Reagan: ‘I cannot escape responsibility’ for Iran arms deal

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - President Reagan acknowledged Wednesday night that his once secret Iranian initiative "deteriorated" into an arms-run "that has its own integrity," he said, "it was a mistake.

In a speech prepared for delivery from the Oval Office, Reagan said that "as president, I cannot escape responsibility."

Echoing criticism issued by the Tower commission, Reagan said he did not ask enough questions of his aides and did not study the specifics of the Iran initiative.

However, in remarks prepared for his nationally broadcast speech, he insisted that he did not know the allegations of profits from the arms sale to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

"As the Tower board reported," Reagan said, "what we had no choice with that picture being censored," Morales said. "This situation was handled very poorly. The whole problem with the Juggler editors is that it is their individual dig-ons to the editor and to the content of Scholastical "will remain with it's student editors."

Lanan said that prior to the new policy, interpretation had been urged in advance by a special session would serve the student senate will not give up its right to have some say in student elections."

We requested a special sen-te meeting to get an apology for his silence in terms of your presidency.

"But is it ethical?" The sen-te altered their campaign rules in the midst of the eral declaration unaided by the candidates who got their petitions in on time," Brennan

Policy set to govern Juggler, Dome

By KATIE SULLIVAN

Dome and Juggler will follow the same approach and policy as Scholastic in future publications. This year, according to Deputy Director of Student Activities Adele Lanan.

"The same approach and policy that Scholastic has will be used for these publications. This is acceptable to my part. Hopefully through this, my input will be more apcreased,"

She also said there would be no change in the amount of copy for all three publications as long as the mutual trust between Student Activities and the publications is upheld.

According to Juggler editor
Mike Morales, the problem began with the publication of a student's artwork, which ap-ppeared to show a couple embraced in a sexual act.

Director of Student Activities Joe Cassidy suspended Scholastic in late February because the printout of the photo that his office previously had removed from Juggler's fall edition. Cassidy had no choice in his letter requesting the office's from the sation of the deadline for petitions

according to Juggler editor
Joe Cassidy suspended Scholastic editor and professor of music at Notre Dame last summer.

"My family and I are very excited to be coming to Notre Dame. It has such a glorious history, so many wonderful traditions and an teresting people, so I'm incredibly happy to be here,"" Snavey said.

He will succeed Robert

"I'm looking forward to the time I will spend at the student Dome band, and

Bombs away

A Cavanaugh Hall resident launches his entry in the Cavanaugh 4th floor paper airplane contest. The winner was chosen based on the length of time the plane was in the air and the distance it travelled.

Band director named

By ANN MARIE DURNING

Professor Luther Snavey, Jr., director of bands at the University of Mississippi since 1971, was named director of bands and professor of music at Notre Dame last week.

"My family and I are very excited to be coming to Notre Dame. It has such a glorious history, so many wonderful traditions and an incredible student body," said Snavey.

He will succeed Robert

"I'm looking forward to the time I will spend at the student Dome band, and

James Phillips, who served as assistant director under O'Brien and acting director this year.

Snavey was selected to oversee all band programs by a committee headed by University President-elect Father "Monk" Malloy. Acccording to Malloy, the commitee included Robert O'Brien, former director of bands; Calvin Bower, chairman of the music dept.;
Eugene Leary, music professor; and John Goldrick, associate vice president for Student Affairs.

Malloy cited criteria the

see BAND, page 5
The committee set up to discuss the disbandment of the Dancing Irish has decided on a recommendation. The executive vice president, Father Edmund Joyce and Vice President for Student Affairs Father David Tyson, Father Peter Rocca, the chairman of the committee, however, declined to comment on the recommendation until he had a chance to meet today with representatives of the Dancing Irish. Joyce and Tyson will decide on the fate of the group. -The Observer

The 500 Club in Hammond, Ind., whose criterion for membership is the ability to do 500 sit-ups without stopping, now has its first female member and first senior citizen, to boot. Helen Jones, 67, rolled through 500 "tummy crunches" - knee-to-elbow situps - to become an official member of the group Tuesday at the city-owned Hammond Fitness Center. "I feel just fine - no problem," she said afterward. Last Thursday, Jones told fitness instructor Joyce Hughey, 23, that she was ready to try joining the club. That morning, she had already ridden her customary five miles on an exercise bike, played volleyball and worked out in the weight room. Associated Press

Weather

There's a couple of sidewalks between long rows of buildings. There's a pretty fountain and lots of people wandering about. There's a big glittering structure in the distance. There's even a souvenir shop and an overpriced restaurant.

Sound like Walt Disney World? Yes, a little.

It's pretty amazing when you think about it. It's almost like Father Ted had been to Disney World when it first opened and decided he wanted a place just like it. They are one and the same, except that Ted couldn't do too much with the weather.

Look at the cost, for example. Disney World, for one day's admission to the park and meals, will charge you about $60 to $80, depending on how much you eat and which rides you want to go on. The wonderful people (are they really?) at Student Accounts charge us about $73 a day to attend this institution and eat its institutional food.

Disney World has Main Street. We have the Main Quad. Ours doesn't have a trolley car running down the middle of it. But we do have golf carts and security cars, and someone sponsored a horse ride there once. On autumn Saturdays we have a big brass band wander around to entertain all the clueless people that have never been here before.

And behold, at the head of Notre Dame's "Main Street," we have our own version of Cinderella's Castle, our beloved Golden Dome. It's even lit up at night, just like its Florida counterpart. And, just like at Disney World, our castle is the entrance to Fantasyland. Yes, you too can walk through the big wooden doors and find yourself in the Freshman Year of Studies offices, where an assorted cast of strange characters will entertain you and possibly even sing "It's a small world after all." You can even visit the Never-Never Land of St. Michael's Laundry, where little boys never grow up and everything gets lost.

