Student government pushes for policy of freedom of expression

By KELLEY TUTHILL and JOHN O'BRIEN

In its continuing efforts to salvage the ideas of the Student Bill of Rights, the Student Government will pursue a policy of free expression, but will not push for public knowledge of disciplinary hearings.

The areas of free expression and public disclosure of hearings, along with collective punishment and judgement by peers, are the main issues which the Legal Department chose to address, according to Raja Singh, executive coordinator of the Legal Department.

The Legal Department is compiling reports on each of these four areas and submitting them to the Bill of Student and University Relations Task Force. If they are approved by the Task Force, they will be assimilated into a sing' report which will be sent to the Cam-

Student government pushes for policy of freedom of expression

By BETSY PUNSALAN

Opinions were divided three to one in favor of ROTC at Notre Dame in a student/faculty panel discussion Thursday marking the third and final part of a Student Government lecture series.

Alan Dowty, professor of government and international studies, and Father Joe Ross, rector of Morrissey Hall, were the faculty members of the panel. The student team consisted of senior Mary Sue Twoby, a senior anthropology major, and Patrick Murphy, a senior electrical engineering and government major who is in Army ROTC.

"I'm well aware of how divisive this issue is," said Ross, the only participant who spoke against ROTC on campus. "Everybody struggles with this and no one has all the answers."

Ross noted that Notre Dame students tend to be very defensive over the issue because ROTC is a financial necessity for many. "This is entirely understandable."

According to Ross, the recent talks given by journalist Cole-m an McCarthy and Father Oliver Williams, associate provost at Notre Dame, regarding ROTC on campus were not very useful because they "danced around" and "oversimplified" the issue.

"I don't appreciate [Williams'] theology," said Ross, "because my main concern comes from an educational perspective."

Ross believes that the ROTC system tends to be anti-intellectual.

"The ROTC program puts our students into situations for which they might not be ready for," said Ross, citing chains of command as one example. "How can we be asking them to enter into a system where they have to follow policies, which the Church has condemned?"

"If we have to have ROTC on campus, then the students should at least be getting good moral and theological education," he said. "They're not well enough trained. They're doing what they're told, and that's tragic."

Ross said that the Catholic tradition of non-violence goes back to Jesus, who must be the center of our tradition. "We die before we kill," he said.

According to Dowty, a non-Catholic and pacifist who is in favor of ROTC on campus, the concept has to be viewed as a lesser of evils. He believes in making the most socially acceptable choices, not in compromising with evil.

Dowty said that violence is sometimes justified, although it is not an acceptable choice, not in compromising with evil.

The ROTC program puts our students into situations for which they might not be ready for," said Ross, citing chains of command as one example. "How can we be asking them to enter into a system where they have to follow policies, which the Church has condemned?"

"If we have to have ROTC on campus, then the students should at least be getting good moral and theological education," he said. "They're not well enough trained. They're doing what they're told, and that's tragic."

Ross said that the Catholic tradition of non-violence goes back to Jesus, who must be the center of our tradition. "We die before we kill," he said.

According to Dowty, a non-Catholic and pacifist who is in favor of ROTC on campus, the concept has to be viewed as a lesser of evils. He believes in making the most socially acceptable choices, not in compromising with evil.

Dowty said that violence is sometimes justified, although it is not an acceptable choice, not in compromising with evil.

The ROTC program puts our students into situations for which they might not be ready for," said Ross, citing chains of command as one example. "How can we be asking them to enter into a system where they have to follow policies, which the Church has condemned?"

"If we have to have ROTC on campus, then the students should at least be getting good moral and theological education," he said. "They're not well enough trained. They're doing what they're told, and that's tragic."

Ross said that the Catholic tradition of non-violence goes back to Jesus, who must be the center of our tradition. "We die before we kill," he said.

According to Dowty, a non-Catholic and pacifist who is in favor of ROTC on campus, the concept has to be viewed as a lesser of evils. He believes in making the most socially acceptable choices, not in compromising with evil.

Dowty said that violence is sometimes justified, although it is not an acceptable choice, not in compromising with evil.
A&L students in job search

"Don't call us, we'll call you." This is why, we only want finance and economics majors.

"Your GPA and work experience are commendable. But we aren't able to offer you a position with our firm at this time."

"It's a shame you don't have six hours of accounting..."

I started out the semester with grand visions of coasting through the year leaving ND with diploma in hand and an average back pocket. Instead, all I have encountered are brick walls.

It seems that every time I say that I am a government and political science major, employers run for the hills. As at least a government major, I feel being a public servant, say, a police officer, or a postal worker interested in working in Corporate America.

"Majoring in philosophy major I may aspire to being a public servant, say, a police officer, or a postal worker interested in working in Corporate America. Everyone knows that all the Arts and Letters majors either go into the Peace Corps or graduate school. Why else would anyone take four years of Great Books seminars?"

When I first came to Notre Dame I was told to seek a liberal education. "Don't choose a major because you think it will get you a job; choose a major that is what truly interests you. If you like what you aren't, you can change majors in four years of college, you are obviously not interested in working in Corporate America. Everyone knows that all the Arts and Letters majors either go into the Peace Corps or graduate school. Why else would anyone take four years of Great Books seminars?"

A&L majors either go into the Peace Corps or graduate school. Everyone knows that Arts and Letters majors may put pictures of Plato on our desks, wear sandals to work and play fourteen rigid work schedules because they stifle human beings and prevent them from reaching their proper fulfillment.

At first, a philosophy major will be the anonymous person who sits in the cubicle next to you, talking incessantly about the similarities between Nietzsche's idea and the plot of Lethal Weapon II.

I started out the semester with grand visions of coasting through the year leaving ND with diploma in hand and an average back pocket. Instead, all I have encountered are brick walls.

It seems that every time I say that I am a government and political science major, employers run for the hills. As at least a government major, I feel being a public servant, say, a police officer, or a postal worker interested in working in Corporate America. Everyone knows that all the Arts and Letters majors either go into the Peace Corps or graduate school. Why else would anyone take four years of Great Books seminars?"

When I first came to Notre Dame I was told to seek a liberal education. "Don't choose a major because you think it will get you a job; choose a major that is what truly interests you. If you like what you aren't, you can change majors in four years of college, you are obviously not interested in working in Corporate America. Everyone knows that all the Arts and Letters majors either go into the Peace Corps or graduate school. Why else would anyone take four years of Great Books seminars?"
NASA launches Atlantis for spy mission over Iraq

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — NASA fueled the space shuttle Atlantis on Thursday for a reported spying mission over Iraq that officials said would be the last secret military flight for 1990 and the seventh and probably last launch for 1990 and the seventh and probably last.

Atlantis was expected to lift off with five astronauts and a spy satellite at 6:46 p.m. EST or by 8:12 p.m. EST, but wind threatened to block launch.

NASA pumped more than a half-million gallons of liquid hydrogen and liquid oxygen into Atlantis. The fuel will have been brought into service, and Young said the problem should not delay the launch.

Air Force meteorologists predicted a 40 percent chance of good weather for Thursday night, down from earlier forecasts of 60 percent. The biggest threat was crosswinds that might exceed the allowable 14 mph at the launch pad and emergency landing area. Other concerns were scattered clouds and possible showers.

The launch was to be the fifth in darkness in 37 shuttle flights. It also was to be NASA's fifth launch for 1990 and the seventh and probably last Atlantis mission was scrubbed in May for gathering information in the Persian Gulf. Atlantis, like Columbia, was cleared for flight during a fueling test in June to have dangerous hydrogen leaks. It was the second shuttle to be crippled by leaking hydrogen.

A news blackout has been imposed on Atlantis' four-day flight, during which the astronauts will deploy a satellite that sources said is to spy on Iraq. Experts believe it is either a photographic imaging or an eavesdropping spacecraft.

Atlantis carried a spy satellite into orbit during its last flight in March.

The shuttle's all-military crew, commanded by Air Force Col. Richard Covey, has been waiting for months to fly this mission. The flight was scheduled for July but was delayed indefinitely when Atlantis was found during a fueling test in June to have dangerous hydrogen leaks.

It was the second shuttle to be crippled by leaking hydrogen. Columbia's astronomy mission was scrubbed in May when the spacecraft sprung leaks during fueling.

During the grounding, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration replaced Atlantis' external fuel tank, plumbing between the orbiter and tank, and valve seals. In addition, Atlantis' military cargo reportedly was modified for gathering information in the Persian Gulf.

Atlantis, like Columbia, was cleared for flight during a fueling test last month. NASA set a Nov. 9 launch date for Atlantis, but the Air Force delayed that mission because of undisclosed cargo problems.

The Pentagon has imposed a news blackout on the flight similar to its six previous missions. Because of the expense in maintaining secure operations, officials said this would be the last military shuttle mission to be conducted in secrecy.

The Pentagon plans to use the shuttle two more times in 1991, but the cargoes in each instance will be unclassified. Military officials will rely on unmanned rockets — primarily the giant Titan 4 — to carry other payloads into orbit.

Happy 21st Birthday Kathleen!

Love,
Mom, Dad,
and the O'Connor Clan

CAMPUS

serving ND/SMC students for 25 years

COLONIAL PANCAKE HOUSE
Family Restaurant

GO IRISH BEAT Penn State

Oven-baked
4-Egg Omelettes
On Sale through November
OPEN AT 6:30AM DAILY

COLONIAL PANCAKE HOUSE
APPLE PANCAKE
SAVE $1.00
Exp.12-30-90

COLONIAL PANCAKE HOUSE
ANY CREPES
SAVE $1.00
Exp.12-30-90

The Observer/Claud Short

Join your friends, share old memories, meet new Domers
at...

INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION SERVICES
インタークルセイド・インターナショナル教育サービス株式会社
Shiba-Taiso Building, 10-7 Dogenzaka 2-chome, Shibuya-ku, Tokyo 150 Japan
Telephone: 03-463-5396, Cable: Internat-serv, Fax: 03-463-7089

LIVE IN JAPAN

Individuals with professional experience in business, education, engineering, languages or related fields with a university degree(s) interested in teaching English in Japan for one year to employees of major corporations and governmental agencies should send a comprehensive in-depth resume to:

IES
Shin-Taiso Building, 10-7 Dogenzaka 2-chome, Shibuya-ku, Tokyo 150 JAPAN
Tel: (03) 463-5396, Fax: (03) 463-7089
The issue of maintaining a ROTC program at Notre Dame was debated in a student/faculty panel discussion held last night. Participants were, left to right, Mike Kilander, Joe Ross, Morrissey Hall rector, Alan Dowty, professor of government and international studies, Mary Sue Twohy and Patrick Murphy.

Dowty agreed with Ross that Williams and McCarthy did not adequately address the question posed to them on the issue of ROTC on a Catholic campus, adding that "There's a level at which these arguments are unanswerable." Twoby was also in favor of ROTC at Notre Dame. "I personally believe ROTC on a Catholic Campus is unacceptable, but because of students' financial needs, it is unfortunatley necessary." Twoby discussed the concept of "just war," explaining that it breaks down into "just cause" and "just means." According to Twoby, "just cause" is determined by government leaders and "just means" are the students with a good moral education.

Twoby also stressed the importance of ROTC members being allowed to impact the "just means" portion. "The decision-making process that goes into the just war theory would be for the most part be out of the hands of Notre Dame ROTC students," said Twoby, adding that these are the students with a good moral education.

Twoby also pressed for making the war ethics class a requirement for all ROTC students.

