Protesters storm U.S. building in Pakistan

Associated Press

ISLAMABAD, Pakistan—Police fired on hundreds of protesters who stormed a U.S. government office Sunday, to demand the United States ban a novel they consider offensive to Muslims.

At least five people died and 65 were injured, doctors said. Police repeatedly fired in automatic weapons, rifles and shotguns at charging protesters who yelled "American dogs!" and hurled rocks and bricks during three hours of fierce clashes.

The rioting erupted when more than 2,000 fundamentalists tried to march to the U.S. Information Center to demand the United States ban "Satanic Verses," a novel by Salman Rushdie.

see RIOT page 7

North trial postponed until Friday by Rehnquist

Associated Press

WASHINGTON - The chief justice on Sunday ordered a delay in the start of Oliver North's Iran-Contra trial, but the independent prosecutor and Justice Department later agreed on a plan aimed at letting the independent prosecutor and Justice Department request to delay

Two-step

Saint Mary's junior Kathy Panos (left) dances with a client at the Logan Center Valentine's Day Dance Friday. Volunteers from Notre Dame and Saint Mary's interact with mentally handicapped people from the South Bend area.

North's trial from Monday's scheduled start until Friday, when the full Supreme Court is expected to consider the department's objections to the planned release of classified material by North's defense.

He also indicated that the party had revised its view of the 1956 anti-Soviet revolt to acknowledge the uprising started with good intentions but went sour.

"A multiparty system would "certainly provide an opportunity for alliances" and participation by groups the Communists would not be able to mobilize on their own," Grosz said in an interview excerpted on Hungarian radio late Saturday and due for full broadcast Sunday evening.

"The system is expected to be legal under a new constitution to be written next year," Grosz said. He expected the constitution to require new parties to operate "on a socialist basis."

"If they do not accept the constitution, then they cannot operate legally," he said. He did not elaborate.

No date has been announced for multiparty local or national parliamentary elections, but both are due by the end of 1990.

Grosz's remarks indicated that dozens of political movements, many of which have begun in recent months, will be allowed to participate.

Unlike alternative parties in East Germany, Czechoslovakia and Poland, Hungary's groups are independent of the Communists.

see HUNGARY page 6

Meeting for candidates for student government set

By BRIDGET GOEVVAERTS

Campaigning will begin at 12:01 a.m., Feb. 20, for those students running for positions as student body class officers and off-campus commissioner.

All students interested in running for office must attend a mandatory meeting scheduled for Feb. 14 at 7:30 p.m. in the LaFortune Student Center.

Any full-time Notre Dame undergraduate in good academic standing (with a GPA of 2.0 or better) may run in the election.

The election date is set for Feb. 27. Students must present I.D.'s, and may vote in their own residence halls. Students studying abroad may also vote.

The rules for campaigning are the same as last year:

• There is a one-hundred and twenty-five dollar spending limit for the student body president, and a forty-five dollar spending limit for the senate.

• There is no limit as to the number of posters, but the size is limited to 11 inches by 17 inches.

• Posters will be restricted from certain areas such as trees and classrooms, and the tearing down of other candidates' posters is strictly prohibited.

• Any rule violations will be dealt with by a three-member panel within the student government.

"The turn out at the first election information meeting was by far less than last year," said head Ombudsman John Wilson, who is in charge of the elections.

"There are few interested in running for student body president, but we expect more to come to the meeting on the 14th."

Acoustic Kings

Sean and the Sun Kings, a campus band, plays at the Alumni Senior Club, Friday night. The Club regularly features campus and local bands during the weekend.

ACCENT: Streisand album review

VIEWPOINT: Anything for the team
IN BRIEF

John Burke has been named Outstanding Alumnus of the Year by the Notre Dame chapter of Beta Alpha Psi, a professional accounting society. Burke has been active in a number of professional and civic groups, including the Economic Development Council of Greater Kansas City, the Business Council of the Greater Kansas City, the Business Council of the American Heart Association. He is a former president of the Missouri Society of CPAs and a past member of the council of AOCPA. - The Observer

The University of Notre Dame has received the first installment of a $75,000 commitment from the USX Foundation, Inc., in support of its new Center for Sensor Materials. "We are grateful for this gift and gratified by the USX Foundation's recognition of the importance of this unique center," said university President Father Edward Malloy. Notre Dame's Center for Sensor Materials involves University scientists from a variety of disciplines in research which contributes to the newly emerging sensor technologies. Its initial concentration is the development of metal oxide semiconducting materials for potential use as gas sensors. - The Observer

Barry Lopez, 1966 Notre Dame graduate and author of several books, essays, and articles on natural history, has been appointed visiting W. Harold and Martha Welch Professor of English at Notre Dame for the fall 1989 semester by Professor Timothy Ward Malloy. Notre Dame's Center for Sensor Materials. "We are grateful for this gift and gratified by the USX Foundation's recognition of the importance of this unique center," said university President Father Edward Malloy. Notre Dame's Center for Sensor Materials involves University scientists from a variety of disciplines in research which contributes to the newly emerging sensor technologies. Its initial concentration is the development of metal oxide semiconducting materials for potential use as gas sensors. - The Observer

OF INTEREST

Student government candidates for presidential, vice-presidential, and senatorial positions must attend a mandatory meeting in the Sorin Room of the LaFortune Student Center at 7:30 p.m., Tuesday. Petitions for signatures will be distributed. - The Observer

Proposition 42 is the topic of discussion in the Iceberg Debates today from 9-10 p.m. Semifinals will take place Feb. 20, and the final will be held Feb. 28. - The Observer

Beta Alpha Psi Initiation Banquet will be held today at 6:30 p.m. at the University Club. All new initiates are required to attend. - The Observer

Mandatory French and Spanish placement exams will be given on Feb. 21 and Feb. 28, respectively, in the language lab, Room 502 O'Shaughnessy Hall. Students who have studied French or Spanish in high school but have not yet taken a course in those languages at Notre Dame must take a placement exam prior to registration. Sign-up sheets and more information are available in Room 501 O'Shaughnessy Hall. - The Observer

Freshman and transfer orientation applications are now available in the student government office, second floor, LaFortune. Applicants will be notified as to the time of their interview. - The Observer

Juniors may register for Junior Parents' Weekend today and Tuesday from 3-10 p.m. in the Sorin Room of LaFortune. You must bring IDs for each person you register. All JPF participants must be registered by 10 p.m. Tuesday. - The Observer

WSND-FM is looking for classical music announcers. No prior experience is necessary. Call Tara Creedon at 239-3807 or Lisa McMahon at 239-4320 for more information. - The Observer

Father Robert Pelton, director of the Institute for Pastoral Social Ministry, Notre Dame, presents a film and discussion on "Diversity in Resolutions for Peace," at 7:30 p.m. today in Carroll Auditorium, Madelene Hall. - The Observer

ISIDE COLUMN

'Soul Food Cookin' remolds stereotypes

Last Thursday the dining halls decided to make a contribution to the Year of Cultural Diversity with "Soul Food Cookin'."

While a videotape of Martin Luther King Jr. played in the corner of South Dining Hall, so-called authentic black dishes such as catfish, ribs, and best of all, watermelon were served. The incredible craziness of this is amazing. At a time when Notre Dame is trying to make the campus more diverse, it shows just how far we still have to go.

One of President Malloy's goals when he took office was to increase minority enrollment. Even though the campus is still overwhelmingly white, he has made some progress in this area. Just bringing more minorities into the school is not enough, however, to solve the problem and make the campus racially harmonious.

For that to happen, there has to be interaction between different groups of people, who learn from one another, and learn to respect one another's differences—and that isn't happening. Look around the dining hall right now, or, look at the Hodile the next time you're walking through LaFortune Student Center. In general, the white people sit together, the black people sit together, and so forth. There are exceptions, of course, but it's amazing how we segregate ourselves.

Numbers alone won't change people's attitudes. I know this from my own experience. My high school was much more racially diverse than Notre Dame, but the same thing occurred there. People divided themselves up along racial lines, and stereotypes flourished.

Before the situation at Notre Dame can truly change, there has to be a change in the atmosphere here. Most of the students at Notre Dame come from predominantly white, upper-middle-class backgrounds. They either went to mostly white Catholic schools or mostly white suburban public schools. Once again, there are exceptions to this, but if anyone checks the student body profile, they'll see that it's true. The 1987 student body survey showed that 97 percent of Notre Dame students are white. Eighty-nine percent are Catholic. Ninety-nine percent come from families whose income is above $30,000 a year, and 81 percent over $50,000 a year. When such a homogenous student body, it's not surprising that people who fall outside the narrow "typical" range may feel uncomfortable. Even I, one of those white middle-class students from a Catholic background, get surprised sometimes.

When I was at the dining hall Thursday, a few of us were talking about how tacky and tasteless it was to serve watermelon. One of the students sitting next to me turned and asked why anyone would get offended by the dining hall serving watermelon during "Soul Food Cookin'." He wasn't aware that there was any connection between the two.

