Teacher Evaluations have three-fold purpose

Dr. Ann Firth, director of Notre Dame. "I'm not sure that, right now, we have the physical facilities to accommodate co-ed housing," said Firth. "Any type of co-ed housing must be undertaken within context of the guidelines of the University," added Firth.

See CO-ED / page 7

By CINDY PETRITES
Staff Reporter

Teacher evaluations have three-fold purpose

Associated Press

TOKYO—Prime Minister Noboru Takeshita, shuttered politically and shaken by the suicide of his longtime aide, worked Wednesday to find a successor unacho ked by the money scandal that ruined his career.

An aide to former Prime Minister Takeo Miki said senior politician Masayoshi Ito was "certain" to be chosen by Takeshita and other governing party leaders. Ito, 75, has a clean reputation and served Thursday, April 27, 1989

CO-ED HOUSING

Mixed views on co-ed housing

By KELLEY TUTHILL
and JOHN ZALLER
Staff Reporters

Editors note: This is the third in a three-part series on residential housing.

While many students are in favor of co-ed housing, many rectors, administrators and alumni approach the idea more cautiously. Dr. Ann Firth, director of residence life, believes the ideas of co-ed housing "is not a simple issue. There needs to be much discussion with students, administrators, faculty, parents, and alumni."

This is an issue that needs to be weighed very carefully," added Firth. Last year, Firth chaired a task force set up to investigate the possibilities of co-residential housing at Notre Dame. The task force evaluated the strengths and weaknesses of many facets of residence life, dividing it into three categories: Personnel, Residential Environment, and Physical Facilities, according to the task force report.

The final report issued by the task force suggested a committee be organized to further investigate the possibilities of co-ed housing.

Referring to the Observer survey on co-ed housing, Firth believes that the students' desire for co-ed housing was greater than their desire to actually participate in it. Firth thinks that an experimental co-ed hall might be a pilot project towards the future of co-ed housing.

By a committee of the department chairman and deans at Notre Dame. "I'm not sure that, right now, we have the physical facilities to accommodate co-ed housing," said Firth. "Any type of co-ed housing must be undertaken within context of the guidelines of the University," added Firth.

Pat Doran, associate director of residence life, said student involvement might be important to the future of co-ed housing. "If there were sufficient student demand, further investigation would be made, but there wouldn't be any legally being co-ed housing. The administration would have to look deeper into it," said Doran.

Sister Maureen Minihan, rector of Siegfried Hall said, "I don't have a problem with the idea." She believes that co-residential housing would be healthy for the students. As she sees it, the dorm is already half male half female during the day right now.

Minihan said that in a dorm like Siegfried that is "L shaped" co-ed by sections or wings could conceivably work and a female student fresh out of high school is happy with the set-up right now, but she would like it if the dorm went co-ed.

"The rector situation would have to be changed," if a dorm went co-ed, said Minihan. She would be in favor of a male rector in each dorm. The rules and parietals would remain the same.

Father Thomas King, rector of Zahm hall thinks co-ed housing would be healthy for the students. "There might be important to the future of co-ed housing. "If there were sufficient student demand, further investigation would be made, but there wouldn't be any legally being co-ed housing. The administration would have to look deeper into it," said Doran.

Sister Maureen Minihan, rector of Siegfried Hall said, "I don't have a problem with the idea." She believes that co-residential housing would be healthy for the students. As she sees it, the dorm is already half male half female during the day right now.

Minihan said that in a dorm like Siegfried that is "L shaped" co-ed by sections or wings could conceivably work and a female student fresh out of high school is happy with the set-up right now, but she would like it if the dorm went co-ed.

"The rector situation would have to be changed," if a dorm went co-ed, said Minihan. She would be in favor of a male rector in each dorm. The rules and parietals would remain the same.

Father Thomas King, rector of Zahm hall thinks co-ed housing would be healthy for the students. "There might be important to the future of co-ed housing. "If there were sufficient student demand, further investigation would be made, but there wouldn't be any legally being co-ed housing. The administration would have to look deeper into it," said Doran.

Sister Maureen Minihan, rector of Siegfried Hall said, "I don't have a problem with the idea." She believes that co-residential housing would be healthy for the students. As she sees it, the dorm is already half male half female during the day right now.

Minihan said that in a dorm like Siegfried that is "L shaped" co-ed by sections or wings could conceivably work and a female student fresh out of high school is happy with the set-up right now, but she would like it if the dorm went co-ed.

"The rector situation would have to be changed," if a dorm went co-ed, said Minihan. She would be in favor of a male rector in each dorm. The rules and parietals would remain the same.

Father Thomas King, rector of Zahm hall thinks co-ed housing would be healthy for the students. "There might be important to the future of co-ed housing. "If there were sufficient student demand, further investigation would be made, but there wouldn't be any legally being co-ed housing. The administration would have to look deeper into it," said Doran.

Sister Maureen Minihan, rector of Siegfried Hall said, "I don't have a problem with the idea." She believes that co-residential housing would be healthy for the students. As she sees it, the dorm is already half male half female during the day right now.

Minihan said that in a dorm like Siegfried that is "L shaped" co-ed by sections or wings could conceivably work and a female student fresh out of high school is happy with the set-up right now, but she would like it if the dorm went co-ed.

"The rector situation would have to be changed," if a dorm went co-ed, said Minihan. She would be in favor of a male rector in each dorm. The rules and parietals would remain the same.

Father Thomas King, rector of Zahm hall thinks co-ed housing would be healthy for the students. "There might be important to the future of co-ed housing. "If there were sufficient student demand, further investigation would be made, but there wouldn't be any legally being co-ed housing. The administration would have to look deeper into it," said Doran.

Sister Maureen Minihan, rector of Siegfried Hall said, "I don't have a problem with the idea." She believes that co-residential housing would be healthy for the students. As she sees it, the dorm is already half male half female during the day right now.

Minihan said that in a dorm like Siegfried that is "L shaped" co-ed by sections or wings could conceivably work and a female student fresh out of high school is happy with the set-up right now, but she would like it if the dorm went co-ed.

"The rector situation would have to be changed," if a dorm went co-ed, said Minihan. She would be in favor of a male rector in each dorm. The rules and parietals would remain the same.

Father Thomas King, rector of Zahm hall thinks co-ed housing would be healthy for the students. "There might be important to the future of co-ed housing. "If there were sufficient student demand, further investigation would be made, but there wouldn't be any legally being co-ed housing. The administration would have to look deeper into it," said Doran.

Sister Maureen Minihan, rector of Siegfried Hall said, "I don't have a problem with the idea." She believes that co-residential housing would be healthy for the students. As she sees it, the dorm is already half male half female during the day right now.

Minihan said that in a dorm like Siegfried that is "L shaped" co-ed by sections or wings could conceivably work and a female student fresh out of high school is happy with the set-up right now, but she would like it if the dorm went co-ed.

"The rector situation would have to be changed," if a dorm went co-ed, said Minihan. She would be in favor of a male rector in each dorm. The rules and parietals would remain the same.
Students should confront world issues

"College is the time and place to make waves. Now is the time for us to be 'Youthful Idealists.'"

Alison Cocks
Production Manager

"The issues that seem so earth-shattering now and wonder what I thought was so horrible. I can't help but think that it would be worthwhile to be like the students in Moscow who tell my children that not only did I do some crazy things when I was a student, but I was a part of a group of people who fought for their ideas and weren't afraid to express their displeasure with it."

My parents would probably refer to this type of thinking as 'Youthful Idealism.' Youthful idealism will fade into adult realism as soon as I wake up in the morning and realize that I can't change the world, they say. Maybe I can't, but confronting something of significance to a large number of people will teach me more about the world then retiring into a conservat­ive shell at a young age and waiting for the right career to fall into my lap."

College is the time and place to make waves. Now is the time for us to be 'Youthful Idealists.' We are young enough and inexperienced enough to need the intellectual development that a career in idealism provides. Those students in China are students in every sense of the word. They are attempting something of significance, something that many of them have probably only read about and apply it to their lives. They have also watched and sized the world, instead of waiting for it to come to them. I admire them for not only considering the impact of their action, but for allowing life to challenge them."

