WASHINGTON- The House ethics committee, with Democrats and Republicans united, formally charged Speaker Jim Wright Monday with 68 violations of the chamber's rules including what the panel's chairman called "a scheme to evade" limits on outside earnings.

After a 10-month, $1.5 million investigation, the committee of five Democrats and five Republicans voted unanimously to issue a report finding "clear and convincing" evidence that the Texas Democrat had run afoul of House rules requiring reporting of gifts, barring acceptance of gifts from persons with a direct interest in legislation and limiting outside earned income.

"I know in my heart I have not violated any of the rules of that institution," Wright said in a speech to a labor meeting shortly after the ethics report was released.

He said he had asked "very urgently, very earnestly" for a quick meeting with the committee "to confront them, to confront the allegations head-on." He added: "I don't expect them to change their minds."

At a news conference, committee chairman Rep. Julian Dixon, D-Calif., emphasized that Wright is presumed innocent until the charges are proven, and he underscored that proving them requires a higher standard of evidence than the step taken Monday, which is the panel's equivalent of an indictment.

The move set in motion a series of steps in which Wright can defend himself and the panel must prove with "clear and convincing" evidence that the violations occurred. That is likely ultimately to throw the matter before the full House, where Wright's position as the nation's highest elected Democrat, or even his House seat, could be on the line.

Wright immediately began his defense in earnest, operating with one supporter, Rep. Charles Wilson, D-Texas, called "a war room" out of his office. "At some point we've got to start figuring out who's on our side and who's on the other side," Wilson said.

Wilson predicted Wright would win on the floor, "looking a few cowardly Democrats and picking up, some brave Republicans."

The most serious allegation against Wright, that he accepted $100,000 in kickbacks over a 10-year period from a few cowardly Democrats and picking up, some brave Republicans."

F R O S H A D V I S O R Y C O U N C I L N I X E D

By JEFF SWANSON

Staff Reporter

The Constitution of the Freshman Class Council was approved by the Student Senate, Monday. The legislation calls for the organization of a Freshman Class Council under the control of the student government to replace the Freshman Advisory Council which was under the authority of the Freshman Year of Studies.

Theresa Murphy, a member of the 1980-88 Freshman Advisory Council, was chosen last week by the Freshman Advisory Council to serve as advisor to the Freshman Class Council for next year. President of the class of '91 Rob Pasin moved for and unanimous consent of the constitution. As no objections were raised, the constitution was passed.

In other business, District Four Senator Siggi Loya reported that he was trying to convince United Limo to add stops on campus for students who wish to take the bus shuttle to Chicago before classes. Currently, the shuttle stops only at the Main Circle.

Loya said that many students have complained the shuttle to Main Circle. He said that he was looking into involved the use of vans to bring luggage to the Main Circle. The Student Senate also passed a resolution which begins the terms of the Student Union Board Executive Council, Commissioners and Assistant Commissioners on April 1 as of next year. Raja Singh, Student Union Board manager, put forth the resolution to change the beginning of the term from May 1.

Student Body Vice President Dave Kinkopf announced the selection of John Hamill for chief of staff and Deanna Dobrowolski for secretary. He also presented the three new hall presidents. They are Sean Brown, Mick Meyer and Christina Quiong.

W a l e s a q u i c k l y m o v e s t o r e o r g a n i z e S o l i d a r i t y

Associated Press

WARSAW, Poland- Lech Walesa on Monday called on Poles to rebuild Solidarity "skillfully and quickly" just hours after a court declared the independent union legal again and ended seven years of government suppression.

"I appeal to all workers and supporters of our union to form factory organizations as soon as possible where they still don't exist and to report their membership in Solidarity or to join it," said Walesa, in a statement read in Warsaw by union spokesman Janusz Onyszkiewicz.

Onyszkiewicz said an independent union press should begin operating by the end of the month, and that Solidarity should get new national headquarters in Gdansk by Tuesday.

"Our effort, devotion and suffering have not been in vain," Walesa said in his statement. "We defended our workers' rights, together we are pugging a road to a fully democratic and sovereign Poland."

But he cautioned the "day of success" came in hard economic times.

"The Polish nation is facing tasks which are much more complex than in 1980. Now we must undertake a trial of real and deep economic reform and democratic restructuring of the state," he said.

The Warsaw provincial court registered the re-born Solidarity in the same room where its original charter was approved in November 1980.

"We've just returned to the road of democracy and freedom," Walesa said from his home in Gdansk, where he was recovering from a bad cold.

Onyszkiewicz said Walesa stayed away in part because the union always regarded itself as legal, so the session had "a technical rather than symbolic nature."

Nevertheless, there was thunderous applause when the verdict was complete, sealing an about-face approved earlier by Communist Party leaders. Polish leader Gen. Wojciech Jaruzelski tried to dissolve Solidarity in a December 1981 martial-law crackdown, but now seeks the movement's help to pull Poland out of economic crisis.

Senior Solidarity sources hinted a meeting might take place Tuesday between Jaruzelski and Walesa-the army general and the union electrician who are now part of an unlikely alliance for reform. It would be their first meeting since before martial law.

see W ALES A / page 3
Freshman Year classes uniformly uninspiring

My freshman year here was academically so awful that I didn’t want to come back. I wasn’t having a difficult time adjusting, but I think I was doing okay. I wanted to stay home because I knew it was only five minutes away.

Rather, in the classroom my freshman year was a mediocré replica of senior year of high school, with nearly identical classes but teachers. Most of the books, well actually stories, I had read in my English class freshman year of high school.

