Defense experts called to develop verification system plan

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The United States, moving to complete a Washington, D.C.-based arms talks.

The five countries invited to the talks are those providing sites for the U.S. intermediate-range missiles that would be dismantled under the proposed treaty.

Department spokesman Charles E. Redman said the participants discussed "verification provisions of an intermediate nuclear force draft treaty. These verification provisions obviously have a direct interest to the basing countries."

"The importance of verification we envision future meetings similar to today's, as needed," Redman said.

He said the United States was running for vice president. H. Allen Holmes, director of the State Department's bureau of politics, military affairs. The European delegations were identified as officials with expertise in missile deployment and other technical problems. Their names were not given.

President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev agreed in principle at their Reykjavik, Iceland, summit last October to eliminate all but 100 U.S. Pershing 2s, cruise, and Soviet SS-20s. The remaining Soviet missiles would be deployed only in the Asian part of the country and the U.S. weapons would be brought home from Europe.

Gorbachev revived Soviet acceptance of the plan earlier this month and the United States submitted most of a draft treaty for discussion at arms talks in Geneva. The introduction of the draft were omitted, to give the Reagan administration more time to study the toughness of the measures.

Among the provisions reportedly under consideration are stringent on-site inspections that would allow each side to be certain that the opposing side had not been dismantled and to allay suspicions that the missiles have been reprogrammed.

Harvard president named 87 speaker

By MARK PANKOWSKI News Editor

Harvard University President Derek Bok will be Notre Dame's 1987 commencement speaker.

"He is considered the No. 1 educator by most people's judgment," said University President Father Theodore Hesburgh, who described Bok as "first and only" choice to give the May 17 address.

Director of Public Relations and Information Richard Conklin made the announcement Monday.

Bok, a fellow of the American Academy of Arts and Sciences, has been Harvard's president since 1971.

Although he agreed to speak at commencement, Bok declined the honorary degree customarily given to the graduation speaker, Conklin said.

"It is (Bok's) personal policy not to accept degrees," said Conklin. "But he said he would come as the commencement speaker."

The commencement exercises will be the last presided over by Hesburgh, who is retiring after 35 years as president. Almost 2,500 students are candidates for degrees at the graduation ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the ACC arena.

During its winter meeting, the Board of Trustees' executive committee approved Hesburgh's choice of Bok, Conklin said.

"They were very enthusiastic about him," said Hesburgh. Bok's acceptance of Notre Dame's invitation is a good sign for the University, as he rarely gives commencement addresses, Conklin said.

"(Bok) is president of what is considered the leading secular university," Conklin added. "I think his coming is a tribute to Father Hesburgh's work at Notre Dame."

Bok is one of several leaders being invited to the commencement:

Speaker: "The commencement exercises will be the last presided over by Father Hesburgh, who is retiring after 35 years as president. Almost 2,500 students are candidates for degrees at the graduation ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the ACC arena."

During its winter meeting, the Board of Trustees' executive committee approved Father Hesburgh's choice of Bok, Conklin said.

"They were very enthusiastic about him," said Hesburgh. Bok's acceptance of Notre Dame's invitation is a good sign for the University, as he rarely gives commencement addresses, Conklin said.

"(Bok) is president of what is considered the leading secular university," Conklin added. "I think his coming is a tribute to Father Hesburgh's work at Notre Dame."

Bok is one of several leaders being invited to the commencement:

Speaker: "The commencement exercises will be the last presided over by Father Hesburgh, who is retiring after 35 years as president. Almost 2,500 students are candidates for degrees at the graduation ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the ACC arena."

During its winter meeting, the Board of Trustees' executive committee approved Father Hesburgh's choice of Bok, Conklin said.

"They were very enthusiastic about him," said Hesburgh. Bok's acceptance of Notre Dame's invitation is a good sign for the University, as he rarely gives commencement addresses, Conklin said.

"(Bok) is president of what is considered the leading secular university," Conklin added. "I think his coming is a tribute to Father Hesburgh's work at Notre Dame."

Bok is one of several leaders being invited to the commencement:

Speaker: "The commencement exercises will be the last presided over by Father Hesburgh, who is retiring after 35 years as president. Almost 2,500 students are candidates for degrees at the graduation ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the ACC arena."

During its winter meeting, the Board of Trustees' executive committee approved Father Hesburgh's choice of Bok, Conklin said.

"They were very enthusiastic about him," said Hesburgh. Bok's acceptance of Notre Dame's invitation is a good sign for the University, as he rarely gives commencement addresses, Conklin said.

"(Bok) is president of what is considered the leading secular university," Conklin added. "I think his coming is a tribute to Father Hesburgh's work at Notre Dame."

Bok is one of several leaders being invited to the commencement:

Speaker: "The commencement exercises will be the last presided over by Father Hesburgh, who is retiring after 35 years as president. Almost 2,500 students are candidates for degrees at the graduation ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the ACC arena."

During its winter meeting, the Board of Trustees' executive committee approved Father Hesburgh's choice of Bok, Conklin said.

"They were very enthusiastic about him," said Hesburgh. Bok's acceptance of Notre Dame's invitation is a good sign for the University, as he rarely gives commencement addresses, Conklin said.

"(Bok) is president of what is considered the leading secular university," Conklin added. "I think his coming is a tribute to Father Hesburgh's work at Notre Dame."

Bok is one of several leaders being invited to the commencement:

Speaker: "The commencement exercises will be the last presided over by Father Hesburgh, who is retiring after 35 years as president. Almost 2,500 students are candidates for degrees at the graduation ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the ACC arena."

During its winter meeting, the Board of Trustees' executive committee approved Father Hesburgh's choice of Bok, Conklin said.

"They were very enthusiastic about him," said Hesburgh. Bok's acceptance of Notre Dame's invitation is a good sign for the University, as he rarely gives commencement addresses, Conklin said.

"(Bok) is president of what is considered the leading secular university," Conklin added. "I think his coming is a tribute to Father Hesburgh's work at Notre Dame."

Bok is one of several leaders being invited to the commencement:

Speaker: "The commencement exercises will be the last presided over by Father Hesburgh, who is retiring after 35 years as president. Almost 2,500 students are candidates for degrees at the graduation ceremonies, which will begin at 2 p.m. in the ACC arena."

During its winter meeting, the Board of Trustees' executive committee approved Father Hesburgh's choice of Bok, Conklin said.

"They were very enthusiastic about him," said Hesburgh. Bok's acceptance of Notre Dame's invitation is a good sign for the University, as he rarely gives commencement addresses, Conklin said.

"(Bok) is president of what is considered the leading secular university," Conklin added. "I think his coming is a tribute to Father Hesburgh's work at Notre Dame."

