Hoosier Millionaire ticket sale kicks-off Indiana lottery

Quality in engineering subject of lecture

BY MONICA YANT

Academic institutions need to implement changes in engineering curricula to emphasize the quality methods behind technology, said Air Force Major James Guzzi.

Total quality management is necessary to initiate change in American industry, he said.

In his lecture, “American Technology Can Be Competitive,” Guzzi stressed the concept of quality management and how it relates to the engineering community.

The quality of organization, combined with technical prowess, creates a total quality environment.

“Academia will create a voice to say that we, as a resource of this country, have a large part to play in changing the quality,” he said.

Guzzi represents the Air Force’s Reliability and Maintainability 2000 program (R&M), designed to involve industry, government, and academia to maximize performance of the highest quality. This includes cost-cutting and product improvements, he said.

“Quality equals productivity, which equals competitiveness, which equals a strong country,” Guzzi said.

Without competitiveness, the United States will be “left out in the cold,” said Guzzi, referring to the phenomenal success of Japanese industrial competitors.

“Every American automobile manufacturer might spend 10 years on just one car, the Japanese can produce top-quality automobiles in just 40 months,” he said.

Guzzi believes college graduates represent the future leaders of the country’s quality revolution. At present, “We have a lot of managers, but very few leaders,” he said.

Quality management needs those who can be both managers and leaders.

R&M focuses on management’s role of keeping industrial and quality objectives on target. Without quality management,see QUALITY / page 7

Group of 8 presidents band against drugs

Associated Press

ICA, Peru—Seven Latin American presidents pledged Thursday to fight international drug trafficking and condemned the regime of Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega of Panama.

In a declaration issued at the end of a two-day summit, the Group of Eight presidents also urged that Cuba be re-admitted to the Organization of American States. It did not elaborate.

The OAS expelled Cuba in 1961 after accusing Fidel Castro of openly exporting revolution. The communiqué issued by the Latin American presidents marked the first formal suggestion that Cuba be allowed to rejoin the group.

The “Declaration of Ica” was issued by presidents Carlos Menem of Argentina, Alan Garcia of Peru, Carlos Salinas de Gortari of Mexico, Carlos Andres Perez of Venezuela, Virgilio Barco of Colombia, Jose Sarney of Brazil and Julio Guimeti of Uruguay after the meeting in this remote desert city 185 miles southeast of Lima.

The communiqué expressed the presidents’ regret over the “violation of human rights and the absence of democracy” in Panama and said they would ask the OAS to send a commission to that nation to investigate.

The presidents said Panama would remain suspended from the Group of Eight, formed 32 years ago as an international consulting organization, until it “respects one of the democratic guarantees that today are absolutely ignored.”

Noriega faces an appeal against last week’s conviction.

The declaration also said the presidents will use all resources available to help the cocaine-producing Andean nations of Colombia, Peru and Bolivia in their battle against the region’s cocaine traffickers. The presidents said Panama wanted it and because it helped pave the way for pari-mutuel wagering on horse racing.

Borst got pari-mutuel legislation through the General Assembly in the 1970s, but the state Supreme Court later ruled that pari-mutuel constituted a lottery and lotteries were banned in the 1851 state constitution.

Before that constitutional provision was adopted, Indiana sanctioned two lotteries. One in 1816 was designed to raise money for Vincennes University and another in 1818 was intended to raise money for canal projects, according to the Indiana State Library.

A little more than 62 percent of Hoosier voters agreed last November to repeal the constitutional prohibition and clear the way for a lottery and pari-mutuel, both approved by the Legislature this year.

Borst’s long-time sponsors, Democratic Sen. Louis Mahern of Indianapolis and House Republican Speaker Paul Mannweiler of Indianapolis, also said they don’t plan to buy Indiana lottery tickets.

“I have never purchased a lottery ticket, and I probably won’t purchase one here,” said Mannweiler. “The odds are not in my favor. I don’t think it’s a wise investment.”

Crawford, the former Lake County prosecutor appointed by then-Gov. John F. Longworth to head an anti-gambling game, said recently, “I think it’s a good idea because there’s a strong conservative move in Indiana that doesn’t like the lottery.”

However, Crawford said he believes the state’s new gambling laws by running an honest game and playing on traditional Hoosier interests. Games or promotions using basketball and racing themes are peg an integral part of Indiana’s lottery design, he said.
WORLD BRIEFS

An East German official in Berlin rejected the democratic reforms some Soviet bloc allies have embraced and said Thursday that communism will continue to dominate society. Another said the government will listen to "all parts of the population" clamoring for change as long as they do not insist on scrapping the current social order.

A Pablo Picasso masterpiece from his "blue period," long thought to have disappeared, is expected to become the world's most expensive painting when sold at auction on Nov. 30, an auctioneer in Paris said Thursday. "Les Noces de Pierrette" ("Pierrette's Wedding"), executed in 1904-05 in Montmartre, is expected to bring $46 million to $81 million.

NATIONAL BRIEFS

An Iowa farmer received $116,000 for finding a 400-pound engine disk that may hold the key to July's DC-10 crash in Sioux City, while a neighbor discovered the disk's missing part Thursday, officials in Alta, Iowa said.

Technicians worked six at a time in a cramped engine compartment Thursday to remove a flawed computer in time to meet Cape Canaveral's Tuesday target for launching the shuttle Atlantis and its Galileo space probe. At the same time, a federal judge rejected Big Flying environmental groups' suit that the flight for fear the nuclear-powered probe could scatter plutonium over Florida if the shuttle exploded.

The House voted overwhelming approval Thursday for a federal ban on flag burning, just four months after a Supreme Court decision allowing destruction of an American flag as protest. However, President Bush and many Republicans in Washington say Congress must do more than pass a mere resolution to outlaw flag destruction or desecration.

INDIANA BRIEFS

Gov. Evan Bayh announced Thursday in Indianapolis that he will ask the 1990 session of the General Assembly to endorse four new education goals, including maintaining drug and violence-free schools and combating illiteracy.

Composer George Fletcher, a graduate of Notre Dame Law School, was named by Forbes Magazine as one of America's best paid trial lawyers. The 61-year-old lawyer from Houston, Texas, had an estimated income of $2 million in 1987.

WEATHER

Warmer

Mostly sunny and very mild today. Highs in the middle 70s. Mostly clear and warm tonight and Saturday. Lows tonight in the lower 50s. Highs Saturday in the upper 70s.

ALMANAC

On October 13:

- In 1920: The cornerstone of the executive mansion, later to be known as the White House, was laid during a ceremony in the District of Columbia.
- In 1775: The United States Navy was born as the Continental Congress ordered construction of a fleet.
- In 1845: Texas ratified a state constitution.
- In 1943: Italy declared war on Germany, its one-time Axis partner.
- In 1982: The International Olympic Committee declared it would restore the two gold medals taken from Jim Thorpe after he admitted having been paid to play baseball.

STOCK MARKET UPDATE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Index</th>
<th>Change</th>
<th>Volume in shares</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>NYSE</td>
<td>196.98</td>
<td>235.30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S&amp;P Composite</td>
<td>1,600</td>
<td>3,759</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

THE OBSERVER

Big hair and other symbols of a superficial society

The headline in the Indiana Daily Student read, "Hey, hey, ho, ho, big hair has to go." Intrigued, I read on. Since my own hair has often been labeled a 'mane' I wondered why David Burton of Indiana University could possibly take issue with hair like mine.

Burton, it turns out, was "talking about those women who have so much hair piled on their heads...that they give fundamental laws of gravity a run for their money. Hair so vast and deep it might well be supporting an ecosystem of its own."

Whoever said such an abundant coiffure looks good?" continued Burton.

I'm amazed that as I walk across the quad men stare after me and are turned off before I've even had a chance to offend them. Two possible motives exist for choosing to express oneself through such big hair, according to Burton. They are:

1. That "women think more hair and more makeup cause them to be attractive to men."
2. An "even more likely reason for this great preoccupation with appearance...is not competition for men but a sense of competition and prestige among themselves."

In other words, Burton continues, not merely a desire to attract men, but also for a sense of popularity among friends.

Aside from fear that he will light a cigarette in bar one day and be blown to bits because of large amounts of aerosol in the Big Hair around him, Burton expresses genuine concern for the way women perceive roles in society. Why, he asks, must people be concerned with appearances as a way to gain acceptance?

While at the end of this article, presumably to save himself from being tarred and feathered by any feminists on IU's campus, he hastily points out that he isn't trying to offend women, but was attempting to make a point concerning an issue that affects many college students, I had to echo his concern. Why is everyone so preoccupied with appearances?

"Yes, it's important to maintain a neat personal appearance. That in itself says to someone, "I am confident enough in myself to want to present myself in a positive manner to other people." However, people tend to take this principle too far. Not only is it a neat personal appearance necessary, an individual must set about it in a certain way. Style, and, I'm sorry to say, money, receive a great deal of emphasis. Some individuals even embrace the philosophy, "If it's not expensive and prestigious, it's not worth having," and a few consider others worthless if they too cannot afford expensive status symbols.

Whether it is manifested through big hair, expensive cars, or designer labels, the problem remains the same: ours is a materialistic culture, which tends to affect our values and our perceptions of ourselves and others. Material possessions, physical appearances, and other superficial attributes about a person should be kept in their superficial perspectives. The person underneath rarely has anything to do with them.

Alison Cocks

Alison Cocks is a junior American Studies major. The views expressed are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

Question: How do you reach over 12,000 people daily?

Answer: Buy Observer ad space.

Call 239-6900.

Observer classifieds will be accepted from 9am-3pm M-F at the Observer offices, 314 LaFortune.

Happy Birthday

Today is Laura S.'s birthday. Call her up and wish her a happy one. By the way, she might be taking issue with hair like mine. Whether it's manifested through big hair, expensive cars, or designer labels, the problem remains the same: ours is a materialistic culture, which tends to affect our values and our perceptions of ourselves and others. Material possessions, physical appearances, and other superficial attributes about a person should be kept in their superficial perspectives. The person underneath rarely has anything to do with them.
Panamanian widow blames U.S. for death

Associated Press

MIAMI—The widow of the officer who led the failed coup attempt in Panama's Gen. Manuel Antonio Noriega said Thursday that U.S. officials were notified of the attempt and agreed to help, then caused a fatal delay.

Adela Bonilla de Giroldi, 36, said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, 36, took refuge at a U.S. base during the coup and later fled the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.

On Oct. 1, two days before the coup, Mrs. Giroldi and her four children arranged a meeting with a U.S. army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's headquarters and to request help. Mrs. Giroldi said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.

On Oct. 1, two days before the coup, Mrs. Giroldi and her four children arranged a meeting with a U.S. army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's headquarters and to request help. Mrs. Giroldi said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.

On Oct. 1, two days before the coup, Mrs. Giroldi and her four children arranged a meeting with a U.S. army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's headquarters and to request help. Mrs. Giroldi said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.

On Oct. 1, two days before the coup, Mrs. Giroldi and her four children arranged a meeting with a U.S. army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's headquarters and to request help. Mrs. Giroldi said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.

On Oct. 1, two days before the coup, Mrs. Giroldi and her four children arranged a meeting with a U.S. army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's headquarters and to request help. Mrs. Giroldi said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.

On Oct. 1, two days before the coup, Mrs. Giroldi and her four children arranged a meeting with a U.S. army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's headquarters and to request help. Mrs. Giroldi said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.

On Oct. 1, two days before the coup, Mrs. Giroldi and her four children arranged a meeting with a U.S. army colonel at the friend's house to inform them and ask for help in isolating Noriega's headquarters and to request help. Mrs. Giroldi said everyth ing had been arranged for them to overfly the country after her husband, Maj. Miles Giroldi, was executed by Noriega loyalists.
Computer virus fears run rampant

Associated Press

NEW YORK—Fears that a computer virus will trash information on some personal computers are overblown, experts said Thursday, though some alarmed users have taken steps to make sure they don't wake up Friday the 13th with the infection.

"Our advice to people is stop worrying," said Dennis Steinweber of the National Institute of Standards and Technology. "People should make a backup copy of their files and don't call me in the morning. There's virtually no way it can spread around and cause any significant damage at all.

But others feel the threat is real from the so-called Columbus Day virus, programmed to activate after computers' internal clocks hit 12:01 a.m. Friday and begin doing its dirty work when an operator begins using an infected program.

"We're talking about a communicable disease that is absolutely indiscriminate," said Winn Schwartau, president of American Computer Security Industries in Nashville, Tenn.

The Columbus Day virus, also known as Datefear, is programmed to scramble information in IBM or IBM-compatible personal computers. It would be the equivalent of zapping index cards in a library so books would be impossible to locate.

The virus, of unknown origin, has been identified about 12 times since March 1, when experts discovered suspicious strings of code that had attached themselves to programs. The confirmed cases of Columbus Day viruses were discovered before they did any real damage. A number of programmers, including IBM, have developed ways to detect if a disk or program has been contaminated.

Four American scientists win Nobel Prizes

Associated Press

While Nobel Prize celebrations may be relatively common in the Boston area, Cech, Hanley and others say they are rarer elsewhere.

"My main emotion is that this is a great thing for the University of Colorado and the state of Colorado," he said. "This is not the sort of thing that happens annually in the mountains the way it does in Boston. That gives me a really good feeling."

Asked about his plans for the money, he said: "I have two young daughters who are very good at spending money."

Dehmelt said he didn't mind not being at Stockholm this week, a call from the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences to be told of the award.

HPC-sponsored Weekend Wheels continues to run

By PAUL PEARSON

The Hall Presidents Council provides a free weekend transportation service for students under the influence of alcohol.

The program, known as Weekend Wheels, consists of a school bus that goes through South Bend for "students who otherwise would not be able to get back to campus safely," said Megan Hanley, the co-chairperson of the Hall Presidents Council.

The bus stops at 5 different points: Campus View, Five Dents', Campus View, Campus View, and the South Bend bus depot. The University of Bonn. Each Nobel Prize will be shared by the German-chemical reactions.

The physics award was given to Norman Ramsey of Harvard University for measurement techniques that led to the creation of magnetic resonance, and to Hans Dehmelt of the University of Washington and Siegfried Paul of West Germany for a method to isolate single atoms and do more work."

One of the ideas they are considering is making and distributing keychains with the program's schedule printed on them.

This year, the HPC is trying to launch a large publicity campaign for Weekend Wheels. One of the ideas they are considering is making and distributing keychains with the program's schedule printed on them.

