A proposal to add two study days to the final examination period was approved by the Academic Council yesterday, according to Greg Butrus, student body president.

The proposal will go into effect beginning with the fall 1992 semester and will not extend the student calendar, said Butrus. It will result in eliminating classes on the Thursday and Friday before exams, he said.

"(It) was proposed in order to give students more time to prepare for finals, which are difficult enough without the time shortage," said Butrus.

Butrus's primary election platform was the addition of study days. He said that he has been working on the project "since day one," which has been every day for the past two months.

Butrus said that he is surprised at how quickly the proposal was passed by the Academic Council. "It shows that the administration is willing to listen to student ideas and can be reasonably reasonable to what students want," he said.

University President Edward Malloy said that there was "good rationale for doing it (passing the proposal) as it won the vast majority of support."

Bill Dalley, counselor to the student body president, spearheaded the project and is also "amazed at how quickly the proposal went through." It was approved by an overwhelming majority, he said.

Butrus said that he plans to continue to focus on the quality of undergraduate education, which he said is his biggest interest.

"Proposals to add two study days to Wednesday and Thursday before exams, he said. He said that he has been working on the project "since day one," which has been every day for the past two months.

Butrus said that he is surprised at how quickly the proposal was passed by the Academic Council. "It shows that the administration is willing to listen to student ideas and can be reasonably reasonable to what students want," he said.

University President Edward Malloy said that there was "good rationale for doing it (passing the proposal) as it won the vast majority of support."

Bill Dalley, counselor to the student body president, spearheaded the project and is also "amazed at how quickly the proposal went through." It was approved by an overwhelming majority, he said.

Butrus said that he plans to continue to focus on the quality of undergraduate education, which he said is his biggest interest.

"Proposals to add two study days to Wednesday and Thursday before exams, he said. He said that he has been working on the project "since day one," which has been every day for the past two months.
INSIDE COLUMN
Finding summer jobs is important

Ah, spring. That lovely time of year when leaves slowly begin to emerge on the trees. Soon, when students fill themselves with wild abandon into the mud pits during At Totsal, and when everyone starts preparing for finals.

There's time to pack up the car and head home, perhaps to a week of relaxation, before getting ready to start that summer job.

Of course seniors are excluded from this regimen, for they may have to prepare themselves for the REAL WORLD! But everyone else will probably have to work for at least part of the summer to earn some dough for next year.

Summer jobs, of course, are especially important for those people who will be seniors next year, since they've got to have some side money to hit the nightlife in and around South Bend.

Well, if you haven't got a job for the summer yet, you're not unlike myself, hoping that some wonderful opportunity will come through.

But no matter where you decide to work, most employment opportunities for college students fall under a few general categories, so check and see what you may qualify for. Who knows, this list may even help you find a job.

• The intern. This is the serious student who does research in some field related to his/her major. These people just can't learn enough. Their bosses are chomping at the bit, the intern may not have a very good tan, but trades it off for acceptance into the postgraduate school of his/her choice.

• Then there are the people who put off finding a job until the last minute. I did that last summer, and believe me, never again.

A music store is acceptable, but clothes stores are right out. No one wears Chess King merchandise anyway. Plus, the high school crowd is too pan. Also includes fast food joints.

• Daddy's employee. This person never worries about landing a job. The workload is tough, but if you want to take a day off at the beach, the boss usually doesn't mind. And they said nepotism was dead.

• The construction worker. These people are the real workers. They earn their pay more than anyone else on campus. The hours are long and the work grueling, but check out the perks: killer tan, fashionable orange vest, and socially acceptable greeting. Includes any physical labor position.

• The lifeguard/beach worshippers: Also sports a vicious tan and gets to scope all day long. May have to teach four-year olds how to stay afloat, but overall not a bad job, and those great boardwalk games of chance are often in close proximity.

So there you have it. Which one of these groups will you belong to this summer. Perhaps none of them, or more than one. Maybe you'll just bum around all summer on the golf course. Too bad they don't have one to do that.

The views expressed in the Inside Column are those of the author and not necessarily those of The Observer.

Today's Staff
News
Becky Barnes
Alicia Reale
Production
Kathy Fong
Chery Moser
Sports
George Dohrmann
Systems
John Halloran
Business
Sonja Czarny
Andy Runke
Viewpoint
Gay Laroar
Jason Thomas
Accent
Maria Divis
Mary Schultz
Pat Moran
The Observer (USPS 597 4400) is published Monday through Friday except during exam and vacation periods. The Observer is a member of the Associated Press. All reproduction rights are reserved.

WEATHER REPORT
Forecast for noon, Thursday April 23

FORECAST
Mostly cloudy and cool today with a 40 percent chance of showers. Hights in the mid 50s. Friday will be cloudy with highs in the mid 50s.

TEMPERATURES

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Location</th>
<th>High</th>
<th>Low</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Anchorage</td>
<td>40</td>
<td>30</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Atlanta</td>
<td>79</td>
<td>51</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Raleigh</td>
<td>80</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Boston</td>
<td>63</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Chicago</td>
<td>49</td>
<td>37</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denver</td>
<td>56</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Dallas</td>
<td>85</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Denver</td>
<td>56</td>
<td>36</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Houston</td>
<td>88</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Indianapolis</td>
<td>87</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Keokuk</td>
<td>84</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Kansas City</td>
<td>82</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Los Angeles</td>
<td>79</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Minneapolis</td>
<td>84</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Nome</td>
<td>61</td>
<td>50</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New Orleans</td>
<td>82</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>New York</td>
<td>77</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Philadelphia</td>
<td>86</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Phoenix</td>
<td>87</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>San Francisco</td>
<td>87</td>
<td>62</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Seattle</td>
<td>85</td>
<td>65</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>St. Louis</td>
<td>73</td>
<td>56</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Toronto</td>
<td>77</td>
<td>55</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>Washington D.C.</td>
<td>75</td>
<td>61</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

TODAY AT A GLANCE

NATIONAL
Quake hits Southern California

DESSERT HOT SPRINGS, Calif. — A moderate earthquake rocked parts of Southern California on Wednesday, knocking out some telephone service. There were no reports of damage or injury. The 7:35 p.m. earthquake measured 4.6 on the Richter scale and was centered nine miles east of Desert Hot Springs, said Julie Haskew, spokeswoman for the California Institute of Technology's seismology lab in Pasadena. It was followed by several aftershocks, including one measuring 2.7. She said Desert Hot Springs is about 110 miles east of Los Angeles.

Clinton attacked on Earth Day

WASHINGTON — The Bush administration leveled an Earth Day attack on Bill Clinton as White House officials accused the Democratic front-runner of a "slippery" effort to gloss over a poor environmental record. Clinton, the Arkansas governor, has "the worst environmental record in America," White House press secretary Marlin Fitzwater told reporters Wednesday. The comments were designed to counter Clinton's Earth Day speech in Philadelphia attacking Bush's environmental record.

OF INTEREST

The "Superfund" will be discussed in Part III of the 1992 Environmental Conference. Ekhart mayor James Perron, James Michael Thunder of Johnson Controls, Inc., and Lloyd Keutch of the Civil Engineering and Geological Sciences Department will speak at 7 p.m. in the Foster Room of LaFortune.

ASME meeting/pizza party will be held in Room 356 Fitzpatrick at 7 p.m. tonight, instead of Room 120. All new and old members should attend.

The Appalachian Seminar Task Force will hold an informational meeting for anyone interested in the 1992 Fall Seminar at 7 p.m. tonight in the CSC lounge.

Until They Have Faces, a slide show and oral presentation, will be given by several members of the ND community on their recent experiences living in India. The presentation will take at 7:30 in the multipurpose room at the Center for Social Concerns.

MARKET UPDATE

YESTERDAY'S TRADING/ April 22

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Volume in Shares</th>
<th>NYSE INDEX</th>
<th>S&amp;P 500</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>265,631,530</td>
<td>225.42</td>
<td>1,832</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>255,631,530</td>
<td>225.42</td>
<td>1,832</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>255,631,530</td>
<td>225.42</td>
<td>1,832</td>
</tr>
<tr>
<td>255,631,530</td>
<td>225.42</td>
<td>1,832</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Better disease prevention found

WASHINGTON — Two birth control devices for women, the contraceptive sponge and the diaphragm, provide women with significantly more protection against some sexually transmitted diseases than do condoms worn by male partners, a health journal reported Wednesday. A study of 4,162 women found less gonorrhea and chlamydiosis among those using female-controlled methods of contraception, the American Journal of Public Health reported. Gonorrhea, trichomoniasis and chlamydia account for 75 percent of the 12 million new cases of sexually transmitted diseases in the United States each year.

CAMPUS

Speech team places ninth

NOTRE DAME — Notre Dame's speech team placed ninth in the National Forensics Association National Championships last weekend, up from a 19th place finish last year, said member Joe Wilson. Wilson placed eighth and Sonia Miller reached the quarterfinals in the category of prose interpretation of literature. First-year competitor Heil Toshani also qualified for the tournament. Notre Dame's speech team has been active for five years, according to Wilson.

A performance of Lakota music, dance, and oral history including the hoop dance and traditional flute music will be offered by Kevin Locke, a Lakota Indian of the Standing Rock Reservation, tonight at 7:30 in the Kresge Auditorium. This event is sponsored by the Bahk'i Club, the Native American Student Association and the Local Spiritual Assembly of the Bahk'i of South Bend. All are welcome.

A materials drive, sponsored by Pi Sigma Alpha to send unused pens, pencils, and paper from Notre Dame students to the residents of Passagin, Beun, will kick off tonight at 8 p.m. in the ISO Lounge, 2nd floor LaFortune. Christophe Koughionzide, a native of Passagin, will speak.

The ISO picnic will be tomorrow at 4:30 at Holy Cross Field. There will be free food and drinks, as well as soccer and volleyball!

ON THIS DAY IN HISTORY

In 1789: President-elect George Washington and his wife moved into the first executive mansion, the Franklin House, in New York.

In 1969: Sirhan Sirhan was sentenced to death for the assassination of Robert F. Kennedy. The sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment.

In 1982: For the first time in 17 years, the government reported a monthly decline in the consumer price index, which fell a seasonally adjusted three-tenths of one percent in January.

In 1986: The government proposed banning immigration into the United States by people suffering from AIDS.
Ecclesiastical ethics and the benefits and drawbacks of technology and science were discussed by several professors at a lecture last night.

David Lodge, associate professor of biology at Notre Dame, focused on global warming and its environmental effects. He said that the changes in the global atmosphere are certain, yet scientifically the effects of such changes can not be predicted.

According to Lodge, the hottest summer recorded was in 1988, and there is a theory that it is the result of global warming. Global warming occurs when short wave radiation enters the earth's atmosphere and transforms into long wave radiation. This radiation can not escape the atmosphere and is thus trapped in an envelope of gases that retain the heat, he said.