As far as the composition part went, we addressed the composition part of a computer science topic sentence and “how to write a paragraph.”

Sara Marley
News Editor

State Briefs

A chocolate-lover’s delight occurred in Bremen, Ind. early Sunday when a candy-laden trailer-trailer overturned on U.S. 6 spilling 15 million pieces of M&Ms. It took a dozen teen-agers about 15 minutes to clear off the highway.

Social worker ends a two-week fast Saturday in Shool, Ind. Ray Strange said he ended his fast to call attention to the lack of funding for child-welfare caseworkers because his power of concentration began to suffer while he was fasting.

A pipe bomb exploded at a Kmart store in Indianapolis Monday night and took off several fingers of a 5-year-old girl, authorities said. The girl's family was reportedly unharmed, but the 2-month-old was dead from the blast.

Statesman

Market Update

Clangings for Men, April 17, 1989

- Dow Jones Industrial Average: +0.73 (Close 2273.79)
- S&P 500: 350.50 to 300.71
- Currency exchange
  - Mark 0.025 to 1.8605 DM / $ (Year
  - Yen 28 to 132:19 / $
- Precious Metals
  - Gold $385/20 oz.
  - Silver $5.83/oz.

Weather

So, so

Partly sunny and cool today. Highs in the mid-50s, lows in the upper 40s. Partly sunny Wednesday. Highs in the upper 50s.

Freshman Year classes uniformly uninspiring

"In the classroom, freshman year was a mediocré replica of senior year of high school..."

Sara Marley
News Editor

in high school to get through my first year of college. At the height of his unprofessionalism and before the end of the semester, this professor read our teacher/course evaluations, which apparently had never found their way to the base- ment of the library. He commented on their general uninterest in the class and the course on the final day, which was to be a question-and-answer review session, and then stormed out of the classroom.

The guidance I received at Freshman Year was nearly as fruitless as my classes. My "peer" advisor, a senior electrical engineering major, could not understand my poor perfor- mance. "Don't worry," he told me, "you're just a freshman."

After all, he told me, "that's a very easy course."
Eng. soccer safety

Police to try better crowd control

---

Associated Press

SHEFFIELD, England

Criticism increased Monday into the police handling of the soccer stadium disaster that killed 94 fans, and the government launched its own inquiry and said it may ban standing-room-only sections.

Officials and fans accused the South Yorkshire police of letting thousands of late arriving fans into Hillsborough stadium and then responding too slowly when the surging crowd was crushed against a steel anti-riot fence in one of the standing-room-only terraces.

Home Secretary Douglas Hurd, speaking to a hustings House of Commons, said the inquiry headed by Lord Justice Taylor would begin work Tuesday and "make recommendations about the needs of crowd control and safety at sports grounds."

We have to set our sights high and find a better way for British football (soccer)," Hurd said. "We owe a duty to these passionate supporters of football to examine urgently the safety of the spectators and background and to do all in our power to prevent such a thing happening again."

Hurd told the Commons the decision of a senior police officer to open the gate because he feared a wall was seconds away from collapsing on hundreds of fans.

"Startled officers—some of them hemmed in: thought the wall was going to buckle under the enormous pressure of screaming fans. The crowd was packed so tightly around a wall was seconds away from collapsing on hundreds of fans."

---

Wright continued from page 1

George Mallick, a Fort Worth developer, also had the narrowest margin of support on the ethics committee.

The panel agreed with its counsel, Phelan, that Mallick's major interests in real estate and oil and gas ventures and in redevelopment of Fort Worth's historic stockyards district gave him a direct interest in legislation on taxation and on certain appropriations bills.

---

ANNUAL MIDWEST INFORMATION PROCESSING and BUSINESS EXPOSITION held at the CENTURY CENTER South Bend, Indiana

Sponsored by the MICHIANA CHAPTER DATA PROCESSING MANAGEMENT ASSOCIATION

Shows dates: April 18th and 19th, 1989
Show hours: April 18th 10am - 7pm
April 19th 10am - 6pm
Seminars: Both days 10am - 5pm are free
Exposition: Admission by ticket
Non-ticket holders: Adults $3.00
Students $1.00

DPMA provides education of Information Processing and related business products to its members and to the community

---

FREE SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED MONEY FOR COLLEGE

Every student is eligible for some type of financial aid regardless of grades or parental income.

- We have a data bank of over 200,000 listings of scholarships, fellowships, grants, and loans, representing over $1 billion in sector funding.
- Many scholarships are given to students based on their academic interests, career plans, family heritage and place of residence.
- There are listings for students who have been homeless, runaway, graduates, candy, grocery clerks, cheerleaders, non-smokers, etc.
- Results Guaranteed.

For a Free Brochure

Call Anytime

(800) 346-6401

---

Walesa continued from page 1

Party and government officials also admit that by legalizing the union they hope to encourage the West to provide economic help to Poland, buried by a $38 billion foreign debt.

President Bush on Monday announced an aid package to help Poland's economy. He told a Polish-American crowd in Hamtramck, Mich., that continued aid would depend on consistent moves by the communist government toward reform.

The concessions could open the way for up to $1 billion in new loans, loan rescheduling and trade and investment relief, according to administration and international monetary sources.
Escapee hurt in copter crash

Associated Press

MIAMI — A helicopter swooped into a prison's high-security exercise yard Monday and a convicted drug kingpin jumped aboard, but the chopper caught a fence and crashed in the yard, injuring two guards and the escapee and his pilot.

