Rebellion to oust Gen. Noriega fails, situation 'duly controlled'

Associated Press

PANAMA CITY, Panama—Troops loyal to Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega recaptured the day and declared that they had won a strike. Workers' newly won right to strike had been duly controlled to guarantee peace and tranquility in the country has been undermined by his nation with "financial terrorism, economic blackmail and political interference."

The United States has been applying pressure on Panama, including economic sanctions, in an effort to force Noriega to step down. He was indicted by federal grand juries in Florida in February 1988 on drug charges.

Rebels claimed in a broadcast around noon that they had overthrown Noriega. They halted top officers, that communiqué added. "In the next few hours, this group will appear before justice, covered with shame."

State of the University:
There's room for bettering

The gist of Father Edward Malloy's state of the University address Monday is that we're doing pretty well, but we need to get a few things in order. Malloy told faculty that the University has made big improvements in its academic life but needs to work on the campus side. He cited a few areas that need to be improved.

Boeing union votes to strike

Associated Press

SEATTLE—Machinists at Boeing Co. voted overwhelmingy against a contract offer from the world's largest aerospace company Tuesday and reaffirmed a midnight strike deadline by an 85 percent margin.

"At 12:01 a.m. (PDT) tonight the pickets will start," said Tom Baker, president of District Lodge 751, International Association of Machinists and Aerospace Workers.

Union leaders representing the 37,000 Machinists said they would notify a federal mediator, who joined negotiations last weekend, that they would go through the good times with them as well as the hard times. Boeing offered an immediate raise of 4 percent, with 3 percent raises in 1990 and 1991. The proposed three-year contract also contained annual bonuses of 8 percent of a worker's gross earnings this year and 3 percent the next, insurance improvements and reduced compulsory overtime requirements to 160 hours a quarter.

Workers filling more than half of the 65,000-seat Kingdome jeered the offer and folded summaries of it into paper airplanes that sailed through the stadium.

Boeing Machinists voting in Seattle, Wichita, Kan., Portland, Ore., and elsewhere were asked to decide whether to accept the contract.

HPC to host lecture series with 'Year of the Family'

By ANGELA MCDONALD

News Staff

The Hall President's Council will be hosting a lecture series on family issues in conjunction with the 1989-90 Year of the Family.

The series consists of all the male and female dorms being paired together and each of the respective pairs coming up with a theme. The lecture series, in which students discuss several diverse aspects of the family, begins today with the issue, "The Catholic Church and Modern Times," and is co-sponsored by Sorin and Walsh Halls in Sorin Hall at 7 p.m.

Year of the Family Coordinator Roland Smith said that the series was sparked by University President Father Edward Malloy's announcement to faculty and staff which designated this year as "The Year of the Family."

Megan Hanley, co-chairperson of the series said, "Since the University had no designated group, such as the multicultural executive council, which planned the Year of Cultural Diversity for students, the HPC decided to implement a program that stimulates discussions concerning the family by bringing it to a personal level within the dorms, which we consider home."

Smith stated that Malloy appointed a committee of faculty, staff and students to help initiate programs which would work toward the goal of stressing the importance of family.

"One of our main goals is to raise the level of sensitivity towards the issue of balancing family and careers while also addressing issues relevant to students, faculty and staff," said Smith.

The lectures will take place throughout the academic year. The basic goal is that every organization which holds special events will try to incorporate the role of the family somehow into a few of its activities.

The Year of the Family series not only consists of lectures, but workshops and support groups as well.

"The types of issues that will be discussed will all focus on the family, yet the perspective from which they come will be different. As a committee we are attempting to be inclusive in our definition, which requires us to think of the family in the broadest of terms," said Smith.

More fusion research urged

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Leading experts on the potential for harnessing the energy that makes the sun and stars shine told Congress Tuesday the government should speed the pace of experiments that could produce a breakthrough in the next decade.

Harold Furth, director of the Princeton Plasma Physics Laboratory, told a House panel that government leadership for the magnetic fusion program was floundering just as scientists nearing the most important experimental stages in 40 years of work.

"At the moment, there is no schedule," for beginning the next key experiments, Furth told the Science, Space and Technology subcommittee on investigations.

said there were some dead and wounded, but the number of casualties was not immediately known.