Associated Press

Four American scientists reacted with delight Thursday at being named Nobel Prize winners for their work in physics and chemistry, and one said it was time to "go back to the lab and do more work."

The physics award was given to Norman Ramsey of Harvard University for measurement techniques that led to the creation of magnetic resonance, and to Hans Dehmelt of the University of Washington and Siegfried Paul of West Germany for a method to isolate single atoms and do more work.

The chemistry award was given to John Polanyi of the University of British Columbia and Paul Crutzen of the University of Amsterdam for their work in atmospheric chemistry.

The physics award was given to Norman Ramsey of Harvard University for measurement techniques that led to the creation of magnetic resonance, and to Hans Dehmelt of the University of Washington and Siegfried Paul of West Germany for a method to isolate single atoms and do more work.

The chemistry award was given to John Polanyi of the University of British Columbia and Paul Crutzen of the University of Amsterdam for their work in atmospheric chemistry.

The physics award was given to Norman Ramsey of Harvard University for measurement techniques that led to the creation of magnetic resonance, and to Hans Dehmelt of the University of Washington and Siegfried Paul of West Germany for a method to isolate single atoms and do more work.

The chemistry award was given to John Polanyi of the University of British Columbia and Paul Crutzen of the University of Amsterdam for their work in atmospheric chemistry.

The physics award was given to Norman Ramsey of Harvard University for measurement techniques that led to the creation of magnetic resonance, and to Hans Dehmelt of the University of Washington and Siegfried Paul of West Germany for a method to isolate single atoms and do more work.

The chemistry award was given to John Polanyi of the University of British Columbia and Paul Crutzen of the University of Amsterdam for their work in atmospheric chemistry.
International relations

Li Lu, a student leader of the prodemocracy movement in China, and Irish basketball coach Digger Phelps talk before Thursday's program, "Tiananmen Square and the Future of Prodemocracy Movement."

121 sailors arrested in U.S./British brawl

Associated Press

LISBON, Portugal—A bar fight exploded into a brawling rampage involving hundreds of American and British seamen that left cars overturned, windows smashed and more than 100 people injured, police said Thursday.

Police said they arrested 121 U.S. and British sailors after an estimated 500 seamen and scores of police brawled Wednesday night along Lisbon's seedy, bar-dotted dockside.

The sailors were released to their ships Thursday morning and a British aircraft carrier cut short a courtesy call and left for home because of the fighting.

U.S. Embassy officials insisted that most if not all injuries were caused by police. Portuguese police said sailors fought among themselves, then turned on officers trying to break up the melees.

In Washington, Pentagon spokesman Pete Williams said 142 U.S. sailors were treated for injuries. He said 40 sailors had to be hospitalized for injuries such as damaged spleens or possible concussions.

Williams said the brawl was being investigated but that there were several versions of what he called "a very confused situation."

Portuguese police said four police officers and three civilians were among the injured.

Paulino Cardoso, duty officer at Lisbon's security police, said the melee broke out after three black American seamen attacked a white U.S. sailor at the Passport Bar in the gaudy, neon-lit Cais do Sodre area. That account could not be confirmed.

A Pentagon official who asked not to be identified said the injured included officers, a chaplain and intelligence officers who were trying to calm a confrontation that arose when police tried to clear an area of sailors following some type of disturbance.

The official said there were reports that indicated police were responsible for "severe indiscriminate beatings."

Recycling Update

Superior Waste Systems, would like to congratulate students, faculty and staff on their success in the initial stages of the recycling program.

The university, in six weeks, has recycled over 72,000 aluminum cans, an accomplishment you should all be proud of.

The bar graph below will show September's results.
Smoking habits in U.S. decline slowly

Associated Press

ATLANTA—The rate of smoking among Americans continues to decline slowly but steadily, but the nation isn’t likely to reach a federal goal of 75 percent non-smokers by next year, federal health officials said Thursday.

A face-to-face survey of adult Americans, conducted in 1987, shows that 28.8 percent are cigarette smokers, the national Centers for Disease Control reported.

That’s down from 30.1 percent in a similar 1985 survey, but the decline is apparently not enough for government researchers to project meeting the official federal goal of less than 25 percent by 1990.

“We’re getting pretty close,” said Dr. Ron Davis, director of the CDC’s Office of Smoking and Health. “We’re making progress, and we’re heading in the right direction.”

CDC officials believed two years ago that the 1990 goal—one of several federal health targets set as this decade began—could be reached, partly because of a 1986 survey showing a national smoking rate of 26.5 percent.

But that survey, conducted by telephone, probably wasn’t as precise as the face-to-face survey reported Thursday, Davis said.

The CDC said Thursday that smoking rates continue to fall by a steady, half percentage point a year as they’ve done since 1964—the year of the surgeon general’s landmark warning that smoking causes cancer and heart disease. At that time, 40 percent of the country’s adults smoked.

The number of Americans who smoke will continue to drop, possibly until just a small “hard-core” band of smokers is left, Davis predicted.

“So far, we haven’t seen any evidence of a leveling off in smoking’s decline,” he said.

“We need to intensify our efforts... Smokers tomorrow may be more resistant to our message than smokers today,” Davis said.

“We still have almost 400,000 Americans dying every year because of smoking-related disease. The lottery is the revenue that will be generated and the good that can come to the public as a result of that revenue,” said Flah.

About 50 percent of the money wagered will be returned to ticket buyers in prizes. The scratch-off tickets offer prizes of $1, $2, $5, $10, $25, $500 and $5,000. The odds for winning some kind of prize are 1 in 7.17.

For every million tickets sold, one contestant will be selected to compete for a top prize of $1 million on the weekly lottery television show scheduled to debut Oct. 28.

A five-story, eight-ton replica of the Great Sphinx of Egypt slides past the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor Wednesday as it was being towed upstream. The sphinx will be a centerpiece in the production of the opera “Aida,” to take place in Giant Stadium next year.

Korean’s attack ambassador’s house

Associated Press

SEOUL, South Korea—Radi cal students armed with fire bombs and tear gas broke into U.S. Ambassador Donald Gregg’s residence early Friday before riot police dragged them out and seized them, police said.

“Drive out the Yankees!” the students screamed as police hustled them away.

The students, who locked themselves inside the building, held off riot police for 30 minutes before troops firing tear gas smashed down a door and seized them, police said.

“We're getting pretty close,” he said. "So far, we haven't seen any evidence of a leveling off in smoking's decline," he said.

"We need to intensify our efforts... Smokers tomorrow may be more resistant to our message than smokers today," Davis said. "We still have almost 400,000 Americans dying every year because of smoking-related disease.

The lottery is the revenue that will be generated and the good that can come to the public as a result of that revenue," said Flah.

About 50 percent of the money wagered will be returned to ticket buyers in prizes. The scratch-off tickets offer prizes of $1, $2, $5, $10, $25, $500 and $5,000. The odds for winning some kind of prize are 1 in 7.17.

For every million tickets sold, one contestant will be selected to compete for a top prize of $1 million on the weekly lottery television show scheduled to debut Oct. 28.

A five-story, eight-ton replica of the Great Sphinx of Egypt slides past the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor Wednesday as it was being towed upstream. The sphinx will be a centerpiece in the production of the opera “Aida,” to take place in Giant Stadium next year.

Korean’s attack ambassador’s house

Associated Press

SEOUL, South Korea—Radi cal students armed with fire bombs and tear gas broke into U.S. Ambassador Donald Gregg’s residence early Friday before riot police dragged them out and seized them, police said.

“Drive out the Yankees!” the students screamed as police hustled them away.

The students, who locked themselves inside the building, held off riot police for 30 minutes before troops firing tear gas smashed down a door and seized them, police said.

We're getting pretty close," he said. "So far, we haven't seen any evidence of a leveling off in smoking's decline," he said.

"We need to intensify our efforts... Smokers tomorrow may be more resistant to our message than smokers today," Davis said. "We still have almost 400,000 Americans dying every year because of smoking-related disease.

The lottery is the revenue that will be generated and the good that can come to the public as a result of that revenue," said Flah.

About 50 percent of the money wagered will be returned to ticket buyers in prizes. The scratch-off tickets offer prizes of $1, $2, $5, $10, $25, $500 and $5,000. The odds for winning some kind of prize are 1 in 7.17.

For every million tickets sold, one contestant will be selected to compete for a top prize of $1 million on the weekly lottery television show scheduled to debut Oct. 28.
Bishops speak on AIDS and sex

Associated Press

NEW YORK—The U.S. Roman Catholic Church should drop its qualified support for teaching about condoms in public schools as a way of preventing AIDS, and should urge that youngsters be taught chastity instead, a committee of bishops said Thursday.

"There is no such thing as safe, or safer, sex. That's an illusion," said Archbishop Roger Mahony of Los Angeles, chairman of the Ad Hoc Committee on the HIV Statement. HIV is the virus that causes AIDS.

The committee's draft statement, which was criticized by an AIDS activist who said keeping information from children would be "abandoning them to death," revision an earlier document released by the church's 50-member Administrative Board in December 1987.

The 1987 document said the church could tolerate public schools providing information about condoms as long as sexual abstinence outside of marriage was presented as the "only morally correct and medically sure way" to prevent AIDS.

After it was released, it was criticized by some conservative U.S. bishops who said it would be misinterpreted as condoning sex outside marriage and artificial birth control. Cardinal Joseph Ratzinger, head of the Vatican Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith, also chastised the administrative board for not consulting with the Vatican.

In spring 1988, the National Conference of Catholic Bishops decided to drop a new statement. The revised statement — "Called to Compassion: A Response to the HIV/AIDS Crisis" — will be presented to the conference at its fall meeting Nov. 6-9 in Baltimore. The committee drafting the statement was made up of Mahony, Cardinal Joseph L. Bernardini of Chicago, Cardinal Bernard F. Law of Boston, Archbishop William II. Keeler of Baltimore and Bishop Raymond W. Leosard of Savannah, Ga.

The wide-ranging statement also opposes universal mandatory AIDS testing, calls for increasing federal funds for AIDS research, and denounces violence and discrimination against AIDS victims as immoral.

"We are called to be a people of compassion, after the teachings of Jesus," Mahony said.

Richard McCormick, a pro­fessor of Christian ethics at the University of Notre Dame, said the new document "may well be an attempt to achieve some kind of political peace within (the bishops') conference."

Thursday afternoon, McCormick said telling students who refuse to be sexually inactive to use condoms to try to save lives is not an invitation to immoral behavior, any more than telling students not to wine drunk is an invitation to sobriety.

Where the new statement differs from the earlier one is titled "The Many Faces of AIDS: A Catholic Response," is mainly in its stand on condom education in public schools, and in a larger sense the role of Catholic bishops in public policy debates.

The first document approved condom education as the lesser of two evils in reduc­ing the risk of AIDS infection in students who are unlikely to remain abstinent. It said the bishops did not approve of condom use but were willing to join with others in a society of diverse religious beliefs in a "sexually "moral communi­ty" to our public schools and elsewhere."

Bishop William A. Hughes of Covington, Ky., chairman of the task force that drew up the original statement, said at the time: "We're offering to work with members of other faiths and people of good will on moral values that we can make part of the presentation (on AIDS)."

Hughes was not available Thursday afternoon to respond to the new report, his office said.

Quality

continued from page 1

agreement. Given technical success, be­cause the entire process is un­connected from top to bottom. B&H was developed after a 1987 study by the aeronautical systems division of the Air Force which addressed the question, "What are companies doing in terms of quality main­tenance?"

The survey of aerospace, engineering, missile, and avionic companies, as well as the other three branches of the armed forces, revealed that no one really knew what should be done about quality mainte­nance.

Notre Dame will be partic­i­pating in the first total quality management symposium this November.

In addition, Notre Dame will co-sponsor with West Virginia University a national academic symposium in August, 1990.

Wish your friends a Happy Birthday through Observer advertising. Call 239-5303 for details.
Human rights not ‘distant concept’

Darren Kew

On Human Rights

I will never forget picking up the newspaper on that morning. The front page of June 5, 1989, was littered with pictures and stories of the massacre of Chinese students on Tiananmen Square. I may still see an old man flying a kite in the same spot on Tiananmen square where the tanks would crush the tents in which students were sleeping during the protest.

I am not Chinese, nor am I an authority on China. I had the opportunity to spend some time in China during the spring of a month before the students occupied the square, and have lived in China since that time. But one does not have to be an expert to assess the massacre on Tiananmen this year.

Think for a moment about what happened. Chinese students, young people like you and me, organized a peaceful demonstration calling for more democracy, freedom, and the resignation of corrupt leaders in the government. The students were never called for a revolution or the ousting of the Chinese Communist Party. In fact, some of the students themselves were Party members. The call was for reforms within the Communist Party—no revolution, no violence. This was a statement of disagreement, demanding that the government clean up its act. The students were joined by thousands of citizens from Beijing, and demonstrations spread to other cities across China. The government declared martial law May 19, and when the students refused to leave Tiananmen, the leaders cracked down on June 4.

The numbers vary, but an estimated 2,000 died and 10,000 were injured as the army fired upon movement. The violence has continued throughout the summer as well. Asia Watch, a publication on human rights in Asia, reported (July 19, 1989) that the Chinese government is sentencing prisoners ranging from years in "re-education", labor camps to death for even such non-violent acts as "spreading rumors" or "distributing counter-revolutionary handbills." Asia Watch also states that "there has been no mention in the press of any defense council." Prisoners have been paraded through the streets, beaten until they confessed, taken before firing squads, or condemned to years of forced labor and imprisonment.

For what reason? Distributing leaflets? Holding a sit-in? Obviously, the Communist government saw the students as a threat to the Party’s position, a threat grave enough to justify a violent response. I remember an old Confucian proverb which goes something along the lines of the man who rescued the drowning woman and who was later accused of the drowning. If Tiananmen proves anything, it is the invalidity of the Communist government.

If Tiananmen proves anything, it is the invalidity of the Communist Chinese Communist Party leadership. They could not refute the students, so they murdered and imprisoned as many as possible. Citing the killings as a necessary means for preserving the Party does not excuse the Communists’ actions. Instead, the leaders have proven their own illegitimacy by defending their position with unjustifiable acts. Tiananmen was about more than just demonstrations and leaflets. It was an explicit reflection by the government of its own claims to be a representative of the Chinese people. And by crushing its own youth, the Chinese Communist government has crushed its future as well. The Old Generation’s leaders will die out soon. If they continue to alienate themselves from the younger generation, we may very well see a diminished or dead Chinese Communist Party in the years to come.

