Discovery lifts off as U.S. returns to space

The giant Tracking and Data Relay Satellite is a $160 million twin of the craft that was destroyed aboard Challenger.

In Washington, President Reagan praised the launch, saying the shuttle was "headed into orbit and America is back in space." He saluted the bravery of the crew and added, "We ask God to bless this important voyage."

Launch, at 11:37 a.m. EDT, came only after NASA waived weather guidelines to allow for flight through some lighter-than-usual Florida winds. The 86-minute delay simply heightened the tension as NASA unveiled a spacehip that underwent more than 400 modifications since the Challenger flight.

Just how well the Discovery's booster rockets performed in their new design awaited detailed analysis. But J.R. Thompson, who directed the work from the Marshall Space Flight Center in Alabama, said, "From everything I see, everything looks great."

Hauck's veteran flight crew consisted of Air Force Col. Richard Covey, Marine Lt. Col. David Hillmers; John Lounge; and George "pink" Nelson. Landing was scheduled for Monday at Edwards Air Force Base in California.

The astronauts had said all along they were treating the mission as a test mission - a "shakedown flight," in the words of Covey - and they quickly ran into first-flight problems. A water pump that provides cooling to the ship during the climb to space and return to Earth was partly clogged with vapor that provides cooling to the shuttle.

U.S. and allies agree to build space station by 1998

WASHINGTON - The United States and 11 allied countries signed an agreement Thursday to build a $22 billion permanently manned space station designed to serve as a stepping stone for human exploration of the solar system.

The facility, known as Space Station Freedom, will be designed, developed, operated and used by all of the partners, which include nine European allies, Japan and Canada, in addition to the United States.

The United States is providing $16 billion to the program and the other partners are contributing more than $7 billion. The agreement was formalized at a State Department signing ceremony at which Secretary of State George Shultz presided.

Richard Smith, a State Department scientist, told reporters the project is "clearly the world's largest ever international venture and certainly one of the most complex."

The station will be permanently inhabited from late 1996 on, according to current plans.

STANFORD WEEKEND EVENTS

Friday
4:30 p.m.: Band practice. Step off from Washington Hall.
4:45 - 6 p.m.: Open Glee Club rehearsal in Crowley Hall.
6:45 p.m.: Band step off from Washington Hall for Pep Rally.
7 p.m.: Pep Rally at Stepan Center.

Saturday
9:30 a.m.: A closed meeting of the Alcoholics Anonymous fellowship at the Center for Social Concerns.
10 a.m.: Band rehearsal. Step off Washington Hall to Cartier Field.
Noon - 6 p.m.: Notre Dame and Saint Mary's alumni, family and friends are cordially invited to the Alumni Hospitality Center for films and information in the North Dome of the JACC.
3:30 p.m.: Band concert on the steps of the Administration Building.
4 p.m.: Glee Club performance in the JACC North Dome.
4:45 p.m.: Performance by Shenanigans in the JACC North Dome.
5:40 p.m.: Pre-game program in the Football Stadium.
6 p.m.: Football: Notre Dame Fighting Irish vs. Stanford Cardinals.
After the game: Alumni Hospitality Center in the JACC North Dome.

The space shuttle Discovery all ready to go at the Kennedy Space Center Wednesday after the service tower was rolled back.

See SHUTTLE, page 8
IN BRIEF

I Can't Believe It's Yogurt is sponsoring a contest for students interested in new business ventures. The frozen yogurt chain will award $10,000 and personal consultation to the student with the best ideas for a new business. Entry information is available at the South Bend store. -The Observer

Notre Dame's world record in musical chairs may not stand past this weekend. The State University of New York at Albany is planning to break the record, said Tim Adams, a WVFI disc jockey. Adams said an Albany radio station, WPXY-FM 106, called him last night to tell him about the attempt this weekend. The radio station said SUNY would have more than 6,000 people in the musical chairs game. Notre Dame established the world record of 5,151 in 1985. -The Observer

OF INTEREST

Notre Dame Crime Stoppers is looking for freshmen who are interested in getting involved in the first College Campus Crime Stoppers in the country. Any students wishing to serve on the Board of Directors should contact Ann-Marie Waters at 263-3899. -The Observer

Juggler is accepting poetry, drama, fiction, and visual art for its fall issue. The deadline for submission is today at 4:30 in 356 O'Shaugnessy Hall. -The Observer

Deadline for Urban Plunge registration is Oct. 3. Notre Dame students can sign up at the Center for Social Concerns, Campus Ministry, and with dorm reps. St. Mary's students can register at the Office of Justice Education, Campus Ministry, or with dorm reps. -The Observer

Logan Center Council for the Retarded welcomes volunteers to our Physical Fitness Recreation on Saturday from 9 to 11 a.m. at Logan Center. St. Mary's volunteers will be picked up in front of Holy Cross Hall at 8:45 a.m. Notre Dame students will meet in front of LaFortune Student Center at 4:45 a.m. to walk over. -The Observer

Tutoring in Accounting will be taking place on Sunday in 124 Hayes-Healy from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Help is given at the first come first serve basis. The tutoring is sponsored by Beta Alpha Psi. -The Observer

Stomp Stanford; wear blue and support the Irish against Stanford. -The Observer

"Issues '88" on WVFI will feature a live debate between the campus representatives of the two presidential campaigns, Tom Ehrhardt of the Bush campaign and Mark Bettenhausen of the Dukakis campaign, on Sunday at 12:30 p.m. on 640 AM. -The Observer

Spanish Mass will be said on Sunday at 11 a.m. in Farley hall chapel. -The Observer

Amnesty international will meet at 6:30 p.m. on Sunday in the Center for Social Concerns. The meeting will focus on human rights in Israel and letter writing for our South African prisoner. -The Observer

Foodshare will have a mandatory meeting for all current members and those who would like to volunteer to take food to the homeless shelter on Sunday at 3 p.m. in the Montgomery Theatre, the first floor of LaFortune Student Center. -The Observer

WSND-FM 88.9 will air its weekly "Ideas and Issues" program on Sunday from 8 to 8:30 p.m. The show will feature an interview with United Way Fundraising Chairman Father Beauchamp, a story on the recent "Black Boys" lecture, a review of the Sept. 22 showing of a movie concerning the bishop's letter on women in the church, and a story on the St. Hedwig's Tutoring Program. -The Observer

Chris Murphy
Editor-in-Chief

INSIDE COLUMN

ND/SMC relations need improved atmosphere

It's time for another home game, the third of seven socially acceptable weekends for Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students.

How many times have we heard this? Probably more times than I care to remember over the past four years.

Students complaining about the social life, or lack thereof, is nothing new. Seniors and freshmen alike blame the social problem on University policy.

To the Notre Dame administration's credit, it has attempted to improve the social atmosphere on campus by increasing the percentage of women admitted to this year's freshman class. It has worked.

But, as the number of Notre Dame women increase, the discontent between some Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students seems to increase simultaneously. At times, this bitter relationship adds to an already limited social atmosphere.

The often-strained relationship between Notre Dame and Saint Mary's results from a variety of factors that have been hashed over time and time again in this column space. What needs to be brought out are some of the inequities in policy between the two schools.

One of the great arguments students hear when they are applying to either school is that the college life is improved by the other school. One will say "but Saint Mary's is just across the way," while another says "and the guys are just across the street." Granted the strengths and weaknesses of each school can work to the other's advantage in any environment.

That's what you hear before you arrive.

Then, when you get here, things change. Saint Mary's freshmen are forced to pay an extra $25 in order to get season tickets for Notre Dame football. As if that's not bad enough in itself, Notre Dame students blame Saint Mary's students, though the ticket office was at fault. The ticket office mistake is surpassed only by those who blame Saint Mary's students for the ticket crisis.

A community, as Notre Dame and Saint Mary's are so often described, also should not discriminate among its facilities. Can anyone reasonably explain why Saint Mary's students pay an extra $1 for use of the Edye Tennis Pavilion? The same goes for Rolfs Aquatic Center that, when it's open, does not allow Saint Mary's students access to its facilities. Meanwhile, Notre Dame students have the right to use Angela Athletic facility.

So when it comes down to the dollars and cents of it, which is a good way to judge here, our community is divided. And these differences in the way Saint Mary's students are treated on Notre Dame's campus add to the separation of what should be "the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's community."

The fact of the matter is, as this writer sees it, that neither Notre Dame or Saint Mary's students should want to survive without the other in a social environment. Our social alternatives are so limited that no one should restrict the atmosphere by some sort of prejudice because "they don't go to my school." The more, the merrier.

This problem can be solved. Not everyone emphasizes the differences between the schools. But when the rules discriminate against Saint Mary's students, it's eventually reflected in the feelings of one school's students versus another's. So the students share the blame.

As the social options become more limited, we should worry less about who goes to what school and more about how we can improve a lacking situation where all need to get involved.
Navistar's Roberts stresses importance of education for achievement in business

BY ASHOK RODRIGUES

As part of the University's Year of Cultural Diversity, Navistar International Corp. Vice President Roy Roberts spoke Thursday on the subject of minorities in the business world.

Roberts stressed the importance of education in achieving success. "Minorities can succeed in business... Most important of all, education is a key to seizing on the opportunities, and succeeding in life." American society currently fails to place emphasis on the importance of education, Roberts explained. "As a nation we must learn to reward excellence... We have a responsibility to educate people."

One of the most prominent black businessmen today, Roberts noted that this nation "cannot ignore the blending of minorities" into American business. This is vitally important because the number of minorities who are consumers and workers is increasingly dramatically, he observed.

Roberts also stressed the need for role models for minority success. He advocated an increase in the hiring of minority professors at Notre Dame and Purdue both had individual research on superconductors under way, and the center combines them," said Bearby, a 1988 graduate of Notre Dame temporarily working at the CST.

Both universities are investigating complimentary topics so that advances can be made without duplicating research. Superconductors are compounds that lose all resistance below a certain temperature. "The goal is to make the composite of materials science and engineering at Notre Dame. "This is one example of the benefits of this technology include the transmission of electricity through lines without any loss of power on the way. Computers will be able to work faster, and electromagnets will be stronger, which brings in medical applications," said McGinn.

CAT scans use superconductors and will be more efficient by research now being developed. "Materials of the superconductors are ceramic, which means that they are brittle. The challenge is processing these materials to optimize their properties," McGinn said.

Research at the center has been under way since it opened in January 1988. Presently research includes processing thick film for microelectronic applications and the processing of bulk solids. People from the department of material science and engineering and from the physics department are involved with the center. In the past, the Notre Dame physics department has played an important role in research concerning conventional, low temperature superconductivity.

"We hope to play an important role in high temperature research as well," commented McGinn. "The center's primary goal is to provide a window for Indiana's industry to get involved with superconductors. Research is aimed at expanding applications of superconductors for the industries in the state to make it easier," another goal of the center is

See ROBERTS, page 7

See SUPER, page 5
Nobel Peace Prize goes to U.N. peacekeeping troops

Associated Press

OSLO, Norway-Soldiers on the front lines of the United Nations’ 40-year quest for peace won the 1988 Nobel Peace Prize Thursday for steadfast duty in the cross fire of the world’s conflicts.