In addition to ethical training, Twoby advocates other types of financial assistance programs. "Why aren’t there alternatives for students needing financial assistance that do not involve the possibility of violence?" she said.

Twoby ended her portion of the discussion with a quote from Adrienne's Rich's selection of poems. "Leaflets": "All wars are useless to the dead."

Murphy, a member of ROTC, believes that our imperfect world mandates the necessity of ROTC.

"There is no situation in the world that makes murder—the taking of another human life—acceptable," said Murphy. "Therefore, I would personally choose to kill than to let innocents die."

He advocates that Notre Dame require freshmen to take war ethics before they sign an ROTC contract at the beginning of their sophomore year.

According to Murphy, ROTC will continue to exist, even if it were eliminated from Notre Dame's campus. "Even if we could kick ROTC off all college campuses," he said "I don’t see it ending the U.S. military."

Murphy believes the issue goes deeper than simply the existence of U.S. military programs. "Getting rid of ROTC and the military is like cutting a branch off a tree without cutting the tree down," he said.
The party's over

South Dakota State University police officers handcuff a partygoer after homecoming celebrations turned to rioting on and around the campus in Brookings, S.D., earlier this fall. A crowd of 1,000 people turned to rioting on and around the South Dakota State University police officers handcuff a partygoer Friday. November 16, 1990 The Observer page 5

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the most sweeping arms reduction treaty in history awaited President Bush's signature, U.S. officials on Thursday registered concern about the transfer of thousands of Soviet tanks to Siberia from Eastern Europe. The officials stressed that the tanks and other equipment shifted east of the Ural Mountains could not be excluded from the cutbacks required by the Conventional Forces in Europe treaty.

But they said the Soviets had given assurances that some of the weapons were destroyed and most of the rest would be put to the torch.

The treaty is to be signed on Monday in Paris by Bush, Soviet President Mikhail Gorbachev and the leaders of 20 other NATO and Warsaw Pact countries.

It is the most ambitious arms control accord in history and was aimed at reducing Cold War tensions between East and West. Even before the treaty's conclusion the Soviets under Gorbachev undertook major reductions in Eastern and Central Europe. The treaty makes many of those cutbacks legally binding.

With the signing deadline only four days away, U.S. officials said some details still had to be ironed out. They mostly concern procedures to verify that the reductions in tanks, anti-aircraft artillery, armored personnel carriers, aircraft and helicopters are carried out.

Diplomats in Vienna said, however, that negotiators for the two military alliances had reached tentative agreement on treaty terms.

The treaty will allow NATO and the Warsaw Pact each to keep 20,000 battle tanks, 30,000 armored combat vehicles, 20,000 pieces of artillery, 6,800 combat aircraft and 2,000 attack helicopters.

The cutbacks are far deeper on the Warsaw Pact side, and in that sense represents a triumph for the Bush administration.

But the transfer of Soviet tanks and other arms east of the Ural Mountains — beyond the 2.5 million square miles covered by the treaty — drew attention here even though the main U.S. goals had been accomplished.

"This is not a new issue," a senior U.S. official told reporters at the White House. "We have made it clear to the Soviet Union from the beginning that since the treaty deals only with Europe, we wanted to ensure there would be an inspection in the Soviet Union east of the Urals that would circumvent the treaty."

At the same time, the official said, the Bush administration had put pressure on the Soviets to withdraw their forces from Eastern Europe. "As a result, tanks and other weapons were pulled back to Siberia. That positions them beyond the area where East-West tensions were high and where the United States wanted Soviet weapons held to a minimum.

On Sunday, the day before the treaty signing, the two alliances will exchange information about the size of their non-nuclear arsenals assigned to Europe. Then, over 40 months, they will be obliged to destroy all weapons above the ceilings set by the treaty.

The restriction applies to material assigned to the European arsenal that may have been moved elsewhere, including the tanks in Siberia and tanks and other non-nuclear weapons the United States has sent to the Persian Gulf in a military buildup designed to force Iraq to withdraw from Kuwait.

"Obviously, we are concerned about movements to the East of the Urals," said the senior official, whose identity was shielded under White House briefing rules. "The Soviet Union has assured us that some of the equipment has already been destroyed and that much of the rest will be destroyed."

The treaty will establish inspection procedures and other ways of monitoring the cutbacks are carried out. The official acknowledged that Soviet territory east of the Ural Mountains would not be covered. But he said the United States had other detection means of making sure the Soviets do not store tanks and other arms in excess of treaty ceilings.

Sweeping arms reduction treaty awaits Bush's signature

Shuttle will run between stadium and SMC

The institution of the new service was in response to concerns raised by the students about the safety of walking back to Saint Mary's after games. The shuttle service will start at Saturday approximately 6 p.m.

The shuttle will run from the Grotto to LeMans Hall every 20-30 minutes, and will cost 25 cents. The shuttle service will start at approximately 6 p.m.
You know it's true—Milli Vanilli never sang

NEW YORK (AP) — The rumors are true: Milli Vanilli — those dreadlocked, bony dudes Rob and Fab — never actually sang on their debut album that sold 7 million copies, the producer-arranger conceded.

"The record company never knew that. I never told them anything," said Frank Farian, the German producer who turned a pair of anonymous pretty boys into an international phenomenon. "Later on, after the record was out, there were some people who raised some questions."

The questions were never really answered as the Vanills won a 1989 Grammy for Best New Artist, an award they may now lose. Rob Pilatus and Fab Morvan became international stars, lip-syncing their way through television and concert appearances.

"Girl You Know It's True" and "Blame It on the Rain" were huge hit singles for the band. At the MTV awards, the boys boasted they were better than Elvis or Bob Dylan.

Farian — who has a new album with a new group coming out in January — said he was forced to go public with the revelations when the band told him they wanted to sing on the follow-up to "Girl You Know It's True."

"I said, 'No. I don't go for that.' Sure, they have a voice, but that's not really what I want to use in my records," said Farian, describing the encounter that occurred earlier this month.

So the bare-chested vocalists once described by The New York Times as "exotically sexy" really did nothing but look good and lip sync for videos?

"Nothing more," Farian said through an interpreter during an interview here Wednesday. A telephone message left Thursday to the group's manager in Germany was not immediately returned.

Michael Greene, president of the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences, said the Millis may be stripped of their Grammy.

"If there's been a substantial, fraudulent, misrepresentation of the entity, I think there is a high likelihood that the academy would have to take some action," Greene said from Los Angeles. "Including taking the Grammy back."

"Sure," said Greene, adding that no one has ever been stripped of a Grammy in its 33 years.

Farian's revelation didn't bother Arista, the label that sold "Girl You Know It's True."

"Seven million albums? Embarrassing?" asked Roy Lott, vice president for operations at Arista. "I don't mean the end justifies the means. But we sold 7 million albums."

Lott said there was no reason to doubt Farian's veracity: "I certainly assume the producer would know who sang on the record."

According to Farian, the idea to hire Rob and Fab as front men for the band came to him when the fabulous bniks boys arrived at his studio in Germany shortly after the recording of "Girl You Know It's True."

"It suddenly clicked in my mind, and it was kind of evident: I had the music, there were the people who wanted to perform outside," said Farian. "And I said, 'Hey, let's put that together and make a great record out of it.'"

Farian would not say who the real singers were but added that they will appear on his next album — not a Milli Vanilli album.

You know it's true—Milli Vanilli never sang...
Key Arab leaders dash chances for summit on crisis

Agency announced on Thursday — a six-day amphibious exercise in Algiers, INA said, in what it was medical personnel from a foreign-run hospital in Baghdad. U.S. diplomats, but it was unclear whether they had worked in Kuwait or Iraq.

The Americans arrived along with 24 other foreigners — 22 Irish citizens, one Dutch national and one Briton. They all were medical personnel from a foreign-run hospital in Baghdad.

The official Iraqi News Agency announced on Thursday that President Bush would go "on tour" in absentia in the next month in Algeria — for "human policies and planning against the people of Iraq.

The trial will begin Dec. 10 in Damascus, Assad and Mubarak said they also rejected the idea of a second round of talks because of "the lack of a just solution." In Jiddah, Saudi Arabia, as the U.S. government-in-exile also objected, citing Israel's refusal to withdraw.

The operation involves 1,000 U.S. Marines, 1,100 aircraft and 16 ships. Iraq has termed it a "provocative act" because it is being held close to occupied Kuwait.

The two countries fought the 1979-88 Iran-Iraq war and to enhance amphibious warfare skills," he said.

Military officials said there was no particular significance to the name of the operation and that its timing was not linked to any operational plans.

The United States has doubled the number of aircraft carriers in the region to six, and ordered in about 200,000 additional military personnel to join the estimated 230,000 already deployed. The multinational force arrayed against Iraq numbers more than 300,000.

In other developments, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney — who headed Thursday to Brussels, on his way to yet another round of consultations with foreign leaders.

The two countries fought each other for nearly a decade during the 1980-88 Iran-Iraq war.

Two youths arrested for JACC theft

By MEGAN JUNIUS

News Writer

Two individuals were arrested Wednesday night in connection with the suspects involved in the thefts occurring outside the Joyce ACC football games, according to Chuck Hurley, assistant director of Security.

An officer recognized these men with help from evidence Security had collected through the investigation of the recent thefts. The suspects were arrested for criminal trespassing at 8:30 p.m. inside the JACC.

They are both white, 18-year-old males and residents of the South Bend area. They had no identification to be in the JACC at the time, he said.

According to Hurley, the prosecutor will review evidence to determine any further arrests.

Security discussed the matter of the recent thefts with the suspects, but they denied any involvement, Hurley said.

At this time Security is unable to say whether or not these suspects are responsible for all of the thefts, but Security is believed to have sufficient evidence for one of the instances, Hurley said.

Heart Attack. Fight it with a Memorial gift to the American Heart Association.

PAROLE DENIED!

© 1990 Game Day Promotions. All Rights Reserved. Game Day Promotions and PBM, INC. are members of the Knock-off Coalition.

Heart Attack. Fight it with a Memorial gift to the American Heart Association.

THE AMERICAN HEART ASSOCIATION MEMORIAL PROGRAM.

This space provided as a public service.

Game Day Stand Location:

LOCATION AT THE CORNER OF EDISON AND IVY ROADS - ACROSS FROM THE TAILGATE FIELDS - SATURDAY 8XX AM - 8XX PM

L, T, B, R

Front Linebacker Linebacker Linebacker Linebacker Linebacker Linebacker

Catholicvs

ST. BR. 22

Back

MONDAY, OCT 29, 1990

TO ORDER CALL

(219) 635 - 5349 (24 hrs)

Visa, Mastercard & C.O.D.

American Heart Association.

© 1990 Game Day Promotions. All Rights Reserved. Game Day Promotions and PBM, INC. are members of the Knock-off Coalition.

The Observer Page 7

Friday, November 16, 1990

The Americans arrived along with 24 other foreigners — 22 Irish citizens, one Dutch national and one Briton. They all were medical personnel from a foreign-run hospital in Baghdad.

The official Iraqi News Agency announced on Thursday that President Bush would go "on tour" in absentia in the next month in Algeria — for "human policies and planning against the people of Iraq.

The trial will begin Dec. 10 in Damascus, Assad and Mubarak said they also rejected the idea of a second round of talks because of "the lack of a just solution." In Jiddah, Saudi Arabia, as the U.S. government-in-exile also objected, citing Israel's refusal to withdraw.