All of us at Notre Dame are capable of being students. Not just of Math 126, but of a world that we must confront if we are to truly become a part of it.

OF INTEREST

Shakespeare Film Festival presents Henry the Eighth in the Architecture Auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight.

Annual Army ROTC awards ceremony will be held today at 4:30 p.m. in the Hesburgh Library Auditorium.

Semester around the world foreign study program application forms are available. Call Cry Pullpally at 384-4466, 272-0889, or 384-4474 for more information.

Senior Citizens need visitors in the fall. Anyone interested in the elderly visitation program should contact Kathy Royster at the CSC at 239-5280.

Yearbooks are being distributed today and Friday from noon to 4 p.m. between Washington and Cavanaugh Halls. Student ID’s must be presented.

NDE end of the year picnic and mass will begin at 4 p.m. at the Fatima Retreat Center.

Le Cercle Français presents "Jean de Florette" in the Hesburgh Auditorium Friday at 7:30 p.m. followed by a meeting in the South Lounge of Walh Hall.

Observer Of Interests and other public service announcements may be submitted to the The Observer main office on the third floor of LaPorte Student Center until 10 a.m. on the day of publication. Of Interest announcements free, campus-wide events of general interest. Lecture Circuit announces on-campus and local lecturers. Campus announces other events of general interest, free or paid. The Observer reserves the right to edit all submitted material and determine if and where announcements will be published. -The Observer

Question: How do you reach over 12,000 people daily?
Answer: Buy Observer ad space. 239-6900.
Thursday, April 27, 1989
The Observer page 3

SMC hall presidents elected

Special to The Observer

Molly Brigner, election commissioner, reported the following Saint Mary's hall elections results:

LeMans will have a run-off election on Monday between the Colleen McCarthy ticket, which received 36 percent, and the Liz Lieske ticket with 46 percent. Megan Weller had 21 percent of the vote and Stephanie Loehmann had five percent.

Holy Cross will also have a run-off between Kerry Burke, who received 37 percent of the vote, and Jenny Reife, 36 percent. Lori Johnson and Heather McGillevray each received eight percent of the vote. In McCandless, Suzy Smith won the election with 52 percent of the vote over Kristen Schultz, who received 44 percent. Augusta will also have a run-off between Kathy Sullivan, 41 percent, and Nancy Hanke, 34 percent. Cathy McCurry also ran and received 20 percent of the vote.

Regina will have a run-off between Maureen Lowery, 36 percent, and Katrina Lentsch, 29 percent. Cathy Fisher also received 10 percent of the vote and Irrig Brooks received 15 percent.

The were a large number of tickets who ran, according to Brigner. She also said that voter turn-out was good. Run-off elections will all take place on Monday.

Tombar receives Truman Award

By KERRY SCANLON
News Staff

Frederick Tombar has been announced as the recipient of this year's Harry S. Truman Scholarship. Tombar will be awarded $7000 for his outstanding achievement in public service at the federal, state, and local levels.

On April 19th, the Board of Trustees of the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation announced the 87 college students who will be awarded the 1989 Truman Scholarship on May 7th.

Each recipient will receive an annual maximum stipend of $7,000 per year for the last two years of college and two years of graduate study. According to the Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation, the awards are granted to promising students who have demonstrated a firm commitment to a career in public service at the federal, state, or local levels.

The scholarship program is now in its thirteenth year, and makes one new scholarship available annually to a student from each state. Each of the 13 Regional Review Panels recommends up to three additional scholars for consideration to be "Scholars-at-Large." Two additional scholars were recommended by the Board of Trustees early this week.

Tombar is a sophomore government major and intends to enter law school after graduation. He applied for the award through the University after noticing a sign for it on a hall bulletin board. His mother had just lost her job and told him to look out for outside scholarships. When Tombar told his mother he had won the award she immediately asked if he thanked God for it. "It's a Godsend. I can thank God for what He has done for me," said Tombar.

Tombar added that receiving the award was "such a relief because he had been waiting for the award since October."

Tombar had to first fill out an application in order to be nominated by the University. Once his nomination was confirmed he spent about a month working intensely on his essay entitled "The Black Male: An Endangered Species." His essay argued that "Every problem he thinks the black male faces, and government solutions and policies to these problems.

Tombar also discussed such things as money allocated to the prison system versus the Head Start program. He also stressed the value of education for young people.

Tombar had read several of books by Zweezo Kunjata and one, "The Conspiracy to Destroy Black Boys," provided him with some ideas for his essay.

He spent several days looking for important facts and statistics and met with Fred Wright, director of black studies to help prepare him for the interview process.

Tombar were to SMU over spring break to complete the interview. It was a 25 minute process with a panel of judges that were politicians and professors.

According to Tombar, "It wasn't the money as much as saying because he could see he had potential to be a leader."

Tombar is a member of the Multicultural Executive Council, Notre Dame Voices of Faith, Gospel Ensemble, the speech debate team, and was recently elected Grace Hall President.

Last summer he worked for the City Council in his hometown of New Orleans and this summer hopes to work for State Senator William Jefferson.

Tombar says that "Politics and law is the best way to bring beneficial changes to our society."

The Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation was established by an act of Congress as the nation's living memorial to our 33rd President and reflects his strong belief in educational opportunities for the American youth and law is the best way to bring beneficial changes to our society.

The Foundation is an act of Congress that established an act of Congress as the nation's living memorial to our 33rd President and reflects his strong belief in educational opportunities for the American youth.

The Harry S. Truman Scholarship Foundation was established by an act of Congress as the nation's living memorial to our 33rd President and reflects his strong belief in educational opportunities for the American youth and law is the best way to bring beneficial changes to our society.

The Maximum Award for the 1987-88 year is $5,000 per year for the last two years of college and two years of graduate study. Each student must be nominated by their college.

This year Notre Dame nominated three students and for the first time in the University's history, all three were chosen as semi-finalists.

Naked man seen on St. Mary's Road

By KELLEY TUTHILL
Senior Staff Reporter

Two Saint Mary's students reported that a man was standing naked on Saint Mary's Road on Monday night.

The women were walking down Saint Mary's road near Holy Cross Cemetery when they observed a male standing in front of them on the north side of the road wearing no clothes at 9:10 p.m. Monday, said Phil Johnson, assistant director of security.

The women fled the scene and went towards the center of the Notre Dame campus on Saint Mary's Road. On campus the women found two patrol cars that were in the area and reported the incident exposure they had witnessed, said Johnson.

According to the women, the man was five feet, six inches tall and weighed approximately 130 pounds, said Johnson. The women said no words were exchanged between them and the man, he stated.

The patrol cars drove to Saint Mary's road, yet were unable to locate the male as the suspect had fled the scene, said Johnson. Security is continuing to investigate the incident.

According to Johnson, the suspect was described as having light brown hair and in his early 30's. The women said he appeared older than a college student.

If anyone has any information about this man or if anyone saw a suspicious male on Saint Mary's road Monday, please notify Notre Dame Security, said Johnson.

ALLIED HEALTH PROFESSIONALS

The Air Force can make you on attractive offer — outstanding compensation plus opportunities for professional development! You can have a challenging practice and time to spend with your family while you serve your country. Find out what the Air Force offers. Call 317-848-5830

CAPT CULHANE 317-848-5830 COLLECT

STUDENT/YOUTH TOURS

STUDENT/YOUTH TOURS

SAFIE CAMBUS

WANT TO MAKE IT EASY FOR A CROOK?

Prop open that exterior self-locking door. You never know who may want to come in.

Don't bother to lock your room when you leave for class.

Save time—leave your money and jewelry out on the dresser, easy to find.

Act like the Lone Ranger. Don't get to know the other people living near you.

Advertise. Leave a note on the door to let everyone know that you're not there.

Be generous. Share your keys, ID, and driver's license with the whole world.

Leave your blinds open and lights on at night so it's easy to see in.
Researchers to prove cold fusion

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Two reseachers have mastered fusion, the process that powers the sun and the stars, told Congress Wednesday they will duplicate their experiments for government scientists in hopes of quieting skeptics.

"We have 19 experiments being set up now," University of Utah chemist Stanley Pons told the House Science Committee, including a demonstration of room-temperature fusion for scientists from the Los Alamos National Laboratory.