Four gases, called greenhouse gases, which keep the long wave radiation from leaving the atmosphere are carbon dioxide, methane, nitrous oxide, and chlorofluorocarbons. There has been a dramatic increase in these gases in the last century, said Lodge.

Coincidentally, there also may be a warming trend in the actual temperatures recorded. "Warming temperatures may not be occurring, but there is a good chance that a warming trend is very plausible," he said.

Some of the consequences of the atmospheric composition of the earth's atmosphere. If the results are not global warming, other changes can be expected," said Lodge.

Charles Kulpa, Notre Dame professor of biological sciences, said that it may be possible to reduce the sulfur emission in fossil fuels by technology. Notre Dame and other institutions are researching this new area of biotechnology and the ways that it can benefit the environment, he said.

Burning fossil fuels emits sulfur which damages the environment, and the government has passed regulations that require oil refineries to reduce diesel fuel sulfur emissions from 2.5 to 0.5 percent by 1992, said Kulpa.

Hydrodesulfurization is a chemical process which removes sulfur from fuels, he said. However, according to Kulpa, the process is very expensive to build and operate.

The Rites of Spring
For

Juniors

• Bookstore Basketball

• Christmas In April

• Blue-Gold Game

• Resume Submitted To Career and Placement Office For Resume Books

Sisters of Holy Cross established tradition of SMC education

By ERIN BROWN
News Writer

When Father Edward Sorin wrote home to France from America in 1841, he spoke of the need of sisters in the new mission in northern Indiana called Notre Dame. His words put a dream onto the eyes of Sister Calvary of the Holy Cross. Although not the first service performed by the sisters included washing and mending clothes and cooking for Notre Dame, they accepted the call and the opportunity to venture to America.

In 1843 Sister Calvary and three other sisters left LeMars, France to join the Holy Cross colony in the New World. The voyage to America was headed by Father Moreau and consisted of some Holy Cross missionaries, one brother, two priests and the four sisters. The determined party sailed for 40 days and arrived in America in July of that year.

The Sisters moved into a five room house six miles north of Notre Dame in Bertrand, Michigan. This would be their conven for the next several years.

In September of 1844, Sorin performed the ceremony of presenting the habit to three postulants. These were the first to receive the Holy Cross habit in America.

The sisters soon established an orphanage and became orphaned girls. They were also asked by some local neighbors to help their children. This was the beginning of the present Saint Mary's College and the fulfillment of Moreau's dream for the sisters to devote themselves to teaching in America.

The first mission opened from the convent in Bertrand was a Native American school in Michigan. The sisters taught the children catechism and elementary subjects for 72 years. By 1861 the sisters were operating schools teaching in nine different states.

Over the following several years the school community grew with local grants and land donations. By 1850 there were 50 boarders at the school, and its name was changed to Saint Mary's of the Immaculate Conception. The tuition and board were $20 a year.

Soon afterward, Sorin secured a piece of land one mile to the west of Notre Dame that had been unsuccessfully trying to acquire for several years. He was finally able to purchase the 185 acres for $800.70. This became the new site of the mother house for the Sisters of the Holy Cross and Saint Mary's.

As the years passed, the size of the school increased and the first graduation was held in 1860. The graduating class consisted of six girls. From here the Sisters continued on to establish the tradition of Saint Mary's education.

Although the number of Holy Cross Sisters at Saint Mary's has decreased over the years, they have been the backbone of the Saint Mary's tradition.

The sisters "represent the highest ideal of the past. They have a vision of what education is for women," said Myrtiss Cooney, professor of mathematics at Saint Mary's. "They brought a religious dimension to the liberal arts education.

One of the areas that has been affected by the lower number of Sisters in the faculty. In the mid 1950s over half of the instructors at Saint Mary's were sisters. Today there are approximately six. Cooney feels that this is due to the fact that women have so many options and are not as interested anymore in working within an institution.

But, she adds, regardless of the small number of sisters, there is a "prevailing spirit and stability in the faculty and students here."

The sisters have provided leadership at the College and the declining number of them will probably be felt most immediately in the faculty, according to Sister Elena Malits, professor of religious studies. As a graduate of Saint Mary's, Malits said that most of her teachers were sisters.

Despite the small number, however, Malits feels that the sisters "embody what the tradition (of Saint Mary's) is. They contribute continuity to the faculty.

Not only do the Sisters work in education, but they are also active in schools and colleges and childhood and adult programs.

On a larger scale, the Sisters are active in ministries throughout the world. Among them is the number of Sisters in the Holy Cross Order has gone from 1650 members in the 1950s to its current 800, the sisters have served in health ministries worldwide within the Holy Cross Health System, which is sponsored by the Congregation.

The work of the sisters, though, sometimes helps to battle problems such as drug abuse, illiteracy, and poverty. The Sisters of the Holy Cross have provided a longstanding tradition not only in the Saint Mary's Community but all over the world.
SUPER
SALE
NOTRE DAME J.A.C.C.

9th ANNUAL SUPER SALE • 1000s OF BARGAINS!

VACUUMS
GOLD VACUUMS $39
ROYAL BIRT $99 (REG.
$129)

OPTICAL
WHOLESALE EYEGLASSES
NEEDS $49
LENS ADJUSTMENT $5/PAIR
FRAME SALE FROM $2.99

PIELOWS
THROW PILLOWS $2.99
ASSORTED BED PILLOWS $8
DRAFT PERSH $2.99
LARGF FLOOR PILLOWS $25

HOME IMPROVEMENT
FIBERLUX
FIBERLUX SERIES 500
Replacement Windows $499

ART
SHAREWARE
BAKEWARE
SUNGLASSES

JEWELRY
GOLD • DIAMONDS
WATCHES • CHAINS
MORE

STEREO • CAR STEREO • VCRs
"70% OFF"

Art Work • Oil on Canvas

tatoes • Of Charming Birds

MOVIES
1000s OF MOVIES
Many Top Brands
Incredible Prices!

NINTENDO
100s Of Game Cartridges
NEW & USED

JACKETS
MENS' & WOMEN'S
LEATHER, JUDE & FASHION

ATHLETIC SHOES
NIKE • FILA • ELLESSE
L.A. GEAR • REEBOK

CLOTHING
LEVI'S • LEVI'S JEANS $12.99
NIKE • FILA

CREATIONS FROM THE HEART
Magazine Rack $19.95

AMAZING SELECTION
OVER 5000 ITEMS

FRAMING & HOME DECOR
WICKER & PLANTS

HANGING BASKETS $12.99
WICKER SHELVES $39
PAPASIA $89
WICKER HAMPER $59
EXOTIC FLOWER PLANTS

Shed Shadows $24.99

THE GREAT OUTDOORS
TENTS • SLEEPING BAGS
CAMPING ACCESSORIES

SLEEPING BAGS
12 x 12
$12
37
14
$14

FREE GIFT WITH TENT PURCHASE!

mattress wareHousE
TWIN $39
$59

THE GREATEST OUTDOORS

KAPALOOZI BRIDGESTONE

FREE GIFT WITH TENT PURCHASE!
GSU budget approved by GSC

By SARAH DORAN
News Writer

The proposed 1992-93 Graduate Student Union (GSU) budget was unanimously approved last night at a meeting of the Graduate Student Council (GSC).

The largest change in the budget from last year is the amount of money that will be allocated to the administrative assistance category. The allocation will decrease from last year's figure of $8,500 to $3,000 due to the salaries of officers' positions that have been eliminated and consolidated into the responsibilities of other workers.

The amount of the budget is the same as the 1991-92 amount at $56,450.

New officers were installed in the treasurer and secretary positions. Uma Balakrishnan will serve as treasurer and John Checckett secretary.

The new positions of parliamentarian was created and the duties of the position will entail overseeing the meetings and elections of the GSC. Ulick Stafford was appointed to this position.

The proposal of taking a survey of graduate students was approved and Patrick Titzer was appointed chairman of the survey committee.

The purpose of the survey is to collate information concerning the identity of graduate students, to function as a census, and to answer certain questions about the graduate students that will help the GSU function more effectively in meeting the needs of the graduate students.

A petition to support an on-campus facility for child care was circulated during the meeting.

A letter from the GSC addressed to the administration in response to the new smoking policy was read. The letter called the policy too restrictive and discriminatory. It said that the policy discriminates most against staff and graduate students, who are the largest group of smokers.

The letter called for the need to set aside areas of the Huddle and the library concourse for smoking.

GSC also addressed the Honor Code and how it responds to the needs of graduate students. It was said, in a letter addressed to the administration from the GSC, that improvements and a more thought out policy on behalf of the graduate school was needed.

Hussein's monument is a victory arch erected to commemorate the Iraqi victory over Iran. The irony of the arch is that it was commissioned thousands of deaths before victory became reality, said Makiya.

"It's breathtakingly gruesome and uniquely vulgar," he said. "It deserves to be taken more seriously than any other monument worthy of our attention."

The monument consists of two interlocking swords each held in a forty-ton forearm and fist. Each forearm is an exact replica of the ancient scimitar. The swords are made from stainless steel melted from Iraqi weapons.

Scattered at the base of the swords are hundreds of pierced bodies of martyred Iraqi soldiers. The pinnacle of the monument is an Iraqi flag stationed above the apex of the swords.

"The decision to cast his own forearms couldn't be improved upon," Makiya said. "Casting each bumph and squiggly mesmerizes...and renders absolute authority."

This monument however is not purely artistic, according to Makiya. Hussein is concerned with the consumers, not with the art. "Politics as art is politics, not art," Makiya said.

The second monument Makiya described as a genuine piece of art honoring the memory of the Kurds, who faced persecution by the Iraqis in 1988. On May 3 of that year, the Iraqis dropped chemical bombs on two hundred houses in a small Kurdish village. This is their memorial.

It is a rough, unfinished "graveyard memorial" framed by a low retaining wall, said Makiya. Through this monument, "horror and beauty become inextricably interdependent upon one another." There are 68 bodies buried by hand in earthen mounds that will be adorned with trees according to Kurdish custom.

"I have tried to take you on a journey of Iraqi pain, a monument can work or not work irrespective of whether one likes or not likes what it stands for," Makiya concluded. "The paradox in these two monuments is that hardly any time has passed on their creation. We are at the beginning of things touching life and death at their rawest moments. Even if the tyrant [Hussein] is dead, the Iraqis have to walk underneath the swords to escape the spell."

ONLY YOU CAN PREVENT FOREST FIRES.

Makiya discusses architecture

By ELISABETH HEARD and MARY MURPHY
News Writers

"We learn truth and falsehood from architecture and monuments," said Kanan Makiya, an Iraqi ex-patriot, in a lecture yesterday.

