Daley wins in landslide
Ends brief era of black rule in Windy City

Associated Press

CHICAGO - Richard M. Daley won election Tuesday to the mayor’s office his father in law held for 21 years, dashing chief rival Timothy Evans’ hopes of extending the brief era of black leadership at City Hall.

With 2,241 of 2,911 precincts reporting, or 77 percent, unofficial results gave Daley 511,291 votes, or 64 percent, to 382,616 votes, or 33 percent for Evans. Republican Edward Vrdolyak had 30,754 votes, or 4 percent.

Daley benefited from a strong turnout in the predominantly white South¬ west and Northwest Side¬ wards. Turnout in Evans’ black strongholds on the South and West Sides, meanwhile, lagged as many as 10 percentage points behind, according to a city elections official who declined to be identified.

Black turnout in recent elec¬ tions has trailed white turnout by 2 to 5 percentage points, and Evans’ campaign strategists pegged his chances for an upset victory on preventing that gap from widening.

The victory by Daley, who defeated Mayor Eugene Sawyer in February’s Demo¬ cratic primary, makes Chicago by far the biggest city in the nation to replace a black mayor with a white.

Richard Daley

The victory also kept intact a Democratic tradition in the nation’s third-largest city dating back to its incorporation in 1837. Six straight terms captured by the late Richard J. Daley, last of the big-city political bosses.

Tom Leach, spokesman for the Chicago Board of Election Commissioners, said the board’s latest estimate was that 68 percent of the city’s 1.56 million registered voters turned out. That would be the third-highest turnout for a Chicago municipal election, below the numbers that carried Harold Washington, the city’s first black mayor, to victory in 1982 and 1987.

The election was ordered by the courts to fill the two years remaining in the second term of Washington, who died of a heart attack in November 1987.

Daley, 46, is a three-term Cook County state’s attorney. Evans, 45, is a Democratic South Side alderman who skipped the primary to run on the Harold Washington Party ticket. Vrdolyak, 51, is a former Democratic alderman who has not won elected office since his party switched in 1987.

Analysts agreed that turnout among black and white voters would be the critical factor. Whites make up about 40 per¬ cent of the voting population, blacks about 42 percent and Hispanics about 7 percent.

But the black community that united around Washington appeared bitterly divided this year between Sawyer and Evans, who refused to endorse each other.

In the February primary, Daley beat Sawyer by more than 100,000 votes, in large part because many black Evans supporters stayed away from the polls.

Tuesday was Daley’s second bid for the mayoralty.

Speed is key with debt relief

WASHINGTON - The Bush administration’s Third World debt initiative won key en¬ forcement Tuesday from the two international agencies ex¬ pected to implement the strat¬ egy.

Both Michel Camdessus, the managing director of the Interna¬ tional Monetary Fund, and Barber Conable, president of the other global lending organization, the World Bank, said they recog¬ nized the need for urgency in the debt crisis.

Conable said that any delay “could be devastating in view of the expectations which have already been created” about the prospect for a reduction in the $1.3 trillion level of Third World debt.

In a speech to the final ses¬ ion of the spring meetings of the IMF and the World Bank, Conable said that the bank had created a joint task force to work with the IMF to speed im¬ plementation of the new debt-relief program.

Earlier, the top policy board of the IMF issued a com¬ ment that the broad principles embodied in the debt program unveiled by Treasury Secretary Michael Blumenthal in March are “not enough.”

The approval was seen as criti¬ cal because the administration is counting on most of the financing for the debt relief scheme to come from the two lending agencies.

Sheen stresses social awareness, heroes

Last night, Martin Sheen spoke to a full house about his own heroes and the im¬ portance of social aware¬ ness in the United States, in the Cushing Auditorium, Tuesday.

Sheen opened with a mo¬ ment of silence in re¬ memberance of the assas¬ sination of the Rev. Martin Luther King, Jr., 21 years ago.

Sheen offered his defin¬ tion of a hero, saying “to me a hero is that person who ex¬ tends themselves for the purpose of nurturing their own or another person’s spiritual growth.”

