U.S. may remove warheads

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - If West Germany makes good on its offer to retire its Pershing IA missiles, the United States will withdraw the rockets' American-owned nuclear warheads from German territory, the State Department said Wednesday.

It declined, however, to specify whether the warheads would be destroyed or stockpiled for future use.

Replying to a barrage of questions about the 72 Pershings, department spokeswoman Phyllis Oakley restated the U.S. position that their future "is not subject to any form of negotiation with the Soviet Union."

"The warheads of the Federal Republic of Germany, Pershing IAs are controlled by us, and always have been," Oakley said. "They are part of our program of cooperation with our West German allies."

After the Pershings became a sticking point in U.S.-Soviet medium-range arms negotiations, West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl last month offered to remove them in the interest of an agreement.

"If the conditions laid out by Chancellor Kohl in his Aug. 26 statement are met, and the FRG (Federal Republic of Germany) consequently renege on the 72 Pershings, we would, of course, be opposing an agreement."

Activities unveiled for Malloy inauguration ceremony

By PAT HEALY

FATHER Edward Malloy will be inaugurated as University President of Notre Dame Wednesday, Sept. 23, with a full slate of activities planned.

Classes will be cancelled on Sept. 23 so that students, faculty, and university personnel can attend the mass and convocation ceremonies, according to Dick Conklin, assistant vice president for university relations.

Heading off the day at 10 a.m. will be a mass held in the arena of the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center. Following mass will be an inaugural luncheon at 11:45 a.m. at the Field House of the ACC.

Conklin said a procession will leave the Hesburgh Library mall at 2:15 p.m. and make its way back to the ACC arena. There the main event of the day, the academic convocation ceremony, will take place.

Greetings from special guests and faculty will begin the convocation. Student Body President Patrick Cotrell, President of the Alumni Association Joseph Reich, Dean of the Divinity School at Malloy's alma mater Vanderbilt University Dr. H. Jackson Forstman, Chairperson of the Faculty Senate Dr. Ellen Weaver, Provincial of the Indiana Congress of the Order of Holy Cross Fr. Richard Warner will be among the speakers.

Malloy's inaugural address will be his first major presentation since assuming the presidency on June 1. Conklin said he expects the address highlight of the convocation to be.

The traditional regalia of the University President, a minted presidential medal and a mace, will then be presented to Malloy. A reception at the Hesburgh Library Mall at 4:30 p.m. will conclude the day.

Police toughen O.C. party stance

By ERIC M. BERGAMO

Senior Staff Reporter

Notre Dame students haven't been arrested for under age drinking at off-campus parties and bars so far this semester, but the reprise is about to end.

South Bend Police Captain Patrick Cotrell said Wednesday: "It's coming and it's not going to be citations, "Cotrell warned. "It's going to be like last spring with arrests where they're going to be taken downtown to the county jail and have to post bail."

The police will begin arresting people for underage drink ing and other offenses at raided parties this weekend, he added.

There have already been numerous complaints from neighbors of off-campus students, Cotrell noted.

Over the last two weekends the police have raided six par ties to enforce the city's noise ordinance.

Parties at 723 South Bend Ave., 825 N. Notre Dame Ave. and 861 N. St. Louis St. were broken up on Aug. 23 and citations for violation of the noise ordinance given to each residence.

The police broke up "a large party of about 600 people" in the 700 block of Rex Street on Aug. 24. The police issued noise citations to the residents of houses at 719, 717 and 709 Rex Street.

This past weekend parties in the 660 block of St. Peter St. and 201 E. Navarre Ave. were broken up, though no noise citations were issued.

Dane County residents cooperated in breaking up the parties.

The enforcement of the noise ordinance is serving as a warn ing to students, Cotrell said.

"This is their warning now when we're issuing noise cita tions and breaking up parties," he said.

The reason no arrests have been made so far, Cotrell ex plained, is that there are people who are living off-campus for the first time and freshmen who aren't aware of the situa tion.

Cotrell hoped these students would warn other students who have been through a raid in the past.

"If it has been a fair warning," Cotrell said of the grace period.

The police will also continue to send undercover officers into bars and parties.

If the officer has enough evidence of underage drinking, the police will raid the party or bar," Cotrell said.

Cotrell had mixed feelings about last year's raids.

"With the overall results, yes," he said. "I wasn't happy with officers making arrests to make students obey the law. I don't feel officers should have to do that."

Cotrell said that the hundreds of students who go off campus, and the few who do get arrested, give the other students who stay on campus "a bad name."
No ideas remain for today's inside column

"Four little Indians going out to sea; A red herring swallowed one and then there were three.

- Agatha Christie, "And Then There Were None."