Makiya, architect and author of the best-seller "Republic of Fear," contrasted two monuments that he saw during his clandestine visit to Iraq last November when he spoke on the "Politics of Monumentalism in Iraq: From Power to Mourning".

The first monument, created by Saddam Hussein, exemplifies the use of art to represent power, while the second, a Kurdish memorial, represents collective mourning and healing.

The irony of the arch is that it was commissioned thousands of deaths before victory became reality, said Makiya.

"It's breathtakingly gruesome and uniquely vulgar," he said. "It deserves to be taken more seriously than any other monument worthy of our attention."

The monument consists of two interlocking swords each held in a forty-ton forearm and fist. Each forearm is an exact replica of the ancient scimitar. The swords are made from stainless steel melted from Iraqi weapons.

Scattered at the base of the swords are hundreds of pierced bodies of martyred Iraqi soldiers. The pinnacle of the monument is an Iraqi flag stationed above the apex of the swords.

"The decision to cast his own forearms couldn't be improved upon," Makiya said. "Casting each bumph and squiggly mesmerizes...and renders absolute authority."

This monument however is not purely artistic, according to Makiya. Hussein is concerned with the consumers, not with the art. "Politics as art is politics, not art," Makiya said.

The second monument Makiya described as a genuine piece of art honoring the memory of the Kurds, who faced persecution by the Iraqis in 1988. On May 3 of that year, the Iraqis dropped chemical bombs on two hundred houses in a small Kurdish village. This is their memorial.

It is a rough, unfinished "graveyard memorial" framed by a low retaining wall, said Makiya. Through this monument, "horror and beauty become inextricably interdependent upon one another." There are 68 bodies buried by hand in earthen mounds that will be adorned with trees according to Kurdish custom.

"I have tried to take you on a journey of Iraqi pain, a monument can work or not work irrespective of whether one likes or not likes what it stands for," Makiya concluded. "The paradox in these two monuments is that hardly any time has passed on their creation. We are at the beginning of things touching life and death at their rawest moments. Even if the tyrant [Hussein] is dead, the Iraqis have to walk underneath the swords to escape the spell."

IMMEDIATE PART-TIME OPPORTUNITIES
LINGUISTS
$20,000 Package
$2,000 Starting Bonus.

The 138th MIL BN, an Army Reserve unit near you, has a limited number of openings for Military Intelligence Voice Interceptor training. If you qualify and complete training in this specialty, you get a $20,000 bonus. You'll also earn a good part-time income for serving usually one weekend a month plus two weeks a year. Your total part-time income during a standard enlistment will be over $13,000.

If higher education is your goal, you may receive Army GI Bill money for college or approved VocTech training—up to $5,000. The Army Reserve offers you a $20,000 package if you probably won't find anywhere else for a part-time job. Openings are limited, so call right now.

(219) 234-4187
BE ALL YOU CAN BE
ARMY RESERVE

NOTRE DAME TONIGHT!!

The Final Acoustic Cafe of the Semester!

9:00-Midnight
April 23
Basement Lounge
LaFortune

with MC Ryan Hallford

Open Microphone: Student Participation Actively Encouraged
The Observer

Thursday, April 23, 1992

Earth day celebrated by planting, cleanups

Skydivers' plane crash kills 15

PERRIS, Calif. (AP) — A plane loaded with skydivers crashed during takeoff Wednesday, killing 15 people and injuring seven, authorities said.

The twin-engine De Havilland DHC-6 Twin Otter plunged into a grassy area at the southwest end of a runway at the rural Perris Valley Airport, shutting off the noise of the aircraft and both wings.

Fifteen deaths were confirmed and seven injured victims were hospitalizing, said Ruth Bahler, a spokeswoman for the California Department of Forestry-Riverside County Fire Department. Hospitals said there were at least four in critical condition.

The plane, operated by Perris Valley Skydiving, had just taken off and was about 30 to 40 feet in the air and 200 yards off the runway when a witness saw it was in trouble, said fire Capt. Travis Witten.

"A witness said he heard him feathering an engine, then he lost sight of the plane and it crashed," Travis said. That witness was the owner of the flying service but Travis did not have his name.

Names of the victims were not released. Twenty-two people, including two of the members, were aboard the plane.

The injured were taken to hospitals by air and ground ambulances.

At the airport, bodies of the dead lay covered by a single white sheet in front of the fuselage.

The crash was reported at 11:15 a.m. Firefighters and rescue ambulances were summoned from local agencies and March Air Force Base.

A crowd of spectators standing among parked ultralight aircraft watched the rescues and recovery of bodies.

The Twin Otter routinely flew out of the airport, which is also known as Riverside International, to locations throughout the world.

The Twin Otter is a propeller-driven Canadian aircraft designed for carrying passengers and cargo. It normally carries up to 19 passengers, but the one that crashed has a wingspan of 65 feet and is just under 52 feet long.

Pioneer Institute and Gov. William Weld kicked off a competition for innovative ideas to solve environmental problems. The institute, a Boston-based think tank, is offering a total of $25,000 in awards for the best ideas.

"Past Earth Day events have promoted environmental awareness and highlighted environmental problems," institute Chairman Lovett Peters said. "'Planer Institute seeks to shift that focus from awareness to action.'"

Peace activists planted — for the fifth time since 1991 — a "children's tree of life" in Palisades Park in Santa Monica, Calif. The previous New Zealand pines have been vandalized.

Hayward, Calif., is sponsoring an exhibit on home composting and homemade cleaning products. Berkeley, Calif., will hold an Eco-Motion Parade and Fair featuring vehicles with combustion-free engines Saturday.

West Virginia Gov. Gaston Caperton unveiled a proposal establishing collection centers around the state for safe disposal of used motor oil.

* * *

campus reps wanted to market our programs on campus.

The perfect job for those bound for graduate school! Look at the advantages:

- Generous compensation
- Work on your own schedule
- Set your own hours!
- Earn big commissions!
- Have fun while you work!
- Earn a FREE LSAT, GMAT, GRE or MCAT Prep Course!

For more information, call

South Bend Call 273-1866

The Notre Dame African Student Association

FACETS OF WOMEN

A Film by Didié Kears
Color. Ivory Coast 1985

In indigenous languages and French with English subtitles

Award of the International Critique Award of the International Critics' FIPRESCI & Movie at Cannes Film Festival 1985 - London Film Festival 1985 - San Francisco International New Films at the Museum of Modern Art 1986

The First Movie from Ivory Coast to Have Reached New York

The pilotly andagnostically, abominable two part film explores the link between traditional customs and contemporary conditions in the Ivory Coast. The film creates a rich tapestry of the traditions and rhythms of village life as well as present socio-economic and religious habits. The sexual tensions adapted by African women in a patriarchal society.

Venue: Annenberg Auditorium - Steine Museum

Date: Wednesday April 29, 1992

Time: 7:45 pm

Price: $5 (or $3 for students)

Government, rebels join to isolate radical guerilla leader

KABUL, Afghanistan (AP) — Guerrillas advanced to the capital’s edge and joined forces with the crumbling Afghan government Wednesday to isolate a radical chieftain and prepare for a rebel-led Islamic government.

A force of at least 1,000 Muslim guerrillas moved to the perimeter of the capital accompanied by an Afghan army colonel. Guerrilla commanders joined army officers at security posts within sight of downtown Kabul.

After 14 years of civil war that has claimed 2 million lives, the mujahedeen rebels were on the verge of conquering the capital and seizing power, replacing the government of ousted President Najibullah, who went into hiding last week.

But the takeover was delayed by their indecision on how to share power and who should become the nation’s leader. For the first time, police said, they were permitting unarmed mujahedeen, or Islamic holy warriors, to enter the city.

Kabul appeared less tense Wednesday than at any time in the last week. Shops were open and markets were crowded on the first sunny day since the weekend.

After the nightly 9 p.m. curfew went into effect, however, tracer bullets flashed across the weekend.

The Red Cross said a field nurse was killed by gunfire in Maidan Shar, about 18 miles southwest of Kabul. It gave no details, but the victim reportedly was an Isander killed by fundamentalist rebels.

The cooperation in Kabul and provincial towns between the army and moderate guerrillas was directed against radical forces under the command of Gulbuddin Hekmatyar.

Hekmatyar has threatened to attack the capital unless it surrenders to him by Monday, the anniversary of the 1978 Communist coup and the start of the U.S.-supported insurgency.

Ahmed Shah Masood, a moderate and the country’s most powerful rebel commander, hailed Hekmatyar’s fighting ability and advised him to help form a provisional guerilla government.

"Hekmatyar is a warmonger," Masood said at his head quarters at Charikar, 25 miles north of Kabul. He said he hoped "a common position can be found that includes Hekmatyar. But if not, the people of Afghanistan will not let him be included."

Speaking before a meeting with Benon Sevan, the U.N.’s chief negotiator, Masood said: "The peace train has already left and whoever wants to get on should get on or be left behind."

Sevan met a council of more than 100 guerrilla commanders in northern Afghanistan on Tuesday to ask the factions to set aside ethnic rivalries and personal ambition.

Sevan also has been trying to negotiate safe passage for Najibullah, who has been under U.N. protection in Kabul since he was blocked from leaving the country last Thursday.

Masood, however, said Najibullah should stay and be judged. "Whether he is released or is not released is up to the Afghan nation," he said.

At the Qalay-i-Sorkh army base north of Charikar, a Soviet-trained Afghan army officer who spent his career fighting the mujahedeen patrolled side by side with his former foes.

"We support Masood fully," said Col. Mohammed Naylim, an artillery division commander.

Cabinet calls for a new French constitution

PARIS (AP) — The Cabinet on Wednesday sent a bill to the National Assembly calling for changes to France’s constitution that would allow it to ratify the European Community’s treaty on political and monetary union.

The Union treaty is opposed by various factions of the opposition, from the Communist Party to the far-right National Front. Most critics object to a loss of national sovereignty and fear German dominance in a new balance of EC powers.

Premier Pierre Beregovoy said the proposed changes would be put before the people in a national referendum if the National Assembly failed to approve them.

The measure calls for adding a two-article section to the Constitution to make it in harmony with the EC treaty. The changes are necessary to conform to treaty sections allowing foreigners to vote in municipal elections and place visa policies in the hands of the EC.

In France, constitutional changes can be enacted by a three-fifths majority of the two houses of parliament or by a national referendum. On April 12, President Francois Mitterrand rejected submitting the issue to a referendum except as a last resort.

In his 10 year in office, Mitterrand has staked his reputation on the building of a new Europe. But he must convince skeptics who fear a loss of French sovereignty.

The Communist Party and the National Front are firmly against the treaty, which was signed by EC members in December. A conservative-centrist alliance, which constitutes the core opposition, is divided over the treaty’s merits. A group of leftists, including Communist leader Jean-Pierre Chevenez and some Socialists, mounted a new challenge with plans to publish a pamphlet condemning the Maastricht accord.