The Nobel Committee said the U.N. peacekeeping troops built greater faith in the United Nations, which “has come to play a more central part in world affairs.”

The award could bolster new U.N. peacemaking efforts to oversee shaky truce agreements in the Persian Gulf and Afghanistan.

In Jerusalem, peacekeepers broke open bottles of champagne to celebrate the prestigious award as the word was passed by radio from outpost to outpost. Five of the seven peacekeeping forces are in the Middle East.

“We are here to keep the peace, but winning the Nobel prize makes you feel good,” said Canadian trooper Tony Mayfield, 22, who guards a crossing point between Greek and Turkish sectors of Nicosia, the capital of Cyprus.

Nearly 10,000 peacekeepers from more than 30 countries serve under the U.N. flag. Peacekeepers most recently were dispatched to Iran and Iraq under a cease-fire negotiated in the countries’ 8-year-long war.

“There is great joy,” said Timor Goskel, spokesman for the U.N. Interim Force in Lebanon. He spoke from UNIFIL headquarters in Naqoura, Lebanon.

The citation from the Nobel Committee, made up of five Norwegians, said the troops showed the world’s determination to settle disputes peacefully. It said they “made a decisive contribution towards the initiation of actual peace negotiations.”

Some peacekeepers carry light arms, but they can fire only in self-defense. The United Nations says 733 peacekeepers have lost their lives since 1948. Lt. Col. William Higgins, who headed the 76-member U.N. supervision group in south Lebanon, is among nine American hostages in Lebanon. Higgins, 41, was seized Feb. 17.

The prize was an indirect tribute to Secretary-General Javier Perez de Cuellar, who was not eligible because he was nominated after the Feb. 1 deadline.

Perez de Cuellar, speaking to applause at the U.N. General Assembly in New York, said the Nobel committee showed “that the quest for peace is a universal undertaking involving all the nations and peoples of the world.”

The U.N. chief said he would accept the prize in Oslo on Dec. 10, the anniversary of benefactor Alfred Nobel’s death in 1896. It carries a cash award of 2.5 million Swedish kronor, worth $390,000 dollars today. U.N. officials did not say how the money would be used.

Donkey and Duke

Michael Dukakis is sure that he’s in friendly pastures as his party’s mascot “grazes” near the podium outside the Peoria, Ill. City Hall Tuesday.
from Indiana to the center and try to link this center to a national center.

The initial funding for the center is $867,459 by the CST. The center hopes to split funding for years two through five by receiving half of the money from the CST and half from industrial and Federal agencies.

The Observer

page 5

Work begins on LeMans chapel

By KERRY SCANLON

News Staff

The LeMans chapel at Saint Mary’s has been closed since September 18, due to necessary repairs and renovations.

The problem stems from the gutters on the building which are presenting a leaking problem to the interior according to Ralph Szalewski and Mark Miklos, employees of Saint Mary’s College who are responsible for the renovation.

Plaster inside the chapel is loose and splitting and water marks from the gutters are visible on the walls.

A new roof was put on the chapel two or three years ago, and is still in good condition, said Szalewski.

To correct this leaking problem, the gutters and downspouts will be repaired. The entire chapel is also scheduled to be replastered and repainted in its familiar antique white.

In order to place the scaffold ing in the chapel, most of the pews will be moved—hopefully within two weeks, said Szalewski. Items to delay Szalewski and Miklos are other repair jobs on campus and the amount of cleaning afterwards.

"Repairing LeMans chapel is an ongoing upkeep process. Plaster was failing and sufficient actions were taken to promote health and safety," said Elizabeth Smoyer, a member of Campus Ministry at Saint Mary’s.

However, Smoyer said that attendance for the LeMans masses and the quality of participation have improved dramatically since these masses have been moved to Regina Chapel.

Freshman LeMans resident Susan Shullick said, "I really missed going to mass at LeMans last week, it was so convenient for me and I loved the feeling that I captured at the (LeMans) chapel."

While the renovations are under way, the LeMans 12:30 p.m. daily liturgy and the Sunday 3:40 p.m. mass will that be held at Regina Chapel.

The Saint Mary’s Chapel Renovation Committee is exploring how all the mass spaces can be brought up to date with Vatican II, in order to promote a more communal, corporate mass and prayer environment.

SOURCES SUNDAY

Come watch the replay of the Notre Dame vs. Stanford game, beginning at 5:30 P.M.

Don’t forget to check out the HIDEAWAY

“THE BEST WAR MOVIE EVER MADE”

"TAUT, TENSE, TERRIFIC. A CONTENDER FOR THE YEAR’S BEST FILM"

Tonight 7:30, 9:45

ONITE AT THE SNITE 7:30, 9:45

Hull METAL JACKET

Friday 7:00, 9:00

Mother foliage is a vision of Vietnam: as seen through the eyes of Private JokeK (played by an actual drill sergeant), who might contain the best Marine basic training scene ever filmed. A gritty, grim image of the Vietnam War as seen through the eyes of a young recruit.

ONITE AT THE SNITE 7:00, 9:00

TONIGHT

Dance the night away as Campus D.J.’s play your favorite tunes.

9-2

U.S.-Soviet Relations:

Two Journalists’ Views

a discussion with
Phil Donahue (American Talk Show Host)
Vladimir Pozner (Top Soviet Commentator)

WHEN: Thursday October 6th 8 to 10 p.m.
WHERE: JACC
TICKETS: $4-ND & SMC students, faculty & staff
$6-adults

Tickets should be purchased in advance.
Now On Sale M-F 9-5 Gate 10 JACC
Also will be sold in the dining halls.

The Brazilian hijacking ends

Associated Press

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil — Police shot and wounded an armed hijacker as he tried to board a getaway plane with a hostage in central Brazil Thursday, ending a daylong ordeal that left one person dead and four injured, officials said.

The rest of the passengers and crew of VASP Flight 375 were released unharmed.

The co-pilot of the jet was killed and three other crew members injured, said authorities. They described the hijacker as mentally disturbed.

Holding a .38-caliber revolver and taking the jet’s identification card from the plane, the hijacker descended from the Boeing 737 (737) parked at the runway of the Santa Genoveva airport in Goiania, 850 miles northeast of Rio de Janeiro.

A small Brazilian-made Bandeirantes plane was to take him and the pilot to Brasilia, the capital, said air force spokesman Col. Eden Avalsine.

Now On Sale M-F 9-5 Gate 10 JACC

$6-adults
WASHINGTON As Dan Quayle and Lloyd Bentsen turn their attention to debate briefing books, experts predict their showdown next week could be the most important ever between two men vying for the vice presidency.

The pressure is on both candidates next Wednesday night in Omaha, largely because of the controversy surrounding Quayle's National Guard stint at the height of the Vietnam War and his admission to law school.

"This debate could be decisive in the election. And never before could you say that about a vice presidential debate," said Joel Swerdlow, who edited a volume on tabbility, said Kathleen Jamieson of the University of Texas, an expert on politics and the media.

Quayle spent Thursday in briefings here and looked ahead to a weekend of tutelage from Roger Ailes, the Bush campaign's media guru. Bentsen snatched time to study during a light campaign schedule before returning here late Friday for two days with top Democratic advisers.

Although Mondale and Bush were considered victors in those contests, "Dole passed the threshold of acceptability and for most people so did Ferraro," said Jamieson. Quayle, however, is a question mark to a large number of voters, she said.

"The stakes are very high for Quayle," she said. Both Jamieson and Swerdlow said Quayle's performance is particularly important because his choice has been linked so closely to Bush's judgement.

"He could cost Bush a close election," Jamieson said.

Much has been said and written about the low expectations for Quayle, and how that might be an advantage for him in the debate.

"If he can appear the equal of Lloyd Bentsen, he'll score an overwhelming victory," said Jamieson. But low expectations can also hurt.

"People will be disposed to hear errors as errors," unlike minor flubs forgiven in last Sunday's debate between Bush and Michael Dukakis, Jamieson said. Debates tend to reinforce views of a candidate that people already have, and in Quayle's case "a stumbling performance will not be forgiven," she said.

Dan Quayle gives the Houston Cougar sign on the University of Houston campus Tuesday afternoon. He addressed student supporters during his stop.

FINALLY!
A Book That Makes the History of Our Times Intelligible!

BEHIND THE LODGE DOOR: CHURCH, STATE and FREEMASONRY IN AMERICA
by Paul A. Fisher
Former Bureau Chief for The Wanderer and Veteran Journalist of the Catholic Press

Behind The Lodge Door lifts the veil on the underground war waged against Church and State by the Masonic Fraternity for over 200 years...even influencing U.S. Supreme Court decisions.

An amazing and well documented exposé of a mysterious international organization whose impact on history has been so studiously and curiously ignored by historians.

Fisher, a graduate of the University of Notre Dame, served with OSI in Washington, North Africa and Italy during World War II, and with Army Counter Intelligence in the U.S. and Korea. Prior to his journalistic career, which began in 1973, he was Legislative Assistant and Press Officer for the late Congressmen James J. Delany (D. N.Y.).

"A brilliant exposé of the hidden power that Freemasonry has in the past and still is exerting so successfully to de-Christianize America. This IS MUST reading..." (Fr. Vincent Moceli, Ph.D., Christian College).

"Fisher knows how to do research and how to weigh facts, and those skills give his work a sense of balance and sobriety that make it as persuasive as it is alarming..." (He shows conclusively that Justice Hugo L. Black's Everson opinion is unconstitutional, and deliberately concocted out of Masonic dogma..."

(Professor Schwartz, The Wanderer).

