Chamorra may triumph over Ortega in election

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Early returns in Sunday's elections showed U.S.-backed opposition candidates winning, butreefs and opposition had both predicted victory in the heavily scrutinized balloting, considered a referendum on Nicaragua's battered economy under the Sandinistas and the U.S.-supported Contra insurgency.

Voter turnout was heavy in what was considered Nicaragua's freest election ever, with people lining up for as much as four hours to cast ballots and more than 3,000 international election observers monitoring the action.

A "quick poll" showed surprising strength for Miss Chamorro and her National Opposition coalition, and indicated she might upset Ortega, according to a polling expert for the Los Angeles Times.

The Supreme Electoral Council was extremely late in reporting votes, it was expected to announce 15 percent of the returns by 11 p.m. Sunday, but was only able to announce 5 percent at 2 a.m. Monday.

With 244 of 4,396 precincts reporting, Mrs. Chamorro was leading by 26,671, or 51 percent of the votes, to Ortega's 23,016, or 44 percent of the vote, said council head Mariano Fiallos.

The Slow count raised opposition concerns, but Fiallos said it was the result of local election officials cautiously following rules developed to ensure security.

After the polls closed at 6 p.m. (7 p.m. EST), former President Jimmy Carter, head of one observer group, called the ballot "very fair." About 1.75 million of Nicaragua's 3.5 million people were registered to vote.

Mrs. Chamorro is "showing surprising strength and there exists the possibility of an upset," said LA. Lewis, the Los Angeles Times polling expert. Most pre-election polls said she was trailing Ortega.

Forbes dies of heart attack

NEW YORK (AP) — Malcolm Forbes, the multimillionaire magazine owner, motorcyclist and balloonist, was mourned Sunday as one who reveled in life and free enterprise. The self-proclaimed "capitalist tool" died of a heart attack Saturday at age 70.

"Death happens to everyone but we never believed it would happen to him; he always defied the odds," said Forbes' son, Malcolm Jr., who will succeed his father as chairman and chief executive of Forbes magazine and its parent, Forbes Inc., and as editor in chief of the magazine.

"What he wanted inscribed on his tombstone says it all: 'While alive, he lived.'" Malcolm Jr. said at a Sunday news conference with his sister and three brothers.

Forbes died in his sleep Saturday afternoon at his 40-acre estate in Bedford, N.Y.

Actress Elizabeth Taylor, a frequent companion of Forbes, said Sunday, "I feel like a great light has been turned off. He was one of the best friends I ever had."

Among the 1,000 guests at Forbes' $2 million, 70th birthday bash last fall in Tangier, Morocco, were billionaire developer Donald Trump, Chrysler Chairman Lee Iacocca, former Secretary of State Henry Kissinger. Various estimates placed the worth of Forbes, chairman and chief shareholding of Forbes Inc., at anywhere from $400 million to $1 billion.

Whatever the amount, Forbes gleefully told his riches.

He made the first free flight over Beijing in a hot-air balloon and set six world ballooning records. He owned 68 motorcycles and made the first motorcycle tour of China. He played with movie stars and heads of state aboard his gold-fluted, helicopter-equipped yacht, the Highlander.

But he also was gracious to everyday folks, his brother-in-law Richard Rockefeller said. "He never expected any of his fortune to be used for anything but charity."

"It's not how much money you have but what you do with it," Forbes once said. "The joy of living is incredible. We work hard at the things we have to do, so why not take time to enjoy the things we want to do?"
A representative of the FBI/FAIR will speak on the prospects for peace in El Salvador tonight at 7:30 p.m. in the C.S.C.

Professional sports and business - CFO of White Box, Controller of cubes, and a Representative (ND) grad from the Bears will be in 122 Hayes-Healy, at 4:15, Monday, February 26. The lockout, salary arbitration, etc., will be discussed. Sponsored by Ernst & Young. Reception to follow.

Hispanic-American Organization will meet today at 7:30 p.m. in the basement of Farley Hall. Sara Haber from Projecto Mudre will address the group on teaching English to Hispanic single parents.

The ruling Socialist Party in Hungary and leading opposition groups have gained enough popular support under election laws to field national states of candidates in the first general multiparty elections in more than 40 years, a Budapest newspaper reported Sunday. They are among 12 parties that will run candidates in the elections, set for March 25, according to the newspaper Mai Nap. There are more than 50 political parties. In most cases, if a party succeeds in fielding a candidate in 25 percent of the electoral districts of a given county or the capital city, then it could put up a county list. If it had a minimum of seven county lists, then it could put up a national list.

Gunnem ambushed and killed a leading Yugoslav expatriate as he sat in his car in a suburb of Brussels, Belgium, Sunday afternoon, police reported. Witnesses told police that several men shot Zivorad Hadri, chairman of the Yugoslav Committee for Human Rights in Kosovo, in his car in the suburb Saint Gilles. Hadri died about four hours later at a nearby hospital, police said. Other expatriates from the Yugoslav province of Kosovo, where the Bosnian news agency Agencia, said it was a political murder. However, there were no details.

The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
Monday, February 26, 1990
Page 2

The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

INSIDE COLUMN

Think 'du Lac' is tough? ND was tougher 1885

Day in, day out, the same complaints can be heard on campus:
"Plastics are stupid."
"The alcohol policy is ridiculous."
"The Administration is unfair."

Every student at some time has said one or more of these things. This may sound strange, but actually we should be thankful for the rules we have.

I recently secured a copy of Notre Dame's University Regulations from 1885. Father Corby was president and student life was much different than it is now. It will make you see how lenient our rules are, and maybe even appreciate them.

The general feeling among students lately is that the Administration does not trust us. In 1885, though, trust was the furthest concept from Corby's mind. Rule No. 7 stated that "students are not permitted to visit private rooms." No. 11 went a step further and determined that "unless with parents and guardians, students are not allowed to remain with visitors." Students could not take private walks either, without parental permission. Safe walk probably would not have set very well with Corby.

The rules are not necessarily a social event for students now, but back in 1885 it was less fun than classes. Regulation No. 3 explains that "as soon as the bell announces the beginning or end of a College exercise, every one shall repair in silence to the discharge of that duty to which he is assigned." No. 10 went a step further and stated that "all must be inviolably observed in all places." No student was allowed to enter the "playgrounds" of other departments either. Students were told when to talk and where to walk. Imagine trying to keep from going before that 10 a.m. class.

Just as today, the problem of having no money has been around for years. In 1885, though their reason was not quite the same.

Rule 16 states that "no one shall keep in his possession any money except what he receives weekly from the Treasurer on Wednesdays..." The ATMs had not yet been invented and faced supply those few extra dollars for that last-minute Beacon Bowl outing. A couple other rules to keep in mind that might make ND life a little easier to bear: every month the students must write to their parents or guardians. All letters sent or received may be opened by the President.

"No book, periodical or newspaper shall be introduced into the College without being approved of by the Director of Studies."

Some of the rules and restrictions we have now sometimes make us wish that we had gone to one of those state schools. But at least we can walk on the lawns, and not have the obligation to write home about it.

The Observer

Eucharistic Missionaries, a New Orleans, LA based post-graduate volunteer program will be at the Center for Social Concerns today, Tuesday and Wednesday. Stop by the CSC for more information.

Sophomore Literary Festival - Ken Brody, author of One Over the Okcoco's Nest and Garage Sale, will be giving readings of his works at 8:30 p.m. in the SMC O'Laughlin auditorium.

Sophomore Business Majors, the Student Body Treasurers Office is taking applications for the 1990-91 Assistant Treasurers. Assistant Treasurer is responsible for financial matters and disperses over $400,000 in Activity Funds. Pick up application in Student Body Treasurers Office - second floor, LaFortune or call 279-7417.

Light bulb fragments may have been packed into frozen park pizza topping manufactured by a Hutchinson, Kan., company, the Agriculture Department in Washington said Friday. A nationwide recall of approximately 106,000 pounds of the topping has been issued. The product was made by Donkoll Sausage Co. and was sold exclusively to food service facilities, including restaurants and carryouts, the department said. It is not available in packages sold directly to consumers. The company received four complaints over the past two months about broken glass in pizza toppings.

Economic data:

The nation's low:
( Hibbing, MN)

Yesterday's high: 19
Yesterday's low: 8
Nation's high: 80
(Bonrego Springs, CA)
Nation's low: -25
(Hibbing, MN)

Forecast:
Becoming cloudy with a few flurries today and warmer. Highs in the upper 20s. Mostly cloudy with a chance of flurries tonight and lows near 25. Partly sunny Tuesday with a high in the mid to upper 30s.

Of Interest

A 92-year-old woman from Muncie received a Ph.D. Friday, making her the oldest person on record to receive the honor. Smith, presented with her doctor of philosophy degree in history from Union Institute of Cincinnati during a ceremony at her home Friday. "I wanted the degree for self-enrichment, for occupying my mind and learning something new," she said. She took two years to complete the doctoral program that normally takes about 3 1/2 years. Her thesis was titled, "A Nonagenerian Reviews the History of the Old Northwest, Her Native State and Home Town, 1840-1889."

Six people were killed and 13 injured Sunday when a small Ford bolted into an oncoming freeway lane on Indianapolis' southern outskirts and struck bystanders from a Greyhound bus, police said.

The Observer

Pre-closing

The nation's high:
148.40 Million

510
60
510

NYSE Index
179.35
0.93

S&P Composite
1564.19
1.55

Dow Jones Industrials

© 1990 Accu-Weather, Inc.
A team of Notre Dame Law School students, arguing a case involving the dumping of hazardous waste in the waters of Antarctica, won the Midwest competition last week.

Graduate student Gary Sugarmann served as research assistant and Barbara Fick, associate law professor, served as a faculty assistant.

The competition involved an "applicant" advocacy and a "respondent" advocacy, each consisting of two students, from each school. Each school's applicant team competed against another school's respondent team, Le said.

The scenario was not that of a trial with witnesses, but was much like the procedure followed by the United Nations International Court of Justice, Le said, in which two countries present legal arguments for opposing sides.

The winner of the eastern region's moot court competition, Notre Dame, picked up the region's award for first, second and third place, said Le.

Criteria for oratory awards is based on a number of skills utilized during the legal arguments including knowledge of the law, presentation, ingenuity, clarity, poise and ability to distinguish between the opposing positions, said Le.

The topic for the competition was chosen by three or four international lawyers at the competition headquarters in Washington, D.C., Le said. The team was notified of this year's topic in early October, she said.

Intramural rounds took place in the Notre Dame Law School, prior to knowledge of this year's topic, to determine who should represent Notre Dame at the regional competition, Le said.

The University has sent teams to the competition for a number of years, she said, and also won the regional competition four or five years ago.

The team will advance to the final round in Washington, D.C., on March 24-28, where nine other regional winners will present their arguments, said Le.

"We are very confident," said Le. "The team is geared to working even harder" at the national competition.

In addition to the approximately 120 United States' law schools which participated in the regional rounds this year, 24 teams from foreign countries competed amongst themselves. The winner of the international competition will take on the winner of the U.S. competition, Le said.

