DeBartolo won't reduce donation

By DAVID KINNEY
Associate News Editor

There is no indication yet that financial difficulties in the real-estate empire of Edward DeBartolo will jeopardize payment of part of his $33 million pledge to the University of Notre Dame.

The Wall Street Journal reported Feb. 11th that he is at the mercy of the voters in the next eight months, and said he is confident of beating Bush.

DeBartolo, a 39-year-old investor, is planning to make a major donation to Notre Dame. The gift would be in the range of $33 million.

Moore said he is confident that Bush has a majority vote on his behalf.

"This is a victory. Protest votes don't run this high. We're going against a president in his own party in the state where primary victory saved the president's 1988 nomination."

The Republican vote, with 84 percent of the precincts counted, Bush 67,183 or 57 percent. Buchanan 48,820, or 41 percent. Minor candidates had the rest.

Bush led for 14 nominating delegates, Buchanan for 9.

Polls of voters leaving their polling places showed that the economy and jobs were the issues that mattered most to both Republicans and Democrats. Early exit polls reported by ABC found that 52 percent of voters in the South."

Angela D. Buchanan, manager of the challenger, claimed a major victory on his behalf. "This is a victory. Protest votes don't run this high. We're going against a president in his own party in the state that put him in office."

"New Hampshire is Pat Buchanan's best shot," said Gov. Judd Gregg, a Bush partisan like the rest of the Republican establishment. Yet the results were sobering to the Bush camp, coming in the state where primary victory saved the president's 1988 nomination.

The Republican vote, with 84 percent of the precincts counted.

Bush 67,183 or 57 percent. Buchanan 48,820, or 41 percent. Minor candidates had the rest.

Bush led for 14 nominating delegates, Buchanan for 9.

Polls of voters leaving their polling places showed that the economy and jobs were the issues that mattered most to both Republicans and Democrats. Early exit polls reported by ABC found that 52 percent of voters in the South."

Buchanan voters said they voted for him to send a message, compared with 47 percent said they would make the best president. More than half said they would not vote for Bush if he was the choice in November.

Buchanan campaigned to the end, declaring at one point Tuesday, "We're going into Georgia and Super Tuesday with enormous steam." Those Southern primaries are on March 3 and 10.

William Bennett, the former administration official, said in a CNN interview that the New Hampshire verdict was "serious trouble" for Bush. He said the president would have to get tough with Buchanan now: "kinder and gentler is over."

With 84 percent of the Democratic precincts counted, Tsongas and Clintons were splitting New Hampshire's 18 convention delegates, 9 apiece. The vote was:

Tsongas 38,995 (33 percent). Clinton 29,030 (26 percent). For Sen. Bob Kerrey of Nebraska and Tom Harkin of Iowa, the challenge was to defeat the other and emerge as the more liberal alternative to Tsongas or Clinton. Kerrey had 12 percent and Harkin 11 percent.

Problems plague Icebergs this year

By NICOLE MCGRATH
News Writer

This year's Iceberg Debates had a shaky start due to all sorts of complications but this year's committee has strived to make the debates a success.

Anna Garcia, head chairwoman, and Amy Listerman, judging chairwoman, cited a number of obstacles the committee faced.

According to Garcia, a freshman, there were eight people on the committee while last year's committee has striven to do so.

This year's Iceberg Debates won a nomination. The other two judges split the vote and they fared.

"This election was far closer than I anticipated," said Bush. "I think the opponents on both sides reaped the harvest of discontent with the pace of New Hampshire's economy."

He vowed to "take my case to the South."

"We're going against a president in his own party in the state where primary victory saved the president's 1988 nomination."

The Republican vote, with 84 percent of the precincts counted:

Bush 67,183 or 57 percent. Buchanan 48,820, or 41 percent. Minor candidates had the rest.

Bush led for 14 nominating delegates, Buchanan for 9.

Polls of voters leaving their polling places showed that the economy and jobs were the issues that mattered most to both Republicans and Democrats. Early exit polls reported by ABC found that 52 percent of voters in the South."

Buchanan voters said they voted for him to send a message, compared with 47 percent said they would make the best president. More than half said they would not vote for Bush if he was the choice in November.

Buchanan campaigned to the end, declaring at one point Tuesday, "We're going into Georgia and Super Tuesday with enormous steam." Those Southern primaries are on March 3 and 10.

William Bennett, the former administration official, said in a CNN interview that the New Hampshire verdict was "serious trouble" for Bush. He said the president would have to get tough with Buchanan now: "kinder and gentler is over."

With 84 percent of the Democratic precincts counted, Tsongas and Clintons were splitting New Hampshire's 18 convention delegates, 9 apiece. The vote was:

Tsongas 38,995 (33 percent). Clinton 29,030 (26 percent). For Sen. Bob Kerrey of Nebraska and Tom Harkin of Iowa, the challenge was to defeat the other and emerge as the more liberal alternative to Tsongas or Clinton. Kerrey had 12 percent and Harkin 11 percent.

Problems plague Icebergs this year

By NICOLE MCGRATH
News Writer

This year's Iceberg Debates had a shaky start due to all sorts of complications but this year's committee has strived to make the debates a success.

Anna Garcia, head chairwoman, and Amy Listerman, judging chairwoman, cited a number of obstacles the committee faced.

According to Garcia, a freshman, there were eight people on the committee while last year's committee has strived to do so.

This year's Iceberg Debates won a nomination. The other two judges split the vote and they fared.

"This election was far closer than I anticipated," said Bush. "I think the opponents on both sides reaped the harvest of discontent with the pace of New Hampshire's economy."

He vowed to "take my case to the South."

"We're going against a president in his own party in the state where primary victory saved the president's 1988 nomination."

The Republican vote, with 84 percent of the precincts counted:

Bush 67,183 or 57 percent. Buchanan 48,820, or 41 percent. Minor candidates had the rest.

Bush led for 14 nominating delegates, Buchanan for 9.

Polls of voters leaving their polling places showed that the economy and jobs were the issues that mattered most to both Republicans and Democrats. Early exit polls reported by ABC found that 52 percent of voters in the South."

Buchanan voters said they voted for him to send a message, compared with 47 percent said they would make the best president. More than half said they would not vote for Bush if he was the choice in November.

Buchanan campaigned to the end, declaring at one point Tuesday, "We're going into Georgia and Super Tuesday with enormous steam." Those Southern primaries are on March 3 and 10.

William Bennett, the former administration official, said in a CNN interview that the New Hampshire verdict was "serious trouble" for Bush. He said the president would have to get tough with Buchanan now: "kinder and gentler is over."

With 84 percent of the Democratic precincts counted, Tsongas and Clintons were splitting New Hampshire's 18 convention delegates, 9 apiece. The vote was:

Tsongas 38,995 (33 percent). Clinton 29,030 (26 percent). For Sen. Bob Kerrey of Nebraska and Tom Harkin of Iowa, the challenge was to defeat the other and emerge as the more liberal alternative to Tsongas or Clinton. Kerrey had 12 percent and Harkin 11 percent.

Problems plague Icebergs this year

By NICOLE MCGRATH
News Writer

This year's Iceberg Debates had a shaky start due to all sorts of complications but this year's committee has strived to make the debates a success.

Anna Garcia, head chairwoman, and Amy Listerman, judging chairwoman, cited a number of obstacles the committee faced.

According to Garcia, a freshman, there were eight people on the committee while last year's committee has strived to do so.

This year's Iceberg Debates won a nomination. The other two judges split the vote and they fared.

"This election was far closer than I anticipated," said Bush. "I think the opponents on both sides reaped the harvest of discontent with the pace of New Hampshire's economy."

He vowed to "take my case to the South."

"We're going against a president in his own party in the state where primary victory saved the president's 1988 nomination."

The Republican vote, with 84 percent of the precincts counted:

Bush 67,183 or 57 percent. Buchanan 48,820, or 41 percent. Minor candidates had the rest.

Bush led for 14 nominating delegates, Buchanan for 9.

Polls of voters leaving their polling places showed that the economy and jobs were the issues that mattered most to both Republicans and Democrats. Early exit polls reported by ABC found that 52 percent of voters in the South."

Buchanan voters said they voted for him to send a message, compared with 47 percent said they would make the best president. More than half said they would not vote for Bush if he was the choice in November.

Buchanan campaigned to the end, declaring at one point Tuesday, "We're going into Georgia and Super Tuesday with enormous steam." Those Southern primaries are on March 3 and 10.

William Bennett, the former administration official, said in a CNN interview that the New Hampshire verdict was "serious trouble" for Bush. He said the president would have to get tough with Buchanan now: "kinder and gentler is over."

With 84 percent of the Democratic precincts counted, Tsongas and Clintons were splitting New Hampshire's 18 convention delegates, 9 apiece. The vote was:

Tsongas 38,995 (33 percent). Clinton 29,030 (26 percent). For Sen. Bob Kerrey of Nebraska and Tom Harkin of Iowa, the challenge was to defeat the other and emerge as the more liberal alternative to Tsongas or Clinton. Kerrey had 12 percent and Harkin 11 percent.
The assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr. (Slaughterhouse Five) and Ralph Ellison (The Struggles to find a commencement speaker. in Memphis that afternoon occurred at 12:50 p.m. in the Stepan Center audience, while Democratic presidential candidate Eugene McCarthy made his appearance in Washington Hall on the second day of campaigning to a crowd of more than 4,000 supporters.

On April 4, 1968, Martin Luther King, Jr., the influential black leader, was assassinated in Memphis. His death marked a tragic day in the Civil Rights Movement and American history. The assassination of Martin Luther King, Jr., in Memphis that afternoon occurred at approximately the same time that another man, also known as a líder, was shot and killed, in Mexico City.

Robert Kennedy, two months before his own assassination, campaigned to a crowd of 5,000 at Stepan Center, answering questions for over 40 minutes from an audience made up almost entirely of students. A day later, authors Kurt Vonnegut (Slaughterhouse Five) and Ralph Ellison (The Invisible Man), at the height of their popularity, appeared at Notre Dame. However, few world-renowned writers have recently seen the Notre Dame campus.

The Yazoo spill was a spill that occurred in the Yazoo River in Mississippi. The spill was caused by a breach in a dam, which released a large amount of water into the river. The spill caused significant damage to the surrounding area and resulted in the evacuation of thousands of people. The Yazoo spill also led to the death of several people. The spill was a result of human error and negligence. The Yazoo spill was a tragic event that had a huge impact on the area and the people who lived there.

