Moslem group calls for deal on du Lac's off-campus authority

By J. CHRISTOPHER MURPHY

The lack of a clear-cut University policy on du Lac's off-campus authority was discussed at last night's Hall Presidents Council meeting.

Classification of university policy regarding non-alcoholic campus events was also discussed. HPC members said uncertainty involving such events led to the last minute cancellation of several planned non-alcoholic tailgaters last Saturday.

The discussion surrounding du Lac's applicability off-campus centered on the recent dismissal of two resident assistants from Neuman and Lewis.

Several presidents also questioned the relevance of a non-job-related incident to the discussion of a University employee. This discussion led to debate on whether the relationship between the University and its resident assistants could be described as one of employer and employee.

Off-campus representative Trace Thomann questioned why a university which preaches compassion seemed to show none in this situation.

"If it is such a difficult decision, then why are they so strict every time?" asked Lyons president Judy Grace.

The resident assistants' punishment was too severe, according to several hall presidents.

Several HPC members expressed hopes to meet with University officials about these issues.

The lack of a definitive state-of-the-art policy regarding non-alcoholic campus events caused problems ranging from non-alcoholic dances and tailgaters to the University's position on tailgates on SYRs held on home football weekends, according to HPC members.

A vice president for Residence Life John Goldrich said the decision to hold SYRs over home football weekends is at the discretion of the rectors, according to HPC members.

The HPC discussed the possibility that rectors do not understand that it is their decision. Pasquerella West president Colleen Neitzt said this uncertainty leads to difficulties when planning events or trying new ideas, especially non-alcoholic events.

"When they are not sure, they do nothing," Neitzt said.

South African gold mine accident kills at least 44 and traps over 150

Associated Press

EVANDER, South Africa (AP) - A wedging accident touched off a fire in a gold mine yesterday, killing at least 44 workers, injuring 193 and trapping more than 150 in a mile-deep underground shaft, officials reported.

The state-run South African Broadcasting Corp. quoted Kobus Olivier, manager of the Kinross mine, as saying there was only a slight chance that the missing miners had survived.

But company officials disputed a report that 100 bodies had been brought to the surface.

Danie De Beer, spokesman for General Mining Union Corp., South Africa's second-largest mining group, told reporters at the mine gate that 26 bodies were brought out of the mine shortly before midnight, about 14 hours after the fire broke out.

Earlier, the company had said 18 miners were known dead. De Beer said 154 miners were missing.

Olivier said 128 black workers and 55 whites were hospitalized in Evander, which is on the edge of the mine, most suffering from smoke inhalation. Five were reported in serious condition while the others were listed as satisfactory.

More than 2,000 miners were brought safely out of the shafts, Olivier said, and 50 rescue workers were still in the mine 12 hours after the fire broke out.

There was hope that some of them were trapped in the tunnels where the fire started avoided the deadly fumes by staying in pockets of untainted air.

South African Press Association, an independent news agency, quoted a man at the scene as saying he counted more than 100 bodies. SAPA did not identify the man and the report could not be confirmed.

A general Mining Union spokesman, Harry Fill, said an alarm was sounded to evacuate the No. 2 shaft at the Kinross mine, 62 miles east of Johannesburg, when the fire broke out.

European Common Market places sanctions on Pretoria

Associated Press

BRUSSELS, Belgium - The 12 European Common Market nations yesterday banned the purchase of South African iron, steel and gold coins as part of a package of economic sanctions to protect apartheid.

The watered-down package also includes a ban on new investments in South Africa. However, a ban on coal imports, which would have had more impact on South Africa's economy, was not adopted.

"We've reached a conclusion that sends a clear signal of what we want to see happen in South Africa," said Sir Geoffrey Howe, the British foreign secretary and chairman of the Common Market conference of foreign ministers.

In reaction to the European's decision, South African Foreign Minister R.F. Botha said the government would study ways of defending the economy. He said it would not impose punitive measures in retaliation.

The ban on iron and steel imports takes effect Sept. 27, Howe said. Further talks at a lower political level are needed to decide how to implement the ban on commercial investment and purchase of gold coins, he said.

French try to keep life normal despite beefing up security

PARIS: The French, keeping a wary vigil for more terrorist bombings in their midst, are trying to juggle normal routines with new security steps that some say play into the bombers' hands.

Police switchboards buzz with calls. One caller said a pile of leaves outside City Hall could disguise a bomb. The leaves were swiftly removed. The Stock Exchange and two Metro stations were hastily evacuated for what turned out to be false alarms.