Bok is one of several leaders being invited to the commencement:
In Brief

Jane Pauley, co-host of NBC's "Today" show, says working with Bryant Gumbel is liberating because she thinks of him as a peer and not a teacher as she did with Tom Brokaw. Pauley, in an interview in the April edition of McCall's magazine, said she considered Brokaw her personal graduate school of broadcasting. "He took pretty good care of me, not in a patronizing way. I was 10 years younger than he was and light years less experienced," Pauley said. - Associated Press

NASA scientists Monday dedicated what they called the world's most advanced computer system, saying it marks the start of a new era in aviation design and shows the space agency "is back on track." The system's importance to flight design rivals the advent of wind tunnels and the first flight by the Wright Brothers, said Victor Peterson, director of aerodynamics at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Ames Research Center. - Associated Press

The president's daughter called for the court-martial of North and former National Security Adviser John Pinto- denter. Maureen Reagan said at the White House on Mon- day that her father was very angry when he saw the Tower Commission report, which she said showed that aides had deceived him. She added, "a member of the United States military who lies to their commander-in-chief is guilty of treason and should be court-marshaled. By omission or commission, this did not hold the president what they were doing. And that's a lie." - Associated Press

Of Interest

"Don't Know What You Want To Do?" is the title of a presentation to be given by Joan McIntosh of the Career and Placement Services office, today at 4 p.m. in the Career and Placement Services Conference Room. - The Observer

"Mother Love and Child Death: A critical perspective on child survival in the Third World" will be presented by Nancy Scheper-Hughes of the department of anthro- pology, University of California at Berkeley, tonight at 7:30 in Room 203 of Galvin Life Science Center. - The Observer

Dr. William Mile ski will speak on the transitions from Notre Dame to medical school to residency tonight from Notre Dame to medical school to residency tonight. The lecture is sponsored by the Notre Dame Pre-Professional Society. The Observer

The Last Lecture Series continues tonight at 7 with "Hauntings" by Professor Penny Jameson, Saint Mary's department of psychology, at the Haggar Conference Center parlor. - The Observer

Weather

Pack up your jams for Spring Break because it will be sunny and cold today. High in the upper 20s to about 30. Clear and cold tonight. Low in the mid and upper teens. Becoming partly cloudy Wednesday. High in the low 30s. - AP

This Arkansan explains origin of 'Southern paranoia'

If anything, the magazine demonstrates that the South sure thinks a lot about itself. The South is a region with a historic inferiority complex that continues today — something Southerners can't escape even when they're aware of it — which contributes in a large part to what my roommate once called my 'Southern paranoia.'

A person afflicted by Southern paranoia is immediately sensitive to any derogatory remarks about the region. Or he may go overboard on the Southern thing. I've even met Southern paranoid who've 'eaten' in North and claim they'll never go back to their origins, yet somehow they hang on to Southern accents thicker than how they used to speak.

When I was nine I remember reading Charles Portis' novel True Grit, which was set in Arkansas, and underlining all the references he made to my state. On a car trip to Florida the summer I was eight I wrote a song about Arkansas because we were leaving it for other states. When my family would go skiing in Colorado with other Arkansans we kids would call the Hogs on the slopes — that means we would yell out "Whoa, pig, soon!" the cheer for the Razorbacks — because we were proud of our home and sensed somehow we had to defend that pride in other parts of the country.

Freshman year a friend of mine from Mich- igan heard I was from Little Rock. "You're having some bad racial problems down there, aren't you? I read about that high school in my history book." She shook her head disapprovingly. "When are they going to let blacks into your schools?" She was speaking of Central High, which made international news in 1957 when Governor Orval Faubus called out the National Guard to prevent integration. But ignorant comments like that perpetuate Southern paranoia. What about Jones Beach, New York? That's a much more recent and equally repugnant example of racism. But here was this student from Michigan who had attended a practically all-white Catholic high school reproaching me, who was a minority in my public high school that was 58 percent black, about integration.

In Arkansas we have a saying: "Thank God for Mississippi." And we only mean it half fasci- ciously. Without the state of Mississippi, our neighbor to the east, Arkansas would be dead last in every demographic category worth bragging about and dead first in every category worth laughing about — laughing, that is, if it's not your state that has to worry about the prob¬ lem. We are usually only first in things like killer tornadoes. On paper, the state cuts a tragi¬ comic figure. But the rest of the country sees only the woeful statistics; it doesn't see the state's beautiful lakes and mountains and the rich delta farmland where the blues were born. The rest of the country laughs where Arkansas and all Southerners — have immense pride, and therefore we become paranoid.

This about this next time you make fun of someone's Southern accent.

STUDY IN EUROPE

The University of Louvain (est. 1425), Louvain, Belgium offersComplete programmes in Philosophy for the degrees of B.A., M.A., and Ph.D plus a junior year abroad programme
All courses are In English
Tuition Is 14,500 Belgium Francs (a $250)
Write to: Secretary English Programmes
Kardinaal Mercierplein 2, B-3000 Louvain, Belgium

K.U. Leuven

WSND-FM is now accepting applications for Nocturne Nightflight announcers. Radio experience is not required, just the ability and interest to build a good program. A personal album collection is helpful, too.

Interested users should read the notice posted in the WSND-FM lobby (Notre Dame) or the notice posted on the door of room 388, LeMans Hall (SMC) before applying. Deadline is Tuesday, March 22 for all applications. Call 239-7342 or 283-2055 for information.
Judicial Council discusses plans for improving hall judicial boards

By ROB HENNIG
Senior Staff Reporter

New approaches to using the judicial boards more effectively in each dormitory were discussed at Monday night's Judicial Council meeting.

According to Judicial Coordinator Maria Cintron, some judicial boards were not active this year. The purpose of the meeting was to share information with hall rectors as well as judicial board chairmen.

Approximately five rectors attended the meeting.

Father Gerald Lardner, rector of Grace Hall, spoke about the role the Grace board plays in hall discipline.

Lardner said he handles any alcohol violations. "Anything else, I send to the J-board," said Lardner.

Lardner said he lets the students set the standards for hall life because "the primary offense is an offense against residents."

Lardner added that he violates du Lac by not allowing students to be punished by him. "I simply do not let them come to me," he said.

Lardner said once the board has chosen a penalty, he will not challenge it. "I will not overrule a decision," he said.

Grace Judicial Board Chairman Chris Simms said the board emphasizes punishments involving an offender's time.

"We don't deal in monetary fines because there are a lot of students here that monetary fines won't touch," Simms said.

According to Brendan Judge, Keenan board co-chairman, the Keenan judicial board does not just function as a disciplinary agent.

"We also see the J-board functioning in terms of counseling," Judge said.

Senior Staff Reporter

Judicial Council discusses plans for improving hall judicial boards

By ROB HENNIG
Senior Staff Reporter

New approaches to using the judicial boards more effectively in each dormitory were discussed at Monday night's Judicial Council meeting.

According to Judicial Coordinator Maria Cintron, some judicial boards were not active this year. The purpose of the meeting was to share information with hall rectors as well as judicial board chairmen. Approximately five rectors attended the meeting.

Father Gerald Lardner, rector of Grace Hall, spoke about the role the Grace board plays in hall discipline.

Lardner said he handles any alcohol violations. "Anything else, I send to the J-board," said Lardner.

Lardner said he lets the students set the standards for hall life because "the primary offense is an offense against residents."

Lardner added that he violates du Lac by not allowing students to be punished by him. "I simply do not let them come to me," he said.

Lardner said once the board has chosen a penalty, he will not challenge it. "I will not overrule a decision," he said.

Grace Judicial Board Chairman Chris Simms said the board emphasizes punishments involving an offender's time.

"We don't deal in monetary fines because there are a lot of students here that monetary fines won't touch," Simms said.

According to Brendan Judge, Keenan board co-chairman, the Keenan judicial board does not just function as a disciplinary agent.

"We also see the J-board functioning in terms of counseling," Judge said.

Senior Staff Reporter

Holy Moses

The Observer/Jennifer O'Donnell

The gods may be crazy, but so is spending the whole day in the library. Jane Ricciardi and friend take a break from midterm cramming before cracking the books again.

He remembers a lot about Notre Dame's greats-they were his classmates and colleagues.

EDWARD FISCHER

NOTRE DAME REMEMBERED

AN AUTOBIOGRAPHY

"Well-written and big-hearted, this book will be great for Notre Damers...a touching portrait of Americana and one of America's legendary universities."

Kirkus Reviews

Take it with you to the beach over Spring Break, or take it home to your parents.

$12.95 Hammes Bookstore, 2nd floor

Women riot when male strip show is cancelled

Associated Press

MONROEVILLE, Pa. - About 600 women who paid $10 each to watch a male strip show turned into an angry mob when the performance was canceled, officials say.