Before there can be meaningful progress in making Notre Dame truly diverse, the University must become the sort of place that welcomes differences, that makes cultural and racial minorities feel at home. Right now, Notre Dame admits minorities, but they are not integrated into the campus community. Notre Dame's identity is still solidly white and middle-class. I don't know how to change the atmosphere on campus. The Administration can admit more minorities, but it can't legislate people's attitudes.

A farce like "Soul Food Cookin'" at the dining hall, however, doesn't help. Far from promoting cultural diversity, it only reinforces the stereotypes that block understanding.

The Observer

Assistant News Editor

Tim O'Keefe

Advertising Staff

We need someone with the confidence of a surgeon, the dedication of a marathoner and the courage of an explorer.

Call 239-6900

Wish your friends a happy birthday with Observer advertising.

Call 239-6900

THIS WEEK WED. 15 & THURS 16 Sophomores are selling shot glasses in the dining hall for $1.

GET READY TO CHASE AWAY YOUR FEBRUARY BLUES NEXT WEEK, FEB. 19-24 WE'VE GOT SOME FUN PLANNED FOR YOU

Sunday 19—Basketball game 2pm Angola food raffle at halftime.

Monday 20—STEVE KIMBROUGH and a Washington birthday party; 9:15 Haggar Parlor

Tuesday 21—REGENCY singing group 9pm Carroll Auditorium FREE

Wed Thu Fri—BIG $1 9-11pm

Thursday 23—RAGTIME, Free Haggar Game Room 7pm

The Observer (ISSN 799-4400) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. Subscriptions may be purchased for $10 per year ($3 per semester) by writing The Observer, P.O. Box 4, Notre Dame, IN 46556.

The Observer is a member of The Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Baker opens talks on nuclear strategy

Associated Press

BONN, West Germany—Secretary of State James Baker on Sunday opened critical talks with West German leaders who have balked at a NATO plan to upgrade short-range nuclear missiles in Europe.

Baker flew in from London after sessions with British leaders and immediately met with Foreign Minister Hans-Dietrich Genscher, a strong advocate of reducing nuclear tensions in Europe.

Baker, on a six-day trip to visit the 15 U.S. NATO allies, told reporters during the flight he was not worried about West German Chancellor Helmut Kohl's statement last week that the Lance missiles now deployed are adequate until 1995.

Under the proposal before the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, the current 70-mile range would be extended with new rockets that could hit targets about 320 miles away.

"I think what we need to do is to find out exactly what the German government's position is going to be," Baker told reporters.

Genscher, greeting Baker at an arm-sweep Bonn Cologne airport, pledged to "work cooperatively together." Baker told reporters.

In a radio interview with the British Broadcasting Corp., he said the plan would not provoke the Soviet Union.

Western leaders are concerned that upgrading the missiles could poison the atmosphere for further progress in East-West disarmament talks.

NATO Secretary-General Manfred Woerner tried to give the NATO proposal another boost Sunday.

Woerner said the Soviet Union had just finished its short-range modernization by deploying its new SS-21 missiles in East Germany.

NATO is expected to make a decision on its plan in three months.

Bonn is Baker's fourth stop on his six-day trip that began in Canada and took him to Iceland on Saturday.

---

Dance of many nations

International students stage a dance performance for faculty members Saturday evening at the Center for Continuing Education.

The Observer / Donald Pan

Soviets turn over last outpost near Kabul in final withdrawal

Associated Press

KABUL, Afghanistan—Soviet soldiers on Sunday handed over their last and most dangerous outpost, as they prepared to return home and leave the Afghan army to defend the capital against Moslem guerrillas.

The Soviet-backed Afghan government renewed its offer to the Soviet Union to leave because it is going to be,\n
"I think what we need to do is to find out exactly what the German government's position is going to be," Baker told reporters.

Genscher, greeting Baker at an arm-sweep Bonn Cologne airport, pledged to "work cooperatively together." Baker told reporters.

In a radio interview with the British Broadcasting Corp., he said the plan would not provoke the Soviet Union.

Western leaders are concerned that upgrading the missiles could poison the atmosphere for further progress in East-West disarmament talks.

NATO Secretary-General Manfred Woerner tried to give the NATO proposal another boost Sunday.

Woerner said the Soviet Union had just finished its short-range modernization by deploying its new SS-21 missiles in East Germany.

NATO is expected to make a decision on its plan in three months.

Bonn is Baker's fourth stop on his six-day trip that began in Canada and took him to Iceland on Saturday.

---

1989 Spring Program Guide (Requests: 239-6400)

MON TUES WED THURS FRI SAT SUN

7am-9am
Sharon Young
Craig Mayeux
Chris Main
Joe Jez
Maria Sullivan

9am-11am
Kate Lentz
Mike Ford
Mark Bintinger
Greg Ahas
Mike Roe & Paul Hart
11am-1pm
11am-12pm
12pm-1pm

1pm-3pm
John Straunton
Hugh Gallagher
Paul Saiz
Pat Kujawa
Paul Czarnecki

3pm-5pm
Jeff Henderson
Jeff Brinker
Paul Braunewiler
Tina Valicenti
Anne Sifert

5pm-7pm
Dave Kidder
Mike Pierre
Tony Bonfiglio & Rob Fisher
Bryan Roche
Dan Janick & Brian Gant

7pm-9pm
Carrie Thomas
Bill Weinsheimer
Heather Baumer
Lou Muzo
Ted Leo & Chris Infante

9pm-11pm
Rod Strickland
Julie Courtney
Tim Fitzpatrick
Mike Scanlan

11pm-1am
Tim Mulrooney
Dave McMahon
Kevin Fialherty
Kathy Morrey
Scott Tallarida

Specialty Shows

7pm-9pm:

Tuesday: Reggae

Thursday: New Releases & Cheap Trick

Friday: Dance Trax

Saturday: Hardcore

Sunday: Heavy Metal

WVIF REMOTES FOR YOUR HALL'S SYR'S AND FORMALS

(call 239-6888 and leave message)
Yacht sails New York to San Francisco in record time

The Observer
Monday, February 13, 1989

Yacht sails New York to San Francisco in record time

Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO—The yacht Thursday's Child sailed triumphantly under the Golden Gate Bridge on Sunday after a voyage from New York, by way of Cape Horn, that shattered a 135-year-old record for sailing ships by eight days.

The 60-foot sloop crossed the finish line at 12:32 p.m. PST and was met by cheers and yells from hundreds of spectators. Thursday's Child set sail Nov. 23.

The three crew members were all on deck and waved to the crowd after bettering the 229-foot clipper ship Flying Cloud's 189-day trip during the Gold Rush.

About 80 ships were out on San Francisco Bay to greet the yacht, while other spectators gathered on the roof of Fort Point and at the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge. A biplane flew overhead trailing a sign that read: "We love you TC."

Thursday's Child's entrance into the Bay was delayed for hours by a four-knot outgoing tide and by a lack of wind that had left the crew frustrated. The crew tried everything, including putting out a large sail called spinnaker, but all its sails drooped limply. Finally, under a bright, cloudless sky the yacht was able to sail under the Golden Gate.

Dozens of sailboats and powerboats headed out the Golden Gate to escort the yacht, which has logged 15,000 miles in its quest to better Flying Cloud's 189-day voyage. The expected Sunday arrival would break the record by eight days.

The Coast Guard sent a 95-foot cutter and four utility boats to escort the yacht into the Golden Gate and lessen the danger of a spectator boat accidentally ramming Thursday's Child.

In a ship-to-shore interview Sunday, Thursday's Child crew member Courtney Hazleton told The Associated Press he had "that coming home feeling."

"It's kind of like a mixed bag of emotions right now," said Hazleton. "Both relief, letdown, that the whole thing's over, and just a general feeling of accomplishment."

$99 roundtrip airfares on Northwest Airlines.

A special offer for students, only for American Express Cardmembers.

If you want to go places, it's time for the American Express® Card. Because now you can take advantage of new travel privileges on Northwest Airlines only for full-time students who carry the American Express Card.

Travel privileges that offer:

- Two $99 roundtrip tickets — fly to any of the more than 180 cities served by Northwest in the contiguous 48 United States. Only one ticket may be used per six-month period.
- Special Quarterly Northwest Destination Discounts throughout 1989 — up to 25% off the lowest available fare. 5,000 bonus miles in Northwest's WORLDPERKS® free travel program — where only 20,000 miles gets you a free roundtrip ticket to anywhere Northwest flies in the contiguous 48 United States or Canada.

And, of course, you'll enjoy all the exceptional benefits and personal service you would expect from American Express.

The only requirements for privileged travel: you must be a Cardmember, you must be a full-time student, and you must charge your Northwest Airlines tickets with the Card.*

Getting the Card is easier than ever because now you can apply by phone. Just call 1-800-942-AMEX. We'll take your application and begin to process it right away. What's more, with our Automatic Approval offers, you can qualify now while you're still in school.

Apply now: Fly later — for less.

Apply Now: 1-800-942-AMEX

*Some restrictions may apply. For complete offer details, call 1-800-942-AMEX. Current student Cardmembers automatically receive two $99 vouchers in the mail.