On the right we have Notre Dame's version of Tomorrowland, adorned with bizarre fountains and sparking new buildings. Look inside the Space Mountain Memorial Library, where it's too dark and lots of people scream inside the cavernous empty spaces.

On the left is Notre Dame's Adventureland, featuring the Pirates of the Hammes Caribbean. Walt upturns through the turnstile and see ferocious pirates crowing over chests of booty as poor peasants walk by burdened with everything they have. The girls in their gondolas are followed by huge piles of books. Then be forcibly dumped into the Notre Dame souvenir shop, with lots of knickknacks that no one ever uses but everybody buys.

Out past the Hammes ride is Frontierland, where all kinds of unsavory characters reside in old-time buildings like Carroll and Holy Cross halls. You can even adventure to the jungles on the far side of the lake and watch all sorts of exotic creatures in strange mating rituals. Watch out for the squirrels, though.

And Notre Dame, like Disney World, wouldn't let you go hungry. Both we and they have over-priced restaurants serving generic food dressed up with exotic-sounding names. Where else can you buy a "Diner Burger" for more than it would cost to buy a pound of hamburger and a bag of hamburger rolls?

We even beat Walt to the punch on Epcot Center. We've got Saint Mary's College, with the ultimate in modern buildings, futuristic dress, and an auditorium with strange round things on the walls. We've even got a streamlined transport system to whisk you between them in picturesque comfort.

Amazing, isn't it? And you thought this was just a college. But it's not. It's a place of make believe, a place with no news broadcasts, no housework, no cares except getting to the next ride before the lines get too long. You don't have to worry about the real world here.

I can just see Mom and Dad now: "Enjoy it, kids. Tomorrow you'll have to go back to school."

Aww, Mom, do we have to...
Feminists and Church at odds: specialist

By SANDY CERIMELE
News Staff

To be a feminist in the Catholic Church seems to be a contradiction in terms, Sister Regina Coll, professional specialist and assistant director of field education of the Notre Dame Theology Department said Wednesday night in the La Fortune Little Theater.

Her lecture, titled "Feminist and Catholic: Is It Possible?" was sponsored by the Thomas More Society.

Coll spoke from the perspective of a woman who has chosen to remain within the Catholic Church and also to identify herself as a feminist.

"Women are leaving the Church because they feel the message of Jesus is not being carried out," said Coll.

She spoke of the worldwide acknowledgement of male dominance which has contributed to this movement.

Coll outlined three problems that have contributed to the subordination of women in the Church. She said women are not called to participate in the decision making process in the Church especially on issues that directly affect them. Secondly, she said, the language of the Church excludes women. She also said the questionable theology of sexuality unjustly depicts women as objects of beauty, sexuality and motherhood rather than meaningful participants in society.

She said that sound theology has its origin in the thoughts, prayers and recherche of human experience, and that experience has excluded women.

The language of the bible of factors feminine metaphors depicting God as a mother and as a housewife which are often overlooked in theological interpretation of God, according to Coll.

Coll outlined three problems that have contributed to the subordination of women in the Church. She said women are not called to participate in the decision making process in the Church especially on issues that directly affect them. Secondly, she said, the language of the Church excludes women. She also said the questionable theology of sexuality unjustly depicts women as objects of beauty, sexuality and motherhood rather than meaningful participants in society.

She said that sound theology has its origin in the thoughts, prayers and recherche of human experience, and that experience has excluded women.

The language of the bible of factors feminine metaphors depicting God as a mother and as a housewife which are often overlooked in the theological interpretation of God, according to Coll.

Coll outlined three problems that have contributed to the subordination of women in the Church. She said women are not called to participate in the decision making process in the Church especially on issues that directly affect them. Secondly, she said, the language of the Church excludes women. She also said the questionable theology of sexuality unjustly depicts women as objects of beauty, sexuality and motherhood rather than meaningful participants in society.

She said that sound theology has its origin in the thoughts, prayers and recherche of human experience, and that experience has excluded women.
The textbook critics objected in particular to the teaching of value judgements.

In "Teen Guide," a home economics book, for example, one of the objectionable passages said, "Nothing was meant to be. You are the designer of your life. If you want something, you can plan and work for it. Nothing is easy. But nothing is impossible, either."

"When you recognize that you are the one in charge of your life, you will be able to say where you would be if you think of your life as something that just happens to you."

Accordng to fundamentalists, secular humanism is the elevation of transient human values over eternal spiritual values, and secular humanists believe that humans can handle their own affairs without divine intervention. Hand defined secular humanism as religion, and said, "The court now considers whether this religious belief system of humanism is involved in a constitutional controversy before this court."

"As already noted, the Supreme Court has declared that teaching religious tenets in such a way as to promote or encourage a religion violates the religion clauses (of the Constitution). The facts showed that the state of Alabama has set its state textbook list certain volumes that are being used by school systems in this state, which engage in such promotions."

The judge's ruling went against 17 social studies textbooks, nine history texts and five home economics books, most for use in elementary grades.

"These books are not to be used as primary textbooks, as a teaching aid in any course but may be used as a reference source in a comparative religion course that treats all religions equivalently," Hand said.

The Observer
Intelligence analyst for Navy sentenced to life prison term

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Former ci vilian Navy intelligence analyst Jonathan Jay Pollard was sentenced Wednesday to life in prison for selling Israel hundreds of secret U.S. military documents in what prosecutors termed one of the nation's worst spy cases.

"No, no," screamed his wife, Anne Henderson-Pollard, and she collapsed to the floor after U.S. District Judge Aubrey Robinson announced the life term for her husband.

