miami looming on the horizon."

London School of Economics and

Political Science

A chance to study and live in London

Junior-year programs, Postgraduate Diplomas, One Year Master's Degrees and Research Opportunities in the Social Sciences.

The wide range of subjects includes

Accounting and Finance • Actuarial Science • Anthropology • Business Studies • Economics • Economics of Health • Economics of Industry • Economics of Government • Economics of International Relations • Law • Management Science • Operational Research • Peace Management and Philanthropy • Population Studies • Politics and Regional and Urban Planning Studies • Sea Policy • Social Administration • Social Planning in Developing Countries • Social Work • Sociology • Statistical and Mathematical Sciences • Systems Analysts

Application forms from

Admissions Registrar, I.L.S., Houghton Street, London WC2A 2AE, England stating adult degree undergraduate or postgraduate and stating room.

tance, when seven seconds remaining in a penalty on Thebeau, Mike Hamiit steck in a rebound from Pat Marody to make the final 5-3.

Coach Smith was at least pleased with his team's improved play.

"We played much better than last night. We had two miscues that unfortunately resulted in scores. For the most part, though, we played

100 percent better."

"We had a good mix of more work and enthusiasm out there tonight," noted

Thebeau. "We got our of the situation.

"We weren't able to practice the power play without them," said

Smith of the situation. "With something that involves so much timing,

that's hard to do."

The Irish high-spirited Irish of the side, the Irish penalty-killing unit allowed only one score in the series while coming

with a short-handed goal to get a good start

last night, but then we went into a shell. The three goals we allowed Anytime that happens, it takes the wind out of your sails.

The Irish played the series with

Tom Mooney who had been centering a line with Chapman and

London School of Economics and

Political Science

A chance to study and live in London

Junior-year programs, Postgraduate Diplomas, One Year Master's Degrees and Research Opportunities in the Social Sciences.

The wide range of subjects includes

Accounting and Finance • Actuarial Science • Anthropology • Business Studies • Economics • Economics of Health • Economics of Industry • Economics of Government • Economics of International Relations • Law • Management Science • Operational Research • Peace Management and Philanthropy • Population Studies • Politics and Regional and Urban Planning Studies • Sea Policy • Social Administration • Social Planning in Developing Countries • Social Work • Sociology • Statistical and Mathematical Sciences • Systems Analysts

Application forms from

Admissions Registrar, I.L.S., Houghton Street, London WC2A 2AE, England stating adult degree undergraduate or postgraduate and stating room.

tance, when seven seconds remaining in a penalty on Thebeau, Mike Hamiit steck in a rebound from Pat Marody to make the final 5-3.

Coach Smith was at least pleased with his team's improved play.

"We played much better than last night. We had two miscues that unfortunately resulted in scores. For the most part, though, we played

100 percent better."

"We had a good mix of more work and

enthusiasm out there tonight," noted

Thebeau. "We got our of the situation.

"We weren't able to practice the power play without them," said

Smith of the situation. "With something that involves so much timing,

that's hard to do."

The Irish high-spirited Irish of the side, the Irish penalty-killing unit allowed only one score in the series while coming

with a short-handed goal to get a good start

last night, but then we went into a shell. The three goals we allowed Anytime that happens, it takes the wind out of your sails.

The Irish played the series with

Tom Mooney who had been centering a line with Chapman and Bucs beat Cardinals for first win

Associated Press

"It was old fashioned football - old fashioned bear football," running back John McKay said of Tampa Bay's 27-3 victory over the National Football League triumph.

Principal quarterback for 107 yards yesterday, his fifth consecutive 100-yard game, and the 69th of his career, as the Bears, 24-5 winners over Detroit, continued their 23-10 start since the 1942 team won all 11 of its regular season games.

Matt Suhey, usually the blocking back for Payton, rushed 16 times for 102 yards, his first 100-yard game in two years.