The personal heroes he noted ranged from Brian Wilson to Mother Teresa, to Wilson, a Vietnam veteran, lost both legs in 1987 trying to stop a train that was car¬ rying American weapons that would allegedly contrib¬ ute to the death of 5,000 El Salvadorans and 29,000 Nicaraguans.

Sheen acknowledged that most heroes do not come from the usual sources, concluding that “alsas, it’s not possible.”

Acceptance of gifts has Wright running

Associated Press

WASHINGTON. The House Ethics Committee on Tuesday interviewed two men involved in a real estate deal with House Speaker Jim Wright amid reports that Wright may have accepted $100,000 in unreported gifts from one of them.

The committee planned to resume its closed-door deliberations on a long list of possible rules violations by Wright on Wednesday, and a final outcome of the case still appeared to be more than a week away.

The Wall Street Journal reported Tuesday that the committee is considering whether Wright violated rules by accepting use of a Fort Worth condominium, a 1979 Cadillac and a salary paid to his wife from Fort Worth developer George Mallick, a longtime friend and business partner of the Wrights.

House rules prohibit the acceptance of gifts of more than $100 from "any person . . ." and only gifts of $100 or less from "any person . . ."

The committee is exploring whether Wright or Mallick had direct financial interests in the health of the savings and loan industry at a time when Wright was lobbying federal regulators to be more lenient with ailing S&Ls.

Astrid Gabriel, Professor Emeritus of the Medieval Institute of Notre Dame, donated an ancient 13th century book to the Hesburgh Library's Medieval University Collection on Tuesday.

The book entitled, "Fundamentum Eterne Felicitatis" ("The Foundation of Eternal Happiness"), will be kept in the library's Rare Books Room.

"We have one of the strongest Medieval university collections in the country. This book will definitely help our collection. It is very focused on where our strengths are," commented Robert Miller, director of libraries.

The book was printed before any type of conventional print was developed, making the "Fundamentum" a very rare book.

The hardbound, 43 page, "Fundamentum," written for university students of the 15th century, stresses the importance of religion and gives advice on student life.

In a debate entitled "Israelis and Palestinians: New Prospects for Peace," two Palestinians and two Israelis discussed the differences between Israelis and Palestinians and how the groups might go about achieving peace.

Speaking from different perspectives, the four panelists expressed their thoughts on what has been done and what can and should be done to bring harmony to an area in which animosity has existed between two groups for thousands of years.

In her opening statement, panelist Edna Hidekel, a Jew from Jerusalem who served in the Israeli army for two years, said she believes that there is a chance for peace between Israelis and Palestinians, although the actions of the Palestinians make it hard for her to believe.

Hidekel cited incidents of alleged Palestinian violence and terrorism and asked, "How can Israeli trust what Arafat is saying when all this is going on?"

Zoughbi Zoughbi, a Christian Palestinian from Bethlehem, West Bank who worked for the Ecumenical Institute for Theological Studies in Tartus for eight years, said that the PLO's recent acceptance of U.N. proposals to denounce terrorism and to acknowledge Israel's right to exist as a nation has "shown that the Palestinian leaders and people want peace."

"In the past Palestinians did not accept coexistence, but they now are ready to accept," Zoughbi said.

Yehuda Kovaev, a Jew from Tel-Aviv said, "As a Jew I'm willing to forget the past, no matter how much it hurts, and go talk to the Palestinians."

"The Israeli government and the Israeli people are tired of war," he said.

The Palestinians need to plead their case and have a part in the peace progress, but "Israel is trying to avoid peace talks like the plague," said Abu-Atiyeh.

VALLEZ, Alaska—Exxon crews Tuesday finished pumping the remaining crude oil out of the tanker Exxon Valdez in preparation for refloating and removing the vessel, the nation’s worst-ever oil spill.

The fugitive captain of the Exxon Valdez sent signals Tuesday morning that he was ready to surrender to face criminal charges of operating the vessel while drunk.

The thick oil has flowed over more than 1,640 square miles and soiled 800 miles of beach. Thousands of animals are known dead.