Writing this week's column was akin to being in the novel "And Then There Were None." I had four ideas for the column; each with Pulitzer Prize written all over it. The first was a classic. What could be better than a column about how pretty and intelligent Notre Dame and Saint Mary's women are? I began writing. The encounter occurred in a bar in Florida over the summer. "Where is Notre Dame?" the tall, beautiful blonde asked. "California?"

"No, I said. 'It's in Indiana.'" And besides, "Ohhhhh," she replied. 'Hey...I'm from Indiana.'

"I can't wait to get back to Notre Dame and Saint Mary's," I wrote. 'There, the women are good looking and intelligent.'

"That's not such a good idea," said Editor-in-Chief Kevin Becker, who was reading over my shoulder. "It sounds too sexist."

And then there were three.

That's all right, I thought. I had a great idea about the trials and tribulations of looking younger than my 21 years. Again it was classic prose: "The dental assistant was cleaning my teeth this summer, attempting to make small talk. 'So when do you graduate from high school?' she asked. 'Ouch,' I said."

This was great stuff, I said to myself. I pounded out a few more humorous words.

"That's not that funny," said Accent Editor Mike Naughton, who had walked by my terminal. "You need to exaggerate to make it funny." I'm not exaggerating, I said.

And then there were two.

No problem, I thought. I'll write about the dating scene at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's - or the lack thereof. The column would rank right up there with award-winning pieces by Bob Greene, and even (gasp) Mike Royko.

I started writing:

"I've been here only a week and I already arrived "parties," a Notre Dame junior commented the other day.

She was right. Parties seem to be the only social outlet around here. Dating apparently has gone the way of the $10 textbook."

"Nobody wrote at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's," I wrote. "There, the women are good looking and intelligent." The column ended with a pitch for students to come to tonight's open-house meeting. "No matter what your reason," I wrote. "You're probably right, I said."

And then there were none.

Now ideas remain for today's inside column.

Senior chosen CK International President

By LIZ PORTER
News Staff

Scott Bearby, a senior Government/ALPA major, recently became the first Notre Dame Circle K member elected President of the International Circle K organization.

Elected by popular vote, Bearby presented a prepared platform and campaigned for his office at a 600 member convention held in St. Louis last August.

The Circle K organization is the largest organization at the collegiate level devoted to leadership and service development. The main goals of the organization include individual leadership development, as well as involvement with social service projects.

An affiliate of Kiwanis, collegiate CKI clubs function on local, district, national, and international levels. The organization also sponsors special social events, promoting friendship among club members.

Any Circle K member may run for an international office, but experience working with the Circle K organization plays a large role in a candidate's bid for office.

Bearby had the necessary experience, serving as International CKI Secretary in college and having been involved in high school with Key Club.

Acting as International President, Bearby presides over Circle K chapters in seven nations in North America. Satellite groups also exist in South America, Europe, and Asia. North American countries involved with CKI include Canada, the United States, Mexico, Jamaica, and the Bahamas.

Because of long distances, Bearby will not travel to all the international Circle K organizations. He will, however, visit a large number of Circle K districts in the United States and Canada, exchanging information and ideas with other club members.

As well as his correspondence with Circle K districts, he will also serve as the Chairman of the CKI Board of Trustees

Comprised of eleven students, this board's major projects include club membership development, and activity planning and management.

According to Bearby, the incorporation of leadership development in a social service group is the most appealing aspect of membership in the Circle K club.

Bearby said, "The organization has been very good to me. It has helped me develop my leadership capabilities, while providing me with the opportunity to meet a lot of great people."

Serving as chief executive officer of a non-profit organization, Bearby also presents himself with many new career contacts.

Through his new position, he brings recognition to the University of Notre Dame and its Circle K club.

SMC hall slated for dedication

By SHANNON McGOWAN
Staff Reporter

The newly renovated Saint Mary's College Science Hall will be dedicated on Oct. 18.

At 10:30 a.m. a mass of thanksgiving will be celebrated in the Holy Spirit Chapel of La Fortune Center.

Following, there will be a luncheon for special guests in the Haggar College Center, said Mary Gerber, Director of Special Events and Programs.

The formal dedication ceremonies will begin at 1 p.m. with an academic procession and ceremony in the Main Auditorium entrance of the Science Hall.

The theme for the ceremony is "Achievements of Women in Science."

The Reverend Eranz McMullin of the University of Notre Dame will preside over the dedication.

The main speaker for the dedication symposium address is Mary L. Good, president of the American Chemical Society.

She will also be the recipient of an honorary degree in recognition of her many accomplishments, according to Gerber.

Several prominent women scientists will also be present for the dedication.

At 2 p.m. the symposium will begin in Carroll Auditorium. Other participants in the symposium will be Catherine Harmon '67, Terri Menke Hargrave '86, Barbara Spakowski Slatt '71, and Monica Carranza '79.

A reception follows in the science hall. At approximately 3:45 p.m. tours of the science hall will depart from the main lobby.