"He really helped us more than it did Detroit," Bears coach Mike Ditka said of the blurry, rainy and windy conditions in Chicago.

Bear backquarter Steve Fuller, playing for the injured Jim McMahon, agreed.

"The weather conditions were devasting," said Fuller. "The toughest thing to do is play the Chicago Bear defense on a day like this. But you have to give the credit to the guys who went over 100 yards and the offense."

Fuller completed seven of 13 passes for 112 yards, scored on runs of one and five yards and set up another touchdown by completing passes of 43 and 45 yards to Payton.

In other games yesterday, Tampa Bay improved its NHL record by three points, 11-10, in the Seattle Seahawks, 21-17, and Dallas edged out Kansas City 36-28, and the New York Giants defeated the New England Patriots, 24-19.

The Bears' winning streak ended for Tampa Bay as the Buccaneers halted a nine-game losing streak with a 9-2 record, 229 yards, 14 points in the final period to tie the game with 3-2 remaining.

Bengals 27, Browns 10

Second-year quarterback Boomer Esiason passed for 262 yards and a touchdown, rushing Cleveland rookie Brownies.

Bengals' third consecutive victory kept them in first place in the AFC Central Division with Pittsburgh at 5-5, Cleveland fell to 6-4 with its fourth straight loss.

Esiason completed 25 of 33 passes without an interception, while Kosar was 16 of 22 for 229 yards in his fifth pro start. However, Kosar had a 63-yarder to Epps that set up a 1-yard touchdown pass to Eddie Lee Ivery.

The Browns, 4-6, were trailing when Dickey replaced starter Jim Zorn. After Dickey threw to Ivery for the go-ahead score, Ricky Jackson intercepted a Tommy Kramer pass and returned it 50 yards for the clincher.

Bill's 20, Oilers 0

Buffalo, 2-8, was led by quarterback Bruce Mathison, making his first regular-season start of his three-year career, winning 1-0, 16 points in the first half. Krieg threw for 282 yards, including a 63-yard touchdown pass to Eddie Lee Ivery.

The Packers, 6-4, were trailing when Dickey replaced starter Jim Zorn. After Dickey threw to Ivery for the go-ahead score, Ricky Jackson intercepted a Tommy Kramer pass and returned it 50 yards for the clincher.

Pittsburgh 13-0 on Dec. 12, 1982.

Pittsburgh 13-0 on Dec. 12, 1982.

Dolphins 21, Jets 17

Returning from a seven-game layoff, wide receiver Dan Fouts caught nine passes for 217 yards and two touchdowns, one a 50-yarder with 11 seconds left to boost Miami past the Jets.

Earlier, Duper was on the scoring end of a 60-yard bomb from quarterback Dan Marino. Duper's 21st yard effort broke the Dolphin single-game record of 60 yards set by Nat Moore against the Jets in 1981.
Irish wrestling team opens season with a strong sixth-place finish

By ED JORDANICH

Sports Writer

The Notre Dame wrestling team began its season Saturday with a sixth-place finish in the Michigan State Invitational. The team, which returned from a trip to the Rose Bowl, finished ahead of a good team in our region (Eastern Illinois), and I think the N.D. wrestlers at their level of ability. The computer analysis did not favor the Irish this year. The young and inexperienced Irish, whose 10-man squad included six freshmen.

Coach Fran McCann was pleased with some of the individual performances over the weekend, and said the team was not exactly hard to please. It was the kind of team the Irish were expecting to see.

"I was happy with the way the freshmen performed," said McCann. "They had a good deal more poise and confidence than freshmen usually have. I'll give the chance this rest of the season that this team has the bright future it deserves."

Defense

continued from page 16

down the Rebel offense and turning the game into a rout.

"Our defense is doing real well and getting better," he said. "They haven't got the kind of heights we're used to. They're not as hard. The pass rush was good today and the secondary was excellent." Senior tackle Eric Dorsey led the defense for the Irish, totalizing six tackles and making five tackles.

