University President Father Edward Malloy today issued an "Open Letter on Cultural Diversity" in which he addressed Notre Dame's past, present, and future commitment to cultural diversity. The 19-page document comes almost two weeks after a demonstration by Students United for Respect (SUFR) that called for open negotiation with Malloy on issues of cultural diversity.

On April 18, one day after SUFR's sit-in in the Registrar's office, Malloy issued a statement proposing a "substantive letter to the University community analyzing the University's present situation with respect to issues of cultural diversity," including an examination of where future action is necessary.

In the letter, Malloy thanked the students who "in recent months have held the University accountable for what they perceive to be a lack of progress with regard to cultural diversity." Although he admitted that dialogue has "sometimes been publicly contentious," he said that private discussion with students has shown him that "everyone has had a common set of goals for the University.

The letter documents the history of cultural diversity at ND, focusing on efforts supported since he assumed the Presidency four years ago. "I suggested then and reaffirm now that we must find a unique, Notre Dame way to realize this goal (to increase cultural diversity)," it said.

Malloy offered the 1988–89 "Year of Cultural Diversity" as evidence of one of the first efforts of his presidency to "raise the level of consciousness of all members of the Notre Dame community to the importance of minorities in American life and culture." He also cited increased enrollment for minority scholarships in 1988 and a major funding effort by the Board of Trustees in 1990 for scholarships.

The University has taken several steps to increase minority enrollment, according to Malloy's letter. The 1988 goal of reaching 15 percent minority representation by 1992 has been met in two of the last three freshmen classes, he said. In addition, the program has been increased to five in the Graduate School and to ten in the College of Arts and Letters, the administrative program position in the Graduate School has been created to concentrate on the recruitment of minority students.

Malloy's letter also addressed the notion of the Notre Dame faculty. He referred to a November, 1988 minority-faculty development program funded by a $1 million grant from the Coca-Cola Foundation.

The letter also pointed out that affirmative action goals were set in 1988 and 1990 for positions at various levels of the University work force.

Future action by the University to address cultural diversity is being planned in the program have been faculty exchange agreements with traditionally Black colleges and universities, such as Xavier University in New Orleans.

Fieldhouse Mall that focuses on the costs of the war, human and domestic; +15 p.m. Requiem Mass at Sacred Heart Church; +5 p.m. lecture and discussion on the "Consequences of the Gulf War," with the Reverend Patrick Gaffney and professor Alan Dourty at the Center for Social Concerns.

"There are various activities of both prayer and discussion scheduled for this day which will help all of us to put this event into fuller perspective," states Malloy in a Friday letter. "I encourage all of you to join me in praying for those who were killed or wounded during the war."
The many experiences of freshman year

College is an experience we work up in our minds. Jennifer Habrych believes she could have ever imagined the events of the past year. Sifting through the room you find yourself, some friends and I reflected on the unique surprises and experiences college life has brought—events that are truly fresh.

• Believing that your gruff tshirt was the key to a terrific life.
• Camping out for football tickets, we were told by upperclassmen, is the thing to do. We were stranded in a downpour of rain, and our seats were in the nosebleed section of the end zone.
• Attending our first football tailgater where a member of our group discovered "this isn't like high school!"
• Dogbook dates to SYRs and formals can be a "naive" freshman again, I would not trade the lemonade!"

Learning that fun at a party means standing in a small room where you cannot move and are surrounded by sweating bodies.

Discovering that at ND, parties don't gradually wind down, but come to a screeching halt at 2 AM.

• Double ringers, care packages, and mail. People will actually debate the issue of whether there are more than the timelapse you actually spend studying.
• Finding that procrastination is actually an art form.
• Discovering that study breaks usually last longer than the time you actually spend studying.
• Discovering time creating a unique answering machine message is another part of college life.
• Realizing that sometimes there is so little happening in the N/DSMC community, that people will actually debate the issue of whether to have a revolving Mary on top of the Dome or not.
• Discovering that our social life stagnates after the mandatory orientation for all summer hall staff.

College has been a truly unique adventure filled with vast new experiences, hardships, and excitement. We won't forget it.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of the Observer.

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING/April 26

VOLUME ON SHARIS 153.8 Million

NYSE INDEX 207.37 0.23
S&P COMPOSITE 1385.29 0.21
DOW JONES INDUSTRIALS 2912.38 0.86
PRECIOUS METALS GOLDF 174.00 to $175.00
SILVER 516.00 to 517.00
S.S. 689.00 to 690.00

WEATHER REPORT

Forecast for noon, Monday, April 29
Low chance of showers today
Cloudy Tuesday

TODAY AT A GLANCE

WORLD

Chancellor faces unrest

BERLIN, Germany—German Chancellor Helmut Kohl on Sunday faced growing signs of unrest among other leaders of his embattled Christian Democratic Union. Kohl has come under fire for breaking a campaign promise by raising taxes to finance unification. If foreign investors see his center-right coalition wavering, Kohl could have difficulty attracting foreign capital to the troubled eastern part of the country. A German newspaper reported that Kohl had called a "crisis meeting" for June to plot strategy, but the party rejected the paper's characterization of the gathering. Instead, the party confirmed that a "closed door" session will take place early in June.

Mobs kill 10 outside Johannesburg

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa—Armed mobs rampaged through Soweto black township following the funeral of a local official Sunday, killing ten people and causing widespread damage, police said. The death brought the total to at least 28 deaths during the weekend of violence, including 14 killed in the Johannesburg township of Alexandra, police said. Many in the armed crowd were red head-bands associated with the Zulu-dominated Inkatha tribe. Law and Order Minister Adrian Vlok later announced a ban on all traditional weapons.

OF INTEREST

• Seniors: A Channel Volunteer Program representative will be at the Center for Social Concerns on Monday and Tuesday, 1-5 p.m. to answer questions about volunteering next fall in the Pacific Northwest. Undergraduates interested in these programs in the future are also welcome.

• The mandatory orientation for all summer hall staff members is scheduled to begin at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, May 1, at Theodore's in the LaFortune Student Center.

• Yearbooks are available this week at LaFortune information desk from Monday through Thursday during the hours of 12 p.m. to 5 p.m.

• The last day of business for Irish Gardens is tomorrow (Tuesday), so come in for last minute flowers, balloons, and graduation cards.

• Summer Service Project opportunities are available in three cities for students with some knowledge of Spanish. SSP's are eight weeks of volunteer service sponsored by Notre Dame alumni clubs during the summer. The students will receive a $1400 tuition scholarship. If you are interested, come in to the Center for Social Concerns, or call Sue Cunningham at 239-5923 as soon as possible.

• Clubs and Organizations who have not signed up for Activities Night in the fall should pick up applications in Student Activities, 315 LaFortune Student Center, as soon as possible.

IN THIS ISSUE

• In 1913: Swedish-born engineer Gideon Sundback of Hoboken, N.J., patented the zipper.

• In 1945: American soldiers liberated the Nazi concentration camp in Dachau, Germany.

• In 1974: President Nixon announced he was releasing edited transcripts of some of the secretly-made White House tape recordings related to the Watergate scandal.

• In 1983: Harold Washington was sworn in as the first black mayor of Chicago.

• Five years ago: The Soviet Union appealed to the West for help in fighting a reactor fire at the Chernobyl nuclear power plant that had sent a radioactive cloud across northeastern Europe.
Trustee contributes $1 million toward University peace institute

Special to the Observer

A Notre Dame trustee has contributed more than $1 million to the University's Institute for International Peace Studies. The endowment is the gift of John Regan, Jr., retired chairman of the board of the insurance brokerage Marsh & McLennan Companies, Inc. and an ND trustee since 1975. "Through peace studies, we must endeavor to create a world in which just institutions minimize conflict and in which governments instinctively seek peaceful solutions to disputes," said University President Father Edward Malloy. "Notre Dame already is a leader in this young discipline, and Jack Regan's generous gift will help to further its development." Regan joined Marsh & McLennan in 1946 and was named president in 1972, chief executive officer in 1973 and chairman in 1976.

A Minneapolis native, he graduated from Yale University in 1943 and later studied in the advanced management program at Harvard Business School. He is a trustee-emeritus of New York Law School and the Laser-City Scholarship Fund, Inc.

John Altanasio will become the first Regan director of peace studies on July 1. Altanasio recently was appointed to succeed the retiring John Gilligan, the institute's founding director. The peace institute was established in 1985 and is housed in Notre Dame's new Hesburgh Center for International Studies.

Jacques Maritain Center and the Student Union Board Present:
A Lecture

"The Politics of Race and Sex on Campus"

by Dinesh D'Souza

Tuesday, April 30
7:30pm. Washington Hall

Club Column

April 29, 1991

Attention all clubs: Registration packets are past due. Penalties are currently being assessed against late clubs. All packets that have not been fully completed and turned into the Club Room must be immediately. Any club that does not return a completed packet by April 30, will lose recognition as an official university club.

Students for Environmental Action will meet Sunday, May 5, at 7 pm in the Center for Social Concerns. Contact Amy Jenista, 283-1343, for more information.

This is the final Club Column for this year. The Club Coordination Council would like to thank all of the clubs that have used this service throughout the year for helping make it a success. We also want to encourage all clubs to take advantage of it next year.

Correction

In Friday's Observer, Catherine Watson was incorrectly identified as lecturing on the ordination of women and as summarizing the collective opinions of other panelists in a Thursday panel discussion. The Observer regrets the errors.

Delay Reality

Guatemala $496
London $509
Caracas $524
Tokyo $609
Sydney $1125

Roundtrip from Chicago. Restrictions apply. Taxes not included.

Council Travel

1153 N. Dearborn St.
Chicago, IL 60610
312-931-0583
Cocaine bust
A U.S. Customs officer unloads kilos of cocaine after cutting into the fiberglass deck of an 18-foot pleasure boat, removing more than 1,000 pounds of smuggled cocaine in Miami Thursday. The cocaine has an estimated street value of $20 million dollars.

Brother Moran made honorary alumnus

Special to The Observer

Brother Conan Moran, former manager of the Hammes Bookstore, has been made an honorary alumnus by the University's Alumni Association. Moran, who retired two years ago, received word of his new status in a surprise announcement during a banquet on April 27, which closed the association's annual senate and board meetings.

Moran, known to generations of Notre Dame students as "Brother Bookstore," was born in Cavan, Ireland and attended primary and secondary schools in Clonsarr and Leitrim. He emigrated to the United States in 1928 and lived in St. Louis before entering Sacred Heart College in Watertown, Wis., as a Holy Cross postulant in February 1937. He took his final vows as a Holy Cross brother in 1941.

In 1939, while still under temporary vows, Moran was assigned to work at the bookstore, which shared space in Badin Hall with a barber shop and dry-cleaning service until the present facility opened in 1955. He is a former trustee of the National Association of College Stores and a former member of the University's Licensing Committee.

Also on Saturday, the Alumni Association presented its James Armstrong Award to Roger Valdiserri, associate director of athletics, and its William Reynolds Award to Sr. Jean Lenz, assistant vice president for student affairs. Valdiserri, a 1954 Notre Dame graduate, was honored for exemplary service to the University. Sr. Lenz, who received her master's degree in theology from Notre Dame in 1967, was honored for exemplary service to young people.

Save a tree. Please recycle this paper.
Stanford professor provokes debate by flaunting drug use

Stanford, Calif. (AP) — Stanford University lecturer Stuart Reges has flaunted his drug use — especially for firefighters killed during the Chernobyl nuclear accident. Also pictured are uniformed Soviet firefighters.

A Soviet woman lays a flower on a newly opened cemetery Friday in remembrance of Chernobyl firefighters killed during the Chernobyl nuclear accident. Today marks the fifth anniversary of the Chernobyl disaster. Today marks the fifth anniversary of the Chernobyl nuclear accident.

"I wanted to make Martinez mad; I guess I wanted him to go after me," said Reges. And he got his wish when Martinez wrote school administrators this month, pressuring them to get rid of Reges or lose federal funds.

An investigation is under way into the popular senior lecturer in computer science, a boyish 32-year-old non-tenured faculty member. The dean of engineerings...

Astronauts to study 'Star Wars'

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The space shuttle Discovery thundered into orbit with seven astronauts Sunday, but its complicated "Star Wars" research mission quickly encountered trouble.

The five scientific instruments and the recorders are mounted in the cargo bay. The instruments are supposed to study natural phenomena, such as the atmosphere and aurora, that could mask a ballistic missile's path.