Benjamin Kramer, 36, a former pachucostad champion serving life without parole as the leader of a marijuana-trafficking ring, broke his right leg in the accident. The pilot suffered two broken legs and facial injuries.

"Kramer apparently was ready, and as soon as the helicopter was there, he jumped right into it," said John Clark, warden at the federal Metropolitan Correctional Center.

Clark said three armed guards watched but did not react because they did not want to shoot into the prison yard.

A small communal farm west of Matamoros, did not appear tortured or mutilated like the others, officials said.

Castillo's father, Hidalgo Castillo, 76, of Brownsville, said he found $70, a pair of eyeglasses and a passport in his son's pocket when he helped police dig up the bodies.

Formal Mexican federal charges were to have been filed Monday against four men in custody here, but the new deaths complicated the case, said Jose Arroyo, Mexico's chief federal narcotics investigator.

The two newly found victims were drug traffickers somehow involved with the cult allegedly led by Adolfo Constanzo, 26, and Sara Aldrete, 24.

Although relatives disputed the description, officials said the two newly found victims were drug traffickers somehow involved with the cult allegedly led by Adolfo Constanzo, 26, and Sara Aldrete, 24.

2 corpses ‘complicate case’

Associated Press

MATAMOROS, Mexico. The discovery of two bodies near a ranch where 13 mutilated corpses were found last week delayed the filing of Mexican charges against members of a human-sacrificing cult, officials said.

"The cult also is suspected of killing the newly discovered victims," a government official said.

Two bodies of suspected drug traffickers missing since May were unearthed Sunday on a collective farm two miles south of the Rancho Santa Elena, where 13 corpses were found last week.

The two victims, Moises Castillo, 26, of Houston and Hector de la Fuente, 39, who lived on a small communal farm west of Matamoros, did not appear tortured or mutilated like the others, officials said.

The accident sent pieces of the rotor and the fence hurting hundreds of yards. "It's lucky more people weren't hurt," Clark said.

Bomb

continued from page 1

seldorff suburb, in which weapons and explosives were seized. Asked about a possible link between the Wiesbaden and Pan Am bombs, Falk said: "Any reports to that effect are just speculation." He repeated official assertions that no evidence has been found linking the Pan Am bombing directly with terrorism suspects in West Germany.

Brunhilde Spies-Mohr, a spokeswoman for the police agency, said in a statement: "During investigation of a suspicious device suspected of containing explosives, a detonation occurred. The material that exploded was a device obtained during investigation of Palestinian terrorists.

A second explosive device was discovered without incident after the consulate of the Bundesrepublik Deutschland building was evacuated as a precautionary measure, the statement said.

Spies-Mohr said the federal prosecutor's office in Wiesbaden was investigating the explosion at police headquarters. No one answered his telephone at the prosecutor's office Monday night.

Investigators in the Pan Am case have concluded the bomb exploded when a detonator sensitive to air pressure set off plastic explosives packed into a radio cassette player stored in the cargo hold.

...
Dear Editor:

South African human rights activists are the envy of their colleagues in other parts of the world because of the sincere international support for their struggle against apartheid. The North American research university like Notre Dame would find it hard to turn its back to the sixties to attract foreign investment!

Let me illustrate the differences between my arguments and Tom Varnum's. When I return to South Africa sometime next month, I would like every Notre Dame student to give me ten dollars to hand over to a starving and homeless black South African family. Surely a philanthropic community like Notre Dame would not approve in principle but we can still do something. Perhaps, through token isolation; white South Africa is already bootlegged to death, but for a decade or so. Let me explain. The South African government started 20 years ago to gear the economy up in order to withstand isolation; white South Africa is already bootlegged and spurred, and produces more arms daily. Whites lack neither the resources nor the determination to stay in power. Of course, isolated, they can't hold out forever, but they can certainly hold out a lot longer than countless needy black South Africans.

Moreover, when our people finally get their well-deserved freedom, we will almost certainly discover the tragedy of so many drawn-out revolutions: nobody can constitute free and just structures out of chaos. The real struggle has only just begun.

But, before I'm accused of justifying the present racist regime's hegemony, let me present my alternative. I would like Notre Dame to support the democratic socio-economic institutions which already exist in South Africa. Invest in democratic businesses which deal with democratic lawyers and accountants; play sport with democratic South African sportswomen and men. Make contact with democratic educational institutions and support democratic religious organizations. Never deal with the South African government, never invest in companies, like Coca Cola, which (Sullivan's principles or not) make money by relying on apartheid's structures. Help us to replace the present structures with democratic ones.

It might take us longer to gain control this way, or it might not—but it seems to me the only way to constitute the freedom and justice we are all hoping to see in South Africa.

Johan de Waal
Off-campus
April 12, 1989

Letters from students and faculty are welcome. They should be typewritten or handwritten on one side only and must be signed. The editorial board reserves the right to shorten letters in the interest of space. Letters to the Editor must be submitted no later than 5 p.m. on Thursdays. See column for further details.

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame du Lac and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the policies of the administration or other institution. The news is reported accurately, and all editorial comments represent the opinion of the majority of the following: Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, Executive News Editor, Views Editor, Sports Editor, Accent Editor, Photo Editor, and Tom Varnum's. When I return to South Africa sometime next month, I would like every Notre Dame student to give me ten dollars to hand over to a starving and homeless black South African family. Surely a philanthropic community like Notre Dame would not approve in principle but we can still do something. Perhaps, through token isolation; white South Africa is already bootlegged to death, but for a decade or so. Let me explain. The South African government started 20 years ago to gear the economy up in order to withstand isolation; white South Africa is already bootlegged and spurred, and produces more arms daily. Whites lack neither the resources nor the determination to stay in power. Of course, isolated, they can't hold out forever, but they can certainly hold out a lot longer than countless needy black South Africans.

