damage, said Father David which caused $3500 dollars in the Oct. 19 snowball fight fe it 17 percent of allocated pairing the damage.
Several dorms had already been forced to raise the money, and gaining approval of funding from the Endrim and Pas-
querrilla West purchased pianos for their chapels with the understanding they would be reimbursed accordingly.

Had Tyson not reversed the decision, the dorms would have been forced to raise the money.
Tyson said his purpose (in freezing the funds) was, "not to be totally punitive, but to say they folks, we've got to look at this issue of vandalism."

"I really feel that the vast majority of students don't think it's (vandalism) a cool type of thing to do," Tyson said.
Many students want to find a way to curb the vandalism in-

Student Affairs partially restores matching funds

By MONICA YANT
News Writer

Matching funds for residence halls have been reinstated, reserving a decision made after the Oct. 19 snowball fight which caused $3500 dollars in damage, said Father David
to Student Body President Matt Hansen.

"I believe some money was reimbursed accordingly.

In perfect harmony

The Notre Dame Chorale, conducted by Carl Stahr, practices for Friday night's concert. The concert will be held at 8:15 p.m. in Washington Hall and admission is free.

Polstibu re ouusted in East Germany

By FLORENTINE HOELKER
and KELLEY TUTHILL
Assistant News Editors

A recent survey by the American College Health Association (ACHA) suggests that college and university students are at risk of contracting Acquired
Immune Deficiency Syndrome
(AIDS).

"The nation's first survey regarding AIDS in institutions of higher education reveals that HIV infection is a problem for college students today, and discovering that education and prevention programs should be strengthen," said Stephen Blom, executive director of the ACHA.

The HIV Seroprevalence and Survey reports that roughly two students per thousand who seek medical attention in their student health centers, and who require blood samples as part of their treatment, are HIV positive, said Blom in a press release.

College students back off from AIDS; education programs need work

By FLORENTINE HOELKER

A recent survey by the American College Health Association (ACHA) suggests that college and university students are at risk of contracting Acquired
Immune Deficiency Syndrome
(AIDS).

"The nation's first survey regarding AIDS in institutions of higher education reveals that HIV infection is a problem for college students today, and discovering that education and
prevention programs should be strengthen," said Stephen
Blom, executive director of the
ACHA.

The HIV Seroprevalence and Survey reports that roughly two
students per thousand who seek medical attention in their
student health centers, and who require blood samples as part of their treatment, are HIV positive, said Blom in a press release.

Washington (AP) — Cacused total profits ... in excess of $1.5 million" from the sale of weapons to the Contras and Iran.

Keeling said that the survey results "establish beyond any reasonable doubt that HIV infection is a problem for college students, and university students are at risk of contracting Acquired Immune Deficiency Syndrome
(AIDS).

The HIV Seroprevalence and Survey reports that roughly two
students per thousand who seek medical attention in their
student health centers, and who require blood samples as part of their treatment, are HIV positive, said Blom in a press release.

College students back off from AIDS; education programs need work

By FLORENTINE HOELKER

A recent survey by the American College Health Association (ACHA) suggests that college and university students are at risk of contracting Acquired
Immune Deficiency Syndrome
(AIDS).

"The nation's first survey regarding AIDS in institutions of higher education reveals that HIV infection is a problem for college students today, and discovering that education and
prevention programs should be strengthen," said Stephen
Blom, executive director of the
ACHA.

The HIV Seroprevalence and Survey reports that roughly two
students per thousand who seek medical attention in their
student health centers, and who require blood samples as part of their treatment, are HIV positive, said Blom in a press release.

College students back off from AIDS; education programs need work

By FLORENTINE HOELKER

A recent survey by the American College Health Association (ACHA) suggests that college and university students are at risk of contracting Acquired
Immune Deficiency Syndrome
(AIDS).

"The nation's first survey regarding AIDS in institutions of higher education reveals that HIV infection is a problem for college students today, and discovering that education and
prevention programs should be strengthen," said Stephen
Blom, executive director of the
ACHA.

The HIV Seroprevalence and Survey reports that roughly two
students per thousand who seek medical attention in their
student health centers, and who require blood samples as part of their treatment, are HIV positive, said Blom in a press release.
Thirty-five years ago, Silvio Santos was selling wallets illegally on street corners, with a quick patter to attract customers and an eye out for the police. Santos, a multimillionaire executive and controlling stockholder of Brazil's second-largest TV network, now enrolls 170 million with his antics on camera. He also may become the next president of Latin America's largest country in the Nov. 15 election.

Four high school students from Kanawha County, West Virginia apparently trying to get a frut-hand look at deah have been charged with digging up a body buried more than 30 years ago, authorities said. "One of the children told me they had been studying the human body in school and wanted to know what it looked like," said Sheriff's Cpl. J.L. Landers.

The Bush administration has come up with a plan it says would ensure U.S. compliance with the spirit of the Panama Canal treaties without violating its policy of avoiding contact with the Panamanian government. U.S. officials thought the initiative was sound. The administration is working against a Jan. 1 deadline, the date by which a Panamanian must for the first time assume administration of the U.S. government agency that runs the waterway, according to the treaties.

Eugene Fodor, a virtuoso violinist who rode the roller coaster of fame from a dizzying high of winning a medal in the 1974 Tchaikovsky Competition to a dizzying low of a drug bust in July, says he is on the upswing again. Fodor, 39, whose violin recital Saturday night in Peckskill, New York City, made his first public appearance since he was charged with drug possession and breaking into a motel room.

World

Nicaragua proposed a Contró demobilization plan Wednesday and offered in exchange to suspend arms imports, which the Soviet Union offered this year it already had ceased. Ortega said Nicaragua would drop arms imports until April 25, 1990, if his 15-point plan was accepted.

National

Mug shots 6 feet by 3 feet of Florida's most wanted felony fugitives will stare at Florida motorists in a new billboard campaign. About 100 billboards will eventually carry the mug shots. People who provide tips that lead to the arrest of the fugitives will be eligible for rewards of up to $5,000, authorities said. The billboards list a toll-free number.

Abortion, the issue that once had Democrats on the run, emerged as a decisive factor in Democratic victories following a political turmoil that Republicans couldn't foresee just a few months ago. "I think the abortion issue helped me considerably," Douglas Wilder said after claiming victory in his bid to become governor of Virginia and the nation's first elected black governor.

Kitty Dukakis was hospitalized because she drank a small amount of rubbing alcohol and experienced a "severe reaction," her doctor disclosed Wednesday. Gerald Plinko said in a statement that the wife of Massachusetts Gov. Michael Dukakis said she was experiencing a "severe headache, sleeplessness, and depression." He did not comment on whether or not she was knowingly trying to hurt herself.

A 70-year-old man whose boat caught fire in Lake Aluts-Lagert, Oklahom a swam 1 1/2 hours to knee-deep water, then clutched his chest and died of a heart attack. The Highway Patrol said Hot Shadid of Altus was pronounced dead on arrival Tuesday at Elk View General Hospital. His 82-year-old brother, Abe Shadid, who also jumped out of the boat as the flames neared the gas tank, was treated and released, the pa-trol said.

Market Update

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Market Update</th>
<th>Data</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>NYSE Composite</td>
<td>117.15 Million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dow Jones Industrials</td>
<td>2643</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S&amp;P Composite</td>
<td>338.35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dow Jones Industrials</td>
<td>3.34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Precious Metals</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gold</td>
<td>$4290 to $3900 / oz.</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silver</td>
<td>$3.00 to $5.295 / oz.</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Almanac

On November 9:
- In 1919: Two disasters struck Japan as some 450 min- ers were killed in a coal dust explosion and 15,000 people died in a train crash.
- In 1976: The U.N. General Assembly approved ten resolu-tions condemning apartheid in South Africa, including one characterizing the white-ruled government as "illegitimate."