Dittmore said experiments by three of the five instruments would be in jeopardy if the recorders don't work. He said that could mask a ballistic missile's path.

The crew unsuccessfully tried to activate two tape recorders for collecting data from one of the Pentagons primary payloads, a collection of five scientific instruments. Mission Control responded to the efforts with these disappointing words: "No joy." Both of them have experienced some sort of anomaly, and we're looking at that closely right now," NASA flight director Ron Dittemore said 10 1/2 hours into the flight.

"It's premature to see where we're headed."

The five scientific instruments and the recorders are mounted in the cargo bay. The instruments are supposed to study natural phenomena, such as the atmosphere and aurora, that could mask a ballistic missile's path.

Dittmore said experiments by three of the five instruments would be in jeopardy if the recorders don't work. He said that could mask a ballistic missile's path.
STUDENT WORLD PREMIERES

Original projects from Notre Dame Communication & Theatre Film and Video Production Students

MIDNIGHT SHOW

ANNOUNCING:

ND German Summer Language Institute

June 18 - August 2, 1991

The NOTRE DAME GERMAN SUMMER LANGUAGE INSTITUTE offers an intensive summer program of courses and cultural enrichment. Earn up to 9 language credits at $122 per credit hour (1) in small, lively classes taught with imagination. Both professors (Williams & Wimmer) are experienced in offering concentrated, yet personalized instruction.

LEARN THE LANGUAGE OF THE 90ies

German Feature Films/Soaps/Videos

Daily Tutorial

Tuition Savings

Personal Attention/Meals w/Profs

Imaginative Instruction

Lively Classroom Atmosphere

Two experienced Professors

Classes Offered (three credits each):

GE 101 Beginning German I: June 18 - July 1

Intermediate German I: July 10 - August 2

GE 102 Beginning German II: July 2 - July 16

Continuation of GE 101

GE 103 Beginning German III: July 17 - August 1

Continuation of GE 102

GE 125 Intermediate German I: June 18 - July 9

A course for students with some background in German. Grammar review, reading, comprehension, writing and speaking.

GE 126 Intermediate German II: July 10 - August 1

Continuation of GE 125

Thanks and best wishes to the Class of 1991

From all of us across the field at Parisi's Ristorante Italiano

1412 South Bend Ave. Reservations Accepted

232-4244

---

ND series continues on PBS

Special to The Observer

Notre Dame's television series on intellectual and social issues, "Life Choices: Challenges for Our Times" begins its fourth season on PBS stations in May and on nationwide cable systems in June.

Four programs on the interplay between science and religion lead off the new season and feature three Notre Dame professors: the Rev. Michael Buckley, a theologian; physicist James Cushing, and the Rev. Erna McAllin, a philosopher of science. It will also feature Adolf Grunbaum, chairman of the Center for the Philosophy of Science at the University of Pittsburgh.

Other persons appearing on the programs include Cornelius

Delaney, Notre Dame professor of philosophy; Phillip Sloan, chairman of the Notre Dame Program of Liberal Studies; and two English scholars, mathematician Roger Penrose of Oxford University and the Rev. John Polkinghorne, president of Queen's College, Cambridge University.

Four programs called "Religions of the Book" treating the views of Jews, Muslims and Christians on such issues as war and peace and holy places and pilgrimage will follow the series on "Science and Religion."

Notre Dame began its PBS and cable telecasting in the fall of 1989 and is believed to be the only university producing programming on a regular basis for both PBS and cable network.

In the volatile politics of that region.

According to conference organizers, business elites helped undermine many of Latin America's democratic regimes during the 1960s and 1970s.

The elite were among the only groups benefiting from the military regimes that replaced the democracies. They have occasionally been active participants in the restoration of Latin American democracies, conference organizers said.

The conference is open to the public. Further information may be obtained from Erika Valenzuela, academic coordinator of the Kellogg Institute, at 239-6580.

---

Threatens to jump

John Ricardi sits on a window ledge at the federal building Thursday threatening to jump after a story appeared on "America's Most Wanted." Ricardi was arrested on charges of murdering his girlfriend and another woman.

---

Institute to host talks on Latin America

A conference titled "Business Elites and Democracy in Latin America" will begin May 4 at 9 a.m. in the Notre Dame Hesburgh Center for International Studies.

The conference, sponsored by the University's Kellogg Institute for International Studies, will bring together economists, political scientists, and other scholars to discuss the role played by Latin America's least-studied social groups in the military regimes that replaced America's democratic regimes during the 1960s and 1970s.

The elite were among the only groups benefiting from the military regimes that replaced the democracies. They have occasionally been active participants in the restoration of Latin American democracies, conference organizers said.

In addition to presentations by several scholars in residence at the Kellogg Institute, the conference will include papers by Mexican, Brazilian, Argentinian, and Peruvian scholars. Conference organizers intend to collect and edit these papers for future publication.

---

John M., How many candles are on your cake? HAPPY BIRTHDAY! Love, Mom, Dad, Greg & Anne

---

UNCENSORED

---

STUDENT WORLD PREMIERES

Original projects from Notre Dame Communication & Theatre Film and Video Production Students

MIDNIGHT SHOW

ANNOUNCING:

ND German Summer Language Institute

June 18 - August 2, 1991

The NOTRE DAME GERMAN SUMMER LANGUAGE INSTITUTE offers an intensive summer program of courses and cultural enrichment. Earn up to 9 language credits at $122 per credit hour (1) in small, lively classes taught with imagination. Both professors (Williams & Wimmer) are experienced in offering concentrated, yet personalized instruction.

LEARN THE LANGUAGE OF THE 90ies

German Feature Films/Soaps/Videos

Daily Tutorial

Tuition Savings

Personal Attention/Meals w/Profs

Imaginative Instruction

Lively Classroom Atmosphere

Two experienced Professors

Classes Offered (three credits each):

GE 101 Beginning German I: June 18 - July 1

Intermediate German I: July 10 - August 2

GE 102 Beginning German II: July 2 - July 16

Continuation of GE 101

GE 103 Beginning German III: July 17 - August 1

Continuation of GE 102

GE 125 Intermediate German I: June 18 - July 9

A course for students with some background in German. Grammar review, reading, comprehension, writing and speaking.

GE 126 Intermediate German II: July 10 - August 1

Continuation of GE 125

Thanks and best wishes to the Class of 1991

From all of us across the field at Parisi's Ristorante Italiano

1412 South Bend Ave. Reservations Accepted

232-4244

---

ND series continues on PBS

Special to The Observer

Notre Dame's television series on intellectual and social issues, "Life Choices: Challenges for Our Times" begins its fourth season on PBS stations in May and on nationwide cable systems in June.

Four programs on the interplay between science and religion lead off the new season and feature three Notre Dame professors: the Rev. Michael Buckley, a theologian; physicist James Cushing, and the Rev. Erna McAllin, a philosopher of science. It will also feature Adolf Grunbaum, chairman of the Center for the Philosophy of Science at the University of Pittsburgh.

Other persons appearing on the programs include Cornelius

Delaney, Notre Dame professor of philosophy; Phillip Sloan, chairman of the Notre Dame Program of Liberal Studies; and two English scholars, mathematician Roger Penrose of Oxford University and the Rev. John Polkinghorne, president of Queen's College, Cambridge University.

Four programs called "Religions of the Book" treating the views of Jews, Muslims and Christians on such issues as war and peace and holy places and pilgrimage will follow the series on "Science and Religion."

Notre Dame began its PBS and cable telecasting in the fall of 1989 and is believed to be the only university producing programming on a regular basis for both PBS and cable network.

In the volatile politics of that region.

According to conference organizers, business elites helped undermine many of Latin America's democratic regimes during the 1960s and 1970s.

The elite were among the only groups benefiting from the military regimes that replaced the democracies. They have occasionally been active participants in the restoration of Latin American democracies, conference organizers said.

In addition to presentations by several scholars in residence at the Kellogg Institute, the conference will include papers by Mexican, Brazilian, Argentinian, and Peruvian scholars. Conference organizers intend to collect and edit these papers for future publication.

The conference is open to the public. Further information may be obtained from Erika Valenzuela, academic coordinator of the Kellogg Institute, at 239-6580.

---

John M., How many candles are on your cake? HAPPY BIRTHDAY! Love, Mom, Dad, Greg & Anne

---

UNCENSORED

---

STUDENT WORLD PREMIERES

Original projects from Notre Dame Communication & Theatre Film and Video Production Students

MIDNIGHT SHOW

ANNOUNCING:

ND German Summer Language Institute

June 18 - August 2, 1991

The NOTRE DAME GERMAN SUMMER LANGUAGE INSTITUTE offers an intensive summer program of courses and cultural enrichment. Earn up to 9 language credits at $122 per credit hour (1) in small, lively classes taught with imagination. Both professors (Williams & Wimmer) are experienced in offering concentrated, yet personalized instruction.

LEARN THE LANGUAGE OF THE 90ies

German Feature Films/Soaps/Videos

Daily Tutorial

Tuition Savings

Personal Attention/Meals w/Profs

Imaginative Instruction

Lively Classroom Atmosphere

Two experienced Professors

Classes Offered (three credits each):

GE 101 Beginning German I: June 18 - July 1

Intermediate German I: July 10 - August 2

GE 102 Beginning German II: July 2 - July 16

Continuation of GE 101

GE 103 Beginning German III: July 17 - August 1

Continuation of GE 102

GE 125 Intermediate German I: June 18 - July 9

A course for students with some background in German. Grammar review, reading, comprehension, writing and speaking.

GE 126 Intermediate German II: July 10 - August 1

Continuation of GE 125

Thanks and best wishes to the Class of 1991

From all of us across the field at Parisi's Ristorante Italiano

1412 South Bend Ave. Reservations Accepted

232-4244
Iraqi troops remain

Armed Iraqi police stand in one of the entrances to the Zhako market Thursday. Allied commanders have said Kurdish refugees in camps fear to return to the Iraqi border town due to the presence of the police.

ND Folk Choir releases ‘A Companion to Prayer’

A cassette recording of the Notre Dame Folk Choir and the Monastic Schola of Gethsemani Abbey, titled “A Companion to Prayer,” has been published by Ave Maria Press.

According to Steven Warner, director of the Folk Choir, the recording was made over the last three years as members of the Folk Choir made a series of retreats at Gethsemani Abbey in Trappist, Kentucky.

During these visits, the Folk Choir joined the common prayer of the monks, taking part in the Abbey’s Masses and celebrations of the Liturgy of the Hours. Many of the pieces regularly used at the Abbey were later adapted for use at Notre Dame by the Folk Choir.

The recording includes hymns, spirituals, contemporary songs, chants and psalm settings. Much of the music in the collection results from Warner’s collaboration with the Rev. Chrysogonus Waddell, director of music for Gethsemani Abbey, and Ellen Doerrfeld, graduate assistant for the Notre Dame Ensemble. The 78-minute recording also incorporates several excerpts from the poetry and essays of Thomas Merton, who was a monk at Gethsemani Abbey.

American Express Announces A Great New Travel Program.

Now students can get the Card and get 3 roundtrips on Continental Airlines, for only $129 or $189 each.

There’s only one way to cover a lot of territory without spending a lot of money. And that’s by getting the American Express Card. It’s the only card that offers an exciting new travel program exclusively for students—including three roundtrip certificates on Continental Airlines.

Just look at the map and pick the place you’d like to visit. If it’s on your side of the Mississippi River, you can use a certificate to fly for only $129 roundtrip. Or, you can cross the Mississippi for $189 roundtrip.

You have your pick of more than 350 cities in the 48 contiguous states. And you can fly almost anytime—because there are no blackout dates. But you must make your reservations within 14 days of the day you leave. And the maximum stay is 7 days/6 nights and must include a Saturday night.

In addition to this great travel program, you’ll also enjoy all the benefits of Cardmembership as well as other exclusive student privileges. They include a quarterly magazine filled with informative articles on summer jobs, careers, campus life. Plus valuable discounts from leading retailers.

But remember, there’s only one way to get all this—and that’s by getting the American Express Card. Just call us (have your bank address and account number on hand). What’s more, with our special student offer, it’s easier to get the Card now while you’re still in school than it may ever be again.

So get the Card. And get ready to cover new territory on either side of our Great Continental Divide.

CALL 1-800-942-AMEX

If you’re already a Cardmember, there’s no need to call. Information about your certificates will be arriving soon.