"They just went ape," said Public Safety Director John Danzilli.

Women hurled bottles from the bar, and one woman was injured when she fell trying to hit a doorman at the Ritz nightclub, at the Monroeville Howard Johnson's, Danzilli said.

He estimated damage in the Saturday night melee at $500 in broken glass and chairs.

According to Danzilli, the promoter of the Manpower Revue canceled the strip show after club operator Al Monzo refused to pay him in cash.

The promoter "told him there was going to be a riot. He went on stage and told those women the show was canceled," Danzilli said. "He said 'If you want your money back, you can sue Al Monzo. That's what we're going to do.'"

State troopers and police from five departments were called in to restore order.

SUMMER STORAGE
MASTER-MINI
WAREHOUSE
CALL 683-1959
2 teens charged with fatally stabbing priests
Associated Press

BUFFALO, N.Y. - Two teenagers have been charged in the stabbing deaths of two inner-city Roman Catholic priests who were slain 12 days and less than a mile apart. One of the young men confessed, police said Monday.

The deaths had prompted warnings that priests should not let strangers into their homes.

Investigators arrested Milton E. Jones, 17, in Buffalo late Sunday, Police Commissioner Ralph V. Degenhart said at a news conference.

The second defendant, Theodore Simmons, 18, also of Buffalo, was picked up early Monday in California by San Diego police after information was obtained from his whereabouts.

Homicide Chief Richard T. Donovan said robbery was the motive in the slayings of the St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church Sunday priest to be slain in Buffalo in the last 12 days, as they investigate the fatal stabbing of Mon.

Priest slain
Buffalo police detectives enter the rectory of St. Matthew's Roman Catholic Church Sunday as they investigate the fatal stabbing of Monsignor David Herlihy. Herlihy is the second priest to be slain in Buffalo in the last 12 days.

Buddhists to enthrone 2-year-old
Associated Press

KAPAN, Nepal - Tibetan Buddhist lamas are seeking an auspicious date to enthrone a 2-year-old Spanish boy they believe is the reincarnation of the leader of a major monastery.

The Buddhist parents of Ozel Iza Torres brought him to India last month and are planning to take him to the Kapan monastery, where he is to take the seat of the late high lama Thubten Yeshe.

But disciples in the monastery 10 miles northeast of Kathmandu said they didn't know when the ceremony will take place here or in Dharamsala.

Dharamsala, in northern India, is the home of the Dalai Lama, the leader of Tibetan Buddhism.

Torres said the Dalai Lama has confirmed that Ozel, born near Granada, Spain, on Feb. 12, 1985, is the reincarnation of Yeshe.

Yeshe visited Spain several times as he traveled around the world to open Buddhist teaching centers. He died in San East Side.

But disciples in the monastery 10 miles northeast of Kathmandu said they didn't know when the ceremony will take place here or in Dharamsala.

Before leaving Spain, Torres told the Madrid newspaper Diario 18 she did not know if her son would ever return to Spain. She said her biggest problem with him is having "a son and a master at the same time."

Attention Juniors
Due to the overwhelming number of requests for Junior Parents' Weekend 1987 MUGS, the JPW Committee will be commissioning another order! Orders must be placed at the time of order, by Friday, March 13. The mugs will only be $3.25 each. Place your name, address number of mugs and payment in an envelope and place under the JPW office door on the 2nd floor of LaFortune, or drop off in 718 P.E.

Surprise your parents with a set of mugs!

Questions? Call Maureen at 283-4455.

ND AVE APTS.
Early Bird Special

Now renting for Fall
2 Bedrooms completely furnished
Sign up before break and receive a 10% discount
Call 294-6647
Protected by Pinkerton Security Agency

12, 1985, is the reincarnation of Yeshe.

Yeshe visited Spain several times as he traveled around the world to open Buddhist teaching centers. He died in San East Side.

But disciples in the monastery 10 miles northeast of Kathmandu said they didn't know whether the ceremony will take place here or in Dharamsala.

Before leaving Spain, Torres told the Madrid newspaper Diario 18 she did not know if her son would ever return to Spain. She said her biggest problem with him is having "a son and a master at the same time."

Attention Juniors
Due to the overwhelming number of requests for Junior Parents' Weekend 1987 MUGS, the JPW Committee will be commissioning another order! Orders must be placed, with payment at time of order, by Friday, March 13. The mugs will only be $3.25 each. Place your name, address number of mugs and payment in an envelope and place under the JPW office door on the 2nd floor of LaFortune, or drop off in 718 P.E.

Surprise your parents with a set of mugs!

Questions? Call Maureen at 283-4455.

ND AVE APTS.
Early Bird Special

Now renting for Fall
2 Bedrooms completely furnished
Sign up before break and receive a 10% discount
Call 294-6647
Protected by Pinkerton Security Agency
Ozone chemicals linked to ‘epidemic’ of cancer

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - Prompt international action is needed against widely used ozone-destroying chemicals that are indirectly causing skin cancers at an almost epidemic pace, scientists warned a House hearing Monday.

"At the current rate, about one in seven Americans will develop [the same form of] this disease during their lifetime," said Dr. Darrell Rigel, a researcher from New York University Medical Center.

The rate of skin cancer in the United States is increasing at a near epidemic pace, Rigel told an Energy and Commerce health and environment subcommittee hearing on depletion of the Earth's stratospheric ozone layer.

He said physicians believe the major cause of skin cancer is the ultraviolet rays of the sun, which are filtered by stratospheric ozone. Other witnesses said although there is still scientific uncertainty, it appears that the ozone layer is being destroyed by chemicals, such as chlorofluorocarbons.

Rigel said the estimated number of cases of malignant melanoma - the skin cancer type most often fatal - has risen eightfold in the last seven years, making it the fastest rising type except lung cancer.

He said although many factors have been linked to skin cancer, "the generally accepted most important factor is exposure to ultraviolet light. One would expect skin cancer rates to increase as the ozone thins."

And that, other witnesses warned, is exactly what is happening around the world, both in the much-publicized ozone hole appearing several months a year over the Antarctic but also to a lesser extent in warmer latitudes.

They said that although the exact cause is not scientifically proven, the situation probably stems from emissions of ozone-destroying chlorofluorocarbons, which are used as aerool spray propellants, refrigerants and industrial solvents and in some food packaging.

"There is now compelling observational evidence that the chemical composition of the atmosphere is changing at a rapid rate on a global scale," said Dr. Robert T. Watson, acting manager for upper atmospheric research at the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Product of the Week

A dingly containing salvage workers is dwarfed by the stern and propellers of the capsized ferry Herald of Free Enterprise, off the Belgian coast at Zeebrugge Sunday. The ferry capsized Friday evening, with officials estimating the death toll at 150 lives. See related story below.

Relatives of ferry victims gather to offer prayer service in Belgium

Associated Press

ZEERBURGUE, Belgium - Survivors and victims' relatives joined in a eucumenical prayer service Monday for those who died when water rushed through a British ferry three days earlier and turned it on its side.

Salvage crews prepared to right the partially submerged vessel so scores of bodies could be recovered from inside. The Herald of Free Enterprise, which capsized Friday night while leaving Zeebrugge harbor for Dover, rests starboard side-up on a sandbar.

More than 130 people are thought to have died in the shipwreck.

Olivier Vannesta, governor of West Flanders province, said one more survivor had been located - someone who escaped the disaster but did not report to authorities immediately.

That left 81 people still missing and presumed dead. Vannesta said 409 people survived and 53 bodies had been recovered.

