WASHINGTON - Former Sen. Paul Laxalt of Nevada, one of the president's top political supporters, said late Sunday, "Mr. Gates has decided to withdraw." [Gates] the acting CIA director, according to a published report.

The decision, which was not confirmed by White House and CIA spokespersons, came as Senate leaders warned that the nomination was in trouble.

Gates reached the decision "without much prodding," The Washington Post reported in Monday editions. The newspaper cited "well-informed administration and congressional sources."

However, White House spokesman Albert Braeshe said late Sunday, "Mr. Gates is still the president's nominee." CIA spokeswoman Kathy Pherson said, "He hasn't withdrawn as nominee, and as far as we know he doesn't have any plans to do so."

No word of any such withdrawal has reached the Senate Intelligence Committee, which is reviewing the nomination. David Hoefly, a spokesman for the committee, said late Sunday, "Mr. Gates hasn't withdrawn as nominee, and as far as we know he doesn't have any plans to do so."

Sen. John Tower of Texas, appearing with Laxalt on ABC-TV's "This Week With David Brinkley," said he believes Reagan, in approving the sale of U.S. arms to Teheran, "has convinced himself that selling arms to Iran was strikingly different from ransoming hostages."

Former Sen. Edmund Muskie, D-Maine, a member of the Tower commission, said in a separate interview that the panel's members were appalled at Reagan's inability to recall details of "significant occurrences" in the Iran arms sale affair.

Baker's first day in the White House West Wing will be on Monday; two long distances to Baker took part in a transition meeting with representatives of Reagan on Saturday.

Aid by undercover officers, police raided two off-campus parties early Saturday morning, arresting one person and citing 41 others.

At a party at 801 Notre Dame Ave., police cited 39 people for underage drinking, said Sgt. Gregory Deitchley of the Indiana State Excise Police. One person, whose name was not available, was arrested for resisting law enforcement, he said.

The other raid occurred around midnight at 121 E. Navarre St., Deitchley said. Police cited one person for selling alcohol without a permit and another for minor consuming alcohol.

Undercover officers participated in both cases. At the party at Notre Dame Avenue, plainclothes officers entered the house before the raid, which occurred at about 1 a.m. They later left the party and notified uniformed police.

Fourteen officers from the Indiana State Police, excise police and South Bend Police Department then raided the party. Approximately 70 people were at the party when it was raided.

One witness said police forced those at the party to stay inside the house and to submit to breathalyzer tests. Those under 21 and registering a blood-alcohol level of .01 percent or higher were given citations, she said.

More than 200 members of the Saint Mary's Class of 1989 hosted their parents this past weekend at the College's annual Sophomore Parents Weekend.

Most parents arrived Friday night and attended a talent show, held in the Angela Athletic Facility, to begin their weekend.

Saturday afternoon the College hosted an Open House, also in Angela. Parents and students were greeted by College President William Hickey and College Vice President Dorothy FeiGl. The College's academic departments were represented by department chairmen and professors.

A Sunday Liturgy was held Saturday afternoon in the Church of Loreto on the Saint Mary's campus.

Saturday night students were given the chance to try to outdance their parents at the dinner dance, held at the Century Center in South Bend. The evening began with a cash bar, followed by a welcome-to-parents speech by sophomore Marissa Ley, chairman of the event. The brunch held at the College dining hall Sunday concluded the weekend.

Ley was assisted by a committee, consisting of Kathleen Needham, Michele Kruse, Kelly Glavin, Janice Terpin and Barbara Krugh.

Fat Tuesday

Mardi Gras celebrations in New Orleans reach for trinkets being thrown during Saturday's parade. The festival hasn't been all fun, though.

Fifteen people were injured Saturday when a riderless horse led a crowd of parade watchers. The Carnival season ends Tuesday with an all day celebration.

Security Beat

Thursday
1:05 p.m. - The rector of Grace Hall reported that during that night someone had kicked in the glass at the south door of the dorm.
2:25 p.m. - The vinyl roof of a vehicle parked in the D-4 lot was reported slashed. This happened sometime Feb. 22 between 1 a.m. and 5 a.m.
3:35 p.m. - A student reported two calculators were taken from a room in Cushing Hall.
7:30 p.m. - An off-campus resident reported that his bookbag was taken from the lobby of the South Dining Hall during lunch. Value of the property was estimated to be approximately $160.