Inside linebacker Tony Furjanic led the team with eight tackles, including four for losses, as well as two for losses. Ross Dingens added seven, including two for losses. Matt Dingens was a defensive specialist, turning the Rebels inside and out.

Early in the year the Irish defense was much improved and I think their problems on the line against Michigan and for its trouble stopping the Purdue passing game.

However, after the 1-3 start the Irish defense had a major factor in the Irish going underevaluated in their four-game winning streak.

Dorsey and his teammates have received a lot of praise for the past few weeks for their fine play, but he feels some of the credit should go to the coaches.

"We can't take all the credit," Dorsey said. "Our coaches, coach Lantz and coach McElroy, have really coached us well since Mississippi everything we did in practice seems to be working for us."

"We're getting better, especially in the tackling," Dorsey said. "I think we're executing better and doing the things we've been practicing." He said the coaches have done a good job of putting the team together.

"I'll look at the tapes of the matches with the team and we'll pinpoint the improvements necessary," continued McCann. "I think some of us got a little tired. We've concentrated mainly on tackling and in my opinion we took us some polish due to the conditioning factor."

The next competition for the Irish team will be on November 25 at the University of Wisconsin. It will be another stepping stone for the Irish and another early opportunity for improvement against this year's top-flight schedule. Oklahoma, Illinois and Missouri will be the heavyweights at the meet, which will include a freshmen sophomore division as well. This format will give McCann a chance to expose his freshmen to some tough opponents, and also let some other underclassmen gain experience at other wrestlers at their level of ability.

IRISH ITEMS

McCann and his wrestlers will have to wait for the good things expected from 150-lb. freshman Greg Good. Good, ranked as the number-one wrestler in the nation at 150 lbs. last year, strained tendons and ligaments in his elbow during the Michigan State Invitational and will be out for possibly a month. 126-lb. freshman Dan Carlson sprained an ankle in his first-round match Saturday and had to default. The injury was not serious and Carl­ should be able to practice by Wednes­day.

"I think the most important part of this game is that we are now starting to become a unit," he stated. "We're playing some of the best players in the country and they're wanting to win. We have a tough road ahead of us and we couldn't go out there and win if we didn't pull together. We're making that kind of decision until we have a very, very serious situation."

The Swedish-born Lindbergh's 17-62 win over the Mississippi Rebels' 6-2 victory over the Notre Dame defense came together over the past few games and must continue to improve if the Nittany Lions are to become another number-one team to fall to the Irish.

Flyer goaltender Lindbergh hurt, near dead after accident yesterday

Associated Press

STRATFORD, N.J. - Pelle Lindbergh of the Philadelphia Flyers, the National Hockey League's most valuable player, suffered a brain injury when he crashed into a cement wall at the Flyers' training facility in Stratford, N.J., on Wednesday. It was not known if he would survive. Lindbergh was a member of the Sweden national team that won the gold medal at the 1980 Olympic Games.

"It was felt they should all be told and told what has hap­pened. They're all very shaken. It's a tragedy of the most overwhelming proportion," Gottlieb said. Viner said Lindbergh's family members "face the possibility" of having to decide whether to disconnect him from life-sustaining ma­chinery.

"We can't do anything about making that kind of decision until they come to grips with this," the doctor said. "It's a very, very serious situation."

The Swedish-born Lindbergh's fiancee and his mother, Anna Lisa, lived in Lindbergh, visiting from Sweden, were at the hospital, Gottlieb said. He said Flyer's coach Mike Keenan was also at the hospital with other team members to discuss an emergency meeting at their practice facility.

"It was felt they should all be told and told what has hap­pened. They're all very shaken. It's a tragedy of the most overwhelming proportion," Gottlieb said. Viner said Lindbergh's family members "face the possibility" of having to decide whether to disconnect him from life-sustaining ma­chinery.