The competition took place at the Detroit College of Law and was named after Philip Jessup, a former American member of the United Nations International Court of Justice.

---

ND Law students win court competition

By SANDRA WIEGAND

---

Two Law students win court competition

---

Notre Dame Law students win court competition

By SANDRA WIEGAND

---

Legal arguments

---

Two Lucifer Carlsbad, Calif., Attorney and Joseph Novak of State College, Pa.
Observers proclaim fair election

MANAGUA, Nicaragua (AP) — Nicaraguans voted Sunday in a peaceful, orderly manner, key international observers said.

"It was very fair," former President Jimmy Carter told The Associated Press after the polls closed.

The head of the U.N. 230-member observer mission agreed.

"I think things have been going very smoothly," said former U.S. Attorney General Elliot Richardson. He said none of the U.N. observers deployed nationwide had reported irregularities in the voting.

Carter, Richardson and Organization of American States Secretary-General Joao Baena Soares also were monitoring the counting of the votes.

Observers from smaller missions said they were more than satisfied with what they'd seen.

"We have been out touring polling places since 5:45 a.m. and we haven't seen a single irregularity," said Guatemalan congressman Edmond Mullet.

Mullet was one of 20 observers from the Washington-based Center for Democracy, which monitored the 1986 elections in the Philippines and the 1989 elections in Panama for the U.S. Senate.

"We only have 5 percent to go," said Carla Rodriguez, a woman in Nicaragua's lower-class Managua neighborhood who was waiting for latecomers.

Achilles' heel, and resentment of U.S.-supported Contra guerrillas was hurting UNO.

"I voted for the Front (Sandinistas)," Padilla said she was definitely voting for the Sandinistas. Her daughter was Army, a truck driver from Managua. She credited the Sandinistas for holding a clean election.

"If UNO wins I'll be glad. If the Front wins I'll go to Costa Rica," said Ian Allen, a resident of the Atlantic Coast town of Bluefields.

In a poor barrio of western Managua, Socorro Neira Padilla said she was definitely for the Sandinistas. Her daughter had been wounded in the Contra war.

One victory without an endorsement, he said Saturday, would be "bollow."
University admissions ad wins top award

By PAUL PEARSON
News Writer

A Notre Dame advertisement has won the top award in a national advertisement competition sponsored by Admissions Marketing Report.

According to Bruce Harlan, director of photography, University relations, the ad won the gold award in the fifth annual advertising awards. Notre Dame was competing in the contest for the first time.

The ad, which is displayed at Michigan Regional Airport, features a football helmet with the headline “If this is all you know about Notre Dame, you have a lot to learn,” followed by writing done by a New York advertising agency.

Harlan, who designed the ad, said that he was surprised to have won the award. “You’re always surprised and hopeful when you enter something like this. The ad, along with 1,200 others, was entered in the competition as an admissions advertisement. It won the top award in the 5,000-10,000 student enrollment category.

According to Harlan, the ad had originally appeared in a 1992 issue of Time magazine as an advertisement for the ND football team. It had originally featured a photograph of a football on a white background. “I changed the photo to a helmet because the football looked flat,” Harlan said.

The Admissions Marketing Report has not published a list of the winners yet. “We don’t know what we were really up against,” Harlan said.

Harlan plans to enter the same ad in another competition this spring.

Bush hosts West Germany’s Kohl at Camp David for weekend talks

CAMP DAVID, Md. (AP) — President Bush said Sunday he and Chancellor Helmut Kohl of West Germany agreed in weekend talks that a unified Germany would continue as a “full member” of NATO, including military participation in the Western alliance.

Kohl said “neutralism would be a very false solution.”

After two days of discussions regarding delicate issues of a unified Germany, Kohl said he recognized “the legitimate security interests of all states” in Europe, particularly Poland.

"Nobody needs to be afraid," the West German leader said. Bush chimed in that if he were alarmed about the prospect of a single Germany, he would not be endorsing reunification — as he had several times previously.

There have been fears in Poland — exacerbated by the Nazis in World War II — that a new Germany would seek to restore territory that was formerly under German rule.

Nonetheless, Bush and Kohl both said they saw no need to add Poland to the group of four nations that will discuss reunification with the two German states, Poland, like East Germany, has abandoned its Communist monopoly government.

Bush pointedly said that the United States regards the current European borders, including Germany’s long border with Poland, as inviolable. And Kohl said the border question "will be settled definitely by a freely elected all-German government," He said "nobody has any intention of linking the question of national unity with changes in existing borders.

East Germany is a member of the Soviet-dominated Warsaw Pact, and many in Europe have supported the concept of a neutral Germany rather than one allied with the United States and its NATO allies. East Germany is abandoning its Communist government and the Germans are pursuing a common currency based on the West German system.

"Neutralism would be a very false solution for us," said Kohl, adding that he did not expect that the German people would support a move away from NATO. He said the West Germans had proven their reliability by accepting missiles during the 1980s.

"The security link between North American and Europe is... for a united Germany, of vital importance," said Kohl. He reiterated his support for the continuing presence of U.S. military forces in Germany.

Kohl said he understands the delicacy of the German reunification issue in several European countries, but said, "nobody needs to be afraid" of that.

Kohl was asked whether Soviet groups — long based in East Germany — might be welcomed to stay in a new Germany.
Mandela asks followers to fight peacefully for equality

DURBAN, South Africa (AP) — Nelson Mandela, seeking to end four years of fighting among black factions in Natal Province, appealed to the warring groups Sunday to put down their weapons and fight together for racial equality.

Mandela, released Feb. 11 after 27 years in prison, still supports the low-level armed struggle waged by his African National Congress guerrilla movement.

But he said the black-on-black fighting in the southeastern province hindered the battle against apartheid, South Africa's policy of racial segregation.

"Even now as we stand together on the threshold of a new South Africa, Natal is in flames," Mandela told an estimated 100,000 people who filled three adjacent soccer fields.

"My message to those of you involved in this battle of brother against brother is this: take your guns, your knives and your pangas and throw them into the sea," Mandela said.

"We are all sons of the same mother and my brothers, let us fight for our country in peace and through professionals hoping to put social justice, and I believed in a struggle waged by my African National Congress guerrilla movement.

When reform-minded military government came to power in 1972, He was Duarte helped form the Christian Democratic Party in 1948 with a degree in civil engineering.

Salvador graduated from Notre Dame guided him to abandon a profitable career in engineering and instead fight for political and instead fight for political and economic change and a g a inst apartheid, South Africa's policy of racial segregation.

Christina Hesburgh planned to father Hesburgh planned to把手 it if he had won the Nobel Peace Prize.

After an attempted coup, Duarte faced personal trauma due to political struggles when his daughter was kidnapped by opposition. He had managed to get her back.

Duarte faced personal trauma due to political struggles when his daughter was kidnapped by opposition. He had managed to get her back.

Duarte faced personal trauma due to political struggles when his daughter was kidnapped by opposition. He had managed to get her back.

"I don't know anyone who enjoyed life so much or gave so much back," said Barbara Walters, who was a guest at the birthday bash.

The whole world will miss Malcolm, who brought humanity to the capitalist system," in-industrial arts and business administration.

Charles Forbes was a tireless collector, accumulating toys solders by the battalion and buying up toy soldiers, balloons, even trading and clothing and luggage.

"He was a real free spirit," said opera star Beverly Sills, who sang "Happy Birthday" at the Marquette party. "He had such a joy of life. I think he would have had it if he had been a poor man."

Forbes was born in Englewood, N.J., on Aug. 19, 1919, two years after Forbes magazine was founded by his father, Scottish emigrant Berle Charles Forbes.

After his father's death in 1954, Forbes became publisher and editor-in-chief.

Forbes continued from page 1

Several of Mandela's ANC colleagues, including Walter Sisulu, have been in Natal since Thursday meeting with leaders of the Front, Inkatha and local authorities.

Mandela made several consilatory remarks concerning Inkatha and Buthelezi, whom he praised for demanding the ANC be legalized and political prisoners be released. President F.W. de Klerk on Feb. 2 legalized the ANC, which had been banned since 1960.

Mandela also praised the Zulu leader for refusing to negotiate with the white-led government, while other black groups were outlawed and their leaders imprisoned.

"Even now as we stand together on the threshold of a new South Africa, Natal is in flames," Mandela told an estimated 100,000 people who filled three adjacent soccer fields.

"My message to those of you involved in this battle of brother against brother is this: take your guns, your knives and your pangas and throw them into the sea," Mandela said.

"We are all sons of the same mother and my brothers, let us fight for our country in peace and through professionals hoping to put social justice, and I believed in a struggle waged by my African National Congress guerrilla movement.

When reform-minded military government came to power in 1972, He was Duarte helped form the Christian Democratic Party in 1948 with a degree in civil engineering.

Salvador graduated from Notre Dame guided him to abandon a profitable career in engineering and instead fight for political and instead fight for political and economic change and a g a inst apartheid, South Africa's policy of racial segregation.

Christina Hesburgh planned to father Hesburgh planned to把手 it if he had won the Nobel Peace Prize.

After an attempted coup, Duarte faced personal trauma due to political struggles when his daughter was kidnapped by opposition. He had managed to get her back.

Duarte faced personal trauma due to political struggles when his daughter was kidnapped by opposition. He had managed to get her back.

Duarte faced personal trauma due to political struggles when his daughter was kidnapped by opposition. He had managed to get her back.

"I don't know anyone who enjoyed life so much or gave so much back," said Barbara Walters, who was a guest at the birthday bash.

The whole world will miss Malcolm, who brought humanity to the capitalist system," in-industrial arts and business administration.

Charles Forbes was a tireless collector, accumulating toys solders by the battalion and buying up toy soldiers, balloons, even trading and clothing and luggage.

"He was a real free spirit," said opera star Beverly Sills, who sang "Happy Birthday" at the Marquette party. "He had such a joy of life. I think he would have had it if he had been a poor man."

Forbes was born in Englewood, N.J., on Aug. 19, 1919, two years after Forbes magazine was founded by his father, Scottish emigrant Berle Charles Forbes.

After his father's death in 1954, Forbes became publisher and editor-in-chief.

Forbes continued from page 1

Several of Mandela's ANC colleagues, including Walter Sisulu, have been in Natal since Thursday meeting with leaders of the Front, Inkatha and local authorities.

Mandela made several consilatory remarks concerning Inkatha and Buthelezi, whom he praised for demanding the ANC be legalized and political prisoners be released. President F.W. de Klerk on Feb. 2 legalized the ANC, which had been banned since 1960.

Mandela also praised the Zulu leader for refusing to negotiate with the white-led government, while other black groups were outlawed and their leaders imprisoned.
Numerous obstacles cause delay in space shuttle liftoff

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Five astronauts boarded Atlantis Sunday night, but high winds threatened to force cancellation of the fifth attempt to launch the space shuttle on a secret military mission.