Pons said the federal scientists will monitor his experiments at Utah, then dismantle it and take it to the national laboratory in New Mexico for further tests.

Pons and his collaborator, Martin Fleischmann, of the University of South Hampton in England, are making the arrangement to silence some of the skepticism about their claim to have discovered a way to achieve fusion using their nary lab equipment assembled on a table top.

The two announced their discovery March 23, stunning nuclear physicists around the world who have attempted to achieve fusion for years using multimillion-dollar machines.

The hearing was jammed with journalists, scientists and industrial representatives anxious to learn more about a reaction that some predict could produce plentiful electric power with little environmental pollution or threat.

Pons told the committee how he and Fleischmann had inserted electrodes of platinum and palladium in a flask containing deuterium oxide, or heavy water. Electrical current was applied to the platinum electrode. Pons said, forcing deuterium atoms into the crystal lattice of the palladium.

He said that after the experiment ran for several hours, the deuterium became compressed and fused, giving off heat almost four times as great as the energy the experiment had consumed.

Fleischmann said that in one experiment, researchers succeeded in causing water to reach the boiling point. He added, however, that there was still much work yet to be done to develop a way of harvesting useful energy from fusion.

He added, however, that there was still much work yet to be done to develop a way of harvesting useful energy from fusion.

TCE continued from page 1

from students and their advisors, and in some departments, classroom visits by peer faculty members: O'Meara added that these inputs are generally consistent.

Nonetheless, to better account for differences in course size and content, and to make the TCE's a more accurate reflection of instructor performance, O'Meara is proposing changes in the way the TCE's are evaluated. While faculty members can now compare their own results with University, department, and college averages, O'Meara believes that establishing an additional average for each course would be a good idea.

Each professor's performance could then be judged against the performance of other professors teaching the same course. If implemented, this would be applicable only in the larger, standard courses where the text is uniform throughout, not in single-section courses or in multi-section courses which vary significantly among sections.

Concerning the effectiveness of the TCE's, the Provost agrees that though they present some problems of readability, the TCE forms are a useful tool in determining what students think of their teachers. While no form is 100 percent accurate, he admitted, there is a value in having the standard TCE form for all courses consistency.

Though he is not close to the idea of change, O'Meara feels that more attention should be paid to what TCE answers indicate and less to the wording of the questions. "If changes were made in the questions, there would be some technical improvement," he said, "but the results would largely stay the same."
Lucille 'Lucy' Ball dies at 77

Associated Press

LOS ANGELES- Lucille Ball, the daffy comedian whose harried schemes drove her television family crazy but delighted viewers for four decades, died Wednesday of a ruptured abdominal artery. She was 77.

The actress, star of the hugely popular "I Love Lucy" and related situation comedies seen in more than 80 countries, had undergone major heart surgery April 18.

She had been recovering steadily, getting out of bed and joking with the staff, but shortly before dawn Wednesday, she went into cardiac arrest due to internal bleeding and could not be revived, said Cedars-Sinai Medical Center spokesman Ronald Wise.

She suffered a complete heart failure at 5 a.m. and 47 minutes of resuscitation efforts proved fruitless, Wise said.

"There was nothing to indicate this would happen," Wise said. "The heart itself apparently was not involved in Miss Ball's sudden death."

In the 6-hour surgery at Cedars Sinai, doctors replaced her aorta and aortic valve. Although the replaced portion of Miss Ball's aorta did not apparently fail, the entire artery was in poor condition when she was operated upon, said Dr. Robert Kaas.

Kaas, who performed the operation, said at the time the tearing in Miss Ball's aorta "was not involved in Miss Ball's sudden death."

In 1951, Miss Ball married nightclub comic Gary Morton, who became her executive producer, and remained on TV for 12 more years in the weekly "Here's Lucy" and "The Lucy Show."

Miss Ball was born Aug. 6, 1911, in Jamestown, N.Y., the daughter of an electrician and concert pianist.

As a model, her ads for Chesterfield cigarettes caught Hollywood's eye, and in 1933 she went to California. She appeared with the Marx Brothers in "Room Service," with Fred Astaire in "Follow the Fleet" and with Katharine Hepburn and Ginger Rogers in "Stage Door."

In all, she appeared in more than 75 movies.

"progressed all the way down into her abdomen."

Miss Ball, with her fire-engine red hair and siren wail, was considered the queen of situation comedy and a pioneer of the sitcom format.

"I and 190 million others will miss her."

Father kills son by unhooking life-support system

Associated Press

CHICAGO- A father tearfully unhooked his comatose baby son's life-support system early Wednesday, then took his into his arms and kept hospital workers at gunpoint until the child was dead, authorities said.

"I'm not here to hurt anyone."

I'll only hurt you if you try to play my baby back in," police quoted Rudy Linares as saying. "You can understand the motivation," police Sgt. William Rooney said. "I guess he didn't want his child to continue living with whose conditions."

The painter from west suburban Cicero was charged with murdering his 18-month-old son, Samuel, said Lisa Howard, spokeswoman for the Cook County state's attorney's office.

Linares, 23, was held at a police lockup pending an appearance in bond court. His wife, Tamara, who said the couple had planned to see a lawyer Friday about having the child's life-support system disconnected, was not charged.

"This is the best thing," Mrs. Linares told radio station WBBM-AM. "Sammy is out of his misery."

The couple have two other children, both under 5.

Linares also unhooked his son's life support system on Dec. 30 but staff members reconnected it. Detective Gary Bulava said. When Linares ar

National champions tribute

Former Student Government President, Tom Doyle and Vice President, Mike Pease, presented this picture of the 1988 Irish football team to Lou Holtz at a rally earlier in the year as a gift from the student body. The picture now hangs in the Huddle soon to be joined by a plaque in memory of Bob Satterfield.

VIVARIN

Revive with VIVARIN. ftast pick up-safe as cofee

Use as directed. Contains caffeine equivalent of two cups of coffee. © Beedtram Inc. 1

It took Galileo 16 years to master the universe. You have one night.
Prices have been cut up to 16% on:

Macintosh™ Plus

Macintosh™ SE*

Take a Macintosh home for the summer and have a head start in the fall!

For more information, please contact:
Notre Dame Computer Store
Office of University Computing
Computer/Math Building Room 25
8:00 am - 5:00 PM 239-7477

Apple Computer, Inc.
® The power to be your best.

*Prices reduced on the SE Floppy and SE/HD 20 model only housing as shown in the Observer survey. I think that there is a possibility that co-ed housing would improve relations between men and women at Notre Dame, but I'm not sure that is the problem." According to King some other problem might be that students are more concerned with academics or the fact that many Notre Dame students come from single sex high schools.
Co-ed continued from page 1

Sister Riordan, rector of Zahm Hall, believes less students would be willing to actually participate in co-ed housing than those who say they are for it. "There are two major differences between co-ed housing and being a part of a university," said Riordan. "I don't think I'd want to be a rector of a co-ed dorm," said Father Michael Sullivan, rector of Carroll Hall. Sullivan said problems with managing the hall might arise because rectors might not be able to handle all the problems of both sexes. "The privacy issue is a big issue. I run into it here in a unisex hall," added Sullivan. Miriam Hill, a 1987 Notre Dame graduate, thinks that co-ed housing would be an advantage at Notre Dame. "It should be an option for students. I think relations between the sexes were somewhat improved at Notre Dame and common housing may help alleviate that problem." Hill thinks the strain exists "more than it should be because things are separate in many ways for men and women at Notre Dame."

SECURITY BEAT

MON., APRIL 24

10:45 am An off-campus student reported the theft of his book bag and its contents from the second floor of the Hesburgh Library. Time lost is estimated at 45 minutes.

4:45 pm A resident of Standard Hall reported vandalism done to his vehicle while parked in D-2 parking lot sometime between 4:00 am and 4:25 am. Total damages are estimated at $25.

10:45 am An off-campus student reported the theft of his bike while parked in the B-2 parking lot sometime between 4:00 am and 4:25 am. Total damages are estimated at $150.

4:45 pm A Notre Dame employee reported that some of his personal belongings were stolen while parked in the B-2 parking lot sometime between 4:00 pm and 4:25 pm. Total damages are estimated at $25.