Jose Blandon, a Panamanian defector and former close aide to Noriega, said in Washington a leader of the assault told him by telephone Noriega was wounded and captured.

He said officers intended to send Noriega to the United States to face drug charges but that it would be difficult because other officers, in the Defense Forces, which includes the military and police, also were involved in the drug trade.

Troops of the U.S. Southern Command were put on Delta Alert, the highest level of readiness, and U.S. soldiers in combat gear took up positions only 600 yards from the barracks.

President Bush told reporters in Washington: "There were rumors around that this was some American operation, and I can tell you that is not true. Nobody's sure what's happening there."

Shooting began with a few bursts of fire at about 7 a.m. (8 a.m. EDT).

Rebels took control of the military headquarters in a congested part of downtown Panama City. Those loyal to Noriega then went to the midst of surrounding buildings, hurling grenades and opening fire with machine guns and small arms into the compound.

Several hours of heavy gunfire inside and outside the headquarters preceded the rebel radio broadcast, which said the entire high command was forced into retirement by middle-ranking officers led by Maj. Moises Giraldo Vega, head of the Urraca battalion that handles security at Defense Forces headquarters.

The school's head custodian encountered Mitchell as he left the building and asked him what he was doing with a rifle. Mitchell then fired twice at the more than 50 children on the playground, Campbell said.

it could be risky. "Sometimes if the family girls hold you, they'll ask for more than you can give," said Anderson, who also chairs this project.

By selling M&M's Candy, the families hope to raise extra cash to cover the expenses of the food and gifts, which are estimated at $70-100 per family.

The idea for Notre Dame students volunteer with the elderly was partially the brainchild of Anderson, who feels that "society tends to forget about them." Although SAFE has been in existence since the 1970s, its grant was not renewed in the spring of 1988.

With the aid of the Center for Social Concerns, the project grew from the concern of a few students in a team of 20 which was preparing planning visits to Marian Hill and Cardinal Meridian nursing homes.

Cathy Dillon, director for CSC, feels the project is designed to "teach the students who will be a friend, be someone constant in their lives."

Student volunteers are trained in an orientation program given by directors of the nursing home. The program explains what kind of home the students will be visiting, what the patients are like and gives a guide to working with the elderly.

WASHINGTON—President Bush declared Tuesday that the attempted coup against Panama's Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega was not "some American operation." Bush's spokesman said the government would continue seeking Noriega's ouster.

"Nothing changed. Everything remains the same. We'll continue to press for Noriega's ouster," Bush said at the White House.

Bush said that integrity and have not influenced the situation in Panama in favor of the insurgents. Fitzwater said that Bush administration, like the Reagan administration before it, has called repeatedly for Noriega's ouster.

Bush, speaking to reporters before the outcome in Panama City was clear, appeared intent on influencing the situation in Panama in favor of the insurgents. Fitzwater said that Bush hoped his words would be "conveyed instantly" to Panama, Bush said, "We have no argument with the Panamanian Defense Forces. We've had good relations with the Panamanian Defense Forces."

"Our argument has been, as have many other countries, with Mr. Noriega who appears to be the democratic will of the people of Panama. And that's where our argument was and that's where our argument is," Bush told reporters. "I would love to see them get him out."

Asked then if he were calling for the Panamanian Defense Forces to overthrow Noriega, Bush replied, "We'd like to see him out of there, not just the PDF, the will of the people of Panama. ... I would add no words of caution. The will of the people should be implemented."

Fitzwater acknowledged that the United States had some advance word that a coup attempt might be afoot but said he was unaware of Noriega's fate or even his whereabouts.

"We had some indications this sort of thing was in the works, but until it happened we had no argument with the PDF," Fitzwater said. He characterized the prior information as "rumblings."

Secretary of State James Baker III said the United States would move quickly toward normalizing relations with Panama if Noriega is deposed.

Bakker fraud trial over, to go to jury today

Associated Press

CHARLOTTE, N.C.—PTL founder Jim Bakker is a "world-class master of using half truths" and should be convicted of fraud and conspiracy, a prosecutor said Tuesday in closing arguments at the fallen minister's trial.