Complete terms and conditions of this offer will come with your certificates. Continental Airlines is responsible for fulfillment of the offer. American Express reserves the right to modify or cancel this offer without notice. © 1991 American Express Travel Related Services Company, Inc.
ZAKHO, Iraq (AP) — In a change of plans, allied forces have more than doubled the size of their security zone for Kurdish refugees in northern Iraq and are scowling a site for a second settlement, U.S. officers said Sunday.

Meanwhile, in southern Iraq, the U.S. Army began an airlift to Saudi Arabia of refugees who fear reprisals from Iraqi security forces if they remain. That was seen as a major step toward the U.S. troops' own departure.

Many Iraqis were displaced by the Shiite Muslim revolt in the south and the Kurdish uprising in the north, which broke out after the Persian Gulf War. The insurrections failed to dislodge Saddam, who marked his 54th birthday on Sunday.

But renewed clashes were reported between Shitites and Iraqi forces near the southern city of Basra.

The fighting caused heavy casualties among government forces and at least two personnel carriers were set ablaze, Iranian radio reported. The broadcast, monitored in London, also claimed rebels attacked government intelligence posts in the southern cities of Al-Amarah and Karbala, killing some Iraqi troops.

The report could not be independently verified.

In northern Iraq, the initial allied-protected security zone was to have encompassed a 630-square-mile area that stretched 18 miles south and 35 miles east of Zakho. Allied troops were also planning to complete one camp before starting another.

Now, the new zone is envisioned to be about 1,350 square miles and troops will start a second camp before finishing the first.

Army officers said the change of plans came after they realized that not all the Kurds were willing to come to the camp at Zakho, where about 1,000 tents have been set up for refugees.

In addition, the officers said they hoped that expanding the size of the zone would encourage Kurds to come down from the mountains, where many of them live in appalling conditions but are too afraid of Iraqi retribution to leave.

In the easternmost allied push so far, a company of British Royal Marines moved into the Iraqi town of Batula, about 18 miles east of Zakho, on Saturday night.

When the British troops arrived, a battalion of Iraqi Republican Guard left, officers said.

Soon, U.S. Marines from the 24th Marine Expeditionary Unit will enter Amdahlah, about 75 miles east of Zakho, where a second camp is planned, said U.S. Army Lt. Col. Jim Christophersen, of the 432nd Civil Affairs Company of Green Bay, Wis.

"This will effectively double the size of the security zone," said Christophersen, whose men will manage both camps until the United Nations and humanitarian agencies can take over.

Privatey, some officers expressed concern that the expansion, by increasing allied military involvement in Iraq, could raise the possibility of coalition forces being drawn into a quagmire in Iraq.

Allies enlarge security zone

DAY OF MOURNING FOR VICTIMS OF THE GULF WAR

MONDAY APRIL 29, 1991

4:30PM DEMONSTRATION

War Memorial

5:15PM REQUIEM MASS

Sacred Heart Church

8:00PM LECTURE:

CONSEQUENCES OF THE WAR

Center for Social Concerns Multi-purpose Room

Professor Alan Dowty

Department of Government International studies

Father Patrick Gaffney, C.S.C.

Department of Archeology Middle East Specialist

To Help Express Our Mourning We Suggest That Students and Faculty Wear Black

Sponsored by THE GULF CRISIS ACTION GROUP
Bush asks allies to cut interest rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush personally appealed on Sunday for foreign allies to cut interest rates to help lift the United States out of a recession.

But his appeal did not win any immediate measure of support from the two countries it was primarily aimed at — Germany and Japan. Financial officials from those nations said inflationary pressures limited their ability to cut rates.

Bush made his pitch for global rate cuts at an unusual White House lobbying session with finance ministers and central bank presidents of the world’s seven largest industrial countries.

After the brief meeting with Bush, the finance leaders moved across the street for six hours of discussion and then late Sunday issued a joint statement that essentially repeated over policy differences that existed between the United States and Japan and Germany.

The communiqué was filled with vague promises — but no specific commitments.

The statement said the seven nations had agreed “to monitor the situation closely and to take actions as needed ... with a view to achieving a sound recovery and a growing world economy.” Those actions were not spelled out.

Sinking a hopeful note, the finance officials said there were “signs of perspective economic recovery and lower inflation in those countries which are in recession.”

In a bow to U.S. concerns, the statement said “the persistence of high real interest rates and the slowing of economic activity in those countries which until recently had been experiencing strong expansion.”

Brown used the media’s coverage of a Toyota story last week to support his argument.

An announcement by Toyota that Japanese Toyota dealers would start to distribute Volkswagen and Audi automobiles in Japan.

The first day stories dealt with the need to improve Japan’s balance of trade and what it would mean if Toyota Motor Company started selling Volkswagens from Europe, Brown said.

When you look at the details, you find it is not quite what you expect, he said. Dealers will have to set up a separate facility to see Volkswagens and Audis. They would then have to buy Japanese land at astronomical prices to set up a facility to assemble vehicles.

"Not too many of them will leap at that," he said.

"The story is out there because Toyota is a very nervous that the Japanese car company as we get closer and closer to 1992, is still going to take a very healthy share of the Japanese market," said Brown.

Brown said the story is out there without any quotes or attribution. He noted the very disciplined reporting and the reporting and the reporters are used to negotiate, to advance positions, most frequently a pre-Japanese nationalistic position, he said. "And often the most important ingredient is trying to make it difficult for something to happen somewhere in the world that the system in Japan would prefer not to happen."
Irish-American student P.I.S.S.E.D. about ‘Fighting Irish’ stereotypes

Dear Editor:

A big cheer is due for SUFR. They have chosen a name that portrays the racism and oppression that is the Notre Dame experience. I also say this as a member of an ethnic group. I am an Irish-American, the son of two humble immigrants who made their way to this country guided by that false beacon of hope and opportunity that is the Statue of Liberty.

Regrettably, I must admit that I am a white male, but I hope this will not be held against me because my people, too, have been oppressed. I am speaking of the myriad of wrongs that my people has suffered for centuries at the hands of those evil, Western European, English, imperialist pig-dogs. My blood is just as thin as everyone else's. Nothing of value could ever come out of a country like England, absolutely nothing. This is, however, another story.

My purpose in writing this letter is to bring to the attention of the student body that it is not only students of color who are victims of racism and stereotypes. I am referring, of course, to the term “Fighting Irish” which is so proudly emblazoned all across this campus. I cannot describe the pain I feel every day I see it. You see, I have never been in a fight, nor has my father.

Yet, every time someone learns I am Irish, they immediately take a step back into a defensive fighting position. Furthermore, there is the terrible stereotype which is portrayed on all those “Partyin’ Irish” t-shirts. Believe it or not, I am writing this in a sober state. In fact, I didn’t even have a beer on St. Patrick’s day.

Due to these grievances I have formed a student group to lobby (i.e. force) the university to change its racist ways. Our group is called P.I.S.S.E.D. (Peaceful Irish Students Seeking Educational Diversity). We demand the institution of a mandatory Irish studies program. This program should consist of Irish history classes, Irish music and dance classes, and Gaelic language classes. This program will help students understand the Irish experience and to learn of the many great contributions which the Irish have given to the world.

We all know, of course, that it was St. Brendan who discovered America, not that evil oppressor Columbus. The above history courses will focus on the English oppression of the Irish and how they suffer prejudice of Irish stereotypes in America. In keeping with this objective, we demand that the Leprechaun and the slogan “the Fighting Irish” be abolished immediately. Not only does the “Fighting Irish” perpetuate a hateful stereotype, but it also excludes all the other ethnic groups on campus. Perhaps the Notre Dame “People” would be a good replacement.

Finally, we would like to express our support of SUFR’s demand for a multi-cultural center (which we argue and demand must be no less than a $35 million state of the art complex).

We demand that this building be built by companies owned by Irish people, and, of course, we demand that any plans for such a center be approved by P.I.S.S.E.D.

P.I.S.S.E.D. demands that it be taken seriously. If Father Malloy does not agree to meet with us within two hours we will be forced to demand a press conference and make our grievances known to the world. We are sick and tired of the oppressive and racist nature of the University of Notre Dame, a place where every day is filled with misery. We demand the support of the student body to help us bring about these changes.

James A. Hannon
Planner Hall
April 24, 1991

Old College deserves recognition

Dear Editor:

In 1842, Father Sorin and several Holy Cross brothers arrived in the Northern Indiana wilderness to determine a building site to serve the academic and spiritual needs of this area. In 1843, they built the first building out of mud and clay from the twin lakes. This building still stands on the shore of Saint Mary’s lake right beside the log chapel. It is now called the Old College.

The Old College has served in many capacities in its 150 year history. Currently, it houses the Holy Cross formation program for undergraduates. While it is understandable that many students do not know about the Old College, it is simply inexcusable that the 1991 yearbook staff forgot (or omitted) the “Cradle of the University” from the pages of the “Dome.” To add insult to injury, the “Dome” included two-page spreads on Moresque Seminary, Off-Campus and Holy Cross Hall, a dorm that, at least physically, doesn’t exist anymore. As Notre Dame gears up to celebrate its Sesquicentennial, we wonder if anyone will take the time to notice the original “L’Universite de Notre Dame du lac” and the students who live there.

Mike McGarry
Matt Mathews
Kevin Heffernan
Anton Epplch
April 23, 1991

QUOTE OF THE DAY

'The butterfly counts not months but moments, and has time enough.'

Rabindranath Tagore

QUOTES, P.O. Box Q, ND, IN 46556
Dear Editor:

Professor Rice of the Notre Dame Law School has, in his "discussion of the issues" in his Viewpoint (April 17) demonstrated to the astonishment of many his "objective wrongness." I believe the term "objective" is misleading. The word "objective," in my mind, means "without a personal bias or prejudice." The Professor's perspective is subjective and one based on his own personal views. He may honestly hold his beliefs, but he has been asked to consider the viewpoints of others, and he has failed to do so.

2. "Homosexual activity...is the main factor in the onset of AIDS," says Rice. He needs to go back to high school biology class on this one. The simple, first step to "what's the main factor in the onset of AIDS" is HIV. The AIDS virus is called HIV. It's called HIV.

As it is, my daughter and I may seem to be omnipresent in the lounges on campus. The reason for this is that, unlike students who don't have children or aren't involved with their babies on campus, it is difficult for me to move from one place to another. In the lounge I must be aware of the dangers of HIV, the AIDS virus. This virus is called HIV. It is called HIV.

My daughter and I are getting to the point where we are both on campus. Being on campus on a regular basis allows me to take advantage of various daytime university activities of which I might not even be aware if I were at home outside of class time. Perhaps if we had a family drop-in center or a low cost childcare co-op on campus in which parents could participate, I could spend less time in LaFortune.

As is, it, my daughter and I may seem to be omnipresent in the lounges on campus. The reason for this is that, unlike students who don't have children or aren't involved with their babies on campus, it is difficult for me to move from one place to another. In the lounge I must be aware of the dangers of HIV, the AIDS virus. This virus is called HIV. It is called HIV.

My daughter and I are getting to the point where we are both on campus. Being on campus on a regular basis allows me to take advantage of various daytime university activities of which I might not even be aware if I were at home outside of class time. Perhaps if we had a family drop-in center or a low cost childcare co-op on campus in which parents could participate, I could spend less time in LaFortune.

As is, it, my daughter and I may seem to be omnipresent in the lounges on campus. The reason for this is that, unlike students who don't have children or aren't involved with their babies on campus, it is difficult for me to move from one place to another. In the lounge I must be aware of the dangers of HIV, the AIDS virus. This virus is called HIV. It is called HIV.

My daughter and I are getting to the point where we are both on campus. Being on campus on a regular basis allows me to take advantage of various daytime university activities of which I might not even be aware if I were at home outside of class time. Perhaps if we had a family drop-in center or a low cost childcare co-op on campus in which parents could participate, I could spend less time in LaFortune.

As is, it, my daughter and I may seem to be omnipresent in the lounges on campus. The reason for this is that, unlike students who don't have children or aren't involved with their babies on campus, it is difficult for me to move from one place to another. In the lounge I must be aware of the dangers of HIV, the AIDS virus. This virus is called HIV. It is called HIV.

My daughter and I are getting to the point where we are both on campus. Being on campus on a regular basis allows me to take advantage of various daytime university activities of which I might not even be aware if I were at home outside of class time. Perhaps if we had a family drop-in center or a low cost childcare co-op on campus in which parents could participate, I could spend less time in LaFortune.