READER REACTION:
"In the last 35 years I've read quite extensively about Masonry. Your Book is the best." JVB, California

"A wonderful book. I hope you sell a million." PEN, Florida

"Your book needs to be gotten out so as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." EL, Florida

"I think that the Catholic Church should be grateful for your research." BB, Indiana

Please address correspondence to:

SHIELD PUBLISHING CO.
P.O. Box 90181
Washington, D.C. 20090

Order Form:

Name ___________________________
Address _________________________
City ____________________________ State ______ Zip ______________

Amount enclosed: $ ________

ORDER FORM

FOR INFORMATION: SHIELD PUBLISHING CO. P.O. Box 90181 Washington, D.C. 20090

SEND (or copy of) BEHIND THE LODGE DOOR (or $18.95, plus $2.05 for postage and handling):

Name ___________________________
Address _________________________
City ____________________________ State ______ Zip ______________

Amount enclosed: $ ________

READER REACTION:
"In the last 35 years I've read quite extensively about Masonry. Your Book is the best." JVB, California

"A wonderful book. I hope you sell a million." PEN, Florida

"Your book needs to be gotten out so as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." EL, Florida

"I think that the Catholic Church should be grateful for your research." BB, Indiana

PRICE: $18.95 per copy
Add $2.05 handling)

SHIELD PUBLISHING CO.
P.O. Box 90181
Washington, D.C. 20090

SEND (or copy of) BEHIND THE LODGE DOOR (or $18.95, plus $2.05 for postage and handling) to:

Reader Reaction:
"In the last 35 years I've read quite extensively about Masonry. Your Book is the best." JVB, California

"A wonderful book. I hope you sell a million." PEN, Florida

"Your book needs to be gotten out to as many Catholics as possible and to other Christian Americans willing to listen." EL, Florida

"I think that the Catholic Church should be grateful for your research." BB, Indiana

Price: $18.95 per copy

Add $2.05 handling)

SHIELD PUBLISHING CO.
P.O. Box 90181
Washington, D.C. 20090

SEND (or copy of) BEHIND THE LODGE DOOR (or $18.95, plus $2.05 for postage and handling) to:

Address _________________________
City ____________________________ State ______ Zip ______________

Amount enclosed: $ ________
Roberts continued from page 3 of many presentations included in this Year of Cultural Diversity. While this speech concentrated on business, other parts of the program will deal with history, art, black studies, and philosophy. The University hopes to have several leaders in each field give presentations.

Assistant Accounting Professor Juan Rivera, who invited Roberts to speak, notes that "more and more companies are becoming aware that we are living in a very pluralistic society, and so there is always going to be the need for having good, qualified people that are minorities."

Notre Dame minority enrollment has been increasing over the past few years. According to Williams, this year's Junior class is eight percent minority. The Freshman class is 13 percent minority. Williams expects this figure to reach 15 percent by 1992.

Faculty appointments announced

Special to The Observer

New academic administrative appointments at Notre Dame have been announced by Provost Timothy O'Meara.

In the president's office, Roland Smith, Jr. assumes the post of executive assistant to the president. Father Richard Warner is counselor to the president.

In the provost's office, Donald Spicer is assistant provost for University computing.

In the College of Arts and Letters, Nathan Hatch assumes the position of acting dean. Other appointment include: Karl Amerikas, acting chairman of the philosophy department; Thomas Kieiman, acting chairman of the history department; Nasmi Meara, chairman of the psychology department; Andrew Weigert, acting chairman of the sociology department, and Scott Maxwell, associate chairman of the psychology department.

In the College of Science include: Jeremiah Freeman, associate dean; Paul Helgaist, chairman of the chemistry department; Gerald Jones, chairman of the physics department; Andrew Sommers, chairman of the mathematics department; Alan Howard, associate chairman of mathematics; Marvin Miller, associate chairman of the chemistry department, and Barth Pollak, assistant chairman of the department of mathematics.

Law School appointments include: Fernand Dutile, associate dean for academic affairs; Roger Jacobs, associate dean for research and information services; Father William Lewers, director of the Center for Human Rights, and John Robinson, acting director of the Thomas J. White Center for Law and Government.

Appointments in University research centers include: Haffa Atassi, co-director of the Center for Applied Mathematics; Sister Mary Evens, associate director of the Cushwa Center for the Study of American Catholicism. Ronald Heilenthal, acting director of the University of Notre Dame Environmental Research Center, and Robert Irvine, director of the Center for Bioengineering and Pollution Control.

Other appointments include: Darino Blake, acting project director of the Division of Sponsored Programs in the Office of Advanced Studies; Patricia Livingston, associate director of the Center for Continuing Education; Sister Mary Agnus O’Neill, under graduate coordinator of the Tantur Program, and Brian Pavlac, director of the Innsbruck Program.

NOT FRIENDS-BUT BUDDIES

“Tanz” and “Motor-Mouth”

Love, Gumby

FIRESIDE CHATS

October 3 - 7
12:15 - 1:00 P.M.
I.S.O. Lounge (2nd Floor of LaFortune)

Laidback, lunchtime talks with various members of the faculty who relate their experiences abroad. These are not lectures but rather relaxed open dialogues.

FREE LUNCH INCLUDED

October 3: Professor Jim Bellis
Nature of Cross Cultural Experience
October 4: Professor Angel Delgado
Spain
October 5: Professor Jay Dolan
The Irish: "A Special People"
October 6: Professor David Winicur
Judaism
October 7: Professor Bill Miscamble
Australia: Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow

Win $10,000 in the
I Can't Believe It's Yogurt
Competition. Stop by today for an entry form.

© 1988 I Can't Believe It's Yogurt. Ltd.

Win $10,000 in the I Can't Believe It's Yogurt! competition. Stop by today for an entry form.
Kremlin hierarchy faces shakeup at weekend meetings in Moscow

Griffin continued from page 12 homophobic, Bill says: "It began when I was badly frightened as a child using a public restroom. I still get anxious about what's happening around me when I'm using the restroom at a bus or train station in a large city." Bill and Mary find it sad that a particular aspect of human behavior has become the basis of a liberation movement that politicizes human sexuality; and they feel homosexuals demean themselves when they allow their daily existence to be summed up in the confining word "gay." The "gay" world which calls attention to itself--often tastelessly, even decadently--is America is sad and sick. A number of homosexuals admit they feel dismayed by gay liberation when any refusal to go along with the movement is immediately denounced as cowardice, hypocrisy or selfishness.

By the end of the play, Bill and Mary are still groping toward the truth about the human condition, looking for the middle way and finding that the path to truth leads through a minefield.

I'm never even going to start this impossible play, but I can imagine myself doing it as a way of finding out how things could look if I weren't a Catholic who has made up his mind.

Don't be so strong as a Catholic that you can't understand that error has rights and is useful and can have truth on its side. Don't think so little of your religion that you make Christ ashamed of you.

ATTENTION STUDENTS!! ATTENTION STUDENTS!!
NOTRE DAME'S DEVELOPMENT PHONE CENTER NOW HIRING
(Located in Badin Hall)

75 Student Positions Available
$4.50 Per Hour
Flexible evening hours: 7:15-10:30; Some daytime hours

All interested are invited to an informal Open House / Information Session at the Development Phone Center October 5 from 7:00 pm - 8:00 pm

PLEASE JOIN US

For more information, call Carol McClory, 239-7938
Women have right to control their lives

Dear Editor:

I am extremely angry with the many Viewpoint letters from "Right-to-Lifers" in the past weeks. Despite their claim that they take into account all sides and try to be fair, they are not putting the emphasis where it belongs—on the mother.

I want women to have complete control of their lives at all times. When an unwanted pregnancy occurs and the mother is denied the right to an abortion, she faces many hardships. For nine months the mother must change her lifestyle drastically; for several of those months she might have to take leave from work, possibly resulting in her dismissal. The pain of childbirth must also be considered as an undesirable experience. If the mother has other children and is in dire financial straits, then those other children will suffer as a result of time and money devoted to the newborn and hospital costs. Also, the loss of pay from the time taken off work to have the child may adversely affect the other children in the family along with the mother.

It sickens me when the predominantly upper- and middle-class students from Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s join "Right-to-Life" because of the point of view in a letter written by someone who wishes that students would just empathize with the women carrying the unwanted fetus and understand how the pregnancy infringes upon their freedom to be in control of their own lives. I believe that they have rights, but those rights end when they start to infringe upon the freedom of the mother. I think that it is important to remember that the fetus might be a life, but it is completely dependent upon the mother. I feel it is a mother’s right to rid herself of this dependent fetus in order to be in control of her own future.

The absence of adequate health and day care programs also make it more important that a woman be able to terminate her pregnancy. Instead of making a moral decision for her, I advocate making a moral decision on how her life will develop.

Kari Kronenberger
Off-campus
Sept. 26, 1988

Van halen lottery system flops

Dear Editor:

Barzun once said, “There’s a sucker born every minute.” Obviously Barnum was an optimist, and he never stood in line for tickets.

In the past, we have attempted to purchase tickets for concerts, most recently for the upcoming Van Halen concert. In every instance a standard time was established to permit line formation. Each time, however, this “standard time” seems to have been broken. In order that I would not be duped again, we attempted to form a line before the “standard time.” Our attempt was unsuccessful. To put it lightly, we were asked to leave. The words “Pack up your stuff, get out, and if you’re still here in 10 minutes, I’ll take your IDs and report you to Goldrick,” seem to come to mind. That in itself didn’t upset us too much. No, it did.

So we came back later well within the limits set by the nice, cooperative, polite, caring officer at the ACC. What we wanted to follow could only be the time when students with tickets were turned away from President Reagan’s speech in the ACC. We were still the first people in line, yet due to the miracle of lottery, our pick placed us well past the sellout number.

The lottery supposedly promotes a fair distribution of tickets among the students body. What it is in an attempt to sell all the unwanted tickets. It all depended on how motivated you were to sleep outside in the cold, and how badly you wanted the tickets. All of you who slept out for football tickets surely understood. You wanted those 50 yard line tickets. And if you got there first, you got them. Well the students who wanted those front row tickets badly enough to sleep out for them didn’t get them. Someone who may have just wanted to go to the concert and didn’t really care where they sat wound up with them.

Unfortunately, some of the people who really wanted to go are going to have to pay an awful amount of money for tickets.

Perhaps we are overlooking the use they and the lottery system. If they want to have worked on Monday for the Van Halen concert so why don’t we use it more? In fact, why don’t we use it for football tickets? But why stop there? Why not use it for something to be fair. Oh, what the heck. Why not use it for University admission? It seems obvious. If something is going to be fair, it must be fair all around. Fair for sports. Fair for concerts.

Michael Ury
Chris Kmetz
Sept. 27, 1988

SMC students abuse parking privileges

Dear Editor:

St. Mary’s parking policy... every one is talking about it, everyone waiting for something to be done about it, and most of all, everyone is tired of hearing about it. Once and for all, we’re addressing it, the complaints, the concerns, the questions, and the answers.

Last week Mr. Richard Chlebek, Saint Mary’s Director of Security, attended on the Board of Governors meeting, where an insightful and informative discussion took place. Yes, there are quite a few different regulations regarding parking this year. Among the most popular are the elimination of 30 minute parking in front of the halls, time schedules for the issuance of tickets, and the increased fine for these tickets.

Contrary to popular belief each of these changes has a legitimate and valid reason for their creation. Many times the 30 minute policy will all think twice before accepting a $10 ticket as compared to a $5 one.

The bottom line with all of the hype about parking policy is student abuse. It is not security’s fault that some students choose to abuse the law and that tickets must be issued. However security is no longer taking the blame for all the parking violators. They simply have tightened the law. Unfortunately, the entire student body must be punished for the abuse of the few. As drivers we all have the responsibility to drive our cars in a safe and responsible manner. As students we all have the privilege to use the campus parking facilities according to the law.

Julie Parrish
Student Body President
P.O. F. for Student Affairs
Sept. 25, 1988

Quote of the Day

"Athletes as a rule are stronger than their backers; yet the weaker presses the stronger to put forth all his efforts."