The operation involves 1,000 U.S. Marines, 1,100 aircraft and 16 ships. Iraq has termed it a "provocative act" because it is being held close to occupied Kuwait.

The two countries fought the 1979-88 Iran-Iraq war and to enhance amphibious warfare skills," he said.

Military officials said there was no particular significance to the name of the operation and that its timing was not linked to any operational plans.

The United States has doubled the number of aircraft carriers in the region to six, and ordered in about 200,000 additional military personnel to join the estimated 230,000 already deployed. The multinational force arrayed against Iraq numbers more than 300,000.

In other developments, Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney — who headed Thursday to Brussels, on his way to yet another round of consultations with foreign leaders.

The two countries fought each other for nearly a decade during the 1980-88 Iran-Iraq war.

Two youths arrested for JACC theft

By MEGAN JUNIUS

News Writer

Two individuals were arrested Wednesday night in connection with the suspects involved in the thefts occurring outside the Joyce ACC football games, according to Chuck Hurley, assistant director of Security.

An officer recognized these men with help from evidence Security had collected through the investigation of the recent thefts. The suspects were arrested for criminal trespassing at 8:30 p.m. inside the JACC.

They are both white, 18-year-old males and residents of the South Bend area. They had no identification to be in the JACC at the time, he said.

According to Hurley, the prosecutor will review evidence to determine any further arrests.

Security discussed the matter of the recent thefts with the suspects, but they denied any involvement, Hurley said.

At this time Security is unable to say whether or not these suspects are responsible for all of the thefts, but Security is believed to have sufficient evidence for one of the instances, Hurley said.
DOMINO'S PIZZA
TOP TEN PICKS.

<table> <thead>
<tr>
<th>TEAM</th>
<th>RECORD</th>
<th>NEXT OPPONENT</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Notre Dame</td>
<td>8-1</td>
<td>Penn State</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Colorado</td>
<td>9-1-1</td>
<td>Kansas State</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Miami</td>
<td>6-2</td>
<td>Boston College</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Virginia</td>
<td>8-1</td>
<td>Maryland</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nebraska</td>
<td>9-1</td>
<td>Oklahoma (11/23)</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Florida</td>
<td>8-1</td>
<td>Kentucky</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Georgia Tech</td>
<td>8-0-1</td>
<td>Wake Forest</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Brigham Young</td>
<td>8-1</td>
<td>Utah</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Texas</td>
<td>7-1</td>
<td>Texas Christian</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Houston</td>
<td>8-1</td>
<td>Eastern Washington</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

SUNDAY
DOUBLE FEATURE
$5.99
Get 2 small Original pizzas with the topping of your choice for only $5.99. Valid Sundays only.

EARLY WEEK SPECIAL
$4.99
Get 1 large Original pizza with your favorite topping for only $4.99. Valid Mondays & Tuesdays only.

2 Large Pizzas
1 Topping
$10.95
Get 2 large Original Pizzas with the topping of your choice.

Call us! Notre Dame 271-0300
1035 South Bend Ave, 289-0033 816 Portage Ave

NO PENALTY FOR CLIPPING!
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush, saying every American "deserves to breathe clean air," on Thursday signed an extensive overhaul of the nation's anti-pollution law to curb acid rain, urban smog and toxic chemicals.

Susan Merrow, president of the Sierra Club, described the Clean Air Act of 1990 as "a breath of fresh air after a 10-year smog alert."

Bush said the bill, which updates and tightens federal air pollution standards for the first time since 1977, was "simply the most significant air pollution legislation in our nation's history."

"This bill means cleaner cars, cleaner power plants, cleaner factories and cleaner fuels. And it means a cleaner America," Bush said at a packed White House ceremony.

The goal of the legislation is to cut acid rain pollutants by half, sharply reduce urban smog and eliminate most of the toxic chemical emissions from industrial plants by the turn of the century.

The cost of adhering to the regulations is expected to be as much as $25 billion a year. Environmental groups temporarily put aside their differences with the president on other issues to praise his effort on clean air. But they said the effectiveness of the legislation would require aggressive implementation and enforcement by the federal government.

Richard Ayers, chairman of the National Clean Air Coalition, called the legislation "cause for celebration and hope."

But Ruth Caplan, executive director of Environmental Action, said Bush's signature marked "only the first step toward cleaning up our air. There are dozens of provisions that must be implemented through regulation."

Industry representatives, facing large compliance costs, were more muted in their approval.

"While business supports the act's clean air objectives, its costs to American consumers and workers cannot be sugar-coated," said William Fay, administrator of the Clean Air Working Group, a coalition of 2,000 businesses and trade associations.

Bush's signature capped a decade-long debate over anti-pollution rules. The legislation was the product of 16 months of intensive wrangling among administration and congressional negotiators over a myriad of technical provisions.

The new law requires tougher emission controls on cars, and requires service stations to sell cleaner-burning gas. It mandates new equipment in thousands of businesses and factories to capture smog-causing pollutants and toxic chemicals.

It also requires coal-burning power plants to cut in half sulfur dioxide emissions, which cause acid rain.

Some of the new requirements will begin to be phased in within a few years, but most won't be fully in place until the end of the decade. Some cities with the worst smog problems have as long as 15 to 20 years to meet federal air requirements.

Bush, fulfilling a campaign promise, proposed in July 1989 a broad rewrite of the clean air laws. Earlier efforts to revamp the laws had been blocked by strong opposition from economic and regional interests and the Reagan administration.

Environmental groups and workers cannot be sugar-coated," said William Fay, administrator of the Clean Air Working Group, a coalition of 2,000 businesses and trade associations.

Bush's signature capped a decade-long debate over anti-pollution rules. The legislation was the product of 16 months of intensive wrangling among administration and congressional negotiators over a myriad of technical provisions.

The new law requires tougher emission controls on cars, and requires service stations to sell cleaner-burning gas. It mandates new equipment in thousands of businesses and factories to capture smog-causing pollutants and toxic chemicals.

It also requires coal-burning power plants to cut in half sulfur dioxide emissions, which cause acid rain.

Some of the new requirements will begin to be phased in within a few years, but most won't be fully in place until the end of the decade. Some cities with the worst smog problems have as long as 15 to 20 years to meet federal air requirements.

Bush, fulfilling a campaign promise, proposed in July 1989 a broad rewrite of the clean air laws. Earlier efforts to revamp the laws had been blocked by strong opposition from economic and regional interests and the Reagan administration.

The Observer
Keating Five helped S&L owner, says panel's lawyer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Ethics Committee opened trial-like public hearings Tuesday on the "Keating Five" with the panel's lawyer declaring the lawmakers helped the owner of a failing savings and loan fight an "all-out war" with federal regulators.

The senators also heard committee chairman Howell Heflin say many Americans believe "that you were bribed, that you were bought. You were bought your office, that you traded your honor and your good name and your reputation to get your personal benefits and other benefits."

Special counsel Robert Ben­nett, set in his opening state­ment that Sens. Alan Cranston and Daniel Pilarczyk "were among the most important players" in Charles Keating's effort to get off federal rules and that Sen. Donald Riegle Jr. "played a much greater role" than he now contends.

Speaking in a packed hearing room, Bennett said Sens. John McCain and John Glenn played lesser roles. The lawyer spoke for about five hours Thursday, and will resume Friday morn­ing.

Before Bennett spoke, the chairman of the six-senator committee, Alabama Democrat Heflin, somberly told the sub­jects of the inquiry: "Many of our fellow citizens apparently believe that your services were bought by Charles Keating, that you were bribed, that you sold your office, that you traded your honor and your good name and your reputation to get your personal benefits and other benefits."

While Bennett denied his role was prosecutorial, Sen. David Pryor, D-Ark. testily told him, "You're beginning to reach personal conclusions and decid­ing what is relevant and what is not relevant."

Bennett responded: "It's less my conclusion and more the objective evidence."

In his detailed comments, Bennett told the panel: "—Despite Riegle's statements that he does not remember such events. Keating offered to host a fund-raiser for Riegle at the businessman's Detroit hotel; the senator set arrangements in motion for an April 2, 1987, meeting between the four other senators and the former top thrift regulator, and Riegle told from his own aides his role in arranging that meeting and the fund-raising purpose of a trip to Keating's Phoenix-based company.

"—On Glenn, the lawyer "knew nothing" linking Keating's contributions to interven­tion by the Ohio senator. "—On McCain, the lawyer "knew nothing" linking Keating's contributions to interven­tion by the Arizona senator. "—Cranston continued to con­tact federal regulators even though former Arizona Gov. Bruce Babbitt told the senator that Keating was "a crook."

"—Evidence shows that DeConcini offered a deal on be­half of Keating to former top thrift regulator Edwin Gray, despite DeConcini's denial of a quid pro quo. Three other sena­tors at the meeting refused to "say flatly" that DeConcini's version was correct."

"—Glenn, the lawyer "knew no evidence" linking Keating's contributions to interven­tion by the Ohio senator."

"—McCain, the lawyer "knew nothing" linking Keating's contributions to interven­tion by the Arizona senator."

"—Evidence discovered by the special counsel suggests not."

"—In the mid-1980s, when Keating was fighting a rule by regulators limiting risky thrift investments, he enlisted the support of the five senators and many others."

"—He said that considering the "dangers and human costs which we have faced in the recent war in the Persian Gulf" the nation "needs to continue to assess and discuss the ethical dimensions of this difficult sit­uation by the annual meeting of the senators to intervene with regulators on Keating's behalf, and, if they believed that money was driv­ing the senators to intervene with regulators on Keating's behalf — or whether they were providing normal constituent service."

Bennett said, "I will give you many instances where acts and money were discussed at the same time and indeed hundreds of thousands of dollars in the case of Senator Keating passed in an office in this building."

The lawyer held up jumbled pieces of a jigsaw puzzle and promised to piece together evi­dence in the case just as a spectator one would complete the puzzle.

The committee members and Bennett repeatedly described the hearings as a fact-finding effort to determine whether the five senators helped Keating because of the $1.3 million they received from the former thrift operator and his associates. All five senators have con­tested they were helping Keat­ing as they would anyone — whether a contributor or not — who complained of unfair treatment by federal regulators.

For months, the news media have reported that Bennett rec­ommended to the committee of three Democrats and three Re­publicans that McCain, R-Ariz., and Glenn, D-Ohio, be dis­missed from the case; and that the investigation be intensified against Cranston, D-Calif., DeConcini, D-Ariz., and Riegle, D-Mich.
ATLANTA (AP) — The FBI said Thursday it had obtained CNN tapes and was checking whether they are Manuel Noriega recordings at the center of a court battle. The network protested that the tapes were obtained without a warrant.

The FBI said the tapes turned up in a hotel lost-and-found department. Cable News Network said the material was taken from a room that had been occupied by one of its reporters at the Omni Hotel, part of a complex that also houses CNN's offices.

The network is seeking to overturn a federal judge's order blocking it from airing taped jailhouse conversations between the deposed Panamanian dictator Noriega and his lawyers.

Turner Security, which provides security for the complex, had notified FBI agents about the box of materials, the network said.

The network said it was turned over to Turner Security because agents had told him the material was not stolen.

Omni hotel officials claimed the room occupied by CNN reporter Marilyn Fernandez had been vacated by Fernando, who normally anchors CNN's Spanish-language telecasts in Washington but had been working on the Noriega case.

CNN's chief counsel, Steve Johnson, said he personally protested the FBI's action "in the strongest terms" to agency officials in Washington.