The French, who tend not to suffer officialdom lightly, quietly submitted to opening bags and parcels or bags.
Lebanon. Islamic Jihad says it holds three American hostages and killed a fourth. It is uncertain who carried out the kidnappings last week of two other Americans.

Islamic Jihad's latest communiqué and the handwritten letter were in a packet left outside a Western news agency in Homs west Beirut. The packet also contained a Polaroid photograph of Jacobsen in pajamas, almost identical to one of him released with an Islamic Jihad statement in Beirut last week.

"Why was Reagan interested minute by minute with spy Journalist Daniloff but he is not interested one minute in our story?" asked the letter said to have been handwritten by Jacobsen. Daniloff's name was misspelled.

In a separate, typewritten, Arabic-language statement, Islamic Jihad, of Islamic Holy War, said the Reagan administration had made "concessions in the Daniloff case which provoked many question marks in the hostages' minds."

The three captives were "comparing what the (U.S.) government did in the Daniloff case with what it is doing for them," the statement said.

"Are not we Americans?" asked the letter which bore Jacobsen's name.

Islamic Jihad, which espouses the Shiite fundamentalism of Iran's Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, has demanded that it negotiate only, and that the U.S. and French embassies in 1983 be freed in return for the hostages. Kuwait refuses.

The latest Islamic Jihad statement called on Americans to pressure the Reagan administration into altering its stand of refusing negotiations, and so "put a happy ending to the ( ordeal of the hostages)."

Daniloff, Moscow correspondent of U.S. News & World Report magazine, was released in custody of the U.S. embassy on Friday after 13 days in prison.

have to say no," said Kretz.

"Even when we get the encouragement from our rectors, there is so much gray area left open to interpretation by officials that we still get shut down," said St. Edward's Hall's president Andrew Sarlow.

Director of Student Activities Joni Meal decided to cancel the planned tailgaters of the classes of 87 and 86 because the events would take place in an atmosphere conducive to drinking, said HPC members.

The question was raised why these events were canceled while the tailgater sponsored by Grace Hall was not.

In other HPC news, the council is preparing a proposal to make student government a permanent resident of the LaFortune Student Center. In the new LaFortune occupancy contract, student organizations are referred to as "tenants" and must re-sign the contract annually.

The HPC is also regulating the service of the "Buzz Bus" beginning this weekend. A brief discussion clarified the policy that students will be picked up at off-campus locations but will not be permitted to get off at bar stops.

The fire was put out, he said, adding, "We don't know why they (the missing miners) didn't come up. They may have been overcome by the fumes or were trapped some way," he said.

Hill said all of the miners known to have died were in the vicinity of the fire, but he did not know if they were engaged in the welding operation or what was being welded. He said the fire broke out on the 15th level of the No. 2 shaft.

Eight rescue teams went underground. Hill said.

South Africa's mines depend on black miners who are regarded as migrant workers. Factional fighting at the all-black hostels in which the workers live claimed more than 150 lives in the first six months of the year.

ND falls to Illinois and Miami in weekend women's tennis play
By SHEILA HORIZ

Amidst the activities of the football weekend, the Notre Dame women's tennis team was preoccupied with the task of hosting Illinois and Miami (Ohio) to open its 1986 fall season. The Irish were un­der considerable pressure on both counts, and the Irish Tigers were particularly difficult to face since every year it seems that Illinois is able to squeak by Notre Dame in the close matches. This year proved to be no different as the remaining Illini beat the Irish, 5-3.

All three Notre Dame victories came in singles. Michelle Daniel, No. 1 singles, defeated Stacey Rolen, 6-3, 6-2. Alice Lohrer outlasted Carle Cosgrove 6-4, 6-4, and captain Tammy Schmidt crushed Astrid Eichner 6-0, 6-2.

Stephanie Tottenham lost a tough three set match to Sandra Goern, 6-3, 1-6, 6-2. Natalie Ilicic lost to Susan Stout 6-1, 6-1 and Reni Kelly was defeated by Loren Silversky 6-2, 6-2.

Tied 3-3 after the singles matches, the Irish hopes of a vic­tory inevitably rested on the doubles matches, where Notre Dame must send out three new doubles teams onto the court.