St. Jerome
(342-420)

The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)229-5303

The Observer is an independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary’s College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all of sympathy with the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Page 9

P.O. Box Q

More than 300 letters to the editor and 200 columns appeared last year in Viewpoint. Join the growing number of people who feel their opinions do make a difference. Write to P.O. Box Q, The Observer, Notre Dame IN, 46556.

Sandy Cerimele
Viewpoint Editor

Matt Slaughter
News Editor

Lisa M. Hill
Assistant Editor

V.P. for Academic Affairs
Sept. 27, 1988

The Daily Observer

St. Jerome
(342-420)

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary’s College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The news is reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editorial Board. Commentaries, letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Column space is available to all of sympathy with the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

Page 9

P.O. Box Q

Ringers is eerie

AMY ECKERT

Dread Ringers," the latest from filmmaker David Cronenberg, is a fascinating yet chilling glimpse into the relationship between identical twins. The twins, Beverly and Elliot Mantle, both portrayed by Jeremy Irons) are gynecologists who operate a Toronto fertility clinic. Beverly is the shy introvert who devotes most of his time to his research and his books. Elliot, on the other hand, is the outgoing ladies' man. Despite this, the Drs. Mantle are not the one-dimensional characters that have seemed typical in previous twin movies.

The Mantles maintain a delicate and carefully balanced relationship until Claire Niveau (Genevieve Bujold), an actress with a drug habit and a strong desire to become a mother, enters their clinic and their lives. Niveau becomes involved first with Elliot posing as Beverly and then with Beverly himself. Beverly's attachment to Niveau adds a new and stressful element to the brothers' lives. Beverly finds himself torn between fearing his closeness to Niveau and fearing the loss of his brother. He turns to drugs in an attempt to deal with the emotional strain of his inner conflict. His relationship with Niveau becomes shaky and he turns to Elliot for help, but only succeeds in dragging him down into his self-destructive cycle. The brothers lose their practice, their identity, their sanity, and finally their lives. The film's pace is rather slow and it drags quite a bit in some places. In fact, it seems much longer than its actual length of two hours.

The psychological aspects of the film, however, are both bizarre and gripping. The decline of the twins is at once repulsive and captivating and Irons is superb in his dual role as the calm, cool Elliot and the paranoid, tormented Beverly. Although "Dead Ringers" lacks physical action, it presents an eerie vision of the fragile world of two twin brothers who share one soul.

opposing characters that have been typical in previous twin movies.

The Mantles maintain a delicate and carefully balanced relationship until Claire Niveau (Genevieve Bujold), an actress with a drug habit and a strong desire to become a mother, enters their clinic and their lives. Niveau becomes involved first with Elliot posing as Beverly and then with Beverly himself. Beverly's attachment to Niveau adds a new and stressful element to the brothers' lives. Beverly finds himself torn between fearing his closeness to Niveau and fearing the loss of his brother. He turns to drugs in an attempt to deal with the emotional strain of his inner conflict. His relationship with Niveau becomes shaky and he turns to Elliot for help, but only succeeds in dragging him down into his self-destructive cycle. The brothers lose their practice, their identity, their sanity, and finally their lives. The film's pace is rather slow and it drags quite a bit in some places. In fact, it seems much longer than its actual length of two hours.

The psychological aspects of the film, however, are both bizarre and gripping. The decline of the twins is at once repulsive and captivating and Irons is superb in his dual role as the calm, cool Elliot and the paranoid, tormented Beverly. Although "Dead Ringers" lacks physical action, it presents an eerie vision of the fragile world of two twin brothers who share one soul.

Calvin and Hobbes

THE CONTINENTS.

Calvin and Hobbes

BLUES

SCOTT KAHNEY

accent writer

T he blues and Chicago—what a combination! There is no better way to experience live blues than a brief roadtrip to visit one of Chicago's blues haunts.

Blues Etcetera, located at 1124 W. Belmont Ave., and Cotton Chicago, located at 3264 N. Wilton Ave., are two of Chicago's newest blues clubs that have continued the tradition of making Chicago the home of the blues.

Blues Etcetera is a long, narrow club which proudly displays a lighted sign claiming that they serve Old Style— in both bottles and cans! The fact that they're proud of their humble beer says a lot for the spirit of the blues.

Like most of Chicago's blues bars, Blues Etcetera is far from beautiful inside, although this bar is probably somewhat nicer than most. The atmosphere of this club, which is almost one year old, does not come from flashy lights and slick style, but from the band and the people.

Inside Blues Etcetera you'll find a whole host of people, running the gamut of metropolitan life. Linking the diverse crowd is the blues. People come together to sit and watch the band, to dance, to drink or just to talk. But most of all, people come to this bar to feel the blues. Like a vital fluid, live blues can give a bigger high than a nice cold can of Old Style.

Magic Slim and the Teardrops, a Chicago band which often plays at Blues Etcetera, was on stage last Friday. The first words the Teardrops uttered when they took the stage were, "Are you ready for the blues?" True to form, the spirited crowd rose to the occasion and enjoyed every minute of the show.

Magic Slim and his band performed from about 9 p.m. to 1:30 a.m., doing three lively sets. Even the slow, traditional blues tunes had the crowd shaking their stuff on the compact dance floor.

Those who didn't dance, however, weren't left behind. Slim's blues reached to the far corner of the bar and had everyone swaying to the simple rhythms at least once. Just a couple of blocks from Blues Etcetera is Chicago's newest blues club—Cotton Chicago. This bar, which opened in July, is owned and run by James Cotton, one of the blues's premier harmonica players.

This club has both a well-lit bar area, complete with a pool table and weekly nine ball tournaments, and a large, dark, smoky room where the bands play. Although bigger than Blues Etcetera, Cotton Chicago has no dance floor. The spirit of the crowd did not suffer from this however.

The night I spent at Cotton Chicago was lively and entertaining with James Cotton himself and his six-piece band on stage. Cotton and his band usually try to play at least once a month at the club.

Even Rod Stewart, who was in Chicago for his Alpine Valley concert, stopped by to enjoy the Cotton Blues Band. Although James Cotton himself didn't play that night during the evening, his band and several guests kept the long, two-act show hot and spicy. Cotton's band opened each act with a 45-minute song where each member took a turn blasting out a searing solo.

Both of these clubs have a cover charge. Blues Etcetera charges $3 during the week and $6 on Friday and Saturday. Cotton Chicago also charges $3 during the week, but weekends cost $7.

The Observer; Scott Kahney
Stanford band brings tradition, antics to ND Stadium

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Assistant Sports Editor

Their halftime rendition for Saturday's game includes the theme from "Hawaii Five-O," and songs by Thomas "Sway," Steely Dan and Cole Porter—not exactly the typical fare for a collegiate marching band.

But, then, nobody ever accused the Leland Stanford Junior University band. These guys don't do much marching at all.

"Basically, we don't do the typical university band's activities," said Black. "The band doesn't fly around the country, doesn't compete outside of California, doesn't have a mascot (other than a "newt," baby salamander, in honor of Knute Rockne). The band also hopes to form a fish in hopes of "winning one for the kipper."
Irish Extra: The Game

Weekend Edition, September 30-October 2, 1988

By THERESA KELLY
Assistant Sports Editor

="You can not evaluate a football game on the basis of one week. I think that's always a problem; if everything goes your way, then everyone thinks it's going to be that way each and every week. It's not."

So said Notre Dame head coach Lou Holtz after the Irish drubbed the Purdue Boilermakers 35-7. Holtz may even expect a letdown this week, as the Irish have a hard time winning games No. 4.

"We have not played very well in the fourth week of the season," Holtz said, "and that's something that always concerns you. We're going to have to see what happens." With that said, let's take a look at what happened Saturday's matchup against Head Coach Jack Elway's Stanford Cardinal (1-2), a team the Irish haven't played since 1964.

Notre Dame and Stanford traditionally have sought some of the same players in the recruiting process. Holtz specifically mentioned Cardinal sophomore Walter Batson, a receiver from Miami.

"I think they're an excellent football team," Holtz said of the Cardinal. "Defensively is where they're really aggressive. (Defensive tackle) Lester Archambeau is one of the finest players that we will play against.

Stanford has given up 41 points in three games this season. Archambeau, a 6-6, 255-pound defensive tackle, accumulated 13 tackles in two seasons prior to 1988. He was an Associated Press honorable mention All-American last season and has another year of eligibility left after 1988.

"With Archambeau and (Ray) Huckestein (nose guard), Stanford is the most impressive defense I have seen on film this year," Holtz said. "We're going to have a challenge in just being able to be consistent on offense. We can't just give Stanford the ball all the time."

"They really have impressed me," Holtz said. "They're very, very quick, very strong. They play very hard and they play well together." Stanford offense vs. Notre Dame defense

The Cardinal is averaging 324 total yards per game (122 rushing, 361 passing), while the Irish have given up an average of 324.7 yards per game.

"They go with a run and shoot (offense)," Holtz said of Stanford. "They really don't have a tight end per se, they have two wide-outs, and then they have two flankers. They'll slot the flankers inside the split ends, and then they'll usually put one of them in motion."

The one running back in Stanford's scheme is junior fullback Jon Volpe, who leads the team in rushing (72 rushes for 324 yards and three TDs) and receiving (13 for 84).

Junior quarterback Brian Johnson (54 completions in 89 attempts (.592), two TDs and three interceptions) has an extra receiver to work with.

"Stanford is a well-conceived offense. It's easy to execute very well," Holtz said, "and one that will give us a tremendous amount of problems."

"We're not going to let that extra receiver run around free like he has been," said Irish strong safety George Streeter. "We plan to have all of them covered.

Leading the Stanford offensive line will be All-America candidate Andy Sinclair, whom many call the finest center in the country.

"Sinclair they think is an All-America," Holtz said. "I think he's probably the best center in the country, so their offensive line is good."

Linebacker Mike Stonebreaker leads the Irish defense with 23 unassisted tackles, getting in on a total of 36. Sophomore Chris Zorich is second on the team with 23 total tackles. Stonebreaker and Streeter are tied for the team lead in interceptions with two.

John Hopkins handles the kicking and most of the punting for the Cardinal, hitting 4-of-4 field goals with a punting average of 42 yards. His long punt is 50 yards.

Most of Holtz' concerns about the Cardinal stem from the Stanford performance against Southern Cal.

"I know from watching the film and from the type of personnel, the type of team Southern Cal has, to see how (Stanford) outplayed Southern Cal," Holtz said. "It wasn't a case where Stanford was lucky to make it close, it was a case where Southern Cal had to make some great throws and great catches under pressure late in the ball game in order to pull that game out. Based on that, I know Stanford is good."

Notre Dame offense vs. Stanford defense

The Notre Dame offense found another dimension in the Purdue game. The strong run-ing attack was accented by a newfound passing game. Junior quarterback Tony Rice completed 4-of-6 passes for 85 yards, and the four quarterbacks used by Holtz were 8-14 for 147 yards against a highly-touted Boilermaker defense.