The network said a Turner Security official called the FBI because agents had told him they were looking for "stolen government property." The network said the material was not stolen.

CNN President Tom Johnson told the FBI the hotel had no authority to turn the material over.

---

Gay and Lesbian Alumni

There is a group of gay, lesbian, and bisexual students, faculty, and staff that meets regularly at Notre Dame.

Our group has a three-fold mission of Support, Education, and Fellowship.

If you are interested in more information on this group, or just wondering how things have or haven't changed from when you were here, call or drop us a line.

Gay and Lesbians at Notre Dame Saint Mary's College

Post Office Box 194 Notre Dame, IN 46556

---

P.I.M.E. MISSIONARIES

Fulfilling one's life through a missionary vocation

The Pontifical Institute for Foreign Missions (the PIME missionaries) is an international community of Catholic priests and makes a lifelong commitment to continuing the missionary vocation of the Church. We live the Gospel in Bangladesh, Brazil, Hong Kong, India, Japan, Korea, Laos, Indonesia, Philippines, Taiwan, Thailand and West Africa among the poor and unchurched.

Founded in Italy in 1850, a group of diocean priests, at the encouragement of the Church, began a movement to open new frontiers of Christian mission.

We live the Gospel in Bangladesh, Brazil, Hong Kong, India, Japan, Korea, Laos, Indonesia, Philippines, Taiwan, Thailand.

P.I.M.E.

FRASER, MICHIGAN 48026

The Pontifical Institute for Foreign Missions

FRASER, MICHIGAN 48026

Phone (313) 791-2100 Rights
continued from page 1

Expression Committee to make decisions regarding censorship. On page 62, Du Lac states, "Student media should be free of censorship and advance approval of copy, and their editors and managers should be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage...All student organizations...all student organizations...should be protected from arbitrary suspension and removal because of student, faculty, administrative or public disapproval of editorial policy or content."

On the subject of unofficial student publications, Du Lac states, "The University of Notre Dame should not prohibit the States, "The University of Notre Dame student publications, du Lac's statement is that it says that which could be reasonably late a policy in consultation added."

"Du Lac is too ambiguous on the subject of unofficial student publications, du Lac adds that, "No organization of student literature on campus except that which could be reasonably late a policy in consultation added."

The Task Force plans on getting input from the campus media section of the Legal Department. The Task Force will formulate a policy in consultation with leaders of the campus media, "he said. Whenever deciding the idea of "limited recognition" of campus organizations, the Legal Department tried to please groups on both sides of the issue. The committee is made up of seven members: four faculty members chosen by the Faculty Senate, two student members chosen by the Student Senate and one administrator chosen by the Vice President for Student Affairs. "This committee is critical to make our recommendations, many of which draw highly subjective lines, practical and effective," the report states. These five recommendations could change drastically before they are brought before the CLC, said Singh.

The report on freedom of expression is in very rough form now, he added. While the issues of collective punishment, judgement by peers and freedom of expression have been worked on extensively by the Legal Department, the issue of open hearings is not really a priority, according to Singh. Presently, on the subject of the University community may organize or lead a demonstration on campus. Demonstrations may not contravene the mission of the University community. This recommendation basically would give individuals not associated with any recognized group the right to express any idea of legitimate interest publicly.

In order to determine which individuals and groups should be allowed to demonstrate, the report also proposes the formation of an "Expression Committee" to handle all decisions regarding censorship.

The committee would make four principal decisions "regarding all issues of censorship including, but not limited to, student media, organized activity, and group status," the report says. The committee is made up of seven members: four faculty members chosen by the Faculty Senate, two student members chosen by the Student Senate and one administrator chosen by the Vice President for Student Affairs. "This committee is critical to make our recommendations, many of which draw highly subjective lines, practical and effective," the report states. These five recommendations could change drastically before they are brought before the CLC, said Singh.

The report on freedom of expression is in very rough form now, he added. While the issues of collective punishment, judgement by peers and freedom of expression have been worked on extensively by the Legal Department, the issue of open hearings is not really a priority, according to Singh. Presently, on the subject of the University community may organize or lead a demonstration on campus. Demonstrations may not contravene the mission of the University community. This recommendation basically would give individuals not associated with any recognized group the right to express any idea of legitimate interest publicly.

In order to determine which individuals and groups should be allowed to demonstrate, the report also proposes the formation of an "Expression Committee" to handle all decisions regarding censorship.

The committee would make four principal decisions "regarding all issues of censorship including, but not limited to, student media, organized activity, and group status," the report says. The committee is made up of seven members: four faculty members chosen by the Faculty Senate, two student members chosen by the Student Senate and one administrator chosen by the Vice President for Student Affairs. "This committee is critical to make our recommendations, many of which draw highly subjective lines, practical and effective," the report states. These five recommendations could change drastically before they are brought before the CLC, said Singh.

The report on freedom of expression is in very rough form now, he added. While the issues of collective punishment, judgement by peers and freedom of expression have been worked on extensively by the Legal Department, the issue of open hearings is not really a priority, according to Singh. Presently, on the subject of the University community may organize or lead a demonstration on campus. Demonstrations may not contravene the mission of the University community. This recommendation basically would give individuals not associated with any recognized group the right to express any idea of legitimate interest publicly.

In order to determine which individuals and groups should be allowed to demonstrate, the report also proposes the formation of an "Expression Committee" to handle all decisions regarding censorship.

The committee would make four principal decisions "regarding all issues of censorship including, but not limited to, student media, organized activity, and group status," the report says. The committee is made up of seven members: four faculty members chosen by the Faculty Senate, two student members chosen by the Student Senate and one administrator chosen by the Vice President for Student Affairs. "This committee is critical to make our recommendations, many of which draw highly subjective lines, practical and effective," the report states. These five recommendations could change drastically before they are brought before the CLC, said Singh.

The report on freedom of expression is in very rough form now, he added. While the issues of collective punishment, judgement by peers and freedom of expression have been worked on extensively by the Legal Department, the issue of open hearings is not really a priority, according to Singh. Presently, on the subject of the University community may organize or lead a demonstration on campus. Demonstrations may not contravene the mission of the University community. This recommendation basically would give individuals not associated with any recognized group the right to express any idea of legitimate interest publicly.

In order to determine which individuals and groups should be allowed to demonstrate, the report also proposes the formation of an "Expression Committee" to handle all decisions regarding censorship.

The committee would make four principal decisions "regarding all issues of censorship including, but not limited to, student media, organized activity, and group status," the report says. The committee is made up of seven members: four faculty members chosen by the Faculty Senate, two student members chosen by the Student Senate and one administrator chosen by the Vice President for Student Affairs. "This committee is critical to make our recommendations, many of which draw highly subjective lines, practical and effective," the report states. These five recommendations could change drastically before they are brought before the CLC, said Singh.

The report on freedom of expression is in very rough form now, he added. While the issues of collective punishment, judgement by peers and freedom of expression have been worked on extensively by the Legal Department, the issue of open hearings is not really a priority, according to Singh. Presently, on the subject of the University community may organize or lead a demonstration on campus. Demonstrations may not contravene the mission of the University community. This recommendation basically would give individuals not associated with any recognized group the right to express any idea of legitimate interest publicly.

In order to determine which individuals and groups should be allowed to demonstrate, the report also proposes the formation of an "Expression Committee" to handle all decisions regarding censorship.

The committee would make four principal decisions "regarding all issues of censorship including, but not limited to, student media, organized activity, and group status," the report says. The committee is made up of seven members: four faculty members chosen by the Faculty Senate, two student members chosen by the Student Senate and one administrator chosen by the Vice President for Student Affairs. "This committee is critical to make our recommendations, many of which draw highly subjective lines, practical and effective," the report states. These five recommendations could change drastically before they are brought before the CLC, said Singh.
Americans need to take a stand against pornography

Dear Editor:
Illegal drugs and alcohol have recently been receiving the attention that they deserve for their destructiveness of human life and limb. On the other hand, pornography, for all of its magnified blame, has had insufficient light shed on it. The problem is exacerbated when one considers that 50 percent of Americans do not take advantage of their franchise of voting to change persons, places and things for the better. It is axiomatic that the Soviet Union, China, Cuba and the Moslem nations do not allow pornography or obscenity to cross their borders. In the struggle against pornography, a common ground must be found—especially for those who do not realize the seriousness of this phenomenon those who are unable to protect themselves from this evil, and those who have confided to me how to proceed in combating it. Pornography debases, dehumanizes and reduces the human person to the compost pile. It reinforces the subordination and mutilization of women and children. There is no division between hard-core and so-called "soft-core" pornography; it is all pornography. It has been estimated that pornography is a $4 billion dollar industry and is growing. Why does pornography continue to proliferate in such proportions? One study concludes that there are four basic reasons: (1) Lack of a spiritual goal in America. (2) Total pursuit of pleasure—having fun and entertainment at any price and at any one's expense, no matter who is hurt in the process. (3) Decline and disrespect for the integrity of the human person, especially women and children. (4) Lack of belief in a transcendent God, moral values or citizenship.

Pornography exploits the weaknesses of human nature. It can be the pathway to indecent, deviant and immoral conduct such as bestiality, rape, sodomy, child molestation, pedophilia, utter cruelty and a psychopathic state of mind when indulged in over a long period of time.

According to one method, pornographers use basically six steps to entice children as subjects of pornography: (1) They show pornography to the child for "sex education"; (2) They attempt to convince the child explicit sex is acceptable, even desirable. (3) They convince the child that other children are sexually active, that it's OK; (4) They desensitize the child's inhibitions. (5) They initiate sexual activity in some of these sessions. (6) They take photos or movies of the sexual activity.

Part of the problem in combating pornography is that there seems to be no universally accepted authoritative definition of the term. Justice Stewart of the U.S. Supreme Court once remarked, "I don't know how to define the term pornography, but I know it when I see it." Pornography is not rational. It is patent evil and total licentiousness. The limitations of freedom of expression have had little light shed upon them. Censorship may be unfortunate, but it is surely less evil than exploitation and encouragement of hate and dehumanization of women and children.

Pornography must not be allowed to spread sordid and wicked messages of sexual aggression, torture and the total disregard for the person. In a pluralistic society like America's, it is difficult to find a common ground in order to meet this menace of pornography. As a common understanding must be found, however, to protect the moral lives held dear in America.

Pornography has no relationship to sex or sexuality whatsoever. It is anti-sex. It attempts to destroy the true meaning of sex and sexuality. Sex and sexuality are men and women created in God's image. Sex and sexuality are men and women joined together in Holy Matrimony, cooperating with their Creator in a tender and loving relationship. It is meeting each other's deepest needs in tenderness and warmth. Sex as sexuality are our children. Their honesty. Their innocence. Their truthfulness. Their need to be appreciated, listened to, encouraged, corrected and praised for a task well done.

Do we not all have the moral responsibility to safeguard the moral integrity of each other? America and Americans deserve better than this blight that is pornography.

Brother Edward Courtney, C.S.C.
Columbus Hall
Nov. 7, 1990

DOONESBURY

GARRY TRUDEAU

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"The lust of the goat is the bounty of God. The nakedness of a woman is the work of God. Excess of sorrow laughs. Excess of joy weeps."

William Blake weekend calendar

friday

MUSIC
A Trip to the Isles, featuring Paul Harris and "Sheamaisin", The Coffeehouse, Grace Hall, 8:30 p.m.
Koko Taylor, Center Street Blues Cafe, 9:30 p.m.
Flying Bohemian Brothers, McCormick's, 10 p.m.
Glee Club 75th Reunion Concert, Stepan Center, 8:15 p.m.

