HPC discusses funding of non-alcoholic events

Associated Press

WASHINGTON-President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev signed a treaty Tuesday banning intermediate-range nuclear missiles and began talks that would reduce the number of more threatening long-range weapons.

There were "no surprises or new proposals" during the first day of the three-day summit, an administration official said Tuesday evening after both leaders expressed satisfaction with the day's main order of business.

"We have made history," Reagan declared after he and Gorbachev spent more than three minutes putting their signatures-time and again-into feather-bound volumes containing the treaty and accompanying documents.

The INF treaty gives the superpowers close to three years to destroy their arsenals of short- and intermediate-range missiles in the 3,000- to 5,000-mile range. This process allows 100 missiles on each side to be destroyed by launching them without their warheads or by dismantling and expelling their components.

"We can be proud of planting this sapling which may one day grow into a great oak of peace," Gorbachev proclaimed.

"May December 8th, 1987 become a date that will be inscribed in the history books-a date that will mark the watershed separating the era of a mounting risk of nuclear war from the era of a demilitarization of human life," the Soviet leader said.

Sikorski said both Reagan and Gorbachev, leaders of the world's foremost capitalist and communist societies, sat side by side to sign the agreement under the cut-glass chandeliers of the East Room.

After the day's summit was over, Gorbachev hosted a campus sophomore, was crossing the street with the light when he was struck by the car. This leads us to believe the driver did not stop (at the light) as he should have," said Hedl.

He said the driver was very shaken when Security talked to him Monday night, and Security wanted to re-interview him to see if something more could be learned.

Flower power

A senior's room is flagrantly fragrant after she received 300 roses from a person she has dated. The student, who asked to remain anonymous, has already given away half of the roses away to friends.

Auto accident victim is recovering from her injuries

By JIM RILEY
News Editor

The Notre Dame student who was hit by a car on Juniper Road Monday night was recovering from a concussion Tuesday, according to medical personnel at the student health center.

Unconscious, the woman was taken by ambulance to St. Joseph's Medical Center. She was released to the student health center Monday night, said Hedl.

Sikorski said that according to interviews conducted with witnesses, the woman, an off-duty police officer, was walking in the 30s.

The Observatory / Paul Desenger

Superpowers sign historic treaty

Richard Bretzing, head of the FBI office in Los Angeles, said before the ABC report. "It appears at this point-there has yet to be substantiated-that it was a criminal act on board that caused the craft to come down."

ABC news said a former employee of US Air, using his air-line badge to avoid security checks, boarded the plane intending to kill the boss who had recently fired him and was on the flight. The former US Air employee reportedly left behind a suicide note in which he said he would get on the plane with a .44 caliber Magnum and six rounds of ammunition, said ABC's Tom Schell.

In Washington, David Shippley, a spokesman for USAir, said the passengers included a former airline employee. "It appears that the employee who was fired on Nov. 19 for 'misappropriation of funds.' However, he said he had no information as to whether the former employee was in any way involved in the accident."

"The pavement was wet, but it was not raining at the time of the accident," said Sikorski. "The rain had been intermittent that evening."

"We can only state that this historic-making agreement will not be an end in itself, but a beginning."

Reagan and Gorbachev, leaders of the world's foremost capitalist and communist societies, sat side by side to sign the agreement under the cut-glass chandeliers of the East Room.

After the day's summit was over, Gorbachev hosted a banquet for his boss, among others.

He said the driver was very shaken when Security talked to him Monday night, and Security wanted to re-interview him to see if something more could be learned.

Sikorski said both Reagan and Gorbachev, leaders of the world's foremost capitalist and communist societies, sat side by side to sign the agreement under the cut-glass chandeliers of the East Room.

After the day's summit was over, Gorbachev hosted a banquet for his boss, among others.
In Brief

Airport security checkpoints have confiscated thousands of weapons over the years, but critics say the screening is not catching all vans through airports, and FAA spot checks have shown weapons often get through. A series of tests by the Federal Aviation Administration revealed that the actual incidents of machine guns and other weapons escaping detection have been alarmingly high. During the series of FAA tests, the agency found a wide range of accuracy in the screening programs. At one airport just over half the mock weapons passed through. Overall the detection rate ranged from 4 percent to 99 percent. - Associated Press

Of Interest

Free refreshments will be served at showings of “A Christmas Carol” and “It’s a Wonderful Life.” The showings will be tonight at 7 and in the game room of Haggard College Center, Saint Mary’s. - The Observer

Financial Aid Forms for 1988-89 are being distributed this week through the mail. Students who have not received an FAF by next week may pick one up at the Financial Aid Office. - The Observer

Dimensions in jazz, a concert featuring ND’s two Big Bands, will take place tonight at 8 in Washington Hall. - The Observer

Air Force ROTC will be holding their annual Dining In in the JACC Monogram Room tonight. The guest of honor in the Annual Alumni Casey Awards is Space Division, Los Angeles Air Force Base. - The Observer

The Bridge Club meets tonight at 11 in the basement of LaFortune. This is the last meeting of the semester. - The Observer

The Equestrian Club meets tonight at 10 in Room 222 of the Hesburgh Library. The meeting is mandatory for all those who planning to attend Student government to the JACC M onogram Room tonight. The guest of honor is their claim. - The Observer

The Ceramics Department Annual Christmas Pottery Sale continues today in the O’Shaughnessy Great Hall from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and will run until Friday. - The Observer

Applications for the 1988 AnTrost/Theexecutive committee are available from the SUB secretary on 2nd floor LaFortune and are due tomorrow. For questions, call Colleen at 239-3022. - The Observer

Sophomore Ski Trip signups continue today through Friday from 2 to 4 p.m. in the Sophomore class office, 2nd floor LaFortune. The trip will be the weekend of Jan. 23 and anytime Mountain. See flyers for more detail. - The Observer

Broomball Tournament Sign-ups will continue today and tomorrow in the SUB office, 2nd floor LaFortune. Each team must have 7 players. The tournament will be held during Winterfest at the beginning of next semester. - The Observer

We want to know!

If you see or hear of anything you consider newsworthy, let us know. Call The Observer news desk at 239-5003, anytime, day or night.

Food fight bill thrown about for a long pass

Oh that food fight.

Way back in September, a group of students threw a food fight and caused $4,000 worth of damage. Months passed, Tim Brown won the Heisman. Muffy started the women’s basketball team off on the right foot. The Student Senate completed something useful— the survey.

During that time, the ominous $400 bill somehow materialized in the hands of somebody and then everybody heard about it and nobody wanted to pay it, but everybody thought somebody else should. Then came the ultimate delay—the bill was given to student government to take care of.

The passing of the bill was like the old lateral kickoff return during a football game on the quad. I’m not sure who caught it first, but I think the jersey read “Class Officers.” No Heisman for those guys. They pitched it to the Hall Presidents Council. A couple of people on HPC thought it would be a good idea to try to advance the bill toward the “paid-in-full” endzone. They concocted a plan, but they needed help blocking from the class offices, student body government, and student senate. HPC called out the signals, but the senate tripped the SVC, and the bill was fumbled. Unfortunately, the senate recovered.

In the meantime, the fans, especially the student body, saw the play developing. They5 began to boo, with full throat. The class offices, those wild and crazy representatives of the student body, couldn’t hear the boos over the din of their own thinking. They decided to call a timeout and make a plan.