His wife, 26, received a five-year prison term for conspiring to receive unauthorized government property and being an accessory after the fact to possession of defense secrets.

Federal prosecutors said Pollard gave Israel thousands of pages of classified documents, which could fill a room the size of a large closet.

"This defendant has admitted that he sold to Israel a volume of classified documents 16 feet by 6 feet by 6 feet," Assistant U.S. Attorney Charles Leeper told the judge.

Leeper urged the judge to consider what further unauthorized disclosure of classified information can expect from Pollard in setting the sentence for Pollard's conviction of conspiracy to espionage.

"It's clear that his perspective has been so skewed, his view so warped (that) at the first opportunity he is going to go about the business of telling everything he knows to Israel," Leeper added.

In pleading for the court to grant his wife leniency, Pollard, 32, said, "Unfortunately I sacrificed her, inadvertently, but the end result is here on the altar of political ideology."
California Head Lettuce

Large Head

29¢ each

Premium White Bread

Big 20 oz. loaf

ALDI

Low Price

Dairy and Lunch Meat

Fresh Grade A Eggs

Cottage Cheese

Kraft Cheez Whiz

Price Reduction!

Premium Bacon

Vegetable Oil Spread

Oscar Mayer Beef

Frozen Foods

Tostinos Pizza

Vegetable Spread

Frozen 100% Pure Orange Juice

Banquet Fried Chicken

100% Pure Ground Beef

Produce

Russet Potatoes

California Sunkist Navel Oranges

Red Delicious Apples

Where else but ALDI®

929 N. Eddy

South Bend, IN

Mon. - Thurs.: 10am - 7pm

Friday: 9am - 6pm

Saturday: 9am - 6pm

Closed Sunday

3207 Lincolnway West

South Bend, IN

Mon. - Thurs.: 9am - 7pm

Friday: 9am - 8pm

Saturday: 9am - 6pm

Closed Sunday

We welcome cash and food stamps. No checks please.

The Stock-Up Store.
Miss U.S.A. Pageant cannot live up to goals

What’s the funniest show on TV today? "The Cosby Show"? "Late Night with David Letterman"? Good calls. But my vote goes to the annually televised "Miss U.S.A. Pageant."

Carol Brown

don second thought

I missed the "Miss U.S.A. Pageant" this year. But I can still tell you the punch line. It’s always the same. It comes toward the end when a tall, animated Barbie Doll, dressed in a sequined gown, meets Bob Barker on Doonesbury animated Barbie Doll, dressed in a see-through gown, and asks, the answer is as predictable as a punch line. It’s always the same.

Maria Cintron

guest column

The Judicial Council is composed of the judicial board chairperson from each dorm and a judicial coordinator. Our purpose as defined by the constitution is to demythologize student government, what that lofty goal in mind we published the Students’ Rights Manual which was distributed to each room on campus. The Students’ Rights Manual provides a concise outline of your rights when accused of a university offense, of a hall offense or of academic dishonesty. It also lets you know what rights you possess regarding your room and your car. If you didn’t get a copy, see your chairperson. There are also several copies on the reference desk in the library.

This year the Judicial Council put together a list of twelve area lawyers who are available to represent Notre Dame students at reduced rates. All the lawyers contacted are Notre Dame graduates. Lists are available from your chairperson or at student government offices. Information is available about the preretal diversion program which helps those convicted of misdemeanors avoid a formal criminal record by performing community service and meeting other basic requirements.

The judicial coordinator who chairs the Judicial Council also serves as the Undergraduate Student Counsel. In this position, the judicial coordinator provides assistance to students accused of violating University rules and regulations. This ranges from talking on the phone with students who have been caught with fake I.D.s to sitting in on hearings with students who have done something a little more serious (or a lot more serious). My approach to this role has been to help students through what most people wouldn’t consider as one of their favorite things to do. I’ve found being the Undergraduate Student Counsel very rewarding and valuable experience.

So, you say, how can I get involved in all this? The judicial coordinator is usually elected from the current Judicial Council. For this reason, I encourage all twenty-four members of the council to give some thought to running. For all of you interested in the Judicial Council check out joining you hall judicial board or consider becoming your dorm’s junior board chairperson. Talk to your this year’s chairperson and your counselor for more information on how the board in your hall runs.

Still hesitant about joining student government? Don’t be! I have found that student government can be as fulfilling and worthwhile as you decide to make it. So if you’re still not totally convinced that student government does much of anything, get involved and help develop it into the type of organization you envision.

Maria Cintron is a senior marketing major and judicial coordinator for Notre Dame’s Judicial Council.

Quality of life raised by industrialization

Dear Editor,

Mary Heilmann’s Feb. 19 inside column “Whatever happened to all the steelworkers in Pittsburgh” contained a misstatement of fact that I cannot allow to pass uncorrected. She said people could see things get involved to reveal the social miseries industrialization produced, portrayed in such novels as Bleak House and Hard Times.

Industrialization did not create social miseries, it solved them. The people huddled in the tenements described so poignantly by the shortighted Dickens still alive in the halcyon days before the Industrial Revolution because they died of starvation and disease. The jobs produced by industrialization were the means to escape from the "golden days" of the dark ages, brutish, and short.

People crowded into industrial cities because the life-sustaining wages, small as they may seem in our inflation-ridden times, were their first hope of survival. Misery was the universal condition of mankind before the Industrial Revolution. Industrialization’s benefits made conveniences available to the poorest people that had not been possessed even by kings in the "good old days" before society was "disrupted." Life was changed, to be sure. The industrial countries banished famine and all of the life-shortening diseases that, since the dawn of time, had killed most people before they reached age thirty. Industrialization was a shock because it was unprecedented and not clearly understood. Why must we perpetuate this misunderstanding any longer? Anyone who has traveled in a car, flushed a toilet, or avoided smallpox, typhus, or scarlet fever should be able to appreciate the differences.