"It will be nip and tuck," said Air Force Capt. Tom Strange, the shuttle weather officer. Strange said wind gusts at the launch pad reached 30 mph, about 2 mph above launch limits. Winds that high, he said, could blow the shuttle into the launch tower if liftoff and destroy the spacecraft.

Just fill out the form (with your name called for an extended hold, hoping that the winds would subside before the available launch period of about 90 minutes expired.

The all-military astronaut crew arrived at the launch pad shortly after 10 p.m., just as they did Saturday night only to have their flight scrubbed early Sunday 31 seconds before liftoff. That was the fourth postponement in as many days.

Forecasters said there was only a 40 percent chance the shuttle could be launched early Monday.

Despite the gloomy forecast, shuttle managers in midafternoon gave the go-ahead for the launch team to pump 528,900 gallons of liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into Atlantis' cavernous fuel tank for another try.

Never let them see you sweat

A resident assistant interview session in progress in Pangborn Hall. Pictured are, clockwise from left: Ed Cosgrove, Father Wilfred Borden (rector), Jack Dellatora, Jon Desmarais (the interviewee), and Paul Eden.

Duarte remembered at Sunday funeral

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP) — Thousands of people chanting "Duarte! Duarte!" lined the streets Sunday for former president Jose Napoleon Duarte, who was buried with honors and eulogized as "the father of Central American democracy."

View President Dan Quayle, Costa Rican President Oscar Arias, Guatemalan President Vinicio Cerezo and former Honduran President Jose Azcona Hoyos attended a Roman Catholic funeral Mass for Duarte, who died Friday. He was 61.

Arias and Cerezo were among the pallbearers for the founder of the Christian Democratic Party. Party leaders criticized the rightist government of President Alfredo Cristiani as "niggardly" for not declaring a national day of mourning.

At least 100,000 people paid their last respects to the de­ parted former president, party leaders said.

Duarte's followers, many carrying photographs of the former president and cheering "Duarte! Duarte!" tossed flowers at his flag-draped coffin as it was carried from the church to a 21-gun military salute.

Arias, speaking at the Mass, called Duarte "the father of Central American democracy."

"Napoleon was a visionary pioneer and an untiring fighter for democracy," Arias said.

Cerezo referred to criticisms of Duarte's 1984-1989 term as president but said, "I think the magnitude and value of his work still has not been fully appreciated."

He "gave his life for the cause of all democrats of Latin Amer­ ica," Cerezo said.

Duarte, who tried but failed to end a civil war and was ex­ pelled from his government of the Christian Democratic Party, died at his San Salvador home after struggling against stomach and liver cancer for almost two years.

Fidel Chavez Mena, who suc­ ceeds Duarte as the Christian Democratic leader, criticized the government for not declar­ing a day of mourning but added: "the people were in mourning, anyway, which is the important thing."

Armando Calderon Sol, mayor of San Salvador and Arena president, said: "Duarte was an expression of demo­ cratic will. He made great con­ tributions toward the democrat­ ization of the country."

GILBERT'S SENIOR FORMAL TUXEDO SPECIALS

Classic Tuxedo $36.00
All other styles 20% off

1st Choice Guaranteed
(on orders placed by March 24th)
NO DEPOSIT REQUIRED
NO HIDDEN CHARGES
Your choice is always welcome with ND I.D., as well as all major credit cards
Locally owned and operated

One man tells another, it's gilbert's

Store Hours: Mon & Thurs 9-8
Tues, Wed, Fri 9-5:30
Sat 9-5

123 W. Washington
Downtown South Bend
Soviets demand further reforms

MOSCOW (AP) — From Siberia to the southern republic of Georgia, hundreds of thousands of Soviets rallied for democracy in more than 30 cities Sunday, despite official warnings that the Soviet Union's first nationwide protest could explode in violence.

More than 100,000 people turned out in Moscow, and smaller protests occurred elsewhere. The official warnings, which were repeated frequently last week in the state-run media, kept the turnout low in some cities and prevented some protests altogether.

Riot police dragged away people who tried to hold an unsanctioned demonstration in Leningrad, but there were no reports of major unrest.

In Moscow, the crowd grew through the afternoon as initial tension gave way to a relaxed and good-natured atmosphere.

One column of marchers was led by a man with a halfburnt who told police and bystanders, "We represent no danger." Gavril Popov, a member of the Congress of People's Deputies and one of the organizers of the demonstration day, told masses gathered under cloudy skies that the Communist Party and state apparatus had engineered a campaign of fear not seen since Stalin in an attempt to thwart the outpouring of popular sentiment.

The protests were planned after a successful Feb. 4 pro-democracy rally in Moscow in which about 200,000 people demanded the Communist Party give up its monopoly on power.

The party did so shortly afterward.

Thousands of uniformed police and internal security troops guarded the authorized march route along the broad Garden Ring Road that circles the city center. Sand-filled dump trucks, water trucks and snowplows sealed off all roads leading from the Garden Ring Road into the downtown area where the Kremlin and Red Square were guarded by more police posted about every 30 feet.

Estimates of the number of protesters varied widely, from 200,000 reported by the official press agency Novosti, which had a view of the rally site in Moscow, to a half-million claimed by Popov.

An independent newsletter issued by Radio Moscow quoted unnamed Interior Ministry officials as putting the crowd at 300,000.

Maj. Gen. Georgy Pustyrev of the Interior Ministry, who said he was in charge of security at Gorky Park, estimated 100,000 people gathered at the park.

They then marched across a bridge over the Moscow River and met up with a considerably smaller group that had gathered at the Foreign Ministry. Together, they headed to the rally site.

Experts analyze U.S. invasion of Panama

RICHMOND, Va. (AP) — The U.S. invasion of Panama succeeded not only because the enemy was outnumbered and outgunned but because the attack was carried out primarily by one branch of the service, say experts as putting the crowd at 1,980.

"At the beginning, a leftist regime, required more than 7,000 soldiers in subdue about 700 Cuban construction workers and soldiers.

Grenada, which was planned in two days, "was a military comic opera" characterized by bad intelligence, critical equipment breakdowns and tactical blunders, Hackworth said in a telephone interview from his home in Maleny, Australia.

A report by the congressional Military Reform Caucus said an early plan for the Grenada strike called for use of only Navy and Marine forces "was overruled by the Joint Chiefs of Staff, who demanded that all four services be involved — just as in the Iran rescue mission.
Winter storm wreaks havoc with heavy winds and snow

(AP) - At least eight people were killed as a result of accidents on Indiana roads Saturday as a powerful winter storm, packing winds of more than 50 mph, roared through the state. The storm dumped up to a foot of snow in northern sections of Indiana and reduced visibility to near zero over parts of the state, authorities said.

Two different sections of Interstate 65 and several lanes of the Indiana Toll Road and I-69 near Angola were closed temporarily Saturday due to the extreme conditions. Dangerous roads also led to a pileup of at least 20 cars on Interstate 74 near Greensburg.

The National Weather Service issued a winter storm warning for extreme northwest and north central Indiana through Sunday morning, affecting Gary, LaPorte, Michigan City, South Bend and other cities. An advisory for blowing and drifting snow covered all of the state except for the southwest corner at one point Saturday.

Strong winds gusting to over 50 miles an hour prompted blowing and drifting of the snow in north and central Indiana. Observers in Peru reported a wind gust of 61 mph.

About six inches of snow had accumulated around South Bend by early evening. Fort Wayne and Indianapolis had two inches each, the weather service said. Total snow amounts near Lake Michigan could be near a foot.

The combination of slick roadways and wind-whipped snow created near-blizzard conditions and led to numerous traffic accidents, mostly involving fender benders or blinded motorists driving off of the pavements, state police said.

"We're recommending no travel at all today in the state of Indiana. It's just extremely bad," said Sgt. Tom Goble of the Indianapolis post. "We've had a lot of people just drive off the road because they can't see where they're going."

Call Beth Manus at x2875 and wish her a Happy 21st Birthday

SWEATER SPECIAL

Bring in any 3 sweaters or more and get them cleaned for HALF OFF the regular price.

Limited time only.

Student Government

Are you interested in helping to manage and account for $400,000?

If you are a SOPHOMORE BUSINESS MAJOR who enjoys working with money and people, STUDENT GOVERNMENT needs you as the Student Body Assistant Treasurer.

- Student Body Assistant Treasurer aids the Student Body Treasurer in disbursing funds for:
  - Student Government
  - Student Union Board
  - Halls
  - Clubs and Organizations

This is in preparation for your becoming THE STUDENT BODY TREASURER the following year.

- Applications are available in the Treasurer's office 2nd floor LaFortune between 1-5 pm.
  - Due on Friday March 9 by 4:00 pm.
- Any questions, contact Jim Hanley at 239-7417
Morgan/Foretich custody battle continues in New Zealand

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — A U.S. doctor arrived in New Zealand Monday to try to reclaim his 7-year-old daughter, who is at the center of a bitter custody battle and reportedly has not seen either of her parents for two years.

The girl’s mother, Dr. Jean Elizabeth Morgan, was jailed for 25 months in August 1987, when she refused to say where her daughter was after a U.S. court gave her former husband unsupervised access to the child.

Morgan, a 42-year-old plastic surgeon in Washington, had claimed her ex-husband, Dr. Eric Foretich, sexually abused the child, a charge he denies.

Morgan sent the girl, Hilary Foretich, away with her maternal grandparents, first to England, then to Christchurch, to prevent her father from seeing her.

But Foretich announced Saturday he had located the girl in Christchurch, where she has been living for nearly two years.

Morgan reportedly accused him of hunting Hilary down “like an animal.”

Foretich flew from Washington, D.C., into Mangere International Airport on the North Island and was to fly to Christchurch in the south for a family court hearing, according to the New Zealand Press Association.

“Certainly, we’re going to do what we need to do to rescue my daughter,” the Press Association quoted him as saying.

Morgan is unable to travel to New Zealand because her passport was taken from her when she went to jail. She was released in September.

Hilary was allowed to speak to her mother by telephone Sunday for the first time in two years, her family said.

“When she talked to her mother, she broke down in tears,” said her maternal grandmother, Antonia Morgan.

“We’ve got letters to us through various channels, but this was the first time she had spoken on the phone to her.”

Before he boarded the flight, Foretich, of Falls Church, Va., reportedly accused his former wife of waging a media campaign against him.

“I think Elizabeth Morgan and the people who follow her are very misguided people by the way they’re going to make it difficult for my daughter, and it’s really a shame,” said Foretich, a 45-year-old dental surgeon.

“My daughter deserves to come back and have a normal life,” Radio New Zealand quoted Foretich as saying.

The mother flung back her own charges, claiming her former husband sought publicity himself, according to the New Zealand Press Association.

“Eric is the one who has had a publicity agent for me six months to a year, not me.”

“He has hunted her down like an animal. She does not want to see him, and he knows that,” the agency said, quoting her from the United States.

William Morgan, the child’s maternal grandfather, told Television New Zealand he would call the police if Foretich tried to approach Hilary.

“He can’t do it. I would have to call the police because the court order says he can’t,” he said.