That’s where we are now. The bill still hasn’t been paid, and nobody knows if it will be paid. In fact, a lot of people don’t know if it should be paid. I’d even go out on a limb and say that a few of the fans don’t care if it is ever paid. The issue is dying, as the scoreboard ticks away. But the senate doesn’t want it to die. Heck no. They can debate it right into overtime.

The latest notion to pop out of that bastion of rational thinking is the idea that the money for the bill could be recovered by doing away with ice cream or dessert for awhile. I can just hear the fans singing the new version of our Alma Mater

Notre Dame Our Mother, has taken dessert away. Ashamedly in the dining halls, we endure a dessert-less day.

Our little bowls are empty, ‘the food fight’ is their claim.

Desserts are gone forever, at the senate’s Notre Dame.

The defense has virtually left the field. They figure that only the senate can stop the senate from performing well. The biggest obstacle for the senate is that they don’t know which way to go.

Should they carry the bill toward the “paid-in-full” endzone? If they do that, how do they get there? Using a no dessert formation is sure to generate ridicule from the student section in the stands. If they try to advance out of a pre-set fundraiser formation, they may not get enough blocking from everyone to successfully pull the play off.

Maybe the senate could win if they simply put the ball back into Coach Goldrick’s hands and said “Sorry, this play won’t work. We have better things to tend to, like the Contingency Fund.” Coach Goldrick could then discard the food fight plan, something the fans thought he should have done at the start.

One thing is certain. Not even Arena Football provides as much fun as the food fight issue has. Maybe we could make Lou Holtz pay it. It was his fault we beat Michigan to begin with.

Can the senate complete the play? I know they won’t pass the ball, because there is almost nobody left to pass it. Besides, the senate would never pass up a chance to make a mountain range out of a dirt speck. What I want to know is, if the bill is paid, does anybody win? Does anybody lose? Does anybody care? Besides the senate, of course.

$25,000 SCHOLARSHIPS: THE FAST TRACK TO SUCCESS.

Two-year NROTC scholarships offer tuition and other financial benefits worth as much as $25,000 to qualified college sophomores. All these benefits are provided for one purpose: to educate and train qualified young men and women to serve as commissioned officers in the Navy.

The Navy pays for tuition, textbooks, instructional fees, and gives you an allowance of $100 a month for up to 20 months during your last two years of college. Upon graduation and completion of requirements, you’ll become an important part of the Navy adventure as a Navy officer.

Call your Navy representative for more information on this challenging and rewarding program.

For more information call Lieutenant Commander Tia Wiesand at 239-7774 or stop by the Navy ROTC office in the ROTC building.
Plane crashes in Antarctica; 3 Americans hurt, 3 missing

Associated Press

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand—A U.S. military transport plane carrying 11 people crashed on an icy airstrip in Antarctica Wednesday, and reports said three people were missing and at least three were injured.

Cmdr. Bob Harler, head of the U.S. Navy's Antarctic research program, Operation Deepfreeze, said the C-130 Hercules plane was carrying 11 people and crashed on a small airstrip about 600 miles north of America's McMurdo Station.

He said he was unable to comment on reports by ham radio operators that three Americans were unaccounted for and feared dead.

"I have no information... of any fatalities. That would be merely speculative," Harler said.

The four-engine plane, equipped with ski-type landing gear, crashed at 9 a.m. (5 p.m. Tuesday EST) during an operation to recover another Hercules that went down at the site 15 years ago.

Russell Park, a ham operator who said he overheard transmissions from McMurdo, reported the plane's wing tip dragged, then the craft flipped over.

The New Zealand Press Association quoted Park as saying, "They found all but three of the passengers. There are three injured. One has back injuries, one had neck injuries and one had a few broken ribs."

The news agency said emergency medical teams were headed to the crash site from the U.S. National Science Foundation base at McMurdo Sound, three hours flying time from the crash site.

3 Americans hurt, 3 missing

Plane crashes in Antarctica; day, and reports said three cules plane was carrying 11 people were missing and at least three were injured.

Associated Press

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand—A U.S. military transport plane carrying 11 people crashed on an icy airstrip in Antarctica Wednesday, and reports said three people were missing and at least three were injured.

Cmdr. Bob Harler, head of the U.S. Navy's Antarctic research program, Operation Deepfreeze, said the C-130 Hercules plane was carrying 11 people and crashed on a small airstrip about 600 miles north of America's McMurdo Station.

He said he was unable to comment on reports by ham radio operators that three Americans were unaccounted for and feared dead.

"I have no information... of any fatalities. That would be merely speculative," Harler said.

The four-engine plane, equipped with ski-type landing gear, crashed at 9 a.m. (5 p.m. Tuesday EST) during an operation to recover another Hercules that went down at the site 15 years ago.

Russell Park, a ham operator who said he overheard transmissions from McMurdo, reported the plane's wing tip dragged, then the craft flipped over.

The New Zealand Press Association quoted Park as saying, "They found all but three of the passengers. There are three injured. One has back injuries, one had neck injuries and one had a few broken ribs."

The news agency said emergency medical teams were headed to the crash site from the U.S. National Science Foundation base at McMurdo Sound, three hours flying time from the crash site.

Attention Juniors:

IF YOU THOUGHT YOU COULDN'T START AT THE TOP

NOW YOU MAY

Explore summer internships with an industry leader which
-Demands Entrepreneurship
-Emphasizes Career Growth Based on Individual Performance
-Offers Challenging Responsibility
-Provides a TOP-rated Internship Training Program

*Interviews to be held on Tuesday, February 9, 1988
*Profile form turn in date by Monday, January 25, 1988 at the Career and Placement Services Office
*For profile forms and more information please contact the Career and Placement Services Office

THE MAY DEPARTMENT STORES COMPANY
EXCELLENCE IN RETAILING

Door decor

Seniors Kara O'Neil, left, and Kate Hyder decorate Hyder's door in Howard Hall. Hyder puts on the final bit of tape to hold Santa down, so he can rest securely during the holiday season.

HPC continued from page 1

Cassidy also suggested that the dorms should pair off and plan one large non-alcoholic event, with the possibility of awards given to the dorms who sponsored successful or unusual events, according to Kathleen Magicic, president of Breen-Phillips Hall.

"We are in a quandary about this, and we are wondering why we can't use the money we are seeking the way we want. Personally, I would prefer to spend it on the picnics," Freeman remarked, referring to the dorm picnics with bands that Carroll Hall has held in recent years.

HPC couldn't

THOUGHT

YOU

COULDN'T

START

AT THE TOP

NOW YOU MAY

WHAT'S THE NEXT BEST THING TO A CARIBBEAN VACATION?

A Fiesta TanPro Skin Care Kit to promote a tan.

You can give someone a place in the sun for only $25.00. Our pre-wrapped giftpack includes a gift certificate for 10 tanning sessions and a TanPro Skin Care Kit to promote a beautiful, healthy-looking tan.

Only $25.00

TANNING GIFTPACK

Check your local phone listing for the Fiesta nearest you!
AIDS education is urged for physicians

Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - Personal physicians need more competence in counseling patients afflicted with AIDS, and medical schools need to prepare their students better for that task, a top AIDS researcher said Tuesday.

However, Dr. Michael Gottlieb, the founding chairman of the American Foundation for AIDS Research and the first doctor to diagnose the disease, said he held little hope doctors would be able to overcome their prejudices, fears and lack of training to take on a greater role in curbing the spread of the fatal affliction.