TUES., APRIL 25

5:00 pm A Notre Dame resident reported the theft of his bicycle from the Flanner Hall bike rack sometime between 2:50 pm and 4:15 pm. Total loss is estimated at $150.

CRIME OF THE WEEK

The crime of the week is an arson behind the Administration Building. Time lost is estimated at 3:30 minutes.

CAPT GAGLIO 219-239-8634

FORD MERCURY GRADUATE PROGRAM

$400 REBATE!* LARGEST FORD INVENTORY!

*This is in addition to any present program

For more information contact Janet Herold at 283-4258 or 239-5303 by May 3
Dear Editor:

I would like to relate to the students of the couple of things that I had not previously known. These revelations were the result of a Bookstore Basketball game that I had occasion to witness this past Monday.

One of the teams playing consisted of mostly Catholic players while the other was composed of a quintet of Stanford Hall freshmen. It represented an opportunity for the residents of Stanford to come out and support the team.

As the game progressed, things began to get out of hand. A one-sided scoring match resulted in fans from both teams cheering on their respective teams in an attempt to break up the “fight.” As everyone knew, the players involved were ejected from the game. It is my opinion that there was no need for anyone to rash to the court. The separation of any hostility should be the job of the referees, who had begun to work in that area ten years prior.

There is no place in sports, especially in Bookstore Basketball, but different people have different ideas on that subject. I’m afraid I’m afraid.

Following the altercation on the court, there was nearly one off the court as well. I am ashamed to say that I was involved. I was not amongst those who chose to fight the court in order to break up the fight. In a somewhat misdirected attempt to help restore order, I was yelling at people to get off the court and not to continue into the court. As much sense as going out on the court to break up the “fight.”

As I thought later about the events that had transpired, a guy in my section came in and told me something that I found rather interesting. He said some of the football players that he knew could not understand why other students on campus did not like them. I thought about the comment of the football player that I had run into ear.

Ask any of my friends and they will tell you that I am one of the most fervent supporters of the football team. Having lived in this area all my life, I have seen the best and the worst they had to offer. But just because I support them during the football season, does it also mean that I have an obligation to come out and support them during the Bookstore Basketball tournament? I think not. I was rooting for my friends, the football players were rooting for their friends. Is that so wrong?

Another thing that stuck in my mind dealt with my friend’s query as to what I had done for the University. I think of the many service projects and my year here as a resident assistant as things that I have done for the University. Winning a national championship is great, but if that’s all you can claim as your contribution, then you have missed out on what it is to be a student at the University of Notre Dame. The final thing that stayed with me was the football player’s comment that any national championship “T-shirt” was “their” stuff. I had no idea that when I bought that shirt and others, there was a clause stating that I was, in reality, only renting the shirt who does he think he is? If this attitude is prevalent among football players (and I sincerely hope it is not), I can only keep myself from jumping when I think of football players pondering why they are not liked on campus.

Patrick A. Hall
Resident Assistant
Stanford Hall
April 25, 1989

---

Dear Editor:

In this week’s Newsweekly magazine, an article on abortion states that of all Protestant, Jewish, and Catholic women in the United States, the group whose members are most likely to have an abortion is the Catholic one.

It seems the Catholic Church harbors its own cause. Permitting the use of birth control is the first step to changing this embarrasing statistic. I agree that the degree to which a reversal of the birth control position would help is probably small, mainly because most sexually active Catholics already use birth control, despite the Church’s teachings.

However, a change in attitude on the part of the Catholic Church could help immensely. When birth control is not used or fails to work, and a Catholic woman becomes pregnant (especially out of wedlock), an abortion would not be foreseen in her mind if her religion did not essentially label her as a “sinner” if the Church is correct in its stance on abortion—and I believe it is. Then why doesn’t help itself by being more open to the subject of human sexuality rather than continually condemning “the bastardly deed?”

Even if I thought birth control and premarital sex were wrong, do these wrongs outweigh that of abortion? I think not. Contrary to what seems to be conveyed by Catholics, there are “gray” areas which make some things more wrong than others. Certainly, the most conservative of priests would say that there is a degree of “wrongness” – murder is not on the same scale as theft, just as birth control and premarital sex (if one believes these to be wrong) are not on the same scale as abortion. The Church needs to stop making those who use birth control and engage in sexual acts before marriage outcasts. Then, it will find itself beginning to win the abortion battle in its own front yard.

Patrick J. Mullane
Alumni Hall
April 25, 1989

---

Lowering flag appropriate to honor the dead

Dear Editor:

While attending the annual Blue-Gold game on April 22, I curiously noticed that the American flag, to which we were singing the National Anthem, had not been lowered to half staff. This surprised me in light of the recent tragedy upon the USS Iowa where 47 young men lost their lives.

Although the deaths upon the USS Iowa occurred during peace time, I feel that the value of the lives lost was any less, or any greater, than if the deaths had occurred during war time. Therefore, I feel that it would have been appropriate for the University to have lowered the American flag to half-staff, in honor of and in respect for the lives of those 47 unfortunate crewmen.

James P. Cole
ND Class of ‘87
Rosemont, IL
April 22, 1989

---

Viewpoint

Thursday, April 27, 1989

LETTERS

Bookstore Basketball altercation reveals unsportsmanlike attitudes among some

DOONESBURY

---

Catholic Church

---

DOONESBURY

---

GARRY TRUDEAU

---

Page 6

The Observer

P. O. Box Q, Notre Dame, IN 46556 (219)239-5303

1989-90 General Board

Editor-in-Chief

Managing Editor

Chad Cameron

Business Manager

Ruth Ianni

Exec. News Editor...

Advertising Manager...Molly Killion

Viewpoint Editor...Olivia Dwyer

Sports Editor...Kathleen Roy

Academic Editor...Debra O'Neil

Photo Editor...Eric Bailey

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame. It’s not the opinion of the administration of either institution. The views expressed are those of the authors or editors, and as such are not necessarily those of the University of Notre Dame National Championship T-shirt. He continued, “You’ll root for us in the fall but when it comes to Bookstore you won’t.” He concluded his tactful tirade by asking me what I had done for the University of Notre Dame. I could not think of one thing to say except “get out of here.” I really wanted no part of what he was trying to good me into. It made about as much sense as going out on the court to break up the “fight.”

As I thought later about the events that had transpired, a guy in my section came in and told me something that I found rather interesting. He said some of the football players that he knew could not understand why other students on campus did not like them. I thought about the comment of the football player that I had run into ear-

Ask any of my friends and they will tell you that I am one of the most fervent supporters of the football team. Having lived in this area all my life, I have seen the best and the worst they had to offer. But just because I support them during the football season, does it also mean that I have an obligation to come out and support them during the Bookstore Basket-battleground? I think not. I was rooting for my friends, the football players were rooting for their friends. Is that so wrong?

Another thing that stuck in my mind dealt with my friend’s query as to what I had done for the University. I think of the many service projects and my year here as a resident assistant as things that I have done for the University. Winning a national championship is great, but if that’s all you can claim as your contribution, then you have missed out on what it is to be a student at the University of Notre Dame. The final thing that stayed with me was the football player’s comment that any national championship “T-shirt” was “their” stuff. I had no idea that when I bought that shirt and others, there was a clause stating that I was, in reality, only renting the shirt who does he think he is? If this attitude is prevalent among football players (and I sincerely hope it is not), I can only keep myself from jumping when I think of football players pondering why they are not liked on campuses.

Patrick A. Hall
Resident Assistant
Stanford Hall
April 25, 1989

---

Lowering flag appropriate to honor the dead

Dear Editor:

While attending the annual Blue-Gold game on April 22, I curiously noticed that the American flag, to which we were singing the National Anthem, had not been lowered to half staff. This surprised me in light of the recent tragedy upon the USS Iowa where 47 young men lost their lives.

Although the deaths upon the USS Iowa occurred during peace time, I feel that the value of the lives lost was any less, or any greater, than if the deaths had occurred during war time. Therefore, I feel that it would have been appropriate for the University to have lowered the American flag to half-staff, in honor of and in respect for the lives of those 47 unfortunate crewmen.

James P. Cole, KNS, USMR
ND Class of ‘87
Rosemont, IL
April 22, 1989

---

Quote of the Day

"'I leave this rule for others when I'm dead: be always sure you're right - then go ahead.'"