"He lied to people, he used half truths to manipulate people," said special prosecutor Deborah Smith. "He used his position to maintain his power and wealth."

Bakker's attorney, George Davis, said Bakker was a victim of circumstance and urged jurors to keep an open mind.

"He's facing the most serious moment I'm sure he'll ever face in his life," Davis said. "He doesn't expect you to give him pity. He doesn't expect you to give him sympathy. He does expect justice under the law."

Bakker, 49, is charged in U.S. District Court with 15 counts of wire fraud, eight counts of mail fraud and one count of conspiracy to commit wire and mail fraud. He is accused of diverting more than $3.7 million in PTL money for his own benefit and of conspiring to defraud PTL followers of their money to support a lifestyle.

If convicted on all counts, he faces up to 120 years in prison and more than $5 million in fines.

Prosecutors contend that Bakker solicited money for lifetime partnerships at his Heritage USA retreat near here, but used the money for projects other than the lodging he promised. Lifetime partners paid $1,000 for an annual guarantee of three nights and four days at Heritage USA.

Bakker raised $158 million through partnership sales.

Smith called Bakker the prosecution's "star witness."

"There may have been a time when Bakker was a man of deeds back in the 1970s, but as time progressed into the 1980s, he began to use people to obtain possessions and power and keep it," she said.

Bakker, who had spattered with Smith on the witness stand, scribbled notes during her arguments and glanced at the screen when she played videotapes of his old television shows.

"You can't lie to people to send you money — it's that simple," she said. "You can't tell half truths. If you do it, if you use the postal service and the public airwaves you will find yourself in federal court answering charges of fraud."

Kemp calls for HUD management change

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—Housing Secretary Jack Kemp on Tuesday proposed major management changes at the scandal-tarred Department of Housing and Urban Development, including eliminating a program and special fund he said were used to reward politically connected developers.

"Many past funding decisions were, frankly, based on political influence rather than merit," Kemp said in releasing his 28-point plan to reform the agency. "Under my stewardship, no decisions will be made at HUD for the political advantage or personal gain of any one person or of a political party."

Kemp, in his first news conference as secretary, also announced that HUD has barred from doing government business a mortgage lender whose defaults in a HUD program total more than $700 million.

While praising the congressional investigation of influence peddling, fraud and mismanagement at HUD during the Reagan administration, Kemp said he did not believe it was necessary to appoint a special prosecutor, as suggested by some Republicans and Democrats involved in the review.

Kemp's proposed changes range from regulatory and administrative steps he can take immediately to more complex changes that would require congressional approval.

The agency's Federal Housing Administration and its multifamily Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation program should be subjected to intense public scrutiny through the publishing of all funding and other major decisions in the Federal Register. Kemp also promised to improve targeting of scarce HUD funds to those most in need and try to collect money bilked from the agency in the past.

More proposals are likely, he said, after additional reviews of HUD management.

Initial reaction from members of Congress was favorable, although there was opposition to a Kemp proposal to kill the Section 8 Moderate Rehabilitation Program, which HUD's inspector general said in April was riddled with influence peddling by former agency officials and prominent Republican consultants.

"I think the secretary's recommendations with respect to ethics, management reform, tighter fiscal controls, the introduction of a chief financial officer of HUD, are all excellent," said Rep. Thomas Lantos, D-Calif., the chairman of a House subcommittee investigation of the department.

"When we come into the process we think we'll have to study those recommendations much more carefully," said Lantos, among a number of lawmakers who said they were not yet convinced the reform program should be killed instead of reformed.

Many of Kemp's proposals mirror those in a largely ignored 1984 General Accounting Office report to Congress, while others were molded after more recent suggestions made in Congress to limit the role of lobbyists and consultants in government funding decisions.
House likely to repeal elderly insurance

Associated Press

WASHINGTON—The House, bogged down by a host of other legislation, postponed on one day until Wednesday, its likely vote to repeal catastrophic health insurance for the nation's elderly.

Proponents of the program, enacted a year ago in a rush of bipartisan fervor, acknowledged Tuesday that the best they could hope for was to salvage a sliver of the new benefits, which marked the first major expansion of Medicare in two decades.