"I think the prognosis is poor," Gottlieb said at a news conference marking the end of an Indiana University symposium on acquired immune deficiency syndrome.

"Physicians are often in a position to counsel such persons," Gottlieb added, "but usually they fail.

AIDS, for which there is no known cure, attacks and destroys the body’s immune system. It is spread primarily through sexual contact and blood products.

"There is a growing recognition that we can’t rely on laboratory science alone and on technology alone to control this epidemic," said a behavioral response as well, and much expanded programs of public education, are essential," Gottlieb said.

Gottlieb, director of clinical research at Porter Medical Laboratories in Sherman Oaks, Calif., criticized the behavior of most physicians when they have diagnosed AIDS in a patient.

Most physicians have no formal training in human sexuality, he noted, and they avoid taking a patient’s sexual history as part of his or her medical history. In addition, some physicians are prejudiced against homosexuals or are afraid to work with the AIDS virus.

Andrew Mattison and Dr. David McWhirter, whose research on male homosexual couples was published in 1983 in the book, "The Male Couple," said emotional reactions in AIDS patients range from increased spirituality to a desire to help other sufferers through videotaped interviews and educational efforts.

An MBA degree from Ohio State can bring you greater opportunities, income, and career challenges. Our nationally recognized MBA program offers more-based financial aid and has no prerequisites. We enroll both domestic and nonresident majors. Many of our graduates have gone on to jobs with established leaders like IBM, Goldman Sachs, AT&T, and Procter & Gamble. For a free brochure about our programs, please write or call:

Director, MBA Programs
The Ohio State University
112 Hungerford Hall
1775 College Road
Columbus, OH 43210-1399
614-292-8511

An artistic Snite
Senior Raquel Sastre tours the Snite Museum, looking at "Topical Map, 1987" a photographic collection by Richard Gray. The work is part of the Annual Faculty Exhibit, which will be on display until Jan. 17.

We're looking for a Freshman Orientation Chairperson for next year. Applications are available at the Student Government Secretary’s Office on the 2nd Floor of LaFortune. They must be returned to the Student Government Office between 8:30-4:30 by Friday, December 11. Thank you,

A weekend retreat experience

GUIDED BY STUDENTS, FACULTY & STAFF

An opportunity, in dialogue with others, to deepen your understanding of yourself, your values, your relationship with Christ, your experience of Christian community and service.

WHEN: October 9-11, 1987
November 20-22, 1987
January 22-24, 1988
March 25-27, 1988

CONTACT: Campus Ministry Office
(Badin Hall) 239-5242
COST: $15.00
Soviet Union offers no clemency for pilot

Associated Press

MOSCOW—The Soviet Union on Tuesday squelched rumors that daredevil pilot Mathias Rust would be out of prison and back home in West Germany for Christmas.

Rust astounded the world with his flight through the vaunted Soviet air defense system to Red Square, where he landed next to the Kremlin wall. The unauthorized flight led to a top-echelon shakeup in the Soviet military.

The 19-year-old pilot, who said his flight was to advance peace, has been in confinement since he landed.

On Sept. 4, the Soviet Supreme Court convicted him of illegal entry into the Soviet Union, violating international air safety regulations and malicious hooliganism, and sentenced him to four years in a labor camp.

The accord, whose final language wasn’t agreed upon until hours before it was signed by President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev on Tuesday, is described by those who worked on it as the most meticulous document of its kind ever negotiated.

Copies of the treaty itself weren’t publicly available until after the signing. But well before the document was finished, detractors complained that it contained too little protection against cheating and that, while billed as an agreement to scrap all missiles that can strike targets 300 to 3,400 miles from their launch sites. Because most such missiles are mobile and some resemble others outside the affected class, compliance with the treaty is difficult to ensure.

Reagan said, “We can only hope that this history-making agreement will not be an end in itself, but a beginning.”

The INF treaty, as it is commonly called, requires both sides to scrap all missiles that can strike targets 300 to 3,400 miles from their launch sites. Because most such missiles are mobile and some resemble others outside the affected class, compliance with the treaty is difficult to ensure.

Reagan said, “We can only hope that this history-making agreement will not be an end in itself, but a beginning.”

The INF treaty does that. However, the INF treaty, as it is commonly called, requires both sides to scrap all missiles that can strike targets 300 to 3,400 miles from their launch sites. Because most such missiles are mobile and some resemble others outside the affected class, compliance with the treaty is difficult to ensure.

Reagan said, “We can only hope that this history-making agreement will not be an end in itself, but a beginning.”

The INF treaty, as it is commonly called, requires both sides to scrap all missiles that can strike targets 300 to 3,400 miles from their launch sites. Because most such missiles are mobile and some resemble others outside the affected class, compliance with the treaty is difficult to ensure.
Summit
continued from page 1
group of about 60 prominent Americans at the Soviet embassy. He appealed for scholars and artists to pressure political figures to forge a "new relationship" between the super-powers.

Following the session, the Gorbachevs were guests at a
White House state dinner.
In their private summit talks, the two leaders agreed to Reagan's suggestion to talk on a first-name basis: Ron and Mikhail. At their two earlier summits, it was "Mr. President," and "Mr. General Secretary." The president pressed Gorachev on human rights and said U.S. officials would give the Soviets "some cases" involving Jewish "refuseniks" and divided spouses, according to a senior administration official who declined to be identified. Gorbachev defended the Soviets' human rights record
and countered with problems in the United States.
On arms control and other is-Sues, the official said, "There were no surprises or new proposals today."

Nicaragua may prosecute
downed American pilot
Associated Press

MANAGUA, Nicaragua-
Nicaragua said Tuesday its soldiers shot down a small plane
flown by an American linked to Contra rebels, and he may be put on trial.

James Denby, 57, of Carlinville, Ill., "was moved to the capital Monday, and at this time is being interrogated by U.S.-supported rebels, Defense Minister Humberto Ortega told a news conference. He said the American was "in good health."

Contra leader Adolfo Calero
said in Miami: "Mr. Denby or an American was " in good health."

In a recent interview, Denby
said he sometimes gave the
rebels food or flew their
wounded to hospitals, but did
not supply weapons or help
them fight. He owns a farm in
Costa Rica near the
Nicaraguan border.

The Defense Ministry said
denied fire hit the fuel tank of
Denby's Cessna 172 and it m ade
an emergency landing Sunday
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Caribbean coast just inside
Nicaragua's border with Costa
Rica.

Ortega said Denby might be
tried, as was Eugene Hasenfus
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Contra leader Adolfo Calero
said in Miami: "Mr. Denby or
what ever his name is has absolutely no connection to us."
He accused the leftist Sandinis-
tas of generating propaganda
from an illegal attack on a plane.

In a recent interview, Denby
said he sometimes gave the
rebels food or flew their
wounded to hospitals, but did
d not supply weapons or help
them fight. He owns a farm in
Costa Rica near the
Nicaraguan border.

The Defense Ministry said
denied fire hit the fuel tank of
Denby's Cessna 172 and it m ade
an emergency landing Sunday
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Caribbean coast just inside
Nicaragua's border with Costa
Rica.

Ortega said Denby might be
tried, as was Eugene Hasenfus
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Contra leader Adolfo Calero
said in Miami: "Mr. Denby or
whatever his name is has absolutely no connection to us."
He accused the leftist Sandinis-
tas of generating propaganda
from an illegal attack on a plane.

