Lopez: U.S. may have acted unethically during Gulf War

By JAY STONE
News Writer

The U.S.-led coalition's actions during the last five weeks of the Gulf War and the consequent effects on the Iraqis raised serious moral questions about the ethics of war, said Professor George Lopez Tuesday.

In his lecture titled "Quotable Chronicles" in the Rare Books room in the Hesburgh Library, Associate Librarian Laura Fuderer pages through "The Nuremberg Peace Studies," examined what the U.S. forces in the Gulf War acted unethically.

According to Lopez, the allied forces delivered more "explosive tonnage in Kuwait and Iraq in 110 days than was dropped by all sides during World War II."

Lopez said that the kill ratio of enemy to coalition forces was the largest in the twentieth century and that the environmental and infrastructural damage in Iraq and Kuwait will affect "people and resources for years to come." Lopez also expressed concerns regarding the future of war-fighting strategies, particularly the capability of air power.

Lopez saw the air land strategy employed in the Gulf War as "the wave of the future." The political dialogue of the last few weeks, said Lopez, Too true was "more true in Baghdad than it was in Beers and other cities.

Lopez added that the final coalition bombings of city infrastructure "contributed little or nothing to stated U.S. War goals: the liberation of Kuwait and the destruction of Saddam Hussein's military capacity... Nor did those attacks alter the military capacity of Iraq to determine when and how the war would come to an end.

Lopez said that in the future, the U.S.-led coalition must raise the question of whether a fighting power has the responsibility to allow the enemy to meet the basic needs of its population after the war has ended. Subsequently, Lopez said that the Iraqi people continue to suffer "in proportionately" from the war.

see LOPEZ / page 4

Alumni defeats Grace, reaches Iceberg final

By AMY SANTANGELO
News Writer

Alumni Hall advances to the finals of the 1992 Iceberg Debates after defeating Grace Hall in a 2-1 split decision. Dempsey, who spoke first for Alumni, said the team's main premise was that "all people have a fundamental right to privacy." The team said that they believed that information about certain matters, especially concerning an individual's health and family, should not be released to the general public.

The Observer/Sean Farnan

Live in concert

Seventies-style singer Lenny Kravitz opens for The Cult last night in the JACC at the SUB sponsored concert.

The Observer/Andrew McGlynn

St. Ed's wins over O-C in Icebergs

By JOE MONAHAN
News Writer

The team from St. Edward's, defeated the Off-campus team by a unanimous decision (3-0) in the semifinal round of the 1992 Iceberg Debates Tuesday.

The teams debated the resolution "Media in Iraq. Not in invade the Privacy of Public Figures and government officials.

The Alumni team, represented by speakers freshman Sean Dempsey and junior David Corso, took the affirmative side, while the negative view was held by senior Grace Hall debaters David Frye and John Albers. Alumni won the debate in a 2-1 split decision.

Dempsey, who spoke first for Alumni, said that the team's main premise was that "all people have a fundamental right to privacy." The team said that they believed that information about certain matters, especially concerning an individual's health and family, should not be released to the general public.

see ST. ED'S / page 6

Quite a find

Associate Librarian Laura Fuderer pages through "The Nuremberg Chronicles" in the Rare Books room in the Hesburgh Library.

THE INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER SERVING NOTRE DAME AND SAINT MARY'S

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 26, 1992
Today’s Staff

Production
Lisa Boudon
Kristin Lynch

Sports
Dave McMahon
Paige Smoron
Patrick Moran
Michael Murphy

News
Paul Pearson
Julie Barnett
Paige Loftus
Rich Rhye
Colleen Gannon
Liz Lofthus
David Lee

The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.
Pictured is the front page of The Observer newspaper from February 26, 1992, featuring an article discussing Palestinian calls for Israeli peace proposals. The article highlights a letter to the heads of the HPC, discussing the possibility of changing the hall structure to accommodate co-ed housing. The observer regrets the error.
Bush attacks Democrats’ proposed defense cuts

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — President Bush accused Democrats on Tuesday of trying to “open a bidding war to see who can gut defense the fastest” as he campaigned in a defense industry state ravaged by recession and shifting national priorities.

Bush said Democratic plans to reduce defense spending beyond his recommended $50 billion in cuts amount to “a Democratic double-play; cripple our defenses and the economy, all at the same time.”

“We can reduce defense spending substantially,” he said in a fund-raising speech at the St. Francis Hotel. “But there are Democrats with a different plan in mind. They want to use the end of the Cold war to open a bidding war to see who can gut the defense the fastest.”

Bush, hoping to overcome his slump in California polls, was just starting a six-day trip combining politics in California and next week’s primary state of Georgia with a drug summit and other matters in his home state of Texas.

The president came here while South Dakotans were holding a primary. Bush was without opposition on the Republican ballot there and thus expected to win easily, although uncommitted delegates were also running.

Mindful of California’s foundering defense industry and aerospace industry and crippled real estate market, Bush noted that $1 out of every $5 is spent on defense is spent in California.

He portrayed the Republicans as defenders against “a dangerous enemy abroad,” in years past when “irresponsible Democrats would have stripped this nation of the strength it needed to defend itself.”

Invoking the popularity of the state’s one-time governor, he added, “No one understood that better than my predecessor, Ronald Reagan.”

Meanwhile, GOP challenger Patrick Buchanan began a swing through Tennessee, Mississippi, Alabama and Louisiana in search of Super Tuesday votes on March 10.

In Nashville, Buchanan told Vanderbilt University students that his “America First” platform does not mean he is anti-Japanese. But he said the Japanese government “looks out for Japan first. We need a government that looks out for America first.”

Buchanan state chairman Lyle Simpson of Lewisburg said the candidate had planned to tour the Saturn auto plant at Spring Hill to show support for American-made products. But Simpson said plant officials told the campaign on Thursday that the tour would be canceled. He said they gave no reason.

Bush only indirectly fired at Buchanan.

“America’s future lies in open markets. But our opponents aren’t about to let fact intrude on fantasy,” Bush said. He said trade barriers and isolationism amount to “an economic retreat.”

Bush earlier Tuesday predicted that despite polls to the contrary, “I think we’ll be all right in California.”

Even Reagan, however, was quoted in The Washington Post on Tuesday as telling friends he was worried Bush was in trouble because, “he doesn’t seem to stand for anything.”

Caught in broad daylight
ND Security watches on as an illegally parked car is towed away yesterday outside of Cavanaugh Hall.

You Asked for it, You Got it...

CLIFF ERICKSON is Returning to ALUMNI-SENIOR CLUB

This THURSDAY- 27th, FRIDAY- 28th
and SATURDAY- 29th
DON’T MISS IT!!
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate voted Tuesday to slap new conditions on renewing China's trade status for next year. The 59-39 vote followed an unusual secret session of the Senate on Tuesday night. The Senate approved the conditional measure 409-21 last month, but fell well short of the veto.

The compromise bill would require "substantial progress" by China in the areas of human rights, trade and weapons proliferation before most-favored-nation trade status could be renewed. That trade status expires in June.

The House approved the conditional measure 409-21 last month, and it now goes to the White House. The Senate tally was eight votes short of the 60 needed to override a veto if all senators voted.