Paul Ellis, spokesman for the Townsend Thoresen line that owns the ship, announced a plan, beginning Monday night, to return bodies to Britain by ferry. Most of the dead were British.

Transport Minister John Moore of Britain said Monday in Parliament that a public inquiry will be conducted into the disaster and the government will donate 1 million pounds ($1.6 million) to the survivors and families of the dead.

Belgian officials said a panel of maritime law experts had begun an investigation.

"All of the survivors, including the crew, have been questioned," said Philippe van Bale, spokesman for the investigating magistrate Arthur Devre.

Ship's boatswain Marc Stanley was reported to have said the accident was his fault because he left the front loading doors open, but van Bale said he "denied under questioning he ever made that statement." Stanley returned to Britain on Sunday night.

Bodies were laid out in rows of coffins at a makeshift morgue in Zeebrugge's sports center.

Preliminary identification was done at the naval base adjacent to the harbor. More relatives arrived Monday to identify their kin.

Officials said relatives had identified 34 bodies. Police Chief Roger de Bree said the others would be moved to a hospital for further identification.

If all 81 missing are declared dead, the final toll would be 134, by far the worst accident of modern times on the ferry runs between Britain and the continent.

At St. Donaas, a small, neo-Gothic brick church 400 yards from the temporary morgue, about 50 relatives and survivors held a 20-minute service.

"It was very simple. But there were deep emotions," said Richard Third, Anglican bishop of Dover. "The service was very moving."

He and Bishop Vanghelune, Roman Catholic bishop of Bruges, led the service.

Journalists were barred, but one who managed to get inside said some relatives broke down. He said a woman collapsed to the floor, sobbing, and was helped out by Red Cross workers.
The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies and positions of the University, faculty or staff, and is intended to provide a forum for the free expression of opinions by all members of the community. The views expressed herein are those of the respective columnists and do not necessarily reflect the views of the authors of the report note...

Is college education nothing more than glorified vocational-technical training? Is preparation for a career the primary purpose? Degrees in business are on the rise and its role in society. This report note date that "what we need today is a constructive debate about the meaning of the undergraduate college and a willingness to make this part of the educational enterprise a more vital, more enriching institution.

Over 500 letters to the editor and 300 columns appeared last year in Viewpoint. Join the growing number of people who feel their thoughts and opinions do make a difference. Write to P.O. Box Q, Viewpoint Department, Notre Dame, IN, 46556.

"To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them?"

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) "Hamlet"

We have the Center for Social Concerns. How many students, faculty, and staff make it? How many of us are aware of the programs and organizations operating from the CSC? Are we involved?

What is the role of student organizations in promoting a well-rounded college experience? At last part the Praca Institute, the Kellogg Institute, the Center for the Study of Contemporary Society, and other institutes and programs on campus play in the educational experience? How many of us take advantage of these resources?

How do the various departments encourage to foster open-mindedness, critical-inquisitiveness and reflection on social issues?

These are some of the questions that need to be raised if we are to begin a realistic appraisal of the larger social issues and our role as a university community in confronting these issues. The editors of the Carnegie Foundation report that "what we need today is a constructive debate about the meaning of the undergraduate college and a willingness to make this part of the educational enterprise a more vital, more enriching institution.

Such a debate needs to happen right here. At the University, we need to examine what is the role of student organizations, and do we have an obligation to become open-minded, well-informed, and critical citizens of the world?

Gregory Maggetti is a member of the "Dialogue on Education." Bruce Corrie, Scott Zachary and Ronnie Kuang are also contributing members to this column.

Garry Trudeau

Quote of the day

"To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them?"

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) "Hamlet"

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies and positions of the University, faculty or staff, and is intended to provide a forum for the free expression of opinions by all members of the community. The views expressed herein are those of the respective columnists and do not necessarily reflect the views of the authors of the report note...

Over 500 letters to the editor and 300 columns appeared last year in Viewpoint. Join the growing number of people who feel their thoughts and opinions do make a difference. Write to P.O. Box Q, Viewpoint Department, Notre Dame, IN, 46556.

"To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them?"

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) "Hamlet"

We have the Center for Social Concerns. How many students, faculty, and staff make it? How many of us are aware of the programs and organizations operating from the CSC? Are we involved?

What is the role of student organizations in promoting a well-rounded college experience? At last part the Praca Institute, the Kellogg Institute, the Center for the Study of Contemporary Society, and other institutes and programs on campus play in the educational experience? How many of us take advantage of these resources?

How do the various departments encourage to foster open-mindedness, critical-inquisitiveness and reflection on social issues?

These are some of the questions that need to be raised if we are to begin a realistic appraisal of the larger social issues and our role as a university community in confronting these issues. The editors of the Carnegie Foundation report that "what we need today is a constructive debate about the meaning of the undergraduate college and a willingness to make this part of the educational enterprise a more vital, more enriching institution.

Such a debate needs to happen right here. At the University, we need to examine what is the role of student organizations, and do we have an obligation to become open-minded, well-informed, and critical citizens of the world?

Gregory Maggetti is a member of the "Dialogue on Education." Bruce Corrie, Scott Zachary and Ronnie Kuang are also contributing members to this column.

Garry Trudeau

Quote of the day

"To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them?"

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) "Hamlet"

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies and positions of the University, faculty or staff, and is intended to provide a forum for the free expression of opinions by all members of the community. The views expressed herein are those of the respective columnists and do not necessarily reflect the views of the authors of the report note...

Over 500 letters to the editor and 300 columns appeared last year in Viewpoint. Join the growing number of people who feel their thoughts and opinions do make a difference. Write to P.O. Box Q, Viewpoint Department, Notre Dame, IN, 46556.

"To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them?"

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) "Hamlet"

We have the Center for Social Concerns. How many students, faculty, and staff make it? How many of us are aware of the programs and organizations operating from the CSC? Are we involved?

What is the role of student organizations in promoting a well-rounded college experience? At last part the Praca Institute, the Kellogg Institute, the Center for the Study of Contemporary Society, and other institutes and programs on campus play in the educational experience? How many of us take advantage of these resources?

How do the various departments encourage to foster open-mindedness, critical-inquisitiveness and reflection on social issues?

These are some of the questions that need to be raised if we are to begin a realistic appraisal of the larger social issues and our role as a university community in confronting these issues. The editors of the Carnegie Foundation report that "what we need today is a constructive debate about the meaning of the undergraduate college and a willingness to make this part of the educational enterprise a more vital, more enriching institution.

Such a debate needs to happen right here. At the University, we need to examine what is the role of student organizations, and do we have an obligation to become open-minded, well-informed, and critical citizens of the world?

Gregory Maggetti is a member of the "Dialogue on Education." Bruce Corrie, Scott Zachary and Ronnie Kuang are also contributing members to this column.

Garry Trudeau

Quote of the day

"To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them?"

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) "Hamlet"

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies and positions of the University, faculty or staff, and is intended to provide a forum for the free expression of opinions by all members of the community. The views expressed herein are those of the respective columnists and do not necessarily reflect the views of the authors of the report note...

Over 500 letters to the editor and 300 columns appeared last year in Viewpoint. Join the growing number of people who feel their thoughts and opinions do make a difference. Write to P.O. Box Q, Viewpoint Department, Notre Dame, IN, 46556.

"To be, or not to be: that is the question: Whether 'tis nobler in the mind to suffer the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune, Or to take arms against a sea of troubles, And by opposing end them?"

William Shakespeare (1564-1616) "Hamlet"

We have the Center for Social Concerns. How many students, faculty, and staff make it? How many of us are aware of the programs and organizations operating from the CSC? Are we involved?

What is the role of student organizations in promoting a well-rounded college experience? At last part the Praca Institute, the Kellogg Institute, the Center for the Study of Contemporary Society, and other institutes and programs on campus play in the educational experience? How many of us take advantage of these resources?