Bruce Smith

Quote of the day

"Happiness doesn’t come from doing what we like to do, but from liking what we have to do."

Wilfred Peterson
Conscience complicates examination of faith

The following is the second of a two-part series.

What does "conscience" mean? For Catholics, it means the internal faculty of the soul that judges whether our actions are right or wrong. It is the sensitive conscience that judges, according to its nature, the object of its judgment, and to that extent is he more or less disposed to conform to that judgment. Hence, it is a necessary part of human freedom. The conscience thus is a necessary and positive condition of every moral act. The Church's teaching office (the Magisterium) is a vehicle for the conservation and transmission of the truths of faith and morals as revealed through the Church's Tradition through the ages. These truths are "supernatural" truths, given by God and to be believed in faith, learned by human reason, and transmitted through human teaching. The Church's teaching office is responsible for the transmission of these truths in the context of human culture, to the extent that they are in harmony with human reason. The Church's teaching office is guided by the Holy Spirit, to ensure that the truths it teaches are true and in accord with divine revelation. The Church's teaching office can never add or subtract from revelation, as it is fixed. Being Catholic means, in addition to accept-Entrepreneurship is alive and well at Notre Dame. Witness to the fact are seniors Kevin Christenson and Scott Morrison, chief executive and executive vice-president, respectively, of Adworks, the independent, student-run advertising business service. Both students are being featured in the Student Entrepreneurs section of Business Today, a business magazine published in Princeton, N.J., and circulated among universities around the country.

The pair were also featured on Channel 16 WNDU news last week, as well as on a recent "Cover to Cover" on the same station. Last week Christenson and Morrison were in Chicago attending the International Conference of the Association of Collegiate Entrepreneurs, where they gave a seminar on Adworks for a group of about 100 people. Also speaking at the conference were such well-known entrepreneurs as T. Boone Pickens of Mesa Petroleum, Steven Jobs of Apple Computers and Debbie Fields of Mrs. Fields Cookies, as well as other national entrepreneurs from around the world.

"Well, why the excitement about Christenson and Morrison? Here's the story.

Adworks began in the fall of 1985 as a small, non-profit poster business under the control of student government. When Christenson took over in April 1986, he said he felt the organization was not performing to its fullest potential, so he and Morrison moved Adworks out of student government to Student Activities, where they would have more autonomy and freedom to grow.

They also bought an $8000 computer with a laser writer and converted Adworks into an independent, profit-making enterprise.

That summer Christenson sent letters to all student leaders, businesses and organizations on campus informing them of the new Adworks and the services it would be able to provide.

"We saw the need, which was to solve a big communication problem between the student body and the student body," Christenson says. "We sought to enhance student life through the advertising of campus activities...It's incredible how much the social life improves because of this, when we put posters up all over campus, card tents in the dining halls, etc..."

"Our main goal," adds Morrison, "is to serve the student body, to close the gap and help inform the student body on social activities through the most effective, highest quality ads possible and at as low a price as possible (lower than people would be able to get if they went elsewhere).

But when the two returned to school in the fall, they found themselves facing a big problem: over-demand. "In September," remembers Christenson, "things just exploded. Right away we had to hire a lot of people, organize, manage, etc...We knew we were going to be successful, that we were going in the right direction with the company. But we didn't know it would all happen so quickly.

One of our biggest problems at first was that the growth were growing too fast. We were getting so big..."

Scott Morrison

going in the right direction with the company," continues Morrison, "but we didn't know it would all happen so quickly. One of our biggest problems at first was that we were growing too fast. We were getting so big..."

So true. The entrepreneurial pair took the new Adworks from $8000 in total sales and eight workers last semester (spring 1986) to $15,000 sales, 70 employees (most of whom are paid) and $1000 profit this past semester. Forecasts for this semester are even better: $20,000 in sales and $2000 to $2500 profit (a conservative estimate).

All this progress was accomplished with a zero dollar start-up budget. Student Activities loaned them money for the computer and a few early bills, and the rest were paid directly out of sales. For the first semester, no one drew any salary (including Christenson and Morrison) except those on financial aid. All profits were pumped back into the business.

Now, Adworks has established a strong base from which it can run itself. Adworks is structured just like any other corporation. There is the Chief Executive Officer (Christenson), the Executive Vice President (Morrison), various divisional vice presidents, accountants, artists, distributors, etc. There is also an outside board of directors which includes Father William Beauchamp, Father David Tyson, two faculty members and two representatives from Leo Burnett, a national advertising agency. Christenson and Morrison will join this group after they graduate this year.

As far as the actual running of the business is concerned, Christenson markets the organization to outside customers and works on plans for expansion. Morrison watches the daily operations of the business and manages the short-term planning. Both are continually engaged in feedback with each other. Christenson must know how business is today so he can plan for tomorrow, and Morrison must be familiar with the plans for tomorrow so he can direct today's business accordingly.

One of the best things about Adworks, according to Morrison, is the experience it provides them and other student employees in marketing and management. Adworks also hones their organizational and management skill. Adworks employs people of all majors (accountancy, marketing, art, computer, Arts and Letters, etc.) and all of them can take what they learn in the classroom and apply it as they work, gaining invaluable practical experience while they're at school. "It's just another way in which Adworks serves the students, in giving them training and practical experience."

"People ask me how I can consider myself an entrepreneur if Adworks wasn't my idea or even my name, but what they don't realize is that about 80 percent of acknowledged entrepreneurs are not people with totally new ideas."