At noon Tuesday, Exxon said it had just transferred 45 million gallons of crude to three other ships. Twenty-five million repair bill would provide about 200 jobs.

“We’re not willing to trade in the environment for jobs,” said Mike Kolar, a senior staff reporter.

Oregon Gov. Neil Goldschmidt said Tuesday there are “a lot of questions that need to be answered” before the Valdez is allowed to enter the Columbia River.

The mayor of Valdez said the ship was not welcome back in the port where it took on the load of crude.

In Washington, Environmental Protection Administrator William Reilly said the spill was Exxon’s worst ever oil spill.

“He (Sheen) is the world of Tony Rice.”

Aides to the observer. The company said crews will try to practice that environmental potential could be threatened,” he told a House appropriations subcommittee.

Exxon Valdez Capt. Joseph Hazelwood, who was fired and charged with being drunk at the time of the accident, made plans to surrender Tuesday to the State Police near his hometown of Huntington, N.Y., said Trooper Craig Rubio.

The company said crews will try to pump air into the vessel while drunk.

Air will be pumped into the forward hold to float it above the reef.

The tanker has eight holes some 20 feet long in its hull where the oil spilled through.

How Exxon plans to salvage the tanker at high tide today:

To begin pumping the oil, Exxon will refloat the ship and tow it to a dock, but port officials there said they weren’t sure if they’d allow that, even though the $12 million repair bill would provide about 200 jobs.

WASHINGTON: Egyptian President Hosni Mubarak said Tuesday he sees no way to stop the violence on the West Bank and in Gaza that has taken more than 400 lives since Palestinian Arabs began their revolt against Israeli control nearly 16 months ago.

After meeting with Secretary of State James Baker for two hours, Mubarak said that "if anybody could stop it, we would be very pleased," then asked, "But how?"

The Egyptian leader, nearing the end of two days of talks with Bush administration officials, made no public demands on the United States or Israel. He said he was simply "trying to find out what's the best way to achieve peace" through negotiations.

Baker stood aside, and in his only statement to reporters said "it is important that we try and create a climate that can move us toward those negotiations and try and improve the atmosphere on the ground.""

The next step in the search is a visit beginning Wednesday by Israeli Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir. He is expected to outline to President Bush and Baker a plan for holding elections among the 1.2 million Palestinians who live in the territories won from the Arabs in the 1967 Six-Day War.

The idea behind Shamir's proposal is to have Palestinians choose leaders to negotiate with Israel.

Mubarak, who has insisted that Israel deal instead with the Palestine Liberation Organization, withheld judgment on Shamir's proposal. He said the criterion should be whether an election would help advance the peace process.

The Palestinian rebellion, which Shamir and other Israeli officials say was inspired and is maintained by the PLO, began in December, 1987 and has had the effect of enhancing U.S. interest in the situation on the West Bank and Gaza. Since the rebellion began, 418 Palestinian Arabs and 18 Israelis have died.

Mubarak, in response to a question, told reporters "neither you nor anybody else would be able to stop the intifada (uprising in Arabic)." Let us be realistic and practical. We all hope that we could reach peace and avoid losing lives and spending money for killing and bloodshed.

Earlier, in an appeal for additional U.S. economic and military aid, Mubarak told 15 senators that his nation had adopted economic reforms and needs a continued high level of U.S. help.

Selling women invading traditionally male profession

By LOUIS RUKEYSER

Tribune Media Services

Did you hear the one about the traveling saleswoman and the farmer's son? Have you heard that Arthur Miller's play "Death of a Salesman"—you know, the one about Wilhelmina Loom? Look out, honey, here comes that latest saleswoman again.

All the above may still strike most Americans as bizarre. High-pressure selling remains to many the quintessentially male profession, yet it's a job really only women can usually use the money in.

When you're bumped from your flight, the airline must provide you a free roundtrip ticket for future use.

Aerospace orders remain strong, and today, most checks can be held no longer than two business days.

So does Mark Golden, who was still so male-dominated that a woman in the real estate (more specifically a female in real estate) could be an effective tool in closing the deal. And whenever they need me."