David Crockett
At Scoozi be prepared for “a unique Italian experience”

CHRIS DONNELLY
AND
CHRISTINE WALSH
accent writers

F rom the moment you spot the huge tomato over the doorway, you know you’re in for a unique Italian experience.

Scoozi, located at 410 W. Huron, Chicago, is a delightfully combination of courteous service, trendy atmosphere, and extraordinary cuisine. Reservations are not accepted, so the wise diner would be well-advised to arrive around, rather than at, the dinner hour. Even at these times there can be a long wait, but by the time you have soaked in some of the environment, and a drink or two, your table will be ready.

Before you even get a chance to look at the menu, freshly baked Italian bread, and virgin olive oil spiced with basil and garlic are brought to your table. The bread has a distinctively crisp crust and taste so superb dipped in the olive oil. Don’t worry about devouring it too quickly, “tartaglia” before you can ask for more, there is another piece waiting for you.

In addition to the rather extensive regular menu, you are also given a list of specials which certainly warrant attention.

The Zucchini Fritti (fried zucchini sticks with lemon, $3.95) was a meal in itself. It is served on a dinner plate, pilled high with thinly sliced zucchini in a light batter.

The Tre-colori salad with mozzarella cream sauce ($5.50), was pleasing combination that prepared you for the meal yet to come.

Recommended pasta from the regular menu include the gnocchi capricciosi ($5.95), spaghetti alle vongole ($8.45), and mostaccioli al formaggio ($8.45). The gnocchi (spinach dumplings in an aurora sauce) were cooked to perfection, but be forewarned: both the gnocchi and the sauce were quite filling.

The special pasta, ziti with grilled chicken and grilled vegetables, in a smoked mozzarella cream sauce ($8.95), was rightfully dubbed as

There is more than enough for our people to share. Calabria Aromatico (ispyric fialanani, greens, roman tomato dressing $5.95) is an other recommended appetizer. The portion is large, but in this case, manageable. The Tre-colori salad with grilled salmon, cucumbers, asparagus, and dill, served with a mascarpone dressing ($5.95) was well prepared with an ample portion of salmon complemented by a light dressing. The special charred duck spinach salad included slices of oranges, duck cracklings (crisped duck skin) and a tangy balsamic vinaigrette ($5.50) was a pleasing combination that prepared you for the meal yet to come.

Entrees

The man behind the scenes:

Mr. Jim Gibbons the University’s seasoned Director of Special Events and Protocol

KATHY KIRNIN

This upcoming weekend marks the dedication of the Marion and Knott Hall. As this event gets underway, care must be taken to ensure that everything runs according to schedule.

Who will be responsible for the upkeep of the grounds surrounding Knott Hall? Who will be in charge of removing namecards and place settings? The meticulous planning and preparation for these details are all duties of the Director of Special Events and Protocol, Mr. Jim Gibbons.

Events such as the Knott Hall dedication, or President Bush’s visit last fall do not simply happen; they are the results of much advance planning, checking, and rechecking by Mr. Gibbons and his staff.

From sending out invitations to welcoming University benefactors, from planning dinner menus to seeing that flowers are on all the tables, it is Mr. Gibbons’ duty to “take care of visiting guests from the time they arrive at Notre Dame until the time they leave.”

The three letters of commendation from former Presidents Ford, Carter, and Reagan are proof that Mr. Gibbons does his job well. He cited these presidential visits as the most challenging to coordinate, having to work along with the White House Staff and Secret Service to ensure that their visits went smoothly and unhindered.

With so many details to remember and arrange, some form of organization is necessary. In what he referred to as the “Modus Operandi,” Mr. Gibbons and his committee outline every single event they are in charge of. For example, the Modus Operandi for the Knott Hall dedication covers eleven pages, including such items as removing the dumpster from in front of the hall, to repainting the elevators in the library. Details such as these are “positively critical,” explained Mr. Gibbons. “If we fail to carry them out, we aren’t going to succeed.”

Mr. Gibbons’ connection with Notre Dame began in 1956, when he worked in the Athletic Department as an Assistant Basketball and Baseball coach. In 1961, Mr. Gibbons became involved with the Administration Department as the Assistant Director of Public Relations. As Director of Special Events and Protocol, Mr. Gibbons said he “loves his job.”

In planning for the University’s many events, he comes into contact with persons on all levels of authority. While he is responsible for welcoming visiting benefactors and VIPs, Mr. Gibbons also interacts closely with members of campus security and building services.

His position allows Mr. Gibbons to meet many people on campus. “From President Malloy on down,” However, what Mr. Gibbons enjoys most about his job is the fact that “every single day is different; every event creates a new set of challenges.”
Blackhawks win Norris title

Associated Press

ST. LOUIS—Bob Murray and Wayne Presley scored eight seconds apart to key a three-goal lead in the second period Wednesday night and the Chicago Blackhawks won the Norris Division championship with a 4-2 victory over the St. Louis Blues.

Chicago, outscored 27-17 by St. Louis in eight regular-season meetings, captured the best-of-7 series in five games, winning the last three games.

David Emms had two assists for the Blackhawks, who had the lowest point total of the 16 playoff and has now advanced to next week's Campbell Conference finals against the Calgary Flames.

Chicago, trailing 1-0, received the break it needed when Blues defenceman Glen Featherstone received a major penalty and game misconduct for an altercation with Blackhawks rookie Jeremy Roenick.

The teams were both a player short when Murray hit Mann's pass from inside the Chicago zone and skated in alone on St. Louis goalie Greg Millen. Eight seconds later, Presley scored at 9:25 of the second period after Blackhawks captain Dirk Graham stole the puck in the Blues zone.

Roenick capped Chicago's three-goal spurt with St. Louis a man short due to Featherstone's penalty, ripping a slap shot off the right boards between Millen's skates with Blues defenceman Tom Tilley serving as a screen.

Roenick's goal, his first of the playoffs, increased the Blackhawk's lead to 3-1 at 12:33. Tilley scored at 17:28 on a 50-foot slap shot, but Steve Thomas scored on a breakaway from Adam Cresthon for Chicago with 11:37 left.

It was the Blackhawks' fifth playoff victory in six series against St. Louis and avenged a loss in five games to the Blues a year ago.

Bernie Federko's goal off Peter Zezel's centering pass at 4:18 while St. Louis was on a power play represented the first period's lone goal. Chicago finished the period with an 8-6 advantage in shots and dominated the middle period by taking 17 shots on goal to the Blues' six.

Murray's goal followed by Presley's set a 47-year-old Blackhawks record, bettering a mark of two scored 11 seconds apart in 1942.

Track teams split up for concurrent meets

By KEN TYSIAC
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's and women's track teams will each send athletes to both Drake and Ball State this weekend to compete against some of the best runners in the Midwest. The meets will be run concurrently, so the Irish will have to split up their teams to compete in both meets.

The strongest athletes from each team will travel to Des Moines, Iowa for the Drake Relays Friday and Saturday. This meet is one of the most challenging meets in the country for this time of the year, so the 17 Irish striders who make the trip will have to be at their best to cross the finish line first.

Hurdles star Glenn Watson will try to qualify for the NCAA's this weekend. Watson will look to improve on his impressive performance in last weekend's Rainier Relays, in which he recorded a time of 14.24 seconds in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Irish co-captain Yan Searcy calls Watson "quite a comeback story." The Irish star has bravely returned from knee surgery this winter, and, leaving his opponents behind, is poised to break the 4.12.3 wind, which has struck competition in the 1.500 meters.