Kevin Christenson

Do Christenson and Morrison consider themselves entrepreneurs? As Christenson explains, "People ask me how I can consider myself an entrepreneur if Adworks wasn't my idea or even my name, but what they don't realize is that about 80 percent of acknowledged entrepreneurs are not people with totally new ideas."

Debbie Fields didn't invent entrepreneurs are not people with totally new ideas."

Kevin Christenson

Debbie Fields didn't invent entrepreneurs are not people with totally new ideas."

Kevin Christenson

Do Christenson and Morrison consider themselves entrepreneurs? As Christenson explains, "People ask me how I can consider myself an entrepreneur if Adworks wasn't my idea or even my name, but what they don't realize is that about 80 percent of acknowledged entrepreneurs are not people with totally new ideas."
NOTICES

TYPING AVAILABLE 216-452

Physical Therapy

PRO TYPE

QUALITY WORK, NEED PROGRESSIVITY AVAILABILITY. 216-537-5033

TURFLE CREEK ARTS RESERVATION

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE CALL MINI. CORR. 203-744

GREAT W. 34 ST, FOR ORG. MENTIONS THURSDAY MARCH 5, 6, 8, 10, 12, 14.

THURSDAYS ARE CARPET SALE AT COWAMU COURT ON NEW YORK AVENUE. FIVE CENT DRAFT, CALL CLOSET DOWNE AFTER.

TYPING/HORSEPROCEEDING 207-5014

LOST/FOUND

LOST/TAKEN FROM BRIDES WEDNESDAY NIGHT MARCH 4th. AN AQUAFRAN SKIN CARE CREAM CONTAINING 100% HENNA. THE BOX IS OBVIOUSLY NOT SEALED. THE CONTAINER HAS BEEN TAKEN WITH A SOAP JACKET WITH A MAKER IN THE COLOR OF A WINTER SMOKE. THE HENNA KEY AND A BASKETBALL TICKETS WERE IN THE ROOM. ALSO A CRUISE HONEymoon WERE ON ONE OF THE COATS. PLEASE CALL 455-1230 TO RETURN OR RECLAIM.

I LOST SOMETHING AT BRADSTREET'S TUESDAY NIGHT (5/9) I left my wallet. It was a very small wallet. On the outside was a jean-Jacket that is definitely not mine. Picked it up please and return to campus Looters. Please call Steve Wagner at 287-7406.

HELP! I NEED A RIDE TO N.J. FOR SPRING BREAK! Can leave anytime Friday. Will share expenses. Gail Mary at 287-6389.

HELP! SPRING BREAK TRAVEL PLANS CHANGED, NEED TO SELL URGENTLY. CALL 232-9835 OR 283-7620.

LOST: AIRLINE TICKETS ON EAST ANAHEIM-LA CANADA.

LOST: EEL-SKIN WALLET! Probably lost on Sunday. They're inside back. They're dependable, hardworking individuals for full shift. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks detail-oriented, hardworking individuals for full shift. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks dependable, hardworking individuals for full time. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks dependable, hardworking individuals for full shift. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks dependable, hardworking individuals for full shift. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks dependable, hardworking individuals for full shift. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks dependable, hardworking individuals for full shift. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks dependable, hardworking individuals for full shift. Must be able to communicate. National Lawn Care Company seeks

RENT OR SUMMER SUBLET CALL BILL 232-7416

FOR NEXT SCHOOL YEAR 287-6389

HELP! I NEED A RIDE TO MARYLAND FOR SPRING BREAK...c'mon, be a nice human!!

FREE: 14985 - 15th Ave. South-

FOR RENT

FURNISHED HOMES CLOSE TO NO FOR RENT. OWN - TWO BEDROOMS, OWN - TWO BEDROOMS.

FOR RENT

FURNISHED HOUSE FOR NEXT SCHOOL YEAR 287-6389

FOR RENT

FURNISHED ROOMS IN CHICAGO SUBLET RENT OR SUBLET RENT OR SUMMER SUBLET RENT OR SUMMER SUBLET RENT OR SUMMER SUBLET RENT OR SUMMER SUBLET

THURSDAY, MARCH 5, 1987 - page 10

The Observer
Baseball team prepares for opener

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Sports Writer

Notre Dame and Indiana may play in the same state, but when the two baseball teams meet this weekend at Bloomington in Notre Dame's season opener, it will be evident how different the teams actually are.

Indiana is counting on strong performances from returning starters and veteran pitchers to make a run at the Big Ten title. Notre Dame, on the other hand, is hoping its underclassmen can help the Irish rebound from last year's disappointing 22-29 campaign.

"Our talent relies on our underclassmen. Our only senior position players are John Loughran, Scott Rogers, and John Gleason," said Head Coach Larry Gallo.

Nowhere will youth be more important than in the pitching staff. The Notre Dame staff appears to have the potential to better last year's disastrous season 6.25 team earned run average. Still, the Irish will have to answer a few questions about the staff to have a strong season.

"Can junior Kevin Chenail return to his freshman form (4-1, 3.29 ERA) after being sidelined last year with a shoulder problem? Can underclassmen Brian Pietrowicz, Mike Passilla, and Mike Coffey be able to pitch like they did last fall (one earned run in over 20 innings pitched)?"

Will Gleason lead what now appears to be an uncertain bullpen situation to be consistent? "Our best pitching relies on our freshmen and sophomore class," said Gallo. "I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"We lack a tremendous amount of experience in innings pitched, but with the staff we have, the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"We'll alternate at first base. Tim Hutson and Dan Peltier will start or relieve," said Gallo.