© 1989 American Express Travel Related Services Company, Inc.
Swaggart says his TV ministry may fold

Associated Press

BATON Rouge, La.—Evangelist Jimmy Swaggart, who has accused "pornographers" of trying to ruin him, says his television ministry will end this month unless he receives an influx of donations.

"If for whatever reason this week, you close the door in my face or you pass me by ... Feb. 26 will be the final telecast for this ministry," Swaggart said in his television program distributed for broadcast this weekend.

"You are making a choice today, a choice between the pornographers that are working more diligently than you will ever know ... It's either the pornographers or it's us, it's either the devil or darkness, or it's God and light," Swaggart said.

In the latest edition of Penthouse magazine, a New Orleans stripper said she performed sex acts for Swaggart while he watched. The allegations leveled by Catherine Mary Kampen were similar to those of Debra Murphree that led to Swaggart's ouster last year from the Assemblies of God. Murphree, who has lived in Patoka, Ind., has also been a New Orleans prostitute, and said she performed pornographic acts for Swaggart.

Swaggart has said that he never met Kampen and that Penthouse published the article even though the ministry presented the magazine with evidence that the allegations were false. Attorneys for Swaggart have said a libel suit will be filed against the magazine.

Kampen's employer at a strip-o-gram service has said that Kampen told her sister that she made up the story after seeing a similar story last year involving Murphree, who had attended Princeton Community High School in Gibson County, Ind. Murphree left the Gibson County community of Patoka in southern Indiana in 1982. Kampen has said she stands by her allegations.

In a tearful confession to his congregation last February, Swaggart said he had sinned, but did not reveal specifics. He was defrocked by the Assemblies after refusing to stay away from the pulpit for at least one year.

During his television show, Swaggart said there is "not one shred of truth in what they did, said, portrayed or printed." He also said the stories of sexual misconduct had been distributed by "pornographers aided, sadly to say, by some preachers."

"It's either the pornographers or us. They will have their way and eliminate Jimmy Swaggart from television. That's what they wanted to do," Swaggart said.

Swaggart has said that Penthouse publisher Bob Guccione was angry because of the ministry's involvement in a drive to get convenience stores to quit carrying Penthouse and other men's magazines.

Sunday: One hundred forty-four, including an American crew of seven, perished in the disaster.

ICEBERG DEBATES TONIGHT

THIRD ROUND

9:00 - 10:00 P.M.

"That the NCAA should adopt Proposition 42 at its convention in 1990"

FARLEY (CON) hosts FISHER (PRO)
STANFORD (PRO) hosts LEWIS (CON)
ZAHM (PRO) hosts SORIN (CON)

* P.E. GETS A BYE TO SEMI FINALS

SPONSORED BY STUDENT GOVERNMENT AND THE CENTER FOR SOCIAL CONCERNS
Chocolate gives ‘sensual pleasure’

Associated Press

PROVIDENCE, R.I.—The romantic effect of giving someone a heart-shaped box of chocolates on Valentine’s Day could be more than sentimental.

“Chocolate does have amorous value,” said George Grosz, a pastry chef instructor at the $8,000 student Johnson & Wales University in Providence, one of the biggest cooking schools in the world.

“A chemical in the chocolate hits a pleasure center in the brain,” Higgins said. “As a gift from a lover to a lover, it would certainly help do the trick.”

“Chocolate is a sensual pleasure in itself, existing in the same world as sex,” sex therapist Ruth Westheimer wrote in her column, “Ask Dr. Ruth.”

Chocolate contains phenylethylamine, or PEA, a natural mood-altering chemical also found in the human brain.

“Win a lottery, get a promotion, fall in love, especially fall in love, and your PEA level shoots up. You’re optimistic, sociable, and peppy,” according to Chocolate, An Illustrated History, by Marcia and Fredrick Morton. “But if things go wrong, especially if something goes wrong in your love life, you turn listless and depressed because your PEA level is down.”

Cocoa butter melts at a body temperature, “so when you put good chocolate in your mouth it begins to melt, it becomes a sensual thing,” said Gayle Steinhardt, of Gayle’s Chocolates in Newport, in a telephone interview from her store in Royal Oak, Mich. She said her sales are 20 times normal on Valentine’s Day and the day before.

But there’s also an argument against the romantic effects of chocolate.

“I really wonder whether giving chocolate for Valentine’s Day is really the best type of gift if one wants to pursue any type of intense, romantic affair,” said Judith Wurtman, a research scientist at Massachusetts Institute of Technology’s department of nutrition and food sciences.

“The high fat and the high sugar content may make you very sleepy.”

“If you’re dealing in a situation where the woman is being pursued by the man, it might slow her down theoretically enough that she can be caught,” she added.

Whatever the real effect of chocolate, the origins of chocolate-giving on Valentine’s Day are obscure.

Hungary continued from page 1

A new pro-Marxist group with an anti-Stalinist platform was founded Saturday. An other group, named after a leader of the national peasants’ party quashed in the Communist takeover as it has been officially called for 32 years. An unprecedented discussion in the media and society followed.

Gross said Pozsgay had been too hasty in announcing his views.

A source, speaking on condition of anonymity, said Pozsgay had told the Central Committee his statement was his “personal view,” a switch from his earlier position that he based his statements on a party report.

Grosz indicated the commitment had reached a compromise on an official view of the 1966 revolt.

He said it started as an uprising in which many “honest people” fought against a dated regime, but ended with “counterrevolutionary elements” gradually gaining strength.

During the past 30 years the official view had become distorted, and “we forgot those popular elements,” he said.
ATTENTION JUNIORS

Applications are currently being accepted for the following position:

Controller

• Acquire an understanding of the internal control of an overall accounting system.
• Gain practical hands-on accounting experience.
• Be directly responsible for the financial operations; including purchasing, payroll, receivables, and payables of a small business.
• Gain knowledge of state, local, and federal taxes.
• Must be a junior accounting major.

Call Chris Donnelly at 239-7471 to find out the benefits of this position.

Pravda: NATO thinks East Bloc economy falling behind

Associated Press

MOSCOW—Pravda told its Soviet readers on Sunday that NATO believes the East Bloc economies are doing so poorly that they will fall further behind the West for another two decades.

In a short answer to a reader's question, the official Communist Party newspaper said Voice of America did not lie when it reported the pessimistic economic projections given by NATO official Henning Waggoner.

But Pravda said the conclusions in the report were "on Waggoner's conscience."

Film about Norwegian seal killing stirs major protests

Associated Press

STOCKHOLM, Sweden—Hundreds of angry television viewers called the Norwegian Embassy, major newspapers and conservationists to react to a film about Norwegian seal hunting, Swedish media reported Sunday.

The documentary ran on Swedish television Saturday night and showed seal puppies being clubbed to death and seals apparently being skinned alive.

"I have never seen anything as disgusting. I am boycotting Norway," 21-year-old Freddie Karlsson told the Aftonbladet daily.

Some viewers called police to threaten attacks on Norwegian installations, said Swedish radio.

It has not been shown in Norway, which is lobbying to end a 1983 European Community ban on importing seal pup skin.

Stone cold

Freshman Kevin Flanigan gives incoming freshman Kathleen Collins a tour of the campus, including the sculpture prominently displayed along the steps of the Edna and Leo Riley Hall of Art and Design.

Pravda summarized the NATO report, saying it projected no more than 2 percent economic growth per year and a widening economic gap between East and West until well into the next century.

"The system's deficiencies are so obvious that (the Soviet Union) has no choice but to continue reforms. This significantly reduces its opportunities to use national funds for military affairs," Pravda said in explaining Waggoner's stand.

Pravda said the official recommended against any Western aid to the Soviet Union.

Riot

continued from page 1

Pakistan banned the novel on grounds that it offends Moslem by suggesting the prophet Mohammed was fallible. India also banned the novel.

In Kennebunkport, Maine, where President Bush was spending the weekend, White House spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said U.S. officials were monitoring the Islamabad situation closely.

Fitzwater said the national security adviser, Brent Scowcroft, telephoned Bush early Sunday to tell him of the riot.

"God is great!" protesters screamed as they smashed windows and started fires after driving off scores of police.

They tore down the American flag at the center and danced in delight as it was burned, along with effigies representing the Indian-born Rushdie and the United States.

Three U.S. diplomats and 15 Pakistanis employed at the center were in the building at the time but were not hurt, U.S. diplomats said.

"There was a pitched battle going on outside," said Kent Obee, head of the center, which contains a public library and dispenses information about the United States.

Doctors at area hospitals, who spoke on condition of anonymity, said at least five people had been killed by police gunfire and 65 protesters shot and wounded.

They said the injured included Moslem theology students and about 30 police hit by rocks or beaten by the rampaging crowd.

Single Rose Florist

Valentine's Day Special
Carnations Boxed - $18.50 / dozen
Also available: roses and plants

Delivery Available

Order by Phone
289-7673
or come in
511 E. Jefferson Blvd., South Bend
$30/Month
Call: 239-7477

Get Involved In These!
Football groupies play crucial roles

It seems like only yesterday that the football team won the national championship. Needless to say, I was ecstatic about their achievements, immediately claiming their victory at the Fiesta Bowl as a personal triumph. Friends at home seem to realize the importance I played in this national championship, as I so often reminded them. Of course, the rally last Tuesday is not the end of our university-wide self-congratulations. There will be more parades. I understand, on Saint Patrick's Day so that others may complement us as hardly as we can ourselves.