How do the various departments encourage to foster open-mindedness, critical-inquisitiveness and reflection on social issues?

These are some of the questions that need to be raised if we are to begin a realistic appraisal of the larger social issues and our role as a university community in confronting these issues. The editors of the Carnegie Foundation report that "what we need today is a constructive debate about the meaning of the undergraduate college and a willingness to make this part of the educational enterprise a more vital, more enriching institution.

Such a debate needs to happen right here. At the University, we need to examine what is the role of student organizations, and do we have an obligation to become open-minded, well-informed, and critical citizens of the world?

Gregory Maggetti is a member of the "Dialogue on Education." Bruce Corrie, Scott Zachary and Ronnie Kuang are also contributing members to this column.
Classifieds

Notices

TYPING
Free Pick-up and Delivery
277-4485

MRO-TYPE
Quality work at competitive
markups, reservable $27,162.32

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE

Sports Briefs

The ND men's volleyball club will put its 14-4 record and shot at Hope College at stake at 7:30 tonight at the ACC Pit. Free admission. -The Observer

The OC lacrosse team will hold practices at 4:30 at Stepian Field. -The Observer

The LaFortune billiards tournament begins this week. All participants are asked to check the pairings in the basement of LaFortune immediately. First round matches must be played before spring break. -The Observer

The OC baseball team is looking for a catcher. If interested contact Kirk (227-1880) or Chris (227-4660) by tomorrow. -The Observer

The junior class warm-up bookstore basketball XVI teams check to team for playing times this week. -The Observer

More than 650 teams have registered for the 1987 Bookstore Basketball tournament, the most in any tournament's history. Last year 583 teams participated in the annual event. -The Observer

Irish

Continued from page 12

"He was really determined to make it to nationals," said McCain. "He did have a great deal of ability, but he has a lot of heart and he showed it during the weekend."

Geneser, Durso, and Winiarski will compete in the NCAA Championshип College Park, Maryland, on March 19-21.

The Observer Notes Office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, will be closed Monday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and will reopen Tuesday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Maguire Hall, will be closed Monday through Thursday. The Observer office will be open 8 a.m.-4 p.m. from 5 p.m. through Friday. Deadline for next day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be placed in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per characters per day.

Sports Briefs

NOTICES

TYPING
Free Pick-up and Delivery
277-4485

MRO-TYPE
Quality work at competitive
markups, reservable $27,162.32

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE

Sports Briefs

The ND men's volleyball club will put its 14-4 record and shot at Hope College at stake at 7:30 tonight at the ACC Pit. Free admission. -The Observer

The OC lacrosse team will hold practices at 4:30 at Stepian Field. -The Observer

The LaFortune billiards tournament begins this week. All participants are asked to check the pairings in the basement of LaFortune immediately. First round matches must be played before spring break. -The Observer

The OC baseball team is looking for a catcher. If interested contact Kirk (227-1880) or Chris (227-4660) by tomorrow. -The Observer

The junior class warm-up bookstore basketball XVI teams check to team for playing times this week. -The Observer

More than 650 teams have registered for the 1987 Bookstore Basketball tournament, the most in any tournament's history. Last year 583 teams participated in the annual event. -The Observer

Irish

Continued from page 12

"He was really determined to make it to nationals," said McCain. "He did have a great deal of ability, but he has a lot of heart and he showed it during the weekend."

Geneser, Durso, and Winiarski will compete in the NCAA Championshип College Park, Maryland, on March 19-21.

The Observer Notes Office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, will be closed Monday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and will reopen Tuesday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Maguire Hall, will be closed Monday through Thursday. The Observer office will be open 8 a.m.-4 p.m. from 5 p.m. through Friday. Deadline for next day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be placed in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per characters per day.

Classifieds

Notices

TYPING
Free Pick-up and Delivery
277-4485

MRO-TYPE
Quality work at competitive
markups, reservable $27,162.32

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE

Sports Briefs

The ND men's volleyball club will put its 14-4 record and shot at Hope College at stake at 7:30 tonight at the ACC Pit. Free admission. -The Observer

The OC lacrosse team will hold practices at 4:30 at Stepian Field. -The Observer

The LaFortune billiards tournament begins this week. All participants are asked to check the pairings in the basement of LaFortune immediately. First round matches must be played before spring break. -The Observer

The OC baseball team is looking for a catcher. If interested contact Kirk (227-1880) or Chris (227-4660) by tomorrow. -The Observer

The junior class warm-up bookstore basketball XVI teams check to team for playing times this week. -The Observer

More than 650 teams have registered for the 1987 Bookstore Basketball tournament, the most in any tournament's history. Last year 583 teams participated in the annual event. -The Observer

Irish

Continued from page 12

"He was really determined to make it to nationals," said McCain. "He did have a great deal of ability, but he has a lot of heart and he showed it during the weekend."

Geneser, Durso, and Winiarski will compete in the NCAA Championshип College Park, Maryland, on March 19-21.

The Observer Notes Office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, will be closed Monday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and will reopen Tuesday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Maguire Hall, will be closed Monday through Thursday. The Observer office will be open 8 a.m.-4 p.m. from 5 p.m. through Friday. Deadline for next day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be placed in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per characters per day.

Classifieds

Notices

TYPING
Free Pick-up and Delivery
277-4485

MRO-TYPE
Quality work at competitive
markups, reservable $27,162.32

EXPERT TYPING SERVICE

Sports Briefs

The ND men's volleyball club will put its 14-4 record and shot at Hope College at stake at 7:30 tonight at the ACC Pit. Free admission. -The Observer

The OC lacrosse team will hold practices at 4:30 at Stepian Field. -The Observer

The LaFortune billiards tournament begins this week. All participants are asked to check the pairings in the basement of LaFortune immediately. First round matches must be played before spring break. -The Observer

The OC baseball team is looking for a catcher. If interested contact Kirk (227-1880) or Chris (227-4660) by tomorrow. -The Observer

The junior class warm-up bookstore basketball XVI teams check to team for playing times this week. -The Observer

More than 650 teams have registered for the 1987 Bookstore Basketball tournament, the most in any tournament's history. Last year 583 teams participated in the annual event. -The Observer

Irish

Continued from page 12

"He was really determined to make it to nationals," said McCain. "He did have a great deal of ability, but he has a lot of heart and he showed it during the weekend."

Geneser, Durso, and Winiarski will compete in the NCAA Championshipline College Park, Maryland, on March 19-21.

The Observer Notes Office, located on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center, will be closed Monday from 10 a.m.-4 p.m. and will reopen Tuesday from 9 a.m.-4 p.m. through Friday. The Observer Saint Mary's office, located on the third floor of Maguire Hall, will be closed Monday through Thursday. The Observer office will be open 8 a.m.-4 p.m. from 5 p.m. through Friday. Deadline for next day classifieds is 3 p.m. All classifieds must be placed in person or by mail. The charge is 10 cents per characters per day.
Swim team finishes ninth at Invite; depth can’t come through for ND

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Sports Writer

During the regular season, the Notre Dame men's swim team took a big step forward and built its balance and depth to compile a 10-4 record. But in the post-season, depth is not as important as power, and the Irish placed ninth out of 16 teams in the three-day Midwest Invitational Meet at Chicago's 53rd Street Pool.

"We feel we swam very well, and we were really pleased," said Coach Tim Welsh. "A championship measures power more than depth. We’re still knocking on the door of being one of the top finishers in this meet. And with our balance, as we improve, the whole team improves. Little by little, we’re closing in."