Certainly we all feel a degree of shock and anger at the June 4 massacre. At the same time, being on the other side of the globe it is difficult not to feel powerless to do anything substantial about the situation. The greatest good we here can do now for the Chinese students is to remember the dream of a better future they were willing to die for. Our generation will have the ability to shape this world to an extent like none before us. This is no exaggeration. We are living in an age of tremendous changes in communication, international economics, and world politics such that each individual will have a greater say in the course of global events.

The fact that you are getting a college education gives you an even stronger voice. You will have an opportunity to shape in some way the world that you live in.

One of the authors of the letter in Viewpoint, Oct. 2, 1989, which was published in Viewpoint (The Observer, no. 6) on the federal bill which cuts funding of the National Endowment for the Arts is quoted as saying, "We cannot be the force for good that these people need." The writer is correct. We do not have the power to make laws. We do not have the power to change the world. We are only a part of the world. I have two suggestions for the writer. First, that the writer use the power that we do have. The arts community is not isolated from the rest of the world. The arts are a common bond that can tie to the rest of the world and the free expression of varying opinions on campus.

Second, let the writer take the opportunity to support the arts. It is the writer’s duty to support the arts. Art is as essential as food or water. It is not something for the masses to be used or enjoyed. It is something for the world to celebrate. It is the writer’s duty to support the arts.

I will never forget the feeling of shock and anger at the massacre on Tiananmen Square. I will never forget picking up the newspaper on that morning. I will never forget that feeling as long as I live.
Is a fetus a person? This question has been at the center of most recent law school debate between a pro-life leader and a pro-life leader. In order to give birth, a woman must have a body that can give birth to a child and a heart. The pro-life leader declared that "A fetus is a lump of tissue, not a human being. It is a mass of cells that is not giving birth to a human being until it can exist outside the womb." The pro-life leader responded by putting a lurid picture of a nearly fully developed fetus and asked, "How can you say that's not a person? Life begins at conception. Both of these statements make great slogans, but neither gives much help in answering the crucial question of fetal personhood.

Whether or not a fetus is a person is the issue at the heart of the abortion debate. If a fetus is a person, then abortion is murder. If a fetus is not a person, then abortion is suicide. For as long as we live, we can never be sure whether a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.

The importance of all this is that it means we can never be totally sure if a fetus is a person or not. This does not mean, however, that we cannot give our opinion on the abortion issue. What it comes down to is a question of risk. If the pro-life wins and are wrong, women will have an impact on the body very narrow, right stripped from their abortion. If, on the other hand, the pro-choice wins and are wrong, then we will continue to kill more babies than are born.
uickly indistinguishable from a curry, except for its tangy garlic and lemony signature. Both of my friends who ordered these dishes, although they were definitely a bit more expensive, were extremely satisfied with the food. The curry dish was particularly flavorful and satisfying.

The main dishes were the highlight of the evening. The Malabar shows its talent for cooking well-spiced and succulent dishes that can leave you feeling hungry afterwards. The beef curry was a better choice than the lamb, and the curry dish offered a variety of flavors that primarily catered to the influx of Indian cuisine. We were pleased to find that the dish was rich in flavor and had a satisfying kick to it. The lamb was a bit more delicate, and although it was good, it didn’t quite have the same depth of flavor as the beef.

The main courses were served with a variety of sides, such as rice, naan bread, or fresh vegetables. Each dish was perfectly cooked and presented in a manner that showcased the chef's skill and expertise. We were impressed with the attention to detail and the care taken in preparing each plate. Overall, the meal was a wonderful experience that we would recommend to anyone looking for a unique and flavorful Indian dining experience.

The Chocolate Festival was an enjoyable evening for those who love sweet treats. The festival offered a variety of chocolate samples, which were all delicious and perfectly balanced. We were grateful for the opportunity to taste a range of chocolates, from dark to milk, with different flavors and textures. The festival was a great way to celebrate the love of chocolate and enjoy the公司提供的各种各样的巧克力样品。我们很感激有机会品尝到各种各样的巧克力，从深色到浅色，口味和质地都各不相同。节日是一个庆祝巧克力的爱好的好时机。
Kowalkowski's ritual:
New meaning to stretching before a game

By BOB MITCHELL
Sports Writer

Superstitions make people do crazy things and sometimes very ordinary things in a peculiar fashion. Irish head coach Lou Holtz drinks a strawberry milkshake before every game. In the world of baseball, Wade Boggs of the Boston Red Sox devours biteless chicken during his batting stanzas (on the field). Bjorn Borg never shaved during his annual two-week dormancy to record the 17th marred performance to date. (All assignments, I think it is really important to know my assignments and use my ability to the best of my ability. I just try to use all that I have.

In the Notre Dame's quest to defend the national championship, Kowalkowski has been a steady, reliable force at both the rush end and drop slot on defense. He has started all five games for Notre Dame—three at the rush end slot and two at the drop slot. During the five games, he has amassed 10 solo tackles, 14 assists, including one and two at the drop slot. During the five games, he has accounted for 24 tackles and 1.5 sacks for the Notre Dame this season.

Scott Kowalkowski looks forward to the game against Air Force.

The Observer / Eric Bailey

The Observer / Eric Bailey

Irish defensive end Scott Kowalkowski, shown here in full uniform, has made an impression on opposing ballcarriers. He has accounted for 24 tackles and 1.5 sacks for the Irish this season.
The Game...

By GREG GUFFEY
Assistant Sports Editor

At the Air Force Academy, the standards are high. The Academy admits just 11 percent of its applicants, prepares students to defend America and boasts of attracting some of the top academic talent in the country. Perhaps that explains why 1989 was not acceptable for anyone, especially Air Force football coach Fisher DeBerry. The Falcons struggled to a 5-7 record, losing four games by seven points or less and posting the school's first losing mark since 1981.

"Notre Dame will be the national champions until somebody beats it," DeBerry said. "(But) the target on your chest gets bigger and bigger each week. When you're Notre Dame, people are going to play a little bit harder."

"College football is so competitive that any team is capable of beating any other team on a given weekend. There is great parity in college football."

The Air Force schedule—San Diego State, Wyoming, Northwestern, UTEP, Colorado State—has not been overly impressive, but the Air Force team has.

In those six games, the Falcons have outscored their opponents by a 269-128 count. They have dominated teams throughout the young season, the closest game a 52-36 season-opening win over San Diego State.

But DeBerry knows this week's opponent is Notre Dame, the defending national champions, the holders of a 17-game winning streak, the team with more mystique than an F-12.

"They're solid at every position," DeBerry said. "Lute won't tell you that but they are. Every coach would like to have what he's got at every position. That's why they've won 17 in a row.

After Saturday, DeBerry hopes the only streak that matters will be Air Force's seven consecutive wins.

Air Force offense vs. Notre Dame defense

The game is already being billed as the Super showdown for the Heisman Trophy between Air Force's Dee Dowis and Notre Dame's Tony Rice.

Dowis is the backbone of the Air Force wishbone offense, a short quarterback with big state. He ranks fourth in the nation in rushing with 133.7 yards per game and fourth in scoring at 13 points per game. Dowis has gained 802 yards on 74 carries and is just 172 yards away from becoming the all-time NCAA leader in rushing yards by a quarterback.

Inside linbacker Brian Hill makes the tackle for the Falcons

The Air Force offensive attack is not limited solely to Dowis. The wishbone gives the Falcons the opportunity to showcase their backfield, something Notre Dame must stop early in the game. The Falcons gain 449 yards per game on the ground, tops in the nation and rank third in total offense at 526.2 yards per game.

Near the goal line, Dowis often looks to senior halfback Greg Johnson. Johnson has gained 396 yards on 66 carries with 12 touchdowns. Junior fullback Rodney Lewis has gained 584 yards on 81 carries and sophomore fullback Jason Jones has registered 333 yards and a touchdown on 55 carries.

Notre Dame will be well-prepared to stop the run. The Irish rank 13th in rushing defense, giving up just 93.8 yards per game. They surrender just 262.6 total yards per game.

The lowest amount of points scored by Air Force in one game this season is 5. The most allowed by the Notre Dame defense in one game is 19. Something will have to give here.

The defense might be the strength of the Notre Dame team," DeBerry said. "You become a great football team with great defense."

On paper, the Irish have a definite advantage in the trenches. The average Notre Dame defensive lineman is 6-foot-4 and 264 pounds compared to the average Air Force offensive lineman at 6-foot-1 and 240 pounds.

If the Falcons are forced to throw the ball, they do have some capable receivers. Senior Steve Senn has pulled down 11 passes for 146 yards and sophomore receiver Steve Senn has registered 333 yards and a touchdown on 55 carries.

Dowis showdown are the two top kick-off returners in the country—Notre Dame's Ismail and Air Force's Ron Gray. While everyone talks of not kicking to Ismail, Notre Dame may want to kick away from Gray. The second leading kick-off returner in the country, Gray averages 33.8 yards per return.

Ismail still leads the nation with 44.6 yards per return and two touchdowns. He ran a kick back 66 yards last week against Stanford to give the Irish a big boost in their 27-17 victory.

Photo Courtesy of Air Force Sports Information

IRISH EXTRA

Friday, October 13, 1989

lineman is 6-foot-4 and 273 pounds, while the average Falcon defensive lineman is 6-foot-3 and 238 pounds.

"Tony Rice has those redwoods in front of him," DeBerry said. "It's hard to find him behind that massive offensive line. Tony Rice gets the ball in the endzone. That's what makes him a great quarterback."

Rice may be more versatile than Dowis, and he has a more talented supporting cast. Anthony Johnson and Ricky Watkins provide the punch in the backfield. Look for Raghib Ismail and Derek Brown to play big roles if the Air Force defense stops the running game early.

Lost in the shuffle of the Rice-Dowis showdown are the two top kick-off returners in the country—Notre Dame's Ismail and Air Force's Ron Gray. While everyone talks of not kicking to Ismail, Notre Dame may want to kick away from Gray. The second leading kick-off returner in the country, Gray averages 33.8 yards per return.

Ismail still leads the nation with 44.6 yards per return and two touchdowns. He ran a kick back 66 yards last week against Stanford to give the Irish a big boost in their 27-17 victory.
Students Government
Social Concerns Commissioners:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Name</th>
<th>Department</th>
<th>Office Location</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Bill Morgan</td>
<td>402 Keenan</td>
<td>3340</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Barb Izzo</td>
<td>420 Lewis</td>
<td>3468</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chris Fillo</td>
<td>312 Carroll</td>
<td>4078</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Beth Apons</td>
<td>151 Farley</td>
<td>4298</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Student Government comments on your interest and ones that the Notre Dame students really allow Notre Dame to be the kind of special institution that it has been in the past.

Kathy Rogers

"The Beauty Is What They Did For Us"

"We left Appalachia exactly as we found it: an impoverished area rich in natural resources. What had changed, though, was us: we were not the same, sellfish, microcosmic people after the experience. The mountain folk afforded us the opportunity to explore issues beyond our own narrow scope: how many jobs offers we received or what percentage of the girls on campus are dieting for example, which is the special part of the experience. The beauty of the program is not what did we for the Appalachian people, but rather, what did they for us."

Joe Meyer '90

"Junk for Some, " Woodcut by Dean Porter

The Center for Social Concerns
Part of a new generation

Are students of the '80's really devoted only to the pursuit of pleasure and good jobs? Some would say a resounding no! The February 8, 1988 issue of Newsweek put it this way: "BMW's and the Almighty Buck are out. The new Yuppie rallying cry is volunteerism. Tired of the excesses of the Me Generation and searching for balance and compassion, young professionals are penning compassion into their appointment books." More and more college students are putting community service into their academic schedules. Here at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's many students find what they are looking for through the Center for Social Concerns. Approximately 1,500 students are doing some kind of community service or social justice activity here this year. The activities vary from visits to the elderly to writing letters on behalf of political prisoners to gasoline recycling efforts.

This generation of students is finding more and varied ways of balancing academics with service. Twenty-five years ago there was one organized service opportunity for students at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's—tutoring. Now in addition to a large and active tutoring program there are approximately thirty groups that enable students to add community service to student life. There are also programs that allow students to both learn and serve during their breaks. An increasing number of students are spending their Spring or Fall break in Appalachia or two days of their Christmas break in the inner city. A growing number of students—94 in 1989—spend eight weeks in the summer working at Summer Service Projects all over the U.S.

Just as many young professionals find volunteering more satisfying than a self-centered pursuit of success, students find involvement in service gratifying and energizing. Many students find that community service is a serious effort while they are at school, but find that it becomes a way of life. Often those same students who participate in an Urban Plunge or spend time with an elderly person while they are in school, volunteer in an inner city parish or a soup kitchen when they enter the working world. In fact, some eight percent of ND graduates choose to spend a year or more in full-time service.

All this is to say that at Notre Dame and Saint Mary's, students have the opportunity through the Center for Social Concerns for an involvement in service or social action programs which keeps them in tune with the times. They leave Notre Dame with a fine education that prepares them for the professional world and a first hand awareness of the value and importance of "pennciling compassion into their appointment books"—and more than this - integrating it into their lives.

The Center for Social Concerns is a component of the Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry of the University of Notre Dame.

1989-90

DIRECTORY OF SERVICE AND SOCIAL ACTION GROUPS

Amnesty International ND
Anti-Apartheid Network
Big Brothers/Sisters
Center for Basic Learning
Center for the Homeless
CILA
Coalition for Human Rights
Council for Fun & Learn
Council for the Retarded
Disability Rights
Environmental Action Club
FoodShare
Habitat for Humanity
Hispanic-American Org.
Logan Center
Madison Center
NAACP
ND/SMC Headstart
Neighborhood Housing Services
Neighborhood Study Program
Northern Indiana State Developmental Center
Overseas Development Network
Pax Christi
Right to Life
SAVE (Student Advocates for Volunteerism)
Women United for Justice & Peace
Women's Care Center
World Hunger Coalition
YWCA Women's Shelter

A Place Where Mind And Heart Can Come Together...

I would like students and alumni to think about the Center for Social Concerns as a kind of symbol of what we are as a University. This is a place where the mind and heart can come together, where we can take our training and our intellectual development and focus on everything in such a way as to make a difference.

We can think about the systematic and structural changes that are necessary, and at the same time, respond more instantly and spontaneously to the neighbor who comes to our door. Universities are especially able to offer structure and the Church a focus and sustained reflection about these great social problems. At the same time, there are people rubbing shoulders with the people who will be affected by their thinking. All of this together will really allow Notre Dame to be the kind of special institution that it has been in the past.