The Family Court in Christchurch granted an interim order on Friday giving the maternal grandparents custody of Hilary.

$118 roundtrip airfares on Northwest Airlines.
It's not just a great price. It's a great experience.

Apply for the American Express® Card. Then get ready to take off. In search of adventure, action—or just simply to escape. American Express and Northwest Airlines have arranged these extraordinary travel privileges on Northwest—exclusively for student Cardmembers.

■ CERTIFICATES VALID FOR THE PURCHASE OF TWO $118 ROUNDTRIP TICKETS—to many of the more than 180 cities in the 48 contiguous United States served by Northwest. Each certificate is good for a six-month period, and they will arrive within six weeks after you receive the Card. Current Cardmembers will automatically receive their $118 certificates by March 15, 1990 provided they are still full time students.

■ 30% OFF ANY NORTHWEST FLIGHT—with your own personalized discount card, valid through January 1991 on all Northwest and Northwest Airlink flights. (This discount is not applicable to the $118 student certificates and other certificates, promotional or special status airfares.)

■ 2,500 BONUS MILES TOWARDS FREE TRAVEL—when you enroll in Northwest's WorldPerks® Free Travel Program.

AND NOW BECOMING A CARDMEMBER IS AS EASY AS A TELEPHONE CALL. Just pick up the phone, call 1-800-942-AMEX, and talk to us. We'll take your application and begin to process it immediately. (If you have your banking information handy, like your account number and bank address, it will help speed the process.)

Keep in mind that our Automatic Acceptance Program makes it easier for you to become a Cardmember now, as a student, than it will ever be again.

And remember that as a Cardmember you'll enjoy all the exceptional benefits and personal service you would expect from American Express.

So don't miss out on a world of great experiences. Pick up the phone: Apply for the Card. And start packing!

Membership Has Its Privileges®

APPLY TODAY
1-800-942-AMEX
NORTHWEST AIRLINES

*If you are already a student American Express Cardmember and have a question about this program, please send your written question, a copy of your student ID and class schedule to American Express, PO Box 15028
Attn: Student Marketing, Greensboro, NC 27421. Fare is for roundtrip travel on Northwest Airlines. Tickets must be purchased within 24 hours after making reservations. Fares are nonrefundable and no money changes may be made after purchase. Seats at this fare are limited and may not be available when you call. Travel must originate by certificate expiration date and be completed within 60 days of the date. Travel may not be available between cities to which Northwest does not have published routings. City fuel surcharges not included in fare from Boston ($2.50), Chicago ($5.00), Denver ($2.00) and Florida cities ($3.00). Certain blackout dates and other restrictions may apply for complete offer details. call 1-800-942-AMEX, © 1990 American Express Travel Related Services Company, Inc.
WASHINGTON (API) — The emerging democracies of Eastern Europe may be given a big boost by the new membership in the European Economic Community, according to the chairman of the European Commission, said on Friday. Andriessen said: "I think that if we are successful in bringing them into the Community and if they succeed in bringing their economies up to the level of the Community, then we will be able to bring about a political revolution in Eastern Europe that is the natural result of the economic revolution that is taking place in the western democracies needed to support the political change." Andriessen said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.

In his 1989 report, to be out soon, Dunk is convinced "we will be hearing the possibility to anchor Eastern Europe may be Eastern Europe to the Community." Dunk said that in the Community members will be encouraged to economic reforms, and that the Community will give economic aid to transition economies in the region.
Dear Editor:

There is a personality at this campus which upsets me. It's called the fair-weather fan. During the first semester of school it rarely wears its ugly head, yet during the spring semester it has become more and more evident. It is characterized by less of voice and emotion during basketball games as well as a tendency to blame poor court play on everyone else.

The difference between last Saturday and this past Tuesday is a prime example of this terrible trait. On Saturday, the campus was overjoyed to view Notre Dame at the right time, but that doesn't mean that the players at the time were happy. Phelps didn't call the right play every time. The students of Notre Dame are very lucky to have a coach such as Digger Phelps has a winning home court advantage. Have we forgotten UCLA or North Carolina?

Dear Editor:

I am taking this opportunity to remind the students of Notre Dame that basketball is merely a game. I feel compelled to do this because I am sick and tired of hearing people bad-mouth the home court advantage. Have we forgotten UCLA or North Carolina?

Dear Editor:

I am taking this opportunity to remind the students of Notre Dame that basketball is merely a game. I feel compelled to do this because I am sick and tired of hearing people bad-mouth the home court advantage. Have we forgotten UCLA or North Carolina?

Dear Editor:

There was a time when Al McGaule or Dick Vitale would walk into the arena and talk about the magic of the Irish fans. Nowadays it's beginning to seem as if the MAC, at game time has become more like Moravian seminary at vespers. Perhaps the officiating is really poor, and maybe Coach Phelps didn't call the right play at the right time, but that doesn't mean that the players are playing any less hard. They go out to win each time they hit the court, to win both for themselves and Notre Dame. And that is why they deserve to have the sixth man playing just as hard each time the team hits the court. Let's really wake up the echoes as the Irish head into this last part of the season, and make Notre Dame a place where visitors fear to play.

Kevin Hoffman
Fanner Hall
Feb. 20, 1990

Support Nicaraguan effort

Dear Editor:

The war in Nicaragua has deprived thousands of innocent people of some of their basic human rights: school, women United for Justice and Peace calls the Notre Dame community to respond to the plight of the Nicaraguan people by allying ourselves with Quest for Peace, a national humanitarian organization. Quest for Peace aims to send true humanitarian aid "to support Nicaragua's efforts to resettle refugees, war-displaced, former contras, and Atlantic Coast people," as well as to foster peace and friendship between the two countries.

During the next few days, you will have the opportunity to contribute to this effort by donating summer clothing, shoes, school, and medical supplies to the designated boxes located in each dorm. We ask that you be generous in giving to the people of Nicaragua, keeping in mind that Quest for Peace will deliver your donations directly to those most in need. The materials will be collected from the dorms on Feb. 27, packed, and sent to Nicaragua.

Cathy Schmidt, a representaive of Quest for Peace and Call to Action, will be here to present a slide show and discuss her work in Nicaragua on March 1 at 8 p.m. at the Center for Social Concerns. We thank you for your help and invite you to join us.

Lynn M. Catamarc
Student Body President
Saint Mary's College
Feb. 21, 1990

SMC elections prove interest

Dear Editor:

On behalf of Saint Mary's student government, I would like to express my congratulations to all of the new student body and class officers. We are thoroughly pleased with their energy and enthusiasm.

The fact that the races for student body and junior class were unopposed does not discourage us in the least. In fact, it makes us even more optimistic that those people are well-qualified for the positions. According to many potential candidates, their abilities are a central reason for the lack of opponents.

However, the editorial in The Observer of Tuesday, Feb. 20, failed to mention the ideas that the Schmidt ticket proposed for more participatory elections; these ideas were a major part of the discussion at "Meet the Candidates' night. We feel the student body ticket of Kathy Schmidt, Maureen Lowry, and Maggie Belin was penalized unjustly for running unopposed, when they are the students with the interest and commitment to participate next year.

Unopposed tickets are inevitable in any election. We feel the Schmidt administration has the ability to decrease their frequency.

Lynn M. Catamari
Student Body President
Saint Mary's College
Feb. 21, 1990

Dear Editor:

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the following: the editors, the Viewpoint department, the more concise the piece, the less

The Observer retains the right to edit all commentaries submitted to the Viewpoint Department. Please note that the more concise the piece, the less we will have to edit it to fill our space.

Don Deveau
GARY TRUDEAU

Quote of the Day

"I will resist our passions, it is more through their weakness than from our strength."
Many feel that women are free from attack or rape just because they are at Notre Dame, but it is because this is a Catholic University or the students here stem from "some families." Statistics report that one in ten college women have been raped or attacked, and it will be raped at some point in one in four women's lives.

We have all heard the claims that there has not been a violent rape reported at the University in three years. So, considering one woman in ten was raped this past Monday, February 26, 1990, we might be exempt from this attitude. The Desana from the Columbian Northwest Amazon, sharply segregate themselves by sex and exhibit severe aggression towards women. Rape and gang rapes are prevalent among the Desana. Since rape still exists in our own society, perhaps we need to reevaluate our deepest beliefs about the equality of women.

There are also societies much more oppressive of women. The Kikuyu from South Africa, whose society does not openly recognize the existence of rape is suppressed. After the film was "Do the Right Thing," researcher Estrich says, the burden of proof is on the victim instead of the rapist. The woman who was raped is interrogated as the "guilty" one and she must prove her innocence, whereas the rapist is innocent until proven guilty. This is a major issue in which the law code assumes that the woman is guilty. If this were ever true in our society, women would be raped at some point in almost every woman's life.

In "Real Rape," researcher Alixa Najjar discusses how two-thirds of all rapes go unreported nationally. If a rape will be reported at some point in the future, the victim herself will report it, and the defense attorney at Notre Dame as well, unless the four thousand or so residents of the Notre Dame community somehow except themselves.

Why are women afraid to report their attacks as rape? National statistics once again are revealing. Many women will admit having been forced to have sex with someone they know, but only a small proportion of those women label this rape. It Yet is rape. Research entities "simple" rape as the rape of a woman by a man she knows without violence in the form of physical beatings. Most rapes are of this form. Rape is only called date or acquaintance rape. Simple rape is real rape, but our society does not openly recognize it as such.

In a case of simple rape, a woman receives mixed messages. Her emotions tell her she has been violated as a woman in the deepest, most personal way. Yet, in very few cases does the law validate her feelings by prosecuting this violent act as a real rape. So, society sends the message that it may let the woman's family or friends or relatives better than to go out alone in the dark. If she is wearing a rape kit, this will establish that the woman's clothing style of dress was inviting it. As Estrich says, the burden of proof is on the victim instead of the rapist. The woman who was raped is interrogated as the "guilty" one and she must prove her innocence, whereas the rapist is innocent until proven guilty. This is a major issue in which the law code assumes that the woman is guilty. If this were ever true in our society, women would be raped at some point in almost every woman's life.

Many people saw the riot as drastic on the part of Spike Lee, but it was the appropriate climax for the movie relative to its themes. It displayed the possibilities of what can occur if racial issues are not addressed immediately.

America owes Spike Lee a big thank you for making this movie. Throughout his movie Spike Lee has given us the chance to rap the positive benefits of such an occurrence without the negative factors, such as destruction of property, animosities surfacing nationwide, and mass hysteria. A movie of this type almost necessarily sparks controversy, but can also produce beneficial discussion. Through discussion and action we can hopefully bring about the prevention of a race riot. In all reality, America is presently experiencing a drastic increase in overt racism, tensions are beginning to flare.