Closings for November 8, 1989

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Index</th>
<th>Value in Points</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>CAC</td>
<td>87.48</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>NYSE Composite</td>
<td>170.15 Million</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dow Jones Industrials</td>
<td>2643</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>S&amp;P Composite</td>
<td>338.35</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dow Jones Industrials</td>
<td>3.34</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Precious Metals</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gold</td>
<td>$4290 to $3900</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Silver</td>
<td>$3.00 to $5.295</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Open of Interest

Senior Class Block Party will be held the JACC Ice Rink Dome from 4:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m.

Any Sophomore interested in the - position of Junior Parents' Weekend Sophomore Committee Chairperson can pick up an application now in the Office of Student Activities (3rd Floor LaFortune). Applications are due Friday, November 10.

Volunteer in Mexico

This summer. A meeting for the 3-week CILAC/Mexico Program will be held Thursday, November 9 at 6:30 p.m. in the Center for Social Concerns. Teresa Gonzaga will give a reflection on her experience in Mexico this past summer.

Anthropologists will have a special guest

This week from Czechoslovakia who will speak about current problems and developments there and his personal experiences in escaping Czechoslovakia for details at 232-0530.
SMC considers changing parietals

By LESLIE LONGVAL
News Writer

A change in the parietals policy for the Saint Mary's campus was the center of discussion at Wednesday’s Board of Governance meeting.

The change in hours would be on Friday’s only. Parietals would begin at 12 p.m. instead of 4 p.m. The reasoning behind this proposal is that male family members and out of town guests arriving for the weekend cannot go to a resident’s room until later. This is especially a problem on football weekends.

A petition signed by the majority of residents in Augusta Hall and a meeting with Lisa Van Bebber, director of resident life, on changing the hours prompted the discussion.

The original proposal effects only residents of Augusta. Lisa Catenacci, student body president, said that this was because it would be easier to implement in Augusta because there is no deskworker and non-residents do not pass through that dorm to reach their classes.

Several concerns were voiced by other members of the board that the policy would be unfair to the rest of the student body.

“Whether you go in Augusta or not is the luck of the lottery,” said Shannon McGowan, a board member. Therefore, Augusta residents are getting these privileges because of pure chance, she said.

“There are going to be a lot of seniors upset,” said McGowan.

It was suggested that a criteria system for deciding who could live in Augusta be used instead of using the lottery. Therefore, the additional privileges could be justified. Academic standing would be a primary criteria, but other things would also be considered.

“We must decide if this is a route we want to take,” said Deirdre Milon, a board member.

If it is decided that this is the solution, then the changes would take place no sooner than next year.

Other members said that the only way to justify such a change was to do it for the entire campus. The board members agreed that the possibility of changing parietals for everyone must be examined.

It was decided that a committee should be formed to investigate whether or not changing parietals campus-wide was a feasible option.

The committee would examine such things as the possibility of hiring desk workers for the additional hours, the problems for security, and the inconvenience for students that still have classes and pass through the dorms to get to them.

In addition to the parietals policy the smoking policy was discussed. A questionnaire on both policies will be passed out to all students so that the board can get student input.

X-rays in infancy add to risk of breast cancer

BOSTON (AP) — Exposure to medical X-rays during infancy can significantly increase women's chances of breast cancer when they reach their 30s, a study confirms.

The research was based on a long-term follow-up of women who were given X-ray therapy shortly after birth for treatment of enlarged thymus glands. Such treatment was common until the late 1950s, when doctors realized that seemingly enlarged thymuses were actually normal.

By age 36, the study found, those who had received the treatment were nearly four times more likely to get breast cancer than were sisters who did not receive the radiation.

Experts have long recognized that breast tissue is extremely sensitive to the damaging effects of radiation.

Senior Block Party tonight at JACC

By PETER LOFTUS
News Writer

The senior class, in conjunction with the Year of the Family and the Northeast Neighborhood Association, will be hosting the ninth annual Senior Block Party tonight from 4 to 7 p.m. in the north dome of the J.A.C.C.

According to Wendy Powers, co-chairperson of the event along with Tom Rank, the event will have a circus theme, complete with clowns and circus food, which will be provided by University Food Services.

Entertainment will include a choir from South Bend, the Notre Dame Glee Club, and two campus bands. In addition, there will also be 30 kegs of beer on tap in what is one of the few senior class-sponsored events in which alcohol is allowed to be served, said Powers.

An estimated 3,000 people are expected to attend the event. Residents from the Northeast Neighborhood of South Bend, seniors, faculty and staff are invited to the party.

The purpose of the event is to incorporate the South Bend community into the Notre Dame Family,” according to Senior Class President Carolyn Rey.

Also, since many seniors live off-campus in the Northeast Neighborhood, the event is intended to show appreciation to the residents of the neighborhood for their overall kindness to students, said Rey.

ND prof publishes new book

Special to The Observer

Klaus Lanzinger, chairman and professor of German and Russian languages and literatures at Notre Dame, has published a book titled "Jason's Voyage: The Search for the Old World in American Literature."

The book recounts the European travels of four major American writers—Melville, Hawthorne, James and Wolfe—and examines the manner in which their literary work was marked by them.

Lanzinger, an Austrian native, has been a member of the Notre Dame faculty since 1967. He was graduated from Bonn in 1951 and received a doctoral degree from the University of Innsbruck the following year. He has written numerous articles on major American writers and edited the American-Austrian series.
Funds

continued from page 1

volved in the annual snowball fight, he said. "If Notre Dame is truly the unified community it claims to be, Tyson said, then unity must extend beyond cheering for a winning team. "We show unity at games. On the downside, we must also take responsibility for our actions (as a unified community)," he said.

Breslin also spoke of responsibility. "We've realized that we all have the responsibility of preventing [the damage] from happening again," he said.

But Kinkopf said that students should not be held all the blame. "As student leaders, we join the community to stop AIDS a fflicted patients, said Kinkopf. "We've realized that we are responsible," he said.

AIDS

continued from page 1

Marc Milhander, clinical psych­ologist for both the Univer­sity Counseling Center and Ath­letic Department at Notre Dame, came to Notre Dame from Kansas State University (KSU). He said that KSU hired an AIDS educator full time to educate the KSU community.

He also said that he worked on the committee that develop­ed AIDS policy for KSU. "On the face of it, the committee was really a response to a case on campus." In regards to Notre Dame, Milhander said, "The University is reluctant to be perceived as condoning sexual activity." If there was enough HIV+ stu­dents on campus, he said he was sure the University would develop programs to deal with the issue.

In Notre Dame's counseling department there are no groups specifically for HIV-, AIDS related complex (ARC) or AIDS afflicted patients, said Milhander. He said that there are groups in the South Bend community.

If an AIDS patient came to him for counseling, Milhander said that he would feel "a duty to warn" those who might be sexually involved with the pa­tient.

He said that he believes the staff of the counseling center is well trained in dealing with people who have AIDS. "No matter who they (a patient) see they would be treated in a sensitive way," said Milhander.

In regards to responsibilities to the University, he said "I have not been informed that I have a responsibility to inform the University (about a case of AIDS)." If they were, Milhander stressed his professional ethics, his only duty is to warn a specific individual at risk.

Teresa Herzog, drug educa­tion coordinator at the Univer­sity of Michigan, said that Michigan has an AIDS peer education program.

She said that they also have a safer-sex education program. Michigan offers free HIV testing in the health center on campus, said Herzog. She said that anonymous testing on a college campus was a first when Michigan first started testing two and one half years ago. She said that thousands of people have been tested.

Many students are tested after having unprotected sex under the influence of drugs or alcohol, she said.

December is World AIDS Day, Herzog said. At Michigan there will be a rally on campus where the health center plans to hand out literature and in­formation to students.

Brown students had tested under the influence of drugs or alcohol, she said.

"No matter who they (a patient) see they would be treated in a sensitive way," said Milhander.