Throughout the building there will be various exhibits of the Chemistry, Biology, and Physics departments on display.

The holographic works of Douglas Tyler, Assistant Professor of Art, will also be on display.

The cornerstone of the building sums up the spirit of the dedication ceremonies: "Great are the works of God to be pondered by all who love them." (Psalm 3:2).

The greenhouse and some of the rooms in the classroom complex will also be dedicated, Gerber said.

"We really don't get into the definition beyond that of what would happen to them," she continued. "They would be withdrawn... I am not defining what withdrawal means. We are simply saying they will withdraw them from the Federal Republic of Germany."

Iran, Iraq continue

Gulf ship attacks

Associated Press

MANAMA, Bahrian - Iranian speedboats and Iraqi warplanes attacked at least seven ships in the Persian Gulf within 24 hours, and U.S. warships prepared on Wednesday to escort more tankers through the war zone.

The Iraqis reported a fifth day of air raids on Iranian shipping, oil fields and other industrial targets. Iran said its artillery shelled military and industrial installations in southern Iraq, and Iranian planes struck in the northern area of the 730-mile border warfront.

Eighteen attacks on ships have been reported and 13 confirmed since Iran and Iraq, which have been at war since September 1980, resumed their “tanker war” last weekend after a six-week lull.

Shipping executives, speaking privately, said the 13 confirmed attacks in less than a week compare with monthly averages of six in 1984-85 and eight to 10 last year.

Iran’s official Islamic Republic News Agency quoted Prime Minister Hussein Musavi as declaring Wednesday that a policy of “blow for blow” will be pursued in a calculated fashion.

Dispatches from the Iraqi News Agency reported attacks Wednesday on two “large maritime targets,” which usually mean ships, and an Iraqi attack on a Cypriot tanker Tuesday was confirmed. Iraq’s reports do not identify ships attacked.

The latest confirmed Iraqi raid was on the small offshore supply ship Big Orange 14. It was reported sunk by an air-fired missile late Tuesday near Kharg Island, Iran’s main oil export terminal in the northern gulf.

One shipping source in the United Arab Emirates, where the vessel was based, said all seven of its Indian and Sri Lankan crew were missing. Another said five had been rescued, quoting sources close to the owners.

No one answered the telephone at the owner’s office.

Two empty Kuwaiti tankers and their U.S. navy escorts reached the sheikdom at the head of the gulf Tuesday. The warships are expected to make the return trip with three vessels that have been loaded and waiting for days.

Iran accuses Kuwait of receiving arms shipments for its neighbor Iraq, whose ports were closed soon after the war began, and since last September has been attacking ships owned by or serving the sheikdom.

Eleven of Kuwait’s 21 tankers have been given the American flag so Navy ships can protect them. Convoys began July 21.

Speedboats operated by Iranian commandos fired on a Greek tanker and Cypriot freighter during the day Wednesday after overnight attacks on tankers of South Korean, Japanese and Spanish registry. A speedboat raked a Kuwaiti flag container ship with machine gun fire Monday.

No injuries were reported and all the ships either reached nearby ports or continued on their way, according to shipping salvage executives and Lloyd’s Shipping Intelligence.

Philippine coup plans divulged

Associated Press

MANILA, Philippines - Conspirators in plots leading to last week's bloody coup attempt discussed killing Americans and burning CIA headquarters in Manila, the government said Wednesday.

A general who commanded the army under deposed President Ferdinand E. Marcos was involved in plotting a military takeover, said the report, prepared by President Corazon Aquino's security force and released by the Presidential Palace.

Aquino, in a national broadcast Wednesday, said 31 people were killed in Friday's coup attempt, including 12 loyal soldiers, 19 rebel troops and 22 civilians.

Hundreds were wounded, including her son, Benigno Aquino III.

Col. Gregorio "Gringo" Honasan, who led the coup attempt, remained at large, and the military intensified air and ground searches for him in Manila and north and east of the capital.

The charges about killing Americans and assaulting the CIA bureau were in the background part of the report, and it was unclear whether all the alleged plots were part of the same conspiracy and why other plots were postponed.

Maj. Gen. Eduardo Ermita, deputy chief of staff, declined comment and said he was unaware of the report.

West German pilot admits mistake

Associated Press

MOSCOW - West German teen-ager Mathias Rust apologized to a Soviet court Wednesday for flying a single-engine plane into Red Square.

He said it started as a mission of peace but ended as the greatest mistake of his life.

"My flight was not the best action to bring this about. I'm very sorry," Rust, a 19-year-old resident of suburban Hamburg, said during nearly five hours of testimony on the first day of trial at the Soviet Supreme Court.

It was his first public appearance since he piloted a Cessna 172B across the Soviet border on May 28 and set it down amid hundreds of astonished pedestrians on Red Square near the Kremlin, the seat of Soviet power.