"At the infield positions, we lack a tremendous amount of experience in innings pitched, but with the staff we have, the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Our best pitching relies on our underclassmen, and he'll probably spend the most time at center field.

"The Irish are not likely to find many easy wins on a schedule that includes Tulane and Baylor. Indiana on a schedule that includes Tulane and Baylor. Indiana

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.

"The Irish are also loaded with depth. John Flanagan will provide help in the outfield, Greg Andrews can play catcher and outfield, and Ed Lund should hold down the majority will be done by sophomores and freshmen. I feel as though we have a good hitting team, if our pitching comes through.

"Likely starters are coming off seasons where they batted over .300: "We batted .315 or .320 as a team last year. Almost everybody in the lineup has the ability to hit the ball out. Everybody can drive the ball hard," said Gallo.

"We can't go by the way we did last season, though all indications show we're a good hitting team.
Sorin defeats Stanford for IH title; Otters win for 3rd time in 4 years

By CHRIS PAULISON
Sports Writer

Sorin Hall was crowned champion of Men's "A" League Interhall basketball on Sunday night after defeating Stanford Hall, 65-56, last night in the ACC Pit. This victory marked the third time in the last four years the Otters have brought home the title to Sorin.

In winning the championship, Sorin faced the difficult challenge of having to sweep two games in successive nights from Stanford in the double-elimination tournament.

The Otters utilized the momentum they gained in their Tuesday night's win against the Stanford men's basketball team to get their third victory in the last 15 games. The crowd went wild for the Otters after their 119-112 win over Stanford in this title to Sorin. This victory marked the third champion of Men's "A" League Interhall basketball championship as the crowd went wild.

Sean Cullinan, the game's momentum they gained in their Tuesday night's win, commented on how Tuesday night's win effected his team's play last night.

"We gained a great deal of confidence with that first win," said Cullinan. "They're a great team with guys who've been playing together for three years. We came out of the gate strong and were able to build a big early lead. Luckily they just couldn't come all the way back."

Sorin substitute Dan Reynolds contributed 8 points in the second quarter, helping the Otters jump out to a 34-19 halftime lead. But Stanford, behind the hot shooting of swingman Bill Sullivan, came fighting back outscoring the Otters 13-5 in the third quarter. Sullivan, who led Stanford in scoring with 12 points, and Stud's team captain Al Martin continued this surge, closing the gap to one point with two minutes left in the game.

But Sorin regained their composure, and controlled the final two minutes of play. Otter forwards Mark Trautmann and Steve Soepken combined on ten of the game's last 15 points, sealing the victory for Sorin.

"Our play of the bench was the key," said Sorin captain Mike Scotty. "We were able to use nine players, while they stuck with six guys. They made quite a surge in the second half, but they seemed to run out of gas at the end."

In "B" League action, Off-Campus defeated Dillon Hall last night, 44-39, forcing a final game to decide its divisional championship. This final game for the B League is slated for Sunday night at 7 p.m. in the ACC Pit.

The Independent student newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary's is accepting applications for the following position:

Assistant Advertising Design Manager

Please leave a letter of application at the office by Monday, March 9, 1987 at 5 p.m.

Questions should be directed to Michael Whitten

ATTENTION STUDENTS

Shakey's Special Delivery Introductory Offer

Medium Homestyle Pan Pizza
1 Topping
$7.75

or

Large Homestyle Pan Pizza
1 Topping
$9.75

Deliveries: 6-10:30 Sun.-Thurs.
11:00-2:00 Fri.-Sat.
277-2910

Shakey's Pizza Parlor
Hearty portion, extra cheese

Free Poster
11" x 17"

Can you share a week with the rural poor in Appalachia? The challenges are many, but the rewards are few!

Volunteering to work with children, elderly and handicapped can be a memorable experience.

Send free "God Made Me" poster C2 or, send free poster along with one-week Summer Program brochures for ink: C2. Free, ink: C3 with, in Appalachian C2. "God Made Me" poster. Jack Henn, Glenmary Home Missionaries, P.O. Box 465618, Cincinnati, OH 45246-5618.

Name
Age
Address
City State Zip
Telephone

CORKTOWNE LIQUORS, INC.
1841 SOUTH BEND AVE.
Studebaker Rd. 25" wide and Mary's Supermarket 277-5805

Busch case, 16.59

Busch draft case, $24.98

Case of Miller Genuine Draft (bottles) . . . $8.99

Case of Schroeder's GoldenGifts. . . . 11.99

1.75 liters Chich-Chi's Margarita premix. . . . 7.39

1.75 liters Kamchatka Vodka . . . 9.99

God made me god doesn't make un

god made me

god doesn't make un Canes
continued from page 16
game, but also leads the team in steals with 44. Most importantly, Presto is Miami’s three-point specialist. Presto shoots a stunning 406 (67-of-160) behind the 19-foot line, which cuts strips the combined total for the Irish (134-of-454, 300).

Presto also leads Miami in free-throw percentage, burning the twine at a .905 clip.

Losses to common opponents
notice that the fledgling pro-
Dayton (92-78) have served
North Carolina (122-77), Duke (74-67), Kansas (82-47), and points every game.

Lacks is on defense. Miami al-for the Irish), where the Canes wind up in Horford’s hands.

The Hurricanes hope that the forage (the Hurricanes average 75.9 points per contest,
Horford roaming the boards,
point range, along with an occasional toss by Brown. With Horford roaming the boards,
the Hurricanes hope that the bombs that don’t fall in the net
wind up in Horford’s hands.

For all of this free-wheeling offense (the Hurricanes average 75.9 points per contest, somewhat higher than the 64.7 for the Irish), where the Canes lack is on defense. Miami al-loses its opponents to score 76.1 every game.