In regards to responsibilities to the University, he said "I have not been informed that I have a responsibility to inform the University (about a case of AIDS)." If they were, Milhander stressed his professional ethics, his only duty is to warn a specific individual at risk.

Teresa Herzog, drug educa­tion coordinator at the Univer­sity of Michigan, said that Michigan has an AIDS peer education program.

She said that they also have a safer-sex education program. Michigan offers free HIV testing in the health center on campus, said Herzog. She said that anonymous testing on a college campus was a first when Michigan first started testing two and one half years ago. She said that thousands of people have been tested.

Many students are tested after having unprotected sex under the influence of drugs or alcohol, she said.

December is World AIDS Day, Herzog said. At Michigan there will be a rally on campus where the health center plans to hand out literature and in­formation to students.

In regards to education, Robinson said that the Univer­sity spends hours training their residence assistants (RAs) to deal with the issue of AIDS. He said they teach the students specifically how to educate others in regards to AIDS.

Robinson said that Stanford recently had an AIDS Aware­ness Week on campus. He also said that there are student groups on campus that work to promote AIDS awareness.

There was an article in Brown University's Daily Her­ald on September 22 of this year called "Health Services don't have a problem with the snowball fight. It's people get­ting hurt, and the injury," he said.

Breslin said he hopes the University will come up with administra­tive plans for handling and pre­venting future incidents.

Reversing the decision showed student leaders that administration is willing to work with them. Breslin said that working together with administration went beyond "token" meetings. "This decision shows that they are listening, listening enough to change their minds," he said.

The change is "evidence of a positive working relationship between student government and administration that has developed over the past couple of years," said Kinkopf.
Global warming, energy policy important environmental issues

By DAVID CERTO
News Writer

A panel discussion on global warming led by the director of the Union of Concerned Scientists drew more than fifty people to Theodore's on Wednesday evening.

Howard Ris, head of the Cambridge, Massachusetts based research organization, was joined by Barry Lopez, professor of American studies, and John Halfman, professor of geology. The lecture, entitled "The Heat Is On," was sponsored by Notre Dame's Environmental Action Club, the Institute for International Peace Studies, and the Recycling Irish.

The discussion covered the whole issue of global warming and its implications for the world community. Particularly emphasized was given to its effects on the U.S. energy policy. Ris began the presentation with information on the effects of the build-up of various gases in the atmosphere. These gases, particularly carbon dioxide and chlorofluorocarbons (CFCs), are suspected to cause the trapping of solar heat energy, a process called the "greenhouse effect." Ris pointed out that although the severity of this effect isn't well understood, six of the hottest years ever have been in the last decade. He stated that the potentially irreversible processes had raised the level of carbon dioxide by 25 percent, indicating that global temperature could rise two to three degrees in less than a century.

Halfman, using his research in Lake Turkana in Africa, concentrated on the cyclic nature of global temperature patterns. Using soil and ice core samples, he stated, temperatures from eras long past can be approximated accurately. This data, centering on amounts of stable carbon and oxygen isotopes, could be used to gage the damage to the environment in recent years.

Correction

In the Nov. 8 edition of The Observer, the attribution for the Quote of the Day was accidentally omitted. The quote was from Golda Meir.
"As an analyst at Merrill Lynch, I’ve been given excellent training, a lot of responsibility and I’m always exposed to new challenges."

Jim Karrels, Notre Dame, 1989
Technology/Emerging Growth

Merrill Lynch Capital Markets invites Notre Dame seniors to attend an informal meeting and reception to discuss opportunities in our Corporate Finance Analyst Program

Thursday, November 9, 1989
La Fortune Student Center
Notre Dame Room
8 p.m.–10 p.m.

Merrill Lynch
A tradition of trust.
Falstaff Brewery to close

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — Recent heavy losses and sharply declining sales have forced the St. Louis-based brewer to announce plans to close by the end of the year.

The St. Louis-based brewer, which is part of the United Exported and Exported Group, said it is facing severe financial problems and is unable to continue operations.

The company has a long history of financial difficulties, which have led to a number of closures in the past. The last time the company was forced to close was in 1989, when it closed several of its facilities due to a buying spree.

In the current situation, the company is facing a situation where it cannot continue to operate profitably.

When the Great American Dream Isn't Great Enough

The Great American Dream is a concept that refers to the belief that if one works hard and follows the American way of life, they will be able to achieve success and prosperity. However, many people have found this dream to be a reality, and it is often difficult to achieve success even with hard work.

For information:
Fr. John Conley, CSC
Vocation Director
Box 541
Notre Dame, IN 46556
239-6385

ATTENTION STUDENTS!! ATTENTION STUDENTS!!

NOTRE DAME'S DEVELOPMENT PHONE CENTER NOW HIRING FOR THE 1990 SPRING SEMESTER

20-30 Student Positions Available
$4.70 Per Hour
Flexible evening hours: 6:45-10:45
All interested are invited to an informal Open House/Information Session at the Development Phone Center (southeast corner of Main and Washington Streets)
Monday November 13 or Tuesday November 14
From 4:00pm - 5:00pm

PLEASE JOIN US

For more information, call Carol McClory 239-7908
or Mike Brach 239-7241

S$\ell$'s need 'arranged marriages'

Chicago (AP) — Federal regulators were again warning weak thrift institutions to keep it open unless it was insolvent, and to give insight on how to do this.

The regulators have been emphasizing the importance of keeping thrifts open, as the failure of a thrift can have a ripple effect on the stability of the entire financial system.

Lincoln Savings and Loan is one of the institutions that regulators are watching closely. The thrift has been struggling with bad loans and rising interest rates, and it is facing the possibility of being closed.

The regulators have been encouraging the thrift to keep operating, and they have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep it open.

However, if the thrift cannot find a way to continue operating, it may face the prospect of being closed. This could have serious consequences for the thrift's depositors and for the stability of the financial system.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep it open. They have been meeting regularly with the board to discuss options for keeping the thrift open.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.

The regulators have been working closely with the thrift's management to find a way to keep it open. They have been working with the thrift's board of directors to find a way to keep the thrift operating.

The regulators have been working with other federal agencies to find a solution for keeping the thrift open. They have been working with the Office of Thrift Supervision, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, and other federal agencies to find a way to keep the thrift open.
There exists, in post-Reagan America, and the largely conservative Notre Dame University of Notre Dame, a lurking prejudice, based, like all prejudice, upon ignorance, against those who are committed to peace and social justice and who maintain that non-violence is the only morally acceptable path toward the attainment of those goals.

The common misconception is that pacifists, as well as others who take an active part in social service or consciousness-raising, are troubled fanatics on the fringes of society who are simply trying to draw attention to themselves. This prejudice is exacerbated if those individuals happen to choose clothing or hairstyles different from those of the mass majority. These socially conscious individuals then find themselves in the un愛 and ludicrous position of having to defend what were some kind of social statement, rather than as what it is: a simple and superficial matter of taste.

If a superficial consideration aside, among the members of the much-maligned pacifist population, the 'pacifist' should be viewed as the most radical of all. This is because he or she has taken a strong stance in favor of disarmament, civil rights, or protection of the environment - to name only a few issues, are quickly labeled as "radical," "unpatriotic," or, the most dreaded word of the decade, "liberal."

If, in addition to these positions, one is also committed to non-violence in thought, word, and deed, such a one is dismissed as a naive idealist, who doesn't know anything about reality. The idealist, of course, is further surrounded by a host of ridiculous hypo...? questions like "What would you do if Hitler was rap...ing your grandmother?" Those who ask such questions are assumed to be immediate, snappy answer, utterly disregarding the subtle, important, and very difficult distinctions that need to be made when facing any moral dilemma. I know that pacifists have put up with these things, because I have had to be one.