The Beijing government Tuesday, in official reports coinciding with the Senate vote, spoke of unspecified "major breakthroughs" in U.S.-China trade talks now going on in the Chinese capital. China at the same time revealed the convictions of seven more dissidents from the 1989 pro-democracy movement.

After fervent debate last summer, the issue of U.S. policy toward China had lain dormant for months. Action by the Senate's Democratic leaders to re-vive it now was seen at least in part as an election-year effort to embarrass the administration by highlighting what has been an unpopular policy.

"There is potential on the part of the Democratic leadership to try to undermine the foreign policy leadership of President Bush," said Sen. Richard Lugar, R-Ind.

Administration officials, including Secretary of State James Baker and his deputy Lawrence Eagleburger, had made numerous lobbying visits to Capitol Hill in recent days.

The matter was driven, as well, by intelligence reports that despite earlier Chinese assurances on curtailing overseas weapons sales, missiles and other items continue to flow to such volatile areas as Syria, Libya, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan.

China but fell well short of the norma trade relations with the United States. The CIA told lawmakers behind closed doors last week of evidence that China has shipped some $250 million in missiles, nuclear technology and related goods to those countries over the past year or so, sources said.

In addition, Chinese weapons makers have contracts or sales plans worth another $1 billion stretching years into the future, said the officials, speaking only on condition of anonymity.

"There was a lot of panic" resulting from the CIA briefing, said one senior administration official.

To air those issues, senators retired for nearly two hours to the small, ornate Old Senate Chamber. The closed session, required because of the sensitivity of intelligence sources involved, was the first since an arms control treaty was debated in 1988.

The compromise bill would require China to make "substantial progress" on human rights, trade and weapons proliferation before it could be accorded normal trade status.

In the past year or so, sources said the U.S. intelligence community has received evidence that China has shipped $250 million in missiles, nuclear technology and related goods to such volatile areas as Syria, Libya, Iraq, Iran and Pakistan.

"There was a lot of panic" resulting from the CIA briefing, said one senior administration official.

To air those issues, senators retired for nearly two hours to the small, ornate Old Senate Chamber. The closed session, required because of the sensitivity of intelligence sources involved, was the first since an arms control treaty was debated in 1988.
In Moscow, markets beginning to stabilize

The Observer

Wednesday, February 26, 1992

COMEDY SHOWCASE

David Nathan & Buzz Sutherland

- as seen on:
  - Comedy on the Road
  - Comic Strip Live
  - MTU 1/2 hr. Comedy hr.
  - Caroline's Comedy Club
  - Showtime

8:00 pm Feb. 28 in Theodore's

Tickets $5 at La Fortune Box Office

SATISFACTION GUARANTEED!

---

Moscow marketbasket

The value of the goods is measured both in rubles and the number of hours needed to buy an item based on a monthly average salary of 960 rubles, equal to about $13.70 at the floating exchange rate calculated on the basis of ruble auctions. Prices of basic food and consumer items found in Moscow:

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Good/Service</th>
<th>New price in state stores</th>
<th>New price in private markets</th>
<th>Number of hours/week avg. worker needs to earn to pay for branded goods</th>
<th>Number of hours/week avg. worker needs to earn to purchase at state store</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Smoked sausage</td>
<td>15.00</td>
<td>16.50</td>
<td>17.00</td>
<td>17.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Cheese</td>
<td>12.00</td>
<td>12.50</td>
<td>13.00</td>
<td>13.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Butter</td>
<td>10.00</td>
<td>10.50</td>
<td>11.00</td>
<td>11.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Macaroni</td>
<td>1.50</td>
<td>1.50</td>
<td>1.50</td>
<td>1.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Wheat bread</td>
<td>1.00</td>
<td>1.00</td>
<td>1.00</td>
<td>1.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Milk</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Fish</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>“Java” cigarettes</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
<td>0.50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Women’s dress shoes</td>
<td>20.00</td>
<td>20.00</td>
<td>20.00</td>
<td>20.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Men’s dress shoes</td>
<td>20.00</td>
<td>20.00</td>
<td>20.00</td>
<td>20.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Child’s dress shoes</td>
<td>15.00</td>
<td>15.00</td>
<td>15.00</td>
<td>15.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Skirt</td>
<td>15.00</td>
<td>15.00</td>
<td>15.00</td>
<td>15.00</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Gasoline</td>
<td>1.50</td>
<td>1.50</td>
<td>1.50</td>
<td>1.50</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Martinez: Drug war showing progress

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — White House drug policy adviser Bob Martinez defended the Bush administration's anti-drug spending Tuesday and predicted a drug summit here will yield more cooperation and show continued need for economic incentives to reduce coca production.

Martinez made the remarks on the eve of a two-day summit President Bush is hosting Wednesday and Thursday for legislators of Colombia, Bolivia, Peru, Ecuador and Mexico and the foreign minister of Venezuela.

The summit is a follow-up to a similar meeting Bush attended in 1990 in Bogota, Colombia, where the United States, Colombia, Peru and Bolivia were represented.

Natalie Cole wins seven Grammy Awards

NEW YORK (AP) — Natalie Cole, continental, high-tune tribute to her late father signed as the big winner at Tuesday night's Grammy Awards, getting the prizes for record of the year and song of the year and accumulating seven prizes in all.

"I was really not expecting this. When people start telling you you’re going to win something you get totally paranoid," a beaming Cole said after a standing ovation when the record award was announced.

"Thank you for leaving me this wonderful, wonder­ful heritage," she said, referring to the late Nat "King" Cole. She finished by exclaiming: "And we’re trying to be cool but we love it!" Former underground darlings R.E.M. also were warmly embraced by the music industry. The group picked up three prizes, as did Bonnie Raitt, who swept the 1990 Grammys to rejuvenate her career.

Raitt won for best pop female vocal ("Something to Talk About"), best solo rock vocal performance (for the album "Lack of the Draw"), and for her duet with Delbert McClinton on "Good Man, Good Woman."

The Judds, the country mother-daughter team that announced its breakup, won two Grammys for the song, "Levon." They are: New York (AP) — Natalie Cole, continental, high-tune tribute to her late father signed as the big winner at Tuesday night's Grammy Awards, getting the prizes for record of the year and song of the year and accumulating seven prizes in all.

"I was really not expecting this. When people start telling you you’re going to win something you get totally paranoid," a beaming Cole said after a standing ovation when the record award was announced.

"Thank you for leaving me this wonderful, wonder­ful heritage," she said, referring to the late Nat "King" Cole. She finished by exclaiming: "And we’re trying to be cool but we love it!" Former underground darlings R.E.M. also were warmly embraced by the music industry. The group picked up three prizes, as did Bonnie Raitt, who swept the 1990 Grammys to rejuvenate her career.

Raitt won for best pop female vocal ("Something to Talk About"), best solo rock vocal performance (for the album "Lack of the Draw"), and for her duet with Delbert McClinton on "Good Man, Good Woman."

The Judds, the country mother-daughter team that announced its breakup, won two Grammys for the song, "Levon." They are: New York (AP) — Natalie Cole, continental, high-tune tribute to her late father signed as the big winner at Tuesday night's Grammy Awards, getting the prizes for record of the year and song of the year and accumulating seven prizes in all.

"I was really not expecting this. When people start telling you you’re going to win something you get totally paranoid," a beaming Cole said after a standing ovation when the record award was announced.