Rust faces charges of hoobilganism, illegally crossing international flight rules, and he could get 10 years in prison.

The trial is expected to last three days.

Dressed in a blue suit, a light blue shirt and tie, Rust called himself "a very sentimental man" who meant no harm to anyone.

He said he wanted to meet with Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev to discuss a new political system that would bring east and west together in "full democracy, democracy in the fullest sense of the word."

"I sought the source of peace, and the source of peace is not in Washington, but in Moscow," said Rust.

INDIANAPOLIS - The 65 mph speed limit that took effect June 1 on rural interstates has had a negligible effect on the number of traffic fatalities in Indiana, a state police spokesman said Wednesday.

State police recorded 17 interstate traffic fatalities from May 29 to Sept. 3, compared with 15 during the same period last year when the maximum speed on all highways was 55 mph.

"There's no way, statistically, that can be significant," Lt. Ken Hollingsworth said.

Hollingsworth said he believes the attitude among Indiana motorists has played the biggest role in keeping the death count down in Indiana when some other states are reporting increases.

"We in our state have reason to believe that the public has pretty well accepted the 65 mph limit as a fair speed and that people are going 65," he said. "Voluntary compliance is playing a large part in this."

Although the number of interstate deaths since the speed limit increased is two greater than in the same period last year, the year-to-date count is up by six, for a total of 36 fatalities. However, Hollingsworth said that still is a statistically insignificant increase.

He added that when traffic deaths on all rural roads are considered, the year-to-date number actually has decreased by 13, from 304 last year to 491 this year.

About 450 of the 1,119 miles of interstates in Indiana were affected by the new law, which raised the speed limit from 55 mph to 65 mph on interstates located outside cities with populations of 55,000 or more.

Hollingsworth said compliance with the law is evident not only in the fatality figures but also in reports from officers patrolling the highways.

As an example, he noted that a trooper who clocked 166 cars in a central Indiana county recently found only seven exceeding 65 mph and, of them, only two were going faster than 70 mph, Hollingsworth said.

Individual identity absent from campus

On my first day back at Notre Dame after a rather brief summer, my sister, her roommate and I ventured to the Huddle for pizza after an exhausting day of moving. At one point I noticed an oddly dressed character sporting a perfectly ridiculous haircut and inauspiciously blurted something to the effect of, "I wonder who's responsible for admitting jerks like him to this university." He had been so tired and cranky, I probably would have kept my mouth shut; but diplomacy was the least of my worries, and anyway, the jerk was out of earshot.

Paul Newett
just say 'nyet'

My sister's friend tactfully replied that she thought it was a good thing to have some diversity among the student body, that not everyone look and act so "conservatively." Having precious little energy remaining to chew and swallow, let alone argue, I granted the point, resuming eating, and let the subject drop.

A day or two later, I read in the pages of this exalted journal that, for the first time in the history of Notre Dame, ten percent of the freshman class was composed of minority students. It may be quite safe to assume that the administration encouraged a greater percentage of minorities in the class of 1991 at least partly for the sake of diversity.

All of this presupposes that happiness benefits the university and its members; indeed, by definition a university embraces all who wish to pursue higher knowledge and the truth. I do not dispute this at all. But it is utterly preposterous to suggest that we constitute a university diverse for our own sake.

cure our perennial ills? Contrary to prevailing wisdom, the answer is very much in doubt. Many of them, happily, will be accepted by the majority but sadly assimilated into the decadence of our generation. Others, unforgivably, will fall victim to the subtle racism that persists here as anywhere else. Welcome them, but expect nothing wonderful.

Foreign policy needs Congress

Dear Editor:

In his editorial of August 31, 1987, Mr. Kevin Smart stated that "Congressional involvement in foreign affairs is not new." If Mr. Smart were to consult a copy of the Constitution of the United States of America, he would read that, while "The President shall be Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy," Article II, Section 2) only "The Congress shall have Power...To declare war...and To make rules for the Government and Regulation of the Land and Naval Forces." (Article I, Section 8)

No, Congressional involvement in foreign affairs goes back a long way. If General George Washington could live by the Constitution, why can't our present Lieutenant Colonel Oliver North?

As I watched a bus full of athletes arrive on campus, I greeted them all when they arrived. This German dictionary and questions about Special Olympic Games that tally handicapped Austrian athletes is something that makes research seem pleasant. Unlike you and I, roommates are the result of a cloning experiment, getting along is a full-time job with bear-traps waiting to be sprung at every joint in the day. From that hair dryer whirling at 6 a.m. to the television turned on until after the national anthem on a Sunday night, your room is the battleground for a war of wills and tastes. Only through a process of give and take, caution and compromise can you reach a state of detente where you can even hope to begin liking the person who uses the same sink as you.