Top individual finishers for the Irish include freshman Ed Veome (sixth in both one-meter and three-meter diving), fresman Bill Jackson (sixth in 50-yard freestyle), fresman Rich Zell (eighth in one-meter diving), senior Stephen Coffey (ninth in 400-yard medley) and senior Chris Green (12th in 200-yard individual medley).

"In a championship meet it’s a completely different format," said Welsh. "In a Final Four meet during the season with the University of Illinois-Chicago, and we beat them on balance and depth. In the championship meet, the University of Illinois-Chicago placed third and beat us on power. Our goal is to be both powerful and deep so we can do everything."

Welsh was still pleased with the performance of the swimmers.

"We’re not happy to be ninth, but we are happy with the individual performances and the improvement," he said. "We know the future is now faster than we are. We were looking for improved and faster times, and we got that. Whatever the team score was, it was. We know we’re improving, and we think we’re not far from being in the center of this meet."

Notre Dame will host next season's Midwest Invitations at the Rolfs Aquatic Center.

Irish tennis splits pair in Madison, continues to improve consistency

By PETE SEIKO
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame tennis team continued to improve and build consistency as it split a pair of meets over the weekend in Madison, Wisconsin.

"In a championship meet it’s Power rather than a pushover against the Badgers on Saturday," said Coach Tim Welsh. "In a Final Four meet during the season with the University of Illinois-Chicago, and we beat them on balance and depth. In the championship meet, the University of Illinois-Chicago placed third and beat us on power. Our goal is to be both powerful and deep so we can do everything."

The Irish dropped its opener on Saturday to the University of Wisconsin in a hard fought, 5-4 decision, and then came back to defeat Gustavus Adolphus, 7-2.

Head Coach Tom Fallon was pleased with his team's play on the road this early in the season.

"The trip went well for a few reasons," said Fallon, in his first year at the helm of the Irish. "For one thing, we’re becoming much more consistent with our doubles play and with the way we’ve had to scramble our starting positions because of injuries, that has been no easy task. Also, we are playing well on the road, and again, against a Big Ten team like Wisconsin, even though we didn’t take the meet staying in it until the end is something."

Notre Dame proved to be a force rather than a pushover against the Badgers on Saturday, Wisconsin placed third and beat them on balance and depth. In the championship meet, the Irish needed to sweep the doubles to take the meet.

The number-one duo of sophomores Tim Carr and Dave Reiter took their match in three sets, and freshman Mike Wallace teamed junior Sean O'Brien for a straight set win at the number-three slot. But juniors Paul Daggs and Dan Walsh couldn’t hold a one-set lead at number-two doubles and lost their deciding match, 6-4, 6-2.

"Everyone on the squad played pretty well," said Fal­ lon, "but we dug ourselves a bit of a hole in the singles. The good doubles just about bailed us out."

On Sunday, the Irish took on their frustrations on Gustavus Adolphus, a school in western Minnesota, by winning, 7-2. Walsh won his second singles match of the weekend to lead Notre Dame to a 4-2 advantage in the singles, and the Irish swept the doubles to preserve the win.

Carr, Wallace and Daggs re­ corded the other Notre Dame singles victories against Gustavus, as Notre Dame ran its record to 7-7 on the young season.

Over spring break, the Irish will travel to Southern Califor­ nia for meets with Loyola-Marymount, Cal-State Los An­ geles, Pierce and Whittier, and for a tournament at Claremont. For Fallon, the trip allows him a chance to try some more ex­ perimentation with his starting lineup, where not a single spot belongs to a senior.

"In California," said Fallon, "we’ll be playing eight matches in ten days, so there will be a good opportunity to shuffle things around a little. But going in, I really like our chances. We’ve come back to play some pretty good tennis."

Irish swimmer placed sixth in both one-meter and three-meter diving at the Midwest Invitational Meet over the weekend for the Notre Dame swim team. Steve Megargee has the story at right.

S M C swims in NAIA meet; four given academic honors

By JANE SHEA
Sports Writer

Five swimmers from Saint Mary's were named academic- all-Americans at the NAIA championships at Milwaukee last weekend.

The Belles' Mary Beth Hogan, Jennifer Veselik, Megan Rafferty, Mary Fisher, and Patty Jackniss were all named to the team.

Ten members of the Saint Mary's swim team swam in the NAIA championships.

"All the girls who went to the finals did a fine job," said Coach Nancy Jo Kizmataz, "and showed great promise for next year's meets."

The biggest improvement for the Belles was the 400-yard freestyle relay team, which dropped 10 seconds off its seeded time. The team, composed of freshmen Erin Tierney and Julie Courtney, sophomore Peggy Halleman, and junior Meghan Rafferty, finished with a time of 2:20.57, moving up four places to take 20th.

In the 200-yard freestyle relay, Tierney, Rafferty and senior captains Patty Jackniss and Mary Fisher finished 11th with a time of 1:48.08.

The 200-yard medley relay team of Jackniss, senior Margaret Mannon, junior Mary Beth Hogan, and sophomore Jenny MacDougall took 23rd place with a time of 2:10.83.

Rafferty, Mannon, junior Jennifer Veselik and Tierney finished 22nd in the 400-yard medley relay with a time of 4:43.35.

In individual events Rafferty placed 33rd in the 100-yard backstroke with a time of 1:18.67, while Mannon and Tierney finished 32nd and 33rd in the 100-yard breaststroke with times of 1:17.68 and 1:18.12, respectively.

NVA calendar

Special to The Observer

Non-Varsity Athletics has announced tomorrow as the deadline for a number of up­ coming events on the NVA agenda.

Included are the following:

Softball: Both men's and wo­ men's leagues, half representa­ tion, 12 to 16-man rosters must be submitted in writing to NVA.

Graduate Slow Pitch: Teams by department, 12-man teams, rosters must be submitted in writing.

Interhall Baseball: 14 to 18­ player rosters must be submit­ ted with a $13 entry fee, equip­ ment furnished by NVA. Soccer: Both men's and wo­ men's tourneys, proof of insur­ ance required.

Registration and further information on these activities and others may be obtained by contacting the NVA at 239-6100 or by stopping by the offices in the ACC.
By Pete Gegen
Assistant Sports Editor

The Irish indoor track team ran to an impressive, though not totally satisfying, 17th-place finish at the IC4A Indoor Championships at Cambridge, Mass.

The meet was won by Penn State, followed by Villanova, George Mason and Georgetown.

Four members did all the scoring for Notre Dame. Freshman Glenn Watson placed fourth in the 55-meter hurdles with a time of 7.44, and sophomore Ron Markezich.

Others who qualified for the meet did not place in the finals include Rick Mcuen in the triple jump and Chris Mateo, who was injured in the preliminaries of the pole vault.

"We could have done a little bit better," said Piane. "Timmy Brown finished sixth, but he's better than that. Watson could have had second, and Kraus needed just an inch more."

In a season of inches, the Irish indoor track team must be looking forward to the metric world of the outdoor season. This meet marked the end of the indoor season for the team, as no member qualified for the NCAA Championships.

"The whole year we were inches away from a superb season," said Head Coach Joe Piane. "Consider Tim Brown and Tony Ragunas. They missed qualifying by just one, one-hundredth of a second. Glenn Watson was just three, one-hundredths of a second short of qualifying. And David Warth was just several tenths of a second short."

But Piane has reason to be optimistic about the future. Of all the runners who ran at the IC4A's, only one is a senior. And the team is much more evenly balanced this year, a change from past seasons where the distance runners dominated.

"We're a much better team than last year," said Piane. "We only had one senior at IC4A's, so the future is looking bright."

The team has a two-week layoff ahead before moving outdoors.