Government Career Day will be held today from noon to 4:00 p.m. at the Center for Continuing Education. All majors are welcome.

The lecture "African-American Catholics: Looking Ahead," by M. Shawn Copeland of Yale University, is scheduled today at 1 p.m. at Saint Mary's College. Saint Mary's College is located in South Bend, Indiana. The College is situated on the campus of Notre Dame University, which is one of the top Catholic universities in the United States. The College offers a wide range of academic programs and is renowned for its strong track record of placing its graduates in top positions in various fields.

In 1986: [Details about historical events or activities in 1986]

On this day in history:

- In 1678: Thomas Edison received a patent for his phonograph.
- In 1942: President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed an executive order making possible the wartime internment of Japanese-Americans.
- In 1963: The Soviet Union informed President Kennedy it would withdraw the "seven thousand" of an estimated 17,000 Soviet troops in Cuba.
- In 1996: The Senate passed a resolution declaring the philosophical presidential election held in 1996 as the "widest sweep" of all time. The Senate also approved a treaty outlawing genocide, 37 years after the pact had first been submitted for ratification.

The Observer (USPS 539 2-4000) is published Monday through Friday during the academic year and vacation period. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights reserved.
Observer announces its 1992-93 General Board

Observer Staff Report

Observer Editor-in-Chief elect

Monica Yant announced Tuesday the selection of the newspaper's 1992-93 General Board.

The editors and department managers will assume their positions immediately after Spring Break.

Joining Managing Editor-elect John Rock and Business Manager-elect Rich Riley, the following people were selected for the Editorial Board:

•David Kinney, News Editor. Kinney is a sophomore government major from Winston-Salem, N.C. He is presently Associate News Editor.
•Joe Moody, Viewpoint Editor. Moody is a junior English major from South Bend. This will be Moody's second year as Viewpoint Editor.
•Michael Serudato, Sports Editor. Serudato is a sophomore English/CAPP major from Bloomfield, N.J.

Steve Tankovich, Tim Mooney, Maren Schulte and Larry Palmer.

Finally, there will be four tickets in the running for Sophomore Class offices. One ticket includes Andrea Auyer (presidential candidate), Eric Hapbel (vice president), Marianne Palabricis (secretary) and Chris Gervio (treasurer). A second ticket is made up of Tom Fehrath, Kevin Nelson, Tony Luigis and Diane Simionys.

A third ticket consists of Joe Husin, Kelly Fitzpatrick, Anne Marie Krauzza, and Joe Burke. The final ticket includes Pat Smyth, Frannie Biechlin, Katie Eisenbarth and Brian Alesia.

The election will be held on Monday, February 24. Off-campus students will be able to vote in their dorms from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. on election day. Polls will also be open for off-campus students in the dining hall from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and in LaFortune Student Center from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

If any run-off elections are necessary, they will be held on Wednesday, February 26.

The following managers were selected for the Operations Board:

•Michael Hobbs, Advertising Manager. Hobbs is a junior finance/psychology major from Naperville, Ill.
•Kevin Hardman, Ad Design Manager. Hardman is a sophomore electrical engineering/philosophy major from Cincinnati, Ohio. He is currently Assistant Ad Design Manager.
•Jeanne Blasi, Production Manager. Blasi is a junior English/CAPP major from Palatine, Ill. She is presently Assistant Production Manager.
•Patrick Barth, Systems Manager. Barth is a sophomore pre-professional studies/communications major from Spokane, Wash. He currently works as a typesetter.
•Dan Shinnick, Observer Typesetting Service (OTS) Director. Shinnick is a junior government major from Dallas, Texas. He has been OTS director for two years.
•David Belliveau, Controller. Belliveau is a junior accounting/CAPP major from Salem, N.J.

Class candidates announced

By MICHAEL SCHOLL

News Writer

The student government's election committee has released the names of the candidates running in the upcoming class officer election.

Four slates of candidates are competing to represent next year's Senior Class. One ticket includes Andrea Auyer (presidential candidate), Eric Hapbel (vice president), Marianne Palabricis (secretary) and Chris Gervio (treasurer). A second ticket is made up of Tom Fehrath, Kevin Nelson, Tony Luigis and Diane Simionys.

A third ticket consists of Joe Husin, Kelly Fitzpatrick, Anne Marie Krauzza, and Joe Burke. The final ticket includes Pat Smyth, Frannie Biechlin, Katie Eisenbarth and Brian Alesia.

There will be two tickets competing in the Sophomore Class. One ticket includes Andrea Ricker, Jim Penilla, Michael LaMena, and Amy Visnosky and will be opposed by Katie Carey, and Amy Visnosky who will round out the field.

The election will be held Saturday, February 22. On-campus students will be able to vote in their dorms from 9 a.m. to 11 p.m. and from 5 p.m. to 7 p.m. on election day. Polls will also be open for off-campus students in the dining hall from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and in LaFortune Student Center from 9 a.m. to 7 p.m.

If any run-off elections are necessary, they will be held on Saturday, February 22.

 observers/Meg Kowalski

The Observer

EAT PIZZA, GET EXERCISE, and HELP THE HOMELESS

LOOK FOR SIGN-UP SHEETS IN YOUR DORM

Domino's Pizza and the Center for the Homeless are offering a free pizza party to groups of students who donate 1-1/2 hours on a Saturday afternoon to distribute coupon/flyers around South Bend.

Groups of about 10 needed on:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Sat. Feb. 22</th>
<th>Sat. March 21</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Sat. Feb. 29</td>
<td>Sat. March 28</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

For additional information, contact: Maggie Walsh 283-4012
Julie Bradley 283-4766
239-7668

If you have a group ready, call John Whalen (282-8700) at the Center for the Homeless directly.
Irish leaders will discuss abortion ban

Dublin, Ireland (AP) — Political leaders agreed Tuesday to review a constitutional ban on abortions, as anger grew over the case of a 14-year-old girl barred from seeking an abortion in Britain.

Prime Minister Albert Reynolds did not suggest a course of action, but invited opposition leaders to discuss the issue generally rather than "the special and tragic circumstances of the case."

High Court Judge Declan Costello ruled Monday that Ireland's constitution left him no choice but to bar the girl from seeking an abortion in Britain — although she says she was raped by her best friend's father after a year of molestation and has threatened to kill herself rather than give birth.

It is the first time authorities have tried to prevent a woman from having an abortion in Britain — a path taken by about 4,000 Irish women in 1990. However, the case may not have a significant effect on that practice.

Ireland, more than 90 percent Roman Catholic, has the strictest abortion law in Europe, permitting only a "morning-after pill" that will terminate a pregnancy within 72 hours of intercourse.

Addressing the Dail, the lower house of Parliament, at the end of his first week in office, Reynolds expressed sympathy for the girl and her family.

But he said Attorney General Harry Whelehan had advised it as his duty to take any steps necessary to protect the fetus.

"I do not believe that the people of this country want, or deserve, a situation of nodds and wrenchs in the application of the law," Reynolds said.

Politics could dictate peace talks' direction

JERUSALEM (AP) — Israel's two main political parties face leadership battles this week that are likely to determine the future of Middle East peace efforts.

To the left, Yitzhak Rabin, a former defense minister and general, will try to unseat Shimon Peres as chairman of the Labor Party a day later.

Rabin hopes to grab votes from the conservative center, and his supporters believe he may have a better chance of getting them than Peres, whose best showing in five national elections has been a tie.

On the right, Prime Minister Yitzhak Shamir is up for re-election as leader of his nationalist bloc, where he's won a reputation as a hard-liner in negotiations with the Arabs.

The Labor contest is Wednesday, and the Likud vote a day later.

Shamir, 76, commands a vast other properties. Among the seven office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties. Among those owning, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties. Among those owning, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties.

DeBartolo is one of many victims of the collapsed commercial real-estate market that could force his corporation to sell many assets, including a partial-ownership of the San Francisco 49ers NFL team and numerous race tracks, shopping malls and office buildings, according to the Journal.

Tina Dedrick, director of the Architectural Building, said he said that there has been no discussion of the possibility of halting construction of either of the two buildings.

DeBartolo is one of many victims of the collapsed commercial real-estate market that could force his corporation to sell many assets, including a partial-ownership of the San Francisco 49ers NFL team and numerous race tracks, shopping malls and office buildings, according to the Journal. Under the plan, DeBartolo's banks will get first and second mortgages on many assets that are not sold. In return, the banks will agree to suspend principal payments on much of his $4.04 billion of debt for about two and a half years by selling mortgaged assets.

DeBartolo could reduce his debt and free cash to make interest payments.

He has denied that he is working to ease a cash crunch in his real-estate holdings. A corporate spokesman contacted last week would not discuss the reports in The Wall Street Journal, and she could not be reached for comment yesterday.

The family-owned corporation owns, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties. Among those owning, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties.

The family-own corporation are expected to be worth $2 billion of debt for about two and a half years by selling mortgaged assets.

DeBartolo could reduce his debt and free cash to make interest payments.

He has denied that he is working to ease a cash crunch in his real-estate holdings. A corporate spokesman contacted last week would not discuss the reports in The Wall Street Journal, and she could not be reached for comment yesterday.

The family-owned corporation owns, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties. Among those owning, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties.

DeBartolo could reduce his debt and free cash to make interest payments.

He has denied that he is working to ease a cash crunch in his real-estate holdings. A corporate spokesman contacted last week would not discuss the reports in The Wall Street Journal, and she could not be reached for comment yesterday.

The family-owned corporation owns, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties. Among those owning, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties.

DeBartolo could reduce his debt and free cash to make interest payments.

He has denied that he is working to ease a cash crunch in his real-estate holdings. A corporate spokesman contacted last week would not discuss the reports in The Wall Street Journal, and she could not be reached for comment yesterday.