I claim that this prejudice is based upon ignorance because those who entertain it are obviously unaware of the fact that love and non-violence are not novel concepts that were only developed in the 1960's, or in India, but that these ideals are deeply rooted in the Christian tradition, and predate the popular "just war" theory of St. Augustine by some four hundred years. The texts that have been preserved from the early Christian period, and the life of Jesus Christ to the fifth century, are full of accounts of Christians who were put to death, imprisoned, tortured, or exiled, not primarily for being Christians, but for refusing to serve in the army of the Roman Empire for religious reasons. They echoed in their time the moral, reasonable contentions of the Gita, or Bhagavad-Gita, a Hindu holy book, which has become the standard of the Christian Church, has become the standard of the Christian Church. There are, of course, numerous exceptions to this standard. Such modern equivalents to Gita-worship are the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; and the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence.

The just war theory of St. Augustine, rather than the consensus of the early Christian Church, is the standard approach to questions of war and violence among most Catholics. There are, of course, numerous exceptions to this standard. Such modern equivalents to Gita-worship are the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; and the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence.

As Coach Holtz has inspired its team. The booming Notre Dame performance by the team are is a copy of a letter sent to Sports Illustrated. Indeed, as Coach Holtz has inspired its team. The booming Notre Dame performance by the team are is a copy of a letter sent to Sports Illustrated. Indeed, the famous example of the life of St. Francis of Assisi, a saint who, in our present age, is frequently deferred to, but rarely heeded. Last, but most importantly, are the words and actions of Jesus Christ as recorded in the Gospels. Though apparently contradictory in some respects, the teachings and deeds of Christ clearly indicate a fundamental orientation towards life that regards forgiveness, healing, and self-sacrifice, not physical strength and self-defense, as the elements of primary importance for the good life.

The just war theory of St. Augustine, rather than the consensus of the early Christian Church, is the standard approach to questions of war and violence among most Catholics. There are, of course, numerous exceptions to this standard. Such modern equivalents to Gita-worship are the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; and the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence.

Further, the spirit which motivates us recognizes that the spirit continually extolled by Coach Holtz and his staff is certainly not one of "intimidation" and "hooliganism," but of pride, respect, and commitment to excellence. By failing to even mention the obvious positive impact of our traditions on the outstanding performances of the players, Mr. Looney's article rests with the implied criticism of what we call the "Notre Dame Spirit." As Coach Holtz and his players have admitted, responsibility for the brief melee which occurred at the stadium tunnel does lie with Notre Dame; however, a fair exposition of the day's events would also have included the many positive and exciting aspects of the game. For instance, the turning point of the game clearly occurred at the beginning of the second half, when the entire Notre Dame continuity rose to inspire its team. The booming cheers sent out to rally the players by thousands of students and alumni - and the subsequent reaction and rise in performance by the team are much more indicative of Notre Dame than an unfortunate incident. As Coach Lou Holtz has said time and time again, the heart of all of Notre Dame's successes lies in the unity of our community.

The "I word" and other pacifist misconceptions

Jeffery Long

On Human Rights

rather than offering physical opposition; and there is, of course, the famous example of the life of St. Francis of Assisi, a saint who, in our present age, is frequently deferred to, but rarely heeded. Last, but most importantly, are the words and actions of Jesus Christ as recorded in the Gospels. Though apparently contradictory in some respects, the teachings and deeds of Christ clearly indicate a fundamental orientation towards life that regards forgiveness, healing, and self-sacrifice, not physical strength and self-defense, as the elements of primary importance for the good life.

The just war theory of St. Augustine, rather than the consensus of the early Christian Church, is the standard approach to questions of war and violence among most Catholics. There are, of course, numerous exceptions to this standard. Such modern equivalents to Gita-worship are the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence; and the teachings of the Gita with respect to non-violence.

Further, the spirit which motivates us recognizes that the spirit continually extolled by Coach Holtz and his staff is certainly not one of "intimidation" and "hooliganism," but of pride, respect, and commitment to excellence. By failing to even mention the obvious positive impact of our traditions on the outstanding performances of the players, Mr. Looney's article rests with the implied criticism of what we call the "Notre Dame Spirit." As Coach Holtz and his players have admitted, responsibility for the brief melee which occurred at the stadium tunnel does lie with Notre Dame; however, a fair exposition of the day's events would also have included the many positive and exciting aspects of the game. For instance, the turning point of the game clearly occurred at the beginning of the second half, when the entire Notre Dame continuity rose to inspire its team. The booming cheers sent out to rally the players by thousands of students and alumni - and the subsequent reaction and rise in performance by the team are much more indicative of Notre Dame than an unfortunate incident. As Coach Lou Holtz has said time and time again, the heart of all of Notre Dame's successes lies in the unity of our community.

Music is a better language really for saying what one would prefer not to say at all... Music is the preferred art of the irrationalists.
Making computers user-friendly

KATHY KIRIN
accent writer

T

he days are becoming shorter, the clouds are becoming more frequent, and it's already snowed twice. Need to brighten up these dreary beginning-of-winter days? Center Street Blues Cafe has just the remedy: a reggae concert that is sure to spice up anyone's evening.

The Reggae Connection Tour '89 features Devon Brown from Kingston, Jamaica, the Rude Beat League from Chicago, and Brad Kwame from Ghana, West Africa. The nearly three-hour concert has already garnered much attention at Illinois State University, the Holiday Star Theatre, and other major clubs and mid-size venues. Due to the recent rise in reggae popularity, Red Stripe Beer sponsored the Tour. Red Stripe is hailed as Jamaica's finest beer.

None of these acts are newcomers to the reggae scene. The Rude Beat League has played most of the major clubs in Chicago, such as the Cabaret Metro and the Riviera, and has a hand in putting Rock Against Apartheid into motion. Devon Brown, straight from Jamaica, was a finalist in the 1985 Budweiser Talent Search, and in 1986 performed with Ziggy Marley and Jimmy Cliff. Brad Kwame has taken his Jungle Dance and songs of humanity through Europe and across the US.

For up-and-coming reggae talent, this Tour is not to be missed. The show will be at Center Street on Thursday, November 9, at 9:00 p.m. If you cannot make it, you will have a second chance on Thursday, Nov. 16 at City Limits in Elkhart.

Reggae medley plays Center Street

COLLEEN CRONIN
assistant accent editor

T

hey call themselves MadMacs, demonstrate to the campus that whose general philosophy is to computer your friend. and they want to make the dents on campus who would freaks, hackers, etc. However, computers can be easy to use, and sometimes they can even be fun.

MadMacs is the official Macintosh users group of Notre Dame, composed of approximately 150 students, whose general philosophy is to demonstrate to the campus that computers can be easy to use, and sometimes they can even be fun.

The computer club was organized eight years ago. However, the group has only recently received campus-wide exposure. In years past, MadMacs was a small, virtually unknown club whose members were primarily highly-technological, well-informed computer users. The recent restructuring of MadMacs has made it possible for all users on campus to become involved and to learn more about the computing and word processing world.

MadMacs is currently selling public domain software, including Microsoft and Apple, to give the Notre Dame campus a chance to see demonstrations of their products. The future looks bright for MadMacs. With the University's decision to automate and update campus computer facilities, users will be needing support and guidance more than ever. So why not give MadMacs a try?

Frank is a solid sound from Squeeze

JOHN LANE
accent writer

S

queeze has recently released an excellent new album titled Frank. Mainly recognized for their singles compilation released in the early 80s, Squeeze should gain some new respect due to Frank.

Squeeze is spearheaded by guitarist/vocalists Chris Difford and Glenn Tillbrook. Some critics consider the duo to be the best songwriting team since Lennon-McCartney. This claim is not unfounded as many Squeeze albums, including Frank, have infinite Beatles' influences. Frank features great songwriting, and catchy beats set up the vocals of Difford and Tillbrook on songs such as "Rose, I Said" and "This Could Be The Last Time."