Rob Hennig
rubby tuesday

Surely with all of this celebration, we regular students (but still the collective twelfth man on the team) should not forget our proper place. The student body at Notre Dame is among the brightest, most talented group in the nation. This is why I stand incredulous when I hear of people leaving notes on football players doors, stealing pictures, and even going so far as introducing themselves without proper notice.

Can such a student who would engage in such actions be from the same institution of higher learning that I myself attend? Surely not. Even with alumni connections, the committee on under-graduate admissions would not admit a football groupie of such questionable manners and intelligence. But alas, this must happen.

One should hold such ill-founded opinions of the role of football players vis-a-vis their fellow students, is beyond me. This is not just a sign of a "typical freshman geek" but of a seriously abnormal tendency. This incident did serve the purpose of getting me to think of whether this is not a more general malaise.

So that such a mistake does not happen again. I have composed some rules of thumb which might serve as guidelines for future reference. (Please clip and save.)

1. In meeting a football player, all freshmen women should immediately offer themselves as possible dates. A player should not have to ask you, you should volunteer your services for the good of the team. Sometimes this may involve seeking out players, following them around campus, or relaying messages through friends. Under no circumstances is any freshman female to leave a note on a player’s door. Notes may be left, however, with the coaching staff who will then direct you in your proper role. Women have a vital role to play in the successful nurturing of the team. Football can be a tough sport and without the availability of female groupies to take some of the pressure off, it is doubtful any player could long endure. Although this may require some sacrifices, just remember na- tions that those players are won or lost by the willingness of freshmen women to meet every player’s desire, or at least the player’s start.

2. Guys should be aware of any foot- ball players in the dorm. Sometimes you might be asked to perform favors, late-night runs to the Oak Room, bor- rowing of miscellaneous items like shampoo, soap, stereo equipment, etc. Think nothing of it. Although not everyone can be fortunate enough to have a football player live down the hall (if you are lucky enough) right next door, you can make up for it by making yourself player in nearest proximity to you and offer your services. Guys with sisters or girlfriends may wish to offer these ladies to players, should freshmen wom- en not be readily available.

3. Games, threats, and anyone with a GPA above a 3.8, should locate all of the starting players in their classes. For midterm and final examinations, please sit directly in front of any player and offer your assistance. Although it has been known that football players like to sit among themselves for tests, it is your duty to ensure this behavioral tendency does not bring down the grades of the entire cluster of players. Accordingly, it may help to arrange sig- nals before class. Although taking tests outright or handing in papers for our lads is not condoned, one would hate to hold you responsible when certain players are ruled academically in-e ligible.

4. Faculty can do their part by help- ing to make Notre Dame a university our football team can be proud to at- tend. It is not my place here to suggest which specific methods should be used to pass all the players. Nevertheless, if you are a faculty member and your students play during exams can help, one should not leave such important matters to chance.

5. Perhaps the most vital role is that proper focus is maintained. While it is important to maintain a legitimate program, one should never let mere conv- eniences kneel in the way of winning. While student and faculty groupies can do a lot, they can only go so far as the administration lets them. Accordingly, the administration must see to it that winning becomes the first priority. Sometimes this may involve recruiting in a shady manner. More often than not, however, simply placing our foot- ball players on a pedestal above regular students can achieve the desired ef-

We all know "meeting football players at ND is sort of like meeting movie stars in Hollywood... the thrill and excitement is great. I mean, what else is there to do in South Bend?!” It is perhaps the greatest tragedy that these players are still students, mean- ing they must be labeled in the same category as regular commoners like myself. Although there is little we can do to rectify this situation in the near future, by granting football players godlike status in the minds of other students, maybe we can ease this burden.

One should not allow a faux pas on the part of some freshmen girls to ruin the whole barrel. Because these few do not follow the rules, it should not be allowed to obscure the role everyone else may play. We have followed the same steps, I guarantee the proper focus of football at Notre Dame will be main- tained, not just for freshmen, but for the University as a whole.

Rob Hennig is a senior economics major and a regular Viewpoint columnist.

P.O. Box Q

Serving soul food spreads stereotype

Dear Editor:

For soul food day! The one day I decide to skip dinner, I heard they served my kind of food.

The dinner in honor of Black history only harbored cultural stereotypes, not cultural diversity. Neckbones, greens, barbecue ribs, catfish—and I cannot forget the watermelon—were among the foods served. How can one operationally define "soul food?" I don’t particularly care for many of the items on the list. And tell me how did they manage to get watermelon in the winter? I was appalled and disgraced when I heard of the attempt they made to em- ulate “soul food cookin’.” That meal only served to heighten the awareness of stereotypes. It seems the only thing University Food Services forgot to dis- play around was cotton. I am sorry I missed the dinner about my stereotypes, oh, my mean culture.

Chelsee Latimer
Lewis Hall
Feb. 10, 1989

Quote of the Day

"Good communication is just as stimulating as black coffee, and just as hard to sleep after." -Anne Morrow Lindbergh

The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The views expressed herein are those of the individuals concerned, and may not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The views are expressed as accurately and objectively as possible. Letters, columns, and Op-Eds reflect the opinions of the individuals concerned. Letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Columns space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

P.O. Box Q

Serving soul food spreads stereotype

Dear Editor:

For soul food day! The one day I decide to skip dinner, I heard they served my kind of food.

The dinner in honor of Black history only harbored cultural stereotypes, not cultural diversity. Neckbones, greens, barbecue ribs, catfish—and I cannot forget the watermelon—were among the foods served. How can one operationally define “soul food?” I don’t particularly care for many of the items on the list. And tell me how did they manage to get watermelon in the winter? I was appalled and disgraced when I heard of the attempt they made to emulate “soul food cookin’.” That meal only served to heighten the awareness of stereotypes. It seems the only thing University Food Services forgot to display around was cotton. I am sorry I missed the dinner about my stereotypes, oh, my mean culture.

Chelsee Latimer
Lewis Hall
Feb. 10, 1989

Quote of the Day

"Good communication is just as stimulating as black coffee, and just as hard to sleep after." -Anne Morrow Lindbergh

The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The views expressed herein are those of the individuals concerned, and may not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The views are expressed as accurately and objectively as possible. Letters, columns, and Op-Eds reflect the opinions of the individuals concerned. Letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Columns space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

P.O. Box Q

Serving soul food spreads stereotype

Dear Editor:

For soul food day! The one day I decide to skip dinner, I heard they served my kind of food.

The dinner in honor of Black history only harbored cultural stereotypes, not cultural diversity. Neckbones, greens, barbecue ribs, catfish—and I cannot forget the watermelon—were among the foods served. How can one operationally define “soul food?” I don’t particularly care for many of the items on the list. And tell me how did they manage to get watermelon in the winter? I was appalled and disgraced when I heard of the attempt they made to emulate “soul food cookin’.” That meal only served to heighten the awareness of stereotypes. It seems the only thing University Food Services forgot to display around was cotton. I am sorry I missed the dinner about my stereotypes, oh, my mean culture.

Chelsee Latimer
Lewis Hall
Feb. 10, 1989

Quote of the Day

"Good communication is just as stimulating as black coffee, and just as hard to sleep after." -Anne Morrow Lindbergh

The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The views expressed herein are those of the individuals concerned, and may not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The views are expressed as accurately and objectively as possible. Letters, columns, and Op-Eds reflect the opinions of the individuals concerned. Letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Columns space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.

P.O. Box Q

Serving soul food spreads stereotype

Dear Editor:

For soul food day! The one day I decide to skip dinner, I heard they served my kind of food.

The dinner in honor of Black history only harbored cultural stereotypes, not cultural diversity. Neckbones, greens, barbecue ribs, catfish—and I cannot forget the watermelon—were among the foods served. How can one operationally define “soul food?” I don’t particularly care for many of the items on the list. And tell me how did they manage to get watermelon in the winter? I was appalled and disgraced when I heard of the attempt they made to emulate “soul food cookin’.” That meal only served to heighten the awareness of stereotypes. It seems the only thing University Food Services forgot to display around was cotton. I am sorry I missed the dinner about my stereotypes, oh, my mean culture.

Chelsee Latimer
Lewis Hall
Feb. 10, 1989

Quote of the Day

"Good communication is just as stimulating as black coffee, and just as hard to sleep after." -Anne Morrow Lindbergh

The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-5303

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. The views expressed herein are those of the individuals concerned, and may not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration of either institution. The views are expressed as accurately and objectively as possible. Letters, columns, and Op-Eds reflect the opinions of the individuals concerned. Letters and the Inside Column present the views of their authors. Columns space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus, through letters, is encouraged.
Barb's latest makes a great valentine

JOE BUCOLO

To Be Continued...