National Front President Jean-Marie Le Pen said ratifying the treaty would be the “beginning of the end of France.”

Former President Valery Giscard d’Estaing, head of a centrist coalition, said anyone rejecting European union "adopts a suicidal attitude."

If you see news happening, call The Observer at 239-5303 and let us know about it.

Grand Opening April 3rd
Rainbow Video
WE SPECIALIZE IN:

- Korean
- Japanese
- Chinese

Video Tapes
Free Membership
State Road 233 Ironwood
Next to 76 Gas Station
Mon-Sat 10 am to 10 pm
Sun 12 noon to 6 pm
(219) 273-9545
Moscow is selling Red Square to big business.

May Day: Moscow sells Red Square to big business.

NEW YORK (AP) — May Day
Moscow’s Red Square is for sale
— for one day and for $1 million.

With Communism dead and Russia in a cash crunch, Moscow is selling the square to foreign companies as advertising space for the celebration that used to honor the workers of the world.

If $1 million is too much, the sacred Kremlin wall can be had for half that amount. The only thing off limits is Lenin’s tomb.

For the first time in decades,
May 1 in Moscow won’t feature a parade of red hammers, tanks, missiles and glorified workers paying homage to the Communist Party and the revolution that brought it to power.

“But since the revolution,
Russians are accustomed that this is a holiday. So, this year we will celebrate freedom,”
New York Tass bureau chief
Yuri Romantsov said.

“This will be the first official celebration of the new Russia,” the ITAR-Tass Russian news agency said in a letter offering
Red Square to big business.

“Have your day, but bring dol-ars. The city government will say ‘yes’ to rubles.”

The New York office of Tass
— once the official voice of the old Soviet regime — is the exclusive world agent for the deal.

“The Moscow government has asked us to do this,” Igor Makurin, a Tass executive board member, said in a telephone interview from Moscow.

The news agency, now owned by the cash-poor republic of Russia, hired a New York-based marketing group, Ikon International, to help it find customers.

Ikon’s managing director,
Darryl Marks, said his mission is simple: Raise cash.

“Missiles don’t sell anymore.
There’s no more money in nukes,” he said.

But there is in advertising.
And although billboards for Coca-Cola and Pepsi already can be seen in Pushkin Square and on sides of river boats, the city has never before offered its sacred monuments as advertising backdrops.

Hey Anton,

Who taught you how to punch..........JUAN?!!

HAPPY 20TH BIRTHDAY!

YOU BE THE COACH

IT’S ANOTHER FIRST FOR IRISH BASEBALL:
THE ‘YOU PICK THE LINEUP’ CONTEST!

Coach Pat Murphy wants your help! On Thursday, April 30, the nationally ranked Irish will take on Eastern Michigan at 3:00pm at Jake Kline Field. And you get to pick the starting lineup! Just fill out the ballot and return it as indicated. Then be sure to come out to the game and see how your lineup does!

Include your name and you may be selected to throw out the first pitch!!

Check one for each position.

RB: Robbie Berk
SS: Craig Counsell
CF: Eric Danapilis
OF: Eddie Harnwell
1B: Joe Binkiewicz
3B: Pat Leahy
DB: Mike Rooney
CF: Adam Maisano
OF: Craig Defersa

Your name: ____________________________
Phone: ________________________________

Please return this ballot to:
Baseball Lineup Contest
Athletic Department
NOTRE DAME JACC
Notre Dame, IN 46556

THE Firing process
Professor Bill Kremer, head of the ceramics department, works with the salt kiln in Riley Hall to fire ceramics projects. The temperature of the kiln will determine the amount of glaze on the clay.
Tuesdays to secure her place as about two hours after Uhrich to offer of Chevy Chase, Md., a time to come with this land to the Supreme Court, and I gave women the constitutional belief will lead the justices to before the Supreme Court of a Pennsylvania case that many believe will lead the justices to dismiss or overturn the 1973 Roe vs. Wade decision that gave women the constitutional right to have an abortion.

I've always wanted to come to the Supreme Court, and I thought this would be a good time to come with this landmark case," said Carol Erlich of Chevy Chase, Md., an abortion-rights advocate who, in her wheelchair, arrived at the court at 9 a.m. EDT Tuesday to secure her place as the first in line.

"This one was so historic it was worth making the trip," said Nancy Kasopp, 42, drove...
Day care owner convicted of child abuse

FAIRMONT, N.C. (AP) — The owner of a day care center was convicted Wednesday on 99 charges of sexually abusing children under his care. The verdict culminated the longest and most expensive criminal trial in state history.

Robert Kelly Jr., who owned the now-closed Little Rascals Day Care Center in Edenton, was acquitted only of a single charge of taking indecent liberties with one girl.

After 14 days of deliberating, the jury convicted Kelly of abusing 12 children. He was found guilty of four counts of rape, 46 of taking indecent liberties, 36 of first-degree sexual offense and 13 crimes against nature.

"I'm innocent. I'll go to prison and fight it from there," Kelly said as he was being led to a deputy's car.

The charges carry a maximum penalty of 40 life terms plus 560 years. Judge D. Marsh McLellan Jr. scheduled sentencing for Thursday. Six other people also face trials in the case.

In its length, cost and subject matter, the trial drew comparisons to the McMartin case, a 1984 trial that drew national attention. The charges were prompted by a rash of legal actions in 1984

But there were crucial differences. In the McMartin case, the children's testimony consisted of videotaped interviews

Households stop shrinking

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American household has stopped shrinking, interrupting a 140-year trend toward less togetherness.

A Census Bureau report Wednesday showed that the nation's dwellings were inhabited by an average of 2.63 people last year, exactly the same number as the previous year, and virtually identical to 1989's figure of 2.62.

The recent numbers reflect at least a stall in the slow but steady decline in household sizes since 1850, when the average was 5.55 people.

Households quit getting smaller partly because of hard times, and partly because many adults from the huge "baby boom" generation are only now producing children of their own, analysts say.

Head to head

These clay busts, the work of ceramics students in Riley Hall, await future work.

Brown students protest; Rutgers' make demands

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP) — Dozens of Brown University students were arrested Wednesday after taking over the campus administration building to demand that the Ivy League school stop judging applicants by their ability to pay.

Meanwhile, in New Jersey, six Rutgers University students occupied the building housing the university's main switchboard to demand a tuition freeze. They ignored a judge's order to leave and handcuffed themselves together.

Police stood by but took no immediate action while students tried but failed to get a quick hearing on an appeal of the judge's order.

Brown officials also obtained a court order and after a day-long protest, university police began arresting students at 6 p.m., when the building was to close. Police couldn't immediately say how many students were arrested or identify the charges. The Brown protest started as a sit-in outside university president Vartan Gregorian's office.

The Brown students say it grew into a noisy demonstration and spilled outside as security guards tried unsuccessfully to keep order.

"We've been here until we get our demands met or until they arrest us," said senior Meredith Koldner, a member of the organizing group, Students for Aid and Minority Admissions.

The students want a "need-blind" admissions policy, in which students would be admitted solely on the basis of their qualifications and the university would give them any financial aid they needed.

Brown executive vice president Robert Reischley said the university can't afford to spend any more than its current $19.2 million on financial aid.

South Bend

MISHAWAKA

234-5665

"Ask for your 10% student discount!"

For One Way Reservations Call 1-800-222-0277

"We're putting Drugs out of Business."

Partnership for a Drug-Free America.

South Bend 277-0144

The Alumni Senior Club Presents

CLIFF ERICKSON

Thursday, Friday, and Saturday

Doors open at 9:00
The Observer

The Inn at Saint Mary’s is scheduled to open for business Friday, April 24. The project is a joint venture of the Sisters of the Holy Cross and the Holliday Corporation to provide convenient lodging for St. Mary’s visitors.

Business

Inn scheduled to open for business at SMC

By NICOLE MCGRATH

Business Writer

The Inn at Saint Mary’s is scheduled to open for business Friday, April 24, according to the inn’s General Manager Cindy Crook-Kennedy.

“The project has been developed at a cost of about 4.6 million dollars,” said its new general contractor Frank Perri.

The inn’s construction is being financed through Valley American Bank.

A part of a joint venture of the Sisters of the Holy Cross and the Holliday Corporation, “the sisters have significant control on the project,” stated Holy Cross Shared Services representative John Holenkamp.

Saint Mary’s College is not part of the venture but will reap many benefits, according to Holenkamp.

The inn contains 120 rooms, five of which will contain Suites, a Chick gift shop, two meeting rooms and a public office and is open to all SMC students as well as the community. Out of 125 entries, campus employees were polled to help select the inn’s name.

Panel plasters Fed’s not collecting S&L debt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government has “failed miserably” in collecting millions of dollars from savings and loan debtors. A new report by the OIG found that S&L debt collection did not have the desired effect on the S&L industry.

Bush and European leaders in stalemate over global trade talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush and European leaders failed to break a deadlock in global trade talks Wednesday as both sides refused to give ground in a long-running battle over farm subsidies.

“We exchanged a lot of ideas,” Trade Representative Carla Hills said afterward. “I don’t think the threat of the idea hit home.” No date was set for a resumption of the talks, she said.

Bush met for 2 ½ hours with Jacques Delors, president of the European Commission, and Portugal’s prime minister, Aníbal Cavaco Silva, currently president of the European Commission.

“We are committed to achieving an early agreement,” Bush said, reiterating an oft-stated goal of his three-year presidency.

Cavaco Silva said, “We are determined to bring (the negotiations) to a positive conclusion.” Bush and Cavaco Silva spoke of “new ideas” but did not elaborate. Bush indicated the ideas were a combination of new proposals.

Now in their sixth year, the negotiations involve 16 nations and are aimed at removing trade obstacles such as quotas, tariffs and subsidies that distort prices.

The chief sticking point is the refusal of European leaders to slash agricultural subsidies, as demanded by the United States to equalize competition internally.

George Bush

By NICOLE MCGRATH

The U.S. president said there was “no inevitable deterrence whether any or all of the ideas that were advanced were will help in bringing us together or not.”

“We did not end up far apart at the end of the day than we were when we went in,” Niles told a White House briefing.

“Bush and European leaders are under pressure from powerful farm lobbyists not to give up agricultural subsidies as a way of life. France has led the resistance.”

For his part, Bush faces domestic opposition from a coalition of groups arguing that a global agreement would undermine environmental, consumer and labor laws in the United States.
Napkin abuse only the tip of our mountainous environmental problem

Dear Editor:
Students for Environmental Action began collecting unused napkins off the dinner trays at North Dining Hall. Some of you thought we were working, others asked what we were doing, and a few even thought we were recycling them! Well, we weren't getting paid, but the idea would have been a bit on the unsanitary side.