To make matters worse, there is a class of roommates that you cannot even hope to get along with -- the Roommate from Hell. No matter how much you bend, no matter how hard you try, you will not be able to get along with this person. At first, you wonder if the fault is your own. Call COUNSELING and ask for tape number 1 - Friendships and Living Together. You can call again and listen to tape number 7 - Expressing Negative Thoughts and Feelings; a week later you ask for tape number 50 - Understanding Eating Disorders. Unfortunately, there is nothing wrong with your eating habits but at this stage you figure that if no advice can make your relationship any worse than it has become.

A few more days of dormitory distress go by. You realize that the answer is not the call and your Notre Dame legal aid -- you want to know if there is a place in Indiana for premedicated murder.

Unfortunately, murder is an inadequate solution. You might get into trouble, and roommates from hell have a habit of never ever going away. There is very little you can do about a roommate from hell, but the first step in confronting any enemy is to find out exactly what you are up against. In the process of determining your roommate really is Straight from Hell, you need to look for clues. Just as a werewolf's hair is even fingertips and a vampire must speak in a sloppy Trans-Alaskan accent, the Roommate from Hell has his own distinctive characteristics:

1. The Roommate from Hell decorates your room like Greg Brady's attic.
2. The Roommate from Hell tastes everything in the care package that you get from home, and puts back the things he doesn't like.
3. The Roommate from Hell has a 100-watt stereo that is wired into the light switch.
4. The Roommate from Hell has a 14-year-old girlfriend who calls every night.
5. The Roommate from Hell has alumni parents who visit every Saturday morning at 8 a.m.
6. The Roommate from Hell has an alarm clock which can drown out a 747 but not his snoring.
7. The Roommate from Hell cleans out your wardrobe and throws away any clothes that he thinks you don't need.
8. The Roommate from Hell can't find the snooze button to alarm in the morning.
9. The Roommate from Hell gets up in the morning and hunts to find cockroaches in your sink. When he finds any he exterminates them with a can of Right Guard and a Bic lighter.
10. The Roommate from Hell brings his friends over on Friday nights to watch you study.
11. The Roommate from Hell keeps his refrigerator until it rots.
12. The Roommate from Hell gets a haircut every day.
13. The Roommate from Hell is asked to twenty SYR's.
14. The Roommate from Hell borrows your best clothes without asking; then he alters them so they fit him.
15. The Roommate from Hell is always sleeping when you're cramming for a test -- he plans it that way.
16. The Roommate from Hell slips popcorn on the floor... and eats it later.
17. The Roommate from Hell opens your beer just to smell it.
18. The Roommate from Hell comes in drunk on Tuesday night and passes out on your bed -- while you're in it.
19. The Roommate from Hell borrows your underwear -- then he puts it back in your drawers.
20. The Roommate from Hell talks to you while he brushes his teeth.
21. The Roommate from Hell turns up the radio when waterbed commercials come on.
22. The Roommate from Hell has a perfect fake I.D. and won't let you use it.

My worst premonitions of incompetency were realized when I boarded the team's bus to leave campus at the end of the day. Liesl was right; I couldn't make the best of the situation and discovered the cozy confines of the Linebacker Lounge. By the next morning I was already coming to realize why these Olympians were called "special." My 8:00 a.m. class in Host included acting as a translator/guide. Living in the same dormitory with my team members, and eating meals with them. During that first breakfast together, I was politely asked by no less than four of the athletes if I had slept well. I began talking to Liesl, a 24-year-old athlete, who kept offering to walk back to the Coke dispenser to refill my glass. At the end of the meal, if I was finished, and then voluntarily carried my tray to the conveyor belt. By the end of the day Liesl was calling me her "best friend" and asking me to write to her after she returned to Austria. A few days later Liesl literally gave me the shirt off her back. I was in her room and asked if all of the clothes hanging in the wardrobe were hers. She took out a pretty jade green Benetton shirt and said that in addition to the team uniforms, this shirt was one of the few articles of clothing she'd brought with her. Liesl asked, "don't you want it?" I tried to protest, but she cut me short by saying I couldn't return a gift. She had had her sights set on it. Such wonderfully simple generosity was impossible to turn down.

I saw the compassion the athletes had for one another. After one Austrian swimmer had won a gold medal, everyone else on the team congratulated him, even another swimmer who had placed fourth. One competitor in our group never received a medal. "I would have liked to have won a medal," he said, "but I didn't. I can't change that, so I'll have to accept it." I think what really got me was the way I heard Liesl say that she was so "uberglücklich," a word which can only be translated as "overly happy." The nine days weren't all fun and games, though. There were low points, such as the weather, 90 degree plus sun, never pleasant, but able to reach 90 percent humidity, dorms with no air conditioning, and athletes with health problems. But you'd wonder why these games were ever allowed to take place in the middle of a sultry South Bend summer.