Since the program began, legislators have beenbuffeted by criticism from elderly Americans upset about the cost of the insurance.

The chamber had been expected to vote on repealing the program Tuesday, but debated debate on other legislation took so long that the vote was put off until Wednesday.

Even if the House votes to repeal the program, its fate won't be decided until the future.

"Future programs are going to have to be more carefully considered," House Speaker Thomas Foley told reporters shortly before debate was to have begun on the proposal to repeal catastrophic health insurance.

Earlier, Foley had described a "segment of frustration" as settling over House health policy leaders.

Indeed, Rep. Fortney Stark, D-Calif., a major force behind the catastrophic program, said Monday that "I think they (lawmakers) feel they'd just like to get rid of this annoyance and they certainly are going to be skeptical when I come to them in the future with a bill to help the senior citizens."

Stark said catastrophic care supporters "lost the information battle" to groups that focused on the fears of the elderly.

"It's very easy to take very fragile, very insecure seniors who are easily confused and confuse them even further," he said.

The income tax surcharge ranges up to $800 this year for Medicare-eligible people in upper income ranges.

Medicare beneficiaries who don't have enough money to owe any income taxes. But those who complained that the program did not address the main need of elderly Americans for nursing home and other long-term care, a benefit that many studies have said would be as much as 10 times as costly.

Ironically, House leaders said legislators' painful experience with this run at a major expansion of acute care health protection probably would make them less inclined to pursue even more costly programs for the elderly in the future.

"Future programs are going to have to be more carefully considered," House Speaker Thomas Foley told reporters shortly before debate was to have begun on the proposal to repeal catastrophic health insurance.

E. Germany bans further free travel after massive emigrations

Associated Press

PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia—East Germany announced an order Tuesday banning free travel to Czechoslovakia but agreed that at least 10,000 of its citizens already in Prague could emigrate to the West.

East German leader Erich Honecker accused West Germany of "insolently breaking promises" by letting the East Germans into its embassies in Prague and Warsaw.

"They believe in West Germany that they can destabilize East Germany with a broad-based attack, but it will not work," he said in his first major speech since returning to work after a long convalescence from gallbladder surgery.

The East German news agency, carried his remarks.

The crackdown on travel came after hundreds of East Germans stormed through the closed compound. Many were left blood-spattered by the police and some fell unconscious inside the compound.

Rudolf Seist, Chancellor Helmut Kohl's chief of staff, said East German refugees would begin leaving Prague for West Germany by train Tuesday evening. He said the East German decision would allow an estimated 4,700 refugees in the embassy and about 6,000 milling outside to travel west.

Seist said Kohl was informed of the East German decision by Premier Laszl6 Adamec of Czechoslovakia.

East Germany's decision appeared to be part of an effort to avoid possible embarrassing disturbances during celebrations of the communist state's 40th anniversary Saturday. Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev is scheduled to attend.

Thousands of East Germans have streamed across the border into neighboring Czechoslovakia and to other Soviet bloc countries in the last few weeks in an attempt to reach West Germany.

ADN, the official East German news agency, said the travel ban stemmed from reports "that certain circles in West Germany are preparing provocations" in conjunction with the celebrations.

Last weekend, East Germany agreed to the departure of about 7,000 refugees from the West German embassy in Prague and in Warsaw, Poland, but said it was a one-time arrangement.

Previously, East Germans did not need a visa or passport to reach Czechoslovakia, but ADN said such documents would be required from now on. That effectively bars all ordinary East Germans from traveling to Czechoslovakia.

Notre Dame needs a smoking policy

"Shouldn't the Catholic Church also ordain women?" If the title didn't give it away, the event itself would have nullified any doubt that this recent "open panel discussion" was probably as one-sided as any event could be and still be called a "discussion." Being one of the few in attendance who supports the Catholic Church and its dogma, I would like to attempt to shed a bit of light on what has become a terribly clouded issue and focus on why the Church stands as it does.