Some women often find that the gender cliches can be turned in their favor. Being female in a top sales job is still enough of a curiosity to help them get in the door, and the traditional notion of greater female sensitivity can be an effective tool in closing the deal. But the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that women have become easy to find in real estate (more than 48 percent), advertising and related services (more than 6 percent), and securities and financial (nearly 30 percent), a field that a mere 15 years ago was still so male-dominated that a woman in the newsroom was almost by definition, an outstanding broker.

Willy Loman, you wouldn't know the territory.
Editorials meant to foster debate

Garry Trudeau’s “Doonesbury” comic strip appears on this page of The Observer. His topic this week is the AIDS virus, and although the topic itself is not unusual, the Editorial Board of The Observer finds Trudeau’s handling of the issue tasteless, insensitive and offensive.

The Observer has the option to edit the strip, or omit it entirely. It is the decision of the editors whether to subject our readership to offensive material, but there is a fine line between deleting what is offensive and allowing an individual to express his or her opinion.

With this in mind, Doonesbury appears this week as Trudeau created it. What appears in his work is his opinion, which he is, of course, entitled to.

The members of The Observer Editorial Board are also entitled to their opinions, as are the readers of The Observer.

Readers of this newspaper may have noticed a change in the format of the Viewpoint section to include regular editorials on topics of campus, local, national or international importance. The editorials are written after discussion of the issues among a number of staff members. The editorial board of The Observer hopes that these editorials will foster heightened awareness of these issues and encourage our discussion both around campus and in the Viewpoint pages.

Inasmuch as The Observer promotes its own opinion, it always encourages input from the students, staff and administration to have their voices heard, in agreement or in disagreement with the topics expressed in the editorials, or on any topic. Columns and letters can be submitted by members of the Notre Dame Saint Mary’s community, and others, in order to express individual opinions.

As a student voice at Notre Dame, The Observer is a forum for expression of ideas and opinions, like Garry Trudeau’s, like the Editorial Board’s and like those of Observer staff which appear in daily and weekly columns. These, and all that appears on the pages of Viewpoint, are the opinions of the individuals responsible for creating them.

Tuition increase slights many ND students

Dear Editor:

I was extremely nervous upon my arrival at Notre Dame, but upon my entrance into Holy Cross Hall, I was informed that Holy Cross was a “suburban college” eager to walk a great deal, but once I had overcome that setback, I saw the true beauty of living in the burbs. If the lake and the duck were not enough to convince me, the guys were. I would hate to see a group of freshmen miss out on the unique experience of “Hog­ doons.”

I hope that after reading this, the Office of Student Affairs will recognize the great injustices they are about to perpetrate and reconsider their actions.

Freshmen crucial to life at Holy Cross

Dear Editor:

Holy Cross Hall will be returned to the Holy Cross Congregation after the 1989-90 academic term. This means that it will not be open for student housing and present residents have been relocated across the campus. In an effort to inform the Office of Student Affairs that neglecting the best interests of many University residents will have to be re­ located across the campus. In an effort to inform the Office of Student Affairs that neglecting the best interests of many University students and students-to-be, I am referring to the decision that “every effort will be made to avoid placing any incoming freshmen in Holy Cross Hall.” I feel that the decision of any hall add a facet that was seriously missed in their absence.

Being a freshman this year,

Dear Editor:

On Friday, March 17, at approximately 5:45 p.m., a woman was attacked though the nature trail located northwest of Saint Mary’s campus by an unknown person. Fortunately, she was able to escape and was not seriously harmed. The Saint Joseph’s County Sheriff’s Office was notified, and they in turn notified Saint Mary’s Security. Saint Mary’s Security has conducted an investigation regarding the incident. The incident was confirmed by Security in notices sent through the mail on Tuesday, March 21 to all students.

Security is seeking to protect the students...All efforts should have been made to contact every student in order to notify her of the possible threat of using the nature trail at this present time. As it is, by not telling the students promptly, students were using the trail during the weekend, ignorant of the dangers.