The Opening Ceremonies, pared down to a polished two-hour ABC production, actually lasted a total of six hours, including the two hours some athletes had to stand waiting for the rest of the participants to assemble in the Notre Dame Stadium. I also found myself wondering why the athletes got the worst seats in the stadium. After all, the ceremonies were loving, and courageous, explaining this to a group sitting in the end zone, one hundred yards from the stage and tucked behind ABC's mammoth camera platforms.

Isn't it curious that Austrian bodybuilder Arnold Schwarzenegger found enough time to host the nationally televised Opening Ceremonies as well as get the Austrian team on camera, but had to cancel a weightlifting clinic he was to give for the athletes the next day? When the team boarded the bus to leave campus at the end of nine long, tiring days, I felt a sense of relief. I couldn't believe that I had grown so close to so many people so quickly; I felt as if I had known these Austrians for years.

Never having worked with the mentally handicapped, I had been expecting to minimize functioning individuals, but what I found were ten selfless, humble, and courageous competitors who showed me just how "special" they really were.

AL roundup
Tigers beat Tribe on one hit
Associated Press

DETROIT - Tom Candiotti pitched 7 2-3 no-hit innings until Matt Nokes singled for Detroit's only hit Wednesday night, but the Tigers beat the Cleveland Indians 2-1. Candiotti hurt himself with his own wildness, walking seven and making a wild pick-off throw. A walk and first baseman Joe Carter's error led to a run in the fifth inning, and a walk and Nokes' single made it 2-0 in the eighth.

With Cleveland trailing in the eighth, Candiotti could have been within one out of pitching a no-hitter. But Nokes lined a clean single over second baseman Tommy Hinzo's head to score pinch runner Jim Walewander, who entered after a leadoff walk to Darrell Evans.

Candiotti, a knuckleballer, fell to 7-14. One of the victories was a one-hitter against New York on Aug. 1, when Candiotti held the Yankees hitless for seven innings. Candiotti struck out seven.

Jack Morris, 16-7, gave up five hits for the victory.

Blue Jays 7, Angels 6
TORONTO - George Bell hit a two-run opposite field homer in the eighth inning to snap a 5-5 tie and lift the Toronto Blue Jays to a 7-6 victory over the California Angels Wednesday.

Bell's homer, his American League-leading 42nd, came off a 3-0 pitch from DeWayne Buce, 5-4, and offset a two-run homer by California's George Hendrick in the top of the inning that had tied the score 5-5.

White Sox 5, Rangers 0
CHICAGO - Greg Walker hit a three-run homer and Dave LaPoint combined with Bobby Thigpen on a five-hitter Wednesday night as the Chicago White Sox beat the Texas Rangers 5-0.

LaPoint, 3-2, gave up four hits in seven innings. He struck out three and walked one. Thigpen relieved to start the eighth.

Walker's 24th homer capped a four-run sixth inning. Fred MacRae and Jerry Hairston singled with one out and Paul Kilgus, 2-4, and Ivan Calderon had a tiebreaking RBI single.

Mariners 8, Orioles 6
BALTIMORE - Mickey Brantley drove in three runs with a pair of doubles. Dave Valle had two RBI singles Wednesday night, leading the Seattle Mariners over the Baltimore Orioles 8-6.

Yankees 3, Athletics 2
NEW YORK - Jerry Royster singled home the winning run in the 10th inning after Mickey Tettleton's passed ball allowed Don Mattingly to reach base.

Hatcher left in limbo after bat incident

Associated Press

HOUSTON - A suspension of Houston outfielder Billy Hatcher for using a corked bat would be a serious blow to the Astros' chances of repeating as National League Western Division champions, Manager Hal Lanier says.

Hatcher, one of the few Astros who has hit consistently all season, was ejected in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's 3-2 loss to Chicago after his bat split in two, revealing it had been corked.

Umpire crew chief John McSherry said the bat contained 3-4 inches of cork and had been sent to the league office. Katy Peery, the league's spokeswoman, said it would be several days before a decision could be made on suspension.

"I have to stand up for him because the bat wasn't even his," Lanier said. "I'd hate to be without a player of his caliber for any length of time at this stage of the pennant race."

Hatcher is hitting .311, ranks fourth in the NL with 149 hits.

He has 11 home runs and 57 runs batted in.

Tuesday night's loss was Houston's seventh in a row, dropping the Astros farther behind division leaders San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Hatcher said all of his regular bats were broken, so he unwittingly grabbed the corked bat in Tuesday's loss.

Lanier backed Hatcher's story.

"Putting cork in a bat is not going to help a Billy Hatcher at all because of the kind of hitter he is," Lanier said.

That is one of the bats our pitchers use to play their silly little games to see how far they can hit the ball in batting practice.

"It just happened to be the same model of bat Billy uses and he was out of bats, so he picked it up."

The incident occurred at a time when the league is looking into the possibility that some bats have been tampered with.