DANCE
Fresh Tracks, Moreau Hall Little Theatre, Saint Mary's College, 8 p.m. Tickets $6, $5.

EVENTS
Jeaux Arts Ball, Architecture Building, 9 p.m. to 2 a.m.
Tickets $5 per person, $9 per couple.

saturday

MUSIC
Break Up Band, Center Street Blues Cafe, 9:30 p.m.
Flying Bohemian Brothers, McCormick's, 10 p.m.

OFF CAMPUS
Festival of Trees, Convention Hall, Century Center, 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

sunday

OFF CAMPUS
Festival of Trees, Convention Hall, Century Center, 11 a.m. to 5 p.m.

By ELIZABETH VIDA
accent writer

have you been unimpressed with Renoir lately? Has Picasso left you blue? Get a fresh perspective on your art outlook and visit the Snite Museum's new exhibit of African Art from the Rita and John Grunwald Collection. It opens Sunday, November 18 and remains in the O'Shaughnessy Gallery West until December 30, 1990.

Also on Sunday, from 3-4 p.m., Diane Perline, curator of the Art of Africa, Oceania and the Americas at Indiana University Art Museum, Bloomington, and also the exhibit's organizer will give an opening lecture on the exhibit.

Sixty-two pieces constitute the traveling portion of the Grunwald's complete collection, which is located in their home in Bloomington, Indiana. According to Douglas E. Bradley, curator of ethnographic arts at the Snite, the Grunwald's collection of African art is special because over the last 20 years, the Grunwalds "have devoted so much time and care to the collection, and also made deliberate choices in the art they wanted in their collection and pursued those pieces."

In smaller, private collections such as the Grunwalds, each piece has an even greater role in contributing to the overall statement the collection is try ing to make.

Bradley said of the pieces in their collection, 'The Grunwalds keep three things in mind when considering a piece for their exhibit: first, what they are doing as individuals at that time and whether the piece fits their concept of where the collection should be heading. Secondly, they rely also on what the art market dictates at the time (if a piece is overpriced, for example.) Thirdly, they try to get a sense of whether the piece is aesthetically pleasing. Aesthetically pleasing, however, does not always imply meaningful. The Grunwalds aren't worried about whether the pieces clash with their couch.' Bradley pointed out. Indeed, the Grunwalds might have to worry about positioning their pieces in their house because that's where they keep all of them, out in the open, as the art was originally intended to be viewed.

Bradley says of the way in which art can be displayed, 'When a piece of art is kept in a glass case, you just can just walk by it because it's been somehow removed from your external surroundings by being erased. But, if, especially in this instance (a rather large and ugly wild boar), the piece is displayed without any glass you're not going to be able to see the piece as it was intended.'

By MICHELLE BERNINGER
accent writer

climbing "Jacob's Ladder" gets you nowhere. Instead of a resolution, utter puzzlement lies at the top rung. Questions only multiply the further you climb.

Yet maybe the Adrian Lyne film is the inevitable result when the creators of such bizarre movies as "Fatal Attraction," "9 1/2 Weeks," "Angel Heart," and "Ghost," combine their efforts.

"Jacob's Ladder" explores the life of Jacob Singer (Tim Robbins) who is haunted by unexplainable hallucinations and terrifying events, leaving him unable to decipher reality from nightmare. However, neither can we.

For the majority of the film, "reality" is indefinable, as the scenes create an atmosphere of a unique way in which to establish a number of different lives for Singer. The problem lies in trying to recognize the illusions.

As soon as the audience seems satisfied that Singer is a Vietnam veteran presently working as a New York City office and living with one of his fellow employees, Jezzie (Elizabeth Pena), the scenes shift and he is the loving father and husband to a woman who had supposedly left him years ago.

The unexpected leaves you tense in your seat and anticipating the next surprise, but ready to doubt its validity. After awhile, however, the shifts become annoying and Singer's insanity is too close for comfort. Even if we cannot find the stability that we crave.

Singer's chiropractor and loyal friend, Louis (Danny Aiello), serves as the angelic figure of the film—a desperately needed character for such a film. He continually reminds Singer of the importance of accepting death, as opposed to fearfully clinging too tightly to aspects of the past.

Not only is Louis the only one who can relax Singer, but his advice also provides one of the few hints as to the film's message—by digging into the human psyche and exposing deep fears and unconscious terror on the surface, a person can be free of them.

Two pieces of the Grunwald African art collection to be displayed in the Chowke Pipe sculpture of the late 19th century and Right is the Yorubt section opens at Snite dwall around it. You can't help but stop and truly see it every time you walk by.

The personal stamp on the collection that develops from daily contact is one reason why the Grunwald exhibit is so fascinating, and as Bradley pointed out, "That's why it's wonderful as well as..."

The oldest pieces in the exhibit are from the city of Jenne in Mali and from Akan. These dates back respectively to 9th-10th century and 17th-18th century Africa.

Overall, Bradley believes the exhibit is enriching because it allows people to see them-themselves to a different way of looking at the world. The exhibit is also an excellent resource for the museum, because it brings in terms.
"Good to bring in new things so you can refresh your eye."

Led Zeppelin's self-titled four
CD boxed set, released in late October, captures the various phases and moods the band moved through in their career,
from the youthful urgency of
"Whole Lotta Love" to the wistful, retrospective closer, "All My Love."

Even since the band's inception in 1968, Zeppelin has been a powerful force in the blues-rock movement and at the same time has been dangled by critics
tough through most of its flight.
However, ten years after the death of drummer John Bonham and the subsequent break-up of the band, Zeppelin fans old and new are as rabid
as ever, and this CD package
should satisfy their appetites.

Four "new" tracks accom-
pa ny 50 songs selected by guitarist Jimmy Page from among Zeppelin's 84-song
magnus opus. These unreleased works hold their own against the rock classics appearing on the set.

One, "Hey, Hey What Can I
Do," the only legendary Zeppelin song not to appear in an album, actually was previously released as the B-side of the Immigrant Song. It appears on CD for the first time here,
and the effect is notable.
Page's wistful民歌 sounds incredibly clean, and Plant's voice melts nicely with the folk-based tune. The bizarre guitar
intro is barely audible.

The only clearly noticeable differences in the actual songs occur in "Heartbreaker," in which Page's mistake-laden guitar solo is cleaned up considerably, probably to the satisfaction of the band's fans. Zep history. Fifty-four metal riff, and lifts onto rock history. Fifty-four songs and five hours later, the journey ends with...

"Traveling Riverside Blues," a relentless, Robert Johnson-influenced, Ramblin' Willie blues-rock, is the best of the new tracks. Performed in 1969 for BBC Radio, the song is textbook
early Zeppelin—Plant belting
out recognizable blues stanzas
over a raucous Page riff, backed by sparkling performances
by the rhythm section.

Bonham shuffling bass drum
has a life of its own. This track is several times better than many on the compilation album
"Coda," and even tops some appearing on "real" Zeppelin albums.

Moby Dick/Bonzo's Mon-
treux is a combination of two earlier releases, Bonzo's two drum tracks. The solos fit perfectly together. Although the mix is seamless, the final product smacks of the sound created when today's bands, mostly rap groups, sample segments of Zeppelin's music
as a backing track for a new song. Page tampered with this piece more than any other, and it barely succeeds.

White Summer/Black Mountain Side is an eight-minute, almost exclusively guitar based instrumental piece. Only a few beats or a heavy-duty Zep
fans will find much in this track worth listening to.

"Heartbreaker" will be surprised that playing
"Communication Breakdown" directly afterward improves both songs and brings a more coherent perspective to each.

A few questionable choices were made, such as including
"Candy Store Rock" and "One Baby" to the exclusion of songs such as "Out on the Tiles." The most glaring omissions were
"Living Loving Maid," and
"Good Times, Bad Times.

Despite these faults, the collection is a formidable lineup
of well known classics and lesser known songs which may now
enjoy a greater popularity.
"Achilles' Last Stand" and
"Wearing and Tearing" are two likely candidates.

The packaging of the discs
does not shy away from the elements of mystery and the occult present in many of Zeppelin's albums. The golden box cover depicts the shadow of a Zeppelin hovering over a field into which are cut strange markings. The covers of the individual discs feature
the band's famous four Sym-bolos (from the undated fourth album) clearly hidden or obscured in four separate photographs.

Zeppelin box set is a must for Led Heads'

By JOHN FISCHER
Acclaim Writer

I

Led Zeppelin's self-titled four
CD boxed set, released in late October, captures the various phases and moods the band
moved through in their career,
from the youthful urgency of
"Whole Lotta Love" to the wist-
ful, retrospective closer, "All
My Love."

Even since the band's inception in 1968, Zeppelin has been
a powerful force in the blues-
rock movement and at the same
time has been dangled by critics
tough through most of its flight.
However, ten years after the death of drummer John Bon-
ham and the subsequent break-up of the band, Zeppelin
fans old and new are as rabid
as ever, and this CD package
should satisfy their appetites.

Four "new" tracks accom-
pa ny 50 songs selected by guitarist Jimmy Page from among Zeppelin's 84-song
magnus opus. These unreleased works hold their own
against the rock classics appearing on the set.

One, "Hey, Hey What Can I
Do," the only legendary Zeppelin song not to appear in an album, actually was previously
released as the B-side of the Immigrant Song. It appears
on CD for the first time here,
and the effect is notable.
Page's wistful民歌 sounds
incredibly clean, and Plant's voice melts nicely with the folk-based tune. The bizarre guitar
intro is barely audible.

"Traveling Riverside Blues," a relentless, Robert Johnson-influenced, Ramblin' Willie blues-
rock, is the best of the new tracks. Performed in 1969 for BBC Radio, the song is textbook
early Zeppelin—Plant belting
out recognizable blues stanzas
over a raucous Page riff, backed
by sparkling performances
by the rhythm section.

Bonham shuffling bass drum
has a life of its own. This track
is several times better than
many on the compilation album
"Coda," and even tops some appearing on "real" Zeppelin albums.

Moby Dick/Bonzo's Mon-
treux is a combination of two earlier releases, Bonzo's two drum tracks. The solos fit perfectly together. Although
the mix is seamless, the final product smacks of the sound created when today's bands,
mostly rap groups, sample
segments of Zeppelin's music
as a backing track for a new song. Page tampered with this piece more than any other, and it barely succeeds.

White Summer/Black Mountain Side is an eight-minute,
almost exclusively guitar based instrumental piece. Only a few
beats or a heavy-duty Zep
fans will find much in this track
worth listening to.

"Heartbreaker" will be surprised that playing
"Communication Breakdown" directly afterward improves both songs and brings a more coherent perspective to each.

A few questionable choices
were made, such as including
"Candy Store Rock" and "One Baby" to the exclusion of songs
such as "Out on the Tiles." The most glaring omissions were
"Living Loving Maid," and
"Good Times, Bad Times.

Despite these faults, the collection is a formidable lineup
of well known classics and lesser
known songs which may now
enjoy a greater popularity.
"Achilles' Last Stand" and
"Wearing and Tearing" are two
likely candidates.

The packaging of the discs
does not shy away from the elements of mystery and the occult present in many of Zeppelin's albums. The golden
box cover depicts the shadow of a Zeppelin hovering
over a field into which are cut strange markings. The covers
of the individual discs feature
the band's famous four Sym-
bolos (from the undated fourth album) clearly hidden or obscured in four separate photographs.
How the martyr becomes a saint

Father Robert Griffin
Letters to a Lonely God

Dr. Samuel Johnson said: "Every man has a right to what he thinks is truth, and every other man has the right to knock him down for it. Martyrdom is the test."