"We're going to try to throw the football," Holtz said. "And that's always exciting."

Fullback Tony Brooks ran for 110 yards on 11 carries against Purdue, leading the Irish to 321 yards rushing. Brooks will be splitting time between fullback and tailback.

Injuries have plagued the Irish at the fullback position, with Anthony Johnson expected to return to the starting lineup this week after re-injuring an ankle against Michigan State. Braxton Banks is out for four to eight weeks with torn kne-ligaments and also suffered against the Spartans.

The young Irish offensive line opened some holes for the backs against the Boilermakers, but Andy Heck, Tim Ryan, Mike Heldt, Tim Grun-

Bart and Dean Brown will have another battle in the trenches against the Cardinal.

"I think our offensive line is pass defense that's going to be challenged probably more than we ever have," Holtz said. "Defensively is where they're really aggres-

We plan to have all of them covered.

lead the Irish in rushing (72 rushes for 324 yards and three TDs) and receiving (13 for 84).

Stanford senior nose guard Ray Huckestein is considered by many to be one of the top defensive linemen in college football, and is in the hunt for All-America status this year.

The Observer / File Photo

Stanford senior nose guard Ray Huckestein is considered by many to be one of the top defensive linemen in college football, and is in the hunt for All-America status this year.

The Observer / File Photo

Alan Grant is not only a top senior cornerback for the Cardinal, but also led the nation as a punt returner in 1987 by averaging 16.5 yards per return.

CARDINAL(S) TO WATCH

Jon Volpe (FB)
Stanford's leading rusher is only 5-7, but has a knack for gaining the tough yardage and is tough to bring down. He averages 108 yards a game.

Lesiter Archambeau (DT)
The senior All-America candidate has started 23 consecutive games at left tackle. He led the Cardinal with seven QB sacks in 1987.

Walter Batson (WR)
One of three true freshmen to play for Stanford last year. The 5-10 speedybird caught 10 passes for 223 yards and two TDs—both on long bombs—in 1987.

Alan Grant (CB)
Grant was an Associated Press third-team All-American last year. The senior led the na-ton as a punt returner, averaging 16.52 yards per return.

Ray Huckestein (NG)
The 6-2, 265-pound senior was an AP honorable mention All-American in 1987, and many expect Huckestein to achieve higher honors this year.

The Observer / File Photo

CARDINAL(S) TO WATCH

Jon Volpe (FB)
Stanford's leading rusher is only 5-7, but has a knack for gaining the tough yardage and is tough to bring down. He averages 108 yards a game.

Lesiter Archambeau (DT)
The senior All-America candidate has started 23 consecutive games at left tackle. He led the Cardinal with seven QB sacks in 1987.

Walter Batson (WR)
One of three true freshmen to play for Stanford last year. The 5-10 speedybird caught 10 passes for 223 yards and two TDs—both on long bombs—in 1987.

Alan Grant (CB)
Grant was an Associated Press third-team All-American last year. The senior led the na-ton as a punt returner, averaging 16.52 yards per return.

Ray Huckestein (NG)
The 6-2, 265-pound senior was an AP honorable mention All-American in 1987, and many expect Huckestein to achieve higher honors this year.

The Observer / File Photo
Streeter

Streeter learned early how to deal with long days of school and football. As an athlete at Chicago Julian High School, he was on the move from 6 a.m. until 8 p.m. “The school is on the far South Side,” he said. “I lived further north, and I had to catch the bus every day. To get to my first class, I had to be out of the house at six, and I got home the same time I get home now, eight o’clock, with practice and all.”

Four players who graduated with Streeter from Julian earned scholarships to play football. The tradition continued in the Streeter family and at Julian as Streeter’s younger brother, Sean, is a linebacker at the University of Illinois.

Another facet of Streeter’s personality that is not apparent on the football field is his involvement with the team’s Fellowship of Christian Athletes organization. Streeter is the treasurer (“although we really don’t have much money to worry about”) and team captain. Kent Graham and Anthony Johnson are president and vice president, respectively.

“I’m a very religious person,” Streeter says. “I think God is an important part of everyone’s life, especially mine. The organization is led by Coach (Jim) Strong, and I think the discussions are very helpful to a lot of players.”

Streeter’s first year at Notre Dame was the team’s last year under Gerry Faust, and Streeter has noticed the changes the program has undergone under Lou Holtz.

“The attitude has changed since Coach Holtz has been here,” Streeter says. “First year we found out we could win, the second year we found out that if we played well, we’d go to a bowl game, and the third year we expect to win, and we’ll be highly disappointed if we don’t. It’s all in the attitude.

“Our goal is to be playing for the national championship at the end of the year,” Streeter said. “That says ‘every team’s goal, but for us, I think it’s attainable.’”

Stanford quarterback Brian Johnson will have to watch out for Irish strong safety George Streeter and the Notre Dame defense. The Irish have picked off seven passes in three games this season, with Streeter and linebacker Mike Stonebreaker hauling in two apiece.

Roses for Irish in first championship

By VIC LOMBARDI

Sports Writers

Layden, Crowley, Stuhldreher and Miller

In their final game together, the legendary “Four Horsemen” of Notre Dame were victorious. They galloped away with a 27-0 win over Stanford in 1925 Tournament of Roses. Knute Rockne’s squad capped a perfect 10-0 season as the Irish won their first-ever national championship.

Time Capsule

One member of that famed Notre Dame backfield, Elmer Layden, stole the show as he displayed his sensational versatility by contributing on both sides of the ball. Layden finished with three tackles, including two on interception returns. He also handled the punting responsibilities, booming kicks up to 60 yards.

The other Horsemen also contributed to the Rose Bowl victory. When running back and Jim Crowley wasn’t scarring for yardage, he was kicking. Sports Illustrated did a huge article and said Stanford would have lost if we’d been in another state entirely.

And Stanford has none but itself to blame for the Tree, a mascot that takes its roots from the University seal. Stanford’s athletic teams go by the singular “Cardinal” because they are named after the color, not the bird. For a mascot, it was either a tree or something looking like one of those huge cinnamom trees running up and down the field.

On the Stanford seal, there’s a tree,” said Black. “Because it’s hard to have a mascot that’s a color, we decided to have a tree. It’s our individual mascot, but there’s no school mascot to rival it.”

Ditto with the Dollys, a jazz dance group that does routines with the Don Millers and the Dollies and has majorette twig band. They insist they are not cheerleaders, but are a majorette organization.

By Murray Caddick

The other Horsmen also contributed to the Rose Bowl victory. When running back and Jim Crowley wasn’t scarring for yardage, he was kicking. Sports Illustrated did a huge article and said Stanford would have lost if we’d been in another state entirely.

And Stanford has none but itself to blame for the Tree, a mascot that takes its roots from the University seal. Stanford’s athletic teams go by the singular “Cardinal” because they are named after the color, not the bird. For a mascot, it was either a tree or something looking like one of those huge cinnamom trees running up and down the field.

On the Stanford seal, there’s a tree,” said Black. “Because it’s hard to have a mascot that’s a color, we decided to have a tree. It’s our individual mascot, but there’s no school mascot to rival it.”

Ditto with the Dollys, a jazz dance group that does routines with the Don Millers and the Dollies and has majorette twig band. They insist they are not cheerleaders, but are a majorette organization.

The other Horsmen also contributed to the Rose Bowl victory. When running back and Jim Crowley wasn’t scarring for yardage, he was kicking. Sports Illustrated did a huge article and said Stanford would have lost if we’d been in another state entirely.

And Stanford has none but itself to blame for the Tree, a mascot that takes its roots from the University seal. Stanford’s athletic teams go by the singular “Cardinal” because they are named after the color, not the bird. For a mascot, it was either a tree or something looking like one of those huge cinnamom trees running up and down the field.

On the Stanford seal, there’s a tree,” said Black. “Because it’s hard to have a mascot that’s a color, we decided to have a tree. It’s our individual mascot, but there’s no school mascot to rival it.”

Ditto with the Dollys, a jazz dance group that does routines with the Don Millers and the Dollies and has majorette twig band. They insist they are not cheerleaders, but are a majorette organization.

The other Horsmen also contributed to the Rose Bowl victory. When running back and Jim Crowley wasn’t scarring for yardage, he was kicking. Sports Illustrated did a huge article and said Stanford would have lost if we’d been in another state entirely.

And Stanford has none but itself to blame for the Tree, a mascot that takes its roots from the University seal. Stanford’s athletic teams go by the singular “Cardinal” because they are named after the color, not the bird. For a mascot, it was either a tree or something looking like one of those huge cinnamom trees running up and down the field.

On the Stanford seal, there’s a tree,” said Black. “Because it’s hard to have a mascot that’s a color, we decided to have a tree. It’s our individual mascot, but there’s no school mascot to rival it.”

Ditto with the Dollys, a jazz dance group that does routines with the Don Millers and the Dollies and has majorette twig band. They insist they are not cheerleaders, but are a majorette organization.

The other Horsmen also contributed to the Rose Bowl victory. When running back and Jim Crowley wasn’t scarring for yardage, he was kicking. Sports Illustrated did a huge article and said Stanford would have lost if we’d been in another state entirely.

And Stanford has none but itself to blame for the Tree, a mascot that takes its roots from the University seal. Stanford’s athletic teams go by the singular “Cardinal” because they are named after the color, not the bird. For a mascot, it was either a tree or something looking like one of those huge cinnamom trees running up and down the field.

On the Stanford seal, there’s a tree,” said Black. “Because it’s hard to have a mascot that’s a color, we decided to have a tree. It’s our individual mascot, but there’s no school mascot to rival it.”

Ditto with the Dollys, a jazz dance group that does routines with the Don Millers and the Dollies and has majorette twig band. They insist they are not cheerleaders, but are a majorette organization.

The other Horsmen also contributed to the Rose Bowl victory. When running back and Jim Crowley wasn’t scarring for yardage, he was kicking. Sports Illustrated did a huge article and said Stanford would have lost if we’d been in another state entirely.

And Stanford has none but itself to blame for the Tree, a mascot that takes its roots from the University seal. Stanford’s athletic teams go by the singular “Cardinal” because they are named after the color, not the bird. For a mascot, it was either a tree or something looking like one of those huge cinnamom trees running up and down the field.

On the Stanford seal, there’s a tree,” said Black. “Because it’s hard to have a mascot that’s a color, we decided to have a tree. It’s our individual mascot, but there’s no school mascot to rival it.”

Ditto with the Dollys, a jazz dance group that does routines with the Don Millers and the Dollies and has majorette twig band. They insist they are not cheerleaders, but are a majorette organization.
Stanford series when Layden considered by many the most dynamic passing game when they were on the field together.

The Horsemens reminded everyone that football games aren't won on talent alone. They're won on strategy, wit and, most of all, teamwork.