In a recent interview, Denby
said he sometimes gave the
rebels food or flew their
wounded to hospitals, but did
d not supply weapons or help
them fight. He owns a farm in
Costa Rica near the
Nicaraguan border.

The Defense Ministry said
denied fire hit the fuel tank of
Denby's Cessna 172 and it m ade
an emergency landing Sunday
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Caribbean coast just inside
Nicaragua's border with Costa
Rica.

Ortega said Denby might be
tried, as was Eugene Hasenfus
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Contra leader Adolfo Calero
said in Miami: "Mr. Denby or
whatever his name is has absolutely no connection to us."
He accused the leftist Sandinis-
tas of generating propaganda
from an illegal attack on a plane.

In a recent interview, Denby
said he sometimes gave the
rebels food or flew their
wounded to hospitals, but did
d not supply weapons or help
them fight. He owns a farm in
Costa Rica near the
Nicaraguan border.

The Defense Ministry said
denied fire hit the fuel tank of
Denby's Cessna 172 and it m ade
an emergency landing Sunday
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Caribbean coast just inside
Nicaragua's border with Costa
Rica.

Ortega said Denby might be
tried, as was Eugene Hasenfus
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Contra leader Adolfo Calero
said in Miami: "Mr. Denby or
whatever his name is has absolutely no connection to us."
He accused the leftist Sandinis-
tas of generating propaganda
from an illegal attack on a plane.

In a recent interview, Denby
said he sometimes gave the
rebels food or flew their
wounded to hospitals, but did
d not supply weapons or help
them fight. He owns a farm in
Costa Rica near the
Nicaraguan border.

The Defense Ministry said
denied fire hit the fuel tank of
Denby's Cessna 172 and it m ade
an emergency landing Sunday
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Caribbean coast just inside
Nicaragua's border with Costa
Rica.

Ortega said Denby might be
tried, as was Eugene Hasenfus
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Contra leader Adolfo Calero
said in Miami: "Mr. Denby or
whatever his name is has absolutely no connection to us."
He accused the leftist Sandinis-
tas of generating propaganda
from an illegal attack on a plane.

In a recent interview, Denby
said he sometimes gave the
rebels food or flew their
wounded to hospitals, but did
d not supply weapons or help
them fight. He owns a farm in
Costa Rica near the
Nicaraguan border.

The Defense Ministry said
denied fire hit the fuel tank of
Denby's Cessna 172 and it m ade
an emergency landing Sunday
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Caribbean coast just inside
Nicaragua's border with Costa
Rica.

Ortega said Denby might be
tried, as was Eugene Hasenfus
at San Juan del Norte, on the
Contra leader Adolfo Calero
said in Miami: "Mr. Denby or
whatever his name is has absolutely no connection to us."
He accused the leftist Sandinis-
tas of generating propaganda
from an illegal attack on a plane.
Most of Washington this week is aflut­ter over General Secretary Gorbachev’s surprise visit to sign the historic INF accord, as well it should be. Yet while Gorbachev and Reagan exchange public relation blows, Congress is working furiously on the recently con­cluded budget reduction accord. Time is indeed of the essence, for unless the two-year, $76 billion dollar plan passes Congress and is signed by the President, Rudman’s sequester will rear its ugly head with $22 billion in automatic, across-the-board cuts for fiscal 1989. A failure to enact the plan could topple the world markets’ already precarious price/valuation floor. Accord­ingly, the content of the package becomes for the moment secondary, a surry sit­uation indeed, for this budget deal fails miserably to signal a determined United States government bent upon fiscal responsibility.

Matt Slaughter
and another thing

Even a superficial glance at the plan’s particulars reveals a serious lack of resolve among its authors. $30 billion in short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “im proved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt. Discount these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

The problem as I see it is that Congress and the president recognize the dire economic situation facing the country, but lack the will to act. Yet at least a quarter of this comes from short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “improved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt.

Rather than present these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

The problem as I see it is that Congress and the president recognize the dire economic situation facing the country, but lack the will to act. Yet at least a quarter of this comes from short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “improved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt.

Rather than present these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

Slaughter is a sophomore govern­ment/economics major and an Assis­tant Viewpoint Editor

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

The Observer

P.C. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The Observer is not affiliated with the administration of either institution. The News is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unwritten standards represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all students of the school community, and the free expression of opposing opinion on campus. Through letters, is encouraged.

Viewpoint

Budget accord fails in lack of resolve

Most of Washington this week is aflut­ter over General Secretary Gorbachev’s surprise visit to sign the historic INF accord, as well it should be. Yet while Gorbachev and Reagan exchange public relation blows, Congress is working furiously on the recently con­cluded budget reduction accord. Time is indeed of the essence, for unless the two-year, $76 billion dollar plan passes Congress and is signed by the President, Rudman’s sequester will rear its ugly head with $22 billion in automatic, across-the-board cuts for fiscal 1989. A failure to enact the plan could topple the world markets’ already precarious price/valuation floor. Accord­ingly, the content of the package becomes for the moment secondary, a surry sit­uation indeed, for this budget deal fails miserably to signal a determined United States government bent upon fiscal responsibility.

Matt Slaughter
and another thing

Even a superficial glance at the plan’s particulars reveals a serious lack of resolve among its authors. $30 billion in short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “im proved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt. Discount these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

The problem as I see it is that Congress and the president recognize the dire economic situation facing the country, but lack the will to act. Yet at least a quarter of this comes from short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “improved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt.

Rather than present these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

Slaughter is a sophomore govern­ment/economics major and an Assis­tant Viewpoint Editor

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

The Observer

P.C. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The Observer is not affiliated with the administration of either institution. The News is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unwritten standards represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all students of the school community, and the free expression of opposing opinion on campus. Through letters, is encouraged.

Viewpoint

Budget accord fails in lack of resolve

Most of Washington this week is aflut­ter over General Secretary Gorbachev’s surprise visit to sign the historic INF accord, as well it should be. Yet while Gorbachev and Reagan exchange public relation blows, Congress is working furiously on the recently con­cluded budget reduction accord. Time is indeed of the essence, for unless the two-year, $76 billion dollar plan passes Congress and is signed by the President, Rudman’s sequester will rear its ugly head with $22 billion in automatic, across-the-board cuts for fiscal 1989. A failure to enact the plan could topple the world markets’ already precarious price/valuation floor. Accord­ingly, the content of the package becomes for the moment secondary, a surry sit­uation indeed, for this budget deal fails miserably to signal a determined United States government bent upon fiscal responsibility.

Matt Slaughter
and another thing

Even a superficial glance at the plan’s particulars reveals a serious lack of resolve among its authors. $30 billion in short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “im proved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt. Discount these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

The problem as I see it is that Congress and the president recognize the dire economic situation facing the country, but lack the will to act. Yet at least a quarter of this comes from short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “improved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt.

Rather than present these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

Slaughter is a sophomore govern­ment/economics major and an Assis­tant Viewpoint Editor

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

The Observer

P.C. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The Observer is not affiliated with the administration of either institution. The News is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unwritten standards represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all students of the school community, and the free expression of opposing opinion on campus. Through letters, is encouraged.