Frank starts out strongly with "If It's Love" and "Peyton Place" which are both good pop songs sung by Difford. To keep the album from getting repetitive, "Slaughtered, Gored and Heartbroken," a jazzy song with Tillbrook at the microphone, follows. Other highlights include "This Could Be The Last Time," which features good background vocals and "Love Circles" which is a sad song about the patterns of love.

Frank ends as strongly as it begins. "Can Of Worms" is a great slow song in which Difford states that "There's so much to be learned. When you open a can of worms."

"Dr. Jazz," written by keyboardist Julian Holland and containing good piano, and "Is It Too Late," a rockabilly-type song, round out the album.

The main drawback to Frank is that it sounds too much like previous Squeeze albums. The band does not seem to have tried any new sounds or experimented with any new music. But for the excellent sound fans have come to expect from Squeeze, Frank is a great album.

You have a chance to see Squeeze as well as listen to them. The Frank tour comes to Notre Dame when the band visits the JACC on Thursday, November 16. If you are a fan of pop music, you should check out Frank and look into the concert.
LOST/FOUND

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as dicated the week before fall break.
Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Blue Notre Dame Pouch

LOST: IMPORTANT MEDALLION

LOST: Blue gas S

LOST/FOUND

LOST: A black Columbus as
dicated the week before fall break.
Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.

LOST: $1,000.00 REWARD.

LOST: Several other important
cards. plane tic

LOST: $50.00 REWARD! FOR THE
MISSING NOTRE DAME BAG

LOST: A black Columbus as
indicated the week before fall break. Call 219-239-7744.
Talented Rebels running for Final Four in Denver

LAS VEGAS (AP) — Thousands of red buttons are popping up in this city, where neon is the norm and famous names crowd the glitzy Las Vegas Strip. The message reads simply: “The Big Year is Here.”

Final, Four fever is reaching epidemic proportions as the Nevada-Las Vegas Runnin’ Rebels, stalked by NCAA ghosts past and present, field what could be their best basketball team ever.

Returning four starters from a team that came within one game of the Final Four last season, the Rebels are being picked by many as the No. 1 team in the nation.

Jerry Tarkanian, the Rebels’ wiry, eccentric coach, isn’t certain about that.

“I don’t know if we’re the No. 1 team or not,” Tarkanian said, leaning back in a chair in his spacious office at the Thomas and Mack Center. “I think we’re a real good basketball team. We’ve got some real quality players.

“We’re not better than everybody. This is not a team that’s going to go out and destroy anybody. But on a given night we can play anybody.”

Tarkanian says last year’s Rebel team was the best in the country defensively, and this year’s team is “20 percent better.”

“I think we’re going to be so good defensively, it’s incredible,” Tarkanian said.

The Rebels beat the Soviet National team Tuesday night, 107-102, making them the only college team in the country with a 3-0 mark against the Soviets.

Despite the return of most of last year’s 20-8 squad and the addition of junior college standout Larry Johnson, the Rebels face some troubling questions.

“We have the ingredients to be a great basketball team,” Tarkanian said, but...

Two of his big men from last year’s team, 6-10 center Moses Scurry, are out with a broken wrist. And 6-10 forward Thomas and Mack Center. “I think if we had our third guard, we’d be the best team ever,” said Tarkanian, who is 414-97 at Vegas with Final Four teams in 1977 and ’87. “Now, we’ll have to wait and see. We have to be lucky. We have to avoid injuries, avoid foul trouble.

“We have to be third guard. If anything goes wrong, we’re wiped out.”

One intangible dogging the Rebels is Tarkanian’s long, bitter battle with the NCAA. The agency, armed with a U.S. Supreme Court order in its favor, is looking again at a 1977 penalty imposed on Tarkanian and UNLV.

“Final Four fever is high in Las Vegas, the home of the UNLV Runnin’ Rebels. One reason is Stacey Augmon, the 6-7 forward and defensive specialist. The Rebels squad boasts four returning starters plus the addition of the top juc-transfer Larry Johnson. UNLV is ranked as the pre-season No.1 team in numerous national sports publications.

Opportunities for Computer Science Graduates

Jump into an entry-level career that will take you places at EDS.

In an EDS developmental program, your career potential can reach new heights. You’ll gain the reward on-the-job experience you need to move your career years ahead — experience you can only gain from a world leader in the management of information technology.

EDS is looking for achievers — people who make things happen. If you are interested in applying your talents in the information processing services industry, you won’t find a better place to grow than EDS.

Our highly respected developmental programs are nationally recognized as models for the industry. They provide technical challenge, professional expertise and the classroom instruction. Upon completion of the program, graduates are responsible for enhancing our level of technology.

Research Systems Engineering Development (RSED) Program

- A bachelor’s degree in Computer Science with a minimum 3.2/4.0 overall GPA preferred
- Willingness to relocate to the Dallas, Texas, area
- Excellent written and oral communication skills

The RSED program instruction includes hands-on and classroom education in artificial intelligence, expert systems and advanced systems architecture. Each class uses our CASE tool, INCA, to analyze, design and build an information processing system. Students work at the EDS national headquarters in Plano, Texas. Class size is limited to 16, and students use Sun workstations and Macintosh computers for system. Students work at the EDS national headquarters in Plano, Texas. Class size is limited to 16, and students use Sun workstations and Macintosh computers for classroom instruction. Upon completion of the program, graduates are responsible for analyzing, designing, developing and building systems and tools to maintain and enhance our level of technology.

Take the first step toward achieving your highest career potential.

CALL TODAY
1-800-233-0029

For more information contact the Placement Office. Or, send your resume to:

Elissa Garfias
EDS Developmental Recruiting
Dept. 20E02C99
15600 EDS Drive
Henderson, VA 22071

EDS

Contact lense eye exam required. Core not refundable.

AP Photo

Final Four fever is high in Las Vegas, the home of the UNLV Runnin’ Rebels. One reason is Stacey Augmon (32), the 6-7 forward and defensive specialist. The Rebels squad boasts four returning starters plus the addition of the top juc-transfer Larry Johnson. UNLV is ranked as the pre-season No.1 team in numerous national sports publications.

Kelly McGillis
Jodie Foster

Cinema at the Sobe FRIDAY 7:30, 9:45

GET A SPARE PAIR FOR

Even prescription & trifocals.

Frame of your choice.

Glasses and a pair of contact lenses.

TINTED LENSES

2 for $150

For more information contact the Placement Office. Or, send your resume to:

Elissa Garfias
EDS Developmental Recruiting
Dept. 20E02C99
15600 EDS Drive
Henderson, VA 22071

EDS

Contact lense eye exam required. Core not refundable.

AP Photo

Final Four fever is high in Las Vegas, the home of the UNLV Runnin’ Rebels. One reason is Stacey Augmon (32), the 6-7 forward and defensive specialist. The Rebels squad boasts four returning starters plus the addition of the top juc-transfer Larry Johnson. UNLV is ranked as the pre-season No.1 team in numerous national sports publications.

Kelly McGillis
Jodie Foster

Cinema at the Sobe FRIDAY 7:30, 9:45

GET A SPARE PAIR FOR

Even prescription & trifocals.

Frame of your choice.

Glasses and a pair of contact lenses.

TINTED LENSES

2 for $150

For more information contact the Placement Office. Or, send your resume to:

Elissa Garfias
EDS Developmental Recruiting
Dept. 20E02C99
15600 EDS Drive
Henderson, VA 22071

EDS

Contact lense eye exam required. Core not refundable.

AP Photo

Final Four fever is high in Las Vegas, the home of the UNLV Runnin’ Rebels. One reason is Stacey Augmon (32), the 6-7 forward and defensive specialist. The Rebels squad boasts four returning starters plus the addition of the top juc-transfer Larry Johnson. UNLV is ranked as the pre-season No.1 team in numerous national sports publications.