On the whole, the audience agreed that America has a very big problem, but I noticed that many of my white counterparts were disturbed by the quote from Malcolm X at the end of the movie, and his justification of violence. To them or anyone disturbed about Malcolm X, I would like to say that Malcolm X is probably one of the most misunderstood figures of the twentieth century. In Spike Lee's use of quotations from both Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcolm X, he attempted to establish a happy medium between the two extremes of love and hate. Malcolm's statement, like King's, is a statement for peace, freedom, and equality, but Malcolm is emphasizing that the years of physical, psychological, and economic abuse are over and will not be tolerated.

Mixed emotions about various characters in the movie were also expressed in the discussion. Lee's movie encompassed a large spectrum of society, and to his credit, he showed us reality. He gave us Exposition, an African American man so prejudiced that he will not shake hands with a black youth, and an obviously harmless white man who has done absolutely nothing to him. On the other end of the spectrum he showed us a racist police officer who unjustly takes the life of an African American youth at the first chance they get. Then he showed us American Indians and white people alike Mookie and Sal who are common, down-to-earth, everyday people. We were then given the confused African American youth Radio Raheem, who goes about achieving justice through the ultimate display of masculine power and authority. This is manifest in our own society as part of a belief system which condones and excuses the death of those who use violence against others.

The message of the movie is simple: America has problems, and through this movie Spike Lee calls on America as a whole to do the right thing. We must address the problems and fix them. African Americans have come a long way, we have to go. One person in the audience liked the situation of African Americans to that of two men in a foot race. At the outset one man was two miles ahead, the other had a weight chained to his leg. He referred to the racial injustice today as being about two miles. I disagree; the difference is much larger than that. We live in a institutionalized racist society which holds us down through economic, political, and cultural oppression. We believe in us in this state through unjust legislation and the existence of race is a sign of society has cast all minorities into Hell and condemnation since the time of Adam. To my racist friends out there, whoever they may be, from whatever creed, I have one thing to say: Christ said, and man come after me, let him have all he asked these crooks..." He meant that we should cease with our biases and help shoulder the fellow man. I do not know how can one attended the University of Notre Dame and not follow the teachings of Christ. More than ever, just do the right thing.

Eric Silk is enrolled in the Freshmen Year of Studies.

By Eric Silk

On the night of Jan. 31, the Young Democratic Socialists, with help from the Negro Organization, and the Black Cultural Arts Council sponsored a film entitled to the situation of the Notre Dame community, the screening of King's "Do the Right Thing." It was free, and I referred to find myself in the presence of so many highly intelligent and well-thinking people. However, the audience had its bad elements.

Many of you may remember the contro­versial conversation and was the talk of our entire past summer. We have been over the events of an untypical mass rape that took place in a pizzeria located in a predominately African American neighbohood. At the end of the summer, a certain customer of the pizzeria witnessed the owner on why he has displayed only Italian Americans on the wall of his shop and told us that she knows when all of his customers are African Americans. Then, to the customer's dismay, the store owner tells him that he will put on pictures of all whenever he pleases. This customer returns at a later date with a friend who insists to perform a very discretion. This leads to an altercation in which police are called to break up. In the process of setting things straight, the police un­necessarily kill an African American youth. After the police flee the scene, imps over this youth's death are projected in various parts of New York City, and a pizza shop through the form of a massive race riot.

Americans are disturb about Malcolm X, I would like to say that Malcolm X is probably one of the most misunderstood figures of the twentieth century. In Spike Lee's use of quotations from both Martin Luther King Jr. and Malcolm X, he attempted to establish a happy medium between the two extremes of love and hate. Malcolm's statement, like King's, is a statement for peace, freedom, and equality, but Malcolm is emphasizing that the years of physical, psychological, and economic abuse are over and will not be tolerated.

Mixed emotions about various characters in the movie were also expressed in the discussion. Lee's movie encompassed a large spectrum of society, and to his credit, he showed us reality. He gave us Exposition, an African American man so prejudiced that he will not shake hands with a black youth, and an obviously harmless white man who has done absolutely nothing to him. On the other end of the spectrum he showed us a racist police officer who unjustly takes the life of an African American youth at the first chance they get. Then he showed us American Indians and white people alike Mookie and Sal who are common, down-to-earth, everyday people. We were then given the confused African American youth Radio Raheem, who goes about achieving justice through the ultimate display of masculine power and authority. This is manifest in our own society as part of a belief system which condones and excuses the death of those who use violence against others.

The message of the movie is simple: America has problems, and through this movie Spike Lee calls on America as a whole to do the right thing. We must address the problems and fix them. African Americans have come a long way, we have to go. One person in the audience...
"One Flew Over The Cuckoo's Nest." In this novel, he paints a picture of America as a machine, with organic and man-made parts merging to form a high pressure, self-sustaining, 'cybernetic' factory. "Cuckoo's" passive narrator, Chief, hallucinates the details of this factory while imprisoned in the voluntary ward of a mental hospital. Chief, like the other patients, is self-committed, convinced of his inability to survive on the outside, wallowing in his diseases and self-disgust. The ward is run by one big Nurse, an objectifying, tyrannical, steel-willed woman who sees her charge's sprits in the name of mental health. Chief and the other patients are forced to watch the battle intensify, they begin to sense the possibility of true freedom—from the asylum, from the factory—and the terrible fear of change that conflicts with their longing. As with "Sometimes A Great Notion," Kesey's writing in "Cuckoo's Nest" is remarkably unfettered. He is able to express his value system, especially the employing compassion instead of condemnation, although his most likely characters and make them real. More importantly, he is one of the most talented writers ever to chronicle the American spirit's struggle for freedom—freedom from the destructive, guilt, compulsion and ignorance that still threaten its very core. Ken Kesey promises to add an intriguing dimension to this year's Sophomore Literary Festival and will be speaking at 8:30 p.m. Monday at Saint Mary's O'Laughlin Auditorium.

The Importance of Being Earnest
The Notre Dame Department of Communication and Theatre presents Oscar Wilde's satire of English society.

Syburg will have the added responsibility of directing the play. Lighting and scenery are designed by Kevin Dreyer, visiting assistant professor of communication at Notre Dame University, and is now professor of theatre in the Department of Communication and Theatre at the University of Notre Dame. The play will be presented at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday and Sunday, and at 3 p.m. Sunday. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. Monday. Saint Mary's O'Laughlin Auditorium.
Dumars scores 31 in Pistons 98-87 defeat of NY Knicks

NEW YORK (AP) — Joe Dumars made his 31 points in the third quarter as the Detroit Pistons won for the 14th time in 15 games, 98-87 over the New York Knicks on Monday.

The loss was only the third in 25 home games for New York, but all five losses came at Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks lost at home to Phoenix by 14 points on Jan. 23, and to Los Angeles Lakers by 21 on Jan. 23.

Dumars made seven of his eight three-point shots, and his last five field goals of the night left the Knicks scoreless in the third quarter.

The Pistons led by 15 points in the first half, went on a 21-0 run, with 12 of the points scored by Dumars, who finished with 31 points, five rebounds and six assists.

Dumars made seven of his 12 three-point attempts and six of his 12 shots overall, outscoring the Knicks' bench by 15 points in the third quarter.

Cavaliers 102, Hornets 86

Cleveland led by 15 points at the end of the first half and went on to win 102-86 over Charlotte.

Alex English's layup and free throw in the second quarter gave the Cavaliers a 22-12 lead that they never relinquished.

English, who scored all 16 points in the second quarter, finished with 24 points and 12 rebounds in the win.

DeSani, who double-doubled with 24 points and 10 rebounds, added 12 points in the third quarter.

The Hornets lost their fourth straight game and their eighth in the last 10 games.

The last time the Detroit Pistons defeated the New York Knicks was on Dec. 15, 1990, when Dumars scored 31 of his 37 points in a 98-87 victory over the Knicks in Madison Square Garden.

The loss was only the third in 25 home games for New York, but all five losses came at Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks lost at home to Phoenix by 14 points on Jan. 23, and to Los Angeles Lakers by 21 on Jan. 23.

Dumars made seven of his eight three-point shots, and his last five field goals of the night left the Knicks scoreless in the third quarter.

The Pistons led by 15 points in the first half, went on a 21-0 run, with 12 of the points scored by Dumars, who finished with 31 points, five rebounds and six assists.

Dumars made seven of his 12 three-point attempts and six of his 12 shots overall, outscoring the Knicks' bench by 15 points in the third quarter.

Cavaliers 102, Hornets 86

Cleveland led by 15 points at the end of the first half and went on to win 102-86 over Charlotte.

Alex English's layup and free throw in the second quarter gave the Cavaliers a 22-12 lead that they never relinquished.

English, who scored all 16 points in the second quarter, finished with 24 points and 12 rebounds in the win.

DeSani, who double-doubled with 24 points and 10 rebounds, added 12 points in the third quarter.

The Hornets lost their fourth straight game and their eighth in the last 10 games.

The last time the Detroit Pistons defeated the New York Knicks was on Dec. 15, 1990, when Dumars scored 31 of his 37 points in a 98-87 victory over the Knicks in Madison Square Garden.

The loss was only the third in 25 home games for New York, but all five losses came at Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks lost at home to Phoenix by 14 points on Jan. 23, and to Los Angeles Lakers by 21 on Jan. 23.

Dumars made seven of his eight three-point shots, and his last five field goals of the night left the Knicks scoreless in the third quarter.

The Pistons led by 15 points in the first half, went on a 21-0 run, with 12 of the points scored by Dumars, who finished with 31 points, five rebounds and six assists.

Dumars made seven of his 12 three-point attempts and six of his 12 shots overall, outscoring the Knicks' bench by 15 points in the third quarter.

Cavaliers 102, Hornets 86

Cleveland led by 15 points at the end of the first half and went on to win 102-86 over Charlotte.

Alex English's layup and free throw in the second quarter gave the Cavaliers a 22-12 lead that they never relinquished.

English, who scored all 16 points in the second quarter, finished with 24 points and 12 rebounds in the win.

DeSani, who double-doubled with 24 points and 10 rebounds, added 12 points in the third quarter.

The Hornets lost their fourth straight game and their eighth in the last 10 games.

The last time the Detroit Pistons defeated the New York Knicks was on Dec. 15, 1990, when Dumars scored 31 of his 37 points in a 98-87 victory over the Knicks in Madison Square Garden.

The loss was only the third in 25 home games for New York, but all five losses came at Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks lost at home to Phoenix by 14 points on Jan. 23, and to Los Angeles Lakers by 21 on Jan. 23.

Dumars made seven of his eight three-point shots, and his last five field goals of the night left the Knicks scoreless in the third quarter.

The Pistons led by 15 points in the first half, went on a 21-0 run, with 12 of the points scored by Dumars, who finished with 31 points, five rebounds and six assists.

Dumars made seven of his 12 three-point attempts and six of his 12 shots overall, outscoring the Knicks' bench by 15 points in the third quarter.

Cavaliers 102, Hornets 86

Cleveland led by 15 points at the end of the first half and went on to win 102-86 over Charlotte.

Alex English's layup and free throw in the second quarter gave the Cavaliers a 22-12 lead that they never relinquished.

English, who scored all 16 points in the second quarter, finished with 24 points and 12 rebounds in the win.