Viewpoint

Budget accord fails in lack of resolve

Most of Washington this week is aflut­ter over General Secretary Gorbachev’s surprise visit to sign the historic INF accord, as well it should be. Yet while Gorbachev and Reagan exchange public relation blows, Congress is working furiously on the recently con­cluded budget reduction accord. Time is indeed of the essence, for unless the two-year, $76 billion dollar plan passes Congress and is signed by the President, Rudman’s sequester will rear its ugly head with $22 billion in automatic, across-the-board cuts for fiscal 1989. A failure to enact the plan could topple the world markets’ already precarious price/valuation floor. Accord­ingly, the content of the package becomes for the moment secondary, a surry sit­uation indeed, for this budget deal fails miserably to signal a determined United States government bent upon fiscal responsibility.

Matt Slaughter
and another thing

Even a superficial glance at the plan’s particulars reveals a serious lack of resolve among its authors. $30 billion in short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “im proved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt. Discount these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

The problem as I see it is that Congress and the president recognize the dire economic situation facing the country, but lack the will to act. Yet at least a quarter of this comes from short-term gimmicks rather than true deficit reduction. Government rural electrification loans, $1.6 billion from “improved” IRS collection procedures, $1.2 billion from refur­bishing the interest on the national debt.

Rather than present these accounting tech­nicalities and the package falls below Gramm-Rudman’s required $23 billion in actual spending cuts.

Slaughter is a sophomore govern­ment/economics major and an Assis­tant Viewpoint Editor

Doonesbury

Garry Trudeau

The Observer

P.C. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219) 239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The Observer is not affiliated with the administration of either institution. The News is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unwritten standards represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all students of the school community, and the free expression of opposing opinion on campus. Through letters, is encouraged.
TRISHA CHAMBERS
accent writer

Yes, it is time once again for all those wonderful TV Christmas specials. And, though you may have watched them every year since you were four, have you really paid close attention to them? Here's your chance to find out—and get yourself into the Christmas spirit as well.

1. What did Hermie the Elf really want to be?
2. What is the name of the Grinch's dog?
3. Who is the girl in “Frosty the Snowman”?
4. Why was the Bumble from “Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer” so mean?
5. In “Santa Claus is Coming to Town” what made the reindeer fly?
6. What is the name of the rabbit in “Frosty the Snowman”?
7. What was Mrs. Claus' profession before she married Santa?
8. Who sings the “Frosty the Snowman” song?
9. In Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer where does the train with square wheels live?
10. What is the name of the little girl in “The Grinch Who Stole Christmas”?
11. Who is the voice of the snowman in “Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer”?
12. In “Santa Claus is Coming to Town” who does Santa teach how to walk?
13. Who is the mountain climber in “Rudolph the Red-Nosed Reindeer”?
14. Which Christmas special features the escapades of the Heat and the Cold Miser?
15. What is the name of Rudolph’s girlfriend?

Answers:

1. Dasher
2. Max
3. Frosty
4. Because they were cold
5. North Pole
6. Eddy
7. Teacher
8. Daniel
9. Snowflake
10. Red

Calvin and Hobbes

Bill Watterson

Up and Coming

1. Lie The db’s
2. No New Tale to Tell Love and Rockets
3. Get Over It Guadalcanal Diary
4. Head Gone Astray The Soup Dragons
5. Painted Desert 10,000 Maniacs
6. Pump Up The Volume MARRS
7. I Wanna Be a Flintstone Screaming Blue Messiahs
8. Marry Me (Lie Lie) These Immortal Souls
9. I Want Your (Hands on Me) Sinead O’Connor
10. A Rush and a Push and the Land is Ours The Smiths
M wake up those who are sleeping. I mean to wake them up to the new life and to the salvation that is in Christ Jesus. I want to see them become a new creation in Christ Jesus, a new person. That's why I'm here. That's why I'm doing this. I can't do it alone. I need your help. The only way we can do it is together. We need to reach out to each other and help each other. We need to work together to make a difference in this world.

Chuck lost his job, and he was very depressed. I could tell. He was down in the dumps. I knew he needed help, and I wanted to do something to help him. So I invited him to come to church with me. I thought that he might find comfort and support there. He said yes, and we went to church together.

At church, we talked about the gospel and how it can transform our lives. We prayed together, and I could see that he was relieved. He was beginning to see that there is hope and that he can have a better life. I was happy to be able to help him in that way.

As we left the church, I asked him if he would like to come to my house for dinner. He said yes, and we had a good meal together. We talked about his job and his future, and I tried to encourage him. I told him that he could find work if he kept looking and that he could make a new start.

Chuck was grateful for my support, and I was happy to be able to help him. I realized that sometimes all it takes is a little bit of encouragement to make a big difference in someone's life. That's why I'm doing this. That's why I'm here. I want to make a difference in the world.
Sports Briefs

Broomhall Tournament sign-ups will be held today and tomorrow in the SUB, second floor, LaFortune. The tournament for the seven-player teams will be held during next semester's Winterfest. - The Observer

The women's softball team will have a meeting tonight at 7 p.m. in Farley's McQuaid for anyone interested in joining. If you can't attend, contact Barb at 492 or Terri at 2366. - The Observer

The ski team will hold a mandatory meeting for all those involved at 7 p.m. in the Montgomery Theatre. Bring your insurance and checkbooks. Questions call Christopher (234-4718), J. P. (271-2207), Madeleine (271-7298), or Laura (206-4510). - The Observer

The Little Big Men will accept applications to fill the top 3-5 and Underfighter Irish Classic. - The Observer

Sports Briefs are accepted in writing Sunday through Friday in The Observer offices on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center before 3 p.m. on the day prior to publication. - The Observer

---

Classifieds

NOTICES

FIND/LOST

Found: President of Hollywood sixth birthday card addressed to Klm N. This is the person who TOOK THE RING!! Coat was in the hallway! Give the loss giver in the pocket. Please call Klm N.

Lost: A TROUSERS JACKET (blue or red in color) with a blue Nike logo on the sleeve. The last known location: Saturday February 22nd. Please call if you find it. It was lost in the crowded student lounge area. Please call Klm N.

Lost in the ALHAN CANON SHOT CAMERA model number 700-F. If you find it, please call Klm N. at 242-3827.

LOOKING TO BUY

Are you ready for a birthday present you'll really love? For the woman in your life. The perfect birthday gift. Your well-loveduet can leave it or even if you just saw someone take it or even if you just saw.

LOOKING TO SELL

Thank you for being a "dream date" for Christmas. We wish you all the best in finding your "dream date" for Christmas. Enjoy your friends and family.

PERSONALS

Hey!! Anne Hart

Klm, on your 19th BIRTHDAY, we think you are the perfect example of what it means to be a lady. You are not only beautiful, but you are also a great friend. We wish you all the best on your special day.

FOR SALE

FOR SALE: Dollface golden retriever puppy for adoption.

FOR SALE: OASIS COFFEE BAR. A small coffee shop in the heart of the downtown area. $400

---

Sports Briefs

IU survives Vandy scare, 63-61

Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. - Keith Smart, removed from the starting lineup and delegated to bench duty for most of the game, scored two key baskets in the final minutes to give No. 6 Indiana a 63-61 victory over Vanderbilt in college basketball Tuesday.

Vanderbilt, which upset then-top-ranked North Carolina on Saturday, had fought back from a 16-point first-half deficit to take a lead of the night at 59-58 on two Barry Goheen free throws with 4:48 left. Center Will Perdue, who had scored 31 points, sparked the comeback with 15 in the second-half.