The family-owned corporation owns, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties. Among those owning, in whole or in part, 73 regional malls, 19 strip shopping centers, eight office buildings, three racetracks and vast other properties.
1992 ICEBERG DEBATES

QUARTERFINALS
RESULTS
February 18

 POINTS VOTES
Flanner A (Neg) 9 86/72
Grace A (Aff) 9 83/80
Lyons (Aff) 9 82/81
Off-Campus (Neg) 9 86/72
Sorin (Neg) 1 87/80
St. Ed's (Aff) 2 87/80
Alumni (Aff) 83/80
Monts X (Neg) 83/80

SEMI-FINALS
SCHEDULE
February 25
Graca A vs Alumni
St. Ed's vs. Off-Campus

Kmiec argues case against abortion

By LAUREN AQUINO
Assistant News Editor

Until the court recognizes the personhood of the unborn, un-born life will still be unpro- tected, according to Professor Doug Kmiec. The Supreme Court case Casey vs. Planned Parenthood will not change this situation, he said.

Kmiec spoke Tuesday in the Law School courtroom on "Casey vs. Planned Parenthood: Will Roe be overturned and will it matter?" Roe vs. Wade made it possible for women to have abortion on demand, as long as the mother's health is not jeopardized. The problem here is that the word health becomes ambiguous, said Kmiec. It can refer to physical, emotional, or psychological well being, he added. The place to draw the line is too unclear.

Kmiec also claims Roe acted out of "selflessness and convenience." Her priorities were not grounded in the family, he said, and therefore her right to privacy could not have been violated. The notion that Roe fought for the right to choose is actually a "mis-characterization," according to Kmiec. She was only fighting for the right to kill a child she herself had already been made, he explained.

The view that abortion is a gender-specific issue "ultimately fails" because abortion is gender neutral, said Kmiec. Also, men and women are dissimilar in nature, he added, and the law is not going to be able to change that. Men cannot get pregnant, and no court case will be able to make men and women completely similar, said Kmiec.

In the state of Pennsylvania a minor needs the informed consent of at least one parent to obtain an abortion. The problem with this is that it is possible to get a judicial bypass, said Kmiec. It is possible for the young mother to convince the judge that her parents do not need to know, he added. All she has to do is convince the court that it is in her best interest not to tell her parents, said Kmiec, be it personal safety or psychological reasons.

Kmiec discussed Pennsylvania's Spousal Notice Regulation, which states that a pregnant woman must obtain a signed statement from her husband before the abortion. There are four exceptions to this rule:

•the husband is not the fa- ther;
•she can't find the husband;
•the pregnancy was due to sexual assault; and
•the husband is likely to in- flict bodily harm on her.

Because approximately 95 percent would voluntarily tell their husbands anyway, and the remaining five percent most likely fall into the four excep- tions, the Spousal Notice Regulation is no obstacle, Kmiec said.

Life of unborn children will still not be secure after Casey vs. Planned Parenthood, said Kmiec. "We will still be far from our moral destination," he added.

Poets with ND connections share works with students

By MATT CARBONE
News Writer

ND undergraduate English students in 1950, "were con- vinced, as poets, that we were the next closest things to priests and prophets," said John Engels, one of the speakers Tuesday at the lecture, "Poetry at Notre Dame."

Engels, a professor of English for 30 years at Saint Michael's College in Vermont and 1952 graduate of Notre Dame, spoke of his passion for poetry and literature at an early age. He told of how he switched majors at ND from architecture to English, and how he was "appreciative...of Notre Dame for beginning things for me."

Engels will receive the Sesquicentennial Poetry Prize Wednesday in the Library Auditorium at 7:30 p.m.

The third speaker was Ernest Sandeen, another published poet and teacher of English. He described how students he has taught have been returning decades later, renewing and deepening the friendships that they once had together.

All three read from their published works as part of the latest lecture in the "Sesquicentennial Series: Traditions of Learning at Notre Dame. This series, one part of the University's Sesquicen- tellary celebration, is designed to highlight the past and present excellence in Notre Dame aca- demics.

John Matthias was unable to attend due to illness, so James Walton, associate professor of English at Notre Dame, read one of Matthias' poems as a tribute.

Besides being the mediator of this lecture, Walton is also the editor of "the space between: Poems from Notre Dame, 1950-1990," a collection of poems of these and other Notre Dame poets which is now available in the bookstore.

the not for profit sector

the arts humanities
civic & public groups
community services
education
environmental health care/hospitals religion
social services etc.

Career and Volunteer Opportunities in Nonprofit Organizations

The decision, the jobs, the rewards and drawbacks, the salaries
• A former volunteer and nonprofit sector employee will share her experiences and suggestions

Thursday, February 20
4:30 -- 5:30 p.m.
The Center For Social Concerns

Paula Cook, Career and Placement Services
Mary Ann Roemer, The Center For Social Concerns

Correction

The wrong photograph was run with a story about a lecture by James VanderKam in Friday's Observer. The man pictured was James Fellain of Syracuse University. The Observer regrets the error.
HPC talks on election policies

By BECKY BARNES

Hall Presidents’ Council (HPC) will ask individual residence halls to review their election policies upon request of several council members at Tuesday’s meeting.

Knott Hall president Maureen Connelly and Greg Butrus, Stanford Hall president, noted that during the recent student body elections posters were torn down and prank phone calls were made.

Elections “shouldn’t become a personal thing where people attack you,” said Butrus.

Flanner Hall co-president Rich Delevan suggested that hall judicial boards could be used to enforce election rules. He added, “the system for elections could stand some scrutiny.”

Student Activities Director Joe Cassidy also announced a recruitment fair to be held Tuesday, March 25, at 4 p.m., in LaFortune for all those interested in obtaining LaFortune building management positions.

Seven positions are available including sound technicians, information desk attendants, game room monitors and building managers. Applications may be picked up at LaFortune information desk and are due Feb. 28.

Kathryn Pamber also announced the schedule for Sesquicentennial Student Week to be held March 17 through 21.

• Sunday: No events scheduled.
• Monday: St. Patrick’s Day, no events scheduled.
• Tuesday: “Ice cream Olympics” where freshmen and sophomores will compete against juniors and seniors to first devour a large ice cream sundae.
• Wednesday: Lou Holtz will give a motivational lecture at 7 p.m. in Stepan Center.
• Thursday: All night movies in Stepan Center starting at 9 p.m.
• Friday: Naz battle of the bands, 7 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Primavera continued from page 1

with the vote still being counted.

Democratic National Chairman Ronald Brown said the New Hampshire results put Bush “in incredible peril.”

“George Bush is a one-term president,” he said.

Clinton told his supporters in Merrimack that he “just can’t wait to take this campaign across the country—and I know ... in November we are going to win a great victory—against Pat Buchanan.”

Partial returns showed Buchanan running at about the pace Sen. Eugene McCarthy pulled in 1968, when he captured 42 percent of the Democratic primary vote as President Lyndon Johnson, who announced about three weeks later that he would not seek re-election.

Two subsequent presidents who lost substantial shares of the New Hampshire primary vote lost the following fall—Gerald Ford, who edged Ronald Reagan in the 1976 primary 50 percent to 49 percent; and Jimmy Carter, who topped Sen. Edward Kennedy in 1980, 47 percent to 37 percent.

Judge will not extradite alleged Libyan hijackers

TRIPOLI, Libya (AP) — A judge today rejected U.S. and British demands for the extradition of two Libyans charged in the bombing of Pan Am Flight 103.

Foreign journalists invited to Libya’s capital to attend a public hearing on the case were instead only shown the two suspects and prohibited from asking them any questions. One of the men told reporters they were innocent.

Judge Ahmed el-Tahib al-Zawi, who is heading the Libyan investigation, told reporters there would be no public hearing. “According to Libyan law, it is forbidden to make an investigation public,” he said.

The United States and Britain have charged that the two men are Libyan intelligence agents who planted the bomb that blew up the New York-bound jetliner over Lockerbie, Scotland, and killed 270 people in December 1988.

The U.N. Security Council demanded last week that Libya surrender the two men, Abdel Basset Ali al-Megrahi and Lamen Khalifa Fhimah. It also demanded four other Libyans be turned over to France to face charges in the bombing of a UTA plane over Africa in 1989 that killed 170 people.

Western nations have raised the possibility of economic sanctions if Libya defies the resolution. The United States and Britain also have not ruled out military action.

In Washington, State Department spokesman Richard Boucher said, “We don’t put much faith or credence in what a Libyan judge might say. We think that a Libyan investigation or a hearing is a travesty of justice, amounts to nothing more than another attempt by Libya to delay and to evade its responsibility.”

The judge insisted that under Libyan law the two suspects in the Lockerbie case could not be extradited for trial outside Libya.

“If convicted in a Libyan court and it is proved they blew up the airplane, with the intention of killing those aboard, the penalty of the Libyan court is absolutely severe. It is death,” al-Zawi said.

Libyan leader Moammar Gadhafi has denied the two men are government agents or were involved in the bombing. He has vowed not to hand them over to the United States or Britain, but has proposed a trial before an international body such as the World Court at The Hague, Netherlands.

The French case was not mentioned at the news conference. Al-Megrahi and Fhimah arrived at the Supreme Court building in a caravan of five police cars hours after the past reporters by two policemen armed with AK-47 rifles.
Gloom dominant mood at this N.H. precinct

PEMBROKE, N.H. (AP) — Banker Brian Tufts still hadn’t made up his mind as he walked to the clapboard Town Hall to cast his vote in New Hampshire’s presidential primary.

“It’s a tough choice, it really is,” said Tufts, a Republican. “The problem is that you hear so many promises and you know these people will never be able to do what they say they’re going to do. At this precinct, many New Hampshire voters unregistered by recession carried more resignation than hope to the polls Tuesday to deliver the first judgment of campaign 1992. Public opinion polls have favorably positioned the state’s economic woes, the issue that dominated the campaign, also left Democrats uninspired in this mill town-turned-bedroom community of 6,500.

“Frankly, I don’t think anybody has a clue about what to do with the economy,” Nick Harding said. “I’m afraid that perhaps New Hampshire will have to live with its own choices. Harding, a sales manager, voted for Nebraska Sen. Bob Kerrey because “he was the least disappointing” of the Democratic candidates.

President Bush’s Republican supporters said they would not hold the sour state of the economy against him. Some said they were voting for him because they wanted a stable leader.

Many of the “undeclareds” who kept pollsters and pundits guessing arrived at the polling places in a similarly dispirited frame of mind.

Keith Rich, a lawyer, wrote in “none of the above.”

“I don’t believe politicians are doing anything for the people,” said Richard, a denim-clad dairy farmer. “It doesn’t seem like they live in the same world we do.”