Kelly McGillis
Jodie Foster

Cinema at the Sobe FRIDAY 7:30, 9:45

GET A SPARE PAIR FOR

Even prescription & trifocals.

Frame of your choice.

Glasses and a pair of contact lenses.

TINTED LENSES

2 for $150

For more information contact the Placement Office. Or, send your resume to:

Elissa Garfias
EDS Developmental Recruiting
Dept. 20E02C99
15600 EDS Drive
Henderson, VA 22071

EDS

Contact lense eye exam required. Core not refundable.
1989 Heisman race is looking for a leader to emerge

By STEVE MEGARGEE

College Football

After leaving college a year early to enter the National Football League supplemental draft, Denver Broncos running back Bobby Humphrey has emerged as the leading candidate for the league's Rookie of the Year award.

Come to think of it, the former University of Alabama star ought to be considered for the Heisman Trophy as well. He's compiling better statistics in the NFL than any of his former classmates are putting together in the college ranks.

Like several of the other top Heisman Trophy candidates, Humphrey bypassed his final year of eligibility in order to enter professional football.

Defending Heisman winner Barry Sanders, who left probation-ruled Oklahoma State before the season, was the most celebrated example. Other players who left a year early were quarterbacks Steve Walsh (from Miami) and Timm Rosenbach (Washington State) and running backs Sammie Smith (Florida State) and Tim Worley (Georgia).

That left a bunch of second-tier candidates, vying for college football's highest honor. The idea was that one member of that group, which included Notre Dame's Tony Rice, Penn State's Blair Thomas, Florida's Emmitt Smith and West Virginia's Major Harris, would emerge as a front-runner or else a darkhorse would stand out just like Sanders did last year.

Two small problems: None of those pre-season Heisman candidates are living up to expectations, and there aren't any darkhorses having a Sanders-type season.

Rice would appear to be the favorite, having quarterbacked his team's big games (Virginia, Alabama), but his team has not won either of those contests. His candidacy would receive a boost if the Nittany Lions upset Auburn and Indiana's Anthony Thompson couldn't deliver in the last two weeks against Michigan and Michigan State.

Sanders has played well in his team's big games (Virginia, Alabama), but his team has not won either of those contests. His candidacy would receive a boost if the Nittany Lions upset the Irish Nov. 18, with Thomas playing like he did in the 1988 22-21 win over Notre Dame.

The hopes of Air Force quarterback Bee Dowis went down the drain when the Falcons suffered consecutive losses to Notre Dame and Texas Christian.

Notre Dame's Raghib "Rocket" Ismail saw his brief advantage of being the new kid on the block and having performed well in his team's biggest games of the year.

But Houston has not yet beaten a truly good football team; the Cougars have lost to Southwest Conference foes Texas A&M and Arkansas. Moreover, it's tough to vote for a guy who leads a team that is on probation and runs up the score, and still feel good about yourself the next day.

That leaves Colorado quarterback Darian Hagan, the latest media darling in the Heisman sweepstakes. Hagan is only a sophomore and only one part of a potent Buffalo offense. But he has the advantage of being the new kid on the block and having

Sobering Advice

Think Before You Drink

Before You Drive

FREE SCHOLARSHIP INFORMATION FOR STUDENTS WHO NEED MONEY FOR COLLEGE

Every Student is Eligible for Some Type of Financial Aid Regardless of Grades or Parental Income.

• We have a data bank of over 200,000 listings of scholarships, fellowships, grants, and loans, representing over $10 billion in private sector funding.
• Many scholarships are given to students based on their academic interests, career plans, family heritage and place of residence.
• There's money available for students who have been newspaper carriers, grocery clerks, cheerleaders, non-smokers, etc.
• Results Guaranteed.

CALL ANYTIME
(800) 346-6401

HOORAY, HOORAY!!

ANDREA is 21 today!

Love, Mom & Dad

free issues
no money

Call

oe

of a.

music needs.

comedy show.

The

incredible

performance of the

enjoying your

the classic rock!

grateful dead • wonder stuff • jeff beck • jesus & mary chain • smithereens • indigo girls • michelle shocked • ian mcculloch • pyschedelic furs • joe satriani • kate bush •

OBSERVER

Thursday, November 9, 1989

12

page 12

Heisman

by Steve Megargee

Associate Sports Editor

College Football

The major problem with all the candidates so far this season is that none of them have delivered in the big games. Harris looked terrible against Penn State last weekend. Smith did not run for 100 yards as the Florida Gators failed to upset Auburn and Indiana's Anthony Thompson couldn't deliver in the last two weeks against Michigan and Michigan State.

Thomas has played well in his team's big games (Virginia, Alabama), but his team has not won either of those contests. His candidacy would receive a boost if the Nittany Lions upset the Irish Nov. 18, with Thomas playing like he did in the 1988 22-21 win over Notre Dame.

The hopes of Air Force quarterback Bee Dowis went down the drain when the Falcons suffered consecutive losses to Notre Dame and Texas Christian.

Notre Dame's Raghib "Rocket" Ismail saw his brief advantage of being the new kid on the block and having performed well in his team's biggest games of the year.

In a Heisman race like the one going on this year, that just might be enough to win it. ••

Arizona and Virginia both deserved to play in bowl games last season, but neither team was invited. Both teams should enjoy a postseason this time.

Still, you have to wonder what it's going to take before people finally start accepting the Cardinals as a good team.

Led by quarterback Shawn Moore, Virginia is on the verge of ending Clemson's monopoly on the Atlantic Coast Conference. But the nation still hasn't seen the Cavs at their best.

In a 34-20 loss to Clemson, Moore was injured and out of action. In the Kickoff Classic, Virginia was just plain bad.

As for Arizona, whether the Wildcats upset USC in Tucson or not this weekend, they have to wonder about what might have been.

Arizona's three losses have come against Oregon, Texas Tech and California. The Cats are probably better than all those teams.

Against Cal last week, Arizona blew a 21-0 lead, which prevented Saturday's game with USC from being a showdown for the Pac-10 championship.
CINCINNATI (AP) — Pete Rose said Wednesday he is getting psychiatric help for a gambling problem that became apparent to him only after he was banned from baseball for illegal wagering.

"I bottomed out by losing my occupation," the game's most prolific hitter said.

Until the very day he was banished from the sport, Aug. 24, Rose maintained he wasn't a compulsive gambler and had no reason to get help. He now says the lifetime ban made him reconsider.

"I think once I had time after the suspension to sit down and realize that something that I love very dearly was taken away from me, and why was it taken away from me — gambling — I just started thinking about that," he told The Associated Press in a telephone interview.

"It takes something to bottom you out. In my case, I'm kind of lucky that it happened now because I still have a good financial statement, I still have my health, I'm relatively young, I still have some earning years left and I have a young family that's growing up," he said from Los Angeles, where he was a guest on the Phil Donahue Show. "It could have been a lot worse, I guess."

The former Cincinnati Reds manager said he hoped therapy improved his chances for reinstatement in baseball. Rose, who denies ever betting on baseball games, is eligible to apply next August.

"I think the lords of baseball are very intelligent, very understanding and very fair," Rose said. "And all you can do is hope they will continue to be so.

"They have never said what to do but I think if they were going to, that (treatment) would be the first thing they'd probably say to do."

Baseball spokesman Rich Levin said Commissioner Fay Vincent had no comment on Rose's treatment. Rose was banned by Vincent's predecessor, A. Bart Giamatti, who died of a heart attack eight days later.

Prior to appearing on the talk show, Rose released a statement from Dr. Randolph Levin, chairman of psychiatry at the University of Cincinnati College of Medicine, who said he has spent about 14 hours a week with Rose during the past month.

"Pete and I have concluded that he does, in fact, suffer from a clinically significant gambling disorder," Hillard said. "He has concluded that he is powerless before gambling, that he will begin an ongoing treatment program, and that he can never again gamble on anything."