Reds gain ground on leaders

SAN FRANCISCO - Herm Winningham drove in four runs with a home run and a double as the Montreal Expos defeated the San Francisco Giants 7-3 Wednesday.

With the Expos trailing 3-0 after six innings, Winningham hit a three-run homer to cap a four-run seventh and added an RBI double in the ninth.

Pascual Perez, 1-6, won his first major-league game since July 14, 1985. He left in the seventh with runners at second and third and none out. Perez, the former Atlanta pitcher who was out of baseball last year, allowed six hits and three runs in six-plus innings.

Reliever Andy McGaffigan retired three straight batters to end the threat in the seventh, and Tim Burke pitched the final two innings for his 13th save.

Winningham drove in four runs as the Montreal Expos to a 3-1 victory in the inning.

The Reds gained ground on the league leaders with a three-game sweep of the San Francisco Giants Wednesday night.

ST. LOUIS - Bo Diaz hit a two-run homer to give the St. Louis Cardinals the lead in the fourth inning of Tuesday night's 3-2 loss to Chicago after his bat split in two, revealing it had been corked.

NFL brings back old clock

Associated Press

NEW YORK - NFL owners bowed to pressure from coaches Wednesday and scrapped the experimental 40-second clock, reinstating the old 30-second clock for the regular season and playoffs.

In a vote taken by computerized teletype, 13 teams voted to retain the clock and 15 voted against it. Under NFL by-laws, any new rule must be approved by 21 of the 28 teams.

Under the experiment, approved by the owners last spring, the 40-second clock was started as soon as the whistle blew to end the previous play. After timeouts, teams had 25 seconds to put the ball into play.

Are the Irish ready for those games? Last year all but one of the tight contests slipped away.

"I think our players learned what it takes to compete week in and week out against the schedule we play," Holtz said. "They've been there before. They've been in close games against good teams."

Yes, the returning Irish players have been there before. But the key to winning the close ones is often a good kicking game.

"You never know how they're going to play on the turf," Holtz said. "We'll just have to wait and see. Phelan has done some awfully good things in practice."*

In preparation for the opening game, Holtz began holding practice on the astroturf of Carter Field on Wednesday.

In addition, some of the Irish reserves (the prep team) are wearing the numbers of Michigan Wolverine plays against the Irish first teams.

"You never know how they're going to play on the turf," Holtz said. "They've been doing well on grass ( scrimmages) in front of 34,000 no-shows."

The last scrimmage of the season is slated for Friday afternoon in Notre Dame Stadium, and is completely closed.

Women's cross country strong heading into Purdue Triangular

By THERESA KELLY
Sports Writer

Running across the golf courses of the Midwest is not everyone's idea of a good time, but the Irish women's cross country team does just that, training hard and racing against some tough competition.

Coach Dan Ryan has already seen improvement in what is only the second year of varsity competition for the Irish.

"We've got our top seven runners returning," said Ryan. "Plus the addition of several strong freshmen and some good walk-ons."

Last year's team leaders, Julia Merkel and Kathleen Lehman, are back to improve on last season's impressive performances. Freshman additions to the team are Jenny Ledrick, Renee Kaptur, and Terese Lemanski.

"We're really strong and deep," said Ryan. "The team's have strong individuals, but our depth may be the deciding factor in all the meets."

The first test of that depth comes this weekend at the Purdue Triangular.

"We're up against some tough competition with Purdue and Illinois State," said Ryan. Both teams finished among the top fifteen in last year's tough district meet.

"This weekend will be a good indication of what to expect for the season," said Ryan. "This will take the place of our time trials, so we'll find out a lot about the team."

Ryan says the team is greatly improved, but the schedule is also tougher than in 1986.

"We've dropped the dual meet with Detroit and added Ball State, plus the Notre Dame Invitational, which includes Michigan State, Virginia and top teams from the NAIA and Divisions 1 and II."

But the toughest race for the Irish will, as always, be the District Meet. The district includes Wisconsin (number two in the nation last year) and Iowa (ranked No. 14 nationwide). A goal for Ryan's team is to finish in the top fifteen at District.

Another battle will be for the North Star Conference championship. Ryan expects the Irish and the Blue Demons of DePaul to run a close race for the title.

"DePaul has two outstanding individuals, twin sisters who are great runners. I expect our depth to overcome the strength of those two."

With good reason, Ryan is enthusiastic about the upcoming season.

"I've seen significant improvements over last year. The girls came in to practice in shape and ready to go. We worked with them from there, and everything is going really well."

Top seeds successful

Associated Press
NEW YORK - Sixth-seeded Jimmy Connors celebrated his 35th birthday Wednesday with a 6-1, 6-4, 6-4 victory over fellow American Joey Rive in an opening-round match at the U.S. open tennis championships.

"This is no different than the last 18 years," said Connors, the highest-seeded American male at the Open. "I'm looking forward to the day when I don't."