A Notre Dame defender (24) can't catch Stanford ballcarrier Ed Walker (left) in the 1925 Rose Bowl.

Weekend Edition, September 30-October 2, 1988

The Observer / File Photo

---

PEERLESS PROGNOSTICATORS

Each week, The Observer sports department picks a random student picked by the sports department and some well-known figure in the Notre Dame community predicts the outcome of the week's major college football games. Records are compiled to see how well each person does against the spread. In other words, it isn't enough to pick the winner of a given game. The person must pick the winner and the listed underdogs.

Home team is in CAPS.

---

NOTRE DAME DEFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>POS</th>
<th>NO</th>
<th>PLAYER</th>
<th>HT</th>
<th>WT</th>
<th>CL</th>
<th>RE</th>
<th>NT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>80</td>
<td>Steve Allen</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>196</td>
<td>Sr.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>25</td>
<td>Raghib Ismail</td>
<td>5-10</td>
<td>175</td>
<td>Jr.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>22</td>
<td>Anthony Johnson</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>225</td>
<td>Jr.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>98</td>
<td>Tony Brooks</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>218</td>
<td>So.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>5</td>
<td>16</td>
<td>Jim Sexton</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>188</td>
<td>Jr.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>6</td>
<td>94</td>
<td>John Hopkins</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>So.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>7</td>
<td>61</td>
<td>Pat Terrell</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>195</td>
<td>Jr.</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

NOTRE DAME OFFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM STATISTICS</th>
<th>ND</th>
<th>OPP</th>
<th>PB</th>
<th>REE</th>
<th>YDS</th>
<th>AVG</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>LG</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>TOTAL STATISTICS</td>
<td>NT</td>
<td>1-1</td>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>2-3</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>3-4</td>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

CARDINAL STATS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM STATISTICS</th>
<th>SU</th>
<th>OPP</th>
<th>PB</th>
<th>REE</th>
<th>YDS</th>
<th>AVG</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>LG</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>TOTAL STATISTICS</td>
<td>NT</td>
<td>1-1</td>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>2-3</td>
<td>27</td>
<td>3-4</td>
<td>1-2</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

SCHEDULES

- Oct. 1 - at Notre Dame
- Nov. 5 - at UCLA
- Nov. 12 - at UCLA
- Nov. 19 - at California
- Nov. 25 - at Washington
- Dec. 1 - at San Jose State
- Dec. 8 - at Arizona State
- Dec. 15 - vs. Oregon State
- Dec. 22 - vs. Oregon
- Dec. 29 - vs. Arizona
- Jan. 1 - Rose Bowl
Big Audio Dynamite

Kevin Walsh

Accent Writer

...in this same way, certain songs and certain bands remind me of seasons. Prefab Sprout is a winter band. The Smiths are a spring band...
Bill and Mary: groping toward the truth

I wish I were smart enough to write a play about a couple named Bill and Mary. They may have been Catholic once and may be Catholic again before they die. At present, if you ask them their religion, they’ll answer “Christian.” If you ask them how they would otherwise label themselves, they’d tell you “liberal.” I’d like to show you their struggles as liberal Christians trying to be sensitive to some of the tough context and so, perhaps, unfairly—that I’d like you to look at.

Act I: In the town where Bill and Mary live, some of the residents are picketing a bookstore that sells sex magazines and films. These residents demand to know why this outrage is tolerated. On television they begin to hear the answers from lawyers and libertarians: freedom of speech and freedom of the press. “We

Father Robert Griffin
Letters to a Lonely God
problems that come up in a country that is increasingly secular. As a Catholic, I wouldn’t want you to think that the play contains any original thinking on my part. If our country is having trouble, it’s trouble for everyone, Catholic or not. I’d make it perfectly clear that the three acts are based on entries I found in “Harvard Diary,” by Robert Coles, a Harvard psychiatrist. If I could trust you to read “Harvard Diary,” I wouldn’t pressure you to attend my play. If I did borrow from Dr. Coles’ book to write the play, I’d have to get permission from the author, as well as his approval of the text. I have no such approval of the scenes you find here. I’ve just borrowed some ideas—out of must beware of setting our selves up as holier-than-thou judges of others. Bill and Mary see a representative display of the store’s merchandise and find it obscene and disgusting. They have the same low opinion of Hustler and Playboy, which are on sale at newsstands and in drugstores all over town. They begin to wonder if actions like these multiplied a thousand times over will not save the children from the fifth present everywhere.

Act II: Bill and Mary be come involved in women’s liberation. The issue for them is not whether women deserve equal pay for equal work, or deserve entry into the professions, but whether women are equal human beings. If women are not the answer for the 15-year-old girl who wants to keep the child she is bearing, nor would sex education programs or contraceptives have saved her from trouble. The girl tells her doctor: “All I want is a baby; then I can forget the rest of the world and try to be nice to her and make up for what I missed.” Another 15-year-old says, “This baby will be a gift of God to me. There is no one in the world who cares about me, only God, and I feel Him looking at me sometimes, and He must have felt sorry for me. So He sent this baby to me.”

The doctor who befriends Bill and Mary diagnoses the adolescent wish of a 15-year-old child to have a baby as psychopathology at work. He defends himself for performing abortions: “What are we to do, let these kids drown in their own children? They are children themselves. They can’t even take care of them selves, never mind one baby. “Are women liberated when they cease to want children, or if they fearlessly hand their kids over to daycare centers or their husbands?”

As the act closes, we see them picketing the bookstore and burning copies of Hustler and Playboy, realizing that actions like these multiplied a thousand times over will not save the children from the fifth present everywhere.

How are they to protect the children from an entire culture that has become coyly or blatantly pornographic?”

is not whether women deserve equal pay for equal work, or deserve entry into the professions, but whether women are equal human beings. If women are not the answer for the 15-year-old girl who wants to keep the child she is bearing, nor would sex education programs or contraceptives have saved her from trouble. The girl tells her doctor: “All I want is a baby; then I can forget the rest of the world and try to be nice to her and make up for what I missed.”

Another 15-year-old says, “This baby will be a gift of God to me. There is no one in the world who cares about me, only God, and I feel Him looking at me sometimes, and He must have felt sorry for me. So He sent this baby to me.”

The doctor who befriends Bill and Mary diagnoses the adolescent wish of a 15-year-old child to have a baby as psychopathology at work. He defends himself for performing abortions: “What are we to do, let these kids drown in their own children? They are children themselves. They can’t even take care of them selves, never mind one baby. “Are women liberated when they cease to want children, or if they fearlessly hand their kids over to daycare centers or their husbands?”

As the act closes, we see them picketing the bookstore and burning copies of Hustler and Playboy, realizing that actions like these multiplied a thousand times over will not save the children from the fifth present everywhere.

How are they to protect the children from an entire culture that has become coyly or blatantly pornographic?”

is not whether women deserve equal pay for equal work, or deserve entry into the professions, but whether women are equal human beings. If women are not the answer for the 15-year-old girl who wants to keep the child she is bearing, nor would sex education programs or contraceptives have saved her from trouble. The girl tells her doctor: “All I want is a baby; then I can forget the rest of the world and try to be nice to her and make up for what I missed.”

Another 15-year-old says, “This baby will be a gift of God to me. There is no one in the world who cares about me, only God, and I feel Him looking at me sometimes, and He must have felt sorry for me. So He sent this baby to me.”

The doctor who befriends Bill and Mary diagnoses the adolescent wish of a 15-year-old child to have a baby as psychopathology at work. He defends himself for performing abortions: “What are we to do, let these kids drown in their own children? They are children themselves. They can’t even take care of them selves, never mind one baby. “Are women liberated when they cease to want children, or if they fearlessly hand their kids over to daycare centers or their husbands?”

As the act closes, we see them picketing the bookstore and burning copies of Hustler and Playboy, realizing that actions like these multiplied a thousand times over will not save the children from the fifth present everywhere.

How are they to protect the children from an entire culture that has become coyly or blatantly pornographic?”

is not whether women deserve equal pay for equal work, or deserve entry into the professions, but whether women are equal human beings. If women are not the answer for the 15-year-old girl who wants to keep the child she is bearing, nor would sex education programs or contraceptives have saved her from trouble. The girl tells her doctor: “All I want is a baby; then I can forget the rest of the world and try to be nice to her and make up for what I missed.”

Another 15-year-old says, “This baby will be a gift of God to me. There is no one in the world who cares about me, only God, and I feel Him looking at me sometimes, and He must have felt sorry for me. So He sent this baby to me.”

The doctor who befriends Bill and Mary diagnoses the adolescent wish of a 15-year-old child to have a baby as psychopathology at work. He defends himself for performing abortion: “What are we to do, let these kids drown in their own children? They are children themselves. They can’t even take care of them selves, never mind one baby. “Are women liberated when they cease to want children, or if they fearlessly hand their kids over to daycare centers or their husbands?”

As the act closes, we see them picketing the bookstore and burning copies of Hustler and Playboy, realizing that actions like these multiplied a thousand times over will not save the children from the fifth present everywhere.

How are they to protect the children from an entire culture that has become coyly or blatantly pornographic?”

is not whether women deserve equal pay for equal work, or deserve entry into the professions, but whether women are equal human beings. If women are not the answer for the 15-year-old girl who wants to keep the child she is bearing, nor would sex education programs or contraceptives have saved her from trouble. The girl tells her doctor: “All I want is a baby; then I can forget the rest of the world and try to be nice to her and make up for what I missed.”

Another 15-year-old says, “This baby will be a gift of God to me. There is no one in the world who cares about me, only God, and I feel Him looking at me sometimes, and He must have felt sorry for me. So He sent this baby to me.”

The doctor who befriends Bill and Mary diagnoses the adolescent wish of a 15-year-old child to have a baby as psychopathology at work. He defends himself for performing abortions: “What are we to do, let these kids drown in their own children? They are children themselves. They can’t even take care of them selves, never mind one baby. “Are women liberated when they cease to want children, or if they fearlessly hand their kids over to daycare centers or their husbands?”
WOMAN WANTED TO SHARE A RENTAL. APPLY FROM 1-7, MON.-FRI.

WANTED PERSON TO SHARE A RENTAL APARTMENTS. ON CAMPUS AVAILABLE NOW $400/MO. 4 BEDROOM HOUSE FOR RENT NEAR THE DORMS. CALL EBONY Shock that I don't know your name. Have you eaten? He is all I have.

WANTED: I NEED 2 MIAMI GA's - DAN

WANTED: WANTED TO BUY SINGLES OR DUO'S (NON ASIAN)

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: DOMER SLOB! WILL TRADE 1 Miami stud, ticket and $$ for 2 Penn State GA's. Call Allison X4341

WANTED: NEED: 1 Miami Stud. Tix. Kristen x1298

WANTED: G A M E 272-3491

WANTED: I NEED 2 MIAMI GA'S. CALL ME AT 284-4626

WANTED: I NEED 2 MIAMI GA'S - DANI

WANTED: LOST KEY! Sat. 24. Room 389 REWARD CHNS # 3614

WANTED: LOST! LOST! LOST!