The collection has got an indication of how much we waste.

The fifteen of us estimated that 90 percent of the trays being returned had at least one unused napkin. Some trays had many and a few had stacks an inch thick! If you've been in LaFortune the last couple days you've seen our display: 8 full garbage bags filled with napkins. Just five dinners at North Dining Hall! Dave Brightbach, manager of North Dining Hall, estimated that 20,000 napkins are used each day at NDH and close to one half are wasted.

That's money to all of us, but more importantly detrimental to the environment. Imagine if we add in South Dining Hall, the Huddle, and the Oak Room. Now take into account three meals a day, seven days a week, fifteen weeks per semester, and so on. In one year, we might be able to build a mountain of napkins as high as Farley Hall. Each napkin you throw away takes up space in a landfill. The landfills of Northern Indiana are estimated to have remaining lifetimes of 5 years or less. That's the ones that are still open; most are already full. You can make a difference and do something about the problem without expending a lot of effort. Instead of taking four napkins, take two. Use only what you need! If you need another napkin, get up and ask the waiter for another one; you can burn all those wonderful dining hall calories at the same time. At home, try cloth napkins. If everyone took the time to think about what they consume and how much we all waste we'd all make a better effort to conserve and the earth would be a much better place. Think about it.

Mike Kamradt
Off-campus
Farley Hall
April 14, 1992

QUOTE OF THE DAY

"Conservatives feel they deserve everything they've stolen."

-Mort Sahl

Think Spring...and submit:

QUOTES. P.O. Box Q, ND, IN 46556
Thursday, April 23, 1992
ND wrestler vows to 'forget where he came from'

One doesn't have to look far to find ancient references to wrestling. You'll find one in the Bible, viz. in the book of Genesis. In chapter 32, verses 24 to 32, there's an account of a match between Jacob and the angel God sent to test his physical and spiritual resolve. "So Jacob was left alone, and a man wrestled with him there till daybreak. When the man saw that he could not throw Jacob, he struck him in the hollow of his hip, so that Jacob's hip was dislocated as they wrestled." Some 3,000 years before the Christian era, wrestling was an organized sport with national, and possibly international, competitions. Ancient Hebrew and Sumerian champions were immortalized in stone and scroll. Wrestling, indeed, is the oldest and toughest sport known to man.

This past (April 10) Friday at 4:00 p.m., as a member of the varsity wrestling program, I was notified that wrestling was being discontinued. I was a member of the University of Notre Dame. We were notified by our coaches who, in turn, were notified by the Athletic Department. The decision was described as one to be made because of the feelings about the sport.

Throughout the weekend filled with tears, apprehension, doubt, and much sadness, one athlete asked the question: Why did the University do this? Why did we lose a sport as great and as well endowed as Notre Dame with a wrestling program? Athletic Director Dick Rosenthal cited very weak and ambiguous reasons for the revocation of the sport.

"Wrestling is the only one of our sports that is not a part of a national league. The University has a vested interest in these programs. A wrestling program would cost a great deal of money to begin with. Despite these facts, he coached us because he loved the sport and he loved us and wanted us to be the best. Because of his vast knowledge of the sport, I have no doubt that he will be hired by one of the best wrestling schools. He will eventually become a head coach, and build that school to become a national power. But presently he is faced with many pressing issues such as how to pay for his home in South Bend.

And so, Mr. Rosenthal, if proper promotion were given, wrestling could have been a major spectator sport. After all, it is the third largest NCAA spectator sport for example. The University of Iowa Wrestling Team, who were the 1992 National Champions, have an average attendance of 11,000 fans for dual meets and had a record breaking 15,000 for their match with Penn State.

More insulatingly Rosenthal said, "I totally feel the funds allocated to wrestling could be better directed toward programs that will more directly impact a larger portion of the student body and University community." Approximately ten years ago, Notre Dame received a 3 million dollar endowment strictly for the sport of wrestling, by an alumnus named Bucky O'Connor, in honor of his son, who was a Notre Dame wrestler and was killed. Bucky O'Connor has since passed away and many and many others on the team, that in order for Dick Rosenthal to take a million dollar endowment to drop the sport of wrestling. What a tremendous disgrace to the O'Connor family, bucky and Bucky's son, Bucky Jr., Buckoo and Buckoo Jr. did not carry out this man's wishes, especially at a place like Notre Dame. When one's word should be commitment enough to the "family.

Harriss Brumer Guest Columnist

Harris Brumer lives in Grace Hall and is a member of the 1991-92 wrestling team.

---

Send your unpublished, poetic, point of view to:
Thursday's Verse
P.O. Box 40
ND, In 46556

Send your cartoon to:
Viewpoint P.O. Box Q
ND, In 46556

---

education is the manner of words, spoken;
but when we talk lets us not talk but dialogue;
but when we dialogue let us not dialogue but plan;
but when we plan let us not plan work;
but when we work let us not work but reform;
but when we reform let us not reform;
but revolt.
A weekend of theatre

ND/SMC community celebrates Shakespeare's birthday

By JENNIFER GUERIN
Assistant Accent Editor

"Clack! foolish knaves who did shrinkest in the past from the melodious words of the greatest deliverer of tales and tests of love, thou have been chosen to cast thine gentle eyes and willing ears towards the words of Shakespeare."

"But, for my own part, it was Greek to me." (Julius Caesar, II. 285)

Unfortunately, many people would make similar comments about the work of William Shakespeare. But tonight at 8:30, within the South Dining Hall's west wing, a group of Shakespeare enthusiasts will set out to prove that this literary hero can be a near-joker and humorist.

April 23 marks the date of innumerable parties in honor of Shakespeare, English professor Paul Rathburn and junior Kris Sherwood have organized "Shakespeare's Greatest Hits" as Notre Dame and Saint Mary's version of this international celebration. Both hope this celebration will become an annual event.

The entertainment will feature a medley of 12 scenes from select plays, all related to the theme "Shakespeare's treatment of love." According to Rathburn, who teaches a Shakespeare course at Notre Dame, the scenes deal with "everything from infatuation to sentimental, silly love to very serious scenes about heartbreaking and desertion."

Aided by Frederick Syburg, Professor Emeritus in the College of Arts and Letters, as well as the Notre Dame Student Activities office and costume designers at the Saint Mary's Communication and Theatre Department, Rathburn and Sherwood have formulated a show designed to entertain Shakespeare lovers and non-lovers alike.

"Even if you are not familiar with Shakespeare," said Sherwood, the student producer of tonight's celebration, "most of the scenes we have chosen will be ones people will recognize."

From the 45 people who came to open auditions two months ago, Rathburn and Sherwood selected only 11, five women and six men, for the show. Their cast members--ranging from undergraduate first year students to graduate and law school students, and from a plethora of different majors--represent as varied a population as the scenes they will present.

She commented on how this particular event is unique because it attracts non-theater majors to a theatrical calling. "There are all kinds of people who would love to do something acting--but they aren't planning to be on stage tonight," Rathburn noted. "This gives them a place to go." He and Sherwood agreed that "Shakespeare's Greatest Hits" is a perfect opportunity for people who have acted in high school, or people who have never acted but have always wanted to exercise their dramatic talents.

In addition to his personal belief that performing Shakespeare is the best way to do it, Rathburn is inspired to action by the visible commitment non-theatre majors and theatre majors in the ND/SMC community have been willing to dedicate to hard work and rehearsal time.

Tonight's Shakespearean celebration occurs during a massive resurgence of student-produced performance on campus. "Never in the past 20 years have there been so many student-run theatre productions," said Rathburn.

The increase in the number of dramatic productions meant the scarcity of space available for performance. "It's really tough to book time for theatres," said Sherwood. "Theatre is so active here--there are not many choices." Holding tonight's performance in the South Dining Hall marks the beginning of what may become a trendy location for drama.

"Everyone hears how great Shakespeare is," said Sherwood, "but not everyone takes the time to read and understand it." For students and faculty who don't have the time to browse through Shakespeare on a regular basis, "Shakespeare's Greatest Hits" can provide an outlet. For a mere $1, students will glimpse scenes that, according to the producers, "go to the heart" of the plays they represent.

"One O'Clock From the House," a comic tale of family greed

By BILL ALBERTIN
Accent Writer

Crazy, money-grubbing daughters, dead fathers, insane cousins, almonds, almond cakes, and shopping carts masquerading as dogs are among the entertainment in "One O'Clock From the House" this past weekend.

This 1986 comedy by Frank Vickery takes place at the reception following an elderly man's funeral. His four unique daughters are all in attendance, and bickering over who will inherit the old man's money and home.

The daughters are Miriam (Jessica Runiszek), the emotional one; Margaret (Kami Benson), the family lightweight; pregnant Maureen (Joanne Wallace); and crazy Mavis (Tanya Braukman). Other characters include Miriam's hedged-up husband, Austin (Tyler Moore), and two rather odd cousins. The first is Tudor (Dellie Itsific), who is "a little strange" according to director Sonia Miller, and the other cousin is Mansel (Terr Walsh), who is convinced that his shopping cart is a dog.

The play involves about twenty-five people including its entire cast and crew, all of whom are from the junior class. Miller chose "One O'Clock From the House" because the class wanted the chance to "involve as many juniors as possible," said Miller. This is the first year that a play is being put on by the junior class. They hope to establish it as a yearly tradition.

Though there is no charge for the play, there will be donations accepted at the door for St. Hedwig's, a local establishment that tutors the children of low-income families. St. Hedwig's is the junior class' adopted service project.

The play will be performed in the library auditorium on Friday and Saturday evening at 8:10 p.m., and Sunday afternoon at 2:10 p.m.
Moving on to serve

CSC ceremony to "send off" seniors planning a future of volunteering

BY JAHNNELE HARRIGAN
Accent Editor

Notre Dame seniors are making difficult decisions. As graduation nears, many are realizing that dreams are harder to come by. But some seniors are using this time of uncertainty to look at other options beyond making money.

What they want to devote their lives to helping others, or if they just want to take a year to do something a little different, many ND seniors have decided to spend next year doing volunteer work.

Approximately eight to ten percent of seniors are volunteering their services to those in need and the exhibit will be featured of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's talent necessary to compete at the national level, and with entering the professional world. Some of the criteria used as a basis for judging is originality, quality, and presentation. The exhibit will be judged in the same format that it would be in a real gallery setting. Many of the procedures of entering the different pieces in the show as well as their actual presentation during the show will mirror that of a professional gallery opening.

The coordinators of the exhibit are Michael Baechler, a graduate student in the Education Department at the Snite, and Professor Jean Dibble, Assistant Professor of Art. The show carries a tradition that dates back to the 1950s and will continue to go on as long as there are students interested in participating and displaying their talent. There will be anywhere from 150 to 200 works including realistic paintings, abstract sculpture, pottery, textiles, metal sculpture, sculpture, and drawings.