Moreover, when our people finally get their well-deserved freedom, we will almost certainly discover the tragedy of so many drawn-out revolutions: nobody can constitute free and just structures out of chaos. The real struggle has only just begun.

But, before I'm accused of justifying the present racist regime's hegemony, let me present my alternative. I would like Notre Dame to support the democratic socio-economic institutions which already exist in South Africa. Invest in democratic businesses which deal with democratic lawyers and accountants; play sport with democratic South African sportswomen and men. Make contact with democratic educational institutions and support democratic religious organizations. Never deal with the South African government, never invest in companies, like Coca Cola, which (Sullivan's principles or not) make money by relying on apartheid's structures. Help us to replace the present structures with democratic ones.

It might take us longer to gain control this way, or it might not—but it seems to me the only way to constitute the freedom and justice we are all hoping to see in South Africa.

Johan de Waal
Off-campus
April 12, 1989

Letters from students and faculty are welcome. They should be typewritten or handwritten on one side only and must be signed. The editorial board reserves the right to shorten letters in the interest of space. Letters to the Editor must be submitted no later than 5 p.m. on Thursdays. See column for further details.
Deep in the hearts of post-拧紧执行者s is the desire and dream to present an entertaining and original television show that epitomizes the word "quality" and captivates audiences. Of course, the networks seldom reach this almost unattainable goal. CBS, however, takes viewers this season right to this "Heartland."

This new situation comedy, "Heartland," airs at 7:30 Mondays on CBS. Starring Brian Keith as B.L., this program centers on the lives of family members on a small farm in Nebraska. The family itself is an interesting one. B.L. is Casey's (Kathleen Layman) father, who lost his farm and moved in with his daughter, Casey's husband, Tom Stratford (Richard Gilliland), does not exactly love B.L., but tries to cope for Casey's sake.

Casey and Tom have three children: Johnny (Jason Krister), who wants to move to L.A. to be a movie star, Gus (Devin Ratray), who exists solely to antagonize Johnny (and eat), and Kim (Daisy Keith), an adopted daughter who enjoys the water, her father, she is a talented and exceptional performer. The stars of the show are Jason Krister and Devin Ratray, who give new life to the relationship usually depicted between television siblings. Kristofer portrays his character as an unusual, yet caring young man. His desire to leave Nebraska for a career in Hollywood is intriguing as well. Ratray is chubby, sloppy, and very funny. His comments and sarcasm are unique, yet familiar to those in the audience with a similar sibling.

"Heartland" is a refreshing, funny situation comedy. The premise and characters are entertaining, and the comedy is witty and full of life. Hopefully, CBS will continue to produce shows with the quality and creativity that comes from the heart of "Heartland."

Stay Tuned. "Knots Landing" is now television's most-watched nighttime soap opera. It has finally overcome the competition offered in its timeslot by "L.A. Law," and is the only soap whose ratings have risen this season. NBC has renewed "Laundry and Bourbon" for two more years. ABC is the network that may not live to see next season are ABC's "Hopeerman" and CBS' "Falcon Crest" and "Beauty and the Beast." The networks will announce their list of cancelled shows in late Spring.

Accent

New comedy has a lot of heart

CBS' "Heartland" depicts real life on the farm

Joe Bucolo

To be continued...

flies the room laughing): "Don't worry. This will blow over." Johnny quips, "Yeah, like Chernobyl." The relationship between B.L. and Tom puts strength into this comic land. B.L. constantly ridicules and insults Tom, who retorts in more violent means. "I'm going to have someone kill your father," Tom says. "He's my family," Casey replies, "Kill him yourself." When Tom announces that the corn crop died, B.L. replies, "I'm surprised you can grow fingernails."

It is refreshing and unique for writers to present a situation comedy in such a realistic fashion. Viewers who want to throw up at the fact that TV families usually get along so disgustingly well will enjoy "Heartland." Seldom would a father-in-law and his daughter's family live together in peace and harmony. The show explores this humorous, often frustrating situation in a witty fashion.

The cast is a talented one. Of course, Brian Keith is a television veteran, however, the show introduces Keith's real-life daughter Daisy to viewing audiences. In the spirit of her father, she is a talented and exceptional performer. The stars of the show are Jason Krister and Devin Ratray, who give new life to the relationship usually depicted between television siblings. Kristofer portrays his character as an unusual, yet caring young man. His desire to leave Nebraska for a career in Hollywood is intriguing as well. Ratray is chubby, sloppy, and very funny. His comments and sarcasm are unique, yet familiar to those in the audience with a similar sibling.

"Heartland" is a refreshing, funny situation comedy. The premise and characters are entertaining, and the comedy is witty and full of life. Hopefully, CBS will continue to produce shows with the quality and creativity that comes from the heart of "Heartland."

Accent

New improv group leaves 'em laughing

Modelled after the Second City in Chicago, Irish Accent specializes in improvisation skits which allow some audience participation.

CHRIS MALLOY accent writer

So you say you haven't had any fun this year? Nothing more exciting than an over-crowded off-campus party on St. Louis Street? Now there is something to take away your weekday blues. It's a group called Irish Accent. They don't sing, but they will make you roll over in your seat laughing.