The crazy antics of this "Romance" trip into households at 8 p.m. on Thursdays in ABC's "domestic:" it is names referring to the fact that its competition is NBC's powerhouse, "The Cosby Show." The romance exists between Michael (Christopher Cazenove) and the lovely (Margaret Whitton), a divorced couple who co-host a television travel show. George (Ernie Sabella) and Friday (Dinah Lenney) produce the show (Kevin Moore), an assistant, is also a show regular.

The romance (if it can be called that) which exists between the show's hero and heroine develops each week as the two find themselves in new adventures while taping segments of their show. In one episode, for example, an FBI agent mistakes Michael for a Soviet spy. One can easily imagine the situations that arise from the mixup, and the show leaves no stones of possible plot twists unturned.

A fine aspect of the program is the delightful fact that things are seldom as they seem. Michael and Louisa seem to be a couple, yet they are divorced; they seem to hate each other, yet become jealous when the other has a date. In the previously mentioned episode, the FBI agent is really a criminal. Two sailors Friday and Louisa date turn out to be after Michael, while Michael's date is a KGB assassin in disguise. This constant game of true and false identities becomes quite fun and entertaining for the viewer.

The show adds a touch of humor and a great deal of zany insanity to its otherwise dramatic storylines. "A Fine Romance" rekindles the crazy spirit of old comedy films, such as those of the Marx Brothers. Witty comebacks, like "if you love someone, let it go free" in "A Fine Romance" is a witty new dramedy that will entertain audiences in a fine way. ABC has more than a fine show; it has a fine achievement.

The piano accompanies her perfectly as she sings about wanting to "rewrite" the past and then helts out the chorus, "If I had changed a single day...I may have never found my way to you.

In the controversial "Till I Loved You," Streisand is joined by Don Johnson in a song about hoping for an end to their searching. Despite a scratchy voice at times, Johnson does a fair job, but it is really Streisand who carries the song as her voice sometimes overpowers his. The lyrics are romantic and playful, and the light music seems easy to dance to. They really enjoy singing it and the listener can relate to their hopeful question, "could the one to save me possibly be you?"

Perhaps the most beautiful song on the album is "All I Ask of You." The lyrics are unique and realistic as they offer hope: "we may have come too close too fast, but if we really care, so much is there, why let it go?" But Streisand does better with the more original and creative lyrics of the first side, particularly "You and Me for Always" with its chorus of "remember it's all there, remember it's all there was, the answer is right here in our hands."

This song would have been a more appropriate ending song because of its optimistic tone and originality.

So if you're wondering what to buy your valentine, or you're hopeful romantic at heart, Barbara Streisand's "Till I Loved You" should be the next album in your collection.
Voice of Blues dies of cancer

Associated Press

Dan Kelly, voice of the St. Louis Blues since 1961 and widely regarded as one of the best hockey announcers in the history of the world, died Friday of cancer. He was 52.

Kelly left the broadcast booth shortly after an examination revealed a tumor in his colon. He entered a hospital the next day and died shortly after an examination revealed the tumor had spread.

"Somebody once said that a broadcast of a hockey game, even a good broadcast, just isn't a three-hour mistake," Costas said. "Kelly was one of the great announcers that sort it out with such ringing clarity, and that man is Dan Kelly."

Costas called Kelly "singular." He was known for his disarming manner, no greater preacher, no greater teacher than Dan Kelly over the past 31 years.

"There's the stouthearted, straight-on Irishman, the rest of the hockey announcing universe," said the article, written by Costas' colleague William Will. "Kelly is the purest, most knowledgeable counterpart, most accurate voice in the business."

Ever since the retired Kelly was inducted into the broadcasting wing of the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1987, the voice that brought his name to hockey fans has been the voice of the St. Louis Blues.

"I've often said, when Dan Kelly's doing his hockey game, I can shut my eyes, and I can see the game," NHL President Peter Galiardi said recently. "We're all going to be lonely announcers no greater preacher, no greater teacher than Dan Kelly over the past 31 years."

By Renata Hac

the stouthearted, straight-on Irishman, the rest of the hockey announcing universe," said the article, written by Costas' colleague William Will. "Kelly is the purest, most knowledgeable counterpart, most accurate voice in the business."

Attention: Micros, game hunters, bantam fliers, parents, kids, and adults alike.

"Somebody once said that a broadcast of a hockey game, even a good broadcast, just isn't a three-hour mistake," Costas said. "Kelly was one of the great announcers that sort it out with such ringing clarity, and that man is Dan Kelly."

Costas called Kelly "singular." He was known for his disarming manner, no greater preacher, no greater teacher than Dan Kelly over the past 31 years.

"There's the stouthearted, straight-on Irishman, the rest of the hockey announcing universe," said the article, written by Costas' colleague William Will. "Kelly is the purest, most knowledgeable counterpart, most accurate voice in the business."

Ever since the retired Kelly was inducted into the broadcasting wing of the Hockey Hall of Fame in 1987, the voice that brought his name to hockey fans has been the voice of the St. Louis Blues.

"I've often said, when Dan Kelly's doing his hockey game, I can shut my eyes, and I can see the game," NHL President Peter Galiardi said recently. "We're all going to be lonely announcers no greater preacher, no greater teacher than Dan Kelly over the past 31 years."
LaPhonso Ellis scores the final two points during Notre Dame's 83-74 win over USC Saturday afternoon. Ellis scored eight points as the Irish improved to 14-4.

Bennett

continued from page 20

"That three point shot was incredible," noted Phelps. "Since he made the move to second guard Elmer has shown nothing but confidence."

Bennett, previously considered a steady backup to Irish point guard Tim Singleton, made the smooth transition to the shooting guard and found himself on the floor at the same time as Singleton rather than waiting to substitute for him. "Playing alongside Tim makes me a lot more comfortable out there," said Bennett. "And my shots were falling— it felt good out there today."

And it felt good for Irish fans who knew that Bennett would be a weapon in Notre Dame's arsenal for at least three more years.

USC

continued from page 20 with me on my free throws," said Fredrick, who entered the game shooting 66 percent from the stripe. "But I'm an upperclassman now. I'm sup-posed to be providing leadership. At the end of the game, I posed to be providing leader-scored six points in 28 minutes. Houston hit nine-straight at the end of the game, I posed to be providing leader-

Bennett hit for six points in a 10-0 Irish spree in the first half. While an upperclassman, Bubka hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.

"Maybe we're playing as well as we're capable of," Raveling said. "Maybe we're kidding ourselves that we haven't reached capabilities yet. It's another carbon copy." Two with 3:55 left. Moore hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.

"Maybe we're playing as well as we're capable of," Raveling said. "Maybe we're kidding ourselves that we haven't reached capabilities yet. It's another carbon copy." Two with 3:55 left. Moore hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.

"I'd say Illinois was awfully good, but we had the flu, sick-ness and injury to fight against," said Bennett. "And my shots were falling— it felt good out there today."

And it felt good for Irish fans who knew that Bennett would be a weapon in Notre Dame's arsenal for at least three more years.

Injuries doom ND track team in 63rd Central Collegiates

By SCOTT BRUTOCO

The men's indoor track team hobbled onto the Meyo Track in the Loftus All-Sports Center this week only to be outdone by its competition in the Central Collegiate Track Championships.

The Irish, plagued by injuries and lack of depth, finished 15th out of 22 teams in the 63rd annual meet, accumulating 15.5 points. Illinois emerged as the defending champion, gathering 120.5 points.

"The kids competed well," said Fredrick, who entered the game shooting 66 percent from the stripe. "But I don't think people realize how great that meet was. It was really an excellent meet."

The caliber of the athletes attending the Central Collegiates was certainly impressive, and the combination of this fact and Notre Dame's injuries kept the Irish out of contention for the top spots.

"I'd say Illinois was awfully good, but we had the flu, sickness and injury to fight against," said Bennett. "And my shots were falling— it felt good out there today."

And it felt good for Irish fans who knew that Bennett would be a weapon in Notre Dame's arsenal for at least three more years.

Several players were unable to compete. Co-captain John Searcy, despite qualifying for the NCAA Championships by 0.06 seconds, but in the future he did not run because of a sore leg. "I also like this arena."

Although Bubka came up short in his attempt to clear 6.20 meters, and the Distance Medavent for a tie for sixth.

Rounding out the scoring for the Irish was high jumper John Cole, who cleared the 6-foot, 24 inch mark and was good enough for a tie for sixth.

Other qualifiers for the NCAA's were Richard Culpe in the 500 meters, Tom O'Flourke in the 5000, Ismail in the 55 meters, and the Distance Medavent for a tie for sixth.

Ismail's 6.29-second clocking missed qualifying for the NCAA Championships by 0.06 seconds, but in the future he

"I'm obviously disappointed," said Piane, "but it's not the end of the world."

Ismail's 6.29-second clocking missed qualifying for the NCAA Championships by 0.06 seconds, but in the future he

"I'm obviously disappointed," said Piane, "but it's not the end of the world."

While an upperclassman, Bubka hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.

"Maybe we're playing as well as we're capable of," Raveling said. "Maybe we're kidding ourselves that we haven't reached capabilities yet. It's another carbon copy." Two with 3:55 left. Moore hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.