In the previous years there have been four to five hundred spectators over the duration of the exhibit. This year there are even higher expectations as there is more space to show more art and the quality of the work has increased over the years.

This Sunday there will be prizes awarded for the top artists after the judging completed by spectators. "It's an exciting moment for the students," says Porter. It will also prove to be a worthwhile trip to the Snite for anyone who decides to pay a visit.

Student art on display at the Snite

By ANGELA FARAH
Accent writer

From Fine Arts majors to Business and Engineering majors, the artwork of Notre Dame and Saint Mary's students will be displayed at the official opening of the student art exhibit on Sunday, April 26 from 1-4 p.m. at the Snite Museum. Admission is free and the exhibit will be featured through May 18.

There were no prerequisites to enter a piece in the show except the talent necessary to come by. Some seniors are using this time of uncertainty to look at other options beyond making money.

What they want to devote their lives to helping others, or if they just want to take a year to do something a little different, many ND seniors have decided to spend next year doing volunteer work. Approximately eight to ten percent of seniors are volunteering their services to those in need.

Entering the business world was never an option for Miller, who plans to attend graduate school or do more volunteer work internationally after her year with the Jesuit Volunteer Corps.

"This is all I wanted to do," said Miller.

"Through doing something like this I tend to get more from the people I work with than they get from me," she said. "It's a major life learning experience. Since it's a Catholic organization, I hope it'll strengthen my faith."

Chris Christiansen, a senior psychology major from St. Charles, Ill., has spent the last four years of his life learning experience. Since it's a Catholic organization, I hope it'll strengthen my faith. Christiansen said he hopes that his year of service will be "a time to put the last four years in perspective. I'm hoping to perceive things more realistically, after volunteering. It's a tremendous opportunity for personal growth," he said.

The CSC and the University support seniors' decisions to volunteer, and three years ago began planning the first Send-Off. The Send-Off is in a way for students, their families, faculty, staff, and administrators to come together to support students' decisions to participate in volunteer work.

Last year, approximately 135 seniors and their families participated in the CSC, which is of interest to him. Christiansen, also an organizer of the ceremony. "There's a commissioning. We're being called together."

Prospective volunteers in all programs, not only those arranged through the CSC, are encouraged to sign up at the CSC to participate in the send-off, said Roemer.

Invitations to the ceremony will be sent to future students who sign up.

This year's Senior Volunteer Send-Off will be Saturday, May 16 at 10:30 a.m. in Washington Hall, followed by a reception at Theodore's.

"This is a general student show which includes a BFA (Bachelor of Fine Arts) show, an MFA (Master of Fine Arts) show, and also a diverse showing of talented students from various Saint Mary's colleges," explains Porter. "This is a chance for the students to expose their work in a simulated professional atmosphere," says Porter.

Julie Teurtillo, Assistant Professor of Art at Saint Mary's College, will judge the student exhibit. Some of the criteria used as a basis for judging is originality, quality, and presentation. The exhibit will be judged in the same format that it would be in a real gallery setting. Many of the procedures of entering the different pieces in the show as well as their actual presentation during the show will mirror that of a professional gallery opening.

The coordinators of the exhibit are Michael Baechler, a graduate student in the Education Department at the Snite, and Professor Jean Dibble, Assistant Professor of Art. The show carries a tradition that dates back to the 1950s and will continue to go on as long as there are students interested in participating and displaying their talent. There will be anywhere from 150 to 200 works including realistic paintings, abstract sculpting, pottery, textiles, metal sculpture, sculpture, and drawings.

In the previous years there have been four to five hundred spectators over the duration of the exhibit. This year there are even higher expectations as there is more space to show more art and the quality of the work has increased over the years.

This Sunday there will be prizes awarded for the top artists after the judging completed by spectators. "It's an exciting moment for the students," says Porter. It will also prove to be a worthwhile trip to the Snite for anyone who decides to pay a visit.

The Send-Off is in a way for students, their families, faculty, staff, and administrators to come together to support students' decisions to participate in volunteer work.
MASS' SINGLE PROPSERVES PAST WHITE SOX

CHICAGO (AP) — The New York Yankees took another step in the right direction Wednesday night when they traded for Roberto Kelly did not.

Kevin Maas single home the go-ahead run in the ninth inning and the Yankees came in a basesitting mistake to beat the Chicago White Sox 4-3.

Roberto Kelly singled with two out in the third, followed by a walk to Hellickson over center fielder Lance Johnson's head. But Kelly over ran second base and had to go back to touch the bag, and made it only to third.

"I was not looking at the ball," Kelly said. "I did not know where the ball was." I had to go back. I wanted to be safe at third. I went back to touch the bag. I would have scored.

However, instead of making up for Kelly's mis-step, with a single on the first pitch to start the inning, Kelly hit a line drive to center and was out at the mound (0-1). The only thing that would have left was a potential hit for Hall, which would've given him this season and a tie for the major league lead for Cecil Fielder.

There is "no doubt Roberto could have scored," Hall said.

But, he owes one me and I'm going to him very soon.

Steve Blowe (2-4) pitched 1-3 perfect innings. He has allowed a run in five relief appearances.

---

ALASKA SUMMER EMPLOYMENT...fish. Earn $5,000/month. Food, Transportation Room & Board, Over $8,000 open. No ; exn. necessary to fish in Alaska or in the United States. Write to: Alaska Dept, 3500 E. 13th Ave. 99701 $560/mo.

FOR SALE

BED & BREAKFAST REGISTER 2-1800

2 Bedroom $550/mo. 2-1990

2 Bedroom $500/mo. 2-2000

2 Bedroom $450/mo. 2-2010

2 Bedroom $400/mo. 2-2020

Bedsit $350/mo. 2-2030

1 Bedroom $300/mo. 2-2040

FOR RENT

SOL/LOST

Found - blue coated earring by keys on Manhattan Bridge - Call x3000

FOUND

Lost dog Golden Ring in diamond in mobile home. If found, please return to x3100

LOST

Found black dog at corner of W. 166 St. and Hamilton Ave. Call x3000

WANTED

Even though Mr. Bush is speaking at graduation, my son still wants to come.

MOVING TO LA?
I'm looking for roommates to live in new Manhattan Beach after graduation.

CALL: L. J. 1-4346

WANTED - SWIMMER MODEL.
FREE MAUI TRIP. FOR TEST SHOT, INTERESTED CALL 255-2400.

FOR SALE

272-6800 $12

272-6910 $8

Summer Roommate

Turke Creek Apartment
Call x6911

THE ASSOCIATES
TEMPORARY POSITION

MARKETING RESEARCH ANALYST - Particular in Paradigm, Lotus and Microsoft Word. Experience developing and analyzing statistical report. Please call (213) 271-6340 to schedule an interview.

WANTED - A candidate wishes that could be part of a public committee. Needed by Thurs. all for play! call x3800. We'll lock you up each night.

Female roommate needed for Wilmotter apartment, June 4th $254.00. Call 258-5702.

THE OBSERVER
Thursday, April 23, 1992

---

The Observer accepts classifieds every business day from 10 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. at the Office or Denver Newspapers, 318 N. Pennsylvania, Denver, in time to print at the Denver Regis College Thursday. Deadline for next day's classified is 3:00. All Classifieds must be prepared. The shape of all words must be identical. of the entries.
Hapless Sixers may face future without Barkley

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Charles Barkley figures the best way he can help the Philadelphia 76ers win an NBA championship is to play elsewhere.

"I could win a championship in any of those places," Barkley said.

Barkley created a stir recently when, in response to unattributed published remarks about him that he believed were made by general manager Gene Shue, he called Shue a "clown" and a "caddy" for club owner Harold Katz.

Barkley said Tuesday that the 76ers organization is a "bad environment."

"There's all kind of mind games and everybody wondering who's in control and who's saying what," he said.

He charged some of his teammates were not committed to winning.

"All they want to do is make money," he said.

Barkley said coach Jim Lynam should not be blamed for the team's dismal season.

"Knutte Rockne couldn't make that team win," Barkley said. "I don't want to play for anybody but Jimmy."

Charles Barkley told reporters it would be better for the team and himself if he wasn't a 76er next season.

Pacers chances slim against hot Celts

BOSTON (AP) — One year ago, the Boston Celtics and Indiana Pacers met in the opening round of the NBA playoffs.

With Larry Bird and Kevin McHale fighting off injuries and headed for surgery, the Celtics survived. Boston won three of five games in winning its 21st first-round series since capturing the first of 16 NBA titles in 1975.

The Pacers went home early one game. They have not advanced beyond the first round in the team's 16 years in the league.

Now the Celtics and the Pacers start over again Thursday, once again meeting at Boston Garden in the opening game of a best-of-5 showdown.

McHale is healthy again after left ankle surgery last July and, more recently, a torn calf muscle, which sidelined him for 15 games from Jan. 6 to Feb. 5.

Bird still is plagued by back problems. He returned from disc surgery last June 7, but missed all of January and February with an inflamed nerve in his back. Then he was sidelined by spasms for the last eight games of the regular season.

Although he did some shooting this week, Bird still is listed as day-to-day by the Celtics. After practice Wednesday, the club said a decision will be made on his first-game status after an early workout.

Point guard Dee Brown definitely is out after missing five games with a virus that left him with sinusitis and vertigo.

The last time Bird and Brown were in the lineup together, the Celtics had a seven-game winning streak. Then, trailing New York by five games with eight to play, Boston rolled off eight consecutive victories, tying the Knicks with a 51-31 record and winning the Atlantic Division title for the 14th time since league realignment in 1971.

"Last year we beat them with one guy going on one foot and another guy with half a back," McHale said. "I'm sure there will be a lot of yapping, but when the game starts everyone will forget about it and just go out and play."

With a 20-18 record without Bird, the Celtics have concentrated on defense the last few weeks.

"Defense has been the key for us down the stretch," said Reggie Lewis, the team's top scorer with a 20.8 average while playing in all 82 games. "That's how we've been winning games. And with Larry out everyone has had to step up and become a leader."

"We're playing good basketball and the feeling is that Indiana has got to stop us," said veteran John Bagley.

THE ULTIMATUM

Thursday, April 23rd
Friday, April 24th

7:00 p.m.
Lab Theatre
Washington Hall

Relationships: sometimes you need to give him an ultimatum.

THE FRAT HOUSE

on W. Marion
5 bedrooms kegerators alarm system cheap rent

For Info Call: 234-6976

THE ULTIMATUM

Thursday, April 23rd
Friday, April 24th

7:00 p.m.
Lab Theatre
Washington Hall

Relationships: sometimes you need to give him an ultimatum.
Detroit tops Minnesota 5-4 in overtime thriller

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP)—Yves Racine scored. He saved a couple of games over the weekend. This showed him how to celebrate overtime that lifted Detroit to a 5-4 victory over Minnesota North Stars on Wednesday night and gave the Red Wings hope for the rest of their first-round playoff series.