The team of Ilig Lohrer were beaten by Eichner Rolen 2-6, 2-6, and Schmidt-Silversky, at the No.3 doubles position, lost to stout-Cosgrove 6-1, 6-7. The long duo of Tass and Tass defeated the first two sets with Dow-Guo, but lost the third set as doubles and singles teams beat Notre Dame, and already clinched the meet.

On Saturday, the Irish opposed against Miami, probably the strongest opposition on their schedule. The Irish were not expected to win, but were predicted to lose by eight of nine matches. Sophomore Ilig registered the lone Irish win by defeating Jane Ellis 4-6, 6-2, 6-3. The match boosted Ilig's con­fidence after a disappointing loss Friday to Illinois' Stout. "Against Illinois," she said, "I wanted into the match. I didn't have any concentration. The loss was mental so I decided to get my act together against Miami."

To counter the rolling shots of Ellis, Ilig was instructed to play efficiently, and now of the match, and not attempt to out-gun her opponent. The ad­vice worked. Ilig's strong win Saturday.

Dasso and Tass defeated play well together, though the match was an easy one. The score was 7-5, 6-4.

Smith lost to Ellis 4-6, 6-3, 6-2, to Jilli Juslin.

New York lefthander approaches save mark

Associated Press

NEW YORK - Dave Righetti, originally a reluctant reliever, has a chance to write bullpen history this season.

When Righetti earned his 40th save of the season Monday night in the New York Yankees' 5-3 victory over Baltimore, he became only the fourth reliever to reach 45 saves in a season. With 172 games remaining, he needs six to break the record of 45 saves by Dan Quisenberry of the Kansas City Royals.

"I'd be lying if I said I wasn't thinking about the record," Righetti said after throwing two shutout innings against the Orioles. "But right now, I look at it as a no-hitter in the fifth or sixth inning. There's quite a ways to go."

Righetti would know all about no-hitters. He pitched the last one in Yankees history, blanking the Boston Red Sox 4-0 on July 4, 1983, his last season as a starter. He won 14 games that year, but when bullpen ace Goose Gossage signed with San Diego as a free agent after the season, Righetti was drafted for the Yankees' short relief role.

He was not thrilled by the assignment but accepted it, producing five victories and 31 saves in his first season in 1984 and winning 12 and saving 29 last year.

This year, Righetti struggled at the start, blowing nine of his first 26 save opportunities. In one particularly galling outing, he surrendered a bases-loaded, two-out, game-tying home run to Toronto's George Bell in the bottom of the ninth inning. When the umpire tossed a new ball to him, he flung it over the right field fence in frustration.

"A goalie must be positive and alert even when the game is being played on the shoulders of junior goalie M.J. Beetel."

After convincingly defeating Valparaiso in its first game of the season, Notre Dame dropped two matches in a row. Despite the losses, however, Beetel says the team is still confident and excited about the rest of the season.

"Since most of the girls have played a few years to play, we are all psyched for the matches and the opportunity to contribute to the team," she said.

After playing back-up to graduated goalie Patti Gallagher for two seasons, Beetel has gained experience and confidence in the net.

"Patti always helped, encouraged and inspired M.J.," noted Coach Jill Lindenfeld.

New York reliever Dave Righetti points at a strikeout victim earlier this season. A story on the Yankee lefthander appears at right.

The Notre Dame volleyball team lost its 15th ranked last night. Brian O'Gara has all the details in his story below.

Irish lose to Western Michigan despite impressive performance

By BRIAN O'GARA
Sports writer

The Notre Dame volleyball team dropped a dramatic, hard-fought match last night in the ACC Pit to a powerful, 19th-ranked Western Michigan squad, 24-23. The fighting Irish have a wealth of experience with a white coat.

"I am very pleased with our play," said Coach Art Lambert, "but disappointed that we didn't win. We did everything but winning, except not losing. It was a good showing with some critical errors as well. We will go away in time - we're a young team.

The evening's first game featured a dramatic see-saw battle between the Irish and the Broncos. The two teams traded the lead four times and were tied at 9, 10 and 13. The Broncos, playing with confidence and finesse at the net, pulled away at the end to take the first game, 15-13.

The two teams began game two in the same fashion, matching point for point and kill for kill. The Irish were gaining confidence with every point, eager for an Irish victory.

A last-minute communication breakdown frustrated the Irish, and Western Michigan pulled away.

Irish take 20th spot in AP poll

Associated Press

SOUTH Bend, Ind. - A grin flashed across the face of Notre Dame football coach Lou Holtz Tuesday when he learned his team had earned a national ranking. But just as quickly, he turned off his smile and took the pose of a coach.