I think that the main problem with this issue is that those who speak in favor of women being ordained are presenting arguments which are irrelevant to the Catholic Church's stance. In terms of belief and dogma, the priest's primary role in the Church is to perform the Eucharistic Prayer at the mass. The Eucharistic Prayer is a symbolic reenactment of the Last Supper, and its sacramental value lies in the fact that it is our opportunity to experience Christ and the Grace of God through this physical act of eating. It is the ultimate combination of the spiritual and physical, and because of this, we use the exact physical, earthly elements which Christ used at the Last Supper, i.e. the sacraments are not beer and pizza, but bread and wine. Therefore, the physical, earthly representation of Christ at the mass (i.e. the priest) must be as Christ was on earth, a man.

In addition, the University Counseling Center should offer programs to help individuals quit smoking, just as they do for alcohol and drugs. Nicotine is a drug, as harmful, if not more harmful, than any other.

Lessons from ND football history

Dear Editor,

While I enjoyed Vic Lombardi's football flashback (The Observer, Sept. 29), the article did contain one major error. While 1984 may have been Gerry Faust's best year at Notre Dame, the Irish definitely did not defeat SMU in the Alamo Bowl of that year. In fact, the Mustangs topped Notre Dame 27-20 in the game. The Irish had a chance to win the game in the last minute, but Steve Beuerlein overthrew a wide-open Milt Jackson in the end zone.

It is easy to forget anything that happened to Notre Dame football during the Feast years, especially in light of the program's return to greatness. The point is that we should never forget, because it is quite possible that someday in our lifetime, Notre Dame football will fall on hard times again. The point is that we should never forget, because it is quite possible that someday in our lifetime, Notre Dame football will fall on hard times again.

Archbishop motivated by God and not politics

Before I began my work with Archbishop Desmond Tutu, I was the victim of a drastic misconception. I was of the belief that Tutu was first and foremost a political leader. I thought politics, specifically the liberation of his people, was the driving force behind the man. As winner of the 1984 Nobel Peace Prize, he had risen to world prominence as the leading spokesman against the brutal and repressive measures of the South African regime. Ultimately, I expected Archbishop Tutu to epitomize politics rather than religion. I was wrong. At risk of making a cliched generalization, Desmond Tutu is a true man of God. Ultimately, God is the controlling and dominant force in his life, and Archbishop Tutu believes the power of God will be the final salvation of his country. In the end, Tutu is first an Archbishop and then a political leader, but even that designation makes him uncomfortable. He claims he does not have a political mandate and that he does not want one, yet all outward signs point to the fact that he does indeed have a mandate. When Archbishop Desmond Tutu is in one of the townships, the people swarm around him by the thousands. They may simply want a glimpse of him or hear him say a few words, but the fact remains that they follow him. Tutu, however, claims that he is driven by the power of the Almighty and that he is merely following the commands of God. There was a time when I was moved by his words, but now I respect him for his thoughtfulness and for the way he leads a life which is free of materialism and the love of money. Tutu is a man who has left behind his family for the benefit of his countrymen.

Two South Africas

By Mike Schadek

would have scoffed at such a statement. After coming to know Archbishop Tutu, I accept it as fact. The man is magnetic in personality and inspiring in demeanor. He lights up a room, be it with two or two hundred people, and friends and foes alike readily admit his uncanny mastery of language, be it English, Afrikaan, or Xhosa. I literally found myself hanging onto every word he said, and when he wasn’t speaking, he was usually laughing. He laughs more than anyone I have ever met, and he loves to joke around with people whether he knows them or not. He is exceptionally personable, and I seemed as if we were old friends the first time we met. Not everyone, however, is as impressed with Desmond Tutu as I am. Frankly, he is one of the most despised men by the South African government due to his outspoken criticisms of apartheid and his ceaseless promotion of the belief that South Africa will be saved peacefully without bloodshed. Tutu accepts such events calmly and with a terrific sense of humor, and he responds by merely praying for the government officials. Prayer is his final refuge for dealing with a bitter and relentless government, and it is his faith in God which is the foundation for the stability in his life. The man is adamantly sure that South Africa will be saved and that it will be accomplished peacefully without bloodshed. Ultimately, it is his faith in God which manifests his call for social justice and equality for his people. And so the prayers continue as do the international pleas to help save South Africa. There was a time when I would have thought the two acts were mutually exclusive. Archbishop Tutu taught me differently. Mike Schadek is a senior government official. This is the second in a series of articles on South Africa.