The Observer/File Photo

The Irish baseball squad heads for San Antonio after three tough losses

By Brian O'GARA
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame baseball team fell to 6-14 as three defeats rebounded from three close losses to Indiana last weekend when they head south over spring break to Texas.

They opened their season with the three defeats despite strong pitching performances from an stalwart staff. "It is very difficult to start out 0-3," said Notre Dame head coach Bruce Gallo. "We definitely have won three games this weekend. But we didn't, and that's all that counts. Indiana is a very good team but we are a very good team, too."

"I was pleased with the way all our pitchers threw this weekend, especially Brian Piotrowski. He pitched a great game Sunday but lost, 3-0. We didn't score any runs for him, but he threw as well as anybody I've seen as a freshman."

The Irish fell behind early in the weekend's first game on Saturday as the Hoosiers took a 5-0 lead in the top of the eighth inning. Notre Dame senior David Skupien and Pat Pelekanos started a double and triple, respectively, and Dan Peltier, Chris Flynn and Scott Rogers punched consecutive singles to tie the game at 5-5.

The Irish could not hold on to the lead, however, as Indiana exchanged a score in the bottom of the inning to take a 4-3 victory.

Both runs of Sunday's doubleheader featured pitching duels, but again the Hoosiers came out on top with the wins. Notre Dame's Kevin Chenall and Indiana's Scott Zimmerman both turned in complete games, yielding only five hits each. The game was tied 1-1 in the top of the seventh with a hit batter basemen Tim Hutson sent to a Zimmerman pitch over the right-field fence, giving the Hoosiers a 2-1 lead.

With two out in the last frame of the contest, Indiana won the game on a run in the bottom of the inning, providing for the final margin of 3-2.

The third loss of the series is on the books for the Notre Dame baseball team as they defeat a team that certainly isn't getting Gallio's confidence.

"Those three losses are over and done with," said Gallo. "But if I have to lose a few more to cause you have to come out to the ballpark with a smile on your face because tomorrow is another day."

I'd walk to Texas right now if it meant we could play to­ morrow, and I think I'd have 35 guys with me."

ND juniors make All-Conference team

Special in The Observer

Notre Dame and DePaul each placed two players on the North Star Conference All-Conference selections.

Juniors Mary Gavin and Sandy Botham represented the Irish, while senior guard Sally Anderson of DePaul led all balluts and was named Player of the Year. Anderson was joined by teammate Diana Vines on the All-Conference team.

Dayton's Michele Kruty rounded out the first team.

DePaul's third year coach Jim Izard was voted the Conference's Coach of the Year, as he led his squad to a 22-6 overall mark and a bid to the Women's National Invitational Tournament.

Gavin led both teams in assists with an average of 7.9 per game with 104, while Anderson scored 121.2 points and hauled down 7.1 rebounds per game.

Notre Dame forward Heidi Bueke was a second team selection, along with three all-conference players in Nichole Cullene, Beth Ayers, Kerri Christianson and Patty Baker. Kathy O'Hare and Amanda Scharf were also in the second team choice.
Robinson chosen unanimously in 86-87 AP All-America selections

NEW YORK - David Robinson, the 7-foot-1 center who has been responsible for Navy's sudden success over the past three seasons, is the unanimous selection on the 1986-87 Associated Press college basketball All-America team announced Monday.

Also chosen to the first team were Steve Alford of Indiana, the only repeater; Kenny Smith of North Carolina; Reggie Williams of Georgetown and Danny Manning of Kansas, a junior and the only underclassman.

The team was chosen by a 10-member AP panel of sportswriters.

Robinson, an outstanding shooter, rebounder and shot-blocker, led the Midshipmen to the Colonial Athletic Conference title three straight years and into the NCAA playoffs each year. Last year Navy made it into the NCAA final eight, where it was eliminated by Kansas.

In his junior season, they were ranked No.1 by broadcasters. During the season, they were ranked No.1 by coaches.

"If we shoot well, we'll be OK," Robinson said.

The AP voters, selected by the 10-member AP panel of sportswriters, got their choice Monday as the nation's best unmixed AP final team.

The Runnin' Rebels, who missed the NCAA playoffs each of the past three seasons, became the first team ever to win the Conference title three straight years.

The Associated Press

Once-beaten Nevada-Las Vegas, a seed in the NCAA tournament, continued the Northwest Regional of the NCAA tournament, was the unanimous choice Monday as the nation's top college basketball team in the final Associated Press poll.

"We're extremely pleased that we've had the ranking most of the season," Coach Jerry Tarkanian said. "I think the kids deserved it because they played super basketball in Los Angeles last week. They set the standard for the Pacific Coast Athletic Association tournament with victories by 35, 34 and 24 points.

"We know the rankings won't mean that much when the regions begin because that's where we've got to prove our selves all over again."

The Runnin' Rebels, who used the 3-point goal to their advantage all season, meet Idaho State in the first round of the NCAA tournament Thursday night in Salt Lake City.

"If the ball bounces right for us, I feel we have a chance this year," Tarkanian said. "If we play real good defense. Our intensity and our defense have been just super. If we shoot well, we'll be OK."

The Rebels, 23-1, received all 65 first-place ballots and 1,950 points from the national panel of sportswriters and broadcasters. During the season, they were ranked No.1 12 times, including the final six weeks.

North Carolina, Indiana and Georgetown, the other top seeds in the NCAA tournament, were second through fourth in the final poll.

North Carolina, 29-3, the East's No.1 seed, stayed No.2 despite being upset Sunday by unranked North Carolina State in the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament title game.

The Tar Heels received 1,146 points, 11 more than Indiana, which shared the Big Ten title with Purdue. The Hoosiers, 24-4, advanced one place last weekend's balloting and are the No.1 seed in the Midwest Regional.

Georgetown, which defeated Syracuse Sunday to win the Big East championship, moved from seventh to fourth in the final poll.

Indiana, 29-3, were the top seed in the Southeast Regional. DePaul wound up No.5 and Iowa No.6, the same spots they held last weekend. The Blue Demons, 26-2, had 1,021 points, while the Hawkeyes, 27-4, had 940.

Purdue, 24-4, dropped from third to seventh with 862 points after losing the regular-season finale 94-88 to Michigan.

Temple, 31-3, the Atlantic 10 champion, remained No.8 with 843 points and Southeastern Conference champion Alabama, 28-4, kept the ninth spot with 843 points.

Syracuse, 36-6, remained No.10 with 804 points in the Midwest Regional.

Texas, 26-6, headed the Southeast Regional with 804 points and southeastern Conference champion Alabama, 28-4, kept the ninth spot with 843 points.

The Associated Press

Friday/Saturday 1987-88

AP Photo

New Hampshire for the Summer
Camp Counselors Available of Outstanding Sports Camps
Camp Winnakee for Boys and Robinblend for Girls.

On the campus of UNH in New London, New Hampshire. Contact: Camp Director (603) 860-1250. nephHS@torename.com

Fall/Spring 1987-88

Come to Foreign Study Programs Office

Come to Foreign Study Programs Office

LAFORTUNE STUDENT CENTER

COME TO NEW HAMPSHIRE FOR THE SUMMER

Camp Counselors Available of Outstanding Sports Camps

Camp Winnakee for Boys and Robinblend for Girls.

11am to 2pm - Tuesday, March 10

high in up placement office at stop by

Application Deadline for Fall 1987 and Spring 1988 is March 15, 1987

Explore the Holy Land!! Spend a semester studying in Jerusalem for approximately the same cost as a semester at Notre Dame!