"I want to be better than Michigan," Associated Press college poll. "I was the coach.

The team's other freshman, Colleen Zanette Bennett and Mary Kay Waller as the Irish put the Irish on top for a quick 6-1 lead. The Broncos showed their poise to stage a comeback and tie the game, 9-9, but the Irish held the upper hand for the rest of the game. The Irish scored six unanswered points with well-executed teamwork to win the third game, 15-9.

This set the stage for the evening's final match, which had the crowd of 360 on the edge of their seats.

The teams battled to a 5-5 tie, but the Irish pulled ahead and reached a 9-6 lead on the splendid performance of freshman setter Taryn Collins. Collins had four quick sets to set-up her performances.

Sophomore Mary Kay Waller came up with one of her best performances in an Irish uniform and was an intimidating force at the net as she lead the teams with 16 kills, while freshman Kathy Cunningham added 10.

The other team's setter, Taryn Lambert, said Lambert, "We handled their multiple offensive sets well. We're a young team. That last game we went with two freshmen, three sophomores and a junior. You don't get much younger than that."

Sophomore Mary Kay Waller came up with one of her best performances in an Irish uniform and was an intimidating force at the net as she lead the teams with 16 kills, while freshman Kathy Cunningham added 10. The team's other setter, Taryn Lambert, registered 13 sets and played a key role in games three and four.

"I'm very pleased with Taryn," said Lambert. "We moved her to the setter and she performed very well.

Next up for the improving Irish is a trip to the Bradley Tournament this weekend.

We made ourselves felt tonight," said freshman Mary Kay Waller. "We're getting better. Somebody down the line is going to pay us.

The two teams are moving down the same road at this particular time, but their paths will part away from each other as a result of Saturday's meeting.

Michigan State is ranked higher than Notre Dame to be a big one. They began the season ranked 20th, and are considered strong finishers in the race for the Big Ten title.

They obviously do not want to enter the Big Ten season with a losing record, which is a loss to the Irish would assure. The Spartans are no longer a team that can give the Big Ten's basement bunch. Head Coach George Perles has done an outstanding job rebuilding the football program and the Spartans have the expected bowl bids to show them at season's end.

But the focus on Spartan centers on Lorenzo White. He led the nation in rushing last year with 1,908 yards, including 123 yards against the Irish.

Last week, Arizona State held him to just 61 yards on 24 carries, and Fage Fausto is to have a season for a similar performance from the Irish defense.

The problem with keying on White is that senior quarterback Dave Yarema is back from an injury that hampers him last year. He has regained the best of his form.

Middle blocker Shane Bullough leads a tough defensive unit that hopes to hold the Irish in check a little better than their friends from Ann Arbor did.

The Irish had little reason to expect much from this season except for the fact that Lou Holtz was here and Jerry Faust was not. That quickly changed with one good showing. Now the Irish are once again on which major bowl should we expect to play. For the Irish, this year will be fun.

But regardless of the overreaction, the Irish did give reason for delusions with their play against the opener. Steve Beuerlein had one of his best days with 21 completions. His play also reflects the fine job of the offensive line since Beuerlein had a lot of time to work with.

There are several factors that the Irish will have to overcome in order to win.

First, they must guard against a letdown. The hoopla surrounding the first game, aiming for that opener for nine months, is the final game of the first two weeks. The quality of the opponent all contributed to the luster of the game.

But it was just one game and their attention must be turned to Michigan State. Good teams can beat themselves without being outplayed, but good teams cannot beat themselves.

Second, this is the first road game of the year. No screaming student body to greet them. No natural grass. And in case you forgot, the Irish could not capture a single victory on the road last season. That trend must be changed.

Third, the Irish are无线 to teams from the state of Michigan this year. That cannot continue.

This is an interesting game for both teams. The winner can go on to have a very successful season. The loser will have a longer road ahead despite being a good team, in all likelihood.

Even if there is such a thing as a good 0-2 football team, the Irish do not want to see if they can be it.

If they do lose it will be interesting to see how far they move up in polls.

Those who were sick of seeing Pickett right, Pickett left and Pickett up the middle certainly had fun watching the Irish move the ball with a widely advertised backfield. The Fighting Irish moved the ball with a widely advertised backfield.

With the Irish scoring 67, 26, 6 and 55 yards and 46 yards. The Irish were not forced to punt for the first time since the Air Force game of 1977.