---

Sports Briefs

John McInroe finally found a profession that suits him. Has I 12 been the year of change for the tennis star?

Has John McEnroe finally found a profession that suits him?
Basketball Top 20

At Foot Ball Top 20

Sports Calendar

Home games in CAPS

Today

Women's Basketball vs. OAKLAND

Thursday

Men's Basketball vs. PRAIRIE VIEW A&M

Wrestling at Miami (Ohio)

Friday

Hockey vs. DAYTON

Saturday

Men's Basketball at DePaul

Women's Basketball vs. ST. AMBRIDGE

Hockey vs. DAYTON

SMC Basketball vs. ST. JOSEPH (Rensselaer)

Sports Scoreboard

MOST CONSECUTIVE COLLEGE BASKETBALL WINNING SEASONS*

WINNING SEASONS:*

Lousiana 43 seasons

UCLA 39 seasons

St. John's 24 seasons

North Carolina 23 seasons

Marquette 22 seasons

Indiana 17 seasons

Syracuse 17 seasons

DePaul 16 seasons

Alabama 16 seasons

Purdue 15 seasons

*Division 1 through 1986-87 season

Scoreboard

Decem ber 2, 1987 The Observer page 11

Scores listed in order as follows:

Name of Team 1, Number of Wins 2, Number of Losses 3, Number of Ties 4, Points 5

Scoreboard

Men's Basketball at DePaul

Women's Basketball vs. St. AMBRIDGE

Hockey vs. DAYTON

Women's Basketball vs. ST. AMBRIDGE

Hockey vs. DAYTON

SMC Basketball vs. ST. JOSEPH (Rensselaer)

NHL Standings

Chicago 30, Minnesota 24

Notre Dame over Stanford, 16-0

Notre Dame over Air Force, 16-11

Notre Dame over Cal-State Long Beach, 16-3

Notre Dame over Colorado State, 16-2

Notre Dame over Arizona, 16-1

Notre Dame over Arizona State, 16-0

Notre Dame over Long Beach State, 16-0

Notre Dame over New Mexico State, 16-0

Notre Dame over Pacific, 16-0

Notre Dame over Portland, 16-0

Notre Dame over Pacific Division, 16-0

Notre Dame over Portland, 16-0

Notre Dame over Providence, 16-0

Notre Dame over St. Louis, 16-0

Women's Basketball

Through Sunday

Mary Gavin 4-4 145-36 11-20 .550 5-9 .556 13 3.3 37 19 0 10 27 6.8

Diondra Toney 4-4 127-32 18-35 .514 8-12 .667 18 4.5 12 11 0 11 44 11.0

Carol Elliott 3-0 11-4 0-0 .000 6-7 .857 1 0.3 1 2 0 5 37 9.3

Annie Schwartz 4-0 66-17 16-20 .800 5-7 .714 13 3.3 1 2 0 5 37 9.3

Sandy Botham 4-4 112-28 23-37 .622 6-10 .600 39 9.8 7 3

NOTRE DAME 4-4 800-40 117-207 .565 48-80 .600 148 37.0 73 56 4 62 282 70.5

The Top Twenty college women's basketball teams in the Associated Press poll, with their previous week's rankings in parentheses.

NOTRE DAME 4-4 800-40 117-207 .565 48-80 .600 148 37.0 73 56 4 62 282 70.5

The Top Twenty college women's basketball teams in the Associated Press poll, with their previous week's rankings in parentheses. The season record and year-to-date percentage for each team as of Dec. 11, 1987. Available only in Student government Office.

Women's Basketball

Daily

Mary Gavin 4-4 145-36 11-20 .550 5-9 .556 13 3.3 37 19 0 10 27 6.8

Diondra Toney 4-4 127-32 18-35 .514 8-12 .667 18 4.5 12 11 0 11 44 11.0

Carol Elliott 3-0 11-4 0-0 .000 6-7 .857 1 0.3 1 2 0 5 37 9.3

Annie Schwartz 4-0 66-17 16-20 .800 5-7 .714 13 3.3 1 2 0 5 37 9.3

Sandy Botham 4-4 112-28 23-37 .622 6-10 .600 39 9.8 7 3

NOTRE DAME 4-4 800-40 117-207 .565 48-80 .600 148 37.0 73 56 4 62 282 70.5

The Top Twenty college women's basketball teams in the Associated Press poll, with their previous week's rankings in parentheses. The season record and year-to-date percentage for each team as of Dec. 11, 1987. Available only in Student government Office.

Women's Basketball

Daily

Mary Gavin 4-4 145-36 11-20 .550 5-9 .556 13 3.3 37 19 0 10 27 6.8

Diondra Toney 4-4 127-32 18-35 .514 8-12 .667 18 4.5 12 11 0 11 44 11.0

Carol Elliott 3-0 11-4 0-0 .000 6-7 .857 1 0.3 1 2 0 5 37 9.3

Annie Schwartz 4-0 66-17 16-20 .800 5-7 .714 13 3.3 1 2 0 5 37 9.3

Sandy Botham 4-4 112-28 23-37 .622 6-10 .600 39 9.8 7 3

NOTRE DAME 4-4 800-40 117-207 .565 48-80 .600 148 37.0 73 56 4 62 282 70.5

The Top Twenty college women's basketball teams in the Associated Press poll, with their previous week's rankings in parentheses. The season record and year-to-date percentage for each team as of Dec. 11, 1987. Available only in Student government Office.
Oklahoma vs. Miami for No. 1

Orange hunt for recognition

Associated Press

Oklahoma is ranked No. 1 and Miami is No. 2 but not everyone is convinced that their Orange Bowl clash, the 23rd such game in the 53-year history of the Associated Press poll, will decide college football's national championship.

Syracuse University Coach Dick MacPherson is among the disbelievers.

"Only two teams have a shot at going 12-0 - the Oklahoma-Miami winner and fourth-ranked Syracuse, which meets No. 6 Auburn, 9-1-1, in the Sugar Bowl. Third-ranked Florida State, 10-1 with a 36-25 loss to Miami the only blemish on its record, plays No. 5 Nebraska, 10-1, in the Fiesta Bowl. "

"Oklahoma and Miami are playing a good opponent (each other), and so are we," MacPherson said. "Any team that wins the Southeastern Conference is a good opponent.""
Saint Mary's basketball falls to Michigan, Loyola

By HEATHER ATKINSON
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary's basketball team lost twice last week to drop their record to 2-3.

Against Loyola University December 2, the Belles took an early 13-6 lead but were quickly passed by as Loyola displayed excellent perimeter shooting, especially from three-point range. Loyola went on to take an excellent perimeter shooting, and passed by as Loyola displayed an early 13-6 lead but were quickly taken over by a half.

Loyola just shot better than the Belles, and Tammy Radke was unable to make the five-point lead was the largest margin of the game.

The Belles were unable to keep up with Loyola's consistent shooting, and was defeated 92-97.

On December 5, the Belles traveled to the University of Michigan.

Robert's Promotions and WACR WELCOME

SENIOR S K I TRIP TO SUGAR LOAF MOUNTAIN

SIGN UP THIS WEEK! $70 DEPOSIT MUST BE PAID BY THURS. OFFICE HOURS: WED 2-9 30-4 0 0

TOTAL COST IS $160 INCLUDES:

TRANSPORTATION, LUNCH, LIFT TICKETS FOR FRIDAY, SAT, SUN, MEALS, FREE SKI LESSON OF 3-5 DAYS, RUN, NON-SKIER'S RECEIVE $20 CREDIT AT THE LODGE.