The rest of the men and women will travel to Ball State on Saturday. "We are looking for good, quality performances from the teams we will send to Drake and Ball State this weekend," says Plant.
NOTRE DAME SPECIALS
FREE DELIVERY!
Monday thru Friday 5:00 p.m. 'till closing. Saturday & Sunday 12 noon 'till closing.
$5.00 minimum order.
52920 U.S. 31 N.
277-5880

SUPER PEPPERONI PIZZA
2 FOR $9.99
Two large pepperoni pizzas with 40 slices of pepperoni.
Please mention coupon when ordering. One offer per order.
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.
Expires 5/31/89

SUPER PEPPERONI PIZZA
2 FOR $9.99
Two large pepperoni pizzas with 40 slices of pepperoni.
Please mention coupon when ordering. One offer per order.
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.
Expires 5/31/89

LARGE BACON CHEESEBURGER PIZZA
$8.99
Topped with beef, onion, cheddar & mozzarella cheeses, bacon and pickles
Please mention coupon when ordering. One offer per order.
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.
Expires 5/31/89

LARGE BACON CHEESEBURGER PIZZA
$8.99
Topped with beef, onion, cheddar & mozzarella cheeses, bacon and pickles
Please mention coupon when ordering. One offer per order.
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.
Expires 5/31/89

SUPER CHEESE PIZZA
$6.99
Original or Thin Crust.
Please mention coupon when ordering. One offer per order.
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.
Expires 5/31/89

SUPER CHEESE PIZZA
$6.99
Original or Thin Crust.
Please mention coupon when ordering. One offer per order.
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.
Expires 5/31/89
jum ped out to an early lead in Aaron Robb with seven. Murphy's was led by Kevin Murphy's best game to day," Robb said. "Everybody was on their game. We've got a lot of Homeni's Bounty Hunters in Guys Finale, which outlasted scoring balance."

dom inated the second half. +ive Guys into the next round. at the half, but like Tuesday, hit 12-of-25 shots to lead F ultimate Guys. C oach's trailed 11-9 to defeat Leny's American Grill 21-18. C oach's once again over­

NOTES - All of the higher­seeded teams won Wednesday. Quarterfinal action gets under way at 4 p.m. Friday on the Bookstore courts. . Adworks will be forced to decide be­ pick up the slack, and I'm glad score, it's got to be Jim," Cunningham said. "Someone has to pack the slack, and I'm gladJohn was there to do it today." Minahoonies, 21-16 winners over Rubber Cement, will be the next opponent for Coach's. J.C. Tythus led Minahoonies with 10 points.

You don't need rich parents to get a car for graduation.

SUMMER STORAGE
$18.00 a month
683-1959
MASTER MINI WAREHOUSE
US 31 on State Line

Get a Nissan for no money down.
No payments for 90 days. Just fill out this card and bring it to any participating Nissan Dealer.

Name: ____________________________
Signature: _______________________
Address: _________________________
City: _____________________________
State: ____________________________
Zip: _____________________________
School Name: ____________________
Dealer signature: __________________

Offer is good from April 15, 1989 through September 30, 1989. Financing subject to credit approval. Insurance and liability required. Offer subject to change or discontinuation at any time. Offer not valid in New Jersey. Limited to licensed drivers 18 years of age and over with verifiable offers of employment after graduation. Verifiable insurance coverage required.

John McCabe scored eight points for Coach's, while Bubba Cunningham tossed in five. Defenses are starting to key on Jim Delan, Coach's leading scorer. Delan was held to four points Wednesday.

"When you look at our team and think about who's going to score, it's got to be Jim," Cunningham said. "Someone has to pick up the slack, and I'm glad John was there to do it today."

Minahoonies, 21-16 winners over Rubber Cement, will be the next opponent for Coach's. J.C. Tythus led Minahoonies with 10 points.

NOTE - All of the higherseeded teams won Wednesday. Quarterfinal action gets under way at 4 p.m. Friday on the Bookstore courts. Adworks will be forced to decide between Ned Bolcar and Jay Hayes for Friday's game.

ATTENTION: Grad Students, Professors, Employees

MAPLE LANE APARTMENTS
Less than 10 minutes from campus

Offers

* Pool, Clubhouse
* Washer & dryer in each apartment
* locked intercom entrances
* flexible leases

( also - furnished executive suites )
call for details - 277-3731

IN D I A N A P O L I S - Battery charges filed this week against Jay Edwards cast doubt on whether the former Indiana University basketball star is emotionally ready for the NBA, some analysts say.

A may 30 bench trial is scheduled in Monroe Superior Court for Edwards, who pleaded inocent Tuesday to two mis­deemeanor charges involving allegations he struck a woman at a party in Bloomington last week.

"If you aren't strong, mature and disciplined, you can get sucked into the web of destruc­tion," said Clark Kellogg, a former Indiana Pacers player.

"For somebody with a fol­lower's type of personality makeup, the road in the NBA can be very dangerous. You have a lot of people who can be vultures. They will try to take advantage or manipulate a kid who doesn't have his feet firmly on the ground," said Kellogg, a sportscaster.

Last month, Edwards decided to forego his final two years of college eligibility for a shot at a career in the NBA, apparently without talking with coaches or counselors.

"I had my mind made up," he said.

Edwards cited IU's Big Ten Conference championship, his selection as Big Ten player of the year and second-team AllAmerica by The Associated Press as accomplishments that would make him a high draft pick.

But a propensity to rebel at school regimentation and au­thority also may have played a role in his decision.

"If you know just people tel­ling me not to do this, not to do that, constantly. That's about the only thing that really ag­gravates me.

"It isn't that hard on the court, because that's where I like it. And that's where I'm most comfortable than anywhere else," he told The In­dianapolis News last week.

But some NBA officials ques­tion Edwards' maturity to play in the pros.

"I'm not saying Jay Edwards isn't going to be a tough player, but I don't know that at his age he's ready to walk into this world where there are men fighting for their livelihoods," said Pacers general manager Donnie Walsh.

NBA scout Marty Blake calls Edwards' decision "a cata­

strrophic mistake."

But it will get him away from the academic world, which he said was a necessary evil that allowed him to play basketball.

"I knew I had to go to school to play basketball. So, that gave me an incentive to go to school," he said.

But it was not enough of an incentive to stay out of trouble at Indiana.

Associated Press

IN D I A N A P O L I S- Battery charges filed this week against Jay Edwards cast doubt on whether the former Indiana University basketball star is emotionally ready for the NBA, some analysts say.

A may 30 bench trial is scheduled in Monroe Superior Court for Edwards, who pleaded in­nocent Tuesday to two mis­deemeanor charges involving allegations he struck a woman at a party in Bloomington last week.

"If you aren't strong, mature and disciplined, you can get sucked into the web of destruc­tion," said Clark Kellogg, a former Indiana Pacers player.

"For somebody with a fol­lower's type of personality makeup, the road in the NBA can be very dangerous. You have a lot of people who can be vultures. They will try to take advantage or manipulate a kid who doesn't have his feet firmly on the ground," said Kellogg, a sportscaster.

Last month, Edwards decided to forego his final two years of college eligibility for a shot at a career in the NBA, apparently without talking with coaches or counselors.

"I had my mind made up," he said.

Edwards cited IU's Big Ten Conference championship, his selection as Big Ten player of the year and second-team AllAmerica by The Associated Press as accomplishments that would make him a high draft pick.

But a propensity to rebel at school regimentation and au­thority also may have played a role in his decision.

"If you know just people tel­ling me not to do this, not to do that, constantly. That's about the only thing that really ag­gravates me.

"It isn't that hard on the court, because that's where I like it. And that's where I'm most comfortable than anywhere else," he told The In­dianapolis News last week.

But some NBA officials ques­tion Edwards' maturity to play in the pros.

"I'm not saying Jay Edwards isn't going to be a tough player, but I don't know that at his age he's ready to walk into this world where there are men fighting for their livelihoods," said Pacers general manager Donnie Walsh.

NBA scout Marty Blake calls Edwards' decision "a cata­

strrophic mistake."

But it will get him away from the academic world, which he said was a necessary evil that allowed him to play basketball.

"I knew I had to go to school to play basketball. So, that gave me an incentive to go to school," he said.

But it was not enough of an incentive to stay out of trouble at Indiana.
ND tennis to host Toledo outdoors

By CHRIS COONEY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women's tennis team hopes to end its successful regular season with a sound defeat of Toledo at home this Saturday.

The 15-6 Irish plan on using their entire line-up in the 9 a.m. meet which will be played outdoors on Courtney Courts, weather permitting. Otherwise it will be held in the Eck Tennis Pavilion. Notre Dame head coach Michele Gelfman predicts her squad will beat the 7-8 Rockets in the singles competition. Non-regulars then will compose the doubles roster, although the exact line-up is not known.