With thirteen "players" in the group, Irish Accent performs both memorized and improvised comedy skits at the University of Illinois. The director can call out any name and the actors must adjust accordingly.

When asked about his plans for next year, Heberle mentioned a few possibilities such as theatre on the quad, and an alliance with Irish Inanity. But he states flatly that "we leave it up to the audience. It's in their hands."

Heberle hopes that the group can continue at Notre Dame, even after he and the original members leave. Hopefully we can look forward to some good comedy for years to come.

Irish Accent's upcoming shows include the play "Laundry and Bourbon" at 8:30 p.m. tonight, and "Lonesome" at 9:15 p.m. on Tuesday, April 25. Both of these shows will be performed at Theodore's.
Tuesday, April 18, 1989
The Observer

SPORTS BRIES

In NBA action last night, Boston defeated Charlotte 113-108 in overtime, Chicago outlasted New York 104-100, and Houston beat San Antonio 99-91.-Associated Press

The Blue-Gold Game will be held Saturday, April 22, at 1:30 p.m. in the stadium, Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s students will be admitted upon presentation of an ID card at gates 15 and 16. Spouses and children must have a ticket. General admission tickets for the public are available from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday-Saturday at gate 16 of the Joyce Athletic Center. Adult tickets are $3 in advance and $4 day game. Youth tickets are $1.50 in advance and $2 the day of the game.-The Observer

The Bengal Bouts Banquet will be held for all boxers Wednesday, April 19, at 5:30 p.m. at St. Hedwig’s Parish. Call Mike at x3999 for more information.-The Observer

Women’s track team will hold a mandatory meeting today at 4 p.m. in the Dooley Room. Call Wendy at 684-4052 for more information.-The Observer

Off-Campus lacrosse has a game today at 7 p.m. in the Dooley Room. The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Saint Mary’s office. Call Wendy at 684-4052 for more information.-The Observer

Sports briefs are accepted in writing Sunday through Friday in The Observer offices on the third floor of LaFortune Student Center before 3 p.m. on the day prior to publication.-The Observer

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Saint Mary’s office. Call Wendy at 684-4052 for more information.-The Observer

SPORTS BRIES

The Observer

Bookstore: road to terrific 256

Bookstore: road to terrific 256

Tuesday, April 18, 1989
The Observer

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Saint Mary’s office. Call Wendy at 684-4052 for more information.-The Observer

Bookstore: road to terrific 256

Bookstore: road to terrific 256

Tuesday, April 18, 1989
The Observer

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the Saint Mary’s office. Call Wendy at 684-4052 for more information.-The Observer

Bookstore: road to terrific 256
Volleyball club ends best season ever.

The Men's Volleyball Club ended its most successful season in the Midwest Intercollegiate Volleyball Association tournament last weekend with a second place finish. The Irish ended the season with a 27-12 record, which is by far their best-over, given the strength of their schedule.

Greg Scheckenbach

Club Corner

In the tournament, Notre Dame compiled a 4-2 record against the Midwest Conference. During the final play-off section of the tournament, the Irish lost a close match to Northwestern before beating a talented Bowling Green squad. The victories in good play put Ozzie's Indiana in the quarterfinals.

Against the Hoosiers, the Irish were flawless winning 15-8, 15-11. Senior captain Mike Shimota was outstanding, dishing up numerous assists to Irish hitters. In this match, the back row did no wrong in their passing, giving up few points to the opposition.

Then the semifinals against Wisconsin were not as easy for the Irish, losing the first game 9-15. Notre Dame came back against the wall and was forced to win the next two games if they were to stay alive in the tournament. As they have all the games, they came back and won the following games on 15-8, 15-13. Junior Andrew Sullivan led Notre Dame with 17 kills while Irish student Pavel Palok checked in with 23. Shimota was also the leader in digs, tallying 12. Sophomore jumping jack Tom Martin snubbed the Badgers with six solo blocks.

In the final against Michigan State losing 12-15, 13-5, the loss was most difficult because it eliminated Notre Dame from competing in the Club National Championships. But credit to the Irish, who against the Badgers, was simply dominant.

It was a great season and the team was prepared for any challenge. The Irish would like to see Shimota back next year, who missed the Cardinals shortstop did.

The 31-year-old Samuelson missed the 1988 Olympic marathon because his country joined North Korea's boycott of the Seoul Games. And though he said he was happy he won Monday, he added: "I don't consider it my Olympic race."

It was the first time since 1963 that a woman from an African country of Ethiopia had sent a delegation to the Boston Marathon.

The 25-year-old Ethiopian missed the 1988 Olympic marathon because his country joined North Korea's boycott of the Seoul Games. And though he said he was happy he won Monday, he added: "I don't consider it my Olympic race."

“Tennis continued from page 12 year. With David Dilucia and Walter Dolher coming back, we will be strong at the top, and very experienced. The new additions will give us a very deep team next year,

I think a lot of people were expecting me to say I was going to retire, but I won't be," Samuelson said, checking back ears. "This is not the end of Joan Samuelson's career. I was duly humbled out there." But she said her brilliant career was not over.

"You don't replace character, and for that reason we'll miss (graduating senior) Brian Bayliss. "But it appears that other student-athletes to commit to Notre Dame are Ronny Cardenas from El Paso, Texas, Colorado State High School champ Andy Zurcher, and Greg Zitrail who ranked third in the mid-state region which includes Pennsylvania, New Jersey, and Delaware."
Associated Press

SEATTLE—Henry Cotto hit his first two home runs of the season and rookie Erik Hansen held Oakland to four hits through eight innings, leading the Seattle Mariners to a 7-2 victory over the Athletics on Monday night.