CHICAGO — The San Francisco Giants have plenty of playoff experience and the Chicago Cubs have hardly any at all.

So how important is it, anyway?

"The more you're in it, the better you play under pressure," Giants manager Roger Craig said. "You don't see many teams come out of nowhere to win it all."

"I don't see any advantage in experience," Cubs star Ryne Sandberg said. "What makes this so special is we weren't expecting to do anything."

The Giants, with nearly 20 players who have been in the postseason, and the Cubs, with only six who have been there, open the National League playoffs Wednesday night. The weather at Wrigley Field is expected to be clear but chilly, with the temperature dropping into the 40s because of the wind off Lake Michigan.

Greg Maddux (19-9) will start for the Cubs against Scott Garrelts (14-5), the league earned run average champion. Garrelts is one of several Giants who have pitched in the playoffs, although he wasn't so great in the 1987 series against St. Louis.

"They've got older pitchers," Maddux said. "I think they might be more relaxed on the mound than some of ours."

But what good is playoff experience if it isn't so good? Rick Reuschel gave up seven runs on 15 hits in 10 innings of the 1987 playoffs and Robby Thomson hit only .100 in that series. Kevin Mitchell is only 12-for-46 with one home run in postseason play, Candy Maldonado is a career .179 hitter in the playoffs and Terry Kennedy batted .217 for San Diego in 1984.

Luis Nalaz is the only Chicago player who has been in the World Series. He helped the Padres beat Rick Sutcliffe in the deciding game of the 1984 playoffs. The Cubs' Andre Dawson would like to forget his only other postseason appearance, when he went 3-for-20 with Montreal in 1981.

"You only get here so often, and some don't make it at all," Dawson said, referring to Cubs Hall of Famers Ernie Banks and Billy Williams. "But I have been in big games and I know a lot is expected from me."

A few of the Cubs and Giants have done well. Sandberg, the only everyday starter left from the Cubs' 1984 team, batted .368 in that playoff series.

"I've forgotten what that was like in 1984," Sandberg said. "That seems like a long time ago."

Will Clark hit .360 with a home run for the Giants in the seven-game loss in 1987. Their star that series was Jeffrey Leonard, who was named most valuable player, then traded to Milwaukee the next season.

Some of the Giants' best playoff performers may play little, if at all. Dave Dravecky, who has allowed only one earned run in 21 career post season innings, is out with a broken arm.

Reliever Craig Lefferts, who has pitched 22 shutdown innings for San Diego in 1984 and the Giants in 1987, has a sore shoulder.

"I probably won't be able to use him as much as I'd like," Craig said. "We'll see how he feels."

The same goes for Kennedy and pitcher Don Robinson. Robinson is bothered by a sore arm and Craig said the left-handed hitting catcher might not start against all of the Cubs' right-handers.

Robinson, bothered by stretched ligaments in his right knee, pitched batting practice during Tuesday's workouts.

"We may be the only team in history to have a simulated game during the playoffs," Craig said.

Robinson and Craig are among the Giants' postseason veterans. Robinson helped Pittsburgh win the 1979 World Series and was with the Giants in 1987. He has a 2-1 record despite a 5.40 ERA.

Craig pitched in four World Series with the Brooklyn Dodgers, was the pitching coach for Detroit's World Series champions in 1984 and has managed the Giants twice into the playoffs.

Cubs manager Don Zimmer was Craig's teammate in 1955, the only year Brooklyn won the World Series. He also coached under Craig in 1987.

"He was one of the greatest third-base coaches ever," Craig said. "From the dugout, I used to send him signs, asking what he would do sometimes."
Knot suprises PW,12-6; BP downs Lyons

By JOHANNA KELLY

This weekend proved to be one of intensity for the Women's Interhall flag football teams. In Sunday's action, Pasquerilla West's women's interhall flag football team was upset 12-6 by Knott. Pasquerilla West sent two players to the hospital with injuries in this controversial game. The tie-breaking touchdown occurred in the final minutes of the game, giving Knott the lead.

Knot faces Farley at 7 p.m.