Friday
3:15 p.m. - A student reported a bookbag had been taken during lunch at the South Dining Hall lobby. Later, the student returned to the dining hall and found that the bookbag had been returned. However, a textbook was missing. The book was valued at $22.
4:35 p.m. - A resident of Morrissey Hall reported that a type-writer valued at $100 was taken from his unlocked room on Wednesday night.
5:35 p.m. - A professor reported that money had been taken from her purse while it was in her desk in the Law School.
7:30 p.m. - Two juveniles were apprehended by Security after it was reported that the juveniles had attempted to take a fire extinguisher from Cush ing. The juveniles' parents were notified, and the case has been referred to the prosecutor.
10:50 p.m. - Keenan Hall residents reported that two suspects had taken a CD player from the dorm. The suspects were later apprehended after being involved in a traffic accident in Michigan. The CD player and other property taken from Keenan, valued at approximately $100, were recovered.

Saturday
3:57 a.m. - Three subjects were seen breaking a stairwell window in Dillon Hall. One of the subjects was cut during the incident and had to be transported to St. Joseph's Medical Center. The investigation is continuing.
8:40 a.m. - A student reported that a radio cassette player was stolen from a vehicle parked in the D-3 lot. The theft occurred between 1 a.m. and 3 a.m.
11:35 p.m. - A Keenan Hall resident reported that the telephone was stolen from his room. The phone is valued at 80.

Sunday
10:00 a.m. - Security officers recovered a stolen car which had been used in a bank robbery in Michigan last week. The car was damaged and turned over to St. Joseph County Police to be returned to the owner.
11:15 a.m. - A student's brother reported damage to his car while it was parked in the A-10 parking lot. The damage, apparently caused by another car, happened sometime between 7 p.m. Saturday and 11 a.m. Sunday.

the Tower commission's investigation of U.S. arms sales to India and Pakistan, and its refusal to make most European papers comment in Sunday editions.

The new Soviet position seemed sure to win support in Western Europe, where opposition to nuclear weapons is widespread.

Gorbachev has met with officials from several NATO countries in record numbers to discuss European security, the latest being Italian Foreign Minister Giulio Andreotti on Friday.

The governments of West Germany, Denmark and Belgium on Sunday welcomed the Soviet offer. Britain, France, the Netherlands and Italy said they needed more time to study it.

In Geneva, U.S. officials said they believed the Soviets made the new offer in hopes it would increase Western European opposition to the so-called "breed interpretation" of the 1972 antiballistic missile treaty.
Elderly man kills three others then turns gun on himself

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES - A man who had accused his wife of setting up a $7,000 burglary grabbed a revolver after an argument and fatally shot two neighbors and his stepdaughter before killing himself, said neighbors and police.

Ed Smith, 83, had been arguing with his 80-year-old wife, Ann, in their home for hours Saturday before he armed himself and began shooting, said Detective Steve Morgan.

"During the course of the dispute, she decided to move out and called relatives to help," said Lt. Charles Massey. The shooting began after Mrs. Smith left the couple’s small, white clapboard house, and walked to the rear of a neighbor’s house.

Smith fired 10 to 12 times, police said. He fired at and missed his wife, shot his stepdaughter, and then seemed to fire at random targets, fatally wounding a 91-year-old neighbor and another woman.

A witness, Robert Livingston, said he tried to help Smith’s stepdaughter, 45-year-old Linda Doward, while she was lying on the ground.

"He told me to get away from her," said Livingston, who was not injured. "I didn’t think he was doing the shooting. I thought there was something wrong. He pointed the gun up, I ducked, and he fired.

"He went back to the house, reloaded his gun and again shot the daughter, who was still in the street, then went to the rear yard of the (neighbor’s) house," Morgan said.

When he realized police were coming, Smith shot himself in the chest. He was pronounced dead at the scene, Morgan said.

Doward died Saturday afternoon in surgery in California Medical Center.

Tornado victims clean up after storm leaves 8 dead

Associated Press

LAUREL, Miss. - Residents and cleanup crews worked under a sunny sky Sunday to recover belongings and clear up wreckage from a tornado that left eight people dead, nearly 500 families homeless and millions of dollars in damage.

"Everybody is tired, but things are looking up," said Bill Allain.

Some residents camped out overnight at bonfires beside the piles of splintered lumber and brick that had been their homes, and the National Guard blocked off 15 roads and highways.

"It probably caused more damage in one county than I've ever seen," said Gov. Bill Allain.

There was more trepidation in San Francisco, where the pope's two-day visit is an extended tour of nine cities. Half a year before the pope departs for Rome on Sept. 19, arrangements are being made now for security, media coverage and hotel rooms in the cities. Half a year before the pope's second extended visit to this country, the church is already saying "no" to some demands for tickets or a few minutes of the pontiff's time.