Why is it that the Saint Mary’s official and Security department were unable to inform the students of the attack? And why is it that there are other incidents about which the students have not been in formed but, instead, had to hear about through the often unreliable grapevine? Security may feel that, by not informing the students, they are protecting us, or that, if only they knew about an incident and they don’t tell anybody, they can pretend it never happened. But things do happen, and, in reality, ignoring crime does not make it go away.

ND/SMC's unique chance to help the community

STEPHANIE SNYDER

Accent writer

fter the frolic of St. Patrick's Day and the reality of Easter, the holidays may appear to be over. For some of the less fortunate residents of South Bend, however, there is a special "holiday" scheduled for Saturday, April 8. On this day Notre Dame students are given the unique opportunity of fulfilling some simple wishes held by these residents.

This will be the first year for Christmas in April, a volunteer service project directed toward repairing and renovating homes owned by the elderly, handicapped, and disadvantaged in South Bend's Northglen Neighborhood. At the same time this day will mark the three year anniversary for the Great Hunger Clean-Up, a volunteer fundraising project which benefits not only the community of South Bend, but other cities and even other countries as well. Christmas in April, scheduled for April 8, and the Great Hunger Clean-Up, which is originally scheduled for April 15, were meant to be run completely separate from one another. The closeness of these dates however, made it necessary for both committees to meet, discuss, and consequently agree on joining forces on April 8, in order to obtain the greatest amount of participants for each program.

In order to fulfill their obligation and also benefit Christmas in April, those who have already volunteered their time and energy for Christmas in April might be given pledge sheets in the name of the Hunger Clean-Up. These pledge sheets will ask, not require, the volunteers to locate some monetary sponsors for the work they will be engaging in on Saturday.

Christmas in April, which started in Texas ten years ago, spread to Kansas City, Washington, D.C., and was introduced and readily accepted in South Bend. This year, 43 houses were inspected and met the committee's eligibility criteria. On Saturday, groups of volunteers will perform certain tasks such as painting, insulation, roofing, and cleaning on each house. For the more difficult tasks, such as roofing, a skilled worker will be assigned with the group.

A contest has been running between the dorms; the dorm with the highest percentage of volunteers will receive a plaque commemorating their participation.

According to Pat Cook, a senior and a committee chairperson for Christmas in April, one of the most exciting aspects of Christmas in April this year was the tremendous response to the program. "We have virtually 2,000 volunteers this year--those from Notre Dame as well as volunteers from the South Bend community. It's overwhelming," Cook exclaimed. The Great Hunger Clean-Up, for its part, hopes to raise a significant amount of money. Last year, 250 Notre Dame students raised more than $250, which was donated to Real Services and the Hope Rescue Mission in South Bend as well as to an Overseas Development Network (ODN) project in Zimbabwe.

Cook summed up both project's compromises and expectations with the following words, "Christmas in April and the Great Hunger Clean-Up both realize and realize that our projects were meant to benefit the community and therefore it would wise to join forces so that we could have a stronger impact on the community."

Dawson homers, Williams saves as Cubs win

Associated Press

CHICAGO- Andre Dawson had a two-run homer and Mitch Williams struck out the side in the ninth after loading the bases with none out as the Chicago Cubs beat Philadelphia 5-4 Tuesday, spoiling Nick Leyva's managerial debut.

Dawson's homer, the 99th of his career, came in the fourth inning off loser Floyd Youmans after Ryne Sandberg had opened the inning with a double.

Rick Sutcliffe went 5 2-3 innings, allowing three runs on five hits, walking three and striking out four and contributing two singles that led to runs.

Williams, who came on in the eighth after Mike Schmidt's third homer cut it to 5-4, went 1-2-3 innings. He gave up three straight hits to load the bases in the ninth, but struck out Mike Schmidt, Chris James and Mark Ryal for his first National League save.

Chisox 9, Angels 2

Jerry Reuss held California to two hits and no walks for seven innings Tuesday as Chicago opened the season with a 9-2 victory over the Angels in Anaheim, Calif.