Cynics have told us, "Martyrdom has always been a proof of the intensity, never the unnoticed for a lifetime if they can boast its martyrs."

"Martyrdom has always been a proof of the intensity, never the unnoticed for a lifetime if they can boast its martyrs." The one widely-acknowledged saint that I have stood close to is Dorothy Day. In England, she's pictured wearing a halo. Yet none of the down-on-their-luck men and women who lived with Dorothy Day at the Catholic Worker House in Manhattan would tolerate the idea that Dorothy could be a saint. They'd grow angry and snarl at you for mentioning the idea. Dorothy herself said: "I'm tired of hearing myself called 'saintly.' Such a way of disregarding what we all have to do in our own way--follow God's lead! To call me 'saintly' is to understand . . . "

Graham Greene has an essay in which he asks if Christianity is in peril. His answer begins: "I feel as though I am surrounded by shadows . . . Christianity is something that happens somewhere else, beyond my range of vision, perhaps in another country, certainly in another heart. I cannot touch the words unless they are given a human shape. The Apostle Thomas should be the patron saint of people in my country. For we must see the marks of Christianity in our own way, in every possible way, until He calls us back."

Mother Teresa says: "We can do no great things; only small things with great love." Thomas should be the patron saint of people in my country. The mere martyr becomes the saint when he is able to say, "I am not in danger; only near to death."
HELP! I NEED A RIDE FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 16, FROM VINCENNES TO SOUTH BEND. Contact: CHRISS CHAPEL. 267-3380.

HELP! I NEED A RIDE FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 16, FOR SOUTH BEND TO VINCENNES. Contact: JERRY PEAKE. 472-6300.

I NEED PENN ST & TAMU STICKS. Call 827-5308.

HELP! I NEED A RIDE FOR FRIDAY, NOV. 16, FROM VINCENNES TO SOUTH BEND. Contact: CHRISS CHAPEL. 267-3380.

I NEED PENN ST & TAMU STICKS. Call 827-5308.

THE OBSERVER classifies every business day from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Notre Dame office, 314 Lafortune, and from 12:30 to 5 p.m. at the Saint Mary's office. Maguire College Center. Deadlines for next day classification is 5 p.m. All classifieds must be prepaid. The charge is 2 cents per character per day, including spaces.
Sunday, November 10.

FOOTBALL
Nov. 10.

N.Y. Giants 9

Denver 3

LA Raiders at Miami. 9 p.m.

New England at Buffalo. 1:35 p.m.

Chicago at New York, 1:35 p.m.

LA Lakers at Dallas, 9:30 p.m.

LA Clippers at Phoenix, 9:30 p.m.

NBA STANDINGS

WASHINGTON CAPITALS—Named Kevin McCarthy, assistant basketball coach.

HOCKEY
Western Conference

Sat. Nov. 17.

Cleveland at Minnesota, 7:35 p.m.

New Jersey at Buffalo, 7:35 p.m.

Washington at Hartford, 7:35 p.m.

N.Y. Islanders at Calgary, 8:05 p.m.

New York Islanders at Edmonton, 8:05 p.m.

Hartford 4, New Jersey 2

Philadelphia at New Jersey, 1:35 p.m.

N.Y. Islanders at Calgary, (n)

Philadelphia 4, Montreal 1

Miami Hurricanes—Added Drew Sawtell, goalie tender, from Peoria of the International Hockey League.

American League

Washington 5 4

Pittsburgh 5 4

Green Bay 4 5

Eastern Conference

Stadiums

1. Notre Dame (55)

9. Florida St. 7-2-0

2. Michigan 6-3-0

8. Auburn

3. Miami, Fla. 7-0-0

23. Michigan St. 5-3-1

4. University of Michigan 4-3-2

15. Oregon St. 5-1-0

5. Wisconsin 5-3-1

26. Georgia Tech

6. Nebraska 4-2-1

8. Memphis State

7. Northwestern 3-3-2

13. Louisiana State

8. Ohio State 6-2-1

14. Duke

9. Stanford 6-2-1

15. Virginia Tech

10. UCLA 6-0-0

16. Indiana

11. Penn State 5-2-0

17. Minnesota

12. Ohio State

18. Florida St.

20. Louisville 9-1-1

22. Duke

21. Ohio St.

20. Louisville

24. Auburn

25. Southern Miss.

Tampa Bay 4

Chicago 4 4

Atlanta 4 4

San Francisco 9

NHL STANDINGS

WASHINGTON CAPITALS—Named Steve Cunningham men's basketball assistant.

HOCKEY
Detroit 3

Minnesota 3

Toronto 3

Phoenix 4

American Hockey League.

American Hockey League.

American Hockey League.

BASKETBALL
Detroit 3

Minnesota 3

Toronto 3

Phoenix 4

American Hockey League.

American Hockey League.

American Hockey League.
the league.”

Howard barely squeaked by Off-Campus in the first round of the playoffs, and then came back from an 8-0 halftime deficit to defeat Blue Division champion F.W. 12-8 in the semifinals.

“I think we showed a lot of spirit. Although we were down at halftime, we came together as a team and told each other we could do it,” said Hagerty.

The Howard offense started the season very conservatively, but as the weeks went by, it gradually opened up more as the team adjusted to the new blocking rules instituted this year. It is led by quarterback Brian Sulley, running back Becky Miller, and wide receiver Teresa Forst.

The defense will suffer if linebacker Kathy Keenan has to sit the game out with an injury. Howard will still shine on defense, however, with linebacker Kelly Kolodziej and cornerback Margaret Shaw leading the way.

Top-seeded B.P. has relied on a strong defense to guide it to a divisional championship. Led by linebackers Alicia McNell and Kate Mapother and safety Carrie Goles, the Blitz gave up just six points per game in the regular season.

“We have lots of unity on our team this year. When we get out there, we just won’t quit,” said Mapother. “The offense and the defense did a great job of supporting each other.”

This game could be similar to their regular season matchup early in the year. Howard led 14-0 with six minutes remaining when the Blitz exploded for two touchdowns to tie the score.

In overtime, Smith hit Lisa Petruson from the five to give B.P. the lead, and then played two periods to preserve the 20-14 victory.

Both teams are evenly matched. A difference in the game may be Alkidas. She has big-play capability, and can break open a game at any time. If she gets free, she could carry B.P. right to the championship.

Another key to the game could be PAF. Both teams have difficulty with conversions throughout the playoffs. Don’t be surprised if the margin of victory in this game is a missed PAT.

Ik will post teh score or if PAF wins pleaseseed me the score.
James Worthy busted in sting

Jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Mike Dunleavy said. "We all got Worthy, 29, was points in 39 minutes to lead Los against Houston but scored 24 and charged with solicitation of Worthy was arrested

James Worthy busted in sting

James Worthy was

Los Angeles Lakers' victory.

"Obviously I went for the win

"I never thought of not

Worthy, who was arrested

Worthy was held apart from

Mr. Worthy is not saying anything at all. However, he has deal with the females to Worthy was held at the

the Lakers' victory.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the consulted the place of prostitutes.

had a chance to dwell on it."

Turner said. "A solicitation by and a $1,000 fine.

Worthy, assigned to the vice division,"

"He made contact with two

HPD undercover females

Mr. Worthy was made to cut a deceives the marketing

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is

Los Angeles Lakers All-Star forward

Worthy was arrested at his hotel Thursday charged with solicitation of prostitution.

Worthy, who was arrested

from the Summit at the end of the first court and entered the game with 9:33 to go in the half.

.shaking hands with his teammates and receiving an ovation from the sellout crowd of 16,616 at the Summit.

"I'm not going to dwell on it,"

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the

game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the

game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the

game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the

game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"I've thought of not playing," Worthy said after the game. "The best place for me

playing," Worthy said after the

ovation from the sellout crowd

Worthy hit his first shot of the game with a 1-4 record.

Slow start, teammate Mychal

guy he is. I'm sure it'll be

and that's the way we feel has

another problem in the Lakers'

long time to get to the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.

"Mr. Worthy is not saying

that James

James Worthy is in jail at 7:10 p.m., 20 minutes

Worthy said Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy consulted the

behind him once he got to the

together and told him we were

Worthy was released.
Late score boosts Iowa, Irish next foe in the NIT

IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP) — Acie Earl scored down low with six seconds to play Thursday night to lead Iowa, the ninth-place team in the Big Ten last season, to a 73-71 victory over No. 19 Temple in the opening round of the Big Apple NIT.

Iowa will play at Notre Dame on Saturday night in the second round. Notre Dame beat Fordham 56-46 on Thursday night.

Temple had all five starters back from last year's 20-11 team, which played in the NCAA Tournament after winning the Atlantic 10.

Temple trailed 46-41 at halftime and didn't take the lead until Donald Hodge put the Owls up 69-68 with 2:51 to play.

Mark Macon gave Temple a 71-68 lead with 36 seconds to play, but Val Barnes' three-pointer from the top of the key made it 71-71 with 43 seconds left. Temple took a timeout but Iowa stole the ball with 19 seconds remaining.

Kevin Smith drove into the paint and dished it off to Earl, who finished with 18 points. Macon missed a long jumper as time expired.

Barnes finished with 15 points for the Hawkeyes, who were 12-16 last season.

Hodge and Vic Carstarphen each had 19 points to lead Temple. Hodge went 9-for-9 from the field.

NBA is sponsoring a three-part shooting contest, a one-on-one basketball tournament (games to 11, men's 6' and over; under 6'; women open) and a free-throw competition (best of 50) Sunday, Dec. 2 from 7-10 p.m. in the JACC arena. Sign up by 5 p.m. Nov. 28 in the NVA office.

The Notre Dame women's basketball team will be in action against Latvia tonight after the pep rally. Admission is free.

Thanksgiving
Campus-Wide Christian Prayer Service

Monday, November 19
7:30 pm
Sacred Heart Church

We ....
Baptist Student Union
Campus Bible Study
Campus Fellowship
Campus Ministry
Fellowship Christian Athletes
Graduate Student Union
Ichthus
Moreau Seminary
Voices of Faith

.... invite you to join in this celebration.

Share with others the gifts you have received. Please bring donations of food and money to be shared with the needy in the area.
In spite of her diving successes, Kipp's interest in gymnastics continued. Why did she choose Notre Dame, a school without a gymnastics program? "I was going to pick a school for academics, I didn't plan on diving in college," said Kipp.

After Kipp decided on Notre Dame and found there wasn't a gymnastics program, she called Head Swim Coach Tim Welsh. She didn't hear from Welsh again until the August newsletter, welcoming all freshmen swimmers and divers to Notre Dame.

Although Kipp hadn't been on a diving board since the previous fall, she decided to dive because it was a varsity sport and she felt she was as good as the other divers. She didn't tell Welsh the part about not diving for almost a year.

Kipp admits she already had peaked in gymnastics and enjoys diving because "diving is kind of like gymnastics and I can work at it... it's different and I still have room to improve."

Since Tracy Brennan became the diving coach last year Jenny has become "a lot more consistent on both boards, improving quicker on one-meter than three-meter because she's taken time off on three-meter."

Her improvement was slowed when she hit the board a month ago and sprained her fingers. The impact with the water is harder off three-meter is harder than off the one-meter board, but Kipp's fingers are healing and she's already back on three-meter.