Two Pembroke residents backed Alabama Democrat Charles Woods. Another voted for Tom Laughtin, star of the “Billy Jack” films, and a third for consumer activist Ralph Nader.

“I didn’t want a professional politician,” summed up live-stock dealer Michael Chickering, who voted for Woods.

John French, a software engineer, cast a protest vote for conservative GOP challenger Patrick Buchanan.

“I don’t think George Bush understands what it’s like to work 14 hours a day and still not be able to put enough food on the table,” he said.

French was undecided until he read an article in which first lady Barbara Bush asked voters not to heed the “slippery slope” that could get them in the White House.

“I don’t want to support a man who’s against me,” said French.

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — The fear of death hung over Punjab on Tuesday, the eve of state legislative elections seen as a crucial battle between Sikh separatism and Indian unity.

Sikh gunmen opened fire Tuesday at a campaign gathering in southern Punjab, killing five people in what appeared to be a grim warning to prospective voters that militants have threatened to kill.

“It is a fight between bullet and ballot,” said Avtar Singh, a store owner in Amritsar, the Sikh holy city and center of the decade-old Sikh separatism. “This is your chance to tell the militants that they cannot break up the nation,” said a broadcaster on state television.

U.S., Russian subs collide

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy said Tuesday that a collision with its nuclear-powered attack submarine was hit, but apparently not damaged, by a Russian sub last week in the Arctic Ocean.

U.S. officials said they weren’t sure which vessel was at fault, but beyond the issue of blame lay a broader question: If the former Soviet Union is no longer a threat to U.S. security, why are American subs still prowling its coastline?

Pentagon officials said the USS Raton Rouge, a Los Angeles-class attack submarine whose home port is Norfolk, Va., was on a routine patrol in the Barents Sea at the time of the collision, but they would not discuss its mission or exact location.

There was no report of nuclear contamination in the area of the accident.

Private U.S. analysts said it seemed likely the Raton Rouge was on a reconnaissance mission and some questioned the need for continued U.S. surveillance of some of the new submarines at a time of dramatically improved political relations.

“The question is, why are we doing this kind of operation now? The Cold War is supposed to be over,” said James Bush, a retired Navy captain and submariner. “They really haven’t adjusted to the fact that the Cold War is over.”

ADM. Frank Kelso II, the Navy’s top uniformed officer as chief of naval operations adamantly refused to discuss the incident. But he stressed that the U.S. fleet would continue to operate as usual in international waters.

“The seas are free for everybody to operate in — ours, theirs, everybody else’s,” Kelso said in an interview with the AP. “I don’t think anything is going to change that.

“We’ve had that feeling since the beginning of this country, that we could move our ships and forces wherever we felt we needed to move them. That’s what John Paul Jones got his name for — driving ships in places where people might not have expected American ships to go. I don’t think this incident is going to change that.”

American officials have acknowledged that Soviet submarines no longer regularly patrol off the U.S. Atlantic shore.

The Defense Department said it was not the accident occurred Feb. 11, and that it waited a week to disclose it because Secretary of State James Baker wanted to discuss it with Russian President Boris Yeltsin before the announcement.

“Given the change in the nature of the relationship between Russia and the United States, we thought it best to notify Boris Yeltsin,” the department said in a brief statement.

Bob Bell, a Pentagon spokesman, said he believed it was the first time the department had announced a submarine collision although it was one of the not the first involving U.S. and Russian vessels. He said the mishap was disclosed in this case “because of the unusual nature of this incident.”

Bush and others say it appears the U.S. Navy intends to continue its monitoring of the Russian vessels, although concerned about political instability in the former Soviet republics and to watch disarmament moves.

Violence kills five in India on day before state elections

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — The fear of death hung over Punjab on Tuesday, the eve of state legislative elections seen as a crucial battle between Sikh separatism and Indian unity.

Police said 11 militiamen, including five in police uniforms, were killed Tuesday in southern Punjab, killing five people in what appeared to be a grim warning to prospective voters that militants have threatened to kill.

“Not only are we in building areas, but we are also in the heart of the Sikh-dominated districts,” a police official said.

The elections were scheduled to begin Wednesday.

Social work career and education fair

SOCIAL WORK CAREER AND EDUCATION FAIR

WHEN: Feb. 20th
WHERE: Saint Mary’s College, LeMans Lobby
TIME: 11:00 AM - 4:00 PM
(18 Agencies Represented)
Looking for information about Social Service jobs?

When the Great American Dream isn’t great enough

OBC JAPAN

OBC English Conversation School is offering full time teaching positions beginning in July 1992.

Excellent working conditions, benefits, and salary

Open to ALL majors.

Career and Placement Services
February 24, 25, 26

Have you considered

THE HOLY CROSS CANDIDATE YEAR?

A one-year program at Moreau Seminary at the University of Notre Dame for college graduates interested in exploring the possibility of a lifetime of service as a Holy Cross priest or brother.

Scholarship assistance is available.

Call or write for information:
Fr. Brian Conley, C.S.C.
Congregation of Holy Cross
Box 541
Notre Dame, Indiana 46556
(219) 239-6385
Debates

continued from page 1

in response to some judges not being able to go to the debate. None of the dorms used this option.

At the first preliminary round on Feb. 4th, four out of the eleven dorms only had one judge for their debates. Listerman, who is in charge of scheduling judges, said that she did not have a good feel for judges who would commit and there may have been a通讯 error. According to Listerman, it was difficult to get schedules out on such a short notice. John Mulhern, Pangborn's team captain, said, "The posting of the rounds seemed unorganized and we received them later than we usually do." The second preliminary round on Feb. 8th, the rounds had enough judges thanks to law students stepping in.

A cloud of vagueness arose at the third preliminary round on Feb. 12th. An optional round was introduced this year to accommodate the lack of judges, said Listerman. It would not be a disadvantage if teams chose not to participate in this round, she said.

On Feb. 12th, three dorms, who initially had agreed to participate in this round, forfeited by not showing up. Listerman said that she explained the policy about the optional meeting during both preliminary meetings held before the debates. The team captains members were required to go to those meetings.

But some of the team captains still did not understand the policy. "I did not understand what it meant and it was confusing," said Mulhern. Dave Certo, Alumni's team captain, said after last Tuesday's debate, "I still do not understand the idea of the optional round."

Garcia admits, it was kind of rough at first to organize items because last year's committee had left their notes in an unorganized box." She wishes that the committee had been brought together sooner.

Listerman suggested that those who had helped the committee may have had a misconduct communication problem. Last December, the committee asked HPC for their dorms' entry fees and rosters. Listerman said that up until the first debate, some members had just given the entry fees.

She added that they had not received all rosters as of this week.

Judges are not allowed to confer on their decisions. "The role of the moderator, at the rounds, were to keep the judges separate as they decided their decision," said Garcia.

At Tuesday's quarterfinal rounds, Garcia noticed that some of the judges had conferred with each other about their decision. She pointed out that not only had the moderators known this but it was in the handbook and instructions.

Team captains Certo and Mulhern both said that it seemed that advertising was not as extensive this year. Garcia said that ads were virtually the same but they chose to eliminate this.

We are here for students to learn about new platforms and to allow them to voice their opinions," stated Garcia.

But Rich Delevan, Flanner's team captain, said, "I think the iceberg debates have been hurt as a tradition."
Rhattigan gets vote... with reservations

The three tickets running for the offices of Saint Mary’s student body president and vice president debated Monday night, and of these three, the ticket led by Colleen Rhattigan deserves your vote primarily because of their vast experience in Student Government.

However, we hope they were paying attention at the debate. Their opponents had fresh ideas and enthusiasm that the Rhattigan ticket lacked. Unfortunately, the overall balance of these tickets was too weak to merit an endorsement.

Katie Damm showed tremendous energy in her presentation and goals. She believes strongly in the pride of Saint Mary’s and the potential of the students. However, the ticket lacked unity, and her running mates appeared weak beside her. Tina Carrara’s ticket also displayed enthusiasm and commitment. The ticket’s limited experience, though, showed in several naive proposals.

Rhattigan’s ticket offers a strong background in student government. Rhattigan has served three years on the Board of Governance in addition to holding class offices for two years. Martha Marzolf and Ann Grant have also been actively involved in campus organizations and held class offices.

They have proposed several concrete goals for the upcoming year. Security issues include a safety map, seminars on such concerns as date rape and self defense, separate phone lines for information and security.

To improve the quality of student life, proposals will be made for cable television, video rental service and a campus information and calendar board. Academically, the Rhattigan ticket hopes to improve library conditions, implement final exam study days and strengthen the ties of academic clubs.

While we commend the experience and goals of the Rhattigan ticket, we endorse them with reservations and challenge them to act aggressively in the best interest of the students. Although they have committed themselves to listening to student concerns, they need to show the student body that they will act for change.

These candidates carry impressive résumés and a platform of current student government endeavors, but lack enthusiasm for innovation and change. If the ticket incorporates fresh ideas and pro-active goals into their agenda, Rhattigan, Marzolf and Grant might be able to make the difference that Saint Mary’s needs.

Voting

Voting at Saint Mary’s College will take place on Thursday, February 20. Students may vote in both sides of the Dining Hall at lunch and dinner.
Student Body Elections

Rhattigan/Marzolf/Grant

Statement

What can we, the Rhattigan-Marzolf-Grant ticket do for you, the student body of Saint Mary’s College? As Saint Mary’s Mission “promotes a life of intellectual vigor, aesthetic appreciation, religious sensibility, and social responsibility,” we, as Student Body Officers, are dedicated to making this mission a reality.

As last year was actually the first year in which the newly structured Student Government took effect, we have adapted well, and feel confident to begin critically examining this structure, to ensure continued success in the future. We plan on utilizing policy committees to meet the changing needs of the student body.

Because your voice must be heard, our Student Government meetings will be conducted in each of your residence halls periodically, so that you can discuss your concerns with the Student Government officers, as well as gain insight into the various roles of Student Government. Also, we will conduct Student Body Open Forums, in which pertinent issues will be raised and addressed.

Dealing with safety on- and off-campus, we have developed a strong program to provide a safe environment for all. We will provide all students with a Saint Mary’s/South Bend Community Safety Map. This map will highlight the high crime areas on campus, as well as off campus and what we, as students, can do to safeguard ourselves.