"Thank you for leaving me this wonderful, wonder­ful heritage," she said, referring to the late Nat "King" Cole. She finished by exclaiming: "And we’re trying to be cool but we love it!" Former underground darlings R.E.M. also were warmly embraced by the music industry. The group picked up three prizes, as did Bonnie Raitt, who swept the 1990 Grammys to rejuvenate her career.

Raitt won for best pop female vocal ("Something to Talk About"), best solo rock vocal performance (for the album "Lack of the Draw"), and for her duet with Delbert McClinton on "Good Man, Good Woman."

The Judds, the country mother-daughter team that announced its breakup, won two Grammys for the song, "Levon." They are: New York (AP) — Natalie Cole, continental, high-tune tribute to her late father signed as the big winner at Tuesday night's Grammy Awards, getting the prizes for record of the year and song of the year and accumulating seven prizes in all.

"I was really not expecting this. When people start telling you you’re going to win something you get totally paranoid," a beaming Cole said after a standing ovation when the record award was announced.

"Thank you for leaving me this wonderful, wonder­ful heritage," she said, referring to the late Nat "King" Cole. She finished by exclaiming: "And we’re trying to be cool but we love it!" Former underground darlings R.E.M. also were warmly embraced by the music industry. The group picked up three prizes, as did Bonnie Raitt, who swept the 1990 Grammys to rejuvenate her career.

Raitt won for best pop female vocal ("Something to Talk About"), best solo rock vocal performance (for the album "Lack of the Draw"), and for her duet with Delbert McClinton on "Good Man, Good Woman."

The Judds, the country mother-daughter team that announced its breakup, won two Grammys for the song, "Levon." They are: New York (AP) — Natalie Cole, continental, high-tune tribute to her late father signed as the big winner at Tuesday night's Grammy Awards, getting the prizes for record of the year and song of the year and accumulating seven prizes in all.

"I was really not expecting this. When people start telling you you’re going to win something you get totally paranoid," a beaming Cole said after a standing ovation when the record award was announced.

"Thank you for leaving me this wonderful, wonder­ful heritage," she said, referring to the late Nat "King" Cole. She finished by exclaiming: "And we’re trying to be cool but we love it!" Former underground darlings R.E.M. also were warmly embraced by the music industry. The group picked up three prizes, as did Bonnie Raitt, who swept the 1990 Grammys to rejuvenate her career.

Raitt won for best pop female vocal ("Something to Talk About"), best solo rock vocal performance (for the album "Lack of the Draw"), and for her duet with Delbert McClinton on "Good Man, Good Woman.

The Judds, the country mother-daughter team that announced its breakup, won two Grammys for the song, "Levon." They are: New York (AP) — Natalie Cole, continental, high-tune tribute to her late father signed as the big winner at Tuesday night's Grammy Awards, getting the prizes for record of the year and song of the year and accumulating seven prizes in all.

"I was really not expecting this. When people start telling you you’re going to win something you get totally paranoid," a beaming Cole said after a standing ovation when the record award was announced.

"Thank you for leaving me this wonderful, wonder­ful heritage," she said, referring to the late Nat "King" Cole. She finished by exclaiming: "And we’re trying to be cool but we love it!" Former underground darlings R.E.M. also were warmly embraced by the music industry. The group picked up three prizes, as did Bonnie Raitt, who swept the 1990 Grammys to rejuvenate her career.

Raitt won for best pop female vocal ("Something to Talk About"), best solo rock vocal performance (for the album "Lack of the Draw"), and for her duet with Delbert McClinton on "Good Man, Good Woman.

The Judds, the country mother-daughter team that announced its breakup, won two Grammys for the song, "Levon." They are: New York (AP) — Natalie Cole, continental, high-tune tribute to her late father signed as the big winner at Tuesday night's Grammy Awards, getting the prizes for record of the year and song of the year and accumulating seven prizes in all.

"I was really not expecting this. When people start telling you you’re going to win something you get totally paranoid," a beaming Cole said after a standing ovation when the record award was announced.

"Thank you for leaving me this wonderful, wonder­ful heritage," she said, referring to the late Nat "King" Cole. She finished by exclaiming: "And we’re trying to be cool but we love it!" Former underground darlings R.E.M. also were warmly embraced by the music industry. The group picked up three prizes, as did Bonnie Raitt, who swept the 1990 Grammys to rejuvenate her career.

Raitt won for best pop female vocal ("Something to Talk About"), best solo rock vocal performance (for the album "Lack of the Draw"), and for her duet with Delbert McClinton on "Good Man, Good Woman.

The Judds, the country mother-daughter team that announced its breakup, won two Grammys for the song, "Levon." They are:
Irish court hears case on abortion

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Protesters scuffled with police outside Parliament Tuesday while the Supreme Court heard more arguments in the case of a 14-year-old girl barred from leaving Ireland for an abortion.

Some 300 demonstrators provoking the order struggled with police while trying to remove barriers outside the Parliament buildings.

Five Supreme Court judges heard a second day of arguments, and another session was scheduled for Wednesday. The closed hearing had been expected to last two days, with a judgment by the end of the week. It was not known if the extra day of arguments will delay the ruling.

The attorneys have not laid out their arguments in public, but are likely to focus on whether Ireland can forbid its citizens from going to another country in order to do something that is legal in that country.

Ireland, a member of the 12-nation European Community, has signed treaties that guarantee freedom of travel.

The Observer is accepting applications for the paid position of:

Design Editor

This position coordinates computer layout and design. No computer experience is necessary. Evening and late night positions available.

Those interested should contact Jeanne Blasi at 239-5303.

IN PLAIN SIMPLE ENGLISH

Dis-tin'-gwisht

to separate or mark off by differences; perceive or show the difference in; differentiate; to be an essential characteristic of; characterize; to perceive clearly; recognize plainly by any of the senses; to separate and classify; give distinction to.

Stóód'-nt

one who studies, or investigates.

ð–wórd'

to give by the decision of a law court or arbitrator; to give as the result of judging the relative merits of those in competition; grant.

thē Dis–tin'-gwisht Stóód'-nt ð–wórd'

Nomination forms for the Distinguished Student Award are available in the Alumni Association, LaFortune, the Library Lobby and the entrances of North and South Dining Halls.