The diocese has 295,000 members and 75,000 seats for a mass at Sun Devil Stadium. Rather than sell tickets, the diocese hopes to raise nearly $1 million, plus $300,000 to spruce up St. Mary's Basilica, through private and corporate donations, and by a special collection in every parish church this month.

Diocesan officials in San Antonio reported raising about $500,000 of the required $2.5 million. "We're right on target," said Bishop Charles V. Granman of Victoria.

Financing is a particular pinch for the small diocese of Monterey, which is trying to raise $2 million. The diocese had proposed seeking bids for rights to televise the pope's visit, but backed down last month after broadcasters protested.

"We appreciate the problems they have, but you can't sell rights to the pope's visit as if it were the Super Bowl," said Dick Little, news director of KSCO radio in Santa Cruz.

The students living at the house said the party was not breaking the city's noise ordinance.

"It was really quiet," he said. "It was the smallest party we've ever had."
I think that what has happened to me last weekend will remain very close to me, no matter how old, or how far away I find myself from these past few days, or this place.

My mother did not come to South Bend last weekend because she has cancer and is currently fighting through chemotherapy treatments. The doctors felt that she would greatly benefit through treatments.

Like all of my other classmates, my dad and I attended every event. We were amazed at the huge crowds at the President's dinner about when he was little and he and his dad would go to the barber shop on Saturday mornings. They would listen to Notre Dame football on the radio, and all of the older men would place their bets on the day's winner. My Grandpa always chose Notre Dame, and he would tell my dad that someday he was going to send him to Notre Dame to make a lawyer out of him.

I picked him up from the bus stop on Friday afternoon. He tried so hard to smile and laugh at my frustration at being late, but I just couldn't help but feel that we were going to be one of the most emotionally involved and exhausting weekends of our lives.

Irish try for 20th victory tonight

By BOB KEMPER

In the Notre Dame locker room outlines what must be done to win 20 games. The Irish will attempt to reach that phenomenal milestone when the square off against Brooklyn College tonight at 7:30 in the ACC.

If successful, it will be Notre Dame’s fourth straight 20- season victory, the 11th of Digger Phelps in 18 seasons with the Irish, and the 24th in Notre Dame’s history. Kingsmen, who gained Division I status in 1982, stand at 10-15 going into the contest, which is the first ever meeting between the two schools.

"Brooklyn will come in here with the idea of making its season by beating us," said Notre Dame head coach Digger Phelps. "They have played a lot of tough road games this year, so that aspect shouldn’t bother them. This is the first time they’ve ever been here and they don’t have much time to prepare, so we’ve just come out and play hard and concentrate, especially early in the game."

The only returning starter for Head Coach Mark Reiner is 6-7 senior Keith Grady who is averaging 18.5 points and 10 rebounds per contest. Other probable starters include 6-6 junior transfer Frank Gregor (16.1 pts., 8.2 reb.), 6-7 junior transfer Adam Weinstein (8.0 pts., 5.6 reb.), 5-11 freshman

"I like the way we are playing right now and with the confidence we’ve developed," said Phelps. "We’re playing the way we want to. I think our players know what they can do in every different situation. Right now we just want to be in a groove as we wind down the last week of the regular season."

Women's swim team takes sixth

By ROSE PIETRZAK

The Notre Dame women's swim team ended its season placing sixth among a field of 12 teams at the Midwest Independent Swimming and Diving Championships at Notre Dame's Rolfs Aquatic Center. Tallying 322 points, the Irish did not match last year's third place finish, but did manage to place 25 swimmers in the top ten positions for 19 of 28 events.

"We saw some incredible things here this weekend," said second-year coach Tim Welsh. "As a team, we swam very well also. We had significant timing drops across the board and we were able to hold our own. One of our season goals was to move up in the rankings this weekend, but through the season, we realized that as a team we would probably not be able to accomplish that goal. We decided to stress the individual events and the best possible performance."

The squad depended heavily on veterans Amy Darlington and Suzanne DeVine to carry the burden of the events. Darlington, a junior from Fairfield, Ohio, captured a second-place finish in the 400-yard individual Medley with a time of 4:38.24 to reset her own university record. Darlington also earned a third-place standing in the 500-yard Freestyle with a time of 5:06.27. As a member of the 800-yard Freestyle relay team, Darlington helped change the record with a time of 7:34.93.

Senior Suzanne DeVine captured fourth place in the 100-yard butterfly with a time of 59.50 and also an eighth place finish in the 200-yard Individual Medley. DeVine contributed to the 800-yard freestyle relay and also swam a leg of the 66th-place relay.