Other first-round winners included second-seeded Stefan Edberg of Sweden, No. 3 Mats Wilander of Sweden and No. 5 Miloslav Mecir of Czechoslovakia.

Connors served extremely well against Rive, ranked 101st in the world. The five-time Open winner got 89 percent of his first serves in during the match, including 96 percent in the final set.

"I played quite well," he said. "I just wanted to keep my mind on my business."

Notre Dame gets away with win

By PETE SKIKO
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame soccer team opened its season at Loyola on Tuesday, narrowly escaping in overtime by the score of 2-1. The outcome was a little too narrow for Irish Head Coach Dennis Grace.

"Hey, we'll take the win," said Grace, in his fourth year as the Irish mentor, "but we'll certainly have to play with better intensity than that if we're going to compete this year. We quite easily could have been up by two or three goals by the time we got our first goal, and we let down after we did score."

The win came by virtue of freshman Randy Morriss. Morriss opened the scoring at the 22 minute mark with the assist going Bruce "Tiger" McCourt, the 12th leading scorer in Notre Dame history. Loyola tallied early in the second period to tie the game, and that's the way it stayed until LaVigne fired home the gamewinner.

To Grace, however, the win was but consolation for his squad's relatively lackluster performance.

"In competitive soccer, teams are most vulnerable to a letdown right after they score or right after they are scored upon," explained Grace. "We definitely eased up after we got the early score. Essentially, we sat back, watched the game, and hoped they (Loyola) wouldn't score. You can't do that and expect to win against a good soccer team. Loyola gained confidence with every minute that we didn't score. Loyola taught us a lot - hopefully next time we'll do the teaching."

Grace realizes, however, that it is early in the season and that he played the limit of 18 players during the course of the game, many of them freshmen.

"Not only did I play 18, but all 18 were in by halftime," said Grace. "At the half, one of the ones we know me that we have played the limit already and I was shocked. I was trying to give job. We know what we have a chance, and that might have been the limit."

But I don't anticipate that we'll have many more problems similar to those as the season wears on. The veterans know it."

Secondary looks to hit hard

By BRIAN O'GARA

If Irish strong safety George Streeter has his way, Notre Dame's opponents will be using a lot of ice and tape after 60 minutes with Irish.

"Except for the (Chicago) Bears," said Streeter, "I don't think anything is going to hit harder than Notre Dame this season."

With only nine days before the Irish open against Michigan, defensive secondary coach Terry Forbes is readying his troops for the rigors of another top-notch schedule. Despite losing cornerback Troy Wilson and free safety Steve Lawrence to graduation last May, Forbes looks for good things from the defensive backs this fall.

"We'll have a different crew out there this season," said Forbes. "but they are playing well together and they have come to understand the system very well in the past year."

"To play defensive back, you have to have the physical ability to do it, and maintain concentration on your job. Of the you guys have to do and have the physical ability. Our the letdowns. Our the letdowns have been good, but we have to keep working harder on that aspect of our game."

Streeter will be returning to the strong safety position that he earned midway through the 1986 campaign after Brandy Wells' knee injury. Streeter's 44 tackles last fall is tops among returning defensive backs. Battling Streeter for the starting spot at strong safety has been junior Pat Eilers, a transfer from Yale who has added depth and a hard-hitting edge at the moment to start the Michigan game.

Irish QB confident

"Hail to the victors."

One of the Notre Dame second-string linemen was humming the Michigan fight song after quarterback Terry Andrysiak fumbled a snap and the defense recovered. That was in a practice Monday.

But in less than two weeks—nine days to be exact—it's not going to be a second-string linemen. And he's not going to be humming, either.

In front of some 106,000 people at Michigan Stadium next Saturday afternoon, 11 hungry Wolverine defenders will be lining up to take their shots at Andrysiak, a quarterback with a lot of weight on his relatively untested shoulders.

"The consistency of Terry Andrysiak will go a long way toward determining whether or not we're going to have a successful year," Holtz said. "He's shown good control of the offense so far (this fall). There are still a few things to work on and sharpen up, but he has established himself as our number-one quarterback."

The senior started one game last season and one during his sophomore year, and has completed 52 of 91 career passes.

And although Michigan Stadium is not the friendliest of places to begin a tenure as Notre Dame's number-one quarterback, Andrysiak has an interesting outlook on the welcome to receive nine days from now.

"I'm really looking forward to it," he said. "The pressure of playing there might get me away from the pressure of playing for Coach Holtz in practice day and in day out. They really pick you to death around here."

But the keen eye Holtz has been keeping on his top signal-caller seems to be paying off. Andrysiak has been solid in both fall scrimmages so far, completing most of his passes while running the option.

"It's really hard to tell how much better you're getting when you're always after you to keep it at," Andrysiak said. "But I feel confident."

The big thing for me right now is keeping things under control."