Who Do You Know?
The Observer
P.O. Box Q, Notre Dame, Indiana 46556 (219) 239-5203
1991-92 General Board
Managing Editor.................Kelley Tomlin
News Editor...............Monica Yant
Viewpoints Editor.............Joe Alvarez
Sports Editor...............David Diokno
Art Director...............Joe Vitale
Photo Editor...............Andrew McGlynn
Saint Mary's Editor.........Emily Wilt
Business Manager..............Gilbert Gomez

The Observer is the independent newspaper published by the students of the University of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's College. It does not necessarily reflect the opinions of the administration or other institution. The views are reported as accurately and objectively as possible. Unsigned editorials represent the opinion of the majority of the Editor-in-Chief, Managing Editor, News Editor, Viewpoints Editor, Accent Editor, Photo Editor, Sports Editor, and Saint Mary's Editor. Commentaries, letters, and inside columns present the views of the authors. Column space is available to all members of the community and the free expression of varying opinions on campus. Through letters, a neoclassical.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Thank you to ND family from parents of student
Dear Editor:
Prior to January 24, 1992, the concept of a "Notre Dame Family" meant little to us. We had heard the phrase used during the freshmen orientation activities and had seen it in University literature. But only since the early morning hours of January 24, 1992, and the accident that has forever changed our lives and the life of our daughter, Haley, have we learned firsthand that there really is a "Notre Dame Family" and what it means to be part of that family.
Certainly, we were not the only family affected by the accident. Our hearts go out to the Beeler and Hipp families for the tragic loss of Meghan and Colleen, and Hipp families for the tragic bus, whether physically injured or not, was traumatized by the terrifying experience.
However, the purpose of this letter is not to discuss the accident or assess blame. Rather, we want to begin to sincerely thank the thousands of people who have prayed for Haley's recovery. We have never before experienced such an outpouring of genuine love and support as we have received from family and friends everywhere, and particularly the students, faculty, administration and alumni of Notre Dame.
We were pleased when Haley chose to attend Notre Dame, but now, having personally experienced the warmth and caring of the Notre Dame Family, we cannot imagine her being anywhere else. Thank you, Notre Dame, for your prayers, love and support. You have truly made a difference in Haley's continuing recovery.
Stephen and Charlotte Scott
Phoenix, AZ
Feb. 21, 1992

Hoops fans should not be disrespectful
Dear Editor:
What a game! This sentiment seemed to sum up the feeling of the majority of the fans leaving the JACC after Saturday's basketball game against the UCLA Bruins.
Unfortunately, I didn't feel like participating in everyone's excitement. Instead my regard for the abilities, courage, and overall determination of the Notre Dame men's team became overshadowed by the rudeness and disrespectful actions of a few of my fellow students here at this university.
During Saturday's game, I was fortunate enough to sit behind the UCLA visitor bench as I am a student manager and was assisting in this game. I was looking forward to being so close to the action, surrounded by thousands of avid fans. From the first moments, however, my enthusiasm became tainted. I soon learned what it felt like to be a visiting opponent here at Notre Dame. A barrage of insults fell upon my back, directed at the team in front of me. I could not believe some of the harsh words aimed at the Bruin's players and coaches. These few, who stood directly behind the bench, attacked many aspects of this team, intending to intimidate and demean. Yet they were degrading not only to the UCLA players and coaches, but also to this university.
Even during half-time they stalked themselves out in the tunnel by the visitor's locker room and again verbally assailed the players when they returned to the court. These students had no respect. An usher, who was in charge of this area, did nothing to curb their remarks.
Yet why should he? He expects that we are adults and behave civilly. These members of a Catholic University, however, displayed no maturity or Christian attitudes. I didn't expect them to go out and hug the opponent, but I also didn't expect a incessant badgering either. The entire game I felt sick to my stomach, probably suffering from a extreme case of embarrassment.
Insults were directed at me when I was a high school athlete and I can only say that I empathized with this fine team from California. For despite losing to a team that just recently broke even and suffering an onslaught of ugly comments, they displayed a great deal of class.
I just hope that in the future the fans' enthusiasm and loyalty will be directed positively and respectfully, so that all can enjoy the game.
Teresa Gehret
Lyons Hall
Feb. 23, 1992

DONESBURY

You should probably know the following: I bit the spread of the Southwestern Arm. I actively support the latest in cosmology. I am an expert on the working of computers. I can cancel the make of a washing machine.

I hate broccoli. But I am a vegetarian. So I am a vegetarian who hates broccoli. I love meat. But I am a vegetarian. So I am a vegetarian who loves meat.

I'm sorry these are the words of a very thought programmed young man.

GARRY TRUDEAU

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"Be more concerned with your character than with your reputation, because character is what you really are while reputation is merely what others think you are." - John Wooden
Coach of the UCLA Bruins

Don't be a loser, submit:
QUOTES, P.O. Box Q, ND, IN 46556
Random hazards on the way to class

I'm late... I'm late... I'm late...
I'm going to rush in, and he's going to look at me, and he's going to say, "Miss Smoron! How nice of you to decide to join us!" and I'm just going to stare him down, and tell him exactly what I—

Ouch.

I've misplaced my glasses. Like I'm going to be able to find teal shoe polish in South Bend—

"Hi."

"Hi."

"Hi."

Who was that?
Why didn't I wear my glasses?
I won't be able to see the slides in class, either.
But then again, if he's just going to be showing examples of abstract expressionism, will it really make a difference? I mean, everything will just be a little abstracter for me, that's all—

"Hi."

"Hi."

Oh shoot, I never gave her back her notes, did I?
Well, is it my fault she takes reams of notes?
She had like four footnotes from one day's lecture. Who can possibly find that much to say about minimalism? Doesn't that kind of defeat the purpose?
I'm late... I'm late... I'm late...

Ouch.

"Hi, Paige. Wrong room."

"Hi, Paige. Wrong room."

"Hi, Paige. Why are you walking funny?"

"Hi, Paige. Why are you walking funny?"

Okay, he's past.
Oh wait—that wasn't him.
Why didn't I wear my glasses?
I'm late... I'm late... I'm late...

Ouch.

"Hi."

"Hi."

"Hi."

Oh, how cute. They wear their backpacks the same way. Do couples start to look alike, like when puddle omelettes look like puddles? They kind of walk alike. I wonder what I look like when I walk...

Ouch.

"Hi, Paige. You know, I've never seen anyone fall up stairs before."

Ouch.

"Hi, Paige. I'm going to have to buy new shoes, and I've never seen anyone fall up stairs before."

Ouch.

"Hi, Paige. Why didn't I wear my glasses?"

Ouch.

"Hi, Paige. I'm late... I'm late... I'm late...
I didn't even do the reading. Maybe I can skim a little now."

"Hi, Paige. Why are you walking funny?"

"Hi, Paige. Why are you walking funny?"

"Hi, Paige. Why are you walking funny?"

Ouch.

"Whoops! Here we are—"

"Sorry I'm late..."

"Hi, Paige. Wrong room."

"Hi, Paige. Why didn't I wear my glasses?"

Ouch.

"Hi, Paige. I'm going to have to buy new shoes, and I've never seen anyone fall up stairs before."

Ouch.

"Hi, Paige. I'm late... I'm late... I'm late..."

"Hi, Paige. I'm late... I'm late... I'm late..."

When the team was not in class, they were practicing long hours on stage. "It got to the point where some of us were so good at tapping that we had to 'fake' screwing up on the stage," explained Keri Latherow, one of the cast members. "I think it's probably the next best thing to a musical."

—Keri Latherow

"Stepping Out" opens tonight at 8 p.m. at the Little Theater, located at Saint Mary's. The performances will continue through Saturday, Feb. 29, with a Sunday matinee at 2:30 p.m. on March 1.

"Stepping Out" follows the lives of eight women where some of us were so good at tapping that we had to 'fake' screwing up on the stage," explained Keri Latherow, one of the cast members. "I think it's probably the next best thing to a musical."

Philip Patnaude has designed the set for "Stepping Out," and David Corberth is in charge of costume design. The groups of actors that will be tapping away this week include Kim Tomko, Jill Hotek, Brynn Umhofer, Susan Toth, Keri Latherow, Cecelia Martin, Stephen Zayko, Alyssa Moehle, and Shayla Richards.