Rose, who admitted love to go to the racetrack, said he hasn't placed a bet in several weeks and has no intention of going back to the track.

"I think it's difficult, but I have to work hard to overcome it because I just don't want to take a chance of bottoming out the other way," Rose said. "I guess you could look at me as sort of a guy that got a warning by having a heart attack and got better, hopefully, not the type of guy who had a heart attack and didn't wake up ... I guess it was a blessing in disguise the way it turned out."

Rose said he never thought he had a problem because he didn't feel compelled to gamble every day. He has admitted to placing bets with bookmakers and frequenting racetracks and dog tracks.

"I had a lot of free time and nothing else to do," Rose said. "All I did in the wintertime was work out during the day and if it was Saturday or Sunday or Monday, I'd bet on football games to enjoy them, or if it was the other days I might go to the racetrack, and I enjoyed it, it was the fun thing. It was relaxation."

After his ban, Rose went to racetracks a few times and said he made small wagers.

Walton continued from page 16

paid off. He led the Eastern League with a .331 average in 1988 and was promoted directly from Class AA to the majors, having never played a day in Class AAA.

Walton singled home a run in his second at-bat on opening day and hit in his first seven games. He went three straight games without a hit in mid-April, then didn't go hitless in two consecutive games until September.

Walton tore his right hamstring on May 10 and was on the disabled list until June 11.

The Famous SORIN HALL TALENT SHOW is this FRIDAY, NOV. 10th Showtime is 8:30 p.m. in front of Sorin Hall After the SMU Pep Rally. All are welcome.

Kimball Opportunities

Kimball will be interviewing on an open and invitational schedule on Thursday, November 15, 1989 for the following positions:

STAFF ACCOUNTANT - Entry level account coding reconciliation, fixed asset control & journal preparation. December, May, or August graduates in Accountancy or Finance will be interviewed.

APPLICATION PROGRAMMER - Work in entry level programming debugging, maintenance operation will work in COBOL - OS/MVS environment. December, May, or August graduates in Computer Applications (CAPP) and MIS will be interviewed.

INTERNAL AUDITOR - Entry level involvement with auditing all facets of company - policies, procedure, financial and internal controls. December, May, or August graduates will be interviewed.

These majors are invited to attend Kimball International's presentation on Wednesday, November 15, 1989 from 6:00 p.m. - 8:00 p.m. For more information contact Placement and Services Office, Notre Dame.

OUR DILLONITES

HAPPY

HAPPY

18th

21st

ANDREW

JOE

Love, MOM, DAD, and DAVID

IRISH ACCENT - Notre Dame's Comedy Improv Group-

HURSTDAY 9:30

Theodore's

White Castle Burgers 2/$5.00 Carmel Apples $2.75

Attention!!

Senior Class Block Party

Nov. 9th from 4-7 in the JACC

Free Admission

Live Music

Everyone Welcome!
Ram's Robinson is thinking positive

(AP) — John Robinson views his Rams as a 5-4 team, not one of the four worst four teams.

At least he prepares for a visit from the 8-1 New York Giants Sunday, Robinson is thinking positive. Instead of dwelling on the four defeats — two in the final seconds — he's taking the approach that the Rams are still in good position for a wild card.

"I judge a lot by how I feel," he said. "I feel fine and I don't feel discouraged at all. I actually feel more confident about us now than I did before the Chicago game. The scary thing about it is, 'Will we ever play good again?' I don't have that feeling." The Rams, who started 5-0 including a victory over Super Bowl champion and division rival San Francisco, suffered what might have been a devastating defeat in Minnesota last week. They scored what appeared to be the winning touchdown with 28 seconds left, then lost when the Vikings completed a "Hail Mary" pass to set up the game-tying field goal and block a punt in overtime for a safety.

Robinson, however, looks at the positives — like the two fourth-quarter touchdown drives engineered by Jim Everett, who after three down weeks completed 18 of 30 for 200 yards against the NFL's top defense. He gets more of the same in the Giants, whose defense is ranked fourth in the NFL, and has 13 sacks in the last two games. In their last seven games, the Giants have allowed opponents more than 300 yards only once.

They're also enjoying a week out west — Bill Parcells kept them in Scottsdale after their 20-13 win in Phoenix last week, allowing Lawrence Taylor to log an estimated 79 holes of golf through Tuesday. Taylor deserves it — he has 5 1/2 sacks in two games and 12 for the season.

Phil Simms, who missed two games with a sprained ankle will be back at quarterback, sending Jeff Hostetler to the bench after directing wins over the Vikings and Cardinals. Parcells, meanwhile, is as negative about four straight losses as Robinson is positive about that feeling.

"We haven't won anything," he said. "If you're not standing at the end, what happened so far doesn't matter."

In other games Sunday, Chicago is at Pittsburgh. Denver at Kansas City; Green Bay at Detroit; Indianapolis at Buffalo; Miami at the New York Jets; Minnesota at Tampa Bay; New Orleans at New England; Washington at Philadelphia; Atlanta at San Francisco; Cleveland at Dallas; Phoenix, and the Los Angeles Raiders at San Diego in the Sunday night game.

Cincinnati is at Houston Monday night.

Philadelphia (5-4) at Detroit (1-9).

Pittsburgh (5-4) at the Giants (6-3).

The Raiders lost 28-7 to the Bengals last week without Boomer Esiason, who left in the first quarter after bruising a lung, and running backs James Brooks and Eric Ball, who also were injured. Esiason was still spitting blood early in the week but should be ready. If not, it's rookie Erik Wilhelm.

Nebraska QB forgot all about milestone

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Gerry Gdowski is on the verge of one of college football's rarest accomplishments — 1,000 yards rushing and 1,000 yards passing in the same season — and until very recently, he didn't even know it.

The Nebraska senior has rushed for 828 yards and passed for 996, and the sixth-ranked Cornhuskers have two games left. At his current pace, he would go over 1,000 in each category easily.

It's been done only three times before in NCAA Division I, by Johnny Bright of Drake in 1950, Reggie Collier of Southern Mississippi in 1981 and Bart Weiss of Air Force in 1985.

"I saw something about that," Gdowski said. "If that happens, it'd be great. I think it's kind of a good opportunity. It's nothing I really expected to have an opportunity to do, but I just want to go out and help us win these next two games and if that happens in the meantime that would be great."

Looking for the fast track to success?

At Southeast Bank in Florida, we realize your professional development is an ongoing process. That's why we take pride in our industry-recognized Professional Banker Development Program. We seek high-energy, results-oriented graduates for our Professional Banker, Community Bank Management, and Real Estate Banker Development Programs. All provide multiple training in the fundamentals of banking marketing, products and operations, enhancing your performance and culminating in an assignment as a Southeast Banker. With further training as you need it, our Programs allow you to effectively compete in today's challenging financial services marketplace, maximizing your career potential as within an organization that continues to offer bold innovative solutions using state-of-the-art technology, so you can play an important role in our future. In return, we'll play an important role in you. Discover for yourself plenty of reasons why you should take advantage of our fast career enhancement opportunities. And, something else Southeast has plenty of: Sunshine.

Southeast Bank will be interviewing graduates from the schools of Finance, Liberal Arts and Accounting on campus November 10th. Contact your Career Placement Office for more details.
WILBUR AND WENDEL

CALVIN AND HOBBES

THE OBSERVER
Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s newspaper
Be a part of it.

Lecture Circuit

Thursday
6:30 p.m. "How to Conduct an Effective Mail Campaign" by Paul Reynolds, associate director of Career and Placement Services, Room 124 Hayes-Healy Center.
7:30 p.m. "Structural Engineering and Earthquakes," meeting and lecture by John Jacobs of Dillingham Construction Co., Room 106 Cushing Hall. Sponsored by the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Friday

Menus
Notre Dame
Chicken Figlax
Veal Parmesan
Veg Pot Pie

The Observer
Notre Dame and Saint Mary’s newspaper
Be a part of it.