"I'm obviously disappointed," said Piane, "but it's not the end of the world."

While an upperclassman, Bubka hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.

"Maybe we're playing as well as we're capable of," Raveling said. "Maybe we're kidding ourselves that we haven't reached capabilities yet. It's another carbon copy." Two with 3:55 left. Moore hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.

"I'm obviously disappointed," said Piane, "but it's not the end of the world."

While an upperclassman, Bubka hit for six in that streak, but he also failed to convert a three-point play when Southern Cal could have closed to one.
A squash film dealing with the fundamentals of the game will be shown Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at the football auditorium of the Joyce ACC. For more information, please call Bill Murray at x2311. -The Observer

The ND Squash Club is seeking students to help organize the club for the upcoming year. Please call Bill Murray at x2311 for information. -The Observer

Off-Campus hockey has a game tonight at 11:45 against Morrissey. All those who have not paid their $5, please bring it. Those who cannot make it to the game should call 389-1124. -The Observer

The SMC-ND women's lacrosse club meeting will be tonight at 6:30 at Angela Athletic Facility. Anyone interested in joining should attend. -The Observer

Sports Briefs are accepted in writing Sunday through Friday in The Observer offices on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center before 3 p.m. on the day prior to publication. -The Observer

---

CENTURY COMPANIES OF AMERICA

FINANCIAL SERVICES

A Career in Sales

OPEN INFORMATION MEETING

1 Hour
Monday, February 13th, 7 Pm
Room 113 - O'Saughnessy Hall

ALL ARE WELCOME

---

FRESHMEN

---

EDUCATION IN THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

A PROGRAM ARRANGED BY

DEAN ANTHONY N. MICHEL AND THE DEPARTMENTS OF THE COLLEGE OF ENGINEERING

6:30 P.M., MONDAY, FEBRUARY 13, 1989
ENGINEERING (CUSHING) AUDITORIUM

---

Sluggish Lendl bests Gilbert

Associated Press

CHICAGO-Ivan Lendl survived a rocky start and a close finish, outlasting Brad Gilbert in a baseline battle Sunday to claim a 6-2, 7-6 (7-3) victory and the championship of the $350,000 Volvo tennis tournament.

The world's top-ranked player came in against Gilbert after staving off two match points in a late Saturday night semifinal victory over defending champion Tim Mayotte, and looked lethargic in the early going.

Fortunately for Lendl, the 20th-ranked Gilbert wasn't much sharper, although he had an easier semifinal match against Horacio de la Pena. Gilbert lost his opening service Sunday despite delivering two of his five aces and one of 15 serve winners he collected on the day.

Lendl gave the break back in the next game, but Gilbert lost the last four points on his next service to claim the tie breaker.

Then, Lendl won the first three points, rolled quickly to a decisive 5-2 edge with another break in the seventh game.

He served for the set and won it with a backhand passing shot that was typical of his domi­niant ground strokes at that juncture of the match.

And when Lendl broke Gil­bert in the opening game of the second set, he appeared on the fast track toward the $60,000 first-place prize.

---

Simpson denies rumor to sell Pacers

Associated Press

HOUSTON--Despite the In­

On the Ohio State tour­

day prior to the Army Recruiter today.

---

Indiana continued from page 20

bronzit, squeaked by with a 3-2 win in a match that came down to the very end.

Gowens won his 20th match of the season 4-2 over Louis Silverman. The victory improved his dual meet record to 6-4.

Senior co-captain Jerry Durso (9-1, 28-4) also won a close match 4-3. Durso is the all-time match winner and is a career leader in wins and is a favorite to qualify for the NCAA tournament. Senior Pat Boyd (4-1, 17-3) won the 142­ pound match with relative ease 9-3, while also suffering from bronchitis.

At this point, Notre Dame was in command 12-0. Then the Irish fell apart, losing five of the next six matches.

Toddy Durso, another victim of bronchitis, was being destroyed by his opponent when he lost on a technical fall.

"Layton never would have given up a technical fall to this kid if he had been healthy," said McCann. "I knew it would be won by the team that had more bonus points."

Indiana accumulated more bonus points then Notre Dame. McCann felt that if his lightweight wrestlers were healthy, they would have grabbed those essential bonus points. "We've got to hand it to them," said McCann. "They just wanted to win more than we did.

In the next two matches, Mark Golar of Notre Dame, and Tomazic both lost by large amounts, 12-4 and 10-3 respectively. This tied the team score at 12-12. At 177 pounds, Chris Geneser (9-1, 26-5) won easily 14-5 in a mad Layton, another blowout from the start. This victory was the last for the Irish.

With the score 16-12, all the pressure was on the Hoosiers to win both of the matches of the night. Both of them ended up favored in the Hoosiers. At 190 pounds, Curt Engler lost a close 2-1 decision while Heavyweight Chuck Weaver lost 5-1. The losses gave Indiana six points and an upset victory at Notre Dame.

The bronchitis situation will be taken an day by day basis. A few of the wrestlers will be held out of practice until they recover. The next few matches will be vital for Notre Dame as they prepare for the Western Regional and the NCAA Tourn­

"All our guys should be ready for the final few matches," stated McCann. "The bronchitis deal will only last a few more days and it should not effect our effort in the final matches."
Deadline approaches for Sanders' decision

Associated Press

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—This is Barry Sanders' dilemma: take the NFL's money or run his Heisman Trophy and try for two.

"I have a lot to gain by coming back; I have a lot to gain if I leave," Sanders said Saturday when asked if he will return to Oklahoma State for his senior season.

"It's a situation where both sides look good."

The All-American running back said while he pondered the options, his family was exploring the legal avenues he could take to become eligible for the NFL draft.

Sanders, having already collected the Heisman Trophy and the Maxwell Award, was honored as Player of the Year at the Walter Camp Football Foundation's annual banquet.

Reports about his plans have been even more numerous than his awards. After the season, his family had released copies of the December 20th Draft, which Sanders indicated he would be back in 1989.

Last weekend, the Dallas Morning News reported that Sanders had talked to a team he intended to turn pro. On Saturday, when Oklahoma State began spring practice on Feb. 27 and Sanders plans to be there.

The NFL says he has until April 10 to apply for the April 23-24 draft. Since he is a true senior, he has never been redshirted, he would need special permission to enter the regular draft or the summer supplemental draft.

If the NFL turns him down, his other option would be in the courts and Sanders said his family has been "in Investigating the legal aspects—what have I got to go through."

"At first, we were under the impression that I'd have to sign with any team to become ineligible for the NCAA and that would make me automatically eligible for the draft. A few days ago (my father) said it's not that the case."

Sanders hasn't lacked for advice. His father, William, and brother, Byron, a running back at Northwestern who has declared for the draft as a fourth-year junior, want him to turn pro. His mother, Shirley, would prefer that he stay in school. Either way, it will be Sanders' decision.

Michigan takes pair from ND

By FRANK PASTOR

Sports Writer

The Notre Dame hockey team dropped two games to Michigan this weekend, but it came out of it with a positive victory in the process.

The Irish (9-25-2) entered the home-and-away series with the 10-ranked Wolverines (19-11-4) intent on determining how they matched up with one of the finest teams in the country. They came out of it with a pair of losses, a great deal of respect for Michigan and a satisfaction of a job well done.

"We played as well as we can against a very powerful team," said Irish coach Ric Schaefer following Friday night's 6-2 loss to the Wolverines. "Look for them in the national tournament this year."

Michigan controlled the puck for much of the first period Friday night but didn't break into the scoring column until the second period when senior Alex Roberts scored from the left circle. Left wing Ryan Pardoski doubled the Wolverine lead just over two minutes later as he redirected Ted Kramer's shot past Irish goalie Lance Madson.

Michigan extended its lead to 5-0 in the second stanza, once again waiting until the 18-minute mark before unleashing a flurry of shots on Madison. Ted Kramer, Mike Moos and Denny Fensler scored for the Wolverines in the period.

Down 5-0 after two periods, Notre Dame could easily have packed their bags and left the Joyce ARC, but the Irish showed character in coming back to score two quick goals at the beginning of the third period.

Kevin Patrick split two Michigan defenders and flipped a backhanded shot over the shoulder of Wolverine goalie Tim Krouge five minutes into the third period and just 24 seconds later, Bill Hoelzer showed character in coming back to score another backhanded shot as he was dropped to the ice by a Michigan defender.

"That (the two goals) gave them life, and they played well in the third period," said Wolverine coach Red Berenson of Notre Dame's modest third period comeback. "I'll give them credit, they didn't quit, they hung in there and they played hard even though they were down five goals. The game picked up at that point."

Wolverine center Rob Brown closed out the scoring with a goal 1:15 into the third period and Madison closed out the scoring with a goal 10 minutes remaining in the contest.

The series, coming one week after Notre Dame's physical game against Michigan, was one of the cleanest in recent memory. It is hard to believe that would see more of the type of play prevalent this weekend in the future.

"It was a clean hockey game," said Schaefer. "The game took about two hours, which is phenomenal. I don't like losing, but I'd play a team like this every other weekend."