As is, it, my daughter and I may seem to be omnipresent in the lounges on campus. The reason for this is that, unlike students who don't have children or aren't involved with their babies on campus, it is difficult for me to move from one place to another. In the lounge I must be aware of the dangers of HIV, the AIDS virus. This virus is called HIV. It is called HIV.

My daughter and I are getting to the point where we are both on campus. Being on campus on a regular basis allows me to take advantage of various daytime university activities of which I might not even be aware if I were at home outside of class time. Perhaps if we had a family drop-in center or a low cost childcare co-op on campus in which parents could participate, I could spend less time in LaFortune.

As is, it, my daughter and I may seem to be omnipresent in the lounges on campus. The reason for this is that, unlike students who don't have children or aren't involved with their babies on campus, it is difficult for me to move from one place to another. In the lounge I must be aware of the dangers of HIV, the AIDS virus. This virus is called HIV. It is called HIV.

My daughter and I are getting to the point where we are both on campus. Being on campus on a regular basis allows me to take advantage of various daytime university activities of which I might not even be aware if I were at home outside of class time. Perhaps if we had a family drop-in center or a low cost childcare co-op on campus in which parents could participate, I could spend less time in LaFortune.

As is, it, my daughter and I may seem to be omnipresent in the lounges on campus. The reason for this is that, unlike students who don't have children or aren't involved with their babies on campus, it is difficult for me to move from one place to another. In the lounge I must be aware of the dangers of HIV, the AIDS virus. This virus is called HIV. It is called HIV.

My daughter and I are getting to the point where we are both on campus. Being on campus on a regular basis allows me to take advantage of various daytime university activities of which I might not even be aware if I were at home outside of class time. Perhaps if we had a family drop-in center or a low cost childcare co-op on campus in which parents could participate, I could spend less time in LaFortune.
Dear Editor:

We are approaching a sad anniversary in the history of Ireland. Ten years ago, on May 5, a young man named Bobby Sands died of starvation in a British prison in Northern Ireland. He had been on hunger strike for 66 days, the first of ten to start and the first of ten to die. It seems appropriate to address the hunger strikes and the current status of Northern Ireland ten years later.

Until the mid-70s, the British government had recognized a state of war with the IRA. At that time, however, they decided to "criminalize" the status of the IRA prisoners. The prisoners saw this as a further attempt to trivialize their cause and opposed it. Eventually, tensions escalated to hunger strikes in 1980. They seemed to be the only available tactic to get the British government to address their demands. The strikes were ended by a decision to release the prisoners left empty-handed. This led to the 1981 hunger strike, at which Bobby Sands was a part of. After the British allowed ten men to be released to the prisoner's demands except one, all prisoners went on strike.

Many times I have talked to Irish-Americans whose first pronouncement on the subject of Northern Ireland is how they disapprove of the IRA. What about the UVF, UDR, or U.U.R. (all of which were continued union with Britain)? Don't know of them? Well, the BritishFarbists have certainly been effective in that regard. Due to the efforts of Britain, only the IRA is seen as a "terrorist" organization and Britain has used this to stifle international political pressures.

The Reagan and Bush Administrations have gone right along. Of course, Ireland was never a member of OPEC or the now defunct Warsaw Pact, so our government has seen fit to generally do nothing. Often it has compromised itself as in the legal case of Joe Doherty. Mr. Doherty is from Northern Ireland and has been detained for the last 6 years in an American jail without violating any U.S. law. He has been detained unconstitutionally strictly by the wishes of the British government which also demands his extradition.

The British government has been acting to manipulate our government and our press as the Irish government is not actually governing Northern Ireland. Eight centuries of power have seen the continued undevelopment of Ireland by Britain. Two major acts of genocide due to Britain have occurred in the last 350 years of this tiny nation. Cromwell and the Families. Of course, many might say that's all in the past— the British are now basically just High and chronic unemployment especially among mostly Catholic Nationalists, ongoing violence, political oppression and high emigration speak otherwise. The recent release of the innocent Birmingham Six after 16 years in jail, and last year's release of the Guildford Four after 12 years has further humiliated the British government.

I sincerely hope Hodgins will listen to the said plaque on an earlier date. sands died of starvation in a British prison in Northern Ireland, while waiting patiently in line to receive ours, we saw many smiles of anticipation turn to frowns of disappointment. When handed our yearbooks, we followed suit. The tacky, "Intensely Irish" cover is not of the class and caliber of other years past.

This is our senior yearbook and its place on our bookshelf is dedicated to the memory of this young man. Although the inside is very well done, we cannot compliment the cover. There is a time to be trendy and a time to stick to tradition. When it comes to something that is to be kept for years it should not be a hard decision. Notre Dame is a school of tradition and high standards so let's not forget this in every aspect. Hopefully, next year's seniors won't be embarrassed to show anyone their senior annals.

Kristine Gregory
Susan Espinosa
Walsh Hall
April 23, 1991

Refusal to recognize mothers as appalling

Dear Editor:

Recently, on one of my lakeside promenades, I paused to admire the plaque commemorating Earth Day. I had notices for tomorrow.

I would like to suggest that the University of Notre Dame do something similar to the plaque free from its cement base.

How ironic that such a testament of the Earth's natural beauty, a commemoration bearing witness to our hopes for the planet's future, was maliciously stolen from the foot of this dedicated tree. I cannot find it within myself to forgive the person(s) responsible for his appalling degradation of our campus.

To think that a ND student, presumably a semi-intelligent and moral being, would reduce himself to such a pathetic level serves to reinforce my opinion that some individuals still cannot maintain an apathetic view about the present destruction that our world is experiencing at this very moment. This attitude must be changed if our future is to have any hope for tomorrow.

I would like to suggest that the University of Notre Dame show its commitment to its students and the future by mastering the small sum needed to replace the plaque.

Sean Arthurs
Elie Baker
Micheal Flood
Mike Rood
Flanner Hall
April 24, 1991

Refusal to recognize mothers as appalling

Dear Editor:

The Faculty Senate's response to Professor Douglas Kmetz and his colleagues was appalling. Their decision not to recognize mothers who choose to raise families is a glaring example of our university's paternalism. For a handful of people in responsible positions to such women is a cause for concern.

I hope that, in the future, my classmates, including our own alumni, have chosen to use their education to nurture and train their children. This is our senior yearbook and its place on our bookshelf is dedicated to the memory of this young man. Although the inside is very well done, we cannot compliment the cover. There is a time to be trendy and a time to stick to tradition. When it comes to something that is to be kept for years it should not be a hard decision. Notre Dame is a school of tradition and high standards so let's not forget this in every aspect. Hopefully, next year's seniors won't be embarrassed to show anyone their senior annals.

Kristine Gregory
Susan Espinosa
Walsh Hall
April 23, 1991

Statuette mistake

Dear Editor:

What I often wonder is, why is Anne Hodgins may be surprised to find that in "the rest of the world" joining, some women don't look at men as power-mad patriarchs, racist fascists, or oppressors. Nor do they think of their (note possessive) husbands as solely "the men with whom they have had sexual intercourse.

Hodgins gives lip service to the view that "of course women who choose to stay home are happy." Women who have done exactly what she describes, including women who are women today who are faced with contempt from people like Hodgins.

I find insulting Hodgins's statement that the women who choose to stay home and care for their families have not made a choice in any meaningful sense. I was one of many women who have done exactly what she describes, including women who are...”

Dear Editor:

Seniors are disappointed with yearbook cover

Dear Editor:

TO THE EDITOR

Monday, April 29, 1991

We are approaching a sad anniversary in the history of Ireland. Ten years ago, on May 5, a young man named Bobby Sands died of starvation in a British prison in Northern Ireland. He had been on hunger strike for 66 days, the first of ten to start and the first of ten to die. It seems appropriate to address the hunger strikes and the current status of Northern Ireland ten years later.

Until the mid-70s, the British government had recognized a state of war with the IRA. At that time, however, they decided to "criminalize" the status of the IRA prisoners. The prisoners saw this as a further attempt to trivialize their cause and opposed it. Eventually, tensions escalated to hunger strikes in 1980. They seemed to be the only available tactic to get the British government to address their demands. The strikes were ended by a decision to release the prisoners left empty-handed. This led to the 1981 hunger strike, at which Bobby Sands was a part of. After the British allowed ten men to be released to the prisoner's demands except one, all prisoners went on strike.

Many times I have talked to Irish-Americans whose first pronouncement on the subject of Northern Ireland is how they disapprove of the IRA. What about the UVF, UDR, or U.U.R. (all of which were continued union with Britain)? Don't know of them? Well, the BritishFarbists have certainly been effective in that regard. Due to the efforts of Britain, only the IRA is seen as a "terrorist" organization and Britain has used this to stifle international political pressures.

The Reagan and Bush Administrations have gone right along. Of course, Ireland was never a member of OPEC or the now defunct Warsaw Pact, so our government has seen fit to generally do nothing. Often it has compromised itself as in the legal case of Joe Doherty. Mr. Doherty is from Northern Ireland and has been detained for the last 6 years in an American jail without violating any U.S. law. He has been detained unconstitutionally strictly by the wishes of the British government which also demands his extradition.

The British government has been acting to manipulate our government and our press as the Irish government is not actually governing Northern Ireland. Eight centuries of power have seen the continued undevelopment of Ireland by Britain. Two major acts of genocide due to Britain have occurred in the last 350 years of this tiny nation. Cromwell and the Families. Of course, many might say that's all in the past— the British are now basically just High and chronic unemployment especially among mostly Catholic Nationalists, ongoing violence, political oppression and high emigration speak otherwise. The recent release of the innocent Birmingham Six after 16 years in jail, and last year's release of the Guildford Four after 12 years has further humiliated the British government.

I sincerely hope Hodgins will listen to the said plaque on an earlier date. Sands died of starvation in a British prison in Northern Ireland, while waiting patiently in line to receive ours, we saw many smiles of anticipation turn to frowns of disappointment. When handed our yearbooks, we followed suit. The tacky, "Intensely Irish" cover is not of the class and caliber of other years past.

This is our senior yearbook and its place on our bookshelf is dedicated to the memory of this young man. Although the inside is very well done, we cannot compliment the cover. There is a time to be trendy and a time to stick to tradition. When it comes to something that is to be kept for years it should not be a hard decision. Notre Dame is a school of tradition and high standards so let's not forget this in every aspect. Hopefully, next year's seniors won't be embarrassed to show anyone their senior annals.

Kristine Gregory
Susan Espinosa
Walsh Hall
April 23, 1991

Refusal to recognize mothers as appalling

Dear Editor:

The Faculty Senate's response to Professor Douglas Kmetz and his colleagues was appalling. Their decision not to recognize mothers who choose to raise families is a glaring example of our university's paternalism. For a handful of people in responsible positions to such women is a cause for concern.

I hope that, in the future, my classmates, including our own alumni, have chosen to use their education to nurture and train their children. This is our senior yearbook and its place on our bookshelf is dedicated to the memory of this young man. Although the inside is very well done, we cannot compliment the cover. There is a time to be trendy and a time to stick to tradition. When it comes to something that is to be kept for years it should not be a hard decision. Notre Dame is a school of tradition and high standards so let's not forget this in every aspect. Hopefully, next year's seniors won't be embarrassed to show anyone their senior annals.

Kristine Gregory
Susan Espinosa
Walsh Hall
April 23, 1991
festival shows creative filmmaking

BY MEREDITH MCCULLOUGH
Accent Writer

Lights! Camera! Action! Notre Dame film students are on the lookout with cameras, imaginations, and talent, students from Basic Film and Production classes. Advanced Film and Production classes have spent the past year creating a myriad of short films projects which will be shown tonight at the Student World Festival.

The "Student World Premiers" will cover a wide range of subjects, according to Ted Mandell, Assistant Professional Specialist in the Communication and Theater department.

"It will be like flipping through cable stations for an hour and a half," he said. With settings, comedies, commercial parodies, and documentaries, "I don't think anything will be boring."

The purpose behind this film festival is two-fold: to raise money for a local charity and to present their work to a large audience.

Having an even like the festival is an easy way to generate money," Mandell added. All money proceeds from the $2 admission charge will be donated to El Campito Day Care Center, a "low-profile charity that not too many people know about."

Not only will the program benefit the children at the center, but it will be advantageous for Notre Dame -"we're well.

"It is important to have a show like this," Mandell said. He explained that anyone who makes a film, they "create a piece of work to be shown to an audience."