It was also Doug Rader's first game as manager of the Angels.

Reuss, who turns 40 on June 19, allowed only a first-inning homer to Devon White, then retired 17 straight before White doubled with one out in the seventh.

Reuss' batterymate, 41-year-old Carlton Fisk, chipped in with a solo homer and a single as the two became the oldest battery ever to team up for an opening day game in the majors.

Previously, the oldest opening day battery was Johnny Niggeling and Rick Ferrell, a combined 78 years old when they played for the Washington Senators in 1944.

California starter Mike Witt took the loss.

Chisox 9, Angels 2

Mike Fitzgerald (right) and the Montreal Expos trimmed Gary Redus (left) and the Pittsburgh Pirates 6-5 in the season opener for both teams Tuesday at Montreal's Olympic Stadium.

Bruce Hurst was shelled in his San Diego debut Tuesday night, yielding consecutive home runs to Will Clark and Kevin Mitchell in a six-run, third inning as the San Francisco Giants beat the Padres 8-3 at San Diego.

Hurst, 18-6 for the Boston Red Sox last season, pitched five innings and allowed eight runs and 10 hits. Kelly Downs pitched seven scoreless innings for the victory and was relieved by Joe Price.

San Diego signed Hurst to a three-year contract last December worth $5.25 million.

Downs held the Padres to six hits, three walks with six strikeouts in making his first start since missing the final six weeks last season with a shoulder injury. He improved his lifetime record against San Diego to 5-6, including two shutouts in 1987.

Expos 6, Pirates 5

Jeff Robinson walked Tim Raines with the bases loaded in the ninth inning Tuesday, giving the Montreal Expos a season-opening 6-5 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates in Montreal.

The Expos had tied the game on Damaso Garcia's bases-loaded single with two outs in the ninth. Robinson then walked Raines on a 3-2 pitch to force in the winning run.

Andy McGaffigan pitched 1-2-3 innings of relief to pick up the win.

Robinson, who took the loss, gave up four hits and three runs in 6 1-3 innings. He also walked four.

Rangers 4, Tigers 0

Knuckleballer Charlie Hough pitched a five-hitter and Scott Fletcher drove in three runs.

University of Miami quarterback Steve Walsh has announced his intention to leave the Hurricanes and become eligible for this month’s NFL draft. Walsh’s decision comes right after Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders made a similar announcement.

Associated Press

The NFL draft gained two bluechip players and a touch of intrigue Tuesday when University of Miami quarterback Steve Walsh announced his intention to turn pro and the league granted admission to Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders.

Sanders, who threatened to go to court if necessary to enter the NFL, learned that he wouldn’t have to. The NFL granted his request to enter the April 23 draft because his school, Oklahoma State, is on NCAA probation and because coach Pat Jones and athletic director Myron Roderick support him.

“We’ve always believed it best for both professional and college football that the NFL’s eligibility rules not work to disrupt college programs or players’ educational opportunities,” said NFL spokesman Joe Browne.

“But when an underclas­sman whose program is under NCAA sanctions decides to turn pro with the full support of his college coach and athletic director and when he has lost any remaining college football eligibility in the process, we have no realistic choice but to accept him.”

Half an hour later, Walsh announced he would give up his final year of eligibility, but he didn’t specify whether he would petition for the regular draft or one of the two supplemental drafts—either in August or September.

Walsh, considered the second or third best quarterback available, doesn’t need league permission because he plans to graduate this summer.

The 5-foot-9, 183-pound Sanders, who broke or tied 24 NCAA records last year while rushing for 39 touchdowns and 2,628 yards, is far more aware of his status. As it stands now, the Detroit Lions, who choose third, are desperate for speed and are likely to take him.

Walsh, on the other hand, is ranked with Washington State’s Timm Rosenbach—an other junior who may go in either the regular or supplemental drafts—one level below UCLA’s Troy Aikman.

Aikman was considered a cinch to be taken by the Dallas Cowboys, who choose first, until the team was purchased in February by Jerry Jones. Jones named Walsh’s college coach to replace Tom Landry.
Flames
with St. Louis in which the weather conditions were poor and the offense was sluggish.