Rev. Edward A. Molloy, C.S.C.
President

From a 1988 videotape interview

The Center is a component of the Institute for Pastoral and Social Ministry of the University of Notre Dame.
Groups Enrich Students and Community

ECOLOGY
Environmental Action Club
Objective: To organize the collection of used aluminum
Needs: Volunteers to help plan for collection
Contact: James Dailey - 283-1860
ELDERLY, SERVICES TO THE Student Advocates Volunteers for the Elderly (SAVE):
Home visits:
Objective: To visit elderly people who have little contact with the outside world
Needs: Volunteers to visit about once per week for one hour
Contact: Cathi Dillon - 283-4965
Nursing Home Visits:
Objective: To visit people who are confined to a nursing home
Needs: Volunteers to visit one or two nursing home residents on a weekly basis
Contact: Leslie Astorga - 283-4204
One Time Service Projects:
Objective: To do tasks for elderly people that need to be done on an irregular basis—leaf raking, snow shoveling, etc.
Needs: Volunteers willing to be listed as needed
Contact: Cathi Dillon - 283-4965
Respite Care Program:
Objective: To relieve caregivers of elderly people in their homes on a regular or on call basis
Needs: Volunteers who would be willing to be called when needed
Contact: Leslie Astorga - 283-4204

ETHNIC CONCERNS
Hispanic-American Organization
Objective: To raise awareness and to provide services to the Hispanic community Needs: Volunteers to plan programs and to work on projects
Contact: Diana Fuentes - 283-4003
NAACP (National Assoc. for the Advancement of Colored People)
Objective: To combine the energies and talents of all to act on issues which affect minorities on campus and in society at large
Needs: Volunteers to plan and to work on projects
Contact: Joe Watson - 283-3804

HANDICAPPED, SERVICES TO THE Council for the Retarded
Saturday Recreation:
Objective: To provide activities for mentally handicapped people in the community on a regular basis
Needs: Volunteers for every Saturday morning for two hours
Contact: John VanHarken - 283-1881
Dances:
Objective: To provide a setting for social interaction for mentally handicapped people
Needs: Volunteers to participate in and plan monthly dances at Logan Center
Contact: Peggy Hoban - 283-4372
Friday Bowling:
Objective: To provide an opportunity for mentally handicapped people to get out into the community for recreation
Needs: Volunteers every Friday from 3-5 p.m. to accompany bowling party
Contact: John VanHarken - 283-1881

Logan Center Volunteers:
Objective: To provide one-to-one support to clients of Logan Center
Needs: Volunteers to work with Logan clients to be scheduled individually
Contact: Ann Logamarcino - 289-4831
Northern Indiana State Development Center
Objective: To work with mentally retarded children and adolescents who are residents of NISDC
Needs: Volunteers to work on projects and one-to-one with NISDC residents
Contact: William O'Mahony - 283-1765
HOMELESS, SERVICES TO THE Broadway Christian Parish:
Objective: To provide one meal per week on Sunday noon
Needs: Volunteers to help prepare and serve meals on Sundays
Contact: Sara Webs Philips - 289-0333
Center for the Homeless:
Overnight Volunteers:
Objective: To serve guests at the Center for the Homeless during the night
Needs: Four volunteers every night from 10 p.m. to 7 a.m.
Daytime Volunteers:
Objective: To help with the program for the Homeless during the daytime Needs: Volunteers to serve meals, take care of the desk or spend time one-to-one with residents
Volunteers to transport food:
Objective: To collect fresh food from donors and deliver to Center for the Homeless
Needs: Volunteers in morning from 8-9
No vehicle necessary
Contact: Diane Ricker - 283-3950

HUNGER CONCERNS
Foodshare:
Objective: To feed the hungry in the South Bend area with food left over from the ND dining hall
Needs: Volunteers to transport food after dinner
Contact: Vita Monteiro - 283-4376
Overseas Development Network (ODN)
Objective: To respond creatively to problems of world hunger and poverty

Members of Foodshare deliver food from dining hall to South Bend agencies.

SERVICE/SOCIAL ACTION GROUP LEADERS - 1989-90

American Red Cross
Patti Weed 5171
Jeff Ganato 3134
Matt Burke 1989
Amnesty International
Jackie Uhll 2631
John-Paul Checkett 271-0742
Mawee O'Donovan 2650
Chris Shank 2035
Vic Fahrenbach 3626
Brian Tork 2772
Tracy Swetz 287-9664
Center for Basic Learning
Frank Iigner 2535
Mike McHenry 271-8900
Greg Schechter 1517
Nicky Perry 2055
Darryl Martin 4088
Jim DeMarco 3312
Peter DeMarco 3659
Kathy Morrison 2820
Lauren Olszewski 2820
James Dailey 1860
CILA
Circle K
Coalition for Human Rights
Council for Fun 'n Learn Environmental Action Club
Foodshare
Habitat for Humanity
Hispanic American Organization
Logan Center
John VanHarken 1881
Peggy Hoban 284-4372
Joe Watson 3804
Corey Collins 1743
Denise Talotta 2535
William O'Mahony 1765
Jennifer Thoene 3725
Patty Wogan 4231
Gina Perez 3445
Jeff Long 2962
Drew Bucaenaro 1722
Kathy Polachek 2509
Michael Napierkowski 1722
Cathy Dillon 4985
Diane Ricker 3950
Steve Raymond 287-2833
Brad Wolcott 3142
Theresa Berg 1348
Kristin Komyat 3812
Meleah Potter 4229
Jackie Uhll 2631
1989 Summer Service Project participants gathered in September for liturgy and lunch with Fr. Malloy, followed by an afternoon of reflection.

SUMMER SERVICE PROJECT: FILLING THE GAP

The Summer Service Projects are eight week sessions of community service set up through Alumni Clubs all over the country. Ninety-four Notre Dame students took part this year. A tuition scholarship is awarded to each participating student. The scholarships are provided by Notre Dame Alumni Clubs and the James F. Andrews Memorial Scholarship, which is based on financial need. Every project is different. Students work in shelters for homeless soup kitchens, homes for abused children, rape crisis centers, homeless shelters, Head Start programs, camps for inner city children, etc. An Information Meeting for the 1990 SSP will be held at the Center on December 12 at 7:00 P.M. Application deadline is February 2.

POST-GRADUATE SERVICE OPPORTUNITIES

Workshops, seminars and other meetings enable seniors to consider the integration of service into their chosen careers and/or the advantages of a year of volunteer service, e.g. Peace Corps, Holy Cross Associates. Contact Mary Ann Roemer (239-5293).

SENIOR RAP UP GROUPS

Notre Dame seniors are invited to join about eight to ten of their classmates to form a senior rap up group. Approximately 125 Notre Dame and Saint Mary's seniors participate in senior rap up groups. They gather approximately once a month in a faculty or staff home where they plan and prepare a meal followed by informal discussion that focuses on the plans and concerns that students have as they approach graduation. Contact Mary Ann Roemer (239-5293).

ACADEMIC COURSES

1989-90 Community Service Commissioners

Alumni
Ray Chak 1150
Matt Conley 1150
Badin
Andrea Wong 3580
Breen-Philips
Theresa Berg 1348
Martha Clowersley 1331
Carroll
Coleman McMahon 4280
Cavanaugh
Greg Miller 1489
Dillon
Chris Poppe 1623
Farley
Kate Menahan 4042
Fisher
Joe Moreland 1872
Flanner
Barry Shulock 1474
Grace
Ralph Calco 1791
Holy Cross
Paul Annan 3174
John Kossela 3175
Howard
Laura Cottenzo 2677
Keenan
Bill Mordan 3340
Knoth
Brian Davis 3249
Knott
Lisa Mell 4387
Lewis
Barb Izzo 3468
Littman
Melinda Mason 2935
Monty
Jeff Applewhite 3632
Pophorn
Tom Valtz 3626
Pangborn
Jeff Long 2362
Pasquerilla East
Mike Boscone 2385
Pascquerilla West
Molly Boudier 4044
Penny Coyne 3829
Pasquerilla West
Stephanie Seanan 3719
Siegfried
Kelley Tullih 4821
Sion Hall
Jill Miller 4821
St. Edward's
Kevin Kennedy 1690
Tom Hassett 1690
Rob Pritchard 1717
Stanford
Greg Buttriss 2072
Walsh
Leslie McClosky 2630
Zahn
Julio de la Rosa 4334

WELCOME!

Please take some time to read about these Center programs. The Center staff and I have the privilege of being involved with students, faculty, and staff in these programs and other collaborative efforts each year. We hope you will come to know personally some of the special people and places described in this handbook. I meet many alumni of CSC involvements who stress the importance of service, social action, and experiential learning for their current work in law, business, medicine, engineering, counseling, etc. Although we are well into the academic year, there are still many opportunities available through the Center. Please stop in at the Center, explore the opportunities open to you, and propose new ideas and possibilities!

Don McNeill, C.S.C.
Director

1989-90 Center for Social Concerns

For more information, call 239-5293

ON LEARNING FROM THE PLUNGE

"The mothers stressed how lucky the Notre Dame students are to be receiving such an education, and they hoped that we would be able to contribute to society to improve the lives of others. That, for me, was the important lesson of the Urban Plunge — the realization that we are getting an education not only for ourselves, but to make a contribution to society."

This observation of a recent Urban Plunger is typical of the awareness of other students who make the Plunge. Early this year 388 students at 61 sites in 41 cities took part in the Urban Plunge — a 48-hour immersion into the kind of life most Notre Dame students have never seen. This year's Plunge will occur sometime during the week of January 6-13. Registration deadline is October 13.

The purpose of the Plunge: to experience injustice, apathy and poverty, to increase awareness of people who are working to improve these situations; and to witness and reflect. Each group was advised by a Center person regarding their expressed interest.

Working Side by Side: APPALACHIA SEMINAR

Appalachia, the region of mountains that form the spiny backbone of the Eastern United States, are alive with nature's freedom and hill peoples' song. The mountains also tell a story of poverty and struggle. Coal is king there, they say. The story of Appalachia is one of hope. That hope is carried by students from Notre Dame, who each semester break, travel to Kentucky to share their gifts, celebrate the cultural richness of Appalachia, and work side by side with people yearning for justice. To be a part of the Appalachia Seminar, contact Mike Affleck, 239-7943.

An Insider's Look: WASHINGTON SEMINAR

Over the fall break and again in the spring, 24 students from Notre Dame take an outsider's look at a first world capital in a third world city, Washington, D.C. For six very full days, you'll meet with the decision-makers in Congress, at the Pentagon and in the Church to discuss the human consequences of government policy. There is time and room enough for all points of view. There is time as well simply to visit Washington and take in a play at the Kennedy Center. The Washington Seminar — raising the issues with the people who know. For more information, contact Mike Affleck, 239-7943.

CALL TO PEACEMAKING WEEK: November 5-11

Each fall semester student organizations host a campus-wide series of events to discuss the issues surrounding our call to make peace. Through special guests, films, seminars and retreats, opportunities to explore the possibilities of a world at peace are yours. In the spring, the focus will shift to Central America in March and the Environment and the 20th Anniversary of Earth Day in April. Everyone is invited. For more information, call Mike Affleck at 239-7943.

AND MORE...

Hispanic Community Concerns (Staff): Opportunities for contact with programs serving the Hispanic community here in South Bend. Contact the Hispanic Concerns Coordinator, 239-5293.

Latin America Programs (Staff): Students study in Mexico for a semester or a year at the Universidad Iberoamerica or in the Program in Global Community of Cuernavaca.

Pictured above (left to right): Mary Ann Roemer, Coordinator: Senior/Alumni Programs; Eugene McIlroy, Associate Director; Carol Porter, Secretary; Sue Cunningham, Coordinator: Urban Plunge and Summer Service Projects; Sandy Barton, Administrative Assistant; Kathleen Maas Weigert, Faculty Liaison/Academic Coordinator; Patty Flynn, Secretary-Redeceptionist; Michael Affleck, Coordinator: Justice and Peace Programming and Education; Ardis King, Secretary; Don McNeill, C.S.C., Director; Kathy Royer, Coordinator: Service/Social Action Groups. The work of the Center is also facilitated by student managers and student assistants, by resource persons, and volunteers.
The Faculty And Center Activities

A variety of faculty-related activities is available through the Center. The FRIDAY FALL PLUNGE, sponsored talks and breakfasts, meets three or four times each semester to examine a particular theme.

The Center invites you to participate in our Social Concerns Lunches, a forum for faculty, staff, and student social and service groups to sponsor lunches which focus on issues of social concern both in our local and our global community. The sponsoring group prepares a meal and/or gives a talk which generates proceeds that are used by the group to support their service programs.

Center facilities include...
- a coffee house,
- a large multipurpose room,
- a small viewing room,
- a resource room,
- a library, and
- a refreshment room.

Contact the Center receptionist to reserve rooms for lectures, films, liturgies, meals, and other gatherings.

The analysis of their Urban Plunge experience.

Other faculty host small groups of seniors in TO PEACEMAKING (Fall semester) and PEACE WITH JUSTICE (Spring semester) weeks.

Some serve as hosts and discussion leaders for the January follow-up session for January break and the possibility of college-faculty-faculty exchanges a particular theme.

For information on issues related to world hunger and raise money for hunger relief.

Some serve as hosts and discussion leaders for the January follow-up session for January break and the possibility of college-faculty-faculty exchanges.

The Center invites you to participate in our Social Concerns Lunches, a forum for faculty, staff, and student social and service groups to sponsor lunches which focus on issues of social concern both in our local and our global community. The sponsoring group prepares a meal and/or gives a talk which generates proceeds that are used by the group to support their service programs.

Center facilities include...
- a coffee house,
- a large multipurpose room,
- a small viewing room,
- a resource room,
- a library, and
- a refreshment room.

Contact the Center receptionist to reserve rooms for lectures, films, liturgies, meals, and other gatherings.

The analysis of their Urban Plunge experience.

Other faculty host small groups of seniors in TO PEACEMAKING (Fall semester) and PEACE WITH JUSTICE (Spring semester) weeks.

Some serve as hosts and discussion leaders for the January follow-up session for January break and the possibility of college-faculty-faculty exchanges.

The Center invites you to participate in our Social Concerns Lunches, a forum for faculty, staff, and student social and service groups to sponsor lunches which focus on issues of social concern both in our local and our global community. The sponsoring group prepares a meal and/or gives a talk which generates proceeds that are used by the group to support their service programs.