Come to Foreign Study Programs Office

420 Administration Building 239-5882
The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1 Peppon's captain
5 Poetry ingredient
8 Edit
9 Cat at times
10 Tex. city
14 Oner
15 Lizard
17 Elbe tributary
20 Brie or Edam
24 Ear: pref.
25 Bambi for one
32 Drunkard
34 Attentive
35 Female rabbit
37 White heron
39 Musical work
40 Theological school
41 Rough shelter
42 Sweeping
43 Christmas
44 Household gods
46 Sea birds
48 Gentilman
49 Fragrances
50 Pries
51 Do on eco-
logical job
52 Intellect
53 Small hotels
55 Mahjongg piece
57 Superior performer
59 GWTW place
60 Chief
62 Poet Pound
63 Garner
65 City on the Missouri
67 Dimensions
68 Partly open
69 Trimm'd
70 Gunbo
71 Bloody
72 Frigten
73 Kind of idle
74 Author Waugh
75 Literature
76 Poet's
78 Gun
79 Ivory
80 Ouse
81 Kind of tide

DOWN
1 Author Waugh
2 Drawn of TV
3 Helm position
4 P.B. word
5 Motherly
6 Ayatollah's
gunfire
7 Elbe tributary
8 Edit
9 Cat at times
10 Merlin's forte
11 Galway Bay
12 Tilt
13 1,1,1
14 Egyptian port
15 Critic Rex
16 Blockhead
17 Fables
18 Stock term
19 Kind of surgeon
20 Command
21 Drunkard
22 Frigten
23 Historical
24 Attention
25 White haven
26 Theological school
27 Sweeping
28 Garfield
29 Ouse
30 Dune stuff
31 Logical job
32 performer
33 Logical job
34 Performer
35 Motherly
36 Logical job
37 White haven
38 Stock term
39 Kind of surgeon
40 Theological
school
41 Sweeping
42 Garfield
43 Ouse
44 Motherly
45 White haven
46 Theological
school
47 Flatfish
48 Lab medium
49 GWTV place
50 Pries
51 Embankment
52 Intersect
53 Ginger Tim
54 Poet Pound
55 Garnet
56 Pronoun
57 Asia general

Clues:
6 Freudian term
18 Blatant stuff
35 Personal pronoun
51 Logical job
62 Roman goddess
65 Kind of arm
66 Pronoun
67 Logical job
68 Logical job
69 Logical job
70 Logical job
71 Logical job
72 Logical job
73 Logical job

SAB presents:
The Hustler
Wednesday, Thursday
7, 9:30, 12 p.m.
$1.00 EG Aud.
Notre Dame wrestling team has had a weekend where three individuals, 134-pound Geneser and 142-pound McCann. "(Andy) Radenbaugh would have been the number-one seed if he had been on his knee a week earlier," said McCann. "But Boyd and Radenbaugh hurt, our goal was to get three people, and we did. With Boyd and Radenbaugh hurt, our goal was to get three people, and we did."

Geneser was able to rebound from his knee injury to win the 167-pound competition. He defeated last year's champion, Scott Diveness of Drake, 3-2, in the finals. Geneser had just undergone arthroscopic surgery on his knee a week earlier. "It showed a lot of courage on Chris's part, since his knee was scoped last Friday," said McCann. "To come back and wrestle like that shows a lot of courage and determination." Durso qualified by placing second in the 134-pound category. He won his first three matches before losing to Joe Wisniewski, 8-7, of Northern Iowa in the finals. While Geneser and Durso entered the regionals with respectability at 35-4 and 35-3, Wisniewski's chances of qualifying did not appear to be as strong with an 18-12 record. Wisniewski was able to qualify by winning his semifinal match, 3-2, over Jim Schults of Marquette. Schults had previously beaten Wisniewski, 13-6, in last month's National Catholic Tournament. Wisniewski eventually lost in the semifinals, 13-5, to Northern Iowa's Pat Hogan, and finished fourth at the tournament.

The Irish placed fourth out of ten teams at last weekend's NCAA Western Regionals. Three individuals, 134-pound sophomore captain Jerry Durso, 150-pound junior Ron Wisniewski, and 167-pound sophomore Chris Geneser qualified for nationals. "Our goal was to try to get three people through," said Head Coach Fran McCann. "The guys who did well really prepared for it and really came to wrestle. It's late in the season, so that's important, and it really boils down to who wants it more. Desire plays an important role." Notre Dame got more good news when it was announced that it would be the site for next year's NCAA Western Regionals. This year's host school, sixth-ranked Northern Iowa, won the regional team competition. At first it looked like the Irish would have a tough time qualifying three wrestlers for nationals. Two of the team's top individuals, Geneser and 150-pound sophomore Pat Boyd, were coming off late-season injuries that had sidelined them for about two weeks. "Boyd would have made it (to nationals), but his injury really restricted him," said McCann. "(Andy) Radenbaugh would have been the number-one seed if he had been able to compete. With Boyd and Radenbaugh hurt, our goal was to get three people, and we did."

Geneser was able to rebound from his knee injury to win the 167-pound competition. He defeated last year's champion, Scott Diveness of Drake, 3-2, in the finals. Geneser had just undergone arthroscopic surgery on his knee a week earlier. "It showed a lot of courage on Chris's part, since his knee was scoped last Friday," said McCann. "To come back and wrestle like that shows a lot of courage and determination." Durso qualified by placing second in the 134-pound category. He won his first three matches before losing to Joe Wisniewski, 8-7, of Northern Iowa in the finals. While Geneser and Durso entered the regionals with respectable records of 35-4 and 35-3, Wisniewski's chances of qualifying did not appear to be as strong with an 18-12 record. Wisniewski was able to qualify by winning his semifinal match, 3-2, over Jim Schults of Marquette. Schults had previously beaten Wisniewski, 13-6, in last month's National Catholic Tournament. Wisniewski eventually lost in the semifinals, 13-5, to Northern Iowa's Pat Hogan, and finished fourth at the tournament.

PE pulls out overtime victory over BP in IH championship

By THERESA KELLY
Sports Writer

It was the stuff championship games are made of. Pasquerilla East and Breen-Phillips battled for the women's Interhall championship Sunday, and P.E. captured the crown with a hard-fought 32-32 overtime victory. "We did what we had to do, fundamentally," said B-P coach Jeff Peters. "We kept them from getting the ball side and didn't get out-rebounded. We just couldn't get the baskets we needed." "It was obviously a tough game," said winning coach Chris Peronek. "It was a solid team effort all the way." Breen-Phillips ran off the first six points of the game, including a three-point play by Ann Curve. Turnovers hurt Pasquerilla East early, as it was unable to get a shot off until three minutes had elapsed in the first quarter. Kathleen McDavid got P.E. on the board with a free throw, and her teammates followed with a run of six points to take a 7-2 lead. Another Curve basket gave the lead back to B-P, and free throw by Caroline Burke closed out the first-quarter scoring with B-P leading 7-5. Lauren Romeo started the second-quarter scoring for P.E., tying the game at nine. The teams traded baskets throughout the second and third quarters, with Burke and Cynthia Guicken hitting for Breen-Phillips and Colleen Donnelly leading the way for Pasquerilla East, which held a 30-23 lead heading into the fourth quarter. A basket off a rebound by Guicken brought the Irish to within two, but five straight points by P.E. extended its lead to six. Guicken's bank shot cut the lead to four for B-P, but Donnelly's eight-foot jumper put P.E. up by six again with time running out. But B-P was not finished. Guicken's basket and a lay up by Burke brought B-P within two, 36-34, with 1:45 to play. P.E. had the ball and the lead, but took a quick shot which was off mark. Curve grabbed the rebound for B-P, and was fouled at the foul line. She made one of the two free throws, but sure, Curve sank both free throws to tie the game at 40 with 30 seconds remaining. Plenty of action but no scoring concluded regulation play, and the teams took a 40-30 score into the three-minute overtime. see PE, page 5