WANTED: HIRING! Government jobs - your area.

WANTED: FOR SALE 23 Penn St. State Ga's. Call Allison X4341

WANTED: REGULAR LOUISIANA AND PENNSYLVANIA GUARD CATHOLICS IN BAD STANDING NEED TO RIDE WITH MARYLAND GUARD CATHOLICS TO PENN STATE. CALL ALAN NALLEN 239-7474.

WANTED: FOR RENT 2 bedroom, 2 bath computer apartment on West Campus. Apply from 1-7 Mon.-Fri. VERY CLOSE TO CAMPUS. 654-3977 leave message.

WANTED: PUT IT TO WORK FOR YOU!

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: I NEED STANFORD GA's

WANTED: I NEED PENN STATE STUDENTS OR GA's. Call Karen x2483.

WANTED: I NEED 2 MIAMI GA's. Call Ann at 284-2898.

WANTED: I NEED 2 MIAMI GA's. Please CALL AT 284-4626.

WANTED: I NEED TO SELL 2 STANFORD GA's. CALL AT 372-7887.

Lacrosse holds alumni game

By PETE LaFLEUR
Sports Writer

While the majority of the Notre Dame student body will be scattered across Green Field in a tailgating frenzy tomorrow, the Irish lacrosse team will be "imbibed" in its own event—the 19th annual alumni game.

The traditional game, a clash between Irish stars of the past and present, begins at 1 p.m. on Cartier Field, located east of Green Field behind the Joyce ACC. "We have been working hard for a month," said tri-captain Kevin O' Conor. "If (the game) should be a great time, not just for the students, but also for families from the Midwest who aren't that familiar with lacrosse.'

Although the official NCAA lacrosse season is in the spring, the Irish are practicing in the fall more intensely than ever under the leadership of new head coach Kevin Corrigan, son of former Notre Dame athletic director Gene Corrigan. The alumni game will serve as a warm-up for the biggest game in the program's history on Oct. 28, when the Irish will host Johns Hopkins University, perennially one of the nation's top teams.

The current Irish squad will be led by its three senior tri-captains, attackman John Olmstead and defensemen Doug Spencer and O'Connor. Each was a starter last season, and Olmstead is Notre Dame's third all-time leading scorer.

The alumni team, meanwhile, will be a roll call of current lawyers, coaches and businessmen whose Irish roots range from the days of the team's inception as a club sport in 1964 to its eight years as a varsity team during the 1980's.

Some of the recent graduates expected to return include at least six former captains: Art Brady and John McNicholas ('88), Wally Stack ('87), Tom Grote ('86), Justin Shea ('85), and Dan Pace ('83).

and while past U.S. teams had fun running all over even the most highly-touted international opponents, Thompson's bunch had long faces and heavy feet from the moment they stepped on the floor against the Soviets. Something was missing—enthusiasm.

But Thompson not only managed to take the fun out of the Olympics for the American basketball team, he also did his best to take the good will out of the Games. His criticism of Portland for helping Sabonis in his rehabilitation showed no trace of class.

Forget the promotion of international sport and good will between the United States and the Soviet Union. John Thompson would rather manage a short-handed squad than have a chance to beat the best players in the Soviet Union.

Sabonis scored 13 points and grabbed 13 rebounds in the Soviet semifinal victory over the Americans.

Soviet coach Alexandre Gomelski said after hearing Thompson's comments that the American coach is "a great basketball coach, but he is not a foreign minister."

Thompson's performance at the Olympics proved the Irish coach at least half right.

The Wild Pizza

AT SAINT MARY'S
SNACK BAR

FREE DELIVERY on Saint Mary's Campus

PIZZA WEEK

October 2nd - 7th

October 2nd - Two dollars off any order between 7 and 10 pm.
October 3rd - One FREE topping.
October 4th - Two liters FREE Coke with any pizza purchase.
October 5th - Accepting any area pizza coupon.
October 6th - Get a coupon for a FREE pizza when you order one between 7 and 10 pm.
October 7th - Order a pizza and get a 2nd for HALF price.

Pizza available nightly from 6 - 11 pm.

284-5537
It’s ND vs. SMC in soccer
Michiana supremacy is on the line today at Krause

By PETE GEGEN
Sports Writer

Two soccer teams square off at 5 p.m. this afternoon at Moose Krause Stadium for U.S. 31 bragging rights.

For the first time in recent years, varsity sports teams from Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s meet, this time in men’s soccer action. In the past few years, these teams have played home-and-home series while Notre Dame was at the club level.

Almost half of the Irish players came from the club team, but they say that what happened in the past has no bearing on what will happen on the field today.

“It’s not a Notre Dame-Saint Mary’s social rivalry, it’s a soccer match,” emphasized Irish senior midfielder Kathleen Bir- miningham. “We’ve got a very different team from the club team. The strategy we’ll use against them comes from other games we’ve played this season, not from past years.”

Two very different styles of play will clash on the field—the ball control passing game of Saint Mary’s and the long ball, tight marking style of Notre Dame.

The Irish enter the game with a 2-3 record and a string of five consecutive shutout wins. Their last win came on the road Tuesday when they beat Chicago 2-0.

Lately, the Irish have had an easy time against weaker opponents, outshooting Chicago, St. Joseph’s (Ind.) and Adrian by an amazing 82-3 total, but head coach Dennis Grace ex- pects that to change today.

“Saint Mary’s has a fantastic team,” he said. “We work hard against both the good and the bad teams. In that respect this game is like playing anybody— we won’t be doing anything spe- cial. We just have to play our game.”

The Bellies just suffered their first loss of the season Wednes- day, a 1-0 overtime loss to Wis- consin, but Tom Van Meter’s squad has several impressive shutouts against Purdue 9-0 and Illinois-Chicago 4-0.

For this game, Grace likely will start freshman Kelly McCrystal in goal. Leading scorer Susie Zilvitis, Joy Sioslak and Mimi Saba high-light the Irish offense, K.T. Sul- livan leads from her midfield position, and Molly Lennon anchors the defense.

What’s The Secret to a Delicious Crab Cake?

Only at Beyond the Sea Crab House
by PETE GEGEN
Sports Writer

What’s the secret to a delicious crab cake?

A series presented by the Freshman Year of Studies and the Colleges to add to the intellectual base from which the freshmen can plan their futures.

JAMES T. BURTCHAEL, C.S.C.
“IS THERE LIFE BEYOND ARTS AND LETTERS? THE ADVANTAGES OF MAJORING IN A LESSER DISCIPLINE”

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1988 7:30 P.M.
AUDITORIUM OF THE HESBURGH LIBRARY

A reception will follow the lecture.

New system planned for hoops ticket sales

By PETE GEGEN
Sports Writer

An appealing home schedule has led the Notre Dame ticket office to set a new procedure for obtaining season basketball tickets.

Beginning Monday, Oct. 3, and running for two weeks, students will be required to fill out an application to buy season tickets at Gate 10 of the Joyce ACC between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m. At this time a deposit of at least slightly more than half the ticket price will be due.

For the 1985-86 season tickets, good for all 17 home basket- ball games, are priced $65 for lower arena seating and $68 for bleachers. A deposit of $45 for lower arena seats or $40 for bleachers is re- quired during the application period. There was no in- crease in the ticket price per game.

The actual ticket distribu- tion will not happen until Oct. 31, at which time the balance will be due. Other- wise the regular distribution-by-class policy holds.

Ticket manager Bubba Cunningham said that the new application procedure is designed to prevent a shortage of student tickets, something which did occur for the 1985-86 basketball season.

“Unlike football, we are not required to provide a season basketball ticket to every student who wants one,” said Cunningham. “It would be easier for us just to set a limit. But the home schedule is so good this year that we feel there will be a greater demand for tickets. We want to make sure we know what that demand is before we allocate the tick- ets.”

For the 1985-86 season nearly 200 freshmen were turned away and approxi- mately 200 more were forced to buy tickets separate from the student section when 4,450 tickets were sold to stu- dents.

As in past years, Saint Mary’s students are limited to 200 season tickets. There is no limit on Notre Dame students now because of the application procedure.

Cunningham noted that the same procedure cannot be followed for selling foot- ball season tickets. The deadline for applications from alumni and the general public is June 20, so the allotments must be deter- mined well before the stu- dents ticket sale.

A practical technical tip:

SCM v-ball

By ELIZABETH VANDERSARI
Sports Writer

The Saint Mary’s volleyball team suffered a discouraging loss to Purdue-Calumet in a grueling four-game match Wednesday night.

After winning the first game 15-13, the Bellies came up short in the following three. In the end, the score stood at a dis- couraging 12-15, 10-15, and 12- 15.

“Right now we’re in an ob- vious slump and it’s going to take 10 percent from everyone to pull this team together and turn things around,” said senior captain Tami Suth. “We have a lot of potential and tal- ent. With every team member as a leader working as a team we can make a change.”

Junior Patti Knoebal agreed that the team will rebound from Wednesday’s showing.

“This is a temporary setback and we’re slowly working our way back up,” said Knoebal. “We gave a strong showing.”

The Bellies will have a chance to reverse their setback on Tuesday against Grace Col- leges.

FRESHMAN LECTURE SERIES

A series presented by the Freshman Year of Studies and the Colleges to add to the intellectual base from which the freshmen can plan their futures.

JAMES T. BURTCHAEL, C.S.C.
“IS THERE LIFE BEYOND ARTS AND LETTERS? THE ADVANTAGES OF MAJORING IN A LESSER DISCIPLINE”

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1988 7:30 P.M.
AUDITORIUM OF THE HESBURGH LIBRARY

A reception will follow the lecture.

LINCOLNWOOD MOTEL
3300 L.W.W. (U.S. 20) OPEN 24 HRS.
LOW daily, weekly, group & student rates
All modern: clean units, FREE cable, phone and coffee
(210) 234-4063
Knute Rockne, George Gipp, the Four Horsemen, and the golden glory of Notre Dame...

"In this treasury of memorabilia, editors Robert Quakenbush and Mike Bynum have comprised an impressive and informative keepsake about an American hero, a legend who lives on in the hearts of many."

— SOUTH BEND TRIBUNE

...on sale now at the Notre Dame Bookstore.

Coming soon from October Football Corp.

Many Autumns Ago:
The Frank Leahy Era
at Boston College and Notre Dame.
Red Sox clinch tie

Associated Press

CINCINNATI - The Boston Red Sox clinched a tie for the American League East championship Thursday night, routing the Cleveland Indians 12-9 on Mike Boddicker's three-hit pitching and Ellis Burks' hitting.

The Red Sox, ending a three-game losing streak, can win their second division title in three seasons Friday night when Roger Clemens faces the Indians. Clemens is 9-0 lifetime against Cleveland.

Boston's victory eliminated Detroit from the race. New York and Milwaukee can tie only if they win all of their remaining games while the Red Sox lose their final three in Cleveland. Boston is 8-2 against the Indians this season.