Center facilities include...
- a coffee house,
- a large multipurpose room,
- a small viewing room,
- a resource room,
- a library, and
- a refreshment room.

Contact the Center receptionist to reserve rooms for lectures, films, liturgies, meals, and other gatherings.
Then, DeBerry visited Dowis in his hometown of Royston, Ga. "He can't even see over the fence," DeBerry said. "I didn't think the country could not be this small," Dowis, who wants to be a veterinarian, said. "I was told he wasn't very big," DeBerry said. "I said to myself, 'He is small.'"

But DeBerry had an instinct that Dowis could make an impact in the Falcon program. He offered him a spot on the team, perhaps the best decision DeBerry has made in his six seasons at Air Force.

"I didn't really think about playing quarterback that much," Dowis said. "I just wanted the chance to play somewhere and I got that chance. Everybody is big in relation to me. When the game gets started, you don't have time to think about it."

Dowis is giving opposing defenses plenty to think about this season. He has led the Falcons to a 6-0 start and a No. 17 ranking in the nation. Dowis averages 133.6 rushing yards per game, has scored 16 touchdowns and has passed for 369 yards.

"He can make instant decisions," Kiel said. "If he's not on the corner and outruns most people, Irish head coach Lou Holtz said. "If he's not on the money. The following season, the cadets even had Notre Dame its third straight loss of a dismal 6-5 season. The 1983 tailspin marked the first time since 1963 that the Irish couldn't reach the 500 mark in Notre Dame Stadium.

Air Force opened the game with a 4-by-naturally. The Falcons flew to a quick 10-0 lead, with a 43-yard field goal by Sean Pavlich and a two-yard TD run by John Kershaw.

On the touchdown drive, the Falcons had Dowis in the 10-yard line, but the Irish got a stop. It was the first time Dowis has faced an offensive line that could contain him. Dowis ran for 24 yards on the play. He's been held to under 100, as long as we win the game."

He is considered worthy of the Heisman Trophy. Dowis is in the perfect situation to change that. He plays quarterback. Kiel got the starting nod against Colorado State in 1982. That was the year the Irish had their first losing season in a decade. Dowis, who wants to be a veterinarian, said. "I think Dowis would say the same thing."

Dowis prefers to stay in the shadows of his team. That is becoming increasingly difficult when he is putting up Heisman-like numbers and playing the best quarterback in the country. "As far as me, I haven't changed," Dowis said. "The way we do things hasn't changed. It's just a lot busier."

"I don't like to lose. We're going out there and do our best. They can talk about the Heisman. It doesn't matter to me if I get 1 yard or 100, as long as we win the game."

IRISH OFFENSE

FLANKER
26 Argozio Small
33 Steve Fitis
TIGHT END
60 Keith Herndon
63 Frank Jones
GUARD
38 Frank Jones
55 Willard Bennett QUARTERBACK
21 Darrien Hearn
53 Joe Allen
CENTER
69 Tim German
51 Dave McCollum GUARD
86 Bob Bryan
53 Mike Jackson

IRISH DEFENSE

CORNERBACK
5 Rob Lietzke
11 Ed Riddick
TACKLE
57 Bob Young
91 David Garrett
GUARD
62 Steve Wilson
57 Steve Heinlein
CENTER
56 Paul Walski
46 Steve Brennan
INSIDE LINEBACKER
51 Doug Young
46 Brian Hill
OUTSIDE LINEBACKER
94 Kinloch Davis
81 Eric Jones

AIR FORCE OFFENSE

OFFENSE
52 Kiel in five games. Dowis played in five, rushed 24 times for 39 yards and one touchdown. The following year, he started 11 of 12 games and rushed for 1,315 yards, an NCAA rushing record for quarterbacks.

In 1984, when Air Force finished a disappointing 5-7, Dowis gained 972 yards on the ground and scored 12 touchdowns. Dowis passed for 870 yards in 1985 and set an NCAA record for most completions in a game without an interception when he was 11-for-11 against Northwestern.

But even with those impressive numbers, the critics still have a field day with Dowis. They still say he is too short, that he has not proven himself against the great teams.

Dowis is in the perfect situation to change that. He plays quarterback. Kiel got the starting nod against Colorado State in 1982. That was the year the Irish had their first losing season in a decade. Dowis, who wants to be a veterinarian, said. "I think Dowis would say the same thing."

Dowis prefers to stay in the shadows of his team. That is becoming increasingly difficult when he is putting up Heisman-like numbers and playing the best quarterback in the country. "As far as me, I haven't changed," Dowis said. "The way we do things hasn't changed. It's just a lot busier."

"I don't like to lose. We're going out there and do our best. They can talk about the Heisman. It doesn't matter to me if I get 1 yard or 100, as long as we win the game."

IRISH EXTRA

AF dominates in early '80s

By VIC LOMBARDO
Sports Writer

Remember when Air Force football ruled over Notre Dame? The Falcons swept four straight seasons from the Irish during—ahem, you guessed it—the Faust era. Those losses (1982-85) which followed a decade of Notre Dame dominance, represent the only losses in a 14-4 Irish series advantage.

Time Capsule

The Falcons were no longer serious. Realizing the Irish for the first time at Colorado Springs in 1982 gave them confidence and momentum. The following season, the cadets even had the gall to come into Notre Dame's imposing home confines and defeat Faust's squad 23-22.

Falcons defensive lineman Mike Johnson's potential game-winning touchdown field goal with four seconds left to give Notre Dame third straight loss of a dismal 6-5 season. The 1983 tailspin marked the first time since 1963 that the Irish couldn't reach the 500 mark in Notre Dame Stadium.

Air Force opened the game with a 4-by-naturally. The Falcons flew to a quick 10-0 lead, with a 43-yard field goal by Sean Pavlich and a two-yard TD run by John Kershaw.

On the touchdown drive, the Falcons had Dowis in the 10-yard line, but the Irish got a stop. It was the first time Dowis has faced an offensive line that could contain him. Dowis ran for 24 yards on the play. He's been held to under 100, as long as we win the game."

He is considered worthy of the Heisman Trophy. Dowis is in the perfect situation to change that. He plays quarterback. Kiel got the starting nod against Colorado State in 1982. That was the year the Irish had their first losing season in a decade. Dowis, who wants to be a veterinarian, said. "I think Dowis would say the same thing."

Dowis prefers to stay in the shadows of his team. That is becoming increasingly difficult Defense

The opportunity to play. But on that one particular day, in that one particular game, it was the first (and maybe the last) time the Irish defense was on the field for the first time against Georgia Tech, my father's alma-mater."

Koukkowski's adjustment from a backup role to an integral part of the Irish defense has been difficult."

"Well, to tell you the truth, the first game was pretty exciting for the first part of the first quarter. I had just come out of the tunnel and I had a good chance to shine."

"In the fourth quarter, I played a key role in stopping Leach and that helped secure the win."

---

IRISH STATS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM</th>
<th>STATISTICS</th>
<th>ND</th>
<th>RECEIVING</th>
<th>YDS</th>
<th>AVG</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>LG</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>TOTAL OFFENSE</td>
<td>1869</td>
<td>1331</td>
<td>12117</td>
<td>9.0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>123</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Yards per Play</td>
<td>5.3</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>PENALTIES YARDS</td>
<td>26241</td>
<td>19144</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FUMBLES-LOST</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>7</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>SCORING TD Ru.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>P Rt PA FG TP</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>231</td>
<td>FS</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>Mario Mathis</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>200</td>
<td>Sr.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

FALCONS STATS

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM</th>
<th>STATISTICS</th>
<th>AF</th>
<th>RECEIVING</th>
<th>YDS</th>
<th>AVG</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>LG</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>TOTAL OFFENSE</td>
<td>1869</td>
<td>1331</td>
<td>12117</td>
<td>9.0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>123</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Yards per Play</td>
<td>5.3</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>PENALTIES YARDS</td>
<td>26241</td>
<td>19144</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FUMBLES-LOST</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>7</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>SCORING TD Ru.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>P Rt PA FG TP</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>231</td>
<td>FS</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>Mario Mathis</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>200</td>
<td>Sr.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

IRISH EXTRA

Friday, October 13, 1989

Capsule

continued from page 3

end Joe Howard on a 67-yard scoring bomb. But the Irish again failed on the point-after when a Kiel to Jackson two point conversion attempt fell incomplete. That made the score 22-16, Notre Dame.

The Ground Force revved their engines in the fourth period, and quarterback Mark Leach led six plays to produce six points. The Falcons made the score 22-16 when Louthan nailed a wide-open Mike Kirby with a 49-yard touchdown pass. Leach's extra-point flew wide right as both kickers had trouble splitting the uprights. On the ensuing kickoff, Kirkor fielded the ball at his own nine-yard line, swept through a swarm of Falcon defenders and 91 yards to the endzone. Duzens of exuberant Irish fans swarmed the field in jubilation.

Game over, right?

Nep. The touchdown was called back because of a clipping penalty. And those impa­tient fans radiusing the playing field triggered a huge un­obscurability rally to boot. With their backs against the wall, the Irish were forced to regroup.

The Ground Force took the lead with an 11-play, 74-yard touchdown drive. Halfback Mike Brown (148 yards) and fullback John Kendor (184 yards) and Kendor kicked the field goal through the uprights. On the next narrow running play, Kendor tied the game with a one-yard touchdown plunge and Pavlich gave the Irish a 23-22 lead on the point-after. Notre Dame had one more shot, but the Falcons' offense marched all the way to the ball at the Air Force 14-yard line. With 28 seconds left, the Falcons fumbled the ball away and Notre Dame grabbed it with only 14 seconds left on the clock.

It was a heart-stopping victory for Coach Ken Hafley."

"This was our first win of the season and it was a huge relief."

---

Depth Charts

NOTRE DAME OFFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM</th>
<th>STATISTICS</th>
<th>ND</th>
<th>RECEIVING</th>
<th>YDS</th>
<th>AVG</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>LG</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>TOTAL OFFENSE</td>
<td>1869</td>
<td>1331</td>
<td>12117</td>
<td>9.0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>123</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Yards per Play</td>
<td>5.3</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>PENALTIES YARDS</td>
<td>26241</td>
<td>19144</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FUMBLES-LOST</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>7</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>SCORING TD Ru.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>P Rt PA FG TP</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>231</td>
<td>FS</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>Mario Mathis</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>200</td>
<td>Sr.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

---

NOTRE DAME DEFENSE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM</th>
<th>STATISTICS</th>
<th>AF</th>
<th>RECEIVING</th>
<th>YDS</th>
<th>AVG</th>
<th>TD</th>
<th>LG</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>TOTAL OFFENSE</td>
<td>1869</td>
<td>1331</td>
<td>12117</td>
<td>9.0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>123</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>Yards per Play</td>
<td>5.3</td>
<td>39</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>PENALTIES YARDS</td>
<td>26241</td>
<td>19144</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>180</td>
<td>123</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>FUMBLES-LOST</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>1</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>7</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>SCORING TD Ru.</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>P Rt PA FG TP</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td>0</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td></td>
<td>231</td>
<td>FS</td>
<td>18</td>
<td>Mario Mathis</td>
<td>6-0</td>
<td>200</td>
<td>Sr.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>
Indian cuisine in a hypnotic atmosphere

that large amounts of water will be needed to quench an inflamed mouth. The Malabar chef is careful to temper these flavors for patrons who have not had much acquaintance with this sort of food.

It is in the side dishes, however, that the cooking staff falters almost to the point of mediocrity. The basmati rice appears to be no more than dry, nearly bland, yellow safron rice. The yogurt sauce is a welcome here for extra moisture. The pita bread, called "naan," on the menu, doesn't even deserve comment. The kachumber was replaced by frozen broccoli on our night, and seemed inconsistent with the rest of the food on the gigantic plate. Yet, the potato bhaji was a blessing. Perfectly cooked potato chunks are mixed with fresh peas in a translucent piquant dressing. If there had been more bhaji, we could have done without the unremarkable rice and broccoli.

On weekends, the menu becomes a little more varied with prawn and fish dishes. The Malabar fish curry sounds and promises to be delightful, "specially selected pieces of fish marinated in spices and coconut milk and simmered over a fire."

Your best course of action at the Malabar is to engage heavily in the complimentary pa-padyams, drink some wine, and order a less expensive dish, as a higher price does not seem to be an indicator of greater quality or quantity. In addition, ask the waiters to give you a double serving of potato bhaji instead of the basmati rice. The kachumber, if you receive it, would probably be a pleasant complement for the pita bread.

Overall, the excellent service, hypnotic aura, and delightful array of unknown foods make the Malabar a welcome addition to the South Bend community. Perhaps, in a year or so, the side dishes will reach the same level of sophistication as the main courses. Until then papadams, papadams, papadams, and beware Dean Waddick, Father Griffin and company—the entire restaurant is non-smoking!

Progressive Bands Streamline Their Sounds

JASON WINSLADE

The Sugar Cubes "Here Today, Tomorrow, Next Week"

You may know plenty of American bands. You are probably aware of the British invasion. But, how about those crazy Icelandic bands? You don't know any, you say? Well, one of the hottest underground bands today hails (no pun intended) from that cold little country up north. They are the Sugar Cubes. Recently returning from a tour hypothesizing for Public Image Ltd. and New Order, the Cubes have released their second American album, "Here, Today, Tomorrow, Next Week," which features an interesting contrast, with a downplayed message beyond the regular lyrics. Through the album's title and theme, the band tries to shed the light of the future. They might even succeed.

The Mighty Lemondrops "Laughter"

"Laughter" is the fourth album by the highly influential band, The Mighty Lemondrops. This album represents a more sophisticated style. The album opens with the quick, yet melodic "At Midnight," and ends with "Laughing," that they are the Key," Bjork sings of being the Key, and the white outfits the band wears, several songs also deal with a slick, streamlined, Jenova-like future. In "Speed is the Key," Bjork sings of being the future woman, and a "space girl," and the future theme is continued in "Dear Plastic" and "Planet." Some songs can get quite confounded and muddled at times, especially in "Dream TV," in which life is a rerun, "Nail," in which Bjork denies herself an emotional biscal. "Shoot Him" is so inundated with noises and screams that one wonders why it was even included on the album. Better songs include the more upbeat "Bee." "A Day Called Zero," and "Eat the Menu," a song dealing with the theme of too much choice in life, covered by the previous album's title, "Life's Too Good." The best songs are more melodic, when Elina is the quietest and Bjork displays her extraordinary vocal talent, some times hidden by the harsh aspects of the Cubes music. "Pump" is a slower, Latin tinged song with some haunting wind instruments, combining sexual imagery with food. "Water" is an atmospheric song in which even Elina mellowes out. The best track on the album is the final one, "Planet," in which Bjork sings of "the planets, the universe, and me." The song contains an ethereal string section, which actually puts the listener in the mind of floating through space.