When film students watch their own work, they examine it with knowledge of both the artistic and technical aspects of the film industry, he explained.

He continued, it is imperative for the film maker to present his or her work to an audience outside of the field "or they don't know how to improve their work to an audience for the film maker to present his work."

As an endearing artist is able to withstand the test of time. The band perform era with the same enthusiasm that most certainly was present when they were the first name in 1965.

Many years later The Guess Who, famous for such timeless classics as "American Woman" and "These Eyes," is one of the pieces being shown titled "Cookies Book Life." The assignment merely asked for a segment presenting a chase scene, but Fletcher exercised creativity to create a film in which frames of a comic book come to life around its artist. Although he said the film was a challenge, using difficult effects that take time to perfect, Fletcher called the whole experience "really enjoyable."

Other films that will be featured include work focusing:

- Herman The Dead Mackerel, a promotional commercial for a joke situation comedy.
- Doug Church, a true-to-life local trucker.
- John in the Box, a preview for a longer film that will be completed in the fall.
- Saint Mary's Maid.
- The Miss Colomia Beauty Pageant.
- Alan in the Stripper.

This is not the first time that the department has sponsored such a film festival. "We've had them in the past," said Mandell, "but never this big."

In February a similar competition was held to "see what kind of interest we would generate," he said. With little to no advertising, 70 people showed up to see two and a half hours of material.

According to Mandell, most of the projects were completed on campus and will use students as actors and actresses. He describes the program as "90 minutes, 180 minutes."

"I'd like to see 600 people see these quality films and videos that not many people on campus know about," he said. Chris Walsh, another student from Basics of Film and Production said, "People will be surprised that the students who produced these films are not film stars."

"The content and quality is far superior than what most people will expect, he continued.

According to Mandell, most of the projects were completed on campus and will use students as actors and actresses. He describes the program as "90 minutes, 180 minutes."

There will be two screenings tonight at 7 and 9 p.m. at the Student World Festival. Admission is $2.

ND student Nate Fitzgerald edits films for the "Student World Premiers."
Modern dancers exhibit artistic style

By ANNA MARIE TABOR
Saint Mary's Accent Editor

Modern dance is an ambitious artform that can be interpreted in multiple ways. This was evident at the Spring Forward—Fall Back concert on Friday night at Moreau Little Theater.

One thing that seemed to be common among audience members was the level of excitement and anticipation during each performance. The concert was characterized by variety in style, music, costumes, and mood. Dances were choreographed by both students and Sue Cherry, a visiting Assistant Professor of Dance at Saint Mary's.

"Friendly Competition" was an appropriately titled tap dance duet in which Maria Brennan and Danielle Duchatellier attempted to out-tap each other. The competition was so fierce that at one point there was a fight scene. The lively dance was a battle to the end until one of them offered her hand while the other responded by sticking out her tongue.

With strategically glowing sections of costume and props, the most unusual pictures were created. In "Widdle," invisible dancers used long ribbons to form triangles, a spoked wheel, and a smiley face.

form triangles, a spoked wheel, and a smiley face.

Dancers created an atmosphere that was choreographed by both the audience and the performers. The competition was characterized by variety in style, music, costumes, and mood. Dances were choreographed by both students and Sue Cherry, a visiting Assistant Professor of Dance at Saint Mary's.

Spring Forward—Fall Back was an entertaining showcase of artistic talent that spanned all dances and songs. The program expressed the liberties that modern dance can take. It showed the ingenuity of incorporating radically different movements and using little more than bodies to convey a message.

Everything about "Round the Way Girls" was very current from the song "Hee" by GUY to the most popular video dance move. Two dancers in red and white shorts were suddenly joined by men and women in slick street clothes. The audience was very responsive to the familiar styles that graced the stage.

"Dance cappella." Dancers performed a variety of dance techniques that were visually and audibly rhythmic by knocking sticks and chanting. The mannerisms were taken directly from the movie and woven into an attention-grabbing conversation.

The idea of producing a compact disc started to become a reality when Cyril Oake, owner of Acora Studios, heard about the idea and gave Walter a call, offering a "really favorable rate," in Walter's words. Shortly after that, around Junior Parent's Weekend, Flaherty and Walter ran a half page ad in the Observer asking for tapes from musical acts.

Almost 30 acts submitted tapes, and 19 became part of the band. The music chosen for the disc is a "No tre Dame sampler," according to Walter, Brian McGahn, and just enough punk (one song). The CDs are also available at the WVFI office on the second floor of LaFortune after 2 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and after 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"Bite Slippers," a very impressive and polished set of performers who, like Chisel, are known for their musical talent.

Among the best of the bands on the CD are Fresh Water for the Horses, "Little Lover," Bone Forest, "Stagnant for the Night," Chronic Desire, "Strange Addiction," Jester, "Love Lay Down," Chisel, "Swamp Fox / Spike," and The Five O' Clock Shadows, "(Bee Slippers)," a very impressive and polished set of performers who, like Chisel, are known far beyond the borders of South Bend.

"Bee Slippers" was on sale on December 7 of last year at the famous Fredonia State Music festival, where The Five O' Clock Shadows got a chance to make themselves known to some of the industry's agents.

The CD costs eight dollars, and all proceeds go to United Way for the Emergency Shelter for Adolescents through the Youth Services Center.

"We had originally planned to sell the bulk of the CDs during Hogstock, but because it was cancelled, we might not be able to sell all of them before the end of the year," said Walter. The CDs are available at the WVFI office on the second floor of LaFortune after 2 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, and after 4 p.m. on Tuesdays and Thursdays.

"I was able to sell out all this week, at 4 p.m. on Fieldhouse Mall, while some of the bands featured on the CD play. XYZ Affair is playing today, and The Five O' Clock Shadows on Tuesday, if the weather permits.

Walter summed up the experience, "Initially we were doing this project because it was fun, and it grew really, really big. It ended up being a lot of work, but it will be my most memorable experience here, I'm sure. It was an absolute blast to do."
Father Malloy issues an open letter on multicultural University of Notre Dame

The Observer, April 29, 1991

I am pleased to add my voice, as one of you as members of the Notre Dame community about a matter of great concern to all of us. I speak of what is sometimes called "cultural diversity." In the almost 149 years of its existence Notre Dame has gone through many profound changes. It began as the equivalent of an elementary school and high school and grew into a major university. It originally was staffed largely by priests, brothers and sisters of the Congregation of Holy Cross, and now has an expanded faculty, staff and administration composed of a healthy mix of lay people and religious. In all, the institution is composed of six Holy Cross priests and 140 lay members. Second, in 1971-72 the Board of Trustees approved the admission of women undergraduate students, making Notre Dame fully coeducational.

Amidst all these changes Notre Dame has remained faithful to its fundamental mission to be a Catholic university and to serve both society and the Church. Now we are at a juncture where not only the challenge of change and reform, but the commitment to do the right thing for the proper reason, are crucial to the University.

Dr. Badi Foster of the Aetna Institute for Corporate Education and the dean of the College of Arts and Letters, Dr. Ignacio Lozano, and John Kaney, have written an open letter to the student body. The letter is an open letter to the students of Notre Dame regarding the University’s commitment to the improvement of minority representation on our campus, and I encourage you to read the letter and reflect on its contents.

I believe that the University has a responsibility to create an environment where all students, regardless of their background, feel welcomed and supported. This requires a commitment to diversity and inclusion, and I am committed to working towards this goal. I want to assure you that the University is committed to providing an educational environment that is welcoming to all students, regardless of their race, ethnicity, religion, or background. We are working to create an environment where all students feel valued and respected, and we are committed to making sure that all students have access to the resources they need to succeed.

Dr. Foster's letter emphasizes the need for diversity and inclusion on our campus, and I encourage you to read it and reflect on its contents. I also encourage you to take action in your own lives to create a more inclusive environment. This may mean engaging in conversations with others, attending events that promote diversity, or volunteering your time to support initiatives that work towards a more inclusive future.

I believe that the University of Notre Dame is a place where all students can thrive, and I am committed to working towards creating an environment where all students feel welcome and supported. I encourage you to join me in this commitment and to work together to create a more inclusive and welcoming community.

Father Malloy's letter continues on page 16

These pages are paid for by the University of Notre Dame.
In the program for their sophomore years, versus a proposal for their junior year, 38 percent of African-American, 45 percent of Hispanic, 45 percent of non-Hispanic majorities, and 50 percent of Asian-Americans. We can see that the "minorities" emphasized in this program are the majority group, or a minority, concern about such matters takes for granted that there is something about race or ethnicity that defines one's identity and that affects one's interactions, for better or worse, with members of other groups.

A given problem of minority status is the heightened possibility of prejudicial or discriminatory treatment. Racism is inherently offensive to individuals. Unlike other community of scholars or among those professing these values, student-athletes can take many forms, some more subtle than others. Notre Dame as an institution is not immune from such experiences with human sinfulness and failure. We as individual members of the Notre Dame community can acknowledge our faults in this regard and seek to effect that most difficult of human initiatives, a change in the deepest reaches of our minds and hearts.

Let me be specific about the things that concern me on this campus at the present time.

First, we must dispel once and for all the notion that ethnic minority students are here because they are the second is that student-athletes who happen to be ethnic minority students often go on to graduate school and earn Ph.D. programs. Thus, we can continue to cultivate its Catholic identity and to develop our identity with being student-athletes often are ignored. As a community we need to reflect on these problems and as individuals we need to consider how we ourselves may be at fault.

Fourth, the lack of a critical mass of ethnic minority students in certain areas of University life places an additional burden on minority faculty, staff or administrators to serve on committees, task forces and other representative groups. The University, I feel, is obligated to constitute these important bodies and consult with those that we can imagine. We need to take into consideration some policy questions that have a particularly devastating effect on our minority population. There are still further areas to be addressed. I want personally to thank the task force on issues pertinent to faculty, students or parents of this difference in experiences that the Report of the Task Force on Ethnic Minority Students and Faculty recommends about how to proceed. Notre Dame is identified as the Catholic identity and to develop its Catholic constituency. But we also must be more successful in our past efforts to offer minority students and faculty a well-established and concrete recommendations for future action. The co-chairs of the task force, and alternatively, to justly participate in the work of the University widely pertains to how the task force is designed to focus on the areas of greater difficulty. The task force will have University-wide purview, but it will work officially in September and October. We must work to be of high priority. It is particularly appropriate to report to me by January 15, 1990. The interim and final reports will be made available to the University community.

The invariable minority in this type of rough analysis. The very term "minority" is a relative one since it presupposes some common standard by which such judgments are made. Is one "minority" is the relative size of the national population, relative to the makeup of other institutions of higher education in this country, or relative to the University sampled? A further complication is the fact that different individuals describe themselves differently. African-American and American-Asian are used interchangeably by some with Hispanic origins, People of Color. The same term "minority" appears on Hispanic/Latino, Native American/Indian, Asian-American, African-American, and so on. The observer belongs to a majority or a minority, concern about such matters takes for granted that there is something about race or ethnicity that defines one's identity and that affects one's interactions, for better or worse, with members of other groups.

A given problem of minority status is the heightened possibility of prejudicial or discriminatory treatment. Racism is inherently offensive to individuals. Unlike other community of scholars or among those professing these values, student-athletes can take many forms, some more subtle than others. Notre Dame as an institution is not immune from such experiences with human sinfulness and failure. We as individual members of the Notre Dame community can acknowledge our faults in this regard and seek to effect that most difficult of human initiatives, a change in the deepest reaches of our minds and hearts.

Let me be specific about the things that concern me on this campus at the present time.

First, we must dispel once and for all the notion that ethnic minority students are here because they are the second is that student-athletes who happen to be ethnic minority students often go on to graduate school and earn Ph.D. programs. Thus, we can continue to cultivate its Catholic identity and to develop its Catholic constituency. But we also must be more successful in our past efforts to offer minority students and faculty a well-established and concrete recommendations for future action. The co-chairs of the task force, and alternatively, to justly participate in the work of the University widely pertains to how the task force is designed to focus on the areas of greater difficulty. The task force will have University-wide purview, but it will work officially in September and October. We must work to be of high priority. It is particularly appropriate to report to me by January 15, 1990. The interim and final reports will be made available to the University community.