THEODORE'S

BIG " V "

SUPER SPECIAL
GET 2 EXTRA LARGE PIZZAS PLUS 2 LITER BOTTLE OF COKE FOR $13.99

(PLUS TAX AND DELIVERY) YOUR CHOICE OF ANY ONE SINGLE TOPPING AND SECOND PIZZA WITH TWO TOPPINGS OF YOUR CHOICE.

Not valid in combination with any other offers. Valid at participating locations. EXPIRES 1/15/87

TAKE A STUDY BREAK YOU GEEK!!
GO TO NIGHTCLUB NIGHT AT THEODORE'S
WEDNESDAY DECEMBER 9 9:30 PM

FEATURING THREE OF THE HOTTEST YOUNG COMEDIANS:

WILL DIEDRICH
A Big Man with a big heart who will hit you with a Big, Big punch!! A man whose income has been seriously supplemented by the sale of whale's blubber!

BRIAN HOLLINGSWORTH

This HOOSIER has been voted "THE FUNNIEST MAN IN INDIANA.

STEVEN KIMBROUGH

What? How can anyone from Indiana be funny?

Come out to Theodore's and check him out!

CHECK OUT OUR FULL FOOD & BEVERAGE BAR
-great for a late night snack
SPONSORED BY SUB

Irish continued from page 16

ball in the basket. The Terriers made only 34 percent of their shots from the field for the game, with Irving, who had been averaging 22 points a game, leading the slump with 8 of 12 shooting.

Meanwhile, the Irish were able to rectify their shooting problems in the second half. After making 35 percent of their field goals in the first half, the Irish responded with a 54 percent total in the second half.

The rebounds hid Robinson's 5-of-10 shooting performance, with many of the misses coming on short jumpers and layups.

"He needs to get into an offensive flow where he can read first, then shoot," said Irish head coach Digger Phelps of Robinson. "He's got ability to score, but it's a little different than high school where you can just turn and shoot it.

"But 16 rebounds is a lot of rebounds, and that's good for him," Phelps added.

The game opened with slam dunks by each team, but the first true field goal wasn't scored until Boston guard Jeff Timberlake hit a short jumper with 13:57 remaining in the half.

The Terriers held the lead early on when Jones was left all alone after the opening tip, resulting in an opening slam. The senior forward ended up leading the Terriers with 14 points and eight rebounds, just two boards shy of his third consecutive double-double.

Stevenson responded with a slam of his own off a fast break started by Rivers. But two free throws by Jones and Timberlake's field goal gave the Terriers an early 3-2 lead.

A three-pointer by Rivers and a jumper by Stevenson, who also finished in double figures with 10, gave Notre Dame a lead which it would never relinquish. The Irish outscored the Terriers 33-11 to make the score 33-20 Irish before Boston closed the gap to nine at the half.

Forward Steve Nicgorski woke up the JACC crowd when he entered the game with 2:43 to play. With birthday-boy Sean Connor trying to feed the senior for forward ended up resulting in an opening slam. The senior forward ended up leading the Terriers with 14 points and eight rebounds, just two boards shy of his third consecutive double-double.

Stevenson responded with a slam of his own off a fast break started by Rivers. But two free throws by Jones and Timberlake's field goal gave the Terriers an early 3-2 lead.

A three-pointer by Rivers and a jumper by Stevenson, who also finished in double figures with 10, gave Notre Dame a lead which it would never relinquish. The Irish outscored the Terriers 33-11 to make the score 33-20 Irish before Boston closed the gap to nine at the half.

Forward Steve Nicgorski woke up the JACC crowd when he entered the game with 2:43 to play. With birthday-boy Sean Connor trying to feed the senior for forward ended up resulting in an opening slam. The senior forward ended up leading the Terriers with 14 points and eight rebounds, just two boards shy of his third consecutive double-double.

Stevenson responded with a slam of his own off a fast break started by Rivers. But two free throws by Jones and Timberlake's field goal gave the Terriers an early 3-2 lead.

A three-pointer by Rivers and a jumper by Stevenson, who also finished in double figures with 10, gave Notre Dame a lead which it would never relinquish. The Irish outscored the Terriers 33-11 to make the score 33-20 Irish before Boston closed the gap to nine at the hal
By CHRIS PAULISON
Sports Writer

With the first round games complete, the quest for the Inter­ hall hockey crown is now underway.

Grace, Morrissey, and St. Ed Holy Cross skated to victories in the first round, earing them spots atop the league's division, victors Stanford, Sorin, and Alumni inked a threeway tie in their race.

Most impressive of the three
Gold division games was the 10­ 3 offensive explosion by Morrissey over Keenan. The powerful Manorites jumped to an early 4-0 lead they never gave up. Keenan provided some excitement early in the second half as they closed the gap to 5-1. However, Morrissey team captain Tim O'Brien and center Tim Hartigan provided telling marks with two goals apiece and the victory was sealed. "We looked decent, considering this was our first time out as a team," said Chris Hasbrock, who also scored a goal for the Manorites. "We still need to work on fundamentals if we're to defeat the better teams in the league."

In the battle between perennial powerhouses, Grace was able to escape with a 3-2 defeat of Off-Campos. Team captain Mike Galis shared scoring honors for Grace with his bro­ er, Ed Gallus, and forward Steve Bisho.

Smith, Parker traded to AL; both leagues talk expansion

Associated Press

DALLAS - Dave Parker and Lee Smith moved to new teams while baseball talked at the winter meetings Tuesday about moving to new towns and starting interleague play.

During a day of Texastyle dealing that would have made even J.K. Ewing proud, Rafael Ramirez also got swapped and more deals seemed on the way. Expansion may not be closer, but the subject moved toward its first full-scale debate in 10 years. It was discussed at sepa­ate league meetings Tuesday and will be presented a joint meeting of owners Wednesday, marking the most serious study since Toronto and Seattle were added to the American League in 1977.

"Interleague play is probably the key," said Bill Giles, president of the Philadelphia Phillies and a member of the long-range planning committee. Giles, American League President Dr. Bobby Brown and National League President Bart Giamatti agreed that any expansion would mean new teams in each league.

"I don't see any league emberking on an individual basis," Brown said.

The real interleague action Tuesday was the two long time dominant players in the NL to the AL.

Parker, a six-time All-Star, was traded by Cincinnati to Oakland for promising pitchers Jose Rijo and Tim Birtas. Smith, one of the premier relievers in the game, was traded by the Chicago Cubs to Boston for pitchers Al Nipper and Calvin Schiraldi.

"You don't replace a Dave Parker, but we felt we needed some more pitchers," Red staff manager Pete Rose said.

We think he's going to give us a lot of pop, particularly from the left side," Oakland general manager Sandy Alderson said.

Parker, 37, hit 26 home runs with 97 RBI last season but batted a career-low .253. He has a 297 lifetime average with 273 homers and 1,190 RBI.

Rijo, 22, was 2-7 for Oakland and Birtas, 27, was a right-handed 4-6, 2.73 ERA.

Cincinnati wanted to unload Parker's $1.3 million salary and also wanted to make more room in the outfield, where Eric Davis, Tracy Jenes, Kal Daniels and Paul O'Neill already were squeezed.