Kipp has already reached her first-quarter goals: qualifying for Zones and breaking Andrea Brennan's one-meter record. Brennan is confident Jenny can also qualify for Zones on three-meter.

What makes Kipp a good diver? Brennan feels the key to her success is a good body awareness when she's in the air twisting or spinning. Gymnastics has certainly helped, and Kipp was able to make the adjustment to diving, although the hurdle on the diving board is a lot different than the hurdle in vaulting.

"Jenny's dives are fine, we just need to improve her boardwork, so she'll get higher and have more time to make cleaner entries," said Brennan.

Kipp was diver of the meet at last year's National Catholic Championships, winning the one-meter and placing second on three-meter. Her performance was especially impressive because she never had done three-meter until college. In two weeks she hopes to improve upon last year's performance and come out a double winner at National Catholics.

TOP 10 REASONS NOT TO GO TO THE BEAUX ARTS BALL "ORIGIN OF SPECIES"

1. Too much fun for one person to have on a Friday night.
2. Everyone knows Arkies do weird things at night but there must be something better to do with $5.00... anyone cares about the Generics
3. It won't look good on a resume.
4. Making up a good costume requires more energy than most Democrats like to exert.
5. It's risky and odd and you've almost made it through Notre Dame without really getting into trouble.

Announcing A Poetry Contest in honor of The Sesquicentennial Year

Open to alumni, current students and staff, and present and former faculty members

A prize of $500 dollars is offered for the chosen poem selected by the judges. The winner will be brought to the campus for SY celebration and a reading of the poem. The prize-winning poem will be selected from entries from the four aforementioned categories, with runners-up from each category possible.

The poem need not be directly concerned with Notre Dame, or the Sesquicentennial, though submissions which touch upon the themes of the Sesquicentennial (Belief, Inquiry, Community) will be looked at with special interest.

Previously published poems are not eligible. Send entries (no more than 3 poems) in triplicate, with no name on the poems themselves, but on a removable coversheet, by April 15th, 1991, to SY Poetry Contest in care of The Department of English, University of Notre Dame, IN, 46556.
Sixers' Bol seeks to end homeless in the capital of Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — Manute Bol of the Philadelphia 76ers told a hunger relief group Thursday that he feels torn every day because he is living well while his relatives and millions of others in the Sudan are starving.

Bol, a Dinka tribesman
from the Sudanese village of Turalei, appealed to Americans, if not to help,
then to at least make themselves aware of the suffering.

"I eat good food here in America and I go to sleep at night and then when I wake up in the morning and watch something on TV, I just feel really terrible," Bol told Oxfam America, the hunger relief group. "There's really terrible," Bol told America and I go to sleep at Oxford.

Bol, a Dinka tribesman
from the Sudanese village of Turalei, appealed to Americans, if not to help,
then to at least make themselves aware of the suffering.

"I eat good food here in America and I go to sleep at night and then when I wake up
in the morning and watch
something on TV, I just feel really terrible," Bol told Oxfam America, the hunger
relief group. "There's terrible," Bol told America and I go to sleep at Oxford.

Bol, a Dinka tribesman
from the Sudanese village of Turalei, appealed to Americans, if not to help,
then to at least make themselves aware of the suffering.

"I eat good food here in America and I go to sleep at night and then when I wake up
in the morning and watch
something on TV, I just feel really terrible," Bol told Oxfam America, the hunger
relief group. "There's terrible," Bol told America and I go to sleep at Oxford.

Bol, a Dinka tribesman
from the Sudanese village of Turalei, appealed to Americans, if not to help,
then to at least make themselves aware of the suffering.

"I eat good food here in America and I go to sleep at night and then when I wake up
in the morning and watch
something on TV, I just feel really terrible," Bol told Oxfam America, the hunger
relief group. "There's terrible," Bol told America and I go to sleep at Oxford.
Long practices pay off for St. Mary's star Danahy

By KILEY COBLE

sports writer

The Saint Mary's swim team's number-one breast stroker, Jennifer Danahy is looking forward to another successful season. She currently holds the Saint Mary's record for the 200 breast stroke with a time of 2:40.52 set at Nationals on March 10, 1990.

"It's so easy for me to practice this year because we have so many new breaststrokers this year and last year we didn't," said Danahy. "The team practices twice a day. They practice two hours in the morning at Saint Mary's for individualized attention and then again in the evening at Notre Dame for several hours. Tomorrow the team will travel to Little States at Indianapolis. Due to budgetary reasons and NCAA rules the whole team cannot go to the meet. Danahy said it will be hard for Coach Dennis Cooper to choose the 21 people who will travel with the team.

"A lot of the swimmers are freshmen with great potential who have been swimming in practice for the past six to eight weeks, but who haven't been seen swimming under pressure yet," said Danahy.

Last year at the Midwest Invitational Coach Cooper had to do a lot of compensating in arranging who would swim what event, since many of the swimmers were ill or had an injury. On the day of the meet, Danahy was scheduled to swim the 400 I.M. and she had never swum it before. It turned out that she was the last person to make the cuts at the preliminaries, and she swam again that night for the finals and dropped eleven seconds off her time.

"Because I had never swum that event before that day I dropped my time significantly. I was probably swimming under pressure because I had trained the whole meet," Danahy said.

Danahy has a feeling she will be swimming the 400 I.M. at tomorrow's meet. But she has earned the spot as the number-one 200 meter breaststroke on the team.

Danahy says the highest quality of competition the team will see this year will be at the National Catholic Invitational at Notre Dame on Nov. 29-Dec. 1. There will be many good Division I schools there from across the country.

Danahy is glad to be at a Division III school and to be able to have more opportunities to swim. A native of New York, many of her teammates from high school went on to receive scholarships at the schools that recruited them.

Yale, Harvard will square off in 107th annual matchup

BOSTON (AP) — A new tradition has developed in The Game — the home field disadvantage. In Saturday's 107th matchup between Ivy League rivals Harvard and Yale, it'll be the Bulldogs turn to try and beat the Crimson at Harvard Stadium. In the last seven games between the teams, the visitors have won five, including the last three.

"The good thing about being on the road is you're together Friday night and your meetings are a little more structured," Yale coach Carm Cozza said Thursday before his team left New Haven, Conn. "We've had very good games up there. There's no explanation why it happens."

Harvard coach Joe Restic offered one.

"There are so many things you have to contend with when you're at home," he said. "There are a number of distractions. There are always people around. It's tougher to focus. I always felt better on the road."

Harvard won The Game at New Haven last year 37-20. It took some of the gleam off Yale's Ivy League title.

"Every time I look at that championship ring I think of the Harvard loss," Bulldogs tailback Kevin Callahan said. "I'm not sure I can look at that ring with a clear conscience until we do the job this year."

The loss to Harvard forced Yale to share the title with Princeton. The Bulldogs would love to grab a piece of the championship this season.

With a 4-2 conference record, they are a game behind co-leaders Cornell and Dartmouth heading into the season finale. Yale can be part of a three-way tie for the title if it beats Harvard, Cornell loses to Penn and Dartmouth loses at Princeton.

But first Yale (5-4) must beat Harvard (5-4).

"This is the only game I'm focused on. This is the only game that I care about," Cozza said. "Twenty-five seniors will be leaving us, and I would like them to leave with a win."

Harvard is tied for fourth in the league with a 3-3 record.

"We're out of the league picture, but it's a big day for both teams," Restic said.

The game matches the league's highest scoring team with the second stingiest defense. Yale is averaging 27.8 points per game, while Harvard has allowed 283.8 yards.

"Every time I look at that championship ring I think of the Harvard loss," Bulldogs tailback Kevin Callahan said. "I'm not sure I can look at that ring with a clear conscience until we do the job this year."

The loss to Harvard forced Yale to share the title with Princeton. The Bulldogs would love to grab a piece of the championship this season.

With a 4-2 conference record, they are a game behind co-leaders Cornell and Dartmouth heading into the season finale. Yale can be part of a three-way tie for the title if it beats Harvard, Cornell loses to Penn and Dartmouth loses at Princeton.

But first Yale (5-4) must beat Harvard (5-4).

"This is the only game I'm focused on. This is the only game that I care about," Cozza said. "Twenty-five seniors will be leaving us, and I would like them to leave with a win."

Harvard is tied for fourth in the league with a 3-3 record.

"We're out of the league picture, but it's a big day for both teams," Restic said.

The game matches the league's highest scoring team with the second stingiest defense. Yale is averaging 27.8 points per game, while Harvard has allowed 283.8 yards.

Yale, second in league games with an average of 333.3 yards, has the more potent offense, but Harvard has a chance to do some damage with its passing game.

Although the Crimson are last in league games with an average of 64.2 passing yards, the 188.8 passing yards Yale has allowed is the most in Ivy action.

Friday, November 16, 1990

Schwinn Cycle and Fitness Baker's Bike Shop, Inc.

Sales • Service • Clothing
Exercisers • Accessories

Bikes Stored & Boxed. Student Discount
On Kryptonite Locks.

Closed Sunday & Monday

135 Dixie Way South
South Bend, IN 46637
(219)277-8866
Roseland

3835 Lincolnway East
Mishawaka, IN 46544
(219)258-4862

Help us in our efforts to show active and expressive solidarity to the poor and hungry of the South Bend community, in the midst of our own time of Thanksgiving for all of God's blessings.

Sunday, November 18, 1990
at all masses on campus.
Please be generous!
The Irish hockey team won the first game of its two-game series with UMass-Boston last night, 6-4. The two teams play again tonight.

By DAVE DIETEMAN
Sports Writer
The Notre Dame hockey team (2-5-1) survived a third-period rally by the visiting University of Massachusetts-Boston Beacons (3-1-1) last night, squeaking out a 6-4 win in front of several hundred fans at the JACC.

The Irish opened the scoring early, as Dan Marvin took a pass from Dan Sawyer in front of the Beacon net and dumped it into the goal only 1:39 into the game. Black had taken a pass from Sterling Black, who stole the puck from a Boston defender.

The Beacons quickly tied things up, however, as forward John Veneri beat Irish goalie Greg Louder at the 3:39 minute mark, with assists going to Jim Abban and Jim Geary.

Tim Litchard notched an unassisted goal, and Curtis Janicke took a double-assist from Dan Banksoske and Darren D’Amato for another score as the Irish jumped out to a 3-1 lead by the end of the first period.

Yet the lopsided score of the early going did not indicate the see-saw, erratic play on the ice. “We played just poorly enough to lose,” wryly commented Notre Dame head coach Ric Schafer, whose squad faces the Beacons again tonight. “But we did win, and that makes me glad. We needed this win. We have been working hard and we got the win we needed—this is what the doctor ordered.”

Despite the fact that the Irish garnered a much-needed victory, Schafer remains concerned, as Notre Dame must take the ice again tonight to face the same Beacon squad. “I’m still worried about us,” said Schafer. “I hope that the players are worried too. I think that we’re a better team than we showed—we’re supposed to be a better team than that—but this team could beat us if we don’t really play well.”

Given the Beacon performance in the final period, Schafer has good reason for concern. The UMass-Boston put together a three-goal assault, as they pulled within 6-4 of the Irish.

Notre Dame had apparently landed its knockout punch just 2:56 into the third period. Dan Marvin took an assist from Sterling Black and beat the beleaguered Boston goalie for a 6-4 Irish advantage.