Tickets are available at the Saint Mary's box office located in O'Loughlin Auditorium, open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. General Admission tickets are $6, $5 for students, and $3 for Saint Mary's students. Visa and Master Card orders are accepted by phone at (219) 284-4626.
Kratz, Cult invade the JACC

By Fran Meyer

Account writer

It was an odd evening at the JACC last night as Lanny Kratzy and the Cult invaded our planet stage. The concert started off with Lanny signing his name on the stage and attempting to take all of us back to the Sixties. After all was said and done, his name alone might have been the night's highlight.

Kratzy's performance was interrupted a few times by the Cult's Ian Astbury, who paraded around the stage shouting the words I am not able to mention in a politically-correct Catholic university's newspaper. Despite Astbury antics, Kratzy was able to end his performance on a cheerful note by singing his hit, "Let Me Love You." After finishing this song, however, the ever-so-righteous Astbury began his infamous "love" line. After a few minutes of incessant groaning we all realized how much he loved God, people and the planet, but I couldn't help but have flashbacks to We Are the World. As the crowd was still reveling in the moment created by Kratzy, the Cult took the stage. In my opinion, the crowd was not ready for the assault that lay ahead.

Performing mostly songs from their recent concert the Cult played as loud as you can imagine. Astbury had his eyes on the audience in the rear and I had my eyes on the back wall in the rear. After all is said and done the Cult played three songs that made it onto the record.

Although watching Astbury stage performance was enjoyable, it's the band's bluesy music of the Cult that truly made the concert worth my $12.

O.K., I admit "heavy" is an overstatement, there was even a little classic's vocabulary, but I know no other way to describe their music. During the concert, I felt like someone was trying to break a hole in my skull. For some odd reason, however, I liked that feeling, and think our group was feeling the same sensation. The crowd did not seem to take it as enthusiastically as the Cult's music, or would have liked. I admit that it is an acquired taste, but how can you not react like a lunatic when you see the Cult perform. As the night was exciting such classics as "She Sells Sanctuary" and "Peace Dog," a maniac band, their audience barely reacted, only bopping their heads to the groovy beat.

One of the strongest reactions by the crowd to the Cult's music was the maniacal applause that occurred when Kratzy ran out on stage in the middle of the crowd. The Cult took the most of his beat. It is a shame that this got the most reaction out of the crowd. It would have been much more to react to, like the music of the Cult.
SCOREBOARD

FLYERS 60, IRISH 58

NBA LEADERS through Feb. 24:

- Scoring
  - Jordan, Chi. 64
  - Wilkins, Atl. 42
  - Barkley, Phi. 37
  - McGrady, Phi. 35
  - Lewis, Bos. 35
- FG
  - Jordan, Chi. 92
  - Wilkins, Atl. 61
  - Barkley, Phi. 46
  - McGrady, Phi. 45
  - Lewis, Bos. 44
- FT
  - Jordan, Chi. 134
  - Wilkins, Atl. 122
  - Barkley, Phi. 88
  - McGrady, Phi. 80
  - Lewis, Bos. 77

REMAINING MEN’S BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Feb. 27</th>
<th>Loyola (Ill.)</th>
<th>St. John’s</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Mar. 3</td>
<td>Xavier</td>
<td>at DePaul</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Mar. 7</td>
<td>at Evansville</td>
<td></td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

The Observer is accepting applications for the paid positions of:

- Assistant Systems Manager
- Typesetter

Those interested should contact Patrick Barth at 239-5303.

---

Summer Housing in New York City

Will you be working, doing an internship, or enjoying the vibrant New York City? You can live in the heart of Greenwich Village as an NYU Associate or take a course in our exciting summer sessions if you wish.

- Minutes from New York's business and cultural centers
- Apartment-style and traditional residences; single and double occupancy
- Outstanding sports recreation facility
- Includes the New York Experience, an enjoyable noncredit program exploring careers and culture in New York City
- Over 1,000 undergraduate, graduate, and professional courses offered day and evening

Housing available May 24-August 15

For more information and an application, call toll free

1-800-282-4NYU Ext. 776

New York University is an affirmative action/equal opportunity employer.

---

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — A car dealer who allegedly gave Syracuse basketball players Christmas cards containing $500 may school officials have asked him to "step away" from the program.* Bill Rapp, who denies the charges, said he is willing to abide by the request of Syracuse administrators. Rapp is a close friend of coach Jim Boeheim and has acted in the past as Syracuse's official scorer.

"They've asked me to step away for awhile, which is OK," Rapp said in Tuesday's editions of the Syracuse Herald-Journal. "This is the most sensitive time right now."

Rapp was accused of giving cash to players in a 500-page report the university has presented to the NCAA Association. The 13-month probe found 15 violations of NCAA rules.

Rapp also declined to discuss the specifics of the charges against him because of the possible NCAA investigation. Rapp said he cooperated with university investigators and will cooperate with the NCAA.

He said investigators told him five players involved Rapp gave them cash inside Christmas cards. Rapp noted each of the five had a disgruntled former player.
Finale
continued from page 16
nine rebounds against Kalamanzo in the first game. "This is the last game of my first season," joked Mulhern. "It's going to be real hard because I've made a lot of good friends. It's been a good experience." Although Mulhern and Cook did not play in the Calvin game, both are excited for the matchup, not just because of the revenge element, but because it is their last home game.

"It's going to be difficult. It's your senior year, you played high school sports and college sports and this is the finale," Cook remarked. "The game will be emotional because there are seniors on both teams." Cook took a year off last season, but came back to the basketball team for her senior year. The five-foot-nine guard has come off the bench to score 1.9 ppg and snag 1.7 rebounds per game.

"I know that Kelly's going to help us and Kate is going to help as well," added Cromer. Missing from tonight's lineup will be forward Janet Libbing, who was forced to sit on the sidelines during the Beloit matchup. Although the team's leading rebounder and second leading scorer (14.7 ppg, 7.8 rpg) will have to watch from the bench, the game is still difficult for Libbing to think about. "Don't expect me to be holding up. In a way, I think I may have already had to deal with that. But I just don't know."

Despite her absence on the court, Libbing is confident in her teammates ability to take Calvin. Libbing's perspective from the bench has given her opportunities to see the growth in her teammates, including the underclassmen.

"We're going to be a completely different team than what they saw at Calvin. They'll see confidence in everyone one of the players," Libbing added, commenting on the transition of leadership on the team. "In the beginning of the year, seniors took control. Now janitors are making moves to be where they need to be to take charge. It's really a mature basketball team.

Although the team is determined to win tonight, they must first shut down Calvin's big three. Kim Bartman (16.9 ppg) manhandled the Bohls defense the first time, dominating all scoring with 27 points. Teammate Janie Bajema (10.9 ppg) added 13 points to her team's winning efforts. Julie

OPINIONS OF SOUND RETIREMENT INVESTING

WHY YOU SHOULD START PLANNING FOR RETIREMENT WITH YOUR EYES CLOSED.

For retirement to be the time of your life, you have to dream a little—about the things you've always wanted to do, travel, explore, start a business. Just imagine...

Your pension and Social Security should provide a good basic retirement income, but what about all those extras that make your dreams possible? You'll probably need some additional savings.

THE DREAM IS YOURS. WE CAN HELP YOU WITH THE PLAN.