Losses to common opponents
North Carolina (122-77), Duke
(74-67), Kansas (82-47), and Dayton (92-78) have served
notice that the fledgling program still has a long way to go.

Tito Horford, shown here in a preseason warmup drill, will lead the Miami Hurricane basketball team into the ACC tonight in the final home game of the season.

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Sports Writer

Having compiled a 5-5 record so far this season despite the injuries of three key players, the men’s tennis team will hope to keep overcoming the injury obstacles this weekend at Madison, Wisconsin.

Notre Dame will face the University of Wisconsin at noon on Saturday, then will play Gustavus Adolphus on Sunday at 10 a.m.

Wisconsin’s in the middle of the pack in the Big Ten, and we’ve been having trouble with Big Ten teams recently, so we’re looking for a tough match,” said Head Coach Tom Fallon.

“We haven’t played Gus-avus Adolphus in a couple of years, but they usually have a good team. They’re a Division II school but pretty strong.”

The Irish have had to go without the services of starters Brian Kalbas, Paul Daggs, and Tony Cahill at some point in the season because of injuries. Cahill is still out, but Kalbas and Daggs have now returned to the lineup.

Fallon has credited the play of three individuals who have stayed healthy throughout the season - Tim Carr, Dan Walsh, and Mike Wallace - for keeping Notre Dame competitive during the injury plagued season.

“Carr, our top seed, has played well. Dan Walsh has been alternating between the fifth and sixth seed has had a pretty good year. He beat his opponents from both Ohio and Ohio State last weekend, and he’s playing well right now,” said Fallon.

Mike Wallace, the freshman, lost his match at Ohio State, but that’s the first match he’s lost this season.”

In this weekend’s matches, Carr will be the top seeded player, followed by Dave Reiter, Kalbas, Wallace, Walsh, and Daggs. The doubles teams will be Carr and Reiter, Daggs and Walsh, and Wallace and Sean O’Brien.

“If everyone’s at full strength, we’re hoping to give them some good matches,” said Fallon.

“Even with us not having Cahill in the lineup, we may not win both matches, but we’ll give them better matches than they think.”

Tennis team hopes to rebound from injuries

SAB business: Adworks, Irish Gardens, The Cellar

Sobering Advice can save a life
Think Before You Drink
Before You Drive

Happy 21st Little Agnes
The car is yours.
Details later
Remember K.Y.K.T.
Love from your beloved parents

Want to Make a Difference in Campus Life?
Apply to be a Commissioner!!

* Business Auditor: maintains the books and keeps the financial statements of the various SAB business: Adworks, Irish Gardens, The Cellar

* Publicity: “Get the word out” Are you creative, organized? This position could be for you!

Pick up applications 2nd floor Lafortune
New ACHA becomes a positive step in rebirth of hockey

By MIKE CHMIEL
Sports Writer

The Kent State Golden Flashes will face off against the Michigan-Dearborn Wolves in the American Collegiate Hockey Association’s first ever playoff game this Saturday in the ACHA Fieldhouse.

The independent newspaper serving Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s is now accepting applications for the following positions:

Day Chief

Questions should be directed to Kim Yuratovac at the Observer office (239-5313). Resume and personal statement are due by Monday, March 9 at 7 p.m.

Are You Dedicated, Enthusiastic and Creative?
Deadline Extended For Student Activities Board Commissioners

Pick up your application from the Secretary on the 2nd floor of LaFontaine. Application due March 6.

Looking for: Other school's will look at us to see if we stay together.”

“An excellent idea,” Smith said. “Unfortunately, a four-team league is not as nice as having a six- or an eight-team league, but everything has to start at some point. We do envision the fact that within the next two or three years, this league will grow to six or eight teams. Then of course, it will be that much more bona fide.”

Fritz also shares a desire to increase the membership in the ACHA. Fritz explained that the league’s format is well-designed, but more teams would make it “more viable.”

According to Smith, the ACHA will also have to attend to other housekeeping details such as officiating and statistics. Smith hopes to find more qualified and experienced officials for the league and hopes to have statistics published on a weekly basis in an effort to help the coaches and promote the league.

“We have survived the first year - we’ve survived it without a lot of serious problems,” Smith noted. “We’ve had close-ness of competition, and if you look outside the scope of our area, our teams have done quite well against outside competition. We’ve certainly answered a lot of questions that outsiders had.”
SAB presents:

STEVE MARMEL
Friday, 8:30 Theodore’s FREE!
Opening Act: Michael Todd from Minneapolis

He’ll be doing a benefit show at The Comedy Store in L.A. in May. He is going to be cutting an album: “If I Wanted Your Opinion, I’d Ram it Down Your Throat.”
Bouts were fought last night at Stepan Center.

The semifinal round of the 57th annual Bengal Bouts were fought last night at Stepan Center. Mike Szymanski highlights the action at left, and a list of results appears on page 14.

Irish set for emotional battle with Horford, Miami

By TERRY LYNCH
Sports Writer

There's something about these two schools that just doesn't mesh. Maybe it's the weather. Maybe it's the history of cheapshot-filled football wars. Maybe it's Jimmy Johnson's hairpray.

Whatever the source of hatred between Notre Dame and Miami, there's probably going to be a lot of emotion on the court at the ACC for a visiting basketball team with a 14-15 record.

In their inaugural 14-14 season last year, the Miami Hurricanes faced a powerful Notre Dame team and ended up being crushed, 123-77. Playing with mostly freshmen and walk-ons, Miami head coach Bill Foster could only sit and watch while the Irish seniors and David Rivers got to the 100-point mark with 9:45 to play.

Undaunted, the Hurricane faithful continued to ridicule the Irish throughout the game. Their size usually is hatred.