This effort will be a collaborative one between the SMC Security and the South Bend Police, to create greater overall safety awareness. After last year’s successful implementation of the date rape seminar during Freshman Orientation, we plan to continue this, and propose to offer credited security and self-defense seminars led by SMC Security & South Bend Police. Also, we propose to create two separate Security and Information lines, so that students in emergency situations, will not be denied immediate help.

Dedicated to the personal and social growth of its students, we will create a more appealing campus student life, and propose providing cable in all residence halls as well as Haggard College Center. Also, we will install a video vending machine or create a video library in Haggard, so that students are not forced to go off-campus in order to rent movies.

Creating a campus-wide information Calendar Board will also provide the on and off-campus students more insight into campus programming at a central location. Lastly, increasing the transparency of the student body as well as the administration will not be denied immediate help.

Profile

Student Body President: Colleen Rhattigan

Residence: LeMans Hall

Major: Finance/Marketing

Year in School: 1993

Experience: Vice President of the Academic Affairs & College Relations, Chairwoman of the Student Academic Council, 3-year Voting Member of Board of Governance, Student Representative on Academic Curriculum Committee, Student Representative on Academic Affairs Task Force, President

Sophomore Class, President of Freshman Class

Vice President Student Affairs: Martha Marzolf

Residence: LeMans Hall

Major: Marketing

Year in School: 1993

Experience: President of the Junior Class, One of the Chairwoman of the Student Alliance for Women’s Colleges, Voting Member of the Board of Governance, Proper Representative on the Long Range Planning Committee, Vice President of Holy Cross Hall

Vice President Academic Affairs: Ann Grant

Residence: McCandless Hall

Library hours: 2 a.m. and providing better lightening will improve the current study condition.

Continuing to garner academic excellence, the Rhattigan-Marzolf-Grant ticket proposes student leaders to be involved as much as possible in the Alumnae Speaker’s Series.

Also, by working with the Publicity Task Force, we can strengthen the ties of the Academic Clubs on campus and increase the attendance of their events.

Our own conviction of a women’s college education is exemplified by our combined past experience. The Rhattigan-Marzolf-Grant ticket is dedicated to make a difference today on campus.

Carrara/McCormick/Wilkinson

Statement

The Carrara ticket, comprised of MaryBeth Wilkinson, Julie McCormick, and Tina Carrara, plans to unite the Saint Mary’s College community by strengthening Student Government, enriching social interaction, and igniting academic interest. The ticket, known as Women Making Changes, wants to utilize Saint Mary’s esteemed resources: faculty members, clubs and organizations, and student energy, for the benefit of the entire campus.

First, Women Making Changes wants to educate students about the structure of Saint Mary’s Student Government. Often, Student Government is misunderstood and viewed as a sprawling mass of bureaucratic confusion. The WMC ticket proposes to streamline communication so that interaction between students, faculty, and the administration is orderly, efficient, and personable.

Furthermore, we hope to heighten student influence on campus by emphasizing relations with Student Alliances of Women’s Colleges and by strengthening Alumnae-Student Relations.

Second, WMC plans to refresh the intellectual life at Saint Mary’s. Faculty and student body relations are weak outside the classroom setting. We intend to: 1) investigate the selection process of Student Council Academic Representatives and, 2) draw professors into lively academic/social events with students.

Additionally, WMC wants to revive a past tradition of an Alumnae speaker series; a vast network of capable, successful, and intelligent women will provide inspiration for the future and promote appreciation for the school.

Third, Women Making Changes plans to improve the quality of social events by increasing financial resources. Currently, clubs and organizations lack sufficient funds for projects.

Profile

Student Body President: Julie McCormick

Residence: Cross Hall

Major: Political Science and Spanish

Year in School: 1993

Experience: Treasurer of Student Activities, International Club, PRISM, Proper Response to Improve Saint Mary’s

Vice President Academic Affairs: Mary Beth Wilkinson

Residence: Holy Cross Hall

Major: Economics and English Writing

Year in School: 1993

Experience: Secretary of Student Activities Board, Holy Cross Hall Council, Volleyball Team, Pre-Law Society, Political Science Club, ACU-IL Leadership Conference

Three goals for 1992-93:

1) Streamline communication between students, faculty and administration in order to heighten student influence on campus.

2) Refresh the intellectual life at Saint Mary’s through reform of the selection process of Student Council Academic Representatives, as well as increasing efforts to draw professors into academic/social events with students, and reviving alumnae speaker series.

3) Improve quality of social events by increasing financial resources available to student clubs and organizations.

Mary Beth Wilkinson, Tina Carrara, Julie McCormick

Women Making Changes wants to unite the Saint Mary’s College—politically, academically, and socially. With experience, we bring to the table a team of students and faculty that prepares for a campus-wide coalition of student energy, aspiration, and intellect. Please support progress...vote for WMC for SMC.
Our Town

Thornton Wilder's vision of small town life urges the living to appreciate the little things

By PAIGE SMORON
Assistant Accent Editor

With New Hampshire swamped this week with political hype, it is ironic that "Our Town" opens tonight at Washington Hall, with its depiction of a kinder, gentler New Hampshire.

Thornton Wilder's nostalgic play about turn-of-the-century everyday life is set in Grover's Corners, New Hampshire, but represents any small town in America, according to Tom Barkes, house manager of Washington Hall.

"The play focuses on the mundane activity of life," says Barkes. "Trivialities take on extreme importance when you realize that life is precious."

"Our Town," one of four plays sponsored this year by the Department of Communication and Theater, features a stage manager, played by Rachel Zutell, who almost disconcertingly narrates, directs, and comments on the action onstage.

Zutell invites the audience watch the love story of Emily Webb, played by Katy Blakey, and George Gibbs, played by Chris Murphy, from their awkward adolescent beginnings until Emily's untimely death in childbirth.

As they fall in love, life obliviously goes on around them.

The set is simple, but Zutell prompts the audience to visualize buildings, characters, and even trees. "Here are some trellises, for those of you who have to have scenery," chides Zutell.

The stage manager converses directly with the audience in 1901. Zutell jumps back and forth in time, and occasionally will invite a character on stage, "just for fun," says Zutell.

"The play focuses on the mundane, but Zutell's style is humorous," says Murphy.

The audience feels her frustration as she observes an insignificant day early in her life with her as she realizes that the living don't appreciate living. She cries, "Just for a moment, let's all be happy. Let's look at one another."

Performances of "Our Town" will run from tonight until Saturday, at 8:10 p.m. at Washington Hall.

Tickets are $7 for reserved seats, and are available at the door or in advance at the LaFortune Student Center Box Office.
The release of Oliver Stone's film "JFK" has sparked Americans to search for the answers to the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. There is much evidence from that November day, but much of it is questionable, difficult to sift through, and geared to formulate any sort of theory. Several theories have sprung up over the years as a result of studies such as those conducted by the Warren Commission and the House Select Committee on Assassination. James Ward, a practicing CPA and professor at Notre Dame, has studied and researched the assassination thoroughly. Ward has developed his own opinion as to what occurred on that infamous day in Dallas.

On November 22, 1963, Kennedy arrived in Dallas via Air Force One at about noon. He was on a trip that was to help quell the ongoing dispute between the two Democratic factions in Texas and to gain a foothold there for the upcoming election. He arranged a motorcade so that he could make a favorable impression on the Texans.

The motorcade travelled through Dallas during lunch hour so that Kennedy would receive maximum exposure to the people of Dallas. Everything was going beautifully, and he was greeted on every street block by hordes of cheering supporters.

Toward the end of the route the crowds began to thin, and the motorcade took a sharp turn onto Elm Street, which caused the pace to slow. The 31-car caravan had only a short distance to travel through Dealey Plaza before it exited onto the freeway, but about three seconds into the drive down Elm Street, shots rang out. Kennedy had been fatally shot.

Ward was a young boy at the time of the assassination. He shared his hometown with Kennedy, and he distinctly remembers the time when the Kennedys travelled through his town on a campaign trip. The Kennedys’ car pulled up to a stoplight at the intersection where Ward was standing, and Ward ran up to the car and hopped up onto the running board. The friendliness and the charisma of the Kennedys touched the young Ward and left a lasting impression with him.

Ward has dedicated much time and effort in research to those six seconds of shooting and the days that followed. "I am a researcher, not a critic," stresses Ward. Perhaps he just wanted to answer a few questions for himself.

The main questions in the case concern the actual shooting. How many shots were fired? Who fired the bullets? Where were the shots fired from? As with much of the evidence in the Kennedy assassination, there is not one clear answer, and any theory can be disputed. Ward believes that one "must not trust any one source or even the basic evidence and testimony, belief and trust have long been part of the problem."

Regarding the question of how many shots were fired, Ward finds that "the bulk of the evidence points to four shots. Two to four bullets could have caused Kennedy's wounds, and Texas Gov. John B. Connally, Jr., who was also in the vehicle but survived the shooting, could have been hit by one to three bullets."

"The evidence against (Lee Harvey) Oswald is impressive," states Ward, "but there is no evidence that he shot more than once. Also, Oswald was known to be a bad shot, and it would be next to impossible for him to fire three shots in less than six seconds with a bolt-action rifle that retailed for three dollars at a moving car, and hit his target. So where did the other shots come from?"

The grassy knoll in Dealey Plaza is apparently the answer. With shrubbery to conceal the sniper, and a clear line of fire, it provided an ideal location for the shooting. The Zapruder film which recorded the assassination shows the sharp backward movement of Kennedy's head, and the backward spray of blood and tissue onto the rear of the car.

"These are very strong indicators of a shot from the right front," which was the location of the grassy knoll, says Ward. The police acoustical tape shows evidence that a shot was fired from the knoll. Many witnesses testified to hearing shots from the knoll, smelling gunpowder, and seeing a flash of light there.

A witness saw a man fleeing from the knoll immediately after the shooting. Due to poor police coverage the area was not sealed off, and witnesses and possible suspects were lost forever.

The murder of Oswald complicated the case even further. Two days after the assassination he was shot by Jack Ruby while being transported into a more secure prison. Reliable witnesses have provided evidence showing that Oswald and Ruby may have known each other prior to the assassination. Ruby's motives are still unknown, and many critics have used the murder of Oswald to support their theories of conspiracy.

Kennedy's assassination was one of the most tragic episodes in American history. Kennedy was young, handsome, and charismatic. To the nation he represented youth, energy, and idealism, and he conveyed to the hearts what our brains tell us is the truth.