TIAA-CREF Supplemental Retirement Annuity Plan (SRAs) are tax-deferred annuities for people like you in education and research, a good way to save for retirement and save on taxes. In an SRA, "You have more control over how your contributions can be used to provide for your retirement needs. Your contributions and their earnings can add up quickly."

What else makes SRAs so special? A broad range of allocation choices, from the safety of TIAA to the investment accounts of CREF's variable annuity; no sales charges; a variety of ways to receive income, including annuities, payments over a fixed period, or cash. "You may also be able to borrow against your SRA accumulation before you retire."

All this, plus the top investment management that has helped make TIAA-CREF the largest retirement system in the country. So start dreaming and planning for the time of your life. Because the sooner you start your SRA, the greater your savings and your retirement security.

START PLANNING FOR THE TIME OF YOUR LIFE. NOW.

For your free TIAA-CREF Supplemental Retirement Annuity Plan brochures, write TIAA-CREF, Dept. QC, 730 Third Avenue, New York, NY 10017 or call 1-800-842-2733, Ext. 6016.

TIAA-CREF Ensuring the future for those who shape it.

TIAA-CREF

Possible participation of your spouse or your spouse's employer in the Plan:

Check your Participation Agreement for details.

Roth IRA conversion:

If you have a traditional IRA, you can make a partial or full conversion for TIAA-CREF contributions. See your participant guide for details.

Notes:

1. Depending upon your retirement plan and the type of benefits provided, TIAA-CREF may withdraw funds for certain reasons, including your death or for specific events such as marriage, divorce, and remarriage. For more information, see your Participant Guide or a representative of TIAA-CREF.

2. The amounts shown above are estimates. Your actual earnings will vary based on your contributions and investment performance.

Note: This is an advertisement. The information here is intended for readers of The Observer. Please consult your financial advisor for personal advice about your specific situation.
Rosenthal promotes O'Brien

Joe O'Brien, who has directed the business end of the University of Notre Dame's athletic department since 1976, has been promoted to senior associate athletic director. He has been an invaluable aide to me in the five years I've been at Notre Dame.

A long-time employee of the University, O'Brien served as director of Notre Dame's personnel department for 21 years prior to joining the athletic staff in '76. He has orchestrated the details of 11 major bowl trips and the same number of NCAA tournament appearances in basketball. He served as tournament director for both the '82 and '88 NCAA first- and second-round basketball tournament games held at Notre Dame.

The Philadelphia, Pa., native was honored with the Edward "Moose" Krause Award Friday night by the Notre Dame Club of Chicago for outstanding service to the University. He served as president of the College Athletic Business Managers Association in '83 and also was inducted into the First Interstate Bank Athletic Hall of Fame.

O'Brien previously worked in personnel service for both the Whirlpool Corporation and the O'Brien Corporation in South Bend before moving to Notre Dame in 1955. A 1949 Notre Dame graduate, O'Brien and his wife, Betty, are parents of a daughter Susan, a '76 Notre Dame graduate.

Joe O'Brien

Scout's a KILLER!!

Put a glove in his face.....
Let him know you're there!

-HANSONS

Robertson's free throw that tied the game. With the Irish running down the clock, Bennett lost the ball and Fighter guard Derrick Dukes fouled him on a layup. Dukes hit both free throws to cut the Notre Dame lead to five, 34-29, at the half.

Despite the loss, MacLeod did not feel the season was over. "We'll come back. We have to deal with that."

Tark says he's not finished

Tark's five-page letter to Maxson said Tarkanian was "coerced and pressured" into signing the resignation agreement.

Both Maxson and Don Klastic, legal counsel for the Nevada University System, have said the resignation is legal and binding. Maxson has called Tarkanian's resignation a dead letter.

Attorneys Chuck Thompson and Alan Jones contend a "civility agreement," which was part of the resignation was violated by UNLV officials. University officials have confirmed the civility agreement, but Maxson said it was violated by Tarkanian, not UNLV.

Dayton continued from page 16

room tonight was a real thrill. I'm very proud of my team tonight.

Notre Dame started the second half with a 6-0 run, which resulted in a 40-29 lead with 19:05 left. However, Dayton regrouped and came out of the timeout with a 23-12 spurt, which started with a 5-42 with Robertson three-pointer. Chip Hare tied the game at 57 with 4:54 left on two free throws.

Down the stretch, both teams showed a combination of good defense and sloppy play. Duke's layup was the only field goal by either team.

At 4:18, LaPhonso Ellis put the Irish up 58-57 with one-of-two foul shots, and then stuffed Wes Coffee at the other end to give the Irish a chance to stretch the lead. However, Billy Taylor traveled to give the ball back to Dayton.

Following a Flyer miss, Bennett was fouled, but missed the front end of a one-and-one at 3:11. Neither team scored over the next minute and a half and Notre Dame had the ball and a one point lead with 1:32 remaining. At this point the Irish, who were wearing last year's uniforms due to a laundry problem, went into a style they've never been comfortable with and pressured "into signing the agreement.

AAK

Michael's Laundry, the Irish were forced to wear last year's blue road jerseys, which say "Irish" across the front. This led to a few number changes. LaPhonso Ellis wore Kevin O'Brien's number 33, Malik Russell had on ex-basketball player and current defensive lineman/backup Oliver Gibson's number 34, Nathion Gibson sported his brother's number, Jason Williams were number 11, Brendan Tully donned number three and Matt Adamsen displayed number 23.

The overall series with the Flyers now stands at 26-11, in favor of Notre Dame. (However, the Flyers hold a 10-9 advantage in Dayton.)

Seniors Ellis, Elmer Bennett and Daimon Sweet are moving up on the all-time Notre Dame career scoring list. Bennett is currently tied for 12th with 1334 points; Ellis' 10 points moved him to 14th place with 1319 points and Sweet's 247 points place him 18th on the list.

Due to an accident at Saint Michael's, the Irish looked sloppy, missing rebounds and passing out of reach. Balls bounced out of their own hands and out of bounds due to hurried passing and poor timing. Usually, this wasn't the case at Notre Dame basketball team that upset UCLA a few days ago.

Scott's a KILLER!!

Put a glove in his face...... Let him know you're there! -THE HANSONS

Recycle

Money for Spring Break

Our Spring Break Loan is back by popular demand (probably because it's easier than getting money from your parents)

- Only 12% APR, fixed rate
  - $100 minimum, $500 maximum loan amount
  - Deferred Payments
  - Students with good credit or no credit qualify
  - No co-signer is needed. Bring in your student I.D.

FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
329-6611 Independent of the University
Wrestlers host Purdue in seniors’ home finale

By JIM VOGL
Sports Writer

When the Notre Dame wrestling team steps onto the Joyce AEC floor against Purdue at 7:30 tonight, it will be the last time for four Irish seniors—Marcus Gowens, Todd Tomazic, Tom Salvino and Chuck Weaver.

Irish head coach Fran McCann, who described this year’s 17th ranked Boilermaker squad as one of their best he’s seen, said, “We’ve always had great meets. This one should be the same.”

The Irish lost at Purdue last season, 24-11.

Notre Dame hopes the match will be an emotional send-off, and will build momentum going into the NCAA tournament. But after a mediocre 34-39 record through his first three seasons, he has come on strong, going 16-5 this year.