"We want to end the season with a strong victory and we should be able to," said Gelfman.

The Irish have downed Toledo all six times they have played them and won 8-1 last year. Notre Dame, much improved over its 12-14 record last season, should have no trouble dealing with the Rockets.

The Irish will then have to wait until May 5th, when the NCAA bids come out, to see if they will have a chance at post-season play. Gelfman feels her team proved its strength throughout the year by defeating some tough California schools and downing Big Ten squads that had previously given the Irish trouble.

"Our record should earn us a bid, but with the politics of the NCAA, you never know," commented Gelfman. "We've proved we can play with most of the Big Ten teams and we've improved so much, it would be great to earn a spot."

Bird may return in time for NBA playoffs

Associated Press

BROOKLINE, MASS.-Larry Bird scrimmaged Wednesday for the second consecutive day with his Boston teammates, but Celtics Coach Jimmy Rodgers said his return to game action is a long way off.

Rodgers didn't rule out the possibility of Bird playing in the first-round playoff series against Detroit starting Friday night.

"I don't know," Rodgers said when asked about Bird playing.

"We're going to take this one very cautiously. The former Indiana State star underwent surgery on both heels Nov. 19 and missed the last 76 games of the NBA's regular season. He was activated for the playoffs last Sunday, a move General Manager Jan Volk said was made more to have Bird available after the first round, if the Celtics survive it, than to have him to face Detroit.

"His chances of playing in the first series are very minimal," Rodgers said after Bird's first post-season scrimmage Tuesday.

After Wednesday's session, Rodgers said, "He's had no major problems. "You get more optimistic when he's out here playing," he added. "From what I've seen over the last two days, it's encouraging. I think he's still a long way away from playing. He's coming. Hopefully, that progress will stay steady in the right direction."

GOOD LUCK TO ALL "FIGHTING IRISH" TAKING THE CPA EXAM!

The University of Notre Dame continues to be a major source of staff for Price Waterhouse. We are proud to welcome the following 1989 graduates to our firm.

CHICAGO
Pete Dales
Pete Harvey
John Heffernan
Kent Laber
Pat Marshall
Sinead Rigney
Tom Sloan
John Steffan
Diondra Toney

CINCINNATI
Mike Restle
Krista Starr

FT. WORTH
Dave Fischer

INDIANAPOLIS
Tom Naughton

LOS ANGELES
Ed Kennedy

MINNEAPOLIS
Kris Kennedy

NEW YORK
Joe Capko
Scott Lechner
Carter Thomas

ROCHESTER
Chris Gerace

SOUTH BEND
Greg Gillen
Laura Ruble

SAN FRANCISCO
John Elers
John Oxrider

SAVANNAH
Mark Rappe

WASHINGTON D.C.
Todd Hardiman

Price Waterhouse
Irish

continued from page 16

to. We just helped them with a few defensive miscues."

The Irish victory also ended a long drought against Indiana. Going into Tuesday game, Notre Dame had lost its last eight games against the Hoosiers, and Erik Madsen had a personal 0-3 record against them. "It's a good accomplishment for the players to beat Indiana," said Murphy, "because they hadn't beaten them. It was another bit of adversity to conquer."

The Irish were aided by four Indiana errors. In the first ining, Notre Dame put two unearned runs on the board when Frank Jacobs reached base on a two-out error by the
thirdbasemen, enabling Cory
Mee to score from third. Later,
Jaimey Sass singled home Ed
Lund to make the score 2-0.

The errors kept pouring in
when in the third inning and the score 3-1. Joe Binkiewicz lifted a routine fly ball to rightfield
which was dropped, enabling Sass and Craig Counsell to
score.

In the sixth, with one out and the score 6-1, Dan Peltier drew
a walk and Lund singled to left.
Jacobs followed with a deep fly
to right that was mis-
judged by the rightfielder, allowing Peltier and Lund to score. After a pitching change,
Sass promptly singled home
Jacobs to make the score 9-1.

Notre Dame added two insurance runs in the seventh, which
must have awakened the Indiana bats, as the Hoosiers
rallied for six runs in the top of the eighth inning.

The scoring was highlighted by bases-loaded double by
Hoosier co-captain Geoff Flynn
that ended the Irish scoring

draught. Irish reliever Mike
Coffey replaced Brian
Piotrowicz, and after allowing
three consecutive singles, he got Tom Meyers to ground into
a doubleplay that ended the rally.

EXTRA BASES: Murphy is not taking any upcoming game for granted because of Notre Dame's new reputation as a dominating team. Concerning
the game with the Chicago
State Cougars, Murphy said,
"These games become really tough because our pitching is down as far as numbers are concerned and because they've got everything to gain and we've got nothing to lose. We just need to play consistently. If we play our game we'll beat them."

Dan Peltier is not letting up in his incredible hitting pace. He was 2-for-3 Tuesday with a double and a walk, raising his average to .471 in 41
games. If he were to be hitless
in his next 79 at-bats, he would still be hitting .300. James
Sass is also a hot hitter for the Irish, enjoying an eight-game
hitting streak and batting .408.
Sass was 5-for-5 with two RBI
yesterday. Slowly creeping up
in batting average is Pat
Pesavento, who has raised his average from .314 to .340.

Women

continued from page 16

Again preventing them from scoring and capturing their victory 21-6. Laura Brown es-hibited the most experience for the victors with her contribution of 11 baskets.

Supreme Court ruled out the chances of The Vixens advancing to the final 16 with their 21-7 win. Mary Simon dominated the court as lead scorer and top rebounder with 11 points and 5 boards.

In the North bracket the Notre Dame continued their winning streak as they defeated The Traveling Sleighbells 21-6. Jennifer Slosar and Chris Cho-quette each tossed in 8 baskets helping their team to victory.

We've Got It Put It Through

The Irish victory also ended for the players to beat Indiana. Going into Tuesday game, Notre Dame had lost its last eight games against the Hoosiers, and Erik Madsen had a personal 0-3 record against them. "It's a good accomplishment for the players to beat Indiana," said Murphy, "because they hadn't beaten them. It was another bit of adversity to conquer."

The Irish were aided by four Indiana errors. In the first ining, Notre Dame put two unearned runs on the board when Frank Jacobs reached base on a
two-out error by the
thirdbasemen, enabling Cory
Mee to score from third. Later,
Jaimey Sass singled home Ed
Lund to make the score 2-0.

The errors kept pouring in
when in the third inning and the score 3-1. Joe Binkiewicz lifted a routine fly ball to rightfield
which was dropped, enabling Sass and Craig Counsell to
score.

In the sixth, with one out and
the score 6-1, Dan Peltier drew
a walk and Lund singled to left.
Jacobs followed with a deep fly
to right that was mis-
judged by the rightfielder, allowing Peltier and Lund to
score. After a pitching change,
Sass promptly singled home
Jacobs to make the score 9-1.

Notre Dame added two insurance runs in the seventh, which
must have awakened the Indiana bats, as the Hoosiers
rallied for six runs in the top of
the eighth inning.

The scoring was highlighted by
bases-loaded double by
Hoosier co-captain Geoff Flynn
that ended the Irish scoring

draught. Irish reliever Mike
Coffey replaced Brian
Piotrowicz, and after allowing
three consecutive singles, he
got Tom Meyers to ground into
a doubleplay that ended the rally.

EXTRA BASES: Murphy is not taking any upcoming game for
granted because of Notre Dame's new reputation as a dominating team. Concerning
the game with the Chicago
State Cougars, Murphy said,
"These games become really
tough because our pitching is
down as far as numbers are concerned and because they've
got everything to gain and we've got nothing to lose. We just need to play consistently. If we play our game we'll beat them."