Cotto’s two-run homer put Seattle ahead 2-1 in the Mariners’ four-run inning two runs and he added a solo shot in the seventh. It was the first multiple-homer game of his career.

Hansen, 2-1, gave up a run in the first inning and then checked the A’s batting order. The 6-foot-6 right-hander retired 17 of his last 19 batters.

Kevin Gross, 2-1, pitched 6 2-3 in innings and allowed nine hits for the victory. Tim Burke got the last three outs for his second save.

Tom Foley singled with one out in the sixth off Greg Maddux, 0-2, and Galarraga hit a homer to give the Expos a 2-0 lead.

The Cubs used three singles to chase Gross and move within 2-1 in the seventh. Joe Girardi singled with one out and moved to second on a Jerome Walton’s two-out single before scoring on Mitch Webster’s single.

Cardinals 4, Pirates 2

ST. LOUIS—Ozzie Smith’s first-inning run-scoring double sparked a three-run eighth inning, leading the St. Louis Cardinals past the injury-plagued Pittsburgh Pirates 4-2 Monday night.

The Cardinals hit four doubles off reliever Brian Fisher, 0-1, to break a 1-1 tie in the eighth.

Pittsburgh’s John Morris led off with a double and advanced to third on a sacrifice. Smith, who is 7-for-12 since his return from the disabled list on Satur­day, doubled down the right-field line to break the tie. Terry Pendleton and Pedro Guerrero then followed with RBI doubles.

Scott Terry, 1-1, held the Pirates to six hits over eight innings, striking out four and walking none.

Expos 2, Cubs 1

MONTREAL—Andres Galarraga hit a two-run homer in the sixth inning to give the Montreal Expos a 2-1 victory over the Cubs.

Kevin Gross, 2-1, pitched 6 2-3 in­nings and allowed nine hits for the victory. Tim Burke got the last three outs for his second save.

Tom Foley singled with one out in the sixth off Greg Maddux, 0-2, and Galarraga hit a homer to give the Expos a 2-0 lead.

The Cubs used three singles to chase Gross and move within 2-1 in the seventh. Joe Girardi singled with one out and moved to second on a Jerome Walton’s two-out single before scoring on Mitch Webster’s single.

Red Sox 6, Orioles 4

BOSTON—Mike Greenwell hit a two-run homer as the Boston Red Sox rallied for five runs in the eighth in­ning Monday to beat the Baltimore Orioles 6-4.

The Orioles scored two runs in the ninth, but fell short in their bid to win consecutive games on the road for the first time since August 1987.

Ellis Burks led off the Boston eighth with a triple off Brian Holton, 1-2, who replaced starter Jose Bautista at the start of the seventh. Greenwell then hit his fourth homer of the season an 800-foot blast into the bleachers in right center.

Yankees 7, Blue Jays 2

TORONTO—Andy Hawkins pitched a five-hitter for his first American League victory and Roberto Kelly drove in four runs, three with a ninth-inning triple, as the New York Yankees beat the Toronto Blue Jays 7-3 Monday night.

Hankins, 1-2, walked three and struck out three.

New York broke a 2-2 tie with an unearned run in the seventh inning.

With two out, Alvaro Espinoza worked Toronto starter Mike Flanagan, 1-2, for a walk. Kelly singled and, after Duane Ward relieved, the runners ad­vanced on Ernie Whitt’s passed ball.

Angels 3, White Sox 0

CHICAGO—Devon White doubled home a run in the first inning and started a two-run ninth with his second double as the California Angels defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-0 Monday night.

Brian Downing opened the game with a single to deep short, continued to second on Ozzie Guillen’s throwing error, and advanced to third on a walk. White followed with a triple off Brian Holton, 1-2, who replaced starter Jose Bautista at the start of the seventh. Greenwell then hit his fourth homer of the season a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Edgar Martinez hit two of his five field goal attempts and seven of 22 shots in 32 minutes.

The Angels drove in four runs, three with a ninth-inning single, as the New York Yankees beat the Toronto Blue Jays 7-3 Monday night.

Hankins, 1-2, walked three and struck out three.

New York broke a 2-2 tie with an unearned run in the seventh inning.

With two out, Alvaro Espinoza worked Toronto starter Mike Flanagan, 1-2, for a walk. Kelly singled and, after Duane Ward relieved, the runners ad­vanced on Ernie Whitt’s passed ball.

Angels 3, White Sox 0

CHICAGO—Devon White doubled home a run in the first inning and started a two-run ninth with his second double as the California Angels defeated the Chicago White Sox 3-0 Monday night.

Brian Downing opened the game with a single to deep short, continued to second on Ozzie Guillen’s throwing error, and scored on White’s one-out double.

Kirk McCaskill, 3-0, allowed all the Chicago hits in 7 1-3 innings, walking none and striking out one. Bryan Har­vey pitched out of an eighth-inning jam and earned his second save.

Brewers 8, Rangers 1

ARLINGTON, Texas—Fran­conna, who ruined Nolan Ryan’s no-hit bid last week, went 3-for-4 Monday night and rookie Bill Spier hit a grand slam for his first major-league homer as the Milwaukee Brewers’ snapped the Texas Rangers’ club record eight-game winning streak 8-1.

Ryan, 1-1, threw 104 pitches and lasted just five innings. He yielded three runs and seven hits. He struck out three and striking out three. In his previous start, Ryan retired the first 20 Mil­waukee batters and went eight in­nings, allowing only the hit by Fran­conna and striking out 15.