Gowens, a four-year starter at 126, clearly established himself as the team leader. With consistent 24-win performances in his first three years and currently holding a 21-4 record, he could become the ninth Irish wrestler to eclipse the 100-victory plateau. To do so, he would need a win against Purdue and a strong showing in the NCAA tournament.

Weaver, the heavyweight from Gowens’ hometown of Del City, Okla., also hopes to return to his home state for the NCAA championships. Weaver took a bit more time to develop at the college level. But after a mediocre 34-39 record through his first three seasons, he has come on strong, going 16-5 this year.

However, Weaver can hardly look past today’s match, when he’ll face a tough customer in Purdue’s heavyweight, a 31-year old Marine Corps master sergeant.

“He’s not that much bigger than Chuck, but he’s a physical specimen,” explained McCann. “He’s experienced and tough. Chuck lost pretty bad to him two years ago, but (Weaver) is a different wrestler now.”

At 167, Todd Tomazic (11-10) looks to cap off a solid career. His 72 career wins are second to Gowens, with no other Irish wrestler even close.

Tomazic, from Placentia, Calif., is an MBA student taking advantage of his final year of eligibility.

Salvino (190), plagued by injuries throughout his career, will be trying to make up for lost time.

The Observer/ David Lee

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — Seven Nebraska football players have been cited for assault, trespassing and other violations in what police say was a fight with members of the school’s baseball team and a group including some baseball players who leave a house party and a party allegedly ended.

The seven are scheduled to appear in Lancaster County Court over a three-day period beginning March 11. City Attorney Bill Austin said Tuesday no formal charges had been filed.

Police Lt. David Beggs said a group including some baseball players forced two football players to leave a house party Friday night because they wouldn’t pay a cover charge for beer.

The two came back later with other members of the football team and a fight allegedly ensued, Beggs said.

Six members of the baseball team and one former player were injured, Beggs said. Several of them were treated and released from Lincoln General Hospital.

Police identified the football players as:

— Brian Havens, 19, cited for assault and trespassing.
— Jeffery Hughes, 20, cited for assault and trespassing.
— Zach Wiegert, 19, cited for trespassing.
— Raymond Reifenrath, 23, cited for assault and criminal mischief.

Hughes, a walk-on receiver, is from Los Alamitos, Calif.

Jeffery Hughes, 20, cited for assault and trespassing, Hughes, a walk-on receiver, is from Norfolk.

— Lance Gray, 21, cited for assault and disturbing the peace. Gray, a walk-on linebacker, is from Oswego, N.Y.
— Zach Wiegert, 19, cited for trespassing and assault.
— Raymond Reifenrath, 23, cited for assault and criminal mischief.

Reifenrath, a walk-on linebacker, is from Del City, Okla.

— Terry Connealy, 19, cited for trespassing. Connealy, a scholarship linebacker, is from Hingham.

“ It was completely out of line to go back,” football coach Tom Osborne said. “We’ve always told them that they have to walk away from these kinds of things, because they never win.”

Osborne said the players would be punished but wouldn’t elaborate on how.

“This is embarrassing to the program, to the team and to me,” he said. “There will be some pretty severe discipline.”

The Irish hope to climb all over 17th-ranked Purdue in their final dual meet of the season.

The Observer/ David Lee

Nebraska football players arrested at baseball party

“IT’S MARDI GRAS
AT ST. MARY’S!”

Come enjoy Mardi Gras like never before—St. Mary’s style. On Thursday, February 27th, their own Haggar College Center will be filled with live music, games, and prizes including the Grand Prize Drawing for an $150 airline voucher and a portable stereo (w/ cd player). So stop by between 7:30 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. and don't miss out on the best party north of New Orleans.
“Good heavens! Pablo got an F in art! . . . Well, I’m just going to go down to that school myself and meet this teacher face to face!”

CROSSWORD

```
<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>1</th>
<th>2</th>
<th>3</th>
<th>4</th>
<th>5</th>
<th>6</th>
<th>7</th>
<th>8</th>
<th>9</th>
<th>10</th>
<th>11</th>
<th>12</th>
<th>13</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>1</td>
<td>Three golden apples</td>
<td>2</td>
<td>-----</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>11</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>2</td>
<td>Captured her</td>
<td>3</td>
<td>-----</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>12</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>3</td>
<td>A ---</td>
<td>4</td>
<td>-----</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>13</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>4</td>
<td>-----</td>
<td>5</td>
<td>-----</td>
<td>6</td>
<td>7</td>
<td>8</td>
<td>9</td>
<td>10</td>
<td>11</td>
<td>12</td>
<td>13</td>
<td>14</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

DOWNS

1. Way (Roman highway)
2. Wells Island
3. Boxing sites
4. Business abbreviation
5. Collection of notes
6. Fruits
7. Journey
8. States positively
9. Balance sheet item
10. The Little Red ---
11. Skin mark
12. Famous Siamese twin

SUGGESTIONS

13. Place of fabulous wealth
14. Large marine fish
15. Little
16. Intelligence
17. Burmese and little Indian residents
18. Former Oriental VIP wealth
19. Fire remnants
20. Stingy ones
21. Mr. Scrooge
22. Open shoe
23. Idler
24. Milkfish
25. Spoiled child
26. Space agency
27. Milk flows
28. Spotted child
29. Meat agency
30. Gums labor
31. REVOLVES
32. Argentine money
33. Most shrewd
34. Bone substance
35. Lost continent
36. Car part (2 wds.)
37. Countries
38. Space agency
39. Selects
40. Grasshopper
41. Rubs down
42. Judge
43. Judicial request
44. Mother
45. Collection of notes
46. Golf scores
47. L Kathleen
48. Selects
49. Parsonage
50. Golf scores
51. Liability
52. Regions
53. High-speed plane
54. Salt Lake City residents
55. Stingy ones
56. Calmness
57. Little
58. Ashley money
59. Little
60. Profits
61. Little
62. Shots
63. Tribe
```

MENU

Notre Dame

- Beef Cannelloni
- Cheese Raviolotti
- Pasta Napolitana
- Spaghetti with Meat
- Sauce, Meatballs

Saint Mary’s

- Roast Turkey
- Deli Bar
- French Fried Clam Strips
- Beef Stew

THE NAKED GUN

Thursday, February 27

8 PM & 10:30 PM

FISHER KING

Friday, February 28

8 PM & 10:30 PM

Shown in Cushing Auditorium

Admission $2

Howie Mandel

Sunday, March 1

Stepan Center

at 8 PM

Tickets Now on Sale

- ND/SMC . . . $10
- General Public . . . $15
Dayton slims Irish chances of attaining NCAA bid
Fly over ND, 60-58
By MIKE SCRUDATO
Sports Writer

DAYTON—Alex Robertson and the Dayton Flyers (14-13) dealt a serious blow to the NCAA Tournament hopes of the Notre Dame women's basketball team (11-12) last night at the University of Dayton Arena with a 60-58 win.

The Flyers were able to overcome quick Irish starts in both halves. Dayton took their first lead with 8.9 seconds left in the game when Derrick Dukes finished a fast break, which was started by Robertson and Dayton's trapping defense. After Robertson tied the game at 58 with 34.3 seconds left, Notre Dame called timeout to set up their offense, but it also gave Dayton a chance to set up its defense.