His life was brutally taken away from him, and the art was seen and felt by millions of viewers who grieved the death of their president. Americans immediately demanded answers, but a concrete answer has never been found.

Many of the "answered" questions are shady and subject to criticism. "Don't park your mind while your heart is running," advises Ward. "What we need to do is go back and re-examine the basic points of contention in this case and be willing, as we investigate, a search with our hearts what our brains tell us is the truth."

Ward has tried to do this, acting only as a researcher, and basing his opinions only on the factual evidence. Still, America asks for something more concrete. After so many investigations, and so few answers, Americans' questions may be left unanswered forever.
 Classifieds

NOTICES

USED TEXTBOOKS! Buy & Sell Books USED TEXTBOOKS! to have them back. If you know

Lost and Found

LOST: CAMERA IN BLACK BAG with WITH TIMETAG JWP. Call DAVID AT 283-3431 OR

FOUND: MAN'S DIGITAL WATCH BETWEEN SECTIONS F & PE JWP. CALL JEN BETTER AT 257

NEED: MONEY OR IDENTIFICATION FOR LARGE 4-BR, FURNISHED, POOL Table, Security System, 2

ORGANIZERS Field training and

YOU'RE NOT IN THE WRONG.

TO THE PUBLICATION STAFF: I am writing to express my concern regarding the manner in which the observations and experiences shared by certain individuals are portrayed in the classified advertisements section of the newspaper. The language used is disrespectful and potentially harmful to those individuals. As a member of the community, I urge the editors to consider implementing policies that ensure the content of these advertisements aligns with principles of respect and inclusivity. I look forward to hearing your thoughts and actions in this matter.

SUSAN

TRICK OR TREAT CALL X3414 -

STUDENT LEFT BEHIND? THE POOL!!!! CALL X3414 -

257-8042.

To that long-haired guy...

THE LIZARD KING lives on! Down with

THANKS FOR THE WONDERFUL

To that long-haired guy...

15 RUINING THE RIDE!!

Hi! I was wondering if I could have my teepee, and, no, not

WE RE IT AND THAT'S THAT!

NORTH STAR 10306 E. Live Oak Ave., Arcadia CA 91007

V is for VIGILANCE

Mamas don't let your babies grow up to be Wayans, Mims and the

Thank you for the

6.) I think I need to be adopted by

HERE TO WORK!

NEED 5 UCLA GA TIX

LUNCH CLOWN?

THANKS FOR THE WONDERFUL

For Bruce:

I think that there are

TO THE PUBLICATION STAFF: I am writing to express my concern regarding the manner in which the observations and experiences shared by certain individuals are portrayed in the classified advertisements section of the newspaper. The language used is disrespectful and potentially harmful to those individuals. As a member of the community, I urge the editors to consider implementing policies that ensure the content of these advertisements aligns with principles of respect and inclusivity. I look forward to hearing your thoughts and actions in this matter.

SUSAN

YOU'RE NOT IN THE WRONG.

WE RE IT AND THAT'S THAT!

NORTH STAR 10306 E. Live Oak Ave., Arcadia CA 91007

V is for VIGILANCE

Mamas don't let your babies grow up to be Wayans, Mims and the

Thank you for the

6.) I think I need to be adopted by

HERE TO WORK!

NEED 5 UCLA GA TIX

LUNCH CLOWN?

THANKS FOR THE WONDERFUL

For Bruce:

I think that there are

TO THE PUBLICATION STAFF: I am writing to express my concern regarding the manner in which the observations and experiences shared by certain individuals are portrayed in the classified advertisements section of the newspaper. The language used is disrespectful and potentially harmful to those individuals. As a member of the community, I urge the editors to consider implementing policies that ensure the content of these advertisements aligns with principles of respect and inclusivity. I look forward to hearing your thoughts and actions in this matter.

SUSAN

YOU'RE NOT IN THE WRONG.

WE RE IT AND THAT'S THAT!

NORTH STAR 10306 E. Live Oak Ave., Arcadia CA 91007

V is for VIGILANCE

Mamas don't let your babies grow up to be Wayans, Mims and the

Thank you for the

6.) I think I need to be adopted by

HERE TO WORK!

NEED 5 UCLA GA TIX

LUNCH CLOWN?

THANKS FOR THE WONDERFUL

For Bruce:

I think that there are

TO THE PUBLICATION STAFF: I am writing to express my concern regarding the manner in which the observations and experiences shared by certain individuals are portrayed in the classified advertisements section of the newspaper. The language used is disrespectful and potentially harmful to those individuals. As a member of the community, I urge the editors to consider implementing policies that ensure the content of these advertisements aligns with principles of respect and inclusivity. I look forward to hearing your thoughts and actions in this matter.

SUSAN

YOU'RE NOT IN THE WRONG.

WE RE IT AND THAT'S THAT!

NORTH STAR 10306 E. Live Oak Ave., Arcadia CA 91007

V is for VIGILANCE

Mamas don't let your babies grow up to be Wayans, Mims and the

Thank you for the

6.) I think I need to be adopted by

HERE TO WORK!

NEED 5 UCLA GA TIX

LUNCH CLOWN?

THANKS FOR THE WONDERFUL

For Bruce:

I think that there are

TO THE PUBLICATION STAFF: I am writing to express my concern regarding the manner in which the observations and experiences shared by certain individuals are portrayed in the classified advertisements section of the newspaper. The language used is disrespectful and potentially harmful to those individuals. As a member of the community, I urge the editors to consider implementing policies that ensure the content of these advertisements aligns with principles of respect and inclusivity. I look forward to hearing your thoughts and actions in this matter.

SUSAN

YOU'RE NOT IN THE WRONG.

WE RE IT AND THAT'S THAT!

NORTH STAR 10306 E. Live Oak Ave., Arcadia CA 91007

V is for VIGILANCE

Mamas don't let your babies grow up to be Wayans, Mims and the

Thank you for the

6.) I think I need to be adopted by

HERE TO WORK!

NEED 5 UCLA GA TIX

LUNCH CLOWN?

THANKS FOR THE WONDERFUL

For Bruce:

I think that there are

TO THE PUBLICATION STAFF: I am writing to express my concern regarding the manner in which the observations and experiences shared by certain individuals are portrayed in the classified advertisements section of the newspaper. The language used is disrespectful and potentially harmful to those individuals. As a member of the community, I urge the editors to consider implementing policies that ensure the content of these advertisements aligns with principles of respect and inclusivity. I look forward to hearing your thoughts and actions in this matter.

SUSAN

YOU'RE NOT IN THE WRONG.

WE RE IT AND THAT'S THAT!

NORTH STAR 10306 E. Live Oak Ave., Arcadia CA 91007

V is for VIGILANCE

Mamas don't let your babies grow up to be Wayans, Mims and the

Thank you for the

6.) I think I need to be adopted by

HERE TO WORK!

NEED 5 UCLA GA TIX

LUNCH CLOWN?
Lindros, Canada squeak by Germany

MERBEL, France (AP) — Mats Naslund of Sweden defeated Frank Toerkell of Finland, 12-11, to earn the bronze medal at the Winter Olympics.

Canada defeated West Germany, 5-3, in the deciding quarterfinal of the hockey tournament.

Canada took the lead with a goal by Scott Hartnell at 10:58 of the first period. Hartnell scored on a breakaway after a turnover by the German defense.

Canada's Eric Lindros added a goal at 15:01 of the first period to make it 2-0. The goal was reviewed by the linesman to ensure it wasn't a scoring chance.

West Germany's top player was Thomas Steinhoff, who was named the game's top scorer.

“Canada deserved the win,” said Steinhoff. “We played well, but we made too many mistakes.”

Canada will face the United States in the gold medal game.

The United States defeated Czechoslovakia, 4-3, in overtime.

The game was tied 3-3 after regulation, and the teams went to overtime. Canada scored the overtime goal to win 4-3.

Canada's Andrew Berg scored the game-winner at 1:09 of the overtime period.

“Overtime is our specialty,” said Berg. “We like playing in the third period.”

The United States' top player was Mike Modano, who scored two goals in the game.

The men's hockey tournament at the Winter Olympics ended with a gripping overtime game.

Canada and the United States battled for the gold medal, with the game going to a deciding overtime period.

Canada scored the overtime goal to win 4-3, and the gold medal.

“This is the greatest joy to win two Olympic titles in a row,” said Canada's Eric Lindros.

There was a point at which Canada's gold medal was in doubt. At the first intermediate time on the second run, it was .32 seconds behind Girardelli, actually in 12th place.

"I was told that Marc had been very fast, but I did not know exactly his time," said Toerkell.

By the second intermediate time, Toerkell had picked up nearly .15, and then he really went to work. At a little better than 6-foot and nearly 200 pounds, he looked like Dick Butkus charging down the hill. Did the gate move out of the way?

The snow flew as he leaned his body into each turn. He lurched down the hill like Butkus in pursuit of a scrambling Fran Tarkenton, and when he catapultated over the goal line, he was a big winner in the game. No bigger winner than Toerkell.

Tombaski, Canada's gold medal winner, as he moved on to the medal ceremony.

Lindros, Canada squeak by Germany

By the second intermediate time, Toerkell had picked up nearly .15, and then he really went to work. At a little better than 6-foot and nearly 200 pounds, he looked like Dick Butkus charging down the hill. Did the gate move out of the way?

The snow flew as he leaned his body into each turn. He lurched down the hill like Butkus in pursuit of a scrambling Fran Tarkenton, and when he catapultated over the goal line, he was a big winner in the game. No bigger winner than Toerkell.

Tombaski, Canada's gold medal winner, as he moved on to the medal ceremony.
NEW YORK (AP) - New York Mets right-hander David Cone was awarded a record $4.25 million arbitration last winter to Pittsburgh Pirates right-hander Doug Drabek.

"We felt it would be a difficult case to win after the recent contracts awarded to similar pitchers, specifically when comparing it to Greg Maddux's contract," Mets general manager Al Harazin said. "We're delighted that arbitration season is over and we're ready to start playing baseball again. We hope David has a great season." Cone's agent, Stephen Fehr and Richard Moss, compared their client to Chuck Finley of California, who will average $4,625,000 in a four-year deal, and to the Chicago Cubs' Maddux, who signed for $4.2 million.