"Here, Today, Tomorrow, Next Week" is an enjoyable album. Once one gets through some of the confusion and shouts, some very talented musicians can be found. Excellent guitar work is present on the album, which features acoustic and electric styles along with the band's usual harsh sound. Bjork's voice can be both riveting and haunting. Elina's voice presents an interesting contrast, with a downplayed message beyond the regular lyrics. Through the album's title and theme, the band tries to shed the light of the future. They might even succeed.

The Mighty Lemondrops "Laughter"

"Laughter" is the fourth album by the highly influential band, The Mighty Lemondrops. This album represents a more sophisticated style. The album opens with the quick, yet melodic "At Midnight," and ends with "Laughing," that they are the Key," Bjork sings of being the Future Woman, and a "Space Girl," and the future theme is continued in "Dear Plastic" and "Planet." Some songs can get quite confounded and muddled at times, especially in "Dream TV," in which life is a rerun, "Nail," in which Bjork denies herself an emotional biscuit. "Shoot Him" is so inundated with noises and screams that one wonders why it was even included on the album. Better songs include the more upbeat "Bee." "A Day Called Zero," and "Eat the Menu," a song dealing with the theme of too much choice in life, covered by the previous album's title, "Life's Too Good." The best songs are more melodic, when Elina is the quietest and Bjork displays her extraordinary vocal talent, some times hidden by the harsh aspects of the Cubes music. "Pump" is a slower, Latin tinged song with some haunting wind instruments, combining sexual imagery with food. "Water" is an atmospheric song in which even Elina mellowes out. The best track on the album is the final one, "Planet," in which Bjork sings of "the planets, the universe, and me." The song contains an ethereal string section, which actually puts the listener in the mind of floating through space.

"Here, Today, Tomorrow, Next Week" is an enjoyable album. Once one gets through some of the confusion and shouts, some very talented musicians can be found. Excellent guitar work is present on the album, which features acoustic and electric styles along with the band's usual harsh sound. Bjork's voice can be both riveting and haunting. Elina's voice presents an interesting contrast, with a downplayed message beyond the regular lyrics. Through the album's title and theme, the band tries to shed the light of the future. They might even succeed.

The Mighty Lemondrops "Laughter"

"Laughter" is the fourth album by the highly influential band, The Mighty Lemondrops. This album represents a more sophisticated style. The album opens with the quick, yet melodic "At Midnight," and ends with "Laughing," that they are the Key," Bjork sings of being the Future Woman, and a "Space Girl," and the future theme is continued in "Dear Plastic" and "Planet." Some songs can get quite confounded and muddled at times, especially in "Dream TV," in which life is a rerun, "Nail," in which Bjork denies herself an emotional biscuit. "Shoot Him" is so inundated with noises and screams that one wonders why it was even included on the album. Better songs include the more upbeat "Bee." "A Day Called Zero," and "Eat the Menu," a song dealing with the theme of too much choice in life, covered by the previous album's title, "Life's Too Good." The best songs are more melodic, when Elina is the quietest and Bjork displays her extraordinary vocal talent, some times hidden by the harsh aspects of the Cubes music. "Pump" is a slower, Latin tinged song with some haunting wind instruments, combining sexual imagery with food. "Water" is an atmospheric song in which even Elina mellowes out. The best track on the album is the final one, "Planet," in which Bjork sings of "the planets, the universe, and me." The song contains an ethereal string section, which actually puts the listener in the mind of floating through space.

"Here, Today, Tomorrow, Next Week" is an enjoyable album. Once one gets through some of the confusion and shouts, some very talented musicians can be found. Excellent guitar work is present on the album, which features acoustic and electric styles along with the band's usual harsh sound. Bjork's voice can be both riveting and haunting. Elina's voice presents an interesting contrast, with a downplayed message beyond the regular lyrics. Through the album's title and theme, the band tries to shed the light of the future. They might even succeed.
A flyer that begins, “Yo! R.C.A.C. members,” has been circulating on campus. It says, “Many students in Rev. George Wiskirchen’s Intro to Jazz class have reported that they have heard Rev. Wiskirchen make derogatory comments about black music and the black race. Two attempts have already been made to resolve this problem by directly confronting Rev. Wiskirchen, as well as meeting with school authorities. However, we are not satisfied with their response to our complaint and will pursue the matter further. Any of you who have had this course and have felt that his lectures have presented black music and the black race negatively, please contact the officers of the R.C.A.C. Only with your cooperation will we be able to present a strong argument and begin to eliminate all forms of racial injustice on the Notre Dame campus.”

I’m happy to take the black students at their word when they express an interest in eliminating racial injustice at Notre Dame. But when a witch hunt ever been anything other than counter-productive? The witch hunt in Salem ended with blameless old women being hanged, after they were convicted— on the evidence given by imaginative children— of trafficking with the devil. The witch hunt that went on in the 1950s destroyed careers and shattered lives, because the law, highly imaginative Senator Joe McCarthy claimed to have evidence that the Commies had invaded the government. Now some representative

Father Robert Griffin
Letters to a Lonely God

Dear readers, comments about black music and the black race are advertising for students, black or white, willing to testify that Father Wiskirchen has been making racist remarks to his classes. In over 40 years at Notre Dame, I’ve never seen anything that looks so much like the opening manifesto of a witch hunt as the black statement printed on green paper. What a load of injustice can be dumped on this gentle priest, if imaginative students— too young to know what he’s talking about when he refers to black culture as it was 50 or 100 years ago— are enticed into disorting his lectures in a search for the in-sults.

I don’t believe for a moment that Father Wiskirchen is a racist, and I’ve known him since we were together in the seminary. He’s a comic, a comedian, and a mimic with a talent for making fun of stereotypes; but in the end, he makes sure that truth has the last word. I’ve never heard him speak derogatorily of blacks and their culture, and I don’t think he would be tolerant of any racist who made such derogatory remarks in his presence; in fact, I think he’d take their heads off. You may ask, “Were you ever in his class?” The answer is, “No, and I’ve never seen ‘The Last Temptation of Christ’ either, but I haven’t hesitated to de-fend it. I’ve never been to Med-judgey either, but I have not hesitated to attack it. What kind of fool does that make me?”

I know from teaching English how sensitive a teacher must be about stepping on black sensi-tivities. Out of deference to the feelings of his students, the teacher discussing “Huck Finn,” might rightfully refer to the black hero as “Jim,” rather than “Nigger Jim,” as he’s called in the novel. But yet, it should be remembered that he’s a runaway slave; without an Uncle Tom, he’s as gentle as a black Christ figure. Huck, the Southern white boy who knows this slave as “Nigger Jim,” makes a solemn decision to go to hell rather than send him back to slavery. You could rewrite the text, but why would you want to? Maybe black peo-ple don’t need lessons in how Whitey has treated the blacks, but the white students right here at Notre Dame need them as the saying goes, “Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it.”

What happens in a literature class can happen to minorities in a music class. If Father George’s fault has been pointing out things that parallel the black student as “Nigger Jim,” instead of keeping to plain “Jim,” do you really want to start a witch hunt to stop him? I will not tell blacks that they are “too good” to instigate a witch hunt to search out big-otry. I will tell them that they are too powerful as a minority group to be comfortable about carrying witch hunts when they feel offended. The spectacle of a witch hunt directed against a teacher could come back to haunt blacks, unless their in-tention is to traumatize the faculty with an exhibition of Black Power.

Other minorities, you can, see, can complain to their heart’s content about stepping on black sensivities. Out of deference to the feelings of his students, the teacher discussing “Huck Finn,” might rightfully refer to the black hero as “Jim,” rather than “Nigger Jim,” as he’s called in the novel. But yet, it should be remembered that he’s a runaway slave; without an Uncle Tom, he’s as gentle as a black Christ figure. Huck, the Southern white boy who knows this slave as “Nigger Jim,” makes a solemn decision to go to hell rather than send him back to slavery. You could rewrite the text, but why would you want to? Maybe black people don’t need lessons in how Whitey has treated the blacks, but the white students right here at Notre Dame need them as the saying goes, “Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it.”

What happens in a literature class can happen to minorities in a music class. If Father George’s fault has been pointing out things that parallel the black student as “Nigger Jim,” instead of keeping to plain “Jim,” do you really want to start a witch hunt to stop him? I will not tell blacks that they are “too good” to instigate a witch hunt to search out bigotry. I will tell them that they are too powerful as a minority group to be comfortable about carrying witch hunts when they feel offended. The spectacle of a witch hunt directed against a teacher could come back to haunt blacks, unless their intention is to traumatize the faculty with an exhibition of Black Power.

Other minorities, you see, can, see, can complain to their heart’s content about stepping on black sensivities. Out of deference to the feelings of his students, the teacher discussing “Huck Finn,” might rightfully refer to the black hero as “Jim,” rather than “Nigger Jim,” as he’s called in the novel. But yet, it should be remembered that he’s a runaway slave; without an Uncle Tom, he’s as gentle as a black Christ figure. Huck, the Southern white boy who knows this slave as “Nigger Jim,” makes a solemn decision to go to hell rather than send him back to slavery. You could rewrite the text, but why would you want to? Maybe black people don’t need lessons in how Whitey has treated the blacks, but the white students right here at Notre Dame need them as the saying goes, “Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it.”

What happens in a literature class can happen to minorities in a music class. If Father George’s fault has been pointing out things that parallel the black student as “Nigger Jim,” instead of keeping to plain “Jim,” do you really want to start a witch hunt to stop him? I will not tell blacks that they are “too good” to instigate a witch hunt to search out bigotry. I will tell them that they are too powerful as a minority group to be comfortable about carrying witch hunts when they feel offended. The spectacle of a witch hunt directed against a teacher could come back to haunt blacks, unless their intention is to traumatize the faculty with an exhibition of Black Power.

Other minorities, you see, can, see, can complain to their heart’s content about stepping on black sensivities. Out of deference to the feelings of his students, the teacher discussing “Huck Finn,” might rightfully refer to the black hero as “Jim,” rather than “Nigger Jim,” as he’s called in the novel. But yet, it should be remembered that he’s a runaway slave; without an Uncle Tom, he’s as gentle as a black Christ figure. Huck, the Southern white boy who knows this slave as “Nigger Jim,” makes a solemn decision to go to hell rather than send him back to slavery. You could rewrite the text, but why would you want to? Maybe black people don’t need lessons in how Whitey has treated the blacks, but the white students right here at Notre Dame need them as the saying goes, “Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it.”

What happens in a literature class can happen to minorities in a music class. If Father George’s fault has been pointing out things that parallel the black student as “Nigger Jim,” instead of keeping to plain “Jim,” do you really want to start a witch hunt to stop him? I will not tell blacks that they are “too good” to instigate a witch hunt to search out bigotry. I will tell them that they are too powerful as a minority group to be comfortable about carrying witch hunts when they feel offended. The spectacle of a witch hunt directed against a teacher could come back to haunt blacks, unless their intention is to traumatize the faculty with an exhibition of Black Power.

Other minorities, you see, can, see, can complain to their heart’s content about stepping on black sensivities. Out of deference to the feelings of his students, the teacher discussing “Huck Finn,” might rightfully refer to the black hero as “Jim,” rather than “Nigger Jim,” as he’s called in the novel. But yet, it should be remembered that he’s a runaway slave; without an Uncle Tom, he’s as gentle as a black Christ figure. Huck, the Southern white boy who knows this slave as “Nigger Jim,” makes a solemn decision to go to hell rather than send him back to slavery. You could rewrite the text, but why would you want to? Maybe black people don’t need lessons in how Whitey has treated the blacks, but the white students right here at Notre Dame need them as the saying goes, “Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it.”

What happens in a literature class can happen to minorities in a music class. If Father George’s fault has been pointing out things that parallel the black student as “Nigger Jim,” instead of keeping to plain “Jim,” do you really want to start a witch hunt to stop him? I will not tell blacks that they are “too good” to instigate a witch hunt to search out bigotry. I will tell them that they are too powerful as a minority group to be comfortable about carrying witch hunts when they feel offended. The spectacle of a witch hunt directed against a teacher could come back to haunt blacks, unless their intention is to traumatize the faculty with an exhibition of Black Power.

Other minorities, you see, can, see, can complain to their heart’s content about stepping on black sensivities. Out of deference to the feelings of his students, the teacher discussing “Huck Finn,” might rightfully refer to the black hero as “Jim,” rather than “Nigger Jim,” as he’s called in the novel. But yet, it should be remembered that he’s a runaway slave; without an Uncle Tom, he’s as gentle as a black Christ figure. Huck, the Southern white boy who knows this slave as “Nigger Jim,” makes a solemn decision to go to hell rather than send him back to slavery. You could rewrite the text, but why would you want to? Maybe black people don’t need lessons in how Whitey has treated the blacks, but the white students right here at Notre Dame need them as the saying goes, “Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it.”

What happens in a literature class can happen to minorities in a music class. If Father George’s fault has been pointing out things that parallel the black student as “Nigger Jim,” instead of keeping to plain “Jim,” do you really want to start a witch hunt to stop him? I will not tell blacks that they are “too good” to instigate a witch hunt to search out bigotry. I will tell them that they are too powerful as a minority group to be comfortable about carrying witch hunts when they feel offended. The spectacle of a witch hunt directed against a teacher could come back to haunt blacks, unless their intention is to traumatize the faculty with an exhibition of Black Power.

Other minorities, you see, can, see, can complain to their heart’s content about stepping on black sensivities. Out of deference to the feelings of his students, the teacher discussing “Huck Finn,” might rightfully refer to the black hero as “Jim,” rather than “Nigger Jim,” as he’s called in the novel. But yet, it should be remembered that he’s a runaway slave; without an Uncle Tom, he’s as gentle as a black Christ figure. Huck, the Southern white boy who knows this slave as “Nigger Jim,” makes a solemn decision to go to hell rather than send him back to slavery. You could rewrite the text, but why would you want to? Maybe black people don’t need lessons in how Whitey has treated the blacks, but the white students right here at Notre Dame need them as the saying goes, “Those who ignore history are doomed to repeat it.”