Boddicker, 13-15 overall but 7-3 since joining the Red Sox on July 29, retired the first 16 batters.

Burks hit a three-run double that capped a fifth-run third inning. He had an RBI single during a seven-run seventh.

The loser was Rod Nichols, 1-7.

Yanks 5, Orioles 1

BALTIMORE - Ken Phelps and Don Mattingly hit home runs as the New York Yankees kept alive their slim hopes in the American League East by beating the Baltimore Orioles 5-1 Thursday night.

The Yankees added one to its gold medal count for the second time in two hours.

Two world records, two gold medals and I'm not finished," Flo Jo said.

"It was a tough day," Griffith Joyner said.

"I know I can run much faster," she said. "I felt very relaxed in the morning."

Grace Jackson of Jamaica won the silver in 21.78, second fastest time in two hours, and adding the 200 to the 100 gold she won last Sunday.

And she could get more, with two relay gold medals still available.

"I know I can run much faster," she said. "I felt very relaxed in the morning."

"I know I can run much faster," she said. "I felt very relaxed in the morning."
Soccer
continued from page 20
The pep rally for the Notre Dame-Stanford game will be held at 7 p.m. tonight on Stepan courts. -The Observer
Leon Hart will be signing autographs from 2-4 p.m. Saturday afternoon in the concourse of the Joyce ACC.
The former Irish Heisman Trophy winner is featured on the cover of this week's football program, and posters featuring a replica of this cover will be on sale for $7 apiece. -The Observer
A horseback riding trip is being sponsored by Non-Varsity Athletics for Sunday, Oct. 2. Trail rides cost $10, and transportation will be provided. Buses will leave the library circle at 11 a.m., 12:35 p.m. and 2:10 p.m. each riding session lasting one hour. Limited spaces are available, and one must register and pay at the NVA office. The deadline for registering is Sept. 30. -The Observer
IH
continued from page 20
run out the clock and hold on to the victory.
W alsh 14, Badin 9: Badin coach Brian Miller predicted Walsh's defense with Wednesday night's victory so well that the decorative captain Corine Glavin was extremely pleased with the defense's play, holding Badin to one first down the entire game. The offensive attack once again was led by quarterback Amy Faрабough, who connected for touchdown passes of 25 and 30 yards to tempts W ednesday. Toohey was again in on the scoring, running in a pitch from the left­ side. Both Glavin and M iler praised the efforts of their respective defenses.
"We knocked down a couple of times, but we could have resulted in touchdowns," remarked Glavin.
While Miller was happy with his defense, he was less than enthused with the play of his offense in their second straight loss.
Next, Wisconsin will be playing on its friendly home grass. While Grace feels that his team is not hurt by the foreign surroundings, there's no telling the aid the Badgers could receive from a loud crowd and a good night's sleep. The most important ingredient in the equation, one which should make for an extremely intense game, is the motivation.
Ranked third and fourth respectively in the Great Lakes Region, both Notre Dame and Wisconsin realize that this game could be the difference between a post-season invitation and an early rest.
"We're third," said Grace, peering at the nearest Regional rankings in his hands, "and they're fourth. Only three tems will be invited (to the NCAA's). This is a bellwa opportunity for them to move up."
CAMPUS

Noon to 1 p.m. Lecture, "Immigration Reform and Education: The Changing Legal Status of Students in the United States," by Professor Michael Olivas, 220 Law School Courtyard.

12:15 p.m. Friday Forum at the Center for Social Concerns, "The Cultural Mosaic of America Catholicism, 124 C.S.C. Soup and bread are one dollar.

7:30 and 9:45 Film, "Full Metal Jacket," Annenberg Auditorium.

SATURDAY

7:30 to 8 a.m. Open meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous at Holy Cross House.

8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Law School Admission Test, Engineering Auditorium.

9:00 to 10:00 First Saturday Holy Hour of Reparation to the Immaculate Heart of Mary, Sacred Heart Crypt.

9:30 Alcoholics Anonymous closed meeting in the multi-purpose room of the C.S.C.

12:15 p.m. Noon to 1 p.m. United States," by Professor Michael Olivas, 220 Law School Reading Room, C.S.C. Soup and bread are one dollar.

12:45 p.m. Open meeting of Alcoholics Anonymous.

1:30 p.m. The Changing Legal Status of Students in the United States, 220 Law School Courtyard.

CAMPUS

Movie this weekend is "Full Metal Jacket." All times 8:00 pm and 10:15 pm at Cashing Auditorium. Admission $2.00.

COMICS

The Misadventures of Buzz Meetslop

Thanks a load to everyone who voted for me. To celebrate the win, we've adopted this new look.

The artist realized that it was hard to read, so he's decided to type the words.

"My country, myself," the professor said.

49 Comic Jay
50 "Le Coq"
31 "Senor's love"
33 Casino employee
55 Gershwin song: 1925
58 Mother who can be cruel
59 Describing a winter gaze
60 Like most TV shows
61 Sea swallows

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

ACROSS
1 Times and Signi 29 Broadway org.
2 Prospero's servant 30 Thine rope
3 Essential parts 31 Check
4 Radiophone 32 Minuti work
5 A 1943 musical 33 Objets d'art
6 Passion, in Ruth 35 Tycoon's "Kingdom"
7 Abhor 39 Explorer Johnson
8 Sisqo's negative 40 Unfold
9 A day in Levy's life 42 Folded
10 Sometimes it flies 43 Peasant footwear
11 Sometimes it flies 45 El Jefe
12 Badinage 46 Character in Charlie's Aunt
13 Responds to a stimulus 47 People's hero
14 "Adam—..." 48 My country, myself congenial
15 Creature painted on Mosaic piece, e.g.
16 Word with suit ending
17 Kind of verse
18 A friend of Hayseed's life
19 "So what!
20 Friendship, gift
21 Kind of verse
22 He is
23 Patron saint of New York City, e.g.
24 "My country, myself" congenial
25 Kin of "It's the end of the world as we know it"
26 Broadway org.
27 "My country, myself" congenial
28 Minuti work
29 "My country, myself" congenial
30 Thine rope
31 Check
32 Minuti work
33 Objets d'art
34 "My country, myself" congenial
35 Tycoon's "Kingdom"
36 Explorer Johnson
37 "My country, myself" congenial
38 Folded
39 Explorer Johnson
40 Peasant footwear
41 "My country, myself" congenial
42 Folded
43 "My country, myself" congenial
44 "My country, myself" congenial
45 "My country, myself" congenial
46 People's hero
47 "My country, myself" congenial
48 "My country, myself" congenial
49 "My country, myself" congenial
50 "Le Coq"
51 "Senor's love"
52 Casino employee
53 Gershwin song: 1925
54 Mother who can be cruel
55 Describing a winter gaze
56 Like most TV shows
57 Sea swallows

DINNER MENUS

Notre Dame BBQ Beef on a Bun
Fried Fish Platter
Pork Loin
Broccoli and Cheese
Potatoes

Saint Mary's Tomato Meat Loaf
Pizza Deluxe
Apple Cheese Deli Bar

MOVIE THIS WEEKEND:

All Times
8:00 pm and 10:15 pm
Cashing Auditorium
Admission $2.00

SPONSORED BY STUDENT UNION BOARD
ND to host Butler, W. Mich.
Volleyball team attempts to continue winning streak

By MOLLY MAHONEY
Sports Writer

This could be the weekend that the Notre Dame women's volleyball team turns the corner.

The Irish, who host Butler tonight and Western Michigan Saturday afternoon, will try to maintain their momentum from two consecutive home victories and defeat these two long-standing rivals.

Butler, now 11-2 after winning the DePaul Invitational and most recently, its own tournament, is riding a four-match winning streak and will try to end Notre Dame's string of wins at two.

The Irish have a 5-4 series record against the Bulldogs, whose two losses have come against the hands of Michigan and Ball State, and have won the matchup in the past two years. Last year Notre Dame coasted by Butler in three games, beating them 15-4, 15-10 and 15-1.

Notre Dame will have to contend with the net play of seniors Jill Tileyer and Jill Spurgeon this year against Butler. Taylor, an outside hitter, led the team in kills and digs last season and Spurgeon, a middle blocker, led the Bulldogs in total blocks.

"It's going to be a tough match," said Irish head coach Art Lambert. "They always get up for us. Notre Dame's one of the biggest games on their schedule and I think they've got a better team than Bowling Green (who upset the Irish earlier this season)."

Notre Dame will face another challenge Saturday afternoon when it2 takes on Western Michigan—a team they have yet to beat in their four-match series history.

Western Michigan is led by junior middle blocker Gail Church, who led the team in blocks and hits avg with a .300 average on 276 kills last year.

The Broncos lost four starters from last season's 26-6 team, but Church and fellow middle blocker Mei Zhang, a native of Beijing, China who played on the Chinese Junior National team before coming to Western Michigan, will try

Irish aim for sweep

By TIM SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

Dennis Grace is taking nothing for granted.

The Notre Dame men's soccer coach has his Irish squad, 9-0-1, playing some of its best soccer of the season heading into tonight's game against 1-6 Detroit, yet he refuses to look ahead to Sunday's away game against a tough Wisconsin team.

"These are the ones that scare me," said Grace of the Detroit game, despite the fact that the Irish have just attained only their second national ranking in history (30th in the ISAA coach's poll, 18th in Soc-

Thompson's actions very unbronzeeworthy

You might call the United States Olympic basketball team's trip to Seoul a success because the squad that was coached by John Thompson somehow managed to resist provoking a brawl.

Marty Strasen
Sports Editor

Compared to Thompson's Georgetown crew, that's quite a feat. The U.S. suffered its second loss in 87 games in Olympic history, but they didn't get in a fight, so you've got to hand it to them—right along with that bronze medal.

But Thompson could not leave Seoul without throwing a few verbal fistfuls at someone, so a few weeks ago he buried some at the Portland Trail Blazers' NBA franchise.

see THOMPSON, page 14

see IRISH, page 18

see SOCCER, page 18

Florence Griffith-Joyner, here covering her face after receiving her gold medal for the 200-meter run, has teamed with sister-in-law Jackie Joyner-Kersee to produce a golden family reunion in Seoul.

Griffith-Joyner has won golds in the 100 and 200, while Joyner-Kersee took gold medals in the heptathlon and long jump. See page 17 for a complete Olympic update.

1st down, a season to go
Keep informed about the Notre Dame football and basketball teams, students, faculty, and the changing campus. While you are away, let The Observer bring Notre Dame and Saint Mary's home to you. The Observer staff of more than 250 students will continue to cover all of the Notre Dame and Saint Mary's news every day.

Subscribe now and you will be sure to stay informed during Notre Dame's drive to the national championship and through Father Malloy's second year as president.

To subscribe now, please send $35 for the entire school year or $20 for one semester.

The Observer
P.O. Box Q
Notre Dame, IN 46556