The invariable minority in this type of rough analysis. The very term "minority" is a relative one since it presupposes some common standard by which such judgments are made. Is one "minority" is the relative size of the national population, relative to the makeup of other institutions of higher education in this country, or relative to the University sampled? A further complication is the fact that different individuals describe themselves differently. African-American and American-Asian are used interchangeably by some with Hispanic origins, People of Color. The same term "minority" appears on Hispanic/Latino, Native American/Indian, Asian-American, African-American, and so on. The observer belongs to a majority or a minority, concern about such matters takes for granted that there is something about race or ethnicity that defines one's identity and that affects one's interactions, for better or worse, with members of other groups.

A given problem of minority status is the heightened possibility of prejudicial or discriminatory treatment. Racism is inherently offensive to individuals. Unlike other community of scholars or among those professing these values, student-athletes can take many forms, some more subtle than others. Notre Dame as an institution is not immune from such experiences with human sinfulness and failure. We as individual members of the Notre Dame community can acknowledge our faults in this regard and seek to effect that most difficult of human initiatives, a change in the deepest reaches of our minds and hearts.

Let me be specific about the things that concern me on this campus at the present time.

First, we must dispel once and for all the notion that ethnic minority students are here because they are the second is that student-athletes who happen to be ethnic minority students often go on to graduate school and earn Ph.D. programs. Thus, we can continue to cultivate its Catholic identity and to develop its Catholic constituency. But we also must be more successful in our past efforts to offer minority students and faculty a well-established and concrete recommendations for future action. The co-chairs of the task force, and alternatively, to justly participate in the work of the University widely pertains to how the task force is designed to focus on the areas of greater difficulty. The task force will have University-wide purview, but it will work officially in September and October. We must work to be of high priority. It is particularly appropriate to report to me by January 15, 1990. The interim and final reports will be made available to the University community.

The invariable minority in this type of rough analysis. The very term "minority" is a relative one since it presupposes some common standard by which such judgments are made. Is one "minority" is the relative size of the national population, relative to the makeup of other institutions of higher education in this country, or relative to the University sampled? A further complication is the fact that different individuals describe themselves differently. African-American and American-Asian are used interchangeably by some with Hispanic origins, People of Color. The same term "minority" appears on Hispanic/Latino, Native American/Indian, Asian-American, African-American, and so on. The observer belongs to a majority or a minority, concern about such matters takes for granted that there is something about race or ethnicity that defines one's identity and that affects one's interactions, for better or worse, with members of other groups.

A given problem of minority status is the heightened possibility of prejudicial or discriminatory treatment. Racism is inherently offensive to individuals. Unlike other community of scholars or among those professing these values, student-athletes can take many forms, some more subtle than others. Notre Dame as an institution is not immune from such experiences with human sinfulness and failure. We as individual members of the Notre Dame community can acknowledge our faults in this regard and seek to effect that most difficult of human initiatives, a change in the deepest reaches of our minds and hearts.

Let me be specific about the things that concern me on this campus at the present time.

First, we must dispel once and for all the notion that ethnic minority students are here because they are the second is that student-athletes who happen to be ethnic minority students often go on to graduate school and earn Ph.D. programs. Thus, we can continue to cultivate its Catholic identity and to develop its Catholic constituency. But we also must be more successful in our past efforts to offer minority students and faculty a well-established and concrete recommendations for future action. The co-chairs of the task force, and alternatively, to justly participate in the work of the University widely pertains to how the task force is designed to focus on the areas of greater difficulty. The task force will have University-wide purview, but it will work officially in September and October. We must work to be of high priority. It is particularly appropriate to report to me by January 15, 1990. The interim and final reports will be made available to the University community.
North Stars, OiIers to meet in conference finals

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Chris Dahlquist's first-ever season clubs. Minnesota, which finished 16th in the standings, qualified for the playoffs after having its franchise-. The North Stars are in their third period Sunday night, lift- the Minnesota North Stars into the Stanley Cup semifinals, a first-time for the since 1984 with victory over the St. Blues.

Bobby Smith added two goals for his fourth career game victory made them the first team since the 1980 New York Islanders with playoff vic-

Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 17

SPORTS BRIEFS

■ Sports Briefs are accepted, in writing, at The Observer office on the third floor of LaFortune during business hours. All must be in before 5:00 to guarantee next day printing.

■ SMC Sailing awards dinner will be held Tuesday, April 30, from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at Lisa Fox's. For more information please contact Lisa Fox at 283-5229.

■ Students and staff interested in having a climbing wall on campus should come to a meeting on Thursday 7:00 pm on Wednesday, May 1, at the Non-Varsity Athletics Office. Anyone with questions about the climbing wall should contact Ann Kline at 287-5410.

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Craig MacTavish scored with 3:03 left in overtime Sunday night to give the Edmonton Oilers a 4-3 victory over the Los Angeles Kings in Game 5, and send the defending Stanley Cup champi-

-ends after referee Kerry Fraser disallowed an apparent goal by Anaheim's Petr Klima after the Los Angeles net and passed to MacTavish, who whipped the puck past Kelly Hrudey at 16:57 of the period, taking a 2-0 lead in the series.

The Observer accepts classifieds every day that have run from 11 a.m. (except The Times) to 3:30 p.m. at the Times Office, 224 LaFortune Center. Deadline for next day's paper is 3 p.m. All classified must be prepaid. The charge is $2.50 per inch and is payable in cash. For more information, please call 280-6363 or 287-5410.

Chris Dahlquist's first-ever season clubs.

McAuliffe acquired from Pennsylvania.

Smith, acquired in an off-season from Montreal in 1992 fourth-round draft choice, scored his third goal this season.

in Philadelphia on Dec. 11, beat blue lines veteran Rick Tocchet to the puck.

After losing the lead straight from the very first.

in overtime to the New York Islanders with playoff vic-

the St. Louis Blues.

for their first time since 1984 with victory over the St.

2-0 lead in the series.

for the season.

The Observer is accepting classifieds every day that have run from 11 a.m. (except The Times) to 3:30 p.m. at the Times Office, 224 LaFortune Center. Deadline for next day's paper is 3 p.m. All classified must be prepaid. The charge is $2.50 per inch and is payable in cash.
All—Bookstore Team

Bookstore MVP—

1st team—

2nd team—

3rd team—

SPORTS SHORTS

Brooks wins in sudden death

GREENSBORO, N.C. — Mark Brooks had 10 birdies and two bogeys to charge to the front of the pack at the Greater Greensboro Open on Sunday, but he needed a nearly routine par before he could enjoy winning Brooks beat Gene Sauers on the third hole of sudden death to take the $225,000 first-place money.

Kessler found after two-day search by the Coast Guard. Kessler’s fiancee, Rhea Harrelson, notified friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two Haulover Marina. The Coast Guard launched an aerial search that eventually covered 28,000 square miles of Atlantic Ocean after

Women’s Final:

Men’s Final:

Aerospace Engineering and Engineering Mechanics University of Cincinnati

Attention Engineering Interns!

A Summer Research Program, sponsored by the National Science Foundation, is open to juniors in engineering and related sciences. Stipends for participation in individual projects. Students will be made closely with faculty and contribute to ongoing research in Experimental Fluid Mechanics, Computational Fluid Mechanics, Structural Mechanics, Guidance and Control, Propulsion Systems, and Biomechanics.

Application Applicants must: be American citizens or permanent residents; have at least a 3.0 average; be at or near the end of their junior year; and have a valid passport. Applications will be made to qualified applicants on a first-come basis. Call today for application materials.

1-800-488-6756 or clip this card and send to:

Department of Aerospace Engineering and Engineering Mechanics University of Cincinnati Cincinnati, OH 45221-0070

Name:

School/Maj.

GPA:

Summer Research Experience for Undergraduates

Aerospace Engineering and Engineering Mechanics University of Cincinnati

ATTENTION ENGINEERING INTERNS!

SUMMER PROGRAM—Miami Heat forward Alonzo Mourning turned up safe and sound Sunday night after his failure to check in with family during a boating trip in the Bahamas prompted a two-day search by the Coast Guard. Mourning, notified the Coast Guard at about 8:30 p.m. EDT Sunday that Kessler had finally called her on a cellular phone to say he was in the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said. Kessler, 24, and two friends had left the Miami area Thursday afternoon, heading for the Abaco Islands and in no danger, a spokesman said.
The only active pitchers with stolen bases Sunday, stealing Monday, April 29, 1991. The Observer page 19

Oakland A's left fielder Rickey Henderson tied Lou Brock for the all-time stolen base record on Sunday.

Happy 22nd Birthday

April 29th 1991

Love, Mom & Dad
Billy, Ryan, Brett & Travis

"CHEERS" To 4 GREAT YEARS
At N.D. May 19, 1991

Cox returns to majors after three-year absence

"This is a special time for me to see Danny Cox doing so well after all he's gone through," said Fregosi, who managed the Triple A Louisville when Cox pitched there in 1983-84. "He's worked so hard to come back, so we're very pleased to see him perform like this."

From a career-best 18-9 year in 1985 with Cardinals, Cox fell to 12-13 in 1986 and went 11-9 in 1987. He was 3-8 in '88 before the Cards sent him to Louisville. The Cardinals lost the World Series in 1985 and '87.

"I really worked and never gave up," Cox said. "I know how much fun it is to play this game and how much fun I can still have and I thank the good Lord I'm still here."

Senior's!

A Channel Volunteer Program representative will be at the Center for Social Concerns on Monday and Tuesday, April 29 - 30, 1:00 - 5:00 pm to answer your questions about volunteering next fall in the Pacific Northwest. Undergrads interested in these programs in the future are also welcome.

INTERNSHIPS

(FALL BREAK '91)

We're looking for some good students.

Find out more about the program at an information session held on Monday, April 29, at 6:00 in room 122 Hayes-Healy.

Sponsored by

S.A.R.G.
(Student Alumni Relations Group)

and the Notre Dame Alumni Association

Applications are available in Room 201 Main Building.

Henderson ties all-time stolen base record as A's win

Oakland A's left fielder Rickey Henderson tied Lou Brock for the all-time stolen base record on Sunday.
Johnson's Bookstore career comes to fitting conclusion

Bookstore Basketball XX couldn't have had a more appropriate ending—senior Derrick Johnson, after playing in four consecutive Final Fours of the world's largest five-on-five amateur tournament, sách in the Bookstore Championship and minutes later captured the Bookstore MVP title.

On a team where so many people thought there were too many stars and not enough chemistry, Johnson's play throughout Bookstore could be considered even close to selfish.

Adworks used an isolation game plan, a la Bennett and the Irish, MJ and the Bulls, or Barkley and the Stites, that allowed the hot shooter the opportunity to either take his defender one-on-one or dish it off if the shot wasn't available.

More often than not, Johnson, who connected on 8-of-14 shooting in Sunday's final against Tequila White Lightning, succeeded regardless of which opportunity he chose.

From a minimum range of 25 feet, Johnson would take and make, and the outside shot, but he didn't take those shots that weren't available. Instead, DJ, as he has become known on campus basketball courts, glided his way through traffic and looked for the open man.

Showtime came for the crowd from Johnson on the boards, though, as he seemed to take a break and hang out around the rim on many occasions before executing the rebound. "There were a couple of times when I think he came down wet from getting up so high" said junior Sean McLaren, who faced DJ and Adworks in the round of 32.

While Johnson took Adworks to last year's Final Four, only to lose 21-19 to Joe Scott and Malicious Prosecution, his final trip faced DJ and Adworks in the Round of 32.

"Derrick's probably the finest non-football or basketball player I've ever seen in Bookstore," said Tequila White Lightning. "I've never seen a player I've played with or against that's got the ability to get the ball out of the defense or the opportunity to get untracked in the open court, and Dorsey's midnighter gave the All-Stars a 11-10 halftime advantage.

"The first half of the championship game was evenly played. Adworks pulled out to an early 6-3 lead, but Tequila battled back to tie the game at eight. Marcia Crook's free-throw line jumper gave the All-Stars a slim 11-10 halftime advantage.

"We were just happy to make the Sweet Sixteen, and each game after that was just icing on the cake," Graham said.

And so after three weeks and 668 games, it came down to number one vs. number two for the title.

The first half of the championship game was evenly played. Adworks pulled out to an early 6-3 lead, but Tequila battled back to tie the game at eight. Marcia Crook's free-throw line jumper gave the All-Stars a slim 11-10 halftime advantage.

Notre Dame ticket manager Bubba Cunningham kept Tequila in the game in the first half. With Eric Jones and Jim Dolan having their difficulties inside, Cunningham nailed five-of-nine outside jumpers to keep them close.