What happens in a literature class can happen to minorities in a music class. If Father George’s fault has been pointing out things that parallel the black student as “Nigger Jim,” instead of keeping to plain “Jim,” do you really want to start a witch hunt to stop him? I will not tell blacks that they are “too good” to instigate a witch hunt to search out bigotry. I will tell them that they are too powerful as a minority group to be comfortable about carrying witch hunts when they feel offended. The spectacle of a witch hunt directed against a teacher could come back to haunt blacks, unless their intention is to traumatize the faculty with an exhibition of Black Power.
LOST: A BLUE NOTRE DAME POUCH-containing IMPORTANT INFORMATION - IDENTIFICATION-NOTHING ELSE. REWARD FOR RETURN W/ NO QUESTIONS ASKED. CALL: 272-8837, FOR ASK-REWARD.

LOST: Silver coin bracelet. Lost somewhere around 8-00 $11.00 covering contains. Call 279-6625 or evenings at 277-7012.

LOST: THE FACE PART OF A DOLL. I feel the hand. You found it, you know what I'm talking about. For your help. Call Mike at 287-3019.

LOST: A REFUND IS OFFERED TO ANYONE WHO FOUND MY BLUE GHURKA LEATHER BAG. CALLER (MAYBE IN NH) TELL ME WHAT YOU FOUND AND I'LL SEND YOU THE TRUE OWNER AND IT WILL BE DELIVERED TO YOUR DOOR. SMALL SENTIMENTAL REASONS. PLEASE SEE ME AT TCHAIKOVSKY. I CAN IDENTIFY IT. MY BLUE GHURKA LEATHER BAG. It was taken from the former Block on the 2nd and 3rd floor. I have much personal value to me. PLEASE RETURN ASK ME WHAT YOU FOUND AND ASK-REWARD-GIVE YOUR INFORMATION BACK TO ME. My name is Ted Stickel. Call 272-8837.

FOUND: 3 keys on a wooden black key chain at no千元 On Au 9. They on the keys are black and silver.

WANTED: 1 Keen x2093. Please call. Any information on where I can find please call.

WANTED: Coffee maker in good working order. $20.00. Please call Bridge at 2547.

Auto Reverse Boom Box: $75; Mac COLLECT (509) 325-0519.

Big Rich Uncle Needs 1 USC-GA for $3000. Please call Scott @ 272-2596.

WANTED: 1 KEEN x2093. Please call. Any information on where I can find please call.

WANTED: POT. Please call 287-8832.

WANTED: 1 KEEN x2093. Please call. Any information on where I can find please call.

WANTED: BIG FRENZIED ALUMS $ CALL MARK-271-8860

WANTED: 1 KEEN x2093. Please call. Any information on where I can find please call.

Classifieds

Class continued from page 13

TICKET TO SELL PLEASE CALL LISA 4937

USC and NAVY

I have 2 GA s for both Pitt and USC. Let's deal some $$ now Call Colin at x3924

I need 3 tickets

UND vs PITT

Call K. Sherry 232-2231

NEED 5 SMU GAS TIX 271-8761

USC Tickets Needed

3 days. Will pay

Call John at 270-2005

I had two student tickets to this USC game. Call Martha at x3171

---

DEPENDING IN NEED OF 3 USC TIX OR AS MANY AS I WOULD LIKE TO SELL. MONEY NO PROBLEM. CALL CAPS AT 271-5691

Help 2 NOGA (graffing from Houston) Need 2 USC (GA or student) Will be Calling Carlos or Eric (713) 886-3026

NEED NAVY TIX HAVE SMU FOR SALE X2882-1000

I need 4 NAVY GA's.

PLEASE CALL KARIN x1211

I need 2 or 3 USC GA's

TRACY X2813

I need 4 USC

2 TIX NOW $195

STEVE #1400

We need student tickets and 2 Navy GA's. Please call Brian or Matt at 270-1698

I NEED 4 MAMAS 2 PITT GAS. I HAVE $99 call Jeff at x3925

Have USC & Pit tickets. Best offer Call Chris @ x3727

Have USC & Pit $6 tickets. Call Tim 4180

I need to US

Call Matt #1746

-----

PITTSBURGH HOMECOMING

USC and Pitt students: Make an offer to buy USC GA's. They'll buy any two GA's for any game. Especially for USC $$

284-5227 Patty

---

NEED 6 SMU GA'S

Reasonable $$

USC$$

I NEED YOU, YOU NEED ME II

Irish look to extend 7-game streak

By DAVID DIETEMAN
Sports Writer

After rattling off a record streak of seven consecutive victories, the Notre Dame women's soccer team looks to continue its winning ways when it takes on Alma College at 5 p.m. Friday at Moose Krause Stadium.

Having just defeated Tri-State and Indiana University at South Bend, the Irish 9-6, plan to "keep up the winning streak and the hard work," said senior co-captain Joy Sisolak. "We've been working well together, and we've noticed more skills on our team, which gives us a lot more to work with."

Head coach Dennis Grace has attributed the team's recent successful play to their unwillingness to give up after the season started disappointingly. "We need to keep our positive mental attitude, and things will fall into place," said Grace. "Our schedule was tough early in the season, but we showed poise and kept our heads together. Many teams that started the season by going 2-6 would have quit, but these girls never gave up. Things look pretty good right now."

That they do. After breaking seven records and tying three others in a 17-0 rout of the Tri-State Women of Troy, on Tuesday, the Notre Dame women broke yet another record on Thursday night, beating IUSB 5-0 for their seventh consecutive win.

The Irish can boast of a mighty offense, bolstered by a dominating midfield that has a penchant for controlling play. Senior co-captains K.T. Sullivan and Joy Sisolak, along with juniors Bernie Holland and Mimi Suba and sophomore Stacie Zehitis pose a constant scoring threat.

Meanwhile, the stingy defensive corps of Marta Roemer, Molly Lennon and Kelly Hanratty will do its part to keep opposing players far away from goalkeepers Michelle Lordyga and Cara Lewis.

"A big key for us is our tough work ethic," said Grace.

Irish golfers make trip to Buckeye Invitational

By MIKE KAMRADT
Sports Writer

Fresh off its second consecutive Midwestern Collegiate Conference championship, the Notre Dame golf team will travel to Ohio State this weekend for the Buckeye Invitational.

The competition at the Scarlet Course will likely include teams from Army and Mississippi, as well as most of the Big Ten and the Mid-America Conference.

"This is as tough as we face," said fifth-year senior Pat Mohan, referring to the level of competition.

Notre Dame last competed at the Scarlet Course was last spring in the Kepler Intercollegiates. In that tournament, the Irish were surprisingly as high as third place after the first two rounds.

The Irish did not have a good third round and finished seventh in the Kepler tournament. The Scarlet Course itself probably had something to do with Notre Dame's tough third round. The course plays about 7,000 yards and is tight in the fairways with a lot of woods. Mix in a few water holes, and it could make for a rough round if a golfer is not on top of his game.

"This is one of the toughest courses we play," said Mohan. The Irish will use the same five golfers this weekend that they used in the MCC championship. Mohan leads the group that also includes freshmen Joe Donnen and Dave Rignier, junior Paul Nolta and sophomore Mike O'Connell.

The Irish played consistent golf last Monday and Tuesday at the MCC championships, with the five golfers finishing only six strokes apart for the tournament. Notre Dame's success this weekend hinges on the fact that all the golfers keep up that same consistent play.

"Our fourth and fifth men have been playing well," said Mohan. "That's important because then we don't have to rely on real low scores from the top guys."

HAPPY 20th BIRTHDAY DOGGIE!!!!

THE AREAS LARGEST SELECTION OF CDS ALL ON SALE NOW THRU SUNDAY

$10.99/$6.99 TAPE

SUSAN "you're my friend" MORIARITY

Happy 21st!! Love, The Oliver North Fan Club

"Bye, Bye"
By BOB MITCHELL
Sports Writer

If you want to be the best, you have to play the best. This motto has been the philosophy of Notre Dame men's tennis coach Bob Bayliss since he took over the controls of this aspiring program in the summer of 1987. Bayliss has scheduled his teams against the top collegiate powers in the country for two years, and this weekend will be no exception.

Bayliss is sending six of his players to the most prestigious fall event in collegiate tennis—the Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Championships in Athens, Ga.

The Irish players traveling include four freshmen, along with the team's top-seeded singles player Dave DiLucia and second-seeded Walter Dolhare.

Dolhare and the four freshmen—Chuck Coleman, Mark Schmidt, Ronny Rossass and Andy Zurker—will take off for Georgia Friday in order to participate in the Pre-Qualifier and Qualifier events.

They will compete with 126 of the best collegiate players for four open berths to participate in the main draw, scheduled for Oct. 19-22 at the University of Georgia's famed Henry Field Stadium.

"The idea is to expose them to the highest level of competition possible," said Bayliss.

"We will do well with them in the next few years and I hope that by surrounding them with the best players in collegiate tennis, playing USC will be big no deal. I am telling them to just keep it basic and execute the things in practice."

Notre Dame will face USC in an exhibition match Oct. 20 at the Ecker Tennis Pavilion.

Notre Dame's 1989 recruiting class is by far the best in school history and is one of the top three in all of collegiate tennis, with only Duke and Stanford boasting better classes. The Irish freshman class consists of seven nationally-ranked players from the 18-and-under age category.

"I don't know anyone that had a better class," said Bayliss. "Depth-wise, I think our class was the best. They are high-level national players. I am pretty excited about them."

DiLucia, who is ranked No. 26 in the preseason Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Rankings, has been selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association to play in the event as an at-large entry. DiLucia was one of 27 players who were awarded this type of bid.

ND tennis going against the best
Bayliss sends 4 freshmen, 2 veterans to prestigious Volvos

"The idea is to expose them to the highest level of competition possible," said Bayliss. "We will do well with them in the next few years and I hope that by surrounding them with the best players in collegiate tennis, playing USC will be big no deal. I am telling them to just keep it basic and execute the things in practice."

Notre Dame will face USC in an exhibition match Oct. 20 at the Ecker Tennis Pavilion.

Notre Dame's 1989 recruiting class is by far the best in school history and is one of the top three in all of collegiate tennis, with only Duke and Stanford boasting better classes. The Irish freshman class consists of seven nationally-ranked players from the 18-and-under age category.

"I don't know anyone that had a better class," said Bayliss. "Depth-wise, I think our class was the best. They are high-level national players. I am pretty excited about them."

DiLucia, who is ranked No. 26 in the preseason Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Rankings, has been selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association to play in the event as an at-large entry. DiLucia was one of 27 players who were awarded this type of bid.

"The idea is to expose them to the highest level of competition possible," said Bayliss. "We will do well with them in the next few years and I hope that by surrounding them with the best players in collegiate tennis, playing USC will be big no deal. I am telling them to just keep it basic and execute the things in practice."

Notre Dame will face USC in an exhibition match Oct. 20 at the Ecker Tennis Pavilion.

Notre Dame's 1989 recruiting class is by far the best in school history and is one of the top three in all of collegiate tennis, with only Duke and Stanford boasting better classes. The Irish freshman class consists of seven nationally-ranked players from the 18-and-under age category.

"I don't know anyone that had a better class," said Bayliss. "Depth-wise, I think our class was the best. They are high-level national players. I am pretty excited about them."

DiLucia, who is ranked No. 26 in the preseason Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Rankings, has been selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association to play in the event as an at-large entry. DiLucia was one of 27 players who were awarded this type of bid.

"The idea is to expose them to the highest level of competition possible," said Bayliss. "We will do well with them in the next few years and I hope that by surrounding them with the best players in collegiate tennis, playing USC will be big no deal. I am telling them to just keep it basic and execute the things in practice."

Notre Dame will face USC in an exhibition match Oct. 20 at the Ecker Tennis Pavilion.

Notre Dame's 1989 recruiting class is by far the best in school history and is one of the top three in all of collegiate tennis, with only Duke and Stanford boasting better classes. The Irish freshman class consists of seven nationally-ranked players from the 18-and-under age category.

"I don't know anyone that had a better class," said Bayliss. "Depth-wise, I think our class was the best. They are high-level national players. I am pretty excited about them."

DiLucia, who is ranked No. 26 in the preseason Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Rankings, has been selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association to play in the event as an at-large entry. DiLucia was one of 27 players who were awarded this type of bid.

"The idea is to expose them to the highest level of competition possible," said Bayliss. "We will do well with them in the next few years and I hope that by surrounding them with the best players in collegiate tennis, playing USC will be big no deal. I am telling them to just keep it basic and execute the things in practice."

Notre Dame will face USC in an exhibition match Oct. 20 at the Ecker Tennis Pavilion.

Notre Dame's 1989 recruiting class is by far the best in school history and is one of the top three in all of collegiate tennis, with only Duke and Stanford boasting better classes. The Irish freshman class consists of seven nationally-ranked players from the 18-and-under age category.

"I don't know anyone that had a better class," said Bayliss. "Depth-wise, I think our class was the best. They are high-level national players. I am pretty excited about them."

DiLucia, who is ranked No. 26 in the preseason Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Rankings, has been selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association to play in the event as an at-large entry. DiLucia was one of 27 players who were awarded this type of bid.

"The idea is to expose them to the highest level of competition possible," said Bayliss. "We will do well with them in the next few years and I hope that by surrounding them with the best players in collegiate tennis, playing USC will be big no deal. I am telling them to just keep it basic and execute the things in practice."

Notre Dame will face USC in an exhibition match Oct. 20 at the Ecker Tennis Pavilion.

Notre Dame's 1989 recruiting class is by far the best in school history and is one of the top three in all of collegiate tennis, with only Duke and Stanford boasting better classes. The Irish freshman class consists of seven nationally-ranked players from the 18-and-under age category.

"I don't know anyone that had a better class," said Bayliss. "Depth-wise, I think our class was the best. They are high-level national players. I am pretty excited about them."

DiLucia, who is ranked No. 26 in the preseason Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Rankings, has been selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association to play in the event as an at-large entry. DiLucia was one of 27 players who were awarded this type of bid.

"The idea is to expose them to the highest level of competition possible," said Bayliss. "We will do well with them in the next few years and I hope that by surrounding them with the best players in collegiate tennis, playing USC will be big no deal. I am telling them to just keep it basic and execute the things in practice."

Notre Dame will face USC in an exhibition match Oct. 20 at the Ecker Tennis Pavilion.

Notre Dame's 1989 recruiting class is by far the best in school history and is one of the top three in all of collegiate tennis, with only Duke and Stanford boasting better classes. The Irish freshman class consists of seven nationally-ranked players from the 18-and-under age category.