DeSani, who double-doubled with 24 points and 10 rebounds, added 12 points in the third quarter.

The Hornets lost their fourth straight game and their eighth in the last 10 games.

The last time the Detroit Pistons defeated the New York Knicks was on Dec. 15, 1990, when Dumars scored 31 of his 37 points in a 98-87 victory over the Knicks in Madison Square Garden.

The loss was only the third in 25 home games for New York, but all five losses came at Madison Square Garden.

The Knicks lost at home to Phoenix by 14 points on Jan. 23, and to Los Angeles Lakers by 21 on Jan. 23.

Dumars made seven of his eight three-point shots, and his last five field goals of the night left the Knicks scoreless in the third quarter.

The Pistons led by 15 points in the first half, went on a 21-0 run, with 12 of the points scored by Dumars, who finished with 31 points, five rebounds and six assists.

Dumars made seven of his 12 three-point attempts and six of his 12 shots overall, outscoring the Knicks' bench by 15 points in the third quarter.
Proposition 48 subjects find that the regulation has merit

(AFP)—It has become as much a part of the vernacular of college basketball as 3-pointer, small forward and "call a foul," baby.

The only problem is Prop 48 has become a negative description of a high school athlete who has failed to meet the academic minimums for immediate collegiate eligibility.

The current senior class is the first to have entered college with Prop 48 in effect.

Three of its most prominent members are Michigan's Russell Robinson and Terry Mills and St. John's Jayson Williams—whom of late have been declared ineligible because of it.

It has changed their lives forever and to listen to them, it has changed them for the better.

"Every student is different as every person is different," Robinson said before a recent practice. "Certain student-athletes can handle playing big-time sports at a big-time college. Certain players can adjust. I can only speak for myself. I like what I did that freshman year although I didn't like what initially happened to me. And that I got to a chance to socialize with the students."

"It is kind of a shame that players often don't get a chance to go to a big-time college except a place to come and meet different people and those people that you might be your friends or the people you socialize with the rest of your life."

Robinson has come as far as he can from the situation which faced him an incoming freshman. Forget the national championship he won with two free throws in overtime.

Robinson has overcome a learning disability to graduate on time with a grade point index right at the B level. Still, his name is usually preceded by Prop 48, even though it no longer applies.

"I didn't let it bother me but it did become a label," Robinson said. "When you sat down and watched TV, the announcer said 'Prop 48 moment' or whatever. You should identify a student-athlete by what he's doing now not what he's done in the past. It's kind of sad it happens but it does and you just have to move on."

All three will move on to the NCAA next season having played just three years of college basketball having been penalized a year of competition by Prop 48.

"They should look at the rule a little more," said Mills, who will leave Michigan with a championship ring and a degree with a few more credits this summer. "I feel we should be allowed to practice. That wouldn't take away from what they're trying to accomplish. It gives you more motivation when you sit out. Hey, I'm going to get my..."

Iowa continued from page 24

These guys have been working hard all year. We can wrestle with the best if we just believe we can, but right now our kids don't believe that.

Iowa's third-ranked 142-pounder defeated Notre Dame's Steve King 21-9.

"We can, but right now our kids..."

Robinson and Mills wants others to know how hard that year away from the basketball court will be.

"I try to talk to high school players and tell them to be prepared either way," said Robinson. "Mainly, I focus on that if you don't make it, don't give up. I've had a lot of friends talk to me. I know I'm capable of doing whatever I put my mind to. I tell them 'Just work harder in school so you don't have to sit out but if you are prepared for it.'"

Williams was crushed when he found out there wouldn't be any basketball for him as a freshman.

"You never think it's going to happen to you and when it does and you're just 17, you're immature about it," Williams said before a recent game. "I thought they put the rule in just for me. Right now, I think it was for the best because it showed St. John's or any other school could have and will carry on without Jayson Williams. It helped me put things in perspective for school, Williams, who said he will graduate on time, was limited to 14 games this season by injury. He broke his right foot in preseason practice and refracted it against Georgetown. Like Robinson and Mills, he is insistent about playing academic minimums but with some changes.

"I don't think they should count so much on one test,"

Proposition 48 student's win over Notre Dame's Steve King 21-9.

The victory improved Iowa's record to 12-4 in Big Ten play and two losses have come to Oklahoma State and Arizona State, the two top-ranked schools in the country, and the tie also was with Michigan State and Arizona State, the two top-ranked schools in the country.

"We've been consistently improving all season long, and I think this match showed that we're ready for the R. T. and NCAA tournaments," Iowa coach Dan Gable said.

NBA next season having played just three years of college basketball having been penalized a year of competition by Prop 48.

"Prop 48 students find that the regulation has merit. It has become a negative description of a high school athlete who has failed to meet the academic minimums for immediate collegiate eligibility. The current senior class is the first to have entered college with Prop 48 in effect. Three of its most prominent members are Michigan's Russell Robinson and Terry Mills and St. John's Jayson Williams—who of late have been declared ineligible because of it. It has changed their lives forever and to listen to them, it has changed them for the better. "Every student is different as every person is different," Robinson said before a recent practice. "Certain student-athletes can handle playing big-time sports at a big-time college. Certain players can adjust. I can only speak for myself. I like what I did that freshman year although I didn't like what initially happened to me. And that I got to a chance to socialize with the students."

"It is kind of a shame that players often don't get a chance to go to a big-time college except a place to come and meet different people and those people that you might be your friends or the people you socialize with the rest of your life."

Robinson has come as far as he can from the situation which faced him an incoming freshman. Forget the national championship he won with two free throws in overtime.

Robinson has overcome a learning disability to graduate on time with a grade point index right at the B level. Still, his name is usually preceded by Prop 48, even though it no longer applies. "I didn't let it bother me but it did become a label," Robinson said. "When you sat down and watched TV, the announcer said 'Prop 48 moment' or whatever. You should identify a student-athlete by what he's doing now not what he's done in the past. It's kind of sad it happens but it does and you just have to move on."

All three will move on to the NCAA next season having played just three years of college basketball having been penalized a year of competition by Prop 48. "They should look at the rule a little more," said Mills, who will leave Michigan with a championship ring and a degree with a few more credits this summer. "I feel we should be allowed to practice. That wouldn't take away from what they're trying to accomplish. It gives you more motivation when you sit out. Hey, I'm going to get my..."

Iowa continued from page 24

These guys have been working hard all year. We can wrestle with the best if we just believe we can, but right now our kids don't believe that.

Iowa's third-ranked 142-pounder defeated Notre Dame's Steve King 21-9.

"We can, but right now our kids..."

Robinson and Mills wants others to know how hard that year away from the basketball court will be.

"I try to talk to high school players and tell them to be prepared either way," said Robinson. "Mainly, I focus on that if you don't make it, don't give up. I've had a lot of friends talk to me. I know I'm capable of doing whatever I put my mind to. I tell them 'Just work harder in school so you don't have to sit out but if you are prepared for it.'"

Williams was crushed when he found out there wouldn't be any basketball for him as a freshman. "You never think it's going to happen to you and when it does and you're just 17, you're immature about it," Williams said before a recent game. "I thought they put the rule in just for me. Right now, I think it was for the best because it showed St. John's or any other school could have and will carry on without Jayson Williams. It helped me put things in perspective for school, Williams, who said he will graduate on time, was limited to 14 games this season by injury. He broke his right foot in preseason practice and refracted it against Georgetown. Like Robinson and Mills, he is insistent about playing academic minimums but with some changes.

"I don't think they should count so much on one test,"
Oklahoma upsets No. 1 Missouri, Louisiana State falls to Georgia

After beating one No. 1 team, Oklahoma is anxious to do it again.

The 10th-ranked Sooners stopped top-ranked Missouri 107-90 on Sunday for its 44th straight home victory.

On Tuesday night, Oklahoma will play host to Kansas. The Jayhawks are No. 2, but are expected to move up.

"This gives us an opportunity to show we can play and that we're one of the top teams in the country," said Oklahoma's Terry Evans, who had 15 points and 12 assists.

Oklahoma (21-4, 9-2) prevented Missouri (25-3, 11-2) from clinching a share of the Big Eight championship. Doug Smith had 27 points and 11 rebounds for the Tigers.

"That's life in the Big Eight," Missouri coach Norm Stewart said.

A record crowd of 12,157 at the Noble Arena saw Oklahoma pull away from a 49-45 halftime lead. Jackie Jones, who had 28 points and 10 rebounds, led a 15-2 spurt that made it 66-51.

William Davis added 20 points and 15 rebounds for the Sooners. Oklahoma is 92-0 undefeated in the Big Eight this season as Larry Johnson had 22 points and 15 rebounds. The Runnin' Rebels (24-4) scored the game's first 14 points and never trailed. Felton Speicher had 24 points for Louisville (20-7), which has lost two straight games for the first time this season.

No. 5 Georgetown 83, Villanova 53

Dikembe Mutombo made his first start in more than a month a memorable one, getting career-highs of 22 points and 18 rebounds. Mutombo, boosted after a poor game in January, helped the host Hoyas (21-4, 10-4 Big East) score the game's first 11 points.

No. 6 Connecticut 79, Seton Hall 57

Connecticut broke the school record for victories and stayed the nation's top team. The Huskies (28-4, 11-3) opened with a 13-0 run and Chris Smith finished with 21 points.

No. 7 Michigan 94, Northwestern 69

Damek表格 94, Northwestern 69

Michigan reached the 70-victory mark for the seventh straight season. Bumeal Robinson scored 23 points and Loy Vaught had 18 for the Wolverines (20-5, 10-4 Big Ten).

No. 9 Purdue 75, Ohio St. 70

Purdue stayed one game ahead of Michigan State in the Big Ten. Woody Austin scored 21 points and the Boilermakers (20-5, 12-3) made 12 of 13 foul shots in the final 3:54.

No. 11 Syracuse 93, Providence 89

Billy Owens scored 23 points and led a 22-4 run late in the game as Syracuse overcame an eight-point deficit and won at Providence.

Syracuse (20-5, 10-4), which had lost two of its previous three games, tied fifth-ranked Georgetown for second place in the Big East, one game behind sixth-ranked Connecticut.

Providence (15-10, 7-8), which ended a 15-year, 21-game losing streak against Syracuse Jan. 20, is 2-3 against the Orangemen.

Syracuse 82, No. 12 LSU 75

Neville Austin made a tiebreaking foul shot with five seconds remaining and Georgia overwhelmed LSU 75-65.

The Bulldogs (19-6, 12-4) won their sixth straight game and scored only one more victory to clinch their first Southeastern Conference basketball title. Chris Jackson scored 31 points for LSU (21-6, 11-5).

No. 14 La Salle 74, St. Peter's 66

La Salle scored the first nine points of overtime and won its 17th straight game. Lionel Simmons scored 18 points for the visiting Explorers (25-1, 15-0 Metro Atlantic Athletic.

Oklahoma defeated Missouri, the No. 1 team in the nation, by a score of 107-90. The Sooners play the No. 2 team in the nation, the Kansas Jayhawks, on Tuesday night.