"My last goal was four months ago. I didn't know what to do," Racine said. "I just stood there. Then the guys came at me and scared me a little."

They piled on him just seconds after he made sure that the North Stars wouldn't pile three consecutive playoff losses on the Red Wings, Detroit, which lost the first two games of the best-of-7 series at home, can pull even with winning Game 4 Friday night at Metro Center. The victory was crucial; only two teams have rebounded from three-game deficits.

"The momentum changed tonight," said Vince Riendeau, who relieved goalie Tim Checovich at 8:04 of the second period after Minnesota had taken a 2-1 lead and stopped the 11 shots he faced. "We're ready to take it to them Friday."

Raj Sheppard's power-play goal with 3:32 left in regulation sent the game into overtime for the Red Wings, who finally beat a Minnesota team that finished 28 points behind them in the regular-season standings.

Jets 4, Canadiens 2

The Winnipeg Jets built a four-goal lead and threw a blanket over Vancouver as they beat the favored Canadiens 4-2 Wednesday night to take a 2-1 lead in their Smythe Division semifinal series.

Randy Carlyle, Pat Elsyuk, Lucien Debois and Thomas Guy Larose (38) and a host of other good skating, good defensive play crushed Vancouver, which had won three consecutive playoff losses in the Smythe Division.

Detroit

Minnesota

BMG Music

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP)—Yves Racine scored. He saved a couple of games over the weekend. This showed him how to celebrate overtime that lifted Detroit to a 5-4 victory over Minnesota North Stars on Wednesday night and gave the Red Wings hope for the rest of their first-round playoff series.

"My last goal was four months ago. I didn't know what to do," Racine said. "I just stood there. Then the guys came at me and scared me a little."

They piled on him just seconds after he made sure that the North Stars wouldn't pile three consecutive playoff losses on the Red Wings, Detroit, which lost the first two games of the best-of-7 series at home, can pull even with winning Game 4 Friday night at Metro Center. The victory was crucial; only two teams have rebounded from three-game deficits.

"The momentum changed tonight," said Vince Riendeau, who relieved goalie Tim Checovich at 8:04 of the second period after Minnesota had taken a 2-1 lead and stopped the 11 shots he faced. "We're ready to take it to them Friday."

Raj Sheppard's power-play goal with 3:32 left in regulation sent the game into overtime for the Red Wings, who finally beat a Minnesota team that finished 28 points behind them in the regular-season standings.

Jets 4, Canadiens 2

The Winnipeg Jets built a four-goal lead and threw a blanket over Vancouver as they beat the favored Canadiens 4-2 Wednesday night to take a 2-1 lead in their Smythe Division semifinal series.

Randy Carlyle, Pat Elsyuk, Lucien Debois and Thomas Guy Larose (38) and a host of other good skating, good defensive play crushed Vancouver, which had won three consecutive playoff losses in the Smythe Division.

Bookstore

continued from page 24

However, Fulton still saw room for improvement.

"We have to box out better," he said, "and we can't miss as many opportunities."

After Just Chillin' played, it was time for Tennessee to come on the court. They were able to take the game, defeating NU's Most Wanted, 21-12. Tequila was played by Brian Ratigan (6 pts), who was supported by five from Matt Case and four from Shannan Callahan. Eric Jones and Michael MacKinnon added two apiece for the number-one seeded Tequila.

"We have an advantage with our size inside," said Callahan.

I don't know if there are two better big men (Jones and Ratigan) on campus. They were tough inside and I think the other team had trouble with them.

Earlier in the day, Malicious was able to defeat Low Density Wolf Bait by the score of 21-14. Malicious was led by the Curve brothers, Andy and Matt. Andy led with eight points while his little brother Matt chipped in five. Rich Rowling scored six while Mickey Carter and Tom Gorman added one apiece.

"I am pretty happy with our play so far," commented Andy Curve. "It's the first time I have played with my brother. (Malicious) have three turning players from last year, so right now we are working on offense."

The third-seeded Gauchos were able to pull out a 21-19 over White Men Can't Jump. The Gauchos were again led by Rob VanQuer, who put in 11 baskets. Dave Bose added five while the injured Pete DiGiovanni chipped in three.

"We knew we were in for a tough game today," said Mike Turner, a member of The Gaucho's who scored one. "The other team played tough defense and we couldn't get the easy baskets. However, Rob and Dave were able to hit the boards."

In other games yesterday, Bridgegate's crushed Shamma Lamma Ding Dong 21-11, L Train defeated Moloko and Ultravolnence 25-18, Crime Dogs beat Common's Club 21-19, the controversial All the President's Men squeaked The Good, the Rad and the Laundry 21-19, while Eboni Side of the Dome squeaked Tommy's Tavern 21-9.

In the closest game of the day, Fighting Kernels defeated The Real Fab Fish 23-21. Other action included McCormick's heating Men Who Love Fen- mented Grain 21-14 while Paddle Riders cruised to a 21-9 win over Shoot Or Get Off. Bitter won a close won over BlackJack, 21-17, while Drive By Shooting slipped past Word to Your Mother 12-20. Sabretooth and Callipigous defeated Jimmy Chum 21-19 while Frank Drehn and the 'Cocks won 21-16 over Bittersweet.
Doctor gives Guillen a green light for next year

CHICAGO (AP) — A doctor who operated Wednesday on Ozzie Guillen's right knee has no reason to believe the All-Star shortstop of the Chicago White Sox won't be ready to play next season.

"Normal recovery and rehabilitation from this surgery is six months to one year," Dr. Scott Price said. "Ninety-five percent of the competitive athletes who undergo this surgery get back to their previous form." Price and James Boscardin, the team physicians, performed the surgery at Palos Community Hospital in suburban Palos Heights. The operation lasted three hours.

Guillen, 28, sustained torn anterior cruciate and medial collateral ligaments Tuesday night in a collision with left fielder Tim Raines as the two went after a ninth-inning blooper by Mel Hall in a 4-3 loss to the New York Yankees at Comiskey Park.

"It's kind of a shock," manager Gene Lamont said. "We feel for Ozzie, and we know how much Ozzie means to this team.

White Sox general manager Ron Schueler said Guillen would remain in the hospital for three or four days. Craig Grebeck replaces Guillen, and Esteban Belfire was recalled from the Pacific Coast League to fill Guillen's roster spot.

Lamont doesn't think Guillen's injury ends the team's hopes of winning the AL West after two straight second-places finishes.

"Every time you have somebody hurt, you can't just think the season is over," Lamont said.

But Guillen isn't just somebody.

He is one of the best defensive shortstops in baseball and was the most popular White Sox player because of his upbeat personality and passion for the game.

Guillen was an All-Star selection last season for the third time. He batted .273.

The left-handed batting Venezuelan is a .267 lifetime hitter in seven previous major-league seasons, all with the White Sox. He was Rookie of the Year in 1985 and a Gold Glove winner in 1990.

In 40 at-bats this season, he was hitting .260 with one stolen base and seven RBIs.

His injury puts the team's two most charismatic players on the shelf. Bo Jackson left the team in spring training for hip replacement surgery.

Guillen was hurt when his leg struck Raines' in the head as the latter dived to the ground. The lower portion of Guillen's leg buckled as the players collided, leaving him writhing in pain on the outfield grass about 80 feet beyond the infield.

Guillen's injury ends the team's hopes of winning the AL West after two straight second-places finishes.

"Every time you have somebody hurt, you can't just think the season is over," Lamont said.

But Guillen isn't just somebody.

He is one of the best defensive shortstops in baseball and was the most popular White Sox player because of his upbeat personality and passion for the game.

Guillen was an All-Star selection last season for the third time. He batted .273.

The left-handed batting Venezuelan is a .267 lifetime hitter in seven previous major-league seasons, all with the White Sox. He was Rookie of the Year in 1985 and a Gold Glove winner in 1990.

In 40 at-bats this season, he was hitting .260 with one stolen base and seven RBIs.

His injury puts the team's two most charismatic players on the shelf. Bo Jackson left the team in spring training for hip replacement surgery.

Guillen was hurt when his leg struck Raines' in the head as the latter dived to the ground. The lower portion of Guillen's leg buckled as the players collided, leaving him writhing in pain on the outfield grass about 80 feet beyond the infield.

Hayes

Hayes continued from page 24

California. Hayes' Southern California trip is coached by Ron LeFebre (brother of Chicago Cubs' manager Jim LeFebre), lost twice in the state finals.

During Thanksgiving and Christmas tournaments, recruiters flock to California softball fields by the dozens, wearing their school's colors and exuding the abundance of talent on the field.

Rather than it putting undue pressure on players, the prospect of getting scholarship offers "makes the level of play go up that much more," says Miller. "It's definitely a positive influence. It teaches everyone to be focused and perform at the highest level."

Hayes did just that when she saw Boulac in the stands last year sporting the blue-and-gold. She went 7-for-12 and got the call, choosing Notre Dame over schools like Oklahoma State (third in the country at the time) and Northwestern.

"I had the idea of helping Notre Dame build a program (that began only four years ago), and by the time I was a junior, that we could go to the NCAA tournament," she said, following a host of family members that went to Notre Dame University. "Most of the girls I talked to didn't even know we had a softball program."

This summer, Hayes will also get the opportunity to travel abroad with LeFebre and his team, representing the U.S. in clinics and in the World Games. They will visit Spain, Amsterdam, Czechoslovakia, Russia and Germany.

"We're supposed to be underdogs in the big tournament, but I seriously think we have a chance to win it all," she said.

"The trip's going to be invaluable," says Miller. "She's going to be the number one catcher for some of the top
MADISON, Wis. (AP) — Troy Vincent already has taken control of his life and won't need a middle man to regulate the cash flow once he's signed an NFL contract.

Vincent, a defensive back from Wisconsin, expects to be one of the top five players selected in Sunday's draft. Then he plans to negotiate a deal without an agent.

"The University of Wisconsin taught me how to read, to write, to write a check, to read a bank statement. I don't need to pay someone 5 percent to 6 percent of my money to fill out checks for me to send back to Citibank."

"I'm a very competent individual," Vincent said in an interview with the Milwaukee Sentinel. "So why give someone something to do that when I can do it myself, I can take a half-hour out of the week to go through my mail, pay my bills. Why pay $60,000, $70,000 or $80,000 to do that? That's crazy."

Annoyed by agent phone calls — sometimes up to 35 a day to his campus apartment — Vincent said he will let his godparents, James and Linda Bodley, and Washington, D.C., attorney Zachry Jones advise him through the negotiating process.

And Vincent said that just because he doesn't have an agent doesn't mean he won't think about a holdout if he isn't offered a fair deal.