You've thought about it.

You've tried to imagine what it would be like.

You know it would be exciting. And a challenge. And quite possibly the most rewarding experience of your life.

Three Americans overseas in Asia, Africa and South America speak frankly on what Peace Corps life is like for them. It isn't easy and it isn't for everyone—they'll tell you that up front.

But if you've ever considered going overseas in the Peace Corps, then you have a chance to learn for yourself what could be "the toughest job you'll ever love."

Note: Former Peace Corps volunteers will be on hand to answer questions following the 25 minute film. It's free.
First half propels West to NBA All-Star victory

Associated Press

HOUSTON—Playing without the real Magic, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar and John Stockton created history on Sunday, carrying the West to a 143-134 victory over the East in the NBA All-Star Game.

Malone, Stockton's Utah Jazz teammate, scored 17 of his 28 points and 17 assists.

Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, in his

Jabbar nails hook in finale

Associated Press

HOUSTON — With perennial champions Larry Bird and Michael Jordan sidelined by injury, two new champions and one old favorite dominated the NBA's All-Star Game on Saturday.

Jabbar, Jordan and the Boston Celtics star a year ago had a final-round score that he wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win.

With a towel wrapped around his neck, two new champions and one old favorite dominated the NBA's All-Star Game on Saturday.

With a towel wrapped around his neck, two new champions and one old favorite dominated the NBA's All-Star Game on Saturday.

NBA crowns new champs

Associated Press

HOUSTON — With perennial champions Larry Bird and Michael Jordan sidelines by injury, two new champions and one old favorite dominated the NBA's All-Star Game on Saturday.

Jabbar, Jordan and the Boston Celtics star a year ago had a final-round score that he wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win.

Associated Press

HOUSTON — With 14 seconds left in his last NBA All-Star Game, Kareem Abdul-Jabbar finally hit a sky hook.

A beautiful shot that he made so simple for two decades took painfully long to make in his final All-Star appearance.

After missing five sky hooks in the game, he made his sixth to score the West's final field goal and cement a 143-134 victory over the East.

A last-minute replacement for Los Angeles Laker teammate Magic Johnson, Abdul-Jabbar played on Sunday like he's played much of this season—only too aware his time has past.

"I would have been disappointed if it hadn't dropped," he said. "I wanted to get a field goal.

At the start of the game, Abdul-Jabbar responded to a defensive ovation from the crowd with both index fingers thrust high, but his four-point contribution will not be remembered.

Abdul-Jabbar went 0-for-4 from the field before hitting a pair of free throws with two seconds left in the third quarter.

With a towel wrapped around his neck, two new champions and one old favorite dominated the NBA's All-Star Game on Saturday.

Jabbar, Jordan and the Boston Celtics star a year ago had a final-round score that he wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win.

With the East leading 109-96 late in the third period on a dunk by Moses Malone, finishing off an 11-0 run.

The West scored six consecutive points after that for a 115-96 advantage, but the East responded with a 20-2 run, making its deficit only 132-116 with 5:36 left.

Ellis then scored five points and Malone four in less than a minute's time to put the game out of reach.

Jabbar nails hook in finale

Associated Press

HOUSTON — With perennial champions Larry Bird and Michael Jordan sidelines by injury, two new champions and one old favorite dominated the NBA's All-Star Game on Saturday.

Jabbar, Jordan and the Boston Celtics star a year ago had a final-round score that he wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win. He wanted one last change to win.

With the East missing 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

The East rallied in the third period as Thomas directed the offense and scored eight points himself.

The West was blowing offense hardly slowed down. Chris Mullin, a 6-foot-7 forward, took over at point guard, got help bringing the ball upcourt from 6-foot-10 Tom Chambers, who scored 12 points in the 3rd quarter.

The West missed 27 points and Allen Edwards 16 for for the West.

With Stockton out, the West offense hardly slowed down. Chris Mullin, a 6-foot-7 forward, took over at point guard, got help bringing the ball upcourt from 6-foot-10 Tom Chambers, who scored 12 points in the 3rd quarter.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

The East rallied in the third period as Thomas directed the offense and scored eight points himself.

The West was blowing offense hardly slowed down. Chris Mullin, a 6-foot-7 forward, took over at point guard, got help bringing the ball upcourt from 6-foot-10 Tom Chambers, who scored 12 points in the 3rd quarter.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

The East rallied in the third period as Thomas directed the offense and scored eight points himself.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

The East rallied in the third period as Thomas directed the offense and scored eight points himself.

The West was blowing offense hardly slowed down. Chris Mullin, a 6-foot-7 forward, took over at point guard, got help bringing the ball upcourt from 6-foot-10 Tom Chambers, who scored 12 points in the 3rd quarter.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

The East rallied in the third period as Thomas directed the offense and scored eight points himself.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.

With the East winning 10 of 14 free throws in the second period, the West expanded its lead to 76-45 before settling for a 38-point halftime bulge.
Associated Press

BLOOMINGTON—Indiana coach Bob Knight called it one of the best shots he’d ever seen under the circumstances. Jay Edwards said it simply felt good.

Edwards made an 18-foot jumper with four seconds left Sunday, lifting No. 13 Indiana to its 14th consecutive victory, 69-59. "It felt good once I said it," Edwards, who scored 27 early, but I had a good feeling," was about as good a shot as I’ve ever seen," Knight said. "Our objective was to get 40 (foul shots). But we cringed at losing another close one. Purdue is 5-0.

While Edwards was soft-spoken of the basket that carried Big Ten-leading Indiana to its 14th consecutive home victory over two seasons, Knight was truly impressed. "Jay’s shot under pressure was about as good a shot as I’ve seen a kid take under those circumstances," Knight said. "I knew it was good when it went through the net. Before that I wasn’t sure.”

With Purdue plagued by foul trouble, eventually losing forward Melvin McCants and guard Keith Stewart to disqualification, Indiana out-scored the Boilermakers 25-16 on free throws. But the Hoosiers squandered several one-and-one situations by missing the first shot.

"We did a poor job against Purdue’s foul problems, although that was probably the deciding factor in the game," Knight said. "Our objective was to get 40 (foul shots). But when you get them, you have to knock them down." Purdue coach Gene Keady cringed at losing another close one. Purdue is 3-6 in games decided by five points or less, while Indiana is 5-0.

"This is the same thing that has been happening all year," Keady said. "I hope that at the end of the season we are a tougher and smarter team. It’s just a shame. Our kids work hard all game and then always find a way to lose at the end."

Indiana, 20-5 and 11-1, rallied from an 11-point deficit midway through the second half to take a 5-game advantage over second-place Illinois in the conference standings. Purdue, 10-13 and 5-7, has lost six of seven.

The Boilermakers led 59-51 after an Indiana timeout, hit two free throws by Brian Sloan, two more by Edwards and Joe Hillman’s layup off a steal that made it 59-57 with 2:49 left. McCants added a free throw for Purdue before Edwards grabbed another steal for Indiana and threw a pass to Jamal Meeks for a layup that made 60-59.

"That was a great play by Edwards when he got the ball to Meeks to pull us within one," Knight said. "Only a great player can make that play." Hillman, who scored 17, then made a 3-pointer to give Indiana a 63-59 lead with 1:19 left.

Purdue’s Tony Jones tied the score on a bank shot with 27 seconds left before Edwards, after an Indiana timeout, hit the game-winner.

Kip Jones came off the bench to lead Purdue with 11 points, and no other Boilermaker scored in double figures. The Boilermakers played parts of the second half with all five starters on the bench with Edwards, Hillman and Lyndon Jones.

Jamal Meeks and the Indiana Hoosiers stayed atop the Big Ten with a two-point victory over Purdue Sunday in Bloomington. Jay Edwards hit the game-winner in the waning seconds, 90-88, to Meeks to pull us within one," Knight said. "Only a great player can make that play." Hillman, who scored 17, then made a 3-pointer to give Indiana a 63-59 lead with 1:19 left.

Purdue’s Tony Jones tied the score on a bank shot with 27 seconds left before Edwards, after an Indiana timeout, hit the game-winner.

Kip Jones came off the bench to lead Purdue with 11 points, and no other Boilermaker scored in double figures. The Boilermakers played parts of the second half with all five starters on the bench with Edwards, Hillman and Lyndon Jones.

Jamal Meeks and the Indiana Hoosiers stayed atop the Big Ten with a two-point victory over Purdue Sunday in Bloomington. Jay Edwards hit the game-winner in the waning seconds.
Sooner's could be No. 1 again

Associated Press

In college basketball this season, it's not good to be the king. No sooner do you get to the throne than someone comes up and lops off your head.

Arizona became the third team in three weeks to reach the top and lose within a week when it lost 82-60 to No. 5 Oklahoma Sunday.

Since Oklahoma beat No. 3 Missouri this week, second-ranked Georgetown lost to Pittsburgh and fourth-ranked Louisville lost to Florida State and UCLA, the Sooners probably will retain the top spot in the Associated Press poll Monday.