Calvin and Hobbes

Across
1. Muslim title of respect
2. Trade center
3. Door part
4. Gone up
5. Operatic prince
6. Medical treatment ctr.
7. Old Nick
8. Weight allowance
9. Homecoming husband calls
10. Member of Zeus
11. Standard of perfection
12. Wife replies
14. Deprived
15. Hundred’s output
16. Latest in road tonight
17. Obscure
18. P.L.D. leader
19. Newspaper section
20. Peter or Ivan
21. Small bus
22. Capital of Guam
23. Brother to Uncle Remus
24. wore the bond scape
25. A true unit
26. He gets it ready
27. drawers on top
29. Brain tests:
30. Iceland’s monetary units
31. Brain tests
32. Fact’s counterpart
33. Roof surfacing
34. Dragging tool
35. Pedro or Bernardino
36. She played hot lips
37. see your rep
38. St. Helena’s output
39. pecate
40. Last night in road tonight
41. Simpleton
42. F.O.M. leader
43. Newspaper section
44. Peter or Ivan
45. Small bus
46. Capital of Guam
47. Brother to Uncle Remus
48. True unit
49. Odious
50. P.L.D. leader
51. Newspaper section
52. Peter or Ivan
53. Small bus
54. The Far Side

Crossword

The Far Side

Gary Larson

Warning
Nuclear Test Area

Don’t forget: Greek olymics

9:00 PM
@ Washington Hall
Tickets sold at door.

Irish Accent

ND’s Premiere Theatre & Comedy Troupe

9:30 @ the Dore’s
Free Admission

When Harry Met Sally...

10:15 Shows @ Cushing Auditorium
Admission: $2.00
Holtz tries to downplay possible matchup with Buffaloes

After Colorado's victory over Nebraska last Saturday, Holtz said nearly every college football writer in the country is predicting that the Buffaloes will meet Lou Holtz's Notre Dame squad to decide the National Championship on January 1.

Holtz seems to think that all of this prognostication is very premature, and says that the thought of a possible matchup with Colorado in the Orange Bowl does not concern him at this time.

"I have not studied Colorado," says Holtz. "Nor do I plan on studying about Colorado because we might not even be playing them. If and when our opponent is named, we'll get our film when we seewhat they are ever and look at it.

Holtz has seen the Buffaloes rumble past Oklahoma and Nebraska on television the past two weeks, however, and offers a few observations. He seems particularly intrigued by their new scheme on offense, which he says is a combination of a power-I and a wishbone.

"I think their quarterback (Darren Hagan) is absolutely phenomenal," he said. "I think they have a very good defense, obviously, but the problems they give you are not your traditional problems. They have a strong graphical plan which they can give you the same thing as the wishbone, but now they can accentuate a great tailback."

Holtz seems to think the ball better than we do," adds Holtz, "and you can see every single thing that Colorado may be the best football team in the country, based on the two times we've seen them."

We'll have to wait and see until New Year's Day to find out.

---

Sports

Irish basketball signs three for 1990-91

Early signing period begins in hoops

Purdue signed 6-4 Linc Darner of Anderson Highland and was expected to sign 6-4 Matt Waddell of Tipton.

Another big man, 6-9 Marcus Johnson of Indianapolis Pike, was expected to sign with Indiana State.

Among players were Todd Jones, a 6-7 forward at Crawford County, and David Broz, a 6-9 center at Hillsdale, Ind., Proviso West, who signed letters with Ball State. Jones averaged 12 points and 7.2 rebounds for WestProviso, 22-5.

"We're excited about these two quality recruits," first-year coach Dick Hausaker said. "Both are exemplary of the 'student athlete' type thing. They both have the potential to make immediate contributions."

He described Jones as a shooting forward with good range.

"It's getting better every time he steps on the floor," every game," coach Dick Hausaker said.

The 250-pound Broz is "a big strong, physical player. He has very good court awareness and is a very good scorer with good ball handling skills on his left hand," the coach added.

Elsewhere, Janmar Johnson, a 5-11 guard who averaged 22 points at Conrad High School last season, signed with Nebraska. Jeff Smithly, a 5-10 guard at Center Grove, signed with Indiana-Purdue of Fort Wayne; and 6-2 guard Chad Weerkert of Evansville Memorial signed with Marist College of New York.

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerome Walton, the speedy center fielder whose arrival helped the Chicago Cubs to their second National League East title in five years, was voted NL Rookie of the Year on Wednesday.

Walton, the first Cubs player to be chosen Rookie of the Year since Ryne Sandberg in 1984, received 22 first-place votes and two seconds for 116 points from a 24-member panel of the Baseball Writers Association of America. He was the only player named on every ballot.

Teammate Dwight Smith got the other two first-place votes, 19 seconds and one third for 68 points. It was the second time in NL history that teammates finished 1-2 in the voting. Right-hander Jack Sanford of the Philadelphia Phillies won in 1957 and first baseman Ed Mathews was second.

New York Mets infielder Greg Jeffries was third with 18 points, followed by Atlanta pitcher Derek Dillinger with six singles. Andy Philips and Philadelphia third baseman Charlie Hayes, with three points each, were fourth.

Walton hit .293 with 23 doubles and five home runs, drove in 82 runs for the Cubs, 82-70. He led the league with 31 stolen bases.

Among other players were 6-9 Marcus Johnson of Indianapolis Pike, expected to sign with Indiana State; 6-9 Todd Jones of Crawford County, of North Lawrence, was expected to sign later Wednesday with Indiana's Hoosiers.

The Ross twins were among three players signed early in the day by Notre Dame. Third-year player 6-6 Carl Coen of Chicago Marist High School will go to Notre Dame. Joe Ross averaged 18.8 points and 8.3 rebounds a game at North Lawrence, was expected to sign with Ball State.

 Prosecutors charged that some players committed crimes, including murder, in addition to various academic fraud and noncompletion of the required 15 weeks of academic work required before being eligible to play in the bowl game. The players were accused of refusing to participate in the required study program and failing to complete it.

The Ross twins had been invited to play in the Orange Bowl, but they were not able to attend the game due to criminal charges.

"The Ross twins have the potential to really help our front line," Notre Dame coach John Calipari said.

But the team's success over the past two seasons is due to a combination of factors.

"What it (the streak) means is that we've been very lucky, admits Holtz with characteristic modesty. "You look back and so many of those games could have gone either way. It also means that we've been talented, and we've been talented the last couple of years. I think the third thing that it says is that our assistant coaches have done an excellent job in staying close to the football players."

"The streak does put a lot of pressure on us just to keep winning, but I never thought this would become a reality by any stretch of the imagination."

The Irish will almost certainly wrap up their Big East season last Saturday, the day before the Notre Dame-Boston College game. Holtz thinks that his team's success over the past two seasons is due to a combination of factors.

"I think they (the Buffaloes) have a lot of talent and I think they have a lot of talent in the backfield."

"I think we'll walk through the tunnel in uniform for the last time as Chicago's leadoff hitter. He also played a fine centerfield, committing just three errors."

In the Cubs' five-game playoff loss to San Francisco, Walton had eight hits in 22 at-bats, a .364 average. Voting for the award was done before the playoffs.

Walton's 30-game hitting streak was the longest in the majors this season and a team record. He became the 31st big league ever to reach at least 300.

The Cougars were merciless in their offense to thoroughly humiliate the whole SMU defense (95-21). When the game was over, Holtz was outraged after Houston used their 95-21 win over the Mustangs on October 21 to build Heisman stats for quarterback Andre Ware.

"Don't expect Holtz's Irish squad to arouse the ire of the Mustangs. "When the game is over, when the game is over, I don't give up and I don't keep scoring any more," he said. "The last thing I want to do is embarrass another team."