"Let's not overlook the weather," said Murphy. "The weather conditions played a part, but we were not swinging the bat. We've got to improve in that area if we want to be a good team.

Notre Dame swept St. Louis in a doubleheader last Saturday 1-0, 6-2, and last Sunday's scheduled doubleheader was rained out.

In the first game, Erik Madsen pitched the shutout to improve his record to 4-1, going two innings and striking out eight.

In the second game, Mike Passilla picked up the victory despite lack of control, raising his record to 2-1. Passilla was pulled after 3 2/3 innings, having walked three in a game in which runs at that point were scarce.

The provider of offense over the weekend continued to be James Sass, who picked up both game winning RBI and raised his average to .393. Sass has picked up the gamewinning RBI in each of Notre Dame's last four wins. In his last six games, Sass is 11-for-21 (.529) with 18 RBI. His batting average and 29 RBI both are tops on the squad.

King Gretzky will face Oilers

Associated Press

The great Gretzky gamble is starting to pay off for the NHL with a first round series between Wayne Gretzky and the Los Angeles Kings and his former team, the Edmonton Oilers.

After playing 80 games to eliminate five of the league’s 21 teams, the NHL playoffs begin Wednesday night with eight games, including the matchups at the Forum in Inglewood, Calif. between Gretzky and the Los Angeles Kings and his former employers, the Edmonton Oilers.

But if that intrigues the league office and the public, it means little to Gretzky and his teammates unless it culminates three series down the road with a Stanley Cup, which will be rewarded sometime around Memorial Day.

"I want to keep Jake Kline Field, and I hope it doesn’t become the site of some future construction," said Murphy. "It’s an ideal location, and it’s one of the best playing surfaces in the Midwest."

"The only thing I look at is winning championships," said Gretzky, who played on four Stanley Cup winners in Edmonton. "I never looked at that as anything other than my job. While Gretzky and his mates take on the Oilers Wednesday and Thursday nights, 14 other teams begin the rigorous schedule of four games in five nights with which each series opens.

The most intriguing of the other matchups features the first playoff appearance of Pittsburgh’s Mario Lemieux, who has supplanted Gretzky as the NHL’s top scorer—he had 85 goals and 199 points this season.

He and the Penguins will be at home against the New York Rangers, who lost 14 of their final 17 games after leading the Patrick Division much of the year and will be coached by general manager Phil Esposito, who fired Michel Bergeron two games before the regular season ended.

In other series, it will be Philadelphia at Washington; Hartford at Montreal; Buffalo at Boston; Chicago at Detroit; Minnesota at St. Louis and Vancouver at Calgary. All will be repeated Thursday night before switching to the other cities for games on Saturday and Sunday.

Gretzky’s acquisition by Los Angeles Aug. 9 led to a marked change in the Smythe Division standings.

Instead of finishing their usual fourth or fifth The Kings were second at 43-31-7 to 38-34-8 for third place Edmonton, the Oilers’ lowest finish since 1980-81. Still, the Kings were 26 points behind Calgary, next in the league.

Women's fencing places 3rd in nation

Special to The Observer

Joséfina Padilla and Lauren Krakeck of Notre Dame's women's fencing team finished third in the NCAA national finals Monday at the Lyons Courts in Evanston, Ill., after missing a shot at the national championship.

Notre Dame boast Temple 9-3 in the first match and tied Columbia 7-7 in the second match. The Irish technically lost because Tennessee had more total touches because Columbia had two more touches.

In the third-place match, Notre Dame forfeited Pennsylvania 3-0. The Irish were given the victory because they had four total touches against Pennsylvania.

On the day, senior captain Janice Hynes (Haddonfield, N.J.) finished 7-4, freshman Heidi Piper (Brisbane, Australia) was 9-3, junior Kristin Krakeck (Portland, Ore.) was 8-4, and sophomores Lauren Laidlaw (Chatham, N.J.) was 2-0 and senior Brenda Leiser (Portland, Ore.) finished at 0-2.