"I plan to have a very good contract. No one wants to hold out, but if I have to, it's something I'll consider," he said.

Vincent said he'll buy a new car and then buy a new home for his mother, who is a correctional officer in New Jersey.

"I don't want her working double and triple shifts like she's been doing the last 20 years," he said.

Vincent, who is 6-1, 191 pounds, visited Indianapolis, the Los Angeles Rams, Dallas Cowboys and Cincinnati Bengals for predraft meetings.

"I really don't feel like I'll be on the board after the fourth pick, at the latest," said Vincent, who played on four straight losing teams in college. He was the star of the Badgers' 5-6 season in 1991, both as a kick returner and cornerback.

"I'd say L.A., but I'd be guessing like everyone else," he said. "The last visit with L.A. was very productive. That was the only visit where they said they were either going with me or Sean Gilbert."
America 3 wins fifth straight over Stars & Stripes

SAN DIEGO (AP) — Bill Koch's yacht America 3 made it five in a row over defending champion Dennis Conner's Stars & Stripes, winning the third race of the America's Cup defender by 4 minutes, 20 seconds Wednesday.

The victory America 3 a 3-0 lead in the best-of-13 series being sailed in the waters off San Diego's Point Loma.

Conner must now win seven of the remaining 10 races to advance to the America's Cup match for the fifth consecutive time.

America 3 has won 11 of 14 races against Stars & Stripes and has an overall record of 20-5. Stars & Stripes' overall record is 13-19.

Sailing in breezes that freshened to 10 knots, America 3 cruised around the 20.03-nautical-mile course in 2 hours, 37 minutes, 19 seconds.

The yacht New Zealand took a 2-1 lead in the best-of-9 challenger final, downing Italy's Il Moro di Venezia by 34 seconds. New Zealand's elapsed time was 2:42:44.

It was another seesaw battle between the two yachts, as New Zealand overcame a 1-minute, 42-second deficit to Il Moro at the end of the first leg. Il Moro defeated New Zealand on Monday by only one second in a race that had four lead changes.

The racing was delayed over an hour due to light, shifting winds. The conditions were expected to favor Stars & Stripes, but the year-old boat did not fare well in the four-foot seas that rolled across the race course.

Conner had a good start and took an early lead. Then about halfway up the first leg America 3 got a favorable wind shift and took a 1:16 lead at the first turning mark.

Koch, who heads the America 3 Foundation syndicate, took over the helm from helmsman Buddy Melges on the second leg.

The yacht America 3 extended its lead to 5:20 by the end of the seventh leg of the eight-leg course. Stars & Stripes narrowed the gap on America 3 only on the sixth and eighth legs.

For the men's golf team, the Easter holiday was a chance to show its improvement from past tournaments and prepare for its upcoming season finale.

The Irish posted their strongest finish of the season so far, while competing against many Big Ten conference teams and past NCAA qualifiers.

The Irish traveled to Akron, Ohio for the Firestone Invitational to compete against 35 other universities from across the Midwest. Once again, the weather made an untimely appearance, causing the scheduled play for Saturday to be cancelled. To make up for the lost rounds, the Irish played 36 holes on Sunday. The increased amount of holes didn't seem to effect the Irish as they grabbed tenth.

"We played well. The conditions were a little adverse and the course is one of the elite in the U.S., but all in all we performed nicely and are continually improving," said Assistant Coach Dave Long.

Despite the wet conditions of the course on Sunday, junior Chris Dayton managed scores of 76 and 34, for a total of 110, to lead the team.

Following Dayton was junior Joe Dennon, freshman Chris O'Connell, senior Mike Crisanti and freshman Cole Hanson.

The Irish are looking to continue their strong performance as they head into the Keppler Invitational at Ohio State this weekend.

"We think we have a strong shot at doing very well this weekend after having beaten many of the same teams we faced at Firestone," said Long.

Men's golf team finishes tenth at Firestone Invitational

By MIKE HOBBES
Sports Writer

Notre Dame track season ends at relays

By RIAN AKEY
Sports Writer

Seven consecutive weeks of away track meets will culminate for the men's outdoor team this weekend. Split squads will represent Notre Dame at the Ball State Relays in Muncie (In), and the Drake Relays in Des Moines.

With only a couple meets remaining to qualify for the ICAAAAs, this weekend's meets become key for those athletes who have yet to qualify.

A large contingent of ND tracksters hopes to continue its steady improvement at Ball State. But, many of the Irish's more high profile team members will make the trip to Iowa for the Drake relays.

Among those heading to Drake is junior J.T. Burke, who looks forward to the competition.

"This will be a very big meet, with a lot of powerful schools," Burke commented. "With the athletes we're taking along, we should be very competitive.

"My season has gone pretty well, but I'd really like to take a big step forward this weekend and have some runs with good times. This will be a big challenge for me."

Freshman Ruder is equally excited about the Drake competition.

"I look forward to just seeing the meet," he noted. "I've heard a lot about it and it's supposed to be very well-supported. To qualify for ICAAAAs there would be very exciting.

Gimme A Break!

SAVE 10% ON YOUR FAVORITE MEALS

Get Your Student Discount Card Today.

If you're enrolled in high school/college, Hardee's will give you a break with student specials. Just present your student discount card before you order. Give yourself a break that tastes great!
SPELUNKER

CALVIN AND HOBBES

THE FAR SIDE

SPIN

CROSSWORD

LECTURES

MENU

NEO-GEO Campus Challenge

April 21-24, at Theodores 11am to 6pm
The Quest for the Crown
Golf Tournament, Tricycle Race, Tug of War
SMC Picnic
April 23, at SMC 4:30 pm to 6:30 pm
Pasta Eating Contest, Jello Wrestling, Canoe Races
ReCeSs
April 24, at Stepan Center 9pm to 12 am
Root Beer Chugging, Finger Painting, Pie Eating
HOGSTOCK
April 25, at Stepan Field 11am to 2pm
Mud Pits, Picnic, Campus Bands
Random Thoughts

Notre Dame gets thumbs down in Sports Illustrated

In the past month Sports Illustrated has recognized Notre Dame in its weekly feature Judgment Calls on two different occasions.

In the April 6 issue, the magazine gave the University a thumbs up for raising $30,000 in the people auction for the Hipp and Beeler scholarship funds.

Last week's issue acknowledged the Irish again, this time with a thumbs down for dropping its wrestling program.

The fact that Sports Illustrated has brought these issues to national attention shows the national microscope that Notre Dame is under, whether this is fair or not. If any other school in the country decided to drop wrestling, it would not have gotten more than a mention in the daily transactions in most newspapers, and probably would not even be mentioned in Sports Illustrated.

Sports Illustrated chooses and makes its judgment calls on a variety of factors. Usually, it has to select the two or three weekly issues which it judges judgement on from about 10 possibilities.

These possibilities come from a variety of sources, such as, reporters, contributors, various local newspapers from across the country and the Associated Press wire services.

After gathering the possible topics, there is no set process on which ones to give thumbs up or thumbs down.

Usually, the issues that the readers see each week are the ones which, hopefully, are of most interest to them.

Since Notre Dame has been featured in Judgment Calls twice in the past month, it is obvious that SI feels that its readers are interested in what is going on under the Dome.

Though it may not be fair that Notre Dame receives this much publicity, there is nothing the University can do about it except use it to its advantage and let the entire country know about the good things that it does.

It is great that news of the Hipp-Beeler fund raiser made it outside of Michiana.

When I saw the thumbs up in SI, I was proud that I went to Notre Dame.

Unfortunately, this proudness turned to embarrassment a few weeks later when I saw a deserved thumbs down concerning the University's decision to drop its wrestling program.

Thumbs down are for the George Steinbrenners and restrictive country clubs of the sports world.

I would like to think that the university that I attend is better than that.

Hopefully, Notre Dame will not lower itself to the thumbs down level again.

INSIDE SPORTS

- Relays mark end for men's track
- Guillen gets OK for next year
- Future uncertain for Barkley

Free-swinging Hayes gives Irish experience

By GEORGE DOHRMANN
Sports Writer

The Notre Dame women's basketball team received a big boost for next season when sophomore guard Audrey Gomez decided to remain at the university.

The decision came after Gomez met with her parents and discussed her future as a basketball player and as a student.

"Last weekend, when I went home to New Jersey, I discussed it with my parents and we decided that it was best for me to remain at Notre Dame," said Gomez.

Gomez announced her intentions to transfer at the conclusion of the regular season, leaving a large hole in the Notre Dame backcourt. She was sold on leaving Notre Dame for a school closer to home in New Jersey.

"I was very close to leaving," said Gomez. "I really had my mind set on leaving until this weekend."

The news came as a pleasant surprise to head coach Muffet McGraw. "Coach was very happy that I'm staying," said Gomez. "I told her Tuesday night and she seemed very excited."

Another reason Gomez may have changed her mind is the status of her tender knee which limited her play last season. She is currently undergoing therapy and expects to be ready when the season starts.

"I go back in (to have the knee checked) on Saturday," commented Gomez. "I expect to be one-hundred percent by the start of the season. I'm looking forward to next year very much."

A healthy Gomez should buffer the level, thanks to her naturally quick wrists and her strong background in California's ultra-competitive ASA league.

"Sara's been schooled well," says Irish coach Brian Boular. "She comes in as probably the most advanced hitter we've ever had."

"Softball's big business in California," adds assistant Liz Miller. "They play it almost all year round. The high school season becomes secondary out there as they put all their energy and focus into ASA-ball. It's very competitive and when they practice and play as many months as they do, it makes a difference."

Six of the top ten national ASA teams last year came from Notre Dame, according to Gomez.

Just Chillin' slides into sweet sixteen with 21-11 win

By MARK McGrath
Sports Writer

The Sweet 16 is here and that means blood, intense competition and intimidation.

Yesterday, the round of 32 was played and the Sweet 16 will take place today behind the bookstore.

Tequila White Lightning and Just Chillin' showed they were good enough to be the two top seeds for the remainder of the tournament. Tequila is the number one seed, Just Chillin' the two-seed while the Gauchos and Malicious Prosecution occupy the third and fourth positions, respectively.

Just Chillin' took the court ready to dominate and that is what they did, cruising to a 21-11 win over Dogs in Heat II. Led by Ray Griggs (6 pts), Just Chillin' was able to jump out to a quick lead and never look back.

"I thought we played well," commented Griggs. "We were able to run and that's what we do best."

The game was highlighted by a slam by Griggs in which he hanged on the rim in what looked like an intimidation move to terrorize the other team.

Just Chillin' was able to spread the scoring around. David Clar had five points while Mike May had four and Joe Fulton and Kevin Hale chipped in three apiece.

"We are starting to come together as a team," stated May. "We hit the boards really hard and we were even able to make the extra pass when we wanted to."