Yet the Beacons rambled back with poise, as Steve Goslin scored twice and Jim Geary scored once, putting the game within reach. The Irish defense, however, rose to the occasion and held UMass-Boston scoreless during the final 1:47 to preserve the win.

Coach Schafer hypothesized about his team’s sporadic performance: “We are not approaching our best efforts at the same time,” said Schafer. “We are not all together yet. I am so worried about how we will become a better hockey team. I’m just so critical of our performance right now, however, that I can’t really pinpoint what we have to do.”

Despite his lack of satisfaction, Schafer was quick to point to a rosy future. “I definitely see better days on the horizon,” remarked Schafer. “We can play better than we have played. Right now, I am worried. This team will play us tough tomorrow, and I hope that we play good hockey.”

Notre Dame again faces UMass-Boston tonight at 7:30 p.m. at the JACC.
Irish wrestle at St. Louis, hope to keep momentum

By RICHARD MATHURIN
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame wrestling team will travel to St. Louis this weekend to compete in the St. Louis Open on Saturday, November 17. The Irish are coming off a victory at the Michigan State Invitational two weeks ago. The Irish had many strong performances including victories by junior Marcus Cogswell in the 142-lb. division, sophomore Jamie Boyd in the 142-lb. division, senior tri-captain Todd Layton in the 150-lb. class, and sophomore Steve King in the 190-lb. division.

Last year, the Irish placed strong in the St. Louis meet, receiving a victory in the 167-lb. from one of this year’s strong performances by sophomores Kyle Cadman and Mike Dominici. Senior Chris Jensen led the way for the starting spot.

The surprise of the season could come from sophomore Emil Stoehlken, who has shown great improvement in the 158-lb. class. At 177-lb. weight class, two freshmen will vie for the starting spot. J.J. McGrew and Bill Hunter both had distinguished high school careers and was impressive in the pre-season. The heavyweight division appears to have the most depth for the Irish with three strong candidates competing for spots. Junior Chuck Weaver appears to have the edge since he started last year, but he will be pushed by juniors Curt Engler and Tom Salvino.

ND volleyball goes for MCC title

By RENE FERRAN
Sports Writer

The Irish volleyball team travels to Cincinnati today to compete in the Midwesters Collegiate Conference Championships hosted by Xavier University. Notre Dame (8-23) will face the Loyola Ramblers (24-9) in the first round at 3:00 p.m. Friday.

Notre Dame received the fifth seed in the tournament after tying for third in the MCC this year because it lost to both Dayton and Loyola in the regular season. The Ramblers are the fourth seed. Loyola is led by sophomore setter Julie McShane, who leads the team in assists (1391), and sophomore middle blocker Theresse O’Neill, the team leader in kills (409). In their regular season match, Loyola defeated the Irish 15-6, 15-4, 11-15, 15-10 in Chicago on October 9, in the first of two matches that evening for the Irish.

Sophomore middle blocker Jessica Fleibekorn, who did not make the trip to Cincinnati due to an injury, believes the Irish are ready to atone for their earlier defeat at the hands of the Ramblers. “We played awful that night,” said Fleibekorn. “We did not play anywhere near our capabilities in the first match, although we picked it up in the second-half of the doubleheader. The team is looking good. We played well Tuesday night, and it should carry over.”

So far this year, Notre Dame has been guilty of lapses in key situations. For example, against Northwestern on Tuesday, the Irish lost two of three games on mistakes at game point. This topic has been stressed at Irish practices lately.

“We’ve been working in practice eliminating our errors during critical times of our matches,” said senior outside hitter Colleen Wagnor. “If we focus on the fundamentals, and play a relatively clean match against Loyola, we’ll be in good shape.”

---

Glee Club
75th Anniversary Reunion Concert

Featuring The 300-Voice Alumni Chorus
Tonight at 8:15 P.M.
Stepan Center
Tickets at the LaFortune Box Office or at the door
Admission $3.00, Students $2.00

---

---

---
Friday, November 16, 1990

The Observer

page 9

CAMPUS

Friday

8 and 10:30 p.m. Movie "Internal Affairs", Cushing Auditorium. Sponsored by the Student Union Board.

MENUS

Notre Dame
Stir-fried Cod
Broccoli Quiche
Beef Fajitas
Gyros

Saint Mary’s
Sausage Roma Hot Wrap
Tuna Noodle Casserole
Western Scrambled Eggs
Blueberry Pancakes

ACROSS
1 Tread the boards
2 Tidal food
3 Toga precider
4 Japanese measure
5 Nursery rhyme runtily
6 Kind of fluff
7 Street where Freddy prayers
8 Saturn’s largest moon
9 Manifest
10 We’d one much younger than oneself
11 Implore
12 "...Wants to Do It Like," 1985 song
13 Get kudos for a small role

ANSWER TO PREVIOUS PUZZLE

TRASK RUSPE LEFT BOARS WERE SAGE APART IN NOTDUG
BANIS EUKA LIF
CONE SELENN
ERAS NIEG NANN
FLATTED GODDING
SEALDO RED FENN
SHERMAN NAP
AAANG NAPRI
MOOLED ONID YNOL
DEID MAND HEAT

CROSSWORD

56 Grow toward evening
55 French nobilman
54 Sit in on a class
53 Litheness
52 "Well, declared"
51 Wall Street transaction
50 Cole Porter song
49 City south of Tehran
48 Paper.- Mache ?
47 Restaurant. Sponsored by the Student Union Board.
46 Rectified the Hungry
45 Attend without permission
44 Eucalyptus feeder
43 Ripe great profiteers
42 Viscous
41 Make certain
40 First president of Gaoon
39 Trollope’s "Balkasha"
38 Viscount’s superiors
37 Toe the line
36 Toe the line
35 Somme
34 Paris airport
33 Summer
32 Composers
31 Sono Bellagio
30 Julien’s delight
29 Not Do the Work.
28 Answer to previous puzzle
27 Make certain
26 "...Wants to Do It Like," 1985 song
25 Implore
24 We’d one much younger than oneself
23 Pitfall
22 Do the Work.
21 Director
20 Reap great profits
19 "Wish, Tired of it all."
18 Artists
17 Corner of the map
16 "...Man in Havana."
15 Slightly jogged
14 "Wish, Tired of it all."
13 Sunset
12 Director
11 Shape
10 Do Is Dance," 9 Do they put the poop in the deck, Hey?"
8 "Hold still, Omar. ...Now look up. Yep. You’ve got something in your eye, all right — could be sand."
7 We don’t have any.
6 We don’t have any.
5 "...Wants to Do It Like," 1985 song
4 "...Wants to Do It Like," 1985 song
3 "...Wants to Do It Like," 1985 song
2 "...Wants to Do It Like," 1985 song
1 "...Wants to Do It Like," 1985 song

CALVIN AND HOBBES

"Hold still, Omar. ...Now look up. Yep. You’ve got something in your eye, all right — could be sand."

GARY LARSON SPELUNKER

FRIDAY & SATURDAY

STUDENT UNION BOARD

RICHARD GERE ANDY GARCIA

INTERNAL AFFAIRS

Treating him...he’s a top.

Cushing Auditorium
8:00 & 10:30

$2

"Hold still, Omar. ...Now look up. Yep. You’ve got something in your eye, all right — could be sand."
Irish move into 2nd round of NIT

By CHRIS COONEY
Assistant Sports Editor

No one ever would have expected it to go the way it did. But Notre Dame still prevailed over Fordham, 56-46, on Thursday night to advance to the pre-season NIT’s second round.

Because of the inspired shooting of freshman Carl Cozen in the first half, and junior guard Elmer Bennett in the second half, the Irish will play Iowa this Saturday night at 9 p.m. in the JACC.

It was a night full of surprises, beginning and ending with the Rams’ ability to shut down Notre Dame superstar LaPhonso Ellis, who finished the game with just six points.

"Whenever (Ellis) got the ball, we collapsed on him," said Fordham coach Nick Macarchuk. "Three guys, four guys, our manager, we threw everyone in.

Macarchuk was exaggerating, but only a little. Ellis was constantly double-, triple- and even quadruple-teamed. The Rams forced the Irish to go to their outside shot, which, unfortunately for Notre Dame, decided not to fall for most of the first half. The Irish shot under 33 percent in the first stanza and only 41 percent for the game, causing Notre Dame head coach Digger Phelps to insert some of his freshmen into the lackluster offense.

Cozen answered the call almost immediately. Just over two minutes after he entered the game, the Chicago native sunk a three-pointer from the right corner. A play later, he sank another trey from the same spot, single-handedly turning a 14:10 deficit to a 16:14 lead that the Irish would keep for the rest of the game.

Phelps said he wasn’t surprised by the play of Cozen, who finished the game with 12 points, all from the perimeter.

What did surprise Phelps, however, was "that we went 9 for 26. We shoot the ball better than that," Phelps explained.

Elmer Bennett must have seen the stats at halftime and thought the same thing. After scoring just three points in the first half, which the Irish led 24-20, Bennett went on a scoring frenzy, landing three of five trifectas and bringing the Irish’s 16-point lead down to four.

"Bennett’s run in the second half broke our back," said Macarchuk.

While Ellis did not score a field goal until the second half, both coaches cited his defensive play as instrumental in shutting down the Fordham offense, which had some shooting problems itself. The Rams made 25 of 60 attempts and just 30 percent for the entire game.

The Irish, on the other hand, made 22 of 57 attempts and 80 percent for the entire game.

"We had some difficulty shooting the basketball tonight," said Macarchuk. "Whether it was from 21 feet or 30 feet, we shoot the ball better than that.

"I don’t think the Rams took us lightly. Bennett was definitely one of the more free-spirited fellows on the team," and Kearns agrees with his coach’s summation.

"I’d say I play the role of lightening up the team," said Kearns. "Freshman year that role was given to me immediately. A lot of guys on the team are accounting majors, so I didn’t fit into the mold. I definitely have a different personality than Mike or Ryan, but when it comes down to doing a job we can mesh together and get it done.

Kearns has proved that he can get the job done, consistently running as the third or fourth man throughout the season. Plane stated that despite Kearns’ sense of humor, "when it comes to running, he’s ready to go," and Kearns’ strong season and 15th place finish in last week’s NCAA district meet proves his coach’s opinion.

Another role-player for the Irish is Ryan Cahn. Plane described Cahn as a model of consistency and dedication; and explained that this type of constant dedication is the backbone of the Irish squad.

The bottom line for any cross-county team is that you see NCAA.

Cozen stars in his first ND game

Notre Dame freshman Carl Cozen stood in the Irish locker room and probably found it hard to believe that he would be the center of attention after playing in his first college game.

He had scored 12 points — all on three-pointers — moments before leading Notre Dame to a 56-46 victory over Fordham in the first round of the Dodge/NIT.

"My goal was to just get in the rotation," Cozen said.

Instead, Cozen gave the Irish a big spark late in the first half with a trio of three-pointers. He added another in the second half that helped them pull away in the second round against Iowa on Saturday night.

"Thank God for Carl Cozen," said Irish senior Kevin Ellery, who struggled with the field with 11 of 11 shooting. "He hit three big three-pointers.

Cozen entered his first game with 7:50 left in the first half when Notre Dame was struggling from the field and trailing 14-10. Fordham was double- and triple- teaming LaPhonso Ellis, and no one else could find the range from outside.

"At the beginning of the game, we were planning on going inside to LaPhonso," Cozen said. "It wasn’t there tonight. Coach Phelps told me my role was to shoot the threes and rebound."