Other outstanding performances were put in by freshman Georgia Bosseler and sophomore Barbara Byrne. Bosseler captured eighth place in a tough field of 26 divers in the one-meter diving event and Byrne placed eighth and sixth in the 100 and 200-yard backstroke events respectively.

"We entered the season with some worries," said Welsh. "We were lacking depth in some of our events and we needed to pull everything together. It was an exciting weekend, partly due to having the championships here for the first time, and partly because we knew we would be doing our best."

The Notre Dame men's track team, including a great performance by hurdler Glen Watson, were too much for DePaul and Marquette to handle. The Warriors with the final team scores of Notre Dame 92, Marquette 43 and DePaul 34.

"We ran a lot of different guys in different events. We like a meet where we can do that," said Coach Joe Piane. "It was a great tune-up for the IC4A's."

"We ran a lot of different guys in different events. We like a meet where we can do that," said Coach Joe Piane. "I was really pleased with Glen. He just missed qualifying for Nationals by an eyelash."

Field event standout Rick Muench won the triple jump with 47-5 1/2 and the long jump with 22-3, almost a foot better than the old meet record, and placed second in the high jump with 6-4 for the Irish.

"I was really pleased with Rick Muench," said Piane. "He did well for us Saturday and has really performed well all year."

The talent and depth of the Notre Dame men's track team, including a great performance by hurdler Glen Watson, were too much for DePaul and Marquette Saturday in the ACC Fieldhouse. third round.

In other bout stoppages yesterday, Ted "The Truth" Gradel took out "Irish Patrick" O'Neill in a bout that lasted only to the 1:25 mark of the second round.

"Tim "Thunder and Lightning" Newell stopped Ed "Rambo" Raeke at the :29 mark of the third round in the welterweight class, and Rob "Rubster Truckster" Price defeated Edgar "The South Bend Mad Dog" Reilly in the middleweight class at the :49 mark of the third round.

Two celebrity figures hooked up last night when Jack "The Honeymooner" Gleason sent Billy "Bob" Joel to the moon at the :11 mark of the third round in a super welterweight bout. One can only hope that the result of a match featuring the real celebrities might end the same way.

A crowd of 1,834 was on hand for yesterday's semifinal round.

Phipps was also ranked by the events of the previous evening.

When the Irish checked in to their hotel near the MEC-

CA, the Marquette College of Business Administration was holding a function in the same hotel.

When the Marquette students found out the location of the function, they caused several altercations by hanging up the phone and ringing the rooms until approximately 3:30 a.m., according to a Notre Dame official.

Dukiet termed the incident "a pep rally."

"It is against NCAA rules to hold a pep rally outside of some home games," said Dukiet.

"Digger may be an important and powerful person, but he's out of line here."

A column on the front-page of the Milwaukee Journal sports section castigated the Marquette fans for their latest example of poor behavior and called for the Marquette administration to begin to curb its students.

But the full impact from this weekend's incidents may not be felt until later. This is third and final year of the Great Indian Series round-robin series involving Notre Dame, Marquette, Dayton and DePaul. Notre Dame coach Dick Corrigan, who has been concerned about the behavior of the Irish partisans, was in attendance at Saturday's game. With the contract up for possible renewal this summer, the behavior of the Warriors faithful may cast doubt on the continuance of the series.

eluding six-for-six field goal shooting.

Notre Dame's execution in the second half was a big lift in the game, according to Phelps.

"I think we did a good job of spreading the defense and driving," Phelps said. "I thought the execution of our team in the second half was as good as we've played all year."

For Marquette, it was a one-man show, as has been the case too often for Head Coach Bob Dukiet. David Boone finished the game with 20 points and eight rebounds. Sims was the only other Warrior in double figures, with 12.

MILWAUKEE - In an "NCAA-type atmosphere" at the MECCA, Notre Dame ended a super month of basketball with a 72-60 win over Marquette. The Irish used a 33-23 rebounding advantage and hot shooting, 60 percent, that spilled beer from the Marquette student section could not even cool to capture its eighth-straight win in the rivalry between the two independents.

Irish head coach Digger Phelps said the environment prepared his team for what the NCAA Tournament will be like. "This was like playing the first- or second-round game in the NCAA Tournament on the road, with this type of crowd, these types of conditions and the excitement," he said. "We came into the game knowing that Marquette may have to beat Notre Dame and DePaul to get an NCAA Tournament bid, so we expected them to be up, have the emotion going, and have the crowd going, and yet we took it to them early."