In the second half, however, Adworks kept a watchful eye on Cunningham, not giving him nearly as much room to get his shot off. He hit his open shot at Tequila as Adworks pulled away.

"I think we got tired. That's the first time we couldn't do anything," Cunningham said. "They're a good team, and they played better than we did in the second half.

"And a factor leading to Adworks' victory was its ability to keep Tequila off the boards and to get out on the fast break. Adworks is dynamic in the open court, and Dorsey's dunk over Dolan to make the score 15-14 was the spark necessary for it to explode.

"We were getting the shots, but a few of them wouldn't fall for us," MacKinnon said. "We

DAVE MCMAHON Associate Sports Editor

Adworks

continued from page 24

Tequila, meanwhile, had an easier time in the semifinals. The top seed took on upset Senior Bar, which had knocked off no. 4 Teaches and no. 5 Gina's Pizza on its road to the Final Four.

Tequila took charge early, however, stopping Senior Bar's top player, Bob Graham, and never giving the undersdogs an opportunity to get untracked in a 21-11 win.

"We were just happy to make the Sweet Sixteen, and each game after that was just icing on the cake," Graham said.

And so after three weeks and 668 games, it came down to number one vs. number two for the title.

The first half of the championship game was evenly played. Adworks pulled out to an early 6-3 lead, but Tequila battled back to tie the game at eight. Marcia Crook's free-throw line jumper gave the All-Stars a slim 11-10 halftime advantage.

Notre Dame ticket manager Bubba Cunningham kept Tequila in the game in the first half. With Eric Jones and Jim Dolan having their difficulties inside, Cunningham nailed five-of-nine outside jumpers to keep them close.

In the second half, however, Adworks kept a watchful eye on Cunningham, not giving him nearly as much room to get his shot off. He hit his open shot at Tequila as Adworks pulled away.

"I think we got tired. That's the first time we couldn't do anything," Cunningham said. "They're a good team, and they played better than we did in the second half.

"And a factor leading to Adworks' victory was its ability to keep Tequila off the boards and to get out on the fast break. Adworks is dynamic in the open court, and Dorsey's dunk over Dolan to make the score 15-14 was the spark necessary for it to explode.

"We were getting the shots, but a few of them wouldn't fall for us," MacKinnon said. "We..."
Lacrosse moves one step closer to NCAA bid

By DAVE McMAHON
Associate Sports Editor

The Notre Dame lacrosse advanced one step closer to an NCAA bid with a 17-3 road win Saturday over Ohio State. Down 5-4 with just over two minutes before the half, the Irish (7-6) exploded for seven goals in five minutes before the half, the Buckeye opponent at bay and hustling — two characteristics that personify the Irish in the three years that senior's attitude towards the game.

"We're playing our best lacrosse of the season right now," said Notre Dame coach Kevin Corrigan.

Midfielder John Capano broke the Irish career record for ground balls, a feat that is not surprising considering the senior's attitude towards the game.

"John has been consistently working on ground balls," said Corrigan.

But "I can't afford it" is what he means to the team.

For Capano, a member of the Irish 1980 All-Decade team, the feat is another accomplished goal.

"It's something I've been shooting for all season," said Capano.

Face-off man Chip Lonsdale played one of his better games of the year, as the Irish controlled close to half of the face-offs. While Lonsdale did win the face-offs, he kept his Buckeye opponent at bay and allowed wingmen Pete Gillis, Brian Mayglolingh, and Capano to begin the Irish offensive threat.

"We didn't concede right off the face-off," said Lonsdale.

"The ground balls allow us play more on the offensive side than we have been.

After a 2-0 Ohio State lead, junior attackman Brian Schirf scored two straight goals with both assists from Mike Sullivan. The Buckeyes and Irish exchanged goals until the 08 mark of the second quarter, when Sullivan tied the score at 5-5. With the season and NCAA bid essentially on the line, the Irish came away on a mission. Uncharacteristically cranked out four third-quarter goals in the first seven minutes of the quarter.

"We gave up some goals in the first half that we knew we shouldn't have," said senior defenseman Eamon McNamany. "It was just a matter of who wanted it more in the second half. We communicated well in the second half and played tough defense, which eventually took the wind out of their sails.

While sophomore Pat Finn started the game in goal, Chip Parent took over in the second half, allowing only two shots past him.

"We outplayed them in the first half and had nothing to show for it," said Corrigan.

"Parent not only gained confidence in himself, but he boosted our whole defense." Offensively, the Irish played with patience against a zone defense, a factor which contributed to a balanced scoring effort by seven Irish players.

"We moved the ball well against their zone, no matter if you're patient against a zone you're gonna have a lot of people with opportunities to score," said Corrigan.

Schirf led the Irish with three goals and four assists. Schirf, Mayglolingh, and senior Wes Senett each had two goals in the Irish win.

Offense

continued from page 24

Levens ran seven times for 18 yards and three touchdowns. Junior quarterback Rick Mirer continued his impressive play, completing 11 of 15 passes for 174 yards and one TD. Senior Derek Brown was utilized more often than usual as a receiver, catching five passes for 80 yards.

"I don't think Derek has improved. He was good to start with. We're just getting him the ball a little more," said Mirer.

While the high scoring of the game seems like it would reflect poorly on the defense, it was handicapped by playing only a basic defense, with blunders.

"Let's not get overexaggerated on what happened," said Holtz.

"We played a very, very basic defense.

"Boo (Williams) and (Demetron) Duflo are going to have to be leaders of (the defense) . . . the secondary made some good plays," continued Holtz.

Holtz singled out Duflo for his fine play on defense, totaling 10 tackles, seven of which were unassisted. Three other players—sophomores LeShane Saddler, Jeff Barr and Anthony Peterson—each had eight tackles.

Holtz even jokingly addressed the open Irish basketball position. "I coached basketball when I did my student teaching. I was a pretty good basketball coach. My players had a good time, every game.

"Digger taught me a lot about Notre Dame. I'm happy he's happy."

But overall, the lasting feeling from Saturday's game has to be the spirit of togetherness the Irish are demonstrating. The last time the Irish has this feeling, they won a national championship. The Irish are just as loopy.

"We haven't won in the national championship," said Brown.

Notes: The only serious injury of the game was suffered by defensive line Todd Neuringer, who injured his knee. Holtz said that he will probably undergo surgery on that knee today. . . The Irish captains will be named on May 1, when the athletic board will meet to approve the captains.

CJ's

continued from page 24

the break, and with one of the quickest guards in the country in Karen, it got us going.

But the lawyers' didn't panic. Barron hit a jumper, and after another CJ's basket, Leyden broke out of an 0-for-10 slump with a short bank shot to spark a 6-1 run to cut the lead to 15-13.

"Their run) didn't worry us because we're used to coming from behind," Barron said. "We knew that we had been in long, close games and they hadn't."

If CJ's hadn't been tested during the tournament, however, they didn't show it down during the stretch yesterday. Robinson drove the lane for a lay-up and Weber hit a jumper from the left wing to build the lead back to four.

Barron responded with a 15-foot jumper of her own, and then Leyden hit a free throw to close the margin to 17-15.

"We were shooting the ball too soon at the end," Weber said. "We just had to work the ball around, find people cutting to the gap and hit the basket."

Weber took her own words to heart.

On a play similar to her last basket, she snuck behind the defense underneath the basket, where Jennifer Slosar found her with another thread-the-needle pass. With two lawyers contesting her shot, the ball bounced once, twice, and then fell through to give CJ's the championship.

Leyden was gracious in defeat.

"We had a lot of fun," she said. "We didn't expect to get this far, and Kathy Barron was awesome throughout the whole tournament. We're just happy we got this far and did so well."

And if it wasn't for Weber's effort, they might have gone all the way.

But "I can't afford it" is no longer one of them.

You can say many things about Macintosh.

But "I can't afford it" is no longer one of them.

You can talk about how simple the Apple"Macintosh" computer is to use. Or how it can think the way you think. Or how compatible it is with other computers. But think again when the word "expensive" comes to mind. Because it's just not true any more.

Introducing the Macintosh Classic computer. It's the most affordable Macintosh, yet it has all the capabilities you need for any application, such as word processing and spreadsheet analysis. The Classic is a completely integrated Macintosh system. Its monitor, keyboard, mouse and system software are all included, as are extras you might not expect—such as built-in networking and the Apple SuperDrive" disk drive, which lets the Classic read from and write to MS-DOS, OS/2, and ProDOS* files. Stop in today. We'll show you how it's possible for nearly anyone to afford a Macintosh. Comfortably.

Available now—limited supply!
Baseball takes three of four from Billikens

By RICHARD MATHURIN
Sports Writer

Cynics might say that the Notre Dame baseball team (32-13) had a hard weekend. After all the Irish, winners of 15 straight going into the weekend, only took three out of four from MCC cellar dweller Saint Louis. In the process, though, the Irish set a team record for consecutive victories with 18 in a streak which saw the Irish play near flawless baseball.

On Saturday, the Irish overcame the dreary weather to pummel the helpless Saint Louis pitching staff, banging out 30 hits in route to 8-5 and 18-7 victories. "You've got ten blockers in front of you, and you can see most of all," Johnson seems to relish his latest assignment, as the set-up man of the Irish offense, his latest assignment, as the set-up man of the Irish offense. "Dave is his own worst enemy. He puts a lot of pressure on himself after the season he had last year. He kept us in the game, though," said Murphy of Sinnes.

The Irish took control of the game in the sixth as third baseman Cory Moe opened the inning with a single to right. Center fielder Dan Bauers followed with a bunt which was thrown away by Decker putting runners at second and third.

After Craig Counsell knocked in Moe with a sacrifice fly, Jacobs launched his second homer of the game, giving the Irish the margin of victory. With that home run, Jacobs tied former Irish star Dan Peltier on the all-time ND home run list with 28.

"They're totally different players. Jacobs is a power hitter, while Peltier was more of a line drive hitter. I think Jacobs will play on the next level (professional baseball) like Peltier is now," said Murphy comparing his past and present stars.

In the nightcap, the Irish pounded out 20 hits in pummeling the Billikens. Their starter Brad Lindemann did not retire a batter before being lifted in the first inning. Irish freshman Tom Price (6-2) got the victory with help from senior Matt Krall.

After the Billikens scored four first-inning runs, the game was all Notre Dame. It scored seven in its half of the first, two in the second and three apiece in the third, fourth and sixth.

Sunday was a day of total contrast to Saturday's hitting exhibition as the Irish squelked out a 2-1 victory in the opener, but dropped the second 3-1.

The Irish received a sparkling performance from starter Al Walania in the opener. He went the distance, yielding only two hits, striking out four, and walking none to improve his record to 9-4.

"Al was tough. He kept us in the game when our offense went to sleep," commented Murphy.

In the second game, Billikens' pitcher Chris Callis baffled the Irish, scattering eight hits and striking out seven in a 2-1 loss.

The only Irish offense came in the third inning when Bauers knocked one over the left field wall. Pat Leahy (6-2) took the loss for the Irish.

First baseman Frank Jacobs avoids a pitch down and in. Jacobs tied the all-time Irish home run record this weekend vs Saint Louis.

First baseman Frank Jacobs avoids a pitch down and in. Jacobs tied the all-time Irish home run record this weekend vs Saint Louis.

We're Fighting For Your Life
American Heart Association

TONIGHT!

WOMEN
A Film Festival
New Filmmakers Dept Women presents

THE COLOR PURPLE
with discussion following

Monday, April 29
ENGINEERING AUDITORIUM
7:30 p.m., $2.50
co-sponsored by Year of Women and Educational Media 239-5465

FREE TANNING

The Freshest Mint. The Coolest Cool.

On Earth.
The Case of Brazil and the International Context. Edward CALVIN AND HOBBES for more information, call 239 - 6580.

not possible to have any say in the crusade.

Notre Dame

Monday

7 - 9 p.m. "Student World Premieres," a Film and Video Show sponsored by Notre Dame Communications and Theatre at The Sobe Museum of Art. Admission $2.00. All proceeds donated to El Campito Day Care Center.

7:30 p.m. Series of How Filmmakers Depict Women presents "The Color Purple," discussion following film. Cushing Engineering Auditorium. Sponsored by Year of Women and Educational Media.

LECTURES

Monday

2:30 p.m. Charles Edison Lecture, "Do Real Engineers Use Theory?" Thomas Kailath, professor, Stanford University.