Giants 9, Padres 0

SAN FRANCISCO—Scott Garrelts, a converted reliever, pitched a six-hitter and will Clark and Candy Mal­donado, each drove in three runs as the San Francisco Giants routed the slumping San Diego Padres 9-0 Mon­day night.

Garrelts, 2-0, struck out five and walked three in his first shutout since Sept. 25, 1983, and his first complete game since May 31, 1986.

Reds 3, Dodgers 2

LOS ANGELES—Todd Remlinger’s sacrifice fly scored Barry Larkin in the 10th inning to give the Cincinnati Reds a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Monday night.

Reliever Jay Howell, 0-1, yielded a leadoff single to Larkin. Larkin was picked off first by Howell, but was safe when shortstop Alfredo Griffin dropped the ball running him back toward first base for an error.

Seniors

Wondering what to do after graduation? Thinking about taking a year off before law school or medical school?

A Chicago law firm is looking for people with an interest in law or with an interest in the medical field. If this sounds interesting to you please sign up at the career and placement center or at counseling and career development center at St. Mary’s. We will be conducting interviews at St. Mary’s and Notre Dame Monday April 24th.

The Observer / AP Photo

Jose DeLeon (right) is congratulated after his 5-3 victory over the New York Mets on Sunday. The Cardinals, aided by the return of veteran Ozzie Smith, have won their last three games. Story on Smith on page 8.

Attention

Preprofessional Society Members:

Mandatory Meeting

Tuesday, April 18th

6:30 pm 127 Nieuwland

*Elections will be held (so if interested you must be there) *

The Observer continued from page 12

Dawn was more average than smooth in leading Dawn to smooth to a 5-3 victory over Global Order Trotters. Dawn hit two of her five field goal at­tempts in the contest.

Notes: Only one women’s game was played Monday afternoon. Absent was Knott the victorious female. Action continues today on the courts at SMC.
Golf teams compete at OSU

Special To The Observer

The Notre Dame men's golf team finished eighth in the 22-team Kepler Intercollegiate at Ohio State University's Scarlet Golf Course, while the women's team placed seventh out of nine in the Lady Buckeyes Spring Invitational this past weekend in Columbus, Ohio.

The men posted scores of 306, 308 and 335 for a total of 953. Ohio State won on its home turf with an 892 total. Miami (Ohio) was second with a 915 score and Toledo finished third at 958.

The Irish fired a 900.

Roberty Brewer led Notre Dame's effort with a 242, followed by; Erika Poehl at 247, Heidi Hansan at 250, Liz Poden at 251 and Kristin Kolesar at 253.

The Buckeyes' Debbie Silvers tied for 16th place with a 222.

Canadiens 3, Bruins 2

MONTREAL-The Montreal Canadiens, led by the spectacular goaltending of Patrick Roy and an opportunistic offense, beat the Boston Bruins 3-2 Monday night in the first game of the Adams Division final.

The Canadiens, who lost a playoff series to Boston for the first time in 45 years last spring, managed just 15 shots at Andy Moog. But Bruins goalie Mike Keane and Claude Lemieux were able to beat the goalie.

Roy, who did not lose at home all season, was sensational.

He made his best save in the second period, checking out Bobby Carpenter's wraparound shot from the slot. In the third period, he foil ed two shots by Ray Bourque with splendid saves to keep Montreal in control.

After Boston went within a goal when Bob Sweeney scored with 4:03 left, Roy remained sharp. He stopped Gary Galley's 40-footer with 12 seconds to go and also made a save on Bourque just before the final buzzer.

NHL Playoff action: Penguins, Canadiens

Associated Press

PITTSBURGH-Rob Brown took Kevin Stevens' pass from behind the net and scored from the slot with 6:34 remaining as the Pittsburgh Penguins rallied to beat the Philadelphia Flyers 4-3 Monday night in the opener of the Patrick Division finals.

The Penguins, outshot at one point 28-6 and trailing 3-1, got goals from Dan Quinn and John Cullen just 33 seconds apart in the second period. They then rode Tom Barrasso's clutch goaltending to score their fifth consecutive playoff victory and their ninth in their last 10 games, counting the regular season.

The Penguins, absent from the NHL playoffs for six straight years, swept their first-round series from the New York Rangers to advance to the second round for the first time in 10 years. Philadelphia beat Washington.

Brown's goal, his third of the playoffs, came after Flyers goaltender Ron Hextall made four spectacular saves earlier in the period to keep the Penguins from blowing open the game, the first playoff meeting between the cross-state rivals in their 32 years of existence.

The Flyers, keeping the puck in their attacking zone for most of the first 30 minutes, scored three special teams goals.
LECTURE CIRCUIT

3:30 p.m. ND Dept. of Management, Administrative Sciences Lecture, "Power and Organizations," Hayes Healy Auditorium.

3:30 p.m. ND Dept. of Chemical Engineering Lecture, "Block Copolymers at Interfaces: Miscellaneity and Adsorption," 556 Fitzpatrick Hall; refreshments Room 161.

3:30 p.m. ND Dept of AeroMech Engineering lecture, "Bubble Deformation and Breakup at Finite Reynolds Number," Room 117 Cushing Hall.