Take it to them they did. The Irish exploded at the outset, breaking out to a 23-10 lead. But Marquette responded with a 16-2 run of its own, and when Mike Flory hit a driving layup, the Warriors had a 26-25 lead. Donald Royal and Flory traded baskets before the Irish went on a 6-3 run that gave them a 33-30 halftime edge.

The Irish continued the surge at the beginning of the second half. After Michael Sims hit a jumper to open the scoring, Scott Hicks, Mark Stevenson and Royal connected to give Notre Dame a nine-point advantage.

But Marquette was not about to fold that easily. Copa and David Boone scored four points apiece to help Marquette into a tie at 48 with 11:24 left to play.

The Irish came back with six quick points, punctuated by a Royal driving dunk, with David Rivers sitting on the bench. Copa scored on a nice assist from Sims to close the Irish lead down to four, 54-50, but the Warriors never got any closer.

Rivers came back into the game at the 7:50 mark, ran the show from there on. He found Hicks on an inbounds pass for a layup, and after Voice rebounded and put in Rivers' misses, the Irish point guard put a driving basket. He then helped to salt the game away with four-for-four free throw shooting and two field goals when the Irish spread out the offense.

The Irish backcourt duo of Rivers and Hicks scored 21 and 17 points to lead the Irish, while Donald Royal also had 17, in the win.

MU's beer-throwing students lead to post-game fireworks

By DENNIS CORRIGAN Sports Editor

MILWAUKEE - If there is one thing people think of most often in connection with the city of Milwaukee, it's beer. Saturday night, Milwaukee's best played a decidedly less-than-proud part in Notre Dame's 72-60 victory over Marquette.

As the Irish were leaving the court at halftime, fans pelted them with beer cups, not all of them empty. Notre Dame forward Donald Royal was hit in the eye, and had to have it flushed with a lotion in the lockerroom.

If that wasn't bad enough, the rain of debris continued into the second half. After the game was over, the Irish had to be escorted of the court by a phalanx of security guards, and the normal scene of two coaches shaking hands was instead an angry confrontation between Irish head coach Digger Phelps and Warrior head man Bob Dukiet.

"Digger said our fans were bush league," alleged Dukiet afterward at the post-game press conference. "Our students are great, I know they beat us on the floor. I'll swallow that medicine, but I'm not going to have him tell me how our students should behave. "It's been a tough year, and I'd had enough. I know he's a big man, a powerful guy, but I don't have to have him tell me how our kids should behave. I think he was out of line." Phelps, for his part, commented as little as was possible about the incident.

"That's up to (Dukiet) to talk about," said Phelps. "When we came off the court at halftime, the fans were throwing beer on our players going into the lockerroom. I don't think beer should be at college events. That's something we can correct if people want to correct it."

"If you want to talk about the game, let's talk about the game. That's my see BEER, page 10

Comebacks highlight Bengal Bouts in weekend's early-round contests

By TERRY LYNCH Sports Writer

In an improbable comeback, Steve "Slim" Riedl survived a first-round knockout to win a split-decision victory over Gerry "The Boston Strangler" Graf in the quarterfinal round of the 57th annual Bengal Bouts last night at the Bopan Center.

Riedl, a sophomore Grace resident from Columbus, Ohio, used a late flurry of punches in the third round of the junior middleweight to claim the victory. Graf appeared to have the advantage through two rounds, but Riedl drew blood from Graf, who seemed to lose both energy and momentum after the bloody nose.

Three freshmen are making strong bids for titles in their respective divisions. David "Sugar" Cane won a split decision over Mike "Candy Man" Canavan to continue his rise in the junior welterweight division. Cane, who scored a knockout in his first match on Friday, stood up in the cruiserweight class with a win over Tim "The Jersey Devil" Lyons. Angrick overpowered his opponent from the opening bell, and stopped Lyons with a standing eight count in the first round.

The bell saved Lyons in the first round, but the referee stopped the bout only 20 seconds into the second round. In the bloodiest bout of the evening, Steve "The Delaware Destroyer" Freschi mauled freshman Glenn Scamman in the light heavyweight class. After receiving a standing eight count early in the first round, Scamman started bleeding from the nose.

Scamman was slapped with another standing eight count in the second round, and after that the bout was a bloodbath. If it had been at the infirmary, Scamman would have been given a complimentary donut and glass of orange juice. Unbelievably, Scamman put together two successive flurries of punches in a third-round comeback effort against the senior Freschi. By this time Scamman's face was completely covered with blood, and the referee decided to end the bout at the 1:06 mark of the