Tuesday

12 p.m. Lecture: "Labor Unions and Macroeconomics: The Case of Brazil and the International Context." Edward Amadeo, visiting departmental fellow, Kellogg Institute Department of Economics, University of Notre Dame. For more information, call 239 - 6080.

MENU

Notre Dame

Baked Parmesan Chicken Breast

Beef Turnover with Gravy

Baked Chicken Breast with Herbs

CROSSWORD

ACROSS

14 Baked Parmesan Chicken Breast

16 Eggplant Parmesan a la Mode

21 Baked Chicken Breast with Herbs

23 Beef Turnover with Gravy

25 Notre Dame

27 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

30 Women and Educational Media.

33 Admission $2.00. All proceeds donated to El Campito Day Care Center.

35 Theatre at The Snite Museum of Art. Admission $2.00. All proceeds donated to El Campito Day Care Center.

38 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

41 Cushing Engineering Auditorium. Sponsored by Year of Women and Educational Media.

45 "Labor Unions and Macroeconomics: The Case of Brazil and the International Context." Edward Amadeo, visiting departmental fellow, Kellogg Institute Department of Economics, University of Notre Dame. For more information, call 239 - 6080.

49 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

52 "Do Real Engineers Use Theory?" Thomas Kailath, professor, Stanford University.

54 "Labor Unions and Macroeconomics: The Case of Brazil and the International Context." Edward Amadeo, visiting departmental fellow, Kellogg Institute Department of Economics, University of Notre Dame. For more information, call 239 - 6080.

56 "Student World Premieres," a Film and Video Show sponsored by Notre Dame Communications and Theatre at The Sobe Museum of Art. Admission $2.00. All proceeds donated to El Campito Day Care Center.

60 Notre Dame

62 Baked Parmesan Chicken Breast

64 Beef Turnover with Gravy

66 Baked Chicken Breast with Herbs

68 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

70 "Student World Premieres," a Film and Video Show sponsored by Notre Dame Communications and Theatre at The Sobe Museum of Art. Admission $2.00. All proceeds donated to El Campito Day Care Center.

74 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

76 "Labor Unions and Macroeconomics: The Case of Brazil and the International Context." Edward Amadeo, visiting departmental fellow, Kellogg Institute Department of Economics, University of Notre Dame. For more information, call 239 - 6080.

78 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

80 "Do Real Engineers Use Theory?" Thomas Kailath, professor, Stanford University.

82 "Labor Unions and Macroeconomics: The Case of Brazil and the International Context." Edward Amadeo, visiting departmental fellow, Kellogg Institute Department of Economics, University of Notre Dame. For more information, call 239 - 6080.

84 "Student World Premieres," a Film and Video Show sponsored by Notre Dame Communications and Theatre at The Sobe Museum of Art. Admission $2.00. All proceeds donated to El Campito Day Care Center.

88 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

90 "Do Real Engineers Use Theory?" Thomas Kailath, professor, Stanford University.

92 "Labor Unions and Macroeconomics: The Case of Brazil and the International Context." Edward Amadeo, visiting departmental fellow, Kellogg Institute Department of Economics, University of Notre Dame. For more information, call 239 - 6080.

94 "Student World Premieres," a Film and Video Show sponsored by Notre Dame Communications and Theatre at The Sobe Museum of Art. Admission $2.00. All proceeds donated to El Campito Day Care Center.

98 Monday, April 29, 1991 The Observer page 23

100 "Labor Unions and Macroeconomics: The Case of Brazil and the International Context." Edward Amadeo, visiting departmental fellow, Kellogg Institute Department of Economics, University of Notre Dame. For more information, call 239 - 6080.
Offense showcased in Blue-Gold
Irish break spring drills with new and improved attitude

By RICH KURZ
Associate Sports Editor

When Saturday’s Blue-Gold game ended Notre Dame’s spring football practices, a new attitude was in the air. If Irish coach Lou Holtz gave his team slogs for the season, like former basketball coach Digger Phelps did, this squad’s would be “We Are Family.”

For the record, the final was Blue 43 Gold 31. But the final score isn’t what really matters about this game.

The Irish players, from running back Rodney Culver to tight end Derek Brown, seem to think that the Notre Dame football team for next season will be a closely-knit bunch.

“The attitude is just like a family,” said Brown. “It’s just like my freshman year (1988).”

Said Culver, “It’s a tremendous attitude. The younger players are taking in what the older players are teaching. We focus on one common goal.”

The game featured just about everything, from all sorts of trick plays to even a kickoff return for a touchdown from someone with a name other than Ianmall.

Sophomore Clint Johnson, nicknamed “Cosmic,” returned five kickoffs for 220 total yards, including a beautiful 96-yarder that saw him hurdle two tacklers without breaking stride, leaving the kickoff team far behind.

The offense, a worry after it scored only 19 points in the last two games of the 1990 season, appears to be a formidable force, based on its performance in Saturday’s game.

The running game, the backbone of the Irish attack, should suffer only from an overabundance of running backs. Senior running back Rodney Culver was moved to tailback to make room for sophomore Jerome Bettis at fullback, and Culver rushed for 117 yards on 14 carries. And next fall, with Bettis blocking for Culver, the opposition will be looking at over 450 pounds of running backs.

“Jerome sets a big enough hole to drive a Mack truck through,” said Culver. “I thought I could help the team better at this position.”

Bettis ran for 63 yards himself, and Willie Clark managed 47 yards, while junior Dorsey Malicious Prosecution, its nemesis in the finals the past two years, 21-18.

Sophomore Mike MacKinnon, himself past two years, 21-18.

consecutive runner-up finishes, the senior rounded out his stellar Bookstore career as a champion.

“Last year, he can’t guard him in the rain because you have to let the wet rain,” said Rich Rolwing of Malicious. “You let him shoot it. If he’s going to make 25-footers, he’s 26-4. The younger players are taking in what the older players are teaching. We focus on one common goal.”

The race for the kickoff return position has improved at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

Coach Lou Holtz was impressed with Johnson’s performance Sunday, but cautioned against comparisons with last year’s Rocket.

“Clint has very, very good speed,” said Holtz. “He does not have Rocket’s speed. He has that same flat, that same relentless abandon running the ball and seeing the open field, accelerating and turning it on. He likes to run. Some people have good speed, but they don’t run in traffic as they’re capable. Clint runs very fast whether he’s in the open field or in traffic.”

His speed on traffic on his only reception of the day, a 28-yarder which was the Gold’s longest play from scrimmage.

Engaged in a battle with sophomore Adrian Jarrell for the starting spot at flanker this spring, Johnson impressed Holtz with his improvement at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

Blue-Gold game by returning this kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Shades of Rocket seen in Johnson

When Clint Johnson fell onto one knee in the north end zone of Notre Dame Stadium Saturday afternoon after returning a third quarter kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, fans could be heard behind the goal posts, chanting “Rocket, Rocket.”

However, the freshman dodge comparison with Notre Dame’s last return specialist, Raghib “Rocket” Ismail.

“The biggest key (to the run) was getting on the line, starting the run and turning it on. He likes to run. Some people have good speed, but they don’t run in traffic as they’re capable. Clint runs very fast whether he’s in the open field or in traffic.”

Johnson showed his speed on traffic on his only reception of the day, a 28-yarder which was the Gold’s longest play from scrimmage.

Engaged in a battle with sophomore Adrian Jarrell for the starting spot at flanker this spring, Johnson impressed Holtz with his improvement at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

The race for the kickoff return position has lasted all spring, with Johnson’s prime competition coming from tailback Willie Clark. While Johnson staked his claim to the starting spot, Clark returned one kickoff for 35 yards. Freshman Tom Carter, who has also been a factor in this battle, got 21 yards on his lone runback.

Senior running back Rodney Culver breaks into the open field on one of his 14 carries during Saturday’s Blue-Gold game.

Adworks, CJ’s Pub claim Bookstore championships

Third time’s a charm for All-Stars in 21-15 win over Tequila

By RENE FERRAN
Associate Sports Editor

Adworks made its third straight appearance in the championship game a charm, exploding in the second half to a 21-15 victory over Tequila White Lightning in the finals of the 20th Bookstore Basketball tournament.

The win ended Bookstore MVP Derrick Johnson’s two-game of the 1990 season, appears to be a formidable

Shades of Rocket seen in Johnson

When Clint Johnson fell onto one knee in the north end zone of Notre Dame Stadium Saturday afternoon after returning a third quarter kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, fans could be heard behind the goal posts, chanting “Rocket, Rocket.”

However, the freshman dodge comparison with Notre Dame’s last return specialist, Raghib “Rocket” Ismail.

“The biggest key (to the run) was getting on the line, starting the run and turning it on. He likes to run. Some people have good speed, but they don’t run in traffic as they’re capable. Clint runs very fast whether he’s in the open field or in traffic.”

Johnson showed his speed on traffic on his only reception of the day, a 28-yarder which was the Gold’s longest play from scrimmage.

Engaged in a battle with sophomore Adrian Jarrell for the starting spot at flanker this spring, Johnson impressed Holtz with his improvement at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

Blue-Gold game by returning this kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Shades of Rocket seen in Johnson

When Clint Johnson fell onto one knee in the north end zone of Notre Dame Stadium Saturday afternoon after returning a third quarter kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, fans could be heard behind the goal posts, chanting “Rocket, Rocket.”

However, the freshman dodge comparison with Notre Dame’s last return specialist, Raghib “Rocket” Ismail.

“The biggest key (to the run) was getting on the line, starting the run and turning it on. He likes to run. Some people have good speed, but they don’t run in traffic as they’re capable. Clint runs very fast whether he’s in the open field or in traffic.”

Johnson showed his speed on traffic on his only reception of the day, a 28-yarder which was the Gold’s longest play from scrimmage.

Engaged in a battle with sophomore Adrian Jarrell for the starting spot at flanker this spring, Johnson impressed Holtz with his improvement at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

Blue-Gold game by returning this kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Shades of Rocket seen in Johnson

When Clint Johnson fell onto one knee in the north end zone of Notre Dame Stadium Saturday afternoon after returning a third quarter kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, fans could be heard behind the goal posts, chanting “Rocket, Rocket.”

However, the freshman dodge comparison with Notre Dame’s last return specialist, Raghib “Rocket” Ismail.

“The biggest key (to the run) was getting on the line, starting the run and turning it on. He likes to run. Some people have good speed, but they don’t run in traffic as they’re capable. Clint runs very fast whether he’s in the open field or in traffic.”

Johnson showed his speed on traffic on his only reception of the day, a 28-yarder which was the Gold’s longest play from scrimmage.

Engaged in a battle with sophomore Adrian Jarrell for the starting spot at flanker this spring, Johnson impressed Holtz with his improvement at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

Blue-Gold game by returning this kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Shades of Rocket seen in Johnson

When Clint Johnson fell onto one knee in the north end zone of Notre Dame Stadium Saturday afternoon after returning a third quarter kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, fans could be heard behind the goal posts, chanting “Rocket, Rocket.”

However, the freshman dodge comparison with Notre Dame’s last return specialist, Raghib “Rocket” Ismail.

“The biggest key (to the run) was getting on the line, starting the run and turning it on. He likes to run. Some people have good speed, but they don’t run in traffic as they’re capable. Clint runs very fast whether he’s in the open field or in traffic.”

Johnson showed his speed on traffic on his only reception of the day, a 28-yarder which was the Gold’s longest play from scrimmage.

Engaged in a battle with sophomore Adrian Jarrell for the starting spot at flanker this spring, Johnson impressed Holtz with his improvement at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

Blue-Gold game by returning this kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.

Shades of Rocket seen in Johnson

When Clint Johnson fell onto one knee in the north end zone of Notre Dame Stadium Saturday afternoon after returning a third quarter kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown, fans could be heard behind the goal posts, chanting “Rocket, Rocket.”

However, the freshman dodge comparison with Notre Dame’s last return specialist, Raghib “Rocket” Ismail.

“The biggest key (to the run) was getting on the line, starting the run and turning it on. He likes to run. Some people have good speed, but they don’t run in traffic as they’re capable. Clint runs very fast whether he’s in the open field or in traffic.”

Johnson showed his speed on traffic on his only reception of the day, a 28-yarder which was the Gold’s longest play from scrimmage.

Engaged in a battle with sophomore Adrian Jarrell for the starting spot at flanker this spring, Johnson impressed Holtz with his improvement at receiver this spring.

“Clint Johnson has come light years as a wide receiver,” Holtz said.

Blue-Gold game by returning this kickoff 96 yards for a touchdown.