Sierra hit .307 last season with 25 homers and 116 RBIs and made $2.65 million. He was offered $1.8 million by Texas and the sides were set to argue this afternoon before arbitrator William Bonfiglio.

Bennett prepared to argue his case for $5 million for the win.

"We felt it would be a difficult case to win after the recent contracts awarded to similar pitchers, specifically when comparing it to Greg Maddux's contract," Mets general manager Al Harazin said. "We're delighted that arbitration season is over and we're ready to start playing baseball again. We hope David has a great season." Cone's agent, Stephen Fehr and Richard Moss, compared their client to Chuck Finley of California, who will average $4,625,000 in a four-year deal, and to the Chicago Cubs' Maddux, who signed for $4.2 million.

Sierra hit .307 last season with 25 homers and 116 RBIs and made $2.65 million. He was offered $1.8 million by Texas and the sides were set to argue this afternoon before arbitrator William Bonfiglio.

Bennett prepared to argue his case for $5 million for the win.

"We felt it would be a difficult case to win after the recent contracts awarded to similar pitchers, specifically when comparing it to Greg Maddux's contract," Mets general manager Al Harazin said. "We're delighted that arbitration season is over and we're ready to start playing baseball again. We hope David has a great season." Cone's agent, Stephen Fehr and Richard Moss, compared their client to Chuck Finley of California, who will average $4,625,000 in a four-year deal, and to the Chicago Cubs' Maddux, who signed for $4.2 million.

Sierra hit .307 last season with 25 homers and 116 RBIs and made $2.65 million. He was offered $1.8 million by Texas and the sides were set to argue this afternoon before arbitrator William Bonfiglio.

Bennett prepared to argue his case for $5 million for the win.
Fetisov's overtime goal gives Devils sixth straight, 4-3

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) — Vyacheslav Fetisov scored on a 45-foot shot from the left circle 1:42 into overtime (AP) — Via cheslav Fetisov's overtime goal gives Devils sixth straight, 4-3 decisions. The Devils beat the Flyers 4-3 in overtime last night. Chris Terreri, shown here against Detroit, has not lost in his last nine games for New Jersey and it scored twice as the Pittsburgh Penguins stopped a 0-4-2 skid with their fifth win in the last 20 games. Toronto came into the game on a 9-2-1 roll.

Penguins 7, Maple Leafs 1 PITTSBURGH (AP) — Joe Mullen scored three goals in the first period and Ron Francis scored twice as the Pittsburgh Penguins ended a season-worst six-game winless streak and beat the Toronto Maple Leafs 7-1 Tuesday night.

The Penguins stopped a 0-4-2 skid with their fifth win in the last 20 games. Toronto came into the game on a 9-2-1 roll.

Mullen, who had just five goals in 20 games from Dec. 28 through Feb. 15, has matched that total in his last two games. The hat trick was his third of the season and 10th of his career.

Nordiques 4, North Stars 0 QUEBEC (AP) — Owen Nolan scored his 30th goal and added two assists as the Quebec Nordiques, behind John Tanner's first NHL shutout, snapped a 10-game winless string by beating the Minnesota North Stars 4-0.

The North Stars, who were coming off an 0-6 whipping in Montreal a night earlier, managed 32 shots at Tanner. The Quebec netminder won for the first time since Oct. 29, 1990, when he was in goal for a 5-2 victory over Detroit. Since that victory, Tanner was the target of 11 in games, tying two and losing nine, including an 0-5-1 mark this season.

Besides ending a personal drought, Tanner brought relief to coaches like Montreal's Paul MacLean, who had only two ties in their last 10 games and had won only once in their last 13.

AP File Photo

Chris Terreri, shown here against Detroit, has not lost in his last nine decisions. The Devils beat the Flyers 4-3 in overtime last night.

Celebrate Black History Month with Books from Little Professor

Enjoy the Voices of a Proud History with words that offer hope for the future words that tutor for all ages

African Americans have a proud tradition of people helping people — to realize your own dreams for the United States.

You'll live and work for two years in one of the top research/development centers in the world, work will pay you back. Consider these competitive benefits:

• $5,400 "in the bank" after the first year

• housing & living expenses

• student loan deferment, partial Perkins loan

• competitive benefits, vacation & medical leave

• for individuals with disabilities, additional support services

PDF: Click for a PDF version of this information.

To request a PDF, please call us at (219) 277-4888.
NEW YORK (AP) — Actors often do odd-jobs between assignments. Ray Mancini has decided that between roles he will fight.

Mancini once fought well enough to win a piece of the world lightweight title, but he hasn't fought since March 3, 1989, and that was his only match since he failed to regain the WBA lightweight title Feb. 16, 1985.

So why, reporters wanted to know, has Mancini decided to fight a tough customer like Greg Haugen, also a former lightweight champion, who has had 20 fights since 1985, three of them last year?

"Starving actor," Haugen gave as Mancini's reason for signing to fight him a 12-round junior welterweight match April 3 at Reno, Nev.

Each fighter reportedly will make about $500,000, a sum that would cover a lot of odd-jobs, but Mancini maintains it's not money that is bringing him back.

With the man they call Boom Boom, it seems the ring lights still shine brighter than the footlights, although in the last 1 1/2 years he has had parts in three films and a role in the off-Broadway play "Sit Down: Conversations with the Mob."

"I want to see how I stand with the top fighters, right now," the 30-year Mancini said Tuesday at news conference, adding that a hard fight is part of the challenge.

"I know if I put $20 down the price for the pay-per-view show is $19.95, I want to know what I'm buying," Mancini said. "I think most fans want to know they're buying an action fight. They want an action fight."

The styles of the fighters seem to guarantee an action fight.

Although Mancini hasn't fought since losing a 12-round decision to Hector Camacho, he said he hasn't considered himself retired. It's just that he's been busy acting and that he couldn't find a fight he wanted.

"I'm taking it one fight at a time, but I'd like to fight three times this year," Mancini said. "I'd like go to Europe to fight and then fight Chavez (triple champion Julio Cesar Chavez)," Mancini said. "Who knows?" Haugen knows, or thinks he knows.

"Ray, you couldn't beat me in your prime," Haugen said. "Now you're 10 years past it."

"You're older than me," Mancini said.

The 31-year-old Haugen smiled. He looked like actor whose found a good script.

The Observer/ Andrew McCloskey

David DiLucia, pictured here in 1990, beat Kevin Curren in the first round of the U.S. Pro Indoor Tournament yesterday, 7-5, 3-6, 6-4.
USA wins 4-1, moves into semis

MERIBEL, France (AP) — Whether the U.S. hockey team is building its way through the Olympic tournament or just doing what it takes to win, it keeps driving closer to its goal of golden glory.

Scuffles and skirmishes marked another game but didn’t prevent the Americans from beating France 4-1 Tuesday night and moving within sight of the gold-medal game.

“The bottom line is we win and people can say whatever they want,” U.S. captain Clark Donato said. “I don’t think we’re a dirty team. We’re a hard-working team.”

Some French players didn’t entirely agree.

“They didn’t play dirty during the game except for five minutes at the end,” Philippe Bouzon said. “They have to play physically. I don’t think they’re going to stop now.”

The United States (5-0-1) advanced to Friday’s semifinal against the winner of Wednesday’s Finland-United States game. Belgium is assured of no worse than fourth place, are in the Olympic medal round for the first time since winning the 1980 gold medal.

While Tuesday’s game was less intense than the United States-Sweden match the day before, when defenseman Greg Brown was sent to the hospital by Mats Naslund’s hit on forward Alexei Morozov 1:12 into the second period, Donato’s first-period goal was good.

“Donato assisted on Ylonen’s goal, between Ylonen’s pads. The French people were going crazy. It was loud. We needed something to quiet them down.”

Donato also assisted on Hedican’s and Naslund’s goals. The Americans won 4-1.

“You think the players were looking at each other (during the handshake), wondering if fights were going to start again,” he said.

Added teammate Perez:

“Why did they do that at the end of the match when they were leading 4-1?”

Hedican said the Americans just do what they’ve got to do.

“We’re a fast team and we can skate with anybody and we’re a tough team, too,” he said.

“Teams might just get a little more fight up against us. It goes both ways, you know?”

Donato scored twice in a 3:16 span of the second period, breaking open a 1-1 game, silencing the home-crewed cheers of “Allez la France!” (Go France!) and eliciting chants of “U-S-A! U-S-A!” from a vocal minority of U.S. fans.

“Thats what we needed,” Marty McInnis said. “The French people were going crazy. It was loud. We needed something to quiet them down.”

Donato had a role in the next goal as he assisted on McInnis’ third-period goal.

Ray LeBlanc, who allowed three goals in the final 13:39 of the 3-3 tie with Sweden, made 35 saves. He has allowed only eight goals while playing all 360 minutes of the tournament.

“I knew he was a great goalie,” McInnis said. “But I didn’t think he was unbelievable like this.”

France (2-4), making its first medal-round appearance, carried the play and scored the only goal of the opening period.

Stephanne Barin, who got into a pushing match with U.S. defenseman Moe Mantha after players shook hands after a Feb. 4 pre-Olympic game between the clubs, stole Mantha’s blind back-pass in American ice and slapped a shot from the right circle through LeBlanc’s pads.

The U.S. team looked no more inspired early in the second.

France thought it had taken a two-goal lead after a pileup in front of the net, but referee Georg McCorry said LeBlanc gloved the puck before it crossed the goal line. Television replays were inconclusive.

America got its first power play of the game at 4:03 of the second period and looked lost, as players ran into each other and passes failed to click.

As the power play neared its end, however, the United States regained control in French ice. Petri Ylonen stopped Sean Hill’s shot, he be point before Keith Tkachuk huffed the puck over the fallen goal tender, making it 1-1 at 5:28.

Thanks to Donato, America gained control of the game.

He got his first goal at 8:13, kicking in a rebound of McInnis’ shot. The French protested that the goal should have been disallowed because they felt Donato intentionally kicked the puck over the net. But McCorry immediately signaled that it was a goal.

McInnis had a role in the next goal, too, sliding a pass under defender Michel LeBlanc in front to Donato, who scored on a pad save.