Dan Peltier is not letting up in his incredible hitting
pace. He was 2-for-3 Tuesday
with a double and a walk, raising his average to .471 in 41
games. If he were to be hitless
in his next 79 at-bats, he would still be hitting .300. James
Sass is also a hot hitter for the Irish, enjoying an eight-game
hitting streak and batting .408.
Sass was 5-for-5 with two RBI
yesterday. Slowly creeping up
in batting average is Pat
Pesavento, who has raised his average from .314 to .340.
CROSSWORD
ACROSS
1 Cutting remark 34 Allow 2 What 39 With 38, biblical
5 Their pace is 40 Bohemian
7 Their pace is 41 Openings
10 Young fish 42 England to 11 Young fish 43 Within: comb,
14 In the Red 44 Gaelic game
16 Green the villain 45 Father to 17 With 23 Across, bibical trio
20 Mid or mini 46 Father to 21 Move the book 47 Place for pairs,
22 Emulate David 48 Oxymoron
23 See 17 Across 49 Bovine chew
26 Abolish 50 Voluntary
27 Cracks a crate 51 Peak
28 Ex-talk show 52 Hail
29 Columnist 53 Bovine chew
30 Gave many 54 Bovine chew
33 Smoldering 55 Caddy
34 Fast time 56 Place for a trio
35 Major or usher 57 Bovine chew
36 Thunder god 58 Bovine chew
37 With 39 Across 59 Bovine chew
38 Maurice F. H. de 60 Bovine chew
39 See 37 Across 61 Bovine chew
40 Compass 62 Bovine chew
41 Openings 63 Radiate
42 England to 64 Abbr. in a 43 Within: comb, 65 Container used gospel 66 Colleagues of bible 67 Container used
34 Allow 68 Call
37 With 38, biblical
41 Openings 69 Container used
42 England to
43 Within: comb,
44 Gaelic game
46 Father to 47 Place for pairs,
as well as a trio
48 Oxymoron
49 Bovine chew
50 Voluntary
51 Peak
52 Hail
53 Bovine chew
54 Bovine chew
55 Caddy
56 Place for a trio
57 Bovine chew
58 Bovine chew
59 Bovine chew
60 Bovine chew
61 Bovine chew
62 Bovine chew
63 Radiate
64 Abbr. in a
65 Container used
66 Colleagues of
67 Container used

DOWN
1 Strike hard 38 Cracks a crate
2 County in N.C. 39 See 37 Across
3 Paper quantity 40 Compass
4 S.D. area 41 Openings
5 Laid hit 42 England to 6 Precise 43 Within: comb,
gospel
7 Fireice accumulation 44 Within: comb,
gospel
8 Tenet 45 Kitchen king
9 Author of "To Kill 46 Father to a Mockingbird" 47 Earthy pigment
15 Greets the villain 48 Engine
16 Step 49 Kitchen king
17 With 23 Across, 50 Kitchen king
18 Swift creature 51 Peak
19 Neighbor of 52 Hail
20 Middi or min 53 Bovine chew
21 Move the book 54 Bovine chew
22 Emulate David 55 Caddy
23 See 17 Across 56 Place for a trio
24 Minstrel-show 57 Bovine chew
25 Kind of mineral 58 Bovine chew
26 Abolish 59 Bovine chew
27 Eight, to Pedro 60 Bovine chew
28 Ex-talk show 61 Bovine chew
29 Columnist 62 Bovine chew
30 Gave many 63 Radiate
31 Comic 64 Abbr. in a
32 Cruel person 65 Container used
34 Fast time 66 Colleagues of 35 Major or usher 67 Container used
36 Thunder god 68 Call
37 With 39 Across 69 Container used
38 Maurice F. H. de 70 Bovine chew
39 See 37 Across 71 Bovine chew
40 Compass 72 Bovine chew
41 Openings 73 Bovine chew
42 England to 74 Bovine chew
43 Within: comb,
gospel 75 Bovine chew
44 Within: comb,
gospel 76 Bovine chew
45 Kitchen king 77 Bovine chew
46 Father to 78 Bovine chew
47 Earthy pigment 79 Bovine chew
48 Engine 80 Bovine chew
49 Kitchen king 81 Bovine chew
50 Kitchen king 82 Bovine chew
51 Peak 83 Bovine chew
52 Hail 84 Bovine chew
53 Bovine chew 85 Bovine chew
54 Bovine chew 86 Bovine chew
55 Caddy 87 Bovine chew
56 Place for a trio 88 Bovine chew
57 Bovine chew 89 Bovine chew
58 Bovine chew 90 Bovine chew
59 Bovine chew 91 Bovine chew
60 Bovine chew 92 Bovine chew
61 Bovine chew 93 Bovine chew
62 Bovine chew 94 Bovine chew
63 Radiate 95 Bovine chew
64 Abbr. in a 96 Bovine chew
65 Container used 97 Bovine chew
66 Colleagues of 98 Bovine chew
67 Container used 99 Bovine chew

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

ACROSS
9 See 17 Across
10 Young fish
11 Young fish
12 Police-blotter
13 Swift creature
14 In the Red
15 Greets the villain
16 Step
17 With 23 Across,
18 Swift creature
19 Neighbor of
20 Middi or min
21 Move the book
22 Emulate David
23 See 17 Across
24 Minstrel-show
25 Kind of mineral
26 Abolish
27 Eight, to Pedro
28 Ex-talk show
29 Columnist
30 Gave many
31 Comic
32 Cruel person
33 Smoldering
34 Fast time
35 Major or usher
36 Thunder god
37 With 39 Across
38 Maurice F. H. de
39 See 37 Across
40 Compass
41 Openings
42 England to 43 Within: comb,
gospel
44 Within: comb,
gospel
45 Kitchen king
46 Father to
47 Earthy pigment
48 Engine
49 Kitchen king
50 Kitchen king
51 Peak
52 Hail
53 Bovine chew
54 Bovine chew
55 Caddy
56 Place for a trio
57 Bovine chew
58 Bovine chew
59 Bovine chew
60 Bovine chew
61 Bovine chew
62 Bovine chew
63 Radiate
64 Abbr. in a
65 Container used
66 Colleagues of
67 Container used

DOWN
1 Strike hard
2 County in N.C.
3 Paper quantity
4 S.D. area
5 Laid hit
6 Precise
7 Fireice accumulation
8 Tenet
9 Author of "To Kill a Mockingbird"
10 Draft letters
11 One to carry a bunch for
12 Police-blotter
13 Swift creature
14 In the Red
15 Greets the villain
16 Step
17 With 23 Across,
18 Swift creature
19 Neighbor of
20 Middi or min
21 Move the book
22 Emulate David
23 See 17 Across
24 Minstrel-show
25 Kind of mineral
26 Abolish
27 Eight, to Pedro
28 Ex-talk show
29 Columnist
30 Gave many
31 Comic
32 Cruel person
33 Smoldering
34 Fast time
35 Major or usher
36 Thunder god
37 With 39 Across
38 Maurice F. H. de
39 See 37 Across
40 Compass
41 Openings
42 England to 43 Within: comb,
gospel
44 Within: comb,
gospel
45 Kitchen king
46 Father to
47 Earthy pigment
48 Engine
49 Kitchen king
50 Kitchen king
51 Peak
52 Hail
53 Bovine chew
54 Bovine chew
55 Caddy
56 Place for a trio
57 Bovine chew
58 Bovine chew
59 Bovine chew
60 Bovine chew
61 Bovine chew
62 Bovine chew
63 Radiate
64 Abbr. in a
65 Container used
66 Colleagues of
67 Container used

THERES SOMETHING MAGICAL
ABOUT HAVING A FIRE.
THE CRACKLES AND SNAPS,
THE WARM, FLICKERING LIGHT,
THE HEAT, THE WARMTH,
THE STRONG FLAME,
THE SMOKE, THE ASHES.

BLOOM COUNTY

CALVIN AND HOBBES

BLOOM COUNTY

CALVIN AND HOBBES

COMICS
Adworks survives scare to advance to round of eight

By GREG GUFFEY
Assistant Sports Editor

The top seed finally got a test Wednesday in Bookstore Basketball XVIII. The team passed, but not with flying colors.

Adworks All-Stars struggled and clawed its way to a 21-15 win over The Good, The Bad and The Laundry to advance to the quarterfinals. It was the first time in the tournament a team had scored in double figures against the defending champions.

"We didn't expect an easy game," John Buscher said. "You can't expect to win 21-7 every game. Every game from here on out is going to be close."

At one point, this game was more than close. The teams were tied at 15-15 before Adworks ran off six unanswered points to seal the victory.

"We've got such good athletes that we just picked it up at the end of the game," Buscher said.

Adworks connected on 21-of-29 baskets for the game, scoring 21-19 to seal the victory.