Wednesday, Howard and Radin will square off after that contest. In another close game Wednesday, Breen-Phillips shaved Lyons Hall 14-12 in an intense match. B.P.'s Kristy Alikas scored both of the Blitz's touchdowns. "It's a really good game," said B.P. captain Mary Beth Riviera. "It was a tough team to beat, and they gave us a run for our money." In other action, Farley defeated Radin 14-0; Howard blanked Pasquerilla East 6-0 and Siegfried won a shootout with Walsh 26-14.

Irish try to change history

BY MOLLY MAHONEY
Assistant Sports Editor

The Notre Dame volleyball team is hoping that its series history with Ohio State won't hold true to its pattern.

The Buckeyes were victorious in five games in the teams' first meeting in 1985 but the Irish averaged the loss the following year in a four-game match.

After a two-year interruption in series, the squads met again in 1988 as the Irish came away with a three-game triumph, 15-5, 16-14, 15-7 to put Notre Dame ahead 1-0 in the series.

But if the two teams continue to exchange wins and losses, this could be the Buckeyes year to even the score.

Ohio State, now 11-3 with wins over Northwestern, Wisconsin, Purdue and Illinois, has won seven nationally last week, is primed and ready to do just that.

The Buckeyes are led by junior outside hitter Holly O'Leary who has amassed 252 kills with a 4.52 kill per game average and teammates Audrey DiPronio and Dawn Douglas.

DiPronio, a junior setter who has 637 assists and a 13.0 assist per game average, and Douglas, a middle blocker who has tallied 72 total blocks for a team-high 1.30 block per game average, will try to take advantage of Notre Dame's recent shuffling in its lineup.

Senior captain Kathy Closson (6-2) who has everything on the court during her career, will take a stab at playing middle hitter after being switched from right side hitter.

She will get some help from freshman outside hitter Alicia Turner, who leads the Irish with a team-high 136 kills per game average, 106 digs, 2.47 digs per game and 25 service aces.

Senior setter Taryn Collins, who has tallied 282 assists for a 10.85 assist per game average, will try to keep putting well-placed sets within the reach of Turner and hitter Jessica Fiebelkorn.

Dillon, Alumni post weekend wins

By DAVID DIETMAN
Sports Writer

Power football was the order of the day on the second Sunday of men's football ball, as Alumni, Dillon, and Fisher slugged their way to convincing victories.

In the Leahy League the Alumni Dogs, captained by Urban Gillespie, rocked 1988 runner-up Stanford 20-0, behind the dazzling performances of backup quarterback Mark Ross and a failed two-point conversion. Ross then stunned the Stanford defense, speeding 60 yards for a score, which, coupled with a successful two-point conversion, put the Dogs up 14-0. Alumni's defensive stance, bolstered by utility man Brenten Fitzpatrick, also accounted for a score, as Greg Culligan returned an interception in the Stanford 5 yard line. Ryan Roberts then cruised across the goal line, ending the scoring at 20-0.

In Parseghian League action, 1988 champion Dillon evened its record at 1-1 with a 13-6 triumph over Morrissey, while the Morrissey dropped to 0-2. The Big Red held an early 7-0 lead, but the Morrissey showed its mettle in the second half. Dillon had a touchdown and an Anthony Coursy kick. Morrissey rolled back, narrowing the margin to 7-6, after a touchdown and unsuccessful two-point attempt. Dillon was able to break the big play at the end, as Scott Frigon rambled 60 yards to the end zone, putting Dillon up for good.

Meanwhile, Fisher topped Carroll 7-0 in a key Rockne League matchup. After a scoreless first half, Fisher came out and swamped the Vermin in the second half. Interceptions by Tim Kaiser and Chris McCarthy hampered Carroll's efforts, giving the Fisher offense all the room it would need, as Rick Ebert connected with Jonathan Jordan on a 50 yard touchdown pass. Don McGahn then kicked the extra point, giving the Green Wave a 7-0 victory.

In the day's other games, Sorin dumped St. Ed's 12-6, Cavanaugh outdueled Holy Cross 7-0, and Grace swamped Flander 7-0, and Grace hummed Kent to 17-0.

Next Sunday in the Parseghian League, Grace (1-1) meets Flander (1-0-1) at St. John's at 1 p.m., and Grace (1-0-1) at St. John's at 1 p.m. (1-0) faces Fisher (1-1) at 1 p.m. (1-1).