"I don't know anyone that had a better class," said Bayliss. "Depth-wise, I think our class was the best. They are high-level national players. I am pretty excited about them."

DiLucia, who is ranked No. 26 in the preseason Volvo Tennis/Collegiate Rankings, has been selected by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association to play in the event as an at-large entry. DiLucia was one of 27 players who were awarded this type of bid.
 Giants, A’s make final preparations for Series

Mitchell back after missing one practice

Associated Press

SAN FRANCISCO — Kevin Mitchell showed up at the Giants’ workout Thursday, admitting he deserved a fine for missing Wednesday’s practice but saying the matter was overblown.

Mitchell said he planned to apologize to his teammates for the “misunderstanding,” which attracted considerable attention as San Francisco prepares for its first World Series since 1962.

“I was wrong — I missed practice,” Mitchell said. “It’s no big deal. ’I’ve got to pay a fine, and the case is closed.”

The Giants’ left fielder, who led the major leagues with 47 home runs, was disconcerted by the heavy publicity his absence created.

“I’ve been to this, all this,” he said, gesturing to the crowd of about 100 reporters and photographers surrounding him at a press conference inside Candlestick Park.

“I tell you, I can’t even walk around without something wrong,” he said. “I’ve been to the World Series before, but I’ve never seen this.”

Mitchell was the big news at the Giants’ workout. But there was more: Manager Roger Craig named Candy Maldonado his starting right fielder for Game 1 Saturday night in Oakland.

Maldonado, who hit only .217 with nine homers this season, drew a key walk in the game-losing rally in Game 5 against the Chicago Cubs on Monday.

“He had a hell of an at-bat that day,” Craig said. “He’s like a little kid who got a hunch.”

That conflicted with what hitting coach Dusty Baker had told reporters Wednesday. Baker said he told Mitchell about the workout Tuesday night.

But the Giants’ management said the issue was settled satisfactorily. General Manager Al Rosen and Craig met with Mitchell Wednesday morning to inform him of the fine.

“He’s a little kid who got caught in a cookie jar,” said Craig, who was visibly angry about the incident a day earlier. “He’s being punished, and it’s over with.”

The issue arose when Toronto manager Cito Gaston had Eckersley checked for a foreign substance during the ninth inning of Game 5 of the AL playoffs on Sunday.

“Hopefully nobody’s going to catch you — I promise you that.”

Oakland Athletics third baseman Carney Lansford makes an off-balance throw during infield practice this week at Oakland. Lansford, who was injured in the American League playoffs, said he should be ready for all of the Series, which begins Saturday at Oakland.

Canseco not taking things too seriously

Associated Press

OAKLAND, Calif. — Whether the Oakland Athletics win or lose the World Series, Jose Canseco isn’t going to let what others say get to him.

Last season, the A’s won the West division by 13 games and swept the Boston Red Sox for the American League pennant.

Canseco led the way, becoming the first major leaguer ever to hit 40 homers and steal 40 bases in one season. Both Canseco and the A’s seemed invincible.

In Game 1 of the World Series against Los Angeles, Canseco hit a grand slam in the second inning at Dodger Stadium to give the A’s a 4-2 lead. Oakland went on to lose the game and the Series in five games.

After his slam, Canseco went 0-for-19.

“Anybody who says I lost that World Series doesn’t know what they’re talking about,” Canseco said.

Canseco was voted unanimously the AL’s Most Valuable Player but the post-season failure followed him all winter. On March 7 in spring training, Canseco broke a bone in his left hand and reinjured the hand on March 22.

Canseco missed 88 games, but that wasn’t his biggest problem.

There were brushes with the law over speeding, improper vehicle papers and gun possession violations.

“People would stop me and ask what happened in the World Series,” Canseco said. “What could I say? This year could have broke me, but it taught me a lot. Everything in my life has happened for a reason.”

AP Photo

10:00-1:00

ZETO AND THE HEAT-ONS

Co-sponsored by Bacchus

Ladies of ND, Be Sure to Visit

VIC DeFRANCIS

(Little Man On Campus)

a

Happy 20th Birthday

Today!

*Vic: Paybacks are hell * negatives exist.

Have a great one -

Your Roomies
The Observer
Friday, October 13, 1989

ND swim teams set to tackle tougher, longer schedule

By MARY GARINO
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame men's and women's swimming teams are looking to make a splash this season with a Midwestern Collegiate Conference meet at the Rolfs Aquatic Center.

The MCC Dual Meet this weekend, a new competition that Welsh is hoping will become an annual event, is the first step on a long road for both Irish squads. The season continues until March, and includes races against strong teams like Bowling Green and Northwestern.

Duke and North Carolina State have also been added to the schedule, in addition to the traditional Irish opponents.

"The good news for us is that we think the team is strong enough to handle the challenges of the schedule," said Welsh, who took over as Irish coach four years ago. "We think that we have a stronger and faster team than last year.

"The men's team will be trying to improve on last season's 6-3 record, while the women hope to better their 6-6 mark. Despite the quality of the graduated seniors, Welsh thinks that both teams can rise to the occasion and produce winning seasons.

"We have some very solid returning people," the coach noted.

On the men's side, Welsh pointed to the junior trio of Jim Byrne, Paul Goffrey and Brian Hilli as the core of the team. Between them, they hold six school records in individual events. Captains Tom Penn and Mark Lowery also are expected to contribute.

The strength of the women's team also lies in the junior class. University record holders Christy Moston and Becky Wood will be hoping to repeat their performances of last year, while Amy Tri and Tracie O'Connell also should add to the Irish effort.

Mary Arampora and Erin Tierney, the captains for the Irish, will add leadership to the squad.

"We have some good leadership on the team," Welsh said.

"The combination of the junior and senior classes is a strong, dependable group."

ND women's basketball will begin tryouts at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, in Angela Athletic Facility. Anyone interested may attend.

ND women's basketball will begin tryouts at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, in the Joyce ACC main arena.

Bengal Bouts novice tournament will be 4:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 13. There will be 15 bouts.

ND basketball ticket sales begin Monday, Oct. 30. Prices are $55 for arena seats for 11 home games and $44 for bleacher seats. The schedule: Seniors on Monday, Oct. 30; Juniors on Tuesday, Oct. 31; Sophomores, grad and law students on Wednesday, Nov. 1; and Freshmen on Thursday, Nov. 2. Applications will be sent to all students.

S M C varsity basketball will begin 6 to 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, in Angela Athletic Facility. Anyone interested may attend.

CINEMA AT THE SNITE

"NEW YORK STORIES" IS A MUST!

Three unique stories in one very special motion picture event.

ND basketball ticket sales begin Monday, Oct. 30. Prices are $55 for arena seats for 11 home games and $44 for bleacher seats. The schedule: Seniors on Monday, Oct. 30; Juniors on Tuesday, Oct. 31; Sophomores, grad and law students on Wednesday, Nov. 1; and Freshmen on Thursday, Nov. 2. Applications will be sent to all students.

S M C varsity basketball will begin 6 to 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, in Angela Athletic Facility. Anyone interested may attend.

SPORTS BRIEFS

ND women's basketball will begin tryouts at 6 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, in the Joyce ACC main arena.

Bengal Bouts novice tournament will be 4:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 13. There will be 15 bouts.

ND basketball ticket sales begin Monday, Oct. 30. Prices are $55 for arena seats for 11 home games and $44 for bleacher seats. The schedule: Seniors on Monday, Oct. 30; Juniors on Tuesday, Oct. 31; Sophomores, grad and law students on Wednesday, Nov. 1; and Freshmen on Thursday, Nov. 2. Applications will be sent to all students.

S M C varsity basketball will begin 6 to 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, in Angela Athletic Facility. Anyone interested may attend.

Notre Dame Communication and Theatre

"NEW YORK STORIES" IS A MUST!

Three unique stories in one very special motion picture event.

ND basketball ticket sales begin Monday, Oct. 30. Prices are $55 for arena seats for 11 home games and $44 for bleacher seats. The schedule: Seniors on Monday, Oct. 30; Juniors on Tuesday, Oct. 31; Sophomores, grad and law students on Wednesday, Nov. 1; and Freshmen on Thursday, Nov. 2. Applications will be sent to all students.

S M C varsity basketball will begin 6 to 8 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 15, in Angela Athletic Facility. Anyone interested may attend.

Friday 9 - 2

The Club thirsty 3rd Live...

Calcutta Rain

Don't forget Lunch Noon-2 (NOW) Closed Saturday 14th...Sorry
Lecture Circuit

Sunday
2 p.m. Nathaniel Angel will speak on "Racism in Corporate America" in the Notre Dame Room of LaFortune.

CAMPUS EVENTS

Friday
5 p.m. Women's soccer vs. Alma.
6:30 p.m. "Reflections on China" dinner with Father Theodore Hesburgh, North Dining Hall, Blue Room.
7:30 p.m. Volleyball vs. Illinois State.
7:30 & 9:30 p.m. Film, "New York Stories," Annenberg.
8:10 p.m. "Tartuffe," Washington Hall.

Saturday
Noon Swim meet, Rolfs Aquatic Center.
5 p.m. SMC Soccer vs. Calvin College.
7:30 p.m. Volleyball vs. University of Texas.

Sunday
2 p.m. Piano Recital by David Burge, Annenberg.
3:10 p.m. "Tartuffe," Washington Hall.

Notre Dame
Top Round of Beef
Baked Sole
Cheese Enchiladas
Chili Nachos

Saint Mary's
Baked Halibut
Chicken Enchiladas
Chili Nachos
Deli Bar

Menus

CROSSWORD

ACROSS
1. Stroke of luck
2. Rotten
3. King tippers
4. Swift
5. —— Journey to Antarctica
Pyne
6. Speak of dust
7. With sarcasm
8. Comedian King
9. Turtles
10. Stained

S E A L T H A T H I S- 10:10 PM HELLRAISER 2:30 A.M
THE OMEN THE SHINING 12:20 AM
10:10 PM SCREAM 2:30 AM
All movies in Cushing Auditorium
Co-sponsored by SUB and BACCHUS
National champs visit Joyce ACC
ND volleyball hosting Ill. State, defending titleholder Texas

By GREG SCHECKENBACH
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame volleyball team will continue its homestand against Illinois State tonight and defending national champion Texas on Saturday.

Both matches are scheduled for 7:30 p.m. at the Joyce ACC. Currently, the Irish are 2-0 in their five-match home stretch with victories over Northern Illinois and Eastern Michigan. One win for Notre Dame, compounded a disappointing 5-9 record.

Illinois State comes to the Joyce ACC with an impressive 16-7 record and what Irish coach Art Lambert says is an outstanding team.

They return knowing their way around the court," said Lambert. "They are well coached and very patient, which means that we are expecting long rallies.

The key to victory for Notre Dame is ball control. If the Irish can keep from making passing errors and continue to pressure on the opponents, Lambert believes his team's talent should lift the Irish over a team that has had a lucky streak in their long rallies.

This is one of those situations where we need to step up and play our best," said Lambert. "Every individual must help somewhere for us to compete.

The starting squad will remain intact for the Irish this weekend as they host Illinois State and Texas. The Lady Longhorns, last year's national champions, boast a 12-5 record so far this season.

Alicia Turner

"We can win if we have team play," said Lambert. "Every individual must help somewhere for us to compete."

The starting squad will remain intact for the Irish this weekend. Freshmen Alicia Turner and Jessica Fiebeking will try to continue their mur­derous ways. They are currently ranked first and second in kills for Notre Dame with 183 and 153, respectively.

Senior setter Taryn Collins will try to add to her school-record career assist total. Junior sparkplug Tracy Shelton will try to match her career-high 27 kills recorded last weekend. Chris Chouquette and Kathy Cunningham also will contribute to the Irish attack.

Green's attitude the same in NFL

Mark Green, Notre Dame's ebullient tri­capitain for the 1988 national championship team, now is trying to help a team with similar goals, similar national attention and a singular purpose—to reach the top of the football world again.

But playing football in the pros is different from the college ranks, even more so because Green is now a member of the legendary Chicago Bears.

Theresa Kelly
Sports Editor

It's the stuff that football dreams are made of. How could a small, but nonetheless tal­ented halfback make the rough-and-tumble Bears? "What really helped me was my ability to play special teams," Green says. "That was very important. I can do more for them than carry the ball. I can run both kickoff and punt returns, and that's the advantage I have over some players.

The versatile Green could have played linebacker or defensive back during his Notre Dame career, had he not settled in at tail­back, leading a backfield that included such standouts as current tri­capitain Anthony Johnson and rushing leader Tony Brooks.

He is one of those guys you like to see suc­ceed. He was a team leader by attitude as well as by example last season, his biggest upbeat nature rubbing off on his teammates.

The transition, for Green, was a move to a higher level of all-around play. Even at its ul­timate best, college ball doesn't match up. "The main difference I see is that the game is speeded up a notch," Green says. "The guys are all faster, and they seem bigger."

I remember once you left high school, college ball was speeded up, and the pros take it to another ­level entirely.

Green has continued the Irish tradition of producing excellent returners, seeing time primarily on special teams. Mike Ditka's Bears are doing their best to make Chicago forget baseball, currently riding atop the NFC Central Division, with a 4-1 record. The Bears travel to Houston to play the Oilers next weekend.

Sliding soccer team faces Akron

By COLLEEN HENNESSEY
Sports Writer

Looking to end a five-game winless streak, the Notre Dame men's soccer team returns to action Friday night, hosting the Akron Zips at 7:30 at Krause Stadium.

Women vs. Alma / page 15

In their last five games, the Irish have three losses and two ties. Akron, ranked third in the Great Lakes Region, brings to the game an 8-3-1 record and an eight-year history of beating Notre Dame.

"Akron is a tremendous team," said Irish coach Dennis Grace. "We've never beaten them (the series record is 0-6-1). We tied them once three years ago, the night my son was born."

Although the statistics do not look good for Notre Dame, Grace remains confident.

"This is one of those situations where years ago Akron was the yardstick that everyone measured themselves by," said Grace. "However, we've been fortunate to play a lot of good teams this year and I think we can play with them."

The Irish, 5-2-2, have had a full week of practice after returning from a weekend road­trip in which they did not score, tying Cal. State Los Angeles 0-0 and losing to Santa Clara 4-0.

"In California, we did enough to score, it just didn't happen," said Grace. "We're not panicking. The thing you want to do is create scoring opportunities. We've been able to do that.

Grace believes the youth of his team is his biggest asset. "I have five or six freshmen that are really good. I have four or five that are scoring goals for us," said Grace.