"We volunteered last week," Oklahoma coach Billy Tubbs said. "Any time you need us for No. 1, we'll do it. Someone's got to do it." Stacey King scored 24 points and Oklahoma overcame a seven-point second-half deficit.

Tubbs thinks his team, which also beat Arizona in the national semifinals last spring, should be No. 1.

"When you really got down to it, and I had to be fair, it's probably put us in there," he said.

In beating Arizona, Oklahoma won its 27th consecutive home game. Sean Elliott scored 30 points for Arizona, 18-3, which had its 14-game winning streak snapped.

UCLA 77, Louisville 75

Pervis Ellison was called for goaltending on Pooh Richardson's 8-footer with one second left and Louisville lost for the second time in a week.

The Bruins, 16-5, scored five points in the last 1:10 to overcome a 73-72 deficit, taking advantage of two bad passes by the Cardinals, 17-5.

Trevor Wilson made two free throws with 70 seconds remaining. Kenny Payne threw away a pass and Derrick Martin tied it on a free throw with 41 seconds to go.

Wilson scored 21 points and grabbed 13 rebounds for UCLA.

No. 1, we'll do it. Someone's got to be No. 1.

North Carolina 85, Virginia 67

Steve Bucknell scored 19 points for the Tar Heels, 19-5, who led 26-9 midway through the first half.

Rodney Monroe scored 37 points for the Wolfpack, 16-6, who closed to 68-66 with 7:12 remaining before the Tar Heels pulled away.

Stanford 82, Washington 74, OT

Stanford's Todd Lichti scored 19 points, including half of his team's 16 points in overtime. Lichti made two field goals and four consecutive free throws during the overtime for the Cardinal, 19-5, and 10-3 in the Pac 10.

Belles come up short against Grace College

By KRISTINE GREGORY
Sports Writer

A second half rally sparked by a vicious full-court press didn't prove to be enough as the Belles fell to 1-2 in the Hoosier-Hampton Conference.

The Belles struggled on defense, hitting only 17-51 for 33 percent. They scored 106-63 loss to the Belles applied a tough full-court press during the second half. Aggressive play enabled them to pull within two points with only seven minutes left to play. This free effort turned sour as the Belles were held scoreless for the next five minutes.

"Grace College played really well," said coach Marvin Wood, "When we needed our greatest patience, it wasn't there."

Dawn Broholm led Saint Mary's with 20 points followed by Julie Radke with 14 and Linda Garrett with 12. Cathy Restovich grabbed seven rebounds while Amy Baranko pulled down six and Radke four.

The Belles fall to 10-4 in the district and 1-6 overall. They meet Taylor College and Rosary College at home this weekend.
ND dominates Quadrangular

By BOB MITCHELL
Sports Writer

In the Notre Dame Quadrangular, the Notre Dame men's tennis team earned a convincing 7-0 loss to Akron. The favored Irish accumulated 20 individual wins while dropping only one.

"In the past, we haven't always gone out and taken care of business," said head coach Bob Bayliss. "I was impressed that almost each player went out and methodically and surgically beat their opponent. It is one thing to know you're better and something else to go out and prove it." Bowing Green head coach Gene Orlando had these impressions after his team suffered a convincing 7-0 loss to the Irish.

"They have a great team and coach who are definitely headed in the right direction," said Orlando. "They are on the way to building a national program. My players are pining and Notre Dame's are thoroughbreds.

According to Bayliss, the best team performance of the day for the Irish was against Akron. Notre Dame thumped the Zips, 6-1, in the first match of the day.

The Akron contest was the setting for the debut of two new faces into the Irish lineup. Freshman John Silk, a baseliner from Toledo and John Ehrling, another baseliner with a good forehand, earned the first single victories of their bright careers.

The early rising Irish stayed awake to hand Toledo a 7-0 loss. Notre Dame did not drop one set in this lopsided affair.

Two of the many standout performances after his team suffered a convincing 7-0 loss to the Irish.

The Observer / Paul Compton

The Irish men's tennis team lost only one match in the Notre Dame Quadrangular Saturday at Eck Pavilion. Bob Mitchell details the action at left.

The victory was worth $335,000 from the total purse of $750,000 and pushed Sauers' earnings for the year to $178,383. His only other Tour win came in the 1986 Bank of Boston Classic.

"It was very wet and very muddy out there," Don Reese said. "But since we were able to clean and place the ball, it really didn't matter." Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential disadvantage of 30 feet for the winning birdie, Sauers took the lead with a 12-foot birdie putt on the 17th hole. Ogrin then found himself with a chip to 65 by shipping in from just off the back fringe of the green for the second victory in his six-year PGA career.

He finished the rain abbreviated 34-hole event in 1-under-par 197, the best-three round score on the Tour this season. The tournament was reduced to a three-round, 54-hole format by heavy rains that disrupted play Friday and Saturday.

The weather cleared Sunday, but the Waiolae Country Club course remained saturated, with puddles of water dotting the fairways. Players came off the course mud-spattered to the knees. The extremely wet conditions prompted officials to allow players to lift, clean and place balls in the fairways.

"It was very wet and very muddy out there," Don Reese said. "But since we were able to clean and place the ball, it really didn't matter." Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers broke a tie for the top spot with David Ogrin and Dave Rummells when he ran in the birdie putt on the 17th. Rummells, playing in front of Ogrin and Sauers, finished at 17-under-par 198. Ogrin was 17-under and Sauers 18-under when they went to the tee on the par-3 18th.

Sauers was able to reach the green in two. Ogrin pitched onto the green about 10 feet below the cup. Sauers lofted his third shot over the green. But it was blocked by the gallery and came to rest just off the fringe.

With Ogrin facing a potential birdie putt, Sauers apparently needed to get it up and down to force an extra hole. Instead, he put it in the hole from about 18-20 feet for the winning birdie. Sauers break
Applications for SUB
Executive Committee & Commissioners can be picked up 2nd floor LaFortune, Due Feb. 22

SUB Open House
Wed. the 15th at 6:30 pm
SUB office
Women still perfect after rout of Billikens

BY TIM SULLIVAN
Sports Writer

A rout. A killing. 78-34.

"Nuf said," said Notre Dame's Joe Fredrick, who led the Irish with 23 points, hit four foul shots and LaPhoono Ellis finished the game with an exclamation mark for a monster jam for the final margin.

"Coach has been working us, getting us ready," said McGrath of the run. "We feel that everyone came out to get that big win."

Until the final buzzer, the Irish could never seem to put away the Trojans. In the first half, Notre Dame led by as much as 12 at 27-15 only to see that lead shrink to 41-37 at half. In the final minutes, the Trojans, thanks to another poor Irish free throw shooting performance, trailed 77-74. But as has been their want, the Trojans (7-16) couldn't hit the shot to put them over the edge.

Notre Dame's senior forward racked up 17 total minutes, but still was a balanced scoring attack to the Irish. The Irish man defense, Notre Dame forced 21 turnovers in the game (.273 in the first half), .476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

Elmer Bennett soars for two of his career-high 19 points during Notre Dame's 83-74 win over USC Saturday afternoon. Bennett was a vital part of the Irish offense with Jamere Jackson out with an injury.

The The Irish were concerned not having Jamere Jackson in there, said Notre Dame head coach Digger Phelps, "but the Texas Express' came through today. They were the heroes."

The Texas Express is the freshmen tandem of Bennett and Daimon Sweat. Both hail from the Lone Star State (Bennett from Houston; Sweat from Beaumont) and both have played a key role in 14-4 Notre Dame's success so far this season.

Jackson sat out Saturday's game after suffering from back spasms in practice on Friday. With the junior co-captain (and his .273 point average in the last three games) out of the lineup, someone had to fill the gap.

Sweet drew the start but Bennett, who turns 19 today, would steal the finishing.

"I told the bench that it was their day and they would have to be ready," said Phelps. "What makes this a great team is that you've got guys who can come in and hit the pressure shots."

Bennett coolly sank several pressure shots—tire in a row as a matter of fact—to give the Irish the spark they needed to fight off the feisty Trojans.

"That's as good a performance from a freshman coming off the bench since I've been here," said Phelps, the same man who has coached Rivers, Paxson and Adrian Danley as freshmen.

Bennett took off his warmups just six minutes into the game and preceded to find his comrade Sweet on an alley-oop layup; only 14 seconds later. A minute later the path from Bennett's hands to the net would be much quicker.

With Southern Cal closing the gap to 15-13, Bennett nailed four straight jumpers from varying distances to open up Notre Dame's biggest lead of the game.

The Trojans refused to fold and battled back in the second half, but Bennett was too hot for the Trojans.

"Coach has been working us, getting us ready," said McGrath of the run. "We feel that everyone came out to get that big win."

Elmer Bennett soars for two of his career-high 19 points during Notre Dame's 83-74 win over USC Saturday afternoon. Bennett was a vital part of the Irish offense with Jamere Jackson out with an injury.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.

The second half saw McGrath empty her bench early. In fact, just two players failed to reach double figures in minutes, and only one player (Garett Nowlin) started the game (.273 in the second half). 476 from the line, and committed 36 turnovers in the contest.