Henderson's Herocics lead A's to Game 1 win

Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif.—Is there anything the Oakland Athletics can't do? Power Pitching Speed.

The dimension Rickey Henderson added to the A's was more evident than ever in Game 1 of the best-of-7 American League playoffs on Tuesday night. Henderson broke up a potential double play ball with a hard slide into second baseman Nelson Liriano in the sixth inning as the A's rallied to beat Toronto 7-3.

"It was a great slide," Henderson said. "With my speed I have to get down there."

Dave Stewart, who also opened the last season's playoff sweep against Boston, pitched with his heart to give the A's the advantage over Toronto. Toronto starter Dave Stieb took a 3-2 lead into the sixth inning when Mark McGwire led off with a long home run over center field.

One out later, Tony Phillips grounded to first and staged a double. Jim Acker replaced Stieb and Mike Gallego logged an infield single. Acker then hit Henderson on the wrist to load the bases.

"It's a little swelling, but it's OK," Henderson said.

Carney Lansford, who finished second in batting in the M.L. at .336, hit a hard grounder to Tony Fernandez at short that looked like a sure double.

Fernandez made the flip to get the force, but Henderson scored easily.

Holtz explains habit of putting opponent on pedestal

Lou Holtz, who has gained a reputation for speaking pessimistically about his own teams while complimenting the opposition, explained his practices at a Tuesday press conference.

"I try to be as honest as I can," said the Notre Dame coach. "I don't try to con people. When I look at an opponent, I do not try to build them up for an opponent, I do not try to downplay them, nor do I ever downplay our team. I try to look at the film of a football team and see what they're capable of playing and we play them."

"If the other team plays the best they're capable of playing and we play them, we're going to sit here and eat hot dogs, drink Cokes, laugh and tell stories. But that's not really the case."

The biggest concerns Holtz has with his team right now are at running back and defensive end, where he is concerned about a lack of depth.

Holtz has said that sophomore defensive end Devon McDonald, one of the team's top pass rushers, is being bothered by a recurring knee problem. Freshman Karl McGill is working at defensive end this week.

Steve Megargee
Associate Sports Editor

Notre Dame will need strong play from the ends at Stanford. Although Dennis Green's team has a 1-3 record, the Cardinal pro-style offense has averaged over 260 passing yards per game.

"Most of the pressure on the passer has to come from the ends," said I. I. "Stanford puts a lot of pressure on your defensive ends."

Senior tight end Rod West, who has missed the last three games with a knee injury, is practicing at fullback. Anthony Johnson and Ryan Mihalco are the only healthy fullbacks with any kind of collegiate experience.

When Holtz introduced Derek Brown at the conference, he praised Brown's twin sisters Renae and Jenna. The twins seem to have had a big impact on the tight end's decision to attend Notre Dame.

"Renee is very, very smart," said the sophomore from Merit Island, Fla. "Renee is too. Renee does a lot of reading, and she read everything that came to the house about Notre Dame, and she even knew the dates of when buildings were built, like 1830.

"She asked Coach Holtz when he came to my house what year a certain building was built and she had to correct him and say, 'Sorry, Coach.'"

Brown selected Notre Dame over Miami and the University of Florida.

Todd Layh's first-quarter interception against Purdue last weekend gave him four for the season. The last Notre Dame player with at least four interceptions in a season was Dave Peterson, who had seven in 1982.

Layh, a junior cornerback, started 10 games for the Irish last season but did not have a single interception.

The Notre Dame-Southern California game is more than two weeks away, but some Trojan fans apparently just can't wait for the two rivals to butt heads.

A pair of morning disc jockeys from Los Angeles radio station KLOS make a habit of laying their rear ends on the field (or court, whatever the case may be) to bring good luck to their local NFL and NBA teams.

Reportedly, the dejay's, who have the 6 a.m.-to-10 a.m. Pacific Standard Time shift, are thinking of bringing their act to Notre Dame on Oct. 21. The report says that they will try to sneak into Notre Dame Stadium and do their thing in hopes of helping end the six-year Irish hex on USC.