7:30 p.m. Saint Mary's diversity lecture, "Maintaining Copolymers at Interfaces: Micellization and Adsorption," 3:30 p.m. ND Dept, of Chemical Engineering lecture, "Block

MENUS

Notre Dame
Thin Steak Sandwich
Ham & Broccoli Rolls
Pasta Bar
Baked Stuffed Turbot

Saint Mary's
Shrimp Vegetable Stirfry
Cheese Enchiladas
Sliced Ham
Deli Bar

CROSSWORD

ACROSS

DOWN

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

BLOOM COUNTY

HELP ME! (HIC)

WHAT SHOULD WE DO?

OUR OCEANS ARE FILLED WITH GARBAGE, WE'VE CREATED A HOLE IN THE OZONE, WE'RE FRYING THE PLANET, NUCLEAR WASTE IS PILING UP WITHOUT ANY WAY TO GET RID OF IT...

CALVIN AND HOBBES

HELP ME! (HIC)
GET (HIC) RID OF (HIC), (HIC), (HIC) RIDOSS?

CALVIN AND HOBBES

I'M GONNA GET A NEW PRESIDENT!

A DELICACY FROM MY COLORFUL STREETS ON THE SOUTH SIDE OF TOWN!

THE FAR SIDE

"So there he was -- this big gorilla just lying there. And Jim here says, 'Do you suppose it's dead or just asleep?'"
Bookstore action continues

By GREG GUFFEY
Assistant Sports Editor

Murphy's Bar already had depth and experience coming into Bookstore Basketball XVIII. Unselfish team play can be added to that list after Monday's 21-7 romp over 4 Dribblers and a Shooter.

Murphy's used a balanced scoring attack to advance into third-round action. Steve Belles and Andy Heck scored seven hoops each for the winners. Kevin Warren added four baskets, Aaron Robb two and John Mundo one.

In last week's 21-8 victory over Iggy Pop at the Buzzer, Belles and Mundo led the way with six hoops and Robb tossed in five.

"There's no animosity about who scores," Warren said. "For the most part, we have five very unselfish individuals."

Murphy's has yet to be tested in the first two rounds of the tourney. Both wins have been by large margins, and Warren says the team has just come together.

"I think our team is playing very well right now," Warren said. "We're starting to get a feel for what each other can and cannot do."

In other games, Todd Lyght shot an incredible 10-of-14 to lead It's All About Dissin' Cuz to a 21-11 win over Slop Punch. Ricky Walters, a member of last year's Adwork's champions, added six baskets for the winners. Irish defensive lineman George Williams rounded out the football trio for Dissin' Cuz.

"We didn't play real well in the beginning because some of our players were sick," Williams said. "We got to playing better after awhile. If we're clicking on all five cylinders, we could be tough to beat."

We Got Cut From Adwords showed why, losing 21-4 to Mike and the Minstrel Cycles. The winners hit 21-of-30 from the field, while the losers could manage just 4-of-36.

Rodan, Sky and 3 Other Guys round out the football trio for the IC4A Champions. The Trinity team also broke the tape first, winning with a second place finish in the 3300-meter steeplechase with a personal record of 9:01.33.

Morgan's freshman Brian Peppard and Wallace, Dolhare and Kalbas at second doubles, and Rodan, Sky and 3 Other Guys qualified with a second place finish in the 3300-meter steeplechase with a personal record of 9:01.33.

Ron Markelich, junior Glen Watson won his second straight Stanford Invite with a time of 14.42 for the 110-meter hurdles. The meeting's only shutout victim.

Men's tennis captures MCC

Irish enjoy perfect day to claim Bayliss' first MCC title

By KEN TYSIAC
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's tennis team dominated the Midwestern Collegiate Conference Championships this Sunday, walking away with the first place trophy. The Irish did not lose a match in rolling to Coach Bob Bayliss's first MCC title at Notre Dame.

Superfresh David DiLucia once again led the way for the Irish, beating Chris McGlinchey of the University of Cincinnati in the finals of the number one singles flight, 6-2, 6-2. DiLucia also won the number four singles to capture the first team's doubles title, beating Xavier's David and John Kronberger, 6-3, 7-5.

Notre Dame did not lose a match in rolling to Coach Bayliss's first MCC title. Every Irish player and doubles team walked away with first place honors.

Individual championships were won by DiLucia at number one singles, Walter Dolhare at second singles, Brian Kalbas at third, Ryan Wengler at fourth, Dave Reiter at fifth, and Paul Odland at sixth. Doubles championships were won by the teams of DiLucia and Wallace, Dolhare and Kalbas at second doubles, and Wengler and Reiter at number three.

The teams from Xavier and Evansville finished a distant second and third, respectively, in the meet. Coach Bayliss was obviously pleased with his team's success.

"We played very well," he said. "We lost only one set in the whole competition (at second doubles) and we came right back to win the tiebreaker in that match 6-4.

"Our school has made a big commitment to tennis," continued Bayliss. "The bottom line is that we're very serious about our tennis, and when it got close, we had more experience."

The next opponent for Bayliss's squad is Michigan State, whose legendary coach, Stan Droba, will lead them into town to play the Irish on Saturday. Notre Dame lost a heartbreak­ing 5-4 decision to the Spartans last year, so this should be an exciting matchup.

Coach Bayliss also received some good news this past week regarding the future of his five high school seniors signed letters of intent to attend school here at Notre Dame and play tennis.

Included in the impressive corps of recruits are Prince High School All Americans Chuck Coleman from The Baylor School in Chattanooga, Tennessee, and Mark Schmidt, who hails from Atlanta, Georgia, Coleman and Schmidt are ranked 13th and 14th among college-bound high school players, so Bayliss has himself a couple of promising recruits.

Of the new recruits, Bayliss says, "these players should give us a solid base for next season."