Wayne State successfully defended its title. The Irish had defeated Wayne State twice during the season.

Following Wayne State in order were Columbia, Notre Dame, Pennsylvania, Temple, Penn State, Harvard and Ohio State.

In the individual competition, Janice Hynes led the Irish with a sixth-place finish. Senior Kristin Krakeck was the only freshman Heidi Piper placed 12th overall.

As a team, Wayne State won the individual competition as well, while all four Columbia fencers failed to qualify for the individuals.

"We know what type of team we are, we know our strengths and weaknesses," said coach Scott Brutocano. "But we're going to have to play a very tough schedule.

The Flames are led by sophomore Brett Davis, a starter/sweeper with 3.21 ERA, three saves and one complete game. He most likely will appear as a reliever against the Irish. Jody Contorno will get the start, and in the other game Jim Shortall will probably get the call.

We have a great deal of respect for Notre Dame," said Rafakes. "We can't afford to make mistakes. They have good players with national reputations, and we know we're going to have to play a good game to beat them. We know they're well-coached and that they're not going to do a lot of things to beat themselves.

Such lavish praise most likely will not go to the players' heads, however, as they are expected to come off a weekend series.

Having to weather the storm

By BOB MITCHELL

Sports Writer

The skies parted for the second day of Regionals No. 3, but Mother Nature would not let the 36 competing teams go through with ease. The infamous South Bend wind reared its force just in time for the start of the day's second game.

According to Jeff Heilert, the assistant commissioner in charge of playing equipment, noted that the wind devastated the quality of play and other things as well.

"In addition to jackets and sweats being blown all over the place at Stepan, three balls being used at the Lyon Courts ended up going into St. Mary's Lake," said Heilert. Other things arrived in the blustery conditions was The Cotton Club. The Club shot the day's highest score with a blistering 68 percent from the field on the Loyola courts.

Paul Pasin led the charge with an 8-of-13 shooting display. The 6-foot-8 Pasin matched four rebounds.

Club member Chris Travers, who garnered the team average with a 4-of-6 shooting exhibition, said his team's strength inside helped it deal with the weather.

"Our inside game was important," said Travers. "We only had five or six buckets from the outside. The wind wasn't a factor in our game.

Crime Doesn't Pay is a team that could only blame the wind after a shooting a combined 4-of-12 by Paul Davis' 8-11 shooting spree. Crime Doesn't Pay fell 21-4 to 4 Girls Who You Like, 11-12.

The valiant effort of the day came when Charles Thompson and Four Other Guys Who Just Say Maybe became Charles Thompson, One Guy and Three No Shows. The two-man team of LT. Edward Olson and Deborah Mohr attempted to quell the Slow Train Coming with a box-and-one defense. Despite the defensive strategy, the duo could not get out of the way in time, losing 21-3.

"It didn't feel good to play two-on-five," said Olson. "I feel bad for the four other guys who just wanted to score some baskets and stop there fast break. Less adversity conditions may have helped our cause.

Only three teams forfeited their games, including We Only Wanted To Win Just One, which evidently did not want to win too badly.

The best matchup of the day was between the Denison of the Deep and Other Slimy Crea

Irish baseball hosting Ill.-Chicago

By SCOTT BRUTOCAN

Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's baseball team, ranked 16th in the latest Sporting News national poll, will face Illinois-Chicago in a doubleheader at 2 p.m. today at Jake Kline Field.

The ranking by The Sporting News is the first time since January that Notre Dame has been ranked.

The Irish have a 28-23 record after losing to Illinois-Chicago's 1-11 running back in Tuesday's game. The Irish have lost the previous two games against the Flames.

"We're going to have to play a great game to beat them," said coach Deane Rafakes. "Illinois-Chicago coach Dean Rafakes is trying to fuel the Flames for their first ever walkover at Jake Kline Field.

"We have a great deal of respect for Notre Dame," said Rafakes. "We can't afford to make mistakes. They have good players with national reputations, and we know we're going to have to play a good game to beat them. We know they're well-coached and that they're not going to do a lot of things to beat themselves.