Calbert Cheaney scored 32 points for Indiana (16-8, 6-8).

No. 17 Oregon St. 83, UCLA 74

Gary Payton scored 12 straight points for Oregon State (21-5, 14-2) in the stretch and the Beavers rallied to remain in first place in the Pacific-10 Conference. Payton made only seven of 18 shots but scored 23 points and had 12 assists. UCLA (16-9, 9-7) dropped its fifth in a row, its longest losing streak since 1947-48.

---

Tired of Destroying your house?

Come to Señor Kelly's instead, for the Off - Campus Formal!

March 3rd • 9:30pm - 1:30am

DJ, Nachos and Mucho More, all for the low, low price of...

$3.00 per couple

For Tickets:
Mike Locascio 287-3087
Tom Helms 289-3905
John Krotzer 277-7450

---

ADWORKS

---
Olliver made a great play on the baseline," said Tech coach Ben Cremins, whose team improved to 20-5 on the year. "I really thought he'd make the second shot. He's a smart player.

The Irish, who have only been in one overtime this season, a 77-75 loss to Creighton where the Irish scored the game-winning basket at the buzzer, had no need to worry about a second overtime. Late in the game, Cremins called a time out. The Irish hadn't been shooting with that distance to complete the three-point play.

"We were concentrating on Dennis Scott," said Cremins. "I just didn't think he'd make the second shot. He's a smart player."

The Irish offense clicked as well. Scott had two three-point shots and finished with 18 points. Elmer Bennett (left) and Kenny Anderson (right) provided a virtual "slugfest" during the contest between the Notre Dame and Georgia Tech. Bennett finished with 21 points and the freshman Anderson finished with 32.

Soviet Union beats U.S. soccer team 3-1

The Observer / Bill Mowle

Where in the world can you study

Art History at the Louvre?
Economics at the OECD?
French at the Comedie Francaise?

THE AMERICAN UNIVERSITY OF PARIS

Located in the center of Paris, The American University of Paris offers American undergraduate programs to over 1,000 students from 63 countries. AUP combines a solid American liberal arts curriculum with the unlimited cultural resources of Paris and Europe. Students receive training in foreign language skills and solid preparation for international careers.

Undergraduate B.A. and B.S. degree programs:
- Art History
- French Studies
- Comparative Literature
- International Affairs
- Computer Science
- European Cultural Studies
- Administration
- International Economics

Special Programs:
- Institute for French Studies in Paris (Fall 1990)
- Summer Session (June 18 - July 27, 1990)
- Institute for Cultural Resources in Paris (Fall 1990)
- Institute for Business in Paris (Summer 1990)

For more information, call or write:
The American University of Paris, U.S. Office, Box 6609
90 East 11th Street, Suite 434, New York, NY 10003
Tel. (212) 677-4870 Fax. (212) 475-5205

Elmer Bennett (left) and Kenny Anderson (right) provided a virtual "slugfest" during the contest between the Notre Dame and Georgia Tech. Bennett finished with 21 points and the freshman Anderson finished with 32.
O'Connor qualified for the NCAA's in 300-meter dash in a time of 46.00. This was her fastest race this year by a collegiate record.

Notre Dame took the top two spots in the 500 meters. In 1:03.18 followed by Kevin White. Notre Dame's Doug Puffer and Pat Devaney took third and sixth in the mile.

Jeff Smith and Xavier Victor took third and fourth for the Irish in the long jump, while Glenn Watson was second in the 55 meter high hurdles. Rody Setzer finished third in the 55-meter dash as did Joe Hoff in the triple jump.

Notre Dame took the fourth through sixth places in the 1000 meters. Matt Ronzani was fourth, John White fifth and Seth Maloney sixth.

Connecticut new 'beast of the East', 'Huskymania' ensues

What can I do with a degree in mathematics?

A lot! The training and analytical skills acquired in studying mathematics are prized by many companies and professional schools look for.

Can you be more specific? What kind of jobs do math graduates work for?

Among our recent graduates two very popular kinds of jobs have been as actuarial and as computer programmers or systems analysts.

Do any Notre Dame math majors go on for higher degrees in the mathematical sciences?

Certainly. Some of our graduates continue in pure or applied mathematics, computing science, statistics, and other mathematical sciences. They've gone to places like Harvard, Princeton, Chicago, Oxford, Berkeley, and Wisconsin. Many of them teach at colleges and universities across the country. Others work at places like Bell Laboratories or at government organizations like the National Security Agency.

What about the programs offered by the math department?

The Department offers, all in the College of Science, a major in Mathematics with highly desirable concentrations in Life Science, Education, Engineering Science, Women's Studies, Computing, and Business Administration. A student can also double major in Math with another field, say, Philosophy.

The department also offers an Honors Mathematics Major in the College of Arts and Letters.
Musketeers next to fight ‘hot’ Irish
Women's basketball plays Xavier on full head of steam

By CHRIS COONEY
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women's basketball team is hot. The Irish carry a seven-game winning streak and an undefeated conference record into tomorrow night's matchup with Xavier at the Joyce A.C. The 11-11 Lady Musketeers face a tough task. Notre Dame has scored in 25 of 27 MCC games, including 18 straight, since joining the conference last year.

Leading the Irish in scoring, junior guard Karen Robinson is averaging 14.4 points per game. Margaret Nowlin and Krisi Davis follow, battling each other in scoring and rebounding stats. Nowlin has 11.2 pp and 6.9 rp, and Davis has 11.1 pp and 6.8 rp.

Nowlin was named MCC Player-of-the-Week as well, after leading Notre Dame to back-to-back wins over Butler and Detroit. The 6-1 Minnesota native did not miss a shot in attaining her 15 points versus Butler and then scored 21, her second highest total of the year, against Detroit.

Women's tennis team takes four victories over weekend at Eck Pavilion, up to 5-3

By BARBARA MORAN
Sports Writer

The women's tennis team slammed four opponents at Eck Pavilion last weekend, raising their record from a mediocre 1-11 to a respectable 5-3 in the space of three days.

Notre Dame's first conquest took place Friday, with the Irish beating Illinois 7-2. Kansas State came next, falling to the Irish Saturday morning by a score of 6-3.

The afternoon progressed with a 9-0 afternoon rout of Drake University, and the Irish closed out the weekend Sunday with a strong 8-1 victory over Miami of Ohio.

Notre Dame baseball drops to Hawaii 12-7

HONOLULU (AP)—Randy Vullmer scored on a bases-loaded walk to Todd Takayoshi to break a 7-7 tie in the sixth inning and Hawaii went on to beat Notre Dame, 12-7, in a non-conference baseball game Saturday night.

The Fighting Irish outhit the Rainbow 10-7, but five Notre Dame pitchers issued 12 walks, hit two batters and threw two wild pitches.

The Irish had combined seven hits and four Hawaiian errors to take a 7-0 lead in the top of the third inning. Ernie Danapilis had two RBIs in the inning while Edwin Hartwell started the fireworks with a single and contributed an RBI double later.

Hawaii scored twice in the fourth on Todd Takayoshi's double, a triple by Mark Waskowski and a passed ball. Vullmer's two-run triple and an RBI single by Dwayne Daughtery pulled UH to within two, 7-5, in the fifth inning.

An RBI single by Jon Viela and a bases-loaded walk had allowed UH to tie the score in the sixth inning before Vullmer's run put the 'Bows ahead for good.

Danapilis had three hits for Notre Dame, 1-2, but he took the loss. The third Hawaiian pitcher, Jeff Bull, won his first game of the year against no losses. Brian Byrnes earned the save.

The Rainbow improved to 4-7 for the year.

LEARN RUSSIAN ON THE BLACK SEA!

The programs are organized by Dafna Ronn-Oxley of Virtus. Limited in cooperation with Sigma, a privately owned Russian cooperative in Sochi, Russia. There will be 2 sessions: June 8-July 11 and July 6-August 8. Each session includes 68 hours of class work taught by qualified teachers at the university level plus 20 class discussion, and also excursions in the area. COST: 1st session-$2500. Price includes all of the above plus 4 days in Moscow. For INFORMATION CALL 1-800-274-9121 (24 hours a day) and leave your name and address.

You are invited to an OPEN HOUSE MEETING ON Thursday, May 3 between 11:00am - 3:00pm room La Fortune Student Center Notre Dame University South Bend, Indiana

TOWNHOUSES

For Rent

3,4,5 BEDROOM APTS. AVAILABLE

Less than 1 mile from NOTRE DAME

FEATURES INCLUDE:

Security Systems
Basements
Rear Yards
Washer & Dryer
New Construction
Good Neighborhood

Dishwashers

call

232-8256

20% Discount

TO STUDENTS AND FACULTY

- Eye Exams - Large Selection of Frames - All Types of Contacts

Professional Vision

Dr. Ronald Snyder and Associates

277 - 1161

1635 N. Ironwood
North of McDonald's

Heats up your weekend

10 p.m. Friday The Boathouse Blues live Saturday - the 10-2 Dance Party

The Observer / David Lee

Margaret Nowlin was named MCC Player of the Week last week. She and the women's basketball team host Xavier tonight at the JACC.
By SCOTT BRUTOCO
Sports Writer

Notre Dame may owe Mike Tyson more than it realizes.

When the unmasked champion un­

What we became aware that it (the contract) was a potential cover story," said John Heisler, head of NBC.

Instead, heavyweight champ Mike Tyson had his title contract with NBC.

Ironically, Notre Dame's role in intercollegiate

This introduces speculation that Notre Dame could have settled into a more accepting

Some analysts think so.

Another example of money con­

If the field, Notre Dame's holy-graphic.

South Bend, Ind. 46617

The Observer
Monday, February 26, 1990

NOMINATIONS

The Notre Dame Alumni Association will be accepting nominations

This viewpoint presents a dominant image finally has been noticed in the media.

To be fair, there were many

The Observer

Oh, Sweet Revenge!

Happy 19th
Mary Connor

Love Always,
Kara
ND hockey beats UMD, unable to close home season

By CHRIS COONEY
Sports Writer

After downing Michigan-Dearborn 6-3 the previous evening, the Notre Dame hockey team failed to win its rematch with the Wolves Saturday night.

Of course, you can’t win if you don’t play.

The inclement weather prevented Michigan-Dearborn from making the trip to South Bend on Saturday. While the Wolves may have preferred to remain up north, Irish head coach Ric Schafer was a little disappointed at canceling his team’s last home game of the year.

“I regret we missed our last home game,” commented Schafer, whose squad upped its record to 18-13 with Friday’s victory. “We’re playing pretty good hockey.”

It would have been nice to recognize the seniors who’ve evidenced in Friday’s win. Or, at least, in Friday’s win from halfway through the first period on.

“It was a very slow start for us,” said Schafer. “I think we were disappointed at cancelling his team’s last home game of the year.”

Kevin Markovitz. These guys are all ending their careers here with a fine finish, a lot of them doing things that don’t always get put into the newspaper.