Brown, who suffered a concussion, a broken nose and a 12-stitch cut against Sweden, got out of the hospital Tuesday morning but didn’t play against France. He might be available Friday.
The Observer

Wednesday, February 19, 1992

Page 19

CROSSWORD

ACROSS

22 Reach the public
23 Indian hut
24 Miss Benbow
25 Former first
26 Trust
27 Lawrence, for short
28 Flat-bottomed vessel
29 Japanese money
30 Magic
31 Stirred up
32 Bar order
33 Former first
34 Absolute
35 Well-known movie
36 Negative
37 Nudge
38 Expensive
39 Appear
40 Drink slowly
41 Noted
42 Skidded
43 Fetch
44 Light
45 Swindles
46 Fence
47 Watchband
48 "I'm that Shy..."
49 "Miss Iris H. Rose"
50 Voice part
51 Bar order
52 Is peccant
53 Talked excessively
54 Subtle emanation
55 Bar order
56 Strange
57 Comedian Louis
58 Koran chapter
59 Pre-fix for social
60 Betty Davis movie
61 "The man"
62 Religious image
63 Nuke food, for short
64 Eats an ice-cream cone
65 Physics unit

DOWN

1 Let
2 Famous resort city
3 Jazz date
4 --- Juddica
5 --- Malloy
6 Nole mean
7 Mr. Lincoln of the North
8 Make free
9 Jovial
10 Writer Waugh
11 --- after long hours
12 Superposition
13 Work place
14 Domesticate
15 --- all this
16 Legal order
17 Lawrence, for short
18 --- Classic
19 Legal order
20 Young lady
21 Domesticate
22 --- after long hours
23 In the wee hours
24 Southern city
25 Domesticate
26 Trust
27 Lawrence, for short
28 Flat-bottomed vessel
29 Japanese money
30 Magic
31 Stirred up
32 Bar order
33 Former first
34 Absolute
35 Well-known movie
36 Negative
37 Nudge
38 Expensive
39 Appear
40 Drink slowly
41 Noted
42 Skidded
43 Fetch
44 Light
45 Swindles
46 Fence
47 Watchband
48 "I'm that Shy..."
49 "Miss Iris H. Rose"
50 Voice part
51 Bar order
52 Is peccant
53 Talked excessively
54 Subtle emanation
55 Bar order
56 Strange
57 Comedian Louis
58 Koran chapter
59 Pre-fix for social
60 Betty Davis movie
61 "The man"
62 Religious image
63 Nuke food, for short
64 Eats an ice-cream cone
65 Physics unit

SPIN

CALVIN AND HOBES

THE FAR SIDE

by GARY LARSON

THE NINTH ANNUAL WinterFest

Friday, February 21

Saturday and Sunday

February 22-23

Ski Trip

to

Cabarfae Ski Resort

Applications are Now available in the Student Government Office.

S.U.B. COMMISSIONER

Thursday, February 20

8 PM & 1030 PM

TERMINATOR 2

Friday, February 21

Saturday, February 22

8 PM & 1030 PM

Shown in

Cushing Auditorium

Admission $2

The Shirt

On Sale Now at the

Student Government Office

from 9 AM to 5 PM

ONLY $5!!

Applications are DUE March 6.

Any one looking for an exciting and challenging position with the Student Union Board should apply NOW!!

Student Government Office

10:30-12:30 at the JACC

25c skate rentals

FREE HOT CHOCOLATE!!

Ski Trip

to

Cabarfae Ski Resort

Package includes:

Overnight accommodations at the Days Inn

• Free Continental Breakfast (Sunday AM)

• Discount on Ski Rentals

• Two-day lift ticket

TOTAL RECALL

$56!!

Applications for the Caberfae Ski Trip

Student Government Responsibility Desk (BARC)

THANK YOU!!

TOTAL RECALL

S.U.B. COMMISSIONER

Thursday, February 20

8 PM & 1030 PM

TERMINATOR 2

Friday, February 21

Saturday, February 22

8 PM & 1030 PM

Shown in

Cushing Auditorium

Admission $2

The Shirt

On Sale Now at the

Student Government Office

from 9 AM to 5 PM

ONLY $5!!

Applications are DUE March 6.

Any one looking for an exciting and challenging position with the Student Union Board should apply NOW!!

Student Government Office

10:30-12:30 at the JACC

25c skate rentals

FREE HOT CHOCOLATE!!

Ski Trip

to

Cabarfae Ski Resort

Package includes:

Overnight accommodations at the Days Inn

• Free Continental Breakfast (Sunday AM)

• Discount on Ski Rentals

• Two-day lift ticket

TOTAL RECALL

$56!!

Applications for the Caberfae Ski Trip

Student Government Responsibility Desk (BARC)

THANK YOU!!
Irish struggle past Marquette

By ROLANDO DE AGUAR
Sports Writer

Notre Dame fought a post-victory letdown and overcame inconsistent play to defeat the Marquette Golden Eagles 60-53 last night at the Joyce Center.

The Irish found themselves in a close contest throughout, but broke the game open with a 12-0 run beginning in the second half and finished off the Golden Eagles with a 14-2 run.

LaPhonso Ellis led the Irish with 19 points on 8-9 shooting, and three assists. He played 33 minutes, while center Keith Towhee scored 10 points and had 10 rebounds.

Dame Sweet scored 15 points for Notre Dame.

Irish guard Elmer Bennett struggled in the game, scoring only eight points on 14 percent shooting. In Notre Dame's last meeting with Marquette, Bennett led the Irish with 23 points.

"If you had told me Bennett was going to go 1-7, I would not have been surprised," he added.

The Belles led 51-47 after the hoop and never looked back.

Notre Dame wins 99th meeting, 60-53

By JIM VOGEL
Sports Writer

After 82 years, wins become as commonplace as basketball rivalries become bitter.

Notre Dame and Marquette are squares in both the Midwest and Midwest Universities located in the Midwest, both historically rich in basketball.

The two teams met for the 98th time in a rivalry that dates back to February 1, 1919, and the Irish escaped with their 73rd victory against the Warriors, the second in under a month and the fourth straight.

On January 21, Notre Dame stunned a crowd of 15,431 at Milwaukee's Bradley Center, as the visitors stormed back from a 45-27 halftime deficit and prevailed, 69-63.

So last night's contest was both a sentimental and traditional rivalry.

For the Irish, it was a chance for the now 10-11 team to prove once again that they can play consistently in a season of ups and downs.

After coming together and playing up to their potential against Syracuse, first-year head coach John MacLeod did not want his team to unravel.

Marquette, coming in with a 12-10 record, would be a good benchmark for judging the progress of the Irish.

For the Warriors, the game was a quest for revenge. It would also test the progress of their young team and youth movement.

N'ell sent out a starting lineup that included two freshmen, two sophomores and a junior.

But, like the annual Army-Navy football games or the annual North Carolina-Duke basketball rivalry, the game was a quest for revenge.

Schwab finds success as a freshman

By JASON KELLY
Sports Writer

Freshmen seldom make an immediate impact in a varsity sport, but that's not the case with women's tennis player Laura Schwab.

Considering her credentials, it should come as no surprise that Schwab has taken over the number two singles spot for the Irish in her rookie season.

A two-time Kentucky state singles champion, she was undefeated in her junior and senior years and was named the state's outstanding high school athlete in 1991.

Despite her impressive credentials, it has not been an easy transition to the collegiate level.

"It was a big change," Schwab commented.

"I wasn't sure what to expect being the only freshman, but I think I'm adjusting better this semester."

Depth is an important attribute of this year's team, and the experienced upperclassmen have helped Schwab make the transition.

"I never dreamed I'd be playing number two," she explained.

"But we have a lot of depth and we're a close team and the older players have helped me handle it pretty well."

She will have the opportunity to prove just how well she is handling this weekend against 15th-ranked Tennessee.

Wins and losses do not weigh heavily on Schwab's mind at this point in her career, however. Instead, she concentrates purely on being as well as she can, although she admits her competitiveness does not allow her to take losing very well.

"Everybody's basic role is just to do their best," she added. "If we all give 100 percent, the wins will come. I am very, very competitive, and just hate losing."

"I have a pretty strong mental attitude. The ball is my life," said Schwab.

"My vol-leying is getting better, but I just have to keep improving and keep trying to help the team win."

There is a long way to go this season and in Schwab's career, so the women's tennis team can only build up to as many more wins from the number two singles spot.

Olivet snaps SMC basketball's winning streak, 72-63

By CHRI$ BACON
Sports Writer

All good things must come to an end.

The Saint Mary's basketball team's four game win streak was snapped last night in visiting Olivet College's (12-10) 72-63 onslaught in the Angela Athletic Facility.

This was the second time this season the Lady Comets defeated the Belles. In the championship game of the Saint Mary's Roundball Classic in December, Olivet squeaked past the Belles 84-81.

"I think we got a little tired and we started hesitating instead of taking the ball to them," said Belles coach Don Cromer.

"We tried our hardest. We just couldn't match up in size," added Belles center Julie Snyder.

"Absent from the Belles lineup last night was senior forward Janet Lilbing. Lilbing leads the Belles in rebounds, with 123, and is the team's second-leading scorer, averaging 15.7 points per game. In the earlier matchup against Olivet, Liling contributed 18 points and 10 rebounds."

Aside from her ability on boards, Liling's quickness on the boards and ability to get the ball out of the paint were missed as the Lady Comets fell to 23 Saint Mary's turnovers.

"I think the big thing was the size of the Belles." said Cromer.

Belles defense played big roles in the game, with 14 points from Junior center Kim Holmes added another 10 points.

"I think that Catherine felt a little apprehensive and did well. She's doing what we've asked her to do. I think she will have a great game on Saturday against Kalamos," Cromer said."

Snyder turned in another fine performance on the offensive end, scoring 14 points and grabbing 10 more rebounds for the Belles.

"Julie played her finest game tonight. She's improved every game," remarked Cromer about his starting center. "She finally said about four or five games ago that this is fun. Since then, she is more relaxed. She is getting stronger every game."

The Belles stayed even in the paint minutes of the first half. However, Olivet's towering team proved too intimidating for the Irish and built up a 10 point lead with 2:17 remaining in the first half. Comets stretched the lead to 14 at the half. 42-28.

The Belles had a quick break and then we'll slow it down. We haven't got it into our minds to run all the time," explained Cromer.

"We had a couple of cold spots, we missed six or seven in a row. They hit five in a row. Then we hit another cold spot right before the half."

see SMC/page 15