"We can't do anything about making that kind of decision until they come to grips with this," the doctor said. "It's a very, very serious situation."

The Swedish-born Lindbergh's fiancee and his mother, Anna Lisa, lived in Lindbergh, visiting from Sweden, were at the hospital, Gottlieb said. He said Flyer's coach Mike Keenan was also at the hospital with other team members to discuss an emergency meeting at their practice facility.
Al Unser, Sr. wins Indy Car with four-place finish Saturday

Associated Press

MIAMI — As hard as he tried, there was no way Al Unser could keep from taking chances. That was the lesson he learned from Al Unser, Jr., the Indianapolis 500 in May and teammate Unser Sr. was the champion by one point.

Unseroutsfield pole-starter Bobby Rahal for the victory, driving the same car in which he won Indy. Meanwhile, the elder Unser won the race within a race by finishing fourth, only about 100 yards behind his 23-year-old son.

That gave Unser Sr. the season title and the accompanying $300,000, a margin of 34-1/2 laps while the son will have to settle for second and a $300,000 payoff after losing the championship game of the inter­ rallies around the ball all day.”

Rahal dominated the race until his second pit stop. Both Sullivan, who took the lead when he came out of the pits after his quick stop on lap 79, and Jan Lamammers of Holland, moved into the lead only once, on lap 119. Lamammers fell by the wayside when he went too deep into a turn and wound up on the grass. Rahal left left last with Unser leading Rahal, who fell steadily further behind and fell victim to a bent tire, which in turn caused him to slow.

Unser was referring to team owner Roger Penske, who manned the team’s heart in the pits during the race.

It was a masterful veteran move that his son may have appreciated more than most of the people who saw it.

“Jim is a very good driver,” said Debroux.

“After our initial scoring drive, we never lost that excitement as all our fans cheered us on to victory.”

It was a masterful veteran move that his son may have appreciated more than most of the people who saw it.

“We had the advantage because they relied on outside run game. Flanner threatened to score several times from midfield and could not reach the end zone. Jim in particular quarter ended in a fumble on Grace’s 25. In the fourth period Flanner did the same, still fumbled on its own 25.

“Flanner threatened to score several times from midfield and could not reach the end zone. Jim in particular quarter ended in a fumble on Grace’s 25. In the fourth period Flanner did the same, still fumbled on its own 25.

One call, $2 each*. Free. In 30 minutes or less, or make it by 9 p.m. for our $7.99 Monday special. It’s the largest 16-inch pizza generally serves 3-5 people, and Jim Goebel played inspired football, and consequently no points were scored off the fumble. Rahal dominated the race until his second pit stop. Both Sullivan, who took the lead when he came out of the pits after his quick stop on lap 79, and Jan Lamammers of Holland, moved into the lead only once, on lap 119. Lamammers fell by the wayside when he went too deep into a turn and wound up on the grass. Rahal left last with Unser leading Rahal, who fell steadily further behind and fell victim to a bent tire, which in turn caused him to slow.
Irish take easy win over Ole Miss; Lions up next

By MARY BURNS
Assistant Sports Editor

All last week, Notre Dame head coach Gerry Faust thought he had the Irish in a good position to win their non-conference game against Ole Miss. But for some reason, the Irish were not able to put the game away until the fourth quarter. But Faust was pleased with the way the Irish performed in a 37-14 win over the Rebels.

"We came out of the locker room very focused in the first half," Faust said. "We had the ball in the first quarter and were able to score a touchdown. But we couldn't put them away in the second quarter and had to settle for a field goal. We had to make some adjustments in the second half and were able to score three touchdowns in the third quarter."

Assistant Sports Editor
Sports Monday, November 19, 1985

Beuerlein, who had started 27 of the better nature, of course. He had 260 passing yards and one touchdown. Beuerlein, meanwhile, handled one touchdown in the third quarter.

Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game. Faust's problem was all along one of the best player in the country in a game in which the defense set up off the Ole Miss running game.