The Red Sox also got what they wanted, a major closer in Smith. Smith is the only NL pitcher with 30 or more saves in four straight years, a streak he maintained last season with 36­saves for Boston last season.

Nipper was 11-12, his third straight losing year with 12 losses. Schiraldi was 8-5 with six saves and a 4.41 ERA, and only he and Wes Gardner got saves for Boston last season.

"We've given up someone who has been as good a pitcher as there has been in the last four years, but we had to do something with our staff," new Cubs general manager Jim Frey said.

Bill Wood, promoted to Houston's general manager on Monday, made his first deal and filled the Astros' shortstop hole with Ramirez.

The Observer Wednesday, December 9, 1987

Morrissey, Stanford open Interhall hockey with wins

By defeating Zahm 6-3, Sorin became victorious for the first time in over two seasons. Otter team captain, defenseman Dan Berger, explained what this victory meant for his team.

"This year's team is comprised of an improving group of upperclassmen. We have been playing together for a few seasons now, and I think this is the year we make a name for ourselves."

In other first round action, St.Ed Holy Cross skated past Flannery 4-2. Alumni downed Pangborn, 4-1, in the first clash for both teams.

Dillon and Cavalough remained idle through first­ round play. Both of these teams must wait until after Christmas break to make their season debuts on the ice.

TERRIFIC VALUE

Join us for "BEFFY WEDNESDAY" - Purchase a 14" Roast Beef Sub and receive an 18" Sub instead at no extra charge.

MATEO'S SUBS
1636 N. IRONWOOD DR.
FREE DELIVERY 271-0SUB

Offer valid only on Wednesday. Offer may expire without notice. Not valid with any other promotion.
Wednesday, December 9, 1987

Campus

8 p.m.: Dimensions in Jazz concert, 2 ND Big Bands, free, Washington Hall.
10-11 p.m.: Campus Perspectives talkshow, Notre Dame graduate and newly-elected South Bend city councilman Sean Coleman, WVFI-AM 640, host, Lynsey Strand, questions taken at 239-7471.

Dinner Menus
Notre Dame
Roast Turkey
French Bread Pizza
Egg Rolls
Saint Mary's
Baked Ham
Super Pizza
Florentine Omelet
Deli Bar

A forest fire could hit you right where you live.

The Daily Crossword

ACROSS
1 Vichy and Reden
10 Tic
14 Buckle
16 Similar
17 To shelter
18 "Doo --"
19 Where Anna went
20 Truthness
23 Buss
24 Tropical
25 Swiss fare
28 Conjuror
33 Menon's stand
34 Failed orbital
35 1,501
36 Uncontrolled
38 Approached
39 Holiday time
40 Mementos
41 Reason
42 Fated
44 Mountain
45 Sternward
46 Stumble
48 Kentucky
56 Strain
57 Libertines
58 Hallie's capital
59 Fuss
60 Silhouettes
61 Mine opening
62 Biblical
64 Overdue
65 Fuss
66 Overdue
67 Fuss
68 Birthday food
69 Beef up a
70 Movie dog
71 Space
72 Send off
73 Satisfy
74 Spat
75 Ruin
76 Anchor
77 Lilt
78 Soft drink
79 Send off
80 Satisfy

The Far Side

Where beef jerky comes from

Comics

Bloom County

Berke Breathed

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Beernuts

Mark Williams

SUB presents:

Wednesday & Thursday
8:00 pm & 10:30 pm
$2.00

CUSHING AUDITORIUM
"HILARIOUS ADVENTURE COMEDY"
Women return against Pioneers

By GREG GUFFEY
Sports Writer

Although the women’s basketball team dropped its first game of the season in the Phalanx Classic in Delaware, head coach Muffet McGraw says the squad will show more determination tonight against Oakland.

The Irish lost to Wisconsin-Green Bay, 92-70, before downing Brigham Young in the consolation game, 81-69. McGraw saw the loss as a building block for the remainder of the season.

“They know what they have to do now,” she said of the 3-1 Irish. “They went out expecting to win without doing the work they needed to do and played better against BYU.”

The Irish must be in the right frame of mind when the Pioneers invade the Joyce ACC at 7:30 p.m. Oakland is currently a perfect 7-0 with all of those victories by margins of more than 20 points, including a romp over Michigan, 92-70. McGraw realizes the Irish must control the Pioneer offense in order to stay in the game.

“We have to play good defense to keep them down,” she said. “They haven’t been in a close game all year. They averaged 18.8 in the 7-0 squad. If we can hold them in the 50’s, we’ll have a chance.”

Notre Dame enters the game with a distinct height advantage over Oakland. The tallest Pioneer player stands 6’9” compared with center Sandy Botham at 6’2” and forwards Heidi Bunek at 6’4” and Donboa Toney at 5’9” for the Irish. McGraw is in to exploit Oakland’s inside game, and this chance couldn’t have come at a better time.

Botham had a season-high 20 points against Wisconsin-Green Bay and added 16 more in the win over Brigham Young while being named to the all-tournament squad. Bunek contributed 28 points and Toney tossed in 15. In short, McGraw thinks the Irish frontcourt can be the difference maker.

“We’ll be trying to get the ball inside,” McGraw said. “We could do a better job rebounding inside, but I think we’re doing a pretty good job overall.”

McGraw will start senior Mary Gavin and freshman Karen Robinson at the guard spots. Gavin averages 6.7 points per game and needs only 17 points to pass Laura Dougerty as Notre Dame’s No. 2 career scorer. Robinson comes in averaging 10.5 points, including a team-high 20 against Brigham Young. Annie Schwartz continues to give the Irish depth off the bench, averaging 9.2 points.

McGraw has no plans to prepare differently for the Oak land game despite the setback at Green Bay.

“They’re a lot like Wisconsin-Green Bay,” she said. “They’re aggressive, play man-to-man defense, and go to the basket well.”

Irish pound boards and Terriers, 74-49

By PETE GEGEN
Sports Writer

While the shooting was ice-cold, the Irish heated up the boards on the way to an easy 74-49 over Boston University Tuesday night at the JACC.

Notre Dame out-rebounded the Terriers 36-26, with sophomore center Sandy Robinson collecting a game-high 16 of those plentiful missed shots.

“To be honest with you,” said Boston head coach Mike Jarvis, “the game was probably decided in the first two or three possessions down the court when Notre Dame got the rebounds. They wanted the ball, and they got the ball.”

The 19th-ranked Irish improved to 2-1 on the season, while the ECAC North Atlantic team dropped to 3-2.

Holding a 33-24 lead at half, the Irish used a 26-6 run to pull away from the Terriers for good. After forward Mark Stevenson opened the half with an emphatic put-back from Loyd, no different Notre Dame players scored.

Jackson hit from the baseline after a reverse feed from forward Gary Vorce. After Boston forwards Larry Jones went over Vorce for two, the senior co-captain collected a three-point play when Jones fouled him on a turnaround jumper. Guard Kathrine Fabroinding a long jumper, Robinson put in a layup off an inbounds play and Stevenson hit a baseline jumper before Terrier guard Dredrick Irving scored, making the score 46-28 for the Irish.

Irish center Scott Padlock completed the round-robin scoring with a tip in of a missed layup by Rivers.

The run was further helped by Boston’s inability to put the Irish forward Gary Vorce breaks through the Bos­ ton defense for two of his 16 points. The Irish pounded the Terriers, 74-49.