"For us, it's the last game for Hicks and Royal," said Head Coach Digger Phelps. "It's a chance for them to say goodbye to the people who've been a big part of their lives for four years.

"It's also the last year for our student body seniors. We should play with a lot of intensity and it should be an emotional game."

For Miami, the big story all year has been their 7-1, 245-114-5 record, an improvement over past years. In addition, the team ended its season on a positive note, placing fourth at the Grand Rapids Invitational, where Saint Mary's totaled over 200 points.

Saint Mary's averaged 14.7 points per game while dominating the Hurricane rebounding totals, averaging 10 per game. While Horford has been plagued all year with charges of inconsistency, Phelps sees a lot of potential in the Miami center.

"Tito Horford could be the next Patrick Ewing in college basketball," said Phelps. "They've played a little over 500 since he's started.

"Tito has had a big impact on their post scoring, whether it be the hook shot or the baseline jumper. Their size causes real problems."

The scoring leader for the Hurricanes, however, is not Horford. Sophomore forward Eric Brown holds that distinction, averaging 16.2 points per game. Brown, a 6-6 sophomore from Brooklyn, was voted the team's MVP last season. Brown also added 6.4 rebounds per game from the free throw line, and will be a factor on defense wherever he goes.

Perhaps the most dangerous Hurricane is sophomore Kevin Presto. The 5-11 guard scores 11 points per game.

SMC swimmers head for NAIA meet in Milwaukee

By MIKE SZYMANSKI
Sports Writer

If positive mental attitude has anything to do with success, the Saint Mary's varsity swim team stands a good chance of a strong showing at the NAIA Nationals, which will take place on Friday and Saturday at the Walter Schroeder Aquatics Center in Milwaukee.

Ten members of the team qualified for the competition by meeting certain time standards during the regular season. The swimmers will represent Saint Mary's in seven events.

Senior Margaret Mannon, juniors Meghan Rafferty and Jennifer Veselik, and freshman Erin Halloran will swim in 400-yard medley, while the team of Juckniess, Rafferty, Tierney and senior Mary Fisher will swim the 200-yard freestyle relay, the Belles' most promising event.

"Our 200 free relay has a really good time," said Head Coach Nancy Ju Kuzmitz. "They qualified at 1:49.83, and there is a good possibility that they could make it into the top 12." Fisher, the Belles' team captain, is equally hopeful for success in this relay.

"This year our qualifying time in the 200 free relay was even lower than it was at nationals last year, so I think we have a really strong chance of getting to the finals in this event," she said.

Three Saint Mary's swimmers have qualified for individual events. Mannon and Tierney made the optimal time in the 100-yard breaststroke, completing the event in 1:16.96 and 1:17.11, respectively. RAFYFFER qualified for the optional time in the 100-yard backstroke, which she swam in 1:08.08.

The swimmers are quite prepared for the event, according to Kuzmitz, who is eager to attend the competition.

"We're ready for this big meet," she said.

"We've been working on meeting the cut-off times for nationals all season, so I think we're well prepared for it." Mannon, who is the Belles' positive attitude stems from their 5-4 season record, an improvement over past years. In addition, the team ended its season on a positive note, placing fourth at the Grand Rapids Invitational, where Saint Mary's totaled over 200 points.

"We posted our best times at that meet," Kuzmitz said. "Ending our season like that was a real plus for us."

Fisher noted that some changes in the team's season schedule helped the team to improve as a group.

"This year we swam teams that were more in our league, more at our level," she said. "We swam more Tri-Meet events, which gave us much competition. Our times went up and we benefited a lot from that."

While the Belles' first aim is to reach the finals in more events at Nationals, their optimistic attitude could result in their achieving an even greater end, receiving All-American or Academic All-American honors.

Taylor wins Backfield Battle in split decision vs. Johnson

By MIKE SZYMANSKI
Sports Writer

The semifinals of the 57th Notre Dame Bengal Bouts last night produced exciting, though technically not completely sound, boxing as aggressive Notre Dame students fought to have the last word on each other all for the Bangladesh missions.

The most anticipated bout, the Battle of the Backfield, between Super Heavyweights Pernell "Big Train" Taylor and Anthony "The Deralier" Johnson ended in split decision for Taylor. Johnson, a southpaw who had all of two days to train, impressed with Taylor with his quick right.

"He doesn't throw his right that much," said Taylor, "but he throws it with power. He tagged me with it a few times, and I was hesitant because he was a southpaw, and it was hard to get a jab in when not matched with the punches." Johnson's reaction to the fight was concise. "I enjoyed it, but I don't want to do it again. Both fighters missed with punches early, dancing around in position. Taylor did knock Johnson down with a hard left.

Taylor blocked off Johnson's quick right more, but "The Deralier" jolted Taylor with a right jab with a hard left.

Taylor finished his victory of Taylor, with a great right combination while Johnson was on the ropes. Johnson will face Dan "The Man" Quinn in the finals. "I think Taylor, and the best man will win." The Heavyweight semifinal between Neil "Mad Dog" MacDonald and "Hookin' Bob" Merkle turned out to be the brawl that set off the crowd to frenzy. Both fighters, who were true "heavy" weights, fought vigorously and at times seemed to be a bit out of shape.

MacDonald came out swinging, knocking the headgear off of Merkle. Then Merkle turned the tables by changing headgear and executed a nice right hook to the canvas as the first round ended. The two fighters bumped, oscillator continuously in the second until Merkle forced MacDonald to a standing eight count.

MacDonald battled back hard to put Merkle into the standing eight in the third. Merkle drove MacDonald to the floor with a straight right and the fight was over. Merkle won on a TKO in the third.