"We came out of the timeout and they threw a trap on us that we weren’t expecting," said Elmer Bennett.

Three Flyers surrounded Bennett at halfcourt. Robertson stripped the ball and Dukes took it down court for the layup and the lead. "We wanted to take the last shot on our home floor so we applied the pressure," Robertson said.

"He [Bennett] brought the ball above his head, and I was waiting for him to bring it down, which he did. I slapped it up and got it," Bennett said.

Notre Dame had a final chance to tie, but could not get a shot off as Robertson recorded his Dayton record ninth steal of the game when he intercepted a Brooks Boyer pass, which he anticipated all the way.

"We tried to run a play and get a situation where Elmer could push it up, kick the defense and give Brooks a shot at it," Irish coach John MacLeod said of the play.

At the buzzer sounded, the Dayton student section stormed the court to celebrate the comeback victory.

Dayton's greatest defensive effort. Defense won the game for us," Dayton coach Jim O'Brien said. "To walk into our locker room..."

Leary assists women's turnaround
By JASON KELLY
Sports Writer

It has been an up and down season for the Notre Dame women's basketball team, but one stabilizing force has been the play of sophomore point guard Kara Leary.

It took injuries to freshman Audrey Gomez and junior Coquese Washington before Leary was inserted into the starting lineup, but she has been a regular since her first start against Detroit on January 29.

With Leary in the lineup, the Irish have improved their record to 10-14 and strengthened their hold on second place in the Midwestern Collegiate Conference race.

Leary won't take credit for the team's improvement, however. Instead, she cites improved teamwork as the key to the turnaround.

"We've just been playing better together as a team," she said.

Teamwork begins at the point guard position, however, and Leary has handled the responsibility well. In only her second career start she collected ten points and ten assists to lead the Irish to an important conference win over Loyola.

Against DePaul on February 11, she notched a career high 11 assists and assisted on both of the Irish's two second half baskets that helped secure the win.

"I was able to see the shots and the teams that would get it," Leary said.

In the Antelope Valley Classic last month, she was named tournament MVP and the Notre Dame player of the week.

"I really try to take it as a challenge to make sure everyone else is playing well," Leary said.

Dayton, surprisingly enough, had a 423 field goal percentage, one of its field goals, but the Flyers made the shots when they had to. Dayton freshman Chip Hare and junior Alex Robertson hit free throws in the waning minutes to tie up the game.

"They are the biggest factor in the loss was turnovers," Notre Dame coach John MacLeod said. "We coughed up the ball 25 times in the course of the game, 13 of those coming in the second half. Dayton only turned the ball over 11 times in the entire game.

"That's a great story to own 11 turnovers and to cause them to have 25. That was a big factor," said Dayton coach Jim O'Brien.

Irish were 10-23 from the field adding up to a disappointing 43.5 shooting percentage in the second half. Senior LaPrincess Ellis led all Notre Dame shooters with nine second-half points. Only three other players scored for the Irish in the second half. Senior Daimon Sweet had seven, sophomore Keith Tower added six and freshman Billy Taylor had two points.

Dayton, surprisingly enough, had a 423 field goal percentage, one of its field goals, but the Flyers made the shots when they had to. Dayton freshman Chip Hare and junior Alex Robertson hit free throws in the waning minutes to tie up the game.

"They are the biggest factor in the loss was turnovers," Notre Dame coach John MacLeod said. "We coughed up the ball 25 times in the course of the game, 13 of those coming in the second half. Dayton only turned the ball over 11 times in the entire game.

"That's a great story to own 11 turnovers and to cause them to have 25. That was a big factor," said Dayton coach Jim O'Brien.

Irish were 10-23 from the field adding up to a disappointing 43.5 shooting percentage in the second half. Senior LaPrincess Ellis led all Notre Dame shooters with nine second-half points. Only three other players scored for the Irish in the second half. Senior Daimon Sweet had seven, sophomore Keith Tower added six and freshman Billy Taylor had two points.

Dayton, surprisingly enough, had a 423 field goal percentage, one of its field goals, but the Flyers made the shots when they had to. Dayton freshman Chip Hare and junior Alex Robertson hit free throws in the waning minutes to tie up the game.

"They are the biggest factor in the loss was turnovers," Notre Dame coach John MacLeod said. "We coughed up the ball 25 times in the course of the game, 13 of those coming in the second half. Dayton only turned the ball over 11 times in the entire game.

"That's a great story to own 11 turnovers and to cause them to have 25. That was a big factor," said Dayton coach Jim O'Brien.

"It's emotional. It's something that means so much to you. I'm going to miss the players and coaches. They are one of the first team's we played and I believe they're not even going to recognize us. We didn't even know what our strong points were yet. They are in for a whole new thing.

"Restovich chipped in 12 points and grabbed six in the previous Calvin game. This time, both she and Belles coach Dan Cromer expect to see even more from her.

"Catherine has got to be our leader tonight. She’ll have to set the pace," Cromer said.

Cromer will not just be looking to his lead forward Wednesday night. Starting with Restovich tonight will be senior Kelly Carpenter. Kelly was injured in the previous game and did not start regular throughout the season, the performance given by the two athletes off the bench has proven key during tight contests.

"Cook is going to play outstanding defense for us and help us with the fast break," said Cromer. "I am not sure how well we will play a defensive game. She has a real knack for being in the right place at the right time.

Mulhern waited until her senior year to play. She did not start, but has proven an important player off the bench. In her rookie season, Mulhern has contributed 2.7 ppg and 2.5 rebounds, including eight points and..."

SMC hosts Calvin in seniors' finale
By CHRIS BACON
Sports Writer

Saying goodbye is never easy for anyone. Saying goodbye to a basketball career is no different.

"You come a time when players must take their last shot, grab their last rebound, make their last free throw, take their last timeout. The seniors of the Saint Mary's basketball team (9-5) will be doing just that, a real strong second of the year. The Belles hope to reverse the 72-69 score against Calvin tonight. For this year's seniors, it is a long anticipated match-up.

"I think I keep ignoring the fact that it will be our last home game. Each year I remember the last game ceremonies feeling so young and thinking, 'I wonder what I feel like to have your last game,'" explained Belles leading scorer Catherine Restovich, who leads the team in scoring with 35.1 points per game average.

"It's emotional. It's something that means so much to you. I'm going to miss the players and coaches. They are one of the first team's we played and I believe they're not even going to recognize us. We didn't even know what our strong points were yet. They are in for a whole new thing.

"Restovich chipped in 12 points and grabbed six in the previous Calvin game. This time, both she and Belles coach Dan Cromer expect to see even more from her.

"Catherine has got to be our leader tonight. She’ll have to set the pace," Cromer said.

Cromer will not just be looking to his lead forward Wednesday night. Starting with Restovich tonight will be senior Kelly Carpenter. Kelly was injured in the previous game and did not start regular throughout the season, the performance given by the two athletes off the bench has proven key during tight contests.

"Cook is going to play outstanding defense for us and help us with the fast break," said Cromer. "I am not sure how well we will play a defensive game. She has a real knack for being in the right place at the right time.

Mulhern waited until her senior year to play. She did not start, but has proven an important player off the bench. In her rookie season, Mulhern has contributed 2.7 ppg and 2.5 rebounds, including eight points and..."