Schafer added that many members of the Notre Dame hockey right now, evidenced in Friday’s win. Of course, you can’t win if you don’t play.

The Wolves struck first, pounding in back-to-back goals six and seven minutes into the game. The sluggish Irish did not get on the board until 14:22 into the matchup. At that point, Notre Dame jumped back into the game. Curtis Janicek drew first blood for the Irish, scoring an assist on assists from Mike Curry and Kevin Patrick. Thirty-one seconds later, defenseman Dan Sawyer tied up the contest with what Schafer called “a lucky break.”

“Sawyer was behind the blue line, just dumping the puck into the zone, and it hit the plexiglass and deflected into the goal,” Schafer explained. “The goalie was definitely not expecting it, but it got us right back into the game.”

Curry finished the scoring in that period. His shot from just in front of the goal put the Irish ahead to stay.

The Wolves did score once more, in the second period. By that time, however, goals by Sterling Black and Lou Zadra had put Notre Dame up 5-2. Zadra got the only goal in the third period, giving him two for the game and sixteen on the year.

“Zadra is showing his scoring talent,” lauded Schafer. “He is a scoring threat every time he takes the ice.”

Scoring consistently the best bunch of kids we’ve ever had.

“Many of these kids, with the right experience and year-round training, could be awfully good fighters on any amateur level.”

The Notre Dame hockey team defeated Michigan-Dearborn 6-3 Friday night. Due to inclement weather conditions, the Wolves were unable to get to the JACC on Saturday night to conclude the ND home season.

Kevin Markovitz. These guys are all ending their careers here with a fine finish, a lot of them doing things that don’t always get put into the newspaper.

Bengals continued from page 24

a scoring title, earned a unanimous decision over Michael Corebellini in the 167-pound division. Balint controlled the middle of the ring and continually forced Corebellini to the ropes.

“I could tell I was much stronger by the way the punches were hurting him,” Balint said. “He was running around the ring early in the first round, so I worked at cutting off the ring—that’s the key for me because I have to get inside.”

Mark Ross pulled off the upset of the day by earning a split decision over defending champion Mike O’Neill in the 174-pound division.

McCormick was surprised by the decision. “I thought I was the better fighter,” he said. “He’s a scoring threat every time he takes the ice.”

Scoring consistently the best bunch of kids we’ve ever had.

“Many of these kids, with the right experience and year-round training, could be awfully good fighters on any amateur level.”

SEMI-FINAL ROUND

Debates on the NBC Football television contract will be held in Montgomery Theatre and Hayes-Healy Auditorium.
Lecture Circuit

7 p.m. "The Black Catholic Experience, the Life's Journey, So Far" is the subject of a lecture tonight by May Lee Johnson. The lecture is at 7 p.m. in Napolean Lounge at Saint Mary's. The lecture is sponsored by Saint Mary's Student Government and Wellness SMC.

Campus

Monday

6:30 p.m. Workshop Session II, 'Career/Major Decision Making', Room 300 University Counseling Center. Sponsored by the University Counseling Center.

7 p.m. Film, "Citizen Kane." Annenberg Auditorium. Sponsored by ND Communication and Theatre.

7 p.m. Shakespeare Films, "The Winter's Tale." Engineering Auditorium. Sponsored by the Department of English.

9:15 p.m. Film, "Sunset Boulevard." Annenberg Auditorium.

Menus

Notre Dame
Roast Top Round
Turkey Turnover w/Supreme Sauce
Vegetables Marinara
Veal Grinder

STAX HOME?

Johnson. The lecture is at 7 p.m. in Stapleton Lounge at Saint Mary's. The lecture is sponsored by Saint Mary's Student Government and Wellness SMC.

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

ACROSS

1. Comedian Bob
2. Comedian Byron
10. "But I'm not ready to garden!" Neh. 9:17
14. Actor Richard
15. Concert
16. Custody
17. Master of expectant and paths
19. He. to Hadrian
21. Confirmation
22. Harmonica player Lenny

23. Ancient Chinese
25. Eye part
27. Fitzgerald of sogni
gam
29. Beaver State
32. Track circuit
35. Savors
36. Mets territory
39. Actor
41. Halts
43. Tennis until
45. Trumond of N.B.A. fame
46. Piede
47. Beginning to Burns
49. Jack-in-the-pulpit, e.g.
51. 'Enam' and 'Gileo'

CROSSWORD

1. Master, in Germany
2. Shaped moldings
3. Chaplain, to a G.I.
4. Guarantee
5. Mischievous
6. Subsequently
7. Irregular
8. In a row, to Furnace
9. Irregular, to Friends
10. Quality of being tour
11. Comedian featuring inventive props
12. Heraldry border
13. Verison source
14. Master of Italian memory
15. Comedian Dreesen
17. Subsequently
20. Subsequently
21. Master, in Germany
22. Master of Italian memory
24. Comedian Dreesen
26. Verison source
28. Subsequently
29. Master of insult humor
30. Subsequently
31. Master of insult humor
32. Master, in Germany
33. Comedian King
34. Master of insult humor
36. Subsequently
37. Subsequently
39. Subsequently
40. Subsequently
41. Subsequently
42. Subsequently
43. Subsequently
44. Subsequently
45. Subsequently
46. Subsequently
47. Subsequently
48. Subsequently
49. Subsequently
50. Subsequently
51. Subsequently
52. Fragrance
53. Loudness units
54. Viking chieftain
55. Olympic used in incense
56. Impalated
57. London art gallery
58. Buddhist
59. Comedian Deluise
60. Author Fleming

Sophomore Literary Festival presents

One Flew Over the Cuckoo's Nest

Tonight

SCM O'Laughlin Auditorium
8:30 P.M.
Irish miss free throws, lose to Georgia Tech in overtime
Loss makes NCAA hopes questionable

By STEVE MEGARGEE
Associate Sports Editor

The comeback continued Saturday afternoon at the Joyce ACC, and now it might take an even greater rally for the home team to receive an NCAA Tournament invitation.

Notre Dame (14-10), which had blown an 18-point lead before losing at the buzzer Tuesday to independent-rival DePaul, watched a 14-point advantage disappear on Saturday in an 88-80 overtime defeat to eighth-ranked Georgia Tech. What had most of the Irish players and coaches disheartened, however, was the way they let a one-point lead slip away in the final minute of regulation. Joe Fredrick and Daimon Sweet each missed the front ends of one-andone situations with Notre Dame leading 74-73 and 29 seconds left, allowing the Yellow Jackets to force, and then dominate, an overtime period.

"Coach had put emphasis on that all week, telling us the game would come down to free throws," said Sweet, who scored 12 points off the bench. "We just missed them. It was definitely one of the turning points."

"When you're up one and at the line, you've got to make your free throws," said Irish coach Digger Phelps. "That's the time to ice it — when you're at the line in the last minute. If we make those, then we force them to shoot a three."

Instead, Tech's Brian Shannon drove down the baseline and drew a two-shot foul from LaPronge Ellis with two seconds left. Oliver made the first and missed the second to force the five-minute overtime.

"I felt good about it," Bischini said. "(Padgett) hit hard, so I had to go in with good strategy. When you go in the ring, you know what you're in there for. You're not trying to hurt your opponent, you're just trying to beat him on points.

"Bischini's chin was split open from a head butt during the fight. The ten stitches required to close the wound are not expected to affect Wednesday's semi-final bout against Matthew Potts, who earned a unanimous decision over Daniel Roberts.

Bischini triumphed in a unanimous decision over Nick Bourtin in the 158-pound division. Bourtin successfully eluded Becklund's punches in the first round, but a flurry of shots in the head in the third round knocked him to the canvas.

"I took control with the jab," Becklund said. "I started out with a 1-2 punch, but by the end I put together some combinations.

"Bourtin had a good right, and that can change things completely if it catches you when you're not expecting it."

Becklund's next opponent will be David Tyndall, who knocked down Adam Selke several times before the referee stopped the contest at the 1:16 mark of the third round.

"Vance will have his hands full with Tyndall," said boxing coach Sean McCormick. "He has a very nice jab. He's a tough kid."

John Manfredy landed the most powerful punch of the day, toppling Jerome Heppelmann with a right to the head at the 1:28 mark of the first round. Manfredy is the early favorite in the 144-pound division.

"We've got 10 to 15 kids that are really tough," said boxing coach Sean McCormick, and Manfredy might be the best of all of them.

David Cane stopped Tim Rogers in the second round of their 154-pound bout. Cane pounced on his opponent from the opening whistle and relentlessly landed one series of combinations after another.

"Rogers fought me really tough in the first round," Cane said. "He was a good kid, but I wore him down and then I landed a left hook that put him out. I was strengthening him by going in his body."

Chris Balint, also in pursuit of an NCAA berth, defeated UMD's Dominick Morale.

By FRANK PASTOR
Sports Writer

Seniors Doug Bischini and Vance Becklund successfully continued their quests for a third consecutive title Sunday in the quarterfinals of the 60th annual Notre Dame Bengal Bouts before 1,350 people at the Joyce ACC Fieldhouse.

They were two of five defending champions in the 110-man field to defeat their first-round opponents. Rick Parrett and Brian Shannon received byes in the quarterfinal round.

Bischini won a unanimous decision over Podgatj in the 144-pound division. Bischini relied primarily on his jab to keep Padgett at bay throughout the fight.

"I felt good about it," Bischini said. "(Podgatj) hit hard, so I had to go in with good strategy. When you go in the ring, you know what you're in there for. You're not trying to hurt your opponent, you're just trying to beat him on points.

"Bischini's chin was split open from a head butt during the fight. The ten stitches required to close the wound are not expected to affect Wednesday's semi-final bout against Matthew Potts, who earned a unanimous decision over Daniel Roberts.

Bischini triumphed in a unanimous decision over Nick Bourtin in the 158-pound division. Bourtin successfully eluded Becklund's punches in the first round, but a flurry of shots in the head in the third round knocked him to the canvas.

"I took control with the jab," Becklund said. "I started out with a 1-2 punch, but by the end I put together some combinations.

"Bourtin had a good right, and that can change things completely if it catches you when you're not expecting it."

Becklund's next opponent will be David Tyndall, who knocked down Adam Selke several times before the referee stopped the contest at the 1:16 mark of the third round.

"Vance will have his hands full with Tyndall," said boxing coach Sean McCormick. "He has a very nice jab. He's a tough kid."

John Manfredy landed the most powerful punch of the day, toppling Jerome Heppelmann with a right to the head at the 1:28 mark of the first round. Manfredy is the early favorite in the 144-pound division.

"We've got 10 to 15 kids that are really tough," said boxing coach Sean McCormick, and Manfredy might be the best of all of them.

David Cane stopped Tim Rogers in the second round of their 154-pound bout. Cane pounced on his opponent from the opening whistle and relentlessly landed one series of combinations after another.

"Rogers fought me really tough in the first round," Cane said. "He was a good kid, but I wore him down and then I landed a left hook that put him out. I was strengthening him by going in his body."

Chris Balint, also in pursuit of an NCAA berth, defeated UMD's Dominick Morale.